

HEYBURN OF IDAHO STUNS THE SENATE

Western Solon Makes the Sharpest Comment Upon Issues of the Civil War Heard in Congress in Twenty Years.

Protesting Against Loaning Government Tents for Use at the Confederate Veterans' Reunion at Mobile, He Delivers a Caustic Speech That Causes Anger on Both Sides of the Chamber—His Is the Only Negative Vote, and It Is Shouted Defiantly.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Protesting against loaning government tents for use at the Confederate veterans' reunion at Mobile in April, Mr. Heyburn, of Idaho, in the senate today made the sharpest comment upon the issues of the Civil War that has been heard in congress in twenty years.

The Idaho senator inveighed against men in "rebel" uniforms being permitted to occupy government property, or the "rebel" flag being allowed to float above it. Finally, by unmistakable inference, he condemned the action of Virginia in sending a statue of General Robert E. Lee to be placed in the hall of fame at Washington.

"Take it away and worship it if you please," he thundered, "but don't intrude it upon people who don't want it."

Senators Listen Angrily. The Democratic senators moved uneasily about or angrily listened to the speech, which continued nearly an hour. The Southerners, in hurried conversation, concluded to make no reply.

When Mr. Heyburn had concluded Mr. Bankhead, of Alabama, said: "I am sure that the senator from Idaho feels much better, and I ask for a vote."

"By roll call," shouted many senators. Everybody voted for the tent-loaning except Mr. Heyburn. His negative was uttered loudly and defiantly.

Mr. Heyburn first raised objection to the consideration of the measure. This failing, he began a caustic speech, in the course of which he said:

"Those who gave support to the Union cause are none the less patriotic now than in the '60's. Can they complacently permit the subject of the war to become a jest in this age? If so, the sooner we know it the better."

Senator Jefferson Davis, of Arkansas, interposed the question, "Were you in the war?"

"Oh," responded Mr. Heyburn, "that is a stock question of a cheap reporter. 'I understand,' replied Mr. Davis, 'that the senator represents 264 niggers in his state.'"

Mr. Heyburn said that if there were negroes in his state, he intended to try to represent them. He was too young for participation in the Civil war, but nevertheless he was very anxious to enlist.

Says Millions Stand With Him. Mr. Heyburn said that if there were senators who thought it proper that "the rebel" flag should wave over property of the United States, he would remind them that there were millions of people—people who carry a deeply implanted spirit of patriotism—who would not follow them.

Speaking of the Lee statue, Mr. Heyburn appealed to the people of Virginia, in the interest of loyalty and harmony, "to say to the people who sent here this image to come and take it away; it may be dear to you, it is not dear to us. Take him home and give him the dearest place in your local temple. But for God's sake don't again start this spirit out of which the terrible troubles of the past arose."

MR. TAFT ACCEPTS INVITATION. He Will Celebrate St. Patrick's Day With the Irish in Chicago.

Washington, Feb. 7.—President Taft will celebrate St. Patrick's Day with the Irish in Chicago, having definitely accepted the invitation of the Good Fellowship club of that city. Senator Cullum has asked the president to make a brief stop at Quincy, but the matter has not been decided.

While Mr. Taft will celebrate with the Irish in Chicago, the Republican clubmen of that city are anxious to have him as their guest also. The president had no sooner definitely accepted the Good Fellowship invitation today than there appeared in Washington a committee of Hamilton club members seeking an audience.

The committee will suggest that Mr. Taft appear at a public reception after the Good Fellowship engagement is over. The president tomorrow will meet Thomas D. Knight and Charles M. Fishback, of the Hamilton club, with Congressmen Wilson and Madden.

PRESIDENT ISSUES PROCLAMATION. Declares Imports from Germany Entitled to the Minimum Duties.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The president today issued a proclamation declaring that German goods imported into the United States are entitled to the minimum rates of duty.

WILL TRY MRS. FORD AGAIN. Cincinnati, Feb. 7.—Prosecuting Attorney Hunt announced today that the second trial of Mrs. Ford on the charge of blackmailing former Treasurer Warriner will be set for hearing within the next two or three weeks. The jury in the first trial finished reported a disagreement Sunday.

PINCHOT APPROVES ONLY ONE OF THEM.

Considering Secretary Ballinger's Nine Conservation Bills in a "Spirit of Constructive Criticism," the Former Chief Forester Finds Most of Them Faulty—Points Out Their Defects.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The necessity for the passage at the present session of congress of good laws for the protection of the national resources is the keynote of a report to the National Conservation association by Gifford Pinchot, recently chosen its president.

The president takes up in what he calls a "spirit of constructive criticism" the nine bills relating to the conservation of the natural resources introduced in congress in behalf of Secretary Ballinger. Mr. Pinchot urges the enactment of one of these, namely, the bill on the withdrawal of public lands, recently reported by Senator Nelson after it had been amended as the result, in part at least, of conferences between the committee and the officers of the Conservation association. Of the other eight, he believes that some require amendment and the others must be re-cast altogether.

The coal, phosphate, oil, asphaltum and natural gas bills, Mr. Pinchot reports, wisely separate the surface from the underlying minerals and provide for the disposal of the minerals by lease, and not by sale. But the coal bill, he objects, "contains no sufficient anti-monopoly clause. The clause which purports to regulate the rates to be charged the public is so framed that it must be evaded." Another clause, he adds, "may reduce the standard of mining to the wasteful level of the prevailing commerce practice."

Regarding the bill for the survey of railroad land grants, Mr. Pinchot believes it is so framed that the railroads properly to effect their titles if treated in connection with the long pending understanding between certain of the roads and the forest service for the return of railroad lands within national forests to the United States in return for the right to cut out one body of amount of timber equal to that on the lands returned.

Of the waterpower bill, President Pinchot declares that "it repeals in silence the existing waterpower law and curtails the already ample power now exercised with the approval of the former attorney general." The fault found by Mr. Pinchot with the reclamation bill is that it opens reclaimed lands to absentee landlords and speculators. The worst feature of the bill for the sale of timber and timber lands, he declares, is that it replaces the objectionable feature of the timber and stone act which was an inducement to speculation in government timber, with provisions which promote speculation and retard the development of agricultural and mineral lands far beyond the act that it repeals.

Wall Street Rudely Awakened. Wall street interests, inclined at first to regard the idea of a federal conservator, were rudely awakened when they learned that the president would insist that in any bill passed there should be included a provision that nothing in the act should be construed as exempting corporations from the operation of the anti-trust act. Many corporations, it is said, welcomed the federal charter as an indication that past sins were forgiven provided there were no more transgressions.

Frank D. Vanderlip and George W. Perkins, of New York, told the president last week that the corporations would be anything but pleased with the charter of the proposed measure and that few, if any, corporations would take advantage of the act.

The president, it is understood, reported that the corporations which did not care to come under federal control need not. He thought, however, that the simplicity of doing business, one of the provisions of the act were complied with, would appeal to the corporations, as well as other advantages of the measure. As to exempting companies with federal charters from the operation of the anti-trust law, the president said that was impossible.

Wickersham Plied With Questions. Already Attorney General Wickersham is being plied with questions regarding the bill. He has explained that organizations coming under national authority will have but one master. A number of reasons are advanced as to why more satisfaction can be secured by giving federal courts jurisdiction. The litigation there is usually more economical and more rapid than in local courts, and federal juries are less apt to be liable to bias and prejudice.

One objection has arisen from the denial of the right of state jurisdiction over incorporation, but the officials believe that after the law has had a working chance it may be possible to modify its provisions so as to make them less objectionable from the state's rights point of view. The proposed law does not contemplate the supervision of railroad corporations, as they exercise the right of eminent domain. This is a matter that Mr. Wickersham says will be taken up in the future.

Interest has been stimulated by the publication of various provisions of the measure. Whether this will develop sufficiently to carry it through congress is a question its sponsors are now unable to answer. The bill was presented in both branches of congress today. In the house the reference of the bill to the judiciary committee was made without objection, but in the senate Mr. Newlands, of Nevada, opposed the second reading of the measure and gave notice that tomorrow he would ask to have it referred to the committee on interstate commerce.

NOT GOING TO THE PHILIPPINES. Charles E. Magoon Declines the Vice Governorship, on Medical Advice.

Washington, Feb. 7.—President Taft today nominated Newton W. Gilbert, of Indiana, vice governor of the Philippines, and Charles B. Elliot, of Minnesota, a member of the Philippine commission and secretary of the department of commerce and police. Charles E. Magoon, former provisional governor of Cuba, was offered the position of vice governor, but declined, owing to medical advice that he remain in this country for the present. Mr. Gilbert continues as secretary of public instruction of the Philippines.

St. Louis, Feb. 7.—Members of the board of curators of Missouri University say that President Hill will decline the presidency of Minnesota University.

CONGRESS IS GIVEN MR. TAFT'S NEW BILL

Provision for the Federal Incorporation of Corporations, a Measure That Has Been Pending for Months Is Introduced.

It Will Not Be Pressed for Passage This Session, However—It Is the President's Own Legislation and He Thinks Party Pledges Should Be Redeemed First—Besides, There Is Powerful Opposition and as Yet No General Interest.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The federal incorporation bill, which was introduced in congress today, will not be pressed for passage this session. If the bill is passed, President Taft is willing to stand as its sponsor and take the responsibility for recommending it. Further than this, the president told several callers today that he would not make the corporation bill an administrative measure. He declared that he felt he had no right to do so, and that it did not rank with the proposed amendments to the interstate commerce law, the postal savings bank bill and the conservation measures. These latter were promised in the party platform. He feels the party responsible for their passage this session.

Mr. Taft believes that many things in the incorporation bill will commend themselves to the legislators as they study the measure. He will not attempt to influence the senators and representatives in its favor, however. It now goes to the judiciary committee.

Wedged in a Narrow Trench Beneath a Basement Floor, the Body of a Murdered Woman Is Found in New York City.

New York, Feb. 7.—Wedged in a narrow trench beneath the concrete and boards of the basement floor of an apartment house was found today the body of an unidentified woman who had been hacked in the head with an instrument like an ice pick and then strangled to death. The police believe that she was the wife of the Scandinavian janitor, who vacated his apartment quarters Friday. He was known as Petersen and as Tamsen.

The odor first indicated that something was wrong. The murderer had jammed the body forcibly into the trench over a hot steam pipe and had then held and nailed down the planks covering the trench. The expressman who had moved Petersen was found, and Petersen's luggage was traced to new quarters. In the kitchen of his new quarters was found a bloody hatchet, and in one of his trunks the marriage certificate of August Petersen and Augusta Sophia Arkanian, dated Jersey City, 1907. A nineteen-year-old girl who refuses to identify the man, was arrested. Petersen was not found.

Kills Wife's Mother and Himself. Indianapolis, Feb. 8.—Homer C. Cope, a bricklayer, today shot and killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Louisa C. George. Then he shot his wife in the head, and next he killed himself. The wife had gone to her mother's after separating from her husband.

Blackhand Tragedy in Chicago. Chicago, Feb. 8.—Joseph Laverdi, aged twenty-six, was shot and killed today in the basement of his home in the North side Italian colony by unknown persons. The slayer and his wife, he is believed, were members of a "blackhand" society. Fifteen suspects have been arrested. Laverdi's cousin, Tony Dugo, was killed under equally mysterious circumstances in the same neighborhood last December.

Hurls Himself to Death at Niagara. Niagara Falls, Feb. 7.—A young woman thought to be Miss Beatrice Snyder, of Buffalo, today waded into the river just above Prospect point and was swept over the American falls.

Trains Crash Together. Man Stealing a Ride Is Victim of Wreck in Arkansas. Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 7.—Dashing into an eastbound freight train, Rock Island passenger train No. 4 was wrecked at Fourche today, killing Edward Rawls, who was riding on a blind, and injuring fourteen persons. The wreck is declared to be the worst of the year. Prospects point and was swept over the American falls.

Nurses Prevent Disaster. Savannah, Ga., Feb. 7.—The bravery of the nurses at the Parkview sanitarium prevented a destructive fire today. Eighteen patients were carried from a burning wing. Some of the sick were saved after the nurses had fought through the thick smoke in close proximity to the flames. With a private fire fighting apparatus, before the arrival of the firemen, the nurses checked the flames until help arrived.

Governor Deneen Vetoes. Springfield, Ills., Feb. 7.—Governor Deneen today vetoed an appropriation bill carrying $12,000 for incidental legislative expenses and $10,000 for the special committee appointed to investigate the titles of submerged lands. The veto is based upon the fact that the latter subject was not included in the call for the special session.

Cave-In Kills Two Men. Brookings, S. D., Feb. 7.—While digging a sand pit today, Theodore Johnson and Nelson were killed and Emil Benson, Ludwig Johnson and Emil Steen were injured by a cave-in.

THE WEATHER

Washington, Feb. 7.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Snow flurries and colder, Tuesday; Wednesday, snow flurries.

GAY DECEIVER IN THE TOILS. Man at Boston Accused of Robbing Woman He Promised to Marry.

Boston, Feb. 7.—Having on his person certified checks for $3,000, William Fowley, aged fifty-two, was arrested tonight, charged with the larceny of $1,300 from March C. Loneman, recently of Quincy, Ills., now living at Hull, Mass. It is claimed that Mrs. Loneman came from Illinois to marry Fowley, that she gave him a blank check on his request for $300 for investment and that he filed in the check for $1,300 and then disappeared. The police also claim to have information that Fowley promised to marry Eugenie Meredith, of Chicago.

Quincy, Ills., Feb. 7.—Mrs. Mary Loneman left here just before Christmas. She went like an ice pick and then strangled to death. The police believe that she was the wife of the Scandinavian janitor, who vacated his apartment quarters Friday. He was known as Petersen and as Tamsen.

Police Are Searching for the Husband. Wedged in a Narrow Trench Beneath a Basement Floor, the Body of a Murdered Woman Is Found in New York City.

New York, Feb. 7.—Wedged in a narrow trench beneath the concrete and boards of the basement floor of an apartment house was found today the body of an unidentified woman who had been hacked in the head with an instrument like an ice pick and then strangled to death. The police believe that she was the wife of the Scandinavian janitor, who vacated his apartment quarters Friday. He was known as Petersen and as Tamsen.

Democratic Rally at Indianapolis. Laporte, Ind., Feb. 7.—The Jefferson Day banquet of the National Democratic League of Clubs will be held at Indianapolis April 13, instead of at Washington, according to the announcement of Secretary Darling today. Mr. Darling says that the change is due to the general belief that Indiana, Ohio and Illinois will be the battleground the next campaign.

D. R. Francis Would Be Senator. St. Louis, Feb. 7.—David R. Francis, former governor, tonight announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination to succeed Senator Warner, Republican. Former Governor Folk may be a candidate for the Democratic nomination also.

Is a Candidate for Governor. Clark, S. D., Feb. 7.—Former Governor Lord, generally conceded to be the favorite of the stalwarts for governor, today announced his candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Bad Meat at White House. Food Inspector at Washington Makes Surprising Statement.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Testifying before the house investigation committee today, Food Inspector Dodge declared that bad beef, some of it ready to fall to pieces, was served at the White House during the Roosevelt's occupancy, and that many fashionable people were accustomed to eating choice meat that had turned black and was well on the road to decomposition because it was more tender.

