

STATUES OF HEROES GIVEN DEDICATION

In the Presence of Thousands of Poles, President Taft Participates in Two Notable Ceremonies at Washington, D. C.

He Takes Part in the Exercises Incidental to the Unveiling of Monuments to Pulaski and Kosciuszko, Both of Whom Fought and One of Whom Died That Liberty in America Might Live—Nation's Chief and Secretary Dickinson Deliver the Eulogies.

Washington, May 11.—Two monuments to the memory and deeds of Pulaski and Kosciuszko, the Polish heroes, both of whom fought and one of whom died that liberty in America might live, were dedicated here today.

While the president made the principal address at the unveiling of the monument to Pulaski, which stands in the triangle at Thirteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue, Secretary of War Dickinson was making the principal address at the unveiling of the monument to Kosciuszko in Lafayette Park opposite the White House.

The monument to Pulaski was erected by an act of congress, but the statue to Kosciuszko is a gift to the nation from the Polish National Alliance and other organizations of Poles who have made their homes in the free republic in which the distinguished countrymen fought.

The ceremonies which preceded the dedication of the statues were long planned and very elaborate. A military parade in which all the regular troops stationed at Fort Myer, as well as the National Guard of the District of Columbia, marched was one of the features.

In the heart of the busier section of the city the monument to Pulaski stands fourteen feet from the sidewalk in a triangular green. In the saddle of a charger is mounted the figure of the hero, garbed in the Polish Hussar uniform in which he won command of a brigade of Washington's cavalry.

Monument to Kosciuszko. In the heart of the busier section of the city the monument to Pulaski stands fourteen feet from the sidewalk in a triangular green.

Kosciuszko is represented in the figure as the hero of two hemispheres, as his countrymen love to refer to him. A map of the United States with the American eagle guarding it is on the front of the pedestal.

The valiant deeds of the man who fought consistently for liberty in an old world and a new so consistently that he refused to lend himself to the plans of Napoleon for the restoration of Poland are called by the inscriptions on the monument.

A dinner was given at the American embassy tonight, the guests, in addition to the Roosevelts, including the imperial chancery, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, Foreign Secretary von Schoen, the rector of the university, Henry White, former American ambassador to France, and Mrs. White and Mr. and Mrs. Seth Low.

AERONAUTS DROP FROM THE CLOUDS

A. Holland Forbes and J. C. Yates Marvelously Escape Death After a Thrilling Balloon Flight of Four Hundred Miles.

As It Is, They Are Seriously Injured and Their Big Gas Bag Is Wrecked—They Fall 20,000 Feet—Rip Cord Fails to Work Properly When the Men Seek Refuge in Kentucky from Intense Cold and Snow, and Their Descent Is Terrific.

Horse Cave, Ky., May 11.—After a thrilling flight of four hundred miles, during which they ascended to an altitude of 20,000 feet and encountered two snow storms, A. Holland Forbes, of Bridgeport, Conn., vice president of the Aero Club of America, and J. C. Yates, of New York, lost control of their balloon, the Viking, yesterday afternoon and descended with such precipitation that both aeronauts were seriously hurt and the balloon was partially wrecked.

The balloon came down about twenty miles from here and dropped the final hundred feet like a stone. The escape of the balloonists from instant death was marvellous. The men will recover.

"We left Quincy, Ill., Monday evening," Mr. Forbes said, "hoping to make a long distance record. We were carried in a semi-circle, however, passing over parts of Illinois, Missouri, Indiana and Kentucky. Tuesday morning we ran into cold and a snow storm. At an altitude of 16,000 feet, Tuesday afternoon, also at an altitude of 16,000 feet, we encountered another snow storm. Afterward we shot up to 20,000 feet. The cold was intense and, benumbed and half-stuffed, we lost power to control the balloon.

"Our efforts to let out the gas by the valve failed in bringing us to the ground as fast as desired. Finally we decided to use the rip cord. The cord did not work properly, and ripped the bag almost from top to bottom. The descent was terrific and the last hundred feet, as little gas was left, the balloon fell like a stone."

The balloon, although badly damaged, probably can be repaired. SPOILS SYSTEM ATTACKED. Both Taft and Roosevelt Criticized by Civil Service Reformers.

New York, May 11.—Neither President Taft nor Theodore Roosevelt escape criticism in the report of the executive committee of the Civil Service Reform association, made public at the annual meeting of the association here this evening. The committee is of the opinion that the responsibility for the customs frauds here rests upon the executive officers at the head of the customs department, who, under Roosevelt, are charged with being the products of the spoils system.

Neill, commissioner of labor. He referred to the conditions in the blast furnaces as shocking.

PASSENGERS ARE PLUNDERED.

