COMMON COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

A special meeting of the common council of the city of Marquette was held on Friday the 17th day of January, A. D. 1890.

At roll call there were present: Aldermen Dolf, Hennessey, Mack, McEvigun, Palmer and J. F. Todd; R. R. Todd arrived soon after.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read, and Alderman Palmer stated the matter of shutting off the midnight circuit on moonlight nights, was left to the manager of the electric light board.

Moved and carried that the regular order of business be dispensed with.

On motion of Alderman Palmer, seconded by Alderman Hennessey, it was

Resolved, That the time of collecting the assessment for grading, macadamizing and constructing culverts and gutters in Jackson street from Champlain street to Alameda street, and also for Park street, special assessment for grading, curbing and macadamizing Division street from Jackson street to Genesee street, be and they are hereby so extended to the 13th day of February, A. D. 1890.

On motion of Alderman Palmer, seconded by Alderman Dolf, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That a line run from a point in the center of Prospect street 185 feet east of the center of Spruce street, thence northwesterly 3.447 feet, passing through the center of Pine street and Park street, thence westerly 371 feet to a point in Third street 525 feet, north of the north line of Moore & Sang's addition, be and is hereby approved as the line fixed for the extension of the trunk sewer to Third street, and that the city attorney be authorized and instructed to proceed at once to procure a legal right of way for the laying of said trunk sewer.

THE LIGHT OF THE HOUSE.

Heo she lived and here she died! (Ah, she was a bonny bride!) All the old dames in the street, With quaint courtesies at her feet, Watched her with a glad surprise Shining in their dim old eyes.

Yet this frail bud of a bride Ere long drooped, and fell, and died. And the old dames coming in, Wrinkled, brown, and sad and thin, With shrill cries, and moaning loud, Deftly sat and sewed her shroud.

Outside, 'mongst the bird and bee, Is the yearly jubilee; And methinks she still doth stray Down the self-same garden way; Ling'ring there, contented and true, All the wealth she left behind; And, perchance, each laden plant Knows its saunterly visitant.

Such a holy spell she cast, Over the place she went past; Such rare relics e'er 'ywhere Did she leave all unawares; To recall her is not vain; To forget her still is vain; And her home is doubly blest That hath had her for a guest.

Where the Traveler Sees Young Girls as Beautiful as Angels. Spanish women are children of nature. They are fond of dress and amusement. They cannot be said to be intellectual as a class.

The traveler through Spain sees the young girls anywhere as beautiful as angels. They are tall, straight as an arrow, with the most perfect figures, and with faces which for dark, tender, and beauty are unexampled.

The magnificent hair, always clean, always combed, always marvellously dressed, with the inevitable flower in it, strikes the distinguished mark of the poorest as well as the richest Spanish woman.

At the back of the head the tuque is always carefully brushed up. The tuque gives that character to the back of the head which is so essentially Spanish. It is a remnant of the high comb days and the mantilla. The high comb is now seldom worn, but the hair is always dressed high on the head, a natural crown which any queen might envy.

Next to the beauty of hair and eye comes the beauty of the flashing teeth. These are so universally perfect that the student of dentistry should go to Spain to find out how they manage it. There is very little good eating in Spain. Perhaps these faultless teeth are not spoiled by cakes and pastry and sweets in childhood.

There are two things in this world about which the average woman seems to be eternally in doubt. One is whether her hat is on straight, and the other is just how much her husband loves her.

AN INDIAN PARADISE.

The Singular Town of Imphail in the Hill States of Manipur.

Lying between Assam and Burma is the remote little hill state of Manipur, which has obtained some attention since the annexation of upper Burma made the question of land routes between Bengal and Burma of importance.

It has lately been visited by Indian officers, one of whom, writing on the forests of the state in Indian Forests, gives an extraordinary account of Imphail, the capital. The town is situated in what appears a dense forest.

Imphail may thus be described as a city of villages, or, rather, suburban residences, around the palace. Straight, wide roads, lined with trees, frequently intersecting each other at right angles, afford the means of communication; but neither shop, artisan nor wheeled conveyance exists in the city.