New York Dealers on the Rack. Chicago, Feb. 7.—The attention of the federal grand jury which is hearing the evidence in the government's investigation of the alleged beef trust centered today in the National Packing company and the New York Butchers' Dressed Beef association. President Frederick Joseph and others prominent in the New York association were before the jurors, and Arthur Colby, assistant treasurer of the National Packing company, was cloistered with District Attorney Sims.

Want All Canned Goods Inspected. Atlantic City, Feb. 7.—The members of the National Cannery's association decided tonight in favor of the federal inspection of all canned goods. The decision will be endorsed by the convention, which opens tomorrow.

Paper Board Trust Smashed. Each One of Twenty-Six Defendants Fined Two Thousand Dollars.

New York, Feb. 7.—Twenty-six manufacturing firms of the Paper Board association, indicted last December as members of an illegal combination, were today found guilty as an association in the federal court. Fines of $2,000 each were imposed, and all except one paid cash. This ends the second organization of paper men formed by John H. Parks. The firm and manila combine previously met a similar fate.

Chicago Paying Much More for Its Coal Than It Ought To. Chicago, Feb. 7.—The last two years the city of Chicago has paid $300,000 more for its coal than it ought to have paid. This is the substance of a report submitted to the city council tonight by experts employed by the Merriam commission which is investigating the charges of graft. The reports say that the specifications were so poorly drawn that it was difficult for an independent dealer to have a chance in the bidding. The city annually uses about $500,000 worth of coal.

Ninety-Mile Subway Projected. The project to relieve Chicago's congested traffic by the construction of a ninety-mile subway is believed to have been furthered tonight when it was announced that B. J. Arnold had been appointed city subway engineer to prepare the plans. It is estimated that the subway will cost $80,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Chicago Players Lead. Chicago, Feb. 7.—In the first of the series of the inter-city three-cushion billiard championships today, Chicago took both games. The results follow: Afternoon, Julius Kruelwisch, Chicago, 50; J. T. Backus, Kansas City, 40. Night, W. H. Riley, Chicago, 50; John Moore, Kansas City, 29.

Signs with the Giants. New York, Feb. 7.—Fletcher Bell, last season with Springfield, Ills., signed a contract with the New York Nationals today.

WADE H. ELLIS WILL DIRECT OHIO FIGHT

"Trust Buster" Resigns as Assistant to the Attorney General to Assume Charge of the Republican Fall Campaign.

This Is the Announcement Following a Conference at the White House—It Is Not Denied That the Situation in the Buckeye State Is Causing Much Concern, and the New Chairman Is Expected to Unite the Two Wings of the Party.

Washington, Feb. 7.—After a conference at the White House today, Wade H. Ellis, of Ohio, resigned the position of assistant to the attorney general to accept the chairmanship of the Republican executive committee of Ohio and assume charge of the Ohio fall campaign.

A statement given out at the White House said that the Ohio Republican leaders had concluded Mr. Ellis to be the man best qualified for the chairmanship, and added: "The president is very loath to lose the services of Mr. Ellis from the department of justice, but as Mr. Ellis was willing to make the sacrifice the president did not feel that he could insist on retaining him."

The Ohio situation has been giving the president much concern and has been the subject of a number of conferences at the White House. With the expected renomination of Governor Harmon, the Republicans face a hard fight, and the president is anxious that the factional trouble be eliminated as much as possible. He believes that Mr. Ellis can do more in that line than anybody else.

Mr. Ellis has been one of the famous trust busters of the administration and has been engaged in much important work. It was stated tonight that Mr. Ellis will continue to represent the government in the prosecution of the "beef trust," with which matter he is so thoroughly identified that the attorney general desires him to carry it through.

At the president's request, Mr. Ellis will make speeches during the fall congressional campaign through Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, speaking in some close districts.

Democratic Rally at Indianapolis. Laporte, Ind., Feb. 7.—The Jefferson Day banquet of the National Democratic League of Clubs will be held at Indianapolis April 13, instead of at Washington, according to the announcement of Secretary Darling today. PRESIDENT LEWIS LOOKS FOR PEACE.

He Believes the Coal Miners Will Continue at Work After April 1, Notwithstanding They Insist Upon Higher Wages—Thinks the Operators Will Grant a Substantial Increase.

Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 7.—President Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, issued a statement here tonight, in part as follows: "The prospects of the settlement of the wage scale between now and the first of April will be based entirely on the willingness of the operators to grant an advance of wages. An advance is due, and a settlement can not be reached unless it is conceded.

"To me the outlook is not in any way gloomy. This may be due to a rather optimistic nature on my part. I don't believe in encouraging the fomenting of trouble, neither is it wise unnecessarily to alarm the people. In my judgment, the miners of the country will be at work on and after the first of April, and the wage contract will carry with it a substantial increase for the miners all over the country.

"The joint convention at Toledo, which was not organized because the operators were unwilling that the Illinois miners should participate in the absence of the Illinois operators, adjourned with the very best feeling on the part of the operators and miners. There are no arrangements for holding another joint conference. In my opinion, however, another convention will be held prior to April 1.

"It is well known that the miners' wages are much higher than in 1907. It is also well known to those who understand the situation that the wages have not advanced in the same proportion as has the cost of living.

"The occupation of mining is the most dangerous of any of the wage-earners. The death rate at the mines in this country is twice as great as in any other. In Europe the occupation of the miner is more dangerous because the mines are deeper and generate a greater volume of gas and fire damp.

"The United States is able to furnish better safety appliances at less cost than any country in the civilized world. This is a reflection upon the law-making powers, and their inability or failure to enact measures necessary to protect the health and lives of the miner is an national disgrace.

"There is no doubt that the mine owners would furnish more efficient safety appliances if it were not for the competition in industries and railroads to compel the operators to furnish material to the railroads at practically cost.

"It is a well known fact that this country produces cheaper fuel than any other. New requirements to safeguard the health and lives of the mine workers require the owners to furnish the very best and latest safety appliances. To do this they have to attempt to carry their campaign into the new year, being overcame in the meantime by money market requirements and the conviction that the political outlook threatened the welfare of corporations.

Another view is that the distribution of last year's accumulations was effective while the prices were held up by manipulation, following which the fall of prices is seen with complacency by the capitalistic groups if not actually fostered by professional alarm and by the recall of credits through control held over great banking institutions. Money was easy today, but the rapid fall of stocks induced some recall of credits where margins were not repaired.

The rally of prices when the bears covered late in the day was poorly held, and the closing hour was nervous and unsettled. The extreme advance was between four and six points for the stocks wherein the bulk of the transactions occurred.

Big Smelting Concern in Straits. Joplin, Mo., Feb. 7.—The A. B. Cookwell Smelter company, one of the largest zinc smelting concerns in the United States, is on the verge of bankruptcy. A rumor to this effect was confirmed tonight by President Cockerill. The National Bank of Commerce, of St. Louis, and George E. Nicholson, of Kansas City, who hold the company's bonds to the extent of $1,120,000, have been in charge of the project for several days. According to President Cockerill an assignment probably will be made tomorrow. Failure to recover from the effects of the panic of 1907, together with the present one situation, are given as the reasons for the failure.

John L. Sullivan Weds. Schoolyard Sweetheart Is Bride of the Former Champion Pugilist.

Boston, Feb. 7.—John L. Sullivan, former heavyweight champion, was married at Roxbury today to the sweetheart of his school days, Miss Katharine Harkins, a wealthy resident of Sharon. The couple will sail tomorrow for England. Mr. Sullivan secured a divorce from his first wife a year ago.

Miss Harkins and Sullivan were schoolmates at Boston and early were attached to each other. When Sullivan became a pugilist against her wishes, the friendship was broken. When Sullivan was threatened with blindness, however, she nursed him back to health. As Sullivan is a member of the Catholic church, which does not sanction the marriage of divorced persons, they were married by a justice of the peace.

Conductor Cook's Case. Because His Mexican Brakemen Robbed Cats, He Goes to Prison.

Guadalajara, Mexico, Feb. 7.—Judge Palafox announces his intention of sentencing James A. Cook, the American conductor, to two years and ten months imprisonment for criminal negligence. The prisoner will be given the right of proprietary liberty, meaning that after he has served half of his sentence his release on parole will be possible. It is alleged that Cook's Mexican brakemen systematically robbed freight cars. Fourteen arrests were made. Cook has been held five months without bail, although never accused of the robbery.

NEW YORK STOCKS PLUNGE DOWNWARD

Under the Pressure of Enormous Liquidation, the Sources of Which Are Obscure, They Tumble Two to Six Points.

There Is Hardly Any Demand, No Effective Support Is Proffered, and the Decline Is Practically Uninterrupted Throughout the Session, the Prices Breaking to the Lowest Since the Big Boom of Last Summer—"Coppers" the Chief Sufferers.

New York, Feb. 7.—This was another day of extreme and almost unrelenting weakness on the stock exchange. Stocks tumbled steadily throughout the session, under the pressure of enormous liquidation. Although there were no specific disquieting rumors, the quotations broke to the lowest since last summer's boom. The selling of copper shares was tremendous. American Smelting common dropped to 77 1/2 from 82, which latter was Saturday's price, and Amalgamated Copper declined 6 1/2 points, to 71 1/2. Union Pacific dropped 1/4. The losses throughout the active speculative list ranged from two to six points. The market closed weak and nervous.

The extreme prostration of the demand was a conspicuous feature throughout the session. The heavy liquidation consequently made severe inroads on the prices. Last week's selling and the resulting declines, followed by a week-end rally, had inclined the speculative sentiment to look for a steadier market. This morning a renewed outpouring of stocks and a determined abstention of effective support threw speculative sentiment back into the depths of depression. After the prices broke below last week's prices, there was no further apparent effort to sustain the market.

Cause of the Selling Puzzles. Opinion is divided as to the sources of the liquidation. Some believe that various great capitalistic groups which had accumulated stocks constantly last year missed their opportunity to sell out at the high prices by attempting to carry their campaign into the new year, being overcame in the meantime by money market requirements and the conviction that the political outlook threatened the welfare of corporations.

Another view is that the distribution of last year's accumulations was effective while the prices were held up by manipulation, following which the fall of prices is seen with complacency by the capitalistic groups if not actually fostered by professional alarm and by the recall of credits through control held over great banking institutions. Money was easy today, but the rapid fall of stocks induced some recall of credits where margins were not repaired.

Guadalajara, Mexico, Feb. 7.—Judge Palafox announces his intention of sentencing James A. Cook, the American conductor, to two years and ten months imprisonment for criminal negligence. The prisoner will be given the right of proprietary liberty, meaning that after he has served half of his sentence his release on parole will be possible. It is alleged that Cook's Mexican brakemen systematically robbed freight cars. Fourteen arrests were made. Cook has been held five months without bail, although never accused of the robbery.

DAILY MINING JOURNAL

MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY THE MINING JOURNAL CO. (LIMITED.)

The Gridiron club, Washington, D. C., is the only place in the country where everybody has to take his and take it smilingly.

It must be terribly distressing to Representative Diekmann's feelings to have his candidacy for speaker styled by some of the doubters as merely a "joke."

Detroit has already begun to prepare for the entertainment of the national convention and reunion of the Elks. And the Elks throughout Michigan have already begun to make plans to go to Detroit on the dates set for that affair.

It is estimated that the population of Lansing is now 40,000, or a gain of 6,000 in two years. Good for Lansing. It certainly has progressed since Governor Pingree arraigned it before the public because it could boast no public bath tub.

Free shoes is one of the sources of Big Tim Sullivan's political power. The annual distribution to Big Tim's New York constituents has just taken place and 5,000 pairs of footgear have been presented to as many applicants.

A Chicago grand jury has indicted eleven men for the "shale rock" steal revealed by the Merriam commission. A contracting company was paid $45,000 extra for rock excavation on a sewer contract, whereas investigation has revealed that it was not necessary to remove any rock at all.

Former Treasurer Glazier's attorney, before he was sentenced by Judge West last week, presented a motion for the discharge of the prisoner on the ground that his indictment and conviction were in violation of the fourteenth amendment of the federal constitution.

In a recent issue the Detroit Saturday Night published in connection with a breezy article by its editor on the career of Mayor Bailey of Battle Creek, extracts from the official council proceedings as published in the Battle Creek Journal, in which the mayor was quoted as accusing the Journal of all the sins in the decalogue and abusing it as a newspaper has rarely been abused before.

When the state board of auditors gives its approval, there will be an early settlement of two law suits pending between the state and the Michigan Central railway company that involve great sums of money.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY. Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

SORE LUNGS ARE RAW LUNGS. Most people know the feeling and the miserable state of ill health it indicates. All people should know that Foley's Honey and Tar, the greatest throat and lung remedy, will quickly cure the soreness and cough and restore a normal condition. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar. Sold by all druggists.

Governor Warner has been frequently made a target for abuse from unfriendly papers because he has not secured the removal of Acting Warden Wenger, of Jackson prison, who lies under an indictment returned following the grand jury investigation into the Jackson scandals. The long delay in replacing Wenger is due, in the first instance, to the inability of the board of control, of which Governor Warner, in his ex officio capacity, is but one member in four, to agree on a man to take charge of the institution. At a recent meeting of the board of control over twenty ballots were taken without agreement on any of the candidates for the wardenship. Then, on a motion to continue Wenger as acting warden, Governor Warner was the only man to vote in the negative. But Governor Warner's newspaper enemies do not allow little things like facts to stand in the way of their abuse of him. They can him for alleged shortcomings even when the facts carry a plain refutation of their charges.

The Milwaukee Free Press discusses the theatrical slump to which The Mining Journal had some reference last week: "There simply is not enough good plays or musical comedies or even players to meet the fictitious demand of this over-supply of theaters and the result is that managers must offer goods which they know to be inferior with the same advertising and eclat that attends their best offerings," it says. "In consequence the public is 'taken in' as often as it is pleased, and that experience is such as to cause it gradually to lose faith and to drive it elsewhere for amusement. The unsound economic condition that exists in the American theatrical business is alone to blame for the present panic. Frenzied managers and gullible 'angels' simply cannot keep up this mad theater building with no regard for supply of plays or demand of public without some day landing in a tremendous smash-up. As it is the country is dotted with hundreds of theaters that have never turned a cent on their investment and are weekly eating up thousands with no hope of return. The wonder is that few fools are born every season who sink more money in this business which is the biggest and unsoundest gambling enterprise in America."

The case of the People vs. the notorious Dr. Fritch is now in progress before Judge Phelan in Detroit. Dr. Fritch is the alleged murderer of Mabel Millman, the Ann Arbor girl whose dismembered body was found in Eoore creek, near Detroit, several months ago. He is also the man alleged to have presided the criminal operation on Edith Presley, the Lansing state clerk, for whose death former Representative Ward was held for manslaughter, but was acquitted. Dr. Fritch's name has been connected with many other unsavory cases of like nature, but he has so far succeeded in keeping just outside the clutches of the law. His present predicament is a serious one, for a champion of his acquaintance has confessed to having driven him to the Eoore creek with sacks believed to have contained the dismembered remains of the Millman girl, at the time when the body was probably disposed of. The task of getting a jury is, owing to the notoriety of the case in Detroit, progressing slowly. All precautions will be taken to prevent any errors from creeping into the trial, so that if a conviction is obtained against Dr. Fritch it will not be possible to overturn it. All the evidence points to his guilt and unless the prosecution is greatly surprised it will be demonstrated to the satisfaction of the jury which hears the evidence.

