IOWA CONTEST IS MUCH IN DOUBT

Carroll, Stand-Patter, Appears to Be Leading in the Race for Governor, but the Returns Are Slow and Inconclusive.

Prouty, Progressive, Apparently Has Defeated Congressman Hull, and Representatives Smith and Kennedy, Administration Men, Likewise Appear to Have Been Successful—Results in South Dakota Also Are Obscure, Few Precincts Having Yet Reported.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Wednesday, June 8.—This morning it was evident that Congressman Smith has been re-nominated by about 200. The friends of Rivers admit that the latter is defeated.

Des Moines, Ia., Wednesday, June 8.—All hope of making any definite announcement of the Republican nomination for governor was abandoned at 11 o'clock this morning, at which time only 150 voting precincts out of 2,900 had sent unofficial returns. On the basis of the returns received, Governor Carroll, stand-pat, has an indicated majority of 10,000 over Warren, first, progressive.

DEMOCRATS MAKE HARD FIGHT IN VAIN.

House Adopts a Special Rule by Which the Postal Bank Bill Is Placed on Its Way to Final Passage With All Possibility of Amendment Cut Off.

Washington, June 7.—With the Democrats attacking the Republicans, denouncing the insurgents for alleged insincerity and assailing the "regulars" for bringing in a "gag rule" to further a party purpose and with the Republican leaders retaliating by charging the Democrats with similar performances when they were in power, a special rule was adopted in the house today which placed the postal savings bank bill on its way to final passage with the debate limited to eight hours and all possibility of amendment cut off.

DAILY MINING JOURNAL
 A MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY THE MINING JOURNAL CO. (LIMITED.) Entered as second class matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.
 Has the weather man turned over a new leaf?
 The city budget is of the usual generous proportions.
 There's a "joker" in the railroad bill,
 we are told, but it's no laughing matter.
 The aviation dance is practicable, because its maneuvers do not call for an airship.
 The past week or so those Tigers have been giving an excellent imitation of coming up from behind.
 But no doubt the graduation essays will take care of some of these knotty problems that have stumped congress.

All things considered, President Taft and the railroad magnates got along together about as well as could have been expected.
 Senator La Follette voted for the rate bill. At last Senator La Follette and the administration have been found in agreement on something.
 It is reported that Escanaba's charter commission may recommend a commission form of government. Some upper peninsula city ought to step along this line, so that the rest of us can see how the commission plan works out.
 Congress evidently intends to file the statehood bill with other unfinished business. It is doubtless the view of the majority that there will be Democrats enough around Washington next year, without making it likely that four brand new Democratic senators would be sent up from the proposed new states.

Senator Nelson's stiff-necked attitude on conservation indicates why the senator displayed a leaning toward the Ballinger side of the controversy throughout the Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry. Possessing his strong views against the conservation program, it was natural that he should have little sympathy with Pinchot, as Pinchot is the man who first gave impetus to what Senator Nelson plainly considers "all this conservation nonsense."

A Saginaw dispatch to the Detroit News says: "A man close to one of the wealthiest men of the state stated today that the millionaire in question is assessed only about $100,000 on personal property that runs up to something like $30,000,000. The man's annual income is generally given at over $1,000, 000. There are a number of millionaires in Saginaw and it is hinted that none of them are properly assessed on their personal property. Some of these men are heavily interested in mining properties in the upper peninsula." This would appear to open up another line of inquiry for the Detroit News' taxion expert.

HARD UP.
 The Burrows people below the straits must be hard up for campaign material.
 At the Jackson celebration last week Representative Townsend indulged in a harmless pleasantry. He commented on the worry and trouble which beset the chief executive of a great nation, and turning to when Senators Burrows and Smith were sitting, said: "So, senator, I have decided that I would rather be senator than president."

It is a poverty stricken campaign bureau that has to scize on a trivial and unimportant incident such as this for a political demonstration, yet Representative Townsend's innocuous remark is taken as the text for long pro-Burrows articles pointing out how grievously the senator was misused at Jackson, and scoring Representative Townsend for his insulting conduct. President Taft, it is said, as a solace to Burrows' wounded feelings, packed him into his private car and carried him off to Washington as his guest.
 Of this attempt to make a political mountain out of an insignificant molehill Mr. Townsend said: "President Taft told me before he left that he had never had a better time in his life. I think that Mr. Burrows was treated with the utmost honor and consideration by all our people. It was at my personal instigation that he was invited to attend, and he was given the place of honor in the receiving line, next to the president. My passing remark, in referring to the arduous duties and the responsibilities of the president, that after considering the matter, I decided that I would rather be senator than president I do not think was of a sort to cause displeasure."

 It seems ridiculous to discuss such a trifling matter seriously. How ridiculous is it, then, to scize upon so unimportant an incident as a basis of ponderous political articles under the blackest of headlines? As we have remarked, the Burrows campaign bureau must be getting mighty hard up for effective ammunition.

GOOD SHOWING BY RAILROADS.
 Credit is due the railroads for the excellent showing made by them with respect to accidents during the past fiscal year. According to figures which have been furnished by the bureau of railway news and statistics, never before has an equally good record for comparative safety been made as that recorded during the last fiscal year. Of the 308 roads reporting to the bureau, 347, operating 159,657 miles of track, and carrying during the year 579,617,563 passengers, went through the year without a single fatality. Of the remaining twenty-one there were ten that had only one fatality each, and of the entire 308 there were only eleven to furnish the bulk of the casualties inevitable in railroading.
 It has been the fashion of those who criticize American railroads to point to English and continental comparative immunity from railroad horrors. Yet American roads, operating seven times the mileage of all Great Britain, and carrying more than 570,000,000 people, did not kill a passenger in an entire year.
 To put the figures in another form, the British railroads would have to have seven years of immunity from fatalities to equal this record made by American roads.

The bureau's figures show that in the six years from 1904 to 1909, inclusive, there were seventeen roads, operating 9,641 miles, that did not have a single fatality. There were ninety-five roads, operating 44,894 miles, which did not have a fatality during five years ending with the close of the last fiscal year.
 There were 177 roads, operating 57,331 miles, that did not have a fatality for four consecutive years. There were 228 roads, operating 69,713 miles, that did not have a fatality in three years. There were 287 roads, operating 108,710 miles, that did not have a fatality for two years; and, to repeat the figures for the last fiscal year, there were 347, operating 159,657 miles of track, that went through one whole year without a fatality.

It must not be forgotten that this immunity was coincident with an increase in mileage, with the multiplication of risks attendant thereon. In the immunity list are roads operated under primitive conditions, as well as those which are equipped with all the latest safety devices. The period of what may be called "railroad butchery" appears to be drawing to a close.
THE TAXATION QUESTION.
 The Grand Rapids Herald, discussing the controversy that has arisen over taxation in Michigan, expresses the opinion that there is much point to the suggestion that a commission should be named to survey the entire taxing field in the state, and to make a report to the legislature, after an exhaustive statewide investigation.
 The Herald is broad enough in its view of this question to realize the fallacy of the assumption, popular in granite circles, that in the seven mining counties of the upper peninsula are found all the inequitable tax conditions existing in Michigan. It acknowledges that inequalities in assessments and in taxes are found throughout the state, and indicates its belief that the matter at issue cannot be settled either fairly or satisfactorily until there is a statewide survey of the situation.
 Speaking of the upper peninsula mines, the Herald says: "These mines are now taxed on an ad valorem basis. It is argued that a true ad valorem assessment is physically impossible and furthermore that when the ore is taken from the mines it is taken forever and should therefore leave its proper specific tribute with the commonwealth where it originated. We can see no reason why the same logic should not apply, for example, to the salt mines of the Saginaw valley. The state grants a tonnage tax which shall exact its contribution from each ton of ore as it leaves the mine. Governor Osborn openly opposes this proposition. Governor Kelly and Governor Musselman are non-committal, each indicating that there must be further debate from both sides before an honest and equitable verdict is possible.
 They find themselves, probably, in about the same position as the average citizen.
 Furthermore, they are in the same position as the average citizen will always be, since discrimination between the superior merits of ad valorem and specified taxation methods is quite beyond the average layman in its technicalities."
 On the subject of farm lands the Herald says: "Then comes the problem of general land assessment throughout the state. It is patent that land values in large centers like Grand Rapids and Detroit are assessed at nearer their full value than smaller communities, particularly in rural districts. This at once puts upon the large cities an unjust and improper share of state taxation burdens. There is probably no question that farm lands are not assessed within a good many per cent of their full value as compared with proportionate assessments on city property. Should there not be one general ratio of assessment which should be applied without fear or favor to every kind of land value in the

