

CANNONISM DENOUNCED IN NEBRASKA

With U. S. Senator Norris Brown, a "Standpatter," in the Chair, the Republican State Convention Declares Hearty Sympathy With the Insurgent Movement.

President Taft Is Strongly Indorsed, as Is the New Tariff Law, and County Option Is Advocated as the Proper Method of Regulating the Liquor Traffic

Lincoln, Neb., July 26.—The platform convention of the Republican party of Nebraska today adopted a platform strongly indorsing the administration of President Taft and the new tariff law, expressing unalterable opposition to the "system known as Cannonism" and hearty sympathy with the "insurgent" movement in and out of congress.

These resolutions were not adopted without the meeting of strong opposition to both in the resolutions committee and upon the floor of the convention, but while there were no votes to spare in the committee for county option and other matters came before the main body of delegates as minority reports the vote in their favor in the convention was overwhelming.

As a general proposition it had been understood that indorsement of county option and of insurgency were supported by the same people. In consequence, when at the opening of the convention at noon Senator Norris Brown, permanent chairman over Congressman George W. Norris, leader of the "insurgency," by an overwhelming vote, the rank and file of the "county optionists" began to fear for their pet resolution.

It developed, however, that while no compromise was admitted by either side, there was a conference last night at which Senator Brown assured the optionists of the character of the resolutions committee he would appoint if he were made permanent chairman. The committee would consist of three in favor of the present law and one in favor of the submission of a statewide prohibition amendment. The last named finally voted for the county option plank. The minority report opposing such resolution was defeated in the convention, 280 to 538. There was no division in the voting on the majority report.

Near the close of the convention Congressman Norris introduced the anti-Cannon resolution. There was a storm of protest when the resolution was first presented, but when put to a vote it was adopted.

SENATOR CUMMINS PREDICTS A PROGRESSIVE TRIUMPH.

Kansas City, July 26.—Senator Cummins, who passed through here today en route for Des Moines, predicted that the progressive Republicans would win the 1912 and that the progressive Republicans might control congress before that time. He said: "In the senate, Aldrich and Hale are going to retire and there won't be any one in the senate on that side to take up the reins of authority. There is bound to be a disintegration of that force. Ready to take it up in the senate is the militant, aggressive organization of insurgent senators. As a nucleus right now we have fourteen senators."

Olathe, Kas., July 26.—Senator Cummins made his last Kansas speech here this afternoon and departed for Des Moines. In his speech he attacked the Steel corporation for stock watering and named Dalzell, Payne, Aldrich, Hale and Lodge as the corporation's friends in congress.

Victor Murdock Raps Cannon.

Ottawa, Wis., July 26.—Congressman Victor Murdock, in a speech here tonight, said that Speaker Cannon had been a standpatter ever since he had been in congress. Mr. Murdock said how his attitude was first directed to the Cannon organization because of its power to finish its enemies. He said, in part: "It was the case of Lilly of Connecticut. One day I was walking down the street with Congressman Lilly when he said, 'I wonder if the people will ever get on to this crowd?' That was the first intimation I had ever heard that anything was wrong in congress."

GOVERNOR JOHN BURKE A PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITY.

Fargo, N. D., July 26.—Governor John Burke was indorsed as the Democratic nominee for the presidency in 1912 at a meeting of the Democratic state central committee held here today. Mr. Burke is a candidate for reelection as governor and if his party is successful he will be three times the chief executive of the state. Resolutions were adopted commending the acts of Mr. Burke as governor and declaring that he would be able as the presidential candidate to carry the West for the Democratic party and to gain strength in the East.

"REGULARS" WIN VICTORY AT COLUMBUS

First Trial of Strength Between Ohio's Rival Republican Factions Results in the Defeat of the "Progressive" Element by an Overwhelming Vote.

Columbus, O., July 26.—The first trial of strength between the regulars and progressives in the Republican state convention here tonight resulted in favor of the regulars by a wide margin. Congressman Paul Howland, of Cleveland, who has charge of the "progressive" platform, was defeated for the chairmanship of the resolutions committee by the vote of three to fifteen. Immediately prior to the vote, Mr. Howland announced that while he would not quibble over the phraseology, if the platform were in substance unsatisfactory to the "progressives" he would bring a minority report to the floor of the convention tomorrow.

Nine of Ohio's Republican congressmen are members of the resolutions committee and all supported the tariff bill, which is one of the issues of the convention. General J. Warren Keifer, member from the Seventh district, has since maintained almost no resistance. Before the middle of the afternoon session was reached there was hardly a stock in the entire list that did not show losses of two, three or four points from the closing figures of yesterday. So rapid and comprehensive a shrinkage of prices was rarely witnessed except in periods of absolute panic.

Occurrences in the immediate news were disregarded. The United States Steel quarterly meeting to be held after the market closed almost dropped out of consideration. The declaration of the regular quarterly dividend was taken for granted and was discussed with languid interest. The reaction in the corn market pointed to relief from the more excessive weather conditions which were believed yesterday to be threatening the prospects of the harvest here. The money market was easy and the rate for call loans ran off to the lowest level touched in months, while the influence towards the replenishment of the supply of bank cash continued actively at work.

DEMOCRATS SHELVE WM. JENNINGS BRYAN

Leadership He Has Maintained in His Home State for 20 Years Is Taken from Him.

Grand Island, Neb., Wednesday, July 27.—The Nebraska Democrats have wrested the leadership of their state organization from W. J. Bryan on the issue of county option. By a decisive vote they registered their disbelief in his present policies, after listening to an impassioned appeal from him. A minority plank for county option was submitted by Bryan. The vote by which his plank was rejected was not taken until after midnight. It was decisively against Bryan. Bryan made no comment after the vote.

