

U. S. ARTILLERY SENT TO BORDER AS A WARNING

Three Batteries Are Ordered to Brownsville, Tex., to Demonstrate to Mexican Forces at Matamoros That American Lives and Property Must Be Protected

Regiment of Infantry Also Is Held at Town Nearby, Ready to Aid at a Moment's Notice—Villa Army Finds Carranza Fortress a Hard Nut to Crack.

Washington, March 29.—At the suggestion of Major General Funston, commanding the American forces on the border, Acting Secretary Breckinridge of the war department today ordered three batteries of the third field artillery to Brownsville, Tex., as a demonstration to the Mexican forces contending for possession of Matamoros, that American lives and property must not be endangered by firing across the line.

The attacking force is finding Matamoros a difficult nut to crack, according to advices today, which said that two hundred men met death in the first assault on the Carranza trenches Saturday, while the defenders lost only eight killed and thirty-six wounded.

Oregon to Enter Capital Again. The situation at Mexico City assumed another of its rapid changes when the British ambassador called to Secretary Bryan, attention a report he had received that the Zapata forces, under General Garza, were about to abandon the city again and that General Oregon, the Carranza chief, was moving forward to reoccupy it.

Villa Men Face Bad Plight. Brownsville, Tex., March 29.—Today passed without a renewal of the Villa attacks on Matamoros, opposite here, but brought reports of additional Carranza troops coming from Camargo, Mex., ninety miles west of Matamoros. This report, if true, would mean that the Villa troops before Matamoros would have an enemy force to reckon with from the west as well as the present forces to the south and the Matamoros garrison on the north and east.

APRIL 5 TO BE HOLIDAY IN THE CITY OF HAVANA; POPULACE IS FIGHT MAD

Havana, March 29.—Jack Johnson and Jess Willard continued their training routine to fit themselves for the heavyweight championship fight in which they are to engage one week hence.

Ring followers consider that one of the worst faults of Willard is that he leaves his body unprotected most of the time. He also fights with his mouth open.

Tom Flanagan, of Toronto, who managed Johnson when the negro won the heavyweight championship from Jim Jeffries at Reno, arrived in Havana today. He says Johnson does not look quite as good as he did then, but he is surprised at his good condition after the lapse of five years. Johnson will be thirty-eight years old Thursday.

Havana is fighting mad. Nothing but pugilism is being discussed in clubs, hotels and homes by the men and women of the city. The governor of the province of Havana has declared April 5 the day of the fight, a holiday after 10 o'clock in the morning. The promoters of the fight are endeavoring to have congress declare the day a national holiday.

BOXER FALLS IN CLINCH, EXPIRES IN A HOSPITAL; HIS OPPONENT IS HELD

Steuenville, O., March 29.—In the first round of a fight between Clyde Sharp, of Steuenville, and "Special Delivery" Tully, aged nineteen, of Pittsburg, here tonight, Tully fell unconscious after a clinch and died shortly afterward in a hospital. Sharp is held by the police pending an investigation.

Rodel Beats Woods. New York, March 29.—George Rodel, the Boer heavyweight, stopped Joe Woods, of Brooklyn, in the fifth round of a ten-round match here tonight. Woods' thirds threw in the sponge.

White Trains Kid Thomas. Philadelphia, Pa., March 29.—Charlie White, the Chicago lightweight, had the better of a six-round bout with Charles ("Kid") Thomas, of this city, here tonight.

Hart to Try to "Come Back." Louisville, Ky., March 29.—Ten years after he won a twenty-round bout from Jack Johnson, Marvin Hart, heavyweight pugilist of Louisville, yesterday announced his intention to return to the prize ring. March 28, 1903, he was awarded the decision over Johnson at San Francisco. Hart's last fight was in 1911, when he was knocked out by Carl Morris in three rounds at Sapulpa, Okla. Since his retirement Hart has been serving as a deputy sheriff in Jefferson county. He says he feels as strong as ever and is in excellent condition. Hart is thirty-eight years old.

SUBMARINE WAR INCREASES LIST OF KILLED BY 100

Passenger Liner Falaba Torpedoed in St. George's Channel, Sinking in Ten Minutes—Captain Not Given an Opportunity to Get Boats, Launched, Is Claimed

Steamer Aguila, Attacked by U-28, Sunk by Shells from Underwater Craft—Germans Now Are Using More Powerful Vessels in Blockade, It Is Shown

London, March 29, 10:15 p. m.—Upward of one hundred lives were lost in the sinking by German submarines of the passenger liner Falaba and the British steamer Aguila, sunk from Liverpool for Lisbon.

The Falaba was torpedoed in St. George's channel Sunday afternoon. An official list supplied by the officers of the Elder Dempster Steamship company shows that, so far as is known at present, fifty-two first class passengers, thirty-four second class passengers and forty-nine of the crew of the Falaba were saved. Four of the passengers and four of the crew are reported killed and sixty-one passengers and forty-three of the crew are missing.

The steamer Aguila had a crew of forty-two and carried three passengers, and of these twenty-three of the crew and the passengers were lost.

In both cases, on sighting the submarines, the captains tried to escape by putting on all speed possible, but the underwater craft overtook the steamers, showing that Germany now has some of her most modern submarines engaged in the blockade operations against England. The captain of the Falaba, who was one of those lost, was given five minutes to get his passengers and crew into the boats, but, according to the survivors, before this was possible a torpedo was fired, striking the engine room and causing a terrible explosion. Many persons were killed and the steamer sank in ten minutes. Trawlers which happened to be in the vicinity rescued most of those who were saved. Others got away in the boats, which were ready for launching and which were quickly lowered when the order was given to abandon the ship.

Those who were still on the steamer when the explosion occurred were thrown into the sea, and it took the fishermen an hour or more to pick up the persons in the water who managed to keep themselves afloat.

U-28 Shelled the Aguila. The Aguila was attacked off the Pembroke coast. The summary of the sinking in this case was the U-28, opened fire with her guns, shells from which killed a woman passenger, the chief engineer and two of the crew. Even after the crew had commenced to lower the boats, according to the story of the survivors, the Germans kept up their fire and some of the boats were riddled with bullets.

The captain of the trawler Ottilie, whom the commander of the submarine went to the rescue and picked up three boats containing the crew. The fourth boat, which contained the members of the crew, could not be found and it is presumed that she foundered. On their arrival at Fishguard several of the crew were bandaged, having been wounded by the fire from the submarine. An 195 tons, has been blown up by a mine of Flamborough head, but her crew was saved.

Fired Before All Were Off. Cardiff, Wales, March 29, midnight.—One of the Falaba's passengers, in telling of his experience, said that when the submarine ordered the passengers to take to the boats, the boats were lowered immediately, and the passengers were served with life belts, but no one was allowed to take any personal effects.

"Then followed a horrible scene," said the passenger. "Some of the boats were swamped and the occupants were thrown into the sea. Several were drowned almost immediately. Barely ten minutes after we received the order to leave the ship I heard a report and saw the vessel heel over. The Germans had actually fired a torpedo at her at a range of about one hundred yards, when a large number of passengers, the captain and other officers were still distinctly to be seen aboard."

All the passengers and officers say that the submarine fired a torpedo before all the boats were lowered and while many persons still were aboard the steamer. One officer said: "I was sitting in a boat which was suspended from the davits and was waiting for two women passengers when another officer shouted: 'Look out!' And I then saw the bubbles marking the track of a torpedo. There was a tremendous crash and the boat fell from the davits and turned over, throwing the passengers and crew into the water. The water was frightfully cold, and there were many who died from exposure."

"Germans Laughed at Drowning." The quartermaster of the Falaba, describing the scene of the destruction of the steamer, said:

All on board helped splendidly in the rescue work. There were eight women on board. One of them, who overstayed about entering a lifeboat, I hesitated about. There was no time to argue the matter. Luckily she was picked up. Two other women who refused to leave the ship drowned.