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?
 Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.
 Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it; or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.
 Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

commonwealth, regardless of geography!"
 With the proposal that there should be a survey of the whole field of taxation, to determine where the inequalities exist, and how serious they are, the upper peninsula can have, and has, no possible fault to find. The only thing its mining counties object to is the disposition that they are to be singled out for special investigation and special legislation, while other parts of the state where inequalities also exist are completely ignored.
 The Mining Journal believes that the taxation question is going to come in for much attention during the next few years. It believes that the general property of the state is undervalued to such a degree that the railroads are paying a larger share of the taxes than they ought, because expert appraisal has resulted in their property being assessed well up to its actual value. Unless this wrongful condition is corrected, the railroads have an excellent chance of successfully attacking their taxes.
 But any readjustment, to be effective to make the ad valorem system safe, must embrace the entire state, and must be proceeded with deliberately, and with a firm purpose to do justice by all the conflicting interests. No legislation whatever should be attempted until all the information necessary for the enlightenment of the legislature and state officials has been secured. And there should be no legislation at all in response to prejudiced demands that particular industries be singled out for attack.

LOWER STATE NOTES.
 KALAMAZOO—Lying dead in the bottom of his boat, Jacob Rose, about thirty years old, a Kalamazoo laborer, was found on Long Lake near Chovardale.
 Rose left Kalamazoo to spend the day fishing. He was alone and at what time he died no one knows, but it is believed he died soon after going on the lake, as his boat had been drifting for several days. Physicians who examined the body say Rose died from heart failure.
 MANCERONA—George C. Jennings of Ohio, president of the Jennings Oil company, is here. The company had prospectors here last fall who reported favorable signs of oil, and Mr. Jennings is now leasing land on which he has put down wells. Over 2,000 acres have been leased well as oil. Dr. Jennings has great hopes and the price of land is being raised.

 Years ago people right in this locality testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills.
 They now confirm their testimonials.
 They say that time has completed the test.
 Mrs. Edward Hutton, 423 Ludington years my back was so weak and pained me at times so severely as to lay me up.

 In the morning upon arising I could

PURELY
 S.S.S. VEGETABLE
 It is a generally recognized fact that medicines taken from the botanical kingdom are better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way, than those composed of strong mineral mixtures.
 In the early settlement of this land, our forefathers were obliged to procure their medicines from Nature's great laboratories of forest and field. They searched out and compounded the different vegetable materials into teas, concoctions and medicines. That these pioneers found the most potent and valuable of the roots, herbs and barks placed at their disposal, is abundantly proven by the fact that the great majority of them were blessed with rugged health. They cured their diseases and were enabled to do the great preliminary work of civilization because the remedies they used were Nature's remedies, and specially adapted to the needs of humanity.
 Among the very best of these vegetable preparations is S. S. S., a medicine made entirely of roots, herbs and barks in such combination as to make it the greatest of all blood purifiers and the finest of all tonics. S. S. S. does not contain the least particle of mineral in any form, and is absolutely a safe medicine for any one to use.
 While purifying the blood this great vegetable remedy builds up and strengthens every portion of the system. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Cancer, Sores and Ulcers, Malaria, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, hereditary taints, and all other diseases and disorders caused by impure or polluted blood.
 As a tonic S. S. S. is unequalled. It invigorates every portion of the system, and the healthy blood it creates largely assists in overcoming any derangement of the digestive system. If you are suffering from any blood trouble, or need a tonic to build up your constitution, you could do better than to take S. S. S., a medicine that is in no degree harmful. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

 Insignificant Remedy.
 John S. Inglis, contracting freight agent of the Union Pacific, has been suffering for several days with a severe toothache, the first of his lifetime. He has consulted every railroad man on the "row" in an effort to find a remedy to stop the pain. Yesterday he was given a tip on a sure cure, but refused it, claiming that the remedy was worse than the ache.
 He paid a visit to the seventh floor of the Flood building, and there met a freight man who suggested the remedy.
 "It's sure to relieve you," said the friend, "but it is a severe treatment."
 "Can you take the same treatment?" asked Inglis.
 "Sure, I can stand it," replied the friend.
 "If you can stand it I am sure I can.
 What is it?" asked Inglis anxiously.
 "Place a small glass of whiskey in your mouth. Let it run around in the aching tooth and then spit it out. It's a sure cure if you can do it."

His Own Hens.
 Two neighbors kept hens and quarreled because they scratched up each other's potato rows. One sold his hens, unknown to the other, who made a large run and fastened his eye, saying:
 "Now, the first I see in my garden
 I shall shoot."
 Next day he saw a hen scratching, as usual, so he got the gun and shot it, then threw it over his neighbor's rais, saying:
 "Take your hen!"
 The hen was picked up, taken in and cooked.
 The following days the same thing happened. Still the neighbor took them up and said nothing until the seventh came over and hit him on the head.
 Then he picked it up and threw it back at his neighbor, saying:
 "Eat your own old hens! We are tired of eating them and prefer a brace of pheasants. I sold my hens over a month since!"—Tit-Bits.

ROY-BORDAS CASE AGAIN.

Supreme Court Reverses Judge Streeter's Decision for Second Time.

A Lansing dispatch yesterday morning announced that the Michigan supreme court had reversed the decision of Judge A. T. Streeter in the Houghton county circuit in the case of Mrs. Sophia Roy vs. E. P. Bordas et al. This is taken to mean that the case will be sent back for a retrial.

The case is a somewhat celebrated one in Houghton county circuit. It was brought by Mrs. Sophia Roy of Lake Linden against Rev. E. P. Bordas, Joseph Bosch, George W. Orr, Norbert Sarazin and John H. Wilson, directors in the Cor-Ago Medicine company, a corporation organized for the purpose of manufacturing and selling a medical compound known as Cor-Ago, originated or adopted by Rev. E. P. Bordas. The parties are all of Lake Linden, or were. Father Bordas now being located at Ishpeming.

Mrs. Roy purchased $1,900 of the stock of the company, which later proved unprofitable and went out of business. She brought suit in September, 1906, with J. F. Hambliter as her attorney, to recover the $1,900, alleging fraud. She alleged that the directors of the company took $30,000 from the stock of the company without paying cash for it, though the articles of incorporation stated that this amount was paid in cash. Her contention was that those directors placed this stock in their own names in order to influence others to purchase shares to purchase and attempt to finance the company through these sales.

The suit was first tried in December, 1906, and was taken from the jury and a verdict directed for the defendants by Judge Streeter. This decision was reversed by the supreme court in June, 1907. The case was retried in Houghton county in January, 1909, and Judge Streeter made the same decision as on the first trial. It is this decision which is now reversed. Mr. Hambliter said yesterday that he would bring the case to trial again. Another suit in the same circumstances and for a similar amount is pending in the interest of Nicholas Dolinger of Lake Linden, its trial probably being contingent on the outcome of Mrs. Roy's case.

Circuit Court Notes.

Arthur Remington of Chassell, charged with perjury, appeared before Judge Streeter yesterday morning. His case was adjourned for two weeks, the judge announcing that he would give it further investigation.

Matt Dziach, who at the opening of court pleaded guilty to a violation of the liquor law, appeared for sentence, but his matter was also deferred for two weeks.

The trial of the case of Arvid Sorenson opened yesterday morning. He is charged with the unlawful use of a power boat for fishing. Deputy State Game Warden Smith is present in connection with the case, as are Game Wardens Gipp and Wilson, who caused Sorenson's arrest. The case went to the jury at noon.

JOHN WILKES, WONDER WORKER.

Wellknown Traveling Man Says He Never Sees Poor Weather.

