

MISSING MEN SEND NEWS OF THEIR SAFETY

Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post of New York, the crew of the Balloon America II, are alive and well in a remote district of Canada.

Not Only This, but They Have Broken the World's Sustained Flight Record by Traveling 1,350 Miles—Descended in a Quebec Forest Last Wednesday.

New York, Oct. 26.—Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, the aeromats of the balloon America II, and for whom a search had been started in the Canadian wilds, are safe and have established a new world's record for sustained flight. They traveled approximately 1,350 miles.

The aeromats came to earth in Chateaufort county, Quebec, last Wednesday, but were not heard from until tonight, when telegrams sent from St. Ambrise, Que., reached New York.

The message to Hawley read: "Landed in the wilderness a week ago. Fifty miles north of Chateaufort. Both well. (Signed) Alan." Perkins' message read: "Landed on the Paribonka river, north of Lake Chigouana, the 19th. All well; returning. (Signed) Augustus Post."

With the receipt of the news of the safety of the men there ended a search which was regarded by many as almost hopeless and in which the governments of this country and Canada were indirectly participating, for in addition to the agents sent by the St. Louis Aero club, the Aero club of America and William Hawley, the United States revenue cutter service, the army signal corps, the Hudson Bay company and other agents were either scouring the Great Lakes or were already entering the dense Canadian forests.

Reward increased to $7,000. Clifford B. Harmon, a wealthy amateur aviator of New York, had offered $1,000 to anyone finding Hawley and Post dead or alive, and this was increased tonight by subscription to more than $7,000.

At the international aviation meet, nearly $2,000 was subscribed among the aviators this afternoon, headed by $500 by Glenn H. Curtiss.

Samuel F. Perkins, who accompanied Lieutenant Hans Gericke in the Dusseldorf, conceded immediately he received the telegram from Hawley and Post that he and the German had lost the first part of the distance traveled by the Dusseldorf at 1,240 miles. He was overjoyed at hearing from his long-lost rivals, and he dispatched the following telegram to St. Ambrise, with instructions to forward the message to Hawley and Post: "The indications are that you have broken the world's record for sustained flight in a balloon. Accept my sincerest congratulations on your success. You are the only ones I would like to see with me outside of myself. I know from my own experience what you must have risked to make such a trip."

The America II was last reported passing over Maple City, Mich., Oct. 18. The sky gazers were able to read the name of the balloon, but the other traces were lost. Various prophecies were made, but the main contention was that the aeromats had landed in an inaccessible region early last week (as, in fact, they did) and were unable to make their way to civilization. Those who took a gloomy view were inclined to think, as the days passed, that the men had perished from cold and hunger. The outlook was darkened, too, by a suggestion of drowning.

Advices from Chateaufort are that the aeromats say they did not see any other balloon in the drift over northern Quebec, and they seemed more interested in Walter Wellman's flight than their own. Landed far from civilization.

"We had a beautiful trip," Mr. Post said. "We crossed Lakes Michigan and Huron and over immense watered tracts and forests in northern Quebec. Wednesday afternoon, the 19th, a storm came and we had to land. We picked out a mountain and made an easy landing on the side of an elevation of about 1,500 feet. We were far from civilization, and we passed the night in the basket of the balloon.

"The next morning we started for civilization, heading south. We had to conserve our food supply, and as we encountered two storms we found our blankets indispensable. The fourth day we found the camp of a trapper, Jack Matthias. We stayed with him all day, as we needed the rest. Four French trappers turned up and took us to camp at St. Ambrise, where we arrived this afternoon. Our progress was arduous. The bush was dense and we had a hard time fighting our way through, but we did not suffer severe hardships.

According to advices received at Chateaufort, Hawley and Post left St. Ambrise at 4 o'clock this afternoon to drive there. They expected to cover the distance in about six hours, and their intention is to leave by train tomorrow morning for Quebec.

THIS NOVEL CASE IN LITIGATION FOR YEARS

Suit Against Oil Trust Results Only in Determining the Plaintiff's Citizenship.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—After years of litigation, including the introduction of thousands of pages of testimony and exhibits, George F. Harding was informed by Judge Sanborn in the United States circuit court today that he is a citizen of Illinois.

Harding began suit in the state courts against the Standard Oil company and other defendants. He alleged that the Standard had secured control of the Corn Products company, a $1,000,000 corporation. The latter he declared a trust, in defiance of the Sherman act, and prayed for a receiver. The defendants took the case into the federal court, holding that Harding was a citizen of Illinois. The plaintiff declared that he was a citizen of California and that therefore the jurisdiction was in the state courts. On that point the case hinged.

Judge Sanborn's decision leaves it to Harding to begin new proceedings if he wishes to accomplish something beyond ascertaining his proper residence.

BLACKHAND LETTERS WRITTEN BY ALLEGED VICTIM, HIMSELF.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Otto Schram, a picture frame manufacturer, reputed to be wealthy, confessed to the police today that he had written "blackhand" letters to himself and also had stabbed himself in order to emphasize his need for protection. Sept. 29 Schram reported that he had received a letter demanding $5,000 on pain of death. Oct. 3 Schram asserted that he was stabbed while passing through a vacant lot near his home. His cries attracted his wife, who helped him home. Schram refused to tell the reasons for his actions.

BROTHER THINKS FOUL PLAY WAS DONE

Body of Ed Foley, a Copper Country Man, Is to Be Exhumed and Examined.

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 26.—The body of Edward Foley, who died at the St. Joseph's hospital, Hancock, last Sunday, is to be exhumed tomorrow for a post-mortem examination. Mr. Foley died under peculiar circumstances and his brother, John Foley of Flint, who arrived here Monday to attend the funeral, is not convinced that death came from natural causes. Mr. Foley was the proprietor of a saloon at Twin Lakes, on the South range. He was found unconscious last Sunday, and died shortly after being removed to the hospital. There seems to be nothing to lead to the belief that he was murdered or that he even had an enemy, but the authorities will assist the brother in the post-mortem in order to relieve his mind.

Dietz and Henry Dietz, brothers of her husband. She said she preferred to remain in jail with her husband until he, too, has secured temporary release. Judge James Wickheim also fixed the bail for John F. Dietz and his son Leslie at $40,000 and $10,000, respectively, pending their trial for the alleged murder of Deputy Oscar Harp.

UPPER AIR IS FOUND TO BE VERY CHILLY

Aviators Johnstone and Hoxsey Are Shivering With Cold When They Come Down in Belmont Park After Soaring to an Altitude of More Than a Mile.

Day's Sport Is the Most Exciting Since the International Aerial Regatta Began—No Less Than Twelve Aeroplanes Are Sailing Aloft at One Time.

New York, Oct. 26.—When dusk began at the aviation field this afternoon there were twelve aeroplanes in the air at once, and when night shut down they were still lost in the black void above. As the waters became anxious, one speck was noticed, and then another, and soon Hoxsey and Johnstone had alighted to mid-field within a few moments of each other. The men were shivering and said that the upper air was very cold. Johnstone's altimeter registered 5,763 feet, and Hoxsey's 6,173 feet.

A strong wind today delayed the start, but when it began it could be done in bad weather. Johnstone, in a Wright bi-plane, made a flight, and his performance put heart into the other aviators. Five starters were announced in the cross-country race ten miles east of the course and return, but only four started. Latham, in a fifty-horsepower machine, was the first to cross the line. Auburn followed him, and then Drexel and LeBlanc, captain of the French team, each in Bleriot. The first appearance of LeBlanc and his airmanship came splendid, as he shot straight for the mark, but Auburn beat him and the other contenders. Auburn's time was 28 minutes and 8.75 seconds.

The cross-country race had barely begun when eight aviators went out for distance and two for altitude. That made ten, and two of the cross-country fliers were still to return—three in the air at once. Brooks, driving a "baby" Wright racer, made up the distance lost in starting late and soon led the field. One after another the competitors dropped out, leaving first place to Latham, who had entered the distance event on his return from the cross-country race.

The Gordon Bennett elimination trials scheduled for this afternoon were postponed to tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Hamilton, Moisant, the Wright brothers and Glenn S. Curtiss made vigorous protests, saying that the hour was the worst possible one. The committee finally compromised by allowing the aviators to start when they please, but decreasing that they must finish before 5:30 p. m. Moissant will enter the elimination trials.

Count De Lesseps rose late today for altitude, and secured third place.

PHILIPPINE NATIVES REBEL; MURDER AMERICAN PLANTER.

Manila, Oct. 26.—Two bands of Manobo tribesmen are deprecating the west coast of Davao, in the southeastern portion of Mindanao, where they have killed several planters, including Earl Carr, an American. All the available troops were ordered to the scene today. Brigadier General John J. Pershing, commanding the department of Mindanao, is at the head of the detachment. The Manobos declare their purpose to expel all foreigners from the district.

Washington, Oct. 26.—No word has reached the war department of the reported uprising of tribesmen in Davao. No particular significance is attached to the uprising, as the constabulary and troops stationed in Davao and its vicinity are ample to handle the outbreak.

CORRUPTION OF OLD REGIME APPALLS PORTUGUESE MINISTER.