Grand Island, Neb., July 26.—Amid a tumult of cheers from former followers of Wm. J. Bryan, Permanent Chairman Smyth, of the Democratic platform convention, today read the result of the test vote of the gathering, which practically took from Bryan the Democratic leadership in Nebraska, which he had maintained for twenty years.

The vote came on a motion made by Congressman G. M. Hitchcock, candidate for the senatorial nomination, and in effect it was to eliminate the introduction of platform planks with accompanying speeches, unless submitted as a section of the majority or minority report of the committee on resolutions.

Mr. Bryan was seated as a member of the Lancaster county delegation and was upon his feet with a protest. He proffered an amendment that would modify the intent of the original motion. A dozen delegates made motions to amend the motion, but they were all denied.

Chairman Smyth ordered a roll call on the amendment and the gathering was also called to order. The result was called that would determine Bryan's strength. When two-thirds had been called, the foes of Bryan realized that he was defeated, and a wave of cheers that drowned the roll call began. As Chairman Smyth read the result—405 against the amendment to 304 in favor of it—the delegates sounded fresh cheers. The original motion of Mr. Hitchcock was adopted.

Candidates Assail Each Other.

The convention came to order in a tent packed with perspiring delegates. The temporary organization was made permanent and Chairman Smyth, after his speech, selected the committee on resolutions. Mr. Bryan was selected as a member. Governor Shallenberger and Mayor Dahlman of Omaha, rivals for the nomination for governor, addressed the convention and delivered speeches at each other. The convention adjourned this evening to await from the resolutions committee. Dissension among the members of the committee delayed the presentation of the divergent reports until long after the appointed hour.

At the opening of the evening session former Senator W. R. Patrick, the Bryan candidate for governor, took the platform and openly defied the opponents of Bryan. He declared that failure to adopt a county option plank meant certain defeat at the polls. Despite howls and shouts, he began an attack on Shallenberger and Dahlman until cautioned by Chairman Smyth. He declared that Bryan was the only man who did or could lead the army to Democratic victory, and he stood with folded arms to shout him into cessation. The combative of the speaker finally won the approval, and he was given a round of applause as he concluded.

"The principal issue upon which we, the Republicans in Ohio, will appeal to the people in this campaign is and must inevitably be the tariff. We could not do it if we would; we are responsible for it in the fullest sense. It would be mere futility to attempt now to shirk our responsibility."

STOCK MARKET UNDERGOES A SEVERE SLUMP

Wall Street Prices Tumble in a Wildly Sensational Manner While Powerful Banking and Financial Interests Stand by and Offer No Support Whatever

Only Explanation Is That It Is Considered That the Situation Requires a Drastic Purging Process—Year's Lowest Levels Touched in Many Cases.

New York, July 26.—While powerful banking and financial interests stood by and offered no evidence of support, stocks tumbled sensationally on the stock exchange today. Although there was a rally during the final hour, the close was weak and unsettled. The sales totaled 1,275,339 shares, and only thirty-six issues of the 140 in which trades were recorded failed to break to the lowest record of the year. In the absence of any specific cause for the slump, the only explanation lies in the belief that the directors of opinion in the financial world were agreed that the situation and outlook required a drastic purging process. The sales were made at severe sacrifices.

BILLY BURKE TIES A WORLD'S RECORD

Four-Year-Old Colt Shows Up at Kalamazoo as the Sensational Trotter of the Year.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 26.—The second day of the Grand Circuit racing showed up a sensational trotter of the year in the four-year-old colt Billy Burke, who won the feature event, the $3,000 stake for 2:15 trotters, trotting the fourth heat in 2:06 3/4, which ties the world's record for the fourth heat, held jointly by Benetta and Bob Douglass. The gray gelding Robbie McGreggor beat Billy Burke in the first heat, but after that Billy had things his own way. The 2:08 pacers had a great battle, and the race was finally won by the favorite, King Cole. In the 2:18 trot, Sable Maid won rather easily, after Baron Penn had taken the first heat. The judges did not think that Owings was trying to win with The Philistine in the first heat of the 2:17 pace, which Hallie Lou took with little difficulty. With Walker up in the next heat, The Philistine finished in front, but King Cole was best in the third. After which the race was postponed on account of darkness.

The track and weather conditions were ideal. The day's summaries follow: 2:08 pace, $1,000; eleven starters: King Cole ... 5 1 1 1 Waverly ... 1 6 7 5 Joe Brown ... 4 4 2 4 Doctor M ... 2 3 5 3 Best time, 2:04 3/4. 2:15 trot, stake $3,000; eight starters: Billy Burke ... 2 1 1 1 Robbie McGreggor ... 1 3 3 3 Henry H ... 2 2 2 2 Annette ... 5 5 4 4 Best time, 2:06 3/4. 2:18 trot, $1,000; six starters: Sable Maid ... 2 1 1 1 Baron Penn ... 1 5 2 5 Velozora ... 3 2 4 2 Castle Donning ... 5 3 4 4 Best time, 2:04 3/4. 2:17 pace, $1,000; five starters (unfinished): Hallie Lou ... 1 2 1 1 The Philistine ... 2 1 3 2 May Queen ... 4 1 3 2 Lady Athol ... 3 4 3 4 Best time, 2:07 3/4.

Wheat and Corn Both Weak.

Chicago July 26.—Wheat and corn were today on a large scale. However that may be, other reasons were not lacking for the weakness in both staples. The wheat receipts, actual and prospective, were heavy and the world's supply was shown to be 11,000,000 bushels larger than a year ago. One significant fact which tended to lower the price of wheat here was that foreign countries were in a position to import from the Pacific coast states without regard to the contrary east of the Rockies. The cool, clear weather for filling and harvesting the spring crop in the Northwest was another bearish influence. The July hold relatively staidier than the other months as a result of the considerable short interest, which is making large purchases in the interior. The close was steady but at a decline of 1/4 to 1/2, the September at 104 1/2 to 105.

