PROGRESSIVE CHIEF'S EXAMINATION GIVES RISE TO SPIRITED EXCHANGE

sonville or Logan to Lancaster, and from Lancaster to Columbus. "How long were you with the plaintiff?" "From 8 a. m. to 6 p. m."

On cross-examination Mr. Andrews crowded the witness harder than any previous witness in the stand, and growing out of an apparent misunderstanding about the date when he was a locomotive fireman grew an exchange of peppery questions and answers in which points were scored by both men.

Mr. Andrews inquired closely as to where the speaking in Jackson, O., occurred, to show that the witness could not place it definitely. Similarly, the railroad connections between the towns of Chillicothe, Hamilton and Wellston received much attention from Mr. Andrews, the witness not being able to give very definite information about the railroad connections in that part of the state.

Necks were craned in remote corners of the court room when Judge A. Z. Blair, the man who disfranchised more than half of the voters of Adams county, O., for taking bribes, was called to the stand. Judge Blair spent an hour and a half of the morning of May 17, 1912, on Colonel Roosevelt's car, traveling with him from Portsmouth to fronton, at which latter place Judge Blair listened to his address. Most of this time the colonel was under the judge's close observation.

Story of Phil Roosevelt. Philip Roosevelt, son of Emlen Roosevelt, was next called. "What is your age?" "Twenty-one."

Edwin Emerson, of New York, a newspaper man and a member of the Rough Rider regiment that served in the Spanish-American war, stepped up to the stand as Philip Roosevelt stepped down.

"What were your relations with the plaintiff?" "Very close. I have gone swimming with him and camping with him on Long Island, when we slept out on the sand. I have ridden and rowed with him frequently."

"Did you visit the White House?" "Frequently, usually over New Year's." "Have you dined at the plaintiff's house?" "Often."

"What can you say about ordering liquor on the trip?" "I ordered no liquor on the trip." "How often did you see the colonel at Duluth?" "I probably saw him thirty times. I was in and out all day. I had breakfast, luncheon and dinner with him."

On Cross-Examination. "Young Roosevelt was cross-examined by Mr. Andrews for the defense." "Did you ever see liquor in Colonel Roosevelt's house?" "Yes, rye whiskey, Scotch whiskey, white wine, champagne, sherry."

A Former Rough Rider. Edwin Emerson, of New York, a newspaper man and a member of the Rough Rider regiment that served in the Spanish-American war, stepped up to the stand as Philip Roosevelt stepped down.

Antonio, Tex., and mustered in the Rough Riders. "Have you held any public office?" "I was."

Friendship is Intimate. "As a civil service commissioner I saw the president often. As commissioner of corporations I saw him more often, and as secretary of the interior I was even closer to him, both officially and socially."

Pinchot on Stand. Gifford Pinchot was the first man called after dinner. The introductory examination covered the usual ground and his close intimacy with Colonel Roosevelt was developed.

Gives Colonel a Clean Bill. "It is absolutely impossible in my opinion. I have been with him too intimately to make it possible."

Mr. Abbott's Testimony. Lawrence Abbott, president of the Outlook company, took the witness chair when it was vacated by Mr. Pinchot.

tiular intimacy with him. I joined him at Khartoum at the close of his African trip. Through Europe I was his constant companion. I kept account of his money all the time."

From your knowledge of the colonel can you say you ever saw him in any way under the influence of liquor?" "Not in the slightest."

Garfield Strong Witness. James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior and a member of the "tennis cabinet" during the administration of Roosevelt, was called to the stand.

Told of African Trip. Edmund Heller told at length about the journey in Africa of the Smithsonian expedition of which Colonel Roosevelt was the leading member.

No Liquor at Meals. "Was there any liquor at any of the meals at camp?" "I don't remember any liquor served at any meals."

Political Leader Testifies. O. K. Davis, secretary of the Progressive National committee, and one of the close political counselors of Colonel Roosevelt, was next called.

Constantly With Colonel. "I was with him constantly. I had the stateroom adjoining his, and we ate together."

Witness Described the Two Tours of 1912 at Length. "Were you with the colonel on the second trip?" "Yes."

of the primary campaign trip in Ohio. Wines Served at Oyster Bay. "Have you visited him at Oyster Bay since he left the White House?"

"I have seen light wines and champagne served there." "I notice occasionally Mr. Pound, in questioning you, uses the word wines and at other times liquors in questions referring to the plaintiff."

