SOUTHERLAND THROWS SALATTI.
 Bessemer Man Wins Wrestling Match at Laurium Town Hall.

John Southerland of Bessemer had to win his match with Charles Salatti by throwing his man a half dozen times Saturday night at the Laurium town hall. Southerland easily proved himself the better wrestler. The match was more of less a farce all the way through. After fifty minutes of heavy weight tumbling, during which time Southerland had his man twice and Salatti had seemed at least once, the Italian was awarded a fall, secured with a half Nelson and a crook hold. The next fall awarded was after twelve minutes of wrestling and went to Southerland. It was claimed by Salatti's backers that a struggle-hold was used, but the referee decided not. Southerland put his man down this time with a cross-bar hold. Because of this fall being awarded, Salatti refused to go on the mat until ten minutes after time had been called, and it was not until Jack Rowett of Bessemer claimed that he was "stalling" for a rest and was afraid to wrestle that he appeared at all. He took Southerland fifteen minutes more to secure the third fall, which he did by picking Salatti up bodily, slamming him to the mat and pinning him with a half Nelson.

Salatti showed a deplorable lack of heart work. He is a wonderfully strong man, weighing 295 pounds, but was as a child in the hands of Southerland, who is even stronger and weighs 225 pounds. Both men give promise of becoming expert wrestlers with sufficient training.

The match was witnessed by a very small crowd. James Smith of Lake Linden referred.

R. T. LOONEY SUCCEEDS PEARL.

New Referee in Bankruptcy Will Hear Big Soap Bankrupt's Case.

R. T. Looney, for the past several months temporary referee in bankruptcy for the northern district of the United States court for the western district of Michigan, has received from Judge Arthur Dennison of Grand Rapids his appointment as permanent referee. Mr. Looney's territory includes the entire upper peninsula. He was appointed temporary referee by Judge Loyal E. Knappen when Referee R. O. Pearl of Marquette was incapacitated by ill health.

Mr. Looney is appointed at the solicitation of attorneys from every part of the territory from the Soo to Ironwood and the copper country. The copper country attorneys at one time made an effort to have this district set apart as a separate division under Mr. Looney, but Judge Dennison could not be brought to see the expediency of such a change.

Mr. Looney will begin his duties as permanent referee Tuesday at the Soo, where he will take up the case of Frank Perry, a former upper peninsula lumber baron, who has filed a petition in bankruptcy. Mr. Perry's liabilities will amount to half a million dollars. Mr. Perry's failure is the biggest one in years in the upper peninsula. He has operated a lumber business with headquarters at the Soo for a quarter of a century and has owned Canadian mines, fleets of vessels, lumber camps and logging railroads. His failure has been brought about by the condition of the lumber market, prices making several of his big contracts unprofitable.

DELLOSSO FAMILY IS HELD.

Old Calumet Resident in Danger of Deportation—At Ellis Island.

Joseph Dellosso, a well-to-do Calumet merchant, a dealer in furs, coffee, confectionery, etc., who, six months ago, went to Italy with his wife and two children to visit his former home, is detained at Ellis Island and may be deported. Dellosso has lived in Calumet fifteen years, but it is said, failed to take out his naturalization papers. He has a passport, however, and it is hoped that matters can be so arranged that he can return to his home here. Dellosso has two other small children still in Calumet.

The immigration officials claim that a member of the Dellosso family has an affection of the eyes, probably trachoma. Italian Consul Agent James Lisa of Calumet was notified of the matter by the bureau of commerce and labor, Washington, and friends of the Dellosso family here have received letters from them which state that there is no difficulty in the way of Mrs. Dellosso and children returning here. The family has been at Ellis Island a week.

ED. LEWIS ACQUITTED.

Ed. Lewis, charged with falsely imprisoning Otto Obila while the latter was driving past Lewis' place of business, commonly termed the Halfway, was acquitted by the jury. The case, which was held before Justice Jarvis at South Range, was one which required the services of an interpreter, which made it a long drawn-out affair, but none the less interesting, owing to the nature of the warrant. Obila contended that Lewis came out and stopped him and took him from his wagon and into the saloon, where demands for the payment for an indebtedness were made. Obila further alleged that he was detained for a long time while his business demanded his immediate attention.

S.S.S. CURES OIL SORES

Every old sore is an infected spot on the flesh, kept open by constant drainage of impure blood into the place. One of the principal constituents of blood is plasma, a healing property. Where the circulation is pure this element of the blood, which is of a glutinous or sticky nature, performs the necessary work in healing oil sores, wounds and lacerations. It does this by sticking together the parts together, while nature causes a knitting of the tissue and solidifies the place.

This healing property is frequently destroyed by impure accumulations in the blood, and this vital fluid not only loses its power to heal, but becomes a source of irritation and disease to any open sore or ulcer on the body. Constantly it discharges its morbid matters into the place, and the sore enlarges. The morbid matter in the blood comes from different causes. A long spell of debilitating sickness, which breeds disease germs in the system, the retention of the refuse matters of the body because of a sluggish condition of the eliminative members, a continuing malarial state of the system, inherited bad blood, etc., are usually responsible.

S.S.S. heals sores and ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes into the circulation, and removes the impurities and polluted matter that are the means of keeping the ulcer open; then the sore is bound to heal. S.S.S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and not only does it cleanse the circulation, but it adds every necessary property to it to promote good health. It is of the very greatest tonic value, and those who have been weakened and run down by the constitutional drainage of an old sore will find it the very remedy needed.

