

HISTORIC FLEET INSPIRING SIGHT

Huge Fighting Craft That Constitute the Bulk of Uncle Sam's New Navy Are Assembled Now in Hampton Roads.

With Flag of Admiral Evans, Commander-in-Chief, Flying from the Truck of the Connecticut, Fourteen of the Sixteen Battleships Slated to Start for the Pacific Next Monday Are at the Rendezvous, and the Laggards Are Due This Morning.

Old Point Comfort, Va., Dec. 9.—The double-starred flag of blue—the emblem of the commander-in-chief of the Pacific-bound battleship fleet—was flung to the breeze from the main truck of the battleship Connecticut today, and Rear Admiral Evans formally assumed the leadership of the greatest naval movement in the history of the American people. This was assembly day for the fleet, which is to set sail next Monday; and of the sixteen great fighting machines ordered to skirt the southern coast of the Americas, and inaugurate a new naval era in the Pacific ocean there were but two laggards. These were the 16,000-tonned Minnesota, the flagship of Rear Admiral Thomas, commander of the second squadron of the fleet, and the Kentucky, whose poultry 1,325 tons regulate her to the end of the armored column. The Kentucky is the oldest vessel among the sixteen, having been laid down with her sister, the Kearsarge, in 1898, at the beginning of the war with Spain.

Both missing vessels are expected to drop anchor in Hampton Roads tomorrow, and then the historic fleet will be complete. The new Maine, which two short years ago was the flagship of the commander-in-chief, is now lighthanded to eleventh place in the list, came in today, making fourteen battleships at anchor off here.

Make-Up of the Squadrons.

The ships are disposed in two long lines partly in the form of a crescent which begins just off Old Point pier and points toward Norfolk. The Connecticut, which lies nearest the pier, is followed by the nearest shore. Next to her is the Louisiana, the champion hard-hitting, fast-firing vessel of her class, and then in turn come the Kansas and Vermont, all registered at 16,000 tons and belted with steel rated well beyond 10,000 tons. These four compose the first division of the first squadron, and are the personal charges of Rear Admiral Evans.

The second division of the first squadron is made up of the Georgia, Virginia, New Jersey and Idaho. The flag of Rear Admiral Emory, commanding the division, hoists from the Georgia's truck. The Georgia, Virginia, New Jersey and Rhode Island are alike, with a displacement of nearly 15,000 tons each. They combine the tremendous driving force of 19,000 horsepower, and in navy yard trials they have all exceeded ninety knots, a speed attained by few heavily armored vessels of the world.

The vacant berth at the head of the line of the second squadron was left for the Minnesota, which is bound down the coast from the New York navy yard. Awaiting the Minnesota, in the second squadron, are the Maine, Ohio and Missouri, of the third division of the fleet, and in the fourth division are the Alabama, the flagship of Rear Admiral Sperry; the Illinois and Kearsarge. The Kentucky will complete this division and the squadron.

Arrival of Admiral Evans

Admiral Evans arrived this morning, accompanied by Captain Ingersoll, his chief of staff, and Lieutenant Commander Chandler, his flag secretary. As his flag was broken out from the main truck which he repaired aboard the Connecticut, there were the customary salutes from the flagships of the various divisions, and Admirals Emory and Sperry visited the flagship to pay their respects. The commanding officer of Fort Monroe also paid his respects to the admiral.

Crews of sight-seers from all parts of the country are assembled here to witness the final preparations and the departure of the fleet. Aside from the battleships, the colliers and supply ships that will accompany the fleet are at anchor in Hampton Roads. There were scenes of much activity about the fleet today. The crews were engaged in filling the bunkers of the vessels with "picked" coal, while others were loading supplemental magazine stores, these including hundreds of tons of projectiles and other explosives.

PRESIDENT TO LEAD FLEET.

Aboard the Mayflower will sail in Advance of Pacific Squadrons.

Washington, Dec. 9.—President Roosevelt in the Mayflower will lead the Pacific fleet at the beginning of his long cruise on Monday. He will leave here on Sunday, Dec. 15, at 3 o'clock on the Mayflower for Hampton roads. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, Rear Admiral W. T. Cowles and Mrs. Cowles, Lieutenant Commander Sims, one of the aides at the White House, Rear Admiral Brownson and by other bureau chiefs. The Mayflower will take position about 8 o'clock Monday morning near the horseshoe in Hampton roads. Immediately Rear Admiral Evans and the captains of the battleships will pay their respects to the president, who is the commander-in-chief of his army and navy, on board the Mayflower. After this function, which will include the good-bye and the godspeeds, the Mayflower will steam out and take position at the head of the column of battleships, all of which will be under full steam. The Mayflower will then steam ahead of the column for a distance of about five or six miles and then drop to starboard. The battleships will then pass the Mayflower in review, outward bound.

EFFECTS OF OVERWORK.

Frank Kellogg, Oil Trust Prosecutor, Faints at Banquet.

New York, Dec. 9.—In the midst of a speech at the annual dinner of the Minnesota society of New York tonight, Frank Kellogg, of St. Paul, Minn., who is prosecutor in the Standard Oil case, suddenly fainted. He was removed to an ante room, where he was revived. It was at first feared the illness was serious, but the physicians who attended him soon afterward announced that Mr. Kellogg had been overcome only temporarily by fatigue due to overwork, combined with an attack of indigestion.

ITALIANS FLOCKING HOME.

50,000 from America Have Landed Since First of the Month.

Naples, Dec. 9.—Owing to the financial conditions in the United States the repatriation of Italian emigrants is assuming vast proportions. Today nine thousand landed, and about 50,000 have returned to Italy since the first of the month. Many further arrivals are expected.

INSURANCE COMPANY ENJOINED.

New York, Dec. 9.—Judge Hough, of the United States court, today granted an order restraining the Mutual Reserves Life Insurance company from adopting the proposed amendments to its by-laws at the meeting of the policy-holders and enjoining the officers of the company from voting the proxies sent them by policy-holders. The arguments to be heard Friday.

SOLONS DO LITTLE

Business in the House and the Senate Is Limited to the Introduction of Bills.

Washington, Dec. 9.—The senate was in session a little more than an hour today and adjourned until tomorrow. No business was transacted beyond the introduction of bills. Resolutions calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information concerning the recent bond issue of the government came up, but in the absence of Mr. Aldrich their consideration was postponed until another day. Senator Tillman introduced a resolution instructing the committee on finance to investigate the recent bond issue, but in the absence of Mr. Aldrich it was not acted upon today.

The house adjourned at 12:10 o'clock Thursday, without transacting any business beyond the introduction of bills. It was stated authoritatively that the house committees would not be announced this week.

TO SUPERVISE CORPORATIONS.

Mr. Platt of New York Introduces a Bill in the Senate.

Washington, Dec. 9.—In the senate today Mr. Platt, of New York, introduced a bill for the national supervision of corporations. It establishes a bureau of information which shall hold supervision over corporations whose business is carried on in two or more states.

Other legislation introduced was: By Senator Nelson, allowing national banking associations to loan their funds on real estate and lands to one-third of the value. By Senator Burrows, placing all surviving officers of the volunteer army in the Civil war on the retired list, to receive one-half pay on the last rank held in the service or three-fourths pay at the age of seventy.

New Legislation in the House.

In the house today Mr. Hall of South Dakota introduced a bill removing the duty on imports of lumber, whether dressed or rough. Mr. MacIntyre proposed legislation making it a felony, punishable by imprisonment for two to five years or by a fine for a publisher to circulate any misleading advertisement.

Mr. Fulton of Oklahoma introduced a bill prohibiting the mailing of any statement of margin or stock-wagering transaction, and making it a felony under the interstate commerce law to utilize the telegraph for that purpose; also a bill directing the secretary of the interior to place on the pension roll the names of all survivors of the Civil war, regulars or volunteers who served at least sixty days, and so increasing the pensions that no such survivor shall receive less than $40 monthly.

Mr. Knapp of New York is the father of a proposition to appropriate $1,250,000 to defray the cost of the survey and right-of-way for a ship canal to connect Lakes Erie and Ontario, the channel to be "large enough to accommodate the largest vessels now in use on the Great Lakes."

Smithsonian Regents Appointed.

Speaker Cannon today reappointed the following regents of the Smithsonian institution: Representatives Dalzell, Pennsylvania; Mann, Illinois; Howard, Georgia. The vice president announced the appointment of Senators Cullion and Bacon as regents of the Smithsonian institution to fill vacancies.

WATSON TO SEE PRESIDENT.

Populist Proposes the Issue of $100,000,000 of Greenbacks.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Tom Watson of Georgia is coming to Washington tomorrow at the request of the president and will be a luncheon guest at the White House. Mr. Watson is an ardent advocate of the issue of the $100,000,000 of greenbacks as a means of relieving the money stringency and it is said the president wants to discuss this plan with him.

GLAZIER CLINGS TO HIS OFFICE

However It Is the Belief at Lansing That He Will Resign Very Shortly or the Governor Will Remove Him.

His Position Is Peculiar—As Treasurer of the Commonwealth He Must Make Every Effort to Recover the $685,000 of State Funds Deposited in His Own Bank, and He May Thus Even Have to Sue Himself—Rich His Probable Successor.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—State Treasurer Glazier has made no announcement as to his resignation, but it is believed he will resign or that the governor will remove him. While there is no criminality attached to him as state treasurer, he is in an anomalous position. As state treasurer he must make every effort to recover the $685,000 of state funds from himself as banker. He may even have to sue himself. It is pointed out that he as banker, he must have known the shakiness of the bank that he, as state treasurer, was dumping funds into. It is generally believed that ex-Governor Rich will get the appointment if Glazier resigns.

Constitutional Delegate's Plan.

Delegate Adams, of Grand Rapids, introduced a plan in the constitutional convention tonight which would have left this state free from trouble in the recent financial flurry—if it is constitutional. It would permit state banks to deposit state, county municipal or school bonds or approved real estate mortgages with the state, which would then issue deposit certificates on which the banker would pay 3 per cent interest.

Mr. Adams believes that in times of currency shutouts like that through which the country has just passed the state banks would take out these deposit certificates in sufficient volume to help out the state needs. They would not be currency, but would pass as currency as did cashiers' checks, clearing house checks and other forms of money during the flurry. They would have also the advantage of being guaranteed by the state. Deputy Banking Commissioner Donohue said he was not in favor of the plan. Delegate Cranor, availing that he did not believe Michigan wanted to be classed with the states that have "forgotten God," introduced a proposal for a preamble tonight in which the diety is recognized.

STOCKS SUPPORTED.

Protective Measures in Wall Street—Copper Group Very Weak.

New York, Dec. 9.—The stock market today gave plenty of evidence of the operation of protective measures for the support of prices against depression. The effectiveness of the support given the market today was the more notable by reason of the rather acute weakness shown by a few special stocks, as well as in an unfettered market movement, but of marked sympathetic affect on the general list.

The weakness of the copper group, including American Smelting, was pronounced, and was directly attributable to unfavorable trade developments. The drastic reduction in the output of copper disclosed in the entire shutdown of some Amalgamated Copper company properties pointed accurately to the source of the doubts reflected in the movement of these stocks. Further dividend reductions were counted upon as an outcome of this action. There is growing appreciation also of the limited consumptive demand which has figured in the recent large exports of copper and which are now alleged to be going into European stocks instead of into consumption.

The imminence of the dividend meeting for Western Union explained the special movement in that stock. Fears were entertained that the shrinkage in general business activity, always reflected in telegraph revenues, as well as the losses incident to the operators' strike, would prompt the directors to pass the coming dividend or to materially reduce it.

The call loan market was firmer than on Friday, due to increased borrowings, and this was an admonitory influence on speculative extension. Another influence on the call loan market, however, was the stirring of life in the time loan market and in that for mercantile paper. Increased supplies were reported in these markets, and bankers and money lenders were less bent on conserving their funds in the liquid form of call loans. Some withdrawals of that form of credits evidently were being transferred to the other, a clear intimation of the coming ease for the whole money situation. Some of the demand for out-of-town banks for currency kept up, and a premium was still paid.

Late Selling of United States Steel Had Sympathetic Effect on the Market and Made the Closing Easy.

Late selling of United States Steel had sympathetic effect on the market and made the closing easy.

GOLD STILL COMING.

Total Engaged for Shipment to America Now $102,750,000.

New York, Dec. 9.—Local bankers today engaged gold amounting to $2,750,000 for import, making the total engagement during the movement $102,750,000.

GOVERNMENT CROP BULLETIN.

Washington, Dec. 9.—The crop bulletin issued by the department of agriculture today says: The newly seeded

WEATHER FORECAST

Washington, Dec. 9.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Snow and colder, Tuesday; Wednesday, fair, except snow along the lakes; brisk northwest winds.

STRIKE NOW TO END.

Window Glass Workers Get an Increase in Wages.

Cleveland, Dec. 9.—The Amalgamated Window Glass Workers of America have obtained a 12 per cent increase in wages. The agreement is the result of several months' negotiations and is the first since and at once the strike of the workers.

CANT STOP FAST MAIL TRAINS.

Washington, Dec. 9.—The question whether a national company can be compelled to stop the order of a state railroad commission to stop its fast mail trains engaged in interstate commerce was decided today by the supreme court in the negative.

RECEIVER IS NAMED.

Pittsburg, Dec. 9.—A receiver was appointed today for the Rochester Tumbler Works. Slow collections, a big falling off in sales and the general financial stringency are given as direct causes of the embarrassment. The company is capitalized at $200,000.

ATTACKS TRIBUNAL

Prominent Minneapolis Attorney Wants the Supreme Court of Minnesota Impeached.

St. Paul, Dec. 9.—The Pioneer Press today publishes the contents of a letter sent by Francis B. Hart, a prominent Minneapolis attorney, to Governor Johnson in which the writer asks the governor to institute an inquiry as to whether certain decisions made by the supreme court of Minnesota during the past three years were right, and, if not right, asking that impeachment proceedings be instituted against the court.

The basis of the indictment is practically identical with that set forth in the secret report of the defense of Port Arthur made by General Smirnov, but the counsel for the defense have announced their intention of broadening the scope of the inquiry to bring in the conduct of the ministry for war both prior to and during the war with Japan.

