BOTH APPEAR CONFIDENT.

Chairman of Republican Congressional Committee Claims House Will Be Republican.

DEMOCRATS WILL MAKE NO PROPHECY OF RESULT.

Chairman of Democratic Committee Asserts Political Aspect of House Will Not Be Changed.

ALL NOW AWAIT THE RETURNS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Chairman Babcock of the Republican congressional committee today addressed a dispatch to Vice Chairman Aspley, claiming for the Republicans the election of 183 members of congress, four more than a majority of the house, and the probable election of thirty-five additional.

Senator Faulkner, chairman of the Democratic committee, will not make a detailed prophecy. He says the committee feels confident from its advice that the Democrats will elect a majority of the members and does not see how the complexion of the house can be changed from Democratic to Republican. He cannot understand on what the Republicans base their assertions of control.

BOTH CLAIM THE STATE.

Great Bitterness Brought Out in Nebraska Political Campaign.

OMAHA, Nov. 5.—The campaign which closed tonight is admitted to be the bitterest affair of its kind in the history of the state. The elements of uncertainty are numerous. The fusion of Democrats and Populists claim the election of their state ticket by 15,000 and the Republicans predict success for their state ticket by 10,000. In the congressional districts the fusionists are certain of electing two members of the lower house, Kem and McKeigan. In the First district the indications are favorable to Strode, Republican. In the Second district Mercer will probably be elected. In the Third district it is probable Mellette, Republican, will be re-elected. In the Fourth district Rainer, Republican, is apparently in the lead. The legislature will probably be close between the fusionists on the one side and the Republicans on the other. If the latter win John M. Thurston will probably be the next United States senator and if the former Congressman Bryan will be the choice. It is doubtful whether the result on any office will be known before Wednesday night.

DURHAM, Ia., Nov. 5.—The Opera house was packed tonight by an audience of enthusiastic Republicans to hear the closing speeches of the campaign by Senator Allison, Congressman Henderson and Chas. E. Platt of Waterloo. Overflow meetings were addressed by prominent local speakers. Chairman Perry tonight claims Congressman Henderson's re-election by more than two thousand majority. The Democrats concede the election but will not admit more than 800 majority.

ARE EXPECTING TROUBLE.

There Will Be a Warm Election in Kentucky Today.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 5.—Kentucky tomorrow will elect eleven congressmen for full terms and one in the Tenth district to fill out the unexpired term of Congressman Lisle deceased; also four appellate judges and county officers will be elected. The Republicans are more aggressive than ever before. The Democrats will elect congressmen in the First, Second, Fourth, Sixth and Eighth and probably in the Seventh (Breckinridge's) districts. Owen's election is made doubtful because the many friends of Breckinridge refuse to support him. The really doubtful districts are the Third, Fifth, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh, the chances being equally divided. In this, the Fifth, there is a suppressed feeling of excitement this evening. Over a hundred Republican election officers have been removed and Democrats appointed to succeed them during the past forty-eight hours. The old officers will attempt to take forcible possession of the booths and trouble will probably result.

WILSON'S DISTRICT IN DOUBT

Republicans Will Gain in West Virginia Legislature.
WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 5.—Eve of election finds the Republicans in a more confident humor than they have ever been on a similar occasion. In the First district they claim Governor's election to congress and betting men offered odds on him. The Democrats do not concede the defeat of their man, Howard. The situation in Wilson's district is unchanged. Both sides are confident and matters are in great doubt. In the Third there is a hard fight with chances about even. The chances for Harvey (Democrat) in the Fourth are considered good. The Republicans believe they will make large gains in the legislature and the Democrats concede the claim but say it will be safely Democratic still.

Dr. Price's Baking Powder is perfect in every requisite as a housekeeper's friend.

WILL CAPTURE EVERYTHING.

The Democrats in Indiana Are Confident of Success.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 5.—Both sides are confident of carrying Indiana. Chairman Taggart of the Democratic state committee said tonight: "There is not the least doubt in my mind that the Democrats will carry the state, county and township and if there were a city election on hand there would not be a Republican left in the city government. I am confident of success." He also claimed a majority of the thirteen congressmen. Chairman Gowdy of the Republican committee would give no figures but said the state would govern overwhelmingly Republican and more than a majority of the congressmen would be Republicans. Betting is very light but rather in favor of the Republicans.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5.—The election in Ohio tomorrow is only for minor state and local officers in addition to congressmen. The fighting is limited to close districts for congressmen. The present Ohio delegation in congress consists of eleven Democrats and ten Republicans.

MAY GAIN TWO MEMBERS.

Pluralities of Missouri Congressmen Will Be Cut Down.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 5.—The local campaign closed quietly here tonight. Only three state officers are to be filled and the Democratic candidates for these will be elected by probable pluralities of 15,000 to 20,000. In the congressional districts the Republicans claim they will gain two and possibly four members. The Democrats assert there will be no change in the state's delegation but admit the Democratic majorities will be somewhat reduced in the Fourteenth and Fifteenth districts.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 5.—There is absolutely no truth in the report that Governor Stone has ordered the Third regiment, M. N. G., to report for active duty at the armory in anticipation of a riot between the American Protective association and the regular political organizations at tomorrow's elections. The only possible basis for the story is that Colonel Simonds, Third regiment, ordered "D" company, upon duty tonight and company "A" tomorrow morning for the purpose of guarding the armory. The order was made on the colonel's own responsibility.

WILL ELECT STATE TICKET.

California Election Close With Four Tickets in the Field.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—California elects this year a complete state ticket, several congressmen and a legislature. There are four tickets in the field—Democratic, Republican, Populist and Prohibition. Tonight both the Democrats and Republicans claim the victory and are confident of success. The next legislature will elect a United States senator to succeed Senator Perkins who was appointed by the governor to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Sanford.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 5.—Washington tomorrow will elect two congressmen at large and two justices of the supreme court. Half the state senators—seventeen—and all the members of the house—seventy-two—are to be elected. The Republicans claim they will win by at least 5,000. In every Republican county there is fusion between Democrats and Populists on the legislative tickets.

A TRIANGULAR ELECTION.

Minnesota Politics Very Much Muddled and Result in Doubt.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 5.—Minnesota will tomorrow elect a full state, congressional and legislative ticket and all three of the leading parties make great claims. The Republican committee claims Governor Nelson will be re-elected and predicts a solid congressional delegation and a majority in the legislature. The Democratic committee claims Becker will be elected by 5,000 or more, part of the state ticket will follow him and at least two congressmen will be Democrats. The Populists committee simply claims the election of Sydney M. Owen for governor without giving figures, express confidence in the re-election of Congressman Boen and assert they will hold the balance of power in the legislature. Senator Washburn's re-election is assured if the legislature is Republican.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—Perhaps the severe storm is responsible but there is little excitement in and about the city on the result in this state and the Democrats concede the election of the entire Republican state ticket and eleven congressmen out of eighteen, although they make no figures regarding the plurality of Governor Greenhalge.

Work is easier, care is lighter, the table better, the household more healthful and contented whenever Dr. Price's Baking Powder is used.

INHALED DEADLY FUMES.