"Have you ever seen Colonel Roosevelt in the slightest degree under the influence of liquor?" "Never."

A Spirited Exchange. Mr. Andrews objected. The objection was overruled. The judge allowed Mr. Pound to show that the plaintiff was accompanied by friends.

SCENT OF LIQUOR IS SOUGHT BY ATTORNEYS

Colonel's Trail Followed Through Many States and Various Foreign Lands.

Marquette, Mich., May 29.—After four days of court proceedings in the libel suit of Theodore Roosevelt against George A. Newett, the Ishpeming editor who charged the plaintiff with drunkenness, it was indicated tonight that another week would be consumed in completing the case.

Testimony Like That Given Before. Substantially, the testimony was a repetition of that recorded at the previous sessions. The colonel does touch liquor, but so rarely and so lightly that he is, in the eyes of today's witnesses, virtually a teetotaler.

Witnesses' Memory Tested. The cross-examination today was alert to test the memory of witnesses and particularly to make them show that there were real grounds for their declaration of the colonel's sobriety.

Young Mr. Roosevelt's Examination. Philip Roosevelt was asked how old he was, and replied: "Twenty-one."

Jack O'Donnell, a former resident of this city and the son of a wellknown

Marquette family, is here on a few days' visit at his home. During the last year or so Mr. O'Donnell has been connected with the Uner Electric company, of Cleveland, O., and is now a traveling salesman for this concern. Being in Milwaukee this week, he decided to come to his home town and dropped in unexpectedly.

DYNAMITER FINED.

S. H. Burlinger, of Chocolay, Arrested for Violating Game Law.

S. H. Burlinger, a wellknown resident of Chocolay, was apprehended and held into Justice Byrne's court yesterday by E. D. Mosher, deputy game warden, charged with dynamiting the Chocolay river and thereby destroying and disturbing fish. The offense was alleged to have been committed a week ago last Sunday. A person whose windows were broken by the blasting went out to see who was causing the trouble and discovered Burlinger gathering up the dead fish that floated down stream. The matter was reported at once to Mr. Mosher. Burlinger pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon and paid a fine of $25 and costs. The testimony he gave, however, incriminates several other persons and upon the strength of this and that which was given by others and including information Mr. Mosher has gathered from personal investigation, other arrests for similar offenses will follow shortly. Mr. Mosher is giving the Chocolay river country, especially that lying southeast of Mangum, considerable attention and two convictions have already resulted. The first was that of a quartet alleged to have used nets.

COUNCIL BLUFFS MOB CLAMORS FOR THE LIFE OF ALLEGED MURDERER.

Council Bluffs, Ia., May 29.—A mob numbering several hundred persons, intent on lynching Henry Wiley, charged the county jail late tonight, but when the leaders were told that Wiley had been sent out of town began to disperse. Wiley, who is an Italian, is charged with having murdered Edward Jones, a locomotive fireman, Tuesday night. The mob, apparently unsatisfied, began a hunt for Wiley, although a large number remained in the vicinity of the jail.

BASEBALL CLUB IS INSURED.

New York, May 29.—Every officer of the Brooklyn National league club and every member of the team—twenty-seven men in all—have been insured by the management, it was announced today. One blanket accident policy for approximately $200,000 was written, carrying the usual double indemnity clause. This is declared to be the first time an entire major league organization, from club president to recruit players, has been insured under a single policy.

DEORO WINS BILLIARD TITLE.

San Francisco, May 29.—Alfred Deoro won the three-cushion billiard championship of the world from John Horgan in the concluding game of a series here tonight for the Lambert diamond trophy. The final score was 150 to 120. The Cuban challenger won each of the three games.

TWO PLANS PROPOSED BY THE UNION PACIFIC

Alternate Projects for Dissolution of the Merger Go to Court for Consideration.

New York, May 29.—Two alternate plans for the disposition of the $126,650,000 Southern Pacific stock owned by Union Pacific were approved by the Union Pacific board today. The first contemplates selling the stock to highest bidder, after the manner of municipal bonds, a minimum bid hereafter to be designated; the second contemplates placing the stock with a trustee without voting power, to be later distributed upon affidavits that the owners possess no Union Pacific stock. Both plans will be submitted to the court for approval, with the request that the company be permitted to elect which it will adopt. Failing court approval, the Union Pacific company will ask that the stock be placed in the hands of a receiver to be named by the court.