Lisbon, Oct. 26.—Jose Relvas, minister of finance, in an interview here today said that he was appalled at the corruption of the old regime which his investigation is revealing. For the future, he said, it will be war to the knife against special privilege and abuses. The king's civil list of $800,000, the minister added, would be replaced by a fixed percentage of the national income. Luxuries will be reduced and taxes on luxuries increased. In conclusion, the minister expressed the opinion that the separation of the church and state would be accomplished within a month.

COMMERCIAL COMMISSION IN CHICAGO

It Opens a Hearing Regarding Western Freight Rates, and It Listens to Interesting Testimony—Rebating Once a Very Common Practice, It Appears.

Often the Sums Involved Amount to 40 per Cent. of the Regular Tariffs—Pinned Down, However, the Witnesses Decline to Name Roads or Shippers.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Rebating as practiced by carriers and shippers prior to 1906 and the passage of the Hepburn act was the principal theme at the Western freight rate hearing held here today before the interstate commerce commission.

At one time the cross-examination, which in the morning had been concerned with the burden of the work borne by farmer boys in Iowa, veered around to a specific demand for the names of the railway officials and shippers concerned in rebating before 1906, of which one witness—W. P. Trickett of Minneapolis—said he had knowledge. The attorneys for the shippers protested that the information was not material, but the counsel for the railroads stuck to the question.

A tense situation was relieved when the witness dodged the issue by declining to give the names. "I will not give in public the names of the officials of the Great Western railroad who gave rebates nor of the shippers who received them," Mr. Trickett said. "I cannot—two have passed on. I can give you contracts showing rebates or can comply with a suggestion to give you the information in writing, but I must decline to name them from the stand."

The question of rebates came up in connection with the preceding witness—H. G. Wilson, transportation commissioner of the Kansas City Commercial club.

Amounted to 40 Per Cent. Enumerating the different advances since 1901, Mr. Wilson testified that in 1906, after the passage of the Hepburn act, the freight rates were again advanced, and he estimated that prior to that time rebates on many articles from the Atlantic coast to Missouri points had amounted to 40 per cent of the regular tariffs. Mr. Wilson testified that he had no personal knowledge of the giving of rebates, and could therefore give no specific instance.

Mr. Trickett, executive manager of the Missouri Association, agreed with Wilson in the 40 per cent estimate, and said he had personal knowledge of the giving of rebates, in some instances having acted for the carrier, in others for the shipper and in others for both carrier and shipper.

In addition to bringing up the subject of rebates, Mr. Wilson introduced a tabulation showing the increase in the minimum weight of carload lots, which he contended had worked to the disadvantage of some shippers; of changes in the classification of commodities, and of advances of commodity freight rates.

Railroad Property Under-Appraised. Shortly before adjournment, E. J. McMann, manager of the traffic bureau of the Omaha Commercial club, after detailing his railroad experience, which began in 1885, said that he had heard the testimony of F. E. Ward, general manager of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, who, he said, had placed the reproduction value of the lands owned by the railroad at $150,000,000.

"I paid particular attention to his testimony relative to the reproduction value of the Omaha terminal lands of the road which he placed, I think, at $2,000,000," Mr. McMann said. "I have investigated, and have found that the assessment of the Burlington road on the Omaha terminal lands this year was $81,205."

The testimony of Mr. McMann was stopped at this point by the adjournment until tomorrow morning, when he is expected to resume.

East St. Louis, Wellston and Granite City. Charles Huttig, of the Third National bank, was elected president; Walter Hill, of the Merchants' American, vice president, and W. W. Norton, secretary and treasurer. One member said that the formation was not due to any present need, but to meet the emergency when the demand for money was great, such as in crop-moving periods.

STOCKS DEPRESSED; MONEY IS TIGHTER

Wall Street Selling Is Heavy, Still the Final Prices Are Above the Lowest.

New York, Oct. 26.—The waning influence of some factors relied on to hold prices in today's stock market, together with a few other elements, constituted a heavy weight on the side of depression. The technical position, too, was in favor of a reaction, as a result of the accumulation of holdings in the course of the money strain.

There was heavy buying of December contracts to resell at a profit. Selling was heavy at times today, still the closing prices were above the lowest. The high rates of interest charged at the London stock market settlement for carrying over Americans was a symptom of the money strain. The fall in British consols to 78 1/2 marked so rapid a decline in that premier security as to demoralize the investment issues. The whole problem of interest rates, investment returns and the high prices of commodities is brought sharply into relief again by this episode.

Cereal Markets Are Higher.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Wheat today closed firm, at a net gain of 3/8¢ to 5/8¢. There was heavy buying of December contracts by elevator houses, and that month was relatively stronger than the May. On the bulge in price, the same concerns sold the far-away delivery. The first aid to the bulls came from hints of smaller wheat shipments to Mexico. Then it was noticed that the export clearances were larger than usual, and this was followed by complaints of the Hessian fly in Nebraska and dry weather in the Southwest. What gave the bear side a sure enough fright, however, was the heavy buying of December contracts by the primary receipts were 801,000 bushels, against 1,651,000 bushels a year ago. The shipments from the same cities were 776,000 bushels, in contrast with 538,000 bushels twelve months previous. Covering the wheat market, the principal fluctuations at the close were as follows: Corn closed 5/8¢ to 1 1/8¢ higher. The small stocks and the lightness of the country offerings were the principal influences at the close. Corn advanced 1/2¢ to 4¢ and closed at 46¢. Oats closed 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ higher. Cash grain houses were buyers today, along with shorts. The December opened at 30 1/2¢ to 31¢ and closed at 31 1/2¢ to 31 3/4¢.

CUT-OVER LANDS FOR ORCHARDS.

Capitalists of Chicago and Butte, Mont., have bought 1,100 acres of cut-over timber land near Boyer, Ill., for $290,000 and will expend $200,000 in clearing the tract and setting it to apple and pear trees, making it the largest single orchard in the state of Idaho. The Oden Orchard company, as the concern will be known, also is negotiating for 400 acres of land south of the Penn Orville river, where the climate is said to be ideal for winter apples. The Kootenai Orchard company, composed of Chicago capitalists, has already cleared 500 acres of a 700-acre tract in Bonner county, Ind., and is planting apple and pear trees this year. Until a few years ago it was generally believed that the cut-over lands in northern Idaho were suitable only for grazing and grain growing, but experts have demonstrated they are adapted to a wide variety of fruits, as well as garden products.

OLD U. S. $1 NOTE TO BE RESTORED TO ACTIVE DUTY.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The old United States $1 note, which disappeared from circulation in 1885 is to be called into service again. Secretary MacVegh today decided that the enormous demand for bills of the smaller denomination warrants the issue authorized in 1907. The plates preserved in the bureau of printing and engraving will be pressed into service and beginning tomorrow the notes will be issued at about the rate of $200,000 a day until the demand for small bills is met.

NO MORE RECEIPTS FOR REGISTERED MAIL MATTER.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Hereafter one must ask voluntarily for the receipt from the addressee for registry matter or no formal notification of the delivery will be sent through the mails, according to an order by the post-office department today. Originally the receiving postmaster invariably obtained the addressee's signature on the delivery of registered mail and sent the receipt back to the sender. The action is expected to eliminate much unnecessary work and to minimize the bulk of the mails by stopping the sending of many receipts for blanks both ways.

MR. OSBORN GIVEN A FINE RECEPTION

His Visit to Holland Last Night the Occasion of an Inspiring Ovation.

Holland, Mich., Oct. 26.—When he paid his farewell visit of the present campaign to this city tonight, Chase S. Osborn, Republican candidate for governor, was tendered one of the most inspiring ovations ever offered a political candidate in Michigan.

When in company with ex-Mayor Codd of Detroit and a number of friends, Mr. Osborn was preparing to leave Grand Rapids this afternoon, he was taken by surprise when a delegation of fifty representative working men from this city arrived on a special interurban car to escort the candidate here. Tonight both the Soo man and the Detroit were entertained at a dinner given in their honor by the county Republican committee at the Holland Hotel.

Appearing before a well-filled auditorium in Price's rink, later in the evening, the gubernatorial candidate made easily the hit of his present campaign. His eloquently delivered plea for a higher plane of political office seekers, a general personnel in the Republican party of which its members might justly be proud, and his kindly criticism of the record of the Democratic party and its candidates, not alone in Michigan, but in the entire country, won loud and prolonged applause for him.

"I do not care to make many campaign promises," he said "I would sooner by far make fewer promises and do more actual work for the people of Michigan than do to make promises I know I could not keep. Mr. Hemans has said that in his opinion there are too many idle and worthless state employes. Permit me to recall that that was my contention throughout the primary campaign, and also allow me to repeat my promise that, if elected governor, I will remove every unworthy and inefficient office holder in the state's employ."

Ex-Mayor Codd once more assailed the public record of Lawton T. Hemans and offered proof of his charges. He made a general plea for the success of the entire Republican state ticket and closed with a brief sketch of the life and achievements of Mr. Osborn.