Two Bandits Held Up and Rob a Train Near Phoenix, Arizona.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 11.—Two unmasked bandits held up train No. 16 on the Arizona & Eastern railroad a mile from here tonight, and after robbing the passengers escaped to the desert. One passenger was almost scalped by a blow from a revolver butt. The bandits appeared at the doors of the passenger cars just after the train left Maricopa. They did not molest the mail or express car, but confined their operations to the passengers. After taking about $150 from the passengers of two coaches, the robbers forced the brakeman to stop the train where horses were tied. The railroad officials immediately ordered men out in pursuit, and a band of Indian trappers joined the posse.

MARQUETTE, MICH., MAY 12.

At last Attorney Brandeis has scored one clean-cut point on Secretary Ballinger. The umpires have recorded it.

Everybody in Crystal Falls is going to knock off work Saturday to see Marquette defeat Crystal Falls—or Crystal Falls defeat Marquette.

Grand Rapids is about to receive a $1,000 bird of paradise. Grand Rapids was in for luxuries despite the high cost of living, it seems.

The voters of Marquette are to have another bout with Lutake Extension on Decoration Day. Also they are to take on Removal to Presque Isle.

Revised estimates indicate that we aren't going to break the ore shipping record this season after all, or if we do so it will be by a comparatively small tonnage. However, at that we are going to be kept pretty busy.

Representative Craig supports the demand for an investigation of the wheat pool, but energetically opposes the cotton probe. Mr. Craig comes from Alabama, where cotton is the staple, and which is hundreds of miles south of the wheat belt. It makes a difference, even with our Washington statesmen, whose ox is gored.

Here's a paragraph from the Charlotte, Eaton county, Republican that indicates the way the wind is blowing: "J. L. Nixon was out with a Chase Osborn petition the other day and secured nearly ninety names, with one exception every one being the name of a business or professional man. Aside from the county officers, who are keeping 'hands off' in petition signing, only three declined to sign. One was for Musselman, another said he was 'in the air,' while the other gave no reason, and none was solicited."

In common pleas court at Cleveland Judge Babcock refused an application to restrain the placing of Senator Charles Dick's name on the primary ballot in Ohio, he holding that it is a proper procedure, and in violation of no law or constitutional principle, to submit the names of candidates for the United States senate to the voters for a vote of an advisory nature, previous to the election of a senator by the legislature. Senator Dick and the other candidates in Ohio will have to meet the issue before the people.

When the judges of the supreme court went to the funeral of Justice Brewer they took a special train and a bill has just been rendered for the expenses. The parlor car and dining car for four days cost $262, fares for the party amounted to $772, and the whole expense footed up $1,448.94. The auditor of the treasury refused to allow the account and pronounced it extravagant, but the comptroller ordered it paid. Under the law, the comptroller is the highest authority and from his decision there is no appeal. Opinions will differ, however, as to the extravagance of the bill. Nothing is too good to support the dignity of our supreme court and no one would suggest parsimony in any of their arrangements.

Inasmuch as there is not usually any strenuous competition for the Democratic nomination for congress, it is probable that the Democrats of the district will regard favorably the candidacy of G. T. Werline, of Nadeau, and make him a unanimous nominee. Mr. Werline would be a creditable candidate for the party. He is a man of strong character and a clean record, and we have no doubt he deserves many more votes than he will get, if he is the nominee. The request of the industrial Democrats of Menominee county should carry great weight with their organization in the upper peninsula, for Menominee boasts the most aggressive group of Democrats to be found north of the straits. The Democrats even get their share of the county offices over in Menominee county.

"I have no fear that the committee on elections will take up the charges hinted at. How can they? I know nothing of any bribes. I suppose the only way I can keep these charges from being brought against me is first to resign as senator, then give all my money and property to some charitable institution and then make application for entrance to a poor house." Senator Lorimer is reported as saying and then, we are informed, "Senator Lorimer laughed at his own joke."

The most noteworthy thing is his quoted expression is the phrase "charges hinted at." White, Beckemeyer and Link, members of the Illinois legislature, have confessed to taking $1,000 each for voting for Lorimer for United States senator, and still he refers to "charges hinted at." Pretty substantial hints, we should say. But then we mustn't expect too much from senators who laugh at their own jokes on such ticklish subjects.

The New York Globe, commenting on the Illinois legislative scandal, says that the majority of the legislators who voted for Lorimer for United States senator did so honestly, but that his majority was so small that it is practically destroyed, if the present criminal charges against members are sustained. "Neither in Illinois nor out of it will there be disposition to prejudice these cases," the Globe says. "The accused are entitled to a free and fair hearing and to have reasonable doubts construed in their favor. It is true that Lorimer is an objectionable kind of boss, and that he has been mixed up with many unsavory political scandals. It is also true that he represents the kind of politics which is bipartisan in times of stress and a sham battle when affairs are running smoothly. But there is no law against the election of a boss—even a bipartisan one—to the senate. His title is not assailable on general grounds. But if it shall appear that he owed his election to bought votes, even though it is not demonstrated that he furnished the money and supervised its distribution, a case warranting the Aldis treatment will be made out."

