JURY TO BE DISCHARGED.

Only Chancery Cases Remain in Houghton County Circuit Court.

After today only chancery cases will remain on the September calendar of the Houghton county circuit court, and after the Finnegans-Haldim trial the jury will be excused. In order to affect this result it is necessary to borrow one day from the Baraga county October term, which should open today. Judge Streeter has postponed that opening for one day and will go to L'Anse Tuesday.

In the case of Joseph Duce vs. the Sparrow-Kroll Lumber company, the jury awarded damages of $3,000. It is expected the case will be appealed. The case of Joseph Herman vs. John Trevisan was set for the jury Friday. It was a suit involving the sale of a piano by Mr. Herman for $400 over to John Trevisan or his sister, Mrs. Martin Prisk of Laurium. Saturday the jury returned a judgment of $500 against Mr. Trevisan.

Following the Herman case, the case of Peter H. Finnegans against George P. Baldwin was taken up. This case is an interesting one. Mr. Finnegans came to represent the Baldwin syndicate of Chicago, which is headed by George P. Baldwin. He was selling stock of the Sullivan-Arizona Mining company. It appears that in the latter part of 1908 he thought he had secured in the contract of the company, and he published on Dec. 2 of that year a circular in which he took the management of the syndicate to task. He then became the agent for the (Castle) Baldwin company. George P. Baldwin published a circular Dec. 10 to offset the Finnegans circular, and Mr. Finnegans claims that some of the statements contained therein are libellous. His attorney, Mr. Crocker, in an opening statement to the jury read the Baldwin circular, and called particular attention to such epithets as "gozzle-eyed mountebank" and "foul-mouthed, blatant, virtue posing hypocrite" which were applied to Mr. Finnegans. The defense contends that these statements are not libellous, and that the essential statements in the circular were true and were called out by the facts.

The Baraga county term will open Tuesday morning. There are no criminal cases on the calendar, a total of only thirteen cases, all civil. Eight of these are against the Mineral Range railroad company, and one trial will probably decide all.

FARMER AN INVENTOR.

Napoleon Piquette Secures Patent on New Form of Hay Press.

Napoleon Piquette of Dollar Bay is exhibiting a new hay press which he has just patented. The device is an improvement on the old-fashioned hay press, and Mr. Piquette believes it will greatly reduce the cost of production. The striking feature is the horse power. This is so constructed that it automatically releases the compressive force on one side of a revolution. The horse operating the press is kept continuously in motion and the automatic release does not jar the animal in any way. The press is similar in form to the usual hay press, excepting that it has an automatic which takes the hay into the plunger box, making it unnecessary for men to tramp the hay into the box as is usual now. An important feature is that the horse power and the press are separate, the power being communicated by cable, so that it is possible to locate the press in the barn and have the motive power outside. Mr. Piquette has one of his machines in operation at Pilgrim, and it is a success. He is now organizing a company to manufacture the press.

ROADS TO LAC LA BELLE.

Because of the excellent roads from Calumet to Lac La Belle, Keweenaw county, Calumet people who have been planning to purchase property at Copper Harbor, Grant township, and to make their summer homes there, are considering the advisability of changing their plans. The poor condition of the roads from Mandan to Copper Harbor, a distance of eight or ten miles, makes it almost impossible to get to Copper Harbor at times. In the best of weather this highway is in very bad condition, and even in the best of weather it is a mere automobile accident and breaks occur on this stretch of road that on any other in Keweenaw county. The roads to Lac La Belle on the other hand are being put in fairly good condition and the harbor is almost as beautiful as Copper Harbor. It is said that several cottages will be erected at Lac La Belle the coming summer for this reason.

RELIGIOUS-LABOR MEETING.

Rev. Charles Stelzel, who is called the "champion of labor," yesterday afternoon at the Calumet theater addressed a large gathering of workmen and laborers of the Calumet Y. M. C. A. His subject was "Labor's Champion." Seated on the stage with Mr. Stelzel were the directors of the Y. M. C. A., a number of ministers and representatives of the miners and underground workers, machinists, tinners, carpenters, blacksmiths, railroad men, teamsters, drill sharpeners, rockhouse men, painters, office men, boiler makers, foundrymen, pattern makers, electricians, surface workers, bricklayers, clerks and printers.

SUPERVISORS MEET TOMORROW.

Adjourned Annual Meeting Will Consider Important Business.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Houghton county board of supervisors will be held tomorrow morning. The important matters coming up are: Report of equalization committee. Determination of tax rate for 1909. Report of Prosecuting Attorney MacDonald on the county road system. Report of a special committee relative to the care of indigent tuberculosis patients.

This latter committee hopes to report satisfactory arrangements. The plan now is to contract with some responsible person for the care of the tubercular patients. This includes renting a house with a capacity of fifteen patients and contracting with some persons to conduct the house as a hospital. It is possible that some objection may be raised by residents of the neighborhood in which such a building may be selected, because a house of that size would necessarily be located in one of the townships. But a tuberculosis hospital is not a menace to the health of the people residing near it. Dr. Jackson, county physician, says that he would rather live in a tuberculosis hospital that is properly conducted than to live in a house where is a tubercular victim who is not adhering to a course of treatment and conduct. If such a house is secured it may for the time being solve the tuberculosis sanatorium project, as building a special sanatorium would involve an expenditure which would have to be submitted to the vote of the people before it could be undertaken.

A COMING CHAMPION.

Tony Ross Who Fights Mike Shreck Tonight Looks Promising.