The first summerlike day which the copper country has enjoyed since Weather Observer Wiesner went to Europe was yesterday. And this fact makes possible the discussion of a somewhat remarkable coincidence. John Wilkes, who sells neckwear out of Chicago, and is at the Douglas House, arrived yesterday.

Mr. Wilkes has been traveling for ten years and he says that in all that time he has never seen bad weather in any town he has visited. When he strikes the copper country in the spring the weather is like winter. In the fall, in the winter it is on a day which may be clear and cold, but the sun is always shining and there is no kick on the weather. He declares that he never strikes a town when it is snowing or raining. He is often on trains when rainstorms are in progress, but by the time he reaches his next stop the rain is over and the sun is coming out. It never rains in the town he is visiting until just after he has left. He never carries an umbrella or raincoat and in the travel that season he is confident that it will be dry overhead always that he never carries an extra hat.

TO LOCATE IN HOUGHTON.

F. E. Harrison of Menominee With Roach & Seiber Company.

F. E. Harrison of Menominee arrived in Houghton yesterday to assume the management of the cigar department of the Roach & Seiber company. Mr. Harrison gives up a fine wholesale cigar business in Menominee to make the change.

The new Houghton resident is known all over the upper peninsula and beyond as a chicken fancier and is a director of the Copper Country Poultry association. He is one of the best liked traveling men on the road in this territory. Houghton is glad to welcome him as a resident.

HEARING OF JOSEPH MOSSO.

TOWNSHIP ROAD BUILDING.

Portage Board Will Meet June 15 to Consider Petitions.

A meeting of the Portage township board was held Monday night in the Houghton village hall, but it was of short duration. A number of farmers from various outlying districts were present to offer petitions for roads, but the board took no action, deferring the matter until the exact condition of the road fund can be learned.

The question of roads is the big one for the Portage board this year. The township covers a very large territory, the largest in the county and the most nearly virgin. New highways are necessary, but the township cannot afford to build all the required roads in any one year. And in many cases the township cannot legally appropriate money for the petitioned roads because they would be on private property.

This condition results from the fact that many of the farmers purchase interior farms, quarter sections which are not on any surveyed road. Then they ask the board to provide a means for their getting to and from their farms. This means that the board has to either purchase a right of way or secure permission to go across private property.

Highway Commissioner Lean made a comparison with Calumet township. That township raises for road work three times as much as Portage, because its valuation is so much higher and has several times a lesser amount of road to build. Portage this year raises $7,000 for road purposes and this would hardly build two miles of new road, such as is needed. The problem appeared to be one which the board can solve only in time. Money would solve it, but the township has not the money. It has the time and will probably in a few years meet the farmers all the roads they need, but the farmers can hang on long enough.

PYTHIANS TO MANIFESTIVE.

Laurium and Calumet Lodges Represented by Third Rank Teams.

DEATH OF HOWARD OSBORNE.

Former Calumet Resident Passes Away at Great Falls, Mont.

Calumet friends of R. Howard Osborne, former of Calumet, were very much surprised to learn of his death at his home at Great Falls, Mont. He died at Great Falls, Mont. He was a member of the Masonic order and also of the team that season he was enlisted to go to the Spanish-American war. While in Cuba the late Mr. Osborne did honorable service, but contracted malaria and yellow fever which, it is believed, undermined his health and probably was the result of his fatal illness. His death comes as more of a surprise as it was not known here that he was seriously ill. The funeral will take place at Great Falls today. The deceased is survived by his widow and two children. His father, Mrs. Howard Osborne, Sr., is at Great Falls, his mother is in Calumet, and his grandfather, Dr. R. H. Osborne, formerly of Calumet, is a resident of Detroit. His four sisters and three brothers are: Miss Minnie Osborne, Calumet; Mrs. M. E. Nelson, New York city; Mrs. John Miller, Calumet; Mrs. Lottie Clarke, Chicago; and Marvin, Frank and Louis Osborne, all of Calumet.

FOR THE UNITED STATES COURT.

Deputy Marshal Mosher Here Serving Subpoenas on Witnesses.

E. D. Mosher of Marquette, deputy United States marshal for the upper peninsula, has been in the copper country this week, serving subpoenas on witnesses for the coming term of the United States court. The number of copper country witnesses is small.

Mr. Mosher says that the grand jury, which will consider the cases of the Chinese arrested in Houghton county for illegal residence, will begin its sessions June 14, and that the Houghton county grand jury will probably have a hearing the latter part of the month. Mr. Mosher returned to Marquette yesterday morning.

FUNERAL OF G. HARTMAN.

The funeral of the late Gottlieb Hartman of Houghton was held yesterday from the home on Dodge street. Rev. John E. Curzon officiating. The services conducted the obsequies, which were attended by that lodge, the Sons of Hermann, the Odd Fellows and the Houghton fire department. Interment was made at Forest Hill cemetery.

How one man fooled his wife

That evening, unsuspecting the trick, Wife prepared and served some of her famous biscuit— piping hot, temptingly browned and puffed up to airy lightness, they were even more delicious than usual. Hubby, after considerable difficulty, succeeded in convincing her that the basis of the improvement was Calumet Baking Powder. And so an everlasting friend for Calumet was made.

This truthful little incident simply proves that the housewife is oftentimes prejudiced against all baking powders except the one she has been using for years. She imagines that no other kind can possibly be as good. This is a mistaken impression. A trial of Calumet will prove that it is purer, more reliable, it has a greater leavening power than any other baking powder in price.

OPEN THE GOLF SEASON.

Delayed Houghton Premier Will Be Played Today Positively.

The first regularly scheduled match of the Portage Lake Golf club for the present season will be played this afternoon at 3 o'clock. It will be a meet-the-match for the Trophy, a handicap event. It is expected that about twenty contestants will be out. The cup is the latest trophy donated to Houghton and Hancock golfers. It is presented by Miss Helen Pope, daughter of Graham Pope.

The Portage Lake Golf club today opens what will be undoubtedly the best season of its history. This has been said every season for several years, but it means more this year. The club has a new clubhouse. It has a lot of new and enthusiastic golfers and a number of new cups to play for. The big event of the season will be the Duluth-Portage Lake match for the W. D. Calverley trophy, the most important event in upper peninsula golf. Duluth is taking more interest than ever in golf this year and will send to Houghton a team which will be worthy of the mettle of any club. Portage Lake will devote the ensuing two or three weeks to developing a team, as the first match for the Calverley cup will be played at the close of this month, probably the 25th.

BELLY SEEKERS GIVE IT UP.

Southern Michigan Hunter's Disappearance Still a Mystery.

Knowing practically as little as they did last fall, when Robert Bailey walked away from camp never to return, a second party of searchers for Bailey's remains has just returned to Benton Harbor from the upper peninsula. They report a futile and unsuccessful search that after days of arduous work, through dense underbrush, of dragging rivers, of circling swamps and running down innumerable rumors and theories they could find not a single trace of the missing man. The high school student is now one of the profound mysteries of the deer regions of the north. Those in the party were Will Bailey, son of the missing man, Win Kidenour of Eau Claire, Jerry Gould and Russell Sheldon.

Secretary of Michigan Game Board Completes Investigations.

Dr. F. W. Shumway of Lansing, secretary of the state board of health, who has been in the copper country investigating the Jensen leprosy case in Mount Pleasant Heights, left for Lansing yesterday. Dr. Shumway, with Dr. T. M. McCintock of Washington, D. C., who accompanied him here, examined the members of the leper's family, Mrs. Jensen, her daughter, and her son, and pronounced them free of the disease.

Mr. Brennan is a graduate of the law department of the University of Michigan and Mr. Culver is a graduate of the University of Virginia law school.

ANOTHER PRIZE FOR CORN.

Secretary McNamara of the Copper Country Fair announced that John W. Black has done $10 to be distributed as prizes in a special corn contest. It is divided into $5, $3 and $2 for the best six ears of corn grown by anybody in Houghton county. It is a contest apart from the school corn contest. Mr. Black believes, with the fair manager, that corn can be grown profitably in Houghton county as a special corn contest. It is a circular letter referred to. Mining News

PORPHYRY MINE CONTROVERSY.
Hayden, Stone & Co. have given answer to the Engineering & Mining Journal, which recently took issue with the circular letter issued by the banking house on the low grade porphyry copper mines. In brief, Hayden, Stone & Co. state that the authority for their cost figures is an engineer who stands second to none in his knowledge and judgment of porphyry properties.

