SOCKLESS JERRY JUBILANT

That Peculiar Product of Kansas Politics Says Alliance Will Be Very Much In It.

WILL PUT UP PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE NEXT YEAR.

Standford Will Stand No Show Because He Is Regarded by the Alliance as Merely a Big Boodler.

FARMERS TO THE FRONT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Reclining at length on the lounge in his comfortable apartments on K street this morning, Congressman Jerry Simpson of Kansas, discoursed on his recent trip through the south and on the future of the alliance throughout the country. He speaks in a slow, unpretentious way. But he is wide awake. He says that the alliance is organized in thirty-eight states and is growing wherever it has taken root. He cites the desertion of Judge Kelley from the republican ranks as proof. He says that such desertions are so frequent as to excite but little comment in alliance circles. The democratic party, too, is suffering. He declares that the alliance will certainly put a candidate for president in the field next year.

"Suppose you do not do so, will you endorse either the democratic or republican nominee?"

"It is not a supposable case," he replied, bring himself up to a sitting posture with a jerk and slapping his knees. "It is not a supposable case! The alliance will nominate a member for president. There is no doubt about it. During my recent trip through the south thousands—now I am not exaggerating about it when I say thousands—came to me and declared that they had had enough of the old parties and intended to have an alliance man in the White House. Some of the politicians who figure as alliance men say not, but they will be weeded out, there will be an alliance nominee."

"Who?"

"I can't tell. No one who offers himself; you can depend on that. The office will seek the man with us. But if Westfall is successful I think that he stands a good show. Weaver was talked of, but he says, and I agree with him, that a farmer should be selected."

"What about Stanford?"

"I am glad you asked me that, for I have seen so much talk about Stanford getting my nomination. Now, put it down. Stanford will have nothing to do with him. We look upon him as one of the big boodlers of the country who got their millions by robbing the people. I understand that Stanford is an old man without children and that he is ambitious to leave a name behind him. Well, he can't do it through the farmers' alliance."

Referring to the reported effort to cover the crops, he said that the move had, he believed, been made by and in the interest of speculators. It is not an alliance movement. At the same time he believes it is a good idea.

"If we can hold on to our surplus," he said, "we shall be able to get a higher price for it; but not many, I fear, will be able to hold on. They have too many mortgages to pay. In my own case, were it not for the salary I shall receive as congressman, I should have to sell the five thousand bushels of wheat I have raised this year. As it is, I shall be able to hold it. In Kansas City there is a concern that will advance 75 per cent of the present value of wheat shipped there and charge 10 per cent for the money. If the price falls to within 2 cents of the price which prevails when the loan is made the holder is privileged to sell it. Kind of a sub-treasury scheme on a small scale, you see."

"Ingalls, the congressman declares, will never rise again. He calls himself a statesman out of a job," he said. "I call him a political tramp. He is dead politically and with him is dying the republican party. John Sherman will be next and then the party will fall to pieces. Well, let it. It has performed its errand. Now let it die."

SOUTH AGAINST CLEVELAND.

Alliance Democrats Dislike His Views on Silver Coinage.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The war on Cleveland in the south shows no signs of abating. Governor Tillman of South Carolina says in an interview today that the democrats of this country should throw Cleveland overboard. He asserts that they can not afford to support him. Tillman seems to base his opposition to Cleveland mainly upon the fact that the ex-president is opposed to free coinage. He says he cannot carry any state west of the Mississippi, because of his silver views.

Tillman thinks that Governor Campbell will stand the best show for the nomination if he is re-elected governor of Ohio. Congressman Wise, of West Virginia, holds views similar to those of Tillman. He agrees with Tillman that Campbell will be the most available candidate if re-elected. He says the democratic party has a fighting chance in several of the northwestern states.

FIRE ON THE OCEAN.

Steamer Cacherie Fights It in Her Coal Bunkers Ten Days.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The steamship Cacherie arrived in this port last Friday evening with 160 Italian steerage passengers on board. It was learned today for the first time that for ten of the eighteen days of the Cacherie's voyage the vessel and all on board of her were in imminent and continuous danger of the gravest character. When the steamer was but one day out from Marseilles it was reported to the captain that the soft coal in the bunkers was on fire. He at once gave orders that the strictest secrecy should be observed, as, if the news spread among the ignorant passengers, it would be impossible to avert a panic. Immediate steps were taken to quench the fire, but it had already gained serious headway. The pumps were put to work and heavy streams of water were poured upon the piles of coal and upon the deck above it. This was kept up for day and night for ten days and not till the end of that time was the fire entirely extinguished. The captain and crew were almost continuously on duty during that time and were completely worn out. During the whole time none of the passengers had any suspicion of the danger in which they stood, nor did they learn of it until port had been reached.

PANIC STRICKEN CROWDS.

Wind Storm Flattens Out a Circus Tent at Washburn, Wis.

Two Small Boys Trodden to Death and Many Persons Injured—Post Office Building Collapses.

HOWL OF THE STORM-BLAST.

ASHLAND, Wis., Aug. 8.—A storm cloud which came up from the west broke over Chequamegon bay with disastrous results yesterday afternoon. Rain fell in torrents accompanied by wind blowing at a tremendous velocity. The roof was stripped from the Fifield block. The Swedish Baptist church was lifted four feet from its foundation and turned around and numerous small buildings twisted about. Out at the bay front half a dozen little yachts were moored. They all broke away from their fastenings and were wrecked upon the shore. Among them is the handsome little "Sheeny" which won the race a week ago. The total damage amounts to $10,000.

The worst effects of the storm were experienced at Washburn, on the opposite side of the bay. A small circus was giving an exhibition when the storm struck the tent and it collapsed. In the panic which ensued two small boys were crushed to death and a number of others seriously injured.

The postoffice building, a frame structure on Main street, in which were half a dozen persons, collapsed and caught the inmates in what seemed to be a death trap, but by the fortunate lodgment of timbers they all escaped without injury, except two women, one of whom suffered a broken leg and the other a contusion of the head.

Half a dozen other buildings are badly damaged. The roof of the Omaha elevator was lifted up and dashed upon the bay, exposing the stock of wheat to the rain. The derricks and hoisting engines at the coal dock were blown over and ruined and many thousands of feet of lumber piled in the yards of the Bigelow mills were blown over into the water. The loss at Washburn is very large, probably $50,000.

SHOT BY GAME WARDEN.

Seining Party That Ended Fatally for David McIlvain.

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 9.—Deputy Game Warden Buntain of Dayton fatally shot David McIlvain who, with others, was caught seining in Mad River in violation of the state law. Buntain had heard of the seining party and in company with Ben Zitzer, a member of the Fish and Game Protective society, went to the spot. They came upon the party in the act of dragging the seine and Buntain exclaimed, "Hello boys, we got here just in time to see you make a haul." One fisherman struck Buntain in the eye with a stone and Buntain drew a revolver and shot McIlvain through the heart. The others were then captured. Buntain gave himself up but is not held in confinement as he is a state officer and according to McIlvain's own statement did the shooting in self defense and in discharge of his duty.

LOST IN LAKE PEWAUKEE.

Four Milwaukee Young People Drowned While Out Sailing.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 9.—Four young people, children of prominent Milwaukee business men, were drowned at Lake Pewaukee, twenty miles from here, today. They were out in a small sail boat with three other young people when a squall struck the boat, capsizing it. It was heavily ballasted and sunk almost instantly, leaving the seven people struggling in the water. The names of the drowned are: Albert and Emma Barth, Martha Kindling and Clara Siegler, their ages ranging from 15 to 29 years. The young people had been spending a few days by Lake Pewaukee, which is a favorite resort for Milwaukee people.

DROWNED IN A BATH TUB.

Mrs. Nellie Webb's Suicide at Cincinnati Private Insane Asylum.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Nellie Webb, an aged and wealthy widow of Louisville, Ky., committed suicide at the College Hill Sanitarium. Her family are prominent people of Louisville. She was a victim of drink and when placed in the sanitarium and deprived of her stimulant she developed melancholy tendencies. Last night she went into the bath room, locked the door, threw herself into the tub and turned on the water. The overflowing water attracted the attendants' attention, an entrance was forced into the room and she was found dead from drowning.

Sylvester Young's Stealings.

LOUISVILLE, August 9.—The shortage of Sylvester Young, the defaulting cashier of the Newport News and Mississippi Valley railway, instead of being only $25,000 is known to be at least $38,000. It may reach more upon further investigation. There is yet no clue to Young's whereabouts.

SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKES

Seismic Convulsions Cause Great Destruction About Head of Gulf of California.

VOLCANOES DISCHARGE GAS AND SHOWERS OF MUD.

Earthquake Shocks Level Buildings and Tidal Waves Swept the Coast—Children Suffocated.

MOTHER EARTH IS UNEASY.

YUMA, A. T., Aug. 9.—Reports continue to come in from the earthquake region at the head of the gulf of California. Two Cocopa Indians that live near there arrived here yesterday. They tell a thrilling story. Early Thursday morning hundreds of mud volcanoes thirty miles off burst into a violent eruption. The air grew denser and many infants were suffocated. At last a violent thunder storm cleared the air, only to show tidal waves approaching with frightful rapidity. The water rose, swallowing up their cattle, horses, grain fields and driving them for their lives to the top of the mesas, a hundred feet high above the river. The earthquake shocks then began. The fourth threw everyone down, seriously injuring many. The dust darkened the air. The rumble of the earthquake, the sharp explosions of the distant volcanoes, the howling of the crazed cattle made unbearable the uproar and the frightened Indians broke and fled wildly up the river. Two only succeeded in reaching here to tell the story. Others dropped exhausted along the route. Jose Perez, a cattleman from Lendo, and five men witnessed the scene from the top of the hill to which they had escaped. They report the tidal wave as fully one hundred feet high and also a river of bluish purple fire which was flowing down into the Colorado near the gulf. This is undoubtedly from the sulphur mountain which was set on fire by the volume of burning material thrown out by the volcanoes. Much property was destroyed. The residence and all valuable buildings on the ranch of Charles Townsend, breeder of fine cattle, were leveled by the earthquake.