Explosion of Nitric Acid in Chicago Has Fatal Consequences.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Death is the sequel to a disastrous explosion yesterday of nitric acid in store rooms on Market street. One man is dead and several injured may die. David Friend, the watchman, died and John Dode and Captain Frank Whitmore of the insurance patrol may die. These with four others are suffering from inhaling the fumes of the acid. As the effects of the inhalation would not develop under twenty-four hours the seriousness of the accident was not appreciated until today when Friend died.

MURDERER MAY BE LYNCHED.

He Was Caught Hiding in the Swamps of Arkansas.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 5.—Charles Epps, colored, who murdered Police Officer R. C. Parkinson last Friday, was arrested in the swamps of Arkansas this afternoon and brought to Memphis. When the news of the capture of Epps spread tonight many open threats of lynching were made by the friends of the dead policeman. Sheriff McCarver is guarding the jail with a strong posse and if an attack is made blood will surely flow.

Associate Justice Married.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Hon. Edward Douglass White, associate justice of the United States supreme court, was married to Mrs. Virginia Montgomery Kent at the Jesuit church of St. Francis Xavier in this city today.

CHINA SUING FOR PEACE.

Her Minister Asks European Powers to Mediate With Japan for Peace.

TERMS OF PEACE SUBMITTED TO ENGLAND.

China Displays an Ever Increasing Desire for Peace in Her Second Proposition to Japan.

THE CONFLICT MAY SOON END.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Daily News says the Chinese minister has imparted to the foreign office China's power to mediate with Japan for peace. The minister goes to Paris to make a similar request of France. In a leader commenting on the foregoing The Daily News says: "China has approached the powers with the terms of peace she will offer Japan. This is a formal renewal on a larger scale of the overtures made to the queen's ministers some time ago. No European power can well desire to prolong this disastrous conflict. Even the United States, despite the Monroe doctrine, must be concerned for the regularity and security of their great trade with Japan. It will be difficult to contend that interference is premature now."

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A despatch from Corea says that on October 15th a combined force of Japanese and Koreans attacked a body of Tongkias at Ah Sung. The result of the battle is not given but the combined forces lost a hundred and fifty killed and many wounded. The rebel loss is not stated. The Tongkias maintain their sway in southern Corea.

INJUNCTION DISSOLVED.

Santa Fe Railroad Minority Stockholders Given No Show.

TOPEKA, Kans., Nov. 5.—Judge Foster of the federal court this morning rendered a decision dissolving the temporary injunction procured by the protective committee of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad to prevent the majority of the stockholders from holding an election until the minority are given leave to consent to concentrate their strength by cumulative voting. The decision knocks the last prop from under them and the stockholders' ticket, which gives the protective no representation, will probably be elected this afternoon. The decision is chiefly based on an opinion of the road being operated under a charter granted by the territorial legislature of Kansas which makes no provision for cumulative voting. At the election this afternoon the old board was re-elected except P. I. Bonebrake, who was chosen to succeed L. S. Every, and Edward Whiler to succeed Alden Speare. They, however, are merely temporary and will resign at a meeting of the board and T. A. Osborn of Kansas and H. R. Duval of New York will be chosen to the vacancies.

ARE SORELY AFFLICTED.

Wisconsin Family Near Muskego Lake Down With Small-Pox.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kusch who live near Muskego Lake had ten children last Wednesday. Two died Thursday of small-pox and on Saturday several others and the mother is now sick. Kusch has been fighting the disease single handed from the start. The nearest neighbor, William Bishop who lives half a mile away, tried to help the afflicted family. He went to Helen Corners for a physician. The doctor came on Friday but did not enter the house. He left medicines for the sick and took an order for two small coffins for the children. Meantime the father, kept up day and night nursing his sick wife and children who will yet live, had not time to bury the dead babies. Their bodies were still in the house this morning. Kusch's neighbors being afraid to go near the place. In addition to the care of his own family, living and dead, Kusch is caring as best he can for his wife's mother, an aged invalid who has lived with them for years.

WANTED TO GAIN FAVOR.

Fire in Omaha Packing House Set by Night Watchman.

OMAHA, Oct. 5.—Emery Coulson, night watchman at Hammond's Packing house, has confessed to having started the blaze in the plant which narrowly escaped destroying that immense property valued at $2,000,000. His motive, he declared, was that he hoped to secure credit in pretending to discover the flames and thus preventing a disastrous fire.

How to live well at a moderate cost is a perplexing problem to millions. Use of Dr. Price's Baking Powder is indispensable. Pure and economical.

REPENTED HIS GENEROSITY.

Senator Mitchell of Wisconsin Sued for a Promised Donation.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5.—A suit for $18,000 damages was begun in the circuit court today against United States Senator John L. Mitchell for alleged failure to furnish funds to complete the soldier monument which he agreed to present to the city in 1890. The plaintiff is John S. Conway, the American sculptor, residing in Rome. The complaint says Mitchell agreed to pay $25,000 for the monument and after paying $5,551 he refused to make any further payments and repudiated all obligations under the contract. The contract for the monument was made in the winter of 1891. The chances are the monument will never be completed as the sculptor only asks damages and costs.

Vote today for Rush Culver and the people's rights.

WHAT has Sam Stephenson ever done for the plain people of this district?

A vote for Stephenson is a vote for the land-grabbing corporations. A vote for Culver is a vote for the equal rights of all the people.

THE tariff is a minor issue if not a dead issue. The land question is a live issue and interests every voter in this peninsula. Vote for Culver and justice to the common people.

If the enthusiasm displayed at the Democratic rally in Armory Hall last night is any sign Rush Culver will go out of Marquette with not less than two-thirds of the city's vote behind him.

THE MINING JOURNAL has never posed as a political prophet and hence will not attempt to forecast the result in this congressional district today.

THE ISSUE TODAY. The people of this upper peninsula are called upon today to decide at the polls between the representative of brains, energy and the people's rights and the representative of boodles, dullness and corporate privilege.

Do the people of this peninsula believe in this sort of thing? Do they want truth and plain-speaking from their representative in congress? Or do they prefer dodging and evasion of the real issues of the day?

Do they prefer to be represented by a man who can make his voice heard in the halls of congress? Or do they prefer a man who cannot stand before an audience of his fellow-citizens and make the plainest statement in a coherent and intelligible manner?

Do they want their representative to be on the side of the people or on the side of the land-grabbing corporations? Do they want brains or do they want boodles to represent them?

These are the questions before the people today. If they prefer to be represented by brains and ability, by a man who stands for the rights of all the people, they will vote for Rush Culver.

BIGGER BANK CLEARINGS.

The amount of bank clearings is recognized by all business men as one of the surest indexes of the volume of trade. For the month of October the bank clearings were the heaviest since June, 1893, and show clearly how business is reviving in spite of the walls of the "calamity" politicians.

October bank clearings reflect an enlarged autumn trade in the largest total for any month since June, 1893. Total bank clearings for October at fifty-six cities aggregate $4,238,387,550, an increase over the month of September this year of 21 per cent., and a gain over October a year ago of 6.3 per cent.

The effect of the increase of October clearings is noted in a slight diminution of the unfavorable balance for the ten months' period of this year. For ten months this year bank clearings at fifty-six cities aggregate $36,729,920,416, a decrease from last year of 19.6 per cent., and a decrease from the ten months' period of 1892 of 27 per cent.

