CONSULTATION TAKES PLACE AT SAGAMORE HILL

Colonel Roosevelt and a Group of His Closest Friends Discuss His Relations With Mr. Taft, Which Are Declared to Be at the Breaking Point.

It Is Decided That the ex-President Shall Stand Aside in New York and That Shall Neither Indorse Nor Criticise the National Administration.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 18.—A group of his closest friends and Colonel Roosevelt today talked over a situation which has become known as a condition of strained relations between himself and President Taft, which relations are declared at the breaking point. Wm. Loeb, Jr., collector of the port of New York; Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the New York Republican county committee; Representative W. M. Calder, of Brooklyn; Frederick J. Kravetz, of Brooklyn; and Representative W. W. Cocks, of Colored Roosevelt's home district, took part in the conference.

From what was said by some of the visitors, it was learned that the ex-president and his friends have agreed on a plan of action which will hold until the situation shapes itself more clearly. Briefly stated, it is this: Mr. Roosevelt is to stand aside in the New York state campaign and let the "Old Guard" fight its own fight and thus shoulder all responsibility for the conduct and result of the campaign. He is neither to indorse nor criticize the Taft administration. He is to keep out all around, if he can.

Those with whom he talked were made to understand clearly that Mr. Roosevelt reserves to himself the right to enter the thick of the fight at any time, if he believes that the policies of which he is the exponent are in serious jeopardy. But he let it be known that he would do so with extreme reluctance.

President Is Much Concerned.

Hopkinton, Mass., Aug. 18.—President Taft is spending the night as the guest of Governor Draper, of Massachusetts, at his home in this place. Mr. Taft was accompanied from Beverly today by Secretary Norton and Captain Britton. Reports from Oyster Bay were received at Beverly today with little show of consternation. So far as the statement that there was an agreement to defeat Roosevelt, to which Mr. Taft was absolutely true, it is said that Mr. Taft from the first has endeavored to obtain harmony in New York state. He has urged all the leaders to try to get Roosevelt's wishes be consulted.

Hilles to See Mr. Taft Today.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Charles D. Hilles, assistant secretary of the treasury, departed for Beverly today and will see the president tomorrow. While he goes to talk over departmental affairs, it is no secret that the president considers Mr. Hilles well informed in New York politics and has confidence in his political sagacity. Therefore it is assumed that the situation in New York will be discussed. Mr. Hilles has been mentioned as a possible successor to the gubernatorial nomination in New York, as it is said that he would be acceptable to all factions of the party.

MAYOR GAYNOR CONTINUES HIS PROGRESS TOWARD RECOVERY.

New York, Aug. 18.—Nothing has developed to indicate that Mayor Gaynor is not making daily progress toward recovery. The mayor will probably be allowed to sit up again tomorrow, and it is also probable that Ruth and Marian, the youngest Gaynor children, will be allowed to see their father. Thus Mayor Gaynor, the mayor's brother, who came east immediately upon receiving news of the shooting, has gone back to his home at Springfield, Ohio.

TREASURY ASKED TO AMEND RULING AFFECTING GOWNS.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Secretary MacVeagh's recent ruling that American women who have gowns remodelled in Paris need only pay the duty on the cost of the repairs, instead of on the full value of the garments, as theretofore, has brought a number of requests that the secretary amend the ruling to make it retroactive to the date when the new tariff went into effect.

NEW JERSEY PROGRESSIVES NOMINATE ROOSEVELT MAN.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 18.—The Progressive Republican league, at a meeting here tonight, named Harold J. Howland, of Upper Montclair, to run for the congressional nomination in the Seventh district against Representative S. Wayne Parker, who will be the candidate of the regulars. Mr. Howland is an editorial associate of Theodore Roosevelt.

GIFTS OF WINE PERMITTED DESPITE W. C. T. U. PROTEST.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Gifts of wine to the warships of the American navy are not tabooed, despite the protests of the Women's Christian Temperance union, which recently protested to the navy department against the presentation of one hundred cases of California wine to the cruiser California by an association of California grape men.

SAYS HE DID NOT OFFER SENATOR GORE A BRIBE

McMurray, of Indian Land Contract Fame, Denies the Charges of Which He Is Accused.

Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 18.—"It has been charged that you, through Jake L. Hammon, offered Senator T. P. Gore $25,000 or $50,000 as a bribe to influence him in congress to withdraw his opposition to the approval of your contracts. Did you or did you not offer Mr. Gore such a bribe?"

J. F. McMurray answered "No" to this question in the hearing before the congressional committee investigating Oklahoma Indian land affairs today. Mr. McMurray was on the stand all day. The questions were propounded to him by Cecil H. Smith, his counsel.

"Did you ever tell any one that Vice President Sherman had an interest in your contracts?"

"I never did."

"Did you ask Mr. Hammon to say that Mr. Sherman was interested?"

"I did not."

"Did Senator Charles T. Curtis, of Kansas, ever have an interest in the contracts?"

"I never did. I never told anyone he did."

"Did you ever tell anyone that Congressman B. S. McGuire had an interest in any of your contracts?"

"I never did."

"Has any member of congress or any employe of any department of the government any interest in your contracts?"

"They have not."

The witness also denied that he ever had offered a $25,000 bribe to D. C. McCurtain, a Choctaw lawyer. The examination of Mr. McMurray will be continued tomorrow. The witness today described his contracts as "a plain business deal." He detailed his relations with the Indians for ten years, and told of the various fees received, insisting that all were proper.

Wall Street Market Evinces a Reactionary Tendency for the First Time This Week.

New York, Aug. 18.—For the first time this week today's stock market evinces a reactionary tendency, with a lower level of prices. There was no evidence of unfettered liquidation, but rather a realizing for profits. The day's budget of news was not especially illuminating, although the general belief is that political clouds are looming large over the financial horizon and that the events are bound to leave an impression on the markets. Wall street at the moment is devoting special attention to the conflict within the ranks of the Republican party.

The market today opened with recession a point or more in many of the active issues and soon went lower on unfounded rumors dealing with the alleged serious illness of the best known member of the Standard Oil party. Partial recovery was made from these setbacks, but the list displayed more or less hesitancy and the total advance of the day closed at or near the lowest prices.

London was again a seller in this market today, and to the extent of 25,000 shares. The Bank of England increased its proportion of reserves to liabilities to a point well above that of last week, and its total reserves also have grown larger. The Bank of France reported a trifling loss of gold and a large gain in the treasury deposits.

Among the annual railroad returns issued today were those of Louisville and Nashville and Illinois Central. The former reported a substantial gain in net revenue in the face of an enormous increase of operating expenses, but the Illinois Central returned a deficit of $823,000 in the net revenues, being apparently unable to overcome the increase of $4,900,000 in the cost of operations.

Wheat Advances a Fraction.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Wheat today closed well toward the top, at about 1/2 cent higher. The foreign markets showed a decided advance here, which were reflected by an advance here. The buoyancy abroad was based on the expectation that France would require much outside grain. The belief that the recent rains in the Northwest would delay threshing and moving the new crop was a bullish factor, as were reports of export cargoes from the Pacific Slope and the good cash demand in the Northwest. The September opened at 101 1/4 @ 101 1/2 and closed at 101 1/4 @ 101 1/2.

Corn was fairly active. Speculative buying and a moderate shipping demand kept the market steady, when early reports of additional rainfalls over most of the corn belt were received. The moisture, in the opinion of many traders, insures a good crop and the bulk of the season's grain is believed to be out of danger. The close was steady, 1/4 cent lower, the September at 62 1/2. The oats market dragged under the pressure of the continued heavy movement, but the good cash demand and large buying of future deliveries held the market within narrow limits. The close was steady, with the September, and the December 1/4 cent lower, the former at 85 1/2.

MECHANICAL TRADES SCHOOL HAS FORTUNE OF $3,000,000.

St. Louis, Aug. 18.—David Rankin, Jr., who recently gave away his fortune, estimated at more than $3,000,000, died today at Atlantic City, N. J. The beneficiary of the philanthropist was the David Rankin, Jr., School of Mechanical Trades. Mr. Rankin was seventy-four years of age.

COLONEL JOSEPH HUGHES IS PRONOUNCED INSANE.

New York, Aug. 18.—Colonel Joseph B. Hughes, former head of the Continental Tobacco company, was declared insane by a sheriff's jury today. He was examined on his wife's application. Several years ago the colonel, who now

LONGWORTH IS OPPOSED TO CANNON

Reflecting the Views of the President, It Is Believed, He Issues a Statement at Beverly Saying That He Will Not Support the Speaker for Re-election.

Notwithstanding This Implied Attitude of the Administration, "Uncle Joe" Will Continue in the Race—He Reiterates He Is in the Fight to the Finish.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 18.—Reflecting the views of the administration, it is generally believed, Representative Longworth, of Ohio, today gave out a statement in which he says that he will not support Speaker Cannon again, and that he does not believe Cannon ever can be re-elected. It is regarded as the actual beginning of the real fight on Cannon.

Speaker's Attitude Is Unchanged.

Deafile, Ill., Aug. 18.—Despite the declaration of Congressman Longworth that he will not again vote for Joseph G. Cannon for speaker of the house of representatives, Mr. Cannon will continue in the race, according to a statement made to the Associated Press this evening. He will go into the caucus as a candidate no matter how many Republican congressmen declare that they will oppose his re-election.