S.S.S. does not simply cause a scab to come over an old sore, but beginning at the bottom it heals the place permanently by building new tissue and filling in the place with firm, healthy flesh. Special book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

THE BUTTE MERGER

The North Butte Mining company has decided to issue 300,000 shares of its treasury stock (the authorized issue is 1,000,000 shares, 400,000 shares now being outstanding) for the purchase of the Croesus claim, which lies between the Berlin and the Jessie. A large ownership in this claim has been held by the company for some time, but recently the remaining outstanding interest has been acquired from Dr. Duff of Jefferson City, Missouri, in exchange for the above mentioned 100,000 shares of stock. Now that the company has acquired complete ownership of the Croesus property, it is probable that development work at this point will be prosecuted more vigorously than heretofore. To date the Croesus and Berlin veins have not been very extensively explored, and the management has expressed no opinion as to their value. An official statement that the management intends hereafter to give greater publicity to its affairs, and information pertaining to earnings and the progress of development work will be given out from time to time, but at no specific periods. The statement has been made that the reason North Butte was not included in the Butte merger was that the laws of Minnesota, under which the company is chartered, required a unanimous vote of the stockholders, and there was doubt if the full vote could be secured. When asked concerning this information, an official replied: "I cannot make a positive statement on this point as I do not know what construction our attorney would make of the laws of Minnesota regarding the necessary stockholders' vote."

Mining News

THE FINAL STEP IN THE BUTTE MERGER will occur when the Alice Gold & Silver Mining company stockholders vote on the offer of the Anaconda company to issue 300,000 shares of its stock for the Alice property. A special meeting of Alice stockholders is being called for May 27 in Salt Lake City. The Alice company is controlled by the Butte Coal & Lumber Company. Its properties have been idle for some time except for what little work may have been done on the old shafts. Butte Coal & Lumber secured control of the Alice property from Walker Bros. of Salt Lake. Years ago it was mined for gold and silver, and dividends were paid. The Butte Coal & Lumber management believes that at greater depth valuable copper deposits exist which can be worked from lower levels from adjoining mines.

The Alice Gold & Silver Mining company was formed in 1880 for $10,000,000, 400,000 shares par $25, all of which was issued in acquiring mining properties. The mining operations were suspended actively from 1882 to 1892 and afterward for a short period during 1897 and 1898. Total dividends paid were $1,075,000 from March 15, 1881, to March 15, 1898. Silver was the chief product during active operations. It became necessary to close down the property during 1893 because of drop in silver and lead values of the ore developed in lower parts of the mine. But small amounts from royalties have been received since it ceased working lower parts of the mine. When the mine closed down it filled with water up to 700 level and workings between that level and the 1,500 have been and are now inaccessible. In 1906 Butte Coal & Lumber secured majority stock of the company.

Silver prices taken in conjunction with low-grade ores exposed have shown that the company could not operate at a profit and in view of depleted condition of the treasury, the management did not feel justified in extensive prospecting or development work.

By consolidating the Boston & Montana, Washoe Copper, Big Blackfoot Lumber company, Butte & Boston, Ironwood, Red Metal, Diamond Coal & Coke and Parrot, the Anaconda has acquired the most important mining ground in Butte, and it is believed it will be enabled through adoption of a general system of drainage, ventilation and development to prospect in a economical manner the undeveloped portion of the property this year.

The Alice company is the owner of comparatively large areas of mining property which is continuous to some of the properties belonging to Anaconda, and which it is believed are of sufficient value to justify prospecting and development provided the same can be carried on by a company strong enough financially to bear the burden of so doing.

It would be necessary to construct and equip new shafts and reduction works to handle the Alice ore were mining operations to be resumed. Such action would

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.
 The Arcadian has $86,707.30 cash and 10,000 shares of New Butte stock in the treasury. The company is entirely free from debt.

The Green-Canaan copper production for April was 4,282,000 pounds, against 1,700,000 pounds in March and 3,590,000 pounds in February.

President Anster of the Arizona Commercial Copper company announces that the Eureka shaft will be sunk 200 feet deeper, and that drifting on the Blackhawk vein will be continued east and west.

The loss of a bit in No. 7 hole has delayed drilling at Oneco. The drill is expected to strike the Oneco ledge at an additional depth of 200 feet. The other drill will be moved eastward to start a vertical hole to cut the New Butte ledge.

The Ray Consolidated stockholders will meet May 24 at 10 o'clock morning in the city of Butte. The company has $1,000,000 in the additional 200,000 shares to acquire the stock of the Anaconda company on the basis of one of Ray for three of Anaconda.

The Amster stocks, long speculative favorites in Boston, have been hard hit in the stock market since the early part of 1910, and at present prices show a decline in market value of no less than $8,325,000 from the high prices of the year, with Arizona Commercial far by the worst sufferer. The depreciation in the Amster stocks is estimated at $25,087,200. The Arizona Commercial, $4,620,000; Boston & Montana, $1,822,900; Shannon, $2,550,000.

While the same property is now represented by the shares of the Anaconda and Amalgamated companies, the price of this property is $23,000,000 more if bought through Anaconda stock than if bought through Amalgamated stock. In the terms of the Butte merger, Amalgamated will have two shares of Anaconda for every outstanding share of its own stock, but a wide disparity still exists in the quotations and no official explanation is yet volunteered.

The copper production of the Butte mines for April is estimated at 25,087,200 pounds, as against 24,757,700 pounds in March, and 15,755,000 pounds for February. The April total is the largest for any month since last November, and is just about equal to the production for the corresponding months of the last two years. The total output for the first four months of the current year is $2,824,770 pounds as against 104,709,260 pounds for the corresponding period of last year, and 60,677,020 pounds for the corresponding period of 1908.

