QUEEN VICTORIA ON HER DEATH BED.

Sinking Rapidly at 9 O'Clock, London Time, This Morning, With No Hope of Recovery.

PARALYSIS ATTACKS THE AGED BRITISH SOVEREIGN.

She Suffers a Sudden Collapse and, in a Comatose Condition and Beyond the Aid of Medical Skill, Is Gradually Passing Away.

ROYAL FAMILY GATHER IN THE DEATH CHAMBER.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Monday, Jan. 21.—7:50 a. m.—The queen is still alive, but all hopes are gone.

STORY OF THE BULLETINS.
Osborne House, Isle of Wight, Monday, Jan. 21.—12:30 a. m.—An official bulletin issued at midnight says the queen's condition last (Sunday) evening became more serious, with increasing weakness and diminishment of the power of taking nourishment.

Cowes, Monday, Jan. 21.—2 a. m.—Her majesty's physicians hope she may rally by five this (Monday) morning. If she does, it is expected she will live through; if not, all hope will be abandoned.

London, Monday, Jan. 21.—2:30 a. m.—The press associations have received the following dispatch: "Cowes, Monday, Jan. 21.—2 a. m.—The queen is in a comatose condition and is regarded as passing away."

Cowes, Monday, Jan. 21.—3 a. m.—The worst is expected at any moment. The members of the royal family here are now assembled in the queen's bedchamber.

Cowes, Monday, Jan. 21.—3:45 a. m.—The queen still lives. There is no change in her condition.

Cowes, Monday, Jan. 21.—5 a. m.—The members of the royal family are still gathered in the room adjoining the queen's bedchamber. Her majesty is unconscious and the end is expected at any moment. The rector of Whippingham was summoned after midnight and has just arrived in one of the queen's carriages.

London, Monday, Jan. 21.—8:25 a. m.—A special train left Victoria station for Osborne at 8 o'clock this morning with Emperor William, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York and the Duke of Connaught aboard.

SUFFERS A SUDDEN COLLAPSE.
TURN FOR THE WORSE IN THE QUEEN'S CONDITION AT 10 O'CLOCK SUNDAY EVENING.

Cowes, Monday, Jan. 21.—12:15 a. m.—Queen Victoria suffers a collapse or what the physicians feared would be an increase of the paralytic symptoms. It is understood that the physicians have resorted to artificial methods to prolong life such as are used only in extreme cases.

PARALYSIS SPREADS.
The Associated Press learns that the paralysis is evident in the face, one side of which appears to have lost all nerve and muscular power. At 6 o'clock last evening the malady had not reached the vital organs although it had naturally cost almost all power of speech. What is so much feared is that the brain might be attacked.

Keenly sensitive to her affliction and appearance, the queen has absolutely refused to see any one but the nurses and doctors. It is understood the Prince of Wales was the only exception to this rule and that his interview with the queen lasted but a few moments. Hence the exact nature of the malady is known only to a very few; it is the royal wish that the public shall not be informed of the existence of paralysis.

Arrangements have been made with a local undertaker to have all the preliminaries to the burial ready in case of emergency. So far as her immediate safety is concerned, her majesty's extreme weakness causes almost more alarm than the paralysis. Much difficulty has been experienced in administering nourishment for she appears quite unable to masticate. To this weakness are probably due the long spells of unconsciousness through which she has been passing, although it is almost impossible to distinguish these from the insidious encroachments of the paralysis.

ILLNESS LONG HIDDEN.
For more than a week the court at Marlborough house as well as at other places where bulletins were posted. Crowds assembled to witness the arrival of Emperor William. Apart from such incidents, however, the customary quiet of the London Sunday was not disturbed.

LEOPOLD ON THE WAY.
The most alarming reports of the day came in the form of telegrams from the Princess of Wales, at Osborne house. The coming of Emperor William and the news that King Leopold of Belgium was about starting for London inspired fear that death was at hand. On the other hand, the fact that the Prince of Wales was able to leave Osborne house had an encouraging effect.

When the prince arrived at the station in London at 4 o'clock, with Sir Francis Knollys attending, several hundred people were there to greet him. But there was no demonstration beyond a respectful raising of hats. The Earl of Clarendon and the Earl of Pembroke received the prince. When they inquired regarding the queen's condition, he replied, "You see they have let me come away."

It is now learned, however, that later, immediately after the collapse of the queen at 10 o'clock last evening a message was sent to London summoning the Prince of Wales and Emperor William. The Prince of Wales was in such condition of health that it was utterly impossible for him to leave London at that hour, but it is hoped he will start for Osborne house at eight this morning.

KAISER COMES ON MAIL BOAT.
The government had made arrangements to send the fast cruiser Minerva to bring Emperor William, but he left on the mail packet before he learned of the arrangements, accompanied by the Duke of Connaught. The steamer had a rough passage and on entering Speersness harbor she went by the warships without any ceremony. Admiral Kennedy and Count Von Mirbach, the latter of the German embassy, received the emperor and escorted him to a special waiting room.

Two hours before his majesty's train was due in London the people began to gather about the Charing Cross station. The crowd included not only the usual hangers on, but many fashionable people and hundreds of Germans, all anxious to see the emperor on his first appearance in London for years. The throng became so large that the railroad authorities erected wooden barriers and hundreds of the tallest police of the metropolitan force, with squads of mounted men, lined up the people on the streets, forming a lane for two blocks to Nelson's monument in Trafalgar Square. Through this lane moved the procession of royal carriages.

The carriages entered the railway station and drew up near the track. The Prince of Wales arrived just before the train entered the station, which was at 6:20 p. m. The Duke of York, Prince Christian, Prince Albert of Schleswig-Holstein and Prince Arthur of Connaught completed the group of royal personages.

EXCHANGE KISSES.
Emperor William stepped out of the saloon car, wearing a traveling suit. He saluted the Prince of Wales by kissing him on both cheeks and the prince returned a similar salutation. The Kaiser then embraced the Duke of York and shook hands with the others. The people who looked on as the carriages drove off uncovered their hands. No cheers broke the mournful silence. The crowd in the vicinity of Buckingham palace maintained the same demeanor when the emperor and prince entered the grounds.

At 10 o'clock the Prince of Wales began a conversation with Osborne house, which lasted nearly an hour. As a result of this the emperor and prince decided to start for Osborne this morning. Orders were given that the royal yacht be kept in waiting to convey them to the Isle of Wight.

During the day the members of the diplomatic corps and other notable personages entered their names in the visitors' book at Buckingham palace. Rumors circulated that the Marquis of Salisbury and the Archbishop of Canterbury had been summoned to Osborne house, but they were incorrect.

In the churches of all denominations prayers were offered at the morning services, and at most of them the latest bulletins regarding the queen's condition were read.

A TOUCHING SCENE.
Yesterday at Osborne, hedged around with intense secrecy, began a touching scene. From the palace grounds there drove out a carriage containing a wreath for the tomb of Prince Henry of Battenburg in the little church at Whippingham, ten minutes' ride from the royal residence. Then followed carriages containing the Princess of Wales, the Princess of Battenburg, the Princess Louise and others, all dressed in the deepest black.

The annual memorial service for Prince Henry, always a sad occasion, was more than usually sorrowful, for the shadow of a still greater bereavement was uppermost in all minds. The Princess of Wales and the Princess of Battenburg shed bitterly, and they were scarcely one of these royal heads bent in prayer that did not shake with grief which could not be suppressed.

ANXIOUS DAY IN LONDON.
CROWDS WATCH THE BULLETIN BOARDS AND GREET THE KAISER—PRAYERS FOR HER MAJESTY SAID IN ALL THE CHURCHES

London, Monday, Jan. 21.—3:30 a. m.—Throughout the United Kingdom yesterday was a Sunday of anxiety and suspense. No one in England, outside the circle of the court, knew the condition of the queen or the nature of her disease.

The bulletins threw little light on the universal question whether death was imminent. The London newspapers had not learned that her majesty had suffered a shock of paralysis. The extra editions of the Sunday papers contained no information, outside of the official bulletins, but they were eagerly bought.

There were large gatherings in the vicinity of Buckingham palace and

FEARS FOR WALES.

SERIOUS INDISPOSITION OF THE PRINCE ALARMS LONDON.

London, Monday, Jan. 21.—4 a. m.—In the closing moments of Queen Victoria's life, another grave portent rises, namely, the serious indisposition of the Prince of Wales. So worried, tired and exhausted was he last evening that he could not respond immediately to the summons from Osborne house. The most he could do was to promise he would leave London at 8 o'clock this morning if possible.

ILLINOIS TOWN BURNING.

FIRE AT HENRY BEYOND CONTROL EARLY THIS MORNING.

Peoria, Ills., Monday, Jan. 21.—2:30 a. m.—The town of Henry, Ills., is burning. The fire started at 11 o'clock and is now beyond control. The Peoria department has been wired for assistance, and at 2 o'clock this morning sent one steamer and two hose wagons on a special train.

$30,000 FIRE AT JOLIET.

Joliet, Ills., Jan. 20.—Fire today, originating in the Joliet Home Furniture company's store, caused an estimated loss of $30,000.

BOERS WILL DIE FIGHTING.

RETURNED SURGEON BRINGS GRAVE NEWS FOR BRITISH.

London, Jan. 20.—Dr. George A. Leech of New York, the only American surgeon who served in the British army in South Africa, has arrived in London with the rank of captain in the queen's army. For two months preceding Lord Roberts' capture of Pretoria Dr. Leech had medical charge of 5,000 British prisoners at Waterval camp. His flattering credentials from the commander-in-chief and from Adolbert Hay, British Consul at Pretoria, have earned for him an appreciative welcome in London, where he is the guest of Lord and Lady Dudley.

Speaking of the South African situation, as he left it in December, Dr. Leech today said to the correspondent: "It is difficult to exaggerate the state of terror in which every individual British soldier in the Transvaal dwells. Lord Kitchener's whole army is kept at a high nervous tension and does not have any rest at any stage of the campaign. There is not a 'Tommy Atkins' who goes to sleep at night feeling any certainty that he will wake up alive. The Boers are determined to die fighting. It is safe to say that the war will be ended only when they have been totally crushed."

