MARINES WERE LANDED.

United States and British Naval Forces Act in Conjunction at Corinto.

HOLD THE PORT IN THE NAME OF NICARAGUA.

Custom House Is Prevented from Falling Into Insurgent Hands and Lives and Property of the Citizens Protected.

DROVE RIOTERS INTO HIDING.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, May 14.—[Copyrighted by Associated Press.]—In view of the fact the government controlled the wires at the time the correspondent of the Associated Press here has been compelled to send by mail an account of the landing May 2 at Corinto of a force of about one hundred American and British marines from the United States cruiser Alert and the British cruiser Comus, who, acting in most perfect harmony, occupied that port and protected, until May 4, the property of foreigners in the custom house and at the railroad station, subduing a riotous and drunken mob which threatened to cause most serious disturbances.

During the recent revolution in Nicaragua there were remarkable instances of the lawless manner in which the so-called ministers of provisional governments can act when they have an opportunity. As an instance, Samuel Mayorga, who was minister for the treasury for the revolutionary government, issued a decree in the name of the revolutionary government declaring that the officers and books of the custom house at Corinto were to be removed to Leon, the capital of the revolutionary government. Mayorga had come to Corinto with railroad trains in order to remove the merchandise, which belonged largely to foreigners. It was evident, however, the real object of Mayorga's move was to obtain possession of the property and hold it as security for a war loan.

THE FOREIGNERS PROTESTED

to Commander Hanford of the United States cruiser Alert and Captain Dyke of the British cruiser Comus. The American and British commanders decided to not allow the insurgents to take possession of the property of the foreigners in the custom house or railroad depot. This enraged Mayorga so much that he caused the arrest of all native males in Corinto between the ages of seventeen and seventy years on the plea that a great battle was imminent at Momotombo. After detaining them a few hours Mayorga released all who could pay him from $100 to $250 in cash, and returned to Leon with the other unfortunate inhabitants of Corinto.

On May 1 Mayorga's party disbanded and sought safety in flight with a considerable sum of money extorted from the people of Nicaragua. They escaped to Guatemala in a small schooner. A number of officers and soldiers of the insurgent army fled to Corinto in the hope of getting out of the country, but were unable to get away owing to lack of means. The disappointed soldiers became reckless after their leaders had deserted them and began drinking, rioting, robbing houses and threatening the lives of everybody of the law and order class at Corinto. Women were insulted and an attack upon the custom house planned.

ONE HUNDRED MARINES LANDED.

As the native commandant's handful of police at this port were utterly impotent, Palmer, commandant of the custom house, hurriedly written requests for protection to Palazio, the United States consular agent, requesting the latter to appeal for help to the commanders of the American and British warships in port, asking them to land men and take charge of the port and protect the persons and property of Nicaraguans and foreigners in the government of Nicaragua until the government of President Zelaya could send troops. Commander Hanford and Captain Dyke complied with the request and one hundred marines were landed from the Alert and Comus.

The marines quickly drove the rioters into hiding. Commandant Palmer cheerfully gave up the custom house, railroad depot, cars, locomotives and merchandise, etc. to Lieutenant Baker, U. S. N., taking the latter's receipt for the property, and then the commandant (insurgent official) retired into private life once more. By order of Lieutenant Baker the flag of Nicaragua was again hoisted to the flagstaff in front of the custom house, and the stars and stripes were hoisted on a flagstaff at the northeast side of the custom house. The British flag was hoisted by Lieutenant Lewin of the Comus on the south side of the building. In a short time after the marines landed perfect order and peace prevailed in Corinto and the residents hurriedly bedecked themselves in holiday attire in honor of their rescue.

IT BELIEVE THAT DIDN'T WORK.

In the evening Metutea of Honduras, with eighty soldiers, arrived on the outskirts of town and demanded that Corinto be turned over to him, and if this was not done he would take possession of the town. Notice was sent the cruisers Alert and Comus and they cleared for action and the marines were drawn up in line. This had a calming effect on Metutea's bluster and he was not so anxious to take possession. In fact he apologized for his hasty action. When President Zelaya was informed of the occurrence he sent an officer and a company of Nicaraguan soldiers to take charge of Corinto and also telegraphed his approval to the American legation at Managua with his thanks, and later telegraphed an invitation to Commander Hanford and Captain Dyke and their officers to visit Managua and enjoy the hospitality of the government of Nicaragua.

MANY BURIED IN TRENCHES.

Twelve Hundred Victims of the Panic Are Interred at Moscow.

Moscow, June 1.—There were 1,277 victims of the disaster on the plain in front of Petrovsky place Saturday buried today. The bodies of those who were identified and claimed by relatives were interred in private graves, but at the expense of the municipality. A great number of unidentified dead were buried in eleven great trenches, each fifty yards long. The trenches were very deep and the mutilated bodies had to be placed close together to find room for them all. There were six hundred workmen engaged all night long at Vaganovskoe cemetery digging trenches.

The evening the czar gave a banquet to representatives of all the estates in his realm. Foreign representatives were also present. In the afternoon the czar and zarina visited the hospital, where they consoled the patients injured in Saturday's awful crush.

ELECTIONS IN OREGON.

Returns Coming in Slowly but Indicate Republican Victories.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 1.—The state election, in which two congressmen, supreme judge and members of the legislature are to be elected, is in progress today. It will have special significance as the first gun of the presidential campaign. It will be impossible, however, for politicians to get much satisfaction from the result because all the parties are badly split up. The weather throughout the state is fine and an unusually heavy vote will be polled. The greatest interest centers in the election of congressman from the Second district, where H. H. Northrup (Rep.) is running as an independent candidate on a gold standard platform. The regular Republican, Democratic and Populist nominees are all well known adherents of free silver.

PORTLAND, June 1.—Returns from the elections held in Oregon today are coming in slowly. From present appearances the legislature will be Republican by a large majority. It is conceded by the Democrats and Populists that Bean (Rep.), for supreme judge, will have at least five thousand plurality. Tongue (Rep.), for congress, First district, is undoubtedly elected. In the Second district the congressional contest is close and complete returns will be required to decide. The indications are ex-Governor Penneyer has been elected mayor of this city.

BOND-HOLDERS BRING SUIT.

Want St. Louis Elevator Company's Affairs Put in Receiver's Hands.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 1.—Suits were instituted in the federal court today by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway and R. P. Tansey of this city, against the St. Louis United Elevator company and William E. Burr of St. Louis, trustee for the bond holders, to foreclose a mortgage given by the elevator company and for the appointment of a receiver. The mortgages were to secure bonds for $388,000, issued October, 1889. The plaintiffs own $100,000 of these bonds. The defendant is the owner of four elevators at St. Louis and four at East St. Louis. These elevators were damaged to the amount of $300,000 by Wednesday's cyclone, and this is the reason the suit is brought.

WON BY ONE BIRD.

Deiter of Milwaukee Outshoots Gilbert and Takes the Dupont Cup.

CHICAGO, June 1.—At Watson's Shooting Park today the Dupont trophy for the largest number of live birds out of one hundred was won from Fred S. Gilbert of Spirit Lake, Ia., by George L. Deiter of Milwaukee, and also the $100 prize offered in connection with the same event. Gilbert has held the trophy since October, at which time he came into possession of it at the shooting tournament at Baltimore. The competition was on a challenge from Deiter, and the latter won by the narrow margin of one bird, the score being 84 to 83.

Coliseum Opened to Public.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The Coliseum building, at Sixty-Third street and Stony Island avenue, in which the Democratic national convention is to be held, was thrown open to the public today. Buffalo Bill's Wild West show had the honor of drawing the first crowd into the building, and it drew one sufficiently large to prove that the building will accommodate in splendid shape any crowd that may gather to watch the work of the politicians.

Minor Details Arranged.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The sub-committee of the national Democratic committee in charge of the arrangements for the national convention met today, but the only subjects under consideration were minor details for the convention, such as the appointment of the assistant sergeants-at-arms, ushers and decoration of the hall.

Trumpf Plead Not Guilty.

MILWAUKEE, June 1.—Trumpf, president of the defunct South Side Savings bank, who recently returned to the city and gave himself up, was arraigned today and pleaded not guilty. Koeting, cashier of the same bank, is now serving a term at the Waupun penitentiary.

LAVIGNE IS CHAMPION.

Wins from Burge, the English Pugilist, in Eighteen Rounds.

HAD A CINCH ON THE FIGHT FROM THE START.

The Loser Was Terribly Punished While the Michigan Boy Was Scarcely Marked—Odds Were 2 to 1 on Burge.

YANKEE WON IN A ROMP.