The rain which weakened corn today wholly or in large part covered all of Iowa, the lower Ohio valley, northern Missouri and eastern Kansas and Nebraska, but in a somewhat scattering way. In Kansas and Oklahoma it was mainly hot and clear. There was considerable unloading of long corn. The short selling, too, was conducted on an extensive scale. The futures closed 3/4 to 1/2 lower, the September at 65 3/4 to 66. Hedging proved an oppressive weight on the oats market. The threshing results were reported fine both in quality and yield. The close was 3/4 to 1/2 lower, the September at 39 3/4.

Will Mr. Hemans please hurry up and decide what he's going to run for?

Our upper Michigan blueberries promise, for once, to be one of the luxuries of the season.

It's lonesome without our Uncle Joe trumpeting from the stump, but there's the consolation that it's very healthy for the Republican party.

There is a record-breaking number of defaulting bank cashiers and other betrayers of financial trust at large, and the detective agencies are working two shifts trying to establish their present whereabouts.

The Republican congressional campaign book is said to be causing its editors much anxiety. The line of argument that would make it a great hit in certain localities would kill it in others, and the middle ground is hard to find.

"Scratch a farmer on the back and you will find a man who wants Speaker Cannon turned out of office and Senator Aldrich retired from public life and, what is more, one who is willing to exercise his political influence to the accomplishment of these ends," says E. M. Smith, state lecturer for the Washington grange and secretary of the Progressive Political alliance in that state. "Also you will find a man who can no longer be blinded by appeals to his prejudices made by crafty corporation lawyers. They are out with the 'big stick' and they will make themselves heard." They will doubtless make themselves heard in Michigan in the coming fall where they are officially, individually and collectively on record as having had enough of Senator Burrows' kind of public service.

The present primary law provides a slightly changed method of choosing precinct delegates to the county conventions. The caucus is done away with and all delegates must be named by direct vote at the primaries, the same as other candidates, but with the difference that the names of persons who desire to go to the county convention will not be printed on the ballot, but must be pasted on with stickers, in a blank space left for that purpose. Thus the dubious honor of attending the county convention can be attained, in case of a contest, only by a good deal of hard work. The candidate for it must stay by the polls all day, with his stickers, and present his cause to the electorate as it appears to vote. The game will be hardly worth the trouble it will cost.

Burt Williams, of Ashland, whom the Wisconsin Democrats recently nominated as their candidate for the senate, is not a bit appreciative of the disinterested devotion to his party displayed by Representative Weisse, of the Sixth district, when he gave up a tolerably sure re-election to congress to become a candidate against Mr. Williams, in order that there should be a contest of interest enough to get out the Democratic vote. On the contrary, Mr. Williams waxes exceedingly wrath with Representative Weisse, and charges him with bad faith in not supporting the action of the Democratic convention. Our Democratic friends are not wholly without their family troubles. They are plagued by them all along the line, in greater or less degree. In the aggregate these party quarrels are a considerable obstacle in the way of the expected Democratic successes this year.

The Lansing State Republican says: "Looking after the game, fish and forests of the state is no small task and Warden Pierce seems entitled to commendation for having a mighty efficient department with a record back of it that's good in every respect." We don't know where Warden Pierce's deputies have been looking after the forests of the state. It must have been down in some of the farming counties. Certainly they did nothing that anyone has learned of to limit or extinguish the forest fire that raged in this region up to the close of last week. Furthermore they haven't tried to. The service of the state game and forestry department in this part of the state is a screaming farce, and no amount of newspaper flattery of its efficiency will befuddle people who have daily opportunities to become acquainted with its gross shortcomings. The work of the handful of good men Mr. Pierce has in the service cannot make good the delinquencies of the numerous deputies who are principally engaged in putting up an imitation of activity in the weeks that intervene between pay days.

The owners of the fight pictures were barred from a promising piece of territory when the chief of police of Chicago put the ban on the show in that city. New York is the richest single field for exploitation by the picture syndicate. After it Chicago, with its 2,000,000 people, comes an easy second. The order placing a ban on the pictures means a loss of thousands upon thousands of dollars to the syndicate having control of them, and is the most serious setback it has yet received. The pictures have been shut out of much profitable territory, all because the negro won. If the "white man's hope" had made good, the syndicate would have had easy sailing and the pictures would have been worth at least twice as much as they are under the prevailing conditions.

It's beastly unmanly the way La Follette, Cummins, Dooliver, Beveridge and any number of other distinguished progressive leaders stay by the G. O. P., despite the cordial and insistent invitations from the noblest Roman of them all, Uncle Joe, that retiring statesman, Senator Aldrich, Dalzell, Payne and a great many other high priest of standpatism and standstillism to get out. Their insistence on staying in and trying to capture the organization, or at least bump out of business the most static of the standstillers, is a source of much confusion and annoyance. But we are afraid they will have to be put up with in the G. O. P. The only force that can effectively throw anyone out of the Republican party is the "home folks," and these "home folks" have, in the most pronounced storm centers, shown a plain and unmistakable sympathy with the restless sprites of the progressive wing. No, they won't get out of the party. There is only another family quarrel within the organization. Give it time and it will work out to a satisfactory conclusion.