There is no doubt that Mr. Cannon believes the Longworth statement inspired by President Taft. He did not say so in so many words, but he intimated as much. Mr. Cannon's statement, in part, says:

"In the present campaign, so far as I am concerned, I shall do what I can to bring about the election of a Republican house of representatives in the sixty-first congress, and without a Republican majority in the next house there will be no Republican speaker.

"In the event of my reelection as a member, I shall attend and shall abide by the action of the Republican caucus, and from his statement Mr. Longworth will do the same, as well as every Republican member of the house.

"If any Republican candidate on the Republican ticket would be strengthened by pledging that he will support me in the Republican caucus, I have no objection to his making the pledge."

PLAN OF DRAWING VENIREMEN IS DENOUNCED BY WAYMAN.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—As a result of the difficulty in getting a jury for the second trial of Lee O'Neil Browne, charged with buying votes to elect William Lorimer to the United States senate, State's Attorney Wayman announced today that he would attack the system of drawing veniremen as soon as the Browne trial was ended. He bitterly denounced the present plan. Four veniremen were in the box when court adjourned this evening. They had been accepted by the defense and questioned by the state's attorney. It is believed they formally will be accepted tomorrow, in which event the jury will be completed.

COMMITTEE AT THE MINERS' CONVENTION.

Indianapolis, Aug. 18.—Committee seemed to be the aim of the speakers in today's session of the international special convention of the United Mine Workers. President Lewis, in summing his side of the case, did not declare that the Illinois strike should not be endorsed, and President John Walker, of Illinois, admitted that he believed the members of the international executive board had acted in good faith in forming the so-called compromise agreement which was submitted to Illinois.

TOWNSEND IS WELL RECEIVED AT MENOMINEE

Largest Political Meeting in the History of the City Marks the Opening of the Upper Peninsula Tour of Julius Caesar Burrows' Progressive Opponent.

Three Thousand People Greet the Congressman at an Open Air Meeting, and the Enthusiasm They Show Is a Surprise Even to His Most Ardent Supporters.

Menominee, Mich., Aug. 18.—With the largest and one of the most enthusiastic political meetings ever held in this city, Congressman Townsend opened his upper peninsula campaign here tonight. Mr. Townsend is an aspirant for the senatorial toga now worn by J. C. Burrows, subject to the will of the people of Michigan as expressed at the primaries Sept. 6.

Mr. Townsend was accompanied by Congressman McLaughlin, and both gentlemen spoke at a monster open air meeting on the court house grounds, it being estimated that fully three thousand people were in attendance. The size of the crowd and the great enthusiasm manifested were a surprise even to Mr. Townsend's most ardent supporters.

"Instead of having one senator from Michigan and another from Rhode Island," said Mr. Townsend, "it is about time that we had two senators from Michigan. The corporate interests have been well looked after in the senate in the past, and now the people have a chance to elect their own representative to the higher house of congress."

The tone of Mr. Townsend's speech was decidedly "progressive," and he was enthusiastically applauded. Following the speaking, a reception was held in the court house, at which one thousand people shook the candidate's hand.

NEW PLAN SAVES GOVERNMENT THIRTY THOUSAND A YEAR.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Paper money hereafter will be counted once less than is now the custom as it comes off the presses at the bureau of printing and engraving, and the treasury department will save $30,000 a year. It has been the custom to have the money counted twice at the bureau. Machines count the money automatically as it is printed, and it has been counted afterward by a force of clerks. Then it has been counted again, this after being delivered to the treasurer of the United States. Thirty women clerks will be dropped as a result of the new plan.

Columbus, O., Aug. 18.—It became known today that the plans along which Governor Harmon hopes to effect peace in the street car strike involve an effort to bring about willingness on the part of the Columbus Railway & Light company to arbitrate the differences with the strikers. The union is willing to arbitrate, but the company has refused to consider the proposals. President Bretman, of the Chamber of Commerce, today asked Business Agent Miller, of the Carmen's union, if the union would accept a settlement proposal involving an increase of wages to twenty-five cents an hour, and abandon its demand for recognition and the right to wear the union button. Mr. Miller said that this proposal would not be satisfactory.

AWIATOR MOISSANT MEETS WITH MISHAP

Chatham, Eng., Aug. 18.—Two accidents to his monoplane today prevented the American aviator, John R. Moissant, from continuing his flight to London and thus completing his proposed Paris-London trip. Tonight Moissant's airplane lies partially wrecked in a brick field near Rainham, at Kent, thirty miles from London. Moissant and his mechanic, Albert Fiboux, escaped unhurt, but the machine came heavily to the ground, alighting in a narrow space banked around with earth and piles of broken brick. It will be refitted with parts now on the way from Paris to replace those broken by the fall. The aviator is not discouraged at his misfortune and promises as soon as his machine is in working order to make another start for Crystal Palace, London.

Hoxsey had reached a height of more than 2,000 feet, when "Jimmie" Fleming got into trouble with the knife pull that should have freed his parachute. PROGRESSIVE SENATOR FOR GOLDEN STATE

Lincoln-Roosevelt League Lays Claim to Both Houses of the California Legislature, as Well as to the Platform Convention of the Republican Party.

Latest Returns Confirm the Indicated Defeat of Stalwart Congressmen McKinley and McClachlan and Put Stand-Partner Smith's District in Doubt.

San Francisco, Aug. 18.—It was claimed at the Lincoln-Roosevelt league's headquarters today that not only have the "insurgents" elected nine-tenths of the delegates to the state convention which will adopt the party platform, but that they will control both branches of the legislature, which this winter will elect a successor to United States Senator Frank P. Flint. The insurgents claim that notwithstanding the apparent closeness of the advisory vote on the United States senator, the result of which the official count must determine, John D. Works, their candidate for the Republican indorsement, undoubtedly has won by a wide margin.

Two congressional stalwarts—Duncan McKinley in the Second district and James McLachlan in the Seventh district—have been defeated. William E. Kent, for whom Gifford Pinchot "stumped" the Second district, leads McKinley by a safe margin, while W. D. Stephens has a similar lead over McLachlan. E. A. Hlyes, insurgent incumbent from the Fifth district, has been renominated. Three stalwart congressmen were not opposed, while the renomination of Congressman Sylvester Smith is in doubt. Kirby, of San Diego, the insurgent, has made a strong run and it may take the official count to determine the result. Mr. Smith is a member of the house committee on rules.

The plurality of Hiram W. Johnson, insurgent candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, continues approximately 20,000. Allen Alderson, regular Republican, made a surprisingly poor run.

The king has already intimated his intention of initiating his father, who in 1885, fearless of danger, proceeded to Naples and remained among the cholera patients. The queen has positively declared that she would share the risks of the king.

 M. DENNIS N.Y.
 Chairman Marquette County
 Republican Committee.
 E. W. MACPHERSON, Secretary.

So far this week no ructions have been reported from Escanaba.

He's not the kind that turns the other cheek. He may not choose to enter a fight with the "old guard" for dominancy of the convention, but if he fails to do so the public will lose a good show. It would like to see the colonel in action again, and would particularly like to see him the instrument by which the "old guard," Barnes, Woodruff & Co., in New York got the trimming for which it has been spoiling so long. And he might as well go ahead and give it to 'em, as far as the party is concerned. The New York Republicans are in such a bad tangle that it could do no harm to have the colonel, backed by the people, ride over the machinists, and it might do a deal of good. Certainly if the machinists are left to their own devices a Democratic victory will be no great trick in New York for the coming fall, unless they suddenly acquire a wisdom they have shown precious few signs of these several years past.

NEED HAVE NO FEARS.

The Lansing State Republican is much exercised lest the upper peninsula is about to take over the political control of the state of Michigan. Its fear is based on the report that the Republican enrollment in the upper peninsula last spring was 58,000 voters. It apprehends that this compact and homogeneous vote will hereafter name all of Michigan's governors and senators.

We believe there is no cause for the State Republican's fears. In the first place, we greatly doubt whether the Republican enrollment last spring was 58,000. We feel that there must be some mistake about this and that either the figures were exaggerated by miscounting or that the 58,000 referred to must represent the entire enrollment since the primary law became effective.

While there was a substantial enrollment in the upper peninsula this year it could not have reached the proportions indicated. We know of precincts in Marquette county where the enrollment was practically neglected and but few names added to the lists. The Osborn clubs did some good work in getting the vote enrolled, but neither they nor any other influence could possibly have secured such a staggering total of new names as 58,000.

Furthermore the upper peninsula is not often of one mind on candidates and public questions. It is much less hide-bound than it has been in former years. The direct nominating system has had a salutary and invigorating effect on its electorate. It is doing its own thinking to a greater extent than ever before and looking with well defined suspicion on the self-appointed leadership of politicians.

The upper peninsula vote will be pretty solidly polled for Chase S. Osborn for governor because the upper peninsula, besides having a sentimental interest in his success as the only upper peninsula man ever put forward for governor with any great hope that he could be nominated, feels that he is admirably equipped for the office he seeks and would serve the state with credit to himself and excellent results for its people.

But the solidity of the upper peninsula vote stops right here. On the contest for senator the electorate is scanning the records of the candidates with a close and critical attention, and the returns will show that it has disposed of its suffrages with a discrimination that does high credit to its intelligence. Let not the State Republican be misled by the absurd claims of the Burrows press boosters. Mr. Burrows' affiliations in the senate are known in the upper peninsula. He has not in a single county in the entire region the support that is claimed for him. The advantage of replacing him by a young and vigorous man like Representative Townsend, thoroughly in sympathy with the political thought of the times and capable of taking his stand with the strong men who will dominate the next congress, is appreciated in this region, and he is gaining in strength rapidly from day to day.