LAW-MAKERS DENY SEEKING BRIBE MONEY

Conspiracy Case on Trial at Springfield, Ill., Will Go to the Jury This Afternoon.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 26.—At the conclusion of the testimony of the defendants today, the case in the Pemberton and Clark conspiracy case announced that they rested and the opening arguments were commenced. State's Attorney Burke opened for the prosecution and was followed by High Graham, counsel for Senator Pemberton. After Mr. Graham had finished the court adjourned until tomorrow morning, when Emory Andrews and former State Senator Thomas Dawson will be heard for the defense. The closing argument for the defense will be by C. F. Mortimer of this city, while State's Attorney Burke will close for the state. The expectation is that the case will go to the jury early in the afternoon.

Most of the day was taken up with the testimony of the defendants, who denied having had any part in a conspiracy to obtain money for themselves out of the state house furniture contract. Under a court ruling, the number of character witnesses was limited to twelve for each defendant. Each of those testified to the good reputation borne by the defendants in their home towns.

MR. FORAKER CANCELS HIS ENGAGEMENTS

Asked to Modify Speeches, and Declining to Accede, the ex-Senator Withdraws from the Ohio Campaign—Has Been Assailing the "New Nationalism."

Candidate Dix Is the Object of an Attack by Roosevelt, Delivered in Nine New York Towns—Judge Alton B. Parker Takes a Poke at the Colonel.

Cleveland, Oct. 26.—Declining to accede to the request of the Republican state executive committee to modify his speeches, former Senator Joseph B. Foraker has withdrawn from participation in the Ohio state campaign and has cancelled his speaking engagements. In his addresses last week he opposed the "new nationalism," describing it as "treason." This brought on the controversy.

Col. Roosevelt Continues His Tour; Speaks in Nine Northern Towns.

Ogdenburg, N. Y., Oct. 26.—John A. Dix, Democratic candidate for governor, was the object of an attack by Colonel Roosevelt starting at Syracuse today and ending here tonight. The itinerary included nine northern towns. The colonel reiterated his charge of Dix's connection with the wall paper trust, those alleged alliance, reasserted that "Rooseveltism" is not a menace and praised Henry L. Stimson, Republican candidate for governor.

Alton B. Parker, campaigning for Mr. Dix, happened into Richmond just as Mr. Roosevelt was attacking Dix in a speech at the railway station. "I think I'll go down and hear him," said Mr. Parker. He walked toward the crowd, stopped within about fifty feet of the man who had defeated him for the presidency, and listened.

"Say, Colonel, Judge Parker can't hear," someone in the crowd shouted. "The colonel stopped talking for a moment and looked toward the speaker. The latter turned and walked into the station.

Mr. Roosevelt will continue his speech-making tour tomorrow.

Judge Parker Quotes a Command from the Mount.

Oswego, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Judge Alton B. Parker, in a political speech here tonight, referred at length to Theodore Roosevelt's remarks concerning the alleged connection of John A. Dix, the Democratic candidate for governor, with the wall paper trust. He added: "Is this waging a decent campaign for reelection? Let me command to Mr. Roosevelt's serious consideration a single thought. 'Thou shalt not steal,' was only one command thundered from the Mount. There was another just as plain, just as clear, just as emphatic, 'Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.'"

CHAMP CLARK SAYS TEDDY IS THE BIGGEST ADVERTISER NATION HAS EVER KNOWN.

Kansas City, Oct. 26.—"Roosevelt is the biggest advertiser our time have ever had. What a shame Barron had him. He would have collared for the show man every dollar between the two oceans."

The foregoing is one of the things that Congressman Champ Clark had to say in his speech here tonight at a meeting held under the auspices of the Young Men's Democratic club in behalf of the Democratic state and congressional ticket. The speech was a mixture of politics, a neighborly talk, a tribute to the senator or Dulliver and a discussion of current affairs.

The insurgents, the speaker said, were men proud to stand up for the principles the Democrats had advocated as much as ten years ago. "I should like to treat the tariff as they did the horse thief in the old days, out West," Mr. Clark said. "I would turn it loose with the following sign on it. 'This is very bad in some respects, but a darn sight worse in others.'"

Mr. Foss Declares Senator Lodge a Foe to Canadian Reciprocity.

New Bedford, Mass., Oct. 26.—"No more consistent opponent of the Canadian reciprocity than Senator Lodge ever walked the earth," declared Congressman Eugene N. Foss, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, in an address here tonight. "The United States persistently has rebuffed Canada, and no man has been more active in this than Mr. Lodge."

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT PLANS GREATER USE OF AUTOMOBILES.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The expedition of the mails by an extension of the use of automobiles in the postal service is being advocated by the postoffice department. The motor cycle is being extensively used in the transportation of mail in suburban towns where long distances have to be traversed rapidly in order to insure prompt service. One of the plans for the reorganization of the rural delivery service is the substitution of light automobiles for horse cars.

"Lil Arthur" has had to revise his estimates as to his standing as a speed merchant. He only thought he was fast.

The birdmen at Belmont park are showing clearly that American aviators are among the topnotchers in their profession.

As far as our old friend "General Apathy" is concerned, however, he seems to be getting in his deadly work with the Democrats as much as with the Republicans.

The "honor system" for convicts employed on road work may be O. K., but the "honor system" hasn't given the best results with convicts released on parole. More of these bolts than ought to, considering the reasonable terms on which they are given their partial liberty. However, the indeterminate sentence law makes it necessary for the pardons board to take a chance with many men whom they feel will probably not make good, whereas if a certain proportion of convicts were being selected for work on the roads only the most trustworthy would be considered. The system, Governor Warner says, has been employed with marked success in Colorado, and any system of employing convict labor that has been a success anywhere is certainly worthy of the closest study by the Michigan commission.

The reason for the confidence that Mr. Osborn will be elected governor is found when the conditions that this year prevail in counties like Kent are analyzed. Kent is a county that Mr. Hemans carried by over 8,000 majority when he was a candidate against Governor Warner two years ago. The Republican defection reached astounding proportions. This year Mr. Osborn is unusually strong in Kent and the minimum majority that his friends claim for him there is 2,500. There is a strong Osborn organization in the county and the reception accorded him this week was a most flattering one. If Mr. Osborn's majority in Kent reaches 2,500 it will mean that some 5,000 Republicans who cut the party candidate for governor two years ago will have returned to the support of the ticket. Similar conditions exist in other lower state counties in which Mr. Hemans was particularly strong two years ago. There is good basis for the confidence that Mr. Osborn will be elected by a considerable majority. At the same time, this confidence should not be allowed to stand in the way of vigorous work for the ticket. The only danger the situation holds is the one of lack of interest, which is certainly pronounced in this region, if not in the state at large. The aggressive campaign below the straits may be stirring people up, but the upper peninsula, unfortunately, is not to be visited by any of the principal actors in the political drama, and at the present time it looks as if a good many thousands of voters will forget to go to the polls.

THE CRIPPLED OBJECT LESSON.
Everybody has said the obvious thing about the Crippen case—"what a contrast to our own sensational criminal trials." The English trial was put through at relatively small expense in less than a week and the man convicted. Our famous trials of a similar nature take anywhere from one to three months, cost a great deal of money, and as often as not defeat instead of promoting the ends of justice.

All very true, but certainly not new. A chorus of similar observations is heard every time one of these trials occurs in this country or in England. The difference in the two systems of criminal law is well known, and it is not to our credit. The need of object lessons to prove the latter fact was long ago outgrown. What we really want is suggestions (or, rather, definite practical plans) for correcting the obvious evils and weaknesses of our own procedure. Such reforms must come from the lawyers themselves, and various proposals for reform have been made by legal bodies.

Whether because of the simple inertia of established usage or because the reforms were not practical, nothing of any importance has yet been accomplished toward abating the abuse of technical mistakes, having no bearing—one way or the other—on the guilt or innocence of the accused, nor in abolishing the absurd system of securing expert medical testimony. If reforms in these two mat-

PORTUGAL'S NEW DANGER.

The situation confronting the officials of the new Portuguese republic is somewhat alarming. The great confederation of the Latin peoples, to be inaugurated by an understanding between South America and the Iberian peninsula of which the special representative of the new Portugal government, Senhor Lima, is telling the world, is just now of less importance than the question of securing a stable government in Portugal herself. It is reported that the soldiers who put through the recent revolution want a military not a Republican government, and will, if necessary, fight for the former. It is further said that the government's offer of long leave of absence on full pay has been refused by several regiments on the ground that organized force may be required to reap the full fruits of their victory. In other words, they don't propose to allow the Republican officials to seat themselves firmly in the saddle unless the army gets its full share of the office.

These stories, which may be mere sophisticated rumors put forth with the purpose of hampering the new government, are given some probability by the unhappy situation of the country prior to the deposition of King Manuel. The five ministries which filled his brief two and a half years' reign did nothing for the country. The poverty and degradation of its people increased rather than diminished during this period, as a result chiefly of the unwillingness of the politicians to work together for the general good.

The same difficulty appears to be at the bottom of the present trouble. It is quite conceivable that it may eventually lead to a recall of the king as the least of the evils. Even the Republicans would probably prefer a monarchy to a military dictatorship.

REGULATION OF PATENT MEDICINES.