The estimate of 7 1/2 cents per pound as the cost of Miami's copper is based upon the expectation that Miami will be able to show an operating cost of 33 per cent and a recovery of forty pounds of copper per ton. Last year the Utah Copper company handled its ore for less than 82 per cent and "the only difference between Utah copper and Miami, favorable to Utah copper, is in the cost of mining the ore, and there is surely not a difference here of 81 per cent."

Utah Copper as yet makes no charges for depreciation but it is explained that up to the present time Utah copper has been largely a growing and constructive proposition, and even yet has not obtained its full growth. When the proper time comes to take up the matter of depreciation, it will be dealt with in a liberal manner, "and we would state that in comparison with underground mining propositions, there is apparently so little to depreciate that this item will play a much less important part than some have supposed."

In answer to the criticism that the net value of a mine is not properly reckoned by multiplying the tonnage of ore in sight by the present net value of one ton, the reply is made that this is so self-evident that it was not considered necessary to raise the point in the circular letter referred to. "What we did attempt to show and what we believe we did show was simply that the net values developed are largely in excess of the present selling values of the shares." This statement would still hold good after making all allowances for amortization, loss of interest, etc.

It is stated that the Utah Copper and Nevada Consolidated have a combined output of over 150,000,000 pounds of copper per annum and are paying dividends on the copper of over $6,000,000. This is just about equal to the dividends paid in 1909 by all the copper mining companies in the Lake Superior district, though their combined annual output is about 100,000,000 pounds greater than that of the Utah Copper and Nevada Consolidated.

LIVE OAK.

In the light of the recent developments at the Live Oak mine, it seems likely that an important low grade proposition will be developed there. Last January, the company, in its annual report, announced 1,250,000 tons of coal, which are averaging 2 1/2 per cent copper. It has been paying 2 1/2 per cent on the Live Oak mine. This ore body has been increased by the results of churn drill operations which have been under way for six weeks. The latest encouraging development is the striking of ore in drill hole No. 3, which has been put down at a distance of 700 feet west of the vertical shaft. This hole first penetrated the ore body 300 feet from the surface and has since passed through the ore fifty-five feet. The drill is still sinking in chalcocite averaging 2 1/2 per cent copper. As drill No. 208 has been driven east for 191 feet through the ore on the 200-foot level, the recent ore strike at hole No. 3 is taken to show that the east and west extent of the ore body at the Live Oak mine is no less than 861 feet. So far as the shaft sinking and churn drill operations have indicated, the average thickness of the ore is between 150 feet and 200 feet. The fourth churn drill hole, which is being sunk about 600 feet southwest of the shaft, is 320 feet deep and the material which is being encountered at that depth is the copper which ordinarily overlies the ore body of Miami district. This hole will probably encounter ore in a few days.

WARRIOR.

The Warrior mine continues to maintain its record as one of the producers of high grade copper ore in the state. The distribution of the shipment of chalcocite ore, averaging about 10 per cent copper, which have been made for years past, it is estimated that today the mine has more ore in sight than since it was taken over by the Florida Copper and Iron Company last October. The company is shipping seventy-five tons of ore daily to the El Paso smelter. Most of this is taken from the stopes above the 300 and 250-foot levels. At present, the main drift on the 200-foot level, which is being driven west, is enabling the management to put up raises preparatory to stopping what is declared to be one of the greatest high grade ore chutes ever developed in the globe district. While the mining and underground development work are being carried rapidly forward, churn drill operations are developing sulphide ore at depth. The Miami claim is located on the western part of the Warrior property not far from the Inspiration line and only several hundred feet distant from the Scorpion shaft, where chalcocite ore is being constantly developed on the 275-foot level. The drill is now working in a satisfactory manner and the hole on the Miami claim has been put down to a depth of 130 feet.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

An analysis of the list of stockholders of the Lake Copper company develops the fact that 60 per cent or 32,290 shares of the total issued capital of 86,600 shares stands in the names of brokerage houses. Fitzgerald, Hubbard & Co., Hayden, Stone & Co. and Paine, Webber & Co. are the largest holders of record and in the order named, their stock representing about 38 per cent of the total outstanding. Of the Fitzgerald, Hubbard & Co.'s stock, 13,141 shares stand in the names of 290 individuals. Of course, the individual holding is larger than has been indicated, as the stock standing in Adventure is sinking a shaft which has reached a depth of a trifle more than 600 feet. This No. 5 shaft, it is hoped, will tap the three holes which were located some time ago by means of diamon-d drill explorations. These three holes overlay each other and it is the third, or last, which gave the best drill core indications, and it is in this hole that the management hopes to find commercial copper. It is not expected, however, that this hole will be cut until the shaft has reached a depth of 2,000 feet. Sinking is progressing at the rate of about seventy feet a month, although this record was not sustained during May, owing to unfavorable weather. The encouraging developments in the vicinity of Adventure are of vital importance. The opening of the Lake lode has created renewed interest in that district and it is not impossible that in time Adventure will be successfully located a good copper lode within its territory.

Assuming that Wolverine continues its present rate of production about 20,000,000 pounds of refined copper per year—it has about twenty-five years of ore reserves. In other words, if the copper output of the lode remains at present rate, Wolverine should produce 250,000,000 pounds of copper before the mine is exhausted. Wolverine is a small property, and its life is measured by its boundary lines. When it exhausts the copper in its Keenange hole it will have no available territory to prospect. Wolverine is a low cost producer, the cost for 1909 being 7.75 cents per pound. If copper did drop to ten cents it could earn a little more than 84 per share on its 60,000 shares. An investor in Wolverine who intends to stand by it to the end, should set aside each year at least 84 per share from his dividends to cover ore exhaustion. At 118 for the stock and considering 84 per year as a sinking fund, Wolverine, at 118 and paying 84 dividends, nets a trifle over 5 per cent on the investment.

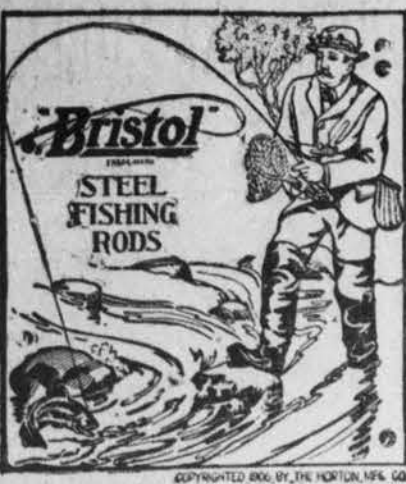

There would seem to be possibilities in connection with the further development of the Butte & Ballaklava property. Although its territory is comparatively small, embracing only six and one-half acres, the property has an east-west length on the strike of the lode of 1,600 feet. There are those, and they are well posted men, who believe that the Butte Ballaklava company possesses the richest small, undeveloped copper property in the present time. The average mineral recovery in May was better than 11 per cent copper and sixteen ounces of silver and in shipping only two cars of ore per day to the smelter at the East Butte company, the company earned $45,000 net in April and $85,000 net for May. The company has 250,000 shares outstanding and plans shortly to inaugurate dividends at the quarterly rate of fifty cents per share. The Secretary of the company, who has been a shareholder and that the stock is well distributed.

MAY LIMIT CLAIMS FEES.

Congress Gets on the Trail of Grasping Attorneys.

Action Due to the Claims of $282,000 for Overtime for Letter Carriers—Fine of $500 or a Year's Imprisonment for Charging More Than Five Per Cent Is Proposed.

Washington, June 7.—Congress has made up its mind to prohibit the excessive fees of claims attorneys, and if certain statesmen have their way, no one having a legitimate personal claim against the government will make any money out of it except the claimant. This state of mind has been brought about partly by the situation which has arisen over the bill to pay about $282,000 for overtime for letter carriers. The bill has been before congress for several years and always has been recognized as representing legitimate demands. It passed the senate, but the house had tacked on previously and unexpectedly an amendment making it a crime for any attorney or other person to receive more than five per cent of the face of the claim for services rendered in presenting the claim to congress. The amendment affixed imposed a penalty of $500 fine or not more than one year's imprisonment for violation of the act.