STATE'S PRISON FOR LIFE.

Wm. J. Elliott Received Sentence for Murder in Second Degree.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 9.—William J. Elliott, convicted of murder in the second degree, for the killing of A. C. Osborn last February, was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary for life. Elliott arose and made a speech of some length, in which he declared before the immaculate God that he was innocent; that he had not expected to meet Osborn on that fatal day; that Osborn began the shooting. He also claimed the jury had done him great wrong. He said he would bid good-bye to liberty with the reflection that he was a victim of circumstances and was suffering for his devotion to the cause of pure womanhood.

The Elliott boys were editors of a paper here, and their victim was employed in an editorial capacity on a rival paper. Personal journalism led to stinging personal attacks through the two papers. So bitter became the feud that all parties went armed. The Elliotts deliberately planned to kill Osborn, and on Decoration Day, when the streets were thronged, opened fire on him. Some twenty shots were exchanged and several persons on the street were hit besides the man marked for death. The arrest of the Elliotts was followed by one of the most sensational trials in the history of the state, which resulted in a verdict against Elliott of murder in the second degree.

CONTINENTAL POLITICS.

Coming Conference of Ribot and De Giers Arouses Much Talk.

PARIS, Aug. 9.—Mr. Ribot, minister of foreign affairs, will go to Lausanne at the end of this month on a vacation, during which he will meet, either at Lausanne or Lucerne, the Russian foreign minister, Mr. De Giers, who is also about to make a holiday sojourn in Switzerland. The meeting is the subject of much speculation, apart from the Franco-Russian military entente already partially effected. Mr. Ribot, according to a diplomatic report, will seize the chance to consult with Mr. De Giers on the menacing attitude of the triple alliance customs union toward both France and Russia.

Yesterday evening's North German Gazette frankly avows—that the French foreign office has long suspected—that the ultimate object of Germany in promoting a European commercial league was the conclusion of tariff conventions with all states outside of Europe. A semi-official communication in the North German Gazette repudiates any designs to isolate France or to interfere with Russian commerce but the palpable result of the customs union in placing the parties to the compact in an advantageous position for the negotiation of commercial treaties with foreign states is dwelt upon. If Mr. Ribot succeeds, through his conference with M. De Giers, in effecting an economic entente between the two countries it will greatly add to the repute of both statesmen.

Mr. Constans, minister of commerce, in a speech at Argenteuil hinted at the withdrawal of the proscription of princely pretenders. He said the republic was open to all but that new-comers must obey and not command.

ular exhibit can thus be made and the eyes of the conceited "hayseeds" of southern Michigan be opened to the fact that the claims of their northern ally are not to be treated with contempt.

And here is a rattling editorial from the Norway Current on the same subject:

Contrary to the expectations of the people of this peninsula, irrespective of party, Governor Winans failed to appoint as one of the World's Fair commissioners, a resident of the upper peninsula, and there is much dissatisfaction thereat.

It is now proposed by some to make an exhibition of the products and industries of this peninsula which shall be independent of the regular state exhibit and which shall surpass in magnitude and completeness that of any like area in the country.

What is needed now is a prompt and energetic demonstration by those who have been ignored, that they possess that greatest wealth-producing territory on the face of the earth.

EDITOR MINING JOURNAL.-In the summer and fall of 1873 the writer of this passed several weeks in Lansing, Mich. While there I had the good fortune to see, in a social way, a good deal of the late Judge H. G. Wells, of Kalamazoo, in this state.

In the early summer of 1845 Judge Wells had an interview in the lower part of the state with Dr. Houghton, touching the latter's work in the woods up here.

He inquired of Judge Wells if Dr. Houghton had given him an idea of the locality in which he found the gold.

"He did at the time," remarked the judge, "but I've forgotten. As nearly as I can remember, however, it was somewhere within these boundaries," pointing at the moment to a map of Marquette county before us, which embraced the Huron mountains, a territory lying in towns 50, 51 and 52, and ranges 27, 28 and 29.

There were present Aldermen Agnew, Follis, Gillett, Hennessey, Johnson, McGregor, Moore, Pendill, Powell, Stafford and Todd.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read. (Alderman Young and Desjardins absent and took their seats) when A. B. Eldridge, attorney for the Marquette Valley Milling company was permitted to address the council and stated that it was the wish of his client that there be stricken from the lease heretofore agreed upon the clause which prohibits the lessee from subletting without the written consent of the city.

The petition of Hampson Gregory asking permission to use what space the ordinance allows in rebuilding the store on Washington street was granted.

Agreement of Peter White to indemnify the city against costs etc., in suit v. s. Ellen Cunningham was read, and ordered placed on file, and proposition accepted.

The street commissioner's report was read and accepted.

Alderman Follis stated there was an error in the Washington street sewer assessment roll (from Fifth street to Garfield avenue) and moved that it be righted.

Alderman Powell moved that it be referred back to the city assessor for correction.

Whereupon Alderman Desjardins moved as a substitute that the assessor be instructed to correct the assessment roll, and that one-third of the cost of construction of said sewer be paid out of the general fund.

Substitute was adopted by the following vote: Ayes, Aldermen Agnew, Desjardins, Follis, Hennessey, Johnson, Stafford and Todd. Nays, Alderman Gillett, McGregor, Moore, Pendill, Powell and Young.

The following ordinance was adopted: It is hereby Ordained by the Common Council of the City of Marquette:

SECTION 1. That plank sidewalks be constructed in accordance with the general ordinance of the city relative thereto, as follows: One on the east side of Fifth street between Washington street and Fisher street; and one on the west side of Fifth street between Superior street and Fisher street.

SECTION 2. That the owners and occupants of the lots and parcels of lands abutting on said street opposite said sidewalks upon the sides of said street upon which said sidewalks are constructed, are hereby required to construct those portions of said sidewalks opposite their said lots and parcels of land at their own expense within thirty days from service upon them as hereinafter provided, of a copy of this ordinance, said service to be made by the street commissioner either upon such owners and occupants personally or by posting the same upon the lots or parcels of land of such owners and occupants on or before the 15th day of August, 1891.

Committee of police claims and grievances to which was referred the petition of Frank Greenwald and others for passage of an ordinance on Washington street during construction of building reported and recommended construction of temporary cross walks opposite Greenwald's and L'Hullier's stores. Report adopted.

Alderman Todd stated that several petitions had been presented for water mains on Jackson street and requested report from committee of police claims and grievances to which the matter was referred. Said committee stated they would report at next meeting.

Communication from city attorney was read, in regard to sidewalks, and ordered placed on file.

R. R. French petitioned to be allowed a thousand dollars on his Front street contract, and on motion, was allowed seven hundred dollars.

The following bills and amounts were allowed and ordered paid: J. P. Finlayson, street commissioner, per day roll, $1,733 13

SATURDAY'S SEVERE STORM

Rain and Lightning Do Considerable Damage to Property in Negaunee.

EIGHT MEN STUNNED AND HORSE KILLED BY A LIGHTNING.

Funeral of James Bale Yesterday—How He Met His Death—A String of Small Items.

RAIN DOES MORE DAMAGE.

Negaunee has not been visited in years by as many thunder storms during the same interval as came its way last week. Rain, and floods of it, fell every day. Many of the new streets which have been graded this summer have been badly washed out, and the work will have to be done over again. The damage done by lightning is estimated at about $2,000, and the wind did its share of the work of destruction by blowing down shade trees, damaging roofs, etc.

Saturday morning the heat was excessive and everybody wished for rain. About 10 o'clock it came, and fell in torrents until noon, when the hot weather was again turned on. When the shower started, the men employed in constructing the new street through from Merry street to the D. S. S. & A. track took refuge in an old house belonging to the Jackson Iron company which was recently moved to make way for the street. Louis Grunze, one of the men at work on the road, took the horse which he was driving into a shed adjoining the house, so as to be able to resume work at once as soon as the storm was over. The four other teamsters took their horses to a barn a short distance away and returned to the house with Greeny. When the storm had nearly abated, one of the party suggested that they return to work, but Mike LaCrosse, who has the contract for constructing the street, told the men to wait until after the rain was over. Greeny, who wanted to get through with his work, started to go out, when a lightning bolt struck the house, prostrating Greeny and giving the seven men sheltered in the building a shock that rendered them unconscious for a short time. They all regained consciousness before very long, and found that they were none the worse for their vivid experience, save for a sensation of numbness and the fright they got, and they all went to work again after the storm passed. But Greeny's horse did not fare so well. When the owner went around to the shed where he had left the animal he found him lying dead from the effects of the bolt that had struck the building. The harness, which had been left on the horse, was found to be charred by the electric current, but not a single board in the shed or house was touched. The horse was valued at $300. Toward evening another heavy rain fall occurred, and the lightning again got in some work on Case street. Six fine shade trees along that thoroughfare were destroyed. At first it was thought that they had been blown down but on examination it was found that they were all split through the middle and the bark on all six was charred, which left no doubt of their having been struck. Negaunee is not anxious for any more thunder storms this summer. We have had a gentle sufficiency of thunder and lightning and rain, but gentle showers at proper intervals will still be welcome.