It is notable that the increases for the month of October at the various cities are more numerous than for some time past. In fact only eleven out of the seventy-six cities making comparisons with October last year show decreases, and these decreases are confined almost entirely to the south and west. The cities of New Orleans, Galveston, Houston, Norfolk and Wilmington all show decreases, while in the west Omaha, Sioux Falls, Hastings and Fremont, Neb., and St. Joseph, Mo., report a falling away. New Bedford alone of all cities at the east shows a decrease in October clearings.

The slowness of New York bank clearings to increase as rapidly or proportionately as largely as those at other cities is illustrated by the fact that the gain at New York in October was only 2.3 per cent., while, as noted, the increase at all cities was 6.3 per cent. Outside of New York the clearings increase for October, 1894, over October, 1893, was 11.5 per cent.

GIVE YOUNG MEN A SHOW.

Gladstone Independent Discusses the Issues of the Campaign. To THE MINING JOURNAL—Give the young men a show. An old sinner is more to be dreaded than a young one.

Now we have a great many saints (always old ones) who aspire to all the positions that carry with them honor before and profit behind the scenes. They are such noble types. They are tough, but it is the toughness of righteousness. They can tell you more in fifteen minutes to do than you could do in a month. They are the only patriots in the country. It takes an old man to be a patriot, you know.

Of course Culver, being a young progressive man who is in touch with the times, desires only to create ruin and havoc. And of course being young he is not a "calamity howler," or one of the great "freedom fighters" who during the war had important business to keep them home but who now in these late days can pour out much patriotic gush about the rights of the poor soldiers.

Of course Judge Lochren, who was an old soldier and is respected by them all, is not trying to do justice to his comrades. It is the "judge" who stayed at home that detects this in the present administration.

Now Mr. Stephenson is a very patriotic, venerable, cultured and high-minded man. I will not call him a "gentleman" now—just before election—because some of our poor voters may misconstrue its meaning and might get a wrong impression of this "great man of the people."

Being rich and in the ring does not make any difference. No doubt he made his money by the sweat of his brow—or probably held the winning tickets in several little private lotteries. He is one of these Christians that know no distinction between men—just before election. The noble Sam—he is a millionaire, but he will loan a poor, deserving man $50 once in a while and his friends think it quite magnanimous in him. Such is the power of virtue and wealth.

Seriously, let the ordinary man think a moment. What do you want to vote for a millionaire for? The common voter, whom the likes of Stephenson would not notice, save for the purpose of securing his vote, is dazzled by his wealth and pictures the possessor of it as a great man.

Vote for a poor man and a young man. Let the old sanctimonious hypocrites take a back seat. A old sinner is to be dreaded. INDEPENDENT. GLADSTONE, Mich., Nov. 5, 1894.

America and the Art of War.

It is worth recalling that America has three times had the honor of revolutionizing the art of war. To American armies was due the introduction of the scout or open order system of firing, with all the concomitants of skirmishes, rifle pits, etc.

Foreign nations were slow to adopt it, but it came at last, and is now universal. America, too, was the first to introduce the extensive use of the rifle and the sights of naval guns. To-day the rifle is the universal arm of the infantry and a cannon without sights or means for accurate laying is as useless as one without powder.

The third revolution was the introduction of the monitor, and here the honor belongs to the individual rather than to the nation. Despite all that may have been said to the contrary, Capt. Ericsson's traditional "cheese box on a raft" was an entirely unique construction; the idea had never been previously carried into practice and certainly had never been put into successful form.

The work of the monitor produced a revolution in naval ideas, of which the full extent has thus far been only inadequately realized.—Cassier's Magazine.

UNCERTAINTY ABOUT OVER. Houghton County Will as Usual Go Republican on the State Ticket. SCHOOL BOARD WILL REGULATE CORPORAL PUNISHMENT. Salvation Army Celebrated Fourth Anniversary of Its Advent into Calumet Saturday and Sunday.

[All communications intended for this department should be addressed to Horace J. Stevens, Houghton, Mich.] HOUGHTON. The voting will be more than half completed by the time this copy of THE MINING JOURNAL reaches its copper country readers and within a few hours the struggle will be decided. Houghton county will go strongly Republican on the state ticket and chances are that the entire county ticket, including two members of the legislature, will also be elected by the Republicans. For senator, Carlos D. Sheldon of this village has a sure thing as the Democrats have no candidate in the field against him. In the Calumet district Mr. Charles Smith, Republican, of Lake Linden, has no Democratic candidate opposed to him for legislative honors and his election is a foregone conclusion. In the Houghton district E. O. W. Robinson, Republican, is opposed to Mr. Thomas D. Ryan, Democrat. The Prohibition and Populist vote in this district will be much smaller than in the Calumet district and cannot greatly effect the result. The chances are in favor of Mr. Robinson as the district is Republican and this is a Republican year but the race will be closer than for any other place except treasurer. It is for treasurer that the real fight is taking place. The Democrats endorsed four Republican nominees on their county ticket with the expectation that the Republicans in return would throw overboard one of their candidates and allow the Democratic nominee for treasurer to walk in. Some of the Republicans are willing to do this and some are not. The wiser members of the party argue that the choice of a treasurer is by no means a personal matter and that if the Republicans allow their nominee for treasurer to fall outside the breastwork in a strongly Republican county in a strongly Republican year and with the Prohibitionists adding their strength as well that a big split in the party will result. In this they are certainly correct. The Finns have voted the Republican ticket almost solidly since the first Finn cast his first vote in the county, and they have had nothing in the shape of offices to reward their loyalty. Now that they have a representative on the ticket his slaughter would savor so plainly of treachery that the Finnish vote would be badly split up in future elections.

LAKE LINDEN. The ceremony of blessing the bell at St. Cecilia's Catholic church was performed on Sunday last, Bishop Verlin and the county clergy assisting the pastor in the elaborate ceremonies. The church was densely crowded with members of the congregation and Catholics from Lake Linden and neighboring towns. The new 6-foot iron lantern has been swung into position over the Masonic hall. The ceremony of dedication and the formal lighting of the lantern are set for Nov. 13.

Why Shopkeepers Do Not Like to Sell Goods "On Approval." People often wonder why the large dry goods stores do not like to send things home "on approval." It is a great convenience to the shopper, who for many reasons cannot decide about her purchase, to try on the article at home or to submit it to the inspection of a husband or some other interested member of the household. But dry goods men are getting more and more wary of people who request things sent home on approval. And some of them positively refuse these requests unless the shopper or her family be personally known or have an account at the store. One of the leading salesmen in a large and well-known Brooklyn establishment gave the following explanation the other day to an old customer: "People would not be surprised that we object to send things on approval if they knew the ins and outs of the affair. It is difficult for those of good principles and naturally honest to realize that people can stoop to such meanness and deliberately and intentionally take advantage of our desire to please the public. Yet it is known to all men in our business that it is not an uncommon thing for women to have goods sent home on approval with no idea of purchasing, but simply to use them for some particular occasion, a wedding, theater or reception, returning them in a few days as unsatisfactory in some particular. A society woman ordered an elegant and expensive wrap made here. I myself went to New York and made a selection for the wrap from a very choice line of goods. It was made in our workshop by experienced and competent hands, according to directions given by the customer, and was a work of art when finished. It was sent home and in a few days came back, the woman in question maintaining that it did not suit.