In behalf of Mr. Musselman, it may be remarked that there are few men in Michigan who would not be driven out of a speaking campaign by Osborn and Kelley. Osborn has the faculty of touching off the enthusiasm of the crowds he is called on to address, and between approval of his sentiments and approval of the way he puts them forth his public appearances invariably partake of the nature of triumphs. Kelley is, as he has always been, one of the most graceful speakers in the state. He has the gift of true eloquence and a faculty of attuning his remarks to the occasion and gathering that speaks him in good stead. He is a stump speaker of great effectiveness. It was expected that he would far overshadow all his opponents in the gubernatorial campaign, and it is an open secret that Osborn's eloquence and strength in his appearances before the voters is for the Kelley forces one of the great disappointments of the campaign, for there are to be two stars in the oratorical firmament in Michigan during the summer campaign. With Osborn and Kelley on his hands, Mr. Musselman, who has never gone in for oratory, is wise to forsake the stump for another form of appeal. It is, however, his misfortune that the stump furnishes much the most effective means of reaching the people. The spoken word carries inspiration and conviction that the printed word has never been powerful to convey. Under the direct primary system the candidate that talks to the greatest number of voters most convincingly wins. This is a conclusion that is confirmed by observation of its operations in every part of the country.

It is reported from Washington that the proposed legislation for a tariff commission may prove a means of reconciling some of the differences between President Taft and the insurgent members of congress. It is said that President Taft is bringing all the pressure he can to bear in support of the proposed appropriation of $250,000 asked for use in broadening the scope of the tariff board and to permit it to make the investigations necessary to determine the difference in costs of production at home and abroad. It is still further reported that it is possible that President Taft will declare, prior to the fall campaign, that in the event that investigation discloses exorbitant and discriminatory tariff favors, under which certain interests are fattening on the pretense of protecting the wellbeing of the working classes, he will recommend correction of these obvious tariff faults, and will, as soon as comprehensive data is available, urge revision of the faulty schedules. There is no doubt that such a declaration by the president would greatly improve the situation of the Republican party in the fall elections, and an utterance to that effect would be hailed with much pleasure by voters sincerely desirous of seeing a decisive Republican victory at the polls. Meanwhile President Taft will indeed do well to strain every effort to secure the appropriation of $250,000 for the furtherance of the inquiry into production costs. Representative Fordney is frankly against the plan of establishing a tariff commission, appointed by and reporting to the executive, and says he will fight it. There are a plenty of representatives and senators sympathizing with Representative Fordney who have not, as he always has, the courage of their convictions, but who would still like to see the appropriation of $250,000 stricken from the sundry civil service bill, and the president tied up in a sack on this proposition. President Taft must keep his weather eye on these gentlemen.

KELLEY FORCES FORM ALLIANCE.

The Kelley forces in Detroit, becoming alarmed at the lack of progress made in sewing up Wayne for Lieut. Gov. Kelley, have made an alliance with the school board machine, says the Detroit Journal. The deal has been made through Secretary of States Martindale and Superintendent of Schools Marindale. By its terms the present school board machine is to aid in every way possible in lining up the city vote for Mr. Kelley and in return "the administration," if the lieutenant governor should be elected governor, is to turn in and help the machine retain its grip on Detroit at the spring elections next spring.

Taking a look at the situation, it appears that both of the forces are very much afraid and that they are lining up together in a forlorn hope. The machine of the school board has been on the run since the election of a year ago. With sentiment in Detroit clearly against the men who have ruled the school board, and the balance of power reduced to one or two members, the old crowd have looked on the election of next spring with fear and trembling. For months they have been striving with might and main to perfect arrangements which would give them an opportunity again to win out.

The situation with regard to the governorship, has been much the same. Outside of the state employees in Detroit and such workers as they can influence there has been absolutely no sentiment for the nomination of Lieut. Gov. Kelley. Strong efforts have been made to line up people of influence, but all attempts to secure a real backing for Kelley have failed.

It was therefore but natural that the Kelley forces and the school board crowd should get together in a hard and fast compact, especially as the two machines have been rather close, anyhow. Each one has everything to gain and nothing to lose by the deal. With the votes which the school board crowd can deliver to Kelley even the most optimistic do not claim that they can carry the city. On the other hand, the school board machine faces a desperate fight next spring. Its only hope is to line up with strong forces which can control the votes in certain localities. It hopes to accomplish this by the alliance with Kelley. If he should be elected governor all the state employees, would be enlisted next spring in behalf of the school board machine members who are up for re-election.

One difficulty has arisen, however, in the progress of the deal. A number of gentlemen who have always been active, largely for personal reasons, in helping out the machine members of the board, balk on the deal and will not line up with Kelley.

LION FONDLES A CHILD.