IS OUT FOR BRYAN

Norman Mack, New York Leader, Urges Nomination of the Nebraska Man.

New York, Dec. 9.—Norman E. Mack, member of the Democratic national committee for New York, said today that the national convention would be held either at St. Paul or Louisville. He declared that W. J. Bryan should be named for president, and he said he had heard many prominent Democrats express preference for former Governor Wm. E. Douglass, of Massachusetts, for second place.

MAY FOLLOW THE AMBASSADOR.

Japanese Counsellor at Washington Not in High Favor There

Washington, Dec. 9.—Japan is expected soon to announce the recall of an other diplomatic representative now on duty at Washington, but for exactly the opposite reason of that which is said to be responsible for the retirement of her present ambassador, Viscount Aoki. It is understood that Mr. Tsunejuro Miyaoaka, the counsellor of the embassy, will be transferred to another post within the next few months, although he may remain until Baron Takahira arrives. The trouble with Mr. Miyaoaka appears to be an impatience with men and things American which at times has been too strong for him to suppress. European diplomats at Washington attribute to Miyaoaka in large measure the recall of Aoki whom he is said to have regarded as entirely too conciliatory in his attitude toward the Washington government.

In the opinion of Mr. Miyaoaka, if one may judge from statements he has made, President Roosevelt should have been more active in his efforts to protect the Japanese citizens of San Francisco. So far as the immigration question is concerned Mr. Miyaoaka would have European diplomats believe that Japan has absolutely refused to negotiate the question of restricting the emigration of her citizens to this country. He has insisted, even while Viscount Aoki was known to be discussing this matter with Secretary Root, that Japan would never permit the United States to negotiate with her on this subject. It appears that his alleged remarks about this country have received wide circulation as to reach the ear of the government.

ENGLISH RAILROAD MERGER.

New Combination to Reduce Expenses Is a Partnership Scheme.

London, Dec. 9.—England is having her first experience with that typical American product, the railway merger. For some time past a combination has been in existence between the London Northwestern and the two competing lines, the Midland and the Lancashire & Yorkshire, and now the Great Northern and the Great Central are forming a pool not with a common purse for dividends, based on actual profits, but with partnership with co-operation in place of competition in specified traffics and districts.

The nature of the agreement will not be known until the proposals are submitted to the stockholders before Christmas, but since no transfer of property or shares is contemplated a coalition with definite spheres of influence is probable. Money will be saved by breaking up the duplicate passenger service with trains half empty and by economical arrangements for dividing the freight business at higher rates. Whether the public interests will be sacrificed by cutting down unnecessary mileage and reducing facilities for cheap goods traffic is a question which the board of trade will be forced to consider.

CONTRABAND OF WAR ABOARD?

Brest, Dec. 9.—It is rumored that the German steamer Milos, which took fire at sea and abandoned off Ushant island, twenty-seven miles west of Brest, Friday, was laden with contraband of war, which would account for her hurried abandonment. The vessel is now in port, but the fire is still smouldering.

EMPEROR WILLIAM IN LONDON.

London, Dec. 9.—Emperor William, of Germany, who has completed his "rest cure" at Highcliffe castle, arrived in London today for three days' sight-seeing.

DEATH SENTENCE FACES STOESEL

After Many Delays, the Court Martial of the Former Commander of Port Arthur Will Open at St. Petersburg Today.

Veteran General Accused of Having Surrendered the Fortress Before Exhausting All Resources of Defense, Execution May Be Penalty Under the Code, and Along With Him Will Be Tried on Similar Charges Two High Officers Serving Under Him.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 9.—The final stage of the court-martial of Lieutenant General Stoessel will begin in this city tomorrow. There have been protracted delays in taking testimony in the Far East, but now this material is in order and the proceedings will go ahead rapidly.

General Stoessel is accused of having surrendered the fortress at Port Arthur before he had exhausted all the resources of defense. The punishment for this, under the Russian code, is death. He is to be tried also on the charge of lacking in initiative and with having exceeded his powers. Generals Feck and Reiss are defendants with him. General Feck is accused of conspiracy to surrender the fortress, and General Reiss with having executed the order of surrender. General Smirnov, Stoessel's most bitter enemy, is to be tried on a minor count.

The court is composed of nine generals under the presidency of Vice Admiral Doukassoff. It includes Generals Kurapatkin, Bildering, Myloff and others. General Gursky will be judge advocate. Stoessel is defended by Deputy Strytanoff and Colonel Veliamoff. The basis of the indictment is practically identical with that set forth in the secret report of the defense of Port Arthur made by General Smirnov, but the counsel for the defense have announced their intention of broadening the scope of the inquiry to bring in the conduct of the ministry for war both prior to and during the war with Japan.

DROWNS TWO BABES

Massachusetts Woman, Mentally Weak, Ends Lives of Two Little Grandchildren.

Somerville, Mass., Dec. 9.—Mrs. Emory Huntley walked into the police station here today and announced that she had killed her two grandchildren. The children were found in her home, drowned in a bath tub. The aged woman is mentally weak.

Poisons Wife and Himself.

St. Louis, Dec. 9.—Desperate and desperate efforts to secure employment, John Oliger forced a quantity of carbolic acid down his wife's throat this afternoon and swallowed a larger quantity himself. He died in an ambulance. The wife was taken to a hospital, but is not expected to live.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY IN MISSOURI.

Hannibal, Mo., Dec. 9.—Isaac C. Wilcox, a telephone lineman, tonight shot and killed a Mrs. Wilkinson and her brother, "Cotton" Hanson, at the home of Louis Lotz, and then shot and killed himself. Lotz was the only witness to the tragedy. Mrs. Wilkinson was a widow and Wilcox was once a suitor for her hand.

ROBT. BACON GETS A MEDAL.

Assistant Secretary of State Saved a Harvard Student from Drowning.

Boston, Dec. 9.—Assistant Secretary of State Robert Bacon has been awarded a bronze medal by the Massachusetts Humane society for his bravery in saving a Harvard man from drowning in Charles river, Oct. 11 last. Mr. Bacon was watching the work of the Harvard crew on the river from a launch when a canoe, containing two students, capsized. Neither of the two men knew how to swim, and Mr. Bacon dived overboard, holding one of the two men above water until help came. J. P. Reid, a Harvard undergraduate, went to the assistance of the second man, and for this he, too, received a medal from the Humane society.

SHOT TO DEATH.

Two Would-Be Robbers in Washington Are Killed by Posses.

Winlock, Wash., Dec. 9.—Two men who had attempted to rob the postoffice here today were chased by a posse, surrounded in nearby woods and shot to death. Their names are not known.

BROKE THROUGH THE ICE.

Three Boys of Marshalltown, Ia., Drown While Skating.

Marshalltown, Ia., Dec. 9.—Three sons of N. E. Carmil, aged ten, twelve and fourteen, were drowned at Tama, seventeen miles east of here, while skating last evening.

SIX-DAY BICYCLE RACE.

New York, Dec. 9.—Thirteen of the sixteen teams of bicyclists which started at 1 o'clock this morning in the six-day international race combine on the track at midnight, maintaining an average speed of twenty miles an hour. Six of the teams are tied for first place. The score of the leaders is 453 miles, three laps.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LEADER.

Boston, Dec. 9.—Joseph Armstrong, manager of the Christian Science publication, and one of the most prominent leaders of that faith in this country, died tonight. Mr. Armstrong was born in Carrollton, Ill., in 1848.

MRS. TAFT IN PERIL.

Tender on Which She Is a Passenger Narrowly Escapes Wreck.

On Board the Steamer President Grant, Dec. 9.—By wireless telegraph to London.—Mrs. Taft, wife of the American secretary of war, joined her husband on board this steamer early this morning at Boulogne. On the trip out of the harbor the tender of the party had an exceedingly narrow escape from wreck and disaster. A gale had struck the tender, rendering it helpless for a time.

Secretary Advised of Mother's Death.

On Board the Steamer President Grant, in the English Channel, Dec. 10, by wireless telegraph to London, via Yarmouth, Tuesday, Dec. 10.—A message announcing the death of Secretary Taft's mother was received at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The secretary was aroused, and the message was communicated to him. He was greatly affected. He had hoped to reach America before the worst.

ARMY PLEDGES ALLEGIANCE.

New King of Sweden Receives the Homage of the Troops.

Stockholm, Dec. 9.—Attended by the princes and his suite, Gustave V at noon today received the homage of the troops, who were drawn up in a semi-circle around the palace. It was a splendid and solemn spectacle. The king addressed the troops briefly.

Roosevelt Cables Sympathy.

Washington, Dec. 9.—The president has sent the following telegram to King Gustave of Sweden: "I deeply sympathize with your majesty and with the people of Sweden in the loss of your honored father and venerated sovereign."

GOLDFIELD MINES REOPEN THIS WEEK.

With Federal Troops Scattered Through the Camp, Operations Will Be Resumed Thursday on a Reduced Scale of Wages.

Goldfield, Nev., Dec. 9.—The mines of Goldfield are to be reopened Thursday next. The wage scale will be reduced. No members of the Western Federation of Miners or Workers of the West will be given employment, though there will be no discrimination against members of the American Federation of Labor or affiliated unions. Such is the decision of the executive committee of the Mine Owners' association announced today. The change from Wednesday to Thursday was made to allow time to get men from other points here to replace the strikers. Governor Sparks will come to Goldfield Thursday. The troops now here will be scattered through the camp and will practically guard the mines. The card system, as used at Cripple Creek, will be introduced.

Ultimatum Is Issued.

Late this afternoon the Mine Owners' association issued an ultimatum to the miners. This ultimatum was 20 per cent less than the prevailing rate. The association also demands that the cost of living be reduced 20 per cent, and it declares that "unless this be done within reasonable time the association will construct and operate a general merchandise store and a general business office and will guarantee the men employed at and around the mines and mills a reduction to this or a greater amount." The association also announces that if there is not a sufficient number of men willing to go to work upon the terms offered before Dec. 12, it will employ men from such sources as it may be able to secure them.

Settlement Is Possible Yet.

Conservative men not connected with either side believe that a settlement may yet be effected, and, if not, that an attempt may be made to organize a general strike. The strike which caused the Federation of Labor to withdraw from the miners' owners have already intimated they will be willing to enter into an agreement.

Many More Bodies Recovered from Monongah's Wrecked Colliery.

Monongah, W. Va., Dec. 9.—When darkness came tonight sixty-six bodies had been brought up from the wrecked mines. It is believed that close to two hundred dead will have been recovered by daylight. The fire which caused the suspension of the rescue work yesterday and early today was extinguished, it is stated, at noon today.

Free Transportation to Italy.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 9.—Rev. F. J. Donahue, bishop of Wheeling, who returned tonight from Monongah, interviewed Senator Vitale, Italian consul, and Senator Golda, consul for West Virginia, at Fairmont, and secured from them the statement that the Italian government probably will provide free transportation to Italy for the widows and orphans of victims of the mine disaster.

PASTOR USES "DISPLAY AD."

Dr. Cardon of Beloit Makes Attracting Announcement in Newspapers.

Beloit, Wis., Dec. 9.—Joseph Cardon, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church, one of the fashionable churches in the city, has given another illustration of the possibilities of business methods in religion. Ordinary small type advertisements of church services in newspapers are nothing new. They may be seen in almost any paper in a city of any size. It remained for Dr. Cardon to introduce an innovation in the shape of a "display ad" in the Beloit papers. All the services of St. Paul's church are thus advertised, and the pastor's experience has aroused a great deal of interest in local church circles.

MARQUETTE, MICH., DEC. 10.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Chicago is a grand finisher when it comes to a campaign for a national convention.

"It is worth investigation," says President Roosevelt in his message to congress, "whether officers and directors of national banks should ever be allowed to loan to themselves." Michigan's recent experiences have been of a nature to lead it to heartily second the suggestion.

To Mr. Ole Harnstad, who professes to know so much about "human wolves" who are hunting deer with headlights, it is suggested that he unburden himself to State Game Warden Pierce, or one of his deputies. The state game warden can be depended on to see that his alleged facts are investigated.

As a matter of principle the other Michigan congressmen are likely to favor McMoran as against Smith in the Port Huron postoffice fight. Whatever would become of their personal political machines if the U. S. senators came to have the predominant voice in distributing postoffice plums?

Mr. Bryan will run again, never fear. The rank and file of the party will wish it. If the rank and file had had its way he would have run in place of Judge Parker, of Escopus, in 1904, and would have run better, too. Governor Cummins of Iowa believes that with Bryan heading the Democratic ticket next year we will see a close election. Unless the Republicans conduct themselves with circumspection in naming their candidates it may be uncomfortably close.

According to lower state reports Governor Warner is going to move to vacate the office of state treasurer, unless Mr. Glazier resigns with little delay. There is no doubt of the governor's power. Mr. Glazier is entitled to a hearing, before the governor, but there is no appeal from the governor's decision. In this case the governor is known to believe that he is fully justified in taking, and in fact that his duty to the state requires that he take, the extreme step necessary to secure an entirely new deal in the state treasurer's office.

Among others State Highway Commissioner Horatio S. Earle, gubernatorial candidate, is not the man to be cast down by embarrassment to his party, financial losses to his friends, disturbance of the public mind and the calamity that has come to a political contemporary, says the Detroit Journal. Not a bit of it. Mr. Earle, thus early in the Glazier affair, has rushed to the public prints with denunciation of the involved citizens and biting sarcasm for the officer whose position he covets—from afar. He has lost not a minute in claiming his share of the political prestige that may be gleaned from a public disaster. Almost prophetically said Hamlet:

Thrill, thrill, Horatio, the funeral baked meats Did coldly furnish forth the marriage tables.

More curiously yet, that was another Horatio.

The national committee finally decided that delegates to the national convention elected under the direct primary system in states that have adopted that system will be accepted by the committee as properly qualified to sit in the convention. It went against the committee's grain to thus recognize primary reform. A majority of its members are ultra-conservative and if they had dared to do so they would have made their call in the old way, thus allowing the question whether delegates elected by direct primaries would be accepted to remain open. However, they were afraid of the political effect of such a course in the states that have taken up with the direct nominations idea, and their discretion overruled their inclination. The necessity the committee felt under of giving away to it is a piece of marked evidence of the compelling growth of direct nominations sentiment.