The eve of the Republican convention to be held in Ohio today witnessed much more of uncertainty than is usual before a gathering of the kind in that state. The delegates are split between several candidates, not one of whom, on the go in, will command votes enough to assure nomination. The platform furnishes another point of difference between the men in the convention. It will be hoped that both a satisfactory candidate and a platform on which there can be general agreement will be decided on today. In no state in the union are the Democrats more militant or more hopeful of the fall election than in Ohio. Governor Harmon has given the state an excellent administration, as even his political foes are constrained to admit. The organization of which he is the head is compact and fairly well disciplined. It will work all the harder in the campaign for its belief that Governor Harmon's re-election will practically assure him the Democratic nomination for president in 1912. There is at this moment much less division in the Democratic than in the Republican ranks, and unless Republican differences are largely reconciled by the work done in the convention today the campaign will be entered on under evil omens.

Commissioner of Weights and Measures Driscoll, of New York, has announced that in the near future he will enforce the ordinance requiring that eggs and bread be sold by weight. He is acting, he says on the advice of the corporation counsel, and doubtless with the approval of Mayor Gaynor, who has lately interested himself in this question of selling foodstuffs by weight instead of by dozens, or dry measure. Driscoll will confer with the bakers and butter and egg dealers before fixing the standards. The five cent loaf of bread, the standard in bake shops, has varied greatly in weight, though it is supposed to be a pound loaf, and on occasions much complaint has arisen because of its short weight. The importance of selling eggs by weight is less apparent, for while one dozen may weigh more than another dozen in the long run the difference in the size of the eggs equalizes itself. It would be much more to the point if the New York officials devised some means of preventing the retailers from selling bad eggs for good ones, rather than insisting that they sell this product by the pound. When it comes to the egg question, the thing the public the country over is interested in is steps for preventing the sale to it, at fancy prices sometimes, of eggs that have reached the explosive stage for cooking. That is the great egg problem.

BAN ON STREET FAIRS.

Street carnivals are not in favor at Ishpenning, where there are many more working men per 1,000 of population than in Marquette. Mayor McCorkindale absolutely refused to consider a proposal that he should license the street shows for a week. When the carnival agent approached Mayor Elliott of Negaunee he found him of the same mind as the mayor of the sister city. Neither town will give the carnival company any time, and in both towns the stand of the mayors is strongly endorsed both by the business men and the public at large. Experience has shown that the amusement derived from these shows is not at all adequate to compensate for the drain they make on the supply of floating money in a small community and the demoralization that usually follows in their wake.

It is still an open question whether Marquette will have a street fair the first week in September. It hasn't yet been decided whether the council's terms for the use of the streets will be accepted. There will be little regret if the project is passed up, for there is no general sentiment in its favor. There is no objection at all to seeing the fraternal society that has interested itself in the plan make some money to swell its treasury fund, but the members and officers may well adopt some other scheme than the one of embarking on a week's circus, with the accompanying riot of noise, confusion, disturbance of the orderly course of business and police court crime.

Marquette has scored as bidder for the Soo hatchery, which the canal projects under way in that city are going to drive from Ste. Mary's river. H. H. Marks, the superintendent of the hatchery, came to this county from the copper country, where he inspected various proposed sites for the plant, and was so impressed with the desirability of Big Creek as a location for the hatchery that he has announced that he will unreservedly throw his influence in favor of establishing it there. None of the streams Mr. Marks inspected in the copper country were suitable for the hatchery, all of them being deficient, for one thing, in flow of water. The requirement is amply met by Big Creek, which has a heavy and dependable flow of the finest spring water to be found anywhere in the state. The lay of the ground surrounding the creek is also favorable to the needs of a hatchery. If the plant is established there it will be placed between the South Shore and Marquette & Southeastern tracks, and will be ready of access. It is expected that the Soo hatchery will have to be moved next year, and action in regard to where it will be located is likely to be taken by the state commission sometime during the coming winter. In view of Mr. Marks' opinion in regard to the desirability of Big Creek for a site for it, the commission will, in all probability, vote to place it there.

A LAUGH OR TWO.

His Remedy.

There had been a little quarrel after the honeymoon. "And just look at my pretty linen collar," sobbed the young wife. "The tears have trickled down and wetted it out of shape. You haven't a bit of feeling."

"Indeed I have," laughed the big husband. "I'm going to fix things up."

"We had a good view of the comet of Tauria in the Mediterranean," he said. "The sailors didn't like it. They sent a committee to me to get my opinion on it."

"Captain," said the spokesman, "we want to ask your opinion."

"Yes, my lad," said I; "what about?"

"About that thing up there," he said, pointing at the comet above in the western sky.

"Very well," said I. "But first tell me what you think it is yourself."

"Well, sir," said the spokesman, "we've talked it over very carefully and we've about come to the conclusion that it's a star sprung leak."—Louisville Times.

In a certain town of the middle west more water is compelled to drill wells, as the recent dry weather has shown the supply to be insufficient to take care of everybody. About five years ago the city was bonded for $90,000 for water works. The pumping station, reservoir and tower were in place. The water is pumped into the reservoir, which holds 100,000 gallons and which from the outside looks like a

F. L. Baldwin, editor of the Escanaba Journal, and one of the chief Musseلمان lieutenants in the upper peninsula, accompanied Mr. Musseلمان on his trip through Marquette county yesterday. Mr. Richards is experiencing some difficulty in finding a house but intends moving his family here as soon as possible.

Laying Concrete Walk—The wooden sidewalk in front of L. Getz's, A. E. Archambault's and H. F. Handford's stores on Front street were torn up yesterday and will be replaced with concrete. These are about the last wood walks in the downtown district, and it is safe to predict that within two or three years the last wood walk in the city will have disappeared.

Meeting of Music Teachers—All Marquette music teachers, whether of voice, piano, violin or harmony, are requested to meet at Mrs. Alton True Roberts, 425 E. Ohio St. at 3 p. m., this afternoon, to talk over all organizations and discuss with Earle G. Killen the aims and purpose of the Michigan Association of Music Teachers and the bill concerning teachers now before the legislature. It is hoped that all who have the interests of music at heart will be present.

