BUSINESS CARES ARE LAID ASIDE

Yesterday a Very Quiet Day in the Copper Country— People Recuperate.

The civic holiday phase of Christmas was observed in copper country yesterday by a general suspension of business.

Feast at the Christmas. One feature of the Christmas feast in Houghton and which should not be neglected, as it speaks of good cheer in circumstances which ordinarily are the most cheerless to the imagination, was the dinner at the county jail.

Knights Templar Toast. Pastored commandery of Houghton and Montross commandery of Calumet and Knights Templar met at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, the time corresponding to exact noon, Eastern standard time, to drink a toast proposed by the grand commander in the United States.

RATHER PLEASANT COINCIDENCE. Houghton Man the Only "Roomed" Hotel Guest for Christmas. A hotel is something of a lonesome place at Christmas time, especially one which depends largely on the commercial traveler trade.

BANKS ON SURE THING NOW. When you have a cold get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will soon fix you up all right and will ward off any tendency toward pneumonia.

ARLINGTON HOTEL TO PASS INTO NEW HANDS

Will McMyler to Take the Management of the Hostelry the First of the Year.

The Arlington Hotel of Calumet will go under the management of Will S. McMyler of New York the first day of January.

When he assumes the management at Calumet Jan. 1, he will begin many improvements in the Arlington. It will continue on the American plan until spring, pending the completion of the improvements, and then the house will be made an European plan hotel, similar to the Hotel Scott in Hancock.

W. F. Traves Will Continue as Managing Editor at Menominee. The Menominee Herald-Leader company has been reorganized, the result of the decision of President Roger M. Andrews to remove to the West.

JOHNNIE FERGUSON ADVANCES. Houghton's Youngest Hotel Steward in Iowa Sends Greetings. Friends of John J. Ferguson, the Houghton boy who is steward of the Lafayette Hotel in Clinton, Iowa, were the recipients on Sunday of Christmas menu cards from that hotel, with greetings from the boy steward.

POULTRY INDUSTRY IS GROWING FAST

This Winter's Chicken Show at Houghton Will Be the Best on Record Here.

Secretary McNamara of the copper country Poultry association has finished the preparation of the fourth annual premium list. The list shows a number of special prizes, including two $50 cups.

prizes are offered by the association and the fanciers to induce breeders to build up their varieties. The chicken show is found to have an effect in time on the chicken and egg markets, but it can only do so through education of the growers.

SHOW IS GROWING. The Copper Country Poultry show is growing. It was determined last year to enlarge its territory and fanciers from all over the upper peninsula from Marquette east were added to the board of directors for this season.

Gossip of the Chickens

The show is to be held in the Amphidrome hall Jan. 24, 25 and 26. As has been his history, it will be larger this year than last year, because of the great interest taken in poultry.

TELEPHONE EXPANSION PLANS.

Manager A. W. Letts of the Michigan State Telephone company has two carloads of telephone cable to be used on the line between the trunk lines between Calumet and Lake Linden.

In Sudden Emergencies

like illness, it is often necessary quickly to raise the temperature of a room. For instance, in those hours between midnight and dawn, when the day temperature has been allowed to drop, if you are called upon to get up, the room is chilly and cold.

SOMETHING OF A TUNNEL.

James W. Wivel Talks of the Wick O'Connell Job at Duluth.

James W. Wivel, clerk and purchasing agent for Wick O'Connell & Co., on their contract for the Canadian Northern tunnel at Duluth, is in Houghton to spend a few days with his family.

The tunnel goes through a hill which is the highest point of land in Minnesota. This is at Short Line Park, twelve miles north of Duluth. The hill is 500 feet above the level of the surrounding country and the tunnel will pierce it at a point 100 feet below the apex.

George S. Crabb of Houghton will go to Duluth this week to set up electric drills. Mr. Wivel says they are replacing air drills with the electric type because the country does not supply water enough to make steam for the air drills.

A MUNICIPAL SANTA CLAUS.

City of Hancock Acts as St. Nick for Poor of Community. One of the pleasant features of a most delightful Christmas in Hancock was the distribution of $200 worth of Christmas cheer by the city council.

CAST OF CHARACTERS.

Maennercher Lyra Arranging for Its Annual Entertainment. The Hancock Maennercher Lyra is arranging for its annual entertainment and dancing party, to be given in Germania Hall Jan. 31.

HOCKEY MEETING HELD.

Portage Lake Plans to Put a Fast Team on the Ice. The invitation of Manager Ed. Furni of the Duluth Curling club hockey team for a series of games with a Houghton team probably will result in reviving the Portage Lake team and the old hockey glories of Hancock and Houghton.