Those who have subscribed their names to the membership roll of the Y. M. C. A. need have no fear that the association will not start this year. The right parties have taken hold and will not permit the movement to organize an association here to lag or fail. A meeting of the committee will be held in J. Q. Adams' office this evening to decide on either erecting a $10,000 building or engaging rooms wherein to hold meetings of the association until the balance needed to provide it with a building of its own is raised.

Honors Won by an American. A cablegram from London announces that Mr. W. Hepburn Buckler, B. A., of Trinity college, Cambridge, stands second in a class of forty-seven in the law tripos of Cambridge. Mr. Buckler is a son of Dr. Thomas H. Buckler, of Baltimore, who has lived in Paris the greater part of the time since 1866. Mr. Julian Le Roy White, of Baltimore, and Mr. Henry White, secretary of American legation in London, are young Buckler's half brothers. He has lived abroad the greater part of his life. With his parents he has come to Baltimore frequently of late years, and spent last summer with his aunt at "Evergreen," near Druid Hill park. Young Buckler is about twenty-three years old. He will probably practice law in Baltimore.—Baltimore Sun.

Buffalo in the National Park. The Chicago Academy of Science held a members' meeting in the Art institute recently, at which the gratifying information that the American buffalo is in no immediate danger of extinction was conveyed to the meeting in a letter from Captain George S. Anderson, acting superintendent of the Yellowstone National park. The writer states that there are between 200 and 500 buffaloes in the park. Their numbers are steadily increasing, though a rapid increase is probably prevented by the severity of the climate. Contrary to general opinion, carnivorous animals are not very destructive to the herd, and it stands the winters without feed or protection.—Chicago Times.

Laid to Rest. The remains of James Bale arrived here from Ely Saturday noon in charge of Captain Bale, father of the deceased, and other relatives. The body was taken to the residence of Mrs. J. Carmichael, on Case street. The funeral took place at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the Presbyterian church and was one of the largest ever seen in this city. Rev. Brown preached a touching funeral sermon. He spoke of the young man's career from its beginning to the sad ending, and said that his amiable character and studious habits of life were worthy of the closest emulation. The church was packed. Seated in the front rows of pews were the members of the eight classes graduated from the high school. The procession which escorted the remains to the cemetery was one of the largest ever seen here, being four blocks in length. This information regarding the manner in which his son was drowned: Young Bale, with a number of companions, was bathing in the lake near the village of Ely. Bale could not swim and walked out over a sandbar beyond his depth. His companions did not notice him until he had sunk out of sight for the last time. They quickly procured a boat, but before they succeeded in getting his body out of the water life was extinct.

STREET GOSSIP. Alfred Sineal got home Saturday from a five week's visit with relatives in Canada. N. Laughlin had a new fire-proof safe of the Hall patent placed in his store last week. The repairs to the Kuhlman block are completed and Mr. Kuhlman will move into the store this week. Martin Reidy, of the firm of Reidy & Higgins, left Saturday for an extensive tour through the western states. About one hundred members of the German Aid society will take in the picnic at Ishpeming next Saturday. The Lime Kilns played a game of ball with the Saginaw mine team yesterday afternoon, and came out victorious, as usual. Mr. E. Lotti and Miss Trisa Stronki were married at the residence of the bride's parents on Jackson street Saturday evening. The funeral of Peter Fountain took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of his son on Lincoln street and was largely attended. J. Stecker will leave next week for Summit, Miss., where he will join a theatrical company as solo cornetist. Several show companies have sought to secure his services during the past year, but it was with much reluctance that he was finally induced to leave his home town. Negaunee will lose its most noted musician by his departure and our people sincerely regret the loss.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Ryan, of Marquette, spent two days of their honeymoon at the Breitung. They left Saturday to continue their southern trip.

The A. O. U. W. band came out in its new uniform for the first time Saturday evening, but did not give a street parade, the rain preventing.

Mrs. Hugh Jackson and her daughter, Jenima, of Thessalon, Ontario, arrived in town Saturday and will spend a few weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Jackson.

A party of ten business men will leave today for a fishing trip to Bass Lake, about twenty miles south of here on the C. & N. W. road. They will be gone about two weeks.

The green grocery firm of Bray & Thomas has been dissolved. Mr. Bray will continue the business and is now removing his stock from the Jane building to the store adjoining Hambly & Inch's meat market.

The firm of Reidy & Higgins dissolved partnership Saturday, Mr. Reidy retiring from the business. Mr. Higgins will continue to do business at the old stand and will no doubt hold the liberal patronage that the old firm was favored with.

The front side of the large ore pocket near Jackson pit No. 7 was broken out by the heavy rain Saturday and the ore was let out on the D. S. S. & A. track. A force of men was at once set to work loading the ore into cars and no delay was caused there.

So A. Heyn has been doing business on the cash basis for the last year, has he? Well that seems queer, when any reliable person here can still secure credit at his store. The writer of this has bought goods on credit there during the past month. A strictly cash system does not by any means include the credit system, and J. Mitchell is the first firm which has adopted the former.

References No Good. "New York references are no good," said the attorney for a collection agency. "We never take them. When a note is due we just crack ahead and bring suit. Then the man must pay costs besides. That is the way we get our living. We rarely ever counsel extensions. Nine cases out of ten, if a man wants four or five days and gets it he'll never pay at all, and the advantage arising from immediate suit is lost. All a notary has to do in case of a note is to call at a man's residence or place of business. He doesn't have to present the note for payment. If the man isn't there a suit can be begun at once without further notice. It is a legal refusal to pay if the man isn't there to receive the notary. That is the way we do business. Our business is to get the money for our clients. The creditor must look out for himself. I wouldn't give the snap of my finger for the best reference in New York."—New York Herald.

Wanted to Go to the Game. The other day a couple of gentlemen were lunching rather elaborately at a prominent cafe. One of them sighed frequently and looked at his watch and inveighed against the necessity for work. "Bah!" exclaimed his companion, "you would not know what to do with yourself. You thrive upon an active life. Besides you have been everywhere and seen everything, and if you had five millions tomorrow you couldn't enjoy it. No, sir. Now, look here, old man, what is your idea of pleasure? What would you do right now if you had a million? Right off hand, now—what would you do?" "I'd knock off this lunch and go out and see the ball game, for the first thing." (In about a minute)—"I don't see anything so awfully funny about that?"—New York Herald.

"JESSIE JAMES SECOND."

Bold Daylight Bank Robbery and Triple Shooting at Columbus Grove, Ohio.

ROBBER GETS $1,900 AT MUZZLES OF HIS REVOLVERS.

Cashier Maple Badly Wounded and Customer of the Bank Killed—Bandits Escape Safely.

GREATEST NERVE ON RECORD.

LIMA, Ohio, Aug. 9.—One of the boldest bank robberies ever perpetrated occurred Saturday morning at Columbus Grove, a town of about 3,000 people, twelve miles north of here. Cashier T. J. Maple had opened the Exchange bank, of which his father is proprietor, and laid out about $3,000 near the cashier's window, when a man appeared in the door with a revolver in each hand. He immediately began shooting. Cashier Maple was struck twice, once in the arm and once in the right side.

As he fell to the floor, an older farmer, Wm. Vandebark, aged 60, entered the door, having come to get his money for some hogs he had just sold. The robber turned and shot him and the old man fell mortally wounded. A third man sat in the lobby of the bank paralyzed with fear. He was not molested. The desperado then grabbed $1,500 in greenbacks, deposited them in the pockets of his sack coat, and darted out of the door shouting:

"I'M A SECOND 'JESSIE JAMES.'"

Quite a crowd had been attracted by the reports of the shots, but there was a scattering when the wild-eyed murderer appeared on the street, having a gun in either hand and shooting indiscriminately. One of the bystanders, Henry Beck, failed to get out of the way fast enough, and was struck down by a bullet.

It seems that two men were connected with the robbery, one acting as principal and the other accomplice. They are strangers in the place, having arrived early this morning. They first proceeded to a hardware store which adjoins the bank and asked for two revolvers. Two were shown the man who did the talking, which he bargained for and had loaded. After the pistols were ready for use he pointed them at the merchant's head and told him to take his pay out of that. Then they proceeded to the bank, one remaining outside in a buggy while the other committed the robbery and did the shooting. Hastening from the bank after completing his murderous work he climbed into the buggy with his companion and the two drove hastily away. The affair caused great excitement and a posse was quickly formed to pursue the robbers. They had considerable the start, however, and up to this time have not been captured. If the men are overtaken they will be shot down like dogs.

CASHIER MAPLE'S STORY.

Cashier Maple was this afternoon able to make a statement of the affair: "Two men were in the bank besides myself," he said, "A. C. Syfert being at my wicket renewing notes. A boyish looking fellow came in. He walked up to the wicket and pointing the revolver said: 'I want your money.' I thought it was one of the town boys making sport, because of so much show of firearms, and made a reply of some kind in that line, whereupon he blazed away. The first shot gave me this wound in the side, the second the one in my arm and the third shot missed. I then grabbed my revolver, which only had one load in it, and fired. I shot too high, however, and missed. He started out and met Vandebark just coming in. He shot once at him, once up a stairway in this hall were nobody was, once at a man driving by in a wagon, and then started back into the bank.

"It was by this time standing by the cellars. I held him at bay with my drawn revolver until he saw I could not shoot, when he blazed away twice, making eight shots fired in all. I dodged into the cellar for protection, and with the door partly open, saw the fellow reach behind the screen and take all the money lying there he could reach, amounting, as near as I can guess, to $1,900, and deliberately put it in his pocket and walk out of the door. The desperado is described as being short and heavy set, with full face and small black mustache. He wore a black alpaca cap, black sack coat, navy blue striped pants and no vest. He appeared to be about 30 years old.