Hope for Late Crops—According to farmers of this vicinity, there is hope for late crops, especially potatoes and corn, if there is plenty of rain the balance of the summer. The hay crop, in this county is very short, but wet weather is likely to start them up again. Corn has been but little affected by the dry weather and promises to be a good crop, if frost does not come too early. One farmer stated yesterday that raising corn and alfalfa was the only salvation of the dairy business in the upper peninsula, as dry weather and grasshoppers have made hay and pasture very uncertain quantities.

Marquette Chinese Case—The case of Ngan Yee Duck, who is fighting an order to deport him to China, was heard before Judge Nelson yesterday. A duck has been in the employ of Pong Lee and is known locally. His defense is that he was born in San Francisco and is entitled to remain in this country. Him Lee, who formerly was connected with a laundry in this city, is now a resident in the employ of Duck's father, and he was present through a grilling cross-examination by Assistant District Attorney Cline, who believes that the father and son story is trumped up to suit the occasion.

Attorney General in City—Franz C. Kuhn, attorney general of Michigan, arrived in the city yesterday morning on the steamer Octorara, and was one of the guests at the banquet of the Michigan Bar association last evening. Mr. Kuhn left this morning for Ontonagon on official business. Mr. Kuhn was appointed to his office by Governor Warner last spring, being selected to succeed Mr. Bird who was named for the supreme bench by the governor to succeed Justice Montgomery. At the time of his appointment he was serving as probate judge of Macomb county, of which county he had previously been prosecuting attorney. He is one of the best known and ablest of the younger attorneys in lower Michigan, and in his present office makes a worthy successor to Mr. Bird.

Scenes from Longfellow—Tonight at 8:15 in the Normal assembly hall, the children of the eighth grade of the training department will repeat seven scenes from the "Courtship of Miles Standish." This was given last June and is repeated at the urgent request of a large number. The staging will necessarily be simple because of the inadequacies of the hall and the costuming will be sufficient only to take one back to the time depicted in the story. The reading of the lines, however, shows full appreciation of the beauties of Longfellow's great poem. An interesting musical program, both instrumental and vocal, will be given between the scenes. Admission will be twenty-five cents and the public is cordially invited to attend.

A Sound Order.

The Maccabees of the World is one of the soundest of the fraternal orders, and has the distinction of being the first to approach the rate problem courageously. Its rates are based on the American experience mortality table. The knights have a membership of 300,000 in Canada and the United States, in fifty-five states, territories and provinces, this membership existing in 3,000 tents. The order has a reserve of $9,000,000.

To Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister of Detroit and Miss Bina M. West of Port Huron, respectively supreme commander and supreme record keeper. This request of the Maccabees of the World, may be ascribed much of the success which has come to this order. As early as 1895, only three years after the society was organized, these officers began to instruct their members on the danger of cheap rates, and the campaign of education was kept up without interruption thereafter. In 1897, the accumulation of a reserve fund began, and steps were taken from time to time after that to increase the reserve so that it should be sufficient to care for the "promises to pay" of the order. This reserve now amounts to $4,200,000 and is rolling interest at the rate of over $170,000 annually. In other words, just the interest on this reserve brings in each year $50,000 more than one assessment on the whole membership.

This order stands by itself at the head of all orders for women, and is the original woman's order to adopt adequate rates and build up a reserve to protect its contracts.

THEATRICAL.

"Up and Down Broadway."

The seats for "Up and Down Broadway" are going like hot cakes. There are still a few good seats left for the first night, the electrical effects and costumes arrived yesterday from New York, and they are surprisingly beautiful. All the boxes have been taken for both nights and the audience will be a very brilliant gathering in itself. The fact that Mrs. Byington is to pose in her beautiful Carmelita gown has aroused a great deal of interest. Another big feature of the performance will be the Pas Seul of Mrs. L. G. Kaufman. It is a very beautiful and difficult dance, as too dancing enters into much of it. "After the Matinee" one of Mr. MacDonald's numbers, is unusually attractive. In the little comedy sketch which precedes it, Jessie Palmer and Mabel Watson do some wonderfully clever burlesques of typical chorus girls. Miss O'Hann, Miss Rushmore, Miss Retailie and Morgan, juggling all have numbers which will score decided hits. A great treat is in store for the Marquette theater-goers.

"Strongheart", Great College Play.

William Jossey, a leading man of considerable note, has been attracting much attention from the press in several cities of the copper country for his sincere portrayal of the character of the Indian Strongheart, in the play of that name, and in which he will be seen here next Monday evening. Presenting such wellknown plays as this, as well as "The Squaw Man" and "At the White Horse Tavern," H. E. Pierce & Co.'s Associate Players, among whom are some of the most widely known and recognized dramatic people in the profession, are sure to attract large audiences to the Marquette Opera House where they are to appear all of next week. It is evident that Marquette is "ripe" for just such an organization as this and a delightful week's entertainment is assured.

PENBERTHY WINS PRIZE.
Ishpeming Man Took Third Money at Sons of St. George Tournament.

William Penberthy arrived home yesterday from Iron Mountain, where he participated in the Cornish wrestling tournament conducted in connection with the Sons of St. George reunion. Mr. Penberthy won third prize, $40. John Rowett of Bessemer captured first prize, $100; Charles Hoar of the copper country took second, $60, and James Chapman, also of the copper country, got fourth prize, $25. Penberthy threw the three Chapman brothers and he had seven hitles with Rowett before the champion put him on his back. He was anxious for a go with Hoar, but the committee decided to give Hoar second money without matching him against Penberthy. Hoar is a son of Sampson Hoar, formerly of the Lake Angeline. The family left here for the copper country about ten years ago. The young man did not wrestle any before he left Ishpeming as he was too young. He captured first prize in a tournament held recently at the Amphidrome, Houghton.