The capital of Manipur is a royal residence dedicated to luxury and amusement. All are happy. The streets are crowded with smiling, healthy faces, of which few bear the marks of toil or labor.

Each carries on her head a neatly made, square basket, in which has been placed the surplus stock of the homestead, the labor of her industrial skill or of her husband's agricultural knowledge.

A long piece of cloth is cleverly carried across the breasts just under the armpits, instead of round the waist, and is firmly tucked up, so that the top embroidered edge falls forward, adding an additional fold to the garment, while the bottom edge reaches a little below the knees.

The "Silent Woman." In one of the city cemeteries is the grave of Miss Frances Hranelli, long since forgotten. She was known as "the silent woman."

A fashionably dressed, middle aged woman, resident with diamonds, stood in front of the ticket office of the City Hall at the corner of the Third avenue L. road, engaged in conversation with the ticket agent.

ENLARGING THEIR PLANT.

Enterprise of Bice, Pendill & Co. Makes Important Improvements in a Marquette Industry.

VERY RAPID GROWTH OF A WOODWORKING FIRM'S BUSINESS.

Sale of the Steam Laundry Property—Went Mad for Love—Important Meeting of the Musical Association.

Enlargement of the Bice Woodworking Plant.
The next season will see substantial enlargements in the manufacturing industries of Marquette. Many of these have been noted from time to time in the columns of the MINING JOURNAL. The latest addition to this city's growing industries is at the mill of Bice & Sons, or as the firm will hereafter be known, Bice, Pendill & Co.

The firm of Bice & Sons started in the sash, door and blind business here in 1886. Each year since they have been compelled to enlarge their plant. Last season they were overwhelmed with orders and had to refuse much work on account of insufficient capacity. It was seen that the time had come when the growing demand for fine finishing work must be met and steps were taken accordingly.

The old firm has been reorganized, Mr. James Pendill having been admitted as an equal partner. As soon as building operations can be begun a new stone mill, two stories high and 135 by 70 feet in dimensions, will be erected on the corner of Division and Mesnard streets. This will be completely equipped with the best wood working machinery to be obtained. The details of the equipment are not yet fully determined, but the motive power will be an eighty-horse power automatic cut-off Mansfield engine of the latest pattern. The present buildings will be used as warehouses and finishing rooms. Six lots across Mesnard street have been bought for yard and storage purposes. The total cost of the improvements will be close upon $15,000.

Mr. James Pendill, the new partner in the firm, needs no introduction to the people of Marquette, by whom he is known as a shrewd and thoroughly competent business man. The sales of Bice & Sons already reaches all over the upper peninsula and with this reinforcement of talent and capital those of Bice, Pendill & Co., will doubtless be much more widely extended. The firm intends to make a specialty of hardwood finishings and fine interior work, and already has many orders for the next season on hand. The growing demand for good and artistic work of this sort makes an excellent field for the firm and the enlargement of their plant will give South Marquette a very substantial improvement.

Sale of the Steam Laundry.
The steam laundry property on Washington street is reported to have been sold yesterday by Mr. A. J. Lobdell to John Flynn. The reported consideration is $6,000. The lot has a frontage of twenty feet and the reported price shows the steady and increasing values of Marquette real estate. Mr. Lobdell was seen at his house last night by a MINING JOURNAL reporter but declined to talk about the transaction. It is not known to what use Mr. Flynn intends to put the property.

The Musical Association.
The Musical Association will hold a meeting in the Morgan Memorial chapel this evening for the purpose of rehearsal, perfecting organization and electing officers. The association has started under favorable auspices, and it is hoped that the meeting to-night will show an active membership of seventy-five. This city possesses considerable musical talent, though much of it is, of course, as yet undeveloped. With proper attention and the requisite enthusiasm, not forgetting lots of hard work, Marquette should be able to build up a musical organization capable of rendering the best music and that will be a credit to the city. Every one who proposes to join the association should attend the meeting to-night, as this will be an important session and upon the work done now will depend much of the future success of the organization.