"In the meantime one of the girls in the workshop where the wrap was made had been to a church wedding and recognized the customer wearing the identical wrap. There is no question, of course, that she wished to obtain the garment for that particular occasion without paying for it. "In another instance an old customer bought a jacket for her little boy here. The next day she returned it, saying she thought it shop worn. The coat had been in stock with a number of others, never specially exhibited, and we were certain it could not be shop worn. However, when the coat was examined the braid and two or three of the buttons showed unmistakable evidence of wear, and a closer investigation disclosed a pair of boy's gloves tucked away in one of the pockets. There is but one explanation—the jacket had been sent home on approval, and, having been worn several times by the child, was returned as unsatisfactory."—Brooklyn Eagle.

AMERICAN FOLK-SPEECH. Old English Words Appear in New Guise Here. Local Dialects Are Composed Almost Entirely of Older Forms of Words Now Obsolete—Some Queer Phrases. The English of book-reading Americans differs from that of educated English people, writes Edward Eggleston in Century, only in those superficial traits that are the unavoidable result of a different environment and the fluctuations of fashion. But along the shore of a stream the current moves more slowly, and suffers eddies and backsets. Much old English of the days of Cromwell, some that goes back farther even than to "Queen Marie's dales," will be found in the dialect speech of rustic neighborhoods in America. There are facts in the history of English words that will never be known until some of the younger American philologists go afield in search of the living forms that grow in the soil about them, and that are not less instructive than the dialects of England assiduously gathered by a multitude of observers, or the patois of the French country to which Littré was not above paying his respects. Disavowing any pretension to be a philological expert, I propose to write here as an observer of American folk-speech. On that portion of the history of the English language which has to do with its conditions and changes in this country, and on that alone, I may claim to speak with some authority, if the life-long habit of studying the people's speech, exceptional opportunities for observing it in many widely separated districts, and an extensive acquaintance with writings of all sorts, printed and manuscript, of the colonial period, can give authority. English travelers very early mention the differences between colonial speech and that of the mother country. This arose partly from the great number of new objects and processes that must have names and partly from English provincial words adopted into general speech in America. For example, "swamp," with a far-reaching Scandinavian ancestry, and no doubt a long provincial use in England, had to be explained to English readers, though its use appears to have been general in the American colonies. By 1676 it had passed into a verb in common use in Massachusetts; thus Ninigret, the Indian chief, is said to have "swamped himself" when he had hidden in a wooded morass. In 1730 "swamp" formed part of a compound word; "swamp-law," in Maine stood for certain extra-judicial methods of attaining justice known to all rude and pioneer lands. The word "swamp," like many other provincials of the time, bettered its fortunes by immigration and was received into good English society when it went back.

There are indigenous words in our folk-speech, but our local rustic dialects are composed almost entirely of words in their older forms or older senses, of English words now quite obsolete, and of words from provincial English dialects. When first I heard farmers in the Lake George region call a "cowslip" a "cowslap," I smiled to think how modern the corruption was, and how easy to imagine that the name had something to do with the feeding of a cow. But rash guesses in etymology are ever unsafe; "eusloppe" is given as a form of the Anglo-Saxon word nine centuries ago. The etymologists miss the history of this word, and of the word "slop," by not knowing that, both as noun and verb, "slop" refers to any liquid or semi-liquid food for cattle, and this over so wide a region of America as to make its antiquity certain.

Take another expression that seems strictly American. "She is in a perfect gale," one says of a little girl or a young woman in a state of effervescent mirth. It is easy and natural to suppose this to be modern, and to derive it from a seafarer's figure of speech. But the Danes who settled in England spoke a tongue very much like the Icelandic, and there is in this speech the word "gall"—with a long vowel—meaning a "fit of gaiety," so that Anglo-Danish ladies in the court of Knut probably "got into a perfect gale" as our American women and girls do now. In New England they have the verb to "train" for to romp. For this I can find no remote ancestry; it may have come from the New England "trainin'" with its rum, elder and ginger bread, but I do not think it so recent as that.

I have given enough examples to show that the most ancient and least mutable part of a language is the residuum—the folk-speech. Fashions may change, but the countryman is slow to give up the ways and words of his fathers. If the world's changes knock the sense out of a word, he will put another meaning into it with a little alteration as possible. Some of the provincial English people say "hal-lowday" for holiday or holy day. But New England hallowed no holidays, and kept holy no holy days but the Sabbath. So from holiday, or the broad sound of hallow-day, some of our northern farmers get "hollow-day"—that is, a day with no work in it. They attach quite another sense to "hollow" when they note the condition of the atmosphere in which sound is easily carried. "The air is so hollow that I can hear a train ten miles off," one will say.

Beauty More Than Skin Deep. Science says now that beauty is not skin deep. She can tell you that half the charm of a pretty face—at least the expression—is a matter of little muscles and a complex labyrinth of nerves, and that the curves of the lips, the glance of the eyes, the droop of their lids are a matter of the prevalent use of certain small muscles in obedience to a prevalent aspect of the mind. Moreover, that the use of these organs of expression has come down along ancestral lines and that the mold of the features themselves is a question of heredity.

MEMORABLE CAMPAIGN ENDED.

New York, Nov. 5.—Chairman Hackett, of the Republican state committee, said today that nothing has occurred to change his estimates of Republican success already made public.

While, as a general thing, the diver stands not nearly that amount of pressure and seldom stays down more than two hours, the men in the Hudson river tunnel stood a pressure of from forty-five to forty-six and a half pounds and worked in four-hour shifts.

HE WROTE NO LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—A despatch from Albany, N. Y., printed today, gives an extract from a letter purporting to have been written by President Cleveland to Robert L. Thatcher upon the political situation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Following was the betting on the stock exchange today. Five thousand to two thousand five hundred on Strong against Grant (Tammany) for mayor.

TWO CHILDREN MURDERED.

Killed While Going to School by a Neighboring Boy.

PAULDING, O., Oct. 5.—A horrible murder occurred this morning, the victims being a boy aged seven and a girl of six, the children of Samuel Good, a prosperous farmer.

Another peculiar thing about the action of the pressure is that a man may have liquor enough about when outside to just make him feel jolly, but when he steps into the lock he is as drunk as a loon.

At the end of ten days the work of cutting through the balloon was begun. This was a very difficult job. An idea of what hard cutting it was may be gained from the fact that it took two months to dig through the thirty feet of plates and brick were going in as the work progressed.

WORKING UNDER WATER.

The Pressure Men Have to Bear in Digging Tunnels.

Laboring on the firm earth, with "all out of doors" to breathe, perspiring, and, mayhap, grumbling at one's hard luck, a person seldom, if ever, stops to think that men work day after day deep down in the water or the mud, with none but artificial light to guide their movements, and only the air that is pumped in to breathe.

While a man working on the surface of the earth bears up an atmospheric pressure of fifteen pounds to the inch, men in the locks bear a pressure of from fifteen to fifty pounds of compressed air, according to the depth.

While, as a general thing, the diver stands not nearly that amount of pressure and seldom stays down more than two hours, the men in the Hudson river tunnel stood a pressure of from forty-five to forty-six and a half pounds and worked in four-hour shifts.

BLIZZARD IN CONNECTICUT.

Hartford Cut off from Communication by Heavy Snow Storm.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The snow storm at Hartford, Conn., this evening developed into a regular blizzard. Telegraph and telephone wires are prostrated and the city is almost entirely cut off from communication by wire.