Tony Ross of Newcastle, Pa., and Mike Shreck of Cincinnati, will box ten rounds at the Houghton Amphitheatre tonight. It is probable that Tom Madden of Duluth will be the referee. There will be good preliminaries. Shreck will weigh about 185 and Ross about 200 pounds, though the weights make little difference in a heavy weight bout. Shreck has been training in Houghton for the past week. Ross and his manager, Jimmie Dime, have been here since Friday and the big Italian has been working out at the Amphitheatre.

Ross is twenty-four years old. He has fought twelve bouts, getting a knock-out once, losing once and getting two draws. It can be seen that the honors are even between the men. Ross, who was a husky puffer in an iron mill at Newcastle, has been in this country just nine years. Dime was introduced to Shreck four times, getting a knock-out once, losing once and getting two draws. It can be seen that the honors are even between the men. BOWLING LEAGUE FOR ELKS.

Calumet Lodge Members Will Form Six-Team Organization Soon.

The members of the Calumet lodge of Elks will have their own little bowling league this season, and are already getting into condition to begin playing off a schedule of games as soon as their alleys can be built. Workmen are already busy, and will have the alleys ready within the course of ten days.

The Elks' bowling league will likely consist of six teams. As the lodge has a membership embracing residents of a large district, several teams will represent the several towns or locations in the community. One team will represent Red Jacket, another Laurium, another Calumet, another Hecla, one Ashland and one Mohawk. As there are about fifty bowlers among the lodge's membership, good teams can be organized with little difficulty. Whether or not the Elks will also put a team into the proposed Calumet league or into the county league, providing one is organized, has not been decided.

Michigan College of Mines Freshman Last Annual Football Game.

The annual football game between the Michigan College of Mines sophomore and freshman classes was played Saturday afternoon at the Hancock park before a big crowd of rooters, including a large number of ladies. Preceding the game there was a parade of the teams and classes. The going band headed the procession. The seniors wore huge white crests and yellow and white ribbons, the college colors. The freshmen wore red and white, their colors. The seniors were strong enough to carry so much beef and brown. The freshmen brought up the rear of the procession and were few in number but a multitude in noise. The sophomores won the game by the score of 15 to 3.

WILL GET STATE REWARD.

Frank F. Rogers, deputy highway commissioner of Michigan, was in Houghton last week for the purpose of inspecting the last macadam road which the Sheldon-Degless people are building as a boulevard in the Lake View addition. He met with the Portage township board. Mr. Rogers has assured the board that as a result of the building of the road the township will receive a reward of $1,000 from the state. The highway is not quite a mile long, but it is much wider than the state specifications.

HIS INNOCENCE ESTABLISHED.

W. A. French of Hancock has made known the fact that on Oct. 8 he was accused at Ashland, Wis., on a charge of embezzlement referred against him by the Schlitz Brewing company of Milwaukee. Mr. French was formerly agent for that company in Calumet and Hancock and was later transferred to Ashland. He returned to Hancock and was there arrested on the embezzlement charge. Mr. French stood trial at Ashland and was acquitted. He is now located permanently in Hancock.

Naval Training Ship Will Be Rebuilt This Winter in Wisconsin.

In command of Captain H. S. Goodell, the U. S. S. Anatic, training ship for the upper peninsula battalion of the Michigan Naval Brigade, left Hancock yesterday for Sturgeon Bay, Wis., where the vessel will be rebuilt this winter. A number of men from the Hancock reserve are here now, and are ten men and Lieutenants Stephenson, Mason and Mashek from the Escanaba division. It is expected that the trip to Sturgeon Bay and the return by rail will take five days. The lateness of the season and the possibility of encountering rough weather did not appear to many members of the division, and volunteers were not numerous.

MAN FOUND DEAD.

Archie McDonald was found dead Friday morning by Tom Supple, who was walking from Iron River to this village, reports the Ontonagon Herald. When about three miles this side of Iron River Supple saw a team standing in the road and a load of supplies and the wagon tipped over and upon investigation found the dead body of McDonald under the load. McDonald left Ontonagon Thursday afternoon with H. D. McKenzie's team and a load of supplies for Iron River. The load had not moved from the load tipped over. McDonald was well known here, having lived at Ontonagon for years. He leaves one son, Archie, who lives at Greenland, and two daughters, both of whom reside here—Mrs. Con Stripe and Miss Mary McDonald.

Mining News

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

North Butte is understood to be hoisting daily about 1,400 tons of ore, of which about 25 per cent is first class or smelting ore.

The mines of the Battle Coalition company are producing at the rate of 40,000,000 pounds per annum and earning something over $1 per share on the million outstanding shares.

The Arizona Commercial company's smelter was successfully blown in Friday morning. At 11 o'clock the furnace was tapper for slag, which continued to flow freely. Saturday witnessed commencement of the production of copper matte. The management is already laying plans for a converter plant, to be installed the coming winter.

For the month of August the Boston Consolidated company produced 1,665,201 pounds of copper at a net cost of 30 cents a pound, which would indicate a net earnings of about $30,000. During August, however, the mill was not running to its full capacity, as at present. The September figures should show not only an increased production but reduced costs.

A call for the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Nevada Consolidated company to be held Nov. 2 has been issued. The stockholders are to vote upon the proposed issuance of 400,000 shares of stock, to be offered in exchange for Cumberland Ely stock on the basis of one share of Nevada Consolidated for three and one-quarter shares of Cumberland Ely.

The statement that Isle Royale is in debt to the extent of $300,000 and $100,000 has been circulated. The truth is that Isle Royale owes the United Metals Selling company about $100,000, which is money advanced against copper in its hands for sale. As the copper is sold this amount is paid off. It is common custom for mines to receive such advances, and they are not anything more than a technical indebtedness, as they are always secured by copper in the hands of the selling agency.

