

JUICY PLUMS ARE AWAITING DISTRIBUTION

Seven of the Eleven Best Federal Positions in the State Are to Be Disposed of by Senator Smith and His New Colleague—Many Changes Due, It Is Said.

Retirement of John W. Blodgett as State Committeeman Is Probable—Washington Opinion Is That Way Is Clear to Give Byrns Marquette Collectorship.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Great changes in patronage and political influence will follow the defeat of Senator Burrows.

Important federal appointments in Michigan have been hanging fire, awaiting the result of the primary vote.

The result of the primary fight is to place the power directly in the hands of Senator Smith.

Blodgett May Retire. The primary vote means the dissolution of that strange senatorial triumvirate in Grand Rapids which has directed the policy of the senator.

Important Places to Be Filled. The other important federal places in Michigan which are now being held merely until successors to the incumbents are appointed are as follows:

Rose Will Probably Remain. The position of Henry M. Rose is probably not seriously endangered by the defeat of the senior senator.

ent places of Judge George M. Buck of Kalamazoo, who has been clerk of the committee on privileges and elections, and of Marvin H. Humphrey, of Three Rivers, messenger of that committee.

The political change will probably have no immediate effect on Michigan's representation in the diplomatic field.

During his long service in the house and senate, Senator Burrows' secretary has many departments in places for his adherents.

G. O. P. TEXT BOOK MUCH CRITICISED

"Insurgents" Displeased Because the Overthrow of Speaker Cannon Is Ignored.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The Republican campaign textbook has been the public one for a few days, but already it has come in for heavy criticism from both within and without the party.

The insurgents are naturally chagrined that in listing legislative enactments accomplished in the last session, no mention whatever is made of the important modifications in the tariff where Democrats and insurgents forced from the stand-patters a surrender of much of the autocratic power of the speaker.

The most serious attack on the publication is based on the fact that the Republican campaign committee, through its text book, appeals to the country through the record of the Republican representatives, many of whom have already been repudiated by the Republicans in their own districts.

The Republicans in the house make up 217 of the full membership of 391. Of these 217, twenty-two Republican members have already been ousted in their own districts, and the task of leading the party in the local fights against the Democrats has been given to other men.

Madison, Sept. 11.—Chairman Davies of the Democratic state committee, said today that the Democrats of Wisconsin polled about 25 per cent of the election vote of the party at the primary just ended, and that the Democratic nominees will not be taken off the ticket under the new law requiring a poll of 20 per cent.

EX-PRESIDENT IS HOME FROM TOUR OF WEST

Wearily After His Travel of Upwards of Fifty-Four Hundred Miles, but Well Satisfied With the Results, Theodore Roosevelt Returns to Sagamore Hill.

Today He Will Attend to His Accumulated Mass of Correspondence and Tomorrow, It Is Expected, He Will Plunge Into the New York Political Struggle

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 11.—After an absence of three weeks, Theodore Roosevelt is home again, weary from his western trip but well satisfied with the results.

The colonel reached New York at ten this morning from Pittsburg. An automobile was waiting at the ferry, he hopped into the machine with agility, was whisked across the city to the ferry for Long Island and a little after noon was in Oyster Bay.

It was Aug. 23 that Mr. Roosevelt left New York, and during his absence he has been in sixteen states and has travelled more than fifty-four hundred miles, mostly through the mid-west.

LORIMER PROPOSES TO QUIT THE CLUB

He Sends in His Resignation; but It Will Not Be Accepted, It Is Said.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—A terse note of resignation addressed to the Hamilton club was the answer made here yesterday by Senator William Lorimer to the action of the club's president, John H. Batten, in withdrawing his invitation to the Roosevelt banquet Thursday night.

Together with the resignation, news of the correspondence from Mr. Batten to Senator Lorimer developed, showing that the junior Illinois senator also was to have been a guest of honor and that it was the hope of the club to make this dinner notable as a harmonious occasion where all factions of the Republican party had broken bread together.

Washington, Sept. 11.—General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, has returned from his conference with President Taft at Beverly and announces that the army will be recruited to the authorized strength of 87,000 men.

Three Fatal Automobile Accidents. Nahant, Mass., Sept. 11.—Albert E. Hann, thirty-eight years of age, of Lowell, and Mrs. Fannie Reed, of Nahant, were killed and Herman Stegman, of St. Paul, was seriously injured when their automobile crashed into an electric light pole here today.

Two Murders in Illinois. Springfield, Ills., Sept. 11.—On a crowded North street car tonight, Ike McDonald, forty-five years of age, a lunch stand keeper, was shot through the heart and killed. At least a dozen persons witnessed the killing and saw the slayer leap from the car and escape.

Four Die by Drowning. St. Louis, Sept. 11.—A man and a boy were drowned here this afternoon when the ferryboat Samuel B. Wiggins ran into and capsized a sailboat which they were sailing with a companion on the Mississippi river. The dead were August Eichelberg, aged twenty-five, and Charles Levison, aged nine, both of St. Louis. Their companion was saved.

New York, Sept. 11.—Philip Bernstein, loss of a job of elevator installation in the Fourth National bank building, was struck by a bag of cement that fell on him as he was working at the bottom of the shaft. He cautioned the men above to be careful and went on with his work.

McGrane, a jeweller and head of McGrane's Catholic tours, has been appointed a knight commander of the Order of St. Gregory the Great by Pope Pius X. Four years ago he was made by the pontiff a knight of St. Gregory. The new title gives Mr. McGrane special privileges, such as occupying a distinguished post at papal ceremonies.

DESPERATE CONVICTS BECOME FIRE-BUGS

Blaze Started in Futile Effort to Escape Threatens Destruction of Joliet Prison.

Joliet, Ills., Sept. 11.—In a futile attempt to escape, a number of convicts today fired a prison warehouse filled with excelsior. The building was destroyed. The prison fire brigade was unable to cope with the flames and the Joliet fire department was called. Warden Murphy says that fire started simultaneously in two parts of the excelsior warehouse. While he has not been able to detect the suspected men, he believes that the incendiaries intended to escape during the excitement, if they did not intend to destroy the entire prison. As the warehouse was well filled, the flames threatened nearby buildings and filled the air with burning shavings. The damage is $4,000.

FEDERAL CENSUS LEAVES BOSTON STILL AMERICA'S FIFTH CITY.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The population of Boston, Mass., is 670,585, an increase of 109,993, or 19.6 per cent, as compared with 560,592 in 1900. This leaves Boston the fifth city in population in the United States.

COL. ROOSEVELT HAS STRONG FIST

An Incident of His Career Which Indicates That He Can Protect Himself. Washington, Sept. 11.—The self-possession displayed by Colonel Roosevelt in handling the man who it is believed, was attempting to assault him at Island Park, N. D., recalled among his friends in Washington an incident which occurred while he was president which served to illustrate what case he could protect himself if given half a chance. The incident never became public owing to the unwillingness of Mr. Roosevelt to permit its publication.