WOODRUFF MAY QUIT. It is reported that Chairman Woodruff may resign his place at the head of the Republican New York state central committee, following the example set by Herbert Parsons, head of the New York City Republican committee, and it is intimated that should Chairman Woodruff fail to take this step he will not unlikely be forced out.

WOODRUFF'S LEADERSHIP HAS NEVER COMMANDED ANY GREAT AMOUNT OF RESPECT EITHER FROM THE LEADERS OF THE PARTY OR THE RANK AND FILE OF VOTERS, AND HAD NOT THE COMMANDING PERSONALITY OF GOVERNOR HUGHES COME INTO THE SITUATION WHEN IT DID, TO AFFORD THE PARTY A RALLYING POINT, IT IS LIKELY THAT THE WEAKNESS OF WOODRUFF'S LEADERSHIP WOULD LONG AGO HAVE PRECIPITATED A SITUATION THAT WOULD HAVE COMPELLED HIS WITHDRAWAL.

THE IMPRESSION OF WOODRUFF THAT HAS GOTTEN ABROAD IN THE COUNTRY IS THAT HE IS QUITE INADEQUATE TO WISELY LEAD THE PARTY IN THE GREATEST STATE IN THE UNION, AND THAT THEREFORE THE CONSIDERABLE POWERS ATTACHING TO THE STATE CHAIRMANSHIP SHOULD BE DELEGATED TO SOME OTHER MAN. FOR WOODRUFF'S SUCCESSOR MANY OF THE PARTY LEADERS IN NEW YORK, AND PARTICULARLY THE MEMBERS OF CONGRESS, ARE SAID TO FAVOR REPRESENTATIVE VREELAND, OF SALAMANCA. THERE HAS BEEN MUCH TALK OF ADVANCING MR. VREELAND AS A CANDIDATE, BUT IT IS TOO EARLY TO PREDICT WHETHER IT WILL COME TO A HEAD.

THERE ARE FEW POSITIONS OF FORMAL PARTY LEADERSHIP MORE IMPORTANT THAN THAT OF CHAIRMAN OF THE NEW YORK STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, AND IT IS OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE THAT IT SHOULD BE HELD BY A MAN CAPABLE OF ACTING WISELY, ON HIS OWN INITIATIVE AND WITHOUT BEING STEERED FROM WASHINGTON. MR. WOODRUFF HAS NOT BEEN SUCH A MAN. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT HAD A WAY OF IRONING OUT TANGLED NEW YORK SITUATIONS. HE COULD DO IT WITH SOME FACILITY, AS HE WAS A NEW YORK VOTER. NOT EVERY PRESIDENT WILL HAVE THE RIGHT TO TAKE A HAND IN NEW YORK AFFAIRS, OR THE WISDOM TO DO SO EFFECTIVELY.

GOVERNOR HUGHES HAS ANNOUNCED THAT HE WILL NOT, UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES, ACCEPT ANOTHER NOMINATION. THE DEMOCRATS WILL NOT FOREVER PERSEIST IN THE ERRORS THAT HAVE MADE THEM IMPORTANT OF RECENT YEARS. THE BALANCE OF POLITICAL POWER IN NEW YORK IS NORMALLY HELD BY A NARROW MARGIN. THERE IS NEED FOR A WISE HEAD AT THE HELM. STATE CHAIRMAN WOODRUFF OUGHT TO GO, EITHER BY RESIGNATION OR UNDER PRESSURE. HE HAS DEMONSTRATED THAT HE IS NOT BIG ENOUGH MAN FOR THE JOB. THAT OUGHT TO BE ENOUGH.

THE INDICATIONS ARE THAT AT NO DISTANT DATE, THERE WILL BE MORE GERMAN STUDENTS IN AMERICA THAN AMERICAN STUDENTS IN GERMANY.

SEND UP THE BUDGET.

T. P. O'Connor, the journalistic M. P., is of the opinion that the first act of the newly organized British government will be to send up again the Liberal budget to the House of Lords. And he predicts that the Nationalist members, under the leadership of John Redmond, will be solid for it, despite their objections to some of its features. He attaches no importance to the revolt of the group of eight or nine Irish members under the lead of O'Brien and Healy from the main body of Nationalists and the Liberals. In fact he welcomes it, for he comments that it will relieve the Nationalists of the necessity of extending them any aid from their party treasury, whereas in the past they have been most insistent in their demands for a share in the party funds.

MR. O'CONNOR IS INCLINED TO BE MORE APPREHENSIVE THAT THE LABOR SECTION OF THE MAJORITY BEHIND THE LIBERAL MINISTRY WILL CAUSE THE GOVERNMENT TROUBLE, THAN THAT THE SOURCE OF ITS ANXIETY WILL BE THE NATIONALISTS. THE CONSTITUENCIES OF THE LABOR MEMBERS ARE MOSTLY OF RADICAL TURN OF MIND, AND MANY OF THE DEMANDS OF THE LABOR PARTY ARE SUCH AS CANNOT WELL BE TAKEN UP AT THIS JUNCTURE WITHOUT INVOLVING DISASTER. WHETHER THE LABORITES WILL CONTINUE TO CO-OPERATE WITH THE OTHER ELEMENTS OF THE LIBERAL MAJORITY UNLESS THEY CAN HAVE THEIR OWN PET IDEAS FATHERED IS AN INTERESTING PHASE OF THE SITUATION.

THE NATIONALISTS WILL STAND BY THE GOVERNMENT, MR. O'CONNOR BELIEVES, BECAUSE THEIR FIGHT FOR HOME RULE CANNOT BE WON UNTIL THE POWER OF THE HOUSE OF LORDS IS GREATLY CURBED, AND IT IS THE APPARENT PURPOSE OF THE LIBERAL MINISTRY TO PUSH ON AT ONCE WITH THIS FIGHT, IN THE MOST EFFECTIVE MANNER IT CAN. MR. O'CONNOR POINTS OUT THAT IT WILL NOT BE QUICKLY FOUGHT TO A DEFINITE CONCLUSION, BUT WILL DOUBTLESS EXTEND OVER A PERIOD OF YEARS, WITH VARYING FORTUNES, BUT HE BELIEVES IN ITS ULTIMATE SUCCESS.

IN O'CONNOR'S VIEW GREAT BRITAIN HAS IN THE RECENT ELECTIONS REPUDIATED CONCLUSIVELY THE PROTECTIONIST DOCTRINE. HE HOLDS THAT THE ATTITUDE OF PROGRESSIVE AND AGGRESSIVE INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS HAS BEEN SHOWN TO BE UNALTERABLY AGAINST IT, AND THAT NO MINISTRY WOULD DARE TAKE IT UP SERIOUSLY WITH THIS CONDITION DEMONSTRATED.

CADILLAC—After being out five hours the jury in the $30,000 damage suit of Joseph Trombley, of Bay City, against McEfee brothers of Manton, rendered a verdict for the plaintiff, giving $6,000. This was the third trial of the case. Trombley was injured in the McEfee mill by being drawn into the machinery by a piece of rope which hung from a shafting. He claimed criminal negligence on the part of the defendants. Devere Ball, of Bay City, represented Trombley.

KALAMAZOO—Deedling the request of a stranger to follow the profession of a lawyer as a means of gaining wealth Jim Polaski went to police headquarters and told of the invitation. By means of the description given by Polaski the officers arrested a man giving the name of Felix Nelson. Since being taken into custody a charge of stealing an overcoat from a local restaurant has been placed against him. Further search at his home is said to have disclosed a list of burglar's tools.

MUSKOGON—Contracts have been let and work is to be started within a few days on five structures to be erected for the Chicago Home for Boys on their big summer resort property on Little Blue lake in this county. The total cost of the buildings and the clearing away of the property for the necessary roads being placed at about $20,000. Two dormitories, 24x50 feet, a chapel 25x50, an administrative building fifty feet square and a gymnasium, well fitted up, 30x50 feet, are the buildings for which the contracts have been let. The dormitories will be ready to occupy by the end of the summer. It is built that they can accommodate fifty boys each. It being the plan to bring one hundred Chicago boys here next summer. Two more dormitories are to be erected late in the year, and in 1911 it is the plan to increase the capacity of the building to 400 students.

ANN ARBOR—Arthur Cornwell, freshman, Saginaw, and Norman Miller, Bay City, "stunt students," got out for a good time. Pullman Max and O'Mara arrested them and started for the jail. When they got in front of the jail Cornwell allowed he would not darken its doors, not he. Max had taken Miller in and started to O'Mara's assistance. Before he reached them Cornwell kicked O'Mara in the kneecap and sent him out of business. At the minute O'Mara was downed, Max grabbed Cornwell, was kicked in the short ribs, and called for help. The deputies from the jail started a hard tussle to get Cornwell inside. He braced his knees on the stone step, and it was only after the chief had been rendered unconscious that they got him in. Before Justice Doty, they pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly, and were fined $25 each. Charles Avery paid up for them and they were discharged. O'Mara is in the care of a physician, who says his injuries may be permanent.

MT. CLEMENS—Martin Crocker, the Mt. Clemens attorney who has been suing the Cottrell estate for $40,000 as fees for services rendered in the settlement of the estate, has been awarded a judgment of $15,377. The decision was rendered by Probate Judge Kuhn, who, in figuring the sum due Mr. Crocker, claims to have found exorbitant charges. In his suit the attorney claimed to have spent 302 days in behalf of his clients, for which he demanded

LOWER STATE NOTES.

MUSKOGON—Otis Bates, one of the first pioneers of Egleston township, died at his home, aged sixty-five years. When Bates first came to Egleston the country was overtopped with Indians and but few farmers had made their way to the wilds of the township.

SAGINAW—Elliott Trier and his wife, Anna Trier, have filed suit against their daughter, Mrs. Anna Sutton, to have a deed to their homestead set aside on an undue ground. They are German, and allege their limited knowledge of English caused them to sign the deed to their property, not knowing they were transferring the title to it.

HOLLAND—Believing that with his transportation interests and lifelong friends here, Holland and western Michigan held out a more alluring prospect than Detroit's state, Charles Floyd has decided not to accept the management of the big exhibition and will remain in his present position as traffic manager of the Holland Interurban.

TRAVERSE CITY—The supreme court of Michigan has handed down a decision in the case of Rogers vs. Parker which is of interest to every land owner in the state. The suit involved a matter of only about $40, but in its decision the supreme court has established an interesting precedent, holding that the land owner is not responsible for a fire started by an independent contractor, unless the owner has been given notice.

TRAVERSE CITY—Traverse City lodge of Elks has definitely decided in postponing the annual convention to the Michigan association of Elks, which had been scheduled for Traverse City in June, until next year. This action was due to the fact that the grand lodge of Elks is to meet in Detroit early in July and as many Michigan Elks wish to attend the state convention, the Michigan association of Elks, which had been scheduled for Traverse City in June, until next year. MUSKOGON—Elections to the general synod of the Christian Reformed church in this country which will convene in this city in June are now going on among the various classes. Eleven classes are in the church and over one hundred and fifty delegates are expected in Muskegon, representing 17 congregations, thirteen mission stations and 7,427 members. The synod meets biennially and is the highest authority of the church America.

MT. CLEMENS—Word has been received from Twin Falls, Idaho, that Melvin Thompson, a prominent farmer of Macomb county, is dead. Thompson formerly resided in this city and was a member of the White. He took part in the government drawings, and, proving successful, remained to prove his claim. He had built a house on the land and started tilling when he was taken seriously ill.

LANSING—The Saginaw-Bay City Railroad company has applied to the state railroad commission for an increase in the capital stock to $10,000,000 and to issue bonds to the amount of $5,000,000. This company is the result of the consolidation of the Bay City Traction & Electric company and the Saginaw Valley Traction company, and the concern is being represented by John C. Wagoner, a New York corporation attorney, formerly of Bay City.

BATTLE CREEK—Ten million apple trees in Muskegon, Michigan, are supposed to be worth $75,000,000. This was the picture drawn by Professor O. K. White of the Michigan Agricultural college, before the round-up farmers' institute. White then named farmers who had expended from $5 to $100 on supposedly "old" orchards and made from $200 to $200,000 out of the crops. White asserted the farmers that they were neglecting the most ready moneymaker on the farm.

CADILLAC—After being out five hours the jury in the $30,000 damage suit of Joseph Trombley, of Bay City, against McEfee brothers of Manton, rendered a verdict for the plaintiff, giving $6,000. Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots, and of such satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-eclectic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

SOME STAGE HITS. The Sort of Stuff That Makes an Audience Laugh.

Just the other night I spent a few weeks in Wheeling, W. Va., between trains, says a correspondent in the Chicago News. "Time threatened to die hard. I went into a vaudeville house and invested a whole hard-earned quarter in a seat. There I watched a minstrel performance and saw and heard those things that make people laugh heartily. Likewise, I took note of them."

"Tanto," told the interlocutor that a few days ago a man had fallen from the top of a seven-story building and hadn't hurt himself a bit. The interlocutor said: "Did you see the man fall seven stories and not get hurt?"

"No, sir, I didn't see him fall," etc. "Did any body tell you that claimed to have seen him fall?" etc. "No, nobody told me that he claimed," etc.

"Now," said the interlocutor, "when you didn't see anything yourself and haven't heard anybody say he saw it, there's a doubt."

"What's that?" etc. "I say, when?" etc. "Yes, say, Mistah Brown, did you ever see 'er brains?" etc. "No. What an absurd question? Of course I never," etc.

"Did you ever hear anybody say he seen 'er brains?" etc. "No, certainly I never heard anybody," etc.

"Then there's a doubt." Shrieks and laughter and wild applause. When the excitement had subsided the interlocutor said: "Didn't I see you going into a saloon the other day?"

"I ain't got no way 'o' telling what you seen."

"I mean, were you in a saloon the other day?" etc. "Yes, I was in a saloon."

"Did you drink whisky?" etc. "Yes, I drank whisky."

"Don't you know whisky is your enemy?" etc. "Yes, I know whisky is my enemy, but I'm awful pious."

"You're what?" etc. "I'm awful pious, an' I was taught to love my enemies."

"Frenzy of delight from all over the house. Then came a sketch team. The white man did a clog, and then in a great crash the black one came tumbling on, with all sorts of junk rolling about him. The white man said: "Where did you come from?"

"I fell through the skylight. I got an awful pane." (Laughter). "I keep a hotel down the street and need a man. Will you work for me?"

"That you're hotel?" etc. "Yes."

"Then" (picking up a plank) "I think I'll board there." (Roars of delight). "I think maybe" (picking up a piece of barrel hoop) "I should stave off starvation. At least" (picking up a barrel hoop) "I hoop so."

(Uncontrollable mirth as one after another saw the deep point after the black-faced "artist" had held up the hoop and repeated the words). "If I didn't" (picks up a bucket) "I'd git paid. Don't chew the rag" (wittily hanging out a mop rag). "I suppose you have plane cooking" (a carpenter's plane is presented). "I saw you, when I sashayed through the skylight." (Each point was illustrated by its proper article and the delighted crowd showed signs of hysterics. The fellow went on to say he would stick around awhile, and told the white man he had the grip. Ah, it was excreciantly funny when he handed out a little satchel and said he had the grip.