John Rowett had easy sailing for first money, as Penberthy was the only one to make any showing whatever against him. He threw Si Beard and two others with comparative ease. None of the three heavyweights were in Rowett's class. Many of the Sons of St. George of Ishpeming would be pleased to see Penberthy and Hoar come together, as they believe that they are very evenly matched. Penberthy is only five pounds heavier than Hoar. The latter is very fast and tricky and the Ishpeming men were much pleased with his wrestling. He threw two of the Chapman brothers, but did not meet the third one.

The members of the several lodges here who attended the reunion were very well pleased with the treatment they received at Iron Mountain. All speak highly of the showing made by Trelawney lodge of this city, which carried off the prize for the best appearance in the parade. The members of the Trelawney lodge some years ago established a reputation for their unique turnouts in the annual processions, and each year they present something new. The members are entitled to a great deal of credit for the interest they manifest in the reunions and they well deserved the recognition they received at Iron Mountain.

The annual reports of the officers of the grand lodge showed that the society is in flourishing condition. There are now 2,158 members enrolled, the increase during the year recently closed being 237. The nominations for office next year, which will be voted upon by the various subordinate lodge prior to the annual convention in Detroit next July, are as follows:

Before returning he will visit his brother Rudolph at Hibbing. The bride to be is a daughter of Christian Melby, a former business man of Ishpeming, who also served as mayor for one term. Miss Melby was born in this city. A Duluth paper says of the intended marriage: "The wedding of Miss Josephine Melby to Edward Yager of this city will take place Wednesday. A number of affairs have been planned in honor of Miss Melby. Thursday afternoon Mrs. O. N. Noland of 25 South Seventeenth avenue east entertained at a bundle shower. The decorations were in pink and white and many pretty gifts were presented the bride. Musselman and Baldwin called on a number of the businessmen, with whom they left copies of Mr. Musselman's platform. The gubernatorial candidate said that he was being very cordially received in the upper peninsula. Bessemer desires to entertain the firemen in 1911 and Mr. Baessler is making the rounds among the various departments in an effort to secure a sufficient number of pledges to give that city the meeting. He stated while here that he was meeting with very good encouragement and he expected that Bessemer would be favored.

He has opened an office today at 607 North Third street, Ishpeming, where disease of every character is treated and handled with remarkable success. This office will be kept open from 10 to 12 and 2 to 5 daily; consultation, examination and advice will be given free to all, by the eminent physician in charge, Dr. Garmon and assistants.

Peter Finnegan was elected alderman of the Fourth ward Monday to succeed the late Oscar Forsberg. As there was no opposition to Mr. Finnegan only eighteen votes were cast. There were no registrations Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hooper were tendered a surprise Monday evening by the campers at the Deer Lake location, the occasion being the sixteenth anniversary of their marriage. About thirty persons called on the Hooper family at their camp quarters. The evening was very enjoyably spent.

F. Braastad & Co. are making several changes in the arrangement of their departments on the first floor. The ladies' shoes have been moved to the center of the room and the gentlemen's furnishing goods have been placed at the rear of the men's shoe department, while the clothing department has been brought forward.

Vivian Sleeman, son of Harry Sleeman, underground foreman at the Lake Angeline mine, has given up his position as time-keeper at the Rolling Mill mine at Negaunee and has accepted the position of substitute clerk at the Ishpeming postoffice. After the subbing season is over he intends going to the Lawrence college at Appleton, Wis., where he will remain until he is called to serve at the postoffice again.

A message was received here yesterday stating that James Guinan, formerly of this city, had been badly injured on a railroad in Minnesota, and that he is now confined to a hospital at Brainerd. A telegram was sent to Brainerd yesterday to ascertain the nature of his injuries.

MR. MUSSELMAN GIVES ADDRESS

Says He Wants to Be Governor to See Whether Principles of Private Business Cannot Be Applied to State's Business, of Which Governor Is Manager.

George Clapperton Also Speaks in the Interests of Grand Rapids Man's Candidacy, Emphasizing Individual Responsibility Under the Primary Law.

Amos S. Musselman, candidate for the nomination for governor of Michigan on the Republican ticket at the primaries Sept. 6, arrived in Marquette from Ishpeming and Negaunee at 5 o'clock last evening, and later addressed a gathering of voters at the city hall in the interests of his candidacy. Mr. Musselman is accompanied by George Clapperton, also of Grand Rapids, who preceded Mr. Musselman's address with a talk in the interest of his friend and neighbor.

C. F. Button acted as chairman of the meeting last evening and both Mr. Musselman and Mr. Clapperton were cordially welcomed and given the attention by all present. In introducing Mr. Clapperton, Mr. Button stated that the primary law which would be tried out in this fall gave every citizen a voice in the nomination as well as the election of the candidates for office. He emphasized the fact that the primary law placed a peculiar responsibility on each and every voter and declared that if incompetent men were placed in office under this system of nomination, no one but the people themselves were to blame.

The first speaker was Mr. Clapperton. "A peculiar condition now confronts the people of this state," he said. "For the second time, the rank and file of Republican voters are to select the man to head the party state ticket. Three men have presented themselves for this nomination, Chase Osborn, Patrick Kelly and Amos Musselman. Though we have been told that the upper peninsula was the enemy's country, as far as we are concerned, we have been so kindly treated the past few days that we have come to love our enemies. We have no criticism for either of the rival candidates in this campaign. We prefer rather to base our campaign on our Republicanism and to conduct it on the strength of the grand record of that party. We are knocking no one but only seeking to maintain the high standards which are the fundamental principles of Republicanism.