Quiet Fourth Expected—Present indications are that the Fourth of July will be very quiet in Marquette county. There will be no formal celebration here and it is reported that Ishpeming has decided not to celebrate. It is several years since Marquette had a real old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration, and local people have grown away from that sort of thing and prefer to show their patriotism in a more sane manner.

Report from Detroit—According to a dispatch from Detroit received last night, a report from Rome says that Marguerite Bourgeois, of Marquette, founder of the congregation, Sister of Our Lord, may be canonized by the pope. Rev. Father Pinton stated last evening that no such congregation had ever existed in this diocese and that he never heard of the sister, reported to be from this city.

Interest in Iowa Elections—Much interest was manifested locally in the primary elections held in Iowa yesterday, in which the issue seems to be squarely that of the insurgents against the stand patters. Marquette politicians generally felt that the result of primary in the Hawkeye state would give a fair indication of the strength of the insurgent movement in the Central West.

C. C. Carlisle is attending the Knights of Pythias convention at Manistique.

Art Exhibition—The fine collection of William P. Silva's paintings on exhibition at the Guild Hall this week is the subject of universal favorable comment among those who have inspected the paintings. The attendance thus far, however, has not been as large as it should be. The collection presents a wide range of subjects and variety of treatment and the Art League is entitled to praise for bringing it to the city. The exhibition will be open each afternoon and evening this week.

Ex-Sheriff Joins Mining Police—David F. Foley, chief of police for the Oliver Iron Mining company, has appointed Ed. Sensiba policeman for the Doler mine at Iron River. Mr. Sensiba was formerly sheriff of Iron county and was recognized as a careful and efficient official.

An Iron Mountain Man—The Brooklyn (Mich.) board has engaged the services of Donald O'Hara, of Iron Mountain, as principal of the Brooklyn schools for next year. Mr. O'Hara has had four years' experience as teacher, he has had two years' literary work at the University of Wisconsin and this year graduates from the Michigan State Normal. Professor D. H. Roberts, of the Normal Training school, states that O'Hara stands at the head of his class as a student and teacher. Brooklyn has a population of about 1,500 and is one of the most prosperous villages in Michigan.

Good Crops Promised—In many districts of the upper peninsula, and in Chippewa county especially, the prospects for a bumper crop of hay are reported very bright. This is generally true of peas and other crops, though in a few instances it is feared that the former was injured by the recent heavy rains. Had extremely warm weather followed the heavy rainfall the story would have been different, but now a reasonable amount of moisture during the coming summer months will insure for every progressive farmer in most localities a very good harvest this fall. An unusual amount of peas has been sown, and as the contract prices range from $1.25 to $1.75 the crop should prove a most profitable one.

Automobiles Popular There—The Iron River Transit company has received a seven-passenger touring car and is now in position to cater to the traveling public or pleasure parties better than ever. With the advent of this car the west end of Iron county is pretty well supplied with automobiles, more so than any other district of its size along the Menominee iron range. Those owning automobiles from Iron River and Stambaugh are: W. H. Jobe, Dr. McBurney, W. E. Campbell, E. W. Young, R. F. Gibbs, Dr. E. M. Libby, Transit company, G. L. Woodworth, Captain J. S. Wall, W. H. Schalen, Iron company garage, M. J. McDonald, D. E. Klinglund, Dan Montomble, Olaf Hansen and E. S. Roberts.

May Adopt the Commission Plan—Escanaba, which recently elected a non-partisan charter commission, will have a new charter, and very likely on the Iowan plan. This provides for the election of a mayor and four councilmen who shall head five departments of the administration, and together act as a city council. The employment of all assistants and expenditure of the public funds is in their hands. This is intended to secure a strongly centralized, efficient and economical administration of the city. These officers are subject to removal at any time by popular vote. The merits of the plan, if it possesses any, will be in its economy; for it can hardly be expected that any better grade of officials will be elected by the public under any charter system.

Formerly of Newberry—Dr. F. W. Neal, who has passed away at his home in Grand Rapids after a long and painful illness from cancer of the hip, was a former upper peninsula man. The deceased was attacked with the dread disease about a year ago and although he had the benefit of the best medical skill in the country nothing could be done to check the ravages. His last days were filled with the most acute suffering. Dr. Neal located in Newberry in the early nineties, immediately after graduating from college, and built up a successful practice. Soon after locating in the upper peninsula he was married to Miss Noble of Connersville. Three children were born to the union, two of whom are living. Of a jovial and hearty disposition he made friends readily and was one of the most popular and best known men in Lake county. He took an active part in political matters. In 1905, desiring a wider field for his activities, he disposed of his practice and drug business and removed to Grand Rapids, where he had since resided. His wife survives him.

Saves Boy from Drowning—Joe Haller, twelve-year-old son of Adam Haller, fell into the forebay of the Chandler-Dunbar power canal at the saw and mill it had been for the ready assistance rendered by Mrs. Julia B. Stevens the little fellow would undoubtedly have drowned. Mrs. Stevens, who was in the vicinity at the time, in charge of some other children, saw the halter boy in the water and immediately leaped in to his relief. Though in deep water she managed to keep the little fellow afloat until one of the foremen of the Marsh-Robbins company came to their assistance. The accident occurred near the little dock above the power house, and as there is about fifteen feet of water very near the shore line it is held rather remarkable that both the boy and his rescuer were not both drowned.

His Colt Wins a Medal—A. T. Eagle of Chippewa county has received a silver medal in silk lined Morocco case given by the Canadian Bank of Commerce as a sweepstakes prize for best colt of any age or breed exhibited at the fall fair at the Canadian Soc. The medal is a beauty. It is pure silver and weighs three and one-quarter ounces. On the face is a farm scene, including buildings, poultry, horses, cattle, sheep and swine, encircled with a wreath of grain, fruit and vegetables, pressed in the die. On the obverse side of the medal is an escutcheon surrounded by wreaths of flowers and around the center and pressed in the die are the words, "The Canadian Bank of Commerce." On the reverse side of the medal is an engraved emblem of commerce. Engraved on the central field are the words: "Central Algoma Agricultural Society—awarded to A. T. Eagle for the best colt on the grounds Sept., 1909." The colt that won this medal was a two-year-old trotting bred Chestnut stallion, bred and raised by Mr. Eagle, as handsome as the medal itself and is a decided credit to Chippewa county. This youngster not only won the championship at the Canadian fair, but at the Chippewa county fair as well, and first prize at each of the fairs held at Pickford and Stairwell last fall. The twelve judges at the four fairs being unanimous in favor of Mr. Eagle's colt. The medal contest was decided by the Canadian government expert.

HARD CAMPAIGN IN INDIANA

Both of the Parties Are Making Extensive Preparations.

Most of the Republicans for Congress Are Progressives—Indications Are All Favorable for Beveridge—Taggart's Power Is Waning and New Leader Is Needed by the Democrats.

Indianapolis, June 7.—Both the Democrats and Republicans are clearing away early for the campaign of this year. Congressional conventions are being rushed. Most of the legislative candidates will be ready for the campaign by the middle of the month and both of the great parties will be in fighting array fully two months before the date of election. This is significant that both parties are expecting a hard campaign. The Democrats are now more nearly ready for a campaign than are the Republicans. Some dead timber must be disposed of by the Republicans before the real battle begins. It must be ascertained just where former United States Senator James A. Hennebery and James E. Watson, close friends of Joseph L. Cannon, both well-known standpatters, will be in the campaign. If they are to hold to their standpatters policies there will be no place for them in the contest which will be engineered by Senator Beveridge and his progressive policies. The campaign will be progressive from the start and the main issue will be policies. This is well illustrated by the statement made by an up-state politician who is prominent in the present state organization. "We are not fully cleared away for action," he said, "but we will be ready pretty soon. We are going to have a very positive attitude of a few former prominent Republican leaders. Whether they will be permitted to take part in the campaign will depend entirely on the views they take."