It is thought the wounds of Maple and Beck are not necessarily fatal. Vandebark was a prosperous farmer in Union township.

It was reported from Wapontetka late Saturday afternoon that the robber had been overtaken and killed but this report was not verified today. Several bodies of men are still out scouring this and adjacent counties in pursuit of the bandits but up to midnight no definite report had been received. The feeling here is that the robbers had enough of a start to defy immediate pursuit and that they will only be captured by careful search through all of the large cities to which they might possibly go to enjoy the fruits of their bold crime.

One Dangerously Wounded—Famine on the Rio Grande.

CITR DE MEXICO, Aug. 9.—A duel was fought at Piedra, near here, Thursday morning between Colonels Francisco Nevoa and Manuel Blanco. The duel was brought about by a dispute, the two colonels using language to each other of the harshest nature. Nevoa had for his seconds General Flores and Colonel Rodrigo Valdes and Blanco was supported by Deputies Francisco Romero, a celebrated duelist, and Antonio Tovar, the author of the duelling code of Mexico. The arms chosen were swords and according to the report it was a duel to death. The assaults after the signal for attack was given were ten. In these ten assaults Blanco was wounded in the right arm, again in the throat and was laid out by a thrust in in the liver, only giving up after being so weak that he could not stand. When the seconds ordered the duel to come to a close, Nevoa had several scratches, none, however, worth mentioning. In view of the fact that President Diaz forbade duelling in the army by a special decree some months ago it is probable that the colonels will be placed under arrest and punished.

FAMINE ALONG THE RIO GRANDE.

Those who have lived twenty-five years on the Rio Grande have never seen so much misery among the Mexican population as this year. The staple crop of the Rio Grande valley is corn, but the drouth has been terrible for the last eighteen months, that scarcely anything has been raised and cattle have died by thousands. Many men, who years ago were considered well off, have nothing left but their lands. Hundreds of laboring men have left the frontier counties and are finding work north of the Nueces river. If the drouth continues until the cold northern come on there will be little cattle to live through the winter and many families will suffer for the necessities of life. The drouth is confined to a few counties in Texas, but extends far into Mexico.

There was recently exhibited in Dublin a new burner for lighthouse use, possessing twice the illuminating power of the largest burners now employed. It is calculated that this new burner, in connection with a specially devised system of lenses, will transmit a light equal to about 8,000,000 candles, which far exceeds the most powerful light at present used.—New York Times.

In recent Russian trials to test the adaptability of snow breastworks against an enemy's fire, it was found that a thickness of six feet was a perfect protection against bullets fired at 300 paces. Packing the snow and pouring water over it to make a crust of ice was found to keep bullets out when the thickness was only three feet and one-half.

M'MILLAN WAS OVERTAINED.

Hence Tommy Ryan Had an Easy Time and Did Up His Antagonist.

SHORT AND SHARP BATTLE OF ONLY THREE ROUNDS.

Three Hundred and Fifty Chicago Men See Lively Sunday Morning Mill Results of Ball Games.

STRENGTH WAS STARVED OUT.

RICHARDSON, Ill., Aug. 9.—The match between Tommy Ryan, who defeated Dannie Needham at Minneapolis last winter for the welterweight championship, and William McMillan of Washington was fought at Richardson, a milk station forty-six miles west of Chicago, on the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City road, this morning. The fight was one-sided from start to finish. McMillan had been nearly starved in order to weigh in under 144 pounds and was so weak from his training that he could hardly have fought a school boy. The result of the contest was easily predicted when the two men stripped in the little railroad freight warehouse at Richardson and stepped on the scale. Ryan's excellent condition was in marked contrast to McMillan's over-tained appearance. The crowd was entertained at the ring side in a little grove a quarter of a mile east of the depot by an exhibition of wrestling between local athletes, during the two hours before the mill began. The fight was for 75 and 25 per cent of the gate money and a small side bet. Queensberry rules, with two ounce gloves to a finish. The seven coaches on the train probably contained about 350 men at $12 per head. After the usual preliminaries time was called at 6:40 A. M., and the fight was on.

Round 1.—The men sparred cautiously for an opening and Ryan led for the face with his left and they clinched. Breaking, Ryan feinted with his right, landing lightly on the jaw, and following it up with a hard left-hander on the mouth. McMillan got in an easy thump on Ryan's ribs, whereupon Ryan adopted rushing tactics, getting home on McMillan's forehead and neck with right and left. The fighting had been rapid, and both men were now somewhat wary. After a pass or two which did no damage Ryan made a dab at McMillan's jaw but missed and eluded a return. Ryan got home at close quarters with his right on McMillan's ribs and followed it up with his left hand on the jaw. McMillan, while apparently a trifle "rattled," succeeded, however, in waking Ryan up with a jab under the heart that made him grunt and catch his breath. It was seen by this time that Ryan had the best of the round. McMillan, though taking his punishment well, not having sufficient strength to make his blows effective.

Round 2.—This round opened with a lead, cross lead and clinch, Ryan landing a light tap on McMillan's mouth on the break. McMillan led the right, Ryan eluded and returning again reached a hard whack on the ribs. Then Ryan after feinting with the left, planted a solid blow squarely on McMillan's nose causing it to bleed freely. Ryan now began to force matters and in his eagerness laid himself open to McMillan's right which collided with his neck. Ryan, dazed for an instant, fell heavily backward and it was feared he was done. After seven seconds Ryan gained his feet and appeared little the worse for the blow which so nearly lost him the fight. He went in now for revenge, driving McMillan all over the ring with fast and furious blows, twice felling him to the floor.

Round 3.—McMillan came up with unsteady gait, weakly attempting to ward off the powerful rushes of Ryan, who landed right and left at will, and where he pleased. Then seeing that time was ripe for the final stroke, Ryan tapped his staggering foe on the neck and he fell. Slowly Ryan struggled to his feet, only feebly to clinch for a moment and on the break the fatal blow was given and the agony was over. Ryan showed not a scratch, while McMillan has several bad cuts and bruises.

Decided Not to Go in the Steerage.

A gentleman who went to see some friends off on the Teutonic a week ago Wednesday tells of a funny incident which he witnessed on board. He was talking with the purser when a man, fairly well dressed, came up and said to that officer, "I bought a steerage ticket to west, but I think I would rather go second cabin." "I am very sorry," replied the purser, "but you can't go that way, because there is not a berth left unoccupied in the second cabin."

"Then I'll go first cabin," responded the imperturbable stranger. "You can't go first cabin, either, I'm sorry to say," answered the purser, "because all the berths in the first cabin are also sold."

"Isn't there a stateroom of any kind left?"

"Well," said the purser, with a smile, "there is one stateroom left, but the price of it is $600."

"If I take that," said the stranger musingly, "I will owe you $578."

"How is that?" asked the purser.

"Well, the steerage ticket cost me twenty-two dollars, and I presume it is still good for that amount, so that in order to get the room I'll have to give you only $578 more."

"Oh that is true," said the purser. "Then," said the stranger, "I'll take that room." And forthwith he pulled out a huge roll of bills and handed the purser $578.—New York Times.

They Merely Kissed Each Other.

That kissing, even when purely voluntary on both sides, constitutes assault and battery is a discovery which it has remained for that sapient and most original body, the Philadelphia grand jury, to make. There is no doubt about the discovery, however, as Isaac Purnell and Sallie Senseman, who are now languishing in Moyamensing prison under a bill of indictment charging them with assault and battery on each other, can swear that they did nothing more serious than exchange kisses, accompanied by hugs.

They met on the evening of June 1 near Twentieth and Green streets, and apparently it was a case of love at first sight. They strolled along the street happy in each other's company. Their demonstrations of affection attracted the attention of Officer Stanton, of the Ninth police district, and a private watchman. The officer hailed them off to the station house at Twenty-third and Brown streets, and a magistrate committed them the next day to Moyamensing.

Isaac and Sallie were a good deal astonished at this severe punishment for their little escapade, but their amazement was increased on Friday when they were told that they had been indicted by the grand jury for assault and battery on each other, and that their offense was so flagrant that it might take them to Cherry Hill.—Philadelphia Record.

A Madman Up a Tree.

Considerable excitement prevailed at Santa Rosa, Cal., the other day, over the presence of a lunatic on the top of a tall poplar tree. The man escaped from his friends at 12:30 p. m., shinned up the tree like a squirrel, and took a position on the end of a small limb fifty feet from the ground. Every effort was made to get the demented man down from his elevated perch, and thousands of persons were attracted to the spot. Ladders were obtained from the fire department and raised to the tree, but no one could get near enough to throw a rope around his body.

As night approached the rain began falling heavily, and the poor fellow kept his perch until 4 o'clock in the morning, when he fell to the ground, having been in the tree fourteen hours. A canvas had been stretched below, and that was all that saved his life. He bounded off to the ground. His arm and shoulder were fractured and he received internal injuries.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Telegraph Operator's Blunder.

The friends of William B. Hays, Jr., of Liberty street, were very much concerned on Saturday by an erroneous report regarding his health, which was due to an error on the part of a telegraph operator. Mr. Hays went to Mount Clemens, Mich., some time ago in search of relief from an attack of inflammatory rheumatism. In reply to an inquiry from a relative in the city regarding when he would return home, a telegram was received to the effect that Mr. Hays "wouldn't live twenty-four hours."

Very naturally his friends here were alarmed, but were reassured on receipt of another message saying he would leave for home in twenty-four hours. In the original message the operator read "live" for "leave," hence the mistake.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Gold Nerve.