In Pittsburg a savage lion fondled the hand that a child thrust into his cage. Danger to a child is sometimes great when least regarded. Often it comes through Colds, Croup, and Whooping Cough. They slay thousands that "Dr. King's New Discovery" could have saved. "A few doses cured our baby of a very bad case of Croup," writes Mrs. George B. Davis, of Flat Rock, N. C. "We always give it to him when he takes cold. It's a wonderful medicine for babies." Best for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Memorhages, Weak Lungs. 50c. $1.00. Trial bottle free. SHE'S HAPPY AGAIN

The lady with the sad face — who was sore down-hearted and disappointed is again herself — happy and content. She has gone back to her old reliable Calumet Baking Powder. Her failure to produce her accustomed good, old-time baking dated back to the day she bought the cheap and Big Can Kind. The trouble wasn't hard to locate — it wasn't hard to remedy, but the experience cost her no end of worry — not to mention the cost of much spoiled materials. But now everything is lovely. Her reputation as a cook has been sustained. Calumet Baking Powder is again making her pies, cakes, biscuits and other pastry, crisp, light and delicious as usual. This was her second unpleasant experience with baking powders. It will undoubtedly be her last, for it taught her this valuable lesson — 1st — The folly of paying 45 to 50 cents a pound for the Trust Brand, when she could buy Calumet — a superior brand for 25 cents a pound. 2nd — The false economy of Cheap and "Big Can" Kinds.

Moral: There's a happy medium in everything. The happy medium in baking power is Calumet, the best baking medium at a medium price, 25 cents the pound.

STOLE JEWELS FOR TINY BABES.

Feminine Love of Beautiful Things Led Her Into Novel Crime.

Birmingham, Ala., May 10.—The mystery of the Lynch Jewelry company is unraveled, the detectives are dismissed, the diamond thief stands convicted. She is a rat, and the amount of her theft reaches into the thousands. The eternal love of the feminine for jewelry might have been the motive behind the crime or it may have been a desire to cheer up a sick offspring with glittering gems, that the mother stole. When the home of the thief was invaded a baby rat, was found dead, while around it were grouped diamonds and pearls of the purest ray.

A pair of gold spectacles were employed to keep the wind away. Mr. Lynch missed a diamond ring a month ago. Then the gold handle of an umbrella disappeared. Then a brooch. Then a chain. And then one diamond ring after another, until every clerk was looking skeptically at the other, and Mr. Lynch was oppressed with a fear that some trusted employe was yielding to the "get-rich-quick" temptation. So detectives were employed, and those who knew of the facts prepared themselves for a sensation. Then the rat theory was struck upon. In the diamond case a bit of beef with string attached was prepared. This morning the string led to a small hole in the wall. Artisans chiseled through the adamant structure and found the entrance to the nest. It was necessary to dislodge the pavement on the sidewalk. When this was accomplished the home of the rat was entered. She was captured, the baby rat found dead, and the jewels recovered. The description of the old man might have made the theft necessary. But, like the prince of the story, surrounded by wealth the baby rat died, while his less fortunate neighbors still scurry and make merry in the walls.

TRUTH

No. 1

NOTE—From day to day you will read in these columns articles entitled "Truth." It is to you, dear reader, these remarks are addressed. Weigh well every word contained in these stories. It may mean much to you to follow us as we go along. All that is asked is your time for just a few moments. We thank you.

Lest you take alarm at this invasion of your innocent seclusion, we will remind you of the anecdote of the man who tried to give away English gold sovereigns, and nobody would take any of them. On a wager, this gentleman, relying on his knowledge of human nature, stood at the busiest hour of the day at the corner of London Bridge, with a big pewter dish full of genuine gold sovereigns in his hand. Rattling the gold alluringly in the pewter, he besought all who passed to take one—no strings to it of any sort. But one and all either stared incredulously, frowned suspiciously, or smiled knowingly, and passed on unenriched. And at the end of the hour, the gentleman who knew human nature, had just as many sovereigns in his dish as when he started, and the other party to the wager had to pay up. We know that if you had been one of the English crowd you would have left with all the English sovereigns laid safely away in the folds of your garments. This is our reason for addressing you in person.

Would you be rich? Then join us in our great undertaking

Copper Country

BAD BLAZE AT NEWTONVILLE. Old Homestead on L'Anse Stage Road Attacked by Forest Fire.

Newtonville, the homestead of Ed. Newton near Keweenaw Bay, Baraga county, suffered a bad loss by fire Tuesday night. A message to Frank Newton at Houghton stated that forest fires had spread to the farm buildings and every structure on the place with the exception of the old farmhouse itself had been destroyed. It is impossible to estimate the money loss as yet, though it will be considerable.

Newtonville was called because many years ago it was a small settlement, a sort of station on the old L'Anse to Houghton stage road. Ed. Newton is one of the copper country pioneers and his homestead has a local fame through its familiarity to old timers who passed it and were entertained there in the old stage days.