While much good has already been accomplished by the federal pure food and drug act in regulating the manufacture and sale of patent medicines, it is the announced intention of Dr. Wiley, chief of the chemistry branch of the department of agriculture, to carry this supervision still further, for the protection of the public. Dr. Wiley has come to the conclusion that under the authority of the pure food law his department can institute prosecutions of advertisers who sell through the medium of newspapers and magazines wares which they cannot push with circulars, and which fail to come up to the requirements of the food and drug act. In other words, Dr. Wiley holds that the government can prosecute a firm for making a misstatement concerning its product in a newspaper advertisement, as well as in its private literature or on a label of its goods.

If this contention is established it will provide a power of censorship over poisonous and deleterious patent medicines and nostrums that cannot fail to work to the great advantage of the general public. It is a well-known fact that in spite of the pure food and drug act many quacks and manufacturers of spurious medicines are still able to do business, reaching the gullible public through the medium of advertisements placed in the newspapers and magazines. Not only are the people defrauded out of their money in this manner, but in many instances injurious and even dangerous drugs are distributed, to the ultimate detriment of public health. This proposed further regulation of the business would therefore serve the dual purpose of saving money for the people and at the same time safeguarding their health.

Certainly the argument advanced by Dr. Wiley seems reasonable and entirely in harmony with the spirit of the food and drug act. The latter was enacted for the purpose of preventing fraud and to protect the people from being made the victims of unscrupulous dealers, and if this object can be aided by the regulation of the advertising done by such dealers, so much the better.

A LAUGH OR TWO.

He Wins or You Lose.
Mr. Roosevelt, discussing in Milwaukee his idea of an employees' liability law, said to a group of correspondents: "Such a law would assure an injured workman of compensation without the cost of a suit. To be sure, some lawyers would lose their money, but, after all, the 'ambulance chasing' type of lawyer isn't worthy of much consideration."

"An injured miner was telling a friend how one of these 'ambulance chasers' was going to bring a suit for him. "He's working for me on a contingent fee," the miner said. "What is a contingent fee, do you know, Jimmy?" "Sure I know, Jimmy answered. 'If you lose the case, your lawyer 'll get nothing, and if you win, you'll get nothing.'"

Eugene Walcott, the brilliant playwright, told at a dinner at his flat in the Ansonia, a story about a New York critic.

"He is very brilliant," Mr. Walcott said. "As he and I were taking supper at the Cafe Martin one night, a passing playwright glared at him. "Why is Playwright Dash so down on me, I wonder?" said the critic. "Oh," said I, with a laugh, "you know well enough why he's down on you. You wrote last month that the plot of his new play was no good!"

"Well," said the critic, "why should he mind that? I said at the time it wasn't his plot!"

A NEW NEW FLYING MACHINE.

A Scotch inventor is building a flying machine weighing about six tons and designed to carry twenty or thirty passengers. When complete the machine will cost about $50,000. It is a little more than half completed at present. The machine in shape bears resemblance to a bird and embodies the rotary-wing theory of flight. For each wing will be a large gyroscope or fan twenty-seven and one-half feet in diameter, revolving horizontally, like inverted basins. The rotary wings with their horizontal movement will, it is claimed, enable the machine to travel in any kind of weather and by its own power to raise itself vertically from the ground. It is said the invention is in advance of anything already constructed. Aviators and experts, however, express considerable doubt as to the success of the advanced improvement and question whether a machine weighing so much can lift itself from the ground or prove a decided success in other ways. Scottish aviators experience difficulty in experimental flights on account of the heavy atmosphere or damp cold encountered, as in other northern countries; except one or two summer months the cold in the air makes practice or experiments hazardous. The south of England or Germany and France appear to be the more inviting field for conduct trial trips of new machines. Drexel, the American, who won the championship at Lanark, in Scotland, for high flight during August, experienced the benumbing cold of the high Scottish altitudes.—Consul H. D. Van Sant, Dumfries, Scotland.

Copper Country

DEER SEASON APPROACHES.

Partridge Hunters Say Deer Are Plentiful—Demand for Licenses.

It is admitted by the partridge hunters of Houghton county that this has been a very lean partridge season. The game birds are very shy this year and about the only pleasure the partridge hunters could get out of it was the fact that in their rambles through birdless woods they often saw deer. They all unite in saying that the copper country's most sought big game is plentiful this year.

This fact must have gotten abroad pretty well because there are evidences throughout southern Michigan of a tendency to come to the copper country after deer this fall. The copper country will send out its quota of hunters to the demand for deer licenses at the county clerk's office has not been very brisk as yet but it is a little early. At that twenty-five have been sold.

ANOTHER DESERTER SOUGHT.

Marce Martanovic Charged by Wife With Desertion of Family.

The November term of the Houghton county circuit court, which opens a week from Monday, promises to be interesting because of the number of new criminal charges with desertion. There are a lot of them in jail now and they are being rounded up daily.

Marce Martanovic is the latest example. He left his wife and one child at Houghton three months ago and has not since communicated with them. The wife has found it hard work getting along and finally she called upon the law. Justice Little has issued a warrant and the sheriff will send into Wisconsin today for the man, he having been located. He will be tried under the state law which sends a man to Iowa and hard labor on conviction of deserting his family.

WILD DUCK RAISING.

Farmer in Elm River Township Will Try New Experiment.

Elias Karumpaa, a farmer in Elm River township, has an experiment in mind which he will attempt to turn into a profitable business the next two years. He will try raising wild ducks for table use. An order for a dozen young birds has been given. There is a pond on the Karumpaa farm. The owner has designed a building in which he will place a small furnace. Pipes from this furnace will be extended into the pond to keep the water from freezing.

The attempt to raise the ducks, while an experiment in these parts, has been tried with success in Wisconsin and other states. It was after reading of the experiences of others that Mr. Karumpaa decided to try the idea. In one town in the Badger state it is said that more than one hundred mallards and bluebills have been raised the past summer from eggs which were gathered in the woods, and these eggs were hatched by Plymouth Rock hens. The wings are clipped so the ducks cannot fly away. Mr. Karumpaa believes he can find a ready market for his fowl at an time of the year and believes there will be no violation of the game laws, as the ducks will in a sense be domesticated.

POTATOES FLOOD MARKET.

Tubers the Biggest Crop of the Present Year in Copper Country.

The cheap but succulent and nutritious potato has at present all the earmarks of a drug on the market in the copper country. The potato was the most successful crop in the copper country this year and as a result the farmers had a lot of them on their hands and find few purchasers for them. Potatoes are selling for fifty cents a bushel. Anyone can buy all the potatoes he wants at that price.

Good Will Farm raised 500 bushels of potatoes during the summer and can find no market for them. The sale of these potatoes would greatly help this charity, even at the current low prices but Mrs. Walker, the superintendent, says she will not sell them. Many other farmers find themselves in the same predicament.

It was stated yesterday by an alleged authority that potatoes were not a drug on the market excepting in the case of the small farmer, who has raised only a few bushels; the other farmers were shipping them out in carload lots. This was investigated.

Both the Mineral Range and the Copper Range railroads declare that not a potato has been shipped out of the copper country this fall.

Some copper country farmers who have facilities for storage believe that they will do well to hang onto their potatoes because in large potato producing countries there have been crop failures and the supply in the copper country will be wanted in the larger markets this winter. Farmers are selling in Chicago right now for more than they will bring in the copper country.

One large farmer in the Lake Linden district who has large storage capacity is buying up potatoes against the expected winter demand. He is buying from small farmers at the present prices and expects to double his money during the winter as $1 a bushel is freely predicted for the tuber after snowfall. In the meantime the small farmer who has no storage facilities is peddling his potatoes at a loss.

HANCOCK CONSOLIDATED.

At the Hancock Consolidated, the development of the property is being pushed. The vertical No. 2 shaft has passed through the Hancock series of lodes and the conglomerate underlying them, and will now be continued to strike the Peavable lode, which has made the Quincy one of the most famous mines in Michigan. It must not be forgotten that the Hancock No. 3 lode, which is the principal reason for so much attention centering on the enterprise during the last year, is comparatively important are by no means unlikely.

WOMEN ON SERIOUS CHARGE.

Victoria Desrosier and Mary Lukonen of Hancock were arrested Tuesday on a charge of harboring a fourteen-year-old girl in a house of ill-fame. The girl has been missing from her home in Hancock for five weeks and it was only on Monday that she was located. The two women were taken before Justice Olivier and were arraigned, the time of their hearing being set for Nov. 10. They were remanded to jail in default of bail. The girl is held at the juvenile detention building in Houghton.

WILL PLAY IN CHICAGO.

Paul Rompf, the star cover point of the Hancock hockey team for last winter, has gone to Chicago to become a member of the hockey team of the Illinois Athletic club. This club is captained by Krellwitz, formerly of the Houghton seven, and is making a very creditable showing. In seeking to secure some of the better amateurs for his aggregation, Krellwitz wrote Rompf, asking the Hancock man to come. He will greatly strengthen the Chicago team.