Colonel Roosevelt's fondness for walking after he had been occupied with desk matters for several hours took him out on the streets of Washington at midnight. Accompanied by Secret Service Agent Craig, who later was killed in a trolley accident at Pittsfield, Mass., the president went to the house of Secretary Root, who had agreed, by telephone, to go on the midnight walk. Craig was his custom, was walking fifteen or twenty feet behind the two statesmen. As they were walking down Connecticut avenue in the direction of the White House, Craig was horrified to see a big man jump from behind a tree and lunge at the president. The secret service man, although startled at the possibility of an assassination, pulled his gun from his hip pocket and hurried to protect the president. Before he reached his side there was a smash and a thud. The president was rubbing his right fist, which he had bruised when he sent it crashing against his would-be assailant's jaw. Craig turned his attention to the man, who had been knocked senseless. He worked over him for fifteen minutes before he restored him to consciousness. A search of his clothes disclosed that he was not carrying weapons of any kind and when he had sufficiently recovered his senses to talk he declared that he was going to ask for money, but did not know that his prospective victim was the president of the United States.

The incident convinced Craig and the other secret service men detailed to protect Colonel Roosevelt that the colonel could in all probability do more to protect himself in an emergency than the men who walked fifteen or twenty feet behind him. In this particular instance Mr. Roosevelt disposed of his assailant probably because he saw in a moment that he had the advantage, but it is known that while president he always carried a revolver, which he was prepared to use on anyone who attempted to take his life.

Every woman resents in her heart the man who respects her for her character alone.

DAILY MINING JOURNAL

A MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY THE MINING JOURNAL CO. (LIMITED).

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

MARQUETTE, MICH., SEPT. 12.

Dick Fletcher, of Bay, is in eclipse. His light is going out.

Dick Fletcher, says the Ishpeming Iron Ore, need not spend any time or money trying to put himself into condition to come back.

No use to talk the state of Superior any more. We are now indeed part of Michigan and are going to supply its next governor. 'Rah!—Ishpeming Iron Ore.

The Negaunee baseball team has won the pennant in the Marquette-Iron county league. It clinched the title by taking the game played with Marquette Friday. Both this deciding game and the pennant were fairly won. Negaunee has first place because throughout the season it has played more consistent and better baseball than any of the other teams, because, in short, it has had the best team. Under the circumstances, nobody begrudges Negaunee its leadership. It will enter the series with the Escanaba team with the best wishes for success, for it will be hoped that it will be able to show that the quality of baseball played in Marquette county this year has been second to none in the upper peninsula.

The upper peninsula press is wasting no sorrow over the outcome of the senatorial primary. While The Mining Journal has no information on the subject, it ventures the opinion that a considerable majority of the upper peninsula newspaper men marked their ballots for Mr. Townsend. None of them showed in the columns of their newspapers any great amount of solicitude for the political welfare of Senator Burrows. The upper peninsula press, like the upper peninsula public, is wide awake, in touch with popular currents and desirous of moving abreast of the times. It is constantly becoming more vital and independent, and is now forming its own opinion and striking out boldly for itself, as it sees the right. The upper peninsula press has today more real significance and character than ever before in its history.

The Saginaw Courier Herald publishes figures showing that after Chippewa county, Marquette, of the upper peninsula counties, gave Mr. Osborn the largest proportionate vote in the primaries last week. In Chippewa Mr. Osborn polled 91 per cent of the vote. Saginaw ranked next. There he polled 79.5 per cent of the vote. Then came Marquette, with 76 per cent, followed by Houghton, with 70 per cent and Jackson with 61 per cent. Marquette's showing is all the more notable when it is considered that much more campaign work for Mr. Osborn was done in Houghton than in this county. There numerous Osborn clubs were organized, here none at all. They were not judged necessary to a satisfactory issue of the campaign, and the vote justified the judgment of Mr. Osborn's Marquette county friends on that score.

The reform movement is evidently not making very rapid progress in Colorado, as indicated by the fact that the legislators of that state have just voted against the adoption of a measure to abolish the pass evil. But the people of Colorado will have the last say in the matter, and if they are alive to their own interests they will proceed to retire the legislators who voted against the anti-pass bill and replace them with others who will not be so anxious to participate in the graft of passes, which of course means nothing less than subversion to railroad dictation. Wisconsin was a pioneer in the movement to abolish passes, and a good many other states have since enacted similar laws. There are still some states where this evil is tolerated. Colorado should be ashamed of itself for its attitude and so should Illinois and other states which permit this antiquated form of graft.

Colonel Roosevelt has gone his way. The Hamilton club incident may be indistinct in his mind, if not forgotten in the rush of other events. It still looms large in Chicago, however. The Hamilton club is greatly perturbed over it. Speaker Cannon is also greatly perturbed. He intimates that if he had been acquainted with the true inwardness of the situation at that time he might have started something. It is fortunate his knowledge was so incomplete that he didn't know exactly where to head in. The Hamilton club had enough of sensation as the thing stood. The Hamilton club probably wishes by this time that it had allowed some other organization to entertain Colonel Roosevelt, or that it might have been fortunate enough to have foreseen that he would take emphatic exception to the proposed presence of Senator Lorimer. The incident was a wholly regrettable one, but Colonel Roosevelt took what was, under all the circumstances, the only proper course. The results of his action will be good, even if the Hamilton club is split right up the back.

It would be a fitting and proper thing to organize the fall campaign with W. Frank Knox, of the Soo, and Paul H. King, of Lansing, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the Republican state committee. Mr. Knox's part in the Osborn victory was only second to that of Mr. Osborn himself. While Mr. Osborn was attending to the oratorical end of the campaign, Mr. Knox was absolutely tireless in effecting a state wide organization that would deliver the votes on primary day. How well and effectively he worked is shown by the extent of the Osborn victory at the polls. On Mr. King and Senator Tuttle devolved much of the detail work of the Townsend campaign. They had to look after duties that were being performed for Senator Burrows by from six to a dozen secretaries and clerks. Mr. King was indefatigable and invaluable. Nothing was too small to escape his attention, nothing so large as to daunt him. He plunged with confidence into everything there was to be done, and got splendid results in all parts of the state, forming the scattered Townsend support into a fine fighting machine. There are no two men in Michigan better acquainted at this time with political conditions throughout the state's eighty-three counties than are Messrs. Knox and King. There are no two men who are capable of giving the Republican party more valuable service in the fall campaign. They are pre-eminently the men who should be placed in charge of it.

Major Bailey, of Battle Creek, a militant Democrat, who was nominated by his party last week to make the run for the office of lieutenant governor, has announced that he will not be a candidate. The primary election didn't result the way the Democrats hoped it would. They were pulling hard for Lieutenant Governor Kelley for the Republican nomination for governor. With Mr. Kelley the nominee, Mr. Hemans, their candidate, would have duplicated the campaign that so nearly landed him a winner in 1908. He would have concentrated his energies on the task of coining the prejudice existing against the Warner administration into votes. But this sort of a campaign will gain him nothing against Chase S. Osborn. If he chooses to make an aggressive fight, he will doubtless try to make something out of the taxation issue, and will try to frighten the lower Michigan electorate with an upper peninsula bugaboo. But Mr. Kelley also essayed this line of attack against Mr. Osborn, and fell down lamentably with it. It is the unanimous opinion of the Republican press, and many Democrats concede as much, that Mr. Osborn is going to be an easy man to elect in November. Mr. Hemans, himself, has no great stomach for the fight. He realizes that Mr. Osborn expresses modern political thought, and appeals tellingly to the progressive electorate of Michigan. With a united and harmonious party behind him, he is a candidate who has the Democrats entirely baffled, even at the go in.