The management of the Phoenix has signed a contract for a complete diamond cutting. The exploration is for the purpose of determining the possibilities on the Ashbed lode, which in the early days was a source of considerable production of gold that is now included in the Phoenix acreage. Only the management work has been done on this lode since the early days of mining operations in Keeweenaw country, the last development having been carried on about ten years ago, near the beginning of the career of the present company.

A Butte dispatch says: "Only a limited amount of development work has been done of late in the Butte & Superior property, the reason assigned being that sufficient ore has been blocked out to last several months at the present rate of shipping. STOLE DYNAMITE DETONATORS.
 Now Triluminant Boy Is Shy a Finger or Two as a Result.

Three Triluminant youths forced an entrance into the temporary supply house at the Triluminant mine, and as a result Stephen Marshy is under a physician's care, minus two middle fingers of his left hand and with the index finger of the right hand badly damaged and his face somewhat marked up. None of the boys is much over twelve years of age.

The trio headed for the supply house shortly after the dismissal of school. Loading themselves with dynamite caps to the number of twenty-five boxes, they started out to shoot off the explosives. The Marshy boy was told by his confederates that the caps might be shot off in his hand by touching them with a lighted match, and that the practice was not dangerous. He attempted as much and the result is as above given.

The youth was taken to the Copper Range hospital. A search brought to light thirteen boxes of the missing caps from beneath the supply house where they had been hidden. In addition to this a great many others were picked up, although a large quantity had been destroyed. It is understood that the fathers of the boys will settle the loss.

 Calumet Man Claims He Is Minus Spouse, Child and 700.

Taking $700 and her one child, Mrs. John Gustovich, wife of a prosperous Calumet miner, left a few days ago for Duluth. Now the husband wants his $700 and child back and is willing to take back the money, if she can be found. He has put the matter up to the Calumet authorities, but they do not see how they can take any legal action in the case, for the woman cannot be charged with deserting her children or stealing the money, which was as much hers as the husband's, it is claimed. Gustovich says he has never had any trouble or quarrel with the woman.

Marshal Joseph Trudell has gone to Duluth and will seek to induce the woman to return home. The husband believes there is another man in the case.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.
 Health Is Worth Saving, and Some Marquette People Know How to Save It.

Many Marquette people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for the amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a Marquette citizen's recommendation.

David Carr, Marquette, Mich., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me more good than any other remedy I ever used. For some time I had a constant, dull pain across the small of my back and was so weak that I could hardly get about. I sat in a chair for any length of time, my back became lame and I could not arise without catching hold of something for support. On several occasions I was so bad that I had to lay off from work. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised, I decided to give them a trial and procured a box at the Stafford Drug Co. They helped me from the first and in a short time after starting their use grew strong and the pains left my back. My health has been good since then and I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit."

TRICK TO GET CARGO.
Captain Made Money Though He Lost His Bets.
The captain of one rather old and slow steamer of years ago, finding that he would have to be a long time in China before he received a full cargo of tea, and would have, probably, to remain in ballast, began, to everyone's astonishment, to say that, owing to the repairs that had been done to his engines, he hoped to make a racing passage back to England. Then, still more to the astonishment of the captains of the fast steamers and the world at large, he commenced to back himself to make the fastest passage home.
In such very considerable sums of money did he wager that people began to think there was something in it, and the merchants sent their tea almost entirely to his ship, arguing that, as the captain

MUSKRAT OF VALUE.

Secretary Wilson Issues Booklet on Little Animal—Head of Agricultural Department Gives Statistics Showing Profits from Some Big Muskrat Farms.

Washington, May 8.—Uncle Jim Wilson, secretary of agriculture, has given the country another evidence of his statesmanship by discovering a source of meat supply not yet cornered by a trust. Uncle Jim points to the succulent muskrat.
In a handsome little booklet of thirty-eight pages he details all the advantages to the people in acquiring a taste for muskrat meat, and with it tells a great deal about this animal hitherto known to but few outside the membership of the Marsh club of Monroe, Mich., and the descendants of the original French settlers of that part of the country. In fact, in urging muskrat meat upon the people he cites the example of the Marsh club as one of his leading arguments.
"The muskrat dinners of the Monroe Marsh club have been celebrated for many years," says Uncle Jim in his book. "Nearly a dozen years ago when the club desired the enactment of a law to protect the muskrat in the marshes adjoining the great lakes they went to Lansing, taking with them their own chefs, and invited the entire legislature to partake of their hospitality. The chief dish was muskrat, but no hint of what they were eating was given until the legislators until the banquet was over, when the toastmaster informed the guests that the club desired to have a law passed giving protection to the excellent game of which all had just been partaking, which was muskrat. The law was passed without opposition."
In his booklet Uncle Jim goes exhaustively into the muskrat. He details the rat's importance; tells of its classification and distribution; describes both the rat and its general habits; delves into the economic uses of the animal; urges its value as a food product and even cites a variety of recipes by which to cook it; covers its value as a fur producer; goes into the possibilities of muskrat, other than a food for human beings hard pressed by the high cost of living and finally advocates a closed season and protective legislation for this beneficent little animal.
"Why," exclaims Uncle Jim, "the early colonists soon learned to eat the animals and cooked them in Indian fashion, boiled with corn. Nearly all professional trappers, hunters and voyagers of the north and northwest considered the flesh palatable and often ate it roasted over the coals of the campfire. Featherstonhaugh recorded seeing traders and Indians near Lac qui Parle, Minn., drying muskrats for food. In recent years many persons of refined taste have eaten the flesh of the muskrat, and a number of them have likened its flavor to that of the famous terrapin of the Chesapeake."