MILWAUKEE ROAD EXTENSION.

CONTRACT LET FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE IRON MOUNTAIN-QUINNESEC BRANCH.

Milwaukee, Jan. 20.—The Milwaukee road has let the contract for the extension of its main line from Iron Mountain, Mich., to Quinnesec, to McIntosh Brook of this city. The grading work is to begin at once, and the contract calls for the running of trains next May. The Quinnesec extension will leave the main line of the Milwaukee road about one and a half miles north of Iron Mountain and will run just north of Lake Antoinette, tapping all the important business points along the route, which will include the mines of the Antoinette Ore company, the Oliver Mining company, the Pevabic company, the Cuff and Indiana mines, together with the Cundy mine at Quinnesec and the big paper mills at Niagara.

SHOOTS WIFE'S ATTORNEY.

CRIME OF A CLEVELAND MAN ANGERED BECAUSE HIS SPOUSE SOUGHT A DIVORCE.

La Porte, Ind., Jan. 20.—Ellsworth E. Weir, a prominent attorney, was shot and probably fatally injured tonight by Joseph W. Brill of Cleveland. Brill, who had been estranged from his wife, had been advised that Mrs. Brill had consulted the lawyer with reference to the bringing of action for divorce. Brill secured an interview with Weir, during which the former became angry and shot the lawyer.

NEW SCANDAL IN CUBA.

MONEY ORDER CLERK AT THE HAVANA POSTOFFICE CONFESSES TO STEALING $1,300.

Havana, Jan. 20.—John Sheridan, who has been in charge of the money order department of the Havana postoffice, was arrested today and confessed to the theft of $1,300 last month. Sheridan was appointed from Boston.

ELEVEN SAILORS DRWN.

BRITISH SHIP GOES DOWN IN THE ENGLISH CHANNEL.

Cherbourg, Jan. 20.—The British four-masted ship Moel Tryvan has foundered in the channel. Seven of the crew of eighteen were saved, being picked up today while clinging to the keel of one of the ship's boats, and landed here.

OBITUARY.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 20.—A telegram announces the death at Pittsburg today of Dr. Robert Graham, aged seventy-nine, for many years president of Kentucky university.

CATARRH

Catarrh has become such a common disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with.

The blood is quickly contaminated by the foul secretions, and the poison through the general circulation is carried to all parts of the system.

Salves, washes and sprays are unsatisfactory and disappointing, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble.

Mr. F. H. McAllister, of Harrisburg, Ky., writes: "Having been a terrible sufferer from Catarrh, and being now sound and well, the question often put to me is, 'What cured you?' I answer 'I feel it my duty to state that Swift's Specific is the medicine that cured me.'

SSS is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the greatest of all blood medicines and tonics.

If you have Catarrh don't wait until it becomes deep-seated and chronic, but begin at once the use of S. S. S., and send for our book on blood and skin diseases and write our physicians about your case.

NEWETT NOT HIS CHOICE. Lansing dispatches published in the Detroit and other state papers of Saturday morning indicate that a seat on the state tax commission is not for Newett, the governor having finally and definitely informed that aspirant's backers that he would not appoint him.

The upper peninsula delegation which has been persistently and enthusiastically pushing George A. Newett of Ishpeming for tax commissioner for the past fortnight, camped on Governor Bliss' trail with a vengeance this afternoon.

Some of the Newett men are inclined to charge their failure to land their man up to Railroad Commissioner Osborn, whose gubernatorial aspirations have, they declared, gone glimmering.

The Free Press of the same date contained this dispatch concerning the failure of Newett's supporters to influence the governor.

Newett himself declined to make any statement, but one of his friends declared that Chas. Osborn was at the bottom of the opposition, and that the Stephenson-Shelden congressional fight was cutting a big figure in the mess.

The fight for and against Newett was one of the bitterest political battles that the upper peninsula has had for a long time.

Osborn's opposition to Newett dates back to the Grand Rapids convention, when he was a candidate for governor.

A FOOLISH PROPOSITION. A bill has been introduced by Senator Helme providing for the exemption from taxation of personal property on farms which is actually used in farming operations.

There is no more reason that we can see for exempting this class of farm property than there would be for exempting the machinery and appliances which are used in the operation of a mine, a lumbering plant, a factory, or in getting out a newspaper.

The farmers of Michigan are abundantly able to pay their share of the taxes, and ought to be satisfied if they are not asked to pay more than their just proportion.

A "IRIDESCENT DREAM." A good many people in this country are beginning to believe that purity in politics is an "iridescent dream" which theorists may delude themselves with, but which can never be realized.

Senator Quay has long been prominent in politics, and his theory in politics has ever been that what ever means were necessary to win success were legitimate.

In the Pennsylvania contest, while Quay represented elements in politics that good citizenship condemns, it cannot be said that those who were opposed to him represented ideals any higher or more edifying.

A leading British newspaper, the Mail of London, sounds a note of alarm on account of the broad American manufacturers of furniture are making on the British furniture trade.

THE IRON TRADE REVIEW FOR LAST WEEK has this resume of iron market conditions and prospects:

"Think of Ease But Work On." If your blood is impure you cannot even "think of ease." The Blood is the greatest sustainer of the body and when you make it pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla you have the perfect health which even hard work becomes easy.

will plan for a long idleness. In the past week there have been considerable sales of Bessemer iron, prices ranging from $125 to $134.90 at Pittsburgh, and when the deliveries are made in the next two months stocks in the valleys will be very materially reduced.

The January term of the circuit court convenes this morning. The session promises to be of unusual interest, owing to the several important criminal cases on the docket.

The next case on the docket is that of Louis LaFortune, who is "up" for larceny. He is the former janitor of the Miller store and made the confession that impugned St. John and Silberman, former clerks, in the alleged conspiracy to burn the place for the alleged purpose of covering the thefts of goods.

Kansas may not be a southern state geographically, but it has acquired the southern taste for roasting colored men. The recent exhibition of barbarity in this form given in that state has not been surpassed in any state of the south.

Rev. Father Francis Clement Kelley, chaplain in the late war, will be greeted by a large audience at the Houghton Armory Opera House tomorrow evening.

A PROMINENT CHICAGO WOMAN SPEAKS. Prof. Roxa Tyler, of Chicago, vice-president Illinois Woman's Alliance, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, said: "I suffered with a severe cold this winter which threatened to run into pneumonia."

COPPER COUNTRY NEWS.

CIRCUIT COURT CONVENES TODAY. IMPORTANT CRIMINAL CASES ON THE DOCKET WILL MAKE THE TERM INTERESTING.

The January term of the circuit court convenes this morning. The session promises to be of unusual interest, owing to the several important criminal cases on the docket.

The next case on the docket is that of Louis LaFortune, who is "up" for larceny. BON AMI GOES ASHORE.

The steamer Bon Ami, well-known at Portage Lake, arrived at Duluth Saturday morning on her last trip this winter after a thrilling experience that the passengers—nearly fifty—and the crew did not recall.

The boat was steaming toward port from a trip down the north shore, when early in the morning she ran aground about two miles south of the canal on Minnesota point.

While the boat was aground the situation was anything but a pleasing one. There was a dead swell running and the boat pitched and tossed. When she endeavored to back up she struck and when she endeavored to go forward she struck.

TO FORM DEBATING SOCIETY. The members of the Y. M. C. A. Hancock, will meet at the association rooms tomorrow night for the purpose of organizing a literary and debating society.

COPPERDROM BREVITIES. The Mining Journal, M. W. Young, representative, has established an office in one of H. J. Stevens' suite of rooms on the second floor of the Dea (postoffice) block, Hancock.

SOME GOOD ENTERTAINMENTS BOOKED FOR COPPERDROM. The Frank E. Long stock company will play at the Calumet opera house all this week.

COMING ATTRACTIONS. The great Hermann, magician and conjurer, will give an entertainment at the Houghton Armory Opera House the early part of next month.

Sault Ste. Marie.

A party of Soo curlers departed on the Soo line train last evening to attend the annual bonspiel of the Northwestern association, which will occur at St. Paul from the 21st to the 26th inclusive.

It is expected that the council will appoint a comptroller tonight to fill the vacancy occasioned by the recent resignation of Mr. Metzger.

Members of old Company G, veterans of the late war with Spain, will hold their reunion in Music Hall tonight. There will be a grand banquet, a talking over of experience and a forming of the Delta Hardware company.

LOCK CITY NOTES. Joseph Ripley returned Saturday from Detroit. Chas. and Mayor J. W. Wood are both grip sufferers.

W. G. Rice of Houghton left for a short business trip to Chicago yesterday. George S. North and wife of Hancock have returned home from a Chicago visit.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Henry Hosking was held from the Grace Methodist church, Houghton, yesterday afternoon. Rev. L. N. Moon conducted the services.

Both the Portage Lake ice rinks were open to the public yesterday afternoon and many of the young people took advantage of the occasion.

THE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY is now ready to sell tickets at the rate of fifty cents for $2.50. There is no reduction in price, and the only advantage to the public is the greater convenience of the tickets over that of paying cash fares.

THAT THROBBING HEADACHE. Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches.

BYRCE AN EASY WINNER.

A MILE EVIDENTLY TOO MUCH FOR SKATER PATTISON TO GO.

Although Pattison lost the race to Bryce at the Twin City ice rink Saturday night, it was evident that he was not in proper condition for a mile exhibition. Pattison for the first three laps was well in the lead, when he apparently gave up and Bryce won easily. The latter was challenged at the end of the race for a half-mile race. Bryce at first wanted the distance for a mile, but finally accepted the challenge as offered. The race will be pulled off at the Twin City ice rink Saturday, Feb. 2. The spectators were very much dissatisfied with the result of Saturday night's race. It was plainly evident that Pattison is a speedy skater for short distances only, but his "wind" does not hold out for a mile race, as he freely admitted.