The scene was awful with scores of people struggling in the water, owing to the overturning of the boats. The submarine was in the midst of them, and I saw at least twenty men on her. They stood and laughed, the brutes! "Captain Davis was on the liner when she sank. I pulled him into our boat with a bathhook. Poor fellow, he was alive then, but he expired immediately afterward. Our small boat was within twenty yards of the submarine when she fired, and I saw the torpedo's propeller as it shayed us and went on its deadly journey."

MAY BE IMPOSSIBLE TO RAISE THE LOST F-4

Water Is Believed Too Deep—Likely the Cause of the Accident Will Never Be Known.

Washington, March 29.—Searchers for the lost submarine F-4 reported late today that they had determined the location of the vessel within a radius of fifty yards and that she lay at the bottom of the mouth of Honolulu harbor in water ranging from forty-three to sixty fathoms in depth. Rear Admiral Moere, at Honolulu, cabled to Secretary Daniels the following message received by wireless from Lieutenant Smith, commanding the searching fleet:

"We know location within radius of fifty yards. Depths vary from forty-three to sixty fathoms." "May Be Unable to Raise Boat. All hope that any of the crew of the F-4 might be alive was abandoned two days ago, but department officials and naval officers here are waiting anxiously for news that bodies have been recovered or for any information throwing light on how the little vessel went to her doom. It is feared, however, that the submarine may prove to be the tomb of her crew, and that it never will be known what accident befell her. Naval officers say that if the boat is covered by fifty fathoms, or three hundred feet, of water, it is very unlikely that she can be raised."

"AN HONEST MISTAKE" SAYS MISS TANZER

Girl Who Instituted Breach of Promise Suit Admits She Does Not Know J. W. Osborne.

New York, March 29.—Miss Rae Tanzer, the diminutive young factory forewoman, who sued James W. Osborne for $30,000 for breach of promise, and who was herself arrested by the United States authorities on a charge of using the mails in an attempt to defraud, today went before United States District Attorney Snowden Marshall and swore that she had made an "honest mistake." The matter she associated with, she told the government officials, was Oliver Osborne. Detectives were engaged tonight in checking up that part of Miss Tanzer's statement which Mr. Marshall declared to be "unbelievable."

Miss Tanzer's story required five hours to tell. During that time not a single question was asked her. She was allowed to tell her own story in her own way. Tomorrow she probably will be questioned upon some of the assertions she made. Miss Tanzer told of some of the things which had transpired between herself and her former counsel, Slade & Slade. Mr. Marshall said that it would be prejudicial to the ends of justice to divulge this part of Miss Tanzer's statement at this time. Speaking tonight of Miss Tanzer's story, Mr. Marshall said:

"Miss Tanzer's statement is to the effect that shortly after she met Oliver Osborne, with whom she went to various hotels, she became convinced that he was James W. Osborne. As for the reasons given by Miss Tanzer for believing that James W. Osborne and Oliver Osborne were the same, her statements are under investigation and nothing further can be said at this time. A large part of Miss Tanzer's story is unbelievable."

PRESIDENT PREDICTS THE AMERICANS WILL PULL TOGETHER SOON

Annapolis, Md., March 29.—Emphasis on the "growing warmth of affection as well as of understanding" between the United States and other nations of the western hemisphere was laid by President Wilson in an address at a lunch given today in his honor by Dr. Ronaldo S. Naon, the Argentine ambassador, on board the new Argentine battleship Moreno in Annapolis harbor. Technically the president was on foreign soil during his visit to the Moreno. The president predicted that "we are rapidly approaching a day when the Americas will draw together as they have never drawn together before and that it will be a union not of political ties, but of understanding and mutual helpfulness."

VERMONT HOUSE KILLS "LIBEL" NEWSPAPER BILL

Montpelier, Vt., March 29.—The house today killed a bill proposing that every newspaper article tending to injure the reputation of anyone, living or dead, must have the name of the writer signed at the end. The measure originated in the senate.

JANE ADDAMS WILL HEAD WOMEN'S PEACE MEETING

New York, March 29.—It was learned today that Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago, had been chosen chairman of the International Congress of Women, which is to assemble at The Hague April 28. She will sail from New York April 13.

Carson City, Nev., March 29.—By voting today the bill permitting twenty-round boxing contests, passed at a recent session of the state legislature, Governor Boyle put an end to all licensed prize fighting in Nevada.

WEATHER FORECAST

Washington, March 29.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Fair, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Russians Pouring Onto Hungarian Plains; Austrians Defeated in East Carpathians. Fighting in France Relaxes Somewhat.

SLAVS ADVANCE INTO HUNGARY BY WEST PASSES

AUSTRIANS DRIVEN FROM SOME OF STRONGHOLDS IN CARPATHIANS.

CUTS IN EAST HOLD OUT

GERMANIC ALLIES REPEL ALL RUSSIAN ATTACKS AT OTHER POINTS.

BATTLES ARE DEMONIAL

SURGING ARMIES, FRENZIED, RUSH AT EACH OTHER DESPERATELY.

London, March 29, 10:15 p. m.—The battles for the Carpathian passes are proceeding with ever-increasing violence. The Russians are in complete possession of the western passes and are advancing into Hungary, but the eastern passes remain in the hands of the Germanic allies, who, however, are being strongly pressed by their reinforced adversaries. The situation is unchanged in eastern Galicia and Bukovina. In north Poland the Germans claim to have driven the Russians from Taugoggen, which they stormed.

Battle in Uzsok Pass Violent.

Venice, via London, March 29, 8:47 p. m.—Dispatches to Budapest newspapers say that the battle is raging with undiminished violence in the Uzsok pass to the west. The difficulties experienced by the troops because of the rough character of the ground and the weather conditions are said to be enormous. Although the weather is warmer, snow still lies on the ground to the depth of several feet, rendering the movement of the troops an arduous task.

The Russians, the dispatches say, have concentrated greatly increased forces of troops in the Uzsok pass, and aided by reinforcements, maintain incessant attacks on the Austrian positions. The correspondent of the newspapers says these attacks thus far have been successfully repulsed.

AUSTRIA HAS OFFERED TO CEDE LAND TO ITALY

Will Not Make Grants Until the Close of the War However, It Is Made Plain.

Paris, March 29.—Austria has made a definite offer to cede to Italy a part of the province of Trent at the close of the war, the Petit Parisien's Rome correspondent says he has been informed. He adds that the proposal was made on Thursday and that the Italian government deferred its reply. A rigid censorship upon the publication of military news from March 31 to July 30 has been established by royal decree issued in accordance with a decision reached by a council of ministers at its session Saturday.

Count Stephan Tisa, the premier of Hungary, has returned to Budapest from Vienna, where he conferred with cabinet ministers regarding the future course of the dual monarchy. According to dispatches received by Swiss newspapers, the leaders of different political parties are trying to induce Count Tisa to make an effort to persuade Emperor Franz Josef that Austria should conclude a separate peace. The premier, however, is said to have refused to make such an attempt.

Advices received here from Austria are to the effect that well-informed public men in that country prefer to believe that the intervention of Italy on the side of the allies is imminent.

Would Trade Coal for Food.

London, March 30, 2:47 a. m.—A dispatch to the Morning Post from Bern says Germany has agreed to send coal to Italy in return for foodstuffs and certain other products.