CONGRESS PROMISES TO BE VERY CLOSE

Regulars in Danger of Defeat Aiding Democrats—Dalzell in Grave Peril.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The Republican congressional committee is preparing to publish its official forecast of the result of the coming congressional elections. No reason exists for believing that the committee will change its mind greatly from its present view, which is known to be that the election will be extremely close, but a Republican house may be looked for, unless serious slumps occur in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio. Within a few days the committee has learned from inside sources that, in the local judgment, almost the only district in serious danger is that of John Dalzell, who is being opposed by Dr. Black, a very strong candidate with the labor element. Dalzell was almost beaten in the primaries, but a legal injunction conveniently secured prevented a full recount of all the votes cast and Dalzell was declared re-elected. He is as strong as ever with the moneyed men of Pittsburgh, but he never has been opposed among the masses by a candidate with any taking qualities or who could hold out any hope of success. As a consequence of this languid state of things his reelection in the past has been as sure as those of Joseph G. Cannon, Sen. E. Payne, James S. Sherman or any other of the little group of regulars who are accustomed to run the business of the house through him. Dalzell is now in real danger. He knows it and the insiders know it, everywhere.

The estimate of the Republican congressional committee undoubtedly will be honest, but it may not be based upon an exact knowledge of all the facts. Indeed, a movement to defeat insurgents is going on throughout the West after an emphatic repudiation of it by the committee. This is nothing more or less than the direct assistance of Democratic candidates where they are opposed by insurgents. Even the men engaged in this movement assert honestly that the committee is doing the best it can to aid every Republican in the field. No doubt the committee is handicapped by the requirement of some of its large contributors that not a cent of their coin shall go to aid an insurgent. Insurgents hurt business, they say, however good their morals, and they prefer good business to better government. But even with these handicaps the committee is playing fair. Speakers are assigned with the utmost care and in accordance with the wishes of the candidates of whatever stripe they may be.

The real movement which threatens the house in the West is one engineered by the friends of Speaker Cannon, who very truthfully declare that the speaker can be vindicated only by a popular repudiation of the insurgents at the polls. A Democratic house, they say, could bring such a repudiation. But there is reason to believe that the Democratic congressional committee will be able to find plenty of money to aid Democratic candidates where an insurgent is being defeated. Conferences relating to negotiations of this kind have been held by various means and others have sent messages which have filled the Democrats with hope. It may or may not have been upon business of this character that Representatives James M. Miller of Kansas, regular, defeated for re-election, had a conference with Chairman James T. Lloyd of the Democratic congressional committee.

The Case of Cannon.

That this movement is of some confronting anyone in need of a laxative is not a question of a single action only, but of permanently beneficial effects, which will follow proper efforts to live in a healthful way, with the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, whenever it is required, as it cleanses the system gently yet promptly, without irritation and will therefore always have the preference of all who wish the best of family laxatives.

The Important Problem

confronting anyone in need of a laxative is not a question of a single action only, but of permanently beneficial effects, which will follow proper efforts to live in a healthful way, with the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, whenever it is required, as it cleanses the system gently yet promptly, without irritation and will therefore always have the preference of all who wish the best of family laxatives.

The combination has the approval of physicians because it is known to be truly beneficial, and because it has given satisfaction to the millions of well-informed families who have used it for many years past.

breadth cannot be doubted. Kansas is a particularly inviting field for political trials, for few loyals than our regulars went under there before the insurgent valley. Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Iowa and other Western states to present chances enough for the defeat of insurgents to make the house Democratic. The rosier view of results to which the official forecasters have been inclined has not taken into account any deliberate outside attempt to defeat Republican insurgents for the vindication of Mr. Cannon, nor has it, so far realized that conditions in the great state of New York are growing worse every day.

Representative Philip P. Campbell of Kansas, a "progressive" rather than an insurgent, he declares, is fighting for re-election and making his campaign strictly on the Taft administration. He is telling the people of Kansas what Mr. Taft has done and hopes to do and asking them how they could expect any better performance of any President. According to Mr. Campbell, this doctrine is being well received everywhere he goes.

FALL STRAWBERRIES

Success With the New Plants of Western New York Growers

Fruit growers in western New York are demonstrating that it is possible to grow strawberries until November. In fact, many varieties are now being marketed. One of the farmers who have achieved a fine result says his berries are known as the Francis and America, seedlings of the Pan-American strawberry. They were originated in Iowa.

After testing them last year this grower bought 500 plants in the spring for $100. These varieties differ from other strawberries only in that they blossom continuously from June until November. In order to get a large crop at any one time it is necessary to pick or cut off the blossoms up to within three weeks of the time the fruit is desired. On some of his plants this man pinched the blossoms until July 1. These plants began bearing berries July 30. On his main crop of plants the blossoms were cut off until August 1. An immense crop of ripe fruit, green berries and blossoms now covers the plants, having developed since Aug. 1.

The first picking was made Aug. 22 and fruit is promised until freezing weather. These plants have already afforded several pickings, three averaging more than 600 quarts to the acre. A ready market has been found at 25 cents per quart, and this grower is convinced that the average net returns from an acre of these strawberries in one year would be $1000 or better. Ordinary spring bearing strawberries produce one crop in two years.

These varieties of strawberries produce a crop in an autumn of the same year they are planted and will bear a crop in June of the second year and continue to produce fruit from then until November. This instead of one crop in two years they produce three crops in two years. With less rain and more sunshine the berries would have been of better color, larger, of better flavor and more pleasing in appearance. The flavor of the berries is superior to any other different from those picked in June.

HOW OLD PEOPLE

May Prolong Their Lives.

At an advanced age waste is more rapid than repair. The organs act more slowly and less efficiently than in youth. The circulation is poor—the blood thin and watery—the appetite poor and digestion weak.

We want to say to every aged person in this vicinity that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil) will prolong life. It creates an appetite aids digestion and makes good blood. In this natural manner Vinol retards waste and replaces weakness with strength, giving new life to the worn system.

If people in this vicinity only realized how Vinol invigorates old people we would not be able to supply the demand.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. The Stafford Drug Co., Marquette; also Fred P. Tilson, Ishpeming, and J. E. O'Donoghue, Negaunee.

today. The railroad officials have been troubled considerably of late with persons breaking into buildings and appropriating property, and are determined to put a stop to the practice.

Better Climate Here—R. C. Young, chief engineer of the Cleveland-Cliffs railroads, who has just returned from Denver, where he attended a meeting of the national association of railway engineers, was not favorably impressed with the brand of weather dished up by the weather man in that city during his visit there. He reports that the weather was cold and raw, and that snow flakes were in the air much of the time, while higher up on the mountains it snowed hard. At Colorado Springs, he found the weather more agreeable. On the whole, however, he says that Marquette has all the best of it, as far as climate is concerned, judging from his observations.

TRAP SHOOT FOR NOVICES.

Handicaps Will Be Given So All Contestants Will Have Equal Chance.

The Town and Country club has arranged a handicap trap shooting contest for novices, continuing for four Saturdays, the first round of three events of which will be shot off this week. The shoot is open to anyone who knows how to handle a shot gun. Handicaps will be revised after each event, and original handicaps will be fixed on the record made in ten practice shots.

The contest will consist of 200 shots, fifty to be shot off each of the four Saturdays, in events of fifteen, twenty and thirty targets. A sterling watch fob donated by the DuPont Powder company will be the first prize, second prize a bronze medal, and third prize a gun cleaner. Twenty entries have already been received and there will probably be double that number by Saturday. Anyone desiring to shoot may notify H. J. Waterbury. Guns and shells may be obtained at the club house.

Those who make 80 per cent or better of their shoots will be considered scratch men; those making 78 per cent, 1 handicap; 76 per cent, 2 handicap; 74 per cent, 3 handicap; 72 per cent, 4 handicap; 70 per cent, 5 handicap; 68 per cent, 6 handicap; 66 per cent, 7 handicap; 64 per cent, 8 handicap; 62 per cent, 9 handicap; 60 per cent, 10 handicap; 58 per cent, 11 handicap; 56 per cent, 12 handicap; 54 per cent, 13 handicap; 52 per cent, 14 handicap; 50 per cent, 15 handicap, and so on down.

Upper Peninsula

Death Cheated of a Victim—

John Wahl narrowly escaped death while at work at the Ontonagon Lumber & Cedar company's mill Oct. 22, the other day. He was fixing machinery and while stooping over he backed against a set screw, which caught his clothing and wound it up. Wahl realized in an instant what had happened, and he caught hold of the lumber, which he held on desperately. When he was released every stitch of his clothing excepting his shoes and collar bands had been torn from his body. His body is very lame and sore from the wrenching he was given. Otherwise he escaped injury.

People Eating Less Meat—

The majority of families in the Soo are eating less meat than one year ago because they cannot afford to follow the advance in prices in the statement of butchers. At the same time the retailers declare that they are making a smaller margin of profit. Fish cannot be made a substitute for meat, the dealers complain, because it cannot be procured regularly and in required quantities. An adequate supply of white fish for local consumption cannot be secured. Dealers have to depend on the fish trust, which does not supply the fish in accordance with demand, or they must go to the Canadian market, which raises the price to the ultimate consumer beyond what can be afforded ordinarily. Fowl, too, with the exception of turkeys which are plentiful in that vicinity, are up in price; and with Thanksgiving and Christmas to care for it is anticipated that turkey will not long remain at from twenty to twenty-two cents a pound. Present prices at the Soo, compared with those prevailing a year ago, are as follows:

LOGGING OPERATIONS NORTH OF ISHPEMING

Camps Being Moved Three Miles Farther North Than They Were Last Winter.

