

WIFE GIVES WAY TO HIS AFFINITY

Mrs. Ferdinand Pinney Earle Sails from New York for Her Old Home in France to Secure a Decree of Divorce.

Her Husband, Eccentric Millionaire, Artist, Poet and Socialist, Meeting Soul's Mate in the Shape of a Buxom German Girl, She Acquiesces in Plan to Give Him Freedom That He Might Wed Her, and With Little Son Bids Him Goodbye Forever.

New York, Sept. 4.—A scene more suggestive of an up-to-date play than of real life was enacted on the steamer Syndan today when Mrs. Ferdinand Pinney Earle of Monroe, Orange county, N. Y., sailed for native France to obtain a divorce in order that her husband, artist, poet, socialist, millionaire, vegetarian and eccentric, may marry another woman whom, he declares, he has found to be his affinity.

Mrs. Earle acquiesced in the plan by which she renounced her husband to another woman, if she did not voluntarily agree to give him his freedom, and she faced a group of reporters and curious persons on the steamer today with a smile which gave no hint of any regret at her part in the strange domestic drama.

Townpeople Hiss Him. Mr. and Mrs. Earle left their home in Monroe together and drove past curious groups of townpeople to the station, where they boarded the train for Weehawken.

Mrs. Earle, with her little son Harold, aged two and one-half years, who will share her exile, reached the steamer in advance of Mr. Earle, who arrived with a friend, and together they appeared on deck to meet the reporters. They posed together for a photograph, both standing and evidently content with the odd twist fate has given to their lives.

Mrs. Earle declined to make a statement, but her husband, who seemed highly pleased, said: "Mrs. Earle is bearing up bravely under the ordeal. This notoriety is worth five years' work to me. We part with a full understanding, and Mrs. Earle is as much agreed to as I am. I believe it is the right thing to do."

Soul's Mate a Buxom German. Mr. and Mrs. Earle then went to her stateroom and bade each other goodby. Victor M. Earle of this city, brother of Mrs. Earle, and Mrs. Victor Earle were on board to bid farewells. Victor Earle said that while he and his relatives did not hold the same opinions as his brother, he would not criticize his conduct.

Earle's soul's affinity is a buxom German girl. Leaving the Earle home for the station at Monroe, she rode in the carriage with Mrs. Earle. The two women sat side by side, the wife, slender, pretty, and refined; the affinity lady big boned, florid faced, and plebeian looking, with broad nose and heavy lips. A woman from the village of Monroe it was said that the strange woman had even helped Mrs. Earle with her packing.

Now that the wife has departed, Earle will return home where his affinity is staying and there their sons, attuned to the same harmony, will continue until they are parted from him, like a true affinity. Mr. Earle does not believe in free love. According to his diagnosis it is freedom of love.

Wife Says She's Satisfied. Mrs. Earle told a reporter that she was happy and satisfied, and that everything was all right, but there was a queer clicking little catch in her voice as she said it, and her mouth twisted and twitched in a way that is not generally associated with happiness. She seemed to be literally crying her nose with both hands. Hysteria was not far under the surface, for all her brave words.

"I am making a great sacrifice in giving up my boy, my dear Harold," said Earle, "but I know that I am doing what is right. I have settled a full half of all that I have upon my wife and boy, so that they will never want. My lawyer and neighbor, Henry Wellington Wack, has looked after these details for me. Although socialism frees marriage from the mercenary taint, my belief in socialism has nothing to do with the course which I shall follow in my domestic life. I was not moved by the examples of Ruskin, or Millet, or Gerky, or any other men who have done as I will do. It is my own scheme of life as I have reasoned it out."

Marriages Made Before Birth. Earle believes that marriages are made before birth. He married an attractive, wealthy French woman and lived with her happily for nearly ten years. Eventually along came another woman, and then Mr. Earle discovered that this woman, and not his wedded wife, was his true affinity. He went to his father-in-law in France and told him the state of affairs that had suddenly developed.

Eloping With Lover, Tragic Consequences Follow the Perfidy of Mrs. B. H. Miller, Wife of the Fire Chief at Franklin, O.

Woman's Companion Arrested and Being Returned for Trial, Wronged Man Enters the Police Station at Dayton and Resorts to the Unwritten Law, Shooting Despoiler of Home Dead in Cell—Reason Failing Then, He Becomes a Raving Lunatic.