CAMERON DEFEATS SYNDER.

"Art" Synder of Hancock was defeated by Alex. Cameron of Calumet in the skating race at the Palace ice rink Saturday night. The contest was close for the most part until near the last, when the strength of the Hancock lad gave way.

The manager of the Twin City ice rink, Houghton, is receiving entries for the three-day race which will commence Thursday evening and continue Friday and Saturday nights. A number have already signed to take part and it looks as if the novel contest will be a great success.

HOCKEY MEETING CALLED.

DELEGATES FROM THE VARIOUS TEAMS MEET WEDNESDAY TO ORGANIZE A LEAGUE.

Wednesday night at the office of Dr. R. B. Harkness of Houghton, delegates from the several hockey teams of copper country met to discuss plans and arrangements for the formation of the new hockey league. The Calumet, Laurium, Dollar Bay, Michigan College of Mines, Portage Lake and the new Hancock teams will be represented—six organizations that will make an admirable association. It is thought that the officers and committee to look after the preparations and arrange a schedule of games, will be chosen at the initial meeting. The project is being pushed by the Houghton men and on that account they will probably be an important factor in the preliminary steps at least in the new organization. The rink that will be utilized for the contests are the Palace on the Hancock side of Portage Lake and the two at Laurium. Everything is favorable for the league and nothing should stand in the way of its formation.

HANCOCK GETTING INTO TRIM.

Hancock, too, now has a hockey team. It was organized recently and is composed of some good men. A number of them are old players and fast on the ice. The other members of the team are promising and their practice will play the game in creditable shape. The boys do not wish to be known as the Hancock Juniors, but simply as the Hancock Hockey seven, the latter name being decided upon yesterday. Practice at the Palace rink has already commenced and the players are getting into the game with earnestness. They have secured the services of a good coach, who, it is thought, will soon bring the team into good playing form. It was said yesterday that the first match would probably be played with the Calumet hockey seven but nothing definite is stated. The candidates for positions on the seven are Ed McCarthy, Will Des Rochers, John Delaney, Patrick Bogan, Gene Renaud, Will Hull, John Rosenblatt and Ed Pinter. Mr. McCarthy has been appointed manager and Mr. Des Rochers coach. The proposed hockey league and will have a representative at the meeting on Wednesday evening.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The hockey contest which was to have been played at a Lake Linden rink between the Portage Lake and Dollar Bay sevens Friday night has been postponed. The Dollar Bay players are not prepared as yet to put up as fast a contest as they desire, as they have neglected steady practice. They wish to put in a little more time in handling the puck before the match with Portage Lake is played. The Dollar Bay seven, if it is not in shape for the contest, can hardly be blamed for not wanting to play on the coming Friday night. The game when it is played will be to settle the superiority of the two teams. The last contest was a tie—one to one. The Dollar Bay seven at present claims the hockey championship of the county. It is anxious to retain the title and to that end has postponed the deciding match with Portage Lake until the players are in better condition.

The proposed game with the hockey team at Duluth, spoken of in a recent issue, is not being lost sight of by the Portage Lake seven and it is not at all unlikely that a game will be arranged. The Portage Lake boys are exceedingly anxious that the match be pulled off. It is not known as yet whether the contest would be played at the Palace ice rink or at Duluth. The Portage Lake men would willingly go to the Zenith City, as they are anxious to show the people of that city how hockey should be played.

The Michigan College of Mines students who will organize a hockey seven as soon as the candidates are tested for their playing ability are getting their men out for practice and promises are favorable for a fast aggregation. The boys are being coached by one who is well "up" in hockey. As soon as they are in shape a match will be arranged, probably with the Portage Lake seven.

The next game of hockey to be played at the Palace ice rink, Hancock, will be between the sevens of Laurium and Portage Lake on Friday night, Feb. 1. This game was to have been played at Laurium, but owing to some misunderstanding the Laurium team decided to come to Portage Lake. The arrangement suits the Portage Lake seven all right and it will endeavor to put up its usual good game on that night. The Laurium boys have not played much hockey this season, but are said to be in condition for a fast game.

RETURN INDOOR BASEBALL GAME.

HOUGHTON WILL PLAY CALUMET A WEEK FROM TONIGHT.

The Houghton Light Infantry indoor baseball nine will meet the Calumet Rivals in a return game at Calumet one week from tonight. The Rivals were recently badly defeated by the Houghton boys and the former will try to retrieve the lost laurels. Manager Hendrickson will arrange a game with the Calumet Light Guards for a near date.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR LEAGUE.

It has been rumored of late that a league to be made up of the indoor baseball teams of the copper country will soon be launched. The Houghton boys have, since the season opened, been in favor of the proposed organization and it is stated upon reliable authority that they will soon take steps to form the league. The clubs that will be included are those of the Calumet Rivals, the Calumet Clerks, the Calumet Light Guards, the Lake Lindens and the Houghton Light Infantry Athletic association. The Houghton players are very anxious to see the project pushed to a successful end, as they are of the opinion that more interest in the game would prevail throughout copper country if such an organization were formed. A regular schedule would be arranged. People interested would then know what contests were to take place and would be enthusiastic over the standing of the various teams from time to time. It is also thought that the league would do much to make the game as fast as it should be, as the boys would feel more like getting down to good hard practice and would take some pride in their standing in the league. It is hoped that the additional enthusiasts of indoor baseball that the project will not fall through. The large number of spectators that witnessed the last contest in Houghton is taken as a sure sign that the league games would meet with great success in Houghton.

A "GYM" FOR THE LADIES.

A class in physical culture for ladies, to be conducted at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium at Hancock, is being organized by Mrs. Isabel Cornell of Chicago. The class will meet two afternoons of the week—Wednesday and Friday—from 2 to 4 o'clock. Mrs. Cornell already has a dozen or more young ladies enrolled and expects to give the first lesson Wednesday. She is thoroughly experienced in the Delsarte system, which she will use. It is expected that the class will be a great success, as the ladies are very enthusiastic about it.

VACATIONS FOR THE TEACHERS.

ALL THOSE WHO WISH TO ATTEND THE ESCANABA MEETING GIVEN LEAVE TO DO SO.

Copper country teachers are taking considerable interest in the coming fourth annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Teachers' association which will be held at Escanaba Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. For some time past R. D. Ewing, superintendent of the Escanaba schools, has been exerting himself to arouse the proper interest among the teachers of the peninsula and it seems that his efforts are being rewarded. A good delegation from the upper peninsula, including several copper country teachers, will be present at the convention. Those of the teachers from this region who wish to attend the meeting will gladly be given the two days' vacation required, and one thing that ought to have an encouragement to attendance is the low rates on all railroads that will apply. Some of the most prominent figures in the Northwest on educational matters will be present and will be heard on questions of the day that are of value to the energetic and progressive teacher. The state superintendent of schools for Wisconsin, L. D. Harvey, and Dr. Leonard, who is at the head of the Michigan State Normal schools, will address the teachers. Mr. Harvey is as familiar with the Michigan school situation as there is another school anywhere which can place its graduates in responsible and lucrative berths as rapidly as they are turned out. It is certain that the demand for graduates to enter at once into the practice of the profession for which they have prepared themselves will be greatly facilitated by the work at the institution and contribute to the usefulness and reputation of the college. At present the school is overcrowded and unless the buildings are erected that condition will grow exceedingly burdensome on the faculty and officers who are responsible for the well-being of the institution. The per capita cost of the instruction of the students is decreasing from year to year, which shows careful management. The buildings which will be erected if the appropriation is granted will give the college plenty of room for the students and will give them a greater satisfaction to every one concerned. All comers will then be received with open arms and will receive a technical education that cannot be surpassed in any institution in the country.

DRUMMERS COMING BACK.

Traveling men are becoming more and more numerous in the copper country every day. Shortly before Christmas the usual number that visit copper country was lessened considerably owing to a general sickness in the buying line on the part of the merchants. It is now becoming noticeable that the knights of the road are being in this direction again. Nevertheless the fact does not necessarily mean that business is rushing, for it has yet to pick up to a big extent. It is hoped by many that the recent storm will have a tendency to help the matter of buying and selling along. Up to the present, however, business has been slow—for the copper country—and the clerks in the various stores are generally engaged in overhauling the stocks and getting them in shape for the expected rush during the months that are to follow. The traveling men, however, are taking a good many orders even if local business is not good. Merchants are ordering goods to restock their stores, and many of the large bills that are secured by traveling men are to be shipped by the first boats at the opening of navigation.

IS THE BEST IN THE LAND.

COLLEGE OF MINES DESERVES THE APPROPRIATION AND IT IS HOPED THE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE WILL SEE IT THAT WAY.

The members of the board of control and the faculty of the Michigan College of Mines, Houghton, anticipate and have every reason to believe that the ten members of the legislative committee—five representatives and five senators—who will visit the college next week will report favorably upon the needs of the institution and will ask the legislature to grant the $195,750 asked for.

The members of the committee, who will arrive in Houghton next Saturday, will remain in the village until a good understanding of the college in detail is secured. To that end the faculty of the institution, headed by President McNair, and the board of control will carefully outline the reasons why it is necessary for the appropriation of the amount required.

MONEY BADLY NEEDED.

It is felt important to the state at large that its people should thoroughly understand the urgency of the need which exists for the appropriation of the sum of money recommended, and it is certain that every influence possible will be exerted to the end that $195,750 be appropriated and not a fraction thereof. Without the amount the plans of the college for much needed improvements will be decidedly upset.

If the appropriation is secured, as it is thought it will be, the $195,750 will be divided and spent as follows: For current expenses, $86,650—$43,325 for each of the fiscal years of 1901-1902 and $43,325 for 1902-1903. For additional buildings and equipment. The improvements that are now quite essential to the welfare of the college are in the way of a mining engineering building, a stamp mill, a chemical building and a blacksmith shop, with a complete equipment for each. It is also necessary to enlarge the heating plant and make additions to the electrical engineering laboratory. When these improvements are made the college will stand more prominently in a class by itself and will be the means of receiving even more renowned attention. It is hoped that the additional buildings have been asked before, but were refused, probably owing to the lack of an understanding of the needs of the college by the state legislature.

That body, however, has now made arrangements for a thorough investigation of the needs and the developments which will not doubt be granted when the special committee submits, as anticipated, its favorable report.

BEST OF ITS CLASS.

The Michigan College of Mines has already won the right to be ranked as the best technical institution in the country. Although founded only fourteen years ago, it now has what may be termed only one rival among mining colleges, and that one is across the pond. The school has had the invaluable aid of able mining men and strong and energetic tutors. The former have freely given their time and effort without receiving any remuneration in the desire to see the school made what it is—the leader of its class in this country. The tutors of the institution are of the highest caliber. President F. W. McNair, Dr. Koenig, and Professor Seaman, the geologist, by their marked ability in their respective lines of effort have done much to place the college where it stands today.

The school continues to distinguish itself in the field of mining. The number of 140 students, many of whom are from foreign countries. The enrollment is steadily increasing, a gratifying fact in this connection being the increase in attendance of students from other states. The personnel of the students is of a high class. The new structure would greatly facilitate the more efficient and valuable than ever before. This fact is showing up materially in the many requests for its graduates from mines not only in America but abroad. Most of the young men are offered positions before they have finished their course, and that applications to the college for mining engineers, chemists and superintendents are not filled owing to lack of material. The mere name of the Michigan College of Mines is usually sufficient to secure a graduate an immediate position and it is doubtful if there is another school anywhere which can place its graduates in responsible and lucrative berths as rapidly as they are turned out. It is certain that the demand for graduates to enter at once into the practice of the profession for which they have prepared themselves will be greatly facilitated by the work at the institution and contribute to the usefulness and reputation of the college. At present the school is overcrowded and unless the buildings are erected that condition will grow exceedingly burdensome on the faculty and officers who are responsible for the well-being of the institution. The per capita cost of the instruction of the students is decreasing from year to year, which shows careful management. The buildings which will be erected if the appropriation is granted will give the college plenty of room for the students and will give them a greater satisfaction to every one concerned. All comers will then be received with open arms and will receive a technical education that cannot be surpassed in any institution in the country.

READY FOR THE SOLONS' VISIT.

The legislators who will soon visit the college will hold conferences regarding the needs of the institution and the board of control may be ready any day, says the Boston Financial News.

The Franklin mill is now turning out of the work the students are doing by having the gentlemen of the committee visit the classes and laboratories. Mr. McNair will present comparison between the amount of taxes that are paid by Houghton and other upper peninsula counties to the state and the amounts appropriated to the institution. He will also show a comparison between the cost per capita of education at the Michigan College of Mines and at other schools of similar nature in the country. The figures will be convincing and will do much toward making the situation of the present needs of the college understood by the members of the state legislature.

While in Houghton the visitors will be entertained by some of the most prominent citizens. The important mines of the county will be visited, which will no doubt give the legislators a greater insight in their mission to the copper country.

MINING DEAL NOT YET CLOSED.

NEGOTIATIONS BY THE CALUMET & HECLA FOR WISCONSIN COPPER LANDS STILL PENDING IT IS STATED.

While it has been known for some time that negotiations have been under way between the Calumet & Hecla Copper Mining company and Frederick Weyerhaeuser and associates for the controlling interest in about 100,000 acres of copper lands in Douglas county, Wis., says the Duluth Herald, the deal which is announced (published in Saturday's Mining Journal) is said to be premature. If the Calumet & Hecla people go into the deal they will undoubtedly put up the money to push development work, but they will first be convinced that the results will repay them for the money expended. It is denied that the deal has yet been closed.

CREDITED AT SUPERIOR.

The Superior representative of the Duluth News-Tribune sends the following to his paper regarding the reported mining deal:

"The report which was circulated in Duluth to the effect that the Calumet & Hecla people had interested themselves in the copper range in this county and would spend $2,000,000 in developmental and exploratory work was denied in some quarters here yesterday, but on the other hand there are people who claim to know that plans are now being completed which will prove of great interest to people generally, and especially to those interested in copper lands in Douglas county.

"During the past few months several assays have been made on the rock from the Chippewa copper mine, and the results have been surprising. It has been ascertained, through these assays, that there is gold in paying quantities, running as high as $33 per ton, while nickel and silver are also found in considerable quantities aside from the copper which has been explored ever since the range was explored fifty years ago.

"The deal which undoubtedly started the rumor in Duluth was the purchase last spring by the Chippewa Mining company of 1,200 acres adjoining its property and which has been added to the assets of the company. The deal was kept very quiet, but Secretary Woodward was here last fall and made another payment of $5,000 on the contract, and the balance will be met as it falls due.

"Work has been pushed forward as speedily as possible and at the present time it is thought that a full-fledged mine is in existence in Douglas county, and those who have been on the inside have been purchasing stock as quietly as possible. There is one thing which seems absolutely assured, and that is that the developments will take place within the next few months which will prove of material value to the county and the company. A stamp mill will be erected early this spring at the Chippewa mine and then the exact value of all the ore in the range will be determined instead of depending on samples taken from the various shafts and at different places, as has been done in the past.

"Considerable speculation was caused by the visit of Secretary Woodward last fall, inasmuch as he maintained complete silence as to what the company was doing. His sole statement was that a stamp mill would be erected in the spring. However, after he had returned east it was ascertained that Mr. Woodward had been here to make another payment on the lands purchased by the company, and that the assays were showing gold in large quantities. The officials of the company visited the various newspapers and asked that nothing be said at that time as it might work to the disadvantage of the company. In consequence, the whole thing was kept secret until yesterday, when the developments will take place within the next few months which will prove of material value to the county and the company. A stamp mill will be erected early this spring at the Chippewa mine and then the exact value of all the ore in the range will be determined instead of depending on samples taken from the various shafts and at different places, as has been done in the past.

"No work is being done at present at any of the mines in the county with the exception of the Chippewa, as the various companies have been handicapped by lack of funds, but if developments bring expected results, there will be such a boom in Douglas county mining lands as has never been seen."

FRANKLIN.

Friends of Franklin Mining figure that the company will be able to earn and pay a dividend not later than next year. The sale of the 20,000 shares of treasury stock at $15, which is now going on, will clear the company of all present indebtedness and put it in a position to devote all its earnings that the management does not think it advisable to use for an extension of developments into dividends.

The Franklin is at present working three different mines, the old Franklin; the Franklin Junior, on the Peabody or Quincy lode, and the mine recently opened on the old Albany & Boston conglomerate. To these the management hopes to soon add another through opening up the West lode, a formation recently discovered and opened quite extensively by the Quincy mine, which adjoins the old Franklin. Crosscuts are now being driven to intersect this lode, and news that the results are quiet as possible. Meanwhile, the Rhode Island management—which is practically identical with the Quincy—is pushing west to find the same lode. At the Lake this is taken nearly 200 tons of mineral monthly, which runs about 80 per cent fine copper. A third head of stamps will soon go into commission at the mill, and should bring the Franklin's annual product of fine copper up to about 5,000,000 pounds. If this copper costs as high as 10 cents it will still net the company a profit of approximately $3.50 per share, provided, of course, that it is sold in a 17-cent copper market.

It is stated that a large portion of the new Franklin stock has already been subscribed for, a number of cheques having been received in the first mail Monday morning. Though the stock sold down to a fraction above 16, rights on, yesterday, there was an excellent demand for the rights, at from 20 to as high as 30 cents.

NOT A BEARISH FACTOR.

A hitherto overlooked aspect of the new telephone, submarine and land, made possible by the invention of Professor Michael I. Pupin of Columbia university is the possible effect it may have on copper values. Professor Pupin's patent contemplates a radical departure in the existing mode of telephony by the use of steel wire as a core, not for conduction, but its employment and other features of his invention permit a very great reduction in the size and weight of the copper conduction wires.

For instance, the weight of copper used in a telephone line between New York and Chicago is now 49 pounds a mile; but a line built according to Professor Pupin's plan would require only 180 pounds of copper wire to the mile. Here is a tremendous falling off in the consumption per mile of copper for telephone purposes and as the use of the telephone is regarded as sure of vast expansion in the future, it would seem that copper values might receive a blow.

Professor Pupin himself, however, considers this certain immense extension of the telephone as the very reason why there will be no decline in copper, not for conduction, but its employment and other features of his invention permit a very great reduction in the size and weight of the copper conduction wires.

COPPER GOSSIP.

Copper Range has become a clearing house stock at Boston.

Talk concerning Winona is becoming bullish at Boston because of the good reports from the property.

"The copper share situation is slowly but surely brightening up," is the way the Boston Journal's financial writer puts it.

And still the signs are all pointing to an early settlement of the Montana copper troubles. But there is a small army of copper shareholders who are weary with the long waiting.—Boston Journal.

The declines in Baltic, Copper Range and Mohawk appeared to be the natural reaction due to profit taking after the heavy buying of the preceding few days. All of them met excellent buying on the declines.—Friday's New England Statesman.

The Lake buying of Copper Range at the present time is coming largely from people who are in a pecuniary excellent position to judge of the property and its future possibilities, says the Boston Journal. Some of the men employed on the property have also bought the stock quite freely of late and put the same away.

It is reported at Boston that the Alton management is negotiating for the purchase of additional territory on the east of the present property, for the purpose of obtaining the outcrop of the Kearsarge lode.

Late private reports from the Lake state that the new West lode at the Quincy continues to open very rich, says The Financial News. Work upon it is being vigorously pushed, but the Quincy people are endeavoring to keep the results as quiet as possible. Meanwhile, the Rhode Island management—which is practically identical with the Quincy—is pushing west to find the same lode. At the Lake this is taken as confirming the very favorable reports made by Quincy miners relative to the new lode.

It is stated that orders have been given to immediately resume sinking in Tamarack's No. 4 shaft, the object being to carry the shaft 500 feet deeper to encounter rich chuffs of copper recently discovered in a drift extended under No. 4 shaft from No. 3 shaft. Several cars of conglomerate rock from No. 5 shaft have been sent to the mill to determine its exact richness.

HOUSE BUILDING BOOM.

IT LIKELY WILL BE IN EVIDENCE AT PORTAGE LAKE THIS COMING SUMMER.

That a boom in real estate and house building will be launched in both Hancock and Houghton during the coming spring and summer is considered a matter of certainty by many who are interested. One gentleman yesterday informed The Mining Journal that the need of a boom in house building was very evident. There is a great dearth of comfortable houses for people to live in. Many new families are moving to Portage Lake and all find the same trouble in house hunting. Most of these families have to take what they can get and many are living in wretched buildings they would not be obliged to. The rents for all houses are exceedingly high and a great deal more, perhaps, than they should be. Scarcity of houses has caused the high rate.

There are several reasons why houses have not been built to any great extent during the past few years. Lumber and other building material have been so high and real estate men and builders did not want to take a risk. But now that new families are moving in continually those interested in the building line are seeing the great need of houses for comfortable homes. There is certain to be a big demand for all the houses that are put up in the coming spring and summer. It is safe to say that nearly all of them would be rented before they are completed, as has been the case in past local building history.

My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters' and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts., guaranteed, at The Stafford Drug Co.

TWO NEW ORE ROADS' PUMORED.

REPORTS OF RAILROAD EXTENSIONS AT HEAD OF LAKE.

Duluth, Jan. 20.—Ashland people are said to be considerably worried over a report that a new iron ore shipping harbor may be established on Lake Superior at the head of the lake, which is now the shipping point for the iron ore. The move is said to be contemplated by the Carnegie interests. Surveyors have been at Hurley, recently, running lines from the place northward to the nearest point on Lake Superior. The thing that is said to be instigating such a move on the part of the iron interests is that they are dissatisfied with the rate deal given them by the Northwestern line, which now handles the ore from around Hurley and Ironwood to the ore docks at Ashland. It is said that the new line would be a shorter haul by rail and would lessen the run of the ore boats that go to Ashland. The Ashlanders are playing a strong card to the effect that no suitable harbor can be found anywhere in the vicinity considered by the building of new docks at another point would be a serious blow to Ashland.

fight to the highest courts of England. Roman Catholics themselves are bitter at Deloit over his action, as the injury it may do in thousands of cases is hard to foretell. All the Protestant churches are to band together to assist Mrs. Deloit. Quebec province has the only marriage law known which allows the church to rule over the civil laws, the latter being forced to conform to the decree of the religious authorities.

LESS DRUNKENNESS IN PHILIPPINES THAN IN THE U. S. DECLARE GENERAL M'ARTHUR.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Statements in the senate during the discussion of the army reorganization bill, reflecting on the condition of the army in the Philippines with regard to drunkenness, aroused Adjutant General Corbin's resentment. He said that the history of inquiry to General MacArthur to which a reply was received today, denying all charges. To this report from Manila General Corbin added some most emphatic words, orally, denouncing the frequent attacks on the force in the Philippines.

LONG'S FIGURES ARE CUT.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 20.—During the day in the house Saturday the naval appropriation bill was reported. It carries $77,016,635, the largest ever reported to the house from the committee on naval affairs. This is $11,865,718 above the bill of last year and $10,229,395 below the estimates submitted by the navy department.

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, Jan. 20.—Prices of stocks broke violently yesterday under a flood of selling orders and the market closed semi-demoralized with the quotations, for the most part, at the lowest. The admitted health of the gold market in Victoria caused uneasiness as to possible bad effects on foreign securities markets which might be reflected here. The bears also circulated reports (afterward shown to be groundless) that President McKinley had had a relapse with the grip and the professional manipulative tactics were manifest in other canards which were put afloat.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, JAN. 20.—The grain markets ruled dull Saturday. Wheat was somewhat steadier on the belief that the liquidation is about over, but closed at 1/2 cent decline on slack outside support. Corn closed a shade higher and oats unchanged. The leading futures ranged:

MAY BE A BLUFF.

It will be remembered that the Carnegie-Oliver company at one time made a proposal to build a new harbor on the north shore of Lake Superior and to build a railroad there and ship ore from the Minnesota range over their own line instead of over the Duluth & Iron Range road. They went so far as to incorporate the road and had a party of surveyors out running lines, etc. Interviews were given out by the Duluth representative saying that the road would surely be built and some people really began to think it would. Of late, however, nothing has been heard of the line and the company is shipping its ore over the Duluth & Iron Range railroad and apparently has no intention of doing anything else.

A PROPOSAL BY TELEGRAPH.

Until within the past few weeks Alexis E. Frye was superintendent of schools in Cuba. A few days ago he arrived in New York. A derelict senator accompanied him six months ago one did not know of the existence of the other. They met when she became one of a party of Cuban girls to visit the United States. He was smitten by her charms, and the novelty of his proposal is fully equaled by her reply of acceptance.

PLAN TO DECEIVE CONDUCTORS.

A conductor on a Druid Hill avenue car thus described a new game by which riders have avoided paying their fares:

"I noticed several men who, when I went to them to collect their fares, would, with a show of indignation, declare that they had paid me. As the rules of the company demand that conductors be strictly polite, I could not express the doubt that was in my mind, and had simply to apologize. One of these men the following day again declared that he had paid his fare, and as the car was crowded, while I was almost sure that he had not, I again had to silence my doubts.

RECRUITING IS ACTIVE.

Active recruiting for the army is in progress in all the principal cities of the country. The authorized strength of the regular army at present is 65,000 men, and the recruiting in progress is with a view to maintaining it at that strength after the discharge of the 35,000 volunteers June 30 next. All enlistments are for three years, and the number of recruits averages about 2,000 a month. While it is settled that all the volunteers will be discharged June 30, the course of events will determine to a considerable extent whether the discharges shall take place in the Philippines or in the United States. Every effort will be made to get home as many as possible.

OF THE APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE VARIOUS BRANCHES OF THE SERVICE THE PRINCIPAL ITEM IS $25,400,000 FOR THE INCREASED PAY OF THE NAVY.

The pay of the navy is increased $2,489,357 over the appropriations for the same object last year and is accounted for by the authority granted to the department to enlist 5,000 additional seamen and fifty warrant machinists to meet the necessity of properly manning the new ships soon to be added to the navy. New officers to man the new ships will be appointed from the two classes now at sea.

hopes to be one of the places which the company is said to have under consideration, and in talk the much-mooted "Cook" or "Battle Ax" line, a strip of logging roads is said to figure extensively. The report arises from the fact that David Kirk, chief engineer of the newly organized Mississippi, Eau Claire & Northwestern railway, has spent some time in Ashland recently looking over the "Cook" road, and is said to have expressed an opinion that all but two miles of the road would be available for the proposed new line connecting the Milwaukee road with Lake Superior. With this strip of road, which it is claimed the new company would buy outright, terminal facilities could be secured in Ashland. It is further reported that S. G. Cook has for some time past been cherishing a scheme for extending his line to the head of the lake, his idea being to run parallel to the Northern Pacific line, but between it and the lake shores. If his scheme is ever carried out and the Milwaukee gained possession of the line, that company would get terminals on Alouez bay and at Ashland as well. It is a noteworthy fact that about the only available station for terminal facilities left at the head of the lake, that has not been snatched up by the other railroad companies, is on Alouez bay. At one time the Cook interests had some valuable terminals at Alouez bay under option.

EXPLAINED HIS VOTE.

STORY IN WHICH THE LATE JUDGE BRADY GOT THE BETTER OF THE ARGUMENT.

"About one of the best stories I've heard in a long time" said the old politician, as he strolled through the City Hall, to a New York Tribune reporter. "I heard up at the Republican Club last night. It was about the late Mayor Havemeyer and the late Judge Brady of the supreme court. It seems that they were at a little dinner one night, where there were several prominent men from abroad among the guests. It was but a week after the mayor's election. The mayor, knowing that Brady was a great admirer of the Irish race, in his speech gave the Irish a playful but what Brady considered rather a cutting, reference. When it came Brady's turn to speak he looked at the mayor rather seriously. 'It comes with ill grace,' said Brady, 'for a mayor of this city to specially vent his spleen upon any class in the community. But for his remarks here to night I would never have revealed what I am about to make public.'"

HE VACCINATED HIS NOSE.

HUMOROUS FEATURES DEVELOPED BY THE SMALL POX SCARE IN NEW YORK.

Serious as the present small pox outbreak has appeared at various times it has not been without its humorous features, though some of the episodes which have caused many smiles have seemed anything but funny to the principal actors in them.

One physician in this city had a slight scratch on his right thumb, and while he was vaccinating a number of his patients just a little of the virus touched it unnoticed. He knew about it forty-eight hours later, when it "took." If he has been out of practice for a week or two he had a slight satisfaction of knowing that according to accepted theories he is immune from small pox.

His experience, however, is as nothing to that of one of the vaccinators on the staff of Dr. Alonzo Blaubert, chief inspector of the bureau of contagious diseases. This doctor had a slight pimple on his nose and while he was at work with needles and toothpicks it itched and he absent-mindedly scratched it. This "look," too, and in a few days the huge red, swollen and blue nursing a ugly red, swollen and blue protuberance, which would cause to face into insignificance the greatest effort of the wildest western "nose paint" if brought near it. It is a trying situation for a model of sobriety.

In striking contrast of these cases is an old story told in complete form to them to show that the infection is not always so easily passed along from one to the other.

It was in the height of the great blizzard that a man walked into the department building with a severe case of small pox. He was in the sloughing stage, when contagion is supposed to be almost unavoidable for all unvaccinated who come in contact with the patient. The man said he had been refused admittance to an up town hospital, where his trouble was recognized, and that as cabs could not get around he had come down on the Sixth Avenue elevated road, only to be stalled for three hours in a car so crowded that the passengers were standing on the seats and it was necessary to let out by time to open the windows and let out some heat from their wet and steaming forms. This, too, was a condition most favorable for the spread of the disease.

The man was sent to the pest house as quickly as he could be got there without resorting to any other public conveyance and the officials had everything in readiness when the prescribed two weeks had gone by to receive the majority. If not all, of his fellow passengers, none of whom, however, came under their care. Still, the doctors conclude every story these days with the remark: "The only way to be safe is to be vaccinated."—New York Times.

MONTANA COPPERS.
They Were Given a Hard Shake Saturday.
Coppers were in a bad way Saturday owing to the manner in which Montana stocks were battered about. The entire market reflected the weakness of these stocks and there were numerous losses of more or less importance. One encouraging feature of the present situation is that the investors are beginning to give more and more attention to lake coppers, being attracted to them by their comparative stability and steadiness. Once the market break away from the other stocks the shares in the lake mines will be in good demand at strong prices. Faine, Webber & Co., said:

"Amalgamated was given a bad shake today and we think they may try it again, but we understand this movement in preparatory to a big market in standard oil coppers. Copper Range and Baltic were very strong and closed near the best prices on this last move. There is steady buying of both of them and as soon as this irregular market is over we look to see them jump ahead easily."
Hayden, Stone & Co., wired the Lattley Commission Co.:

"Coppers had a bad break this morning. It was due to a fierce drive at Amalgamated. Such a drive is generally made before a bull movement starts and we look for a better market next week. They may make another drive at Amalgamated and take it down to 50, but if they do, it will be safe to buy the whole market. Buy stocks on any sharp breaks."
A. R. Jones & Co., said of wheat:

"Wheat is still heavy. It is a big disappointment in the fact that it sold 1/4 below yesterday's bottom, though closing at but a small loss for the day. No sympathy in the cables started the market from 1/4 to 1/2 higher but unexpectedly heavy offerings from the same sources, as previously, told on prices almost instantly. The market ruled slow and heavy around 7 1/4 until within a short time of the close when the early buyers let go and 7 3/4 was reached. We do not want to advise short sales at the bottom of such a protracted and severe decline."

A BIT OF HISTORY.

Applied to Present Conditions Interesting to Marquette Readers.

It's a singular thing how trifling an incident will often change the world's history. If the country gentleman living in Cheshire, England, had not by accident been thrown from his coach into the lap of a young lady the pair might never have married, or migrated to the American colonies, and thus the world would never have known of George Washington as the father of our country. So it is in the daily life of everyone "little things" occur which affect the future. Mr. John Smith of 116 Eveland Court, Menominee, a stationary engineer, knows well how fortunate smiles at times on the afflicted in showing how relief is near at hand. His experience and advice is given in the following words:

"I had symptoms of kidney complaint for a long time and I felt that I ought to do something to better my condition. It was not serious yet it annoyed me greatly especially when I caught cold, for it was hard for me to get down to sit in a chair and it was hard to rise. My back was weak and soon tired out and ached if I stood long or did much walking. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised to cure such cases as mine I got a box at a drug store and the remedy did just what was claimed for it. In a short time all symptoms of kidney ailment were removed. Should it ever return I will look to Doan's Kidney Pills for relief. I can confidently recommend them to anyone."

BRITONS WONDER AT CROKER.

His Extravagances Start Many Stories About His Wealth.

Richard Croker in England is generally considered by Englishmen as a man of large wealth. They see him in Central Park, which was operated by $5,000 apiece, and with a hundred and one other things that evidence a vast amount of money. Few ask any question as to how he obtained his wealth. Some who once started the story that Mr. Croker had a good mine in Central Park, which was operated by a trust company called Tammany hall, of which he was the head and chief stockholder. The way the story received credence showed only too well how perfectly it appeared to explain Mr. Croker's expenditures.

In a recent article in the English periodical Black and White, the home life of Richard Croker is graphically portrayed at the old Moat house, which he owns, at Letcombe, near Wantage, Berkshire. The place is made beautiful by the most artistic gardening, and has all the quiet and quaintness of a village manor. As suggested by its name the house is surrounded by a moat which still further increases its seclusion. Its rooms are large and airy and furnished in a conservative but costly style. There is a billiard room, where the politician often invites professional players to play for skill.

In his drawing room, whatever electrical piano bought at a large price, in which Mr. Croker often finds relief from sleeplessness. He has a switchboard by his bed, and should, on retiring, his mind become distracted by such thoughts as the loss of trust or the loss of a horse, he can immediately reach out an arm to the switchboard and turn on the electricity. Under the strains of some ragtime lullaby the chief of Tammany hall soon forgets the old adage that often haunts him, "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown."

It is in his stables and his kennels in which he takes the most delight. Mr. Croker's purchases of horses have become the talk of the little village, and will doubtless form a large bulk of the traditional lore of the place in the centuries to come. Mr. Croker has the reputation of being an English trainer, regardless of price. If he buys, for example, as horse that does not suit him, he sells it immediately at whatever price it will bring.

"When Mr. Croker brought his horses to Letcombe," continues the writer in Black and White, "he put the reins in charge of an English trainer, but the results were not satisfactory, so he sent over to America for Wishard, an American trainer of repute, and transferred to him the care of the horses. All Wantage remembers how Wishard and Duke (who has since dissolved partnership), together with little Johnny Reiff and a number of colored men, arrived at The Bear (the old-fashioned hotel of the town), preparatory to settling down in the district. Then all at once all arrangements were altered, and it was decided that all of Mr. Croker's horses should start for Newmarket. Rumor says that this was because the English trainers did not like to have Mr. Croker use their exercising ground when he employed an American trainer."

The kennels of the rich Tammany chief are looked upon by the simple country folk with still greater awe and admiration, and under the supervision of a man can pay $5,000 for a dog, as Mr. Croker did for Rodney Stone, the famous bull dog. They have heard, however, that this strange American commands boundless revenues, and so, after a few head-shakings, they become the recipients of his story concerning his extravagances. Besides Rodney Stone, Mr. Croker owns another equally remarkable French bull dog, Bromley Crib, together with three bull dogs having no French blood in their veins, several litters of puppies, five huge St. Bernard dogs, and several prize cats.

In returning to America the last time Mr. Croker engaged first cabin passage for both Rodney Stone and Rodney Crib. A story is told of how a fellow passenger, on hearing that Bromley Stone was among the first-class cabin passengers, immediately went to the purser and said:

"Beg pardon, my name is Rodney, a relative of George Brydges Rodney—Admiral Rodney, you know—Baron Rodney, of Rodney Stoke, Somersetshire, you know. Now, my mother was a Stone, so I thought that perhaps this Rodney Stone is some other relative of mine and the baron's."

"Was your mother French?" asked the purser.

"No! no! English; every fiber of her English, sir!"

"Then," said the purser, "I am much and that Rodney Stone is no relative of yours. Rodney Stone, my dear sir, is a French bull pup."—New York Tribune.

CORKSCREW RAILROAD

DETROIT COPPER MINING COMPANY, IN ARIZONA, OVERCOMES GREAT DIFFICULTIES.

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 20.—Some of the most formidable obstacles to railroad construction were overcome in the building of the Morenci Southern railroad, a corkscrew route, which has just been completed in southeastern Arizona. The road is only a few miles in length, but represents a marvelous piece of railroad engineering work. It is owned by the Detroit Copper Mining Company, limited, a Phelps, Dodge & Co. of New York concern, and lies between that company's big copper mines at Morenci and Guthrie, a point on the Arizona & New Mexico railroad, which joins the Southern Pacific at Lordsburg, N. M.

A railroad over the San Francisco mountains and several great canyons and gorges in a section of a very formidable contour was necessary to further the development of the mines, but several well-known civil engineers declared the scheme impracticable. They found that they had an elevation of 1,350 feet to overcome in a direct line of less than seven miles. Several of the grades would be steep, even for a mountain wagon, but the Detroit Copper company ventured into the bold enterprise and after a vast outlay of capital the engineers solved the difficult problem of running a narrow gauge road over a winding roadbed, a great portion of which is over trestles crossing between rims of canyons, towering 400 or 500 feet above the bottoms. Thousands and thousands of yards of masonry were made to hold the roadbed in the canyons and on the steep mountain sides, and much of the construction was through solid rock of volcanic conglomerates and malpais.

RETORTS VS. MILLS.

THE CHARCOAL KILNS, A PICTURESQUE FEATURE OF UPPER PENINSULA LANDSCAPES, TO BE REPLACED AT GLADSTONE BY A MODERN PLAN OF CHARRING WOOD.

If the method of charring wood just being introduced by the Cleveland-Cliffs company at its Gladstone furnace is a success the charcoal kilns in use there since the furnace was put in operation a few years ago will be abandoned. The following special sent out from Gladstone on Thursday of this week contains information relative to the retorts that will be of interest at this time:

"An innovation has been made at the Cleveland-Cliffs charcoal blast furnace which threatens discontinuance of the old time charcoal kilns, the most picturesque features of many Northern Michigan landscapes. The Gladstone furnace is one of the most successful charcoal stacks in operation in the United States. It is making, on an average, about 110 tons of pig iron a day. The capacity of the stack has never been reached for the reason that the supply of charcoal has never been sufficient to keep the furnace working at its highest notch.

"Some time ago it was decided not to increase the number of old style charcoal kilns, but to build modern retorts for charring the wood. The first ever of these retorts have just been finished and started up. They have steel shells and hold five cords of wood, which they completely char in two hours. In the old style brick or stone kilns, with their enormous capacities, it took several days to properly prepare the charcoal. Thus these ten little retorts constructed by the Cleveland-Cliffs people have a capacity equal to twenty of the former big kilns.

"The steel shells of the new retorts are externally heated with coal. They are coal screeners having an expert-looker on the Austin Farrell, the manager of the furnace, is looking up a bituminous coal supply. He is in correspondence with several Michigan miners who assert they have coal of excellent quality, and if they can compete with Pennsylvania products they will begin the business, as the Cleveland-Cliffs company makes it a policy to assist all legitimate home industries. Henceforth coal for heating the charcoal retorts will be a big item on the company's expense sheets.

"The retorts will be connected with the company's chemical plant, as are the old kilns, the by-products of wood alcohol and grey acetate of lime being secured. Last December was the banner month in the history of the plant for the production of alcohol, 14,920 gallons being made. Thus far no difficulty has been experienced in disposing of the entire output at 75 cents a gallon delivered at eastern points.

"About three and a half gallons of alcohol are produced from a cord of wood, a remarkably high average compared with the results obtained in chemical plants run in conjunction with other blast furnaces. Besides the alcohol, about 200 pounds of acetate of lime are obtained. A cord of wood averages about 5,000 pounds in weight. Of this 2,500 pounds is pyroligneous acid. Twelve different kinds of oil are contained but none is saved, there appearing to be no market."

Painters are at work in the house which is being built for Mr. and Mrs. A. Mattison, and it is the expectation that it will be ready for occupancy in a couple of weeks.

Owners of live stock are having much bother with sickness among them at present. Dr. A. Deadman, the Ishpeming veterinary, is a very busy man nowadays. He is called to Negaunee frequently.

Two sixteen candle power incandescent lamps have been placed on each scaffold of the drills which the Cleveland-Cliffs company is erecting near the center of the fifty candle power lamp will be placed in each shanty.

The funeral of Louisa Jane Gately, the four-year-old daughter of Thomas Gately, was held in the Mitchell church Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The services were conducted by the Rev. Isaac Wilcox. Interment was in the Negaunee cemetery.

For some time past Finlanders have been leaving here for Montana, most of them bound for Butte, where they obtain good positions in the copper mines. Two of that nationality left town Friday bound for Montana City and more are expected to follow soon.

Mr. William H. Hodge and Miss Demere were united in marriage at the Mitchell Memorial church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Isaac Wilcox officiating. The wedding was a very quiet one, only a few relatives and friends being invited. A reception was held at the new residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hodge in the evening and many friends of the happy couple were present.

FIRST BLIZZARD OF THE WINTER.

This section of the county has been unusually fortunate in the weather thus far this winter. The storm of Wednesday took on a decidedly fierce aspect Friday afternoon, and evening and Saturday snow plows and snow shovels were being used in every direction. Considerable snow fell but the high wind which was blowing kept it in circulation to such an extent that only those who were obliged to venture out of doors, and the streets had a very deserted air.

The workmen engaged in setting up the drills at the Mass option played in the hardest kind of luck, the snowfall being so heavy and the wind so keen that practically nothing was accomplished. In fact the weather has been so bad since this work was commenced that very little headway has been made.

Practically no trouble was experienced on the railroads, the passenger trains being on time and the freight trains only a few minutes late. The street railway had their scrapers at work all day but except on the hills no time was lost. The rain of Tuesday packed the snow then on the ground, otherwise there would have been many bad drifts for Street Commissioner Thomas to make way with.

A SINGING CONTEST PLANNED.

There has been much rivalry of late between James Granville, head tender for Joe Krath, and John Richards, of Ishpeming, over their relative rank as vocalists, and this rivalry came to a head last week, when a contest was arranged between the two for a purse of $50. There is great interest in the match and many bets have been made by the supporters of each contestant. No hall has been engaged thus far, but it is possible to hire MacDonald's opera house for the contest it will be held there. The date has not been set, but as both men are in active training it is thought that it will come off soon.

FEDERAL STEEL CO. GETS IT.

The telegraphic report published in Saturday's issue of The Mining Journal to the effect that the Federal Steel company had obtained a controlling interest in the American Steel and Wire company, created great interest about town. The American people are the owners of the Negaunee mine, as well as some other properties in the neighborhood, so that anything doing in Steel and Wire circles causes much discussion here. Joseph Sellwood of Duluth is the manager of the company's interests in this section, but it is not thought that any change in the local

WARDENS CHAMBERLAIN AND FULLER.

Wardens Chamberlain and Fuller were at Lansing Thursday in consultation with Secretary Zimmerman of the pardon board, relative to contemplated changes in the laws and regulations governing paroles. Several changes were agreed upon for reference to the joint prison boards, which holds a session there on the 29th inst. Under the law as it now stands, the rules governing the granting of paroles are formulated by the governor, but it is proposed to have the most important of these rules embodied in the law, so as to give them permanency and not leave them subject to change at any time at the whim of the executive.

The present state board of auditors is inclined to be economical, and in the course of its investigation to determine where savings could be made it concluded that the state tax commission's business was advanced enough to warrant its suggestion that its force of clerks be reduced. In accordance with this suggestion, the commission has concluded to dispense with the services of W. R. Shapland and T. Guilleford of Detroit, W. W. Cook of Lansing, Grove S. Rouse of Saline and Fred A. Mansfield of Grand Haven. It is reported that, so far from having any idea of reducing the force just now, some of the commission had lately made promises of several more appointments and had persons waiting to be notified to report for duty.

Clarence Bliss, an unmarried man, aged twenty-five, was nearly killed at the Lamb Woven Wire Fence factory at Adams after the hour of going to work Thursday morning. He was spooling wire and had been warned to be careful, but as he had been at work in the factory only one day he became confused and placed his right foot into a coil of running wire. He was jerked off his feet in an instant and jerked up to shuffling on the ceiling, head down. The right foot was twisted around the shafting before the belt could be thrown off. When he was taken down, in an insensible condition, the foot was dangling by only a few pieces of flesh and muscles. He was conveyed to his home on Butler street in an ambulance, where a physician performed the amputation between the knee and the ankle. This is the second accident that has taken place there in six months. Rhinebold Stange lost a hand there a short time ago.

Dr. C. D. Warner, Coldwater, Mich. Dear Sir—I have received great benefit from your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I had a cough and the doctors gave up all hopes of my recovery and pronounced it consumption; I thought that it was death for me. I tried everything that we could hear of. Finally one of my friends prevailed upon me to use your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I took one and one-half bottles and am cured entirely. Such medicine I can recommend to those who are afflicted as I was.

Lower Michigan News.

Burglars broke into the postoffice at Howard City and drilled the safe one night last week, but were scared away before blowing it open. They left all their tools on the floor. It is thought this is the gang that has been making the rounds of the state.

The potato starch factory at Traverse City must have been a good thing for the farmers of that section in giving them a market for potatoes, as it has, since the latter part of October, used 200,000 bushels of the tubers bought in the surrounding townships.

Frederick Tremper, a shoemaker of Bay City, who served in the Second Michigan cavalry in the civil war, still has possession of the horse he rode in the rebellion. When he was mustered out in Jackson he purchased the horse from the government for $35 and has used him ever since. The horse is 29 years old.

The furnace plant of the Fruitport Iron Co., located at Fruitport, ten miles north of Muskegon, was damaged by an explosion Thursday afternoon, but nobody was injured. The explosion was caused by the lighting of gas from the charcoal used for smelting purposes, and several of the buildings connected with the plant caught fire and were damaged somewhat. The loss will not exceed $2,000.

Professor Campbell of the University of Michigan has found certain medicinal properties in the water from the deep artesian well bored under the U. of M. campus. But the properties are of no value. Salt is found in quantities. But "practically useless" is the verdict which has been passed on the big boring. A depth of 1,500 feet was attained in holes of striking good water, but all to no purpose. The scaffold is still about the well, as it was thought that even deeper boring might be done, but the faculty has decided to discontinue operations for good.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Pickell, a young couple, appeared in the county clerk's office at Port Huron a few days ago and asked for a marriage license. In answering the questions, it was learned that they were divorced about two years ago, but decided that their separation was due to a mistake, and it was their desire to live happily together. Rev. Kimmelshe performed the ceremony, which again united them. Pickell is a motorman on the Rapid Railway and the young couple will take up their residence in Mt. Clemens. They were married in Canada three years ago.

Wardens Chamberlain and Fuller were at Lansing Thursday in consultation with Secretary Zimmerman of the pardon board, relative to contemplated changes in the laws and regulations governing paroles. Several changes were agreed upon for reference to the joint prison boards, which holds a session there on the 29th inst. Under the law as it now stands, the rules governing the granting of paroles are formulated by the governor, but it is proposed to have the most important of these rules embodied in the law, so as to give them permanency and not leave them subject to change at any time at the whim of the executive.

The present state board of auditors is inclined to be economical, and in the course of its investigation to determine where savings could be made it concluded that the state tax commission's business was advanced enough to warrant its suggestion that its force of clerks be reduced. In accordance with this suggestion, the commission has concluded to dispense with the services of W. R. Shapland and T. Guilleford of Detroit, W. W. Cook of Lansing, Grove S. Rouse of Saline and Fred A. Mansfield of Grand Haven. It is reported that, so far from having any idea of reducing the force just now, some of the commission had lately made promises of several more appointments and had persons waiting to be notified to report for duty.

Clarence Bliss, an unmarried man, aged twenty-five, was nearly killed at the Lamb Woven Wire Fence factory at Adams after the hour of going to work Thursday morning. He was spooling wire and had been warned to be careful, but as he had been at work in the factory only one day he became confused and placed his right foot into a coil of running wire. He was jerked off his feet in an instant and jerked up to shuffling on the ceiling, head down. The right foot was twisted around the shafting before the belt could be thrown off. When he was taken down, in an insensible condition, the foot was dangling by only a few pieces of flesh and muscles. He was conveyed to his home on Butler street in an ambulance, where a physician performed the amputation between the knee and the ankle. This is the second accident that has taken place there in six months. Rhinebold Stange lost a hand there a short time ago.