LONDON, June 1.—"Kid" Lavigne fought "Dick" Burge this evening before the National Sporting club for the international lightweight championship of the world, a purse of $3,500 and a side bet of $2,500. Lavigne won in eighteen rounds. The fight was to be limited to twenty rounds. The club was very much crowded tonight with a fashionable audience to witness the fight. Burge was a strong favorite and his friends were willing to lay odds of two to one on him to any amount. Lavigne looked well and was confident of victory, while it was generally conceded that Burge must win quickly or be liable to be worn down. Strange to say, though, there was no wearing down in the case, as the Yankee led from start to finish and won in a romp.

In the first round "Kid" rushed and drove Burge before him, planting his left on the stomach and swinging his right on the ribs. Burge countered with his left, but there was no force in his blows and Lavigne did not seem to mind them, and when this round had ended the betting ceased and every one seemed to realize that Burge had run foul of a cyclone. Burge's admirers were simply paralyzed. At the end of the third round there were many offers to back the American at odds of three to one, but it was a vain attempt to hedge lost money.

For twelve rounds Lavigne beat a terrible tattoo on Burge's body and ribs. He then altered his tactics, and tried for the face of his opponents. This gave Burge a chance, and he did better than at any other period in the fight. One of his left handers was landed straight on "Kid's" nose, spurting blood. The Englishmen then began to hope Burge might yet pull through, but Lavigne quickly dispelled the illusion. He rushed Burge around the ring with redoubled fury. His blows seemed to double up, and almost to kill Burge.

Burge was only just able to get on his feet in the last round. Lavigne gave him a terrific left-handed punch in the stomach, and as his head came forward he swung his right on the side of the head. Burge fell flat upon his face. It was not a knock-out blow, but Burge was practically beaten and in order to prevent any serious accident the referee stopped the fight. Burge was awfully punished, while Lavigne was scarcely marked.

A TRAGEDY AT NEVADO, MO.

Henry Anthony Slatin on the Street by Enraged Father and Son.

NEVADO, June 1.—John F. Blair and his son, Alva Blair, attacked the former's son-in-law, Henry Anthony, on the street this afternoon with revolvers and knives. Anthony ran and was followed for eight blocks by the other two, who kept shooting at him. Over twenty-five shots were fired and seven of them struck the victim. Anthony ran down into the business part of town and was finally overtaken and his throat cut in the presence of two hundred people. There were no officers at hand and the two Blairs threatened any one who interfered. At least six bystanders had hair-breath escapes from flying bullets. Both the Blairs at once gave themselves up to the sheriff and are in jail. They allege as the reason for the murder that Anthony had assaulted his thirteen-year-old sister-in-law.

LYNCHED BY A MOB.

Two Negro Prisoners at Columbus, Ga.—Great Excitement Prevails.

COLUMBUS, Ga., June 1.—A mob of six hundred broke into the court room this morning, took Jesse Slayton, a negro charged with assaulting a white woman, from the officers and hung him to a tree in the street. They then filled his body with bullets. The mob also took Will Meyers, colored, charged with the same offense from jail and lynched him at the same place. The bodies of the two negroes were left hanging during the afternoon and a surging mass of humanity was packed around the scene. The greatest excitement prevails, especially among the negroes, and it is not improbable further trouble will ensue.

MAYOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION.

Chicago Citizens Appealed to Aid the East St. Louis Sufferers.

CHICAGO, June 1.—An appeal to the people of this city to go to the aid of the storm sufferers at East St. Louis was issued by Mayor Swift today in a proclamation setting forth the want and suffering of the survivors of the tornado-ridden district. Supplies such as clothing, bedding, tents and the like will be received at the city hall. Arrangements have also been made with the railroads for the transportation of such supplies. It is the mayor's intention to work in conjunction with the board of trade and other organizations, committees from which are already actively at work soliciting subscriptions.

Strikers Soliciting Funds.

MILWAUKEE, June 1.—At the headquarters of the striking street railway employes today things were very bad. The men are making a house-to-house canvass for funds.

MARQUETTE, MICH., JUNE 2. Entered as mailmatter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

A MICHIGAN man, Samuel Dickle of Albion, is credited with having kept the Prohibitionist convention from having declared for silver coinage. He doesn't want any "alf-and-alf" in his currency any more than in his tipple.

SENATOR DAVID B. HILL is quoted as saying that he doesn't want the Democratic nomination for president this year. He wanted it awfully four years ago but couldn't get it. Now when he can have it for the asking he doesn't want it. Such is the fickleness of fate and politicians!

It comes to THE MINING JOURNAL straight that Sam Stephenson is working indefatigably for the congressional nomination and expects to get it. He has instituted a systematic campaign within the past few weeks and his backers at Menominee are offering to wager money that he will win out against all comers. Sam wants the nomination worse this time than he ever did before, but we doubt his ability to capture it.

In their monthly letter reviewing the business situation and outlook the broking firm of Messrs. John H. Davis & Co., states that we have got through with the worst of our business troubles, which is very encouraging tidings. But we are led to believe that the Messrs. Davis & Co. are talking without much information by what they say concerning the demand for Lake Superior ores. "There has never been so great a buying movement of Lake Superior ores as this year and even the greatly augmented lake carrying capacity is unable to meet the demand for tonnage," they allege. This is information that would be very gratifying but for the simple circumstance that it is lacking in truth. The buying movement of Lake Superior ores is anything but satisfactory this season, as the reductions of the forces at many of the mines up here sufficiently attests.

ACCORDING to a Washington report, it is the intention of Major McKinley to lose no time in getting the tariff revised to suit his ideas after he is installed as president. Immediately following his installation he will call congress together in extra session to tackle the job, it is asserted. But it may be that the congress which he will call together, should he be elected president, will not be so constituted that it will re-enact the McKinley tariff law without conditions. There is likely to be a large silver element on the Republican side in that congress, and that element will, as a leading western Republican paper puts it, "demand its price" for its support of any measure of tariff revision that may be proposed. That price will be restoration of silver coinage. It is easy to plan for the future, but the execution of any plan for tariff legislation by the next congress which does not include needed legislation on the currency problem will be found extremely difficult.

THE Marine Review thinks lake freight rates have held up remarkably well in view of the way the furnace owners have been holding off and the slack demand for tonnage in the grain trade. In this connection The Review says of the outlook for the ore market:

Conditions now prevailing in the iron industry are certainly not as favorable to a heavy ore output as they were two months ago, but the business of making iron and steel is not to be suspended indefinitely, and the furnace companies that have not as yet bought ore for 1896 must soon come into the market. There is no thought of any reduction in the prices of ore fixed by the association. Even the furnace men are not suspected of any attempt to break these prices; but it cannot be denied that their delay in making further purchases is a source of considerable worry to the ore dealers. It is now thought that purchases by the Carnegie company, which have been expected from day to day, will be made after the first of the month. Just now the furnace men would be at a disadvantage in purchasing, as they avoid a month's payments by waiting till the first of June.

MAYOR BARON of Ashtand is something of a "cezar" himself, albeit a Democrat. He has an exceedingly obstreperous council to deal with, but he is teaching the contumacious aldermen that a mayor is something more than a mere figurehead when the right man holds that office. At a recent meeting a certain number of the aldermen who are opposed to the administration remained away for the purpose of forcing an adjournment for lack of a quorum, their object being to delay action on some of the mayor's appointments. A call of the roll disclosed that there was not a quorum present, and an officer was instructed to hunt up some one of the missing aldermen—one only being needed to make the quorum—and bring him to the council chamber forthwith. Then the mayor and the aldermen in attendance waited developments. The officer with several assistants at last found one of the aldermen at his home, but he was in bed and declared that he was ill. A doctor was summoned, who pronounced him in good health. Then the officers rolled him up in the bed quilts, his clothing having been hidden away, and carried him out to a hack, which was in readiness outside the house. The hired girl, who had watched the proceedings with great interest up to this point, seeing that the officers were in dead earnest, produced the missing garments, and the alderman made his toilet in the hack as he was being rapidly whisked to the council room. On his arrival there was quite subdued and answered to his name when it was called and the session began. He voted "aye" on everything and the business before the council was disposed of with neatness and dispatch. Mayor Baron is the right man in the right place, and Ashtand ought to be proud of him.