Mr. Hughes will not, we are told, serve again as governor. It is also stated with finality that he will not accept the nomination as vice president on any terms, or under any conditions. It is said that if he continues in public life after his present term as governor is up he will continue as president. And it may be said that he appears totally indifferent as to whether or not he continues in public life as president. He shows an entire distaste when anybody attempts to talk presidential politics to him, and has refused to give the slightest encouragement to honestly meant and disinterested endeavors in his behalf. He is a receptive candidate, in all that modest receptivity implies. Apparently not ambitious for the office, he would accept it as he accepted the nomination for governor of New York, because he would regard it as a duty to do so. The Mining Journal believes that as president he would give to the nation the same high quality of service he has given to the state of New York. Some of President Roosevelt's enemies are warming up to him, but they are doing so without his encouragement. Just why they should do so is not explained by anything found in his record as governor of New York, which indicates that if he were elected president he would insist on an exact enforcement of the laws against big and little offenders alike no less zealously than his predecessor. The difference between him and Roosevelt, unless he believed everything we know about him, would in this particular be principally one of manner.

The Port Huron postoffice is the occasion of a fight that is interesting the entire Michigan delegation in congress, and in which Senator Smith and Congressman McMoran are arrayed against one another. Senator Smith wants L. S. Sherman, the present official, returned, but Congressman McMoran has recommended the appointment of Burt Cady, the present state senator from the district. The fight goes back to the United States senatorial contest and other recent political history. Cady favored and voted for Hill for senator; Sherman was and is, a Smith man, and is also rated as a friend of Governor Warner. Smith's well-known characteristic of standing by his friends is therefore shown in the contest. For Cady the precedent of allowing the representatives to control the appointment of postmasters in their districts is working. Senator Smith appears to have thrown himself into the fight heart and soul, saying: "I have nothing against Mr. Cady, but I am certainly opposed to throwing Mr. Sherman out of office simply because he does not bow down to the Avery machine. He is a good man and an old soldier, and I am decidedly in favor of keeping him in office. It is true that he is not a member of the machine, but he is my friend, and I don't propose to allow my enemies to make my friends suffer, if I can help it. If Mr. Avery and his friends in the Seventh district want a war on this account, they can have all the war they want."

A GOOD CONVENTION TOWN.
In Kansas City there is doubtless some disappointment and dissatisfaction with the action of the national Republican committee in selecting Chicago as the place for holding the convention next year, but in the country at large it is accepted as a satisfactory disposition of the matter.
Chicago has unique advantages as a place for holding national conventions that assure that it will be selected nearly every four years, unless there are special party reasons for placing the convention elsewhere. There were no such reasons this fall, and as a result, when the Chicago boomers busied themselves in real earnest, the carefully laid plans of the other towns were quickly and easily undone.
In Chicago there will be found ample hotel accommodations for the entertainment of the delegates and train of convention followers. Also assurances are given that they will be entertained at the usual rates, and that there will be no special convention schedule in force. The convention will be held in the Coliseum, the structure in the Illinois metropolis that corresponds to the Madison Square Garden in New York. There will be a seating capacity of 15,000, as it is planned to add materially to the present capacity.
Probably the greatest point favorable to Chicago as the city in which this and other national conventions can most advantageously be held is its central location. More delegates can get to it easier and more quickly than to any other city that might be named. Its telegraph facilities, and this is no unimportant point, are adequate to permit of the fullest reporting of conventions, and there are no other events of national importance which are so fully reported as our national conventions.

As for the candidates Chicago and the Chicago press will feel kindly to all of them and among other things will guarantee the square deal all around.

A VINDICATED CRUISE.

Captain Mahan's leisurely statement concerning the Pacific cruise should be cooling to those who have attacked the movement as an unnecessary affront to Japan. His conclusion that there is nothing either in international law or international comity warranting Japan in taking offense will be accepted for two reasons. The first is that Captain Mahan is our highest authority concerning matters of naval strategy, and the second is that his explanation is so clear and lucid that it would carry conviction even though not coming from an expert.
A fleet is a unity—this is the doctrine now accepted in all admiralities. Thus it is that Great Britain, abandoning scattered distribution, has concentrated her naval strength. If we are to have such unity, and at the same time provide for the defense of both our coasts, it is obvious that our fleet, until the Panama canal is open, must be habituated to the journey around South America. It is only by trial in times of peace that we can safeguard against perhaps fatal weaknesses in times of war. Captain Mahan well points out that it should be a matter of surprise that the experiment has not been made sooner rather than that it is not now postponed.

That Japan has no disposition to misread the motive of the cruise appears not only from formal statements from the Japanese foreign office but from the accommodating spirit Japan is showing in negotiating concerning the difficult immigration question. Despite the insinuations of cheap and hasty critics the Japanese government shows no sign of high-horse mounting. If the conditions were reversed our country would have reason for pride if our public officers showed an equally fine restraint. The Japanese immigration commissioner who has toured America has submitted a report that is a marvel of fair-mindedness, and Baron Hayashi has flatly told the Japanese agitators that the policy they would pursue is not to be thought of. There is now excellent prospect, if our demagogues and troublemakers can likewise be silenced, that the immigration question can be settled without creating the slightest rift in the historic friendship between Japan and the United States—a friendship for whose continuance Japan almost pathetically appeals.

EXPORT TAX ON PULPWOOD.

Its Imposition Demanded by Canadian Manufacturing Interests.
Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 9.—President Roosevelt's declaration in favor of the abolition of the tariff on forest products has not created any great surprise here, as it is felt that he has been leading up to some such declaration. His idea that the repeal of the American duties on wood pulp should be accompanied by an agreement with Canada, that there shall be no export duty on Canadian pulpwood, is looked upon as being characteristically American; for such an arrangement would hasten the depletion of the Canadian forest, while giving growth to the new forests of the United States. Among Canadian lumbermen and wood pulp manufacturers there has existed a strong feeling in favor of either a prohibition of the export of pulpwood or logs, or the imposition of an export duty. A gentleman who is familiar with Canadian feeling on this subject says that the balance of opinion inclines in favor of the prohibition of exports, as it has been estimated that every cord of pulpwood exported brings Canada an average of $7. The final stage of manufacture, viz., paper, brings $40. While the profit from the export of the manufactured article is thus much larger and confers corresponding advantages to Canada, the export of it would still tend to deplete the Canadian forests. Those in favor of the stoppage of export argue that such policy would force the American mills to buy the ground pulp from Canada, and a higher price would soon compel the Americans to start more pulp mills in Canada. As to the start, the government will do little. The ministry has been urged for years to put on an export duty, and last August a large delegation of paper men went on Sir Wilfrid Laurier and asked the prohibition of the export of logs. They did not receive any definite assurances that anything would be done, and it is safe to assume that the government has not as yet decided what policy it will pursue.
Quebec, Que., Dec. 9.—Quebec pulpwood manufacturers express the hope that Canada will not be induced by President Roosevelt's reference to the American tariff on pulpwood to refrain from placing an export duty on Canadian pulpwood. They favor the imposition of a Canadian export duty for the protection of forests, and also to compel the American users of pulpwood to manufacture in this country. So far as the bait for such an agreement with Canada as will prevent this export tax is concerned, as held out by the president, namely, the admission into the United States of Canada pulp free of duty, Quebec manufacturers say they do not care if whether there is an American duty or not, as the Americans want our pulp in any case, even with an American import duty.

NEW INDUSTRY IN ILLINOIS.
Galesburg, Ill., Dec. 9.—The new wood preserving plant of the Burlington route will open here tomorrow, having just been finished at a cost of $225,000. Railroad ties will be treated with zinc chlorides and creosote in immense receptacles, and the life of the ties thus will be doubled. The new plant is said to be the most complete in the world, and has been visited recently by railroad men from all parts of the country.

A REAL WONDERLAND.
South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritable wonderland. At Mound City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him." PREVENT LUNG TROUBLES

The modern method is to prevent disease—a method you will do well to follow.
A cough is the natural result of this changeable weather. It can easily be prevented though by wearing a good CHEST PROTECTOR, and it is less dangerous and far cheaper to prevent it than to cure it after you have one.
We have good Chest Protectors that do not cost much but give large returns in safety and comfort. They are needed more now when the weather is unsettled than in the middle of winter when the cold is continuous.

ERRICSON BOUND OVER. Alleged Check-Raiser Will be Tried at February Term of Court.

Andrew Erricson, accused of attempting to cash a check which had been raised from $6.05 to $205.05, was brought before Justice Brand, at Houghton, yesterday morning and waived examination.

Erricson was about the most harmless looking criminal, if such he is, that ever appeared in the Houghton court. He has been out of Finland only about six months, and cannot speak English.

MAY ADJOURN TOMORROW. Circuit Court Term Nears the End—Divorces and Sentences.

The November term of the Houghton county circuit court, which has been in session six weeks, will probably be adjourned tomorrow.

The feature of the morning session yesterday was divorce. Judge Streeter awarded four decrees between 10 and 11 o'clock, which may not be a record but which was commented upon as being fairly expedient.

Matt Hokala, who slashed John Bowden in Calumet last July and pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder, was given a year in prison.

NAVIGATION CLOSURES.

Portage Lake Life-Saving Station Now Out of Commission.

Captain McCormick, keeper of the Portage Lake Life-saving station, closed the station for the season yesterday. He will remain on the station, or between it and his home in Houghton, all winter, but his eight men will go to their homes.

The Portage Lake life-saving crew made only two important trips this season, and neither was accompanied by danger. In one they recovered the body of a man drowned in Portage lake and on the other trip they went to the assistance of the Louisiana, which sank in Portage lake a short time ago.

Other Marine Matters. Captain James Reid, who released the steamer Spokane from Gull Island reef, in Lake Superior, decided Sunday to attempt to attempt to make the trip to Lake Erie or an upper lake drydock with the wreck, and that night he towed her over to Baraga and beached her there for the winter.

The Spokane was found to be leaking to the four feet, as it required the constant action of two big pumps to keep her afloat. Her boilers were in good condition and they furnished the steam for the pumps, but the engines were dismantled, many parts having been taken off by the wrecker.

Navigation through Portage lake is still possible, as the warm weather of the past few days has kept it free of ice, but it is not expected that any boats will now arrive at these ports.

HOUGHTON GUN CLUB. Shooters Are Preparing for an Active Winter—Two Cups.

The Houghton Gun club held a shoot Sunday morning at its grounds near the Isle Royale mill, and some excellent marksmen present, and a number of them shot close to 90 per cent of the birds thrown, which is remarkably good work.

The club will next Sunday begin shooting two matches, each for a silver cup trophy. The contests are both at fifteen birds, but one is straight shooting, and the other trap shooting.

Some Hockey Personalities. Though professional hockey is a thing of the past in the copper country the public takes an interest in the former copper country players and their plans for the season.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

NEW HOCKEY LEAGUE.

Committee Frames a Schedule Calling for Twenty-four Games.

Messrs. Amolsch and McNamara, schedule committee for the Houghton County Amateur Hockey league, met Sunday and framed a playing schedule for the season.

The league is now permanently organized and the four teams are beginning to sign their players, though as yet no names have been given out. All the teams will have a businesslike management, and the prospect for good hockey is bright.

Mining News

LAKE "COPPERS."

Lake copper mines, except some of the Bigelow mines, report for November about an average product. The several managements had curtailed expenditures wherever possible, before reducing the pay of employees, and this fact has allowed, and on Jan. 1st all Lake mines will be running along on the scale of wages existing in 1906, or before the general advance about a year ago.

Calumet & Hecla.

The Calumet & Hecla occupies today a most enviable position. This company has the distinction of attending strictly to the business of making copper and selling it, and reports for the year 1907 will show that the copper of this company, and also of the Alton and Centennial, two mines managed by the Calumet & Hecla people, have marked their copper, or about all of it, and at a fair price.

good mines, and mines that once opened and fully developed and equipped will earn money. Abmeek.

The Abmeek, another of the mines producing from the Kearsarge formation, is getting about eighteen pounds of ingot per ton of rock stamped. At this mine considerable work is under way to round out the surface plant. A new compressor, with capacity for 5,000 feet of free air is to be delivered early in the new year, and when received will be at once installed. The two shafts are down a little over 1,300 feet, and values in the openings into new ground are fully up to the average.

LAWSON'S STATEMENT.

Thomas W. Lawson of Boston issues the following: "I have perfected certain arrangements whereby it is proper for me to say that I shall probably take the next election of Amalgamated, electing a new board of directors with myself as president. But, on taking the presidency, I shall place in the hands of a committee my resignation in favor of a certain internationally known Boston man of corporation affairs, to take effect three months after my election, and after a thorough investigation of the company's affairs since the inception of the enterprise up to the annual election. Also, barring accidents, the properties of the Trinity, Nevada-Utah, Balaklava, and Arizona Smelters will be merged, and these merged into another property. Also, I have devoted three and a half years of my time and some millions of my fortune to reform work in the interests of the public. Beginning January 1st I shall allow the public to do their own reforming, and I shall devote my time and capital exclusively to my own business of stock 'gambling' in Wall and State streets—particularly in Wall street—for the purpose of recouping the millions I have donated to my public work. P. S.—One of the oldest of human laws, and the one which is—'The devil take the hindmost.'"

The Christmas sale to be conducted by the ladies of St. Peter's parish will open at Baraga Hall this afternoon, continuing in the evening and on the following day.

Mrs. E. L. Burrows and Mrs. Jane N. Smith left for Duluth last night for the purpose of attending the funeral of the infant daughter of John W. Burrows. The death of the child occurred yesterday.

The annual meeting of the woman's auxiliary to the A. O. H. will be held at Siegel's Hall at 2 o'clock next Sunday afternoon, it having been postponed on account of the bazaar at the Baraga auditorium. Officers for the ensuing year will be chosen.

Meeting Today—A meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution is to be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at their rooms on Front street.

Annual Christmas Sale—The ladies of the Presbyterian church will conduct their Christmas sale of fancy and useful articles and home-made bakery goods and candies in the parlors of the church Friday, Dec. 13, afternoon and evening.