Reports from various parts of the copper country tell of "forest" fires. From Mass City to Pequaming, in fact through all the timbered country circling the copper country on the south and east, fires are burning. There was a rumor yesterday that the big Houghton lumber plant at Pequaming was in danger, but this was not given credence. The government warden at Portage Entry said yesterday that he could see fires in all directions.

These fires are ascribed to various causes, including the burning of brush piles through forestry regulations. The dry spring has had much to do with it also. Many farmers are busily employed at this time of year in clearing up their land and making it fit for agricultural purposes. One of the chief hindrances is stumps and undergrowth. To clear this away presents a problem, and the most ready solution is fire. Much of the smoke now being seen is from fires started by a horse by stumps. These fires are kept well under control so that there is little danger of their spreading.

THIRD WALL UP SOON. Front Street Ravine, Hancock, Being Filled With Rapidity.

During the past week the front street ravine at Hancock has been filled with unusual rapidity. Such progress was never made before since the work was first started and in a few days it will be necessary to start the building of the third concrete retaining wall. A very large stream of water carrying gravel and stones is kept running through the ravine all day and all night. The pressure is great and the force of the water carries much material so that every twenty-four hours there is a marked difference. Already the top of the second wall has been reached at the eastern extremity of the ravine and the deposit is rapidly reaching the top of the west end. A rise of a foot or so more will mean that the third and last wall will then be started.

When this third wall has been completed the work of filling the ravine should be finished in a hurry. This wall will be put up in a few days. Then two streams of water can be put on the side hill and the deposit in the ravine will be reached and the ravine is finally filled there will be no more "front street ravine," the natural deformity which has been the bane of so many places in the city. There is considerable space between Quincy and Front streets, however, that must be filled. With such excellent progress as has been made in the last week or two, it seems certain that Contractor McElynn will have the work completed by the date called for in his contract with the city.

FIREMEN'S MEMORIAL DAY. Houghton and Hurontown Departments Will Appear in Parade.

The Houghton and Hurontown fire departments at their regular meetings Tuesday night decided to accept the invitation of the memorial day committee to appear with the military orders of Houghton and Hancock in the parade and exercises May 30. The acceptance of the invitation by the fire departments assures a somewhat imposing parade including the Hancock Naval Reserve, the Hibernian Rifles of Hancock, the Houghton Light Infantry and the Spanish War Veterans. The common councils of Houghton and Hancock will also participate.

The annual memorial Sunday of the firemen will be observed the first Sunday in June and the Houghton and Hurontown departments are planning the usual program. The Houghton department has announced that it will acquire a new piece of land in the Memorial Day parade May 30. The Houghton fire department is going to petition the common council for an appropriation for new uniforms. The department has been ordered to appear in uniform at the regulars in some what tarnished and faded. The firemen want to go to the tournament at the Soc with a good showing and hope to have the new uniforms about that time.

EXPERIENCES OF DIPSO MANIAC. Man Held at County Jail Attempting Suicide at Devil's Command.

A man held in the county jail for treatment for delirium tremens, the same day, the man who a week ago attempted suicide by jumping into Portage lake, has now so far recovered that he can discuss his misfortune and regret it. He said yesterday that he had been on a protracted drunk and had taken a bottle of whiskey to the furnace on the third day the little devil appeared again and told him to end it all. This happened at Dollar Bay. The man ran all the way from Dollar Bay to Houghton, but in Houghton was again accosted by his satanic nemesis and told to jump. He did so. After he was pulled out he was taken to the furnace room of the jail to drink out and when he saw the blazing wall of the heating plant he thought he had died and gone to the hot place.

SURE OF OSBORN'S ELECTION. W. F. Knox of the Soc, Osborn Manager, Full of Confidence.

"C. S. Osborn will be nominated by the Republicans for governor of Michigan at the September primary," said W. F. Knox of the Soc at the Douglas House, Houghton, yesterday. "He will be nominated by the vote of the lower peninsula at that, and will have the upper peninsula solid vote to the goal."

Mr. Knox was asked if the rumors of Pat Kelley's retirement from the campaign seemed to have any truth and he replied, "Well, I don't know anything about that, but I have reason to believe that Mr. Kelley should feel a little discouraged."

Mr. Knox went to Calumet last evening. Judge Haire cannot act. Compelled to decline Hancock commencement address invitation.

MARKETS. WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, May 11.—Paine, Webber & Co. say of today's stock market: "The weakness in grain yesterday and today was taken by many here as a sign of crop damage, and caused many friendly to the stock market to take the long side. The buying, with the strength in copper, on reports of improved conditions in metal, and a report that B. R. T. would increase its dividend, caused more downward feeling early in the session."

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS. Chicago, May 11.—Wheat closed firm today, with the May 1 higher and unchanged to 1/8% up for the deferred deliveries.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET. [Paine, Webber & Co.] New York, May 11.—A good demand for cotton continues in Liverpool. The late months were unchanged at the opening, but the shorts in the summer months were eager buyers.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS. Sellers of copper report a general reawakening of interest on the part of buyers with a broad inquiry and sales began to pick up for a long time.