"Then came a brand new one. I wonder if the shape of Bill Nye ever thinks of coming back and killing the idiots who butcher his joke about his dog Entomologist? This is the way they handle it: "My dog's name Et'mologist."

"Et'mologist?" What you call him Et'mologist for?" etc. "Cause a Et'mologist collects insects." (Yells of joy and surprise from the intelligent patrons of the drummer). Here comes one that always lands big never fails. The black-face fellow says: "My wife's always askin' me for a dollah-dollah at night, dollah at noon, dollah in de mornin'."

"What does she do with all the monny?" etc. "Don't know. I ain't nevah give her monny yet."

They even—at Wheeling while I waited for my train—sprung that old, old favorite: "My wife died last week."

"Too bad. What complaint?" etc. "No complaint; everybody's satisfied." And this:

Interlocutor—"I think I'll get married and settle down."

Bones—"You'd better stay single and settle up."

This thing of furnishing humor for the American public requires brains. That's why the low-priced exponents of the drummer never get closer than within twenty years of this century's output.

HERE TO FIGHT LIQUOR LAW.

Theodore C. Swenson of Superior, Wis., representative of the Milwaukee-based company of Milwaukee, who has arrested two weeks ago for selling liquor without a Michigan state license, arrived in Houghton yesterday to appear at his hearing before Justice Croze. No action was taken in the matter, an adjournment for two weeks being decided upon.

The arrest, it will be remembered, is under the provisions of the Warner-Crampton act, which makes it necessary for foreign wholesale liquor houses to take out a license under a fee of $500 paid to the auditor general, in order to do business in Michigan. The Milwaukee company considers the law unconstitutional, claiming that its license in Wisconsin permits it to do business anywhere in the United States. Mr. Swenson said yesterday that he is making a test case of the matter under advice from his company and the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association of Wisconsin. The association has had an attorney in Lansing investigating the case. Justice Croze said yesterday that attorneys for various liquor houses in various states have held the law to be constitutional and have advised their clients to take out the license and submit. The Swenson case is one of a very few which is being fought.

Mr. Swenson proposed to waive examination in the justice court and get into the circuit court with the case in order that it may eventually reach the supreme court as a test of the constitutionality of the law. The adjournment yesterday was taken because of the inability of the Wisconsin association's attorney to be present.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Naturalizations Yesterday—Trials Resumed This Afternoon.

Judge Streeter devoted the time of the circuit court yesterday to hearing applicants for naturalization. Twelve in all were heard. Some were held until another term because of their lack of knowledge of the principles of this government, one being a man who thought the United States was a kingdom.

Two applications were filed yesterday to be heard at the May term. Robert Boskey is English and lives at Kearsarge. He has been here since 1901. Thomas Vernon Ralph is English and lives at Kearsarge. He arrived in the United States in 1903.

At the meeting of the board of supervisors this morning court will not resume trials until this afternoon, at which time the jury is ordered to report. It is probable that the case to come for trial will be that of Caroline Hendrickson vs. the King Philip Copper company, the facts in which are not known.

It was expected that the matter of Alex Maki vs. the Mohawk Mining company, a personal injury case, would come up today. But it is learned that Maki is in Massachusetts and has no money to come to Houghton. A continuance has been asked for and will probably be granted.

DEDICATE FINNISH CHURCH.

Imposing Ceremonies Sunday in New Hancock Religious Edifice.

The new church of the Finnish Lutheran congregation in Hancock was dedicated Sunday with solemn services conducted by Rev. Dr. J. K. Nikander of Hancock, president of the Finnish synod, Rev. A. Savola of Ishpeming and Rev. John Back of Hancock, pastor of the church.

The Finnish Lutheran congregation of Hancock now has one of the finest churches in the city. It was erected at a cost of $12,000. The basement is of Portage Entry sandstone, and the superstructure of pressed brick. The church formerly occupied the site was destroyed by fire last March. Plans for the new edifice were drawn by Messrs. Bros. Laurium and Contractor Charles Lakso & Co. started work in May, 1909. Located at the corner of Franklin and Reservation streets, the church occupies an important site. The building is well lighted with electric lights in large chandeliers. The windows are of stained glass. The interior is prettily decorated. All the furnishings are of oak. There are fifty pews.

NINETEENTH DIVIDEND.

Tamarack Co-Operative Company Has Done a Big Business.

The Tamarack Co-Operative company, operating the general store at the Tamarack location in Calumet, has just announced its nineteenth annual dividend. The stock-holding customers of the company are given a 13 per cent rebate and the stockholders a dividend of 8 per cent. The distribution to stockholders will amount to $101,130.12. The sales the past year amounted to over three-quarters of a million dollars, exceeding the preceding year by $128,398.50. The stockholders will meet next Saturday to elect directors.

The Tamarack Co-Operative company does the largest retail mercantile business in the upper peninsula.

OFF TO AUTOMOBILE SHOW.

Many Copper Country People Go to Chicago to See New Cars.

A large number of copper country automobile enthusiasts and persons desirous of becoming motor car owners left for Chicago Sunday and from all of the towns to attend the automobile show which opened there yesterday. The prospect is that there will be a large number of new machines in the copper district this year and the auto business will be a big thing. There are two big garages and repair shops getting ready in Houghton for the opening of the season, and Calumet is to have a similar institution. It is said that not less than sixty new cars will be bought by copper country people this spring.

The automobilists of Houghton county will organize a movement with the purpose of prevailing upon the board of supervisors to take immediate steps for highway improvement, the work to be started as soon as the snow is off the ground. Every automobile owner who is being approached on the subject is giving the proposed movement his approval. It is felt that, with the bonus the state gives for building good roads, the county will well afford not only to improve the highways for the benefit of the automobilists, but also for the heavy traffic over the highways in all parts of the county for the benefit of the people of the agricultural districts. It is held that if a systematic plan of extensive road improvement is put into effect it will mean the building up of prosperous farming communities, which, in turn, will mean home grown vegetables, cereals and meats and lower cost of living.

The automobilists of the Calumet district also propose to club together for the purpose of repairing the road between Delaware and Copper Harbor, in Keweenaw county. Portions of this road are in very bad condition, it is claimed, although it would take but a small sum of money to make the repairs needed. Scores of Calumet people visit Copper Harbor almost daily during the summer season and many have summer homes there or at other places in that locality.

Trap Rock Job.

The Calumet township board will shortly let a contract for the construction of a bridge over the Trap Rock river to the Hennepin Bridge company of Minneapolis, which company has submitted the lowest bid. The bridge will be about 1,000 feet long and will be built in this part of the county. It will be of one span, it is likely, and of solid concrete and cement, braced with iron and steel. The span will likely be about forty feet in length and the height about sixteen feet.

The decision to award the contract for this bridge is about the first definite step the township board has taken towards putting through the road asked for by the large number of farmers in the Trap Rock river valley in order that they might have better means of ingress to the Calumet markets. The board has considered the road proposition off and on for several months. The Trap Rock river valley is one of the richest agricultural districts in the copper region and practically anything that can be raised in the north can be grown there. The farmers are raising small orchards, and it is likely that, in time, copper country grown apples will make an important addition to the great apple crop of Michigan.

PETITIONS TO BE CIRCULATED.

East Hancock Paving Proposition Gets an Early Start.

The residents of East Hancock took a wise step when they started to plan their summer paving work in the middle of the winter. Before the time for beginning actual operations they will be in a position to know exactly what is to be done, what material will be used and how many streets will be improved. It is planned to start the petition in circulation at once and to attend to all preliminary work as soon as possible. Most of the residents want the sandy streets paved and it will not take long to secure the necessary amount of property of property holders. Then as soon as the snow leaves the ground the paving contractors will be able to start their work and continue it uninterrupted.

That part of Hancock city east of the Front street ravine is known as East Hancock, and contains some of the finest and most palatial residences in the copper country. All that it lacks is paved streets. The work planned consists of paving Mason, Harris and Cooper avenues, West, Center, Vivian and "A" streets and "E" street as far south as Cooper avenue. Then there will not be a street in East Hancock not paved and in first-class condition. This will be another step in making Hancock "the city beautiful."

AMERICANS IN LEAD AGAIN.

Finnish Stand Second in Number of Births in Calumet Township.

According to the records in the offices of the clerk of Calumet township, the Americans have again taken the lead in point of births, although the number of children born with Finnish parents is generally greater than the number of any other nationality. Only twice in the past twelve months have the Americans been in the lead. During the past month there were sixty-four births in Calumet township, which is about the normal number. There were twelve deaths during the month, this being considerably below the normal.

Births are registered, according to nationality, as follows: American, 19; Finnish, 16; Austrian, 13; Norwegian, 4; Canadian, 3; Hungarian, 2; Polish, Irish, Croatian, German and Italian, 1 each. Although there are more than twenty-five nationalities, but eleven are represented in the birth registrations of the past month. It is curious to note that the Scotch, Swedish, French and Bulgarian nationalities, all four of which are represented by large colonies, show no births for the past month of January.

ORGANIZE CURLING CLUB.

The Laurium Curling club has been organized and will affiliate with the International Curling association and enter rinks in the next big bonspiel next winter. It is proposed to organize games in Calumet for this winter.

SITE FOR PROPOSED TEMPLE.

Houghton Masonic Bodies Procure Option on Sheldon Street Lot.

Announcement was made yesterday by the building committee of the Masonic organizations of Houghton that an option had been procured on a site for the proposed temple. It is the lot at the corner of Sheldon and Postage streets, owned by George Ruppe of Hancock and now occupied by Hinson's delicatessen store and a barber shop.

The committee has gone so far with the building arrangements that this. No plans are announced, and procuring the option does not represent a final decision. It appears from the choice of this site that the building will include stores on the ground floor, if erected there. This point is one which has been considered whether to secure a lot away from the business district and erect a building exclusively for the use of the Masonic bodies or to secure one on Sheldon street and erect a building which could be leased in part for business purposes.

SHOOTERS GOING TO ISHPERING.

Houghton Gun Club Accepts Invitation to Shoot Over Foreign Traps.

The Houghton Gun club has accepted the invitation of the Ishpeming Gun club to send a team to that city for a contest over the traps Washington's birthday, Feb. 22. The club will send a team of ten men. The Ishpeming and Houghton clubs have been trying to get content with the blue rocks and it actually looks now as if a match would be pulled off.

In the regular shoot of the Houghton club Sunday morning Paul D. Swift captured the honors, breaking sixty out of seventy-five. He and his brother Leigh lead the club this season in the race for the silver cup trophy.

HOUGHTON COUPLE WED.

Lessing Karger and Minnie R. Northey Are Married in Detroit.

Lessing Karger and Miss Minnie R. Northey, daughter of Henry Northey of Houghton, were married in Detroit at noon yesterday. They left at once for Europe on their wedding journey and will visit Paris, London and Nice, to be gone several months.

ZBYSKO AGREES TO TERMS.

Polish Wrestler Will Take on Lehto at Calumet March 1.

The Calumet promoters of wrestling have been advised by Zbysko, the Polish giant, that he will wrestle Carl Lehto in Calumet, March 1. The agreement was received yesterday. Dr. John Miller will referee and the match will take place in the Light Guard Armory.

ELKS WILL GO TO DETROIT.

President Harry Scott, of the Michigan Association of Elks, of Calumet, was notified yesterday that Traverse City had given up the association meeting for this year and wished the meeting to go to Detroit in July, the occasion of the national convention.

Mining News

NONESUCH PROPERTY.

One of the Freaks of the Lake; Nevertheless a Promising Proposition.

Few people interested in Lake Superior mining affairs probably ever heard of the Nonesuch property except as they may have seen occasional references to it in the annual reports of the Calumet & Hecla company. At this isolated property, however, miles away from any other copper activities on the upper peninsula of Michigan, and located some 12 miles from the shore of Lake Superior, there is a development going on which, as a "freak," is in a class by itself.

The Nonesuch property would seem to have been well named, for there is not its counterpart at Lake Superior. Notwithstanding it has violated all precedent as to the dip and trend of the Lake Superior copper beds, it has shown for a depth of 1,000 feet, by diamond drill, the existence of rich copper values sufficient to warrant the striking of shafts and the creation of a real mine. Perhaps the most remarkable feature about the Nonesuch property is that instead of dipping to the southwest as does all the other copper beds in that region, its vein dips to the northeast and diametrically opposite to the general trend. Then again, the lode curves, winds and doubles upon itself in the most extraordinary manner. At one time it follows a course due east and west; then it is found to bend sharply to the southeast only to curve upward to the northeast and at times it is found for quite a long stretch to be running exactly due north and south. Below a depth of 1,000 feet the drifts have, lost the lode. Just what freak of nature has at this point again disturbed the formation cannot be known until further underground work has been accomplished.

The vein is rich in copper, although it is very fine and not easily saved in milling operations. Nevertheless, the property bids fair in time to be numbered among the profitable producers of Lake Superior. There is little or no public interest in the shares of the Calumet & Hecla company and the lake owners controlling the entire share capital.

TAMARACK.

Gratifying Operating Achievements Under Calumet & Hecla Management.

Since Calumet & Hecla assumed control of the management, something has been accomplished, something has been done, that a year ago, the position of Tamarack stockholders has been greatly improved. When the Bigelow interests sold 19,400 shares of Tamarack and delivered control to Calumet & Hecla, the Tamarack had a floating debt of something like $800,000. The buyers did not want Tamarack, but the Bigelow people insisted that it should be included with their other properties which the Calumet & Hecla did want. Although the Calumet & Hecla management has operated Tamarack less than a year, it has achieved three important results: First, the floating debt of $800,000 (later increased to $800,000) has been liquidated through the sale of the Cliff lands; second, the yield of the rock has been increased between two and three pounds per ton; third, the cost of production has been reduced fully three cents per pound of copper.

A year ago the cost of recovering Tamarack copper from the hard, low-grade conglomerate rock, and from great depths, was between sixteen and seventeen cents per pound. Recent months have shown a cost of thirteen cents per pound. While the copper contents of the rock treated may have shown a slight improvement of late, the better yield now being obtained is primarily due to the closer mill savings effected by the treatment given the rock in Calumet & Hecla mills. A difference of two or three pounds of copper per ton of rock, now or lost, has many times in the past been the difference between a profit and a loss in the operation of the Tamarack property. It is apparent that on the present copper market Tamarack is making a small profit while a year ago the company was steadily adding to its floating indebtedness.

The Calumet & Hecla people do not entertain any extravagant expectations for the Tamarack property; at least so long as the price of copper remains at or near the present level. Even with an output of 12,000,000 or 14,000,000 pounds per annum, Tamarack ought to have a ten-cent market on which to sell its output.

INSPIRATION.