Died at Duluth—Messages received last evening conveyed the news of the death at Duluth of the infant daughter of John W. Burrows, formerly of this city. The child was aged about a month. Its demise was due to an attack of pneumonia.

Sale Is a Success—The sale conducted by the Guilds of the Episcopal church at Morgan Memorial chapel yesterday afternoon and evening was quite successful although the chilly weather kept away a number who otherwise would have attended.

Chimney Fire—Fire at the residence of Joseph LaFave of Mather street last night was caused by a defective flue. A part of the roof was burned and the interior of the house was damaged slightly by smoke. The blaze was extinguished by the department without trouble.

To Meet Tomorrow—A meeting of the water board is to be held at the city hall tomorrow evening instead of tonight as was at first intended. The project of removing the water works to a point on Presque Isle, which was presented by H. W. Neibel at a recent meeting, is to be discussed.

Preparing for Minstrels—Another rehearsal of the members of the cast which is to present the Hibernians' minstrels was held last night. Those in the show are working hard to make it a success and the indications are that the production will be all that is promised for it. The rehearsals are being held in the hall above the Kelly Hardware company's store on Front street.

Illustrated Lecture Tonight—An illustrated lecture dealing with his travels in the Holy Land will be delivered at the Swedish Methodist church this evening by Rev. J. Sallstrom of Ishpeming. The reverend gentleman spent a number of months in the region of which he will talk, and he is thoroughly conversant with his subject. He has published a book descriptive of his travels. A large number of fine stereopticon views will be shown during the course of tonight's lecture.

For the Prisoners—The Little Folks' concert which met with such a great success recently when it was given at the Methodist church under the direction of the Misses Hicks is to be given at the prison tomorrow night. There are about thirty of the young people of the church in the cast and the program consists of vocal and instrumental music. A march of nations in costume with appropriate music is the feature of the program.

To Have Venison—A deer which was seized at Negaunee by County Game Warden Manly was brought to Marquette yesterday and was turned over to the authorities at the poor house. The deer had been driven into a lake near Negaunee by wolves and was almost dead when a young boy dragged it out and killed it. The game warden took the deer from the boy and turned it over to C. L. Sporey, who ordered it sent to the poor house.

SECOND EDITION ISSUED.

"The Honorable Peter White" Is a History of Iron Ore Mining.

The second edition of the book entitled "The Honorable Peter White" is now on the press and will be out of the bindery in about 10 days, in ample time to be delivered anywhere in the United States for the Christmas trade.

The first edition of this work met with such instantaneous success that the publishers resolved to greatly enlarge the scope of the second edition, embracing much new matter that had been discovered since the first edition was published and much that has also transpired since it was published. For instance, the new matter includes an account of the celebration at Sault Ste. Marie upon the completion of the first half century of the canal's usefulness.

The book of the second edition is nearly twice as big as the one of the first, containing among other things nearly 100 extra pages of pictorial matter alone.

The purpose of writing this book was to put in an imperishable form an authentic history of the development of the great iron deposits of the Lake Superior country while was yet possible to do so. The record has been obtained from the men that actually took part in the discovery and initial development of the iron mines. So vast indeed has been the progress of this industry, and so stupendous its results in the creation and distribution of individual wealth, that it seems incredible that it should have occurred within the lifetime of one man. Yet it is so.

One man was there at the beginning and he is there yet—the Hon. Peter White of Marquette. He assisted in stripping the first iron mine developed in the Lake Superior country and it has seemed just to incorporate the story under his name, so universal have been his activities in this great industrial theater.

The story as told is of uncommon interest to the iron world; in fact the history of iron manufacture in the United States is not complete without it since three-fourths of all the iron that is made in this country is smelted from ores that come from the Lake Superior mines. Incidentally there is detailed the development not only of the mines but of the whole problem associated with the transportation of the ore. The growth of both docks and ships is faithfully followed.

Good fortune has attended the publishers in procuring not only photographs of the earliest ships used in the transportation of ore, but also of the earliest docks and earliest types of unloading machines. It is therefore possible to follow the development of the unloading machine from the wooden tub to the automatic clamshell buckets capable of grabbing 12 tons of ore at a time.

In the work an endeavor has been made, probably not altogether without success, of relating the history of the iron trade from the human standpoint, investing, what might otherwise be a mass of statistical data with the struggle of man against the obstacles of nature. Money is so plentiful nowadays that natural conditions offer no obstacles whatever. But the pioneers in the Lake Superior country were without means and their struggles were consequently severe. The price of the book is $2.00, postage 18 cents extra.

The book is being sold through the Marine Review which is published in Cleveland weekly.

GIFT OF INDIAN SCHOOL.

President of Michigan Agricultural College Scouts Proposed Present.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 9.—Indian Commissioner Leupp and President Roosevelt will have a hard time of it giving the Mount Pleasant Indian school to the state of Michigan as a free gift or any other sort of a gift if the ascertainable sentiment here is any indication. Mr. Leupp's statement that the twenty-five Indian schools of the country are costing the federal government too much and his plan to unload them was detailed in a dispatch from Washington.

Members of the constitutional convention, the faculty of the Michigan Agricultural college, which is directly interested, and others have been reading the article with interest. This is the consensus of opinion among the constitutional convention members:

Cost of Maintenance. Michigan would be glad to make a free gift of its insane asylums, its homes for the epileptic and its home for incapacitated veterans to the federal government if the government would take them and maintain them. They cost the taxpayers of the state several million dollars annually. The state would throw in a few more similar institutions at the same terms. But we don't suppose for a minute that the federal government would accept the present and for the same reason that the state doesn't want to take the Indian school off the hands of the federal authorities. Let us build up and extend the institutions we have without taking over any additional ones—that is the prevailing sentiment here.

President J. L. Snyder of the M. A. C. says:

"It might be feasible to make the Indian an agricultural high school for the central part of the state. It must be remembered, though, that a great deal of the equipment would be useless to the state and the buildings would have to be altered.

"If congress does anything with the Leupp proposal it will not come before the state until the 1909 legislature meets."

Want School Retained.

Mount Pleasant, Dec. 9.—Mount Pleasant residents will work against the closing of the Indian school, as recommended by Francis E. Leupp, commissioner of Indian affairs, in his annual report to congress. When the school was established in 1893 citizens here added $10,000 to the $23,000 appropriated by the government. The annual cost of maintenance is about $30,000. The average attendance is 341.

MUSIC, the Busy Man's Tonic

If you go to a fine concert at the Opera house, you will be struck with the fact that in the audience women are largely in the majority.

But that does not prove that men do not like music. In the afternoons they are engrossed with business affairs. In the evenings they are too tired to go out.

What they have been waiting for was the Pianola—an instrument that will bring the music to them, rather than compel them to go to the music. An instrument that gives the keenest form of pleasure to be derived from music—the fascination of producing it yourself.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Wiring from New York yesterday Paine, Webber & Co.'s correspondent said:

"The stock market was feverish today and closed generally lower. Rumors of copper metal and pessimistic reports regarding the conditions of the steel and iron trade caused considerable selling and lower prices in the metal stocks. Call rates were higher and it is generally thought that there are a great many weak spots in the financial situation which will have to be eliminated before conditions will improve materially. The market has also had a good advance and a substantial reaction would seem in order."

Boston Stock Quotations.

Telegraphing from Boston, Paine, Webber & Co. had this to say of yesterday's stock market:

"The news that Amalgamated was to curtail further brought out liquidation in the Butte properties, but the balance of the list held well. According to reports Amalgamated will continue to produce the same amount of copper by increasing at the Boston & Montana and will be able to produce it cheaper. We think that the action of the market today was better than expected and heard of good buying going on in Amalgamated and North Butte."

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

During November there were stamped at the Centennial mill for the account of the Centennial Mining company, 19,440 tons of rock, from which were produced 365,355 pounds of mineral, a percentage of 3.997 per cent. The pounds mineral per ton of rock were 18.79, as compared with 18.16 for November, 1906. The record by months compares as follows:

1907	1906
First 10 months	2,943,000	2,866,350
November	365,355	327,635

The machinery for No. 4 stamp at the Mohawk mill has been installed and with the necessary connections, which will probably be made during January, the new head will be placed in commission thereby making possible a 14,000,000 pound per annum producer. The management expects improved results from No. 5 shaft where it is believed richer rock will be encountered than in other portions of the mine. Mohawk, in line with other companies, decided when copper was ruling at higher prices on certain improvements and new construction but this item from the year to end shortly will not show material change from that of 1906.

Discussing the copper situation, the Boston News Bureau says: Aside from the general financial conditions at the present time there must be taken into consideration the fact that over the first of the new year the users of copper do not care to carry over any larger stocks of copper in their inventories than is absolutely necessary and sellers are finding some consolation in this fact. The accumulation of copper in the United States which six weeks or two months ago was estimated as high as 250,000,000 pounds and from which total some 150,000,000 pounds were sold for foreign account is again increasing somewhat. This is accounted for by the fact that even with the restriction of production in Butte and the closing down of some producers, the copper output of the country is running in excess of consumption and exports. Some inquiries as far ahead as May have been noted in the domestic market but little if any business has resulted. In Germany a large amount of copper has been recently purchased, some of which calls for delivery into February.

ELECTRIFICATION PROGRESS.

New Haven Plans All-Electric Service on New Canaan Branch by Spring.

Stamford, Conn., Dec. 9.—That it is the intention of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad to extend the electrical equipment on its main lines east from Stamford is admitted by officials of the road, but just how soon the work will be done is something no one is prepared to say at present. The delay, if any, will be due to the financial situation. At present, however, surveys are at work between here and South Norwalk, and there is little doubt that before many months electric trains will be running to the latter point.

The company is so well satisfied with the workings of the section between Stamford and Woodlawn that it will lose no unnecessary time in equipping the remainder of the system. First, however, will come the equipment of the Stamford-New Canaan branch in a manner similar to the main line. The equipment for this has been ordered, and should be installed within ninety days. The New Canaan branch—about seven miles long—has for several years been electrically operated by a trolley system. The change to this from steam was found to be economical for passenger trains, but freight trains are still drawn by steam locomotives. There will be done of the old-style locomotives run on this branch after next spring.

Experts say that the first six months can hardly furnish an adequate idea of the comparative cost, but enough has been demonstrated to prove that economy will result.

The first electric trains on the New York division were run July 23 last. At that time the equipment was completed as far as New Rochelle. Electric trains began running to Port Chester on Aug. 5, and Stamford became the eastern terminus of the electric system on Sept. 30. At present there are sixty-four electric trains per day on the line between Stamford and New York—thirty-two each way. Most of these are locals, but some are through trains. For the latter, steam locomotives are attached in place of the electric motors at Stamford.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Dec. 9.—Wheat was weak the greater part of the session today. The prices went up after the publication of the government report, which estimated the newly seeded area of winter wheat to be 1.9 per cent less than last year. The market, however, soon yielded to selling by pit traders and commission houses, and it closed at the lowest point of the day, the May down 1 1/4. A private dispatch from Argentina claiming the weather there favorable for harvesting was a bearish factor, as were liberal receipts in the Northwest, especially at Winnipeg; the poor demand from exporters, lower prices for cash wheat and the decline in corn. CAMPAIGN AGAINST MAIL ORDER HOUSES

UPPER PENINSULA BUSINESS MEN MUCH INTERESTED IN THE EFFORTS OF THE MERCHANTS' TRADE JOURNAL.

Retail merchants of the upper peninsula, and in fact of many other portions of the country, are much interested in the campaign for honest methods in business, launched by W. J. Pilkington, editor of the Merchants' Trade Journal, against the large mail order concerns. The recent indictment at Des Moines, Ia., of Sears, Roebuck & Co. was entirely due to the efforts of Mr. Pilkington, who had been gathering evidence for eighteen months. The indictment is on three counts.

It is alleged that the company misrepresented articles in its catalogues sent through the mail. The first count charges that on July 13, 1907, the company devised a scheme to get an order from Dr. C. F. Spring of Des Moines by selling him white lead that the Chicago house claimed to have manufactured. The indictment charges that it was made by others. The second count concerns a ring bought by R. H. Miles, and the third relates to a ring sent through the mails and alleged to have been misrepresented.

In the December issue of the Merchants' Trade Journal, copies of which the retail dealers of the upper peninsula received yesterday, Mr. Pilkington publishes an extensive review of the campaign; he has conducted against Sears, Roebuck Co. "in the interest of truthful advertising, straight forward business and the protection of the public and the retailers of the country." He says that the efforts put into the case in order to bring about the indictment have cost him a considerable sum and many months' hard work. However similar action will be taken against other large mail order houses as soon as he completes gathering the evidence.

Mr. Pilkington says: "We do not intend to stop here; this is only a beginning. If others are guilty, and we are satisfied they are, they too, must be made to toe the mark. We shall continue to gather evidence and shall prepare ourselves to fight the case to the last ditch. The Journal believes that the campaign is the most important ever begun having to do with the mercantile world. It is not only going to straighten up business affairs, but it is going to teach the public that they have rights which must be respected. It is going to teach the public that representations made to them must be lived up to the letter regardless of whether it be Sears, Roebuck & Co., a soap club, or any mail order proposition, or any business concern anywhere."

FROM HOPKINS' CURB LETTER.

"Today's copper share market has shown a decided tendency toward lower prices. The opening was weak and devoid of any feature. The announcement that the Amalgamated and other Butte mines have closed down entirely caused heavy selling of Amalgamated, this stock being the feature of the New York market. North Butte was the weakest of the Boston list, losing over two points from Saturday's close, and the general list had a heavy tone."

HAS GONE TO SIBERIA.

Former Ishpeming Man Now Exploring for Gold in That Country.

Ed. Johnson of this city, who has been at Nome, Alaska, for five or six years past, will spend the winter in Siberia, he having accompanied a number of other Nome men to a district where gold had been found. He will be located only forty or fifty miles from Nome.

Mr. Johnson has three claims at Nome which he has been working for the past two or three years, and it is reported that he has done exceptionally well. In a letter received from him a few months ago he stated that he would suspend operations for the winter and take a position with the Pioneer Gold Mining company, with which he was employed for some time before starting to prospect on his own account.