INCREASED GARRISONS SUBJECT OF A PROTEST TO JAPAN FROM CHINA

Pekin, March 29.—Being dissatisfied with the Japanese reply concerning the increase in Japanese garrisons in China, the Peking government today addressed a note to the Japanese legation on the subject. The contents of the note have not yet been divulged. None of the Japanese reinforcements, amounting to 30,000 men, has arrived in China, except in the provinces of Manchuria and Shan-tung. No serious friction has occurred in those provinces between Japanese and Chinese troops, but it is reported that the Japanese soldiers are deserting in the sections of Shantung into which the Japanese have gone. A local newspaper states that the Japanese have occupied strategic positions at Mukden and Tsinan. At the latter point, the paper says, the Japanese could cut the Tien-Tsin-Puko railway, which would interrupt China's military communication between the north and the south.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Fast and powerful submarines of the German navy have torpedoed two more British steamers in the waters adjacent to the British Isles. Both steamers, the Falaba and Aguila, took to flight at the sight of the submarines, but were speedily overhauled, with the result that both vessels were sent to the bottom, with a loss of life estimated at between one hundred and forty and one hundred and fifty. Only a few minutes were allowed the passengers and crews to put off in the boats, and, according to the survivors, the Germans turned their guns on the captured ships, and thereby added to the loss of life by shell fire.

A measure of vast importance is forecast by the conference which British shipowners have had with David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer. The Shipbuilding Employers' Federation unanimously urged the total prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors during the period of the war. Mr. Lloyd-George promised to take the subject up with the other members of the cabinet.

In the land operations of the war the eastern zone still occupies the center of interest, for in the Carpathians the Russians continue their drive to the plains of Hungary, with the Austrians apparently being forced back on the western mountain front, but, with the aid of the Germans, holding their positions on the eastern line.

There has been little activity in France, but the Germans have bombarded the town of Nieupoort and Nieupoort Bains, in Belgium. Relative calm has prevailed in the western zone.

In the Dardanelles, the allied battleships have been throwing a few shells at the forts and the mine sweepers have been steadily at work.

WARSHIPS OF RUSSIA BOMBARD BOSPHORUS

Reinforced, Czar's Fleet Begins Hammering at "Back Door" of the Turkish Capital.

London, March 29.—Russia is again today knocking at the back door of Constantinople by bombarding the Turkish forts on the Bosphorus, but with what success is not yet definitely known. As to the front door of the Turkish capital, the Dardanelles, the only news is the monotonous reiteration of the report that the mine sweepers of the allies are continuing their work and that weather conditions still prevent a resumption of the bombardment by the fleet.

Constantinople, however, declines to accept the weather as an excuse for the halt in the attacks and claims that since March 18 weather conditions have been so good that Turkish aeroplanes have been flying over the warships of the enemy in and about the Dardanelles.

Unofficial reports from neutral points in the vicinity of the scenes of operation, indicating an early resumption of activity; they set forth that a long distance shelling of the inner defenses has been commenced by the battleships.

Russian Fleet Reinforced.

London, March 29.—Reuter's correspondent at Petrograd telegraphs that the Russian fleet in the Baltic has been reinforced by the addition of modern fighting units. This addition to the fleet is believed in London to consist of four dreadnoughts laid down in Russian yards in 1909, which were nearing completion at the beginning of the war. It may also include another division of four capital ships laid down in 1912. British naval experts say they would not be surprised to learn that, with the assistance of the allies in material and munitions, Russia had been able to complete the eight dreadnoughts. The first four mount twelve twelve-inch guns each. The second division is armed with nine fourteen-inchers each.

Prussian Cavalryman Heads Turks.

London, March 29, 10:30 p. m.—A Constantinople dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company, by way of Amsterdam, says that an imperial trade has been issued designating the Turkish forces on the Dardanelles as the fifth army and commanding a General Liman von Sanders, of the Prussian cavalry, who formerly was commander of the Turkish forces in Europe.

MORAN KNOCKS OUT WELLS IN TENTH OF A FAST FIGHT

Pittsburg Heavyweight Sends the English Champion Down for the Count at London.

London, March 29.—Frank Moran, the American heavyweight, who hails from Pittsburg, knocked out the English champion Bombarlier Wells, in the tenth round before 4,500 spectators in the London Opera House tonight. The match was scheduled to go twenty rounds, for a purse of $5,000.

Moran sent a right to Wells' jaw and the English champion fell flat in the ring as if dead. The crowd, which had watched Wells' clever boxing enthusiastically seemed stunned; then cheers burst forth and Wells' seconds lifted his prostrate form and carried it over the ropes. In the first round Moran out-fought and outgeneralized the Englishman, but in the second Wells seemed to regain his nerve and from then until the knockout fought the cleaner and more scientific battle, although Moran's blows seemed to do the greater damage.

The scene was repeated when Wells appeared to be tired, while Moran was smiling and confident. In the tenth Wells slipped and Moran put a vicious sprawl to the jaw, which sent Wells sprawling on his back. He lay until the count of six and then rose instead, while the crowd roared. As Wells got to his feet Moran sent another lightning right to the jaw and the Englishman took the count.

EXPLODING OF MINES IN ENEMY'S TERRITORY A MEANS OF GAINING.

GERMANS SHELL NIEUPOORT

STRATEGIC BRIDGE ACROSS YSER, HELD BY FRENCH, INTACT, HOWEVER.

London, March 29.—General von Kluck, who led the advance of the German forces to the gates of Paris in the early days of the war, has been wounded. Today's German official statement says he was injured slightly by shrapnel and that his condition is satisfactory.

Sapping and mining operations are the sole means of gaining ground in the Argonne, according to an official note given out in Paris today. Between Four de Paris and Aire the engineer corps in the Argonne already has constructed 3,000 yards of sapping lines and exploded fifty-two mines, the latter necessitating about sixteen thousand pounds of explosives. Incidents such as the sudden meeting of French and German troops underground and a race to a mine to explode it are not infrequent.

French Account of the Day.

The following communication was issued by the French war office tonight: "The enemy has bombarded Nieuport town and Nieuport Bains (two miles to the northwest), but the damage done to the bridge thrown across the Yser was not of great importance. In Champagne there has been artillery action in the neighborhood of Beaulieu."

In the Argonne there has been cannonading and bombs have been thrown, principally in the region of Bagatelle, where both sides remain very active. "Everywhere else the day has been calm."

THINK EITEL'S CAPTAIN WILL INTERNE HIS SHIP, AND IS MERELY POOLING

Washington, March 29.—While every precaution is being taken to guard against possible violation of American neutrality in the event of a dash for sea through the Virginia capes by the German commerce raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich, naval officers here are almost a unit in the belief that the Eitel will cruise no more until the war is over. They think Commander Thierichens is enjoying the trouble to which he has put the British and French cruisers patrolling the Virginia coast, and is merely awaiting the expiration of the time-limit given him for repairs before permitting the collector of customs at Newport News to intern his ship for the war.

The battleship Albatross, which left Philadelphia this afternoon, is due in Hampton Roads early tomorrow to reinforce the two destroyers and the submarine on duty there.

TURKISH TROOPS SENT TO AID OF CHRISTIANS THREATENED BY KURDS

Washington, March 29.—Turkish regular troops were due to arrive last Saturday at Urmiah, Persia, where Americans and other Christians are reported to have been attacked by Kurd bandits, according to an official statement made to Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople by the Turkish grand vizier. The ambassador reported this conversation to the state department today, adding that the Turkish war office had informed him that no acts of violence had been committed at Urmiah.