A man by the name of A. T. Stein is badly wanted by the authorities of Kokuk, Ia. He presented himself at the office of the City hotel and claimed to have purchased the entire business and had come to take charge. He demanded the keys to the money drawer, which were turned over to him. He ran things for three or four hours, helping himself to the liquors at the bar and treating all the guests. He suddenly disappeared with all the ready cash. A special from Hamilton, just across the river, says he presented himself at the postoffice there as a special postoffice inspector, and made an investigation and said the office was $6,000 short. On the strength of his representation he borrowed a sum and disappeared.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

POINTS FOR CAMPERS.

CLOTHING FOR HEALTH AND COMFORT WHILE IN THE WOODS.

What Tools and Sundries to Take Along—How the Camp Should be Selected—A List of Articles for the Kit—Some of the Necessary Food Supplies.

Too few of the boys who spend their vacation in the wilderness study carefully enough the methods adopted by persons of extensive camping experience. There is no pleasure in a holiday spent in the wilderness unless the campers understand how to make themselves comfortable and to avoid the confusion and discomforts which fall to the lot of the ordinary greenhorn.

Yet the whole thing is very easy to learn. For those who do not want to think out the subject for themselves let me give a few suggestions as the result of my own experience for a number of years of camp life, as well as the experience of a large number of friends of mine.

I always use a Norfolk jacket—called in this country Oxford jacket, or belted coat—made loose, of strong homespun, and capable of being worn open when it is warm, or belted tight when the weather is cold. This coat looks quite sportsmanlike. The cap is a matter of choice, but I like best the deer stalker, which receives in this country the rather obvious name of fore-and-after. It should be of the same color and material as the coat.

To be thoroughly do rigueur for wild life the camper should wear homespun or corduroy knickerbockers, with black or gray stockings, unless the region where he places his camp is badly plagued by mosquitoes, when he had better wear trousers, as the fly pests will put their bills clean through the stockings. The stockings should be of wool and ribbed.

For lying about the camp, canoeing, boating or light tramping, thin yellow leather and sometimes canvas shoes might be used, but for all heavy work there is nothing like a solid boot, roomy with wide sole and wide heel, laced tightly about the ankle and resembling the old fashioned English shooting boot. For underwear woolen is far the best, because, while not over warm, this material rapidly throws off all moisture. I should advise wool for outer as well as inner shirts, and the former should be of a color which will not too easily show stains. The drawers should be of the same material as the inner shirt.

Two inner and two outer shirts, two pairs of drawers and, if possible, two pairs of trousers or knickerbockers—better still, a pair of each—with one jacket, will be sufficient. Don't forget handkerchiefs, light socks, and any kind of belt that you prefer.

THE KIT.

Be careful in making up your kit. If you have long and rough travel and any portaging never take a box, no matter how many patents are attached to it or how convenient it may look on the tradesman's counter. It is inconvenient to carry in a boat and impossible to carry through the woods. I know nothing better than a good substantial bag, made of oiled canvas, thoroughly watertight, and arranged so it can be laced snugly together. I have seen leather bags also which served the purpose admirably.

Each camper requires a pair of blankets, gray or dark red; the clothing I have mentioned, say, two large crash towels, soap, small hand glass, comb and brush, tooth brush and paste, needles, thread, thimbles and buttons, a couple of pairs of old kid gloves, a pair of scissors, pocket knife, belt sheath and sheath knife, a small bottle of arnica, bottle of Jamaica ginger, a "book" of court plaster, a bottle of citrate of magnesia in powder, and two or three bottles of laxative pills, as advised by physician. I would not advise spirits, except a bottle of excellent brandy, to be used only after a severe wetting and when there are indications that a cold has set in.

If you propose to camp at some place far away from a grocery store you must, of course, take your provisions along, and here comes the most troublesome part of your camping outfit. You must have tea, coffee and sugar, sirup, bag of salt, biscuits, pepper, mustard, vinegar and curry. I am a strong advocate of canned food for the camp and in this form should have beef, lobster, salmon, tongue and perhaps tomatoes and corn. Butter is also necessary, but, if possible, get it from the nearest farm house.

Better take along also a bag of "prepared" flour, buckwheat and rice, if you wish, and, above all, some tins of good condensed milk. Condensed coffee is also an excellent article. You can have also prepared soups, chocolate, etc., which add to the luxury of camp life. But be careful about overweighing your baggage. Each camper should have a tin plate and cup, a spoon, a knife and a fork.

THE CAMP.

The camp should have a frying pan, three graduated tin kettles, the larger with the capacity of a gallon or more, and one fitting closely into the other; an ax for heavy chopping is necessary, and it would be well to have a small hatchet for light work. A pocket compass is indispensable, as are also parlor matches.

There is no comfort in camping unless you take a tent, and the "A" structure, strong cotton, in my judgment, is best. One eight by ten feet and six feet high will accommodate six persons. Better take along your ridge pole and tent pins, and always have an ample supply of cord. It is well to take tent pins, because sometimes you are suddenly overtaken by a rain storm, or you reach the camping ground after dark, and it is inconvenient or impossible to obtain tent pins. Never take crockeryware, for it is sure to break and heavy to carry.

Sufficient attention is not always given to a camp site. In choosing the spot several considerations should weigh. It should be near wood and water, and, while secluded, should command a view of the most picturesque parts of its surroundings.—New York Herald.

A Norwegian Independence Day.

Some of our schoolboys have opportunities to learn history without taking much trouble about it. In a large school there may be pupils of a dozen nationalities—Italian, Spanish, Swedish, Norwegian, French, German, Hebrew, Irish, Finnish, Russian—and each of these has its own national days, as we have ours on the Fourth of July and the Twenty-second of February. An American boy of inquiring mind will naturally want to know what those national days are, and what they commemorate.

Suppose we take the Seventeenth of May for an example, when all the Norwegian children like to be absent and have a good time somewhere. This is the national holiday of the Norwegian people. What happened on that day that the people of Norway should hold it in such honor?

A well informed Norwegian boy will answer that on May 17, 1814, the people of Norway declared their independence. During the time Norway was an attempt was made to unite Norway and Sweden on terms that would have been degrading to a subject province. The people rose against this threatened indignity, and "declared their independence."

It happened that the king of Sweden was Bernadotte, one of the Bonaparte marshals, a man of much ability and some real insight into the nature of things. He proposed to Norway a kind of union that she could accept without loss of self respect; a union under one king, indeed, but also under one constitution, each state being sovereign within itself, and each governing itself in all matters, local and domestic.

This constitution expressly declared that Norway should remain forever "free, independent, indivisible and inalienable." The union was, in fact, an application of the federal or home rule principle. This constitution was adopted Nov. 4, 1814, but the day celebrated and beloved by Norwegians is May 17, when they declared that they would not be joined to Sweden except in an equal and honorable union.—Youth's Companion.

A Sannambulist on a Trestle.

George Wilson, fourteen years old, living in Rockport, had a narrow escape from death at an early hour Tuesday morning. The boy lives with his parents on a farm by the side of the river, about 200 feet from the Nickel Plate trestle bridge, the farm having a roadway leading to the bridge. The boy is subject to sleep walking. Early Thursday morning he got out of bed while in a sannambulist condition and walked down stairs, passed his parents' room, and out on the farm.

He came to the trestle work and started to walk across. Deputy Marshal Stanton happened to be at the other end of the bridge and saw a white figure, small in stature, rapidly approaching. He stepped to one side until the boy had passed, and then started to follow him. Fearing that if he caught hold of him he might be frightened into a fit of sickness, he called him by name several times until the boy awoke. He stood for several minutes wondering where he was and almost fainted with fright. Stanton then walked up to him and the boy recognized him. The bridge is nearly sixty feet in height and there is nothing to walk on but ties.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Expensive Coal.

Twenty-two dollars per ton is what Captain Schley, of the United States cruiser Baltimore, paid for coal at Valparaiso a short time ago, the total cost for filling the ship's bunkers aggregating $25,000. With this vessel, the San Francisco, Pensacola and the Charleston, constantly on the move along the South Pacific coast, the cost for this item will amount to a considerable sum.—Metal Worker.

The New Time Card.

The travelling public will appreciate many of the changes made by the South Shore road in its new time card, which went into effect yesterday. Besides giving two trains daily to the west a like number is available to passengers for Detroit.
The Detroit express which leaves Marquette at 1:15 p. m. and the Boston limited, which leaves this city at 7:10 a. m. The Boston limited connects at Soo Junction with a train for St. Ignace and Mackinaw City, arriving at the latter place at 2 p. m. and making direct connection with a G. R. & I. train for Grand Rapids, Detroit, Buffalo and all eastern and southern points.

Excursion to Red Jacket.

August 12th, the A. O. U. W. will run an excursion to above named point for a rate of $2 for the round trip from Marquette, Negaunee, Ishpeming, Humboldt, Republic, Champion and Michigamme. A special train will leave Marquette at 7:15 a. m., Negaunee, 7:55; Ishpeming, 8:05; Humboldt, 8:40; Champion, 8:50; Michigamme, 9:05; arriving at Houghton 11:30 and Red Jacket 12:30. Returning train will leave Red Jacket at 12:30, midnight, Houghton 1:15 a. m. August 13th, arriving at Marquette at 6 a. m. This is a very low rate and everyone should avail themselves of it.

All Right Again.

The storm Saturday night damaged the insulation of the all-night dynamo of the electric light station to such an extent that the superintendent thought best to turn that circuit onto the midnight dynamo for the balance of the night. Yesterday the insulation was replaced and last night the dynamo usually used in generating the current for the all-night circuit was running again as smoothly as ever. The dynamo was not at all injured by the lightning further than having the insulation of certain parts burned, which was easily replaced yesterday.