Washington, May 29.—Attorney General McReynolds today said that he had not seen the plan for the dissolution of the Union Pacific merger and was not prepared to comment upon it. If the plans announced in New York today do not contemplate the separation of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific, the attorney general is expected to bring suit under the Sherman law to accomplish that end. This will be dealt with apart from the dissolution of the Union Pacific merger.

Stock Market Much Interested.

New York, May 29.—The important development today in the stock market, which continued to show depression, was the publication by the Union Pacific directors of alternative plans for the disposal of the company's $126,650,000 Southern Pacific stock. One of these plans is novel, in the sense that it suggests public bids, after the manner of a city bond offering. Judging from the course of the Harrison issues, which were irregular in the early sessions, but became feverish on the publication of these plans, traders and the speculative public generally seemed unable to grasp the significance of this latest move. Union Pacific rallied to the close, however, while Southern Pacific made a net loss of one point. Various stocks in the so-called Gould and Hawley groups were very weak. The industrial list was firm.

RESULTS OF BOXING BOUTS.

Indianapolis, May 29.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis outboxed Frank Klaus of Pittsburgh in a ten-round bout here tonight. Klaus did not land more than a dozen blows that counted. Salt Lake City, Utah, May 29.—Ad Zotta, of Stockton, Calif., was given the decision over Monte Attili at the end of a twenty-round bout at Middle tonight. Both fighters weighed in at 118 pounds. Buffalo, May 29.—Jimmy Duffy of Lockport won on a foul over Jack Britton of Chicago in the sixth round of a ten-round bout here tonight. Pittsburgh, May 29.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul knocked out Jimmy Perry of Pittsburgh in the second round of a six-round bout here tonight.

WHAT DO YOU CALL YOUR PARENTS

You May Choose from a Variety of Names, Yet Nothing is Quite So Satisfying as "Mother" and "Father."

"My Joe is a good boy," said a prosperous business man, "and I have many reasons for being proud of him. But I wish he would not refer to his father as the old man."

This grievance is shared by a great many fathers who are otherwise well satisfied with the speech and conduct of their sons.

There are other variations, of course. Many boys refer to "the governor." Some, who think of father as a bank upon which unlimited drafts may be made, speak of him as "the relieving officer."

Readers of Dickens will remember Sam Weller's versatility in devising nicknames for his paternal ancestor.

Though he often referred to him as "the governor," he had a varied assortment of other names for his father. He called him "the old fellow," or "the old codger." To Mr. Pickwick he announced him as "the old 'un."

In England "papa" and "mamma" have been in use for at least three centuries. These nicknames probably came from Italy, as Dante used "mamma" in the Purgatorio.

Another variant is "dad" or "daddy." "Dad" is a pure Welsh word. In its earlier form, "tad," it is of great antiquity.

The Lord's prayer begins in Welsh with the words "Ein tad," the equivalent of the English "Our Father." Dryden, translating one of the Idyls of Theocritus, has this line: "But mam and dad are pretty names to hear." In the northern part of Ireland the children of the less educated classes will say, "dada," with the accent on the second syllable. The same is true in Kilkeny and some of the other countries in the east of Ireland, as it is also in South Wales and one or two countries of England.

In America, "papa," accented on the last syllable, has become in many localities "poppa," the other form being regarded as an evidence of unbearable affection.

In Indiana, the Hoosier state, occurs the common but grotesque variation of "popsy." "Mopsy," as a maternal correlative, has fortunately not followed.

In England, the social vicissitudes of "papa" and "mamma" have been very curious. Their use was formerly restricted entirely to the property-owning classes. But gradually they filtered down, and the workers who supported the property owners, and who imitated them in every possible way, taught their children to abandon "daddy" and "mummy" for "papa" and "mamma."

When this change was effected, the property owners dropped the terms as being too common, and left the workers in undoubted possession of them.

Children who are having their first struggles with Latin declensions are likely to adopt "pater" and "mater" for a year or so. But when they get older and more sensible, they generally revert to the simple, dignified, beautiful Anglo-Saxon terms of "father" and "mother."

Those names of honorable memory are pretty hard to improve upon. Fancier ones have been devised, but none more appropriate, none more completely satisfying.