Without Cause.
To THE MINING JOURNAL.—This is the way it is done:
MARQUETTE, Mich., Jan. 19, 1890.
Joseph P. Dula, Carrier No. 1, Marquette, Mich.
DEAR SIR:—Josiah Wiles has been appointed to the position now held by you as carrier in this city to take effect February 1st, 1890.

Respectfully,
S. M. BILLINGS, P. M.
Now, citizens, the above speaks for itself; it is the official notification of my removal without cause. I say without cause for the reason that I challenge anyone to prove that I have in any manner failed to fulfill the duties required of me. To prove to me that I have ever infringed the postal laws. Therefore, I ask you why was I removed? The law reads "no carrier shall be removed except for cause." I claim there was no cause.
J. P. DUBÉ.

Mad For Love.
LARS J. Solstad was brought down from Negaunee yesterday by officer Peterson and the question of his sanity will be determined before Judge Clifton today. Solstad was employed in a lumber camp near Negaunee and yielded to melancholy madness because some blue-eyed Swedish girl not reciprocate his affection.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Miss Bellamy, of Sault Ste. Marie, in attendance at the convent school, died of consumption Sunday morning.

Owing to the roughness of the lake yesterday the contractors were compelled to suspend pile driving on the extension of No. 3 dock.

All members of the Snow Shoe club intending to tramp to-morrow evening must notify E. B. Palmer not later than 5 o'clock this afternoon, if they wish supper prepared for them.

The Agimosse Snow Shoe club will meet at the residence of Mrs. K. A. Parker to-morrow afternoon. All members intending to tramp are requested to be on hand by 4:30 o'clock.

Several physicians seen by MINING JOURNAL reporters say that the influenza epidemic is losing its force here. There are still many cases but the stress of the disease seems to have passed.

The second mail carrier of the present force has been notified that his services will no longer be required after February 1st. This time Thomas W. Cleary is the victim. He will be succeeded by Matt Clune.

Russian influenza, or the grip, the malady so prevalent that it is called fashionable, has extended from biped to quadruped animals. One of the horses of the fire department is sick with a disease that very much resembles and is said to be of the same character as the cosmopolitan grip.

With one final long and lugubrious blast of the whistle at noon the Iron Bay machine shops closed down yesterday. It is reported that other parties are negotiating for the property. If the deal is successful the shops will be much enlarged and their capacity considerably increased.

Henry Russell, Luther Smith and Finley Klingensmith are contesting homesteaders of a quarter section of land near Kichi, Ontonagon county. The case will be heard by Receiver Maynard and Register Royce to-day. Each of the parties has a number of witnesses, and the contest promises to be a long one.

A gang of men with drills began yesterday sinking a shaft on Front street near the railroad tracks. About the time the passers-by began to wonder if a gold mine had been discovered under Marquette it was found that the workmen were only looking for a leaky gas main.

PERSONAL MOVEMENTS.

James R. Dee, of Houghton, was in the city yesterday.

W. C. Finney left yesterday for Duluth where he will live in the future.

Judge Steere passed through the city yesterday on his way to hold court at Menominee.

Mr. Ed. Wetmore left for Cleveland yesterday. He expects to remain there some weeks and will then go west, probably to remain.

George Du Nah, chief cutter of Kaufman & Sons, has gone to Chicago to attend the Cutters' National Convention, now in session in that city.

Mrs. Frank Merritt left for Kalamazoo yesterday. After visiting friends there she will join her husband in their new home at Duluth.

F. P. Smith, chief clerk of railway mail service at Milwaukee, was in the city yesterday on a trip of inspection. He left for Ishpeming and other points up the road this afternoon.

Kassel Oshinsky, believing that the early bird catches the worm, left yesterday on a purchasing trip in the east. He expects to be the first to receive spring goods and will doubtless have something interesting to say to his numerous customers on his return.

For Green Bay,
Take the Milwaukee & Northern railroad.