Dayton, O., Sept. 4.—Fire Chief B. H. Miller of Franklin, O., today shot and instantly killed J. H. Little, who recently eloped with his wife and was returning to Franklin for trial. Miller entered the police station, and going directly to Little's cell, fired two shots which lodged in the victim's breast. Miller is now a raving maniac and is under guard.

Mrs. Miller eloped with Little about a month ago. She is a handsome woman, and belongs to a prominent family. The eloping couple were arrested in Springfield. When the pair were placed under arrest Little denied his identity, but Mrs. Miller confessed. She said she was the runaway wife, and that she wanted to return home, but Little would not let her.

Physicians Declare Cleveland Man Could Not Have Fired Bullet Himself. Cleveland, Sept. 4.—Investigation into the death of John J. Phillips, the former wealthy coal operator, clubman and banker, which occurred under mysterious circumstances shortly after midnight Monday, is in progress.

According to an autopsy made by the physicians, the bullet which killed Phillips was fired from behind and the range, they say, makes it impossible that Mr. Phillips could have fired it himself. The work of unraveling Phillips' financial affairs was begun by attorneys today, and it is said that the liabilities are probably $100,000, or enough to practically wipe out what was left of a former fortune.

Widow Taken Into Custody. Cleveland, Sept. 4.—Late this afternoon Mrs. John J. Phillips, widow of the murdered coal operator, was taken into custody by Chief of Police James H. Stambarger of East Cleveland. This action was taken following a conference with Deputy Coroner Honck, who conducted the inquest in the absence of Colonel Burke.

And whether they really believe Mrs. Phillips culpable or merely believe that she can give facts which would solve the mystery does not appear. The inquest was resumed this morning.

Mrs. Phillips has been in a highly nervous state since the tragedy. This afternoon she collapsed and was not able to attend the funeral, which took place from the house, with only immediate relatives present. It was shortly following this that Chief Stambarger announced that he had taken the widow into custody and four deputies would guard her in her home until she recovered sufficiently to be taken before a justice of the peace.

Sensational Suicide of an Unknown Man Furnishes a Tragic Feature to a Brilliant Night Scene at Niagara.

Big Crowd Is Gazing at the Enchanted Sight Presented by the Initial Illumination of the Falls With Powerful Searchlights, When Spectator Suddenly Leaps Onto Railing of the Bridge and Thence Into the Ragging Waters 192 Feet Below.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 4.—For the first time tonight the power of Niagara falls was turned back to illuminate the falls themselves. Lights aggregating 1,115,000 candle power were thrown from thirty-six great lensed reflectors, changing the tumbling mass of water into a sparkling cataract.

A startling tragedy occurred on the upper steel arch bridge shortly after 9 o'clock. Hundreds of people had gone out on the bridge to get an unobstructed view of the falls under the searchlights. An unknown man in the crowd suddenly leaped upon the railing, stood poised for a moment, and then leaped into the chasm. His body struck the water 192 feet below, and disappeared in the rapids.

PLOT OF CONVICTS NIPPED IN THE BUD

Well-Planned Conspiracy Contemplating a Wholesale Get-Away Is Discovered at Western Pennsylvania Penitentiary. Great Cache of Knives Revolvers and Ropes for Use in Escaping Is Found in the Prison Chapel, and Officials Are Amazed When They Ascertain That the Leader of the Gang Involved Is a "Trusty" Who Long Has Posed as a Model. Pittsburg, Sept. 4.—Warden Johnston of the Western penitentiary reports the discovery of a gigantic plot by convicts to escape from the prison. The leader of the gang was Walter Dorman, the accomplice of the notorious Biddle brothers, and who is serving a life sentence. Since his confinement Dorman has been a model prisoner, has been the leader of the prison orchestra, and was made janitor of the chapel. On account of his excellent conduct he had the run of the prison. Yesterday the officials discovered hidden in the chapel a great bundle of ropes, straps, revolvers, and knives, and street clothing, which the gang expected to use in making their escape. Dorman was surprised examining the hidden treasure, made a confession, and was placed in a dungeon. The prison officials announce that they have discovered that Dorman is none other than Percy Bennett, one of the most notorious crooks that ever terrorized the middle West. One of Bennett's sensational robberies was the theft in a little town in Wisconsin of the entire stock of a store between Saturday night and Monday morning. WILLIAM E. CURTIS IN CITY YESTERDAY

WELLKNOWN NEWSPAPER MAN COMPLETES TRIP THROUGH LAKE SUPERIOR REGION.