Lines May Be Leased.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5.—Judge Jenkins has made an order terminating the Northern Pacific branch line receiverships and authorizing Northern Pacific receivers to lease the lines and operate them.

SHERIFF MADE POOR SHOT.

Failed to Strike the Heart and the Condemned Man Lived Thirty Minutes.

WAS FINALLY SMOTHERED BY THE EXECUTIONER

Threats of Violence Had Been Made Against the Sheriff and His Nerves Were Unstrung.

HAD OPPORTUNITY TO ESCAPE.

SOUTH MALESTER, I. T., Nov. 5.—Silas Lewis, the condemned Choctaw murderer, was shot at Wilburton this morning by Sheriff Purches. The bullet from the sheriff's Winchester missed the condemned man's heart, passing through the body an inch above the nipple, and he had to be strangled to end his sufferings.

It was a day or two after this that Mr. Finkenbinder, with a large pasteboard box under his arm, took his way out to the barn, where his eldest son was amusing himself by making a kite.

Wesley stared in open-eyed wonder and said he guessed he'd like it first rate.

"I haven't had a pair of them on for twenty years," said his father. "When I was about your age or a little older I was rather handy with them. It's good exercise. It trains you to be quick."

"Now, Wes, this is about the position. Don't hold that arm so awkwardly. Guard your chest with it, like this. Throw out the other arm so."

"If I'm" said Mr. Finkenbinder, slightly disconcerted, but coming gamely to the scratch again.

"You go at it so awkwardly," said Mr. Finkenbinder, aiming a blow at Wesley's head and catching one in return on the jaw.

"You've got it in you, Wes," said his father, squaring off again, but with more caution. "Now you lead again and I'll show you—Here! What are you doing?"

SHOOTIN' HARDHEADS.

A Sullivan County Belt Fish and a Native's Odd Way of Taking Him.

There are more quaint and curious things in ways and speech in some parts of Sullivan county, said a veteran fisherman who had just returned from his summer hermitage, a log cabin on a big tract at the headwaters of the Willowemoc, commenting on his experiences the other evening, than in all New England, and that is saying a great deal.

A WATERMELON THEORY

Evolved by a Brunette Gentleman in a Public Conveyance.

A solitary individual was the only occupant of a Belt Line car the other morning, which was tinkling northward along Tenth avenue.

As the solitary individual, who had a genial smile, started in on the foreign news, he had a dim recollection of the son of Ham having placed the melon solicitously on the floor of the car between his feet, parting his coat-tails, and leaving a sigh as he sat down.

The sign was the most prominent of three, for it spoke of an inward contentment few in this world are privileged to enjoy.

Another was brought to the genial man's attention by his carefully lifting the melon to the seat beside him.

Before the car had traveled a block the location was again changed, and the melon surreptitiously placed in the dark's lap.

His next move was to pull out the plug, but alas, somebody had removed all the eatable portion.

longing depicted in every lineament of his features. There was the color of the fruit which had mitigated the sorrows of his race for centuries, but it seemed as if his mouth would have to water in vain.

Just then a thought struck him, and with a premonitory clearing of his parched throat, he addressed the genial man behind his paper.

"Say, boss, you habn't a long-bladed knife, has you?"

The genial man produced a large pocket-knife, and with a wink at the conductor, who had become an interested spectator of the little comedy, handed it to his dusky friend opposite.

He eagerly grasped it, and with a skill born of long practice, cut out a wedge which certainly was more than his share if there were five in his family.

For about two minutes he was buried to the ears in the luscious fruit. His mouth was sealed, but his eyes spoke a gratitude that words could not have expressed.

After the section had been finished, the rind replaced and the knife wiped off, he said:

"Boss, you've done me a powerful favor."

"Bridged a crisis, uncle?" the genial man languidly inquired.

"Dat's hit, sah. Dis fruit exercises a powerful influence ober me. Do you know, sah, I hab a theory dat dis fruit 'as de same dat de debil tempted our fast parents to eat in de Garden of Eden, and I sometimes tink dey was 'sensible'?"

"Why, how can that be?" the genial man asked. "The Bible says the fruit grew on a tree, and not on the ground."

"Well," said the theorist, "probably de fruit was on de tree before de fall, and on de ground afterward." And with a chuckle and grin he halted the car and ambled off toward Thompson street, bearing his precious burden.—N. Y. Tribune.

BOY-GIRLS.

One of the Strange Phases of Life in Old Mexico.

The recent discovery that it was a sixteen-year old boy, Henry Graeme, that had been personating a girl, Etta, the servant in a Brooklyn house, finds its counterpart occasionally among the Mexican households in the Spanish-American regions of the United States.

Cases in these regions are not infrequent of persons, male by sex, who all their lives have chosen to wear women's clothes and to labor at those household avocations reckoned as distinctly as woman's.

Such a case is thus described by a visitor to New Mexico: "Stopping to dine at a little plaza about twenty miles south of Santa Fe, my driver, an old-timer, called my attention to what seemed a strapping woman working among the female servants of the wealthy old Mexican don's household across the way.

This slab-sided, rather ungainly person, with coarse features and a chin that suggested the razor, was attired in a calico gown, wore gold earrings and had the hair braided behind. 'It's a man, such as it is!' said the driver. 'All he has to say about his wearing of woman's togs is that when a boy his mother always dressed him in girl's clothes and he never learned to dress differently. As he grew up he set to work about the house with the women, where he is now, treated with about the same sort of forbearance and contempt that a 'squam man' receives among the Indians. As I put it up, it was to get rid of being set to the hard, dangerous work of herding cattle and sheep when the Indians were bad in the territory, that cowardly boys, growing up to be peons, virtually slaves, to the wealthy Mexicans, chose to be squaws and work with the women. You'll find such cases now here and there in the Mexican towns and among the Indian pueblos.'—N. Y. Sun.

THE CAMPAIGN CLOSED.

Hon. Jay A. Hubbell Speaks the Last Word for the Republicans.

MADE IT AN IMPERATIVE DUTY TO VOTE STRAIGHT TICKET

Regular Meeting of the Common Council Marquette Registered 1,928 Voters for Today's Election.

STRONG PLEA FOR PRINCIPLES.

A large and enthusiastic audience assembled at the Casino last evening to hear Hon. Jay A. Hubbell of Houghton make the closing speech of the campaign in behalf of the Republican party and its candidates in today's elections.

From the outset Mr. Hubbell took the ground that in this campaign the people looked for good straight forward talk, plain, unvarnished facts and not party buncombe or vituperation of opposing candidates.

All men can theorize and no two will hold the same theory nor will any amount of argument convince No. 1 that No. 2 is right but in this campaign the American people have to deal with conditions that make themselves manifest to all, not with the moonshine of theories.

The result of the Democratic victory in 1892 with almost incredible swiftness made itself apparent in the cloud of distrust which gathered until it overshadowed every line of business, every field of industry in this broad land.

The obstruction in the Front street sewer near Washington street was removed yesterday. The work interfered with the street car service for some hours.

The Markham Sanatorium, which is meeting with well merited success, is open every day to the general public for vapor and electric baths, and on Tuesdays and Saturdays for Turkish baths.

The effect of cooking with Dr. Price's Baking Powder spreads a ray of sunshine around the family circle.

A MATTER OF ECONOMY.