The upper peninsula has no desire to try to dominate state politics. The upper peninsula's vote in the primaries will not be out of proportion to the vote in other parts of the state and if the State Republican will only look carefully into the story that the upper peninsula enrolled 58,000 Republican voters last spring we believe it will find that it is a myth.

INSURGENT CALIFORNIA.

When, after Speaker Cannon had invaded Kansas to speak for the regular candidates for the Republican nomination for congress, Kansas heeded his counsel by rejecting four of the six regulars on the state's delegation, and named progressives to succeed them, we were informed that it was only "crazy Kansas" after all, the Kansas that went batty on Populism and that produced "Socksless" Jerry Simpson and other political monstrosities. We were told that little can be expected of Kansas at the best, and that the support Kansas is giving to the progressives is nothing more than could have been looked for from a state with such a patchwork record.

But California has never been known for political vagaries. It has, on the contrary, been a dependable and consistent Republican state, with a tendency toward ultra-conservatism. Its representatives have been among the strong men of the regular wing of the party. They have, as a rule, consistently upheld the organization, and supported both Aldrich and Cannon. We have never heard of "crazy California," yet it is noteworthy that the primary returns from that state are of the same character as those which we recently had from Kansas.

The California insurgent faction is reported to have made a clean sweep. Hiram Johnson, candidate for governor, who made a frankly insurgent campaign for the nomination, and who is one of the leading foes of machine politics in California, is nominated by a majority so large that there can hardly be said to be a second. William Kent, who opposed Representative McKinley, one of the wheelhorses of the Cannon ring in congress, has won a conclusive victory. One of the leading advocates of Kent's nomination was Gifford Pinchot, who stumped his district for him. W. D. Stephens, it is reported, is another insurgent candidate for congress whose name will appear on the Republican ballot in place of the regular representative he opposed.

Other spoils of the battle carried off by the insurgents were nominations for minor state offices, many of which were won by candidates of pronounced insurgent sympathies, and it is predicted that the platform declarations of the party will be strongly progressive in its nature, thus representing the trend of thought of the majority of the California Republicans, as they have shown themselves in the primaries to stand.

THE STATE PRESS.

Senator Aldrich says he has no desire to grow old in the senate, and the people seem to be with him on that issue.—Flint Journal.

Cats which sing at night ought to be discouraged. We recommend a ten-gauge shot gun as the proper instrument with which to commence operations.—Jackson Citizen-Press.

Senator Aldrich's explanation of the increase in the import duty on rubber is sufficiently elastic to suit everybody.—Kalamazoo Press.

A LAUGH OR TWO.

The Enemies.

Apropos of the enemy, now happily buried, that used to exist between Minneapolis and St. Paul, Senator Clapp said at a dinner in the former city: "I remember an address on carelessness building that I once heard in Minneapolis. 'Why,' said the speaker, in the course of his address, 'one inhabitant of St. Paul is killed by accident in the streets every forty-eight hours.' 'A bitter voice from the rear of the hall interrupted. 'Well, it ain't enough,' it said.

Why He Was Sad.

Sallies of almost childlike high spirits endeared the late J. L. Toole, the lifelong friend of Henry Irving, to all who knew him. On one occasion, when the author of "Some Eminent Victorians" was spending a day in the innocent adventures which Toole was a genius in originating, they went to the Tower, where they found themselves among a party of eager sightseers in the chamber where the crown jewels are on view.

It was a woman who was explaining to the eager through the history of the articles displayed. At the end of a long catalogue she said: "And this is Anne Boleyn's crown."

"Nothing!" "Nothing!" replied Toole, in broken accents. "Don't mind me; but the fact is, I have known the family so long."—Ideas.

English in London.

Senator Depew, on the deck of the Louisiana, talked about English as she is spoke in London.

"It is very difficult to understand that London English," he said. "I know a man who had lodgings all July in Bloomsbury, near the British museum. On his return from the museum one afternoon, my friend said to his landlady: 'Can I have a cup of tea, if you please?' 'Certainly, sir; at once,' the landlady replied. 'The kettle 'as been h'in' for hours. 'But—er—' I prefer freshly boiled water, if you don't mind,' stammered my friend. 'The landlady reddened with anger. 'Look 'ere,' she said, 'if I 'ad meant 'wot you mean I'd 'ave said 'ours'."

A Piece of Impudence.

Madame Polaire, the French actress, laughed at a supper party at Sherry's in New York, over the story that she was the ugliest woman in the world.

"The press agents," she said, "may have benefited me by circulating that story, but I think that they were very impudent, all the same.

"They were as impudent as a Pullman porter I heard about yesterday. This porter was dissatisfied with the tip that an actor and his wife gave him. The actor said to the porter when he got off the train at New York: 'Have you seen my baggage?' 'Yes,' the porter answered, jerking his thumb over his shoulder. 'She's back there in the washroom makin' up her face.'"

HERE AND THERE.

Among the Roman remains found at Carseus is an object of human interest in the shape of a heap of cherry-stones. These were discovered at a depth of eleven feet. Evidently some stern soldier, who had to fall back upon his arms, was favored by Tommie, had been amusing himself by eating cherries and throwing the stones on one side. All trace of the soldier has disappeared; the cherry-stones remain.—Cardiff Western Mail.

In 1909 the fire insurance companies in Canada received $7,058,843 in premiums and suffered losses amounting to $8,585,354, a gross profit of nearly 50 per cent. The amount at risk in 1909 was $1,862,459,222, an increase of $102,751,259 over 1908.

China has just received from France its first guillotine. It will be set up inside the new prison, as, according to recent regulations, executions will no longer be public. The penalty of death, as laid down in the old code, had six degrees—death by torture, immediate decapitation and exhibition of the head, immediate decapitation without exhibition of the head, decapitation after some months, immediate hanging and hanging after some months.

The Rev. M. Matthews, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Seattle, who is now in New York, tells the people of Gotham that the east hasn't anything on the west in the matter of church attendance. "On a Sunday night," he said to a Sun reporter, "you will find in my church 3,000 persons, and of them fully 70 per cent are men. This will indicate that men do go to church out there, if they don't here in New York. Of our Sunday morning audiences 75 per cent are men. To persons who have studied the situation it has seemed remarkable that men are in the majority in our audiences. Some cynical persons say that men do not go to church, but leave this for the women to do. This is not true. Church work is a man's job. Men need Christianity in their business more today than ever before."

TRADE SCHOOLS FOR AUSTRIAN WOMEN.

Through a decree of the minister of public works opening the state trade and technical schools to both sexes alike, Austrian women will enjoy a greatly enlarged choice of occupations. Among the chief new trades and industries which they can now enter upon are artistic leather work and bookbinding, photography, watchmaking, engraving, ornamental woodworking, as well as some branches of the chemical and electrical trades. Hitherto women have been rigidly excluded from these trades schools, and those who desired to obtain such training were compelled either to go abroad or else to attend expensive private institutions at home. But while the women are rejoicing at the new opportunities of work afforded them, their male relatives do not share their enthusiasm, pointing out that even under the old conditions out of every thousand wage-earners in Austria 430 were women.

LIFE ON PANAMA CANAL.

Has had one frightful drawback malaria trouble that has brought suffering and death to thousands. The germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troulle. "Three bottles completely cured me of a very severe attack of malaria," writes Wm. A. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had good health ever since." Cure Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles, and prevent Typhoid. 50c. Guaranteed by The Stafford Drug Co.

THEY HAVE A DEFINITE PURPOSE.

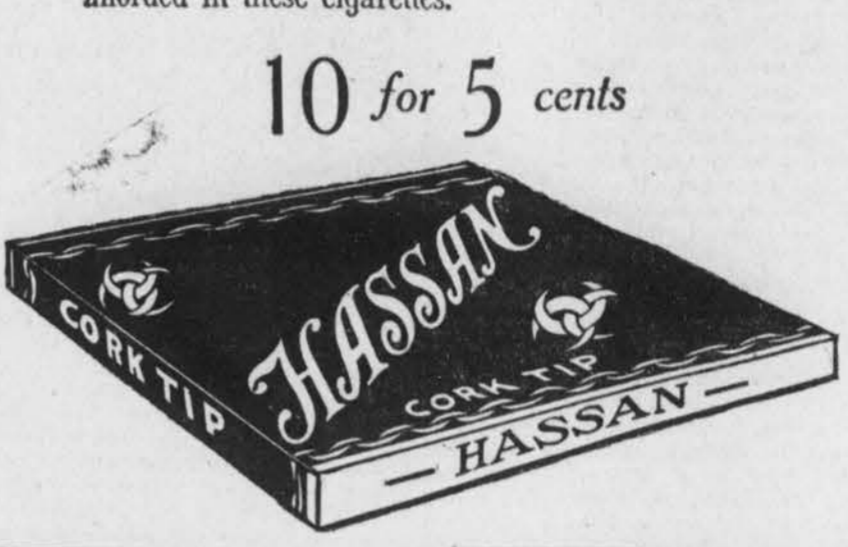

Foley's Kidney Pills give quick relief in cases of kidney and bladder ailments. Mrs. Rose Glaser Terre Haute, Ind., tells the results in her case. "After suffering for many years from a serious case of kidney trouble and spending much money for so-called cures, I found Foley's Kidney Pills the only medicine that gave me a permanent cure. I am again able to be up and attend to my work. I shall never hesitate to recommend them." The People's Drug Store.