Marquette had a distinguished visitor for a few hours yesterday, but didn't make much of a fuss over him. He didn't want it. He was here for business and crowded his few hours in the city full of work and observation. He was William E. Curtis, correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald and one of the best known newspaper men in the country; in the world, in fact. He completed at Marquette his first trip of inspection to the Lake Superior region. It began a few days ago at Duluth, included a visit to the principal towns of the Mesaba, a stay in the copper country long enough to visit the mines and smelters, a glimpse of the iron mines at Ishpeming and lastly the short stay in Marquette. Mr. Curtis left yesterday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock for a resort near Potoskey, where he will join his family.

Disagreeable weather interfered with Mr. Curtis' getting an idea of Marquette at its best and lack of time also circumscribed his movements in the city. He was much impressed with Marquette's public buildings, admiring particularly the Peter White public library and the court house. He asked to be furnished with pictures of these structures, to be used in connection with his letters on Marquette, a rather unusual thing, for he is very sparing in his use of pictures. Mr. Curtis was particularly desirous of getting full information regarding the Cleveland-Cliffs iron company, especially its work in reforestation and at Grand Island, where it is building up a great natural game preserve. The prison was also visited and inspected with close attention.

Is a Hard Worker.

Mr. Curtis is a man of less than medium height, of heavy build and apparently some fifty-five years of age. He is a tremendously hard worker, with a rare genius for extracting exact information in very quick order. Here he took all his notes in a carefully written longhand. The person to whom he talked had his undivided attention, and the examination to which he was subjected could not have been closer if he had been on the witness stand. When Mr. Curtis found out all he wanted to know, which was in remarkably short time considering the amount of things he wanted to know, he had a complete grasp of the matter discussed and was ready to turn to something else.

On all his long trips Mr. Curtis is accompanied by a stenographer, to whom he dictates his letters, which greatly reduces the burden of work resting on his shoulders. While at work he lives by the strictest rule. Social engagements, are, as a general thing, strictly tabooed, though nearly everywhere he goes he is pressed to accept hospitality. And he makes an entrancing guest, as he is an easy and voluble talker on almost any subject that is brought up. However, on the road, and he is on the road much of the time, Mr. Curtis gives his thought entirely to his work. He never writes or dictates in the evening, but gives himself entirely over to rest, recreation or reading. This is a rule he never violates. Though he belongs to no union he regards the eight hour day as inviolable.

When it is understood that for fourteen years the Record-Herald, and the Record before it, has never gone to press without one of Mr. Curtis' letters the reason for his care of his health is understood. He couldn't keep up the pace otherwise. As a matter of fact Mr. Curtis is usually fifteen or twenty daily letters ahead. His last trip before his visit to the Lake Superior district was to New England. He went from there to the resort near Potoskey to which he is now returning and after working up his material found that he had time to visit the Lake Superior country, a trip he had long wanted to take. He has not yet worked up any of the material he has gotten together in this region, but will shortly do so.

Secret Is Method.

The secret of Mr. Curtis' great product is method, and his methods of work could be studied with great advantage by nearly all classes of writers dealing with abstract facts. He groups his facts in his note book with careful attention to getting all related facts together. Before writing a letter based on his trips he studies his notes carefully, settling in what sequence the different groups of facts should come. Then, with the subject clearly in mind, he dictates rapidly and in flowing English to his secretary, so that once they settle down to writing letters they can make rapid progress.

Accuracy is Mr. Curtis' strong point. He wants to be assured that everything he notes down is absolutely correct. Proper names and names of towns and places he is not familiar with, must be spelled for him. Information about which there is any doubt is rejected.

In the past dozen or more years Mr. Curtis has visited nearly every civilized country on the globe, and a great many that aren't civilized. He has written voluminously on every subject of popular interest. History, art, current politics, the industrial progress of nations and a thousand and one other things have been treated by his prolific and entertaining pen. There is probably no man who has a more general knowledge about the United States, for he has from time to time visited all the states and territories of the union and most parts of all of them. Mr. Curtis' latest work of international significance was the reporting of the drama, he having spent over two months in St. Petersburg while it was sitting. He was accompanied by his family, who have shared all his travels. In fact Mr. Curtis said yesterday that his trip to the Lake Superior region was the first one he had ever made on which his family had not been along. The next foreign trip Mr. Curtis makes will be to Ireland. He has been seventeen years, he says, trying to get to Ireland, but has always passed it by, but his next letters from a foreign country will be written from Irish soil.