A GLADSTONE paper, The Delta, would be willing to move to Marquette under certain conditions, which are whimsically set forth in this article, taken from its last number:

Last week THE MINING JOURNAL, of Marquette, announced editorially that the Iron Port, of Escanaba, was about to remove from our county seat to the intellectual metropolis of the peninsula. THE MINING JOURNAL printed a few words of comment, saying that there is an excellent opportunity for a good Republican newspaper in Marquette and that THE MINING JOURNAL would warmly welcome an affectionate rival. The publisher of the Port denied that he intends to move to Marquette and said that Chase Osborn had suggested to him the wisdom of establishing the Port in that city. Mr. Osborn denies the allegation and says he can live without the aldermen. So quite a breeze has been stirred up in the fraternity. The main point of interest here is whether or not the old Iron Port is about to go to Marquette. As Mr. Cates says positively that it will not desert its native home that point is settled. The Delta had thought that it might succeed to the premiership of the Republican newspapers of Delta county, but this hope has fled. So long as the Port remains at the court house town, so long the Delta must stay in Gladstone; unless, indeed, it avails itself of the opening at Marquette, which is conceded by all to be large and wide. Business in Delta is not what it was in the days of yore, and if the business opportunities at Marquette are what THE MINING JOURNAL describes them The Delta is not averse to filling a long felt want. If Messrs. Newett and Griffey will give a quit claim to the tax list, etc., there is certainly something in the venture. The Delta has never had any fat takes since it went into business and it would be glad to locate where there is a chance for recognition.

If The Delta can obtain from the publishers of the party organs at Ishpeming and Negaunee the desired "quit claim" of their rights to all the pickings of party patronage in this county it should do so and move here at once. The "opening" that here awaits a good Republican paper is cavernous in its immensity. THE MINING JOURNAL will donate the opening if its contemporaries will do the rest. There ought to be another Republican paper established in the county if only to please Congressman Osborn, (we might as well begin giving him his title now, so as to get accustomed to it), for those now published here do not seem disposed to give him the attention that his conspicuous talents and eminent services to the country as game warden fairly entitle him to receive at their hands.

CURTAILING PRODUCTION. The Cleveland Iron Trade Review gives this information regarding the curtailment of pig iron production in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys, which is going on "without preconcerted arrangement," according to that authority: Each furnace company decides the question in the light of its own condition and the state of the market. Stocks have been accumulating, with demand of small proportions, and no immediate prospect of a revival. Opportunely, the flatness of the market and the plans of some furnaces for extensive repairs coincide; in other cases furnaces will be banked because operating companies do not desire to further pile iron on an unprofitable market. Inquiries by The Iron Trade Review show that the following valleys furnaces are now in operation: Mahoning Valley—Grace (Brier Hill), Phoenix, Cherry Valley, Haselton, Hubbard No. 1, Mary, Mattie, Seneca, Thomas, Tod; Shenango Valley—Atlantic, Mabel, Rosena, Douglas, Neshanock, Raney & Berger, Sharon Iron Co., Alice. Furnaces now out of blast are: Hubbard No. 2, Hannah and Anna, in the Mahoning Valley, and Claire, Sharon, Sharpville, Spearman (put on May 27th), Stewart, Ella and Fannie in the Shenango Valley.

Of the furnaces now out, Anna, undergoing repairs, will go in about July 1, and Stewart, banked the past week for repairs, will resume next week. Of the furnaces now running, Haselton will blow out early in June for extensive repairs. Mattie will go out in the next thirty days, and Mary will stop in June, all for relining and other improvements. Hubbard No. 1 will bank pending a turn in the market. In the Shenango Valley, Douglas will probably quit early in June, if there is no improvement in the market; Raney & Berger will exhaust its 1856 ore and may then shut down, perhaps by August if there is no change for the better. INCREASE OF RED MEN.

Although They Have Good Schools There Are Many Blasket Indians. The reservations are too small to permit the old, widowed Indian habits, and the red men are compelled to live in localities entirely unsuited to the wild customs of their forefathers. Through this changed condition, it has frequently been said the Indian will rapidly die out; but information received at the Indian bureau shows this is an error. There are now about 300,000 Indians in the United States, and it is evident that they are increasing in numbers.

People may differ as to the past treatment of the Indians, and as to whether it was right to take from them the vast empire now occupied by the millions of thriving, industrious whites, but it has been done, and no one can doubt that it now rests upon us to give the Indian an occupation which will take the place of that former roving life which he has lost.

We have compelled him to make way for civilization; he must be civilized in order to become self-supporting in the conditions forced on him. Among the things which we give him are schools, in which 25,000 Indian children are now being taught. These schools are of three kinds—non-sectarian, boarding schools and day schools.

Chief among the non-sectarian boarding-schools is the large school at Carlisle, Pa. Here 750 Indian boys and girls are taught those branches which our own children learn in grammar and high school. During portions of the year these children are hired out to the good people of Pennsylvania in places where they are required to work on farms and in private families.

This, of course, is a great help to the young Indians. It gives them an insight into practical life, and teaches them how to act for themselves. The children in a school like this are fitted not simply to go back on the reservations, but to scatter throughout the United States and take their chances with the rest of our citizens. They are taught how to work and support themselves by labor, and this is a lesson which every child should learn, whether red, white or black.

Progress is being made by many of the Indians. Some of them now teach Indian schools; some follow various mechanical pursuits; and many more readily learn to watch and herd cattle. But "blanket" Indians are still to be found in very great numbers.

By blanket Indians we mean those who do not wear citizens' clothes, but who are clad in buckskin shoes and leggings, and wrap themselves in great blankets instead of wearing coats and vests, while some of them in warm weather wear scarcely any clothing at all. Many of them still know nothing of civilization or of Christianity. Their religious ceremonies are too often still heathenish, and they are regardless of marriage ties.—Secretary Hoke Smith, in Youth's Companion.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

Of the furnaces now out, Anna, undergoing repairs, will go in about July 1, and Stewart, banked the past week for repairs, will resume next week. Of the furnaces now running, Haselton will blow out early in June for extensive repairs. Mattie will go out in the next thirty days, and Mary will stop in June, all for relining and other improvements. Hubbard No. 1 will bank pending a turn in the market. In the Shenango Valley, Douglas will probably quit early in June, if there is no improvement in the market; Raney & Berger will exhaust its 1856 ore and may then shut down, perhaps by August if there is no change for the better. HIS TERRIBLE DRIVE.

Stage Driver Who Could Not Shake Off The Apparition. One trip of an eastern Maine stage driver will never be forgotten, either by himself or those who witnessed the denouement. He was possessed of considerable courage, but, unfortunately, boasted of much more that he didn't possess. His route lay over a lonely part of the country, and several ancient graveyards were close to the highway. His daily trips were not completed until late in the evening.

Now, it chanced that a certain ruddy-cheeked dandy resided in a farmhouse standing conveniently close to the road along which he daily passed, and said dandy grew to be exceedingly agreeable to this bachelor stage driver. He would whip up smartly until the little house was reached, and then, after a half-hour of her society, he would be in just the mood to easily make up the time in the next ten miles. One night he hitched, as usual, and, finding his lady love presiding at the spinning wheel (which useful pastime surpasses any other display of a maiden's charms, as many a gray-haired grandfather of to-day can testify), he so ardently pressed his attentions that the important question was settled somewhat precipitately, and the time being up, he caught up his cap from the basket of rolls, where he had dropped it, and started up his horses at a spanking gait.

He was in that ecstatic mood peculiar to youths who have won the prize by cutting out the "other fellow," and was rattling along briskly, passing the first burying place just as the moon dropped behind a bank of clouds.

Suddenly he became aware of something close to his left side—a form, long, shadowy and white. He turned to look at it more closely, when it instantly evaded him by keeping just beyond range, apparently dodging back as he tried to get a view of it. He whipped up smartly, thinking to distance the thing, whatever it might be, but it took on a more ghost-like shape and appeared to be wildly in pursuit, making long plunges through the air.

The blissful feeling of the last hour was fast disappearing. It was night and a lonesome, unfrequented wood, dotted with graveyards, and this awful presence hanging in the rear! What could it be and what could it want?

They were nearing the last burying ground. A hope seized the terrified stage driver. The ghost might be meandering forth to make a neighborly call upon some ancient acquaintance of bygone days, and, if so, it might drop into this yard. As they rattled past the broken gate he sought to assist in this decision by entreating in a husky whisper: "Begone! Begone!" But the frisky ghost was evidently not in a mood for graveyard calls. Then the stage driver struck sharply blow after blow at his ghostly passenger, but his fist shot through empty space, filled again instantly by the long, white, shadowy form. Thoroughly terrified at last, the fellow sprang into the box, lashed his horses into a gallop and, covering down, he made his ten miles with that ghastly passenger floating along close to his side, tantalizing, beyond his reach.