A Fatal Breather. "Mark Twain hated a gloomy man," said a New York editor. "Once, at a banquet, a gloomy man sat opposite him. This man would not smile at the most amusing jokes. "What's the matter with you?" cried Mark Twain. "The stories are all good. Why don't you laugh?" "Ah, sir," said the gloomy man, "how can I laugh when I remember that every time I breathe a soul passes into the Great Beyond?" "Good gracious," said the humorist, "did you ever try cloves?"

True to Life. George Ade, at a dinner at Hazelton farm, his Indiana residence, said of his two years' silence: "You see, I am thinking up original and realistic ideas. And for my new heroine I've hit on a remarkably good thing. It's so simple and so true. It's a wonder it never occurred to Pinner or Hervieu or somebody before." "What is it?" a guest asked, eagerly. "My heroine," said Mr. Ade, "is a brunette."

A NATIONAL WEAKNESS. The suggestion of a two year course in the high schools is rapidly coming into favor with many professional educators in this country. One of the strongest arguments offered in favor of this plan is that it would encourage more of the boys and girls to continue in their school work after finishing with the ward schools. That ignorance is the great obstacle in the path of human progress is generally conceded, and while all may not aspire to or attain a college education, it is important that just as many young people as possible be induced to continue the pursuit of education until they are able to become useful, intelligent and self-supporting citizens. The more education they acquire the more qualified they will be to meet this requirement.

As to what this country is accomplishing along the line of public education the following from the Los Angeles Herald is enlightening: "We are wont to think of education in America as free, and it is, but in a limited sense, as the following figures will show. It is said that in Los Angeles county in the past year 13,084 children entered the first grade. Following this number through, grade by grade, there is a constant dropping off. When we get to the sixth grade in the same year, 7,374, or but little more than half the number are found. Only 6,440 children enter the seventh grade. Approximately only one-third of the children that enter school go through the grades. "And from this same county in this same year, that enrolled 13,084 children in the first grade, 1,095 (less than one-tenth of that number) were graduated from the high school. So in the rich and boastful Los Angeles county in the comparatively prosperous year of 1910 only about one-third of the children are receiving the benefits of the graded schools and less than one-tenth are getting a high school education."

Conditions here recorded are not confined to Los Angeles. They exist in greater or less degree in every city in the United States. Nearly every city's graduating class is composed largely of girls. Many of the boys leave school because the money they can earn is thought to be needed for the family treasury. The lack of college education is not a serious handicap to progress. This lack can be overcome, but the lack of a high school education is a serious obstacle. The statistics gathered by the Los Angeles Herald expose clearly a national weakness. Until it is remedied there will be many men in humble positions regretting their lack of an education while taking orders from the more fortunate who are educated but not strikingly qualified for their posts. And there will be a great many more hailing as statesmen and leaders, men who are only one degree of intelligence above their selves.

How one man fooled his wife

She had been using her "favorite" baking powder. Wouldn't anything else, because "mother always used it," or some similar excuse. Hubby said she was prejudiced. He figured if Calumet, the new baking powder, selling at a moderate price, could be so successful, there must be some good in it. So he took a hand, and bought a can of Calumet, emptied the can containing her "favorite" baking powder and filled it with Calumet.

That evening, unsuspecting the trick, Wife prepared and served some of her famous biscuit— piping hot, temptingly browned and puffed up to airy lightness, they were even more delicious than usual. Hubby, after considerable difficulty, succeeded in convincing her that the basis of the improvement was Calumet Baking powder. And so an everlasting friend for Calumet was made.

This truthful little incident simply proves that the housewife is oftimes prejudiced against all baking powders except the one she has been using for years. She imagines that nothing but good. This is a mistaken impression. A trial of Calumet will prove that it is purer, more reliable; it has a greater leavening power than any other baking powder made. And it is moderate in price.

LOWER STATE NOTES. MONROE—Roy Lagenor was found dead on top of a Pullman sleeper attached to the Big Four train. His skull was fractured and it is presumed that he was struck by some overhead obstruction while stealing a ride. The accident happened in the night, as the body was rigid when discovered by the train crew. Coroner Rupp was notified and took charge of the body. Among the man's effects was found a note-book which chronicled his wanderings from Washington to San Francisco. It was also noted in the book that in case of accident to him Myrtle Green, Harrison, Tenn., should be notified. Coroner Rupp has sent a telegram to Green and is awaiting a reply. Lagenor was about twenty-eight years old. Four cents and five old rings, four of which have settings, were in his pockets.

MT. CLEMENS—Two more hold-ups, one in broad daylight, were added to this city's record. J. C. Bannow and Charles Henzel, of Akron, O., were returning to Bannow's home from his place of business at about midnight when they were accosted by two strangers with a demand for money. One of the strangers carried a gun. He was felled by a blow from Bannow's fist. Henzel took to his heels and aroused the police, but both men escaped. At 1 o'clock a man entered the grocery store conducted by Ludwig Simons, made a small purchase. In making change Simons had recourse to a roll of bills on the pocket of a coat hanging on the office wall. Later another man entered and, while he engaged the storekeeper's attention, the first stranger slipped into the office and secured the wallet, which contained $75. Both men answer the description given by Bannow.

LANSING—With Attorney General Kuhn representing the state and Attorney Henry M. Campbell of Detroit representing the corporations, testimony was taken in the case which nine telephone companies of this state have brought in an effort to avoid paying the taxes assessed against them. A few weeks ago the high court refused to settle the cases upon the demurrer filed by the state in view of the fact that it believed the question involved was too important, and it was requested at that time that more testimony be taken.

TRAVERSE CITY—On complaint of Miss Hazel, nineteen-year-old daughter of Christian Breithaupt, Barney Elsonheimer, a hack driver, was arrested, charged with attempted assault. It is alleged that some time ago Miss Breithaupt secured a hack to take her home at night on account of a storm. When the residence of her parents was reached the driver, she claims, refused to allow her to get out, but got into the hack with her. The girl fought the man and screamed. Her father, asleep in the home, heard her screams and, seeing his revolver, rushed into the street, firing at the cab. The girl made her escape and the hackman disappeared. He has now been located and arrested.

GRAND HAVEN—The parents of the pupils of the local high school and the children are assisting the local authorities in a search for Miles Irish, a teacher in the science department of the high school, who came here from Kalamazoo and who left his boarding house saying that he was going for a walk. He did not return, and when he failed to put in an appearance at the school the police were notified. The nearby river, and surrounding country, are being searched. He was a young man and bore excellent testimonials, which obtained him his position. His home is in Mason.

HOW THE MAYOR DID IT. The change of opinion about Mayor Gaynor is sincere and not mere curiosity growing out of the murdered assault upon him; evidence of the reversed time and this attack has merely given it opportunity for expression. But how did this man bring about such a change within the short several months that he has served as mayor? The answer is simple: He devoted himself to the interests of 14 people without regard to party or action. This took courage, for it meant the antagonizing of powerful men and interests in his own party and out; yet he went serenely on being mayor and of administering affairs for the public good to the best of

MOHAWK TEAM WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Decisive Victory Over Painesdale Settles Cricket Supremacy of the Copper Country.