The crosscut south on the 275-foot level of the Scorpion shaft of the Inspiration company is 175 feet long and is continuing in ore. A force of 160 men is engaged in underground, construction and general surface work. Drifting to block out ore and explore new ground on the 400-foot level of the Joe Bush shaft is progressing at the rate of about 600 feet a month. At present the Joe Bush workings extend from the shaft about 375 feet west, 300 feet north, 200 feet south and 150 feet east. The vertical extent of the ore body, as shown by the shaft work, is approximately 325 feet. The grade of the ore is nearly 3 per cent copper. Two churn drills, prospecting the supposed ore belt between the Joe Bush and Scorpion shafts are now working on the hill level of the Inspiration shaft. There have been periods at spasmodic intervals when the hopes of the management ran high only to be succeeded by discouragement as the drifts again ran into long stretches of lean ground. One of Centennial's deepest drifts is within 800 feet of Volvyming's southern boundary and with the further extension of this drift to the north it is believed that the rich zone of ground known to exist in the Wolverine, adjoining, must soon be encountered.

Centennial needs a fifteen-cent copper market to put the balance of profit or loss on the right side of the operating account. The annual report as of date, Dec. 31, 1908, shows that the Centennial had at that time a floating indebtedness of $98,457 against which there were cash assets of $68,165 not including fuel and supplies.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

Plans are being prepared by the Arizona & Michigan for sinking a new shaft, the Telfair shaft, will not be abandoned, although the force at that working will be reduced. Both crosscuts will be continued with the hope of reaching the Dewitt and other veins, and favorable developments may be met with at any time. The company has funds sufficient to continue operations for the remainder of the year without further calls on shareholders, and has no further property payments to make until February, 1911.

STONE IN KIDNEY

An interesting case was that of Mr. H. L. McDuffee, a member of the firm of H. C. De Wolfe & Co., of the Crocker Building, San Francisco, who has been afflicted with a stone in the kidney.

The case was puzzling. There was pain in the kidney with a showing of blood. Examination by seven physicians proved that the blood was from the kidneys, and it was the opinion of all that there was a stone cutting the kidneys, as the least exercise caused a showing of blood.

Four X-ray pictures were taken, three of them showing a stone half an inch in diameter. To be certain that it was a stone that cut the shadow, a similar stone about the same size taken from a patient was put under him for comparison. The stone was about the size of a pea and was about the shape of a pea.

An operation was about decided upon when Fulton's Renal Compound was recommended to Mr. McDuffee. He feared the knife and gave it a trial. Within ten weeks the blood and pain had ceased and in six months he considered himself well.

We also have a three-page letter from an old-school physician, a lecturer in one of the San Francisco medical colleges, covering a similar case of stone in the kidney. An operation seemed inevitable. He prescribed Fulton's Renal Compound upon the theory that as it was getting results in nephritis it ought to have some effect to reduce the inflammation and excessive uric acid that attends Calculus. He was so surprised to get a complete recovery that he thought a record ought to be made of it and gave us the letter above referred to.

Fulton's Renal Compound seems to have about the same percentage of efficiency in stone in the kidney that it has shown in Bright's Disease.

For free literature, address the John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco, Cal.

Fulton's Renal Compound can be had of our agents, The Stafford Drug Co. We desire to advise with every patient who is not using the normal favorable results by the third week.

Recent offers of $2.50 per share have been made by interests identified with the management of the Mass Consolidated Mining company for stock in the Evergreen Bluff Mining company. This offer follows others from similar quarters some time ago when but $1 per share was bid. The Evergreen Bluff has 24,756 shares outstanding at $2.50, and the Mass interests now have about 6,000 shares. Negotiations were entered into more than a year ago to secure control of the Evergreen Bluff company but Joseph E. Gray and others controlling the property were not satisfied with the offer and refused any price that would convey control. Litigation is now pending in the Michigan courts between the two interests on the question of validity of the Evergreen charter. For more than forty years the Evergreen property has been idle and many of its stockholders have died. The property adjoins the Mass.

A Boston brokerage house issues a comprehensive circular concerning the Utah Copper company, setting forth the possibilities of the property when consolidated with the Boston Consolidated, and adding: "This merger marks a new era in the copper world. The first copper obtained from the low-grade ore and the disseminated porphyry deposits dates back only to April, 1904, yet in 1904 these three companies—the only present producers from this class of ore—yielded about 125,000,000 pounds of copper, and they are now maintaining an output at the rate of about 150,000,000 pounds per annum at about an eight-cent cost. The combined companies are treating over 16,000 tons of ore per day in reduction plants representing an actual investment of approximately $12,000,000 and they have reserves of ore, largely blocked out, estimated at over 150,000,000 tons which will permit of mining operations being carried on for a period of thirty years on a larger scale than at present attempted."

The decline in Calumet & Arizona has operated against its sister property, the Superior & Pittsburg, comments the Boston Financial News. It is understood that the company is now entirely clear of floating debt, and earning approximately $100,000 per month on four cents per pound, or a monthly production of 2,500,000 pounds of copper. The company is operating some large and rich ore bodies at 1,300, 1,400 and 1,500 feet and its great extent of territory is in its favor in opening a big mine in a favorable area, for it should not be forgotten that Superior & Pittsburg with its 1,500,000 shares represents a consolidation of five different companies.

Calumet & Arizona now has a surplus of approximately $3,500,000, or equivalent to $17.50 per share, in its treasury. The dividend meeting will be held this month, when the disbursement will be found to be the same as three months ago, or $1 per share. The report that there will be an increase to $1.50 is without foundation. As the Irish Mag shaft some difficulties have been encountered from time to time because of the slipping, but this has never been a grave matter. At the Oliver shaft rich sulphides are being opened up in the lower levels. It is understood that shipments have begun from the Courthland property, and will be continued indefinitely. This dividend meeting will repay the company for all money expended upon it.

Now that the Bohemia company has been launched, it is proposed to begin a campaign of diamond drilling which will only end after the tract of land owned will have been thoroughly explored. It is hoped to cut the extension of the same vein or veins which were cut in the diamond drilling at the Indiana Bay, and the results are said to have been phenomenal. In addition it is believed that the Lake Lode will be found to traverse the property of the Bohemia company. The Bohemia property locally is better known as the Hancock tract. Two score years ago desolatory mining work was done but in late years the tract of and received no attention whatever. Several small pits were opened up, and according to old miners who lived in Ontonagon county years ago, there was some copper taken out.

Millions of dollars have been expended in trying to make Centennial a mine. There have been periods at spasmodic intervals when the hopes of the management ran high only to be succeeded by discouragement as the drifts again ran into long stretches of lean ground. One of Centennial's deepest drifts is within 800 feet of Volvyming's southern boundary and with the further extension of this drift to the north it is believed that the rich zone of ground known to exist in the Wolverine, adjoining, must soon be encountered.

The company has funds sufficient to continue operations for the remainder of the year without further calls on shareholders, and has no further property payments to make until February, 1911.

C. W. Pritchett, consulting engineer for Cactus Copper company, after spending a week at the property says the prospects are excellent for developing a valuable mine, but that at the present stage of work an intelligent estimate of the ore body is impossible. The sulphide ore body lies at such an angle that the workings east of the Hamilton shaft are above the main body of ore, and the workings west of the shafts are in the low portion of the ore body. Churn drill prospecting to develop a probable second ore body north of the main one will soon be initiated.

The decline in Calumet & Arizona has operated against its sister property, the Superior & Pittsburg, comments the Boston Financial News. It is understood that the company is now entirely clear of floating debt, and earning approximately $100,000 per month on four cents per pound, or a monthly production of 2,500,000 pounds of copper. A special train bearing 187 immigrants from the Atlantic coast to Duluth and the copper country arrived in Marquette early this morning and will be sent westward about 6 o'clock. At Nestoria, the train will be divided, half going to Duluth and half to the copper country.

Mrs. W. S. Ewing, whose death occurred recently, is survived by her mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Coots, a resident of Marquette, two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Cornett of Owen Sound, Can., Mrs. Mary Ann Pulver of Marquette, and a brother, Thomas Coots, who is now at Co. halt, Can. The deceased was brought up in this county, and her parents were formerly well known farmers in Choccolay township.

Wanted—A Postmaster—

A postmaster is wanted for the office at Dollarville, Luce county. An examination of applicants for this position will be held at Newberry Saturday, March 5. Applicants must be American citizens, twenty-one years of age, and must be residents of the district supplied by the Dollarville postoffice. The compensation for the last fiscal year was $217.

County Clerk to Sell Insurance—

Charles C. Hanson of Menominee states that he has completed the purchase of the interest of C. A. Weinhardt in the Superior insurance agency in that city, and that following his retirement from the office of county clerk he will take up the insurance business. Mr. Hanson is well known throughout the county and no one doubts that he will be successful.

Propose to Organize a Village—

About fifty French and Polish families who have located on the State road in Menominee county have applied to have their settlement incorporated as a village under the name of Janow. The settlement has made their homes in the locality the last two or three years and have built a church, school house and other buildings. The place is in a flourishing condition.

Church Badly Damaged—

The Methodist church at McMillan, Luce county, caught fire early in the morning and but for the hard work of the people of the village it would now be a mass of ruins. The fire was discovered by the night watchman of the mill. After an hour's hard work the fire was gotten under control. The building was saved but the interior was badly wrecked. Repairs are in progress, and until they are made services will be held in the village hall.

Plunged to His Death—

Michael Carlson, a well known man at Bessemer, was killed when he fell from the front mine for a number of years, was found at the bottom of the shaft, fatally injured. He was taken to the Gogebie hospital where he passed away the same evening. Carlson was employed on the chain-gang. He had been sent to get a wrench and that was the last seen of him until he was found at the bottom of the shaft. It is supposed that he fell the entire distance of 250 feet.

Alleged Forgers at the Soo—

Two cases of alleged forgeries have developed at the Soo. One of the supposed offenders is Ed Dalley, who has served part of a term in Jonia for forgery and was out on parole at the time. He is accused of forging the firm name of J. F. Moloney & Sons to a check for $20. Dalley is still at large. The other man is in custody and gave his name as Harry Barr. He was arrested at the Park Hotel with two alleged bogus checks in his possession and which he had tried to cash.

Big Farm to Change Hands—

A deal is pending for the sale of the New York farm in Norway township, in Dickinson county, to William J. Turner, of Vulcan. The farm is the property of the Menominee River Lumber company and was developed under the direction of the late Jesse Spalding, the Chicago millionaire, who spent his summers at the farm. The farm is one of the largest in the upper peninsula and is splendidly equipped with buildings, including a first-class creamery. It contains over seven hundred acres, two hundred and fifty of which are ready for cultivation.

Fishing Business Transferred—

Robert Beutel, the leading stockholder in the Robert Beutel Fish company, which maintains one of its largest warehouses in Menominee, has purchased six of the eight warehouses with their equipment, and will do business hereafter under his own name. The only houses not in the deal are those in Chicago and Manitowish. The Robert Beutel company has houses at Menominee, Chicago, Toledo, Mandanville, Charlevoix, Bayfield, Superior and Blind River, Ontario. The central offices are at Bay City. The company has been doing a big business in Menominee and has been steadily increasing its operations.

Miners' Union Formed—

A branch union of the Western Federation of Miners was formed in this city last Sunday by one of the federation organizers who have been on this range for some time past, comments the Bessemer Herald. The charter as seen in the Ramquist hall does not state the number of names of members who belong to the organization, so it is impossible at this time to state how many have joined. Two organizers of the federation have been working among the Gogebie range members the past three weeks and are still in this vicinity. The workers of the district had their taste of this union business several years, when all the mines on the range were tied up all one summer in a useless strike and the county put to an enormous expense. They have also an example of the working methods of the Western Federation in the strike on the Mesaba two years ago, which resulted in a great loss to the miners and business men and a benefit to no one, except a few agitating officials of the federation. We hardly think that they will be seen in the working methods of the Western Federation in the strike on the Mesaba two years ago, which resulted in a great loss to the miners and business men and a benefit to no one, except a few agitating officials of the federation. We hardly think that they will be seen in the working methods of the Western Federation in the strike on the Mesaba two years ago, which resulted in a great loss to the miners and business men and a benefit to no one, except a few agitating officials of the federation.

Married at M. E. Parsonage—

Miss Grace O'Morrow of Trout Creek and Arthur Simpson were married by Rev. Ames Maywood at the Methodist parsonage yesterday. Mr. Simpson is employed by the Lake Independence Lumber company and the couple will reside at Big Bay.

Expected Any Time—

The decision of the supreme court on the Marquette local option case is expected momentarily. Attorneys interested thought that an opinion would be handed down at the session of the court held yesterday, but no report of such action had been received up to last evening.

Big Rally in Prospect—

Marquette tent, No. 63, Knights of the Macabees of the World, will hold an important meeting at Fraternity Hall tonight, to make arrangements for a grand rally to be held here in July. It is hoped to have all the tents in the upper peninsula represented at that time, at which the supreme officers will be present.

Visiting Nurse Report—

At the monthly meeting of the Visiting Nurse association held yesterday, the following reports for January were made: Visiting nurse number new patients, 18; total visits made, 150; patients sent to hospital, 2. The relief committee reported that fifty-eight garments had been given away; expended for shoes, $3.30; for bedding, $1; for new garments, $10.73; for provisions, $11.02; for fuel, $4.50; for labor supplied in homes where mother was ill, $6; total expenditure for month, $141.65.

Brickman Wins Case—

The case of William Lewenstein vs. Joe Brickman was concluded in Justice Byrne's court yesterday afternoon, when the jury, after being out only about ten minutes brought in a verdict of not guilty. The case concerned a quantity of scrap iron which Brickman bought from one Morris Zelipsky and which Lewenstein claimed on account of an alleged debt owed him by Zelipsky. Zelipsky is now suing Lewenstein for wages for fifty-two days, and the hearing is expected to take place today before Judge Crary.

Street Commission to Meet—

A meeting of the park, sanitary and street commission will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at which the request of John W. Spear for a lease on the neck of Presque Isle for fishing purposes will be considered. Mr. Spear's attorney has submitted a form of contract which his client would be willing to enter into, and an agreement under the terms of which the street commission would be willing to allow Mr. Spear to construct and operate a fish preserve on the city park property.

Basketball Game Tonight—

Marquette Knights of Columbus and the Ishpeming Y. M. C. A. will try conclusions in basketball at Legion Hall tonight. The following are the K. C. players: Connel, Layne and Hanley, forwards; Ring, center; Metuire, Mayers and Dunnebaeh, forwards. The Ishpeming team will play as follows: Hawthorne, Ed Johnson and C. Johnson, guards; Weber, center; Erickson, Giese and Haugland, forwards. The game will start at 8:30 sharp. Trounblly's orchestra will furnish music for dancing after the game. Admission, twenty-five cents. The K. C.'s will play a return game at Ishpeming Friday night.

Boy of Sixteen a Suicide—

Disheartened by a slight illness from which he had suffered for only a few days Howard Reno, sixteen-year-old son of Joseph Reno, committed suicide by taking arsenic at the home of the family at Flat Rock, Delta county. After calmly draining a cup of its poisonous draught the young man became drowsy in a few minutes and then he confided to the members of the family that he wished to die and had taken the contents of a bottle which he showed to them. Although he was forced to take arsenic and a physician was lastly summoned from Escanaba, the poison had thoroughly permeated his system and nothing could be done to save the young man's life. Until a few days ago the young man had been employed in the woods with his father. He became slightly ill in camp and returned to his home. He appeared to brood continually over the condition of his health and several times said that he wished he was dead. No attention was paid to the threat, however, and when he decided to visit in Escanaba the family thought he was on the road to recovery. He visited the city and remained several hours, visiting a drug store where he purchased a quantity of arsenic, claiming that he was going to use it in poisoning wolves.