Indifference Is Dangerous.

"The one great peril before the American people is the indifference and inactivity of American citizenship. The primary law and the ballot together give the citizen his birthright, and now the duties and responsibilities of government rest on citizenship. The people must choose a governor who will serve, not rule them. I will now tell you why the citizens of Grand Rapids present Mr. Musselman as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

"Mr. Musselman is an eminently successful business man and a loyal citizen. The governor's office is pre-eminently a business office. A governor should also know something of the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. Mr. Musselman is, I believe, a man who fulfills these requirements. Furthermore, he is a man who has carried principle, honesty and integrity into his business career. He is a student of social and civic problems, has an enviable reputation as a private citizen and is a genuine and whole-souled Republican. Mr. Musselman would not alienate one single Republican vote and would appeal to the judgment and discretion of many of his political opponents. If he were the Republican nominee there would be no danger of a Democratic victory in November, and the Democrats know it."

Mr. Musselman's Talk.

Mr. Musselman was introduced after Mr. Clapperton had finished and opened his talk by saying that he sometimes thought of this campaign as an exhibition, and that he would be classed as exhibit C, exhibits A and B having preceded him. "In this campaign," he said, "I am emphasizing a higher standard of citizenship rather than laboring any rival or dwelling on any possible mistakes of the present administration. I am a Republican and stand for the things for which the Republican party stands.

"People take too much for granted. Our present favored condition did not come by chance. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. I have been asked why I want to be governor. It is because I desire to find out whether the same principles that apply to private business will not apply to the state's business, and because I believe that the laws on the statute books should be impartially enforced.

"The state is a great corporation, of which the governor is the general manager and the legislature the board of directors. This conception requires the governor to have business experience. Michigan spends from ten to twelve millions every year. The governor should be able to check over the different accounts and reports of those in charge of public institutions and to tell from those reports whether there has been proper economy exercised. I believe that the time has come to lay aside professional politicians and to put hard-headed business men in charge of the state's affairs. I have no criticism to make of the present administration; I am simply stating what I believe.

Favors Civil Service Law.

"I am a believer in publicity, especially since the adoption of the primary law. I do not say there is anything wrong with present conditions, but I am of the opinion that some of the commissions have been extravagant and that some of the state officials have been spending too many times as much as they should for the discharge of the duties of their offices. I believe that every office holder should be paid what his services are worth and no more, and that he should give the state an honest return for his salary. To this end, I am in favor of a civil service law.

"I realize that the next governor's job will be no sinecure. The state will again face a deficit next January and strict economy will be necessary. The state tax rate is as high as safety will permit and the affairs of government must be conservatively managed until the state catches up and gets out of debt. I have come to Marquette that you might see me and that I might see you. All I ask is that you make an unprejudiced comparison of the three candidates, and vote for the one whom you find to be best qualified to be governor of this great state. Whatever the result, I shall abide by the result and do all I can toward the election of the Republican nominee."

Goes to Copper Country.

Mr. Musselman began his tour of the upper peninsula Monday at Escanaba, speaking in that city and at Bark River, East River and Wells. Yesterday he came to Ishpeming and spent the day meeting the voters of Ishpeming and Negaunee. This morning he leaves for the copper country and will be in the upper peninsula all this week.

PIONEER COUPLE'S GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Merritt Observed Fiftieth Anniversary of Their Marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Merritt, pioneer residents of Marquette, rounded out fifty years of happy wedded life at their home on East Ridge street yesterday amid a company of friends who came and went in a constant stream, showering on them the warmest congratulations and suitable tokens of the interesting occasion.

In honor of the event Mr. and Mrs. Merritt kept open house and throughout the day and in the evening they were called on to receive both old and young friends and acknowledge their kindly and heartfelt words of felicitation on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

The rooms of their home were filled with floral remembrances. American beauty roses, sweet peas and carnations were displayed in profusion, and yellow blossoms were particularly in evidence. Throughout the day and evening refreshments were served the guests in the dining room, friends of long standing of Mrs. Merritt presiding at the tables.

Of their children Edward A. Merritt of Cleveland, O., Mrs. W. J. Stevens of Ovella, N. Y., and Mrs. R. S. Rose of Marquette were present to help them receive the guests.

Practically the entire fifty years of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt's wedded life have been spent in Marquette. They were married in Lancaster, O., July 26, 1860, and immediately came to this city, taking up their residence in a house that stood on the present site of the Gregory block, Washington street. In 1870 Mr. Merritt built the large house that formerly stood on the site of the Peter White public library, immediately north of Fraternity hall, which he sold to late E. M. Watson when he erected the present Merritt home on East Ridge street in 1880.

Mr. Merritt's experience in the Lake Superior country considerably antedated 1860, when he brought his bride to Marquette. He first came to Marquette in 1855. His father, Daniel Merritt, had a year or so previously built a dock at Eagle Harbor for John Senter, and on completing that contract came to Marquette to build a dock for one of the early iron companies. While engaged on that work he contracted small pox from one of his men and passed away in Marquette. His son, D. H. Merritt, came to this city to close up his business affairs, and later returned to Ohio. He returned to Marquette to make his permanent home here in 1858, and thus is one of the oldest, if not actually the oldest, living resident of the city.

While Mr. Merritt is best known as one of the pioneer iron manufacturers of the northwest, his first prominence in this region was gained as a railroad man, he having served in official capacities on the early roads in this country. In 1868 he engaged in the iron working business with a partner, E. Osborn, under the firm name of Merritt & Osborn. He subsequently bought out Mr. Osborn and in 1871 organized the Iron Bay Manufacturing company, whose shops were located on the present location of the Marquette & Southeastern Railway company. For a short period in the early 70s, Mr. Merritt was superintendent of the M. & O. railroad, he, however, retaining his interests in the Iron Bay Manufacturing company.