The president of a Boston-owned copper property says: "I have just returned from New York, where I made some inquiries concerning the statement that J. P. Morgan & Co. were becoming interested in a copper combination. I learned enough to convince me that there is basis for this report, and that George W. Perkins has the matter in charge. There is little information available as to the scope of the combination, but it will take the form of an actual consolidation of properties or whether the Morgan house will simply use its endeavors to bring about a settlement of certain disagreements now existing between some of the leading copper interests. Lower prices for the metal might facilitate a copper consolidation. It was the demoralization in the steel industry that resulted in the formation of the Steel corporation."

WHAT ARE WHITE PERSONS?

A New Complication in the Process of Naturalization.

Asiaties Being Denied Citizenship Because They Are Not "Free White Persons"—Original Intention Was to Divide Races by Color, and White Was Meant to Describe Europeans—Common Ethnological Terms Not Sufficiently Descriptive.

Washington, Oct. 17.—The announcement from Laporte, Indiana, that the county clerk there had received instructions from the naturalization division at Washington not to permit Turks to become citizens reveals the interesting fact that the United States government, through the division of naturalization, has just taken the ground that aliens are not "free white persons," and therefore may not become citizens of the United States. The federal act relating to naturalization declares that "the provisions of this title shall apply to aliens being free white persons, and to aliens of African nativity and to persons of African descent." The language is found in Section 2169 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

Since the first of July, when the Division of Naturalization began to enforce this new interpretation of the law strictly, many aliens in various parts of the country have made application for their first naturalization papers and have been refused in every case in which the advice of the division of naturalization has been sought. In the Southern states, and in some of the Pacific Coast states, Asiatics of various kinds have indicated that they propose to test the ruling of the government. A test case has not yet been made up, but the naturalization officials expect that proceedings will soon be begun in two or three cities, and that the supreme court will eventually be called upon to interpret the words "free white persons."

Asiaties Not "Free White Persons."

Since the division of naturalization decided that Asiatics are not "free white persons," Richard K. Campbell, chief of the division, has written many letters to the United States district attorneys, to lawyers in private practice and to business men explaining the position his division has taken.

"It seems to me that a great deal of confusion has arisen in regard to the construction to be placed on section 2169, as amended," said he, "from the habit of viewing it in the light of a very modern and very inexact science of ethnology. If we desire to know what the numbers of Asiatics, the words used in the general attaching with regard to the races has been broadly the same that it was in the early days of the independence of the states.

Fathers Divided by Colors.

It was then thought that there were four races, white, yellow, red and black. These races, with some modifications, the largest that of the Hebrews, were confined within certain geographical limits. Thus the whites were Europeans, the yellows were Asiatics, the reds were Americans and the blacks were Africans. With one of these races the constitution dealt broadly by segregating the Indian, maintaining his tribal independence, excluding him as an object of taxation and another one of these races, as the term "race" was understood in the minds of the educated men in that day, the white race, or Europeans, the law dealt by making them all, when free, eligible to American citizenship. Thus as you know, until after the conclusion of the Civil War, no free white person could be naturalized in other words, Europeans, and persons of European descent.

"After the war, and as a result thereof, though by no means a necessary result, this country in its zeal in behalf of a race that it desired to elevate, extended the right to becoming naturalized to 'aliens of African nativity' and to persons of African descent. It is worthy while to note these words. They do not more aptly describe the Negro than 'white' does the European, and yet we know that Negroes alone were intended.

Leaves Out Asiatics.

"That leaves outside of the pale of eligibles to American citizenship under its naturalization laws the Asiatics; not by direct exclusion legislation as in the case of the Indian, but by necessary inference from the fact that whites and blacks were alone given the benefit of our naturalization laws. In other words, the term 'white' as used by 'the fathers' was a convenient general designation that would sufficiently describe Europeans. Europeans were most nearly allied of all races to those who established this free government, for which reason there was less danger to the interests established through the introduction into the body politic of Europeans than would result from the introduction of peoples who were more remote, not simply in their origin or in the tinting of their complexion, but in their ideas and standards, from those for which the colonists had made such sacrifices and had incurred such risks. The position of this office is that the founders of this government, when they used the term 'white persons' meant Europeans, a Spaniard, or a person of Spanish descent may be very much darker than a Japanese, or a Hindoo, as a physical fact, but he is nevertheless a European or of European descent, and as such a 'white person' within the meaning and intent of 'the fathers' when they adopted that standard. The contrary is true of Asiatics. As far as the red and black races are concerned, one of them has been expressly excluded and one of them expressly included in modern times within the purview of our naturalization laws. As to the activities of the government need only be directed to shutting out the yellow race, so-called—in other words, people of Asiatic descent."

The division of naturalization in communication with the United States attorneys is suggesting that they avoid the use of the terms which ethnologists use, such as Caucasians, Malays, Mongols and the like. The division holds that these terms had no existence in the minds of those persons who confined the rights of naturalization to American citizens to "white persons." To permit such terms to enter into the controversy which the government's stand has aroused, or into the court proceedings which seem inevitable, will simply produce needless confusion and a variety of opinions in the minds of public officers and in the decisions of the courts, says Mr. Campbell.

"Caucasian" Means Nothing.

It seems that the division had a good deal of correspondence with the district attorneys at St. Paul, over the question as to whether a Hindoo is a Caucasian or not. "This division never took any view upon the point as to whether the Hindoo was a Caucasian," said Mr. Campbell. "It never cared. It never believed that there was any authority for interposing into the law any such term. It never believed that 'the fathers' had any such word in their minds, and it never believed that it was necessary for the courts to determine that question. It believes that a Hindoo is not a white person. It would continue to believe this if the Hindoo was as fair as a lily, for the reasons that congress, which originally used the term 'free white persons,' followed the then accepted view upon racial distinctions and used those words, apt for the purpose of a general thing, to designate Europeans, and to distinguish them from the red, black and yellow races." Another conclusion of the division is that "mental resourcefulness" of an alien should not in any case be made a standard. In support of this contention Mr. Campbell says: "If a person of mental resourcefulness, of widely alien ideas and training, with views fixed by political and social standards of immemorial usage in his own country, be admitted to citizenship, that very quality would constitute a peculiar danger to the details of American citizenship."