CHICAGO WHEAT LETTER. Chicago, May 11.—All foreign markets were decidedly weak and lower under pressure of Russian supplies.

COPPER METAL PRICES. New York, May 11.—Copper was firm today, with spot quoted at 12.50 to 12.75, the May at 12.45 to 12.65, the June and the July at 12.55 to 12.70 and the August at 12.55 to 12.70.

New York dealers quote lake copper at 12.75 to 13, electrolytic at 12.30 to 12.50 and casting at 12.25 to 12.50.

Chicago, May 11.—Wheat closed firm today, with the May 1 higher and unchanged to 1/8% up for the deferred deliveries. Alleged indications that the comparative weakness of wheat at this time was in part at least the result of manipulation from Chicago tended to deaden the effect of threatened further shipments here from that port.

Chicago, May 11.—All foreign markets were decidedly weak and lower under pressure of Russian supplies. The market started at a little decline, because of some slowness over the spring wheat country. There was persistent and heavy selling by a number of LaSalle street houses.

The Mock Sad Alli Stock company drew another crowded house last evening, when "Under the Stars and Stripes," a military play, was presented. The vaudeville features continue to win much favor.
H. J. Wolf, proprietor of the Lake Superior Carriage works, on Champion street, has been annoyed by boys stoning the buildings. He says he has the names of several recent offenders and plans to make an example of them.
Forest fires of some seriousness are reported from the northern part of the county. A heavy rain is needed, as the woods are dry and fires travel through them rapidly. If the dry spell continues much longer serious damage is apprehended.
The Elks will hold a meeting tonight. D. S. Donovan, J. E. Tobin, Jr., and John Sigurd will report the results of the conference recently held at Hancock to make arrangements for attending the national reunion of the order, which is to be held in Detroit in July.

Baseball Practice Today—The baseball team will practice at the fair grounds this afternoon. The players are asked to take the 4 o'clock car.
Turning Out Stone—The Marquette Stone company is employing a force of about a dozen men at its quarry south of the city, where the crushing plant has been in operation the past three weeks or so. Many shipments are being sent out. The demand is fairly good, but does not promise to be as brisk as it was last year.
Jury Called for Wednesday—The jury men who will serve during the May term of circuit court will be expected to be in the court room at 9 o'clock next Wednesday morning, instead of at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, as heretofore announced. Tuesday in the court will be given over to the examination of applicants for citizens' papers, of which there will be a considerable number.

Kaufman Oratorical Contest—The first prize in the Kaufman oratorical contest at the Northern Normal last evening was won by Miss Margaret Barich of South Range, who took for her subject "Benedict Arnold," the Patriot. The judges considered Miss Esther Lindquist of Iron River worthy of the second prize. Her subject was "The Viking." The subject matter of the orations showed careful and thoughtful preparation and it was put forward effectively by the young ladies. The program arranged in connection with the contest was a varied and interesting one and was received with much pleasure by the audience.
Mack in City—C. H. Mack, who held down the third sack for the Marquette baseball team last season, is in the city and it is possible that he will wear a Marquette uniform again this year. He has agreed to accompany the team to Crystal Falls for the Saturday and Sunday games, and the management may make arrangements for his services throughout the season. Mack put up a good game for Marquette last year. He covers the third base territory in effectively. This spring, he is a good sticker and gets ginger into his play and the team. He would be a source of strength for the nine this season, and the fans would like to see him in the regular line-up. Mack tried out with the Lima O. team this spring, but an injury put him out of the running.
Primary School Money—The state superintendent of public instruction Tuesday apportioned $4,901,533 to the school districts of the state, this being the amount of primary school money available for the May distribution. The apportionment was at the rate of $6.59 per capita. It is the largest May apportionment in four years and will be very welcome to many districts, while there are others that already have more primary school money than they can use. It is expected that in November an additional apportionment of $1 per capita will be made. In May, 1909, the apportionment was $3,719,545; in 1908 it was $4,816,835.50, and in 1907 it was $7,469,910. The aggregate number of school children in the state, as shown by the census, was 734,082.