She Didn't Want Chairs While the Girls Were Courting.

The lady from the tamarack swamps was laying in some parlor furniture and the clerk in the store was offering his valuable advice.

"No," she said in rebuttal, "I don't want no chairs, madame!" he exclaimed, "I never heard of a parlor without chairs."

"Well, you come to my house some time and you will see one," she reported.

"What will you have instead?" "Sofas, young man, sofas; these little two seat ones, and tatty tays and things like that."

"The clerk's equanimity was receiving a powerful jolt."

"What in the mischief do you want to do that for?" he asked in a helpless sort of way.

"You ain't a married man, are you?" she snapped. "You never raised a family of girls, did you?"

"Hardly."

"Well, you don't know anything about it. I've raised five; three's married and the other two's got buns; I've always had chairs, and every time when the courtin' was over with them girls and they got married, I had to give new ones; three sets of parlor chairs in three winters is going to cost most two strong; they'll make down somehow and now I'm goin' to put a stop to it by having sofas and you needn't be tryin' to change my mind. I know what I want, and if you haven't got sofas say so, and I'll go where they do have them."

The argument was convincing and the clerk fitted the thrifty lady out with a half dozen warranted to carry two with safety and economy.—Detroit Free Press.

A Table Coverlid.

A neat piece of work for young needlewomen is a cover to be thrown over the table to keep the dust from the dishes. This can be made of linen or damask. It can be bordered with hemstitching, Mexican work, or outline-work, or some attractive design can be worked in the corners. There are innumerable ways in which one's artistic taste can be brought into use in making such an article.—Harper's Young People.

He Couldn't Post the Judge.

Judge—You have committed a serious crime! Do you know what the penalty of it is?

Culprit—Sorry I can't oblige you. Why don't you look it up?

Vote for who you please but if you want to live buy good heavy use Vandenberg's fresh milk and Jersey creamery butter.

life. In closing he brought it home emphatically to his hearers that the question to be settled at the polls today is one of principles, not candidates, and made every Republican present feel that it was a duty which he owed to himself and his beliefs to vote the ticket straight from governor to coroner, congressman and legislative candidates included.

On motion of Mr. Hill three rousing cheers were given for "Our Jay" and then three roof-raisers for "The straight Republican ticket" and the local campaign was ended.

CAUGHT ON THE FLY.

The Marquette club will receive election bulletins this evening.

Stem was raised in the new city hall yesterday for the first time.

Today is Building & Loan day. Keep your eyes on the fact and save a fine.

Joe Fay has made arrangements for election bulletins at his place this evening.

Miss Annie Delf has returned from a three weeks' visit to Mr. and Mrs. Richards of Michigan.

Judge Stone yesterday ordered the release of Wm. P. May from the branch prison on the grounds noted in Saturday's Mining Journal.

Captain McCarthy, of the yacht Frolic, who for a time was suspected of sailing off with the Houghton train robbers, was in town yesterday.

William Smith of Ridge street returned yesterday from a visit to his daughter at Hancock. He went to make the acquaintance of his first grandchild.

The obstruction in the Front street sewer near Washington street was removed yesterday. The work interfered with the street car service for some hours.

Fred J. Schulteis, from A. Mathews' office, left for Lansing yesterday to look after some land and tax matters. He will be absent during the week and will visit Detroit, Saginaw and Bay City before returning.

The Markham Sanatorium, which is meeting with well merited success, is open every day to the general public for vapor and electric baths, and on Tuesdays and Saturdays for Turkish baths.

Mr. Zeardon, sexton of the Catholic cemetery, brought THE MINING JOURNAL yesterday a great bunch of wild strawberries gathered in the cemetery Sunday. There was about a pint of ripe and partly ripened berries while there were also some blossoms. It is worthy of note also that raspberries in the garden of a Hewitt avenue gentleman are in blossom for a second time. Truly Marquette could claim a share in the banana belt until snow put in appearance yesterday.

LIGHT REGISTRATION.

Number of Ishpeming Voters Thought That They Had Two Days.

THERE WAS ONLY ONE AND MANY ARE LEFT.

Total Registration Only 457—Ladies of Two Societies Will Serve Meals Election Day.

SHOULD HAVE BEEN LARGER
The registration in the Seventh ward Saturday was thirty-three and in the Tenth ward twenty-eight—a total of sixty-one names. The number of names registered in the entire city was 457. Quite a number of voters were of the impression that two days, Saturday and yesterday, had been designated for registration, consequently there were many who did not register on Saturday. This was due to the fact that the voters at Marquette were given two days in which to register, as a new registration had been called in that city.

Will Serve Meals.

The ladies of the Division Street Methodist church will serve meals in the Heineken block today from 12 noon until late in the evening. During the week the ladies have met with excellent success in soliciting eatables for the occasion and will have a fine spread prepared. In view of the success they have had in the way of donations from their friends they are enabled to make the price of the meal only fifteen cents for adults and ten cents for children. During the evening the ladies will hold a bazaar at which useful and fancy articles of various kinds will be sold. The Daughters of St. George will also serve meals today. Their headquarters will be in the Sons of St. George Hall in the Andrews block. This evening they will give a concert. An interesting program has been prepared and all who attend will be highly entertained.

Ready for Winter.

During the past few weeks Ole Walseth's carriage shops have been a place of considerable activity. Besides the regular repair work a number of fine new cutters and sleighs have been built. The spacious rooms on the second floor of the shops are completely filled with cutters and sleighs, some of which are entirely new while others have been undergoing repairs and have been repainted. The repair and fancy articles of various kinds will be sold. The Daughters of St. George will also serve meals today. Their headquarters will be in the Sons of St. George Hall in the Andrews block. This evening they will give a concert. An interesting program has been prepared and all who attend will be highly entertained.

Can Use Old Clothes.

A gentleman whose business calls him among the poorer people here every day in the year informs THE MINING JOURNAL man that he knows of a number of families who would be glad of any donations of clothing, shoes, stockings or other wearing apparel. He stated that he knew of some cases where the parents could not send their children to school because of their inability to provide shoes and clothes for them. In most of these cases he knew positively that the parents were too poor to provide better covering for their children.

The gentleman suggested that the ladies of some society or church should endeavor to devise means of collecting such garments as are offered for the poor and also to see that they are properly distributed. There are a great many residents who have articles which they would donate if the matter was properly presented.

Spoke to a Full House.

Hon. T. B. Dunstan of Hancock spoke to a crowded house in this city last evening. Owing to this being the last rally quite a number of Democrats as well as Republicans took advantage of the opportunity to hear the final arguments. Mr. Dunstan gave a very interesting talk. The Star Cornet band furnished music for the occasion.

The Chinese Sailor.
The Chinese sailor is not a lover of discipline. He prefers perfect freedom, especially when the question of leave is concerned. When Capt. Lang had charge of the Chinese navy he discovered this weakness, and it gave him a considerable amount of trouble. He found ordinary methods of enforcing regularity utterly useless. Officers and men alike showed a total indifference to his orders where leave of absence was concerned. Following the example of the emperor of Germany, he determined on a series of surprise visits, and on one of these occasions he found that many of the officers and men were on shore without leave. Determined to enforce discipline at any cost, he ordered all the delinquents to be placed under arrest when they returned. This was too much for the easy-going Chinamen. That night every man jumped overboard and went home, utterly disgusted with the service.