+ Detroit, Mich., March 29.—Joseph R. Lorkowski, cashier of a branch of the Federal State bank, was shot and probably fatally wounded in what is believed to have been an attempt to rob the bank this afternoon. George Dimont, a foreigner, entered the bank book and demanded payment on a Lorkowski's retusal precipitated a fight in which the cashier reached across the counter and struck Dimont on the head just as the latter drew his revolver and fired, the bullet entering Lorkowski's stomach. Another foreigner who accompanied Dimont escaped. +

NO WELCHER.
 About the best word that has been said for Commissioner Cunningham since he set the railroad pot boiling notes that he has made no attempt to pass the buck. Public officials who find them in embarrassing position because of too much loquacity at the wrong time and in the wrong place not infrequently seek safety at the expense of the newspaper man, or some innocent bystander. But Cunningham has stood up to the rack. He has admitted that he was in the main, correctly quoted and that he holds the views attributed to him. Only he explains that he did not understand that he was to be quoted in an advertisement. Governor Ferris has expressed the view that Cunningham made a mistake and a bad one. At the same time he is of the opinion that his usefulness as a state official is not curtailed to a degree that would warrant a request for his resignation. Therefore Cunningham will stay on the commission. The governor is a charitable man, and holds that even a public official is entitled to make a mistake once in a while, as long as it is not attended by moral fault.

THE COMMITTEES' BILL.
 The railroad fare bill reported out by the senate and house committees, providing for rates based on gross passenger earnings, is, apparently, unsatisfactory alike to those legislators who demand that there shall be no legislation at all until the railroads' figures are checked over and to the railroads. It would grant to roads with less than $1,500 per mile earnings a three cent fare, to those with earnings between $1,500 and $3,000 a two and a half cent fare and would require railroads with earnings of more than $3,000 to carry passengers at the two cent rate. Under this bill the G. R. & L. Lake Shore, Michigan Central, Wash and Grand Trunk would be held to two cent fares, the South Shore, Pere Marquette, C. & N. and Ann Arbor would be permitted to charge two and a half cents and the C. & N. W. would obtain three cents.

The dissent of the railroad men has been immediate and emphatic. Those of them who represent the roads most in need of larger earnings assert that the passage of the bill would be a sop that would be of no material assistance, and that they will be benefited appreciably by no less relief than three cent fares. Thus the committee's measure has not served to clear the situation.

NEARLY A BILLION GAIN.
 How wealthy is Michigan?
 The census bulletin on wealth, debt and taxation credits Michigan with a gain of nearly $900,000,000 in property assessed on the ad valorem basis between the years 1902 and 1912. That is a tremendous advance, but since assessing officers never get all wealth upon the rolls, especially when wealth is increasing rapidly and personal property is a large part of the gain, the total is probably far larger. But the returns, although faulty, are the only ones obtainable and afford the comfortable reflection that Michigan is forging ahead.

In 1902 the assessed valuation of the state was $1,418,257,838. In 1912 it was $2,317,561,634. These years mark the state's greatest industrial boom, one in which automobile manufacture has played a most envying part. The per capita assessed valuation in 1912 was $789.19 as opposed to $572.92 in 1902. Michigan's tax levies in the decade more than doubled, rising from $23,476,734 to $17,967,705. No difficulty, however, was found by the various appropriating bodies in spending the money.

Of all the states Kansas registers the most astounding advance. Assessed for only $363,163,650 in 1902 ten years later Kansas paid taxes on property officially valued at $2,746,990,291, a gain of nearly two billion and a half dollars or 750 per cent on the principal of 1902. Kansas' gain has been entirely due to agriculture; ten harvests changed the state from one of the poorest in the union to the sixth richest, outranked only by New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and California. New Jersey, Texas, Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan follow. Wheat and corn, added to some extent by oil, metamorphosed Kansas from a starving to a plutocrat in ten years.

NOT FOR US.
 The suggestion that in the event of the dismemberment of Turkey the Holy Land should be placed under the supervision of the United States is properly characterized by the American Hebrew as most undesirable. While such an arrangement might enable Europe to escape the manifest difficulty of determining what European nation should be protector of the "holy places" of Palestine, it would almost inevitably lead to this country's becoming directly involved in the politics of Europe.

Washington's policy of keeping this nation free of entangling alliances, or

For this "breach of discipline" he has been rebuked by some gatherings of his fellow socialists; and to guard against similar votes and remarks in future, Dr. Liebknecht has been summoned to take his place in a landsturm regiment, and sent to a post in Alsace.

In England, a considerable number of the dock laborers of Liverpool have refused to work overtime even for full pay or extra pay, and have hampered the shipment of military supplies in other ways. Yet up to date the most the British government has felt authorized to do is to tell these men that they persist much longer—say a year or two—in their unpatriotic course, it will be necessary to take strong measures with them. Possibly the helpless creatures might even be prosecuted for vagrancy.

The moral seems to be that if one wants to criticize his country in war time or indulge in anything but the talkie-talkie sort of socialistic activities, he had better take care to be born as far as possible from compulsory military service and to a post in Alsace.

LOWER STATE NOTES

STURGIS—Five Sturgis women had a narrow escape from death when an automobile in which they were returning from Three Rivers was struck by a G. R. & L. fast freight train. The chauffeur, Charles Schimb, was seriously hurt. All the other passengers were badly shaken up and bruised. The machine was wrecked.

ANN ARBOR—Recently Fred Heller, local builder and contractor, lost a lawsuit to Elmer Muench, undertaker, over a six-foot strip of land. The outcome of the case so preyed on his mind that he killed himself by cutting his throat. His father, brother and sister had ended their lives in the same manner during recent years. Heller had been despondent for some time.

MONROE—Dr. Orion J. Fay, prominent Carleton physician, is being sued by his wife, Zoia, for divorce. She is 32 years younger than the doctor, she alleges, and further states that he was the attending physician at the time of her birth. Some months ago a contract covering the property rights was made and later repudiated by the wife. The case is in progress.

MCBAIN—Rev. Elmer E. Vaughan, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church here, has begun suit against Aska Smith for alleged slander and asking damages in the sum of $5,000. It appears that the minister rented a piece of land from Smith on a share basis last year and planted it to potatoes. Trouble arose when it came to dividing the crop and it is alleged Smith has accused the preacher of beating him out of a part of the share that was to have been his.

FLINT—Flint Central high school is a fire trap and a menace to the lives of all the students, is the verdict of M. M. Hawhurst, of Ann Arbor, secretary of the State Fire Prevention association, George K. Mach, of Hillsdale, and Charles D. Livingston, of Detroit, members of the association, who inspected it. Confirming the report made recently by the special committee of the Flint Board of Commerce, the risk men declared it would be out of the question to make suitable repairs.

LAPEER—Lapeer young people are concerned over the strange illness of the pretty 17-year-old Clara Frary, daughter of Mayor R. H. Frary and a student in the high school. Mr. Frary, returning home one day last week, discovered his daughter unconscious at the foot of the stairs, down which she evidently had fallen. She has been in a semi-conscious condition ever since. Miss Frary first became ill at a rehearsal of the junior high school class play. She is unable to relate how she happened to fall down the stairs.

DETROIT—Warren N. Little, 31 years old, former manager of the Kern Brewing company branch at Kalamazoo, was taken to that city to answer to the charge of embezzling $4,700 from his employers. He is indicted under five counts. Little, who has been staying at various places in Detroit since leaving Kalamazoo last December, was found by means of a letter he wrote to an acquaintance. The letter fell into the hands of Detective Lester Potter, who arrested Little at his home, 357 Chene street. Little was living there with his wife and child and his wife's parents.

HOLLAND—Postmaster G. Van Schelven has a relic of President Jackson's administration in the shape of a rare coin known as the "Jackson penny," which was minted more than three-quarters of a century ago. The coin is well preserved and is said to be very valuable as only a few were issued. It was found in Ottawa county some three years ago, at which time Mr. Van Schelven secured possession of it. The face of the penny shows the likeness of President Jackson, with the phrase "I take the responsibility," while the reverse side shows the donkey, representing the Democratic party, as in caricature, with the phrase, "The constitution as I understand it," an expression used by the President Jackson in his veto of the bill rechartering the United States Bank.