OPPOSITION TO AUCTION SALES.

The Houghton council is going to take up seriously at its next meeting the question of disposing of auction sales in the village. It is convinced that these sales are an injustice to the home merchants generally, and while there is an ordinance imposing a heavy license on auctioneering the law does not have the result intended.

DIED ON CHRISTMAS DAY.

Gustaf Henry Kumpala, eighty-three years of age and for forty-three years a resident of Calumet, died Christmas day at his home in Sweden. He leaves a wife, three sons and a daughter.

MINING COLLEGE DANCE.

A dancing party will be given tomorrow night in the Michigan College of Mines gymnasium, largely for the entertainment of the students who are remaining through the holidays.

HOCKEY AT CALUMET TONIGHT.

The Mohawk hockey team will tonight meet in the palestra rink at Laurium a picked team of Calumet hockey players, principally boys home from Calumet, who have played on various Calumet teams in seasons past.

SAVED FROM AWFUL DEATH.

How an appalling calamity in his family was prevented is told by A. D. McDonald of Fayetteville, N. C. R. F. D. No. 8. "My sister had consumption," he writes, "she was very thin and pale, had no appetite and seemed to grow weaker every day, as all remedies failed, until Dr. King's New Discovery was tried, and so completely cured her, that she has not troubled with a cough since. It's the best medicine I ever saw or heard of."

Mining News

FIRST NATIONAL COPPER.

While the directors and officials of the First National Copper company admit that the situation with respect to continued smelter operation is a serious one, they have not abandoned all hope that some way will yet be found out of existing difficulties.

The stack of the company's smelter is 200 feet high, but this is not sufficiently high to take the fumes over the mountains and to prevent the deposit of deleterious material on farms located many miles from the smelter site.

During the first few months of the operation of the bag house, the capacity of the plant was cut down 50 per cent, but by reason of the steady improvements made in the process, the smelter has recently blown in a third furnace, so that the whole plant is running between 60 per cent and 65 per cent of normal capacity.

Figures compiled by the Michigan Refining & Preserving company of Menominee show that as much money can be made from Menominee county farms as upon any land in the country. The company has figures to show where one man on a nearby farm raised six acres of tomatoes and received $1,995.54 for his crop, which is an average of $181.75 per acre. Another man raised three acres of cucumbers and received $343.83; another man was paid $150 for one acre of wax beans. Probably the highest yield for one acre was paid to Frank Walander, who received $221.10 for one acre of tomatoes. One Menominee county man had a truck patch of four acres, and for these four acres he received $998.52. These four acres were made up of one acre of tomatoes, $225.15; one-half acre of wax beans, $102.48; one acre string beans, $102.70; and one-half acre of cucumbers, $205.11.
Call Boy an Alleged Robber—
With an array of goods sufficient to stock a fair sized store and all of which had been "scooped" in the thefts were made, Eugene Blair, a call boy employed by the Soo Line at Gladstone, was arrested. In his room on the second floor of the Soo Line station there were found by the others two Martin rifles, some repeating shotguns, a quantity of revolvers, nearly a bushel of jewelry, a great array of shirts, neckties and suits of clothing, a fine lined overcoat, shoes, ladies' shawls and a large amount of other articles, all of which had been stolen from cars in the company's yards or from the warehouse. In addition a quantity of butter and apples had been sold to Gladstone merchants. The thefts had extended through several months. Blair's arrest followed an investigation by Special Detective W. H. Stephenson of Minneapolis and Chief of Police Murker of Gladstone. When arrested the boy is said to have admitted that he had stolen all of the goods found in his room. This room is surrounded by the office quarters of employees of the company and that the youngster was able to continue his alleged thieving for several months without detection is considered remarkable.

Where Did My Money Go?

No doubt many people will ask themselves this question at the close of 1910.

At any rate they have nothing to show for their work—why not change the situation during 1911 and instead of spending your spare change for luxuries, put it in the bank?

You will be better satisfied when the year closes.

PREDICTS RECORD TEN-PIN TOURNAMENT

Bowling Congress Official Says the St. Louis Meet Will Eclipse All Others.