Emil Swanson, oldest son of August Swanson, the furniture dealer, spent the greater part of the past summer some miles from Nome. He has an interest in several claims.

MANY CATCHY SONGS.

There are more whistleable songs in "The Gingerbread Man," the original production of which comes to the Ishpeming theater tomorrow evening, than in any other production which has been heard at Liberty theater, New York city, this season. Among the numbers which have met with particular favor are, "John Dough," "Moon, Moon, Moon," "Maxie," "Every Little Something," "Gin-Gin-Gingerbread Man," "Queen of My Dreams," "Old Ramones," "Nursery Rhymes," and "The Evil Eye." The advance sale of seats will open this morning.

The Lady Macabees will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 instead of Wednesday evening. All members are requested to be present. (12-10-24)

HUMAN STOMACH HAS BECOME DEGENERATE

Animals Are Healthier Because of Strong Digestive Apparatus.

An interesting interview was recently obtained with L. T. Cooper, the young man whose theory and medicines have created such a sensation during the past year.

Mr. Cooper, in speaking of the remarkable success of his medicine, had this to say on the subject: "My medicine regulates the stomach. That is why it is successful. The human stomach today has become degenerate, and is the cause for most ill health. In the horse, the dog, and the wild animals generally, you see no nerve exhaustion, no chronic debility. They are not shut up day after day with practically no exercise, and they are not able to stuff themselves with food when their bodies have not had enough work to justify it. The human race has been doing this for years, and look at the result—half the people are complaining of poor health, not real illness—just a half-sick, tired, droopy feeling. They don't really know what is the matter with them."

"I know that all the trouble is caused by weak, overworked stomachs. I have proved this with my medicine to many thousands of people in most of the leading cities of this country. I expect to do the same thing in Europe next year. This is the real reason for the demand for my preparation."

Among those who have recently been converted to Cooper's theory is Mr. Monroe Brown of 8 Hancock Street, Winchester, Mass. Mr. Brown has this to say of his experience with the new medicine: "For over seven years I suffered with catarrh of the stomach, and for the past year I was lame with rheumatism. I attributed this to my stomach trouble, as my circulation was very poor. What food I ate would turn to gas almost at once. I would have a sensation of bloating, and would have to belch frequently to relieve this. My heart also became affected, and I would suddenly become dizzy and have palpitations. I was tired and dull and despondent at all times. I lost a great deal of flesh, and was nervous and depressed. This went on for over seven years, although I spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief."

"When Cooper was in Boston I heard a good deal about his ideas on stomach trouble. Next, one or two friends told me that his medicines had greatly helped them. I purchased some of the New Discovery medicine. Today I am perfectly well; I sleep like a boy, can eat anything and have no rheumatism or heart trouble. I no longer have any gas on my stomach, and feel as I did years ago. No one could be more astonished by these facts than myself. They are remarkable, but true. This is indeed a wonderful medicine."

The Cooper preparations have been more widely sold and discussed since being introduced than anything of the kind ever before sold by druggists. We sell them and explain their nature. —Peoples Dr. Stc, Ishpeming, Mich.

BUTTE MINES CLOSED.

Message Came Yesterday Announcing a Suspension of Operations.

The Hopkins and Ruez brokerage offices yesterday received messages advising that the directors of the Amalgamated Copper company had ordered a suspension of operations at all of that corporation's properties, except a few of the mines of the Boston & Montana. It was stated that the orders were to take immediate effect, and that the shut-down had already occurred. It was further announced that operations had been suspended at the Butte mines, and that about 3,000 men are affected, in addition to those laid off a few weeks ago.

A miner who recently returned to this county from Butte told The Mining Journal representative that the greater part of the machinery at the mines in the Butte camp is in very bad condition. It is badly in need of an overhauling. He said that this could not be done until there was either a complete suspension of operations or an agreement was effected between the company and the striking machinists, who have been idle for three months or more. The union mechanics would not permit outside men to work on the machinery.

HIBERNIAN OFFICERS.

At the regular meeting of Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held Sunday afternoon, the following officers were elected:

- President—John Lacey.
- Vice President—Jerry Donovan.
- Recording Secretary—P. G. Gleason.
- Financial Secretary—Patrick Cronin.
- Treasurer—Timothy Hughes.
- Standing Committee—James Murphy of the Cleveland, James Murphy of Division street, J. D. Connors, James Kenney and Patrick Gleason.

The installation will take place at the first meeting in January.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

J. R. Thompson, a mining man, of Ironwood, is in the city.

Herman Jaedecke left Sunday night for a business trip on the Mesaba range.

The Lady Macabees will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock instead of tomorrow evening.

"Gingerbread Man" cookies distributed among the school children yesterday were in great demand. About 1,000 of them were given out.

As a tribute to the memory of the late King Oscar of Sweden, F. Braastad has had the flag on the tower of his block placed at half mast.

The Misses Doyle and Anderson, who have been at Miss Hubner's millinery store the past ten days, will go to Neenah tomorrow, where they will remain a week or more.

The five-month-old daughter of Len Osborn of the Dexter died Sunday. The remains were brought to the city yesterday, and the funeral will be held this afternoon from the home of Mrs. Osborn's mother, Mrs. Ford, on North First street.

Con Thompson, first lieutenant of Company I, Michigan National Guard, received a message yesterday from Inspector General Carl Wagner, stating that he could not be in Ishpeming at the time announced, but that he would come later.

Rev. J. C. Floyd, D. D., field secretary of the Methodist Foreign Missionary society, will speak at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Floyd was here during the Detroit conference a year ago last September, when he spoke on foreign missionary work.

Up to yesterday nearly 200 sparrows had been killed by Ishpeming boys. Whenever the youngsters bring a batch of heads into the office of the city recorder they receive a certificate which they send to the county clerk. The latter issues a voucher on the county treasurer for the amount due.

Recent births in the city were a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Albin Pearlstrom; a son to Mr. and Mrs. August Palmgren; 333 South Pine street; a daughter to John Mattson and wife, 224 Marquette street; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Antino, 309 West Division street, and a son to Charles Kangas and wife, 605 North Lake street.

Joseph H. Outwaite, former congressman, of Cleveland, O., whose death was announced in yesterday's Associated Press dispatches of The Mining Journal, was a cousin of John P. Outwaite of this city. The deceased was a great friend of Grover Cleveland and during the latter's term as president he held the office of United States deputy marshal at Cleveland.

J. L. MacKeever, treasurer of El Favir Mining company, and W. S. Lewis, its Western representative, who were unable to be in Ishpeming last Wednesday, as they expected, have announced that they will be at the Nelson House tomorrow evening, when they will be pleased to meet the shareholders. They have been in the copper country for more than a week past.

The ladies of Grace church have made extensive preparations for their annual Christmas sale, which will be held this afternoon and evening at the Guild hall. A number of very prettily decorated booths have been arranged. There will be a large assortment of home-made goods on sale. A lunch of coffee, cake, tea, sandwiches, pickles and doughnuts will be served between 5:30 and 7:30 o'clock.

Frank Keough, the chiropractor of Marquette, will be at the Urban Home today from 9 to 1:30 o'clock. (12-10-11)

Navigation Closed on Green Bay—

Navigation on Green bay and on the Menominee river has closed for the season and no more boats will arrive at twin city ports this year. The ice in the bay is too thick for small boats to break and most of these are now in winter quarters. Navigation is closing a few days earlier this season than last.

Wants Manufacturing Plants—

For the purpose of securing manufacturing plants of varied nature, the Business Men's association of Manistique has launched a systematic campaign. It is planned to raise a fund of $25,000 to be used in furnishing sites for new enterprises, and of this amount upwards of $7,000 has already been pledged. Manistique has the distinction of possessing a harbor that is never ice-bound. Navigation continues the whole year round.

Ravens Devoured Deer—

Two deer almost entirely devoured by ravens is an unusual incident reported from the Alger county hunting camp of E. P. Kling of Munising. A deer having been killed a few miles distant from the lodge, it was hung up in the woods to remain until the party returned to town. Two or three days afterward, when the hunters returned to the spot, a big flock of ravens was seen feasting on the carcass. Little more than the skeleton of the deer was left. A second carcass, hung up a short distance away, was found to have shared the same fate.

Elk Tame as Cattle—

What with imported additions and the natural increase in the number of the animals, the herd of elk in Grand Island, the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's big game preserve in Lake Superior, has attained large proportions. The animals stick closely to the thickly wooded portions of the island during the summer season, and they are rarely seen by the game keepers. With the coming of the snows of the winter, however, a marked change takes place. The elk actually become tame, just like so many cattle. It is a daily occurrence now to see the animals congregated about the barn. Often there are twenty or more of them. The elk know they will be fed and seem to realize that this is an easier way of getting their sustenance than foraging in the deep snow.

Wolf Dines on Mutton—

One of the strangest raids that has ever occurred in Menominee county took place when a big wolf dashed into the middle of a herd of sheep, flocked on the premises of Albert Leitzke, a farmer living seven miles north of Menominee, tore one of the sheep to pieces and leisurely ate choice portions of the carcass while the frightened flock ran away. No one attended the sheep at the time the depredation occurred, but Mr. Leitzke, who was working near his barn, noticed the commotion and when he arrived at the spot where the remains of the partly devoured animal lay, he saw the wolf dart away into a clump of nearby bushes. Although farmers living near Menominee have reported seeing wolves, none have been killed in that district. The ravenous appetite of the animal was evidenced by the fact that over thirty pounds of the sheep was missing. Mr. Leitzke thinks that perhaps more than one animal might have assisted in the slaughter.

Would Enjoin Competitor—

Setting up the claim that he is fearful of harm to his person, one Upper Michigan jewelry salesman has appealed to the courts for protection against a rival in business. The action is one of the novel ever instituted in the district. According to the Munising News, Max M. Goldberg, a Marquette man, has filed a bill in the Alger county circuit court, asking an injunction restraining Nicholas Hajjar, jeweler of Munising, from "frightening and threatening him, attempting to resort to physical violence, or actually resorting to violence" for the purpose of keeping the petitioner out of certain named territory as a competitor. The case is on the calendar for hearing at the February term of court. In the meantime, a temporary injunction has been denied by Judge Steere on the presentation of affidavits by Hajjar reciting that Goldberg has no cause for alarm. It appears that the two men have been visiting the logging camps in the vicinity of Cuivre for the purpose of selling jewelry, and a vigorous rivalry has arisen between them.

Reclamation in Menominee County—

Surveys are now being made for the third of the drainage canals provided for by A. L. Sawyer, Menominee county drainage commissioner. The new canal will be the longest yet planned. It will be between five and six miles in length and will range from ten to fifteen feet in width. The canal will start just north of Poplar point and will run along the bottom of an old creek in a northeasterly direction. By building the canal, several thousand acres of land will be drained, and that they will be available for agriculture. The first canal planned is being dredged this fall near Stephenson. It will be two and a half miles long and will drain a large amount of good farm land. The second canal is also being dredged at present. It is located near the Nelson farm on the Menominee river. The work of draining available lands in Menominee county will be rushed during the next few years. Farmers all through the county are petitioning the commission to begin work upon proposed new canals.

Foolhardy Feat Jeopardizes Life—

Sixteen-year-old William Hope, son of George Hope of Marinette, narrowly escaped being instantly killed near the Northwestern depot at Menominee while attempting to run across the tracks directly in front of the northbound passenger train which was rounding the curve a few hundred feet south of the station. Only the fact that the boy struck squarely upon the nearest rail, which rolled him clear of the engine saved his life, for as the train moved past the lad lay on the side of the track, his head within a few feet of the train. Several persons standing near the railway guards stood aghast, fearing that the youth would be crushed. The boy, accompanied by several other youngsters, was in the rear of the Northwestern Hardware company's store when the passenger approached from Marinette. The lads remained together until the engine began to round the curve, when young Hope, in a spirit of daring, it is claimed, ran close to the track. Alongside of the rails was a slippery coating of ice and the boy missed his footing and fell. With the engine bearing down upon him, the lad bounded across the track in providential manner and rolled down

Fought at San Juan Hill—

Stephen A. Valentine, son of ex-Mayor A. J. Valentine of Escanaba, died late last week at Brainerd, Minn., where he was employed as a trainman. He was twenty-seven years of age and up to a year ago had spent practically all of his life in Escanaba. He attended the public schools and at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war was one of Escanaba's first volunteers. He joined the Thirty-fourth Michigan regiment and served throughout that struggle, being honorably discharged at the close of the war. Mr. Valentine participated in the battle of San Juan hill and at Santiago, in addition to other less important engagements of the American troops on the island. He was a member of Escanaba's first championship high school football team and had been recognized as one of the strongest centers ever turned out by the Escanaba high school.

Some Saloon Statistics—

With a population of approximately 40,000, Marquette county has 151 saloons. It has, in addition, one brewery and one wholesale liquor house, both of these in Marquette city, and it has nine warehouses in which beer is stored. For the privilege of transacting business, the various firms and individuals that deal in intoxicating beverages paid taxes to the amount of $74,798.38 during the year ending Nov. 30, last. Though excelled in population by Ishpeming, Marquette city has more saloons than any other community in the county. It supports fifty retail liquor establishments, while Ishpeming has forty-two and Negaunee has thirty barrooms. The remainder of the saloons, twenty-nine in number, are located in ten of the townships, Michiganam leading with seven, followed by Republic, with 6; Chocoma, 4; Forest, 2; Champion, Ely and Wells, 2 each, and Humboldt, Powell and West Branch, 1 each. The liquor licenses sold in Marquette city yielded a total revenue of $25,748.34; in Ishpeming, $21,000; in Negaunee, $15,900, and in the townships, $123,000.02.

With fewer people than Marquette county, Delta county has a greater number of saloons. There are 157 retail liquor establishments in the several communities, and during the fiscal year just closed they paid for license fees a total of $79,790.75. Escanaba, with a population of approximately 11,000, has no less than ninety saloons, or one for every 123 persons in the city. It has, besides, two breweries and two wholesale houses, and altogether it collected as liquor taxes the sum of $45,880. Gladstone has sixteen barrooms, from which the city secured a revenue of $8,000; Bark River and Garden villages each have six saloons, and there are twenty-five saloons in eight townships.