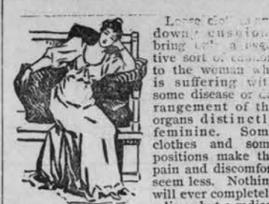

As the stage came dashing up to the door of the post office he sprang out, and, white-faced and wild-eyed, told his story in broken, gasping sentences to the waiting villagers.

Before he had finished some one stepped out from the crowd of excited listeners and plucked a long, white object from his cap just over his left ear, held it up to the gaze of the crowd, and instantly a shout went up when the discovery was made that the cause of his fright was a long, soft, white roll, which he had unconsciously purloined from the basket of his lady love.—Lewiston Journal.

Guessing Flowers. A pleasant variation in an evening of games is the drawing of flowers with colored crayons, and then having your guests guess the names of the flowers. A list of flowers should be made out, each one with a number. On separate slips of paper write the name of one of the flowers with its corresponding number, until you have used each one on the list. Give each guest one of the slips, or have a draw for them, and provide them with crayons and sheets of paper. Give 15 minutes for the making of the drawings, then collect the drawings and pin them up about the room. As the names of flowers are read from the list, guesses are given as to which flower among the drawings represents it. Another pleasant game is called matching quotations. Well-known lines are written on slips of paper and then divided into bits, each part having three or four words. These fragments are pinned about the room on furniture, curtains, and hangings, and each person takes one and starts out to find the other parts that will make the quotation complete. Sometimes the quotations may consist of an entire line, with the second line forming the other half to be looked for.—Philadelphia Times.

One Object of Life Insurance. The subject of the conversation had taken several routes, and finally the topic of insurance was reached by the guests, the hostess and the host at the dinner table. "Papa has his life insured," spoke up the little girl, the pet of the household. "Is that so?" asked one of the visitors, showing interest in the evidence of precocity. Everybody present looked at the child, and the father and mother gazed fondly and proudly. "Yes'm; for $15,000." "What has he done that for?" "So mamma can buy a new husband when he's dead."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Charles Lamb was known to his reading contemporaries as "Elia." Even to the present day many persons suppose "Elia's Essays" were written by a person of that name.

care. The effects of such disorders are not limited to mere local discomforts but extend over the whole body. Perhaps the nerves are most affected, and this in turn disturbs the digestion. After that there is no telling what form the trouble may take. With irritable nerves and poor digestion, a woman is on the straight road to the grave. Women are notoriously negligent in matters pertaining to their health. Too many of them understand too little about their own physical make-up. They do not understand their possibilities or their limitations, and they do not know enough about themselves to know when a symptom is really serious and when it is not. This naturally makes them overlook the plainest of danger signals. The start of everything is simple. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse, it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relied upon. It affords immediate and lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting physicians.

The whole story of the "Favorite Prescription," and what it has done for thousands of women is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This is a 108 page book, profusely illustrated, written in plain language for the use of every-day people, and gives in a clear and lucid way an immense amount of valuable information about health and medicine. It will be sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

THEY PLAYED FAST BALL.

The Houghton Boys Turn the Tables on the Sawmill Nine—12 to 4. Fully five hundred people gathered at the Mining School park Sunday and saw the Houghton boys defeat the Baragas by the score of 12 to 4. Dr. James Berryman was in the box for the Nestorites, but the Houghton boys refused to be lulled by his seductive opiates and batted out fifteen hits for a total of twenty-two bases. They scored in every inning but one, the fourth. Driscoll occupied the box for Houghton and only five scattering hits were made off of his delivery, which in a measure tells the tale. Mutter's backstop work was of the gilt-edge order, nothing getting away from his clutches, while his throwing was excellent. The fielding of both teams was at times brilliant, but the particular star play of the game goes to Robillard, Baraga's center-fielder, when in the third inning he robbed Driscoll of a two-base hit by a magnificent one-handed catch of his long fly after a hard run. The catch set the audience wild with applause, which continued for some time.

First inning—Play opened with Cooney facing the music. He reached first on a fumble. Shepard and Dorsey flew out to Roulo, and Robillard closed the inning, going out at first. Baraga, O. For Houghton Brand flew out, Healy and Meads singled and scored on Mutter's beautiful drive to center. Roulo struck out and Mutter was caught at 3rd plate. Houghton 2. Second inning—Guillette's hit was too hot for Healy, and he secured first. St. Arnold flew out to Haas. Berryman's hit forced Guillette at second and Mutter took care of Curley's foul tip. Baraga, O. For the home team, Driscoll singled. Haas was put out at second in attempting to stretch a single. Wittie's two-bagger scored Driscoll. Guillette struck out. Brand flew out to Shepard. Houghton's score, 3. Third inning—Nugent out. Brand to Wittie took care of Shepard's pop-up. Baraga, still O. Healy struck out, according to the umpire. Meads reached first, scored second and third and scored on Mutter's sacrifice. Here Robillard scored a double play by his wonderful catch of Driscoll's terrific drive. Houghton's score, 4. Fourth inning—Dorsey and Robillard flew out to Meads. Guillette followed with the first safe hit for his side, but died at first. St. Arnold being an easy out. Mutter cinked the game here, when after Mutter flew out, singles by Roulo, Driscoll, Haas, Brand and two-baggers by Guillette and Wittie secured five runs. Meads and Healy flew out. Houghton, 9.

Sixth inning—Baraga broke the ice in this inning. Cooney took first on being hit by a pitched ball. Shepard hit safe. Dorsey sacrificed and Cooney scored on a short ball past the pitcher. Roulo took Robillard's long fly, making a magnificent return to the plate, catching Shepard. Baraga, 1. Singles by Meads, Roulo and Driscoll secured a run for Houghton, Mutter, Haas and Wittie were easy outs, making Houghton's score, 10. Seventh inning—Guillette reached first on Brand's fumble of his difficult grounder, second on St. Arnold's safe drive and came home on a wild throw. St. Arnold scored on the play through the courtesy of the umpire. He was so clearly out at the plate that the home boys had to be coaxed to continue the game. During the excitement and wrangle Berryman attempted to steal base No. 2 but was put out. Curley and Nugent closed the inning with easy outs. Baraga, 3. Charlie Croze received a warm reception when he went to the plate to run for Guillette, making the circuit on his single. Healy's sacrifice and Mead's screeching two-bagger. Brand and Mutter flew out to Robillard and Guillette. Eighth inning—Cooney opened with a corking double, scoring on Dorsey's single. Shepard fouled out and Haas captured Guillette's difficult fly and made a double play to first. Baraga, 4. After Roulo and Driscoll flew out Haas hit safe, took second on a passed ball and scored on Wittie's single. Guillette closed the inning after fanning the air. Houghton, 12.

It would be a touch of sarcasm to say the Baragas came up smiling in the last round. They didn't. The side went out in one, two, three order and the home boys departed from the grounds with another well-earned scalp tucked beneath their belts.

NOTES OF THE GAME. Hill and Russell umpired the game. About forty Baraga admirers came up on the tug Colton to witness the game. Ireland and Germany united can't be beaten. For instance, the Houghton battery. Manager Ruhl is justly elated over the team's victory and feels it has struck a winning gait. Ed Hoeking's oratorical work on the coach lines would be a credit to Arlie Latham of league fame.

SEE'S COMING TO HOUGHTON.

Excursion on the Whaleback Columbus in Store for Copperdom People. Mr. A. J. Otterson, agent for the Union line, is in the receipt of a communication from Captain Robt. Smith of Chicago in which he states that the whaleback Christopher Columbus, now at West Superior, will stop at Houghton and Marquette, giving excursions at each place, before proceeding to Chicago. The excursion from Houghton will probably be on Sunday, June 14, to Isle Royale. The Columbus is one of the largest and fastest boats on the lakes. No less than five thousand people were aboard on her trial trip from Duluth and Superior in May, 1893. Her record from Duluth to the Soo is twenty-two hours and her time from Chicago to Milwaukee, between which ports she will run this summer, has yet to be equalled.

Merry Wedding Bells. Mr. Eustace LaPage of Houghton and Miss Matilda Sullivan of Hancock were married yesterday morning at St. Patrick's church, Father Atfield officiating. The happy couple left for Chicago on a wedding tour. They will reside in Houghton on their return.

PROHIBITORY BOND BILL.

The Senate Occupies Most the Session to Its Consideration.

FINAL VOTE BEFORE ADJOURNMENT TODAY.

Morgan Gives Notice of a Tariff Speech—Will Spring It Today—Nicaragua Canal Bill Presented in Both Houses.