DETROIT—Women screamed in hysteria and fought with the officers in the customs house at Windsor when, between noon and 6 o'clock, nearly 1,200 were searched as they left the ferry boats from Detroit started to action by protests of many merchants and Windsor the Canadian government sent Mrs. Martha White, customs inspector from Ottawa, with one female assistant and from noon until sunset every woman who crossed the river, many of them residents of Detroit, was compelled to submit to a thorough examination of her person by the woman inspectors. During the rush hours between 2 and 4 o'clock an average of fifty women went to Windsor from Detroit on each boat. Four extra male inspectors were on duty. While the search was going on the customs house looked like a woman's section of a large department store. Bundles of clothing of every description were laid out opened on chairs, benches and tables, and kitchen utensils, baby carriages and hundreds of articles of household use were spread out. Dozens of articles were confiscated because their owners had spent their money in Detroit and couldn't pay the duty.

DOUBLE SHOOTING AFFRAY AT IRONWOOD.
 A shooting affray, regarding which there are conflicting stories, occurred since the Ironwood News-Record, in the Ossowski building at the corner of Ayer and Norfolk streets about 9 o'clock Saturday evening. When Patrolman Nick Anderson arrived in answer to a call sent to headquarters, he found Mrs. Hilda Blyckert and Leonard ("Red") Hiff lying on the floor of a rear room in the second story. Their clothing was saturated with blood and there were pools of blood on the floor. The patrolman asked who had done the shooting. Pointing at Hiff, the woman said, "He did." Hiff's response was, in effect, "Now don't lie; what about that railroad that was here?" Mrs. Blyckert denied that anyone had been present at the time other than Hiff and herself, and has maintained since that he did the shooting. At the hospital, to which both were removed, Hiff subsequently said that Mrs. Blyckert had attempted to assault him with a butcher knife, and that he used a revolver in self defense. Then realizing what he had done, he turned the gun on himself, he is alleged to have said. In later statements, Hiff is reported to have asserted that he did not know what happened. Mrs. Blyckert is suffering from two bad wounds. One bullet went through the abdomen, lodging in and breaking the spinal column; the other penetrated the liver and came out at the side of the body. The

AN ODD IDEA.
 "To him who keeps his ears open, ideas come from the most unexpected sources."
 The speaker, Detective William J. Burns, was lecturing on "Alcoholism and Crime" in Pittsburgh. He resumed:
 "Thus, on the way hither this evening, I passed two women, one of whom was limping slightly. As I walked by, the limping woman groaned:
 "These shoes certainly do hurt. They're too tight."
 "Well, dear," said the other soothingly, "shoes are like husbands—better to have 'em tight now and then than too loose."
 W. H. Holmes, of Ruby, Nev., dettly adjusted action to the surroundings in celebrating Nevada's apple day by taking unto himself a wife whose name was Apple.

UPPER PENINSULA

Is Arrested at Escanaba.
 Frank Stranlisky, alias Frank Linsky, wanted in L'Anse in connection with a murder alleged to have been perpetrated recently, was taken into custody by Sheriff Iverson and is being held for the sheriff of Baraga county, says the Escanaba Mirror. Yesterday a telegram was received by Sheriff Iverson, asking him to look for Linsky. A short search revealed the man, and Linsky went to the county jail. With what case Linsky is connected is not known by Sheriff Iverson.

Soo Court Has Profitable Day.
 One hundred and forty-five dollars in fines was paid into Judge Fredericks' hands in police court at the Soo, the other afternoon. It was one of the biggest days the court has had in weeks. Alice Denby, charged with running a house of ill-fame, paid a fine of $10. Pearl Wyatt, an inmate, charged with being disorderly, paid $25. Four men arrested in the house on lodge purposes, and marched the six persons to police headquarters in a body. Two of the men were handcuffed.

Fire in Fur Store Is Costly.
 The stock of furs of Frank Varga, in the Bellmeur block, opposite the city hall at Ironwood, was nearly wiped out by a fire that broke out in the building about 9 o'clock at night. When discovered by Wm Maki, who was passing on the street, the entire store was in flames. There are various theories as to the origin of the fire. Mr. Varga is of the opinion that leaking gas caused the blaze, others say it started from defective wiring and some claim it was caused by spontaneous combustion. The progress of the flames was accelerated by the presence of naphthalene, a moth preventative used in furs. Mr. Varga had a large stock, and the store contained many furs for remodeling, belonging to patrons. He estimates the loss at $9,000, on which he carried insurance of $2,000.

Murder in Chippewa County.
 Alex. Salo, aged thirty-four years, was murdered in a shack two and one-half miles east of Brimley at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by it, is alleged, James (Jim) Kivela, twenty-four years old, following a drunken brawl in which the two engaged, reports the Soo Mirror. A axe was used on Salo and the sharp blade penetrated his skull. He died almost instantly. Kivela is being held in the county jail and will likely be arraigned on a charge of murder and manslaughter combined, the latter charge being added to cover the case. Two witnesses who were present and saw the fatal blow struck, are being detained. Not until this morning did Kivela learn of the crime, for he lay in a drunken stupor from the time he struck the blow until he found himself behind the bars. Sheriff Bone asked the young man whether he had any recollection of what had happened. He was horrified when told and broke down completely.

An Appeal for a Fish Hatchery.
 Notwithstanding the announcement given publicly a few days ago to the effect the Michigan legislature will make no appropriation for the establishment of a fish hatchery this year, sportsmen of the Keweenaw peninsula have directed an appeal to the legislature, asking that the legislature take cognizance of the necessity of such hatchery and also of the advantages offered by Keweenaw county as a site for such an institution. The appeal, which is accompanied by a copper country press comment, published in a folder, is, in part, as follows: "Expert fish culturists are united in the opinion that, properly cared for, the northern streams and lakes, which are usually either frozen over or, in their fresh period when fry hatched in the warmer southern waters are ready for distribution, a hatchery should be located at the most northerly point available thus affording a much later hatch than is now possible and a distribution when all the streams in the state are low enough to receive the delicate fry. Keweenaw county is the most northerly part of Michigan, possesses innumerable advantages in picturesque locations, perfect drainage, absolutely pure spring water, unimpaired by sewage or mine drainage and certain never to be polluted. Keweenaw offers many attractive parklike places, where little or no money would have to be spent on improvements. Keweenaw has not sought, nor received, anything from the state of Michigan, and is now in the interest of Keweenaw peninsula, in the interest of all the fishermen in the state and of all the streams and lakes in the state are asking that the necessities and advantages for a hatchery located in Keweenaw be given your consideration and approval."

The folder is signed as follows: Arthur Rod & Gun club, Joseph Weiss, secretary; Keweenaw Rod & Gun club, Henry S. Winter, secretary; Ho-On-Kee Rod & Gun club, Harry Herman, secretary; Calumet Business Men's association, W. W. Polk, secretary; Copper Country Commercial club, G. L. Cooper, secretary.

attending physicians held out no hope for her recovery. The bullet that struck Hiff went through the left breast just above the heart, tearing a hole in the lung and coming out of the back. Unless complications arise, Hiff will recover. The wounds were made by bullets of .38-calibre. A revolver of that caliber, with four empty shells, that Hiff brought from a member of his family was found on a chair in the room where the man and woman lay. It was covered with blood. Mrs. Blyckert is the divorced wife of Gust Blyckert, the decree having been granted in the circuit court of Keweenaw county sixteen months ago. Infidelity was alleged by the husband, Leonard Hiff being named as co-respondent. That Hiff repeatedly entreated the woman to marry him after Blyckert divorced her is admitted by both of them. That she refused to do so is admitted. That Hiff is intensely jealous, friends of both assert. He rented two rooms from Mrs. Blyckert adjoining two rooms occupied by the woman and her fifteen-year-old daughter, Hilga. The shooting occurred in the Blyckerts' apartments.