For to the good old names of "father" and "mother" cling some of the sweetest, truest, holiest associations of human life.

MEMORIAL DAY IN MARQUETTE

Rev. Bates G. Burt, of St. Paul's Church, Will Deliver Address at the Opera House This Morning at the G. A. R. Services—Exercises Will Begin at 10 O'Clock

Business Will Be Suspended in Large Part and Holiday Will Be Generally Observed—Dinner to Be Served by Relief Corps in Keough's Hall This Noon.

Rev. Bates G. Burt, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, will deliver the Memorial Day address this morning at the Marquette Opera House.

With business practically at a standstill, Decoration Day will be generally observed throughout the city. There will be no regular parade.

In Keough's Hall, at 9:45 o'clock, the wives and widows of old soldiers will meet together with the Women's Relief Corps, and these will accompany the veterans to the opera house.

This morning's program will be opened by Rev. H. J. Ellis, assistant rector of St. Paul's parish, who will deliver the invocation. It was originally intended to follow this by the reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Rev. Bates G. Burt, but inasmuch as Mr. Burt will deliver the address of the day, George Tucker has kindly consented to read the Gettysburg address.

Following the dinner at Keough's Hall, the veterans will visit the cemeteries to place flowers and colors on the graves of their departed comrades.

All that is looked forward to now is good weather. Brightly, it is to be an auspicious occasion. Though few in number, the veterans will turn out to a man, wearing their military uniforms, their service hats of black felt, bound with gilt cord and bearing an escutcheon, or their caps trimmed with heavy gilt braid.

MAGICIAN ALBINI IS DEAD. Chicago, May 29.—H. A. Albin, known on the stage for many years as "The Great Albin," a magician, died suddenly of heart disease at a hotel here today.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS. Sealed proposals will be received by the Greenland Township School District, Greenland, Mich., until 12 o'clock p. m. June 17th, 1913, for the erection and completion of four school buildings: one at Greenland, Mich., one at Marquette, Mich., one at Hubbard, Mich., and one at Marquette, Mich.

GOLF TOURNAMENT. Eighteen-Hole Gokey Handicap Will Be Played at Club Today.

An eighteen-hole unknown bogey handicap match will be held at the Town and Country club today, to which members are eligible and of which each member, no matter what his standing as a golfer, has a chance to win.

The manner in which the tournament will be conducted is as follows: The unknown bogey will be some number inclusive, which will be determined by drawing after the match is ended. Each player will handicap himself so as to bring the normal play down to the number of strokes between thirty-six and forty-five he thinks will correspond to the number drawn as the unknown bogey.

Full entries are desired; that the tournament will be as interesting as possible. The occasion will be the formal opening of the club for the season. There will be several social features for the entertainment of members and their guests.

REPUBLIC NOT ENTERED. Thirteen Schools Will Participate in the Upper Peninsula Meet.

Thirteen schools will be represented in the upper peninsula high school track and field meet to be held at the fair grounds tomorrow afternoon, commencing at 1 o'clock, under the direction of the Northern State Normal Athletic association.

Theatrical

"Prince of Pilsen" Pleases. One of the most refreshing musical comedies in many months was witnessed last evening at the Marquette Opera House by an attendance that comfortably filled the theater.

The Grand theater will give a matinee today. It offers four big feature films. The subjects are: "The Left-Handed Husband," a Biograph drama; "The Poor Yoric," a Selig comedy, dealing with the misadventures of a "ham-fatted" tragedian; "An Innocent Informer," an Edison drama of the Kentucky Moonshiners; and "Seven Years' Bad Luck," an Edison comedy.

GEORGE HOMEIER DIED AT HOME LAST EVENING

Old and Wellknown Resident of the City Passed Away After a Long Illness.

George Homeier, one of Marquette's oldest residents, having made this city his home the last forty-six years, passed away last evening at 7:50 o'clock at his residence at 510 West Bluff street.

The late Mr. Homeier was a direct descendant of Major John Homeier, who served under Napoleon Bonaparte, and himself served the usual compulsory period in the Hassen army when it was allied with Austria.

Mr. Homeier said the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, the Red and the Yazoo rivers and had gotten as far south as within sixty miles of New Orleans. He was on the scene when General Grant entered Vicksburg. Honorable discharge was given him Sept. 9, 1865, as an able seaman serving on the receiving ship at Mound City, Ill.