LOWER STATE NOTES.
LANSING—Lansing Catholics Sunday subscribed $43,000 toward a proposed $100,000 edifice for St. Mary's society.
PORTLAND—Patrick Barrett, who was in charge of the "wet" campaign in Ionia county a year ago, has announced that the people will be again asked to vote on the proposition in Ionia county. He says the sentiment in the western section is very much in favor of the saloon.
LANSING—During April $1,543.10 was collected by the state game warden's department from violators of the state game and fish laws. There were eighty-seven arrests made and eighty-seven convictions secured. Five of the cases were for violations of the game laws and eighty-two for violations of the fish protection laws.
ANN ARBOR—While the fire department was fighting a blaze directly in the rear of and in close proximity to the Whitney theater, a large audience in the building witnessed "The Servant in the House," wholly oblivious to the excitement on the outside. The fire was extinguished quickly and none of the theatergoers knew of it until after the performance.
TRAVERSE CITY—Prominent fruit growers here have formed the Grand Traverse Growers and Shippers' association, the new association being a reorganization of the former association which handled nothing but potatoes. The new corporation will issue $5,000 in preferred stock and will employ a commission manager to handle its business. The growers will ship direct to the markets, cutting out the "middle man."
CADILLAC—At a meeting of the board of trade, called for the purpose of discussing the matter of a new Ann Arbor railway depot in this city, a resolution was passed pledging all members of the board to efforts to divert business from the road unless the officers keep their word and start building a new depot in this city this season. Arrangements were also made for a committee, to take up the matter with the state railway commission.
JACKSON—Dr. George A. Fritch has been appointed head night nurse in the Jackson prison hospital. This arrangement means, it is said, that Dr. Fritch will no longer be subjected to prison routine. Dr. Fritch has worked in the city department with other prisoners. Twelve cases of influenza were reported at the prison medical department. A strange disease, called for want of a better name "winter colic," is prevalent among the prisoners.
PONTIAC—Edwin S. George of Detroit is planning a worthy charity for needy children of Detroit which will be put into operation next month. He is having one of the buildings at his country home at Long Lake remodeled to accommodate children who will be given outings during the summer months. A matron will be placed in charge and both boys and girls will be received. The plan will be much the same as that of the Free Press fresh air camp at Sylvan lake.
GRAND RAPIDS—Striving to gain another base for his team might win in a game of baseball, near New Salem, Fred Jacobs, twenty-one years old, of Burrills Corners, was stricken with apoplexy and dropped dead on the base line. The game was between two country teams, Jacobs had run one base and started for another when he fell. He rose to his feet, staggered about three feet, fell again and again arose. A third time he fell and lay quiet. Teammates ran to his assistance only to find life extinct.
LANSING—Dr. F. W. Shumway, secretary of the state board of health, says that at a conference last week in Washington of representatives of the federal and state health departments it was unanimously decided that the first reform to be brought about is the enactment of legislation by all the states which will provide for all local health officers. Dr. Shumway was made chairman of a committee named to push legislation of this character. Practically every state was represented at the conference.
ANN ARBOR—To a number of co-eds who refused to give their names Rene Talaman and John G. Winter, instructors in French and Greek, respectively, in the university, gave their lives. The two men were canoeing and were caught in the rapids up the river and their canoe overturned. The overturned boat was swept away from them and they were unable, on account of the swiftness of the current, to make any headway toward shore. Several parties of co-ed canoeists, who saw their plight, hastened to the rescue, and managed to pull the imperiled men into their craft and get them to shore.
PORTLAND—The mayor of this city has received word from the Wrought Iron Range company of St. Louis, warning him and the people against the purchase of ranges, several of which have

To be able to get a suit of clothes on a minute's notice worthy of the highest credit in workmanship, in style, drape and fit, without the annoying delays and unnecessary extra cost, is of great importance to the up-to-date man. This is all possible in the Rose, Rogers & Rose clothes made in our own shop, possessing that indefinable something in "lines and in character" so puzzling to the average tailor and completely missing in the ready clothes so much in evidence on the market. We have many styles in this make, but only one cut, namely, a correctly, fashionably cut garment for every woman, large or small.

MISS LULU LEISMER SERIOUSLY HURT

POPULAR HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER VICTIM OF A DISTRESSING ACCIDENT YESTERDAY—HER CONDITION CAUSES ALARM.

Miss Lulu Leismer, teacher of German in the high school, was the victim of a distressing accident that may result fatally about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She fell into a crevasse close to old Hematite pit No. 2, a short distance south of the Oliver Iron company's office, and suffered fractures of both ankles and one of her elbows, also a concussion of the brain. As she had a clear perpendicular fall of sixty feet it is a marvel that she was not killed outright. Last evening the physicians did not feel very hopeful of her condition. She had not regained consciousness, and the seriousness of her injuries and the shock she sustained made them apprehensive of the outcome.

Miss Leismer lived and boarded at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Johnston, beyond the Oliver Iron Mining company's office, and the accident occurred not far from the house. She was taking a short walk in company with E. E. White, geologist for the Cleveland-Cliffs company, during the noon hour. They approached the crevasse, which was left by the ore falling away from the solid rock when the old pit was worked. Miss Leismer ventured too near the edge and fell into the yawning hole. Her fall was unbroken for sixty feet and it was surprising that her life was not instantly crushed out. Her recovery from the bottom of the crevasse was a difficult piece of work and required an hour or more to accomplish. She was finally taken out by way of the old Hematite pit, and her injuries given attention.