Turks May Not Be Citizens.

The question whether Turks should be regarded as "free white persons" arose first at New Orleans in July when the United States district attorney informed the division of naturalization that Turks were applying for naturalization papers. In denying those Turks the privilege of becoming naturalized the division held that "that fact that the Turk has lived for centuries within the geographical boundaries of Europe has not in any way modified his Asiatic characteristics. This is due to the strict maintenance of their original religious, political and social faiths. They are in a very essential sense, therefore, still Asiatics and the introduction of them in any large number into the body politic of the United States would constitute an element of danger." The New Orleans Turks in seeking to come within the provision of the naturalization law raised the question as to why the Jews should not be denied the privilege of naturalization. In answering this point, the Jews are undoubtedly Orientals in the sense that they sprang from Asiatic sources, but, to quote the language of the chief of the division, "They have been scattered over the face of the earth, and while they have retained their religious views, in other respects they have become Westernized and readily adaptable to Western ideals and standards." In this case the question was asked as to what attitude the division would take with respect to the peoples of the Barbary states and of Egypt. The division's answer was that there is no particular difficulty in assigning them to Asiatic origin. The division said that the very similarity of their social custom, their political ideals, etc., show that irrespective of their original origin their actual status now is that of the Asiatic.

Courts May Settle the Question.

Unless the courts interfere the government, through the bureau of naturalization, proposes to keep the doors closed against all Asiatics—that is to say, Chinese, Japanese, Malays, Hindoos, Turks, Arabs, Moors, Africans, natives of the Barbary states, of Egypt, etc. The division has not yet been called on by any official to change a native of Asiatic Russia would be denied the privilege of becoming a citizen, but the division officials say that the probability is that a Russian no matter what part of the empire he came from would be regarded as a "free white person."

Richard K. Campbell, chief of the naturalization bureau, said that he does not pretend to be an ethnologist. "So far as I have been able to devote any thought to the subject," said he, "the alleged evidence upon which ethnologists reach their conclusions is so utterly at variance with my conception of evidence that I cannot regard such conclusions as other than provisional and speculative. It seems to me that the followers of the cult designated 'Philo-Judaism' reach their conclusions as to the dissemination of the ten lost tribes throughout Europe upon grounds that are quite as worthy of acceptance as those employed by ethnologists to distinguish the origin of the different races that inhabit the earth."

Mr. Campbell says that there is no way, of course, of definitely determining this question as to the meaning of the words "white persons"

WORLD'S ARMIES COMPARED

American Expert Compliments the English and French Troops.

Captain Langhorne Finds the German Force Disappointing—Sees Exceptional Weakness in the Artillery—A Comprehensive Report of the Recent European Military Manoeuvres.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Captain George T. Langhorne of the Eleventh Cavalry, U. S. A., has written for the journal of the Military Service Institution, published by the officers of the army on Governors Island, some impressions of the British, French, German, Italian, Swiss and Spanish armies, gathered on a recent tour of those countries, while there he was aid on the staff of General Wood, now commanding the department of the East, on Governors Island. Of the British army Captain Langhorne says:

"The English soldier as seen in London is drilled into a stiff automaton, wearing uncouth, heavy, cumbersome, and attractive-looking clothes. The officers are also stiff in their movements and the few manoeuvres necessary to form the lines showed lack of ease and simplicity. The mounted troops were good to look at in their striking uniforms, and were a most pleasing part of the whole show. The good influence in popularizing the army by having troops stationed in large cities is exemplified in London. The various guards and other bodies of troops marching through the streets, preceded by their gorgeous bands of drums and fifes, recalling traditions of gallant deeds, gain friends everywhere. The British army has made its reputation as a fighting body, and for bulldog tenacity and steadiness. It knows how to shoot, and more attention than ever is given to rifle instruction by any other army, as is also the practical course followed."

Captain Langhorne is also complimentary in his reference to the French troops. "The French cavalry," he says, "is superb. Master of the art of dress, they have retained their religious views, in other respects they have become Westernized and readily adaptable to Western ideals and standards." In this case the question was asked as to what attitude the division would take with respect to the peoples of the Barbary states and of Egypt. The division's answer was that there is no particular difficulty in assigning them to Asiatic origin. The division said that the very similarity of their social custom, their political ideals, etc., show that irrespective of their original origin their actual status now is that of the Asiatic.

other than by raising the point in individual cases and having the question decided by the courts. "It is far better in my judgment," he says, "to apply the rule of interpretation contained for strictly, since it is within the province of congress at any time to give expression to popular will and relax the conclusions of the courts. The only case in which congress has ever definitely excluded any particular people from the right to become American citizens is found in the Chinese exclusion act of 1882, and that has constituted a sore spot ever since in our relations with that country."

APPLE CROPS DISAPPOINTING.

Yields in Kansas and Missouri Are About 50 per Cent of Normal.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 17.—Apple buyers are scouring the Missouri and Kansas orchards now trying to get enough of the fruit to fill orders, but their reports are discouraging. They say that the big Kansas orchards are producing less than half an ordinary crop and that Missouri yields outside the Ozark district, will hardly be 45 per cent. The Ozark crop, according to the estimate of Frisco railroad officials, will be about 2,500 carloads. About 30,000 barrels will go into storage at Springfield and probably 100,000 barrels will be stored in Kansas City. Commission men, anticipating a certain rise, are storing all the fruit they can get. Selected Jonathans are worth $3.50 and $4 a barrel; eating stock $2.50 a barrel and common eating or cooking stock $2 a barrel.