Uncle Jim says he has found that already there is a considerable demand in different parts of the country for muskrat meat. He even cites the market price at different points and says the carcasses sell for from seven to ten cents each around the Chesapeake bay country, while at Saginaw, Mich., they find ready sale at fifteen to twenty cents each, dealers positively finding customers in that city for all they can secure. The muskrat market opens about the holidays and extends to the middle of March.
Incidentally Uncle Jim dilates to some length upon the value of the fur of the muskrat. He says its total value in a year exceeds that of the seal islands of Bering sea, and that the demand for it will increase as other sources of fur supply diminish or disappear. This by way of encouraging those who may be induced to go into the business of muskrat farming, an occupation upon which Uncle Jim looks with great favor. He has secured the statistics of the sale of these pelts on the London market since 1760, and says the sale has steadily increased, year by year, until in 1906 the London market bought no less than 5,300,000 of these skins.
In defending the muskrat as an article of food Uncle Jim says they are remarkably clean feeders. "At New Richmond, Mich., in November, 1908," says the secretary, "W. L. McAtee found the animals feeding almost entirely on fleshy tubers of a large sedge or river burfish, and the stomachs of fifteen were found filled exclusively with this and other vegetable matter, finely ground. No animal matter was found."
"L. J. Cole and H. C. Tucker of Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1901-02, kept an adult muskrat in captivity for nearly seven months for the purpose of observing its habits. It refused to eat animal food of any kind, rejecting raw beef, fish and mussels for its favorite vegetable diet. Carrots were eaten in preference to everything else offered."
Speaking specifically of muskrat farming Uncle Jim tells of one man who bought a piece of marsh for $2,700 three or four years ago and leased it to a trapper for half of the fur and made from it 33 per cent on his investment. Another man bought forty acres of marsh for $150 and his income from muskrats, figured at 6 per cent, makes his farm worth $40 an acre. The owner of one tract of 1,300 acres Uncle Jim says he knows of, trapped it last season and secured more than 5,000 skins which he sold for $2,300. The Cedar Point Hunting club of Toledo, O., owns 5,000 acres of marsh at the mouth of the Maumee river and in a single month, January, 1904, took 5,000 skins which were sold for twenty-five cents each.

Wedding Announcement—

Mr. and Mrs. John Howard McLean, of Duluth, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ethel Fanny, to Maurice Albert Scraggus, on Saturday, May 14th, the ceremony to take place at the family home. The bride-to-be is a native of Iron Mountain and a young lady of decidedly pleasing personality.

Lets Timber-Cutting Contract—

Andrew Bjorkman of Iron Mountain, who owns a large tract of timber in the Pine river country, has let a contract to Charles Rinquist to bank 3,000,000 feet on that stream. Rinquist has three years in which to complete the contract and he is planning to commence operations at once. He will establish a camp one mile above the bridge on the Florence road and expects to employ about twenty-five men in the work.

Walked Off the Dock—

Bernard Peach, a night car checker at St. Ignace, walked off the merchandise dock into the water the other night. He was going along with his lantern under his arm and was looking in his check book, but was mistaken in the dark as to his direction. Paul Smith hastily secured a ladder, and by the aid of the steamer Ste. Marie's searchlight the boy was located and his rescue effected. Peach was none the worse for his immersion; but had not assistance been prompt and efficient, his mischance might have ended tragically.

Theatricals at Munising—

At Munising tonight and tomorrow evening there will be offered to the public a home production of the opera "H. M. S. Pinafore," for which rehearsals have been going on nearly all winter. This is the only play of its kind that has been staged in the Munising Opera House for a year or more. James Hosking will appear as Sir Joseph Porter, first lord of the British admiralty. The part of Captain Corcoran will be sung by W. E. Nitterauer; Dick Deadeye, the character role, by John Anderson, while boatswain and boatswain's mate are assigned to Lawrence Larson and Omar Berube respectively. The leading role (tenor) will be taken by Llewellyn Drake of Marquette, who will be new to a Munising audience. Miss Thorneta Earle will take the part of Tom Tucker. Miss Leah Pettier will sing the part of Little Buttercup and Miss Una Simon that of Cousin Hebe. The stellar role—Josephine—will be sung by Route Adair Collins. In addition there will be the unusual accompaniment of sailors, marines, the first lord's "sisters and his cousins and his aunts," etc. Miss Blanche Hayes is the accompanist.