The Mohawk cricket team, through its defeat of Painesdale Saturday afternoon on the home grounds, is the champion of the Copper Country league. By the overwhelming score of 38 to 31, the Mohawk leaders indicated a defeat so decisive that no question whatever remained in the minds of the spectators as to which team was the superior.

The winning of the pennant by Mohawk brings to an end the fourth year of the league's existence in the copper country. In that period no team has won the championship twice. Painesdale won it the first year, Kearsarge the next, Calumet the third and now Mohawk.

Both teams Saturday were made up of the very best players in the Northwest, some of them being imported here expressly to play the game.

But one cricket game remains to be played this season. The Mohawk eleven must now face an all-star team selected from the other teams in the league. This game is played on the pitch of the team which has won the pennant, and is played the Saturday following the close of the league season.

Old sores remain open and chronic ulcers refuse to heal because they are kept constantly irritated and infected by impurities in the blood. This impurity of the circulation comes from various causes, a long spell of debilitating sickness, which breeds disease germs in the system, the retention of refuse matters of the body because of a sluggish condition of the eliminative members, a continued malarial state of health, inherited bad blood, etc., are usually responsible.

Deputy Sheriff Is Ousted— Because, it is alleged, Richard Perow, Jr., deputy sheriff and turkey at the Delta county jail, persisted in working against T. J. Curran for the nomination for sheriff, which course is said to have been distasteful to French citizens, Sheriff Aronson of Escanaba has revoked Perow's appointment to the office. He has been holding under the sheriff's administration. Sheriff Aronson explains his action in the following statement: "In response to the request of a committee of prominent French people of the city, I have revoked the appointment of Richard Perow, Jr., as turkey and deputy sheriff. I wish it distinctly understood that from this date Mr. Perow has no power as a deputy sheriff and is in no way in my employ." In answer to the sheriff, Perow submits the following: "Sheriff Aronson states that he was asked for my discharge by a committee of prominent French people. I believe that it is due me as well as my friends that I should know the names of the members of the committee who waited upon the sheriff. I fought Mr. Curran fairly and openly and I believe that I am entitled to know who asked for my release from the position that I held. I have been to a number of the leading French people of the city and none of them know anything of a committee waiting upon the sheriff." Curran was the successful nominee at last week's primary election.

This will probably be the most important criminal trial of the term.

Baraga avenue has been left in excellent condition by the carnival people, some saying that the street is in better shape than it was before. The Barkoot shows were a clean, business-like amusement company, and were all similar organizations of their stamp, the prejudice against street shows in this section of the country would not exist.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. TESTING NEW CAR.

Chance for Marquette to Get an Automobile Factory is Offered.

John Krieg, formerly of this city, but in recent years engaged in the automobile business in lower Michigan, is in Marquette testing out a new automobile of his own construction, with a view of eventually putting a new make on the market. This is the first car of this type ever assembled, but it runs smoothly and has stood up under rough road and endurance tests made in this locality the last few days. The next machine assembled will be built to overcome certain minor defects that have been noticed in the car now being tried out. Mr. Krieg and his friends are delighted with the excellent results obtained with the machine, which is a four-passenger touring car. Their next move will be to organize a company and erect a manufacturing plant. Mr. Krieg states that he would be very favorably inclined toward Marquette as the location for this plant, provided this city can offer as good inducements as have already been offered by two Canadian cities, and expects to take up this matter with the Commercial club before his return to Detroit the latter part of this week.

Did You Ever Ask Yourself These Questions

- "Have we any money to save?"
- "How much could we save each week?"
- "Why not begin to save this month?"
- "Couldn't we save it at home and not put it into the bank?"

When you begin to ask yourself these questions you are on the road to a bank account. You cannot save money and keep it at home—money won't save that way—it leaks out of your strong box in spite of your determination "not to touch it." Bring it to this bank and receive interest. You'll think twice before you draw it out.

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, Sept. 11.—The crop, copper and steel reports, together with the Vermont elections, having been disposed of, the attention of the traders Monday will probably be directed towards the particular news emanating from Maine and elsewhere and also the developments at the freight rate hearing now in progress in this city. The shorts have been made to realize that offerings in stocks are rather light and unless the agitation next week is of a disturbing character and the crop news adverse, it would not be surprising to witness an effort to force a slightly higher range of prices. Closing prices were as follows:

Anal.	63 1/2	Nor. Pac.	113 3/4
Am. Smelt.	66 1/2	Penn.	128 1/2
Atchaf.	9 1/2	Reading.	175 1/2

caution in following the market to a lower level, the crop being subject to frost damage and the statistical position spot markets. This situation calls for being the strongest in years.

Chicago Wheat.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—A leading La Salle street interest offered December wheat down to 99 1/2 at the opening. The market had a temporary rally, but soon dropped back under the $1 level and the same local interests appeared to press the market on the selling side, as if trying to discharge certain holdings. The most noticeable feature in the wheat trade at the moment is the great discount of Chicago price under Minneapolis.

PROF. JAMES WILL LEFT SPIRIT TEST

SEALED NOTE IN VAULT.

Medium Is Engaged to Transmit the Secret Contents of the Letters to Coworkers.

New York, Sept. 11.—That Professor William James, the famous Harvard psychologist and pragmatic philosopher, completed before his death last week an elaborate series of plans to find out whether he could come back to this world in spirit form, and thereby demonstrate that spiritualism had some foundation, has been learned. Members of the American Society for Physical Research say that not long before his death Professor James, whose reputation was world-wide, wrote and sealed a number of letters, the contents of which were known only to himself. These letters, which dealt with the intimate phases of his life, Professor James placed in the vault of the English Society for Physical Research. He left instructions that they were not to be opened for a year after his decease.

While Professor James seldom committed himself on the tenability of the spiritualistic theory, he was known to have been deeply interested in all phenomena that might throw light on the subject, and it was his desire to solve for future generations the riddle that led him to prepare the experiments with the letters.

Professor James H. Hyslop of New York, head of the American branch of the Physical Society, will go to London in November and hold a series of sittings with the celebrated medium, Mrs. Leonora Piper, at which, in accordance with an agreement before Professor James' death, he will try to communicate to Professor Hyslop, through Mrs. Piper, the contents of the sealed letters in the vault. After the communication through the medium, the letters will be opened and compared with the results of the Piper-Hyslop sittings, to see whether the supposed spirit of the dead professor has made known their contents.

Professor James reasoned that this test of the power of the spirits of the dead to hold communication with the living through mediums was the best that could be devised, as, if the trial succeeded and the letters were read correctly, it admitted of but two chances that might tend to show that the result was not obtained through spirit communication.

One of these chances would be the opening of the sealed letters before the sittings and the communication of their contents to the medium, a condition that is most remote and the other, that during the last few days of his life, Professor James might have thought so much of the contents of the letters that he might have telepathically communicated their contents to living persons, who might have in turn communicated them in the same manner to the medium. This is also considered a remote danger.

Revolution, if Successful.

Most spiritistic investigators are confident that if Professor James' spirit can reveal the contents of the sealed missives to Professor Hyslop through Mrs. Piper, the contents of spiritualism will then be entitled to the most serious consideration. Professor Hyslop is at present away from the city, but associates of his said to-day that he had arranged for sittings with Mrs. Piper in November. Professor Hyslop was a life-long friend of Professor James, and it is understood that before the Harvard professor's death he agreed to try to communicate with Professor Hyslop concerning the sealed letters on special dates in November. The choice of Mrs. Piper as the medium through which the spirit messages should come was Professor James' own, it is understood. He discovered Mrs. Piper back in 1889, and at that time he said of her: "It makes me feel as absolutely certain as I am of any personal fact in the world that she knows things in her trances that she can not possibly have heard in her waking state."