LOWER STATE NOTES.

TRAVERSE CITY—Dazed and stunned by a lightning bolt, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Davis, with their two-year-old baby beside them, lay in their bed while their house burned until even their bedroom was flaming. Davis recovered first, seized his wife and child and rushed through the smoke and fire out into the storm. The Davis family lives on a farm three miles northeast of Buckley in Grand Traverse county. During an electrical storm the house was struck, the force of the bolt being so great that the three were stunned. They must have been unconscious for some time for when Mr. Davis recovered the fire had spread through the entire house and they were unable to save any possessions whatever, not even their clothing. They were cared for by neighbors and suffered no ill effects. Had their coma continued for but a few minutes longer, however, they would have been cremated, the roof falling in just after they got out.

ANN ARBOR—Thomas Turnbull, for the past year superintendent of the buildings and grounds of the university, has resigned his position and returned to the Ann Arbor railroad, from which he resigned last year from March to September. This is the third time that the Ann Arbor road has tried to get Mr. Turnbull back on its staff, and it made the salary so tempting that he could no longer refuse to consider the proposition. He will have charge of all the medical faculty of the University of Michigan, which he left for March to September. That the eastern college should have picked out Dr. Huber is a source of great pride to the University of Michigan faculty and regents.

AUTO CAR ACCIDENT SADDENS HOUGHTON

Shocking Death of Daniel Douglas Causes General Mourning in the Community.

The death of Daniel Douglas of Houghton in an automobile accident at Phoenix Wednesday night has saddened the entire community.

A particularly sad feature of the circumstances surrounding the accident is that Mrs. Frank Douglas, mother of the unfortunate young man, was in southern Michigan, with her son, Corbin Douglas, attending the funeral of her mother when the accident happened.

MILK FAMINE IS BECOMING SERIOUS

Tuberculosis Patients in the Copper Country Affected by the Raise in Price.

The increase in the price of milk and the scarcity of that staple food has created a condition which complicates the anti-tuberculosis campaign in the copper country.

The regimen prescribed for consumptives by the anti-tuberculosis society is two quarts of milk per day, combined with eggs and other foods. Milk is the principal article of diet and it is hard to get these days.

This would be an unusually attractive musical occasion for Houghton and Hancock people. The St. Paul orchestra is a large concert organization, such an one as has never been heard in the copper country.

BLOW FOR HURONTOWN. Township Board Can Do Nothing in the Matter of Building Walks.

The original scenic production and effects and a notable cast of twenty including Grace Merritt as "The Mouse", will be seen here. "The Blue Mouse" ran for four months at Garrick theatre, Chicago, and six months at the New York Lyric theatre.

Funeral of Mrs. Freeman—The funeral of Mrs. James Freeman will be held this afternoon. Rev. Bates Burt will conduct the services, which will take place at the late residence of the deceased, 144 Rock street, at 4 o'clock. The interment will be in Park cemetery.

Received at Prison—William H. Harris, the negro who shot Sheriff Edmund Dull, of Monroe county, Aug. 1, was received at the Marquette prison yesterday afternoon. He was sentenced to imprisonment for life, the maximum penalty prescribed by law. Harris pleaded guilty to the shooting, but the court insisted on testimony being taken to determine the degree of the crime.

Seventh Street Paving—The macadamizing of the Seventh street hill has been completed and the block presents a fine appearance. This street was built differently from any other in the city and was treated with Pioneer road asphalt, which was used as a binder. The street construction has a quantity of this asphalt left, which will be used on the east side of the Front street hill, between Washington and Bluff street.

Many Blueberries There—A number of Marquette people have gone to Seney the last week, just east of which village there is one of the finest blueberry patches in the upper peninsula. Several of those who have been there report that the berries are very numerous and of the very best quality. They are so thick that it is claimed that one person has picked as much as a bushel and a half in one day.

Check, But No Money—Frank Wideman, who has made his home in Chocoma township for the last year or more, was taken into custody by Marshal Manning yesterday, on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. It is alleged that Wideman drew his personal check on the First National bank of this city, in payment of a liquor bill at Win. J. Rice's saloon on Front street, and that he at the time had no funds in the bank. His hearing will take place Friday before Justice Byrne. It is stated that Wideman has served a term in prison for a similar offense.

Crystal Falls Coming—Crystal Falls vs. Marquette will be the baseball attraction at the fair grounds Saturday and Sunday afternoons. As the teams have one postponed game to play off, there was talk of a double header being played either Saturday or Sunday, but the management has definitely decided against it, as double bills have not proven a financial success in this city. Crystal Falls is now considered as strong as any team in the league, having defeated Nequame 6 to 0 last Sunday, and the team may be expected to give the Marquette boys lively opposition. Center Fielder McCarthy was released by the management yesterday.

Hemans Club Meeting—A meeting of the Lawton T. Hemans club will be held at the city hall this evening, to which all voters interested are invited. It will be a business meeting and plans will be formulated for making a systematic increase in the membership of the club. The Democrats appear to be aroused as never before and give promise of being unusually active in the coming campaign.

Church Fair Well Patronized—The

St. John's church fair at Fraternity Hall attracted another large attendance last night. An excellent supper was served under the direction of Mrs. King Messier. B. Klamert and his boys furnished the musical program. A "Marquette" supper will be served Saturday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock by the Lady Catholic Foresters.

JOHN D. MASKED IN RUBBER TRUST

Clerk Cutler's Name Used as a Holder of Shares in Senator Aldrich's Company.

New York, Aug. 18.—The fact that John D. Rockefeller is interested in rubber is revealed by the list of stockholders in the Intercontinental Rubber company, found on file in the office of the secretary of state in New Jersey.

Rockefeller's interests is hidden under the name of Bertram M. Cutler, a clerk in his employ. Years ago, when the list of the stockholders in the United States Steel corporation was published for the first time, a great number of shares were credited to Cutler. That excited the curiosity in Wall street and led to the discovery that he was a clerk in Rockefeller's office.

The presence of Cutler's name on the list of International stockholders, taken in connection with the fact that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a son-in-law of United States Senator Aldrich, has added to the interest aroused in Wall street in the rubber company since Senator Bristol accused Senator Aldrich of having the largest on manufactured rubber increased in order to add to his wealth.

Senator Aldrich in his reply regarding dividends omitted to remark, Wall street observed, on the coincidence that the dividends on Intercontinental preferred stock were deferred only during the time the tariff bill was under discussion in congress.

Dividends Paid First of Year.

Jan. 1, 1910 the Intercontinental Rubber company paid up the whole of the dividends which had accrued on its 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, these amounting to about 18 per cent.

Senator Aldrich said there had been no concealment on his part, but he omitted to mention the fact that all the affairs of the Intercontinental Rubber company are buried in deep secrecy. Virtually the whole of the stock is in the hands of a voting trust, under some agreement kept strictly "dark." No ordinary stockholder is permitted to see the books of the company or have any part in its direction.

Senator Aldrich and his associates are offering the stock of the corporation to the public for the purpose of obtaining real money to carry on its business. When the purchaser of Intercontinental Rubber stock obtains his "stock," however, he finds, paradoxical as it may seem, that he hasn't any stock at all.

All he receives for his good money is a piece of paper bearing the legend "Temporary stock trust certificate" and the names of the three voting trustees, who have the power to vote all the stock and ignore the holder of the certificate. There is no indication when the bona fide stock certificate is to be issued, or the probable date of the dissolution of the voting trust and the release of stock to men who have paid for it.

Aldrich's trustees are in to stay, apparently. They may do anything they desire with the company, sell temporary stock trust certificates equalling the amount of the $40,000,000 authorized stock, and still have control of the company to use its finances as they see fit.

Another interesting feature of the temporary stock trust certificates is that no par value is quoted on them. The investor is left in a position of pleasing uncertainty as to what he may get for his money.

On the other hand, an inscription on the face of his temporary certificate informs him that the preferred stock, which is in the hands of the insiders and carries 7 per cent, cumulative dividends, may be redeemed at any time the trustees see fit, but only after the accrued dividends, if any, have been paid.

The decision to take all these precautions in respect to the preferred stock seems to have struck Mr. Aldrich and his friends in control of the Intercontinental Rubber company about four years after they had incorporated the concern.

JOGGING THE MEMORY

It is well known that women use many devices to help them remember. Still there are plenty of business men who use similar reminders. One popular device is that of tying knots in a handkerchief. There are dozens of men who find this a simple and sure reminder. The other day a man was lunching with some business men. He brought out a handkerchief knotted in the four corners. "What have you done to your handkerchief?" a friend asked. "I have four orders for my wife and this is the easiest way to keep them in mind." A well known business man in Chicago wears a handsome seal ring on the little finger of his right hand. When he wishes to remember any special thing he transfers the ring to the little finger on the other hand. A friend of his has a similar method which he finds useful. He wears his watch in his right vest pocket. When he has anything important to bear in mind his watch is slipped into the pocket on the other side. Even more practical is a device used by a business man who has many details to remember. If he wishes to be reminded of some small obligation he writes himself a postcard and gets it at his desk during the morning. A most curious method has been thought out by a business man who is at his desk every morning at the same time. He has a habit of comparing his watch with his desk clock. When he wishes to be reminded of anything he sets the desk clock ahead. Looking at his watch he sees that he is not late but he has something he wishes to remember.