St. Louis, Dec. 26.—In an interview with M. A. Phillips, vice president of the American Bowling Congress, with reference to the international tournament to be held in St. Louis, commencing Jan. 21, 1911, he stated that beyond question the entries at St. Louis would be far greater than in previous years. Phillips said: "I well remember at the Milwaukee tournament in 1905, where they had 217 five-man teams, 435 two-man teams and 813 individuals and a cash prize list $11,610, it was predicted that never again would there be such a grand bowling tournament as that held in Milwaukee. In 1906 Louisville came back with a cash prize fund of $12,418, showing an increase in the number of entries in all three events, viz: five-men, two-men and individuals. Then at St. Louis in 1907, the N. B. A., an eastern organization holding its first tournament in Atlantic City, there was a certain amount of sectional pride between the two cities and members of the N. B. A. and A. B. C., an enormous sum of money was spent in advertising both tournaments. St. Louis carried off the honors for the A. B. C. with an entry of 244 five-men teams, 512 two-man teams and 1,929 individuals, and a total cash prize fund of $13,897, against the N. B. A. entry of 121 five-men teams. At Cincinnati in 1908 the entries took a big leap, showing an increase of 118 five-men teams, 251 doubles and 443 individuals over the St. Louis entries and an increase of over $6,000 in the total cash prizes. In 1909, the old Millwaukee story of the greatest tournament in the history of the game was reiterated and the prediction again announced that never again would there be such a tournament as that held in Cincinnati. In 1909 Pittsburgh came right back with an increase of 12 five-men teams, 30 doubles and 82 individuals and an increase of over $500 in the total prize fund. "At Detroit in 1910 there was a total entry of 401 five-men teams, 986 two-man teams and 2,907 individuals, or a cash prize list of $25,432. The city of Detroit, while not considered a great bowling city, had an entry of 65 local five-men teams, which was a very good showing, considering the size of the city. There is no question but what St. Louis will have an entry of 125 local five-men teams. With the best organized city association in the country and the most enthusiastic bowling fans in the world, St. Louis can and will make good on its local entries and will set a mark hard for future tournament cities to beat. The enlarged membership of the executive committee of American Bowling Congress, which includes representatives from additional localities over previous years.

PROOF THAT PROVES

If one person more than another should know the value of medicine, it is the retail druggist. Therefore when ten thousand retail druggists of the United States recommend Vinol, the delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without a doubt, the best strengthening tonic known, and are willing to return their customers' money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction, there can be no room for doubt. Among others, one of the most reliable druggists of Lynn, Mass., Mr. Warren Tupper, says, "From personal experience I know what Vinol will do. I had a chronic cold all winter, and was so weak I could hardly get about. Nothing seemed to help me until I tried Vinol—the change was magical—and what surprised me most, Vinol not only cured the cold but built me up and cured me of a severe stomach trouble that had bothered me for twenty years. Vinol is certainly a wonderful medicine." (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.) We ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person or any person suffering from chronic coughs and colds to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do us what we claim. ### AMERICA'S TENANTS TO FORM A UNION

Indianan Has a Scheme He Thinks Will Make the Landlords "Come to Time."

Princeton, Ind., Dec. 22.—Final steps have been taken in the organization of a fraternal and business "union" that gives promise of playing an important part in American affairs within a short time. It is the International Progressive Tenants' League of America, founded by Louis J. Oswald of Princeton, after years of study of the tenant-landlord conditions in America. The league, at a small fee and light dues, takes tenants as members, and in their united strength it is expected the tenants will be enabled to enforce justice from the landlord in the matter of the home the renter lives in. Each subordinate league or branch will have an overseer, whose duty it is to hear grievances and try to adjust them on the spot with the tenant. The tenant also will have the free service of the best lawyers that can be employed and the best advice as to how to obtain what he considers his rights.

Good water for drinking and domestic use and the enforcement of sanitary regulations, thereby making for comfort and health, will be the primary things sought for each renter of cottage or tenement house. The tenant also will have the benefit of a free employment bureau, and a little later a branch corporation is to be added to compete and knock out the "farm shark," so members may receive loans at low rates and on easy terms from the league. There also is provision for the following other side lines, all of which will be furnished the tenant League member at lowest possible rates: Opportunity to buy and home on the most liberal terms, with league aid; fire, life, sick and accident insurance.

League Not to Be Oppressive.

But the league is not to be an oppressor of landlords. It is to be a common leveler to bring the landlord and the tenant together where each will realize and concede the rights of the other. While the landlord perhaps will, in many instances, be forced by the strength of the league to do things he would not have done voluntarily, at the same time the tenant, to retain his membership, must conform to certain ideas, take good care of the property and pay his rent.

promptly, and he must not expect that every little whim of his will be gratified or given league backing.

The "wing of the league" and the overseer, the two most important functionaries in each local lodge, together with their consulting boards, will determine whether a tenant's complaint is just before it is put to the landlord. It is the intent of the organization, Mr. Oswald says, to make of each member a model tenant, so that when a member tells a landlord he is a "tenant" in good standing the owner of the house will know he is a man to be depended on and one to be trusted with his property. National workers in civic and labor reforms who have inspected the plans of the league as Mr. Oswald has outlined and perfected them, say the movement is practical in every way and is bound to sweep not only this country, but many countries of the old world. It is considered the only feasible solution of a problem that has created bad conditions and hard feelings as far back as memory and history run.

Oswald a Real Estate Man.

Oswald is a well-known business man, and, in addition to his studies of the conditions, he has had wide practical experience as manager of coal mines where large numbers of men were employed and with whom he dealt directly. He also is engaged in the real estate and rental business. His scheme has plenty of brains and money behind it. An official magazine of the league, the American Tenant, already is being issued.

Local leagues are to be organized in Princeton and Evansville within a few days. It has been decided to make Evansville, Ind., the second largest city of the state, the headquarters for the league.

The movement is based on philanthropy and not on money-making. Landlords also will be admitted to membership. In his work Mr. Oswald has had the assistance of his wife, who has made wide investigations from a woman's standpoint and is responsible for many of the details of the organization.

Oswald is about fifty years old. It is estimated that 75 per cent of the people of the cities and 50 to 65 per cent of those of smaller places are tenants. One hundred thousand members are expected within a few months.

TESTS WITH CORN SHOW PARENTAGE

Missouri Experiments Reveal That New Grains Carry Seeds' Characteristics.

Columbia, Mo., Dec. 22.—Does an ear of corn inherit its characteristics from the ear from which the grain of seed was taken, or does it "throw back" to some other ear of corn in its ancestry?

This question, which is one of the most important to seed breeders, is being answered by the department of agronomy at the University of Missouri, which is conducting a series of experiments that have just finished their first year. Ears of Boone county white corn were selected for the experiment. Several hundred of them were weighed, measured, and records made of the width and depth of the grains, the spacing between the rows, and the size of the germ in the grains of each ear. This data was put on file.

The corn was planted and the ears from the first year's crop are being weighed and measured and described as accurately as the first set of ears.

Like Father, Like Son.

Out of the entire plot, a very large per cent tallied with its maternal ancestor in weight, shape and all essential particulars.

This is an astonishing fact, because the corn was cross-pollinated from other stalks near by, and most of the corn in a field is generally a composite from the wind-blown particles of pollen that fruited the corn.

A conclusion that follows inevitably from the experiment is that to breed pure corn it is necessary to isolate the seed corn in a separate plot, where stray pollen from a neighboring field of hybrid corn can not contaminate it. If such cross-pollination takes place, the corn grown in the plot that was planted with pure-bred corn may show hybrid ears that have the characteristics of another variety, and this is sometimes mistaken for atavism, or throwing back, to some ancestral ear that was not so perfectly developed as the ear from which the seed corn was planted.

Corn Improved in Twenty Years.

Corn shows a strong tendency to follow the proximate ancestor in its formation of ears, the ears generally resembling the ancestral ear from which the seed corn was taken. This characteristic enables corn breeders to make rapid strides in developing the length and shape of the ear.

Cornfields in Missouri to-day generally show ears that are longer and better filled out at the butts and tips than was the case twenty years ago. This is because corn is better selected to-day than it was then, and constant selection has tended to increase the tendency to grow grains clear out to the tip of the ear. In several hundred acres of corn this is responsible for a very considerable increase in the number of pounds of shelled corn produced per acre.

TAX ON BACHELORS AND BRIDES.

The Bulgarian bachelor, who is now remaining under an annual tax equivalent to that of a married man, has grumbled that many a British celibate, who shied at the altar a couple of centuries, or rather more, ago.

During the eleven years from 1895 to 1906 the man over twenty-five who shied at his matrimonial duty was called on to pay an annual shilling, with a further sum, ranging according to rank, from 5s for a gentleman to £12 10s for a duke—a tax which yielded to the revenue about £1,000 a week. More than this, in those good old times the British had to pay a tax when he took himself a wife and when every time he was qualified as a father.

This a duke's nuptials cost him £50 4s, his heir £30 2s, and for each later male addition to his family his joy was discounted by a payment of £25 6s. The benefit whose income was less than £50 a year had to pay 2s 6d for five and 2s every time he became a father.—Westminster Gazette.

"WAR SCARE" CAUSED NO GREAT SURPRISE

Congress Has Known Country Is Not Well Prepared, But Will Not Move.

Washington, Dec. 26.—Congress is not deceiving anybody who is well informed in its present nervousness because certain confidential sections of the annual report of Secretary of War Dickinson and of Major General Leonard Wood were made public. For years congress has known that the United States was unprepared for war and for years the war department has been trying to get money from congress to put the country in a position to save lives and money by being ready. Congress did not like to have the facts reach the country but it is not really surprised over the disclosures. The United States government has in connection with its war department what is known as a war college. It has a general staff. These two departments were created not long after the Spanish war and the reasons which led to their founding were that the United States found itself utterly unprepared to engage in a conflict even with a second-class power like Spain. It was agreed by leading legislators, the administration and the war department officials that a repetition of such things as happened when the invasion of Cuba was ordered should not be allowed to happen again.

Congress Denies The Army

"In time of peace prepare for war" was to become the watchword of all branches of the government. It did become the watchword of the army because it was the means of preparation always were denied by the legislative branch. It is assured that if this government had been ready for the Spanish War hundreds of lives would have been saved and millions of dollars. The economy of previous years caused the extravagance of the current years, extravagance not only in cash, but in human lives. Moreover the government is paying money out yearly in pensions which it would not have been obliged to pay if it had not been in a mood to let things drift along with the complacent thought that war never would come. It is a duty of the officers of the war college of the army in connection with those of the war college of the navy, to study problems of offense and defense. No one is supposed to know just what country is to be taken as one of the two main factors of the war problem. The United States of course always is one factor.

Problem of a Japanese War

About three years ago the officers of the twin services gave their attention for months to the problem of a war with Japan. Into consideration was taken every means of offense and defense which the United States possesses, and the same course was followed with reference to Japan. Officers were told off to take the Japanese side and other officers were told off to take the American side. The answer to the problem was to be given by officers who were to study all the movements and the matters concerning the resources and equipments for war of the two governments most interested.

The answer was fairly easy. It was discovered without much difficulty that Japan would have all the best of it, certainly for the first months, or it may be the first years of conflict. It was said that Japan could take the Pacific coast and hold it, and there were some startling revelations made concerning the unpreparedness of this country for war, not only with Japan, but with any other great nation which might choose to take offense and then take the offensive.

The proper committees in congress were allowed to know all about the situation. It was shown conclusively that the little money spent now might save millions in the future, but congress only smiled, and it probably will continue to smile as soon as it has recovered from its shock of "surprise" at the revelations of this week. The lessons of the Spanish war already have been forgotten. It does not follow that we are going to have war with Japan because the officers of the United States army think that some preparation should be made to defend the country in case war should come. It is a case only of you never can tell and the men of the service think that if a million or two spent now may be the means of saving the country one or two billions in the future, to say nothing of the saving of life and limb, it would be a good plan to do a little something to put the country in condition to meet trouble if unhappily trouble should come.

Secretary Alger Not To Blame

Russel A. Alger, who was secretary of war when the trouble with Spain began, was criticised sharply and later was censured by public opinion because of the unpreparedness of the United States to send its men to war properly equipped. Alger was not to blame. Congress was to blame and congress will be to blame in the future if trouble comes and men are killed and millions are spent before the government is in any kind of shape to do effectively battle work. Congress will not get the blame, but the army will be blamed because it fails to do work which no army can do without tools. Tools cost money and congress must be the purchaser.

TRY DEACON FOR GAMBLING.

Hackensack Church Members Hear He Played Pinochle for Money.

Hackensack, N. J., Dec. 26.—Deacon John V. Roscoe of the North Hackensack Reformed church, who confessed that he played pinochle for five cents a point with Deacon John H. Demarest, refuses to resign from the church's consistency. Indeed, he has told the Rev. Abraham Wyrwa, the pastor, and Elder Joseph Weston, that if the church dismisses him and the Hergen Classis upholds the church, he will appeal to authorities higher in the Reformed Church of America.

Pastor Wyrwa seemed to be much affected, particularly when he read a notice that there would be a "special congregational meeting Wednesday evening, Dec. 28, next, when John V. Roscoe, a deacon of the church, will be placed on trial for gambling." Deacon Demarest, who has paid the six cents damages the jury awarded to Deacon Roscoe, has resigned from the church. He had been invited to attend its conference, but refused. "I don't want to be in the same room with Roscoe," said he.

SPRING CLAIMED BY TWO NATIONS

Island in the Rio Grande Has Water Supposed to Contain Healing Properties.

Sierra Blanca, Tex., Dec. 26.—Situated thirty miles south of Sierra Blanca is a little island in the Rio Grande upon which is situated a medicinal hot water spring.

Special attention has been attracted to this spring recently by the question which has arisen as to the ownership of the island upon which it is located. It is claimed by the state of Texas as a part of the public domain, but this title is disputed by the owner of the land on the Mexico side of the river, who bases his claim to the island on the ground that the international boundary line is the channel of the river on the Texas side of the island.

In order to satisfy himself personally as to the location of the little island, J. T. Robison, state land commissioner, recently visited it. Men who want to buy the island from the state of Texas for the purpose of establishing a resort recently made application to Mr. Robison to purchase it, but he has not yet acted upon the application.

Aside from the hot water spring, the island is almost as worthless as could well be imagined. It is covered with rocks and a few clumps of straggling shrubs. The country for many miles around, on both sides of the river, is arid and desolate, being broken by ranges of low mountains. Sierra Blanca is the nearest railroad point.

Hundreds of people from Mexico, Texas, Arizona and New Mexico visit this spring each year. The bathing and living accommodations are primitive in the extreme. Many of the afflicted persons slip upon the ground.

The uncertainty as to the ownership of the island upon which the spring is situated has deterred the establishment of comfortable accommodations for the visitors who undergo the hardships of overland journeys in order to receive the benefit of the water.

STRENGTH OF GREAT STORES.
 At the time of the currency panic in 1907 it was observed that those who best bore the strain were the great retail merchants. Their organization was so perfected that it responded almost automatically to this decreased demand. Says the New York correspondent of the Boston Herald: "It has been observed that notwithstanding the increase in the number of such establishments the supply does not equal the demand. Healthful competition which does not involve reckless cutting of prices prevails. Although it has been sometimes feared that the establishment of these great shops might work great damage to the little independent stores, the number of these does not seem to have decreased, although the owners are compelled to rely more upon the local trade of the neighborhood in which they happen to be situated."

NORTH LAKE MAN MEETS TRAGIC DEATH

Finnish Laborer Found Saturday Night on Street Car Line, With Skull Fractured.

Jacob Hakoniemi, who, however, was known as Niemi, and who lived at the North Lake location, met death in Ishpeming Saturday evening about 8:30 o'clock, when he was picked up on the street car track on the incline leading to the level stretching west of the Union park. The exact cause of Niemi's death may never be known, but it is thought that he may have been injured by a fall, striking his head against a rail. He may have been murdered, or it is possible that the fracture of his skull was caused by a street car. When the car coming from Negaunee reached the top of the grade, about 150 feet from where Niemi was lying across the track face downward, with his head on one rail and his feet on the other, the motorman noticed the object on the track and he applied the brakes. The car was moving at a fairly rapid speed, getting a start for the run down the incline and up the grade toward the old New York store building, and the rails were covered with a light sprinkling of fresh snow. The car was stopped just as the man's body was reached. The motorman thinks it possible that a bolt on the front of the car might have struck Niemi's head, but he does not believe that a wheel hit him. Niemi was placed on the car and taken to the Ishpeming hospital, where he died Sunday morning at 2:30 o'clock, without regaining consciousness. The motorman noticed as the car approached the form lying across the track that the man's clothing was partially covered with snow, as if he had fallen. The same car had passed that point about twenty minutes before. It is pretty certain that Niemi was under the influence of liquor, as the odor from him indicated that he had been drinking. He was breathing heavily when picked up; his body was not bruised nor was any part of it frost bitten, and he had something over $2 in change in his pockets. Coroner William Prin took charge of the case Sunday and an inquest will be held some day this week. The body of Niemi was identified Sunday afternoon by Sam Ellison, and some North Lake men later related that the deceased had worked on the trestle at the North Lake mine. They said that he had not drunk anything in several months, and that he left his boarding place for town Saturday morning. It is assumed that Niemi started to walk the railway track and went over onto the street car line, thinking he was going toward North Lake, which is in an opposite direction. Niemi was about forty-one years of age, and he is survived by a wife and family, living in Finland.

DON'T LIKE SERVICE.

Recent Changes in South Shore's Schedule Are Unsatisfactory.

Several Ishpeming men who have business to transact in Covington, Painesville and other small points west of Nestoria, on the South Shore line, tried for two or three days last week to reach these places, but were unable to do so, because of a new rule relative to the operation of the South Shore trains passing through that country that went into effect early last week.

Orders were issued that the Duluth train which leaves Michigan every morning should not remain more than one hour at Nestoria to connect with the Northwestern train coming through from Chicago. It happened that the Northwestern was more than an hour late practically every day last week, and passengers who left this county on that train, expecting to make connections with the Duluth train at Nestoria, were disappointed. Those who did not return to their home from Nestoria on the night train, the night train was obliged to remain there until the Duluth train arrived early the next morning. The night train to Duluth does not stop at Covington, Painesville or Bruce's Crossing, and passengers for these points cannot make them except by going to Nestoria on the night train and remaining there some twenty hours for the morning train the next day. It is said that the accommodations for an extended lay-over are not any too good at Nestoria.

Saturday some passengers who left here for Covington on the Northwestern train found when they reached Nestoria that the Duluth train had pulled out, and they had to walk from there to Covington, a distance of some twelve miles. The ticket agents along the line are instructed to not sell transportation to Covington, Painesville and Bruce's Crossing on the night train. This train makes a stop at Sidway, Trout Creek and Ewen, the more important points on the branch.

BROKE PREVIOUS RECORDS.

Some Ishpeming Dealers Did Larger Business Than They Expected.

The holiday business on the whole was quite satisfactory to the Ishpeming merchants. Some of them broke all previous records in the sales of holiday goods, while others did not come quite up to last season's mark. Last year was the banner one so far as the Ishpeming merchants are concerned in the sale of expensive holiday gift articles, but the volume of trade was larger this year.

F. Braastad & Co., who have been leading all other concerns in Marquette county for many years past in the volume of holiday business handled, report an increase of 25 per cent. over the previous Christmas season. This is a remarkable increase, but the concern's trade this year was not confined to Ish-

They were accompanied by Miss Anna LaBrecche, who has been visiting them for several weeks. Mrs. LaBrecche and children will leave today for Denver, Colo., where they will spend the remainder of the winter with her brother and sisters, Will, Anna and Agnes Donahue. Mr. LaBrecche will accompany them as far as Chicago.

ATTRACTIVE PICTURE.

The Illinois Bridge company has presented the Marquette county road commission with an enlarged picture of the concrete bridge which spans the Michigan river, connecting Marquette with Dickinson county, near Floodwood, at a point some twelve miles beyond Ishpeming. The Kodak picture was taken by Fred Linn, a wellknown Republican man, who is in the employ of the Republic Iron company. The Illinois Bridge people heard about the picture and asked Mr. Linn for a copy of it. The picture was taken from a point in the river some feet from the center side of the bridge. In enlarging it, the photographer worked out a beautiful color scheme for the water, landscape and immediate surroundings.

The bridge, including the abutments, is over 100 feet in length and is supported in the center by concrete pillars. It is reinforced throughout and is one of the most substantial bridges of its kind in this part of the state. The water in the river at that point averages about four feet in depth, except in the spring following the thaw, when it is from six to eight feet deep. The bridge is from eight to ten feet above the water.

CONFUSION OVER HOLIDAY.

Some Men Worked Saturday in Mines and Others Were Idle.

The plan of the mine officials that the men lay off Saturday and work Monday did not meet with the general approval of the men, and few of them were in the mines yesterday. Some of the men protested so vigorously against the plan that it was decided Friday at some of the mines to allow the men to work Saturday. Practically all of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's mines were idle Saturday, but the Oliver company's workmen were on duty, as were the men at the Rolling Mill mine.

The Republic Iron & Steel company's properties, including the Cambria, Lilly and Hartford, were also idle Saturday. The miners at the Rolling Mill and Regent properties were given contracts, and they finished up work shortly after noon.

Saturday was by far the liveliest day of the week for the business houses. Many people were on the streets early in the morning and many remained until a late hour.

One of the leading merchants Saturday said that he had done a most satisfactory business. The demand for toys and other goods suitable for children was the best that the Negaunee merchants have ever had.

LOCAL LAONICS.

Charles Eddy is here from Hibbing, Minn., on a visit to his mother. Ed. Donnelly, of Chicago, is visiting John H. Thomas and family.

E. J. Fay and wife of Chicago were visiting in Negaunee last Saturday. T. H. Calligan and wife arrived Friday from Sioux City, Ia., on a visit to relatives.

Ten Negaunee Finns left Saturday morning for the copper country, to spend Christmas.

Oscar Goudge of this city is spending the holidays with relatives at Coleraine, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Tracewell of Norfolk, Neb., are here on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Dordendorf.

Miss Ruth Wells, who is teaching school at Eveleth, Minn., arrived home Saturday on her holiday vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Friberg, formerly of this city, now living at Oshkosh, are visiting relatives in Negaunee.

David F. Foley, chief of the Oliver Iron Mining company's police force, spent the latter part of last week in the city.

Charles B. Skiff, manager of the Bijou theatre in the Sandberg block, was ill and confined to his home the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Anna Jensen, one of the teachers of the Negaunee school, is spending the Christmas vacation with relatives in Green Bay.

Miss Dagma Anderson left last night for Deerwood, Minn., to join her father, who has been located there for some months past.

Dr. S. L. Brown, chief surgeon of the Western Steel Car & Foundry company, Chicago, called on Theodore Meilauer Saturday evening.

A. J. Rough, Clement Quinn and Keith Mattland, all of whom are engaged in engineering work on the Mesaba range, came down Saturday to spend Christmas with relatives here.

S. R. Elliot, superintendent of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's mines in Negaunee, entertained a number of his bachelor friends at his home Friday evening.

The Carpenter-Cook company's Negaunee patrons were supplied with calendars Saturday. The calendar is one of the neatest that has been given out in the county this year.

The Palmer tent of the Macabees of the World will conduct a social hop in Kirkwood's Hall Wednesday evening, the 27th. The dance will be public. Tickets will be fifty cents.

H. J. Peterson and wife left Friday night for Superior and Duluth, where they will visit relatives and friends for a few days. Mrs. Peterson's brother, Fred Larson, formerly of this city, lives at Superior.

Archie R. Orr, the jeweler, surprised his many friends yesterday by going to Marquette and marrying Mrs. Emma C. Bush, of that city, the ceremony being performed at the home of her father, Judge C. R. Brown.

Michael Kelly, who is engaged in diamond drill work at the Lake mine in Ontonagon county, and Patrick Roddy, who is operating a drill at the Mohawk property, are down on a week's visit to their folks.

Andrew Larson and Miss Olga Seaguest, both of Negaunee, were united in marriage Sunday evening by Judge Irving Argall, at the latter's home. William Johnson and Miss Anna Larson were the witnesses.

Joseph Thomas and Miss Eliza Simmons, both of Negaunee, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at the home of John Moyle, on Vine street. Rev. D. Plattner, pastor of the Mitchell Methodist church, performed the ceremony.

The committee in charge of the assembly party, to be given Thursday evening at Kirkwood's Hall, plans to decorate the hall appropriately to the Christmas season. It is expected that the party will be one of the most successful of the winter season.

A. F. Willman, superintendent of the board of public works, has issued notices that the supply of delinquent water takers, whose bills are not settled by Jan. 1, will be shut off after the first of the year. Mr. Willman is carrying out the instructions of the board of public works, which decided to adopt this means of collecting the delinquent accounts.

CHRISTMAS WAS A MERRY TIME

People of Marquette, Prosperous and Contented, Enjoyed the Greatest Holiday of the Year, and Even the Poor Were Well Provided For by Friends.

Seventy-five Baskets Were Sent Out by the Salvation Army, Each Containing Provisions, etc., Worth $4—Collection for Crippled Boy at Prison.

"Yes, I had a merry Christmas, thank you, and I wish you a happy New Year." This is the answer that the Mining Journal reporter received from every person to whom he put the question yesterday.

Even the unfortunate at the Marquette prison and at the county jail had an enjoyable Christmas day. At the jail Sheriff Lehman served a hearty Christmas dinner with all the trimmings and his boarders, needless to say, did the good things ample justice.

Christmas Spirit at Prison. As an evidence of the Christmas spirit that pervaded the Marquette prison an interesting incident that occurred Saturday is well worth relating.

A few days ago one of the convicts, who is serving fifteen years for manslaughter, sent word to the hospital that he had saved the money that was coming to him for a month for the little boy who had visited the prison two years ago and who he wished to see him again.

Salvation Army Baskets. Ensign Clark, officer in charge of the Salvation Army, through the kindness and generosity of Marquette people, was able to send out seventy-five Christmas baskets to poor families in the city.

The public schools, nearly all of whom gave something on the last day of school, were perhaps the most important single factor in providing for these baskets.

Just received. Rembrandt's famous tube colors, also water colors for artist at Gell's wall paper store. 12-7-11.

OWLS' GRAND BALL.

Party at Fraternity Hall Last Night Was Highly Enjoyable.

The first public social event given by the recently organized Order of Owls, a grand ball in Fraternity Hall last evening, was attended by a large crowd and was one of the most enjoyable functions of the holiday season.

UNSATISFACTORY SERVICE.

Morning Connection on South Shore West of Nestoria Uncertain.

The traveling public is registering one big kick against the South Shore day passenger service between the iron country and points west of Nestoria.

Last Saturday morning a number of passengers got up early expecting to spend Christmas at points west of Nestoria or to go to Ontonagon by way of Sidnaw.

Officials of the South Shore state that beginning next Sunday the time of the train west from Nestoria will be put back an hour, so that unless the Northwestern is two hours or more late the connection will be made.

STATE GEOGRAPHY TO BE PUBLISHED

Will Lay Special Stress on Agricultural and Industrial Resources of Michigan.

The geological survey of the state of Michigan is soon to issue a book which, it is believed, will fill a long felt want with those who have the industrial and agricultural resources of the state at heart.

Several years ago a similar book was issued by the immigration bureau of Wisconsin, and now whenever any prospective settler writes for information concerning any part of the state, he is mailed free a copy of this book.

The book will contain between 200 and 300 pages and will be the most comprehensive publication ever issued bearing on the resources of the state.