WORK OF NATION'S SOLONS.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The final vote on the Butler bill to prohibit the issue of bonds will be taken in the senate tomorrow. No exact time for the vote was fixed, the agreement being that it be taken before adjournment. Most of the session today was given to debate on the bill. Callom speaking against it as a step towards repudiation and Brown (Utah) in favor of the bill or of the resolution offered by him declaring that bonds under any future issue would be illegal and void. Stewart (Nev.) also spoke in support of the bill.

Morrill, chairman of the finance committee, gave notice of a tariff speech tomorrow. In introducing the bill for building the Nicaragua canal Mr. Morgan said it would be most appropriate for the senate to pass the canal bill of last year. Final action could not be expected at this session, but in connection with the favorable action of the house it would give satisfaction to the country.

A brief but breezy controversy arose over a resolution offered by Hansborough (Rep., N. D.), chairman of the library committee, appropriating $6,000 for completing the frieze in the rotunda of the Capitol. After some argument Wilson objected to the adoption of the resolution and it went over.

Sherman's request for a vote at 4 p. m. today on the filled cheese bill was objected to by Harris (Dem. Tenn.). The partial conference report on the Indian bill, which has been contested three days was further debated. Vilas declared the provision as to Indian citizenship was a little short of legislative outrage. No action was taken.

The final conference report on the fortifications bill was agreed to and also a partial report on the sundry civil bill. Allison explained that the items still in disagreement were those covering public buildings, arid lands, survey of public lands, participation in the Brussels exposition and District of Columbia charity schools.

A partial conference report on the postoffice bill was approved. Senator Allison stated the item as to consolidation of postoffices was still open. After an executive session the senate recessed until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

DOINGS IN THE HOUSE.

This was "suspension" day in the house and a number of minor bills were passed under suspension of the rules. The Johnson-Stokes election contest, from the Seventh district of South Carolina, was settled by the adoption of a substitute for the committee reports which declared there was no election and the seat was vacant. The bill for validating certain territorial bonds of New Mexico was passed, with the senate amendments, but will have to be again acted upon by the senate because of a parliamentary error. The Phillips bill for an industrial commission and the bill for funding all the obligations of Arizona was also passed.

Favorable Report on Nicaragua Canal Bill Submitted to House.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The report of the majority house committee on commerce in favor of the Nicaragua canal, signed by nine members, was submitted to the house today. It deals with the canal project from financial and engineering standpoints and particularly analyzes the report of the government board, of which Mr. Ludlow was chairman. The report impeaches the commission's estimates of the unit prices of the work on the canal by exhaustive quotations from the statements of the engineers and in conclusion the report says the board of engineers have stated they believed the canal entirely feasible but differ with the engineers of the company as to the probable cost of the work. The advantages of the canal are so great, the report says, that the canal should be built by government assistance to the company even if it costs over $150,000,000.

Question of Asking Outside Aid Against the St. Louis Relief Committee.

Loss of Life at East St. Louis Assumes Far Less Serious Proportions. Previous List of Killed Cut in Two.

SHARP DISAGREEMENT ARISES. ST. LOUIS, June 1.—The receipts of today's races at the fair grounds, amounting to $1,400, were donated to the storm sufferers. A sharp disagreement has arisen among the different members of the relief committee. Many desire to ask outside assistance, while others oppose it. At the meeting of the executive committee of the relief committee held today much time was given over to the discussion of the misunderstanding that has gone abroad concerning the attitude of the committee on the subject of outside relief.

They will endeavor to show the gentlemen who called the meeting for tomorrow that at no time has any outside assistance been refused when it was offered, but they will strenuously oppose the issuance of an appeal from this city to the outside world for help. From the consensus of opinion of members of the executive committee it is the impression of the men and women who have the work of relief in charge that St. Louis is perfectly justified in accepting every kind offer of assistance. There are a number who believe an appeal should be made to outside for help. This is based largely on the assumption that a full realization of the enormity of the calamity that has overtaken the city has not yet come to the people. It is estimated that over fifteen hundred persons were provided with relief committee with food and clothing during the day.

Both houses of the municipal assembly of St. Louis tonight adopted resolutions asking outside aid for the cyclone sufferers. It will be seen by this resolution that the house delegates are not in accord with the position taken by the mayor in declaring that outside aid is not needed. At the next meeting an ordinance appropriating $100,000 from the city treasury for the benefit of the sufferers will be introduced.

The loss of life at East St. Louis has assumed far less serious proportions. Instead of being nearly two hundred, as is claimed by many, the list of dead numbers one hundred identified with two, a man and woman, unknown. In addition to this one man is missing, and eight so seriously injured they will probably die.

The known list of dead today in St. Louis foots up 141. Besides this, it is known thirteen others had been killed in the storm. None of these bodies have been recovered.

It is now known the fears of great loss of life at the city hospital were unfounded. Today every person in the building in any capacity has been accounted for. Only one patient was killed.

JAS. G. BLAINE'S REMAINS. Mrs. Blaine Decides to Have Them Reinterred at Augusta, Me.

AUGUSTA, Me., June 1.—The body of the late Hon. James G. Blaine will be taken from Oak Hill cemetery, Washington, and be brought to this city. Mrs. Blaine has decided to have both the body of her husband and that of her son Walker buried on Burt Hill here, and the removal will occur this month. Mrs. Blaine purchased three acres on front of the hill for the purpose. If Colonel Coppinger is willing the remains of his wife, a daughter of Mrs. Blaine, will also be brought here.

A Murder at Lebanon. INDIANAPOLIS, June 1.—Lebanon was today the scene of another tragedy. William W. Reilly was shot and instantly killed by Thos. F. Allen. The trouble was over the marriage of a son of Allen to a daughter of Reilly.

Turks Burn Two Villages. ATHENS, June 1.—The Turks, after leaving Vamou, Island of Crete, burned and sacked the villages of Duliana and Tavira. The insurgents have retired to the mountains and proclaimed a union of Crete with Greece.

BRONCHO BOB WAS SUSPECTED.

He Had Been Too Long Among Civilized People to Inspire Confidence.

A sojourn of over a month in the east had made Broncho Bob no less an object of suspicion among his old companions than he had been a lion during his visit. But a place was made for him at the card table, where the usual game of draw poker was in progress.

"Gimme a stack o' red chips," he said, carelessly. He was accommodated and the game proceeded in silence.

"I don't see ez he talks no different," said Pluto Pete, in a whisper to the man next to him.

"Jist wait," said Three-Fingered Sam. "I'll come out sooner or later. He'll be takin' ginger ale on the side er sayin' 'yether' jis' ter show off. An' ez soon ez he begins ter sling any sercety around 'ere thur's goin' ter be trouble a'forek'."

"Some red liquor," replied Broncho Bob, when his turn to speak came. As they drew cards Three-Fingered Sam muttered:

"Wants nothin' but red chips an' calls fer red liquor. Seems ter me some-body's gettin' purty blamed hectic around 'ere."

Broncho Bob bet the limit, and when all the others had signified their intention to stay out Pluto Pete shoved in the requisite number of chips and queried:

"Whutcher mean?" "Whutcher mean?" asked Broncho Bob.

"Whut I mean is that ez ye're tryin' ter ring in a pink tee unbeknownst we're dead enter ye an' we won't stand it."—Detroit Free Press.

Pickled Tea. Pickled tea is used in Burma as a sort of sauerkraut. The young leaves are boiled, poured into pits about six feet deep, lined with plantain leaves, and covered with earth, and are kept there for months. They are then used either to make tea or are eaten after being soaked in oil with garlic or dried fish.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Taking Their Exams. WEST POINT, N. Y., June 1.—The annual June examinations of the four classes of cadets were begun today. The examinations were in engineering, mathematics and French.

EXILED BY A TREAT.

A Man Who Slays Another in Self-Defense Becomes a Wanderer.

"There are some men of such unrelenting purpose that when they once register a vow to do a certain thing no human agency can cause them to alter their resolution," said George Rice, of Arkansas.

"Here is a little story taken from life, every incident of which came under my own observation. The facts are truly stated, as can be easily verified.

"About ten years ago, in a little southern town, two friends of mine, a young man and a man of middle age, had a difficulty, and the former fell dead, pierced through the heart with a bullet from a revolver.

"The blame all rested with the deceased. He came of a highly respectable family, but had fallen into convivial habits, and when drinking was very ugly. Time and again he had made threats against the man who killed him. Friends of the latter told him of the threats, and begged him to avoid a meeting, which he did whenever possible.

At last it came to a question of killing or getting killed, and he obeyed nature's first law.

"A jury would have cleared him beyond all doubt if the case had ever come to trial, but it never did. Instead, he forfeited his bond of $8,000, and the cash was paid over by my hands. The man who did the killing left for parts unknown and has never returned.

"Why did he not stand trial? Simply because the father of the deceased solemnly declared in the presence of all his townsmen that if John—was acquitted of slaying his son he would become the boy's avenger. He would kill his son's slayer.

The old man was never known to break his word. His courage was of that desperate kind that feared nothing. Nobody doubted that he would do just what he said, so I advised John—to clear out, and, as there had been enough killing, he went.

"Ten years have gone by, and the old father has never relented. He stands ready to-day to make good his oath. Argument and persuasion are useless, and a good man is forced into banishment as long as the other lives."—Washington Star.

The speed of a railway train in miles per hour can, it is claimed, be found by counting the number of rails over which a car wheel passes in 20.3 seconds, because 20.3 seconds bears the same ratio to an hour that 30 feet, the length of a rail, bears to a mile. The fish plates or the bumps may be counted. Thus, supposing that 39 bumps are made by a wheel in 20.3 seconds, the train is then running at the rate of 89 miles an hour.

A Cure for Hiccough. It is stated that even in rebellious cases, hiccough may be cured by strongly pushing the tongue out of the mouth and holding it so for a few moments. If this be so, the simple and easy treatment might be indicated in whooping cough and choking from irritable gasses.—Atlanta Constitution.

More Births Than Deaths.

The enumerators have just finished taking for the controller the census of births and deaths for the calendar year 1895. The results of their labors show that in that period there were 252 births and 186 deaths, making the natural increase of the population for the year 66. Two weeks were consumed in taking the census.

This year, as every year, the trouble found by the enumerators in collecting the statistics is a strong argument in favor of having physicians report all births as well as deaths which they attend professionally. If this was done the city would be saved the expense of an annual canvass, and the records would probably be more accurate than they are now. Among the ignorant part of the population, an enumerator says, there are people who are actually unable to state whether there has been a birth or death in the family within the year, as they keep no track of the date of these events.

MIDLAKE AND HARBOR GOSSIP.

The harbor is assuming more life again. There were half a dozen ore boats in yesterday and a schooner or so. Port list—Arrivals: J. H. Wade, B. Whittaker, S. V. B. Watson, Saveland, Siberia, Andaste. Cleared: B. Whittaker, S. V. B. Watson, and Saveland for Detroit; J. H. Wade and Andaste for Cleveland.

The whaleback steamer Colby cleared Saturday from Norfolk, Va., for Duluth, with the barge 110. They will be joined by the tug Storm King, with barges 201 and 202, at New York. They will be cut in two and brought to the lakes in this manner, arriving there about June 30. These are the last whalebacks on the Atlantic.

Notices of the following changes of lights and buoys have been received at the Customs office: After June 4th the color of each of the Pilot Island range lights on the south side of Mud Lake, St. Mary's river, will be changed from red to white. After June 1st a gas buoy painted black and showing a fixed white light, will be substituted for the present low-water buoy No. 1 located twenty feet southeasterly from the S. E. bank of the straight channel from Lake Erie into Maumee Bay.

Arrangements were made here yesterday for the famous whaleback passenger steamer, Christopher Columbus, to stop in here a week from the coming Saturday and give two excursions. The boat is on her way from Duluth to lower Lake Michigan, where she will run between Chicago and Milwaukee. The Christopher Columbus was originally built for the World's Fair excursion trade and ran all the summer of 1893 between the city and the fair grounds. She is a speedy boat and handsomely fitted up.

CITY BREVITIES.

Weather forecast: Fair tonight and Tuesday; variable winds. Yesterday's temperature: 7 a. m., 50 degrees; 12 m., 56 degrees; 7 p. m., 58 degrees; maximum, 61 degrees; minimum, 47 degrees.

Tuesday is Building & Loan day. The Widjiwa club meets this evening. Mrs. Nick Barth is making an addition to her house at Arch and Spruce streets.

Employees of the city will be glad-tended today by the regular monthly disbursement. John Brown, a vagrant, was taken before Justice Cray yesterday morning and given hours to leave town.

The Morse Hose company has made arrangements for a grand ball to be given Friday evening, July 3rd. S. S. McDuffy, superintendent of the American Express company, was in the city yesterday looking after business.

PARK AND CEMETERY COMMISSION.

Office of the Park and Cemetery Commission of the City of Marquette. MARQUETTE, Mich., May 30, 1896. Pursuant to the call of the president the Park and Cemetery Commission met at its office in the City Hall at 3 o'clock p. m. Present: Peter White, John H. Jacobs, Leander C. Palmer and William Burt. The meeting was called to order by the president.

An official notice received from the city recorder was then read, notifying the commission of the re-appointment of Mr. William Burt as a member of said commission for three years, and Mr. Burt having qualified as such member the board proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year.

On motion of Mr. Burt, seconded by Mr. Palmer, Mr. Peter White was unanimously elected president of the board.

On motion of Mr. Palmer, seconded by Mr. Jacobs, Mr. William Burt was unanimously elected secretary of the board.

On motion of Mr. Burt, seconded by Mr. Palmer, Mr. Peter White was unanimously elected superintendent and general manager of the board.

The minutes of the last meeting were then read and on motion were approved. The secretary presented the following applications for park policemen, viz: Soren Nelson, C. T. Fairbanks, L. D. Bibeau, John D. Davis, James Pratt, Edwin Larsen and C. Lundstrom, all of which, on motion, were placed on file.

The secretary reported that in accordance with instructions of the board at its last meeting he made application to the city council under Section 32 of Chapter 10 of the city charter for authority for the commission to employ one policeman for the park for such time as the commission may deem desirable, and that under date of May 4 he received an official communication from the city recorder notifying this commission that the petition had been granted. After some discussion it was decided that it would not be necessary to employ a policeman at this time, and on motion of Mr. Palmer police powers were conferred on Robert Hume, in charge of the work at the park, in addition to his other duties, and the secretary directed to notify him to qualify as such.

The following bills properly verified were then presented and on motion of Mr. Jacobs were approved and allowed and the secretary instructed to draw orders on the city treasurer in payment, viz: Manhard-Jopling Co., tools, etc., $19 20 Mining Journal Co., printing meetings, 5 60 May pay roll, labor cemetery, 100 00 May pay roll, labor Presque Isle Park, 589 00

There not being sufficient funds on hand to pay the entire of above bills, on motion of Mr. Burt the president was authorized to borrow for the commission if necessary the sum of $500.00 for thirty days at not more than 6 per cent. interest.

The president presented proposition from Messrs. Olmsted, Olmsted & Elliot, landscape gardeners of Brookline, Mass. After the same was read by the clerk and discussed by the board on motion of Mr. Palmer the same was placed on file for future consideration.

The board then proceeded to the matter of estimate of funds required for the current year, as required by Sec. 32 of chapter 10 of the city charter to be presented to the city council, and the following estimates were unanimously agreed on, viz: For building fence enclosing cemetery grounds not heretofore enclosed, $500 00 For Presque Isle park improvement and for widening streets and avenues, 3,500 00 For care of cemetery and labor, 1,500 00 For incidental expenses, 500 00

The probable revenue from the sale of lots and work done in cemetery will be about, 500 00

And on motion the secretary was instructed to prepare and present to the city council proper application asking for an appropriation of $5,500 for current year, and setting forth in said application a statement of money appropriated by the council and expended the past year and giving a synopsis of the work contemplated and also submitting copies of the communications from Olmsted, Olmsted & Elliot, and further urging the necessity of the improvement of the road from the city to the park.

There being no further business before the board, on motion of Mr. Palmer the meeting adjourned.

WILLIAM BURT, Secretary.

Mr. James Perdue, an old soldier residing at Monroe, Mich., was severely afflicted with rheumatism but received prompt relief from pain by using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says: "At times my back would ache so badly that I could hardly raise up. If I had not gotten relief I would not be here to write these few lines. Why is there so much demand for Vandenberg's fresh milk and Jersey creamery butter than for any other? Simply because the people of Marquette know a good article when they see it and lose no time in taking advantage of an opportunity to secure the best possible articles for their money.

PLEDGE THEIR BODIES.

An Uncanny Society Known as the Autopsy Club.

Its Members Agree That When They Die Their Remains Shall Be Given Over to the Cause of Science.

There is in Paris a large, carefully-organized society of scientists—with several women members—which has a ghastly and horrible purpose. Each member has solemnly pledged himself that when he dies his body, instead of having ceremonious burial, shall be delivered to his surviving associates, who shall dissect it, and that his brain likewise shall be studied and probed for its secrets, and finally immersed in alcohol, it shall be ranged in a glass beside the skull which held it, along with other brains and skulls of those that have gone before.

The name of this strange organization is the Mutual Autopsy society (La Societe d'Autopsie Mutuelle). It is composed of about 100 living members, and the dead, whose skulls and brains are neatly catalogued in a glass case at one end of the meeting-room, number 14. Within a few days the 15th ghastly relic will have its place there.

This 15th was in life the property of M. Abel Hovelacque, director of the Anthropological society, who died a short time ago. It now rests, immersed in alcohol, on the table of the dissecting room, where soon will gather the man's former comrades to weigh and cut and probe and discuss it, and try to pierce the mystery which it holds.

The Mutual Autopsy society was organized in 1876, when several professors and savants of the Anthropological society decided to offer themselves as examples in making a sacrifice to science. "Why," they asked one another, "should we render immediately to earth the deserted mortal tenement, the study of which offers so vast and interesting possibilities for the advancement of science?"

Another doctrine of the society is that it would be infinitely better for families, when an adult member died, if he should be made the subject of careful scientific study. In this way the children of relatives of the deceased might be warned of and taught how to guard against hereditary maladies which might menace them.

It was this double point of view—scientific and humanitarian—that brought about the organization of the Mutual Autopsy society. The constitution of the society is carefully drawn and each member is obliged to sign the following pledge:

"I, the undersigned, desire and wish that after my death an autopsy of my body be held under the auspices of the Societe d'Autopsie, duly authorized, and also under those as well of the Society for the Advancement of Anthropological Science, both legally recognized to be of public utility.

"Therefore, for the purpose of being useful to science, I bequeath to the laboratory of the aforesaid association my brain and any other part of my body, or my entire body, if that be judged useful in the course of the autopsy."

Not long ago one of the societaries resolved to commit suicide, and wrote to the president of the association to that effect. But at the last moment a terrible doubt passed through his mind as he asked himself if his wife would be likely, after all, to consent to his autopsy.

He therefore drew up his last will and testament, which stipulated that his fortune should go to the city of Paris in case his wife should strive to prevent the disposition of his body as he wished. Then he killed himself.

After his death the Mutual Autopsy society claimed his remains and had possession of them for a short time. Then the wife, by legal proceedings, secured possession of what was left of her husband's body and had it decently interred in the provinces. The city of Paris thereupon laid claim to the estate, and the Societe d'Autopsie sued for the recovery of the suicide's brain. Both cases are still in the Paris courts.

One member of the society is quoted as saying that the thought that his brain would be taken out of its box by such eminent scientists as his confederates had robbed death of its bitterness, and that he now regarded his ultimate end with a sort of melancholy pleasure.—N. Y. Journal.

Boer Idea of the Gift of Tongues.

The Boers have their own ideas as to the origin of the English language. They say that when Dame Nature was employed in giving tongues to the various nations she stood at a large table on which lay a piece of meat.

She cut the tongue out of the meat, and with the scissors she gave to each tongue its peculiarities. To her came all the nations, "de Fransman," "de Duitcher," and even "de Boesman" were provided for, but "de Engelsman" was not there. He had turned into a canteen on the roadside, it seems, for a drink, and when he arrived the meat was done. "Never mind," said Dame Nature, "there are plenty of snips on the floor—take half a dozen of these, join them together, and make a tongue for yourself."—Westminster Gazette.

Thousands of Hens on One Ranch. Some hopeful speculators who have been counting unatched chickens are about to start a poultry ranch near San Francisco which is to be the largest in the world.

It is to reach its full capacity in three years, when it is to put on the market annually 2,000,000 eggs and 90,000 chickens for broiling. The plant will include two incubators, with a capacity of 2,000 eggs each, and no end of houses and pens, which will be contained in a 40-acre ranch. There will be 500 hens laying for the incubators and 20,000 laying for the market.—Chicago Chronicle.

John M. Thomas, of the Thomas Furnace company, concluded a few days' visit here yesterday. He looked over several of the mining properties here and at Ishpeming while in this section.

Frederick Topentorph of California, who is here on a visit, left yesterday for Ashland, where he will spend a few days with Egnot Miller, formerly of Negaunee. He will return to this city and remain a week or more, after which he will visit the other mining ranges of the Lake Superior district.

WANTED TO JOIN THE ARMY. But It Was the Spirit of Bad Whisky That Moved Him.

While under the influence of too much budge Sunday Joseph Perrow concluded he would like to join the Salvation Army. He went out on the street where the religious meeting was being held and insisted on disturbing the proceedings. He said he wanted to become a member of the Army and stepped into the ring to give his testimony.

He Was Lost. John S. Mitchell was lost in the woods near the Escanaba river for several hours Saturday. A party of sixteen men was organized Sunday to search for him.

WHALES FIGHT A SEA SERPENT.

The Big Sea Monster Cracks the Ribs of Whales Like Egg Shells. According to good authority, a most thrilling and awful battle between a monster sea serpent and a whale was witnessed by the officers and crew of the ship Pauline of London, Capt. Drevlar, when on a recent voyage to Zanzibar.

It appears that when the Pauline approached the zone of the trade winds and equatorial currents she encountered a heavy gale and, being driven from her course, eventually found herself off Cape St. Roque.

Suddenly there appeared, straight from the depths of the ocean, a gigantic snake or serpent of terrible proportions. The day was clear and the uncanny monster was in plain view.

Spellbound the men gazed and noticed that at first appearance of the serpent the whales manifested every sign of blind terror. All but the victim in the relentless coils tore through the water in a mad rush to escape.

Tighter and tighter grew the relentless coils, horrible howlings were emitted by the whale, but its efforts were of no avail against the supernatural strength of its terrible foe.

An old sea captain is the authority for a statement regarding a sea serpent that made its home in the South Pacific ocean. On one occasion in 1858 he visited a small island and noticed that the tops of some of the cocoanut trees growing near the sea were broken.

The natives stated that an immense snake of terrifying aspect had appeared from the sea and had eaten all the cocoanuts on several trees. While the greater portion of the serpent was in the water the animal raised its head to a level with the tree tops and fiercely devoured a number of green nuts.

The discovery of the sea serpent seems to belong to the Norsemen. Their literature abounds in graphic accounts of monsters of the deep. A favorite diversion of the Norsemen's seafaring was destroying ships and sinking off the crews, and in those ancient days the Norse sailors were instructed as to the best methods of destroying the voracious monsters.—San Francisco Examiner.

A WHISTLING LARYNX. The Unique Case of a Young Lady in Connecticut.

Dr. Carl E. Munger, of Waterbury, contributes the following article to the Record:

Miss Florence W., aged 19, with a larynx perfectly normal in appearance and function, can whistle at any time without the use of her lips, tongue, pharynx, soft or hard palate, or cheeks.

The day came and the champion called: "Bring on your animals." The man who had bet against the king of the camp brought his antagonist in a large sack, which had been deposited behind the stove in the saloon where the match had been entered into.

WHIPPING HIS WEIGHT. The Champion Logger Overestimated His Fistic Ability to His Sorrow.

In the logging camps of Michigan might makes right and the man who has whipped all comers in fair fights is king of his camp.

One of these, said a logger, was very boastful of his exploits. He had been the victor in a dozen fights and no one dared to enter the lists with him, but every man in the camp hated the champion. Going into a saloon one day he announced: "I'm tired of these babies in camp. I ain't had a good fight in Michigan. I can whip my weight in dogs, wildcats or anything that breathes for $100."

A MEK-LOOKING MON TOOK THE BET AND ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FIGHT WERE MADE. It was to take place in a closed room one week from the time the bet was made.

MISS FLORENCE W., AGED 19, WITH A LARYNX PERFECTLY NORMAL IN APPEARANCE AND FUNCTION, CAN WHISTLE AT ANY TIME WITHOUT THE USE OF HER LIPS, TONGUE, PHARYNX, SOFT OR HARD PALATE, OR CHEEKS.

THE ORDINARY DEFINITION OF "TO WHISTLE" IS "TO UTTER A KIND OF MUSICAL SOUND BY FORCING THE BREATH THROUGH A SMALL ORIFICE FORMED BY CONTRACTING THE LIPS." IT MUST THEN BE ADDED THAT "TO WHISTLE" IS AS ABOVE, BUT WITH THIS ADDITION, "OR MAKE A MUSICAL SOUND BY FORCING THE BREATH THROUGH A SMALL ORIFICE LEFT BY THE PARTIAL APPROXIMATION OF THE VOCAL CHORDS, THE ONLY OTHER ANATOMICAL AIDS BEING THE VENTRICULAR HANDS."

THE OBJECTION THAT THIS IS NOT A WHISTLE CANNOT HOLD, AS A PROFICIENT SINGING MASTER HAS ASSURED ME THAT THE SOUND IS PURELY A WHISTLE, AND NOT A SINGING OR SPEAKING NOTE. THIS IS THEN A UNIQUE CASE OF THE PRODUCTION OF THE WHISTLE IN THE LARYNX UNAIDED BY THE LIPS, TONGUE, CHEEKS OR PALATE.—Medical Record.

EXCITEMENT IN COUNCIL.

Airing the Affairs of the Electric Board Creates a Bad Smell.

ALDERMEN FREELY CRITICISE BOTH BOARD AND MAYOR.

Tobin Suggests That the Whole Batch Be Asked to Resign, So That His Honor Can Appoint a New Lot.

RED HOT SESSION.

Mayor Jacobs caught it from all sides last night at the council meeting, and at times he found it necessary to make a vigorous defense of himself.

The trouble was over the break in the Dead River dam, and the work of his incompetent and obstinate board. Tobin told the mayor and aldermen that he thought the best thing the mayor could do was to ask the board to resign, one and all, and allow him to appoint a board that was internally harmonious. This sentiment also found an advocate in Desjardins.

The subject was opened up when the mayor was obliged to announce to the council that H. J. Payne, his last appointee to the board, had refused to qualify for office, because the board would not listen to any of Mr. Payne's suggestions, and that the latter gentleman refused to put in jeopardy his reputation as an engineer by remaining a member of the body and seeming to sanction the work that was being done by it. Mr. Payne, according to his honor, said he didn't feel that he was called upon as a citizen to do this.

The mayor said that he (Jacobs) had been opposed to much of the work that had been done there, and that he had often gone on record as casting the single negative vote, but that his suggestions had not been heeded or that they had not been followed after they seemed to be heeded. He had appointed Mr. Payne to the position to help him stem the tide against the board. The mayor deprecated the fact that though he had had some experience in building dams in the same stream and might be naturally supposed to have some judgment in such matters, his board had not seen fit to make use of his skill and suggestions. The chief executive having unbottled himself temporarily, Dr. Desjardins got up. He wanted all expenditures stopped at once unless there was some warrant that the money was really being spent to the good of the city, and he favored having the aldermen visit the place in a body (also in a carriage at city expense) before voting on any more appropriations.

Alderman Clark got up when his colleague had sat down, and said he didn't see what good it was going to do to have all the doctors or all the lawyers in the state go out there, and that he didn't think the additional wisdom so gathered would be worth the carriage hire. What he favored was to send experts out to look the work over, tell the council what should be done, then have the council vote money and hire the proper people to build it. He stood with the aldermen from the Fourth, though, in opposing the expenditure of more money without warrant of the results.

The mayor got in again here, and told how he had stood by the board and backed it up in every way that he could. He stood by it, he said, till it had become absolutely necessary to make a change in its methods of operation.

Alderman Blanchard made the first real attack on his honor. "I've got a few words to say to the mayor," he announced, rising to his feet. "You were on that board; you were chairman. Now was it proper for one in your position, and with your large experience to sit on that board and not protest against the squandering of city money? And was it right after this for you to come here and criticize that board, your appointees, with none of them present?"

Blanchard's roast, and especially his sarcastic reference to the mayor's wide experience appeared to cut Mr. Jacobs. He was visibly hurt by the thrust. As a defense he repeated how he had often stood alone in the board against unwise expenditures, how his suggestions had been ignored. He even told the chairman, he said, of a hole under the dam's foundation, which if not fixed would endanger the safety of the structure.

"This hole was not repaired. The dam gave way, and now as you may think, I have a few things to say. The trouble has been in the board's economy. It was not the kind of a dam they built. We don't need a stone wall and we don't need steel flumes. The board tried to do too big a job with too little money. It was afraid of the council."

Here's where Alderman Tobin exploded his bombshell. After reviewing some of the board's early actions he said:

"It appears to me very evident from the things we have heard here tonight that there is a lack of harmony among the members, and a lack of harmony between the mayor and the board. And I think the best thing that you can do," he continued addressing the chair, "is to ask every one of them to resign, and let you appoint a new board that can agree."

"That's the stuff!" came from an alderman near the door. Dr. Desjardins rose to the floor again and criticized the mayor for not standing more firmly against their unreasonable expenditures of money, and said that if he could not do this he should have asked their resignations and appealed to the council to back him up.

The mayor was flushed and hurt when he stood up at his desk to reply. "I don't like such talk as that. What has been suggested would look bad for the mayor, look bad for the council, and look bad for the board."

Looking in the direction of Tobin he said: "I wish you would withdraw that suggestion."

"I have nothing to withdraw," retorted Mr. Tobin vehemently. "There is no harmony among the board members, and unless they can have harmony they had better resign. I have the utmost confidence in the men on that board as business men, but they have shown that they don't know a thing about building dams."

How much longer the wrangle would continue there is no telling. It didn't appear to be coming any nearer a head after an hour's discussion, and a motion to adjourn was hailed with rejoicing.

Several things of general interest were brought up in the first part of the meeting.

A $500 appropriation asked for by the Fourth of July committee to spend in making the eagle scream was practically lost. A motion to grant the sum asked for was offered by Vandenberg, but it met strenuous opposition and was laid on the table with only two votes for it.

The park commission came before the council with its estimates of expenditures for the ensuing year, and a report of the finances since the present commission has been handling the pleasure grounds. The commissioners wish to spend $5,500 during the coming year. The report and estimate was referred to the financial committee to be reported on at the next meeting.

The bicycle ordinance, prohibiting the riding of wheels on the sidewalks by all parties of the age of ten and up went through many vicissitudes of discussion, and was finally referred to the committee on ordinances to be patched up in the interests of all parties concerned in the use of the wheels. This was not done, however, before Desjardins had succeeded in getting the ten year old clause knocked out of it. When the ordinance comes back it will probably permit a limited amount of riding on the sidewalks, under proper restrictions, in the residence districts.

Alderman Clark introduced an ordinance prohibiting children and others from jumping on and off moving electric cars, on a penalty varying from $1 to $25. This was referred to the ordinance committee.

In the place of H. J. Payne, who resigned from the electric light board, the mayor appointed James Russell. The council confirmed the nomination.

Says 'Tisn't So.

Several days ago THE MINING JOURNAL had an account of the domestic troubles of the Graff family, and the fruitless effort Mrs. Graff made to secure a warrant for the arrest of her husband, whom she charged with having maltreated her. In the article Mr. Graff was described as being a quarrelsome person, and it was even stated that he was accustomed to make the wife of his buzzum feel the weight of his hand with a frequency and heartiness that she despised.

And now comes Mr. Graff and says, with his hand of Webster's unabridged (on which the reporter swore him in lieu of a bible), that Mrs. Graff's story is a product of a wild and woolly imagination; that his name is not Louis Graff, but John Ernst Getter; that he is an honest workman and a hater of drink and the brawls to which drinking leads, and a good and loving husband withal. He looks the part well, too, and THE MINING JOURNAL is inclined to believe that in his case, as in that of Father Adam, of venerated memory, "the woman was to blame."

If Mrs. Graff comes around today, as she probably will, the public will be given her side of the case. The paper will not spare space in the effort to set the true condition of affairs in this interesting family fully before its readers.

Nester Is Elected.

Munising has a mayor that it can be proud of in the person of Timothy Nester, the founder of the village.

Ex-Dishwasher Brewster was snowed under so deep that he will never be dug out till the fires of the great hereafter melt the drift which buried him. This means that Munising will be a thriving respectable village, and not a tough town that his forces sought to make it.

Practically everybody who was entitled to a suffrage cast a ballot at the town's first election. Friends of both candidates worked incessantly from the opening of the polls till the closing. Nester was elected by a big majority, Brewster getting only 34 votes. The news which reached Marquette last night is very meager, but it is reported that the entire Nester ticket was elected, though the majorities are smaller than the head of the ticket.

No Kickers Yet.

Monday was the first day of the board of review's annual week session. The time of the members was spent in going over the rolls and comparing them with last year's. The kicker's sessions have not yet begun and will not until the members of the board have had time to examine every assessment for themselves. During the day a number of parties called at the city hall, but none of them were permitted to examine the rolls.

Those desiring fresh milk, sweet cream or fresh home laid eggs can get them of Mr. Harris, the dairyman. Mr. Harris has been doing such a thriving business that he has had to purchase some new Jersey cows and good laying hens and is now still better prepared to supply all new customers. Send in your order by either phone and same will have prompt attention. (3-11-96)