KAFFIRS MAKE QUEER SERVANTS.

An American Woman's Housekeeping Experiences in South Africa.

"I never shall forget the names my Kaffir boys took," said a woman who kept house several years in South Africa where her husband was manager of a mine. "When the Kaffir boys came from the kraals no one ever uses their native names. As soon as they are brought in contact with the whites they take a white name.

"This produces results which are not lacking in humor. Among the house boys, Fork and Spoon were common names. Table, chair, Watch, Carriage and Matchbox were other names that I had in the house at various times. My butler rejoiced in the stately appellation of New One. It was when the slang phrase, 'That's a new one on me,' was going about.

"One of my house boys took the ultra name of Ham and Eggs. The Kaffirs are very fond of rice when they learn to eat it among the whites, and our stableman thought he had found the nicest name in the world in Rice. But the Kaffirs have a great dislike to the Chinese in pronouncing the letter R, so poor Rice always called himself Lee.

"One day the wife of one of the carpenters sent down to the compound for a new kitchen boy. The boy had heard one expression in frequent use at the mine. It struck him as euphonious and pleasing and when she asked him what his name was he calmly replied, 'Dam Fool.'

"Why, I can't call you that," said she, horrified. 'I'll call you Joseph.'

"The boy flew into a rage. He said 'Dam Fool' was a 'mamoochie gum,' a nice name, and if he could not have that name he would not work for her. He was so stubborn about it that she had either to use the name or to send him back to the compound. Eventually she kept him, and she told me that it was a relief to her feelings sometimes to have a kitchen boy answering to just that name.

"The Kaffirs are very imitative and will cook a dish exactly as they have been taught. But I never could quite bring myself to eat Kaffir cooking. It is apt to be weird.

"I had an English housekeeper who did the cooking. One she went down to Johannesburg for a week's vacation and her head assistant, Canile, was promoted to the position of chef. One night for dinner he brought in a desert of conventional, but when I tasted it I thought for a moment that I was in the clutches of nightmare.

"It transpired that Canile had flavored the pudding with Worcestershire sauce instead of vanilla. They were of the same color, and the simple child of nature could go no further in his philosophy. Poor Canile was quite crestfallen at our reception of the dish."

ANNUAL MEETING.

Republic Iron & Steel Company.

A special meeting of the stockholders of Republic Iron & Steel company to act upon a proposal to authorize a mortgage of all or part of the company's properties and franchises to secure an issue of bonds to an aggregate principal amount not to exceed at any one time $25,000,000 and the issue and disposition of such bonds in order to retire existing bonds and for other corporate purposes and upon any matters relating thereto, will be held at the office of the company at No. 15 Exchange Place, Jersey City, New Jersey, on the 7th day of March at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. The stock transfer books of the company will be closed at the close of business on February 14, 1910 and will be reopened at 10 o'clock a. m. on March 8, 1910. Dated, Pittsburg, Pa., February 4, 1910.

By order of the executive committee,

WITNESS OF DYNAMITE OUTRAGE—

Albert Cerny, an important witness in the Hurley explosion case, has been taken into custody at Florence, Wis., on the Menominee range. The "dry" at Pickands, Mather & Co.'s Windsor mine, at Hurley, Gogebie range, was dynamited early Monday morning, Jan. 17, one miner being killed and four others injured. A miner who had a fancied grievance against one of the pit bosses is suspected as the guilty party. It is alleged that Cerny saw the fellow coming out of one of the shafts at 6:30 a. m. with several sticks of dynamite partially concealed under his coat, and soon after the explosion the suspect was again observed by Cerny standing hidden between some of the nearby buildings looking at the wreckage. The man under suspicion knew he had been seen, and Cerny, fearing for his life, it is said, fled from Hurley. The authorities began searching for the witness and Detective O'Connell finally traced him to Florence and he was found at one of the Polish boarding houses there. A reward of $1,000 has been offered for the apprehension of the dynamiter. The suspect has been kept under surveillance, but as he could not have been connected without Cerny's

PERIL IN THE WELLS, AN EXPERT SAYS.

Although most people understand that a well may be affected by conditions in its immediate vicinity few realize the distance to which contaminating influences may penetrate the soil or rock. When one well is found to be bad all the wells in the vicinity should be under suspicion. Many suppose that because wells are several hundred feet apart they necessarily draw water from separate reservoirs and that the pumping of one cannot affect the other. This is untrue, we are told by Frederick G. Clapp in Engineering News. It is a common experience, says Mr. Clapp, to find that the yield of a well has been influenced by a new well in the vicinity. He goes on:

"In order to understand the conditions affecting wells drilled in proximity to each other it is necessary to have in mind the various geological formations under which water exists below the surface of the earth. Well water does not come from vast inexhaustible subterranean lakes, but originating in rainfall, it reaches the shallow or deeply buried strata by absorption, percolating and slowly descending through the more pervious formations and passages to the ground water level (water table).

"Water which occurs in sands, gravels and other superficial deposits is generally held in the pores or spaces between the pebbles or smaller particles. In certain types of solid rocks, as some sandstones, conglomerates, and very porous limestones, water occurs in the same way, saturating the entire rock below the level of the water table. Other rocks, however, are so hard, compact and close grained, that the amount of water held in the pores is very minute. In such rocks practically all the water is held in various forms of crevices, cavities and fissures. In slates and argillaceous schists considerable water is held in the bedding and cleavage planes. In granites, gneisses, slates, schists and most crystalline rocks the largest amounts are held in joint cracks—fissures which cut the rock in various directions.

"Under these conditions, as may be imagined, pollution of well water is greatly facilitated. Water from deep oil or salt wells under high pressure is easily forced up into the shallower wells of drinking water above them. For instance, in Saginaw, Mich., the city water supply from bored wells was seriously injured by salt wells which had been abandoned without proper plugging. At Dallas, Tex., a well used by the city water works penetrated the underlying strata and obtained mineral water under greater head, which entered and polluted

HE TOLD THE TRUTH.

A Government Clerk Who Mixed His Letters Up Finds the Best Way Out.

Government clerks in Washington are allowed so much time every year for vacation and so much for sick leave. The improved health of the capital city has eliminated the sick leave requirements, and of recent years clerks have been somewhat worried as to how they should continue to secure it in view of their robust health. A conversation overheard in one of the corridors throws light on the situation.

"You bet I was up against it last August."

"Thought you had a fine vacation—what was the matter?"

"Vacation was all right—it was before I started. You see I secured medical certificates from two different doctors—the first was an insurance doctor, who gave me a clean health bill to obtain a policy. The other doctor was a friend of mine, and he gave me a certificate that would help out on my vacation for extended sick leave."

"Well, what of it? Lots of us do that. Does your conscience prick you now?"

"Well, I shuffled the two certificates and sent the insurance doctor's assurance of good health to my chief, with a note asking for extended leave; the paper making me out desperately ill. I sent to the insurance company."

"What on earth did you do—I see you have not lost your position?"

"Well, I lay awake all of one night worrying. In the morning I had an inspiration—I told the chief the truth."

THOMAS J. DELAHUNT FREED OF CHARGES

JUDGE LANDIS OF THE ILLINOIS DISTRICT COURT HOLDS FORMER ISHPEMING MAN BLAMELESS IN THE WALLACE H. HOPKINS' BROKERAGE CASE.

Thomas J. Delahunt, who managed the Wallace H. Hopkins brokerage office in this city for some time, and who was indicted with respect to the Straited States case for Illinois two years ago, has been honorably discharged by Judge Landis and has been exonerated of all complicity in the Hopkins fraud. This action was taken on motion of Assistant United States District Attorney Robert W. Childs. Mr. Childs informed Judge Landis that there was no evidence to support the allegations against Dr. Delahunt. On the contrary, Mr. Childs said, the evidence taken at the trial of Hopkins showed that Mr. Delahunt had done everything in his power to keep the affairs of the Hopkins corporation in the Straited States case in order. Mr. Childs informed the court, was Mr. Delahunt party to the frauds for which Hopkins was found guilty. The evidence, furthermore, disclosed the fact that the transactions which led to Hopkins' trial and conviction were in every instance carried through during Mr. Delahunt's absence from Chicago and particularly while Mr. Delahunt was confined in a Milwaukee hospital recovering from a serious operation.

Mr. Delahunt was represented by Charles A. A. McGee, now an assistant district attorney of Milwaukee, when the Hopkins indictments came up in court. Mr. McGee moved that the cases be severed and at that time informed the court that in due time it would be proved that Mr. Delahunt had no connection with the Hopkins frauds. The motion was granted and the indictments against Mr. Delahunt were not taken up until Saturday. On the motion of Assistant United States District Attorney Childs, Judge Landis entered an order honorably discharging Mr. Delahunt.

GOOD CHANCE OF ELECTION.

Former Ishpeming Man Is Candidate for Alderman in Mesaba Range Town.

John R. Kroghdahl, who conducts a labor exchange at Virginia, Minn., and who is a candidate for alderman in the Fifth ward of that city, stands a very good chance of being elected, according to The Virginian. The last issue of that publication a whole page was devoted to write-ups of the various candidates for municipal offices. Of Mr. Kroghdahl's candidacy it was said:

"Among the thriving young business men of this city who are seeking political standing is J. R. Kroghdahl, who owns and manages the Rainy Lake Labor Exchange in the Roman block. Mr. Kroghdahl has been here since 1906, and has done a flourishing business. He is at the head of the Virginia Ski club, which he organized this winter in order to have Virginia on the map. He is enterprising in a great degree, has a good general knowledge and his many friends say that he will be the next alderman from their ward."

IS PROMOTED AGAIN.

Thomas Flannigan Succeeds Dan Ross With the Republic Company.

The friends of Thomas Flannigan of this city will be pleased to learn that he has been promoted to the position of assistant general manager of the Republic Iron & Steel company's mining properties of the Mesaba range, succeeding the late Daniel Ross, who died a few weeks ago of pneumonia, after a brief illness. Mr. Flannigan will work under Manager Webb, who since last September, when he was appointed general manager of the range properties, succeeding Charles T. Fairburn, has made his headquarters in Duluth. Mr. Flannigan has made rapid strides in his chosen profession, since locating on the Mesaba range eight years ago. He received his early instructions in this business at the Lake Angelina mine in this city, where he was assistant to the late cashier, George R. Pison. He went from there to the Lincoln mine at Virginia, taking the place of cashier under Mr. Fairburn, who left the company about five years ago to accept the position of range manager with the Republic Iron & Steel company, succeeding Alexander Maitland of Negaunee. A year later, Mr. Flannigan accepted the position of superintendent of the Onondago mine, under Mr. Fairburn. He made an excellent record in developing this property, and last September when Mr. Fairburn advanced to his present position Mr. Flannigan was promoted to the position of superintendent of the company's mines at Gilbert, which place he held until his late promotion to the position of assistant general manager. In his new capacity he will be required to look after all the company's mines on the range, but will continue to make his headquarters at Gilbert.

FROM CAPTAIN GOUGH.

To The Mining Journal—I have noticed that very few people here seem to have the proper idea of even an ordinary intelligent idea of how the Salvation Army finances are handled. General Win. Booth does not receive any salary or funds from the Salvation Army whatsoever. The following may enlighten some of the apparently willfully ignorant. It is from Arnold White's impressions and conclusions concerning the work of the Salvation Army:

"When discussing the Salvation Army it is common to hear a man say 'What a pity that they never publish a balance sheet.' The fact that they do publish a balance sheet, have always published a balance sheet, and that anyone can get a copy from headquarters, Queen Victoria street, London, by asking for it, does not seem to be known. The financial methods of the Salvation Army differ only from those of the best British railway and banks, in respect to the accounts being kept and audited by the Army in greater detail than those of large commercial enterprises, and receive a more exhaustive cash check, both of income and expenditure, than is either demanded by the proprietors or supplied by the directors of banks and other enterprises. In the nature of 'handy pandy' in finance can be effected, the collusion of Messrs. Knox, Cropper & Co., the auditors to the Salvation Army, whose senior partner is the auditor to the Midland Railway company, is essential. Those who deny the correctness and order with which Salvationist accounts are kept not only are heedless or ignorant, but dabble in terminological error."

The books of the Ishpeming branch of the Army are also open to investigation by any responsible persons.

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

A lower opening in the New York market was quickly followed by a fresh outburst of heavy liquidation, presumably by the large interests. The bearish element availed themselves to the limit of this opportunity for an aggressive campaign, and the result was the heaviest volume of selling witnessed for the year, with a steady and rapid melting away of prices. Wall street is still bearish and predicts further liquidation.

The Boston market was fairly active and held well considering the demoralization in New York. Lake broke 3 points, North Butte 2½, Arizona Commercial 2½, Copper Range 2½, Calumet & Arizona 2, Superior Copper 1½, and fractional losses in most others. Greene Cananea, Giroux and Superior & Pittsburg held around Saturday's prices. It is difficult to judge what the immediate outcome of this market will be, but fundamental conditions are sound and should favorably affect prices when the present drastic liquidation is ended.

On the curb, Indiana lost but a small fraction from the opening price, as was the case with Chief, Cactus and Corbin Copper. There were several transactions in Live Oak at 20. One opened at 7 and sold down to 33-15. There are at present, many bargains to be had in the best curb stocks, and those who can afford to ignore the temporary unsettled market conditions, and pick them up, will profit greatly by doing so.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

A regular monthly meeting of the city council will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. T. A. Lillie left last evening for Minneapolis, where he will visit relatives. He will be absent about a week.

The Marquette K. of C. and Ishpeming Y. M. C. A. basketball teams will meet in the gymnasium here Friday evening. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

John Charbonneau, Jr., covered 121 feet in a jump on the Ishpeming ski hill Sunday afternoon. He made three other jumps of 131 feet, but fell each time.

Tonight will be ladies' night at the Ishpeming Ski club house. A bus will leave Canda street at 8 o'clock. There will be dancing. A luncheon will be served.

The members of the Ishpeming division of the Ladies' auxiliary to the Ancient Order of Hibernians will give a private masquerade dancing party at the Anderson Hall this evening.

The Misses Theresa Ryaa and Loretta Meehan entertained about twenty-five of their young friends last Friday evening with a sleigh ride. At the conclusion of the outing, refreshments were served at the home of Miss Meehan.

Rev. J. Sallstrom, pastor of the Mission church, will leave today for Chicago, to be absent until next Monday on business. His pulpit will be filled next Sunday by John Skoglund, chairman of the board of trustees of the church.

Mrs. Anna L. Allen of this city, who submitted to a surgical operation at the Monroe street hospital, Chicago, last Friday, died Sunday. She left here for the hospital a week ago Sunday. The remains were received in the city yesterday morning, and the funeral will be held this afternoon. The deceased was fifty-two years of age.