WEST CANADA'S BOOM OVER.

MINISTER OF INTERIOR REVEALS SURPRISING CONDITIONS.

Financial Stringency in Prairie Provinces
—Rise in Price of Land Summarily Checked—Rush of Settlers Is Stopped and Crops Are Good Only in Spots.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 4.—Hon. Frank Oliver, minister of the interior, whose home is in West Canada, has returned from a five weeks' trip extending to the Pacific coast, and on being interviewed he asserted that crop conditions throughout the prairie provinces were decidedly favorable, but this optimistic general view does not tally with his detailed statement. Notwithstanding the late spring, fall wheat cutting was well under way in southern Alberta, and spring wheat cutting had begun in southern Manitoba. Throughout Alberta and all but the more southern portions of Saskatchewan and Manitoba, the crop gave promise of a more than average yield, while in the southern portions of Saskatchewan and Manitoba, owing to a prolonged dry spell which followed seeding, the crop was reported to be under the average. At one time very discouraging reports were circulated in regard to crops in this area, but following the dry season there came a period of very favorable weather, which brought about an astonishing recovery. Naturally, where the crop is lighter, harvest is earlier, so that in the region of light yield the harvesting of the crop without frost is practically assured. In the areas of heavier growth and later ripening there is less anxiety. The same damp weather which benefited the crop of the southern country increased the growth and delayed the ripening of that in the north, but, given an ordinary favorable fall, throughout the greater part of the prairie provinces the crop will be above the average. The fall wheat throughout Alberta is a phenomenal crop, and is so far ahead of spring grain in date of ripening as to establish it very strongly in the favor of the farmer even in the northern part of the province.

A marked financial stringency in connection with municipal finances and real estate operations prevails practically throughout the prairie provinces. Early in the spring the banks and other financial institutions of the East decided that the time had come when the further expansion of credit in connection with real estate transactions and municipal finances must necessarily involve a restriction of credit to ordinary business operations. Combined action was taken, and without warning the resources upon which real estate men and municipalities depended were shut off. This naturally causes a stringency in finances which has stopped further advances in the price of real estate, and also checked municipal enterprise. No one can tell as yet how great the consequences of this action will be. While laxative agents that it is desirable that real estate should not be boomed beyond present prices, on the other hand there is no doubt that many operations have been undertaken whose success depended absolutely on a further advance in price, and the failure of these operations owing to the action of the banks will no doubt result seriously to the parties immediately concerned, and how far benefited no one can say. The difficulties which the municipalities find in disposing of their debentures has in several cases compelled the suspension of work already undertaken. This leaves them in

MORE DWELLINGS FOR THE SWANZEY RANGE

CLEVELAND-CLIFFS IRON COMPANY WILL ERECT TWENTY OR MORE HOUSES AT THE NEW TOWN SITE OF PRINCETON.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company will soon let a contract for the erection of twenty or more dwellings at the new town site in the Swanzev district. Bids are now being considered and it is expected that the contract will be let within a few days. The officials may decide to give a contract for twenty houses, some of them for two families, or it may go ahead with thirty.

The dwellings will contain more modern conveniences than the ones just being finished at the new town site by J. Wahlman & Son. All are to have basements and will be built on concrete foundations. Toilets will be provided and all the houses will be connected with the new sewerage and water systems. Eight or nine different plans were submitted to the contractors who were asked to present bids so that it is likely several different designs of houses will be erected. The dwellings just finished are identical in design, while the group built last year at the Austin location are all alike. The latter are all painted the same color, but the group at the town site are to be painted different colors.

The location of the proposed new dwellings has not yet been announced, and it is possible that they will be built at a point some distance from the houses now going up. The most attractive residence part of the new town will be some distance from the houses now being built on the bank of the river, where there will be a frontage suitable for lawns and flower gardens. This part of the town will be given most careful attention when being laid out and it is expected that the class of residences to be erected there will be more attractive than those now being constructed.

SOCIALISTS MAKE APPEAL.

In tomorrow's issue of the Finnish daily, published at Calumet, will appear a red hot communication from Jacob Kaminen in answer to a circular published by the Socialists of Hancock so to give a contract for twenty houses, some of them for two families, or it may go ahead with thirty.

WEDDED AT IRONWOOD.

Miss Anna Nankervis of Ishpeming, a sister of Mrs. W. D. Triplett, Pewabic street, and F. L. Dibble of Cleveland, O., were married last Saturday morning at the Presbyterian parsonage at Ironwood by the Rev. G. M. Tourtelot. The wedding had been set for the early part of the present week, but to avoid publicity the young people decided to have the ceremony performed at once, and they departed Saturday evening for Cleveland. Mr. Dibble being a prosperous merchant of that city.—Ironwood News-Record.

MARRIED YESTERDAY.

O. D. McClure, master mechanic of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, and Miss Nina Lewis were married yesterday at noon at Buchanan, Mich., her home. The bride is very well known in Ishpeming as she taught school here for a number of years until last June when she left for her home. Mr. and Mrs. McClure will be absent for ten days or two weeks. They will begin housekeeping immediately upon their arrival in this city.

EMPIRE SEWER ASSESSMENTS.
Cost Will Be $71 for Each Property Owner in the District.

A committee appointed by the mayor and consisting of E. A. Johnson, Victor Holmgren, John Nolan, William Jenkins and J. H. Quinn, met last evening to prepare a report for the council relative to matters pertaining to the Empire sewer which is now being constructed by William Treblecock. The total cost of the sewer will be $1,349.20. There are nineteen property owners in the district so that the average cost to the owner of each lot will be $71. The committee will recommend that the assessments be spread over a period of five years, but the property owners will be privileged to pay the full amount at once, thus saving an interest charge of 7 per cent.

It is expected that the recommendation will be adopted at the regular meeting of the council tonight.

BROKE INTO POUND.

Mike Tasson Has Session With Woman Who Went After Her Cow.

Mike Tasson had a session Sunday evening. Early in the morning he picked up a cow and placed it in the pound. He called at the pound several times during the day, expecting that the owner would call for it. While Mike was out gathering in two other cows early in the evening a woman forced entrance into the enclosure and was driving out the cow when he returned. She refused to give up the animal and the pound-master was about to take her to jail when she consented to settle for the damages. According to the poundmaster the woman used a pick to smash the lock on the door, despite the fact that several people living in the neighborhood advised her to keep away.

Several of those who had congregated saw the woman break the door and they agree to go into court and testify against her if necessary. Later in the evening the woman returned, accompanied by her husband. They asked that proceedings against her be dropped, but Mike was not willing to let the woman off. The cow was again gathered in later in the evening, but the owner paid the fine.

FROM HOPKINS' CURB LETTER.

"Copper opened irregular but on the whole fully up to yesterday's close. Trading, however, was on a small scale and mostly in small lots. The advance yesterday was not sustained and prices again sagged off, North Butte showing a loss of 1 1/2 up to midday. Amalgamated, which sold up to 74 yesterday, went to 71 1/2 on heavy profit-taking. While the sentiment has undergone a decided change for the better there has not developed enough buying power to sustain prices. The advances being generally met with liberal offerings, and until the general public takes a hand we cannot expect any great advances."

BIG IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED.
Street Railway Power Plant Will Be Overhauled This Fall.

J. Black and W. McDonald, in the employ of A. D. Bruck & Co., Chicago, consulting engineers for the Granger Farwell company, this week completed an inspection of the Marquette County Gas & Electric company's power plant, and yesterday Manager McCormickable was advised that all of the recommendations made by the engineers will be adopted, and that bids are now being received for the new equipment.

It was the intention of the Granger Farwell company to make certain improvements at the power plant soon after Labor day, but the work has been deferred until the council of the two cities were prepared to adopt a resolution granting an extension of the street railway franchise. It is now expected that the franchise will be finally adopted by both councils at their regular meetings this evening.

The company intends to purchase a 500 kilowatt turbine for the electric lighting plant; a new engine, with direct connection with generator for the street railway, also a 250-horse power Babcock & Wilcox boiler. With this equipment added to the present outfit Mr. McCormickable says that the plant will be one of the finest in this region. The additional power will be ample to properly handle all the cars that will ever be needed on the system during the worst winter weather, as well as on days when the line does its heaviest business. It is the purpose of the company to procure the equipment as soon as possible with a view to completing the improvements before winter sets in.

"THE FLAMING ARROW" MONDAY.

Lincoln J. Carter's border drama, "The Flaming Arrow," will be the attraction at the Ishpeming theater next Monday evening. It is said to possess the true western melodramatic flavor, depending for its success upon its brisk action, exciting climaxes and stage mounting, together with an adroitness, dramatic conception and an excellent plot. An exciting horse race is the feature of the first act. Interest is increased in the second act by a realistic candle fire powwow and ghost dance by the Indians of the company. The third act contains a number of humorous specialties. Popular prices, twenty-five, thirty-five, fifty and seventy-five cents, will prevail.

Don't let your dealer fool you by saying: "I have something else just as good." He is working for the extra profit on the substitute. Insist on getting what you ask for.

On the same day a similar check was presented to William Longworth of Skandia. The check cashed by Longworth was also upon the Marquette National bank and purported to bear the signature of William F. Keopp.

DEATH OF ALFRED MARCOTTE. Man Who Had Lived in Marquette Twelve Years Dies at Age of 65.

Alfred Marcotte, of 306 Washington street, died last night at 10:30 o'clock after an illness of several months. At the time of his death, which was caused by dropsy, Mr. Marcotte was sixty-five years of age, and had lived in Marquette for twelve years.

FREE-FOR-ALL TODAY AT THE COUNTY FAIR

FASTEST HORSES AT TRACK ARE ENTERED—CHILDREN'S DAY SATURDAY—QUESTION IS RAISED ABOUT CLOSING THE STORES.

On account of the rain all the important events which were to have taken place at the County Fair yesterday have been postponed until Saturday.

Last night President Mangum announced that Children's day will be Saturday and on that day the school children of the entire county are to be admitted to the grounds without charge.

It is the purpose of the agricultural association to give as good a program of races as possible, and more horses are now at the track than have ever before appeared at a county fair.

Free-for-All Today.

Today is the day of the free-for-all races and the fastest horses at the track are entered for the event. They are: Billy Sunday, Bourbon C, Lady Arkwood, Echo Medium and Reuben.

Question About Closing. A number of merchants, and particularly those in the dry goods and clothing business, have taken exception to the announcement made yesterday that the stores would be closed this afternoon and it was said last night that these stores are to be closed Friday afternoon and not today.

THEATRICAL.

The attraction at the Opera House tonight is the stirring drama of western life, "The Flaming Arrow." The story relates the love of a daughter of a colonel of the United States army, commanding a western post, for a young Indian—"White Eagle"—and the machinations of two villains which furnish the motives of the action.

A Message From Mars.

"A Message From Mars," which will be presented at the Opera House next Monday night, tells the story of Horace Parker, an Englishman upon whom fortune has bestowed some of its most substantial blessings of life. He has youth, health, wealth, pleasing exterior, a charming sweetheart, to whom he is engaged to be married, but he is beset by two vices, which are by no means uncommon in the general run of mankind.

Parker is at once subjected to potent electric currents, then the Martian shows him the contempt in which he is held, tries to awaken his compassion by exhibitions of human misery, and finally reduces him to starvation, and by actual suffering teaches him the beauty of life.

HOGAN DIES WITHOUT MAKING A STATEMENT

CAUSE OF QUARREL A MYSTERY—EFFORT TO BE MADE TO KEEP MAN AT POLICE STATION EVERY HOUR OF DAY.

The funeral of "Wallie" Hogan is to be held Friday morning from the home of his parents on Fisher street. Services will be held in St. Peter's cathedral and the interment will be in the Holy Cross cemetery.

Cause Not Explained.

Hogan died at St. Mary's hospital yesterday morning without having made any statement to account for the trouble which preceded the attack. Early in the morning he appeared to be resting easily. Shortly after 4 o'clock, however, he began to grow weaker and his death occurred at 6 o'clock.

From the first there was but slight chance for his recovery. The wound was inflicted by a butcher knife about nine inches long and as keen as a razor. Had the weapon not been wrapped in newspaper when the attack was made, it is probable that Hogan's head would have been nearly severed from his body.

Want Man at Station.

It is now said that police protection is inadequate and the escape of the murderer, who was thrown out of the saloon twice after he had stabbed Hogan, has aroused some criticism of the department.

Murderer's Disposition. The only clues to the identity of the murderer are the few statements made about himself when he was cooking at Sneider's restaurant.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.

Two of the Oldest Surviving Settlers Passed Within a Week. With the death of Frank La Bonte, Sr., reported in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal and the death a few days earlier of George Wagner, Marquette lost two of its oldest surviving pioneer settlers.