Another evidence that the Republicans are in earnest is that not long ago at a meeting of the Republican state committee from the seventh or Indianapolis district and one of the political managers of Senator Beveridge offered a resolution to the effect that neither James A. Hennebery nor James E. Watson should be permitted to take part in the coming campaign until they had made known definitely their position on adopted by the committee and about this time Will Hays, committee man from the second district, came into the room, and finding out what had been done raised a furor until the resolution had been rescinded. An effort was made to another this action but it got out and has reached the ears of both Hennebery and Watson. As another evidence that the campaign is to be fought out along progressive lines with little regard for the old standpatter Republicans that new material is being put forth in all of the congressional districts. More than half of the congressional districts of Indiana have chosen their Republican congressional committee. In this district, Lincoln A. Cox is the nominee, and is a member of the new order. His nomination was largely in the hands of the Beveridge people. In the second congressional district the old order has been overthrown and former State Senator Oscar E. Blant, an ardent follower of Senator Beveridge, is the nominee for congress.

Edward E. Neal, former president of the Indiana League of Republican Clubs of the new order, is the Republican nominee in the ninth district. In the thirteenth district John Moorman, a newspaper man, is the nominee, and is decidedly progressive. In the eleventh district the nominee is John L. Thompson, a well-known manufacturer. He is not so much allied with either the old order or the new. Of all of the districts where nominations have been made, only in the sixth and tenth is the old order to any degree maintained. In the tenth Congressman Crumpacker won the nomination, and in the sixth Congressman Barnard.

The word is out that in the other six districts where nominations are to be made the new order will be in the ascendancy, and the men nominated will be men who are in tune with the progressiveness of Senator Beveridge. In fact, the political affairs of Senator Beveridge seem to be going forward in an excellent way except for some of the acts of his managers in Indianapolis. In the recent primaries in the seventh district the Beveridge people put out a legislative slate instructing the voters that all of the men on this slate were for Senator Beveridge and thereby insinuating that a slate of six legislative candidates backed by Joseph Keating, formerly manager of former Vice President Fairbanks, and a power in Republican politics in Indiana, was not for Senator Beveridge. When the votes were counted it was found that the legislative slate of Mr. Keating had been victorious with not an exception, and also that W. D. Headrick, the candidate for prosecuting attorney, who, supposedly with encouragement from the Beveridge people had started a story about the scheme to double cross Senator Beveridge had been badly defeated. Of course, this gave out the impression that the Beveridge men had been defeated in the primary, and that a plan to check Senator Beveridge had received impetus. The true situation is understood here in Indianapolis, but in the state it is hard to give the impression that Senator Beveridge has not met with defeat in a legislative campaign in his own district.

The Democrats also have made their congressional nominations in seven congressional districts. In six of these the present congressmen have been renominated. Only in the sixth there new material. In this district Finley Gray, mayor of Connersville, was nominated. In all of the other districts except the tenth, the Democrats have congressmen and it is practically certain that all will be renominated. In the tenth the organization of Thomas Taggart is in a bad way now and, if it survives, Mr. Taggart will have to give it close attention. Taggart's strength was greatly weakened by the attitude he assumed in the Democratic primaries held recently in this district. The organization for the primaries was formed under his direction. After the organization had been formed Taggart left Indianapolis for French Lick and left his affairs in the hands of Joseph E. Bell, a lawyer, attorney, and James L. Keach, who several years ago was lined up against the Taggart element. Bell and Keach both are known as astute politicians, but they allowed the Taggart machine to get into the ditch. As a result of the internal dissensions several of the prominent Taggart politicians cut loose from the organization several days before the nominations were made. They did not like the attitude of the demagogue, Keach, who was formerly lined up against them. To make matters worse, about two days before the primaries certain of the Taggart leaders who were backing certain candidates, allied themselves with anti-Taggart leaders who were backing certain other candidates.

About this time the leaders of the machine tried to get into communication with Taggart, but failed to locate him and, to their great surprise, on the morning following the nomination were made, the machine leaders read in the newspapers that Taggart was out of reach in Washington, hobnobbing with the Democratic Indiana delegation in congress. The machine leaders thereupon threw up their hands and the next day in the primaries they got just what they had been fearing. The machine slate was defeated from top to bottom. The general conclusion is that Taggart's power in Indiana and that the Democratic leadership must be taken up either by Governor Marshall or Senator Shively.

SCARED INTO SOUND HEALTH.

Mr. B. F. Kelley, Springfield, Ill., writes: "A year ago I began to be troubled with my kidneys and bladder, which grew worse until I became alarmed at my condition. I suffered also with dull heavy headaches and the action of my bladder was annoying and painful. I read of Foley's Kidney Pills and after taking them a few weeks the headaches left me. The action of my bladder was again normal, and I was free of all distress." Sold by all druggists.

MARKETS

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, June 7.—Paine, Webber & Co. said that the market was "The sentiment apparently was much improved by the developments at yesterday's conference, but still a difference of opinion as to the probable effect of the compromise is noticeable, and it is questionable whether the arrangement clears the situation. The matter of what constitutes a reasonable advance in rates has still to be decided, and it depends altogether upon the attitude of congress whether or not the railroad bill will be ready for the president's signature at an early date. There appears to our minds sufficient uncertainty in the outlook to warrant the exercising of extreme caution, although admittedly prices may be advanced further at the expiration of the shorts. Confidence has received a severe shock from which it cannot, and probably will not, recover immediately, and the most unfortunate part of the whole affair is that the attitude of both the foreign bankers and investors is not so cordial towards American issues until it has been fully demonstrated that a recurrence of the recent happenings is not to be expected in the near future."

Closing prices were as follows:

Boston Stock Quotations.

Boston, Mass., June 7.—Today's stock market at Boston is summarized by Paine, Webber & Co. as follows: "The conference between the railroad presidents and President Taft resulted in an amicable understanding and a general business restored to a great extent. The shorts covered today, and their buying closed the entire list at the top. The market has two sides now and can be safely bought on all breaks. Its future now depends on the crops and general business. We cannot expect any substantial boom right away, but we think things look better and safer than they have for several months and we advise buying the good stocks whenever they are weak."

The closing prices were:

The number of shares sold during the day were as follows:

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, June 7.—Twice today the wheat market broke badly because the short interest had been squeezed out in the rapid advances. The July was more tightly than the deferred, because of a trap in that future. The close, however, was fairly steady at a net loss of 1/4 to 3/4%. So sudden was the latest collapse that ten minutes made a difference of 1 1/2 a bushel. The immediate cause, as in the previous condition earlier, was that the pit had become entirely bare of buying orders. More fundamental was the fact that the forecasts for the spring wheat districts were for shovely and warmer weather, an ideal outlook. Hence, some optimistic word as to the threshing returns, some yields being twenty bushels an acre. The cash wheat prices at Kansas City were said to be falling because of the expected resulting competition from the Southwest. The market here today for cash wheat 76 cent; lowest, 75 1/2; highest, 76 1/2; closed, 76 1/4. Corn opened weak and dragged all day. The weather conditions for the crop were said to be the best since 1905. The September opened at 91 1/2; closed, 91 1/2. Oats closed 54 1/2. Country selling and fine crop prospects were against the price of oats. The September opened at 35 1/2; highest, 36; lowest, 35 1/2; closed, 35 1/2.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s Wheat Letter.

Chicago, June 7.—The La Salle street heavy selling of wheat the last hour, especially directed against the July in a volume which the pit trade could not take care of, forced the late break in the market. The opinions on the spring crop conditions are conflicting. The advice on cash wheat prices in the southwest markets are just as puzzling. Mr. Ingis is sending reports from Indiana about wheat falling down because of hessian fly damage. Regardless of the raiding of the market late in the session, there is an absence of that bearishness in the trade so noticeable for some time past.

New York Cotton Market.

[Paine, Webber & Co.] New York, June 7.—The further realization that the crop must pass through some months yet, covering practically its entire period of growth, and that it is necessary that weather during that time be almost perfect, if the production be equal to demands, is a stumbling block to those whose inclinations are to sell cotton because the price is high. It was a case of shorts covering today, on a heavy demand for both Indian and spot cotton. At some points in the south the market was up 1-16 to 1/8 for the raw article. The weather was not so good, being too cool in Texas and some of the Atlantic states.