Think of Your Stomach

If people would think more of their stomachs there would be less sickness and suffering in the world. Through sheer ignorance and thoughtlessness, men and women overcrowd their stomachs and injure them with unwholesome food, thus imposing on their work which nature never intended the to do. In this manner the vast majority of people sooner or later become afflicted with some kind of stomach trouble, for it has many forms, including malaria, indigestion, constipation, diarrhoea, inflammation of the stomach, etc. Liver and bowel complaints are also often due to deranged conditions of the stomach. It is because people eat food of a wholesome quality that their stomachs become disordered, and it is their duty of obeying and assuaging the food. For relieving and curing every form of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, and for helping and strengthening these organs to perform their functions perfectly, nothing is equal to

Upper Peninsula News.

A warrant was issued Friday morning by Justice Miller of Iron Mountain, at the instance of John J. Sanders, against Michael Michalski and G. B. Tramontin, charging them with having violated the law in keeping open their saloon on Brown street, Sunday, Jan. 6. The hearing will be held this week. The accused claim that their arrest is spite work on the part of the complainant, as they had trouble with him in trying to make a settlement for a sleigh.

It is likely that the intake of the Menominee water works will be extended into water of forty-five feet depth this winter. The owners of the pumping station are eager for the improvement and the city officials favor it. It is proposed that the expense be divided between the municipalities and the company. It will approximate $15,000. As soon as the ice is firm, soundings of the bay will be taken with a view of determining how far out the pipe will have to be extended to obtain the desired depth.

Miss Julia Solan, a former Menominee girl, died in the Klondike region Oct. 23. The public administrator of Dawson City has written Postmaster Kern of Menominee asking him to look up her relatives in his city. Inquiry has, as yet, failed to disclose the whereabouts of any of her people but it is being continued in the hopes of locating them. The young lady's effects are in the hands of the public administrator who will hold them until he is instructed by her relations or friends as to their disposition. The young lady lived in Dawson City just prior to, and at the time of, her death.

One of the Escanaba street cars collided with an ore train at the Stephenson avenue railroad crossing Thursday. Luckily no one was injured. The street car was knocked off the track and somewhat damaged, but is again in commission. There were five people in the car at the time and they were considerably shaken up. The car had almost crossed the track when it was struck, the motorman not being aware that a train was anywhere near. It is said he crossed the track without recognizing the safety signal from the conductor, and that no brakeman was on the forward car of the advancing train. The Chapin Mining Co. of Iron Mountain has just closed a deal with the Prescott Pump company of Milwaukee for two large pumps. The pumps will be placed in B shaft, and the work upon them will be rushed forward as rapidly as possible. The larger of the pumps will be a triple expansion 15 and 25 and 25 by 11 by 24 with a capacity for handling 1200 gallons of water per minute. The smaller pump will be a direct acting triple expansion 10 and 10 1/2 and 26 by 8 by 24. When these pumps are installed the Chapin company will have one of the largest and most perfect plants in the Lake Superior iron region.

The capital stock of the Kass Horse-shoe company of Menominee has been increased from $20,000 to $50,000, all the additional stock being subscribed at once and none being placed upon the market. The company will undertake the manufacture of 35,000 pairs of shoes at once and in a few days more will be ready for the market. The Kass horsehoe is considered one of the best. It is made of steel and has interchangeable front and heel caulk. It is lighter and stronger than the common horsehoe because its angle gives it strength and firmness. It is made in all sizes. For the present the shoes will be manufactured by the Dudley Manufacturing Co., the forgings being made in Chicago. Should business warrant a factory will be built within a year.

In compliance with a recent resolution of the Munising school board, Superintendent Warne has about completed a plan to prevent the loss and destruction of school books by the pupils. The system is practically the same as that used at Sault Ste. Marie. Printed cards will be used having places for date, name of pupil, name and number of book, etc. The books are understood to be loaned to the pupil by the township, and to be kept in study is completed. When the book is finished the teacher will examine it and if other damage than that absolutely necessary is noticed the pupil's parent or guardian must pay for it or buy the book outright. The trouble must be settled before any other book will be given the pupil. If the book is lost it must be paid for before a new book will be issued.

The fact that the contract for extending the St. Paul railroad from Iron Mountain to Quinnesec has been let has caused a flurry in business circles in that section of the peninsula. McIntosh Bros. of Milwaukee have the contract and they propose to begin clearing the right of way at once, it being required that this work be completed by March 1. The intention being to have trains running to Quinnesec the middle or last of May. The Quinnesec extension will tap the main line of the St. Paul about one mile and a half north of Iron Mountain and will run just north of Lake Antoine, tapping all the important business points along the route to the southern terminus, which will include the Antoine Ore company,

The Oliver Mining company, the Pewabic company, the Cuff and Indiana mines, together with the Candy mine at Quinnesec and the big paper mills at Niagara. This will give all the points and places mentioned competition in the matter of freight rates. In building the extension, the St. Paul will cross the Northwestern tracks and the history of railroads inspires the supposition that when that point is reached the two corporations will cross swords. It is foolish to think or believe that the Northwestern will stand idly by and not resist the extension of its heretofore exclusive territory.

NORMAL'S FINE PICTURES.

Collection Has Just Received an Addition of Forty-One, Giving It Seventy.

THEY ARE REPRODUCTIONS OF PAINTINGS AND PHOTOGRAPHS.

Admirable Care is Exercised in the Selection and as there is Still Some Money in the Fund New Purchases Will Be Made Right Along.

IN TRAINING SCHOOL AND KINDERGARTEN

The collection of art objects at the Northern Normal has just been materially increased with the addition of forty-one reproductions of famous paintings and large photographs of famous buildings and ruins, handsomely finished and framed.

The excellence of the reproductions and photographs first purchased has already been dwelt on and it has been the subject of comment on the part of the officials of the state board of education and the officers of the other Normals who have visited the Marquette institution.

The Normal has seventy framed pictures; twenty others which are suitable for framing and a very fine collection of art portfolios containing reproductions, in small sizes, of a large number of masterpieces by the best ancient and modern painters.

A couple of hundred dollars was spent on the latest addition to the collection but there is considerable money left and it is the intention to buy new pictures right along. Some twenty will be purchased within the next month or six weeks.

With two exceptions all the pictures are photographs or reproductions. These are a mountain scene in oil by Barchus, which hangs in the assembly hall, and a little water color—a Venetian scene—by Anderson, at present located in the principal's office.

WHERE THEY ARE. An enumeration of some of the pictures and their locations will prove interesting. At the right of the entrance are found two colossal imported photographs, the finest in the Normal's collection, of the ruins of the Coliseum and Forum. To the left is found a photograph of the Leaning Tower of Pisa. The notable feature of these photographs, as well as of all the others, is the clearness of the detail.

The library contains a number of the gems of the collection. Here are hung Correggio's Holy Night, Tadema's A Reading from Homer and a reproduction of a celebrated painting of Aesop.

In addition to large photographs of Westminster, the Court of Lyons and the Island of Philae, Egypt. All the pictures are richly framed in an artistic manner, which serves to bring out and accentuate their merits.

Most of the reproductions are of a warm coppery color and, without exception, they are capable of conveying adequate ideas of the beauty and value of the originals.

In the office are Millet's The Gleanners and The Shepherds, a photograph of St. Mark's, Venice, and a couple of Landseer's engravings, of which the collection numbers six.

The history room is furnished entirely with photographs, which include fine views of Mt. Vernon, the Capitol at Washington, the Acropolis, the Pyramids and three Roman views.

The art room has a particularly fine allotment of reproductions and visitors usually tarry there some time. The list includes the Last Judgment, Rembrandt's Mother, the best thing on the walls, Hunt's Fight by Night, Madame Lebrun and daughter, painted by herself, Raphael's Immaculate Conception and a group of photographs which convey adequate ideas of the Doric, Ionic and Corinthian architecture.

IN THE ASSEMBLY HALL. In the assembly hall are found a limited number of pictures which it is proposed to materially increase with little loss of time.

dergarten department in the Bertrand house, corner of Third and Ohio. These include a Sistine Madonna, Raphael's St. Cecilia, Reynold's Angels' Heads, Murillo's The Divine Shepherd, Watt's Sir Galahad, and Troyon's Oxen Going to Labor, it being the theory of art culture that the smallest children should become associated with the best pictures in order that their tastes may be properly trained and developed from the earliest days of their attendance at the schools.

The Normal faculty is proud of its collection of pictures and looks forward to the exhibition of new reproductions and photographs with a great deal of pleasure.

THE NEW BY-PASS.

Intake Was Cleared By Its Use Yesterday.

For the first time this winter the mouth of the intake at the pumping station was closed with ice yesterday. At first glance the situation appeared serious as the electric stove was not available to be used in clearing the obstruction. It looked as if the old salt cure would have to be resorted to and this would have been the case had not the new by-pass been ready for service.

The pumps were stopped shortly after 6 o'clock and it was after 10 before they were again in operation. When Secretary Korn reached the station he gave orders that the new by-pass should be given a trial. Its valves were adjusted so that the pumps were cut out and the intake was given a direct connection with the city mains.

As the pressure had fallen off to thirty pounds by the time this work had been completed it was feared that the results would not be satisfactory. However, it took but a few minutes to show that the test was going to prove successful. The force of the water pouring into the intake from the mains in the high levels of the city was irresistible and the obstruction was washed out as clean as a whistle, notwithstanding the fact that the ice was packed in closely and to a considerable thickness.

The fire and water commissioners and the employees at the station were greatly pleased at the success of the first trial of the by-pass. They believe that this demonstration of its capability of cleaning out the intake when it becomes blocked with ice insures the city against an interruption of its water supply during the next few weeks of cold weather. It is likely that the precaution of putting the electric stove back in the mouth of the intake will be superfluous and that there will be no necessity of attacking the clogging ice with salt, a practice which has been followed off and on for several winters.

If troubled with a weak digestion, belching, sour stomach, or if you feel dull after eating, try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at the Stafford Drug company's store.