Heavy Migration to Europe—

Never in any similar period in the history of the region have as many tickets been sold for transportation to Europe as has been the case in the Lake Superior country this fall. The exodus of aliens to foreign lands is always brisk at this season, but this year it has attained remarkable proportions, and it still continues at a rate never before recorded. The movement is such that notwithstanding considerable discharges of men by iron and copper mining companies and the curtailment of operations in the lumber woods, there is practically no idle labor. For this reason the departure at this time of the many hundreds of foreign born toilers is looked upon with particular favor. The emigration set in at the time of the Mesaba range strike—earlier than usual—and it has continued without cessation as the policy of retrenchment has been extended until now it is estimated that more than 3,000 aliens have left for Europe during the past six months, taking with them it is figured, upwards of $2,000,000 in cash. The great bulk of these men have been thrown out of work, the corporations naturally discriminating against them, but there are many who have voluntarily relinquished their employment. The general reaction in business is chiefly responsible for the emigration. Another factor is the good times reported prevailing in European countries.

Logging Situation—

Hemlock and hardwood lumber manufacture has been cut 50 per cent, this as a result of the agreement reached at the recent conference of lumbermen in Milwaukee, and unless there is a material improvement in conditions that will rid the market of existing stocks this policy will continue in effect throughout the coming year. It is of interest to note in this connection that some of the lumber companies of the Lake Superior country are finding it more profitable to sell their hemlock logs to the paper mills for pulpwood than to manufacture the timber into lumber. Contracts to this end have already been made by a number of operators. The paper and pulp mill men are in the market for all kinds of timber suitable for paper making, and there is no hesitancy in paying very good prices. In fact, just as much, if not more pulp wood will be cut this winter as in past seasons.

The Stearns Lumber company, operating on the Bad River Indian reservation at Olanah, has reduced its working force to the extent of nearly 300 men, and as at present intended will put in not much more than 5,000,000 feet of sawlogs this winter, as against a cut of approximately 30,000,000 feet last season. The Scott & Howe Lumber company, a prominent Gogebic range concern, has reduced its crew of workmen from 160 to sixty and will operate its manufacturing plant at Ironwood on a much smaller scale than usual this winter. The planing department has been shut down entirely. At Iron River, on the Menominee iron range, the sawmill and stave factory of the Northwestern Co-operative & Lumber company have gone out of commission for an indefinite period. The plant has been operated for the past ten years, and during that time has paid out upwards of a million dollars. Charles Hobard & Sons, lumbermen, of Philadelphia, will get out a greatly reduced cut of logs this winter. Some camps have been closed, and 250 workmen have been discharged. The Hebard sawmill at Pequaing, in Baraga county, will operate on single shift next season.

While a great many of the principal lumbering concerns of the Upper Lake region will not operate nearly as heavily as in the past few seasons, the aggregate timber cut of the winter will nevertheless attain important dimensions. Hardly any of the bigger operators have suspended work entirely, and there are hundreds of small jobbers and settlers who will be busy in the woods until the break-up in the spring. In Marquette county—which in area, it is interesting to note, is one and one-third times the size of the state of Rhode Island—there will be great activity in the production of mining timber. Fully 2,500 men will be employed in the camps of the district throughout the winter. The market for all sorts of timber used at the mines as a bribe now as it was a year ago, and some big contracts have been closed during the past month. Most of the logging in Marquette county is confined to this branch of the industry, and for that reason the business of the operators in the district is but little affected in consequence of the hill in other lines. In fact, more money will be made than for some seasons past, because wages are on a materially lower basis.

The quantity of timber used in the iron and copper mines of the Lake Superior region each year is something enormous. It mounts into the hundreds of millions feet. Timber which goes underground to support treacherous walls never sees the light of day again, and the demand for it, if not always urgent, is good all the time. The same is true of pulp wood. Timber suitable for the manufacture of paper is being chewed up mightily fast, and with the supply rapidly on the wane the mills are steady and eager buyers. Railroad ties, too, are in very good demand, and in some localities the prices are actually higher than a year ago. The conditions are similar in respect to cordwood, very large quantities of which are cut each winter for home consumption and for shipment to Milwaukee, Chicago and other cities. In these various lines there will be little if any curtailment in Upper Michigan this winter. The retrenchment is almost entirely confined to the cut of cedar poles and posts and the in-pit of pine, hemlock and hardwood sawlogs for manufacture into lumber.

In Gogebic county, Foster & Ayre of Grand Rapids are building a sawmill at the new town of Tula, in the very heart of the big stretch of wilderness, and will be ready to start manufacturing operations by Jan. 15. The plant will have a capacity of 30,000 feet daily. In Schoolcraft county, McIntyre & Havel of St. Louis, Mich., have put a new mill in commission in the Lockhart district, close to the Lake Michigan shore. Lath, box lumber and hardwood crating are manufactured. Also in Schoolcraft county, the Dunbar Lumber company has commenced logging operations in a big tract of hardwood timber in Germask township. The logs will be taken by train to the mill at Dollarville. A railroad extension is now being built to the scene of the logging operations.

THEY DO NOT AGREE.

Smith and McMorran's Account of Their Meeting—Was All Friendly?

Washington, Dec. 9.—"I simply don't want my enemies to push out my friends," said Senator Smith in speaking of his determination to prevent Congressman McMorran from making Bert Cady postmaster at Port Huron in place of Postmaster Sherman. "Mr. Sherman is a veteran of the Civil war and a good friend of mine and I propose to keep him in the office if I can."

"But has not the department complained that Sherman did not give the office sufficient attention?" "Not at all," he exclaimed. "I should say so, and I am not going to permit it if I can prevent it. I am not making any threats nor doing any bragging, but while I may disappoint my enemies I am not going to disappoint my friends. That is where I stand. Understand me, there is nothing inimical to McMorran in my attitude. He is my good friend, Sherman is my good friend and Sherman's McMorran's good friend. My conversation with McMorran was perfectly friendly."

"But McMorran has been asked to name a successor to Sherman and has selected Cady and McMorran further says Sherman did not consult him about continuing in the office, but on the contrary gave it out to the papers that he did not want it another term. How about that?" "Sherman did ask McMorran for his support. I have seen the letter."

Mr. McMorran's statement of the nature of his conversation with Senator Smith does not altogether agree with that of the senator, but that may readily be due to their diverging ideas as to what constitutes a friendly talk. The Port Huron man says the senator brushed his fist and declared he was United States senator and it might as well be understood and that Cady should never be postmaster of Port Huron.

"What hurts my feelings in the matter," said Mr. McMorran, "is that Mr. Sherman led me to believe, through his published statement that he would not under any circumstances be a candidate for another term and then to find that he had apparently made arrangements behind my back to continue in that office."

read he was not to be a candidate for a third term I took it for granted that it was correct. So I went on and arranged to have Cady named. Just a few days ago after everything had been settled I received a letter from Mr. Sherman saying he had decided to retain the office. It seems to me I ought to have been consulted in the first instance, inasmuch as I have never given Mr. Sherman any reason to doubt my friendship. "I heard before I left Port Huron that I would not be able to get Cady confirmed, but did not believe any one was opposing me in the matter."

McMorran has received assurances from the postoffice department that the name of his man Cady would be sent to the president, which moves the fight to the White House.

As a general thing the president insists upon the agreement of both senators in a controversy of the kind, but if Senator Smith should not consent the president should send Cady's name to the senate. Mr. Smith would have his opportunity to make his contest there on the question of Cady's confirmation.

The situation has excited more interest in the Michigan delegation than anything else so far in the session and has even attracted attention of members from other states, who see something to fear in the example set by Senator Smith in interfering with what members of the house have for years regarded as their particular patch.

"There does not seem the slightest doubt that the other eleven Michigan members will go to the front for McMorran in any way they can if Senator Smith persists in his opposition to McMorran's right to name the postmaster of his home city, since they all see all kinds of possible trouble for themselves if the precedent is once set that senators are to decide upon the postoffice appointments in the various congressional districts."

It is the understanding that this is Senator Smith's second offense, it being said that he made an attempt to get up a contest against the removal of the late Colonel March from the Hillsdale postoffice.

Senator Burrows, upon being asked what the practice has been in regard to postoffice patronage, said: "I make it an invariable rule through long experience in public life and contact with senators from all parts of the country to never oppose a selection for postmaster made by any member of the house."

NEGAUNEE MAN IS STILL MISSING

HERBERT R. JAMES HAS NOT BEEN SEEN SINCE HE BOARDED A SOUTH SHORE TRAIN AT MICHIGAMME—POLICE NOTIFIED.

Herbert R. James, the Queen mine machinist, who disappeared from his boarding house here a week ago last Saturday, is still missing, though his friends have done everything possible to locate him. James left his boarding house shortly after dinner and took a train for Champlain that evening, remaining there until Monday morning, when he and two or three other young men left for Michigan, where they planned to seek employment in a lumber camp. Champion people who saw James say that there was nothing about his conduct, to indicate that his mind was unbalanced. He talked rationally.

The cut herewith printed is a good picture of James. He was dressed just as the picture shows him, with the exception of the shirt and tie. He wore a dark blue shirt, instead of a white one. It is thought that he has either gone to some of the camps west of Michigamme, to Duluth, or to the copper country. The officers in all the towns between Negaunee and Calumet, also those at Duluth and vicinity, have been notified of his disappearance.

James is twenty-five years old, five and a half feet tall, weighs about 130 pounds and has a rather long, thin, clean-shaven face, coarse black hair and a peculiarly shaped head. When he disappeared he wore a dark suit of clothes with small white stripes, a blue flannel shirt and a college cap. He did not wear either overcoat or rubbers.

The night before he disappeared he complained that one of the men working at the Queen had talked about him and had threatened to do him an injury. His friend volunteered to go to the mine with him Saturday morning, and talk with the man of whom he complained. Accordingly they both went to the mine, but the man could not be located, and they returned to the boarding house. About noon James received a letter from the old country. After reading it he sat down and cried for some time, but when questioned said he had received no bad news from home. When he left the boarding house he asserted that he was going to work.

KANGAROOS DEFEAT INDIANS.

In the bowling contest Saturday evening between the two teams of the Negaunee league having the highest scores for the week the Kangaroos defeated the Indians by a total of fifty-four pins, the scores being as follows:

Kangaroos—
E. Mitchell	200	189	153	542
E. Hooper	123	183	144	450
H. J. Peterson	123	135	111	371
Totals	446	510	418	1376
Indians—
G. Reichel	139	156	107	402
A. Williams	137	165	106	408
W. H. Mitchell	139	159	167	465
Totals	415	480	380	1275

The Indians and Wolves bowled last night; the Pikers and White Sox will bowl tonight; the Tigers and Kangaroos tomorrow night; the Ravens and Eagles Thursday evening, and the Green Sox and Hurricanes Friday.

CONCRETE STACK FINISHED.

The concrete smoke stack at the power station of the Marquette County Gas & Electric company has been completed, two weeks sooner than was expected. The stack is 150 feet high and six feet in diameter. The other improvement work at the power station is progressing satisfactorily. The new street car engine installed last week is working well and the new turbine, which will generate power for the electric light plant is in position, though it will be some time before it will be ready for operation.

Misses Doyle and Anderson will be in Negaunee for one week to conduct in display of their embroideries and needle work materials. The ladies are cordially invited to call. (12-10-07)

WORKING FULL FORCE.

Negaunee Man Writes of Conditions at Homestake Mine in South Dakota.

A Negaunee man employed at the Homestake mine writes that there has been no curtailment in the working force at that property and that mine and mills are now working full handed. He expresses the belief that the company will resume paying monthly dividends in January. They were suspended on account of the fire last spring, which necessitated a shutdown for several weeks. The Homestake is at present treating 4,000 tons of ore daily and all of the 1,000 stamps are in operation.

It is reported that the management plans extensive improvements at the property, to be made during the coming winter with a view to increasing the output. In the annual report, recently issued, the receipts for the year were given as nearly $5,000,000, of which $4,511,000 was from gold bullion. The company treated 1,264,277 tons of ore, which returned an average value of $3.50. Considerable old worn-out machinery was replaced at a cost of $287,303.90. In addition to this a big slime plant was installed at Deadwood.

For several months prior to last April the company's monthly dividends were $108,000. The corporation is employing 3,000 men and has a working force of 1,000 men who left shortly after the fire broke out here returned.

LOCAL LAONICS.

H. M. Aldrich of L'Anse attended to business in Negaunee yesterday.

W. J. Whiting, cashier at the Negaunee mine, has moved his family from Ishpeming.

F. J. Zoberline of Duluth, formerly of Ishpeming, arrived in Negaunee yesterday morning.

Gust Larson, who is in the drug business at Hancock, was down here yesterday, on a visit to his folks.

Miss Clara Anderson returned to Marinette yesterday, after a week's visit with relatives in Negaunee.

Harry Jackson has gone to Chicago, to be absent a week on business. During his absence George Young is looking after his business.

Mrs. A. Broad returned yesterday from Marquette, where she spent two weeks visiting the family of Captain John Parker and other friends.

The one mile skating race between Frank Winter of this city and J. Kelley of Escanaba to take place this evening at the Adelphi rink will attract a large crowd.

Nicholas Pearce and two children left yesterday for Victoria, B. C., where they will remain permanently. Mr. Pearce has two brothers residing at Victoria.

One of the new street cars, which has been out of commission for a few weeks, while it was being equipped with new motors, is in use again. The car now has twice the power that it formerly had.

R. A. Marsh, the Princeton agent of the Marquette & Southeastern Railway company, was taken ill Saturday and Sunday at Marquette, where Thomas Eddy went down yesterday to take his place.

The trolley on the street car line broke down yesterday morning on Iron street. One of the cars was on the east end of the street at the time and it could not get power to take it across the street. The trolley was towed to the yard and hauled to the western end of the street.