CAN'T COAL IN CANADA.
Vessels Must Keep Out of Foreign Ports to Avoid Tonnage Tax.

Since the new law imposing a tonnage tax on vessels arriving from Canadian ports went into effect, there has been much discussion among vesselmen relative to the liability of vessels which might clear from one port to another and which might, en route, call at a Canadian port for coal or other supplies. Under the ruling of the department of commerce and labor has sent out a letter to the customs collectors, stating that such vessels are liable and must pay the tonnage tax, providing they are obliged to report and clear from the Canadian ports, as is the case on this side of the border.
The order is one of considerable importance to lake navigators. It is a frequent occurrence for vessels bound from the lower lakes, when at the Soo, to cross over to the Canadian side to take on fuel coal, simply as a matter of convenience. When landing on the Canadian side, the masters report and take their clearances from the Canadian port. Under the ruling of the department, in such cases the American collectors will be obliged to collect the tax of two cents per ton for the first five such entries of every vessel, the law providing that no vessel shall be compelled to pay more than ten cents per ton in a single season. This will probably mean that the vessels will have to take on their coal and supplies at an American port, unless the captain decides that the saving in time is worth more than the amount of the tax. It is estimated that the collection of boats causes delay in coaling at the Soo, and now that all vessels have to coal on the American side, the trouble will be aggravated.

County to Borrow $10,000—
The Delta board of supervisors has authorized the county treasurer to borrow $10,000 for running expenses. According to Treasurer Mollman that sum will just about pull the county through until next time.
Liquor Dealers Warned—
The liquor dealers convicted of violations in the circuit court during the past week were given to understand that they must be on their good behavior in the future if they expect to remain in the business, says the Iron Mountain Press. Their attention was directed to the provision of the law which provides that dealers will forfeit their licenses if convicted a second time. It is safe to say that those convicted will take no chances of a second arrest, but will conduct their places according to law.
To Abolish Drinking Cups—
Swinging in with the same crusade that has been started throughout the country and which has found its way into the legislatures of nineteen states, Trustee John McEae urged the Escanaba board of education to do away with the tin or metal cups in the city schools. He suggested that the board provide either paper cups for the children or have the pupils use private cups. The board is greatly in favor of the movement and Trustee Pape was appointed chairman of a committee to draw up an appropriate resolution and report at the next meeting. Drinking cups have been abolished entirely in Detroit schools.
Serious Hunting Accident—
The first hunting accident of the season in Alger county occurred last week when the injured man being a victim of his own carelessness in handling a gun. William Rauer, an employee of the Marquette Paper company, was out hunting ducks near Sand Point when the accident occurred which will disfigure him for life. As he was getting out of a row boat he was shooting towards his muzzle blast. The hammer of the gun caught and the firearm was discharged. Several shot were imbedded in the man's face, his right thumb was blown off close to his hand, his left eye was destroyed and a gaping hole was torn in his shoulder. Altogether he was a most pitiable looking sight when he arrived at the doctor's office.

Upper Peninsula History—What promises to be the most extensive history of the upper peninsula ever attempted, will be issued with a year by A. L. Sawyer of Menominee. Associated with him in the work are Hon. John Power of Escanaba, G. C. Davidson of Iron Mountain, L. L. Wright of Ironwood, and Judge Steere of Sault Ste. Marie. The work will be in three volumes and will be illustrated throughout.
Address by Judge Stone—Cards of invitation will be issued by the Queen City Commercial club today for a smoker to be held at the Assembly room of the city hall on Wednesday evening, which will be addressed by Judge J. W. Stone on a topic of general interest. Much interest has been shown in the affair and the officers of the club expect that it will be largely attended by the members and their friends.
No Division of Presbytery—Rev. J. M. Rogers, pastor of the Presbyterian church, states that although a committee was appointed at the Cadillac meeting to investigate any requests that might be made for a re-districting of the state or any part of it, so far as he knows there was no tendency to divide or demand for a division of the upper peninsula district, as has been reported in the press throughout the state.
Weichers in More Trouble—Anton Weichers, the branch prison convict on whose person were found three $100 banknotes, the stolen time ago is now being sued for divorce by his wife, who resides in Buffalo. A dispatch from that city states that Weichers operated there as an alleged healer and dormitory keeper under the name of "Antonius, the Boy Wonder." Rosa Reed, the sixteen-year-old girl, for seducing whom Weichers is now serving a five-year sentence, is named as co-respondent in the divorce action.

Duluth Wants U. P. Business—The Duluth News Tribune of Saturday contains a half-column wall, the substance of which is that Duluth is being chosen out of its just share of the business of the upper peninsula, because of the inadequate mail service furnished by the U. P. S. N. & A. railroad. The article states that in point of distance, Duluth offers the advantage of Chicago dealers in the upper peninsula, with an air line from Duluth to Sault Ste. Marie, yet that the mail service to Chicago is so much better than the Windy City is getting the cream of the upper peninsula trade. What the Duluth wholesalers seem to want is a local mail service on the eastbound night train, which they would like to see leave after 5 o'clock, instead of 5:20, as at present.