NORTHERN THEATRES IN NEW COMBINATION

MANAGERS OF IRON AND COPPER DISTRICTS ARE OFFICIALLY NOTIFIED OF CHANGE IN BOOKING ARRANGEMENTS.
 The announcement sent out from New York a few days ago to the effect that John Cort, the well-known theatrical manager, had combined his booking interests with the Shuberts, and would hereafter supply the theatres of the iron and copper circuit with part of their attractions, was confirmed Saturday. Richard Lambert, who is now in charge of the publicity department of the Northwestern Theatre association, with headquarters at 27 Knickerbocker Theatre building, New York, has officially advised the managers of this circuit of the change in the booking arrangements. His letter contains considerable information concerning the booking plan for the coming season, and is as follows:
 "John Cort, the western theatrical manager, who has made as much noise in amusement circles in the past few years as any, has again demonstrated his capacity in his latest move. Mr. Cort has thrown the time in 148 play-houses open to all attractions and will hereafter book both the Shubert and the Klaw & Erlanger offerings to such extent as may be requested by the producer, and accepted by him. Mr. Cort has no more. He has been assured of at least thirty first-class attractions by the Messrs. Shubert each season for the coming five years, but in this arrangement he does not deny Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger time for their attractions.
 "In this generous policy Mr. Cort is followed by Mr. C. A. Marshall, director of the Copper and Iron circuit of some thirty-eight theatres in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan, with headquarters in Duluth, and Mr. C. P. Walker, whose circuit is one of the most desirable in the country, and includes such cities as Winnipeg, Grand Forks, Fargo and others. These circuits are acknowledged as among the very best for combination attractions on this continent.
 "This adopted policy of Mr. Cort and those affiliated with him was brought into operation through the unanimous demand of amusement seekers throughout their territory who have for several seasons been denied a great majority of the most prominent stars and plays. Mr. Cort has been assured of most, if not all, of the following attractions for the coming season: James T. Powers, Eddie Foy, Jefferson de Angeles, Lulu Glasser, Blanche Ring, Ed. Southworth and Julia Marlowe, Frank Daniels, Marie Dressler, Bertha Kalish, Madeline O'Fly, Mmc. Nazimova, Mary Mannering, Bertha Golland, Maxine Elliott, John Mason, William Faversham, Florence Roberts, Lew Dockstader, Bert Williams, J. L. Tempet, Viola Allen, Wilton Lackaye, Walker Whiteside, Danton Farnum, Bessie Abbott, Mabel Hill, May Irwin, Gertrude Elliott, DeWolf Hopper, Marie Cahill, Leslie Carter, Max Fighman, Sarah Bernhardt, Forbes Robertson, Lawrence Irving and Mabel Hackney, Sam Remond, The Chocolate Soldier, The City, The Lottery, Man and Wife, The Midnight Sons, The Jolly Bachelors, The Kissing Girl, and Alias Jimmy Valentine.
 "The excellent theatrical conditions that already exist in the west will unquestionably be greatly stimulated by the addition of these splendid attractions, many of which have never before been presented in that territory.
 "For several seasons past the opposing forces of the Messrs. Shubert and Klaw & Erlanger have fought for supremacy throughout the country. In no section has the strife been greater than in the west. The result was the useless extravagance in the expenditure of money in the building of rival playhouses in towns and cities not more than able to support one first-class theatre.
 "Mr. Cort, in his loyalty to Klaw & Erlanger, kept the western field almost intact for that reason. He felt sentimentality until now, when his better judgment and his better business sense have thrown open and he will book independently as stated above. He has permanently established his booking offices at his New York headquarters in the Knickerbocker Theatre building, where any and all producing managers can apply for open time on the Cort, the Walker, and the copper and iron circuits."

Rockefeller would go broke if he should spend his entire income trying to prepare a better medicine than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. TO CONNECT LINES.
 Northwestern and South Shore Preparing for Change in Service.
 Section crews have been put to work preparing to connect the South Shore and Northwestern main lines immediately west of Lake street, so that the passenger equipment can be transferred from one track to another.
 There is much speculation here among the railroad men as to what changes will be made as a result of the Northwestern company's new deal with the South Shore management. It is rumored that in all probability the Northwestern will run a night train down from the copper country, through Calumet to Chicago. The report is that this train will leave from Calumet about 9 o'clock, reaching Ishpeming at midnight and Chicago the next morning between 11 and 12 o'clock.
 The Ishpeming railroad men have not yet received official information as to the operation of the northbound passenger, but it seems to most generally understood that it will arrive in Ishpeming shortly after 6 a. m., instead of before 8 o'clock. The train will be provided with a diner out of Chicago and two sleepers coming north, one for the copper country and the other for Marquette country.

IRON COUNTY DAY.
 Crystal Falls People Making Plans for Opening Baseball Season.
 An Ishpeming man who spent the latter part of last week at Crystal Falls reports that the supporters of the league team are making extensive preparations for the opening of the season next Saturday and Sunday, when Marquette goes there. One or more bands will be present, and Saturday will be "Iron County Day." The games are being extensively advertised.

SUCCESSFUL BIBLICAL DRAMA.
 There has been several Salomes shown upon the stage during the past year, but the most human of them all is the Salome introduced in "The Holy City," the engagingly interesting play written by Clarence Bennett which is to be produced at the Ishpeming theatre Monday evening. Mr. Bennett's Salome is not a depraved and morbidly unhealthy degenerate, but a beautiful and passionate creature who is carried away by a sweep of her ardor for a time, but who dies expressing her belief in the great truths of religion. Miss Edna Marshall portrays that role. Her dance is beautiful.

KILLED BY RAILROAD TRAIN.
 Walking on the track of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad near Michigan Saturday, Elias Nummiller of Republic was struck by a train and was killed. He was aged twenty-three and is survived by his wife, to whom he was married last February. Nummiller had gone to Michigan to visit friends and had started to walk home. His head was not clear, evidently, for he was west of Michigan when he lost his life, whereas Republic is in the opposite direction. The remains were taken to Republic yesterday.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN TODAY.
 Al. W. Martin's Uncle Tom's Cabin company will give two performances today at Ishpeming theatre. The matinee will start at 3:45 and the evening performance at the usual time, 8:20. The company carries its own scenery. The company's tent will give a short concert this evening in front of the theatre. The A. W. Martin title is now the property of William Kibbel, who formerly owned a half interest in Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin. Mr. Kibbel is managing the company.

VICTIM OF TUBERCULOSIS.