ALFALFA IN NEW ENGLAND

development in growing this crop, it is declared by the experts in Washington that its growing is still in its infancy. It is more easily grown than hay and is more nutritious. It can be fed to cows and to lesser animals on the farm. Alfalfa has been even cultivated in the cities and on dry and sandy patches. It does not require much care in the growing and stands dry weather admirably. Clearly the who would grow rich from New England soil have an opportunity before them, for alfalfa has already been grown here, in sandy soil.

WHEAT OF HOLY LAND FOR THE ARID WEST

Agricultural Experts Think Importation of Parent Grain May Be Profitable.

IS FOUND IN PALESTINE.

Land Resembles That of California—Other Plants May Be Brought Over.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Agricultural exploration into the orient is urged by the department of agriculture in a bulletin just issued. It is pointed out that the geography and topography of Palestine and California are very similar, and attention is especially called to the wild wheat there which has a wide range and seems to prefer sterile and arid soil for its development. It is suggested that this furnishes the basis for a valuable cross with some of the cultivated wheats of this country.

The report under review deals especially with the useful plants which should be introduced into the arid west and southwest from that portion of the orient known as Palestine. Already the Smyrna fig and Thompson's seedless grape, among other fruits, Kherson oats and hard Russia and Turkey wheats, among the cereals, have been introduced into the United States and made it possible to extend cultivation to regions heretofore untillied, and it is believed that what has been done in this direction is but a splendid beginning of a most promising future possibility.

Land Resembles California.

This land closely resembles California, except as to the extent of area; in fact, it is practically a California reduced to about one-twentieth in size, but markedly similar in general topography, climate, vegetation and agricultural and economic possibilities. Like California, Palestine, is longest from north to south; it, too, has very high mountains and very deep depressions. Passing from west to east in either, there is the littoral region along the coast, the zone of hills and plateaus, then the long valley in each, while still farther east, are fertile plateaus, finally turning into arid or desert lands. Each too, has a dry, warm season and a humid and more temperate one. Palestine is even more favorable than California with regard to winter temperature, for although, as in California, the thermometer rises high in summer, it rarely drops in the winter to the freezing point. Snow is rare even on the plateaus, and farmers in almost all parts of the Holy Land are safe from any damage by frost.

Curiously enough, the list of flora of this small territory of Palestine includes approximately the same number of species as that of California—about 3,000. In both sections evergreen shrubs predominate. The same genera are found on Mount Tamalpais, Cal., and Mount Carmel, Palestine; the maquis formation of Palestine is to be compared to the chaparral and chamiso of California, and the forms of vegetation of the Lebanon and the Hermon mountains are much the same as those of the western slope of the Sierras. The analogy of the flora of Palestine with that of California justifies the expectations of the best results from their introduction into the last-named state.

Parent of the Wheat.

Among the large number of wild species and varieties found in Palestine is the wild emmer, from which our cultivated types of wheat and related cereals seem to have been derived. The author of the paper found large areas on the slopes of Mount Hermon covered with this cereal, and it was found growing near an eastern branch of the Jordan, 500 feet below sea level and upon the slopes of the mountain, 6,300 feet above sea level, or in the zone of Alpine plants. By selection and crossing of this wild cereal, which prefers poor, rocky, shallow, dry soil, and thrives without any cultivation, it is thought possible to produce new races, which will be very persistent and very hardy, and to extend the cultivation of wheat to regions where, on account of the low quality of the soil and the severity of the climate, it is at present impossible to produce it.

The study of this and other wild types of our cereals does not confine itself to a merely botanical and historical end, but becomes intensely practical as an economic, even social problem, as its ultimate aim is to produce a little more bread at a little less expense, and to render this production possible where, up to the present time, it has been impossible.

UNLUCKY DAYS AND SIGNS.

A writer in one of our leading dailies remarks: "No one knows why the number 13 is counted unlucky." Thirteen was the number who sat down to that "Last Supper," and the old painter, in depicting the scene, makes Judas, in rising hastily, upset the salt. To eat salt together was the sign of friendship. To upset salt is unlucky, says the old saw. The first to leave a table where thirteen have eaten is said always to be the unlucky one who will die the coming year, because Judas left first. Not to pick up a pin is "unlucky"—because it denotes lack of thriftiness—and so on; there is always a reason for old saws—"dye fire where the smoke rises." Yet a former editor of this paper proved thirteen to be a lucky number, and the present writer prefers to begin things on a Friday, that so-called unlucky day.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Markets

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, Aug. 18.—Paine, Webber & Co. have this to say of today's stock market: "Political news was the chief factor in determining the course of the market. London sent lower quotations and followed the same up with a moderate volume of selling orders, due principally to reports emanating from this side. Some good support was noted in Steel and Union Pacific, but, judging by the action of the market during the last hour, the present selling movement is likely to be permitted to run its course. Washab and Rock Island were well absorbed, with various rumors in circulation, but the activity for the most part seemed to have resulted from pool operations. The market seems to resolve itself into an affair of specialties, with the general list a fair purchase on the recessions, for moderate profits."

Boston "Coppers."

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—Summarizing today's copper stock market, Paine, Webber & Co. say: "With no change in underlying conditions the whole list was considerably softer today. The bears stated that this was due to the fact that the shorts had all been driven to cover and that the technical position was weakened. We do not think, however, that this was the main reason, but think it was simply one of those reactions such as always come in bull markets. North Butte was slightly lower, but the other coppers maintained their strength in spite of the small volume of business. We are very bullish on the future of coppers and strongly advise their purchase."

[Paine, Webber & Co.]
Chicago, Aug. 18.—Wheat prices for delivery have not varied a great deal from the previous close, the session being of a decidedly choppy order. Liverpool was fairly firm and unchanged to a quarter higher, on further reports of poor threshing returns in France. New York and the Pacific coast reported a fair export business yesterday and there appears to be no doubt that a substantial volume of wheat was sold. Local traders have been the best sellers with the commission houses buyers on all the dips. The weather is fine in the Northwest and the continued large primary receipts checked the outside trade. The Armour people estimate the wheat crop in the Canadian Northwest at ninety-two million bushels. The market appears to have run into a rut and dullness may still be expected.

New York Cotton Market.

[Paine, Webber & Co.]
New York, Aug. 18.—Texas weather is still being made the principal market influence. The time has passed when it is an important factor with reference to the yield in that state. Texas has suffered damage beyond repair from the effects of nearly two months' drought and a short crop is inevitable, regardless of future weather. Heavy rains again in the eastern belt are of doubtful benefit, as it keeps an already late sappy plant backward in its fruiting and makes it

"MASONRY" RITES DECLARED BOGUS

Federal Officers Hold Darius Wilson on the Charge of Using the Mails to Defraud.

DEGREE CONFERRED FOR $10

Complaint Made by a Man from San Francisco—Bail Given for Hearing at Boston.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—Darius Wilson of Foxboro, formerly of Boston, one of the incorporators of the "College of Physicians and Surgeons" on Shawmut avenue, from which institution he obtained a degree of M. D. in 1882, was taken before United States Commissioner Darling in this city and held in $1000 bail for a hearing Aug. 20, on a charge of using the United States mails for a scheme to defraud. He was arrested in Brockton, the complainant is a San Francisco man, who says he paid Wilson $10 for making him a Mason, only to find that the degrees and work conferred were bogus.

United States authorities have in their possession a letter written to this man Wilson, saying: "Whoever informed you that the whole thing is bogus simply lied," and adding the information: "Our constitution gives the grand master, or any one whom he authorizes to assist him, the right to make Masons at sight, just precisely the same as Bro. Taft was made a Mason at sight."

Part of Fee for "Home."

Wilson claims to be "grand master" of the "Venerable Symbolic Grand Lodge, Ancient Egyptian Rite of Freemasonry for the United States of America." He has deputies in various parts of the country, who operate for him and make "Masons" of those willing to pay from $5 to $10 for the privilege. Out of each fee $4 goes to the support of a "Masonic home" in Foxboro, of which Wilson and his wife are the only occupants and are the trustees with power to use the funds as they please.

Wilson was made a Mason in a legitimate blue lodge in New York state more than forty years ago. He later went through the various degrees of both the York and Scottish Rite bodies, but was expelled from all his regular Masonic membership in 1882 because of his activity in establishing clandestine lodges.

As far back as 1885 he stirred up the Masons in New York by announcing himself as "most illustrious sovereign grand master of the sovereign sanctuary, Royal Masonic Rite." In some way he obtained from the triplicate council of the grand council of rites in Scotland a charter authorizing him to establish a Scottish Rite supreme grand council; but that body sent out notice in 1906 nullifying and withdrawing the powers granted to Wilson.

Claimed 61,000 Members.

At the time of his arrest in St. Louis in May, 1909, when he was accused of fraud in pretending to make two men Masons there, he claimed that the lodges under his jurisdiction had a membership of 61,000 and existed all over the country. He and his sons furnished bail and did not remain for trial. They were arrested in Newark, N. J., in August, 1909, on a similar charge.

The elder Wilson, who is 73 years old usually wears a frock coat and silk hat and makes a somewhat imposing appearance. He wears a mustache and goatee, and these and his long hair are nearly white.