All there is to the sensational story of a Marquette lady falling heir to an immense fortune in England or Patagonia, published in the Sunday paper, was known to the MINING JOURNAL days ago, but this paper could obtain nothing of a satisfactory or intelligent nature from the woman herself in regard to the matter, and hence left the stuff for the Sunday paper to swallow and feed to its readers, whose confidence in the story depended on their gullibility.

The next attraction which Manager Ross has booked for the Casino is Vreeland's Operatic Minstrels. They will be here Saturday, August 15. The press of the country speaks highly of the entertainment furnished by this company.

Mr. Albert Ekstrom, of the firm of Ekstrom & Stong, arrived home yesterday from Chicago where he purchased a full and complete stock of dry goods. They will be ready for business at the corner of Third and Bluff streets, about the 15th or 20th, of this month.

If not too late, the rains occurring recently will bring out a good crop of berries and the huckleberry train will take crowds of people out of the city each morning. The berries suffered greatly from the drought earlier in the summer but the heavy rains of the past few days ought yet to save a large crop of them.

Vreeland's Minstrels drew a very large audience at the Pavilion last night, and a more delighted crowd never gathered at the theater in Van Wert. There was a marked absence of the chestnut order and the entertainment throughout was first class. The music, singing and dancing were excellent and the company must feel that they are appreciated. We shall be glad to announce a return of this superior organization.-Van Wert, O., Times, Jan. 6, 1891.

The architect of this column knows something about a newspaper and a little about fishing-but until his experience in Saturday night's storm he never saw fishing tackle fly. The object of this squib is to request editors and others in Canada or anywhere else if they observe a fish basket, a bangup pole and other paraphernalia connected with the art of trout hunting, sailing majestically overhead to stop the same and return to the owner at the expense of the county in as good order as possible. When last seen they were sailing over the tops of the trees above Presque Isle and the basket had slightly the best of the race-it had the pole so to speak.

A BRACE OF BLAZES.

Ishpeming's Fire Department Given Some Practice Early Sunday Morning.

BALL TEAM DISBANDED AND CLUB WITHDRAWS FROM LEAGUE.

Something of a Show—Firemen's Excursion to Ironwood—More Mining Mishaps—Bosco Balked by Rain.

COME IN COUPLES.

Ishpeming has had a number of fires recently, and a curious thing about them is that they came in couples, with little time between them. Another incident of this fire coincidence must be recorded in the city's history.

About 12:10 Sunday morning the firemen and others were aroused from their slumbers by the loud voice of the fire alarm. Hustling to their clothes, they made quick time to the fire, which was found to be burning under the stage and between the floors in the rear of the City Opera house, corner West Division and Pine streets. The fire was put out without trouble and before much damage was done. Forty or fifty dollars will cover the loss. Johnston & Butler, who occupy the first floor of the building suffered little or no damage.

The hose and hook and ladder companies had scarcely returned to their respective quarters when a second alarm was sounded. This time the fire was in a barn belonging to Mr. T. D. Nelson, at the Cleveland location. The fire department promptly responded to the call and by hard work extinguished the blaze before the barn was completely destroyed. The contents of the barn were burned, but the loss is small, the heaviest being the destruction of a fine bicycle belonging to Fred Nelson. The origin of neither of these fires is definitely known.

Gave Up the Ghost.

The Ishpeming base ball club is a thing of the past, the stockholders of the association having decided to disband and withdraw from the league, because they couldn't afford to lose any more money and because—well, for certain other reasons. About $1,500 will be required to square the account on the wrong side of the association's ledger, and stockholders who have not paid their assessments will be invited to pony up and shoulder their share of the loss.

The action of the association was a surprise, and then again it was not, to those who understand the situation thoroughly were not at all astonished when they learned of the club's disbandment. It is too bad that the season could not be played out, but it is unreasonable to expect that a few men ought to lose money to make up for the lack of patronage which had it been extended would have paid expenses, and kept the club in the league until the end of the year. It can't be helped now, however, and there is no use talking about it any more.

The players were released and paid in full Saturday and several have already left the city. It is likely that some will sign with the clubs in the Wisconsin state league, now that they are free to do so.

Storm Prevents a Show.

Owing to the terrific rain storm prevailing Saturday evening enough people did not turn out to induce Signor Bosco to give his entertainment of magic and illusion at the City Opera house. Had the weather been pleasant the house would undoubtedly have been well filled, for Signor Bosco has visited Ishpeming several times before and his entertainment always gave satisfaction. There still remains, however, two evenings of the Signor's engagement, and tonight assisted by his company of clever people, he will give the entertainment intended for Saturday night. Numerous fine presents are given away to the audience each evening.

Getting Ready to Go.

All members of Hose company No. 1 and Hook and Ladder company No. 1 who intend going to Ironwood to attend the firemen's tournament August 13th and 14th are requested to report to their respective secretaries or the treasurer by Wednesday morning next. The boys will leave on the regular 8:50 a. m. train Thursday and will be accompanied by a band. It is expected that thirty-five or forty members from the four companies comprising the fire department will embrace the opportunity of taking a trip to Ironwood, where they will be sure to have a good time. The department will enter such contests as it is permitted to and will make a strong effort to carry off some of the prizes. It is hoped by all that the fire lads will have a splendid time and succeed in the competition for prizes.

A Brace of Accidents.

Saturday evening Emanuel Hill, employed in the Lake Superior mine, had his right hand caught in some wire gearing, the result being that the hand was crushed and bruised quite badly. Mr. Hill was brought to the city hospital, where his injuries were promptly attended to. It will be some time before he can use the hand again.

Late Friday night John Lynch happened to be in the way of falling rock at the Ropes gold mine and now he wears his head in a bandage, having sustained a bad scalp wound besides being somewhat bruised about the body. His injuries are more painful than serious, however, and Mr. Lynch will be himself again before much of the future has been chased into the past by the always present.

No End of Rain.

Saturday night's storm was worse even than that of Thursday afternoon. It continued longer, the rainfall was heavier and the lightning flashes were followed by deafening crashes of thunder. More than one timid person was badly frightened. So far as known no damage was done in this city by the storm. Some of the telephone connections were burned out, but that happens almost every time there is an electrical storm. While the rain fell, very few people ventured out, for nothing but the heaviest garments were proof against the water which came down almost in floods. Everything is pretty well wetted down now and the weather clerk is hereby notified that no more rain will be needed for at least a week.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

When a blackguard gets "done up" the blackguard a saint would be. But when he gets over his punishment a blackguard again is he.

Mrs. John Waters is visiting relatives at Ironwood.

P. H. Devine's new building on First street is nearly finished.

J. A. Bevier, of Oshkosh, Wis., is in the city for a brief visit.

No more league base ball in Ishpeming this season. Too bad.

A son was born Saturday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan.

Hose company No. 2 will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening.

J. McNaughton, of Marquette, was among Ishpeming's visitors Saturday.

A nice looking delivery wagon has been added to the City Market's outfit.

The Misses H. E. and A. M. Fifield, of Minneapolis, are sojourning in Ishpeming.

D. M. Philbin, of Marquette, was in the city Saturday. Of course, business brought him here.

Fred. Begole came up from Marquette Saturday, but didn't remain long enough for half his friends to see him.

The base ball cranks are disconsolate when they think that there will be no more base ball here this season.

Mr. John Zoberlin has resigned his position at Marquette and will enter the employ of the Cleveland Mine company.

The total product of the Ropes gold mine for July was about $5,000 in bullion and nearly $1,000 in concentrates.

O. B. Robinson has resigned his position with F. W. Read & Co. to accept one with George McDonald, of Neegaunee.

Miss May, the little daughter of Landlord Allison, of the Oliver house, Escanaba, spent a few hours in Ishpeming Saturday.

The road between here and Neegaunee is being considerably improved under the supervision of Street Commissioner Peterson.

A fine new Crown organ has been placed in the parlor of the City Hotel, on First street, much to the pleasure of the house's patrons.

The picnic of the teachers and adult pupils of the Division street M. E. church Sunday school will take place tomorrow, D. V., at Marquette.

Lieut. S. P. Reid, of Mare Island, Cal., is in the city and will remain several days. Lieut. Reid is attached to the United States coast surveying corps.

The formal opening of James Pelton's new wet goods resort took place Saturday evening and was quite largely attended. The place will doubtless have a good patronage.

The streets and roads in and about Ishpeming have been left in pretty bad shape by the tremendously heavy rain-falls that have occurred during the last three days of last week.

A. J. Anderson advance agent for Vreeland's Operatic minstrels, is in the city, arranging for the appearance of his company at the City Opera house next Friday evening, Aug. 14.

At the regular practice of the firemen Friday evening last the steamer J. P. Onthwaite was started up and found to work exceedingly well. Two streams about eighty feet high were thrown simultaneously.

W. O. Tislov writes from Mt. Clemens that the waters there are doing considerable towards alleviating his rheumatic trouble and says that his general health is improving also. This intelligence will be received with welcome by Mr. Tislov's friends.

Several individuals were so officious in tendering advice to the firemen at the fire Sunday morning that they narrowly escaped having the hose turned on them. The firemen know their business without counsel from outsiders and dislike to have some thick-headed idiot tell them what to do.

What a jewel of consistency the editor of the twilight twinker is! He starts out by saying that he "does not propose to blackguard our own language," and then goes on to blackguard and vilify and lie until one is tempted to wonder if he has not taken complete leave of what little sense of decency he may have ever possessed.