Thomas Ryan, an old and very well-known resident of Ishpeming, died Saturday morning at St. Mary's hospital, Marquette, where he had been a patient for fourteen weeks. Tuberculosis was the cause of his demise. The deceased was forty years of age. He worked at the Cliff's Shaft mine for a number of years before his health failed him. He has no relatives in Ishpeming except John Ryan, an uncle living at the Barnum location. The remains were brought up from Marquette Saturday and taken to the home of Matthew Ryan, where the deceased had been going to the hospital. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. John's church, under auspices of Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, in which the deceased held membership.

Morgan & Co.'s Letter.

The Morgan & Co. letter opened considerably higher and evinced decided strength during the session, despite the fear of liquidation expected on account of the death of the king of England. The market is again favorable and the crop outlook fairly so. Settlement in New York is again quite optimistic and a big market is looked for next week. Our New York correspondent advises purchases, especially Reuters. The bank statement was good. Both markets closed an hour earlier than usual. The Boston market was quiet but stronger in tone all through. North Butte advanced 1 1/2 points from the opening, while a fraction was the best in any of the others. The general expectation that an increase in the surplus will be shown by the coming copper producers' report has a depressing influence on the coppers and tends to restrict commitments.

on the long side. However, it seems hardly possible that the able leaders of the copper industry will fail to prevent utter demoralization of the business, a condition which a continuation of the present methods must result in. We would not be surprised to learn any day now that investors have been advised to place their funds on a stable and reasonably profitable basis. Such action has already been taken heretofore by those in the copper and other industries which they control. Bennett was the feature in an otherwise quiet cup market. A report that a rich lode had been struck by the drill advanced the price of the stock to 9. South Lake also sold up to 6 1/2, but later sold off to 5 1/2. Ray Central was strong around 2 1/2. Little change in the others. We are advised to buy San Antonio.
 George F. Ruez's Review.
 All exchanges closed after a session of one hour, on account of the death of King Edward of England. The announcement of the death of the king did not affect the market. Prices opened from one quarter to one point higher in New York and held well through the short session. Most of the coppers were in good demand and indicated a point to higher prices next week. Bennett was the feature on the curb. It opened at 7, advanced to 9 and then settled down to 6 1/2, after trading around 8 1/2. The demand for the stock was on the strength of the report that No. 1 drill has passed through a good argillaceous fifty feet thick. The bottom ten feet is full of copper disseminated through the rock in small grains similar to the Baltic formation. Chief Consolidated was in excellent demand at 1 1/2 with sales at 1 1/2. San Antonio sold at 7 1/2 with a very good demand around this price. Live Oak, Cactus, Cronk, Greene and Superior & Pittsburg were quiet today.

Can You Afford Clothing Poorer Than Your Money Will Buy?

When You spend $15, $20 or $25 for a new suit, can you afford to get anything but the best suit that money will buy? Would you invest money in any other property besides clothing without being SURE you were getting your full moneys worth?

There is a part of your coat you never see. There are materials inside your coat which you never see. And on the quality of these materials and the character of the workmanship put into the unseen parts of your clothing, depends in very large measure its actual worth, its permanent shape and its good wearing ability.

Our business keeps steadily growing, and the same men come back year after year for new clothes. Why? Because there has been no skipping of material or of workmanship in the unseen parts of Gately Clothing. There is a distinction about our clothing which you realize as soon as you put a Gately coat on; and this is one of the qualities you ought to get where you spend your money for that new spring suit. Come, see how we demonstrate that.

Author Talks of Disadvantage of Doing Things Too Well.

The author was in reminiscent mood—he had just broken his fast, as some one else expends—and he was inclined to talk.

"Why am I depressed?" he repeated. "I'll tell you. It may serve as a warning to you.

"Three years ago I was unfortunate enough to write a great short story. It was called 'The Curse of Luck.' Now, thought I, begin my golden age—everything I write will go off the griddle like hot cakes.

"A week passed and my first story came back. 'This is a good story, a very good story,' wrote the editor, but it hardly seems to us up to the standard of 'The Curse of Luck.'

"Indignantly I tore up the letter. Well, I thought that's the best thing of mine you'll get a chance to refuse, and I sent the story to another magazine.

"Meanwhile I had sent out a second story, and a few days later this one too came back. 'This is a very good story,' the editor wrote, 'but scarcely up to 'The Curse of Luck.'

TOM PLATT'S MEMOIRS WILL PROVE DISAPPOINTING

Many Events in the Political Career of the New York Boss Will Remain Untold.

New York, May 6.—Thomas C. Platt had both the ability as a writer, and especially the gift of quaint humor, to make an autobiography not merely of momentary interest, but a work deserving to be placed upon the permanent shelf of the library.

When it was announced that his autobiography was to be published by McClure's, there was of course hope that Mr. Platt had written as he often talked. The autobiography as a whole will consist of four numbers, together with a chapter published in the magazine, and the other chapters which were published during his life.

The public was so accustomed to Mr. Platt as a machine leader, an almost Machiavellian manipulator of politics, that the fact was overlooked that he possessed a real gift of literary composition, an accurate taste in matters of that kind, and was, for so busy a man as he, exceedingly well read.

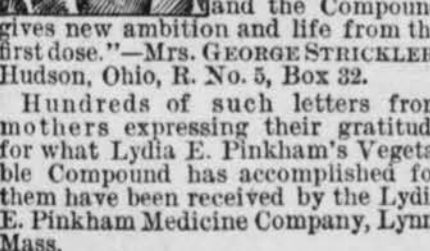

It is certain that Senator Platt will not tell the story of some of the most interesting incidents in his career. He will not tell of the appointment by President McKinley of one man to those appointments the senator was opposed.