R. H. Jenny, who conducted logging operations north of Ishpeming last winter, is now preparing to resume work. The camps are being moved about three miles north of their location last winter and they will now be established some sixteen miles from Ishpeming. A force of from 100 to 150 men will be employed. A man named Hubbard will be the principal part of the work on contract.

Mr. Jenny had poor success last winter operating with a steam log hauler, as the weather was not favorable for running the outfit. The hauler was not received until the latter part of February, and there was a complete breakdown early in March. Out of over 4,000,000 feet of logs placed on the skids, only about 350,000 feet were hauled to the St. Lawrence mine siding. The experiment proved to be an expensive one for Mr. Jenny.

All of the timber cut this season will be driven down Dead river. This year's operations will be much closer to the stream than the work done last winter, and the average haul will not exceed three miles. The haul to the St. Lawrence siding was nine miles. A portable saw mill has been in operation at the camps all summer and nearly all of the logs that could not be hauled to the siding last winter have been sawed into lumber, which will be hauled to the city by teams as soon as the winter sets in. The Consolidated Fuel & Lumber company has an option on the entire cut.

INDOOR BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Members of Senior Class of Y. M. C. A. Will Play Series of Games.

About fifty of the senior members of the Young Men's Christian association will participate in an indoor baseball league series during the fall and winter months. There will be four teams. They will not be limited to any specified number of players, and all members of the senior class will be given a chance to play in the games. The captains met Tuesday evening and selected the players for their respective teams, as follows:

John Nicholls, captain; McDougall, Phil Haglund, Will Qualan, Howard Watters, A. Dixon, J. Treblecock, H. Bergdahl, Larson, Harvey, Aug. Hendrickson, Chas. Thompson, Einer Siviva and Dave Lind.

William Rose, captain; Arvid Hendrickson, William Martin, John Martin, Walter Johnson, Charles Johnson, H. Shaddick, G. Mudge, Swanson, A. Nyquist, William Jackson, Einer Johnson, Joseph Gill and Roy Matthews.

A. Erickson, captain; Heppie, Mandley, Lundquist, Ed. Johnson, Adams Paulson, Wilcox, Ray, Butcher, Haglund, Moller, Seaborg, Johns and John Hendrickson.

Joseph Martin, captain; John Erickson, Uruhart, Ed. Hoglund, Matt Siviva, Ted Butler, G. Bengry, M. Webber, H. Edlund, A. W. Kangas, James Nicholls, Henry Watters, James Mandley and D. Hayden.

The schedule calls for twelve games, each team playing the others four times. Each team will pay a fee of three dollars, and the men on the winning team will be awarded a greater number of medals. The games will be played every Wednesday evening. They will be of seven innings each, fifty-five minutes being allowed for each game.

The Intermediate Indoor baseball league will be a two-team league, as there were not enough boys in the class to organize a greater number. The teams and their captains are as follows: Sackrider, captain; Russell, Peters, Hennessy, Gallery, C. Shea, Cox, Chamberlain and Thompson.

Peterson, captain; Mitchell, Parks, Moody, Tomsson, Clifton, Eger, Black, Potter and Shea.

The Junior A class league games this afternoon will be: Athletics vs. Pirates, White Sox vs. Tigers.

The Junior A class leaders will be named this afternoon and the leader's class hour arranged for.

Saturday will be a big day for the boys of the Y. M. C. A. The election of officers for 1910-11 will be held in the boys' rooms. The polling booth will be open from 8 a. m. till 8 p. m., and it is expected that every Y. M. C. A. boy will be on hand to vote. Both the conservative and the progressive parties are strong and the election will be a lively one. The progressive party will hold its final meeting tomorrow evening.

Members of the Y. M. C. A. Glee club who play mandolins or guitars are requested to bring their instruments next Monday night at the regular practice hour, 7:30 o'clock. Any members of the association are also invited to come and discuss the advisability of organizing a guitar and mandolin club.

The members of the Ishpeming Ski club and their ladies will meet tomorrow evening at the club house for a social. A bus will leave the Nelson house at 7:45 o'clock. There will be dancing and refreshments will be served.

INSPECTED MINES.

Officials of Oliver Iron Mining Company Looking Over Properties Here.

D. G. Kerr of New York first vice president of the United States Steel corporation; W. J. Olcott, president; Puntecost, Mitchell, vice president; John McLean, general manager, and Assistant General Manager Harding, of the Oliver Iron Mining company, were here yesterday from Duluth. They arrived on the early morning train and left last night for the Menominee range.

The officials are making a tour of the Lake Superior ranges. Before coming here they inspected the mines on the Mesabe and Vermilion ranges, and from the Menominee district they will go to the Gogebic range, then returning to Duluth.

Yesterday some of the visitors expressed the opinion that there will be a decided improvement in the iron and steel industry within two months. The company will not curtail winter operations at any of the underground properties. Within a few weeks the officials will prepare estimates of the appropriations for improvements which will be made in January or February. Plans have already been partially completed for extensive improvements on the Mesabe range. As the corporation's equipment on this range is now complete, there will be no extraordinary expenditures next year.

COFFEE WAS IT

People Slowly Learn the Facts.

"All my life I have been such a slave to coffee that the very aroma of it was enough to set my nerves quivering. I kept gradually losing my health but I used to say 'nonsense, it don't hurt me.'"

"Slowly I was forced to admit the truth and the final result was that my whole nervous force was shattered."

"My heart became weak and uncertain in its action and that frightened me. Finally my physician told me, about a year ago, that I must stop drinking coffee or I could never expect to be well again."

"I was in despair, for the very thought of the medicines I had tried so many times, nauseated me. I thought of Postum but could hardly bring myself to give up the coffee."

"Finally I concluded that I owed it to myself to give Postum a trial. So I got a package and carefully followed the directions, and what a delicious, nourishing, rich drink it was! Do you know I found it very easy to shift from coffee to Postum and not mind the change at all."

"I almost immediately after I made the change I found myself better, and as the days went by I kept on improving. My nerves grew sound and steady, I slept well and felt strong and well-balanced all the time."

"Now I am completely cured, with the old nervousness and sickness all gone. In every way I am well once more."

It pays to give up the drink that acts on some like a poison, for health is the greatest fortune one can have.

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his office of FREE consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, abolishes pain and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

WILL MAKE MOVE FOR MORE PUBLIC PARKS

That to Be a Feature of the Annual Conference of the American Civic Association at Washington, D. C., in December, Next

It is Planned to Have Cities and States Adopt a Systematic Plan of Action—A Good Start Made in Pennsylvania.

Washington, Oct. 25.—National state and city parks will be the keynote—of several keynotes—of the annual conference of the American Civic Association which will be held at the Willard in Washington, Dec. 14, 15 and 16. When the Conservation congress was held at St. Paul the association hoped to insert in the platform a plank dealing with this subject, but the proceedings were crowded and the proposal failed. While there is nothing new in the general subject, the association is desirous of inducing the states and cities to adopt a systematic scheme of action whereby future generations certainly and present in part may be sure of the enjoyment of forest reserves near the cities.

A start was made in Pennsylvania last year. Under the spur of the officers of the association and their friends, the legislature passed an act authorizing cities and towns to acquire, by purchase, gift or lease, tracts of land covered with forest growth or suitable for the growth of trees near or at a distance from such cities and towns. The novelty of the law is that it provides for the ownership of land by a city or town outside the municipal limits. The friends of the bill tried to secure the adoption also of a clause empowering municipalities to acquire forest reserves by right of eminent domain, but a prominent officer of the State senate objected and the clause was omitted. It is not indisputable, however, that such a provision be enacted, although undoubtedly the existence of the right would often solve some local problems.

How German Cities Make Money

At first thought the criticism of the undertaking, that schemes of this kind are "all very pretty, but not business" would appear to have some weight. But on second thought and for the sake of something of the experiences of foreign communities with local forest reserves one is able to see that the plan embodies the best kind of a business proposition. The German cities not only have forest reserves upon their outskirts but make them a continual source of revenue. For example, in the city of Baden which has 15,720 inhabitants, the municipality owns 10,576 acres of forest land. It costs the city $33,391.76 to administer this park reserve, but it brings an income of $100,471.44, thus leaving a net profit to the city of $66,079.68, or $62.25 an acre. The city of Freiburg, with 61,500 inhabitants, makes a net profit of more than $200,000 out of about 8000 acres of land, or at the rate of $5.70 an acre. The city of Heidelberg nets more than $12,000, or $1.91 an acre; but Heidelberg is only starting with its forest parks and is still in its period of expense. Besides, the people are looking more for aesthetics than for income.