BOTTOMLESS LAKES IN PECOS VALLEY

Strange Natural Phenomena in Alkali Lands of New Mexico.

THEY ABOUND IN FISH.

Water Useless for Irrigation as Is Reproduced Slowly.

Las Vegas, N. M., Sept. 11.—About twelve miles east of Roswell and two miles east of the Pecos River lies a chain of sixteen small lakes which are unique in their scenery, physical features and geological origin. They are situated, with a few exceptions, directly under the precipitous red bluffs which form the eastern boundary of the Pecos Valley at this point. An effort has been made to utilize these lakes for irrigation purposes, but it was a failure, for the reason that the water rises so slowly to replace that taken out.

These lakes would not be considered out of the ordinary but for a peculiar and mysterious fact. Almost immediately from the shore line the chalky white sides sink down perpendicularly. When you look at the lake, blue water you can see it sink until it vanishes from view, and as you get the last fading glimpse it is still sinking. Finally, practically all the attempts made to reach the bottom by sounding have resulted in failure. Hence, in the Western vernacular, which is noted for its playful exaggeration, they have earned the name, "The Bottomless Lakes."

The plains east of the Pecos and in front of the bluffs are alluvial, but above the fertile soil is a layer of alkali which, in turn, is covered with a thin layer of sifting dirt. Scarcely any attempts are made at cultivation; sheep and cattle graze upon the coarse salt grass that grows sparsely on the flats. Some of the lakes are situated on the level of the plain; others lie above it; but the water level differs for each lake; due to difference in feed, seepage and evaporation.

Relics of Old Homes.

Next to these lakes is Sotherland Lake, which is among the larger ones, and lies directly under a towering cliff. It is named from a doctor who lived years ago not far from its banks. He declared that here was the only water in the country fit to drink. Here the doctor planted his little grove of cottonwoods and willows, and here he continued to live until one day he married and his wife decided to live in the valley. So he gave up the shady place by the lake, said good-by to the fine water, and moved to an Eastern city. To-day the grove is a welcome shade for the shepherds who watch the grazing sheep, while the old abode house is used as a temporary shelter for the animals.

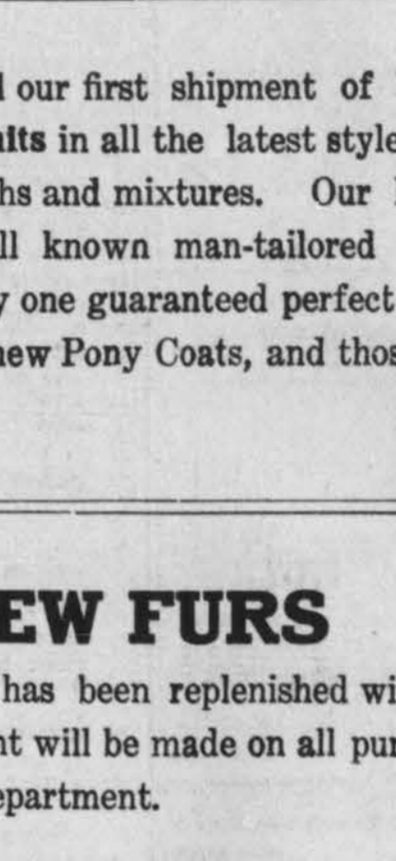

Southeast about a mile in a deep curve of the hills is Goodart Lake, a little body of water several hundred feet in diameter, and reposing beside stone house and a lorry cliff. It was in this deserted nook years ago that Joseph Goodart fled on a homestead and endeavored to reclaim to cultivation the arid waste of alkali included in this secluded hollow. On the bank of the lake, 25 feet above the plain, he built his little stone house and dug an irrigation ditch from the lake. But after a time he gave up the struggle to reclaim the alkali crust and moved across the Pecos to become a prosperous farmer and orchard man. To-day, stripped of doors, roof, floor and woodwork, the white stone walls, plastered with red clay from the bluff, stand lonesome and deserted, but a step from the edge of the placid water.

The lakes fairly swarm with fish, but at some seasons of the year they refuse

Drowning at St. Ignace—The St. Ignace Enterprise gives these details of a recent fatality in that city. Sunday night, about 10 o'clock John Murray, Jr., a son of Mrs. Dominic Murray, was drowned from off the old ore dock, about halfway out on its length. The deceased was employed as wheelman on the steamer Algoma, but had laid off and came to St. Ignace on the City of Cheboygan. He walked to the dock where the fatality happened to get his own boat, coming from Mackinaw City. Soon after Charles Madison heard him screaming in the water; he ran and got a lantern and was joined by others from Leclere Hotel. The night was pitch dark and nothing could be seen by the searchers. Murray's cap was found on the dock; that was all. All Monday morning the lake was dragged by a party under the direction of Sheriff Rapin, but to no avail. Tuesday morning John Dadd, sub-marine diver, made a search, first on the east side of the dock and then on the other. The body was found about 1 o'clock just northward of the bow of the steamer Wau-Kon, which has been lying at the dock all summer. John Murray was twenty-six years old, the second son of the late Dominic Murray, single and residing with his widowed mother. It was Albert, the eldest son, who had picked up the cap on the dock, when he joined the searching party on the alarm being given. He recognized it, but kept the matter to himself until hope had fled, in order to spare his mother, if he could.

A Sparkling Novelist.

A New York editor, at the Century club, told a story about Robert W. Chambers, the novelist.

"Chambers went one summer," he said, "to Sunapee with his brother. At the Ben More Inn the aristocratic old ladies in rocking-chairs, seated on the cool piazza that overlooks the lake, were very much stirred. Whenever he appeared they gathered about him and talked books.

"Chambers was always ready for them. He had always on his lips some witty saying to double them up.

"Oh, Mr. Chambers," cried an old lady one day, "I admire 'Lorraine' so much I've read it eight times!"

"Madame," answered Chambers with a bow, "I would rather hear you say you'd bought eight copies."

BASEBALL SERIES ENDED YESTERDAY

Final Game Between Marquette and Ishpeming Was Cut Short on Account of Rain.

The final ball game of the Marquette-Ishpeming county league series between the Ishpeming and Marquette teams yesterday afternoon at the Union Park grounds went three and one-half innings, when it was called because of rain. The score was 8 to 0 in Marquette's favor, all of the runs having been made in the third inning, when the visitors hit Dixon freely and costly errors were made by Ishpeming players.

Aside from the batfist and comedy of errors in the third inning, there were other incidents that helped to arouse excitement. Magman, Marquette's first baseman, was struck on the nose by a pitched ball and it was necessary to take him to the Ishpeming hospital. He bled freely and it was reported that his nose was fractured. The dark clouds were gathering at the time and the batsman did not see the ball coming until it was close to his head, when he tried to dodge it.

About that time William Vivian's team, which was employed to haul the roller about the diamond before the game, broke away and started on a lively run around the right field. After a lively dash it started for the southwest corner of the fence and ran into it with such force that several of the boards were smashed. Several men caught the horses, as they were backing up after striking the fence.