A fraud order was obtained against Wilson in 1905, when complaints were made that he was using the mails in furtherance of his making of clandestine Masons, but it was later vacated upon his promise to discontinue the use of the mails for that purpose. Wilson claims to have founded both

MINING MEN TO LEAVE TUESDAY

MOVING PICTURE THEATRE.
 Calumet Man Signs Five-Year Lease for Quayle Block.

D. E. Rice, proprietor of the moving picture theatre in Negaunee, arrived here yesterday afternoon from the copper country and will be here for the next two or three weeks, while the Quayle block, on South Main street, which he has secured under a five-year lease, is being fitted up for his moving picture house. The Decorators Supply company of Chicago will design the front and lobby.

Mr. Rice intends to fit up a pretty picture house, paying particular attention to the lobby, the arch and decorating of which will be the plaster of Paris. He plans on making the lobby twelve feet deep. Three doors will be put in, the center one being for entrance and the side doors for exits. The ticket office will stand out from the doors, and will be stationed in the center of the lobby. Mr. Rice intends to put an opera chairs and the house will have a pit in front of the picture screen for an orchestra.

Mr. Rice will endeavor to have the house ready for the opening on Monday, Sept. 12. John J. Ryan, who is now in his employ in the copper country, will be the house manager working under the supervision of Charles Skiff, who will have general charge of the Ishpeming and Negaunee theatres. Miss Plattenberg of Marquette will be the pianist. Mr. Rice expects to let a contract today for the removal of the front end for the carpenter work.

Marquette County Members of Institute Plan to Attend Annual Meeting.

The Marquette county members of the Lake Superior Mineral Institute, who will attend the annual meeting next week at Ironwood, Gary, Ind., and Chicago, will leave Tuesday night on the Duluth train for Ironwood. They will have a special sleeper at their disposal. About thirty have already made plans for the trip, and A. J. Anderson, secretary, yesterday said that at least 200 members in the Lake Superior district will be in the party.

Two business sessions will be held, the first at Ironwood, Wednesday evening, and the other at Gary, Thursday evening. Wednesday will be spent in visiting the mines of the Gogebic range. The business meeting will be held in the evening, continuing until a short time before the departure of the special train for Chicago. The rate of fare from this county to Ironwood will be two cents a mile and from Ironwood to Chicago the regular rate will be charged. The excursionists will spend Thursday in Chicago and Friday at Gary, returning to Ishpeming late that afternoon. The Lake Superior members will leave Chicago Friday night by special train.

It is expected that between fifty and 100 of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Eastern members of the institute will join the party in Chicago Thursday morning, accompanying them to Gary, Friday evening the institute's annual banquet will be held in the Grand American. "THE FLOWER OF THE RANCH."

Music in Comedy Here Next Thursday

Written by Joe Howard.

"The Flower of the Ranch," which comes to Ishpeming theater next Thursday night, is one of Joseph E. Howard's dozen or more musical successes and is one of the most unique things yet given to the public by this prolific writer. It is a musical melodrama. There are nearly twenty catchy musical numbers and a big chorus, both of which could be removed and then there would still be a corking good play left.

The plot tells the story of a little girl, the only survivor of a stage coach wreck, who is taken home by a warm hearted old rancher, and made one of the family. She is too young when the accident occurs to know her name, and there is no evidence left to tell who she is. Her romping bright nature furnishes a lot of sunshine for the ranchers who dub her the "Flower." Sixteen years on a ranch brings her into young womanhood, and then the love affair follows, in which a young rancher, scheming sheriff and a villainous Mexican and others, including the foster father, are the principals.

"ROSELIND AT REDGATE"

Meredith Nicholson's novel, "Roselind at Redgate," which is dramatized form, has been duplicating the success of Mr. Nicholson's other play, "The House of a Thousand Candles," will be the offering at the Ishpeming theatre tomorrow evening. The play is a story of romance and adventure, with scenes laid in the same locality as its predecessor. "Roselind at Redgate" has for a long time been numbered among the "six best sellers" in the book stores, and it is said that the play is as interesting as the novel.

CIRCUS TRAIN WRECKED.

Campbell Bros.' circus, which recently exhibited in Ishpeming, was involved Tuesday in a bad wreck near Grand Rapids, Wis. The circus train and a passenger train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road collided at Babcock early in the morning, killing one man and seriously injuring several others. Several of the animals of the circus menagerie were also killed. The circus train was standing in Babcock ready to pull out when the passenger train, northbound, arrived in the village and took the same track, the train meeting head on. The engine, mail car and baggage car of the passenger train and the engine and several cars of the circus train were badly wrecked.

George F. Ruez's Review.

The New York market opened lower and continued weak until noon, with declines ranging from a large fraction to one point. This was followed by a period of dullness and recovery toward the close. Offerings disappear on declines and activity brings better prices. Cotton and corn prices are reported much improved by favorable weather. New York says it can see the market only one way and that is higher. The weaker tone in New York caused some profit-taking in Boston, and the leaders declined during the first half of the session. There was some betterment toward the close, but the market failed to reach yesterday's high figures. Reversions like that of today's are to be expected occasionally and should be taken advantage of by buy stocks. Sentiment is bullish on the copper and we look for a rising market for some time yet. Area. The market was very active and higher on a recovery of a good-looking lode by Breckinridge. We believe the lake issues, North Butte, Utah Consolidated and Calumet & Arizona will be leaders in a further advance, to be followed later by those with larger capitalizations. The curb was quieter today. Algonquin was higher and active at the opening, but later became quiet and declined to 13 1/2. We hear excellent reports of this stock as a speculation. Inspiration continues active and holds its advance well. Bohemian and New Baltic should advance shortly. The others

A RAILWAY STATION BESIEGED BY BEES.

Six hives of bees dispatched from Guilford to Malden, near Kingston-on-Thames, were productive of an exciting incident at Surbiton station. The train did not stop at Malden, and an attempt was made to take the bees out of the van at Surbiton. But one of the hives fell to pieces and the porters had to beat a retreat. The train could not wait, and the van was taken on to Waterloo, but subsequently was returned to Surbiton. Once again the porter entered the van and succeeded in dragging the hives on to the platform. The bees from the broken hive, however, immediately besieged the station, causing waiting passengers to scatter in all directions. Several members of the station staff were stung, and finally lighted pieces of oily waste were applied to the hive, which was quickly consumed.—London Daily Mail.

THE RED MAN'S BLANKET.

Every Brave Insists Upon Three Broad Stripes in Different Colors.

There are two important factors that in the mind of the brave, must be present to comprise a genuine Indian blanket. First, the skill and judgment he exercises in making his selection is worthy of mention. Whether he is to possess one of the 20 blankets has nothing to do with the great care used in selecting them.

His first demand is that the robe contain three colors—red, yellow and green, usually one of the three being the prevailing shade. Secondly, he demands that the blanket have three bold stripes—all the same pattern and carrying the same colors—two being ten inches from each edge of the robe, while the third and center stripe is a trifle wider and also runs the entire length of the blanket.

When the blanket is worn by the Indian, the center stripe falls in the middle of the back, giving the tall and stately effect so much desired.

If perchance the Indian is in mourning, the pattern is not changed, but the blanket contains only dark blue and black as colors. The manner in which the Indian wraps his blanket about him denotes very often the state of mind. Grief or sorrow, for instance, would be marked by the blanket being drawn over the lower portion of the face, leaving exposed the nose and eyes only.

There is no article of wearing apparel as much used as the blanket by the Indian. As a saddle and padding, as a shelter or bed while hunting or fishing, carefully hung about the sides and bottom of his tepee during the winter, and an indispensable covering the entire year.

Even in the hottest summer days an Indian would be loath to leave off wearing his blanket. His theory is that if it keeps out the cold in the winter, it will keep out the heat in summer. While he may not care to buy anything else so expensive, the price of a suitable blanket is never questioned, but it would be difficult indeed to deceive him as to the texture of any robe.

A squaw will imitate almost anything that pleases her fancy, but in the matter of her blanket or shawl she exhibits an unusual amount of individuality. With great care she selects the design of her blanket, and when she places the order with the mill man he does not dare duplicate it until she has had an opportunity to wear it. If she makes the request that it shall not be duplicated her wishes are regarded, because it is the one article she possesses in which exclusiveness is much coveted. And also because what would please one squaw would not appear at all attractive to another.

The lightweight blanket or shawl is thrown over the head of the squaw, and unless she is able to procure a bright colored silk handkerchief, it will serve as her only bonnet as well. It is just as common a sight now to see the papoose securely bound on the back of its mother by a portion of her blanket as it used to be to see the wee head of the Indian babe peeping from the "te-ka-s," or frame cradle, which was carried on the back of the mother.

HANDICAPPED.

This Is the Case With Many Marquette People.

Too many Marquette citizens are handicapped with a bad back. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stooping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest, and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief, but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. The following statement should convince every Marquette reader of their efficiency. James Simmons, 317 E. Huggett St., Iron Mountain, Mich., writes: "I had kidney trouble for ten years and suffered greatly from a lame and aching back. At times I could hardly drag myself around and should have been home instead of working. I had to be careful when secretions were very irregular in passage and at night I would be obliged to get up five or six times to avoid them. I heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that I finally decided to try them and procured a box. In a few days after using the remedy my condition was greatly improved and before long the back-ache was removed."