This company had for many years the most important plant of its kind in the mining region of Lake Superior. Under Mr. Merritt's able management it grew and prospered wonderfully and supplied the growing mines of the Lake Superior country with a large share of their equipment. It was an active and important factor in the industrial life of the city until it was removed to Duluth, about twenty years ago. Mr. Merritt was connected with the management of the business in Duluth for a short period, but never gave up his residence in Marquette.

Mr. Merritt played an important part in the early development of Marquette and the Lake Superior region, and his career has been a busy and eventful one. The home life of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt has been ideally happy, and yesterday was one of its pleasant days, when, surrounded by friends and children, they rejoiced in the completion of the fiftieth anniversary of the day when they pledged their marriage vows.

STATE AID NEEDED.

F. H. Vandenberg Believes Grasshoppers a Menace to Agriculture.

While discussing the agricultural outlook in Marquette county yesterday, F. H. Vandenberg declared that it seemed to him that an effort should be made to induce the state of government to authorize a liberal appropriation to be devoted toward ways and means of exterminating grasshoppers. This season, says Mr. Vandenberg, they have been just as instrumental in the ruination of the early crops in the upper peninsula as the dry weather and may fairly be considered the worst insect pest with which the farmers of this locality have to contend.

During the dry spell in the early months of last summer, grasshoppers became very numerous and did great damage to the hay crop, but heavy rains early in July stopped their ravages. This year the drought was much more prolonged and consequently the grasshoppers were more numerous and have done far greater damage. The grasshopper problem is a comparatively new one for farmers of this locality and but little has been accomplished in ascertaining their habits and the conditions under which they flourish or die out. It has been demonstrated, however, that these insects thrive in dry weather and become sluggish when it is rainy. Then there is a parasite that attacks the grasshoppers, and this parasite seems to be effective only in wet weather. Last year the parasite ridded the country of the grasshoppers in a few days, and Mr. Vandenberg has noticed its eggs under grasshoppers' wings this week for the first time this season.

This parasite lays eggs under the grasshoppers' wings and the insect that hatches out bores its way into the grasshopper's lungs, eventually eating away everything except the shell of the insect. These parasites would be an effective check on the grasshoppers, if they came earlier in the season. As it is, the grasshoppers lay their eggs before attacked by the parasite, assuring another crop of grasshoppers the succeeding year. Mr. Vandenberg states that it is reasonable to presume that grasshoppers will be even more numerous next season than this, and considers that the growth of the agricultural development of the upper peninsula depends, in some measure, on the discovery of some practical method of destroying these insect pests.

Guild Hall Notes

Ormsbee & Atkins Nester Bl'k, Washington St.

The class in swimming for children under eight will be held at 10 o'clock this morning, and succeeding Wednesday mornings at the same hour.

The meeting of the B class, which was postponed from Saturday evening, will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the reading room. As several matters of importance are to be discussed, it is essential that there be a full attendance. Every member of the B class is urged to be present.

Several more rounds have been played in the different classes in the tennis tournament. Those who have not yet played off the preliminary round will have to do so this week—or forfeit their chance. The B class and the F class are farthest behind at present. The members of these two classes should make an effort to finish the preliminary games.

The Ethelo club, which includes all the members of the F class, will hold its regular weekly meeting at 1:30 today in the assembly room. A challenge for a baseball game has been received by this club, and it will be decided at the meeting whether the challenge shall be accepted or not. All boys of the club who are interested in baseball should be present, as it will be necessary to choose a captain and manager if the club decides to accept the challenge.

It has been decided to have an extra baseball practice tonight at 5 o'clock in preparation for the game with the Prison team Thursday. The impression seems to have spread that the first team has been definitely picked. This is not so and any men who care to try for the team are urged to come out. Every man will be given a chance to make the first team who play on the second team will be given a chance to play some matched games. The idea is not to encourage constant competition and any man who improves sufficiently may displace a man who may have been chosen for the first team.

TRINIDAD DO YOU KNOW WHAT IT IS?

The city with an immediate future, where hundreds of thousands of dollars will be spent building railroads, docks, mills and factories; where hundreds of homes and business houses will be built; located in Washington, half way between Seattle and Spokane on the Columbia river, with resources varied and unlimited.

We want to talk to you about it. Will you listen? Are you open to conviction? If you are willing to go through life hustling to get the bare necessities, we cannot do either you or ourselves any good by taking up your time; but if you want to get out of the old rut and get in contact with the people who are making good, we want to meet you, for we want you to help us build one of the finest cities in the Northwest—a new town that is full of opportunities for any one who has energy and ambition. Are you one of them?

If you will look about, you will find that the great majority of your friends who are independent today made it by investing their savings in land and town property, and buying when they could get in on the ground floor or in other words, bought while the city was in its infancy and sold at the boom prices.

The Great Northern Land and Townsite Co., founders of Trinidad, have large holdings adjacent to the town and in order to increase property values and build up a substantial city will, for a short time only, sell lots on this low basis, $20.00 and $30.00.

For the next few days the representatives of the Great Northern Land and Townsite Company (the promoters of Trinidad) will be at Hotel Marquette. Call the Hotel Office by phone or in person and give your address, and the representatives will call and explain the resources of the country to you. Remember you can now buy lots in Trinidad for $20 and $30 each for a limited time only.

You may not be in a position today to go there, but if you will take the time to investigate, through us, the new town of Trinidad you will say, it was the most profitable fifteen minutes I ever spent in my life.