Discovers Live Man in Casket.
 To find a live man in a coffin is an unusual occurrence anywhere, but this happened in the Soo, or Ironwood, last night. The story is as follows: About 1:50 o'clock the other afternoon William Kincaid, who had apparently imbibed too freely of liquor, made his way to the Haist undertaking establishment on West Spruce street, climbed into an open casket and was intent on taking a powerful nap into slumberland when he was discovered. To find a man alive in a casket is something which does not happen to undertakers very often, and Mr. Haist was somewhat astonished. Patrolman Lawler took the man to the police station, where he was given a last in one of the cells. When he faced Judge Fredericks the man could tell of nothing of what had happened. He said, however, that he was in search of his lodging quarters and had mistaken the Haist establishment for his hotel. Sentence was suspended.

INSURANCE MEN PLAN ORGANIZATION

Meeting Called for April 5 at Houghton to Form a Six-County Federation.

The Insurance Federation of Michigan, an organization having for its object the union of all insurance interests, both insured and insurer, has called a meeting for April 5 in Houghton. At this meeting a federation for Houghton, Baraga, Keweenaw, Ontonagon, Gogebic and Iron counties will be formed.

In a circular from Secretary Mark T. McKee, of Detroit, the meeting is described as one for the purpose of explaining the objects of the federation and to enlist the aid of insurance men of all classes in support of its work. The meeting will be at the Douglas House, opening at 1:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon. W. S. Diggs of Cincinnati, president of the Insurance Federation of Ohio, and J. K. Livingston of Detroit, president of the Michigan Federation, will be the principal speakers.

The circular says: "The federation includes all legal lines of insurance activity, as the universal kinship and interdependence of all classes of underwriting is recognized. Organization and co-operation are absolutely essential in all classes of business. The interests of the insured and the assured are identical. No line of our business is immune from ill advised assault or unjust encroachment, making a concerted campaign of education necessary. This will be an important and beneficial meeting and of vital interest to all insurance men of every line, including life, fire, accidental, casualty, surety, farmers', mutuals, health and accident companies and their representatives."

Policy holders in any insurance company or society are invited to attend the meeting.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

"Honey" Carroll Weds Girl Announced Betrothed to Another.

William F. Carroll, B. S., 1908, and E. M. 1910, Michigan College of Mines, and Miss Dorothy Hine, daughter of W. S. Hine 913 Lawrence avenue, Chicago, were married in that city Saturday by Rev. James Ankle, pastor of the North Shore Congregational church. The Chicago papers style the wedding romantic, and it appears that Miss Hine, that was betrothed a year ago to one Wirt Farley and her parents gave out the fact with a formal announcement. It was looked upon by all their friends as a somewhat ideal mating. But in the meantime "Honey" Carroll cut in. Carroll went to Mexico after his graduation from the M. C. M. and became chief engineer of the Chicago Mines company of falcon. The revolution drove him out of the country and he returned to Chicago to take a position with the city engineer's department. Then it was, or at least so it seems, that he began to make things interesting for one Wirt Farley.

Carroll is remembered by many Houghton people. He is a man of small stature, but always has been known as a "ladies' man." His sobriquet of "Honey" was won by this same proclivity when he was a student at the University of Michigan, before going to Houghton.

CO-OPERATIVE DELIVERY PLANS. Members of Association Meet and Complete Organization.

The members of the Houghton Co-operative Delivery association, comprising 75 per cent of the meat and grocery dealers of the village, met last night at the Commercial club and completed their organization. It is expected that within a few days the selection of a manager of the system will be announced, as well as the building selected for the central delivery station. The committee delegated to the duty of making these selections was not in a position to report last night.

DUBOIS' CANTATA IS SUNG SUPERBLY

Music Event at Houghton Will Be Repeated—Trinity Church Filled to Overflowing.

A distinct advance in Houghton musical accomplishment was marked Sunday afternoon in the presentation of 'The Dubois' cantata "The Seven Last Words of Christ" by the Trinity church choir. The fact that the soloists were from Calumet does not detract from Houghton's credit in this achievement. The cantata is the work of a master and it requires consummate musicianship to present it adequately. Paul Allen Beyer, organist and choirmaster of Trinity, must be credited with exceptional skill in the selection and voicing of individual voices as well as voicing in ensemble to have brought the successful accomplishment about.

Many Are Turned Away. The crowd that heard the cantata Sunday afternoon exceeded the capacity of the church, so that there was even some discomfort for many present. Some hundreds of people could not gain access to the church at all and because of this fact the announcement is made that the cantata will be repeated next Thursday night at 8 o'clock. The crowd was so large that the rehearsed impressive entrance of the choir had to be abandoned. Instead the choir made use of the side entrance of the sanctuary and choir stalls. The professional was Chopin's funeral march and at the conclusion of the cantata an old Gregorian chant on "Nunc Dimittis" was used as a recessional.

Soloists Score Heavily. The divisions of the cantata are an introduction and solos and choruses as setting for each of the last utterances of Christ on the cross. Herbert Rodda, bass, and Lyman Whitney, tenor, both of Calumet, were the principal soloists. Mr. Rodda's bass is an organ of great power and one that is well schooled. His big solo was on the fourth "Word," "Why Has Thou Forsaken Me," a long number with a striking and sustained crescendo effect, with a climax reaching F sharp, an altitude attained easily by the soloist.

Mr. Whitney's tenor was a revelation. Great tenor voices are so rare that they are seldom preserved to one community. Mr. Whitney has a voice that makes it an almost unbelievable good fortune for the copper country to have him as a permanent possession. He did a simply tremendous bit of singing in the seventh "Word," the climax of the cantata, particularly because of the artistry required for a singer to surmount the accompaniment without producing unpleasant effects.

The boy soprano, Vernon Benaville, and Arthur Frenkelus, were introduced with but one number, sung in unison. The displayed remarkable voices and shared honors with the older soloists. A particularly pleasing number was the introduction, sung by twenty boy sopranos in unison. The effect here was that of one big soprano voice singing without effort.

Mr. Beyer's big number was the organ interlude between the seventh word and the closing prayer, a musical representation of a storm. By many this is spoken of as the biggest thing in the cantata.

CALIFORNIA CORRESPONDENCE. Rev. Dr. Rankin and Judge O'Brien Write from the Expositions.

Rev. Dr. Rankin, pastor of Grace M. How to Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save $2 by Making It at Home

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain syrup. A pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy. Then get from your druggist 2 1/2 ounces pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 54 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly $2. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent hoarse cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiaol, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. They are indescribable, especially by one who did not help to build them. The temperature is from 80 to 87, with a cloudless sky. The ocean breezes are invigorating.

Judge P. H. O'Brien sends a card to Houghton friends from the San Diego exposition. He describes it as a "nice little fair."

COPPER COUNTRY FRATERNITIES.

Odd Fellows Plan Reunion—Pythian Bowling League Proposed.

The Copper Country Association of Odd Fellows lodge, meeting in Hancock Saturday evening, voted to hold the annual reunion the coming summer at Electric Park. But one ballot was taken, this as to whether the outing would be awarded to the north or the south end of the county, the latter winning by a comfortable majority. The date for the reunion will be announced by the executive committee later.

It is proposed to make this celebration the biggest event of its kind the association has ever undertaken. The grand lodge officers will be invited. At the close of the business session the delegates were entertained by members of Mystic lodge. The officers for the coming year follow: President—John Lavers, Keweenaw lodge No. 535.

First Vice President—Charles Schwann, Hecla lodge No. 90.

Second Vice President—Mrs. Mary Opal, Ivy Rebekah lodge No. 162.

Secretary—Edwin Northly, Hecla lodge No. 90.

Treasurer—Wallace Middlemiss, Lake Linden lodge No. 245.

Executive Committee—John N. Mitchell, E. James Kendall, Mrs. Clara Hoffenbacher, Fred Lenten and the officers.