CONGRESS OVERBURDENED WITH INVESTIGATIONS.

Probes of Various Sorts Take Up Much Time and Are Likely to Have No Important Consequences, After All.

Washington, June 7.—Congress is topehavy with investigations which will amount to very little after all. The ship subsidy investigation, like the national currency report that will startle anybody. This committee has practically concluded its labors. For one thing, the investigation has apparently proved conclusively that there was not the slightest foundation for the charge repeatedly made by Cleveland O. chant Marine league of Cleveland O. that the foreign ship owners were responsible for much of the opposition to ship subsidy legislation. The officers of the Merchant Marine league, as well as the men employed by the league to prepare legislation, are not to blame for the opposition. They had no evidence of any conspiracy on the part of the ship owners or anybody else to defeat subsidy legislation. The ship owners themselves have been before the committee and have made their own statements. They have not been engaged in any campaign against subsidy legislation. According to their testimony they never paid the slightest attention to the "literature" that was put out by the Merchant Marine league until they were asked to assist in the United States and South America are inadequate. The foreign ship owners testified that they regarded this assertion as a reflection on their business and cooperated in an effort to disprove it. This investigation has resulted in proving anything it is that the Merchant Marine league did the cause of ship subsidy a great deal more harm than good, by pursuing a campaign of criticism and denunciation.

New Jersey Platform.

Numerous state reforms are advocated by the platform, such as publicity of campaign contributions and expenses, the regulation and taxation of public utilities, an employers' liability act, home rule and conservation of natural resources. The platform takes issue with the Aldrich-Payne tariff law. "We denounce the Aldrich-Payne tariff law as an act in the interest of trusts and monopolies, and demand the enactment of a tariff law in conformity with the national Republican platform, so that the duty of imported articles shall not exceed the difference between the cost of production of such articles here and abroad, and such differences to be ascertained by a commission of experts. More than this is unjust to the consumer; less than this is unjust to the labor and capital employed in an industry." Says the final paragraph of the platform: "If these reforms can be written into the law the power of the political bosses and machines will be largely broken, the control of money over the people will be abolished, and we will have a government controlled by the actual choice of the people and free to approach the study of public questions from the standpoint of the people. This will be actual representative government, that will be fatal to monopoly and privilege in any form." The insurgents announce that they will make a last ditch fight to defeat United States Senator John Keane for re-election. Keane, it is asserted, is representative of the worst type of standpatter in congress. About the time the six insurgent congressmen were picking out a candidate for governor and making a platform for him, Representative Charles N. Fowler was publicly denouncing Senator Keane. The insurgents have not yet decided who shall be the first insurgent candidate against Keane. They may not decide this question until after the legislature is elected. The first step is to make sure of a legislature that will vote for the election of a progressive senator. It is generally understood that Representative Fowler would like to have Keane's seat. George L. Record, who was one of the leaders in the New Idea movement, also desires to be the man to defeat Keane. The insurgents seem to be very confident of having their way in the state this year. Of course, time only can show whether they are over-confident. Ex-Governors Stokes and Murphy may be in the field, under other auspices.

Insurgency in New England.

The Republican insurgents in congress are very certain that this sudden outbreak in New Jersey is only the forerunner of other manifestations that will appear in the Eastern part of the United States before the fall campaigns come on. A member of the house of representatives—not an insurgent—who was called to New England on business last week is telling his friends here since his return that he was amazed to find so much insurgency within the party in that section of the country. "They have kept it pretty well bottled up here," said he, "but they cannot control it much longer. I think it may be stated as a fact that there is much insurgency in Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts as there is in any of the so-called insurgent states of the central West."

Little Done on Third Degree.

Then there is the "third degree" investigation ordered by the senate. So far Senator Heyburn of Idaho, who is chairman of the investigating committee, has not been able to make much progress. Senators designated to serve on the committee have been begging to be released from their duties. There has been made since the original committee was appointed. The Lorimer investigation promises to be one of the most celebrated ever ordered by the senate. It will undoubtedly run for months and is bound to result in revealing political dirt here before the fall campaigns in Illinois in recent years. On the whole it has been a great session for investigations. The record has been broken. The Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry was, of course, the headliner. Whether any real progress has been made out of any of the inquiries is a question about which men differ.

REBELS RISE IN THE EAST.

A Strong Force Is Mobilizing in New Jersey.

Parmenter Martin to Lead the Forces of the Insurgents Against the Old Guard, and a Scouting Party Is Out to Capture Senator Keane-Fowler Willing to Take His Place.

Washington, June 7.—Insurgency is showing symptoms of being as strong in New England as in the Middle West. Not only New England but the conservative East generally is waking up over the political situation and the old-line managers do not know what to expect next. One of the sharpest schemes is in the state of New Jersey, where Representative Charles N. Fowler is fighting Senator John Keane for re-election, and Keane's friends admit that he has a real fight on. The New Idea movement has been a feature of New Jersey politics for some years. It gained momentum rapidly and at one time threatened to sweep the old-line leaders, but they finally were able to chloroform it. The insurgency of today is building on the ruins of the old temple of reform, with many of the same men prominent in both movements. Apparently the New Jersey insurgents are serious. They have organized with the view of controlling the Republican nomination for governor, of defeating United States Senator John Keane for re-election and of sending insurgents to represent the state in the national congress. They have already have selected Parmenter Martin to be their candidate for governor. Six hundred of the leading men of the state attended the recent dinner at Newark where the campaign of the insurgents was formally opened. Representative George L. Record of Nebraska, who led the fight in the house of representatives that resulted in the reorganization of the committee and rules and the elimination of Speaker Cannon therefrom, was the principal speaker at this meeting. The Nebraska plan relates that he never faced an audience west of the Missouri River that was more heartily in sympathy with the insurgent movement. He was greatly surprised to find insurgency rampant in a state which has come to be known as the home of the greatest of the trusts.

The insurgents have not only picked Mr. Martin to be their candidate, but have provided him with a platform to run on. This platform declares that the high cost of living, the unequal distribution of the nation's wealth, the piling up of unearned fortunes and the "widespread corruption in politics are due largely to the existence of advantages enjoyed by certain trusts," who are favored with special privileges. It has secured the state and national laws, and partly by the failure of public officials to enforce existing laws. These abuses, says the platform, are mainly due to the boss system in politics, which cannot be eradicated except by reforms in the primary and general election laws.

spent four hours with him before I could get him to talk about the business matter that had brought me to see him. He wanted to know about the insurgent movement in congress, about the men who are responsible for it, about the probability of its growth in congress and out of congress, etc. He expressed himself as wholly in sympathy with the movement and said to me that four-fifths of the business men of New England endorse the Democratic ticket. If this notion takes possession of large numbers of insurgents, something may happen to the old Republican party in these New England States."

WHEN LODGE OUTWITTED PLATT.

The late Senator T. C. Platt had a habit of speaking his mind freely and at times he took little or no pains to conceal his opinions of men and measures. He said that Carl Schurz was a lively German peddler of apples of discord and a retail dealer in vinegar manufactured from the juice of sour apples, and wanted it printed too. Platt usually grinned when a clever snapper outwitted him. He so thoroughly appreciated cleverness that he seldom became angry when he was outwitted. On the day that Platt was sworn in as United States senator, on March 4, 1887, he learned that Roosevelt was a candidate for assistant secretary of the navy and his appointment had the support of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and Senator John D. Long, McKinley's secretary of the navy, opposed the appointment, saying, "Roosevelt will dominate the department within six months."

"What's Lodge and Quay meddling in the patronage of New York for?" snapped Platt. "I won't have Roosevelt." Without the endorsement of Platt, then the only Republican United States senator for New York, Roosevelt could not have been appointed. Senator Lodge, aware that Roosevelt had a friend in New York city who was also a friend of Platt's, stole over to New York and got a letter from this friend to Senator Platt asking the latter to withdraw his opposition to Roosevelt. Meantime Roosevelt received word that if Platt withdrew his opposition he must call on Platt at the Arlington Hotel in Washington and personally thank him.