The eighteenth anniversary of the organization of the Bee-Hive society of the Norwegian Lutheran church will be celebrated today by its members, who will conduct a banquet and entertainment in the church parlors. There will be a large collection of fancy and useful articles on sale, and refreshments will be served. A musical and literary program will be given this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnston; Mr. Johnston's sister, Mrs. E. J. Canfield, left last night for Marquette, Fla., where they will spend the next two months. Mr. Collins goes to drive Mr. Johnston's touring car. They will be joined in Chicago by Mr. Johnston's daughter, Mrs. Seldon White, and child.

The Cleveland Cliffs Iron company's paydays this month will occur on the following dates: Hard Ore and Lake mines, next Monday, the 14th; Cliffs Slufts and Salisbury, Tuesday, the 15th; Maas, Negaunee and Jackson, Wednesday, the 16th; Imperial, Thursday, the 17th; North Lake, Friday, the 18th, and Swanzeay district, Saturday, the 19th.

ONLY CURS BITE PEOPLE.

Thoroughbred Bulldogs Are Calluminated, Says New York Official.

Dr. Walter Bense, city sanitary superintendent of New York city, has come to the defense of the bulldogs, which have been much abused, exiled and condemned to death in "letters to the editor" for the last ten days because of reports of persons attacked by them and of one man actually killed in a fight with a bulldog.

Dr. Bense, whose agents have investigated every such report, said that in these cases bulldogs are bearing odium belonging in right to common "mutts," or mixed breeds of all kinds.

As soon as a case of dog bite is reported to the health department an agent hunts down the dog, investigates its record, and on my proof that it has a vicious disposition, it is promptly destroyed. In this recent war on savage dogs, however, Dr. Bense said not one full-blooded bulldog has been "stood up," the excited beasts in every case being invariably distant cousins or not related at all. "This was true," said Dr. Bense, "of the dog that killed Carl Linpert in a fight in a flat in one Hundred and Twenty-ninth street, as well as of the pet bulldog that bit its mistress through the nose about the same time. Both dogs were killed, but it was not a slaughter of bulldogs."

Dr. Bense says that the reports on the dispositions of various breeds of dogs received at the health department are entirely creditable to bulldogs, in spite of their uncompromising looks and reportedly savage tendencies. In fact, they stand much higher at the health department than many dogs having a larger amount of popular good will.—New York Times.

THE SILK SPECIAL.

A Freight Train with the Right of Way Over Everything—Its Precious Burden.

When a fast mail steamer from Yokohama, Shanghai or Canton, the great silk ports of the Orient, docks at Vancouver, Tacoma, Seattle or San Francisco a special train stands ready on the pier awaiting her arrival.

It is not the private conveyance of some transportation king or multi-millionaire, or of any of the passengers who through the decks; nor does it carry the sacks or letters from the Far East. Its coaches do not shine with the radiance of varnish and plate glass. Their paint is dull and they are windowless, like express cars. The side doors toward the ship are open.

This special is the emperor of trains. It is reserved for the costliest of all freight, raw silk. When it starts eastward its lading will be worth a fortune—a million and a half, perhaps two million dollars.

All the way across the Pacific these skeins of precious thread packed tightly in bales of a little more than a hundredweight each, carefully wrapped in heavy waterproof coverings, have been locked in the steamer's steel walled treasure room.

As the great ship's mooring hawsers strain and settle into place and the gang-planks are being lowered the purser breaks the seals, which he has inspected many times a day throughout the 7,000 mile voyage. As the first passengers hasten ashore half a hundred laborers mass themselves and stand ready to receive the rush of precious bales as they come sliding down to the pier from the deck above.

The customs officers are hardly through examining the first of the voyagers' baggage before the cars are jammed with their costly freight. The silk must be landed in New York in five days. Even the United States mails will not travel faster across the continent. Day and night the silk train rushes eastward never stopping except to change engines.

The silk train is run as a special. If a limited loss time and gets in the way the limited has to fret on a siding while the silk train roars by. The silk special runs on no schedule except that of the greatest speed consistent with safety. The chief dispatcher of each division listens watchfully to the news of its progress coming in over the wires from one signal tower and station after another. While the silk train is yet a thousand miles away it is being prepared for.

Sometimes there is a race over a 3,000 mile course. It happens now and then that two steamers from Eastern Asia, each with 2,000 or more bales of raw silk in its cargo, start a few hours apart.

They have been selected by the shipper in Shanghai or in Yokohama because under ordinary conditions they will reach their American port on, say, a Friday. If they do the silk can be delivered in New York by the following Thursday, which is the latest in the week that is desirable.

Arrangements have been made by cable for the transportation of the cargo across the continent. Rival railroads are to carry them. It has happened that two such silk trains have started but an hour apart, and pursuing different routes have swung into New York neck and neck.

It is when such a race as this is on that the silk train becomes the one important thing in life to the railroad men. They think and talk of nothing else. Tracks are cleared and patrolled, switches are spiked and everything is done to clip the necessary delays to the last second.

The railroad officials will deny that there is any race, but when it is over the story of the winning of the blue ribbon of the rails is told in every roundhouse and switch shanty between the coasts.

Race silk fluctuates considerably in price at times, and there is frequent heavy speculation in it. Time of delivery is usually the essence of the contracts. The purchases of cargoes are usually financed by some New York bank or trust company. Every day they mean added interest charges. When raw silk enters this country, free of duty, it is usually shipped in bond to its destination, and is not formally passed by the customs authorities until its arrival.

For the purpose of the bankers and merchants it might as well reach New York on a Monday morning as the previous Friday afternoon. If it arrives on a Thursday it can be cleared at the custom-house, "conditioned" and re-shipped to the manufacturers within the next forty-eight hours. These are but a few of the principal reasons why the closely interwoven commercial interests watch the progress of the silk train across the continent and pray for its early arrival.

There are from the railroads point of view many other reasons for speed. In the first place, the transportation of this freight, which is valued at more than $125,000 a car, is eagerly sought for by competing railroads. They say it is a matter of sentiment and prestige, but it is really an affair of dollars and cents. A carload of raw silk and a carload of first-class passengers all the way across America amount to about the same thing in money, and there is more net profit in handling the silk at four cents a pound from coast to coast, the highest freight rate that is charged on any commodity.

It is an unusual thing to get together seventy-five or a hundred first-class passengers at $7.20 each, but if a road achieves the reputation of handling raw silk specials expeditiously they are likely to come along over the same rails almost every week. The silk train, aside from the engineer and fireman, needs only a conductor, a flagman and a brakeman. The shanty limited does not make nearly as much net revenue for the road, for it requires a much larger and more expensive crew.

Silk is the one class of freight that the railroad insures for its own account in order to be protected against loss if a limited loss time and gets in the way the limited has to fret on a siding while the silk train roars by. The silk special runs on no schedule except that of the greatest speed consistent with safety. The chief dispatcher of each division listens watchfully to the news of its progress coming in over the wires from one signal tower and station after another. While the silk train is yet a thousand miles away it is being prepared for.

MEETING WITH SUCCESS ON MEMONIEE RANGE

THE CLEVELAND-CLIFFS IRON COMPANY HAS DISCOVERED PROMISING ORE BODY WITH DIAMOND DRILL ON SECTION 21.

Favorable reports are being received relative to the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Company's exploratory work on the Memoniee range, where it has within the past year secured control of a number of tracts of mineral land. The diamond drills operating on the company's holdings on Section 21 recently encountered ore of good quality, and there has been an unusual demand for options on lands in that vicinity. All of Section 21 has been taken under option, as has several other sections nearby. The Chicagoan mine is located nearby. A good quality of merchantable ore was recently located at the Chicagoan.

Some of the ore near Section 21 and the Chicagoan property has been encountered near surface, and a considerable area can be explored at a comparatively small expense. A short time ago the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company secured an option on Benjamin Clement's homestead, near Saunders, and a diamond drill is now in operation there. The Cleveland-Cliffs, as well as other concerns operating in the district, has also secured options on lands near Mr. Clement's place.

It is anticipated that the coming summer will be the most active that the Memoniee range has ever seen, as many options have been taken during the past few months. The holders of these are under contract to do a certain amount of exploratory work this year, but most of them can defer their operations until next spring. There are at present a greater number of diamond drills in operation on the range than at any previous time.

A number of drilling companies have extensive contracts there. The first to put drills in the Iron River district were Cole & McDonald, who have been operating a number of drills on this range for a few years past. They were followed by Jones & Hodge and the George H. St. Clair Exploration company, the latter of Virginia. The McPherson Drilling company, recently organized under the presidency of C. A. Sands, a well-known capitalist and lumberman of Grand Rapids, Mich., has also entered the game. The Powers-Jarvis company of Hibbing, Minn., has been awarded a contract to test the lands of Charles Bellstrom of Escanaba. Mr. Bellstrom's tract is located on Section 16, township 43, range 25, north of Iron River. This is the territory in which the James mine has been opened, and it is said to be a very promising field.

The Jones & Laughlin company, operators of the Rolling Mill mine here, are still exploring in the district, but it has not yet been reported that the showing is sufficiently large to warrant the opening of a mine. The Powers-Jarvis company have been operating drills in the district during the greater part of a year, and the work is to be continued.

The number of men employed on the range has been increased considerably as a result of the great number of additions to the working force at many of the mines and the exploratory work. Many of the mining companies are short of dwellings and it is anticipated that there will be a building boom in various parts of the range this year. Thomas Sprague of the Old Fellows, the Old Fellows block in this city, also the new high school and Y. M. C. A. buildings in Ishpeming, has been awarded a contract to build a number of houses on the McDonald property at Crystal Falls. The families of the men employed at the McDonald property are crowded into the small houses at the Armenia location, but on account of the resumption of operations at the latter property they are obliged to vacate them.

JOHNSON'S SUCCESSOR HERE

F. W. Jones, who succeeds the late H. N. Johnson as traveling representative of the Chicago Rubber company, whose demise was mentioned in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Jones visited this city last fall, and he is now to make the territory regularly. He has been connected with the house for a number of years. In spite of the fact that Mr. Johnson had the smallest territory of any of the fifty-four men traveling for the concern he had the largest business. His territory included the upper peninsula and ten towns in Northern Wisconsin. It is the concern's policy to sell only one dealer in each city or town in the territory.

LOCAL LACONICS

R. G. Quinn is here from Milwaukee for a few days on business.

Mrs. Murvin Wetton of Marquette is in the city, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee.

Robert Jackson, Jr., who has been in Detroit for the past week, is expected home today or tomorrow.

The thermometer at the Breitung House registered eight below zero yesterday morning at 6 o'clock.

The Negaunee Union baseball team will probably go to Manistiquette to play the nine there on the 16th or 17th of this month.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's employees at the Negaunee, Maas and Jackson properties were paid a week from tomorrow, the 16th.

Rosen Bros. & Klein's store was closed yesterday, on account of the death of Mr. Klein's father at Chicago Saturday. Mr. Klein will attend the funeral.

A number of Negaunee theatergoers will attend the production of "Paid in Full" at the Ishpeming theater tonight. Special street cars will be provided for the return trip.

The next joint meeting of the Sons of St. George societies will be held in Negaunee within three weeks. It was decided on at the meeting last Saturday night at the Winthrop. About fifteen members of the English Oak lodge were present.

Miss Bernadette Lemiere entertained thirty of her young friends at a Valentine party at her home Saturday evening. The rooms were attractively decorated with valentines and heart-shaped ornaments. Ralph Cole and Miss Alice Beaudette were the trophy winners.

The Negaunee lodge of the Daughters of St. George will conduct a ribbon social in the Sons of St. George hall a week from next Thursday evening, the 19th. Some novel features will be introduced and the ladies will be pleased to have a large number of their friends attend. Refreshments will be served.

The funeral of the late Joseph Matthews, who died Sunday afternoon at the Mitchell Methodist church under auspices of the Iron Mountain lodge of the Independent Order of Old Fellows. The society's funeral services were read at the home and Rev. D. C. Plasset conducted the services at the church.

C. A. Griffey, former editor of the Negaunee Iron Herald, is here from Houghton, Mich., to remain a few days on business. Mr. Griffey stated yesterday that the sentiment among the voters in the lower peninsula, particularly in his county, seems to be quite strong for Chase S. Osborn, the Soc candidate for governor. Mr. Griffey, who is an old politician, expressed the opinion that Mr. Osborn has the pole in the run for the nomination.

Superintendent Orr Schurtz and the members of the board of education will attend the meeting of the superintendents and school boards of the three cities of the county to be held this afternoon at the Ishpeming high school. It has been decided that the superintendents and members of the boards shall meet at the high school.

The improvement in the lower levels at the Winona, which was noted a month ago, continues and the management proposes to resume production as soon as the new mill is completed about Aug. 1. The showing at the King Philip is encouraging. The twelfth level, which is the lowest in No. 1 shaft, is showing the best ground seen in the property. The drilling in No. 2 shaft is at the present time making the best showing thus far in that shaft.

Even the temperate compositor frequently sets 'em up.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

At the Live Oak company's mine, the sulphides ore in drift, 308, 310 and 311, which are now 248, 187 and ninety feet long respectively, has been averaging 2.58 per cent copper for the past week. Prospecting with churn drills will begin as soon as equipment can be secured.

President Amster has all along contended that the Arizona Commercial property would show its best ore below the sixth level and the assays of the ore has been decided that the superintendents and members of the boards shall meet at the high school.

Members of Hibernian Baseball Team Delighted With Treatment Here.

John Keyes, former manager of the Hancock Hibernian baseball team, who was in the city yesterday, said that the visitors were delighted with the treatment accorded them by the members of the Union team, who tendered them a banquet at the conclusion of the game Saturday evening at the Adelphi rink.

The banquet was an enjoyable affair. T. A. Thoren, manager of the Union, presided as toastmaster. A number of the visitors, as well as several Negaunee men, gave impromptu talks. Two of the copper country boys did step dancing, and several of the Negaunee men and some of the visitors rendered vocal solos.

Mr. Keyes said that all probably the Negaunee team will give a date at Hancock before the close of the season. He said that he regretted the disagreement at Ishpeming Friday evening, as it was the intention of the management to invite the Ishpeming City team to Hancock for a return game. Under the circumstances, it is not likely that the Ishpeming team will make the trip, as the Hancock management would not stand for Klagstand's pitching. Mr. Keyes said that Captain Harrington, of the Ishpeming team, was informed before the game started that Klagstand's pitching was illegal. The rules governing pitching are strictly enforced in the copper country.

The league series participated in by the teams that were seen here last week being more liberally patronized than were the league games last year. There is much interest in indoor baseball in the copper country.

JOHNSON'S SUCCESSOR HERE

F. W. Jones, who succeeds the late H. N. Johnson as traveling representative of the Chicago Rubber company, whose demise was mentioned in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Jones visited this city last fall, and he is now to make the territory regularly. He has been connected with the house for a number of years. In spite of the fact that Mr. Johnson had the smallest territory of any of the fifty-four men traveling for the concern he had the largest business. His territory included the upper peninsula and ten towns in Northern Wisconsin. It is the concern's policy to sell only one dealer in each city or town in the territory.

LOCAL LACONICS

R. G. Quinn is here from Milwaukee for a few days on business.

Mrs. Murvin Wetton of Marquette is in the city, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee.

Robert Jackson, Jr., who has been in Detroit for the past week, is expected home today or tomorrow.

The thermometer at the Breitung House registered eight below zero yesterday morning at 6 o'clock.