Entertainment Committee—Mrs. Richards, Jacob Veip, Henry Melanman, Mrs. Maynard and Peter Jeffery.

Auditing Committee—William J. Hoffenbacher, John Spurr and Miss Lottie Clark.

Pythians Plan State Bowling League. Hancock lodge, Knights of Pythias, will be asked in the near future for an expression relative to the advisability of organizing a state bowling league. There is already a Pythian bowling association in the lower peninsula. The movement for a state league received its initial impetus at a banquet at Muskegon last week, the occasion being the awarding of a silver loving cup to the Esquires lodge won the league championship.

If the other lodges approve the state project as warmly as did those of Muskegon and the representatives of the grand lodge who were present, there is little doubt the movement will be successful and that by fall all of the lodges, or the majority of them, will have bowling teams. It is proposed to divide the state into districts, the winners of the various circuits to meet in a tournament for the state championship.

The state league bowling project was broached by representatives of the Grand Rapids lodges. It is planned to place the matter before every lodge in the state, and with the approval already gained the promoters are satisfied a tournament will be staged next spring in one of the lower peninsula cities. If sufficient interest can be created in the upper peninsula so as to organize three or more circuits the annual tournaments will alternate. Thus it is possible the copper country within the next few years may have the opportunity of entertaining the crack Pythian bowlers of Michigan.

Elks May Follow Suit. There is a possibility that the Elks of the state may adopt a plan similar to that proposed by the Pythians. The question has been considered by the Elks several times in recent years, and there is now a bowling league of Elk lodges in the lower peninsula.

Past Noble Grand John Rodda, Jr., of Mystic lodge, I. O. O. F., of Hancock, thinks the idea is one that might be taken up profitably by Odd Fellow lodges of the state. Mr. Rodda is considering the idea of submitting the plan to Mystic lodge. It is Mr. Rodda's belief that should the state plan not be advisable, a fraternal bowling league should be organized in the copper country next fall.

NICHOLS TAKES FIRST STEP.

Papers Served on Defense in Effort to Stop Sebeville Retrial.

Attorneys Hanchette & Lawton, for the defense in the Sebeville murder trial, in association with O. J. Larson of Duluth, yesterday received from George E. Nichols of Iowa, chief counsel for the prosecution, a copy of the motion filed with the circuit court to have Judge Flannigan set aside the order granting the new trial and to have the four defendants returned to Marquette prison.

S. L. Lawton of the firm says that every point made in the motion was met by Judge Flannigan in granting the new trial, having been argued before him on that motion. The motion is made with the expectation of its being heard in Houghton April 2 by Judge Flannigan. Mr. Lawton yesterday had no information that the Norway jurist would be here that day.

THOUGHT TO BE BAD MAN.

Mattila Faces Charge of Assault With Intent to Murder.

John Mattila of Baltic, who held the village in terror Friday afternoon and Saturday night and morning, when he hurled himself in his home and died the law with a pistol, is not now thought to be insane. His actions during his siege were those that might be expected of a madman, but Deputy Sheriff Cheliew, who arrested Mattila, considers he is only a bad man.

On any event, Mattila is charged by Henry Rimpola with assault with intent to murder. Rimpola says that Mattila fired five shots at him at a distance of thirty feet. Mattila is a poor marksman, for which Rimpola is grateful. The man will be taken before Justice Bartanen of South Range tomorrow morning for examination.

It is said at the county jail that Mattila has threatened the officers for arresting him, and that there is testimony to the effect he has threatened the life of his wife if she made any complaints of cruelty to her.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Glass left on a wedding journey to Chicago and other points. They will reside in East Houghton on their return.

The bride is the daughter of I. Miller, the Houghton merchant, and has been one of Houghton's most active young business women, being associated with her father in the management of his mercantile business. She has been a resident of Houghton all her life and is a young woman of much charm. Mr. Glass is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Glass of Almeck and is associated with his brother in the ownership of successful stores in South Range and Almeck.

PORTAGE GRANGE ORGANIZED.

Seventeen Farmers of Paradise District on the Charter.

Portage grange, the eighth grange of the Patrons of Husbandry in Houghton county, was organized at a meeting of farmers from the Paradise district at the Pilgrim school Sunday afternoon. The farmers expressed their disapproval of the name "Paradise" for their section by choosing the name. There are seventeen charter members and they elected the following principal officers:

Master—Henry Etapa. Secretary—Clemens Manninger. Lecturer—Miss Sigurd Hognisto.

At this meeting also the details of the organization of a rural telephone company for this section were completed but the officers were not elected. It was decided to ask the Michigan State Telephone company to do the necessary work toward connecting the proposed rural company with the district system as soon as possible. The farmers will furnish their own telephone poles and probably will do the construction work on the line.

KREISLER SEATS IN DEMAND.

Copper Country Commercial Club Makes its Bow as Impresario.

The Copper Country Commercial club makes its first essay as a musical impresario May 17, when it brings Fritz Kreisler to the Kerredge theater for a concert. The seat sale opened yesterday at Cox's book store in Houghton and at Vestbinder & Reed's drug store in Calumet and the demand is so great that Calumet alone could buy out the house, according to a forecast made by Mr. Vestbinder.

The demand at Houghton also was exceptionally good. The desire of copper country people

WORTHING OF THE RIFLE CLUB.

Militiamen Defeated in Saturday Night Match Over Club Range.

The Houghton Rifle club's five-man team defeated the Houghton Eight Infantry team at the club's range Saturday night with a margin of six points, 340 to 346, a possible seventy-five for each man being the maximum. Paul Sewit approached the perfect score closer than the other contestants, making a seventy-one.

The club and the company now are at an even break, each having won a team contest.

A working of the rifle club made sixty-two and 67 Peterson sixty-six in the regular club match and they were not satisfied with this comparison, so they shot a special round, Worthing winning with a margin of two points, for a total of sixty-nine. Peterson thought that this was a fluke and Worthing demonstrated that it was not by shooting another round for exhibition and making seventy-two, the highest score for the evening.

CAPT. LINDSAY OF THE CIRCLE.

Duluth Man to Succeed to Position of Late Capt. Louis Stock.

Information has been received by Geo. H. Banks, junior engineer, in charge of Portage Lake waterway, to the effect that Casper Lindsay of Duluth will be appointed master of the U. S. tug Circle by Major E. D. Peck, corps of engineers, U. S. army, officer in charge of this district.

The list of names furnished by the civil service commission at St Paul by the board at Duluth was returned to the engineer's office at Duluth and contained the eligibles from which appointment was made. The action taken by Major Peck was due to the fact that Captain Lindsay was already in the service and was in line for promotion, and therefore no reflection is cast on the other captains eligible for the position.

By Your Lathe

You need skill of hand, a keen eye and steady nerves, and when you get a crackerjack chew or smoke you know how it helps all three. Nothing like tucking good old PEERLESS into your pipe, or taking a man's size chew, to hold you steady and put gimp into the job.

PEERLESS Long Cut Tobacco is a substantial, satisfying, rich tobacco—made for real men who like the honest taste of real tobacco.

Manly men cannot get satisfaction out of insipid mixtures, any more than they can make a meal off of marshmallows. You go to PEERLESS to satisfy your tobacco hunger, just as you go to a beef-steak to satisfy stomach hunger.

We make PEERLESS out of pure Southern Kentucky leaf. We age it three to five years—so as to make it rich, ripe and mellow—naturally sweet, juicy and pleasing. It's got the snap and taste to it.

For over fifty years the big, two-fisted men that have "built the country" have used PEERLESS, because it is the one tobacco that always satisfies them. You try PEERLESS for a week, and you'll always keep it on the job. Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

Other sizes, 10c, 20c and 40c Packages, and 45c Tin Packs.