Upper Peninsula

Youthful Malefactor Nabbed—

A sensational curtain was thrown on a series of systematic robberies of which Druggist Victor Lundgren was the victim, says the Menominee Herald-Leader, when Police Captain Daniel Flynn arrested William Feeny, a teen-ager, who had effected an entrance through the back door. The boy, who up to the time, was employed as a messenger for the Postal Telegraph company, was lodged in jail and confessed to Chief of Police Flynn that during the past six weeks he had effected an entrance through the back door on several occasions and each time carried away a quantity of merchandise. Mr. Lundgren fixes his loss at between $200 and $300, but the juvenile burglar claims that the thefts did not aggregate any such amount. During his confession the boy admitted stealing a few weeks ago from the Postal company on several occasions and also to securing socks, handkerchiefs and ribbons from the Grand department store. Since last Monday, Officer Flynn has been secreted in the Lundgren store and last Friday evening, while secreted in a dark corner, a scratching noise attracted his attention. Peering cautiously into the darkness, he discerned a hand forcing itself into an aperture that separates the back door from the casing. After a moment's hesitation, he hand slipped back the bolt, opened the door and in walked Feeny. Officer Flynn, in order to secure incriminating evidence, allowed the lad a few moments' leeway and after the boy proceeded to the forepart of the store he was nabbed and brought to the police station. Subsequently he admitted his guilt and was then locked up.

Young Should Land It— The Michigan delegation in congress has recommended Congressman H. O. Young for a place on the important rivers and harbors committee, and it appears extremely likely that Mr. Young will receive this appointment, comments the Saginaw Star. Mr. Young, Michigan, by reason of its extended coast line on the great lakes, has generally been given a place on this committee, the last Michigan member of the committee being ex-Congressman R. P. Bishop, who failed of re-election. If all the members of the Michigan delegation, it is peculiarly appropriate that the member from the Twelfth district be selected for membership on this particular committee. In no Michigan district are the interests of lake navigation so paramount as in the Twelfth. Not only is one St. Mary's locks on the St. Mary's falls canal and locks located in the Twelfth district, but it embraces all of the south shore of the greatest of the chain of lakes, Superior,

COBALT GOSSIP

The North Cobalt company has a carload of high grade ore to ship in a few days. There are now about thirty good shippers and ten more are expected to join the ranks before the spring. Nipissing, it is estimated, has about 50,000 tons of low-grade ore on the dump, from which it is expected about $100,000 will be realized.

The Albitri & Cobalt Mining company will henceforth be known as the Cobalt Majestic Silver Mines, Limited. The company has acquired a controlling interest in the Empress mine, not far west of the Silver Queen and the Temiskaming and Hudson Bay, and negotiations are in progress for the acquisition of a native silver mine in the James township district. Shareholders of Albitri receive share for share in Cobalt Majestic.

The Temiskaming received $225,000 for two cars of ore, and the last two cars shipped by that mine are as rich as previous shipments. The Right-of-Way sent out two cars some months ago. The car of high-grade ore carried over 3,000 ounces of silver to the ton, and the second grade averaged 550 ounces to the ton. Superintendent Houston will send out two cars on the 15th of December. The high grade will average 3,000 ounces of silver to the ton.

The directors of the Nipissing Mines company will meet about Dec. 20 and it is expected that the regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent will be declared. It is said that the company has sufficient cash in the banks to pay two dividends and enough ore in transit or at the smelters to pay two more dividends. The company, it is said, had a very successful season and besides adding about $275,000 to its surplus, it has blocked out between $800,000 and $800,000 in ore in addition to that blocked out on April 1. The setting in of the winter naturally will retard development, but work underground will continue as heretofore and shipments will be made regularly.

REFORMING THE REFORMS. THE WORK ALREADY COMMENCED IN CONGRESS.

Few Changes, However, Are Expected, for Legislators Are Not Inclined to Disturb Laws Approved by the People—Defects Are Apparent, but Opening Questions Might Result in a General Assault—Anti-Pass Law May Be Modified—Meat Inspection and Pure Food Law Not Wholly Satisfactory; May Be Attacked.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Bills have already been introduced for changes in the so-called reform laws of the last session of congress, but the indications are that few if any changes will be made. It requires considerable pressure to get through legislation such as is embodied in the railroad rate law, the pure food and drug act, and the act providing for the inspection of all meats that enter interstate commerce.

So far the railroads are not asking for changes in the rate law. It does not suit them in all its details, but they are willing to continue to obey its provisions as they stand. A demand has been renewed that the anti-pass restrictions be modified. Many of the publishers of country newspapers are exceedingly anxious that the law shall be so amended as to permit them to exchange advertising for mileage books or for trip passes when desirable.

The old question of so amending the meat inspection law as to require the packers to pay the cost of inspection and requiring the date of canning to be placed on the cans has been revived. It was fought out last winter, and both the senate and house refused to change the law as it was originally passed. While it is impossible to say what the house committee on agriculture will do before it is reported, it is probable that the house will stand by its record of the two sessions of the last congress. In the senate there are a few ardent advocates of the two changes led by Senator Beveridge, but they are not strong enough to change the law.

The pure food law has not worked so smoothly as the meat law, and it will not be a surprise if it is attacked from several directions before the session ends. The manufacturers and blenders of whisky have found much fault with the government's definition of what constitutes whisky, and unless the disagreeable amendments are removed, it will not be a surprise to see an effort made to amend the law in a way that will be satisfactory to the national association of whisky dealers.

An effort, it is understood, is also to be made to have congress take away from Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, some of the authority he derives from the pure food law. Mr. Wiley has been the target of the opponents of pure-food legislation for about twenty years. Now that he has the law he has been working for so long, concerns that are affected by its operation are very bitter against him for exercising what they call "autocratic power."

The denatured alcohol law passed at the first session of the last congress and amended at the second session will not be changed again at this session, is the opinion of leading members in the senate and house. The law has not proved the success its authors predicted for it, but they do not see how they can make it more effective by additional legislation. While the manufacture of denatured alcohol has increased the last months, the industry is still an infant. Farmers have not so far displayed any great inclination to take advantage of the provisions of the amended law, which makes it possible for them to band together for the manufacture of the new fuel.

Lives of Great Men.

Marked modesty characterizes the "writings" given to themselves in the congressional directory by some of the new senators who came to Washington with famous reputations. For instance, Mr. Guggenheim of Colorado, the wealthiest senator, has written only seven lines about his career and does not once mention the word money in it. Guggenheim says he was educated in the public schools of Philadelphia and "studied languages in Europe." Then he married and engaged in the "mining and smelting business." That's about all.

Jeff Davis is equally as modest, occupying the same space in the directory. He calls himself plain "Jeff Davis." At the age of nineteen he was admitted to the bar in Pope county, Ark. The balance of his autobiography is dry reading. Representative Richmond Pearson Johnson, by curious coincidence, also fills just seven lines in the directory in setting forth his history. He does not mention the Morrill incident although he says he was educated at the Naval Academy and served in the navy from 1885 to 1893. He was elected to the present congress "receiving 8,308 votes to one for Ignatius Green, Republican."

Senator Taylor of Tennessee, makes no mention of his ability as a fiddler, although it is generally agreed that he owes his success in politics to his skill as a musician. The following paragraph in his biography shows how closely the Taylors were mixed up in Tennessee politics: "Represented before him by his father, Nathaniel T. Taylor, and after him by his brother, Alfred A. Taylor, the latter of whom he defeated for governor in 1866."

UTILITIES BOARD COSTLY.

Expenditures for the Year 1908 Will Be $1,245,000.

New York, Dec. 9.—In 1908 the public service commission will cost the taxpayers of this city over $1,000,000. It will spend in addition $150,000 of the state's money. A letter has been sent to the board of estimate by the commission which contains a table of the commission's probable expenditures. This is the list: Office and telephone rentals and lighting $50,000; Salaries $300,000; Furniture 2,500; Printing 25,000; Disbursements of employees and counsel 15,000; Maps, plans, prints, and photographic supplies 5,000; Engineering instruments and supplies 10,000; Compensation and expenses of special commissioners 10,000; Advertising 25,000; Real estate, search and appraisals 2,500; Contingencies and rapid transit studies 50,000; Special service and investigations 50,000; Total $1,095,000.

In addition to the above amount, the commission receives from the state $150,000 a year. This brings the total up to $1,245,000. The old Rapid Transit Commission, which was probably the most important body that the present commission succeeded, cost the city about $800,000, or somewhat less than the present commission's salary list. The first step under the anti-trust section of the public service commission's law was taken on the other day, when the commission sent to all lighting and railroad corporations under its jurisdiction formal orders to make sworn report by Dec. 20 as to their ownership of the stock of all other public service corporations and the ownership by any other corporation or person of their own stock. Under the law no company or organization under the laws of this state may hereafter own or acquire more than 10 per cent of the capital stock of a public service corporation. This does not apply to the ownership of stock held before the date of the law, but it does apply to resolutions embodying the questions which the public service corporations must answer were adopted by the commission at its public meeting. They divide the jurisdiction of the commission into two fields—one the lighting companies, the other the railroad and common carriers, including express companies. The questions which the lighting companies must answer are: 1.—Give the name of every gas corporation or electrical corporation organized or existing under the laws of the state of New York, in which on July 1, 1907, you held any shares of the capital stock; the number of shares of such capital stock; the number of shares of such capital stock then so held by you in each such corporation; and the par value of each such share.

2.—Give the name of every stock corporation, gas corporation or electrical corporation which, on July 1, 1907, held any shares of your capital stock; the number of such shares then held by it; and the par value of each such share. The questions applicable to the railroad companies and common carriers are: 1.—Give the name of every railroad corporation, street railroad corporation or common carrier organized or existing under the laws of the state of New York, of which, on July 1, 1907, you held any shares of the capital stock; the number of shares of such capital stock then so held by you; and the par value of each such share.

2.—Give the name of every stock corporation, railroad corporation, street railroad corporation or common carrier which, on July 1, 1907, held any shares of its capital stock; the number of such shares then held by it; and the par value of each such share. In each case the first question applies also to any stock corporation organized under the laws of New York owning any stock in a lighting company or railroad company. Such companies must file reports just the same as the public service corporations under the jurisdiction of the commission.

PLACES AT THE TOP. M. A. C. Graduates Are Foremost in World's Work—Equals University.

Agricultural College, Lansing, Dec. 9.—What is the boy taught at the Michigan Agricultural college—does he learn anything besides farming? That is a question often asked and the answer is he can learn so many other things that though in its beginning it might have justified the name the big Lansing institution that was the first of its kind and has today no equal in all the world is not what the term "agricultural" indicates.

Its scope is wider than that of the universities. Depending upon young men and women who are training themselves for lives of usefulness, its graduates are of the sort to whom obstacles are but impulses to greater effort. These in the main come from the farms and workshops of the state, accustomed to hard work and self-reliance. They make the most of the unlimited advantages at the college and come forth prepared for active life and the keen competition which these strenuous times are sure to bring upon them.

Graduates Claim High Places.

Students who have mastered the eighth grade studies are eligible for entrance. It is here that the college gains the right to the term democracy. It builds a broad foundation and then upon this solid beginning rears an educational structure that fits the student for the highest walks of life. Its new engineering building, costing $150,000, has opened a new era for the engineering department and placed it on a par with similar university courses. Its graduates, though, have gone forth and already claimed some of the highest places in the world's work.

The boilers of some of the men of war built by the United States government have been planned and built by graduates of the M. A. C. The highest positions in engineering in some of the eastern universities are held by graduates of this institution. The name Agricultural college is a misnomer as far as this department is concerned.

The civil engineering work involves a study of mathematics and of engineering and is entirely adequate to train men for the higher walks of that profession. Graduates of this course are now doing great work in the irrigating districts of Colorado.

The man with the widest reputation in irrigation is a graduate of M. A. C. Appliances and equipment had not been adequate to a proper training in the electrical department, but with the advent of the new building this defect is remedied.

The students are taken in the college with preparation through algebra, through quadratics and with little training in geometry, hence emphasis must be laid upon mathematics and that department is made particularly strong. The courses are not easy, on the contrary they are perhaps too difficult. The laboratories and shops take up most of the time from 8 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock in the afternoon, leaving the evenings alone for study.

Taxes the Cleverest.

A new course for agriculture, horticulture and the women's department has just been adopted by the faculty which will shorten to some extent the hours of instruction during the summer of 1907-8 on the former site of the barns just south of the present agricultural laboratory. This building is to cost approximately $150,000. It will afford offices and classrooms for the departments of livestock, soils and field crops, and for the director of the experimental station, the chemist of the station and the station chemical laboratory.

It will also include a judging pavilion for livestock and abundant room for the department of rural engineering with its heavy machinery, carpenter work and the lighter tools above. The boys now receiving their training in carpenter shop and blacksmith in a building devoted to that purpose south of the site just mentioned.

Women's Department Is New.

The women's department is comparatively new. The $80,000 building affords ample room for the technical work in domestic science, including cooking and the sanitary matters and domestic art, including sewing, carpenter work and house construction and adornment. The young women have the same classes that the boys take in the same classes. It is a severe tax on the fully prepared or incompetent girl. There is but little hope at this college for the girl who has been trained in her own home and from whom nothing has been required.

To Educate the Farmer.

The agricultural course accepts students fairly prepared in the English studies, beginning with drill in stock judging and in the forge and blacksmith shop, the course proceeds through the sciences of botany, chemistry, veterinary, bacteriology, zoology and entomology superimposed or perhaps mingled with work in the humanities in English or in mathematics. The idea of M. A. C. is to give a man a broad foundation before building his technical structure upon it. It provides dormitories for part of its students.

The spirit, the fundamental idea of the college, is to develop men who can do things. The whole college represents the idea developed by President Roosevelt in his address at the celebration. Most of the boys are sons of poor parents and are therefore acquainted with self denial and hard work. They are training themselves for lives of usefulness. They are training the hand and the eye with the mind. This ideal affects the whole entity of the students and produces in the college community a democracy which is typically American.