The Negaunee Union baseball team will probably go to Manistiquette to play the nine there on the 16th or 17th of this month.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's employees at the Negaunee, Maas and Jackson properties were paid a week from tomorrow, the 16th.

Rosen Bros. & Klein's store was closed yesterday, on account of the death of Mr. Klein's father at Chicago Saturday. Mr. Klein will attend the funeral.

A number of Negaunee theatergoers will attend the production of "Paid in Full" at the Ishpeming theater tonight. Special street cars will be provided for the return trip.

The next joint meeting of the Sons of St. George societies will be held in Negaunee within three weeks. It was decided on at the meeting last Saturday night at the Winthrop. About fifteen members of the English Oak lodge were present.

Miss Bernadette Lemiere entertained thirty of her young friends at a Valentine party at her home Saturday evening. The rooms were attractively decorated with valentines and heart-shaped ornaments. Ralph Cole and Miss Alice Beaudette were the trophy winners.

The Negaunee lodge of the Daughters of St. George will conduct a ribbon social in the Sons of St. George hall a week from next Thursday evening, the 19th. Some novel features will be introduced and the ladies will be pleased to have a large number of their friends attend. Refreshments will be served.

The funeral of the late Joseph Matthews, who died Sunday afternoon at the Mitchell Methodist church under auspices of the Iron Mountain lodge of the Independent Order of Old Fellows. The society's funeral services were read at the home and Rev. D. C. Plasset conducted the services at the church.

C. A. Griffey, former editor of the Negaunee Iron Herald, is here from Houghton, Mich., to remain a few days on business. Mr. Griffey stated yesterday that the sentiment among the voters in the lower peninsula, particularly in his county, seems to be quite strong for Chase S. Osborn, the Soc candidate for governor. Mr. Griffey, who is an old politician, expressed the opinion that Mr. Osborn has the pole in the run for the nomination.

Superintendent Orr Schurtz and the members of the board of education will attend the meeting of the superintendents and school boards of the three cities of the county to be held this afternoon at the Ishpeming high school. It has been decided that the superintendents and members of the boards shall meet at the high school.

The improvement in the lower levels at the Winona, which was noted a month ago, continues and the management proposes to resume production as soon as the new mill is completed about Aug. 1. The showing at the King Philip is encouraging. The twelfth level, which is the lowest in No. 1 shaft, is showing the best ground seen in the property. The drilling in No. 2 shaft is at the present time making the best showing thus far in that shaft.

Even the temperate compositor frequently sets 'em up.

TUOLUMNE-NORTH BUTTE.

For the purpose of proving its ownership of the Jesse vein, a portion of which is claimed by the North Butte company by virtue of a quit-claim deed secured a few months ago from a man named Meagher, the original owner, the Tuolumne Copper company is now engaged in proving the vein from the 1200-foot level to the apex, reports a Butte correspondent. The vein is being opened at a depth of every 200 feet from the lower level to the surface, and on the surface, or at a depth of about twenty feet, below a drift is being run the full length of the property, about 850 feet. The latter is being run along the handing wall, and every foot of it is within the disputed strip of ground except the western 400 feet, which is in the Tuolumne ground, and concerning which there is no dispute.

The North Butte company bases its claims to the ownership of the Jesse vein also on the theory that the vein apices in ground further north, in the Jesse claim. The latter vein has been proved to join with the vein which apices in the Tuolumne ground, at about the 1200-foot level. It is at the latter point that the main vein diverges or splits, one branch being nearly vertical in its dip and apicing in the Tuolumne ground, and the other, with a greater dip and in places comparatively flat, apicing in the Jesse claim of the North Butte company. The Tuolumne company claims ownership of the main vein because of a prior location of the vein which apices in the Tuolumne ground. It has been decided a number of times in the courts that the first location of an apex which joins with another or main vein at depth carries with it the undisputed ownership of the main vein. It would appear from this that the position assumed by the Tuolumne company is tenable. The dispute then resolves itself to the ownership of the narrow strip of ground in the form of a wedge, seventy-five feet in width at the largest end and dwindling to a point where it joins the undisputed Tuolumne ground.

The strip of ground in question is claimed by the Tuolumne company in a deed executed to Edward Hickey, the president of the Tuolumne company, about twelve years ago. When the property was deeded to the Tuolumne company, however, by some oversight the narrow strip referred to was not described. This was discovered by the North Butte company, and several months ago John G. Marony, representing the North Butte, made a hurried trip to Deer Lodge and secured a quit-claim deed to the fraction. During the past week the Tuolumne company drove a crosscut of about seventy feet on the 1200-foot level, opening into the portion of the vein in dispute. The North Butte company ceased working the ore body several weeks ago. It is estimated that the North Butte company has extracted about $8,000,000 worth of ore from the disputed portion of the vein.

MEETING LAST NIGHT ADJOURNED ABRUPTLY TO THE SURPRISE OF MANY PRESENT.

ICE MEN OUT IN FORCE

Talk of Dealers at City Hall Indicates That Proposed Ordinance Will Have Rough Road to Travel.

And they walked right up the stairs and walked right down again. That, in brief, tells the story of last night's council meeting, or more correctly, last night's near-council meeting. To be more explicit, the meeting adjourned almost before it began, and the only thing of importance that transpired was perpetrated by Alderman Peter Donovan, who passed the cigars in token of his having joined the ever-increasing ranks of the beneficiaries since the previous meeting.

As the evening train from the copper country was about a half hour late, the aldermen waited until 8:20 for Mayor Vaughan, putting in the time in whispered conversation regarding some matter of evident importance, but which apparently demanded unusual secrecy. A large representation of the ice men of the city were also on hand to see what was to be done with the proposed ice ordinance.

As the mayor had failed to put in an appearance at that time, the aldermen ascended the stairs, took their seats and were called to order by Alderman Ekstrom, president of the council. The moment his gavel had sounded, Alderman Schauer was on his feet with a motion to adjourn until next Monday night, which was seconded by Alderman Donovan, and the meeting was declared over by President Ekstrom before the aldermen had not been put wise knew what had happened. Uncle Joe Cannon himself could have pulled off no more successful coup, if such it were intended to be.

The city attorney, controller and several of the city fathers were completely surprised, as there was quite an amount of important business scheduled to come up and there had been no intimation of a desire to postpone action thereon. When asked for his reason for moving adjournment, Alderman Schauer stated that the mayor and several of the aldermen were absent, because of which he thought it best to defer action on the ice ordinance and other matters until there was a full representation. The mayor and Alderman Astre and Ward were the only absentees. The satisfied smile with which the statement was accompanied, however, inclined one at all skeptical to believe that it was an excuse rather than the real reason that was being given out. Mayor Vaughan arrived just as the aldermen were leaving the city hall and was just as much surprised as anyone else to learn that the meeting had broken up so suddenly.

Fight on Ice Ordinance.

Judging from the informal statements of the ice men who went to the city hall with the expectation of seeing a council meeting, there is to be a merry fight on the ice ordinance in its present form. Some of the ice men want the ordinance made more strict and comprehensive, so that Dead river, the concrete quarry pond in South Marquette and other bodies of water near the city shall be on the proscribed list, as well as that part of the harbor within the breakwater included in the present draft of the ordinance. Other ice dealers declare the whole ordinance a scheme of the so-called "ice trust," and say that the amendment outlined above would be most disastrous to the unsuspecting public. The latter class maintain that ice cut from Dead river is pure and wholesome, and at least a part of them claim that the ice heretofore cut within the breakwater is much better than that used by many cities.

One of the aldermen stated after the meeting that this ordinance was an important matter that demanded thorough investigation. He thought that samples of ice from the breakwater and from Dead river should be taken at once and sent to the state board of health for analysis. When such a report had been obtained, and not before, he opined, could the council act intelligently on the proposed ordinance or the amendments suggested.

City Water Good As Usual.

In this connection it is well to state that the analysis of what was supposed to be a sample of city water, the substance of which was published in The Mining Journal last week, was not city water at all but the report was on a jug of water taken from Dead river by the Lake Superior Ice company and sent to the state board of health for analysis. In making out the report, however, an analysis, the ice company used the name of Health Officer Vadnais, and the analysis was sent to the health officer instead of the ice company. According to Dr. Vadnais, he had sent sample of city water about the same time to Lansing for analysis, and when the analysis was received, he supposed, naturally, that it represented the findings in the sample of water sent by him. It being very unfavorable he hastened to inform the public through the press of the results of the analysis. The doctor has since received the analysis of the sample of city water, which compared very favorably with those recently received by the water board.

For the benefit of the public, in view of the ice ordinance that is under discussion, we re-publish the analysis of the sample taken from Dead river, which, when published, supposed to be the analysis of a sample of water taken near the intake pipe.

"This sample of water contains a great deal of organic material, mostly of vegetable origin. There is, however, present a considerable quantity of dangerous contamination, as indicated by the bacteriological findings. This water is distinctly unsafe for drinking purposes and the ice cut from this water is not to be recommended, although ice cut from this source will give a somewhat better analysis than the original water, but it cannot be looked upon as safe except for cooling purposes."

RING-TAILED COON LOST?

Principal in Strange Escanaba Story Said to Be from Birch.

The following from the Escanaba Morning Press is re-printed for what ever it may be worth to our Birch friends and readers:

Mr. Noyes came to Escanaba from Birch yesterday to purchase a cow. All of the available milk producing bovines of the city and surrounding district were surveyed by the visitor without a deal being made.

Returning from a trip through Escanaba township Mr. Noyes became convinced that what he needed was a coon instead of a cow. Stopping at the margerie of Victor Johnson a real live coon was purchased.

Members of Mr. Noyes' party started to return to the city by street car shortly after the deal had been consummated and when midway between Escanaba and the suburb the coon escaped from the car and took refuge in the dense underbrush.

The tracks were followed for several hours but shortly after midnight the members of the party returned to the city satisfied that only a Morning Press ad would bring the results desired.

WATERLESS OYSTERS SOLD THIS WINTER

STATE LAW PRESCRIBES THAT BIVALVES MUST NOT COME IN CONTACT WITH ICE, OR BE DILUTED IN ANY MANNER.

Food inspectors throughout the state are watching the merchants and dealers to see that the law requiring that oysters must be sold solid and undiluted with water or ice is being lived up to. So far as known, Marquette dealers are familiar with this law and are governing themselves accordingly, and consumers have frequently remarked this winter that they seemed to be getting more for their money than usual. One of the food inspectors in the upper peninsula has recently given out the following regard the new oyster law:

"Oysters must be sold solid in Michigan, and it is strictly against the law to permit them to come in contact with ice or to sell them in any other liquid than their own. This insures the consumer pure oysters; his full measure of oysters, and the fresh sea flavor, for they are received in the same condition as when packed at the coast. Oysters cost a trifle more a quart when they come this way, but in the end the consumer gets more for his money than he did in the old days. Now he pays sixty cents for a quart of solid oysters, while before the new ruling went into effect he paid forty or fifty cents for a pint of oysters floating in a pint of flat ice water.

"The majority of the wholesale oyster houses now ship their oysters in special containers and furnish their retail trade with attractive receptacles for display. Dealers who do not provide with these receptacles must purchase something of the kind if they desire to handle oysters, as it is strictly against the law to place ice in the buckets as was formerly the practice."

The same inspector states that the consumption of oleomargarine, butterine and other substitutes for butter is assuming enormous proportions in this district. In time the butter manufacturers must feel it, and more reasonable prices for butter, it is believed, will follow. Many families who are financially able to eat butter should they desire to eat also because they believe it just as pure, and hardly a particle of difference in its taste or color, and believe that by so doing they are putting a crimp in the butter combine.

REFORESTATION PLAN.

Public Domain Commission Considering Planting Norway Poplar.

A commission submitted to the public domain commission upon the proposition of private reforestation, by A. C. Carlton, secretary, may have a tendency to solve to a certain extent the problem of again covering the lighter lands of northern Michigan with commercial timber. In looking into the matter, Mr. Carlton's attention has been called to the possibilities of Norway poplar, and according to the best authority obtainable at the present time, it would seem that this kind of timber reaches such a size at fifteen years as to make it profitable for lumber purposes.

If timber can be found that will mature during the lifetime of the present generation, a great many concerns would take up the matter as a business proposition, the only thing that is deterring them today being the question of taxation. Under our constitution and uniform laws of taxation, exemptions from taxation for this purpose might not stand the test of the courts. There are several men who have indicated that companies could be formed to go into this business on a large scale, if the taxation problem was not such a dubious one.

Advice from the Michigan Medical association is don't feed your children on questionable milk. From questionable cows that are kept in questionable stables to save a cent or two. (1-14-1m)

NEW YORK TRAGEDY OF LOCAL INTEREST

MAN WHO KILLED HIS SWEETHEART AND HIMSELF LAST FRIDAY WAS SON OF JAMES W. FISHER, FORMERLY OF THIS CITY.

William T. Fisher, who shot and killed one Ethel Bernard and then turned the smoking revolver on himself with fatal results in New York last Friday afternoon, was the son of James W. Fisher, collector of customs at Detroit. Mr. Fisher, Sr., lived in Marquette some twenty or more years ago and is known to quite a number of local people. The son had lived in Detroit until twelve years ago. Before that time he was employed as a clerk in the Detroit post-office. Though his superiors considered him capable, he had such irregular habits that he was discharged.

The Detroit Free-Press of Saturday contained the following New York dispatch giving the particulars of the suicide and murder:

"William T. Fisher and a young woman, who called herself Ethel Bernard, lived in a flat on the second floor of the apartment house at 38 West Ninety-eighth street. He killed her and then shot himself this afternoon.

"Fisher was about thirty-five years old. He dressed well and seemed to live comfortably without work. The girl was only a year or two over twenty and was so pretty that the other women in the house noticed it. The police picked up somewhere the fact that she had been on the stage at one time, so they described her as a Broadway actress. The man's home had been in Detroit, as an entry in his memorandum book indicated.

"Their maid knew little of their affairs. She was sent out to do some shopping this afternoon. Fisher and the girl had been quarreling, she said. "She returned at 4:30 and was climbing the stairs to the flat when she heard a pistol shot. The door of the apartment was thrown open just as the colored girl reached the landing and Ethel Bernard stumbled into the hallway and dropped on the tiling.

"The maid ran back down stairs and told Policeman Murphy, who went to the flat with two of his comrades. "The girl was unconscious on the landing. The door of the flat was closed and locked. Murphy and his companions forced the door and ran into the flat. Fisher was lying on the bed in the back room. He had shot himself in the right temple and it was evident that he was dying. They called an ambulance and the man and girl were hurried to the surgeons.

"Five minutes after she was carried into the hospital the girl died. Fisher had fired a bullet into her brain, the ball entering her left temple. He died at 6 o'clock, an hour after the ambulance surgeon had made a second trip to the Ninety-eighth street home. "There was nothing in the flat or in the pockets of the man or girl to explain the cause of the murder and suicide. In a memorandum book belonging to Fisher was this note: "Please notify James W. Fisher, Detroit, Mich., in case of accident to me. Wm. T. Fisher."

BOWLING SCORES.

The special two-men match between Manes and Bell and Foad and Van Idershtine was concluded at the downtown bowling alleys last evening. Manes and Bell won by forty-six pins. The final scores were as follows:
