MARQUETTE, (L. S.,) MICHIGAN, MAY 27, 1882

NEW SERIES, No. 723.

It was cold enough to snow for a brief spell Monday. So it snowed. Hon. S. P. Ely is with us once again, he having returned to his Marquette home yesterday.

LARGE quantities of soft coal are now being received at this port daily, and forwarded by rail to the mines

THE National hotel looks quite hospitable in its new coat of paint. Guests say that the outside sign of good cheer within is fully realized under the present management.

A COAL train of thirty-two loaded cars was hauled up the grade from the coal dock to the railroad yards one day this week by a couple of locomotives. They yanked the coal along without stopping to take breath, but it made them pant audibly to do it.

From the Ontonagon Miner we learn that lawyer Button intends locating there for practice. He was admitted to the bar early last winter, passing a creditable examination, and is competent to fill a good sized opening—if they have such for another lawyer-at On-tinel of the 20th observes:

The Milwauke Republican and News in a recent issue gives very valuable information concerning the mines recently sold by the Menominee Mining company to the Cambria Iron company of Philadelphia, which reads very much like a portion of Swineford's annual review. In fact, it was probably stolen bodily from that book and telegraphed to that enterprising paper as news. Newett knew it not, and the article was copied into the Iron Agitator and credited to its Milwaukee contemporary. Newett had better set 'em up for the boys and hush the matter up.

received, but there was a perceptible absence of the enthusiasm evoked by the first visit. The fault is with the programme rather than the execution. The ladies composing the quartette are accomplished vocalists, but too much singing is apt to affect an audience much the same as a stupid sermon does, and the seats in Mather's hall are not as comfortable as the ordinary church pew to take a quiet nap

CINDERS.

What young ladies sometimes regard as the "best catch of the season" sometimes proves nothing but a poor sucker in the matrimonial net.

Fond du Lac has decided that the electric tight is beyond her means, and will light up with gas as of yore. The town is growing sensible in its old age.

If it wasn't for the flowers and faces that bloom in the milliner shops, Cinders would have found it hard to believe that spring is ac-tually here, some days this week.

Men who took down their office stoves last week have been "setting 'em up' this—for the boys. They acknowledge that the weather clerk got the joke on them this time.

26 Scoville says he is tired of the publicity the Guiteau trial has given him. This is the first time the public and Mr. Scoville have found themselves in perfect sympathy. recording angel up above has had to employ an assistant who can take down things in shorthand. They couldn't keep Bob's account posted up by the old system.

Sartoris, Grant's English son-in-law, is training in a New York swimming school, preparatory to participating in a swimming race on the Thames in June for a purse of $1,000. He is the only member of the Grant family who takes kindly to water.

Clifford's company played to empty benches during his late visit to Appleton, and he complains that the people there refused to turn out because he is an Oshkosh man. That was a good reason enough, but, unless Clifford's company is vastly better than ever before, the character of the entertainment furnished a better one.

A friend down below writes enquiring if trout bite yet up in this section. He is assured that they do-also mosquitos, the latter with a pertinacious industry worthy of a better cause, as numerous painful swellings on Cinders' face, neck and hands bear witness to since his last trouting expedition.

Quinnesec's newspaper tells of a quack operating in that section, who claims to be "the greatest diagonist of the age." Cinders once knew a character of that sort who advertised himself as a "general specialist." Can there be two of 'em, or is the "diagonist" but the "general specialist" in a new disguise?

A Minnesota college professor became involved in a row with some of the students the other day, in the course of which he found it necessary to shoot one of them in self-defense. Obviously the young idea is not "taught how to shoot" properly in that institution, or the student would never have allowed a rusty old professor to get the drop on him.

dams at Neenah and Appleton continues to breed bad blood between the people and papers of Appleton and their submerged neighbors of Fond du Lac and Oshkosh. The last number of the Appleton Post alludes to the editor of the Oshkosh Times as "the polecat of the Wisconsin state press, * * * a renegade republican, a sneaking, slimy, scabby, scrofulous scullion, without principles of honesty or pretentions to respectability." This alliterative tentions to respectability." This alliterative assault will be odorously responded to by the Times this week, and so the fight go s on—in the papers. It wouldn't be a bad plan for the people of the wrangling cities to take some of their journalistic champions out in the pond where the water is deepest and give the fellows a bath. If their persons are not more cleanly than their language the treatment is urgently sailed for.

CONTRASTED EXPERIENCES.

She kissed me, my beautiful darling, I drank the delight of her lips; The universe melted together, Mortality stood in eclipse. A Spirit of Light stood before me,

I heard a far rustle of wings; The Kings of the earth were as beggars, And the beggars of earth were as kings.

He kicked me, her crusty old father, done to the road and bridges in the neighborhood of the Carp river furnace company's works since spring opened, all of which were very much needed. It is possible for teams to meet and pass there now without jostling a copious flow of profanity out of their respective drivers.

Tapken, the gunsmith, has moved again this week—this time towards the western limits of the city, out in the direction of the orewery, on Washington street. Henry says it keeps his stock Hooking bright and fresh to move it every week or two, and, as the said stock consists largely of guns and pistols, the writer is not inclined to contradict him on that point.

But that girl I shall kiss lever more.

While the ring performance of the Beckett circus was under way Monday evening an amusing episode was witnessed by a part of the audience, which, unlike the balance of the exhibition, had the merit of novelty. When the bareback rider came out and started in to amaze the beholders by showing how easy it is to tumble from a skinny old dray horse if one only knows how, the old gag of having a ragged looking and apparently drunken granger stagger into the ring was perpetrated. Everyone who had ever attended a circus in the good old days of our daddies understood that the pretended bummer was a circus attache, who would presently be mounted on the fiery steed, there to undergo a wonderful transformation into a daring rider by divesting himself of several ragged suits in the presence of the audience while the horse pranced mady around the ring. There was one person present who didn't "catch on," however—a recent addition to the police force of Marquette. When he saw that ragged looking bummer hurled out of the ring by an apparent-ly end of the circus was under way Monday evening an amusing episode was witnessed by a part of the ett circus was under way Monday evening an audience, which, unlike the balance of the extinction. The summer was a circus in the good old days of our daddies understood that the presence of the ett circus was under way Monda quette. When he saw that ragged looking bummer hurled out of the ring by an apparently enraged ring master, he feit that the time had come for him to distinguish himself. Stepping up to the fellow, he said, showing his star: "Look here, you veller, you yust geep gwiet now, or I dakes you to chail righd off already!" Just then the horse got round again and the circus man made another dash for the ring, whereupon the indignant policeman and the circus man made another dash for the ring, whereupon the indignant policeman grabbed him and was starting for the cooler with his captive when the manager's eye took in the side-show and he came to the rescue of his best rider. The mistake of the zealous guardian of law and order provoked the only hearty laugh Cinders heard at the performance, and he begs to suggest to Mr. Beckett that if he can only add our policeman to his company, and the incident described to his programme as a regular feature, people will hereafter be able to see something entertaining in his show.

The Milwauke Republican and News in a recent issue gives very valuable information concerning the mines recently sold by the Menominee Mining company to the Cambria Iron company of Philadelphia, which reads very much like a portion of Swineford's annual review. In fact, it was probably stolen bodily from that book and telegraphed to that enterprising paper as news. Newett knew it not, and the article was copied into the Iron Agitator and credited to its Milwaukee contemporary. Newett had better set 'em up for the boys and hush the matter up.

On their second tour through this section the Swedish quartette was well received, but there was a perceptible absence of the enthusiasm evoked by the first visit. The fault is with the programme rather than the execuframe, lined with brick inside and sheeted with corrugated iron without, with iron roof-the whole resting on a solid foundation, and put up in the solid foundation, and put up in the most substantial manner. When completed the shop will be equipped with the best machinery in use for the work to which it is to be devoted. This will give Marquette a boiler shop of superior fac lities, and of ample capacity to handle the largest kind of work. This addition to the foundry is but the pre-sursor of other extensive improvements orders pouring in upon it, and at the same time increasing its facilities to the extent required by the swelling volume of its business, with labor so scarce as it is at present. A few more manufacturing concerns of equal magnitude would be worth vastly more to the place than certain other things up-on which her people seem disposed to rely, though they cannot, in the nature of things, be made to give equal security for enduring prosperity.

MME. RENTZ'S MINSTRELS are billed for a performance here on the even-ing of Wednesday, May 31, and the MIN-ING JOURNAL is assured that it will be one not only devoid of all indecency, but possessed of unusual merit. Otherwise this paper would not hesitate to stigmatize it as unworthy of the patronage of our people. As showing what reputable and leading papers where this company has been say of it, we quote from the Dayton, Ohio, Journal:

We will be serious about Mme. Rentz's entertainment, given at the Music hall last evening, and in a word say it was a good one, far better than the average. There was no immodest dressing or immodest acting. We have seen more of both these in musical and dramatic entertainments patronized right here in Dayton, even by the "unco guid and rigidly righteous." The music was excellent, the fun sparkling, and the burlesque superlatively good. The singing was better than we expected, and the instrumental solos phenomenal, considering that they were performed by ladies on instruments not usual to the fair sex. Candor, therefore, compels us to say that the entertainment given by Mme. Rentz's Minstrels last evening was one of the best, most refined and amusing ever given in this city, and the large audience quite as orderly and decorous as any that usually assembles anywhere, except in church or on some serious occasion.

Wherever this company has appearquote from the Dayton, Ohio, Journal:

Wherever this company has appeared we notice it is spoken of in equally complimentary terms, and we are as sured that the only ones who will be disappointed by the performance here will be those who expect to see and hear a coarse, vulgar stage exhibition by a band of shameless women. This is no "leg show," its manager declares, and persons who attend in that belief will get fooled into witnessing a highly pleasing but wholly chaste programme, rendered by first-class artists.

EVER since the opening of navigation we have looked and waited in vain for the advent of warm weather at this point, but it doesn't come. Manually the same artists.

rival claimants are fiercely wrangling at present. But such is the unhappy fact. The board is claimed his pap's ownership of the site gives him title to a share in the usufruct thereof. This the members of the billposting firm deny, alleging that they are the sole proprietors of the board by purchase from one James Loftus, Esq., of his interest therein, together with the exclusive right to post up show bills, distribute dodgers and sling snipes in the city of Marquette. The show manager, who has since adorned disturbances of the past year. the same with wall-paper of an excessively loud pattern, designed to warn the public that there will be a performpeople had better keep away from. As the controversy is likely to come into court for final adjudication, the MIN-ING JOURNAL refrains from expressing an opinion on the merits of the conflicting claims, merely giving the facts as our reporter has been able to obtain them. Both parties have secured counsel, and a stubborn legal fight is liable to ensue, unless Burt backs down unumn.

[To the Editor.]

WATER WORKS AND SAWDUST.— Much annoyance has lately been caused by sawdust finding its way through the suction pipe into the pumps, thence through the main pipe into every branch, clogging hydrants and valves everywhere and polluting our pure water. At the saw-mill most suggested that there were dents in his of the sawdust is utilized as fuel under | throat that hadn't got straightened out the boilers for making steam, but the yet. As the city water works are not far from the mill, it could be made profitable to both institutions to place a boiler right at the mill for sup-plying the water works engines with steam, and to burn the dust instead of pumping it through the pipes. If the mill is running six months only in a year it will pay to do this. Another plan would be to put say an eight inch galvanized pipe up on poles out of everybody's way from the mill to the water works engine house, with an exhaust fan or a steam syphon at its terminus, and blow the sawdust under the boilers at the water works. But the boilers at the water works. But the first plan would be the surest, and the distance is no objection when the cost of fuel is nothing. M. JACKER.

OH, SAY, GIRLS!—Did you know that a thorough and practical knowledge of cookery had come to be regarded as a fashionable accomplishment in a young lady? 'Twas always a desirable one, but at last fashion has set her seal upon this acquirement, and, as an inevitable consequence, the rage is now for preminence in an art that a few years eminence in an art that a few years ago was almost a forgotten one, as regarded the young lady portion of humanity. In all the cities cooking clubs have been organized, whose members meet once or twice each week to compare experience and barter suggestions. Now, why can't our Marquette girls organize one of these clubs, and proceed.

and neglect nothing that tends to enhance the pleasures of their tables, and good daughters should lose no time in becoming good cooks, if they are not so already. The MINING JOURNAL moves that the young ladies of the city forthwith organize a cooking club, that those who know not how to cook may those who know not how to cook may learn to cook well, and that those who

No doubt others will be induced to postpone making improvements here this season by the same consideration. All this difficulty arises from the high price of labor; the high price of labor is a natural concomitant of exorbitant rents and the cost of living here, and thus the malign influences of exorbitant rents and the cost of living here, and thus the malign influences that retard the growth of Marquette move in a vicious circle, working injury to the place at every turn. Meanwhile the property owners move along contentedly in the old rut, oblivious of the fact that they are producing a state the fact that they are producing a state of things that must eventually work the destruction of their own interests, seemingly impressed with the belief that when they have got rents up to the highest notch they have done their full

For gently compressing captain Daniels' windpipe one day last week, Neil ance in Mather's hall next week that Ferguson was before judge O'Keeffe Monday, and there learned, to his sur-prise, that in choking the bold mariner he had fractured a city ordinance three dollars' worth. The difficulty was hatched out by certain chickens owned by one of the parties, and which had wandered into a place where they had no business, to scratch for a living. Neil pleaded guilty to the assault on Daniels, and paid his fine with a vindictive air as though he would like conditionally. The bill-posters are dictive air, as though he would like game clear through to the spinal colsome more fun with the captain if it didn't come so high. IF showmen and their advance agents could get it through their heads that this paper wasn't started and isn't run solely to assist them in gathering wealth it would save the business manager of the concern a heap of trouble. It would also save the show people some time—if that may be considered an object. We advertise one class of shows—the poor ones—free gratis, in the discharge of a duty which the paper owes the public. But a legitimate entertainment, which possesses real merit, must not assume that because we warn people against a poor show that we are going to endorse the claims and set forth the merits of a good one gratuitously. Our columns are not at wealth it would save the business mangratuitously. Our columns are not at the service of a "snide" show at any price, when we are aware of its character, though sometimes a manager may impose upon us by fraudulent representations. If a good performance comes our way and desires to use this paper to advertise itself it can do so at our regular rates, and not otherwise. This is business. If we want to attend we will nay our way in. There is too we will pay our way in. There is too much of this "free list" business going on now for the welfare of good shows and good papers. Let us have a reform, gentlemen.

A YOUNG man named Berry, employed as engineer on the tug Dudley, was up before his honor, judge O'Keeffe, Tuesday on a complaint sworn out by captain Daniels, of the Mystic, charging him with larceny of a marine glass.

The young fellow admitted having the glass, but claimed that he had bought it from a third party. His defense was not conclusive enough to warrant his discharge, and the court bound him over for trial in the circuit court. The commander of the Mystic appears to be developing a consuming appetite for litigation of late. If he should slip over the side of his scow some day before the water gets warm the experience might be beneficial. His blood is News was received here this week of the drowning at Manitou Island, one week ago last Monday, of Mr. Reuben Hart, a former resident of Marquette. He was employed as light keeper at that station, and it is supposed that the unfortunate man lost his life in some manner while discharging his duties, though nothing definite is known as to how he met his death. The last known of him alive was when he left the shore the previous day to return to the light-house in a small row-boat. The boat was afterwards found capsized, and, as he has been missing since, the presumption is that he upset the boat accidentally and was drowned on his return trip. The body had not his return trip. The body had been recovered at latest accounts.

As will be seen from a communica-tion published on this page, some water users in the city who take theirs from the city water works are finding sawdust in it again this spring. The suggestions of our correspondent looking to a remedy for this annoyance may be feasible, but, in our opinion, the cheaper and more satisfactory way would be to set the crib far enough out in the bay to place it beyond the reach of sawdust from the mill and all impuri-

WHILE Beckett's circus was raiding the towns up the road this week the Gazelle, which furnishes that show transportation by water, has been tied up in the harbor here, taking a rest. She is a pretty little craft, but one can't help wondering while gazing at the vessel where in thunder they contrive to stow a circus away on board of her. How-ever, the thing doesn't seem so difficult after having had a chance to size up the circus. It's a good little show, but it doesn't spread an "ocean of canvas." The Gazelle has been freshly painted for the service she is engaged in, and makes a gay appearance on her trip around the lakes.

BECKETT's circus gave two perform ances here Monday afternoon and even ing to large audiences, the tent being crowded on both occasions. It is wit this circus as it was with the butter that a polite boy helped himself sparingly to at a house where he was visiting. "Why don't you take more?" enquired the lady of the house, kindly. "Isn't it good?" "Oh, yes," said he, with a yearning glance at the diminutive roll on the plate: "it's good enough."

A GOOD ONE THIS TIME.-At last our people are to have something new, novel and in a high degree meritorious, in the amusement line. Harry Deakin's original Lilliputian Opera company is announced to appear here on Friday, June 2. when that marvelous combination of little artists, with "Fin late windstorm, part of it having been torn off and carried over the side of the structure. Who is that handsome, brighteyed miss who signals to us that she seconds the motion?

Those who have building to be done here this spring complain bitterly of the high price of labor and material, and not without cause. A gentleman who had intended putting up a handsome residence this season informed us the other day that, after obtaining figures showing the cost, at the current rate of wages and prices of humber, brick, etc., he had decided to postpone building, as it would cost him forty per cent. more to build this year than he had calculated upon, basing his first estimate on the expense of putting up such as huilding as he projected in forment were giving altogether too much for the money. The matinee will take place at 2:30 in the afternoon and the evening performance at the usual hour. No charge for reserved seats. Tickets on sale at Conklin's. Be sure to go, and take the little ones.

> Such of our readers as have occasion to stop at Escanaba will be interested in learning that James Hanley, formerly of Marquette, is now proprietor of the Tilden house, which he is running to the entire satisfaction of its patrons. Under Jim's management the Tilden is becoming wonderfully popular with the traveling public, and the table he sets is good enough to entice the most fas-tidious to the Tilden when business or pleasure brings them to Escanaba.
> The MINING JOURNAL records with pleasure the success of another Marquette old timer in a new field, and doubt some of his fish stories. This was his first visit to the upper region, and we hope his enjoyment of it will cause him to repeat it at intervals not too protracted. He returns to Fond du Lac to-day.

A WEDDING card from the groom in-forms us that Dr. H. Derby Pickman, formerly of Marquette, was married at Salt Lake City, on the 15th, to Miss Virginia L. Palmer, of Pontiac, Mich. Congratulations all around are in order -the doctor has done what Mahone wants to do, carried Virginia; and if an envious tongue should chide Vir-ginia for having repudiated her maiden name it can be answered for her that she did it to win her Derby. The wedded pair announce themselves as now of Salmon City, Idaho, which place is to number them as permanent residents, we take it.

THE fair at Coles' hall, for the benefit of the cathedral building fund, has been running quite successfully during the week, and will close to-night with a general distribution of prizes to holders of the lucky numbers. The net result to the building fund in dollars and return of pleasure on their investment.

ONE Joseph Herring, a prisoner confined in the county jail, made a dash for liberty Saturday last while at work under guard about the premises. He was less successful than Gaffney and his pal, being quickly overtaken and restored to his place behind the bars. The sheriff doesn't propose to let any more of the queer fish that have become entangled in the law's meshes get away save by due process of law. Herring's failure should warn others of the fruitlessness of making similar attempts.

> DR. TAFT, of this city, it is announced, will succeed Dr. Hirschman as ed, will succeed Dr. Hirschman as mine physician at Republic. The change is in consequence of dissatisfaction on the part of the employes with Dr. Hirschman, though whether well-founded or not the MINING JOURNAL is not prepared to say. They will find his successor a thorough physician, and an amiable gentleman, withal—with whom we predict that will be well pleased.

THEIR pastor being absent from the city, the Baptist church society has invited Rev. D. Stuart Banks, of the Presbyterian church, to occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church to-morrow, where that gentleman will accordingly preach. The audience room of the Presbyterian church is temporarily closed for repairs, workmen being now engaged upon the interior of the church, giving it a general overhauling.

FOUND AT LAST .- What everyone hould have, and never be without, is Thomas' belectric Oil. It is thorough and safe in its effects, producing the most wondrous cures of heumatism. neuralgia, burns, bruises, and rounds of every kind.

A CLEVER actress was playing Juliet A CLEVER actiess was playing of the acrowded house in the country. As she lay dead in the tomb, she contrived to ask Romeo how the scene was going. "Beautifully," he answered: "the people in the pit have to put up umbrellas to prevent being drowned by the tears of those in the gallery."

A RENOVATING remedy is to be found in Burdock Blood Bitters. As an antidote for sick headache, female weakness, biliousness, indigestion, constipation, and other diseases of a kindred nature, these bitters are invaluable. Price $1.00.

DR. ROGERS mentions a Kincardinshire husbandman who was expressing to his minister the high opinion he had of his personal virtues, and he wound up his eulogy by saying: "An' I a'ways and specially, liket your sterling independence, sir. I hae a'ways said, sir, that ye neither fear God nor man."

DRUGGIST'S TESTIMONY.—H. F. Mc-Carthy, druggist, Ottawa, Ont., states that he was afflicted with chronic bronchitis for some years, and was completely cured by the use of Thomas' Electric Oil.

A CLERGYMAN who had just married a couple felt indignant when the bridegroom gave him a fee of only half a dollar, smiled grimly and said: "Never mind. You'll have to pay a lawyer $100 for undoing what I have done."

How now! What is it?—The great system renovator is Burdock Blood Bitters. Try it and be convinced. Price $1.00.

A much needed rain storm set in Saturday last, and continued, mixed with snow, until Wednesday. The woods had become very dry, and bush fires were raging in all directions. IRON MOUNTAIN .- Here we are in the last quarter of May, and weather for the first half of February. Nearly every night this week it has frozen more or less, and once or twice we have been treated to a snow. Then we have had enough rain to bring out the joker's "damp cold weather" joke from its resting place, where we had trusted it was laid away for the season. Well, old Sol can't keep hid always, so we will keep up courage. A terrible accident occurred at the Chapin mine Sunday, which resulted in the death of John Richards and the fatal injury of Charles Waddl ton. These men, together with Lennox Bennett, were engaged in blasting ore on contract, and had put in a blast which failed to bring down the ore, but had loosened it. MRS. E. R. HALL reached home from the south on Tuesday.

MR. F. V. TAYLOR, iron stock dealer of Grand Rapids, dined at the Nelson house on Wednesday.

THE only thunder and lightning matinee of the season thus far occurred on Thursday afternoon.

THE entire stock of Lesser & Co., on Cleveland avenue, will be sold at cost during the next thirty days.

MR. LESSER, of the New York one price clothing house, has opened a 8,300 tons burden, the largest steamer on the branch store in Republic. Mr. Durham will manage the new enterprise.

H. ASGAARD is building an addition to the rear of his furniture store, in order that he may have sufficient show room to accommodate his increased stock of fine goods.

THE dress tent at the circus was blown down by the little blizzard of Thursday afternoon, and there was a stampede among the half nude artistes for a short space of seconds. No one hurt.

SAM BURT, of Chicago, Hank Shouldice, of Berea, and Ed. Slattery of Republic, have all been in Ishpeming during the week. Wonder if this fact will account for the increased number of funerals?

HERBERT's theatrical company will appear in Austin's hall to-night. The company is superior in merit to any dramatic troupe that comes this way, and those who favorit with their presence to-night will be entertained.

MR. DAVID LEECH has resigned the clerkship of the Nelson house, and left Chicago on Saturday last. Mr. Todd is now his own clerk. The business of the Nelson is "very great," and increased room is very much needed.

THE Commercial house fed 180 people at each meal time on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Mr. Chopat has increased the business of the Commercial at least 100 per cent. during the past year, and is deservedly popular as a hotel manager.

DONAHOE BROS, have dead loads of parasols, but on account of the beastly GEO. W. HAYDEN, weather are ashamed to say anything about them. The day is coming when they will be needed, and then the ladies will know where to get them.

F. M. SACKRIDER, the latest recruit in Ishpeming's army of insurance agents, is building up a business of considerable size, and bids fair to outrank the rankest of 'em before another year. He's backed by the best of companies.

BOTH the fire engines, with the fire company, were out for practice on Tuesday evening. The engines and men acquitted themselves creditably. Ishpeming's fire department was never in better shape to tackle something first-leading of a fire.

WILLIAM C. UREN, H. O. Young, D. Mc Vichie and Joseph Covio are defendants in a suit for $10,000 damages, brought by the husband of Mrs. Movoney, who alleges that his wife was falsely held in the city lockup for an alleged breach of the city health ordinance. The trial will come off at the next term of the circuit court.

THE ladies of the Episcopal church are arranging to give a grand old folks concert in Austin's hall within the next These lands were selected by experts, for mineral or timber, at a time when but very little land had been purchased from the Government in their vicinity, consequently the lands of the company are invariably the most desirable for either minerals or pine or other timber in the district in which they lie. two weeks. We understand that the affair is to be under the directorship of the professors Fohrman, which insures its success. Some thirty or forty singers from this city and Negaunee will assist, and a good time socially may be anticipated. Let all turn out and raise a fund for this church.

THE Milwaukee correspondent of the THE MINERAL LANDS of the company are now offered for lease, on reasonable terms, and options given for purposes of examination.

Eight of the best and largest mines in the Menominee iron district are on the lands of this company; 4. c. East Vulcan (two mines), New Vulcan, Curry, Norway, Cyclops, Ludington, and Sturgeon—and this number will undoubtedly be increased during the present year Chicago Tribune has, in the Wednesday's issue of that paper, an account of the purchase of "from forty to fifty acres of land in this city by the C. & N. W. R'y company, as a site for their machine shops and transfer yards." and adds "that Ishpeming is to be regarded as the central point from which the western extension of that road will be built." This last prediction will certainly prove true, and we doubt not but that the former will also; but the Mining been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated the seventeenth day of March, a. D. 1873, executed by Barney Martin and Flora Martin, his wife, to Sidney Adams, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, of the county of Marquette, in Liber four of mortgages, on pages 27 and 28, on the 18th day of March A. THE MINING JOURNAL.

IT is stated in the Fond du Lac Commonwealth that a force of men is now at work on the Meyer blast furnace at that place, getting it in readiness to be blown in This furnace has never been in blast, though a finely built structure. It was put up by C. J. L. Meyer, the extensive manufacturer of Fond du Lac, just prior to the panic of 1873, which caused a drop in iron that doomed it to remain ever since in an unfinished state. Competent iron men who have examined it have assured the writer that it is a model furnace, and the MIN-ING JOURNAL will look for a good report from it when it is fairly in blast. Though not informed on that point, we presume the ores to be reduced in it will be from this region. The haul will be a long one by rail, but the parties associated in the enterprise are capable business men, who have no doubt counted the cost of operating the furnace, not forgetting to figure in the expense of getting ore and fuel from the distances they must be brought, and have assured themselves in advance that their enterprise will result satisfactorily from a financial point of view.

WHAT appears to be a most important and valuable discovery is the finding of hard ore in the edge of the swamp on the east forty of the New York Hematite leasehold, and a short distance south of the Pioneer furnaces. The MINING JOURNAL was informed of the discovery soon after it was made, but preferred to say nothing about it until fully assured that it was something more than a boulder. It is now reliably informed that the drill-holes show a width of 40 feet of ore extending over a length of 185 feet. The discovery was made near the center of the forty, the trend being apparently east and west. The ore is a hard red specular, scarcely distinguishable from that of the Jackson, of which last the new find is believed to be the eastern extension so long and vainly sought for. Mr. Foley is now putting down a shaft, but has not as yet succeeded in reaching the ledge, having unexpectedly encountered quicksand, which is a troublesome thing to manage. The ore lies only 16 feet It is really a great mine, the capabilibelow the surface, however, and he does not anticipate much difficulty in the output of a single year, and one of reaching it with the shaft. This new which even an expert is incapable of discovery gives a large prospective val- forming a correct opinion unless he deue to adjoining properties, particularly votes much more time to an examinato the Baraga, which immediately ad- tion than the single day allotted to the joins the New York Hematite on the writer hereof for that purpose. ANNUAL REVIEW

IRON MINING AND OTHER INDUSTRIES OF THE UPPER PENINSULA OF MICHIGAN.

> THE MENOMINEE RANGE. THE NORWAY MINE, which is in section 5, town 39, range 29 is, or was until recently, justly regarded as the most remarkable soft ore mine ever developed in this country: as it is. but one other (the Chapin) excels it in the magnitude as well as the quality of its ores. The mine is now in the fifth year of its existence, having mined and shipped an annual product as follows:

Which is the largest aggregate output ever achieved by any exclusively soft hematite mine in the Lake Superior

From an attempt to intelligently describe the underground workings of this really great mine, the writer would most gladly excuse himself on almost any plausible pretext, but from a sense of what may justly be termed a selfimposed duty. While the workings were swholly above ground, in fact merely a series of open quarries, it was a comparatively easy task to draw a pen picture which would convey to the general reader an intelligible idea of their condition; but now that a large part of the workings are underground, embracing in their ramifications drifts and chambers extending over a length of at least three-quarters of a mile, an accurate and comprehensive description, without the aid of a competent draughtsman as well as engraver, is an utter impossibility. Your average newspaper reporter, however familiar he may have become, through long practice and experience in that line, with#mining affairs generally, will on an underground visit to the Norway lose his powers of reckoning while traversing the labyrinth of drifts and chambers, and finally return to the surface with no well defined idea, other than that he has seen an immense amount of ore, which, if not practically inexhaustible, certainly cannot be exhausted in a great many years to come. ties of which must not be judged from formation, the trend of which is from north-west to south-east, with southerly dip. There are four working shafts, numbered 1, 2, 3 and 5, respectively, and five pits-4, 6, 7, 8 and 9-the first four being large open cuts, while the last. though partially open, may more properly be called an underground working. It will be remembered that there are, or rather were, at the east end, two distinct and parallel lenses of ore, which, as shown by the first workings, were about 100 feet distant from each other. These were and still are called the Perkins and Stephenson veins, owing to the ffact that they are western extensions of the deposits at the two mines of that name which lie immediately east of the Norway. the ore showing on all sides and in the bottom, the width between well-defined walls being by actual measurement 87 feet. The floor of this chamber is apparently all clean ore, while there are high stopes the whole width of the formation, looking both east and west. From No. 4 we go through a drift 85 feet south-west, and thence 90 feet north-west into No. 5, where another large room has been mined out, but in which the ground is considerably broken. The ore from this pit is raised through No. 5 shaft, which is located in the foot-wall with a cross-cut of 15 feet from the bottom, on the 2nd level. The shaft is now on its way down to the 3rd level. It should be remembered that in reaching this point from No. 1 shaft we have been gradually ascending the hill, the elevation of which at No. 5 is at least 50 feet above Nos. 1 and 2, while the shaft itself is one lift less in depth than the latter, measuring from the collar of each, and making no allowance for difference in surface elevation. This fact will account for the broken character of the formation in No. 5, the workings of which are in ground that appears to have been distorted by unusual disturbance. The indications are that more settled ground will be reached at a depth corresponding with the present lowest levels in the east end of the mine. though it is probable that a fold in the formation throws the ore over some distance to the south. This last theory exhausted. Recently, Capt. Oliver, is corroborated by the fact that two drifts west and south, 35 and 70, and 80 and 70 feet, respectively, struck the

A miners' hall and reading room is a most commendable feature at this location, and one which might be copied with advantage at all the large mines in the upper peninsula. The building, a very neat and commodious two-story structure, was built and presented to the Miners' Club by the company. The hall is leased to the Odd Fellows and Temple of Honor, the rents being devoted to the purchase of books and periodicals for the reading room.

The Norway gives employment to about 450 men, and notwithstanding Capt. Oliver's estimate, can safely be relied upon, if necessary, for a largely increased product, as compared with the output of 1881.

Work was commenced on the west forty of the company's tract sometime in 1880, in an outcrop of lean or banded ore and slates, but nothing of absolute value was found till early in the following year. An exploration shaft just south of the banded ore formation struck clean blue ore, which, at a depth of 45 feet, appeared to carry a width of something over 20 feet. In sinking further, however, the foot-wall came in very rapidly, and seemingly narrowed the lens down to a small compass. A dri teast from this shaft was made on the 45-foot level, and along what appeared to be the foot-wall. 100 feet in ore, where a second shaft was raised to the surface. At this point the ore was found to be covered by only a few feet of dritt. This second shaft was then carried down 50 feet further, and, as at No. 1, the rock appeared to come in from the foot-wall and either cut the ore out or else shoved it abruptly over into the hanging. An examination of the pits shows that some rather questionable work was done, the lower part of No. 2 shaft having been run on an incline which took it away from the ore. Since then what was supposed to be a bulge in the foot-wall proves to be merely a thin slip of rock under which the ore is again found in large body. There is, in fact, a very large show of ore on the bottom level, where actual measurement gives 35 to 40 feet between walls, with the foot going down nearly perpendicular, and the ore still lost in the past two years, a new and making rapidly under the hanging. The article in the Mining Review of April 15. headed "Iron," says that "it is stated, without the most careful consideration, that, during the year 1881, the fron mines of Michigan were lower down, to test which theory it is more profitable than the gold and silver mines proposed to put a diamond drill hole of the United States." As I suppose that I am statement was not made without due consideration. The published statements show that No. 4, which is from 100 to 200 feet | the gold and silver mines of the United States panies do not publish their d vidends, it is impossible to give exact figures; but the amount of ore produced and its value in market are published, and from these figures any one acquainted with the cost of placing the ore in the market can make very close estimates of these profit. Those best qualified to judge of these profits estimate the earnings of our iron mines and silver mining companies declaring this $7,500,000 of dividends amounts to about $200,-000,000; they, therefore, paid three and threefourths per cent. on their capital stock. The capital stock of all the iron mining companies $20,000,000, and their net earnings of $8,000,000 for that year paid dividends amounting to forty per cent on their capital stock. These figures you will notice, embrace only the dividend paying gold and silver mines, while they embrace all of the operating iron mines in Michigau. If the $200,000,000 are represented by the dividend-paying gold and silver mines of the United States-to say nothing of the innumerable operating companies that pay no dividend work will soon be commenced; the strate that iron mining in Michigan is more product will probably be somewhat be- than ten times as profitable as gold and silver to remark: ne iron mines ne important nines of the that the estimate of profit has been based largely on the destroys the last hope of the doomed murderer dividends paid, when the fact is, scores of mines have been worked at a profit for years and no dividend has ever been announced. The Drum Lumon mine of Montana is probably one of the most profitable gold mines in the country. It is owned by one man, and the profit on its workings is immense; yet all its output is lost in all estimate of profitable mining, from the fact that it, like hundreds of others, is private property and there is no occasion to make public its resources and profits. The argument, to have full force, should place both classes of mining upon the same basis, and not judge gold and silver mines by dividends, and iron mines by the standard of production. Our correspondent would object to a comparison of the stock dividends paid by iron mining companies with the market value of the total amount of gold and silver produced from its vast array of promising and productive mines, to form the basis of an estimate between the two classes of the mining industry. Neither of which are to the point. While Mr. Longyear's estimate of the net earnings of the Lake Superior iron mines is approximately correct, he fails to mention the important fact that there are no failures-absolutely no may be expended in unsuccessful explorations. On the other hand the dividends paid by the gold and silver mines of the United States in 1881 are resume business in sixty or ninety days. reported at $7,500,000, in round figures. Now, will the Review, if it knows, this: "What has become of the St. P. & G. please tell us about what proportion of | T. road? Some think it is dead, while others the gold and silver mines of the United States pay dividends, and about how much of the capital invested in gold and silver mining is lost? Is it not a fact, that the losses, as a whole, in gold and silver mining, are two to one in comparison with the earnings? The proper way to get at the profits is to ascertain as near as may be, the whole amount invested in either case, and then strike a balance between that and the whole amount of gross or net earnings. We are prepared to make such a showing, approximately, for this iron mining region; can and will the Review do the same for the gold and silver mining districts of the western states and territories? The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it, and not in chewing the string; the amount of dividends do not always show the net earnings of even the mining company or enterprise by whom they may be declared, much less those of a whole district, in which there are a dozen or every gold and silver mining field of | population. the United States.

The MINING JOURNAL having been the first to venture the statement, the many of the gold and silver mines to take their places and salaries—the latter wrought in 1881, were dividend paying? and what were the losses? The whole amount of dividends paid is given at $7,500,000; add, if you please, $2,500,000 for "dividends not announced." How much shall we deduct from this, in the way of losses in case of hundreds of gold and silver mines which have so far been unprofitable, if not absolute failures, in order to get at the real amount of net earnings? We are preregion; will the Review favor us in the other direction we have indicated, and while about it tell us if it be true that for every dollar actually earned in gold and silver mining at least two have been absolutely lost?

New York legislature, whose defection from ate from that state after his and Platt's resignation last year, has just made public his reasons for deserting his former chief at that critical moment in his fortunes. Conkling was repeatedly urged to withdraw from a contest which his warmest friends felt to be entirely hopeless, Gen. Sharpe relates, but could not be induced to do so. When Sharpe at last intimated his intention of breaking the dead-lock by supporting the Lapham-Miller combination, he was informed confidentially that Conkling had arranged a bargain that would secure the election of himself and Depew, through the influence of Gould and Vanderbilt, exerted in their behalf. Gen. Sharpe at first would not believe that Conkling was a party to the infavinced him of that fact, and decided him to use his vote to defeat the object of it. He claims that the documents are in existence to prove the truth of this explanation of his action, which at the time was regarded as simply a sents Conkling in a new light, and dispels the nimbus of incorruptibility with which he has hitherto managed to encircle his "Jove-like front." After fighting a year to break down the Milwaukee Sentinel, the syndicate of capitalists and politicians who started the Republican and News for that purpose were at last forced to purchase the obnoxious sheet to get it out of their way. This was done last week, and on Monday the Republican-Sentinel took the place of the two morning dailies which have latterly been making a struggle for existence in that apathetic town. It is understood that Messrs. Murphy & McCord, of the Sentinel, made the somely, the price paid for the concern being several times its actual value. On Saturday the Cleveland Bridge and Car Works Co. made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors, H. F. Sweetzer, of Titusville, Pa., and W. H. President Ciaflin states that the assignment was forced by the pressure of obligations and the difficulty of obtaining ready money. He says the company's assets are $250,000 greater than its liabilities; that it has contracts to construct $250,000 worth of bridges for the Lake Shore, Nickle Plate, Bee Line, Chicago & Atlantic, and Cleveland, Mt. It is significant that a liberal was elected to the late Lord Cavendish's seat in parliament last week, despite the tendency of the assassination of the late incumbent to strengthen the conservative (or tory) candidate. MR. JOHN W. JOCHIM, with Miss Jochim and Mrs. John A. Taleen, tendered a reception on Sunday afternoon last to the Swedish Lady Quartette. In the afternoon of that day, in the parlors of Mr. Jochim's residence, the visiting ladies were presented to the Swede-American residents of Ishpeming. Luncheon was served at 4 o'clock P. M., and a grand supe in the evening. The host and lady assistants did themselves proud on this occasion, the reception and collations being pronounced a complete success, each in its way. The ladies left on the Morday morning train to fill other engagements, the number of their admirers here being greatly increased through the courtesy of Mr. Jochim.

His "Sweet Bye and Bye paraphrase" was exceptionally well received, and his "Rhapsodies on Hungarian melodies" and "Transcription on popular melodies" brought forth much applause. This work of the professor's greatly relieved the monotony of the original programme, and added much to the pleasure of the evening.

It is well known that even in England American killed beef has the preference among epicures, the reason being not so much on account of the superior quality of the cattle as in the manner of dressing the carcasses. The beef killed in Chicago for the European market is, after being dressed, hung in vast refrigerators for from three to four days, or until it is thoroughly chilled. From these it is put into refrigerating cars and shipped to the seaboard, where it is transferred to vessels supplied with ice chests of the same pattern. thus appearing thoroughly fresh when it reaches its destination across the ocean. Mr. Ham has applied this same principle in supplying the Ishpeming market, yet his advantages are even better than those enjoyed by European dealers, for the reason that he is privileged to, and does, personally visit Chicago and inspect his meat before it is shipped here. This personal inspection of his purchases is to the great advantage of Ishpeming meat consumers, and one which they will readily appearance during the afternoon and see and appreciate. MADAME RENTZ'S female minstrels will give a display in Winter's hall next Tuesday evening. It's a "highly moral" show, we are told by the agent, and that ought to settle it.

PROFESSOR VAUGHN organized a large dancing class in Winter's hall last Tuesday evening, the membership being made up of society young people. The second meeting of the class will occur next week.

"Lost and Saved." a temperance cantata, will soon be presented by the professors Fohrman, assisted by local musical and dramatic talent. Of course it will be a success, and the young people will enter on the work heartily.

YESTERDAY was the first day of Lobb's great wrestling match, and Negaunee was full of the crack Cornish muscle of the upper peninsula. The wrestle is continued to-day, and those who enjoy this sort of sport should "take in" the entertainment.

NEW MUSIC STORE.-The professors Fohrman have this week opened up their music store on Iron street, and this place will be their chief headquarters and musical supply house. Besides their stock of music they also carry a line of stationery. The store will be presided over by Miss Fohrman.

DEAKIN'S Lilliputian opera company, composed of a giant, seven feet high and weighing 300 pounds, and eight little people, ranging in age from 23 to 30 years, and in height from 23 to 40 inches will appear in "Jack the Giant | 720tf Killer" at Winter's hall next Thursday evening, June 1st. The entertainment promises will be novel, if nothing more.

CASUALTY .- A south bound ore train on the C. & N. W. R'y ran into a cow at Palmer on Wednesday morning. The cow had sufficient spirit to resent the interference with her use of the track (she was born and raised at Marquette) by ditching 12 loaded cars. One of the brakemen had his leg fractured. It don't pay to "monkey" with the festive bovine, even in the his trip south and east, selected an even better and much larger stock of liquors and cigars than it has been his custom ever before to keep. His store, cellar and warehouse are full of new goods, all of which he proposes to sell at bargains. The "Synagogue" proper has undergone a renovating, and now, as the place is cheery and bright, will become even more popular as a resert than formerly.

THE circus has been with us and the people breathe easy once more. The performance is said by some to have been excellent and by others to have been otherwise. One thing we do know-it has a goodly following of vags and tramps, and had it not been for the vigilance of our marshal and night watchman the night of Tuesday would have produced such a nell in Negaunee as we do not often see. Every suspicious person was jugged after 11 P. M. We don't care if we never see a circus canvas

They were greatly needed, and street pedestrians will end ities would only continue the sidewalk on Iron street a little farther west-f'rinstance, enough farther toward the setting sun to take in the store of a certain wealthy grocer whom we have in our mind's eye-the people in this part of the city would have cause for double shuffle rejoicing. It's only a stone's throw from Dr. Cyr's store to the place we have in view.

It was only a small audience that gathered at Winter's hall on Monday evening, to see the Herbert Theatrical troupe in "Rooms to Rent," but that fact didn't operate to prevent the company from doing the play up in grand style, and to the amusement of those who attended. The piece abounds in fun, and the company has the talent required to bring all the hilarity out of it that the author charged it with Herbert's is the best traveling troupe that visits the upper peninsula of Michigan, and if you don't believe us, ask anybody who ever witnessed their performances, and they deserve good houses, but, of course, the good houses are always reserved for the scabs, of which this country is much afflicted.

DURING his recent and somewhat prolonged absence in California, Dr. L. D. Cyr embraced the opportunity of purchasing an extensive stock of pure California wines for the purposes of his drug trade here. These wittes are of every variety known to the trade, and as they were purchased at the vineyards, and from the manufacturers, can be safely relied upon as strictly pure and first-class. Druggists throughout the county may be able to secure a portion of Dr. Cyr's stock. While in San Francisco, the doctor also made selections of Chinese and Japanese fancy goods, most of which he now has in stock. These goods embrace many unique, beautiful and semi-useful articles for parlor decorations and adornment, and ladies should not fail to see them. Anything novel in household ornament is always in good taste

MR. COVERT, station agent at Eagle Wills, is in the habit of banging his watch on a nail in his office, but he won't do so any more, for two and second, if he gets one again he will not be careless. A straggler from the Great Roman Hippodrome, walking from Marquette to Negaunce, stepped into the station on Tuesday morning, and in the absence of the agent took the watch and went on to join the gang. Covert came back and missed his watch, and Mr. Read, who was just about to start for Negaunee, hurried his movements and overtook the fellow at Carp hill. Mr. Read called a halt, but the tramp didn't seem inclined to mind, starting on a run over the hill. Mr. Read went after him and overtook him before he had reached the limits of Negaunee. The man was searched on the spot, and identified as the one who had last occupied the station. He was arraigned before a justice of the peace, but no evidence could be educed to convict him, and ho was discharged. The man probably dropped the watch on the run.

THE insurance adjusters, sent on to adjust the losses sustained by policy holders in the Morse Bros. fire of one week ago, were in the city early in the week. Morse Bros. & Co., who had insurance to the amount of $4,000, divided between the Imperial and Northern, of London and Edinburgh, and the North British and Merchants' insurance companies, will receive (or already have) $3,200, and this amount is considered by them to be a fair and equitable allowance for their loss. Mr. Hinsdale, who had were but slightly damaged, has received a check for $250. His insurance was in the Traders' insurance company, and the amount allowed him is perfectly satisfactory. Much credit for the prompt allowance of these claims is due to Mr. Geo. R. Persons, of the Adam's local agency, who went about the work of adjustment before the fire was quenched.

AMERICAN AND EUROPEAN Doc-TORS.—It is said by some of the most celebrated physicians in Europe and America that the German Hop Bitters are one of the best remedies in use.

In its Vulcan notes the Reporter gives particulars of the death of a miner named John Coombs, a pit boss at No. 2 pit of the East Vulcan, the Saturday night of week before last. He was working on the night shift, and fell from the bottom, when it had reached a distance of some ninety feet from the floor of the pit. When taken up, his body was found to be norribly mangled, and life was extinct. The remains were interred at Quinnesec the Monday following his death.

FLORENCE.-Pretty soon the News will be printed on a power press, to be run by steam, and the office is also receiving additions of machinery and material in its job department. ermine-robed editor of that enterprising sheet is bound that the new county seat shall have a big printing office to advertise its greatness. The writer trusts that the expense incan recall instances of where a similar confidence in the generous public-spiritedness of the community that was benefited proved to be sadly misplaced. As a rule it is better to get the business first, and the facilities when their need is apparent. However, the News has our best wishes for the success of its ven-

Crystal Falls is spreading itself over considerable ground, a large number of houses being in process of construction. A regular passenger train is run there daily now.

Deer are pientiful in the woods at the present time. As the writer was riding up to Crystal Falls, during the early part of the week, a noble buck stood on an elevation within easy rifie shot, as unconcerned as you please, feeding, and occasionally gazing at us with a look of wonderment. As we progressed further into the depths of the illimitable forest, another stood within easy pistol shot, a short distance, away from the road. They were very tempting, but the absence of aggressive weapons rendered the beautiful creatures perfectly safe.

loading a vessel with ore at that point is recorded by the Port. On Wednesday of last week the Granger took on 750 tons in one hour and twenty minutes-a feat illustrating the perfection of the appliances for handling the products of our mines in this section.

The Ludington house is undergoing repairs.

Its recent scorching injured the building $850 worth, and the furniture to the extent of $595. according to the estimate of the insurance adjuster-amounts which, the Port says, "do not cover the whole loss, but are tolerably liberal as insurance awards."

A workman on the pile driver named Louis Lamphre, lost his left hand the other day by getting it caught in the iron stanch block of the machine. It was mangled so as to necessitate amputation above the wrist.

On Wednesday of last week George Raymond, a brakeman on Tom. Tormley's train, met with a frightful death near Waucedah on the branch road. While attempting to pass from the engine back over the cars, the train being in motion, he missed his footing and fell to the track. Thirty-seven cars passed over his body, cutting it into fragments. He had but recently gone into the railway company's service, and came from Lowell, Mass., where starter:

It's pretty early in the season for fish stories, but the Port opens out with this one, for a

The largest catch of fish which has been reported to us was one made by Captain Lutz one day during the past week. From 24 gill nets, at one lift, the nets having been fishing one day only, he took a catch which, after rejecting all spoiled or doubtful fish (to the extent, probably, of 500 pounds) weighed out, to the purchaser here, 4,200 pounds of dressed fish. Has any one a better showing? If so, Capt. Lutz will try again. He has had big fishing all the season, his catch never running below and seldom as low as 2,000 pounds a day. His ground is some 16 miles south of here, in Green Bay.

That cunning critter, the manager of the Macready dramatic company, got himself in a scrape at Escanaba by trying to be too too utto take out a license, attempting to save the money by an arrangement with the lessee of the hall, but before he could get away next morning he was arrested for violation of the On the trial the authorities failed to prove that he had played without a license-it would be hard to prove that his company plays at all, in the dramatic sense of the word-and he escaped without being mulcted in a fine. Still the delay and expense entailed was punishment enough, and amounted to several times what the license would have cost. The fellow won't gather much wealth in this upper country, but he will leave it wiser, if not richer,

The Port announces that the Menominee Mining company will furnish the power to run the pump for the system of water works at Florence. Won't it be rather a long puil, colonei, from the nearest location of that corporation to Florence? If we read the News aright, the furnace company at Florence is the concern that will lift the needed water for the Spring Goods

Passenger boats are doing a good business for this season of the year, the Canadian boats particularly, being crowded with emigrants.

Over two hundred recruits to the mounted police of Canada went past to Manitoba on the Ontario. They were as fine looking, hearty a set of young men as could be found anywhere. Wm. C. Knox, who lives near the Sault, has been awarded the contract for carrying the daily mail, to go into effect June 20. Bush fires have been making it hot for setlers in the timber on both sides of the river. The smoke arising from them has been se dense that vessels have found it difficult to

There was quite a happy and rather remarkable coincidence at the locks on Thurday afternoon. In 1855, when the state locks were first opened, the steamer Illinois, commanded by captain John Frazer, was the first boat to pass through the locks. The first schooner that went through was the E. K. Roberts, J. H. Andrews being captain. The Manhattan, commanded by Capt. John Spalding, was the first steamer to pass down at the same time. All of these commanders met at the locks Thursday, Capt. Andrews as commander of the schooner Nellie Redington, Capt. Frazer as pilot of the steamer St. Magnus, and Capt. Spalding as one of the superintendents of the locks. It was a pleasant meeting all around, and many were the reminiscences it called up. mishaps have thus occurred.

Their game is to take your measure—and then take your money for ready-made goods procured from an outside ready-made clothing house, not tailoring establishment. So with a certain class of business men, who like to play second fiddle so well that they are willing to make it public. When merchants are obliged to sail under false colors truth is a bugbear to them; and when such make high-sounding statements and promises the public should remember from whence these come.