After waiting ten minutes or more for the rain to cease the Ishpeming players began to leave the grounds. The Marquette men appeared on the diamond at the call of Umpire Primeau, and when the Ishpeming players did not return the game was given to Marquette by a score of 8 to 0.

The Ishpeming men offered no objection to the umpire's decision. It was certain that the visitors would have won, even if the contest had gone nine innings. In the three innings that Ishpeming batted not a runner reached first base. Devitt seemed to have the team entirely at his mercy. He fanned the three batsmen in the first inning, and in the next two he moved down to more. The first three men scored by Marquette came in on a two-base hit by Tallion. Others having clean hits were Day, two; Devitt; two; McCarthy, one; and Young one.

Scholtus Pitched No-Hit Game.

In a listless, one-sided game Saturday afternoon, Marquette won from Ishpeming by a score of 5 to 0. Scholtus, in the box for Marquette, pitched a no-hit game, and in only three innings did the Ishpeming men have men on bases. In the first five innings the Ishpeming players were retired in one, two, three order, but in the sixth two men reached the bases on errors, one by Young, the other by Tallion, both on ground hits. In the seventh, S. Larson reached first. He was struck out, but Richardson dropped the ball and for some reason heaved it down to second instead of first, the runner reaching the sack safely. In the eighth, Larson was passed but he was retired at second, Riopelle to Tallion. Scholtus was given fine support, with the exception of the sixth, when the two men reached first on errors.

Reinhart, in the box for Ishpeming, was not only hit free but he was hit a times wild. He walked two men and he hit Riopelle and Young, the former in the back and the latter in the ear. Both players seemed to suffer considerably from the force of the blow, as the balls that struck them were speedy ones.

Marquette's first two runs were scored in the second when Scholtus hit for two bases. In the third eight men faced Reinhart, Magman, the first man up, going to first on balls. He was sacrificed to second by Mack, who went out, Reinhart to Larson, and scored when Tallion hit safely. Riopelle was hit by a pitched ball and McCarthy hit a ground-er to S. Larson and was retired at first; Young singled, scoring Riopelle; Weiser reached first on an error by McFarland and Richardson fled out to C. Larson in left, retiring the side.

In each of the next two innings only three men faced Reinhart, but in the seventh five men came to bat, two of them hitting safely. Four Marquette men batted in the eighth, one hitting safely, and five men were up in the ninth, two scoring singles.

Barkoot Street Carnival at Cleveland Park for Week's Engagement.

The Barkoot Carnival company, which is to exhibit all this week at Cleveland park, came up from Marquette yesterday morning. The management had planned to unload and raise the tents yesterday afternoon, but the work was deferred because of the unfavorable weather. A number of Ishpeming and Negaunee people went to the park expecting to find the working crews busy, but the men had a lay-off. The work of putting the tents in order for the opening this evening will be considerably larger than it would have been if the shows were located in Ishpeming.

There are fourteen shows, besides free exhibitions. The latter include a high dive by Matt Gay and aerial work by Madame Bonne, also concerts by the Royal Italian band. The shows will open this evening. This is a new territory for the Barkoot shows, as they have spent the greater part of the past fifteen years in the South and West. In much of the Southern and Western territory the show has traveled over the same ground year after year. They will go from here to Hancock and then to Oshkosh. Dates have been looked out for the first of December, when the show will probably close for a few months.

SETTERS DEFEAT BUFFALOES.

The Setters baseball team of this city and the Buffaloes of Negaunee gave a fine exhibition at the Union park grounds yesterday morning. The Ishpeming nine winning by a score of 3 to 1. There are a number of good players on both nines, and the exhibition was better than some of the games played this season by the league teams. Both of these nines, which are composed of young players, will attract the attention of the fans next season.

PELTIER CASE MAY BE SETTLED

Father of Young Man Killed on Pioneer Avenue Crossing Is in Negaunee.

John Peltier, of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., father of the late Edward Peltier, who was killed by a St. Paul passenger train on the Pioneer avenue crossing a year ago the 29th of last June, is in the city for a few days. While here he expects to reach a settlement with the management of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railway company for his son's death.

Mr. Peltier says that he does not know what sort of a settlement will be made, but he had been advised by his attorney that the case will be disposed of out of court. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company does not assume responsibility for the fatality, as its train was running over the Sixth Shore track, and was in a sense a South Shore train.

Young Peltier was a teamster for the Consolidated Fuel & Lumber company. His team was standing in front of the office while he went inside to receive an order for a load of wood that he was to deliver. The St. Paul train from Marquette frightened the horses. They started across the track towards Iron street, and the driver ran to their heads and attempted to stop them. He was forced upon the track and was instantly killed.

Relatives of the deceased made their fight principally upon the grounds that the crossing was not properly guarded, and that the train was running at a high rate of speed. It is claimed that the old man who was attending the crossing did not see nor hear the train approaching and that he made no attempt either to drive back the team or warn the driver of his danger.

Mr. Peltier says that he was convinced from the first that he had a strong case. However, he gave his attorney instructions not to fight it, but to settle the case out of court, if he thought it advisable to do so.

FULL REPRESENTATION.

Negaunee Will Send Set of Delegates to County Convention.

The Republican county convention, to be held Wednesday at Marquette, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the state convention, to be held in Detroit, will be attended by delegates from all of the wards in Negaunee, who were elected last Tuesday. There was only one contest, and that was in the Second ward, where John Chapman and Joseph Toranzo, the successful candidates, were opposed by Frank Erickson and T. L. Collins. The contest aroused much interest, and the candidates and several of their friends put in a hard day's work. The poll was as follows: Chapman, 43; Toranzo, 43; Collins, 28; Erickson, 21. Many votes were thrown out because the ballots were improperly marked. There was only one Democratic vote in the ward, and the man depositing it neglected to vote for the Democratic candidates for county officers.

The delegates from the First ward will be Captain Dudson and J. E. Nelson; Second, John Chapman and Joseph Toranzo; Third, Dr. N. J. Robbins and Nicholas Laughlin; Fourth, C. B. Driscoll, J. H. Rough, F. A. Bell and T. A. Thorne; Fifth, Thomas Comers, and Captain William Haggaton.

MUCH BUILDING WORK.

Several Negaunee Families to Occupy New Homes Within a Few Weeks.

The Negaunee contractors are at present pushing their operations, in order to finish up their outside work before favorable weather sets in. They have had a busy season. The summer was a favorable one for building operations, and the men have lost but very few days on account of wet weather. There was one stretch of more than sixty days when no time was lost.

Max Frost, who is erecting Mrs. D. McDonald's new home on Lincoln street, and Charles Marketty has begun work on a foundation for a dwelling on Clark street. Concrete blocks are being used for the Marketty foundation and the contractors, Mr. Marketty intends to rent the dwelling.

Heinonen Bros. are making good headway with the dwelling they are erecting for Peter Trudell, Jr., on Teal Lake avenue. The roof is now being put on and the lathers will begin work within a few days.

RESUMES BUSINESS HERE.

John Ghiardi, a former well known Negaunee man, who has conducted a bakery business at New Swanzy for more than a year past, has taken a lease on Frank Walker's building, on Jackson street, and is to resume the bakery business there. Mr. Ghiardi conducted a bakery in Negaunee for some time before he moved to the range, and he has had many years' experience in that line.

LOST SATURDAY'S GAME.

Crystal Falls Defeated Negaunee by a Score of 8 to 5.

Saturday's ball game at Crystal Falls between the Negaunee and Crystal Falls teams resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 8 to 5. After playing an inning and a half yesterday the game was declared off on account of the rain. It is possible that the Negaunee nine will remain at Crystal Falls and play the postponed game today.

Goulette was in the box Saturday for Negaunee and was touched for eleven hits. He was given good support, but the Iron county players had their batting clothes on and nearly every time they hit safely the smash counted. Heinonen was behind the bat. Rafferty twirled for Crystal Falls and allowed but four hits. Tiffney wore the mask. Each twirler had five strikeouts to his credit.

Crystal Falls' victory over Negaunee and Ishpeming's loss of Saturday's game to Marquette put the Iron county team in third place. By Ishpeming losing again yesterday Crystal Falls has a lead of one and a half games over the Hematite City nine. Even should the postponed game between Negaunee and Crystal Falls be played today, and the latter should lose, Ishpeming will still be at the bottom of the percentage column.

SIXTH WARDER WANTS ALLEY VACATED

Council Is Advised That Property Owners Will Not Object if Step Is Taken.

J. R. Thompson, whose residence is in the Sixth ward, petitioned the council Friday evening to vacate the alley between Morris and Michigan streets, east of the boundary lines of lots seven and fourteen, in the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's third addition. Mr. Thompson holds a lease from the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company on lots Nos. 4, 5, 6, 13, 16 and 17, and he advised the council that the owners of dwellings in that vicinity have objection to the vacating of the alley. In his communication, Mr. Thompson also stated that the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company will offer no objection. The alley has no outlet on the easterly end and the portion thereof proposed to be vacated is used only by the occupants of the lots abutting on it. The communication was referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

E. A. Johnson, J. A. Blackney, H. E. Hevey, A. C. Brastrand and the Consolidated Fuel & Lumber company petitioned the council to open the alley on the south side of the properties owned by the four former, and on the north side of the Consolidated Fuel & Lumber company's property, on Third street, in the Excelsior Iron company's second addition. In addition to the opening of the alley, the petitioners also asked that it be graded and put in condition for use. The petition was referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

At the previous meeting of the council, Mrs. A. Erickson, Patrick McDonald and George Smeltz asked for the privilege of purchasing the alley between lots 33 and 37 abutting on their properties, on First street. Alderman Hulst, chairman of the committee on streets and alleys, reported that the committee had found that the city has no legal right to sell or lease property dedicated to it for street purposes. As this alley comes under this head, the committee recommended that the petition be denied and the report was adopted.

STOCK MARKET LETTERS.

D. T. Morgan & Co.'s letter, issued Saturday, was as follows: While there was no trading in stock in the New York market today, the undertone was good. Fractional advances were made. There is practically no market news. A number of lake issues were active in the Boston market with resultant improvement in prices. Of these, Lake Superior, Superior Copper, Indiana, Altonex and Lake were most conspicuous. Nevada Consolidated and Arizona were also in demand, and stronger. The others were quiet, though none displayed weakness. Algonox was listed on the Boston exchange today. There is nothing to prevent an advance in this market, and the apathy of the public and the increasing activity in some of the lake issues indicate a return of interest almost all summer. We look for a good market before the expiration of this month and believe the lake stocks, North Butte, Utah Consolidated and Shattuck will receive the first and greatest benefit. The cards were quiet, the only feature being the strength in South Lake. Geo. F. Ruse's review follows: 'What little trading there was in the listed market today resulted in higher prices. Superior Copper selling at 51 1/2, Isle Royale at 27, Indiana at 18, Arizona Commercial at 17, Altonex at 44 and Lake Superior at 33 1/2; all up from one to two points from the previous night's close. Superior Copper was active, and higher on the excellent showing in No. 2 shaft and better returns from the mill run. This strength was reflected in Isle Royale, which advanced a point on little trading. Reports from Indiana say No. 2 hole is in rich ore for a distance of thirty feet. The Steel Corporation report of 42,000 tons, which is about what was expected.

SATISFACTORY BASEBALL YEAR

Games Have Been First Class Exhibitions and Fans Are Well Pleased With Results Attained by Directors, Several of Whom Have Worked Hard in Cause.

Escanaba or Gwin Favorable as Fourth Team in League Another Year, Instead of Crystal Falls—Talk of Organizing League Under National Playing Rules.

A meeting of the directors of the Marquette baseball association will be held this evening at the Hotel Clifton, which all of the directors are expected to attend, as the financial and general results of the baseball season will be presented and discussed. It is probable that the games with Ishpeming will be the last played by the Marquette team this season, as many believe that to bring Crystal Falls here to play off the postponed game would be a losing venture for both teams, particularly in view of the fact that the Marquette team has probably come through the season in the best shape, financially, of any team in the league. While the directors have made no money, it is thought there is enough in the treasury to pay all bills and each of the players who has struck the season through will receive a substantial, if not large, return for his services. The games have been well attended, when the weather was favorable, but in company with the other teams, the receipts have suffered because of the large number of Sundays when it threatened rain, keeping the crowd down very materially. The weather man has been most unkind to the Marquette-Iron county league this season.

The fans have been well pleased with the management of baseball affairs by the directors, several of whom have given a great amount of time to the interests of a winning team. Though Marquette did not win the pennant, her team has made a good record and has played ball all the time, affording some of the most interesting exhibitions of the great national game ever witnessed in this city. At times there have been discussions among the players, but by the exercise of patient diplomacy the directors have been able to get things going smoothly without much noise on the outside, and when it was necessary to come down hard on some breach of baseball etiquette or conduct, those in charge have done their duty without hesitation.

Next Year's Prospects.

Already the fans are discussing the outlook for next year. There is likely to be trouble to get efficient people to take hold of the team next spring, as most of those who have been active in the management this summer say they have had enough and are going to let some one else do the work in 1911. This may be largely talk, and it is to be hoped that those tried and true leaders can be induced to again take up the burden, which is more of a task, and a thankless one at that, than the general public imagines.

As to the probable make-up of the league next year there is much speculation. One thing certain is that Crystal Falls will not again be one of the teams in the league. All of the Marquette county teams have lost money on the Crystal Falls trips, and the Iron county team has not been a drawing card with the fans in this county, and it has been a strong team at the start, there might be a different story to tell, but it has been clearly demonstrated that Crystal Falls is not a baseball town, at least in the degree that Marquette, Ishpeming and Negaunee are.

Instead of Crystal Falls, there are a great many here who favor taking in Escanaba, and possibly three teams from Delta county, as was suggested last spring. Escanaba is no farther away than Crystal Falls, and that city would not only be sure to have a team that would hustle any of the Marquette county teams, but could be depended upon for as large crowds as attend the games here.

Others express the opinion that Gwin should be taken in as the fourth team. This would make a strictly Marquette county league and traveling expenses would be comparatively light. While Gwin is a small town, baseball seems to be well supported, not only by residents but also by the Cleveland-Cliffs company, and the Swanzy range might be able to hold up its end with the other Marquette county cities.

Iron-Copper League Not in Favor.

Ted Sullivan's idea of an Iron-Copper Country league is not favored here. Those experienced in baseball affairs claim that traveling expenses between the two districts would eat up so large a part of the receipts that it would be impossible for any of the teams to come out even. His plan of organizing a league under the rules of the National Playing commission, however, has a number of supporters.

That the league will never return to strictly amateur baseball is generally conceded. While the amateur baseball cry sounds well in the winter time, it has been found to be impractical during the playing season, and after having tasted something better, it is very doubtful whether the fans would be satisfied with games played by home players, exclusively.

Granting that semi-professional ball has come to stay, various arguments are advanced in favor of organizing as a Class D league, under National playing rules. Such an organization would eliminate many of the troubles of the local managers. It would place players, umpires and the general conduct of the games under a responsible and authoritative head, and all wrangling and petty squabbling would be done away with. It is understood that Chicago and Detroit magnates are very anxious to have the league come under their protecting and watchful domination. It is said that baseball enthusiasm is at low ebb in Ishpeming and Negaunee just now, but no one anticipates that these cities will be keen for the fray before another summer.

MAN SHOT AT NORTHLAND.

Samuel Robinson in County Jail on a Serious Charge.

Samuel Robinson, a homesteader living near Northland, in the southernmost part of this county, was brought to the Marquette county jail Saturday by Constable W. W. Allen, charged with having shot Clement Smith in a drunken brawl at Robinson's home last Thursday. Smith received a serious wound in the right thigh and is now in a hospital at Escanaba. He is weak from loss of blood and blood poisoning is feared.

The officers give the following story of the shooting, as told by eye witnesses, Smith, James Stevens and John Barker, all homesteaders living in that locality had gathered at Robinson's cabin, and were getting rid of a jug of whiskey purchased at Northland as fast as possible. About 10 o'clock in the forenoon, Robinson and Smith got into a quarrel, as the upshot of which Robinson is said to have grabbed a rifle from the wall and shot Smith through the right thigh. As Smith fell to the floor, his companions fled from the house and reported the shooting at Northland. The constable, who was called by eye witnesses, arrested Robinson and sent Smith to the Escanaba hospital. Robinson has been bound over to circuit court by a Northland justice of the peace, and whether his case will be heard at that term will be decided today.

THEATRICAL.

Pierce Players Again.

The advent of the Pierce Players, headed by William Jossey and Blanche Douglas, in this city recently met with so much success that their engagement here this week will be of interest to many. Tonight this fine company will open a three nights' engagement with a dramatization by Augustus Thomas of Richard Harding Davis' famous novel, "Soldiers of Fortune." There is a subtle intellectual charm about "Soldiers of Fortune," which is characteristic of Richard Harding Davis. The story concerns one Robert Clay, a young American mining engineer, who, while looking after enormous mining interests near Valencia, the capital of Olancho in North America, becomes a serious factor in one of the revolutionary outbreaks that were so numerous several years ago. Clay's life has been an interesting one and as he says himself, "I was a sailor before the mast when I was sixteen, was of so little account that I've been knocked the length of the main deck at the end of the mate's fist, and left to lie bleeding in the scuppers for dead. I hadn't a thing to my name then but the clothes I wore. I've been a cowboy, with no companions for six months but eight thousand head of cattle and men as dumb and as untamed as the steers themselves. The women I knew were Indian squaws and the girls of the sailors' dance houses and the gambling halls of Sioux City and Abilene. I've fought in Africa in the Sudan, and I've built railroads in Mexico. When I remember what I have been I am quite content to be able to sit beside you and talk to you." This conversation was addressed to Miss Langham, the oldest daughter of the owner of the mines to which Clay was devoting his time. The play is intensely interesting throughout and requires the full strength of the entire company. "The Boys of Company B" and a magnificent production of "The Prisoner of Zenda" are also announced.

"The City."

Seldom has a Marquette audience been moved by a dramatic production as it was by "The City" Saturday evening. This last and undoubtedly the greatest play ever written by Clyde Fitch, in the hands of Norman Hackett, Geoffrey Stine and an excellent supporting company made a profound impression and those who witnessed it left the opera house after the fall of the last curtain in a deeply thoughtful frame of mind. "The City" is unquestionably one of the most dramatic dramas of modern times and may almost be said to be an epoch-making play. It is replete with tense dramatic situations and epigrammatic lines, any one of which might furnish a text for a sermon or an argumentative thesis.

Life in the quiet country town versus life in the maddening rushing city—which affords the most satisfaction and in which is the most to be gotten out of life? This is the interesting theme on which "The City" is based. Mr. Fitch does not presume to solve the problem arbitrarily, but he does maintain that only in the city is a man given the opportunity to bring out the best and the worst that is in him. To quote: "Do not blame the city; it is the man himself. A man may live in a small place all his life—receive the whole place and himself into thinking he has got all the virtues, when at heart he's a hypocrite. The village gives him no chance to find out."

It is easily apparent that a play of this character must be well acted or it would be a burlesque and a farce. The presenting company Saturday night, however, was eminently adequate to its difficult task and received repeated and enthusiastic curtain calls after each act. The company is generally considered to have been one of the best balanced that has visited this city in many years.

Norman Hackett, a actor familiar to many local theatergoers, having last been here with Louis James and on a former occasion with Modjeska, essayed the role of George Rand, Jr., around whose ambitions the play centers. Mr. Hackett has developed wonderfully since he was last in Marquette and shows the result of his Shakespearean and Mansfield training. He proved himself eminently qualified to be at the head of his strong company.

Geoffrey Stine was altogether satisfactory as the illegitimate son, Hamock, who is a morose degenerate and a practiced blackmailer, showing his only latent spark of manhood when he shoots the wife he married only a few hours before, when he discovers that she is his half sister, rather than have her learn of her father's disgrace and his dishonor. His mad pleading with Rand to give him a revolver with which to kill himself that he may not have to face the chair, is one of the most terribly dramatic incidents of the play.

Another member of the cast who acquitted himself with particular commendable distinction is Mario Marjoni, playing the part of a dissipated but wealthy New Yorker who has married Rand's elder sister. His acting in a half tipsy condition is an excellent bit of work. M. H. Harriman, as George Rand, Sr., though he appears only in the first act, gives a strong presentation of a wealthy self-satisfied country banker, who has won a fortune and respect by, as he call it, "heaving close but never overstepping the line that separates business methods and criminal acts." Arthur Hull, as Voorlies, is a success.

Women really have a small part in "The City," but Susanne Willa, as Cicely; Ethel Martin, as Teresa; Dora Booth, as Eleanor, and Josephine Sheppard, as Mrs. Rand, Sr., are all excellent in their parts and fulfill their function of rounding out necessary, if minor characters. Without fear of contradiction, "The City" may be pronounced one of the greatest and best presented plays that has been seen in Marquette in recent years.

FALL AND WINTER UNDERWEAR

COLD WEATHER is soon coming and we wish to call your attention to our line of heavy cotton and woolen Underwear and Stockings for Ladies and Children. Our stock includes the very best lines in the country and our assortment is the most varied in Marquette.

We are in a position to save you some money on these goods as our early purchase gave us the benefits of the old prices, which were very much lower than what we would have to pay now for the same goods.

It will pay you to come and see our line before buying elsewhere.