And there was always this curiously weak spot in his armor as a politician, as well as another weakness which was his susceptibility to what he must have known to be insincere flattery. He will doubtless refrain from telling the secret of the manner in which he gained absolute power in New York state, for if he did that he would be compelled to expose his approaches to corporation managers, who were persuaded to commit to him the custody of the campaign funds.

Their delicate organs need a tonic and the Compound gives new ambition and life from the first dose."

PUBLIC PORTRAITS.

It is the custom of banks, hospitals, universities, schools of medicine and public buildings such as city halls, state houses and federal halls to collect portraits of their representative leaders.

Would not these buildings gain in dignity and beauty if the portraits were given a formal setting that contributed to the enrichment of the halls and chambers of the structure? English country houses, guild halls, college buildings at Oxford and elsewhere, as well as many palaces on the continent, have successfully employed this kind of decoration. The country is particularly rich in portraits. These are preserved with much care and become in some cases a feature of decoration in great houses, pointed to with pride.

There are collections of portraits owned by municipal and state buildings in this country which could be readily made available for really handsome decoration by removing the frames, which are often ugly objects in themselves, and with an architectural purpose arranging these pictures as a frieze above a high wainscoting. An acquaintance who is planning a country house tells me that he has a picture, which he highly prizes, of his father. It is placed, set in over the dining room fireplace and may be approached through a suite of rooms and seen at a distance of 100 or 100 feet.

ISHPEMING WINS FROM MARQUETTE

VISITORS OUTPLAYED HOME TEAM IN BASEBALL GAME HERE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

VICTORY WAS WELL EARNED

Outbit the Local Talent, Played Tighter Ball in Field and Had Best End of the Pitching Argument.

Ishpeeming proved too strong for Marquette yesterday afternoon in the first game played here this season between league teams and scored up a 5 to 3 victory. There can be no quarrel with the visitors' win, either, for they outbit the Marquette men, played a tighter game in the field and Goulette had the better of the pitchers' end of the argument. Both teams displayed need of practice, but that is no more than was to have been expected, in view of the wretched weather that has prevailed the past six weeks. They, however, give promise of rounding into good fighting trim, and the crowd in attendance yesterday had visions of excellent baseball in the months to come.

Ishpeeming started scoring in the first period. Laxstrom, the first man up, found Scholts for a tidy single into right field. Whitman backed up this effort by smashing the ball into left field for two bases, and Laxstrom scored on an infield drive by Klebs, after a vain attempt had been made to head him off at the plate. Here Scholts tightened up, and Score and Dixon were put out without having to trouble about leaving the batter's box. Larson hit an easy one to Eddy, and was thrown out at first.

Marquette Counts Twice.

Marquette's half of the second was Ishpeeming's trying period. Clifford started things, with the lone hit of the inning. Hamilton put a fly out into center field, but Simpson dragged it down. Then Wing was fortunate enough to be hit by a pitched ball. Scholts knocked a liner to Harris, who juggled the ball long enough to permit flap to arrive safely at his destination, and on further juggling at the first sack by Larson, Clifford scored. Scholts in the meantime started on a wild dash to second, and Wing beat the ball from second to the plate, with the second count. Richardson and Lindquist terminated these interesting proceedings by striking out.

The fifth was Marquette's turn to beat the ball. The inning started promisingly enough. Simpson and Goulette were both forced out at second. Whitman was given a lease of life by an error on the part of Eddy. Laxstrom and Whitman started a double steal, and the inning should have ended there, for the ball was pegged to Lindquist in plenty of time to nail Laxstrom, but he failed to hold it. At this juncture Scholts hit Klebs with a pitched ball, filling the bases and followed this up by walking Score, forcing a run. Dixon closed the inning by going out on an easy hit to Scholts.

Good heavy stick work had much to do with Ishpeeming's next counting, in the seventh. Laxstrom hit the ball to center, and it got by Clifford, giving him three bases where he should have had but one. Laxstrom scored on a single by Whitman. Klebs followed with another single, and Whitman beat the return of Score's fly, caught by Ripelle, to the plate.

In the first of the ninth Ishpeeming picked up another. Goulette made up hit, stole to second and scored on Lindquist's fumble of a throw to head him off at the third sack. Goulette was the only man that reached first for Ishpeeming in this session, Scholts striking out the heavy part of Ishpeeming's batting list. Laxstrom, Whitman and Klebs, in one, two, three order.

In the hope of starting something in the ninth, Jeanson was sent in in place of Wing, who had not been able to find the ball. With two men gone, he reached first on a misplaying of his infield hit by Whitman. He stole second and was scored by Scholts' single, but Richardson ended the inning by fanning. Summary:

NEW TRAIN SERVICE AROUSES INTEREST

IS BELIEVED THAT SOUTH SHORE AND NORTHWESTERN RAILROADS HAVE IMPORTANT PLANS UNDER CONSIDERATION—NO OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

The new service to be made effective, according to current reports, next Sunday by the D. S. S. & A. and Chicago & Northwestern railroads has been the subject of much interested conjecture here the past few days, and conjecture has been able to cover a wide range, because it is impossible to get any official confirmation of the various rumors relative to the plans of the companies concerned.

These rumors are so numerous and so circumstantial, however, that it appears practically certain that the train service now had between Chicago and Marquette and Houghton counties is going to undergo one of the most comprehensive overhauls it has been subjected to in many years.

The Chicago & Northwestern company is after a larger share of the copper country business. To get it, the story goes, they have had about $1,000,000 scheduled to leave at 4:45 a. m., en route to Chicago at 6 p. m., and to arrive in the copper country at 9 a. m.

To fit in with this train the South Shore Calumet express, which now leaves Marquette at 6:45 a. m., will, it is said, be scheduled to leave at 4:45 a. m., en route to Chicago at 6 p. m., and to arrive in the copper country by the South Shore road.

The Northwestern will also, it is reported, put on a Marquette sleeper, which will be operated the year around. This sleeper will be dropped at Negaunee, where it will lie about an hour and a half early in the morning, and will arrive in Marquette about 8 o'clock. Some months ago the Northwestern dropped the through Marquette sleeper and in the interval since the only through sleeper service between Marquette and Chicago has been over the St. Paul line.

It is said that the running schedule for the Calumet express eastbound to Marquette will continue the same as at present. The length of time Marquette county people taking the early train will have to do business in Houghton county and return the same day will be greatly increased. For those who want to leave at a later hour, the St. Paul train, leaving Marquette for the copper country at 8 a. m., will still remain.

There are reports of other changes of the service the Northwestern road will give between the upper peninsula and Chicago, but nothing definite can be known about them until the roads concerned make official announcement of their plans.

It is pointed out that under the new arrangement there will be more certainty about the time of the arrival in Marquette of Northwestern passengers and mail than there has been in the past when the Chicago roads have been handicapped by hard running conditions. As in any event there is an hour and a half layover in Negaunee, the morning train can get into that town as much as an hour and a half late, without the arriving time in Marquette being affected.

The public is taking much interest in the stories of the plans of the South Shore and Northwestern companies, and is awaiting eagerly full official announcement in regard to them.

PROPOSED WATER BONDS ARE BEATEN

PLAN TO RAISE $75,000 FOR EXTENSION OF INTAKE WAS VOTED DOWN SATURDAY.

LIGHT VOTE WAS POLLED

Majority of 85 Recorded Against Proposition—People to Pass on Presque Isle Pumping Station.

The people of the city Saturday refused to authorize the sale of $75,000 bonds, the proceeds to be used for extending the intake at the present pumping plant.

A majority of eighty-five was cast against the proposal, on a vote of 683. There were 84 votes against the bonds; 299 favorable to issuing them. The vote was only about a third of the voters entitled to the ballot. In view of the agitation the question had received, this is a disappointing showing of interest. It is perhaps accounted for by a feeling on the part of many voters that they could not feel certain what ought to be done to improve the water supply, and that, therefore, they might as well leave the settlement of the question to others with more decided opinions.

The North Marquette vote is generally credited with having turned the tide against the proposed bonds. This vote was much in evidence Saturday evening, particularly between 7 and 8 o'clock, when for the only time during the day the election board was roused. The North Marquette voters are said to have been almost a unit against the authorization of the bonds. Commissioner Nebel, who presented a minority report favoring the removal of the pumping station to Presque Isle, is a resident of North Marquette, and his ideas found much favor in that part of the town, which appears to have been the only place where any special effort was made to get the vote to the polls.

The voting dragged slowly all day, and the greater part of it was done during the evening. Up to evening it was the exception to find more than one voter at a time in the ballroom in the city hall, where the election was held. It was carried out according to the accepted rules of the game. There were voting booths and numbered ballots, in regular form, and the members of the board acted as election inspectors.

Presque Isle Project Next.

"Well, what will you do next?" a Mining Journal man asked a member of the board yesterday.

"While we have not yet taken up that question, I presume that our board will take steps to present the project of removing the pumping station to Presque Isle," was the reply. "We are doing so of securing safe and palatable water at the earliest time possible, and the logical step now is to find out how the people stand on the plan of going to Presque Isle."

The Presque Isle plan will give rise to even more controversy than the project of extending the intake. There is general agreement that a pumping station at Presque Isle would furnish perhaps the most desirable source of water supply that could be secured anywhere. The sole objection to the plan is the cost. This cost is, however, in dispute. Commissioner Nebel questioned the estimate of the Duluth Engineering company, claiming that a large saving could be made by his figures. Mr. Nebel's figures, in turn, are questioned, and altogether the conditions are ripe for a spirited debate over this point, once the subject is fairly opened up.

Will Be Defeated, Too.

Many people who have given close attention to the trend of the discussion over the water question make the prediction that when it is voted on the Presque Isle project will meet with the same fate as the bond issue voted on Saturday, and some of them go a little further and predict that the people will ultimately authorize the water board to extend the present intake.

The principal reason the proposed bonds were not authorized Saturday was that there still remains considerable doubt whether the extension of the intake would obviate both the creosote nuisance and the danger from sewage. The reason the Presque Isle project is likely to be turned down is that people regard it as too expensive. It is the prevailing opinion that, whatever may be said to the contrary, it would cost close to the neighborhood of $250,000 to carry it out.

Many people who voted against the bonds Saturday felt that the water board had not exhausted all possible efforts to secure data as to the nature of the water at the point, in a depth of seventy feet, 2,000 feet from the shore, where the end of the proposed new intake would be located. The objection raised in a letter to The Mining Journal that the board had not secured a sanitary engineer to make exhaustive tests of the bacterial contents of the water at this point was regarded as a valid one. If a sanitary engineer of high standing had conducted tests here for a thirty days and highly recommended the water at the point which it was proposed to extend the intake there is little doubt that the people would have approved the bonds Saturday.

If the Presque Isle project is defeated, it is said that the board will again take up investigations into the feasibility of intake extension, and will supplement its present data by the investigation referred to above. Then, if the reports on the water are again favorable, the people will likely have another chance to vote bonds for intake extension.