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE CYR ADDITION

Property Owners Have Expended Nearly $50,000 in Eighteen Months.

The Cyr addition, which was platted over a year ago and which is now almost entirely built up, is rapidly improving its appearance. The amount expended for the purchase of lots, new dwellings and the improvement of old dwellings during the past eighteen months has been in the neighborhood of $50,000. Ten new houses have been put up. Nine of these are in the Cyr addition, and the other one on a lot formerly owned by the O'Leary family on the corner of Cyr and Jackson streets. There is only one house in the addition that represents an outlay of less than $2,000, and the cost of erecting some of the dwellings will exceed $3,000. Most of the new houses have been provided with modern conveniences and they present an attractive appearance.

It will be at least a year before the improvements in the addition will be completed, as the owners have not yet started to make good. All of the property owners with the exception of two, had to fill their lots, but this work has practically been finished. No fences have yet been erected, nor have any trees been planted. Practically all of the lots platted by the Cyr estate were sold within a few days after they were put on the market, and there are now only six of them on which dwellings have not been erected.

Several of the dwellings on the west side of Cyr street, which was the first residence district platted in the city, have been improved this summer. H. G. Muck, S. S. Mitchell and W. E. James have spent large sums on their homes. Mr. Muck's dwelling is now almost twice as large as it was formerly and the addition to the Mitchell house also greatly increased its size. William Neely, who purchased the Cyr homestead, on the opposite side of the street, has expended a considerable sum in the improvement of his place. One of the improvements is a concrete wall and walk extending along the entire length of his property.

C. G. Griffey, whose properties are practically in the Cyr addition, has also spent a goodly sum in the improvement of the past three years; he has erected two dwellings and his former home has been improved.

The residents of Cyr street are much interested in the plan to remove the street railway to the Northwestern's right-of-way. Most of them would like to have the change made as the street is narrow, being in fact one of the narrowest streets in the city, and in the winter time the thoroughfare is many times almost impassable. Cyr street was the first residence thoroughfare laid out in the city and the late Edward Breitling of the late Dr. L. D. Cyr was among the first to erect dwellings there.

LITTLE INTEREST IN POLITICS

Voters of Negaunee: Not Yet Aroused over Primary Election.

Although the primary election will be held two weeks from next Tuesday, Sept. 6, the Negaunee voters are not showing much interest in it. There has been little discussion among the voters so far, but in spite of this it is thought that a good vote will be cast, as it is understood that an organized effort will be made to get the men to the polls. Congressman Townsend is slated for a visit next week, and Congressman H. O. Young, who is being opposed for the nomination by Angus W. Kerr, will address a meeting of the voters.

Charles S. Osborn, the upper peninsula candidate for governor, will visit Negaunee before election, as he is to spend all of his time in the lower peninsula, but an Osborn meeting is to be held in the city.

SERVED GOOD SUPPER.

The French ladies of St. Paul's Catholic church, who served supper Wednesday evening in Shea's hall, received many compliments. The supper is said to have been one of the best that has been served in the city in months. The Irish ladies, who were to serve supper last evening, changed their plans, and served a lunch and ice cream and other refreshments, instead. George DeRauvay, the door prize Wednesday evening, was in charge of the fair and the ladies in charge of the fair are much pleased with the music being furnished by Brotherton's orchestra and the bands. The musicians are donating their services. When the votes were counted in the diamond ring contest Wednesday evening, Miss Reidy had 700 and the Misses Ammino and Arnett, 400 each.

NATIONAL TROUBADOURS.

Miss Loubelle Jolly, representing the National Troubadours, has completed arrangements with the Epworth league of the Mitchell Methodist church for the troubadour entertainment in McDonald's opera house next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, the 23rd and 24th. Over 100 young people are now rehearsing various drills and musical numbers. Miss Jolly carries 240 costumes.

SOME FINE BERRIES.

Crop On Lake Shore East of Marquette an Unusually Good One.

The number of cases of blueberries being handled by the Western and American Express companies here has been increasing almost daily for two weeks past. The average shipments now exceed 100 cases a day. The berries consigned to points in Minnesota and points farther west are going over the Soo line. It is reported that the shipments in that direction are even heavier than those going via Negaunee to Milwaukee and Chicago. Many berries are also being shipped to lower peninsula points, via Mackinaw. It is reported that the crop near Seney is the best harvested in years. The lake shore is practically the only place in that district where berries are being picked this season, as the dry spell in July ruined the crop on the plains.

LOCAL LACONICS.

C. E. Reeds and wife of Chicago, were Negaunee visitors yesterday. W. D. B. Matter, Jr., of Crystal Falls, looked after business in the city yesterday.

Michael Kelley, who has been engaged in diamond drill work in Mexico, has returned to his home here.

The bazaar that is to be conducted Sept. 16 and 17, instead of tonight and by the ladies of the Swedish Lutheran church will be held on the evenings of tomorrow night.

Sandy Johnson, who had partially planned to move his livery business from the Hackenjos building, East Iron street to the Corbit stables, on Lincoln street, has decided to remain in his present location.

The children of St. John's Sunday School society had a very enjoyable picnic yesterday at the Cleveland park. The youngsters were given a ride over the street car line in the carnival, before going to the grove.

Matthew Maloney, who purchased the old Montreal house and moved it to his lot on Jackson street, now has thirteen rooms ready for occupancy and he desires to rent the place either for a boarding house or hotel. He intends to fit up the remaining seven rooms on the third floor.

Cleo Meilleur arrived in the city Wednesday night from Ontonagon, where he spent several days preparing his household goods for shipment to Negaunee. Mrs. Meilleur and the children will spend a few weeks at their camp, near Ontonagon, before coming here to take up their permanent residence. The family will occupy the western half of Mr. A. C. Mackenzie's double dwelling on Main street.

Boys are doing considerable damage to the Teal lake boat houses and boats. Many of the doors and windows have been broken with stones, and some of the youngsters are also using rifles to shoot holes into the boats. George Whittington took out his canoe one day this week and when on the lake he discovered a leak in it, due to a rifle shot.

The council will sit as a board of review following the regular meeting on the evening of Sept. 1, for the purpose of reviewing the Merry street sewer roll. There are twenty-four properties on the street recently connected with the system. The average cost of the work is $14.02 for lots with a fifty-foot frontage and an average of $7.50 for lots having a twenty-eight foot frontage.

AGED COUPLE ARE WEDDED.

A couple whose ages aggregate 147 years have been united in marriage at Perkins, Delta county, by Pastor Lacroix officiating. The groom was Charles O. Bisson and the bride Mrs. Marcelline Badger Bisson. The former is seventy-eight years of age while the bride has seen the passing of sixty-nine summers. The only witness to the ceremony which made the aged couple was another elderly couple who have been friends of the bride and groom for many years. Both of the principals are pioneers of Perkins.

HAS A $2,500 DIAMOND.

Easily one of the most perfect diamonds in the upper peninsula is that which has been received by John Novack, an Escanaba jeweler, and which he will retain as his personal property. The stone is perfect in shape and color and weighs exactly five carats, being valued at close to $2,500. The order for the diamond was placed by Mr. Novack over three years ago. It was received direct from a diamond cutter's shop in Holland when it had been received from the Kimberly, South Africa.

BRIDE OF A MONTH.

The remains of Mrs. Samson Bard have been laid at rest at Ontonagon, where scarcely more than a month ago the young woman was united in marriage. Her maiden name was Margaret Blackwood. Her marriage was the culmination of a romance which had its inception at the Carleton Indian school, of which institution both bride and groom were graduates. The bereaved husband lives at Browning, Mont., and it was at that place that the death of the young wife took place. Her demise was due to appendicitis.

BOY FALLS INTO LAKE.

A boy giving his name as Edwin Creek and his home as 221 North Oak street came very near losing his life by falling into the water from the Stephenson dock at Escanaba. The lad is about twelve years old and had ridden onto the wharf on his bicycle. As he was trying to dismount he fell into the water. It so happened that Claude Raymond saw him fall and immediately climbed down the side of the dock and managed to reach the boy, who was nearly paralyzed by fright. By that time others came to the rescue and both Mr. Raymond and the boy were pulled onto the dock. The bicycle was later rescued by the steward on the Maywood.

MAKE GREAT ADD ABOUT NOTHING

Down State Newspapers Trying to Make a Sensation Out of a Reported 58,000 Primary Enrollment in the Upper Peninsula, and Suggest an Investigation.

Reasonable Explanation is That Entire Enrolled Vote of District Has Been Confused With Number Who Enrolled Last Spring—Many Dead Ones on List.

Local politicians are somewhat amused at the seriousness with which the report that the enrolled vote of the upper peninsula exceeds the vote cast at the election two years ago by about 8,000, has been taken by many of the down state newspapers. According to a report sent out from Lansing a few days ago, it appears that the total enrollment in the fifteen counties north of the straits is 58,135, while the total vote at the primaries two years ago was but 10,016, and the vote of all parties for governor in the election following was only 50,283.