WORTH NEARLY $13,000,000. MAY CLASH ON CONGRESS. LEADERS ARE NOT IN ACCORD WITH ROOSEVELT.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Speaker Cannon received a committee of vice presidents of the rivers and harbors congress, who through the president of that body, Representative Ransdell of Louisiana, presented resolutions in behalf of thirty-six states, urging the present congress to adopt a liberal and comprehensive plan for the improvement within the next few years of all the truly meritorious and deserving waterways in the Union. In replying, Speaker Cannon said: "Your resolutions will be presented under the rules of the house to that body and given appropriate reference to the committee on rivers and harbors. I am more than gratified at this great movement, having its genesis, perhaps, in its present form most largely in the Middle West, but commanding, I am sure, the full harmony of the far Pacific coast and the near Atlantic. In the period following the Civil war and up to 1882 I invariably voted against the appropriations of public moneys for the improvement of rivers and harbors, because I thought that something else needed doing before we entered as a nation into that policy. It was when Mr. Arthur was president that the congress passed the rivers and harbors bill—a very good one, though some people thought it sinned in the greatness of its size. President Arthur vetoed it, and it passed over his veto. I being among the members who so voted."

In reviewing the progress made in the last quarter of a century, Mr. Cannon said that $172,000,000 had been appropriated for river and harbor improvements, and in addition, contracts had been let to the total amount of $236,000,000, and that up to 1890 the total expenditures had been $345,000,000. He added: "There is now in the United States treasury, available in large part or in whole for these purposes, a surplus of $240,000,000, and we have also the incoming revenues that will take care substantially if not in its entirety of the great public service which grows by leaps and bounds. That surplus is more than possibly could be expended during the life of the present congress in carrying out these works. Our wonderful growth in population, in wealth, in development of resources—producing as we do one-third of the whole world's products of the mines, the fields and the factories—compels us to make all necessary improvements of our waterways and our harbors, to the end that we may produce economically, and care for our expanding commerce. These improvements and developments, I say, are so necessary that the members of the succeeding congresses will be compelled in their day to recognize them for the sake of the public service. This is a representative government, and every man in the senate or in the house is quite as anxious to voice the demands of his respective constituents as they are to have their voices, along these lines. In the last analysis, after the plans you represent have been given full discussion and scrupulous consideration, they will, by the members of congress be vitalized by their votes."

WANT TARIFF COMMISSION. Canada Manufacturers Make Application to the Government.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 9.—The Canadian Manufacturers' association has applied to the government for a permanent tariff commission, like the railway commission, with power to hear complaints of inadequate tariff protection, and if the evidence is sufficient, to remedy it. If the government agrees the manufacturers will appoint an expert or take evidence, and if the complaint is sustained it will be referred to the commission. If not sustained it will be thrown out. The manufacturers also want the government to abolish the levy clause in the dumping act with the exception of iron and steel. In the case of iron and steel they want the present clause to stand. The manufacturers complain that there is a great deal of "dumping" in Canada from the United States. This, they say, is on account of the depression on the other side of the line. Because of this they assert that Americans are selling in the Dominion below American market prices.

LEATHER AND THE FORESTS. The leather industry and its relations to the forest has been the subject of an extensive investigation by the federal forest service, which finds that the United States yields more than one-fourth of the world's supply of tanned, cured and finished leather. No other nation produces half as much. Six hundred and seventeen tanneries contribute to this output. The raw material includes 168,000,000 hides and skins, of which a large number come from Argentina. To tan this immense quantity of leather, valued at over $250,000,000, there was required last year over a million and a quarter cords of tanbark.

LEADER'S WIFE DIES. Col. Samuel W. Peel, of Arkansas, Bridgroom at the Age of 76.

Beaumont, Ark., Dec. 9.—Col. Samuel W. Peel, one of the wealthiest citizens in the state, has married his daughter-in-law, the widow of his deceased son, who is the mother of five children. He is seventy-six years of age and a paralytic. His bride is some years under forty. Col. Peel represented this district in congress from 1885 to 1893.

BUY BEER FOR OWN FUNERAL. Baltimore, Md., Dec. 9.—Either Matthew Sinnack, a Pole, wished a large attendance at his funeral or else he was more than ordinarily considerate to his friends. Sinnack committed suicide yesterday. A note was found containing provision for expending $200 on wine, beer and whiskey to be drunk at his funeral.

NOT A PARTICLE OF SHAM IN MY BODY. Worst Case of Eczema Doctor Had Seen in 40 Years—For Six Months Father Expected His Baby to Die—Blood Oozed Out All Over Her Body—Had to Be Wrapped in Silk and Carried on a Pillow—Now She is Perfectly Cured.

"My little girl was born two weeks before her time and my wife died four hours after. The birth of our child and I had to raise the baby on artificial food. Six months after birth she broke out and I had two doctors in attendance. There was not a particle of skin left on her body, the blood oozed out all over, and we had to wrap her in silk and carry her on a pillow for ten weeks. She was the most terrible sight I ever saw, and for six months I looked for her to go to her mamma, but thank God and his agents, she is alive and well to-day and she will be three years old the seventh of December and has never had a sign of the dread trouble since."

"I used every known remedy to alleviate her suffering, for it was terrible to witness. Dr. F. W. Mearns gave her up and then I went to C. F. Mearns and got Dr. B. and he and Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment saved her. I recommended the Cuticura Remedies, or said we were right in making use of them. As nearly as I can remember, we used eight cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment; but you must take into consideration that hers was an exceptional case, for an old and good doctor said that it was the worst case that had come to him in forty years. I have always hinged on Cuticura Soap to keep her skin soft and to give her a pure complexion. James J. Smith, Wood and Metal Pattern Maker, Box 234, Buena Vista, Va., Oct. 14 and 22, 1906."

SHOPLIFTERS BUSY IN STORES OF CITY

MANY COSTLY ARTICLES STOLEN BY PEOPLE WHO ARE WELL ABLE TO PAY FOR THEM.

PROSECUTIONS ARE PLANNED

Some of the Things That Business Men Have Done When They Found Customers Stealing.

Shoplifters are operating in Marquette and to protect themselves, an effort is being made by certain merchants to form an organization which will have as its purpose the prosecution of offenders who are caught. If this organization is formed and it probably will be, each member will be obliged to pledge himself to turn over to the police any person found stealing in his place of business.

Thefts Increasing.

Within the past week the number of thefts have increased alarmingly. With the arrival of large holiday stocks, many merchants, crowded for room, have been obliged to use their counter tops upon which to display articles of value, and it is in stores of the sort that the thieves have been reaping a harvest. The shoplifters show but little discrimination. If the article has any value at all, it is coveted and an effort is made to steal it. These efforts usually succeed for the stores are crowded and the clerks are too busy to see everything that happens. Pocketbooks, costly cut glass, soaps, perfumes, books, linen and pieces of wearing apparel have disappeared from various stores.

In one or two instances the thieves have been detected and strangely, in the majority of cases they are people well able to pay for what they take. In at least one instance a woman who was seen taking an article in a store downtown is the wife of a well-known business man. Others have been known to take things for which they could have but slight need, a thermometer for instance.

No Prosecutions.

In none of these cases of detection has a prosecution resulted. An aged man recently was seen taking a brush from a window display. One of the members of the firm saw the act and to confirm what he had seen, as he felt sure that he would not trust his eyes, he went forward and brushed against the old man in such a manner that an inner pocket was revealed. He saw the brush. He said he was so taken back that he could say nothing. He said he didn't know what to do and, so, suffered the piller to leave the store.

Another merchant who had been suspicious of a certain woman customer posted one of his clerks in a concealed spot and the clerk saw the woman thrust a costly article into her open fur cloak. The merchant said nothing but allowed the woman to leave with the article and then later, as she had an account at the store, he included the stolen article in the bill which he sent in at the first of the month to the woman's husband. The bill was paid without protest.

Returned Purse.

Another merchant discovered that a young woman had taken a costly leather purse from a counter top. After she had gone he telephoned for her to return to the store and bring back the purse. She did so, and in the next mail he received another purse. The young woman who had taken the purse had a companion with her, but the companion was not seen to take anything.

From the occasional cases that are detected in this manner, and also from the frequent losses which are unaccounted for, it can no longer be doubted that an immense amount of goods is stolen. One merchant said he did not doubt that the losses suffered in a week would amount to hundreds of dollars. The belief is that as there has never been a prosecution, the thieves assume that there is no danger of detection. It is planned to change this and those merchants who join the organization now planned will have to pledge themselves to prosecute in each case where a discovery is made and in connection with the organization certain methods are to be adopted which will insure that a larger number of cases than formerly will be detected.

MAKES EXCELLENT RECORD.

Calumet & Hecla Boat Has Completed Fifteen Round Trips This Season.

The steamer Flagg which brings coal to Torch Lake for the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, has just about closed the most successful season in her history. Captain McArthur was in Marquette recently and stated that the present summer was a record breaker for the big boat, and he was just about to return on his fifteenth trip between Hubbell and Buffalo. The Flagg has a regular large which she hauls on her trips, the Thompson. The Flagg and her consort were heavily loaded every trip with coal to this port, and cleared either with a load of mineral from the Hubbell plant or iron ore from here.

The steamer Flagg has for the past two seasons been the first boat of the fleet to arrive at this port. Not only was this boat the first to arrive but the last season and this fall she was the last to clear for Buffalo. Upon the arrival of the Flagg last spring she was caught in the ice of Big Portage, the field being eight inches thick. She was in the ice for five days, making absolutely no headway and there she remained until the Warner, with her consort, the Warriner, came to her assistance. From Big Portage to Torch Lake there was considerable difficulty as so as the lake was frozen hard, making progress slow, but both of the boats with their consorts, managed to arrive safely, no damage having been done to either of the craft.

Captain McArthur of the Flagg stated that the season has been a very successful one indeed. The weather has been the most mild that he has experienced in years, and only upon a few occasions was the fog so thick that it retarded their progress. The captain had but one bad accident, and that was when the boat ran on a shoal in the St. Clair river. She was off again, however, in a short time, with the assistance of another steamer.

Warner Has Good Record.

The steamer Warner, with the Warriner as consort, also has a good record for this season. She completed fourteen round trips, the course being the same as that of her sister ship, the Flagg. The former record for round trips between here and Buffalo was fourteen, until it was smashed this year by the Flagg.

The last trip of the Flagg, which left here last week, was the only one that she did not tow the Thompson. Instead of going to the copper country, the other boat loaded with iron ore at Marquette and was picked up by the Flagg on the way east. The season has been one very satisfactory to the owners of the boats and also to the captains.

LEADERS IN CONTEST ARE MARQUETTE BOYS

MENOMINEE EDITOR WHO IS TO TAKE WINNERS TO WASHINGTON IN CITY YESTERDAY.

Marquette county, and the city of Marquette in particular, is leading the van in interest in the Northwestern Farmer's big Washington trip contest and one of the prettiest races in the history of the north is in progress here. Vern Chamberlain, son of Conductor F. Chamberlain, 131 Rock street, is slightly in the lead and is rapidly increasing his total vote.

How They Run.

David Murray, son of Jeff Murray, Washington street, is following Chamberlain a close second. In fact the two are engaged in a close neck and neck race, sometimes one being slightly ahead and sometimes the other. Friends of both of the boys are assisting them in various ways and both lads are hustling for themselves in a most exemplary manner.

Gunnar Mortenson is also in the race and doing good work. Although he now occupies third place, his vote is steadily increasing and his friends will probably rally to his aid before the contest is over. Frank LaMora is also in the race and steadily rolling up a vote. John Zryd, Leonard H. Knight and Horatio Patrick and Ernest Doff are also enrolled in the big contest.

It begins to look as though the grand prize of the splendid free trip to Washington was going to be captured by a Marquette hustler. The $5 cash prize offered by the First National Bank, of this city, to the Marquette county boy receiving the highest vote in the contest, is also one of the objects for which the local hustlers are striving and if the present standing of the contestants are maintained, that also will be captured by a Marquette boy.

Others in Race.

Ishpeming has a number of hustlers, as has Negaunee. There are a number of other contestants in various parts of the district outside of Marquette county and some of these are beginning to be heard from. Cecil McDonald, of Pickford, Chippewa county, is getting a big vote and now stands third in the entire district.

There are now a total of 209 names on the rolls of the contest in the fifteen counties of northern Michigan and also in northern Wisconsin. New contestants are coming in and take the place of the weaker ones who are losing heart and dropping out and the strong and persevering hustlers are coming to the top.

C. W. Mason, editor of the Northwestern Farmer, who will accompany the party of eight boys to Washington, was in the city yesterday and today, and stated that the contest was progressing favorably and meeting with great interest. Everything possible will be done to give the successful winners of the trip the time of their lives and the educational value of the journey will be worth as much as many weeks or even months of routine school work to the boys who are so fortunate as to be members of the party. Everyone is being urged to assist their favorite contestants in every way and to encourage the boys in their enterprising race.

LEAGUERS' FIRST GAME.

Team No. 1 Loses First Match of the Season to the Pace Makers.

Last night the first game of the bowlers league was played at the Marquette Bowling company's alleys with the result that the Pace Makers took three straights from team No. 1 of the league. Tonight teams Nos. 3 and 4 are to play. Another interesting game scheduled for tonight is the match to be played at Negaunee. The following five-men team from Marquette is to play: Lafayette Marcotte, Messier, Jeanson and Davis. They may also play with the Ishpeming team. Following are the scores of last night's league game:

Team No. 1—
Bernard	83	104	152

COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS A MEETING

PROJECT OF BRINGING FINNISH COLLEGE TO MARQUETTE MAY MEET WITH SUCCESS.

Probably owing to the snow storm of last night, the attendance at the meeting of the Queen City Commercial club, which was held at the city hall, was not large. In the absence of President Williams of the club, M. E. Asire acted as chairman of the meeting and as the secretary, F. G. Jenks was not there, Fred Pierce acted for him.

Alderman Downey notified the twenty members who were present, that the project of bringing the Finnish college to Marquette was progressing nicely. He stated that the committee which had the matter in charge were working, and that while there was at this time nothing to make public, the present outlook for the success of the project is promising. It was voted last night to allow the secretary to employ an assistant to care for the details of his work. A salary of $10 a month is to be paid to this assistant, who is to be chosen by the secretary. The action taken in this matter is retroactive, and it was also voted to pay over to the secretary $20 for the work done since Oct. 1.

Two changes were made last night in two committees of the club. One of these was the appointment of George Hager as member of the executive committee to succeed Martin Sweder, resigned. The other was the election of T. F. Ball as chairman of the manufacturing committee to succeed Nels Flodin. The meeting adjourned at 9 o'clock.