An Unkind Cut.
The pompous and aristocratic gentleman had gone to the general, talkative, rather obsequious little tailor to have his shiny coat replenished with buttons. A few days later, the little tailor met his patron and thought he would be very agreeable.
"Ah, colonel," he smiled, "good morning; how are those buttons coming on?"
"They are not coming on," grunted the old gentleman, "they are coming off, sir."—Detroit Free Press.

LONG MATRIMONIAL CAREER. A Couple in Hungary Celebrate Their Hundredth Anniversary.

We have all heard of tin weddings, celebrated after ten years of marriage; of crystal weddings, after fifteen years; of china weddings, after twenty; of silver weddings, after twenty-five; of gold, after fifty, and of diamond, after seventy-five, or, as some folks celebrate it, after sixty years, says the Philadelphia Press.

This appears to be a circumstance which is entirely impossible. But the marriage of this aged pair is duly and officially recorded as having taken place in May, 1794, at which time, according to the record, they were of marriageable age.

Even the oldest residents of Zsombolyi have no other recollection of Jean Szarthmary and his wife than as old people. No one relation of either survives. Their century of wedded life is so well and officially attested that many notables and Hungarian officials attended the anniversary celebration and gave them many presents.

ALL CHEERED FOR CULVER.

Champion of Settler's Rights Addressed Large and Enthusiastic Meeting.

ARMORY HALL WAS CROWDED TO THE DOORS.

Eloquent Address by M. J. Doyle and Passionate Remarks by C. F. Sundstrom Highly Appreciated.

GRAT INTEREST SHOWN

The people of Marquette greeted their fellow-townsmen, Bush Culver, in royal manner at Armory Hall last evening. All the chairs were filled and nearly two hundred men were standing along the sides, at the back and on the stairway. Many an old Republican was seen in the gathering cheering for Culver and the people's rights. All the speakers were enthusiastically applauded and Mr. Culver's plain and business-like statement of his principles and the course he should pursue if elected should win to him the support of every thinking citizen. James Russell presided and introduced the speakers. On the stage were Mr. Culver, Hon. M. J. Doyle of Menominee, Hon. Frederick Braaseth of Ishpeming, Mr. C. F. Sundstrom of Michigan, Dr. Alfred Desjardins of this city and that valiant old soldier and loyal Democrat, Mayor Edward C. Anthony of Neenah. The Ishpeming City band was present and furnished good music.

After a few preliminary remarks by the chairman Mr. Culver was introduced and greeted with applause. He began by saying that he was by no means an intense partisan, as that word was generally understood. With the great rank and file of the Republican party he had no quarrel. He was after the kid-glove fellows who were deluding the people. He was a Democrat because that was the party of the common people—the plain people who are the bone and sinew of this and every other nation [applause].

Mr. Culver then passed to a statement of his political principles and said in substance:

"I am in favor of the income tax because I believe in making wealth pay its proportion of the burdens of government [applause]."

"I am in favor of the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 because the bimetallic system of our fathers has brought peace and prosperity to this nation and because the Republican contraction of the currency has been productive of ruin and distress."

Mr. Culver then arraigned the Republican party for its policy of contracting the currency and declared that the Republican party had without question caused the great panic of 1873, however the Republican orators might attempt to blame the Democrats for the recent financial distress—for this recent panic which began under Republican laws and under a Republican administration. "I am in favor," continued Mr. Culver, "of the arbitration of all labor disputes by an impartial tribunal empowered to enforce its decrees. I believe that is the only way to stop strikes and riots in this country and to do justice to all."

"I am in favor of the restoration to the public domain—the people—of every acre of the lands now illegally held by corporations in this peninsula." [applause]. Mr. Culver then continued with a brief history of land grants in this region, showing that while it was true that in 1856 a Democratic congress had granted six sections per mile for the construction of a railroad from Marquette to Ontonagon, in 1865 a Republican congress increased the amount of land granted to ten sections per mile and extended the time for building the road.

"In 1873 only sixty-two miles of that road were built," continued the speaker, "yet it is on record in Lansing that a Republican governor certified that seventy-two miles were built; that 464,000 acres of the richest lands in this peninsula—a strip extending from the city limits of Marquette to twelve miles beyond L'Anse—were turned over to that corporation, while a Republican secretary of the interior certified that the lands had been earned and a Republican congress and a Republican administration never stirred to prevent this robbery of the people." [applause].

Mr. Culver then called attention to the fact that the Republican party had never made one move to restore to the people one acre of the vast tracts granted and held in reserve waiting the convenience of some corporation to build a railroad and thus at least make a bluff at earning them.

"But in 1887 Grover Cleveland [applause] had by administrative act released hundreds of thousands of acres from reservation for the convenience of speculative corporations and returned them to the people [applause]. The first forfeiture act, restoring these unearned lands to the public domain was passed in March, 1889, and the last act of Grover Cleveland was to sign that bill [applause]. Travel now from Nestora west along the line of the South Shore railroad and look at the dozens of bustling, busy towns where before was but a wilderness. Those towns are the creation of that forfeiture act of March, 1889, and of the wise and just hard policy of a Democratic congress and of Grover Cleveland [applause]."

"Yet the Republican orators and Mr. Stephenson say this land question is unimportant!" [cheers and laughter].

Mr. Culver then entered briefly into the history of the military road steel and of the Portage Lake canal grab. In the latter case a Republican congress had voted first 200,000 acres and then 300,000 acres to a company for digging a ditch across Keweenaw Point. The act provided that no lands designated as mineral in the president's proclamation of 1851 should be selected. Yet 60,000 acres of mineral lands were taken.

"Then some fifty or sixty settlers went upon these lands to build homes and Mr. D. H. Ball, as the attorney of the United States court, came into the United States court and asked for an order removing those settlers and to quiet the title of that corporation. I cited the president's proclamation designating these lands as mineral and the court told me to produce the proclamation. I have produced it, gentlemen, and I think Mr. Ball will have to try some other way of bossing those men off those lands [applause]."

The speaker then returned to the M. H. & O. grant, now in the hands of Lord Brassey's Michigan Land & Iron company. "For years Lord Brassey held these lands and you could not buy an acre until after the opening of this congressional campaign [applause]. Then Lord Brassey seemed to discover something. He came along this way in his private car and he heard something drop. He made a very liberal proposition. Of course he will reserve the pine—for a farmer must not look at a pine tree [laughter]. He will reserve the mineral—for what use has a farmer for minerals? [laughter]. He will sell the surface of the land and give you twenty years to pay for it at a low rate of interest. He is willing after all these years to sell back to the people their own lands. But we have heard from Washington and some of those lands Lord Brassey will never sell [cheers]. If Brassey's scheme succeeds—if he succeeds in colonizing these lands with farmers as he desires—we will have here in this free country, under the Stars and Stripes, such a system of absentee land lordism as has cursed Ireland for ages [applause]. Some of you may want to buy lands some day—if not for yourselves then for your children. If the system of the Republican party prevails you will have to buy them of Brassey" [applause].

Mr. Culver touched upon other land grant steals and closed that branch of his subject by declaring that the Republican party had granted away to monopolies lands equal in extent to the states of New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia and defied disproof of the statement.