Wm. McNabb has been awarded the contract for doing the interior decoration and outside painting of the new Anderson block, now building at the corner of Main and Pearl streets. Mr. McNabb's work is always of the best and as a natural result he is given all he and his efficient corps of assistants can attend to.

The item which the apology for an afternoon paper reproduced Saturday from the MINING JOURNAL, in reference to bids for building foundations for the new Catholic church, was and is correct, in spite of the disbrag's assertion to the contrary. The information upon which the item was based came direct from a member of the committee having charge of the bids, and he has since reassured the MINING JOURNAL that it was correct. It is now in order for the afternoon dispenser of warmed-over news to pull in its horns and close its face.

The local tent of the Independent Order of Rechabites sent a good-sized delegation to the celebration at Humboldt. The Rechabites, headed by the Salvation Army band, marched from their hall to the depot in the morning, and upon their return marched back to the hall in the same way. The celebration is reported to have been a success and those who attended from this city are well pleased with the time they had.

The "warm-haired" reporter in charge of this department has not set up in business as a reformer, but he feels that he has accomplished a notable stroke of work in that line. He has persuaded the editor of the hash-time daily to forego blackguardism—or at least to profess penitence for past offences and to declare that he won't do so any more. But it is doubtful if the fellow's reformation is lasting. It is impossible for the leopard to change his spots, a certain striped animal of unsavory reputation his odor, or for a person who has the instincts of a blackguard and columnist to abstain from indulgence in his treacherous propensities.

A Nineteen Hours' Battle with Outlaws.

Deputy Marshal Calcraft has just returned from the Sac and Fox reservation, and gives the following details of how he and nine other deputies and a troop of United States cavalry effected the capture of the Dalton boys and their gang for robbing the Santa Fe train at Wharton.

Thursday the trail of the robbers was found by the Indian scouts and blood-hounds put on the track. The robbers fled to a cave in the hills, and there shot the dogs as they came up, and when the deputies arrived they opened fire and drove them back. The marshals sent for assistance, and the troops arrived late Thursday evening.

For nineteen hours a pitched battle raged, which resulted in the killing of Bob Dalton and the wounding of James Eaton, private. As the outlaws had neither food nor water they were at last obliged to surrender, and held out a flag of truce, but as the officers were afraid of treachery they compelled the outlaws to come to the mouth of the cave with their hands up over their heads and with neither guns nor pistols on their persons. The four survivors appeared at the opening in the position designated, but the marshals were not satisfied with their statement that Bob was dead, and compelled the remaining members to go back and bring the dead body into view. This was done, and the outlaws were bound and taken in charge.

In the cave was found the full evidence of their latest crime, the robbing of the train. Money, jewelry and express wrappers were found lying on the floor of the place. Two of the outlaws received severe wounds, and the whole party was nearly exhausted from want of food and water.—Indian Territory Cor. Denver Republican.

Conscious Clover Blossoms.

The subterranean clover has been driven by its numerous enemies to take refuge at last in a very remarkable and almost unique mode of protecting its offspring. This particular kind of clover affects smooth and close cropped hillsides, where the sheep nibble down the grass and other herbage almost as fast as it springs up again.

Now, clover seeds resemble their allies of the pea and bean tribes in being exceedingly rich in starch and other valuable foodstuffs. Hence they are much sought after by the inquiring sheep, which eat them off wherever found as exceptionally nutritious and dainty morsels. Under these circumstances the subterranean clover has learnt to produce small heads of bloom, pressed close to the ground, in which only the outer flowers are perfect and fertile, while the inner ones are transformed into tiny, wriggling corkscrews.

As soon as the fertile flowers have begun to set their seed, by the kind aid of the bees, the whole stem bends downward, automatically, of its own accord; the little corkscrews then worm their way into the turf beneath, and the pods ripen and mature in the actual soil itself, where no prying ewe can poke an inquisitive nose to grub them up and devour them.

Cases like this point in certain ways to the absolute high water mark of vegetable ingenuity; they go nearest of all in the plant world to the similitude of conscious animal intelligence.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Prehistoric Vault.

Some rude masonry was disclosed to view while cutting the lot of D. A. Purviance, on North Jefferson street, Huntington, Ind., to a proper level. About six feet below the natural surface of the earth a pile of stones was encountered which seemed to have been laid with a purpose. They formed an irregular hemispherical mass about 6 feet in diameter and 3 feet high, beneath which were formed layers of flagging, each layer formed by a flagstone 6 inches thick, 6 feet wide and 8 feet long. Below the mass of masonry and the flagstones was an empty vault. The stones were of the limestone variety, and were a kind that is never found in this vicinity unless they have been brought here. What the structure had been intended for is a mystery, but it is thought to have been the work of the mound builders.—Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

Physicians make no more fatal mistake than when they inform patients that nervous heart troubles come from the stomach and are of little consequence. Dr. Frank Miles, the noted Indian specialist, has proven the contrary in his new book on "Heart Disease," which may be had free at H. H. Stafford & Son's, who guarantee and recommend Dr. Miles' unequalled new heart cure, which has the largest sale of any heart remedy in the world. It cures nervous and organic heart disease, short breath, fluttering, pain or tenderness in the side, arm or shoulder, irregular pulse, fainting, smothering, dropsy, etc. His Restorative Nerve cures headache, fits, etc.

CALUMET TAKES ANOTHER.

The League Leaders Win A Fine Game From the Great Houghton Aggregation.

A SMALL BLAZE THAT WAS DISCOVERED JUST IN TIME.

Pleasant Party—Severe Storm—A Fire Killed and a House Damaged by Lightning.

RED JACKET. The weather was intensely sultry and huge masses of dark clouds threatened to pour down volumes of rain at any moment, but this did not keep at home the usual Saturday afternoon crowd at the base ball park, who turned out to see the league game between the Houghtons and Calumets.

The rain storm did considerable damage to buildings and cellars in this vicinity Saturday morning. About fifty feet or more of the sidewalk leading from the Quincy ravine to the approach to the bridge was washed down the embankment. Hon. Wm. Harry's building occupied by Moudlach & Yagel's hardware store was almost tumbled down by having a foundation post washed away.

Water enough fell on Saturday to enable the stamp mill to start up again. The heavy rainfall will also benefit the Kearsage, Woyvinska and Centennial mines, whose supply of water had been exhausted during the extreme dry weather.

Pastimes of City Boys. A singular game has for its foundation an ash barrel. Across the top of this is placed a board two or three inches in width, which projects about the same distance over the rim of the barrel. On one of these projecting ends a ball is balanced; the batsman then takes his bat and with all his strength strikes the other end of the board. The ball flies up and away in a before unknown direction, and the batsman, should he not be caught out, attempts to run to a base and return before the ball can be fielded "home."

Look above you at the telegraph wires. Sooner or later they become the natural end of every kite flown in this street, and the tattered fragments with which the wires are adorned bear witness that kite flying is a popular pastime, even if disastrous to the kites. In this sport country boys may fairly claim superiority. Comparatively few city boys know how to fly a kite; they never seem able to manage the tail. Kites in the city can only be successfully flown from the house-tops.

Marbles we see of every kind, "miggles" and "alleys," "taws" and "agates." Generally the games are played in a ring drawn with chalk on the sidewalk, for holes are not made or found here so easily as they are in a country playground.—Frank M. Chapman in St. Nicholas.

Trifling Things in Court. Very trifling things sometimes go very far in the courts. The supreme court of the United States has ended a costly and long controversy by ruling upon the question, "Is the tomato a fruit or a vegetable?" About $30,000 has been expended in the celebrated "Jones county calf case," in Iowa, in which the ownership of a calf valued at fifteen dollars is involved. A Medina county (O.) farmer a few years ago refused to pay taxes on four moolies on the ground that the law provided for the taxation of "all horned cattle of whatsoever kind," whereas the four cows had no horns. This case was ended in the circuit court after the costs had eaten up the value of the defendant's farm. A suit for taxes in which the Standard Oil company is involved to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars in Pennsylvania and Ohio hangs upon the insertion of a comma in an Ohio statute.—Chicago Mail.

A Machine That Makes and Cooks Sausages. One of the novelties at the St. Pancras exhibition in London, England, was a sausage machine, driven by electric motor. In conjunction with this machine it has been proposed to employ an electric heating attachment, whereby the savory dish can be delivered cooked and smoking hot to the purchaser. It begins to look as if the shrewd individual who conceived the idea of a universal pig utilizing machine, into which the animal could be put at one end, to emerge at the other as cured hams and blacking brushes, was no visionary, but only a prophet a little in advance of his times.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Masher Mashed. "I want some nice little thing for my wife—something that'll please her," said Masham. "Perhaps you could suggest something?"

"Yes," said the saleslady. "I think a telegram saying a house has fallen on you ought to please her."—New York Herald.

Failure to Some One. "Is marriage a failure?" asked the youth. "Yes, to Alice Ponsonby," answered the maid as she gazed down at the ring which Horace Fiddgoly had given her.—Jewelers' Circular.

DEAFNESS CAN'T BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Chivalrous Devotion.

At the most extensive aquarium in England, the Brighton Zoo, the female lobster recently cast her shell. She screwed herself up together on the toes and tail and suddenly bent her body. Snap went the shell in its center, and the case of the back came away in one piece. The claws were her next care, and she worked away at them for a long time.

It was a proceeding of extreme delicacy, considering that all the flesh of the great claw had to be passed through the small base. During the operation one claw came off altogether, and this must have seemed to the lobster lady a serious misfortune, as it will not grow to its full size again until the second year. The tail and legs gave very little trouble, and the body, when thus undressed, proved to be of a pale blue.