Miss Leismer has been a resident of Ishpeming since last fall. She is a graduate of the University of Michigan, and has a wide circle of friends here who are shocked by the accident and its probable fatal outcome. Miss Leismer is also known to many people in Marquette, where she has visited a number of times during the past winter, and the news of the accident caused much grief to her friends there.

CENSUS WORK ENDED.

Practically all of the census enumerators employed in the cities of Marquette county have completed their work, but in some of the townships the enumerators have not yet made their final returns. William Verran, who has charge of the work in this county, reports that the enumerators did exceptionally well, and he has not had much trouble on account of errors in compiling the data. The work of checking up the national census is already under way in Washington. Besides the regular force 3,000 temporary employes are at work. In addition to the main building of the bureau, two others have been leased, giving a total floor space of 150,000 square feet. Although the enumerators' schedules have been arriving every day for some time past, and the last of them will soon be in, it will be several weeks before the official announcement will be made as to the total population of any city in the country. The population of the cities will first be published, after which the population of the states and minor civil information will be announced. The work will be carried on night and day until the tabulations are completed.

He was standing on the boiler, which was being driven by two teams of horses, one of them driven by Latour, and suffered a broken neck when he lost his balance and fell to the ground. The deceased was seventy-four years of age and was single.

ISHPEMING

FORMER ISHPHINGITE HAS MADE FORTUNE

ONE OF THIS CITY'S EARLIEST BUSINESS MEN NOW A LARGE HOLDER OF REAL ESTATE IN DULUTH AND SUPERIOR AND ON THE CUYUNA RANGE.

Thomas Feigh, who was one of the early business men of Ishpeming, but who has lived at Duluth for more than thirty years past, owns a valuable tract of mineral land on the Cuyuna range.

Mr. Feigh, who was one of the pioneers of the Ontonagon range before coming to Ishpeming, is now classed among the pioneers of the Cuyuna range. He has been associated in real estate and land deals in that district with Patrick Hammel, a well-known Duluth man, who is one of the fee owners of the Kennedy mine, being operated by the Rogers-Brown Ore company. The Kennedy is the largest mining property in the district.

Mr. Feigh is well-known to a number of Ishpeming people. Soon after leaving this city, he began investing his money in real estate at the head of the lakes, and is now a heavy property owner in both Duluth and Superior. He also owns considerable property in the lower peninsula.

The Duluth Evening Herald recently referred to Mr. Feigh as follows:

"Thomas Feigh pinned his faith to the Twin Ports thirty years ago and has never had cause to regret it. He has extensive realty holdings both in Duluth and Superior that have increased tremendously in value, as the years have gone by, and is the holder of valuable properties on the Cuyuna iron range, of which he is one of the pioneers. Mr. Feigh got his financial start in the Northwest country and by hard work, business judgment and thrift has amassed a comfortable fortune. All he made here he invested here. Stocks held out no inducements to him. With rare foresight he put his money in land at the head of the Lakes, which he has helped to develop.

"Mr. Feigh, who was born in County Limerick, Ireland, came to Canada in early youth, as did his brother and three sisters. He made his first investments here thirty years ago and has made Duluth his home most of the time during the last twenty years. An investment he made thirty years ago was in 160 acres of land in Superior near Alouez bay, which has greatly enhanced in value. This is merely one instance of his foresight. He was one of the first men of means to show his faith in the Cuyuna iron range, purchasing through Patrick Hammel of Duluth sections 9 and 10, 16-29, which have been drilled and shown to be underlain with deep and extensive iron ore deposits. He also holds other promising properties on this range.

"Hale and hearty, although past 60, Mr. Feigh does not look his years. His principal pastime is traveling. On his last European trip, two years ago, accompanied by two nephews, he visited among other interesting places, Rome and the Holy Land.

"Mr. Feigh is a man noted for his modesty, staunch friendships and sterling character and has endeared himself to a large circle of associates."

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action.

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES CONSIDER SALARIES

SUPERINTENDENT GEHRAND GIVEN RAISE OF $300 TO $3,000, BUT TWO TRUSTEES VOTE AGAINST THE RESOLUTION.

The board of school trustees met Tuesday evening to consider teachers' salaries. The entire list was gone over and the trustees will meet again tonight to take final action.

The board has fixed a maximum and minimum pay for teachers in the grades. The pay for a teacher on first taking up the work will hereafter be $190; and the maximum allowed in the grades will be $650.

There was no debate on the motion to grant the increase, but the minority trustees express the opinion that at $3,000 the position is considerably overpaid and take the view that the superintendent's salary should be left at the old figure, $2,700, annually.

Data Gathered. In preparation for fixing the maximum and minimum salaries for teachers here data was gathered on the salaries paid in the schools of Ironwood, Menominee, Manistee, Iron Mountain, Escanaba, Sault Ste. Marie, Bessemer, Negaunee, Munising, Calumet, Houghton, Hancock and Ishpeming.