"And yet, the Republican orators tell us this is the way to develop the country" [cheers and laughter]. He then touched upon other land matters, notably the theft of a public park by the Pennsylvania railroad in the city of Washington and told how a bill to legalize this theft was pushed through the senate by James McMillan of Michigan and signed by Benjamin Harrison.

The tariff, Mr. Culver declared, was not an issue of this campaign except for the purpose of pulling the wool over the eyes of the voters. What was Mr. Stephenson's position on the land question? An inspection of the records of the land office would show. It was against the settler and in hundreds of cases. What had Mr. Stephenson done for this district. He had got an appropriation to have a ditch dug up Menominee river to his own sawmill [laughter].

"Yes, and to his brother's sawmill" [renewed laughter].

Mr. Culver then touched on that $50 check and accused Stephenson of an attempt to corrupt the ballot. He had offered, if Mr. Stephenson would make oath that he did not give that check for political purposes, to get off the Democratic ticket. Mr. Stephenson dared not take such an oath [cheers]. In conclusion Mr. Culver appealed to the voters to remember the importance of the land question and to see to it, if they loved their country, that Mr. Stephenson was not allowed to buy his way into congress.

The chairman, in introducing the next speaker, read from Bradstreet's report the fact that bank clearings for October were 21 per cent. greater than for September and the largest since June, 1893. "This is the way the Democrats and the Wilson bill are ruining the country" [cheers].

Hon. M. J. Doyle of Menominee is known as one of the most polished and fluent speakers of this region. He roused his audience to frequent enthusiasm but no summary could do justice to his effort and the limitations of space permit no extended report. One of his most dramatic passages was that describing how the managers of the Chapin mine—which had made $600,000 the first year Schlesinger controlled it—had dragged the people of Iron Mountain into signing a protest against the Wilson bill. He described the present contest as one of brains against corporate power and asked his hearers to vote for brains and not for boodle. All the Republican speakers, from Burrows to Stephenson, had sung the same old song but all had failed to produce any proof that the Democratic party had caused the hard times. The McKinley bill and other Republican legislation had caused the hard times.

The people had passed judgment against the McKinley bill in 1890, had affirmed that judgment on appeal in 1892 and now the Republican orators, with all their calamity howling, dared not say that if returned to power they would re-enact that infamous law. The land question was of overshadowing importance in this district. Mr. H. W. Seymour had lately written a letter claiming some credit for himself in restoring these unearned lands to the public domain. Granting the truth of his claim, how was it that the Republican party had let Mr. Seymour serve only one session, part of a term, in congress? Because the policy of the Republican party was against the rights of the people and they had no use for Mr. Seymour when he tried to do his duty. Mr. Culver represented the best aspirations of the people and should be elected.

The next speaker was Mr. C. F. Sundstrom of Michigan. Mr. Sundstrom walked up the audience in great shape. He possesses very considerable powers of epigram and space will only allow the printing of a few characteristic sentences.

"Ben Harrison says a cheap coat makes a cheap man but not even he dared to say that a cheap woolen dress makes a cheap woman."

"J. H. D. A. P. A. Stevens forgot to tell us at Michigan Lake the other night how many A. P. A. factories he had opened."

"The only factory Grover Cleveland has shut down is that where Republican campaign lies are made."

"A vessel started from Liverpool to New York and twenty miles off Sandy Hook sprung a leak. The life-savers went out but in spite of their best efforts the vessel sank. Of course the life-savers were to blame. The McKinley vessel sailed for two years and all the dollars leaked out of the treasury. Then the Democrats came along and found the treasury empty and of course the Democrats were to blame."

"There are two men and a barrel running for congress in this district. The barrel rolls around the district and every time it strikes an ex-postmaster out drops a $50 check."

The above are only a few samples of Mr. Sundstrom's pungent sayings, which kept his audience in almost a continuous roar of laughter and applause. After a few remarks by Dr. Alfred Desjardins on the general prospects of the campaign the meeting broke up with three rousing cheers for Fisher, Culver and the country ticket.

Common Council Meetings. The common council held its regular monthly session last evening, business being rushed because of the three political meetings in progress.

Several applications for the position of janitor of the city hall were presented and were laid upon the table.

The water board, to which was referred a petition for a water main upon McMillan street, reported that the board was ready to lay a main there when the street should be graded provided the council would appropriate $500 for the work.

A petition to have an electric light placed at the end of the grade on East Arch street was referred to the electric light committee.

The petition of Dr. O. D. Jones, asking permission to connect his residence with the Spruce street sewer, was referred to the street committee.

The liquor bond of James Goukowsky was approved. A special assessment roll No. 9 for the sewer in High street was approved and the 19th inst. appointed for the confirmation of the same.

A resolution was presented and adopted calling for the appointment by the mayor of a special committee of three with himself as chairman to select the furniture for the city hall. The mayor appointed as the members of the committee Aldermen Hallstrom, Honzler and Sherman.

After passing upon a number of bills the council adjourned until Wednesday evening.

Marquette's Registration. The registration Saturday and Monday gives Marquette a registered vote of 1,926 without a dead name on the list, an entirely new registration having been called for under the new charter. The registration by wards was as follows: First, 262; Second, 232; Third, 329; Fourth, 238; Fifth, 310; Sixth, 226; Seventh, 216; Eighth, 162; total, 1,926. In addition to the names registered there is quite a large roll of dead votes which will have to be sworn in, the boys having been out on the line and therefore unable to register.

The clever housewife finds that nothing helps to improve her table better than Dr. Price's Baking Powder.

The Populist Rally. Fraternity Hall was packed as full as a sardine box last evening when local Populist speakers set forth the tenets of their party. Music was furnished by the band and Mr. E. D. Cox made the first address. E. E. Arner closing the meeting. The meeting was brimful of enthusiasm and the names of all the Populist candidates were loudly cheered.

DID YOU EVER Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all female complaints, exerting a wonderful direct influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. You have loss of appetite, constipation, headache, fainting spells, or are nervous, sleepless, excitable, melancholy or troubled with dizzy spells, Electric Bitters is the medicine you need. Health and strength are guaranteed by its use. Large bottles only fifty cents at Farnham's Drug Store.

A SURGEON'S KNIFE gives you a feeling of horror and dread. There is no longer necessary for its use in many diseases formerly regarded as incurable without amputation. The Triumph of Conservative Surgery is well illustrated by the fact that RUPTURE or Hernia is now readily cured without the knife and without pain. Chancy, sliding hernias can be thrown away. They never cure but often induce inflammation, strangulation and death. TUMORS of various kinds are now removed without the peril of cutting. PILE TUMORS, however large, and other diseases of the lower bowel, are removed without pain or resort to the knife. STONE in the bladder, no matter how large, is crushed, pulverized and passed. STRICTURE of Urinary Passage is cured in hundreds of cases. For painful, stricture and all particulars, send to Green's Remedy, 66½ Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

and those soon to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription robes children of its tortures, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding nature in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and the period of confinement are greatly shortened. It also promotes the secretion of an abundance of nourishment for the child.

MOTHERS Mrs. DORA A. GORHAM, of Oakley, Oregon Co., Ore., writes: "When I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I was not able to stand on my feet without suffering almost death. Now I do all my housework, washing, cooking, sewing and everything for my family of eight. I am stronger now than I have been in six years. Your Favorite Prescription is the best I take before confinement or at least it proved so with me. I never suffered so little with any of my children as I did with this."