The shell casting over, the lobster sank on the sand, and this action seemed a signal for the attack of every creature in the tank.

The defenseless victim bade fair to succumb to the fury of her enemies, when the male lobster suddenly came to the rescue. Standing over his helpless better half, he fought her assailants relentlessly. Day and night did he watch over her, until her shell was sufficiently hardened to protect her in fighting her own battles.

When this happy moment arrived he deliberately picked up the old claw, broke it in his nippers, and ate the meat. He then dug a hole in the sand, placed in it the broken bits of shell, buried them, and piled a number of small stones above the grave.—Youth's Companion.

WAS ALMOST A DISASTER.

The Odd Fellows Caught In Terrible Storm Off Presque Isle Saturday Night.

SAILS AND RUDDER CARRIED AWAY BY THE GALE.

Insane Prisoner Taken to the Asylum at Ionia—The Upper Peninsula League Lives Yet.

WORK OF THE STORM.

The damage done in the city by the storm of Saturday morning and night was considerable, though the Queen City escaped the worst, getting only the tail end of what to the north of the city was almost a cyclone. Telephones and telegraph instruments in several places suffered some damage, many in the dispatcher's office and along the line of the South Shore being affected. Some other slight damage was done at various places in the city, but to the north of the city the storm in the evening raged in frightful fury, the wind being, as described by those who were above Presque Isle at the time, almost a hurricane.

Just before the storm broke in the evening there was but a slight breeze, but overhead hung a dense black cloud, with clearly marked edges. All around the cloud, which was the shape of an ox yoke and stretched apparently for miles and miles in either direction, north and south, the sky was perfectly clear leaving the edges of this great deep mass of cloud as clearly defined as though cut with a chisel. Parties who were in a boat above Partridge Island noticed this lowering cloud and put with all speed for the land. Pulling the boat up a few feet from the water they turned to seek shelter, when the storm broke like the puff of a great explosion close at hand and a hurricane followed. The water was instantly lashed into a foam, wet sand was dashed into their faces in great masses and trees blown down or broken off all around them. Turning to look for their boat, by the flashes of lightning they saw it rolling over and over, carried by the terrific wind that was blowing. The rain instantly came down in great sheets, its coming heralding the lessening of the violence of the wind to some extent.

The "Odd Fellow," owned and run by Harry Weston, which has been engaged during the summer taking supplies up the lake to homesteaders and bringing back stone for the breakwater, was caught in both storms. The scow was returning stone laden and was caught at noon by the storm between the Little Garlic and Little Presque Isle. The wind blew a gale at the time but the Odd Fellow weathered it all right and came on down the lake. She got between Partridge Island and Presque Isle when the second storm struck her. It came so suddenly that no preparation could be made and almost instantly the boat was riddled. The sails were torn into ribbons and together with the masts were carried away, the rudder was torn out and the boat and occupants were at the mercy of the elements. To add to the horrors of the situation the vessel rapidly filled with water and there seemed no possible escape for all on board. The captain and crew did all they could, but without sails or rudder were comparatively helpless. The scow drifted slowly down the lake past Presque Isle.

When the vessel rounded Presque Isle late in the evening the cries of those on board were heard by people on the shore, and Cameron, who keeps a small store and lunch counter on the island, started out into the lake to investigate. He soon ran on to the Odd Fellow and took off those on board, among the number two young children, who were completely exhausted from fright and exposure. Everything possible was done for the children by Mr. Cameron and his wife and Sunday morning after a night's rest, they had gotten over the previous night's experience.

When leaving the Odd Fellow, Captain Weston threw out the anchor and there the vessel rested until yesterday, when a rudder and sail were rigged up and the vessel was brought into port. Among the minor damage done by the wind was the smashing of Billy Ross' bill board on the railroad bridge over Front street.

The fire shield around the slab burner at Hawley's mill was carried away by the wind.

In Harlow's grove, at the west end of the railroad yards, the wind cut a path through the trees resembling the work of a veritable cyclone, while on the powder mill road trees were cut off half way up and others uprooted.

The electrical features of the storm were so strong that for a time it became necessary to stop running the cars on the electric railway. A little after 9 o'clock, however, the storm had abated somewhat and the running of cars was resumed.

In velocity and fierceness the storm was one of the worst that has visited the immediate vicinity of Marquette in years and the people of Marquette can felicitate themselves that the main body of it did not strike the city.

Taken To Insane Asylum.

The afternoon train on the South Shore yesterday was stopped at the prison and Joseph H. Thomas, a prisoner serving a twenty-five year sentence for manslaughter, was put on board to be taken to the state asylum for insane prisoners at Ionia. Less than a year ago this boy, for he is but a boy, being only 20 years of age, was a jolly good fellow with a host of friends, and a promising future before him. A few months made all the change. In a fit of anger he shot a friend, conviction and imprisonment followed and today he is hopelessly insane—and whisky did it. The terrible punishment following his crime, twenty-five of the best years of his life blotted out, and now the endless darkness of deserted reason, make a picture sad indeed to contemplate.

The story of Thomas' crime can be told in few words. During a spree in Even last fall, he pulled out his revolver in a saloon where he was drinking and to keep him from doing harm a friend took the weapon away from him. Thomas left the saloon, procured another revolver returned to the saloon and killed his friend. Conviction followed his arrest and he was sentenced to 25 years in the branch state's prison at this place, coming here last fall.

From the time of his incarceration Thomas brooded over his crime until it finally unsettled his reason. At first the prison authorities noticed no indications of insanity, but recently his fits of melancholy have been more prolonged. During the past few days he had grown violent, and had to be guarded closely to keep him from taking his own life, his melancholy brooding having developed into pronounced insanity. Over and over again he enacted the scene of the killing. Then with wild unearthly yells and cries for mercy he attempted to kill himself by butting his head against the stone walls of his narrow cell. Failing in this, his self-reproaches were pitiful to hear. Worn out by his exertions he would sink back onto his couch only to spring up in a moment to re-enact the murder of his friend and to renew his efforts to kill himself. Then his mania would take a new form. With blazing eyes filled with wild terror, rushing from end to end of his cell he besought help from the creatures of his disordered mind who were about to murder him. At one time enemies were plotting to shoot him, at others they were trying to poison him. Night and day his yells resounded through the bleak, white-washed corridors of the prison and through the grated door that shut him from the world but could not shut out the terrible retribution of an outraged conscience.

The U. P. League.
Ishpeming has dropped out of the league but Calumet, Houghton and Marquette will probably play the season through, and all the games on the home grounds will be played excepting the one scheduled for August 22 with Ishpeming.

A representative of the local club left for the copper country yesterday to arrange matters with the clubs there, but owing to the storm, which has cut off communications by wire with that section of the peninsula, no word could be received from him last night. However there is scarcely a doubt but that the three clubs named will finish the season. Houghton will probably be here today and during their stay two games will be played each afternoon for one price of admission, the usual figure. The first game will start at 1:30. Three of these games are postponed games and three are regular scheduled games.

The clubs remaining in the league are clear grit and do not intend to let the league go under. These clubs were never in better shape to play good ball than they are now.

Calumet has a strong team as both Marquette and Houghton have found on several occasions, while Houghton will come here today stronger at all points than the famous Champions of last year.

The make-up of the team as at present constituted is as follows: Honan, who played with Anson as part of this season, catcher; Hudson, the great twirler of the St. Louis Browns, Mars of Evansville, and Cieve, pitchers, they having failed to secure Ruttger who was gobbled by Minneapolis. Denny Connors, who made a reputation as a heavy hitter in Toronto and on the Pacific coast, first base; Higgins, who won a great reputation playing second base for the Detroit team of 1888 during the illness of Hardie Richardson and who afterwards went to the Boston league club, now covers second for the hustling Houghtons. It is nonsense to think Houghton is shaky because they have released Gallagher and Rooks. The silvery haired third baseman whose scheming head is still all right but whose aged hands and legs have lost their cunning has been superseded by the peerless Chuck Lauer who has caught and played third base with credit in both the American association and Western league. Rooks, the mouthy outfielder, has yielded his position to another Western league player, Jevone, than whom, a better fielder, better or base-runner does not play ball outside of the National league today.

Marquette has resigned Catcher Sheehan and is negotiating with Augustine and Rutter.

The management of the local club is going to be in the hole unless their pluck in playing all the scheduled games is rewarded by increased attendance. Bad weather heretofore has kept the gate receipts low—but if all outstanding subscriptions are paid and there is a good attendance this week the prospects are good for another trial next year.

Every man, woman and child in Marquette ought to turn out every day this week and fill the grounds. The local management has devoted time and money to give the people good, healthy amusement this summer, now throw your quarter into the box and keep the ball rolling. If Ishpeming has dropped out, the U. P. league isn't dead yet.

Too Much Tongue.
The following is taken from the Alger County Republican, published at Au Train:

Miss Barbara Snyder, of Marquette, has been teaching the Grand Marais school for some time and has always borne a good reputation. But if charges are sustained, Mrs. Jennie Jarvis, has been letting her tongue run altogether too much for her own good, and has been circulating stories which were calculated to destroy Miss Snyder's good name. On Thursday Prosecuting Attorney Freeman delivered a warrant into the hands of Sheriff Cox for the arrest of Mrs. Jarvis, upon complaint of Miss Snyder. Sheriff Cox made the arrest on Thursday and brought his prisoner to this place. She was arraigned before Justice Earle yesterday, but refused to plead; so the court, as provided for by law, entered a plea of not guilty. The case was adjourned until next Thursday afternoon.