Fire Loss $40,000—
Fire, started from unknown cause, and blazing unattended until the entire building was aflame, completely destroyed the I. Stephenson mill No. 1 at Wolf. When the fire was discovered it was bursting from the shingle mill side of the plant. Only a small number of men were about at the time and there was no chance to save the building. The hard work the fire fighters managed to protect the immense piles of lumber and keep the flames from gnawing into the other mill. The loss is $40,000 covered by insurance. The destroyed mill was used for sawing hemlock and pine and at the time the fire started was not in operation. Nearly 100 men protected the hardwood mill which was threatened twice. The company will immediately rebuild and a number of the men thrown out of work by the blaze will be given employment during the construction.
Came Near Drowning—
To an unusual presence of mind a Minisbee boy, aged twelve years, probably owes his escape from drowning. Carvel Earl, son of T. D. Earl, was with some other boys about his own age taking rides on the lumber cars on one of the Superior Veneer & Co. cars on the Young Earl and another boy were on a car which a third boy was showing. Presently the boy showing the car got tired, gave the car a push and let go. The car jumped the track. The other youngsters saw what was about to happen and jumped off. The Earl boy fell into the bay under the car where the water is fifteen feet deep, but having learned to swim lost no time in striking out for the surface of the water. On

KEPT ARMS UNDER COAT.

Brooklyn Beggar's Ruse Detected by Police, and He Was Arrested.

William F. Masterson, fifty years old and a homeless wanderer, was arrested at Pacific street and Washington avenue, Brooklyn, by Central Office Detectives Gallagher and Clark.

The poor fellow had no arms, and the tears filled his eyes as he protested against the cruelty of taking him in, for all he sought, he said, was enough to keep body and soul together in this heartless world. The little he had been getting in a box strapped in front of him, for being without arms and hands he could not hold it. He simply stood on the corner, saying nothing, his poor, swollen trunk being a sufficient appeal for charity.

It was a good appeal, too, for many a kind-hearted passer-by dropped pennies or nickels in the collection box and hurried on, the blessing of the helpless people singing in their ears and bringing a glow of pleasure to them for what they had done to relieve his distress. Indeed so many came in to that box that it became a trifle embarrassing to William F. Masterson, for the sight of so much money was apt to deter others from contributing. So he stepped into a hallway and in a minute or so emerged with the box quite empty.

The detectives saw him do this three or four times and their curiosity was excited. They arrested him, took him to police headquarters and searched him. They found a pocketful of small change on him, but that was not so interesting as the discovery that he had in his fine and heavy pair of arms as any man could wish for. The little he had been carrying then close to his sides under his coat. For that centrality he was looked up on a charge of vagrancy.

SHOPS THAT TALK.

The East Coast African, buying shoes, is less concerned with fit or style than with a quality the white man quite ignores, or at worst, wishes to, if he can not.

"Do they talk proper loud?" inquires the ingenious native, first of all; and if they do not "talk" he will not buy.

In the south seas it is the same with the bronze man as in Africa with the black. Perhaps it is only a natural desire for harmony in the attire for his other articles of dress, although seldom a measure, are frequently also "loud."

The preparations of a native crew about to receive shore leave are amusingly described by a passenger.

"Tappin, who is a great dandy, puts two gold earrings in one ear and fastens a wreath of eels' feathers about his hat. Koddli, christened George, gets into a thick blue woollen jersey, very suitable for Antarctic weather, a scarlet and yellow pair of britches, and a pair of English shoes which make him limp

TWO HALVES MORE THAN WHOLE.

The action of one of our large railway companies in connection with the cheap day tickets which it issues during the summer months to various seaside resorts raises a new and interesting point in railway law. Can a passenger be legally compelled to forfeit the return half of a cheap ticket because he has not actually travelled with the outward half? Often the cost of these tickets is less than half that of the ordinary single fare, and many economical holiday makers, at the expiration of their annual vacation, have been in the habit of getting friends in London to send them these cheap tickets by post. Though well aware that this was being done on a large scale, owing to the number of unselected outward halves, the company was powerless to stop it until the following brilliant idea was hit upon: The ticket examiners in London have been provided with specially made punches. The examiners insist upon both halves of the tickets being produced, and while the punch removes the return half from the outward half, it at the same time embosses a distinctive mark upon the return half. At the coast stations only those passengers whose return halves bear this mark are allowed to board the trains. Until the public became alive to this strategy it was no uncommon sight to see fifty or more passengers at a time compelled to take fresh tickets.—London Chronicle.

ISHPEMING WINS A HARD FOUGHT GAME

High school elevens battle with honors even until the last twelve minutes of play, when Ishpeming scored freely.

The Ishpeming High took the first Negaunee football game by a score of 16 to 0 before a small but enthusiastic crowd at the Union Park Saturday afternoon.

The teams were well matched. Both had many feature plays and players. For Negaunee Everett Burge, Negaunee's finest ground gainer and all around star, Leslie Gaffney and Walter Sterling worked well as defensive ends, breaking up many formations that would otherwise have resulted in long runs.

Negaunee won the toss and chose the west goal, with the wind in its favor.

Ishpeming kicked to Manning on Negaunee's thirty-yard line. He advanced the ball only a few yards. Negaunee fumbled on the first play and Ishpeming was forced to kick. Rowe advancing the ball and advancing it a few yards. Negaunee pulled off a neat forward pass on their first down, giving them five yards but were forced to kick, sending the ball to Ishpeming's thirty-five yard line. Ishpeming made twenty yards on an inside kick. Sivola made twenty-five yards on an end run, out Negaunee forced and forced Ishpeming to kick. Sterling received the ball on Negaunee's twenty-five yard line, Negaunee tried to make their distance and punted. Ishpeming tried open work and in a wide end run Eger had his ankle twisted and was compelled to retire from the game. Stier, who was playing left end, taking his place as half, and Deaton going in left end. Stier tried a wide end run, but was downed with a loss of six yards. Punts were exchanged and Negaunee recovered the ball in the center of the field. Burge tore off a forty-yard run and was downed by M. Sivola on Ishpeming's ten-yard line. Ishpeming braced and held Negaunee, securing the ball on her seven-yard line. Henriksen failed to receive the pass and the ball went inside the goal, Gaffney dropping on it, but Negaunee was prevented by an outside play and Ishpeming was given the ball on their own twelve-yard line. Henriksen punted to the middle of the field, where the ball remained until the half ended.