One of the Lansing papers has made this discovery the basis of a story setting up an alarming condition of affairs, from a down state standpoint, in that it means that the upper peninsula with its practically solid Republican vote can dictate the result at the primaries. It is even hinted that the size of the enrollment warrants an investigation, it being alleged that the mining interests are interested as never before in the result this year and are using every means in their power to prevent an increase in their tax assessments. It is stated that there is at least an indication of a stuffed enrollment and that it is the duty of the lower peninsula interests to investigate the situation before Sept. 6. To those familiar with conditions in the upper peninsula all this fuss and flare up are amusing. As a matter of fact the public generally is not taking any great interest in the coming primaries and it is not expected that there will be anything like a full Republican vote cast. Those well qualified to judge predict that the primary vote in the upper peninsula will not exceed 20,000, while there are many who claim that it will be nearer 20,000. North of the straits there exists the same apparent general apathy toward the result of the primaries, that is causing the candidates so much concern in the lower state counties, and the fact is that a large proportion of the voters have as yet given the primary election little if any concern.

Conclusion Unwarranted.

It appears that in their zeal to work up a sensational story, the down state newspapers have jumped to the conclusion that the 58,000 total means just those who enrolled at the election last spring. This must be an entirely wrong supposition, and the figures can mean nothing else than the total enrolled vote, of which the enrollment last spring represents only a part. It is common knowledge to the voters here that the election boards have been very lax in revising the enrollment lists and that from 15 to 30 per cent of the names are duplicates, or represent persons who are dead or have moved out of the precinct.

In Marquette city, for instance, with the exception of the Fourth and Fifth wards, there was a small enrollment last spring and it is anticipated that many good Republicans will find that they are ineligible to vote when they appear at the polls on primary day. Nevertheless, the total number of enrolled voters, as shown by the lists, in every ward in the city is larger than the vote of that ward.

County Clerk Frank G. Jenks is now engaged in a count of the enrolled voters of the county for the purpose of determining how many primary ballots must be printed for each party. He reports that the lists are absolutely unreliable, as far as determining the actual number of qualified voters is concerned, owing to the numerous names on the lists which should have been stricken out, as the men have long ago gone out of the precinct. In some instances, names of men who have been dead for five years are still listed as qualified voters.

It is the general opinion that the situation in Marquette city exemplifies that of the whole upper peninsula and that the down state politicians have been scared by a mere phantom. Neither the mining companies nor the general public is showing the interest in the primary election that would naturally be expected and any prediction that the total Republican vote of the upper peninsula will exceed 20,000 is overshooting the mark in the opinion of the sober minded politicians.

FIELD DAY PROGRAM.

Interesting Round of Sports Afternoon of First Day of Fair.

On the first day of the county fair, Monday, Sept. 5, Labor Day, a program of track and field events will be run off in the afternoon. Following is the list of events:

Track Events—100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard run, half mile run, mile run, two mile run.

Field Events—Shot and javelin throw, putting the shot, discus throw, pole vault, running broad jump, running high jump.

Relay races of one mile, with four men teams.

The program will be started at 2 o'clock sharp. No cash prizes will be given, so that the amateur standing of the participants will not be affected. Sterling silver medals will be awarded first place winners, bronze medals for second place and ribbons for third place.

Relay races between a Guild Hall team and teams from other towns in the county are being arranged. It is expected that other Marquette teams will be on the field.

Send all entries to A. T. Roberts, Marquette. The officials for the day will be announced later.

OYSTERS WILL BE LUXURY.

Prices of Bivalves Expected to Soar as Result of Restrictions.

As a result of ruling recently made by the department of agriculture, lovers of oysters may have to pay an extra price for the soup material during the coming season. Dealers of the oyster in Marquette are wondering just what effect the rulings will have and are trying to get a line on what prices will be and how the supply will hold out.

The new law of the department that no oysters could be shipped in water has now been followed by other rulings, including the making of it unlawful to "ship or sell in interstate commerce, oysters or other shellfish taken from unsanitary or polluted beds." It is also made unlawful to ship oysters previously packed in any water in which they were grown.

One local dealer when asked concerning the conditions, said: "Owners of oyster beds do not know what minute an inspector may step up and inform them that the product of a certain bed cannot be shipped. At the present time it is impossible to get a line on the market. The shipping of oysters in packages and without water will, I believe, tend to raise the price somewhat. Due to the poor season the supply of all fish, fresh water and ocean caught, is small and the prices are the highest in years."

Guild Hall Notes

The Guild Hall baseball team will play two games this afternoon on Longyear field, the first with the West Ends at 2:30, and the second with the Has Beens at 3 o'clock. The work of leveling the diamond has been completed and the grounds put in first-class condition. A new backstop thirty-five feet high has been erected and the entire field been mowed and raked. Because of these improvements the games this afternoon should be much faster than any the team has yet played. The line-up of the first game will be as follows: Quarters, p; Larsen, c; Hayes, 1b; Shook, 2b; Byrne, 3b; Frei, ss; Harkin, Crebassa, lf; Landry, cf; Bowser, rf. The line-up for the second game will be as announced for the game Thursday, with the exception of Christianson and Johnson, who will assist Crebassa and Larsen as batteries, and Ripelle, who will play left field in the absence of Smith. The Guild Hall team fully expects to win both games, but their chief interest centers in the game with the Has Beens. Having already been defeated twice by this team, they think that it is about time for them to show the Has Beens that the Guild Hall team is really the better team. It has been learned upon good authority that the outside talent which the Has Beens had hoped to spring upon the team that they might again come out victorious, is unavailable. Consequently, the teams will meet with practically the same line-up that played in the two previous games.

The club baseball team will meet this morning at 10 o'clock on Longyear field for regular practice. Several new members have recently joined this class and all are requested to come out for more coaching. The manager of practice this morning. The manager of the team has arranged for a game with a team from Cheshley for Monday afternoon on Longyear field, so it is necessary that every fellow who wants to try for the team to be on hand this morning.

The E club will hold its regular weekly meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the reading room. Matters of special importance are to be discussed.

BACK TO SCHOOL ON SEPTEMBER 6

One Member of Board of Education to Be Elected on Labor Day—Two Candidates.

At a meeting of the board of education held this week it was formally decided that the public schools of the city will open Tuesday, Sept. 6. Four more grade teachers were also engaged: Misses Laura Blake, Laura McCarthy, Irene Connell and Frances O'Reilly. There are one or two other vacancies in the teaching staff to be filled, but action will probably be deferred until the addition to the North Marquette school is completed. The carpenters are rushing this addition as rapidly as possible, but it is doubtful if it will be ready for occupancy on the opening day of school. The school board has also made arrangements for the election to be held Labor Day, at which one member of the board is to be elected. Thus far there are two candidates in the field for the position, Dr. J. J. Hornbogen, the present incumbent, is a candidate for re-election, and he is opposed by J. E. Reau, who was formerly a member of the board. In order to have their names on the ballots, those candidates must file a petition not less than five days before election, and signed by at least fifty qualified electors of the city.

In order to be eligible to vote at this election, one must be a taxpayer, or the parent of one or more children of school age, and must be registered. Both men and women meeting these requirements are entitled to vote. Those who are not registered may register at the city hall Saturday, Aug. 27, the registration board being J. F. Neidhart, James O'Reilly and H. J. Hornbogen.

J. F. Neidhart, D. H. Ball and E. S. Bice have been appointed election commissioners, and J. F. Neidhart, James O'Reilly and E. S. Bice election inspectors.

There was some talk of dividing the city into two election precincts before the school election, but this has not been done, and the only voting place will be at the city hall, as in former years. To date, state and congressional politics have overshadowed the school election, and there has been very little interest manifested.

NEW MONEY ORDER FORM.

Practice of Sending Advices to Paying Office Eliminated.

Another important change, in the interest of postal economy, will shortly be put into effect. It affects the system of issuing domestic money orders and it does away with the waiting for advices of order in a detachable coupon form the other can be paid, as well as eliminating the handling of considerable office mail. The new money orders will be issued as soon as the supply of blanks of the present form is exhausted.

The distinctive feature of the new form of order is a detachable coupon containing particulars of the order and designated to take the place of the present advice form, but to be delivered by the issuing postmaster to the purchaser, and presented for payment with the order, but will still be convenient to handle as commercial paper by banks and mercantile establishments.

The adoption of the order will do much in reducing the pieces of penny mail handled by postal clerks on the railroads and distributors, besides the necessary routine work done away with in the money order divisions of postoffice.

THEATRICAL.

"The Flower of the Ranch."

"The Flower of the Ranch," which comes to the opera house Monday night, is a musical play in three acts, all of the scenes of which have been laid in the West, with colorful and complete scenic settings. The book, lyrics and music of the play have been written by Joseph E. Howard, composer of "The Time, the Place and the Girl," "The Girl Question," "Honey-moon Trail," "A Stubborn Cinderella" and other successful works. The story of the play in brief is as follows:

Winding down a steep mountain trail in California a stage coach containing several passengers is overturned and crashes down into the valley. A ranchman arrives on the scene and finds but one living survivor of the wreck, a baby girl held fast in her dead mother's arms. He takes the child, and as no papers or evidence of the child's identity can be found, adopts her as his own. Seventeen years later, the child, grown to happy young womanhood and beloved by everyone with whom she comes in contact, is the life of the town of Tomahawk, a straggling settlement in which she has charge of her father's general store, Jack Farman, a popular young ranchman, whose possessions are coveted by a scheming sheriff, falls in love with Flower, as the young woman is known, and complications in which a thieving Mexican adds to the interest, develop. An Indian chief whom Farman had befriended assists Flower in thwarting the designs of the sheriff and the young ranchman regains the deed to his property, which had been stolen by the Mexican, who in turn has been slain by the sheriff whom he tried to betray.