Still more remarkable results have been reached in some of the smaller communities in Germany, where it is possible, in addition to selling timber from the forest park, to allow the people each a certain amount of firewood for their personal use. The little village of Braunlingen, with only 1601 inhabitants, has 4507 acres of forest, or about three acres for every inhabitant. The yearly allowance is 2,500,000 board feet of wood. Of that a total amount of firewood is given to the citizens up to 3500 board feet each. A total of 100,000 board feet is given to schools, town hall, church, etc. The timber, amounting to about 1,500,000 board feet yearly, is sold and brings to the community a net income of $21,600, so that the community is not only free from all local taxes, but is able to establish an electric plant, a water service, school houses, churches, etc. The villages of Wolterdingen and Aulendorf also meet all their local expenses from the sale of timber from the parks owned by the community.

Senator Stephenson's Gift

This principle is perfectly capable of application in the cities and towns of the United States. In some, in fact, the forests lie at hand and need only to be acquired to begin to yield revenue. It is suggested that the city of Washington is in a position to give an object lesson to the country by buying up vacant forest land to the north and developing it along the German lines. The land is plentiful and is said to be fairly cheap. Several of the states have made a good start in the direction of practical forestry. Wisconsin has a state park commission, and already Senator Isaac Stephenson, who used to be a lumberman and is enormously rich, has encouraged the movement with a substantial gift of forest land. Michigan and Minnesota have state park commissions and Missouri also is falling into line.

Judge Decides Scenery Has Value

An incident which has brought great joy to the hearts of the forest conservationists recently is the decision of Judge Robert E. Lewis of the United States district court at Pueblo, Col., that scenery has an intrinsic value and that the value to the community in which such scenery is situated may be reckoned in dollars and cents. In this interesting case, a power company wanted to divert the water from a beautiful cascade lying at the base of the north slope of Pike's peak. This would ruin the cascade, but that didn't make any difference to the power company. The people of the town contended that the cascade and the canon constituted scenery which enhanced the natural beauty of the town and was also an asset large in the town's claims as a resort. Judge Lewis took the same view of the question and

Negaunee Department

PLEASED WITH NEW BUILDING

Prominent Michigan Educator Expresses His Approval of Negaunee School.

H. R. Pattengill, ex-state superintendent of public instruction, in his school journal, the Moderator, is highly complimentary to Negaunee in connection with the teachers' convention, held here recently, as appears from the following: "The attendance was large and representative; the program was rich and varied; the spirit abounding and effervescent. The superb new high school building was the delight and wonderment of all comers. Delight over its beauty, neatness, lighting, ventilation, and arrangement; wonder that a city so large could and would put up so complete and beautiful a building, and that the structure could be built for $125,000. Tiled floors, marble stairways, plate glass windows, rich woodwork, spacious rooms, artistically fitted walls, art glass ceilings, beautiful pictures, immaculate cleanliness of the building, upper peninsula open-heartedness and 'get-there-ness' combined to make the great meeting a very worthy one in the long list of such occasions. The enrollment reached close to the 600 mark.

"The Thursday evening meeting was a most inspiring one in the great and charming auditorium of the school. Dr. Gansauld felt the inspiration of his audience, and measured up to the expectations of his appreciative auditors. The reception Friday evening by teachers and citizens of Negaunee was delightfully informal, cheery and pretty.

"By no means least of the factors insuring the success of the meeting was the charming music, both instrumental and vocal, rendered by the high school grades, and the ladies' quartet. Negaunee's high school orchestra deserves great credit for the excellent music. The singing by boys classes and girl classes of Negaunee third, fifth, sixth, eighth, second grade and high school classes was well high perfect in harmony and rhythm and was given with a dash and spirit that brought down the house.

"Nothing seems to have been omitted from the complete out-fitting of Negaunee's superb gymnasium floor and all its accoutrements are most attractive and serviceable. A look at it, fitted up with yellow and blue decorations for the U. P. E. A. reception, was one to stir one's blood and thrill his nervous organism."

MANY SELECT LOTS.

Despite inclement weather there was large attendance at cemetery sale.

Some 2,000 Negaunee people visited the new cemeteries yesterday, to make selections of lots. A number of Ishpeming people were also present, and a few from Marquette.

By 9 o'clock there were fully 300 on the grounds. The first persons to arrive reached the cemeteries before 4 o'clock. There were some twenty-five on hand at 7 o'clock. From 10 o'clock until evening people were continually coming and going.

At one time during the forenoon 100 more persons were seen in front of the Kirkwood block waiting for carriages, and every time one appeared there was a rush for it. The weather was unfavorable, as a drizzling rain fell the greater part of the day. Part of those who went to the cemetery were women, and the city officials and representatives of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company who were in charge, had no difficulty whatever in disposing of lots. Purchasers were told to place the red stakes provided on the lots they desired, and were instructed to remain at the location selected until some of the aldermen appeared and gave them tickets, containing their names and the number of the lots. They took these tickets to a tent where the names and numbers were registered. No money was handled on the grounds.

The crowd seemed well satisfied with the lots they selected. Many of the Catholics selected lots in the north end of the grounds, the most attractive place in the entire cemetery. The lots there are cheaper than those near the main entrance or on the principal avenues.

The crowd met Tuesday evening to consider matters pertaining to the sale. Some prospective lot buyers asked that they be allowed to close up the alleys in lots, if they purchased two or more. Some of the aldermen favored granting this privilege, and there were opposed to it. The session lasted until almost midnight without a decision being reached. The alleys between the lots are seven and one-half feet in width, while the streets are twenty feet wide. In addition to the twenty feet there will be wide grass plots on either side of the main highways.

MACCABEES OF THE WORLD.

Negaunee Man Will Organize Tents at Humboldt and Diorite Sunday.

James A. Goodman, district deputy of the Maccabees of the World, who has been soliciting members for new tents at Humboldt and Diorite, will organize branches at both places next Sunday. The tent at Humboldt will be instituted in the morning and the one at Diorite in the afternoon. The Diorite meeting will be held in the Diorite hall, on the second floor of the Diorite Store company's block.

Mr. Goodman had little difficulty securing large charter lists at both places. The Humboldt tent will have thirty-one and the Diorite tent fifty-two members. The latter is one of the largest tents that has ever been organized in the upper peninsula. Mr. Goodman expects that the membership there can be increased to from seventy-five to 100 within the next two or three months, and it is anticipated that the Humboldt tent will have a membership of from forty to fifty before the first of the year.

MEN'S NIGHT AT THE GUILD HALL

Large Number Accepted Inviting to Be Present Last Evening, and a Men's Club Was Organized—Will Take Up Social and Indoor Athletic Activities.

Visitors Greatly Enjoyed and Made Liberal Use of Privileges Extended to Them by the Hosts—Exciting Basketball and Indoor Baseball Contests.

A largely attended and most enjoyable meeting of men was held at the Guild Hall last evening, the most important result of which was the organization of a Men's club, which its members believe is destined to become one of the biggest and best clubs in the city. All male members of the Guild Hall association twenty-one years of age or over are entitled to membership in the club. An executive committee of seven members was elected to draw up a set of by-laws for the club, to select a suitable name and to make plans for the activities of the immediate future. The directors elected were: A. T. Roberts, Dr. R. W. Boyer, J. R. Van Evert, P. W. Teple, E. W. MacPherran, H. J. Waterbury and E. T. Connel.

At least 125 men were present at the gathering, about half of whom are not members of the Guild Hall. The formal business meeting occupied only a small part of the evening, the remainder of which was devoted to many different sports, such as gymnastic work, bowling, basketball, indoor baseball and swimming. The evening closed with coffee, sandwiches and cigars.

Match games of basketball and of indoor baseball were played, in both of which the visitors took much interest. The opposing basketball teams were named Thayer's team and Roberts' team and comprised players who were members of some of the numerous basketball teams of last season. The game was fast and well played, though a little one-sided, Thayer's team winning out by the score of 34 to 12. At the end of the first half, the score stood 22 to 6.

The indoor baseball match between the Has Beck's and Wagon to Be's was even more exciting and ended with the score a tie, 2 and 2, after five innings of play. Most of the players on both teams were old hands at the game, and there was plenty of brilliant playing and even sensational work. Osgood and Hogan were the opposing pitchers.

Purpose of Men's Club.

Before the Men's club was formally organized, several members explained the purpose and possibilities of such an organization. Dr. Boyer acted as chairman and called upon A. E. Miller to explain the proposed form of organization and to state what had been accomplished by similar clubs in other cities. A. T. Roberts and J. R. Van Evert also spoke along the same general line.

The scope of the club will be broad and will include almost all kinds of social and athletic activities. The members will have exclusive use of Guild Hall on Wednesday nights and two afternoons each week from 5 to 6 o'clock. At these afternoon meetings, it is expected that the men will make use of the gymnastic apparatus, swimming pool, bowling alleys and billiard and pool tables, and it is probable that regular classes in gymnasium work will be organized.

The Wednesday night gatherings are to be more of a social nature, though the members will be at liberty to make use of any part of the hall that they desire. At least once a month it is planned to give some kind of an entertainment or special program, and on some of these occasions friends of the members and the ladies will be invited to be present. Definite plans for these night meetings will be worked out more in detail by the directors before the next meeting a week hence.

All who attended last night had a very delightful evening and it is thought that quite a number of men will now join the Guild Hall, who have not been members up to this time. There was unanimous and enthusiastic sentiment in favor of organizing the Men's club, and the organization should greatly strengthen the Guild Hall movement, as well as be of great benefit and enjoyment to the members themselves.

In the course of the evening, Director Thayer explained what was being done for the young people at Guild Hall. All of the members have been organized into clubs according to sex and age, and each class or club has its regular hours, when it has the use of the hall. There are about ninety boys in the E club, which comprises those under twelve years of age; thirty-five in the E club, boys between twelve and sixteen, and sixty-six in the D class, girls up to sixteen, over forty of whom are under twelve years. The Young Woman's club numbers about forty, and the Young Men's club about 125.

WOULDN'T CONSIDER MARQUETTE.

Brunswick-Balke Co. Officials Said Labor Conditions Are Not Favorable.

The officers of the Marquette Commercial club some weeks ago exchanged several letters with officers of the Brunswick-Balke company, in an effort to ascertain whether there was any chance of securing for this city the extensive plant the company is about to move from Chicago, and which may go to Marquette. The first letter from the Brunswick-Balke people was not encouraging, but the matter was taken up further with them. They finally wrote that Marquette could not be considered a possible location for its plant on any terms, as the labor conditions here were not of the kind they were seeking. It was stated that it was by no means certain that the plant would be located at Marquette, as the labor conditions there occasionally the company some concern, though they were better than in Marquette. The company employs large numbers of skilled cabinet makers, and desires to locate its plant where there is a large supply of floating labor of every kind. The final statement of the officers in regard to Marquette was so definite that it was decided there was no use in pressing the matter further with them.

HAS A COMPLEX PROBLEM TO SOLVE

Light and Power Commission Must Decide on One of Two Locations for New Dam.

Assistant United States Engineer Charles Coleman of Duluth is in the city making estimates on the new dam which the light and power commission expects to build next summer. Mr. Coleman has been employed especially for the purpose of determining the best location for the new dam, there being two available sites, one just below the present dam at the head of the flume, and the other about 700 feet farther up the river, just around what is commonly known as "the bend."

To those who have given the subject study, the question of location of the proposed dam has proven a rather complex and quite interesting study. In either instance, the amount of potential power created would be practically the same, and the essential factor in determining the decision is which would be the least expensive to build.

O'Keefe & Orison, of Appleton, Wis., hydraulic contractors and engineers, have already gone over the problem thoroughly and made a report on the cost and relative advantages of the two locations. In his preliminary investigation, Mr. Orison was impressed with the lower site, just below the present dam, in preference to that farther up the river, but after going into the matter more thoroughly, he has changed his opinion. In his final report, he estimates the cost of building a new dam at the "bend" site at $35,000, compared with $62,000 just below the present dam, both estimates including the cost of a penstock from the dam to the flume.

Mr. Coleman has been called in to make an estimate covering the same ground, in order that the commission might have more than one man's ideas and figures before authorizing an outline of the necessary amount of money. As far as actual mason work is concerned, it would require at least four times as much material to build a dam just below the present structure as it would to build one farther up the river at "the bend." Making the new dam ten feet higher than the one now in use, at the lower site, a dam would have to be about 290 feet long and sixty-five feet high, while at the "bend" a dam 125 feet long and twenty-four feet high would accomplish the same purpose.

On the other hand, at the lower site the construction would be a simple proposition of masonry, just the same as building an immense concrete wall, while at any point above the present dam the structure would have to be built under water and without at any time interfering with the regular flow of the river, which would at once impair the efficiency of the light and power station and reduce the amount of current that could be furnished light and power customers. Submarine work would of course cost much more than simple masonry—just how much more is the question that light and power commission is seeking to have answered. It is likely that the dam will be built at which ever place the experts believe to be the most economical and desirable.

MOTION TO DISMISS.

Ask That Criminal Libel Suit Against F. L. Baldwin Be Quashed.

Attorneys A. H. Ryall of Escanaba and C. R. Brown of this city have filed a motion to quash the criminal libel suit brought against Editor F. L. Baldwin of the Escanaba Journal, as the result of an article being published in that paper during the recent primary campaign, in which the character and integrity of Chase S. Osborn was assailed. Mr. Osborn immediately swore out a complaint against Mr. Baldwin, charging criminal libel, and the editor was bound over to circuit court.

The motion to dismiss the case, which is based on the claim that no offense was committed by the laws of Michigan, has been committed, will be argued at Escanaba before Judge Flanagan within a short time, the Delta county circuit court being now in session. Even if the motion is overruled, it is not expected that the case will be heard on its merits at this term of court. This case has attracted unusual interest throughout the state as Mr. Osborn, candidate for governor on the Republican ticket, has personally pushed the prosecution, and declares that he will fight it through.

IT'S THE WORLD'S BEST.

HEMANS TO CARRY BUT TWO COUNTIES

State Chairman Knox Says Canvass Shows Osborn's Strength.

After a thorough examination of conditions in counties which might be termed fighting ground in this campaign, Chairman Knox of the Republican state central committee says that a careful canvass of the twenty-three counties carried by Lawton T. Hemans in 1908 has shown that Mr. Hemans cannot develop the strength of two years ago and that he will not carry a county in the state outside of Ingham, his home county, and possibly Livingston, which is acknowledged to be very close. The canvass also reveals that even in Ingham Mr. Hemans will be much weaker than he was two years ago. Then he carried the county by 5,508. A canvass of the Republicans of Ingham township, a representative unit (the Democrats being conceded to Mr. Hemans) showed 150 Osborn and Hemans 14 out of 170 voters asked for their preference. This does not indicate much of a cut and if the ratio were followed out means that Mr. Hemans would not carry his county by more than 500.

In Grand Rapids, one ward, which went heavily Musseman in the primary, was canvassed. A total of 420 voters were asked to express themselves with the following result: Osborn, 208; Hemans, 72; doubtful, 60, and Socialist and Prohibitionist, 20.

Similar reports are made from the various other counties. The result indicates plainly that the vote of 1908 was not so much a tribute to Mr. Hemans as it was a protest against his opponent. That the situation this time is far different is indicated clearly by the result of the primary, Mr. Osborn carrying all of the counties carried by Mr. Hemans in 1908 with the exception of five and all of these went to Mr. Musseman with the exception of Ingham, the home county of Mr. Kelley, which stood loyally by the lieutenant governor.

The strongest Osborn counties south of the straits were strong Hemans counties two years ago. In 1908 Mr. Hemans carried Saginaw by 4,880, Jackson by 5,403, Washtenaw by 3,558 and Hillsdale by 2,012.

In the primary Mr. Osborn carried Saginaw by 2,100, Jackson by 2,280, Washtenaw by 2,600, Hillsdale by 411. What is true of these counties is true also of the following counties: Manistee, Muskegon, Isabella, Gratiot, Clinton, Shiawassee, Eaton, Barry, Calhoun, Cass, St. Joseph, Branch and Monroe.

IMPORTANT THAT BIRDS BE GIVEN PROTECTION

Are Most Effective Destroyers of Locusts and Other Insects That Menace Crops.

Marquette people interested in the work of the great audubon societies of this and other states and the national association, are heartily in accord with the advice given out from the officers of these organizations that everything possible be done to protect the song and other birds that help destroy insect pests and urge that agriculturalists and orchardists work for stronger legislation to prevent the killing off of these birds. It is claimed that in the upper peninsula every year thousands of these birds, many of which are already protected by state laws, are killed off. This is becoming a grave menace to the farmers and orchardists, as it is their means of gain his living by the produce of the farms. It means higher prices.

Convinced that swarms of the periodical cicada, or seventeen, or thirteen, or seven-year locust, as it is variously called, are going to descend on sections of the United States within six months, only the birds that can be counted upon to eat by thousands the units of this swarming locust plague will avail to avert serious loss.

Comprehensive state laws for the protection of the insect-eating song birds and widespread efforts to shelter and feed these birds, are the terms of this winter are advocated by the national society.

Robins, woodpeckers, orioles, scarlet tanagers, cuckoos, goldfinches and nuthatches are considered by the society the most valuable birds in fighting the cicada, but among other useful destroyers are catbirds, flickers, towhees, grackles, martins, peewees, thrushes, vireos, chickadees and flycatchers. To protect all these birds is declared a necessary emergency measure.

"Shielded in tiny shells," says William Dutcher, president of the National Association of Audubon societies, "the periodical cicada are today preparing to burst forth in countless multitudes over the fields of both the north and south. Unnumbered red hosts of these insects will next summer sit young trees and deposit eggs to blight their tender sprouts. Apple, peach and pear orchards and vineyards will especially feel their destructive power unless an abundant force of wild birds is at hand to feed the light."

Evening Clothes For Men Are Rarely Made Well

Yet you need them for the most careful dressing you do. Only high-salaried tailors should ever touch them—and high-salaried tailors who work for the usual merchant tailor are few.

You need evening clothes for the winter's festivities—for club, for dance, for the theatre. The way of wisdom is to purchase them as built by STEIN-BLOCH, full dress and Tuxedo. A corps of tailors do nothing else in the STEIN-BLOCH shops—and they don't touch their work.

The matter of price is also an interesting one to listen to. Try us before you decide this full-dress question.