From the spectators' point of view the first half was slow and uninteresting.

VAUDEVILLE AT BIJOU.

The management of the Bijou theater, in the Voelker block, has decided to give vaudeville another trial, and if it proves a drawing card it will be continued throughout the winter. The change will go into effect this evening, when Houghton and Houghton, hand balancers, will perform. They will remain three evenings, and will be succeeded the last three nights of the week by Childer and Childer, who do a comedy sketch. FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

"The New York market opened lower, but good buying was soon forthcoming, and advances were made in all but a few of the leading rails. The coppers and smelters were especially strong, the sentiment in Wall street is again decidedly bullish.

"Trading in Boston was rather narrow, but firm at the opening. Prices were well maintained, and, in the cases of the Great Coalition, Greene-Campana and North Butte, were higher. There is a great deal of bullish talk on Greene, and good buying of Butte Coalfield.

"Demand for curb stocks seems to be spreading, the trading today being comparatively heavy, with better distribution among the several more prominent issues. Prices have benefited but little as yet, but stocks can be had only in small lots at the asked prices. General Manager Fitch wires on Chief Consolidated: "Fifth dividend of high-grade ore shipped on the 8th, sampled $818. Had it resampled yesterday, and will probably run $2,400. The mine looks good." Forced liquidation is still in progress on the Salt Lake exchange, and rare bargains in those stocks can now be had.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles, causing backache, irregularities, dizziness and nervous prostration. It was impossible to walk upstairs without stopping on the way. I tried three different doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them, but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said nothing would restore my health. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and I am restored to my natural health."—Mrs. ETTA DONOVAN, Box 299, Willimantic, Conn.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

MINERS QUIT WORK SATURDAY AT NOON

OFFICIALS GIVEN A SURPRISE WHEN WORKMEN RETURN TO THEIR HOMES WITHOUT OFFERING ANY EXPLANATION.

About 125 of the men working on the day shift at the Regent mines, operated by the Oliver Iron Mining company, quit work at noon Saturday, in compliance with the instructions in a circular sent to the men at all of the mines Saturday morning, and signed by "Miners' Committee." The men who quit offered no explanation to either the mine superintendent or underground foremen, but it is assumed that the circular fully explains the reason for their conduct. The men who quit are of the impression that Saturday afternoon should be observed as a legal holiday, in accordance with a law found on page 429 of the Michigan laws, Sections 1 and 2 of Act No. 246 provides that Saturday from 12 o'clock noon to 12 midnight is designated a holiday to be observed in the acceptance and payments of bills and exchange and promissory notes, in the holding of courts and relative to the continuance of suits, etc. It is thought that the men who quit misunderstood the purposes of the law, and that they will return when the matter is explained to them.

The circular scattered about the mines, headed "Saturday Afternoon Are Legal Holidays in Michigan," is an interesting document. It reads as follows:

"The passing of Act No. 246," to be found on page 429 of the 1909 Public Acts of Michigan, has added every Saturday afternoon to the list of legal holidays. The law, which is too lengthy to quote in full in this circular, says, in part: "Every Saturday from 12 o'clock noon until 12 o'clock at night, which is hereby designated a half-holiday."

"There are some clauses in it which are especially intended to cover those working in banks, law offices and courts. But we pause right here to ask the question, WHY? Miners, teamsters, machinists and others bled together in the production of wealth, are not as good as those who handle the wealth after it is produced?"

"Do not those who descend into the bowels of the earth and shut out from the fresh air and sunshine, toiling from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. at the body-racking occupation of timbering, tramming and mining iron ore, need time for rest and entertainment equally as much as the clerical and official forces whose hours are usually shorter, as well as the enjoyment of good air and sunshine?"

"Why should our legislature pass a law to benefit a limited few?"

"Who are more entitled to a Saturday half-holiday than those who risk life and limbs, through dreary days, weeks, months and years, in the damp and poisonous air, powder smoke and dust, producing the wealth by which we are surrounded?"

"The copper country mine workers enjoy their Saturday afternoons off. Why not the iron mine workers? A little more time to till the garden, to spin the wool, to do the chores, to hold the children on your knees, or to read, study and post ourselves on questions of the day. Why not?"

"In view of the foregoing, let every man working in and around the mines, except the necessary pumpman, fireman and engineer, lay down their tools at 12 o'clock Saturday noon and go home."

"Don't stop around bigging about the few company suckers and finger men who are always ready to betray the interests of their fellows, thinking thereby they can advance themselves at the expense of their fellowmen; but quit as one body and leave the few suckers to their dirt and treachery."

"These circulars are thoroughly distributed in all the mines, so that all will act simultaneously. NOW, ALTOGETHER, ONE AND ALL!"

"At the end of the year we shall be richer and healthier for the effort."

"MINERS' COMMITTEE."

It's easier to descend from our ancestors than it is to rise above them.

BIG POTATO YIELD.

Several Negaunee Farmers Will Make Good Money This Year.

According to the Negaunee farmers, this year's yield of potatoes in and about the city will be from three to five times as large as the one last year. John Schwartz, who is recognized as one of the city's best gardeners, has a larger yield than any other farmer here. He expects to take out about 1,500 bushels from his field, in the northern part of the city. Samuel Bashaw has this season taken 250 bushels from a patch that gave him only ninety-five last year. Mrs. Fred Zimmerman also has a large yield for the size of her garden. The largest potatoes seen in the city this fall came from her field, some of them having weighed over two pounds.