When Platt received the letter he picked up his hat in the Arlington Hotel, strode over to the White House and told McKinley that he withdrew all opposition to Colonel Roosevelt's appointment as assistant secretary of the navy. Roosevelt thereupon did his part by calling on Platt and personally thanking him. This episode got abroad among Roosevelt's friends, among them the good Jacob Riis. Mr. Riis was loud in his protestations, saying "Roosevelt did not owe his appointment to Platt, and anybody who says he called on Platt and personally thanked him for it is mistaken."

Coming over from Washington several days after Platt was informed how it came about that that letter was sent to him which requested him to withdraw his opposition to Roosevelt. "He wasn't at all diffident, he snuffed all over, as it were, as he reflectively said: "So that was one of Lodge's dodges, was it?"

THE SEINE FLOOD.

French Scientists Now See Geological Causes of It.

There appears to be a consensus of opinion among the French scientists that the causes of the recent phenomenal rise of the Seine, when it reached the record height of thirty-one feet two inches, are to be found more in geological than in meteorological conditions. The basin of the Seine and the streams that are tributary to it consist of a light alluvial soil; and, as the slopes are gentle, any sudden precipitation is ordinarily absorbed by the ground. In winter, when the soil is frozen, the water, saturated by the rains, there is a risk that the run-off of a heavy precipitation will be so large and sudden as to overtax the capacity of the river channels. These conditions obtained to marked degree during the recent enormous heavy rainfall and flood. Moreover, the geologist is of the opinion that the heavy rains preceding the flood found the soil of the Seine watershed so thoroughly impermeable because of saturation, that the water ran off as swiftly as if it would from the surface of an asphalted or cemented street. Furthermore, it seems to be generally agreed that the denudation of the forests in the higher regions of the watershed has been contributing cause to the flood. Not only do the trees assist evaporation, but the forest undergrowth also exerts a material influence in retarding the flow of the water.

Referring to the question of the prevention of future floods, there is an alternative plan to that of dredging or widening the channel and the removal of river piers which, were it not for the enormous expense involved, would afford an absolute safeguard against future disasters. We refer to the project now being employed by the Austrian engineers to prevent the flooding of the city of Vienna by the river Danube. This consisted in cutting an artificial channel entirely around the city, through which after the water reaches a certain elevation, all the surplus waters are diverted and discharged into the river below the city. It would be possible to create a similar by-pass around the city of Paris; but the cost, due to the great value of the land which would have to be condemned, would probably be found to be prohibitive.—Scientific American.

President Dow of the Franklin Mining company says: "The Franklin mine is looking very well and the rock contains much more value than was estimated at the twenty-eighth level. The crosscut at that level has cut and has struck into some good copper ground. The twenty-fifth level north has opened up some of the best ground we have yet seen. The fifteenth level south will be connected with the No. 3 shaft some time this month, where a flat will be cut and a crosscut driven across the formation in order to determine which of the Peewee lodes the shaft is in. There are three of these. We expect a considerable increase in production this month, and the rock is showing up somewhat richer."

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain. When taken at meal-time it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment. This action upon the digestive process is of great importance, as it brings to all the tissues and organs of the body the nutrient necessary to their sustenance and indirectly to the whole system strength and vigor. It makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It is an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark—the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00 a large bottle. Write Medical Department, The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for doctor's advice and an illustrated medical booklet, containing testimonials and rules for health, both sent free.

Negaunee Department

CAPTAIN J. PIPER HAS RETURNED

WELLKNOWN MINING MAN HAS GIVEN UP POSITION WITH THE TENNESSEE COAL, IRON & RAILWAY COMPANY.

Captain James Piper and family, formerly of Negaunee, passed through here yesterday morning, enroute for Marquette, where they will probably make their home in the future. Captain Piper resigned his position as general superintendent of the Alabama mines operated by the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railway company in March. He accepted the position three years ago last January, and during the time he was in charge of the mines they were extensively developed and improved.

Captain Piper had fourteen mines to look after, all in and near Birmingham. Over 2,000 men were employed. These mines produce hard ore and most of them are located on high land surrounding the city. Mining work is conducted on somewhat different lines in Alabama than in the Lake Superior district. Most of the workmen are negroes. Because the labor is unskilled the operators are many times at a disadvantage. The negroes, as a rule, will not work steadily and they cannot be depended upon as the white men can. Nearly every day is pay day with the negroes, as most of them live from hand to mouth.

The company added considerably to its mineral possessions during the period that Captain Piper had charge of its properties. Large investments have been made in new railroads, smelters and lands, and within a few years the company will be employing many more men than are now working in the Birmingham district. The ore is being mined at a low cost and many immense bodies have been located.

Before accepting the place with the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railway company, Captain Piper had charge of the Hartford mine here for the Oliver Iron Mining company. Prior to taking that position, he was in charge of operations at the Negaunee mine, before it passed into the control of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company. He is the oldest and one of the best known mining men of the Lake Superior district and his friends in this region will be pleased to learn that he intends to again locate here. Captain Piper's son Will, who arrived in Negaunee about ten days ago, has just given up his position in Birmingham, and will likely remain in Negaunee.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW.

Market Conditions Are Not Unfavorable for the Iron Trade.

It is reported from New York that blast furnace interests are assured of an ample tonnage from consumers of foundry iron to take up their capacity for the next six months or more if the prices now prevailing and there was enough competition among producers to result in orders for about 30,000 tons of foundry grades last week in the Lehigh and Schuylkill valleys to meet contracts for new machinery. In the Central West interest has been more in basic and malleable iron. Contracts were placed for about 30,000 tons and several additional contracts are pending. In all sections new orders have been placed aggregating about 90,000 tons.

Early last week railroads released orders for bridges to the extent of 25,000 tons but are not out of the market. Contracts were also placed for about 20,000 tons of rails, mainly for the Seaboard Air Line. Export rail inquiries call for about 40,000 tons. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has divided contracts for 5,000 cars among three interests and the American Steel Foundry company has the order for side frames. Other orders were placed for 1,000 cars and 114 locomotives.

TO RETURN FROM ROME.

George Dingfelder, of Negaunee, who has been studying in Rome for the priesthood for the past five years, will return to this country about the first of July, with Bishop Eis. Mr. Dingfelder is a graduate of the St. Paul's parochial school in Negaunee. His friends here have not been advised just when he will be ordained, but it is expected that it will be soon after his arrival in America. DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is seriously inflamed you are deaf. It is only by getting rid of the inflammation that the hearing can be restored to its normal condition. This is done by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous tissues.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness cured by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. J. J. HUNTER & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, etc. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Members of Lake Superior Mining Institute Will Have Pleasant Outing.

The fifteenth annual meeting of the Lake Superior Mining Institute, to be held in August, promises to be one of the most interesting sessions that the organization has ever held. Three days, Aug. 24, 25 and 26, will be spent in sight-seeing. An invitation from the officers of the United States Steel corporation to visit its new steel plant at Gary, Ind., was recently accepted by the committee having the arrangements in charge. The members will assemble at Ironwood on Aug. 24, and, after inspecting the mines of the Gogebic range, they will leave for Gary and Chicago, where they will spend two or three days. A special committee of institute members residing in Chicago has been appointed to look after the visitors in that city and at Gary. The arrangements for the entertainment of the members on the Gogebic range is in the hands of a committee composed principally of Ironwood men.

CEMENT SIDE WALKS.

I will be glad to have you ask me to figure with you on that cement sidewalk. My work and prices should be attractive to those having cement work done.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA.

Scientists are now agreed that the eczema germs are lodged not in the outer skin or epidermis, but in the inner skin. Hence, a penetrating liquid is required, not an outward salve that clogs the pores. We recommend to all eczema patients the standard prescription Oil of Wintergreen as compounded in liquid form known as D. D. D. Prescription. A trial bottle of this D. D. D. Prescription, at only 25 cents, will instantly relieve the itch. We have sold and recommend this remedy for years, and know of wonderful cures from its use. We recommend it to our patrons.