A. Erickson, who has a garden near Teal lake, obtained ninety-five bushels from three bushels of seed. This is the largest yield per bushel reported here. One Italian in Ishpeming obtained sixty-three bushels from one bushel and a peck of seed. A farmer living at the Saginaw location, who plowed up a new piece of ground last fall, obtained fifty bushels of potatoes from a bushel of potato peels planted as seed. He is a poor man and did not feel able to pay the price asked for the seed he needed to fill out the patch, so he decided to experiment with the peels.

ANNUAL WASTE OF FORESTS.

Forest Bureau Presents Startling Facts in a Bulletin Just Issued.

In a bulletin entitled "The Status of Forestry in the United States," just issued, startling facts are presented as a result of the taking of stock of the forestry resources of this country by Treadwell Cleveland, a British expert, who has been employed by the bureau of forestry. It shows that the forests are now being destroyed as recklessly as they ever were. Mr. Cleveland contends that three and one-half times as much timber is being removed annually as is added by the new growth. He also shows that less than one-third of the timber of grown trees felled by the lumbermen is used.

Mr. Cleveland found that one-eleventh of all the forests in the United States is swept by fire every year, and that on an average since 1870 forest fires have yearly cost $50,000,000 in timber and fire losses. His investigation also shows that over 99 per cent of the forests in private hands—which comprise three-fourths of all the forest lands and four-fifths of all the woods—is devastated by destructive use and unchecked fires.

It is stated that the forests as a resource are rapidly being obliterated. It would seem that because of the great destruction of timber by fires last year in many parts of the country, more effective methods of protecting the timber would have been adopted, but outside of a few states little has been done. Minnesota was one of the few states that gave the forest fire problem any serious consideration. At the last session of its legislature laws were enacted with a view to further protecting the forests, but there were very few prosecutions for violations during the past summer.

WAS A BUSY DAY.

Saturday was a busy day for the merchants. The rush was due to the fact that the employees of five mines were paid off. Most of the checks were presented to the banks before they closed. During the afternoon, when the banks were closed, the merchants were called upon to cash many checks and most of them were prepared to take care of them.

NEW ROOF FOR POWER HOUSE.

Andrew Lindquist has been awarded a contract to put a new roof on the water works building at Teal Lake. The old roof has been leaking and the building committee was instructed at a recent meeting of the council to have a new one put on. Mr. Lindquist expects to begin work today, if the weather is favorable.

WORK WEAKENS THE KIDNEYS.

Dean's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Marquette.

Most Marquette people work every day in some strained, unattractive position—leading, occasionally, over a desk, writing on filing cabinets or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear and weaken and injure the kidneys, until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Dean's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in old backs. Marquette cures prove it.

David Carr, Marquette, Mich., says: "Dean's Kidney Pills did me more good than any other remedy I ever used. I had a constant, dull pain across the small of my back and was so weak at times that I was helpless. If I sat in a chair for any length of time, my back became so lame that I could not arise without catching hold of something for support. On several occasions I was so bad that I had to lay off from work. Seeing Dean's Kidney Pills highly advertised, I decided to give them a trial and procured a box at the Stafford Drug Co. They helped me from the first and in a short time I grew stronger and the pains left my back. My health has been good ever since and I give Dean's Kidney Pills the credit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Dean's—and take no other.

KIDNAPPED.

Paul's mamma at times fairly exudes maternity. Her heart goes out to every child she meets. At least it did until recently, when she had a set-back that has since held her feelings visibly in check. Now if you questioned her in that respect she would admit sadly that kindness to strange children does not always pay. The change of heart arrived because of an incident on a certain day when, forcibly riding her hobby of motherly kindness to all childhood, she made a hurried dash across Broadway to board a certain car. As she reached the step, breathless but safe, the vision before her was that of a large, comely, well-dressed woman comfortably clinging to the platform and into the car, utterly unmindful of the small, overworked child in her wake, endeavoring to emulate her action. With a wrath in her heart and tenderness in her grasp Paul's mamma lifted the child in her arms, and so entered the car, setting the small girl in the aisle as she took her seat. As she did so, the child for the first time turned, and looking her full in the face broke out into a loud wail, which attracted attention. The large, comely woman was comfortably seated at the far end of the car, Paul's mamma, putting her arms protectively about the bawling, pointed her out to the weeping youngster.

"There she is, dear. There's mother. Run along to mother."

"I'm not her mother," was the startling rejoinder. "I never saw the child before. When she ran across the street in front of you I took it for granted she was yours. She certainly isn't my child!"—New York Times.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedying the cause caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for circulars free.

CHURCH PROPERTY SHOULD BE TAXED

SUCH, AT LEAST, WAS THE CONCLUSION OF DR. TUPPER IN LAST NIGHT'S SERMON.

SEPARATE CHURCH AND STATE

"Render to Caesar the Things That Are Caesar's, and to God the Things That Are God's."

At the First Baptist church last evening Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper spoke on "Should Church Property Be Taxed?" Taking the affirmative side of the question he chose as his text, "Render to Caesar the Things That Are Caesar's, and to God the Things That Are God's."

State Should Aid No Church.

Now, out of the principle of complete separation of church and state, grows the principle of church property taxation. It is generally conceded that the property of the commonwealth should, on no account, be turned over to religious uses.

Liberty of Conscience Involved.

The principle of church taxation exemption is a violation of the principle of absolute liberty of conscience, as well as of that of church and state separation.