Managers have been disinclined in the past two years to bring big musical artists here, because they constitute a luxury and an expensive one and luxuries have not been in demand. But the demand is apparent now and this shows that conditions have improved wonderfully.

"Fritz Kreisler is the lion of the musical season," writes Henry E. Thack, in the March 18 issue of "The Nation."

"In greater New York," continued Mr. Finck, "Kreisler has already played fifteen times to overflowing audiences, and that figure might easily be doubled before the end of the season, were it not for the urgent calls from other cities, where his success is equally pronounced; so the greatest of living violinists has at last come into his own. While he has been much admired and praised for some years, the masses have been rather slow in flocking to his standard, because he refused to attract them by playing sensational show pieces."

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. INTRIGUE MADE RUSSIA DRY.

Although It Is Doubtful Whether Czar's Plan Needed Czarina's Support.

"Your majesty," said Prime Minister Goromikin to the czar, "I have watched you grow up, and you are the most obstinate man I ever saw." The emperor laughed as though pleased and not insulted by the characterization, and he altered his attitude toward the national menace (vodka) not one degree.

If he had been inclined to do so another influence is said to have been exerted in the other direction. It flowed through the medium of the empress and was created by a powerful agent. Vespucian, the monk, of whom complaint had been made by high authorities of Russia, was brought in through the weight of his counsel on the side of temperance.

He is a man to whom the czarina feels she owes the life of her little, fair-haired, delicate looking son, and she has kept him at court because she thinks his banishment would in some sinister, occult way work the death of the child. As is known, the prophecies and opinions of this soothsaying apostle are so influential with the reigning house that the big men of the empire complain that he has been ruling all Russia. Not long since he was wounded by a woman who was dissatisfied with her personal relations with him.

He called the attention of the empress to the menace that an insidious drink held over her empire and inspired her to pit her sword against the prime minister. Not that the monk ever took his high attitude through any independent mental exercise; he was instigated by a virtually banished man. The shadowy influence of Count Witte, hero of the Portsmouth treaty, is said to have been back of the movement. He was at one time honored by his country for having made the most brilliant negotiation with Japan that a beaten nation ever achieved with the people who defeated them. He presents the unique figure in history of a conquered man dictating terms. His skill as practiced at home, was less successful than it was with the Japanese.

Something he has said or done--some little thing, so a member of the bureaucracy conjectures--has brought him in the favor of the crown; and he now lives in Petrograd, practically a banished man. He has no official position and he takes no part in the present crisis; but he holds his opinions, nurses his feelings, broods over the unfairness of life and cherishes his resentments.

It suited his desire to have the sale of vodka abolished and he embraced the most personal, the most indirect, the most powerful means for accomplishing his end. He influenced the monk to persuade the empress to take a stand for temperance.

Idle chatter, some will say, and I can not contest their statement, writes Isabel Brish in the Saturday Evening Post. Still, the story was told me by somebody so near the throne that I do not feel justified in ignoring it. My informant, when he goes to the winter palace is never stopped by any of the thirty-four flunkies who man the outer doors and corridors. He is not even formally conducted by them to the reception rooms for visitors, but makes directly and alone for those private quarters of the house in which such situations germinate. And so I give the story for what it is worth. True though it probably is, its value is not great for a certain reason, and that is, the czar needed no such machinations for keeping his determination alive.

The city council of El Paso, Tex., has appropriated $5,000 to establish a playground, the school board has voted an equal amount and $5,000 more has been promised.

Always use K C Baking Powder. Biscuit Helps

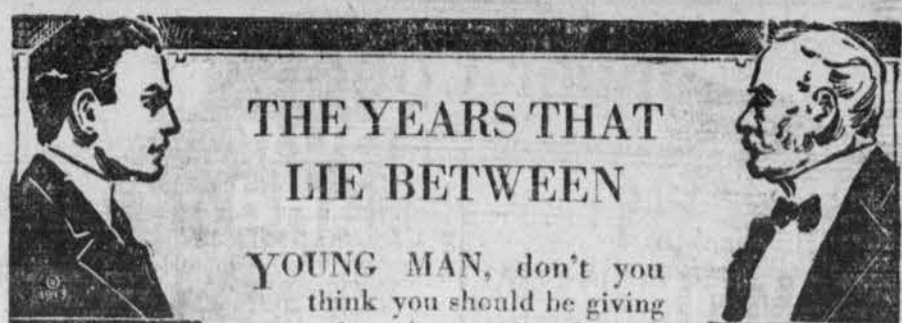

Always sift flour and KC Baking Powder at least three times. The more sifting, the lighter the cake. Remember that! To cream butter and sugar quickly, warm the sugar slightly. Beat yolks of eggs with rotary beater. Whip whites of eggs with flat spoon whip. Water makes flatter cakes; milk makes richer cakes.

To mix a cake, first cream butter and sugar thoroughly, then add yolks, if used. Then alternately add moisture and flour that has been sifted with baking powder and stir until smooth and glossy, adding egg whites after thoroughly mixing.

Always use K C Baking Powder. Biscuit Helps

Always sift flour and KC Baking Powder at least three times. Have shortening cold and firm. Mix dough as soft as it can be handled. The softer dough goes into the oven, the lighter the biscuit when it comes out. It is easier for KC Baking Powder to do its work in soft than in stiff dough. Mix biscuits very little. Do not knead. Stir up with spoon or knife and press in shape to roll on floured board.

With KC Baking Powder results are sure and certain. Ask your grocer for KC.

STILL HOPE TO HOLD THE OLYMPIC GAMES

German Plan to Restrict Entries to Friendly Nation Is, However, Not in Favor.

New York, March 29.—Recent correspondence between prominent athletic authorities of this country and Germany indicates that the German Olympic committee has not abandoned the idea of holding the Olympic games in Berlin in 1916. So far as can be judged from these letters it appears to be the plan of the German committee to stage the meet according to the original schedule, but to restrict the entries to such nations as are on friendly terms with Germany at the time the communications were written. The attitude of the International Olympic committee on this plan for restricted entries is not mentioned, but it is doubtful if that

WRITES OF THE CAREER OF ALEXANDER AGASSIZ

An Interesting Historical Sketch by Marie Hixson, Student at Houghton High School.

The following article prepared by Miss Marie Hixson, of the Junior class of American High School, at the Houghton High School, is a study of that part of the career of Alexander Agassiz which most clearly connects itself with a history of the copper country. It is based on a review of the book, "Letters and Recollections of Alexander Agassiz," by G. R. Agassiz. It is believed that the article will be of interest to readers of The Mining Journal, especially those who have a personal recollection of the difficulties encountered in developing the Calumet & Hecla mine.

Alexander Agassiz was born in Nendach, Switzerland, in 1815. As an attendant of school in his village, he showed himself a faithful little scholar, and began early to collect and preserve mysterious insects, a foreboding of his great scientific career. His father, Louis Agassiz, had established himself as Professor of Natural History at Harvard, and in the year 1840 summoned his son to America. Here Alexander went to the Cambridge High School as preparation for entrance to Harvard in the class of 1853. The hours he devoted to study were extraordinary, but his chief interest tended plainly toward mathematics and sciences. On leaving college, he entered the engineering department of the Lawrence Scientific School, from which he was graduated with highest praise. At this time his father had begun to collect treasures in a shanty which soon developed into a real museum. Alexander was appointed agent for this museum, in which position he succeeded in gaining the interest and cooperation of the leading scientific men abroad and at home. But he soon realized that this salary was insufficient to enable him to carry on his scientific research properly, so he accepted the presidency of some Pennsylvania coal mines. This episode in his life disclosed his ability to handle men and induced the owners of the Calumet & Hecla mines to turn to him when they had almost abandoned hope.

This copper region, then a primitive forest, was ceded to the United States by the Chippewa Indians in 1812. A short excitement after the discovery of coal developed into a real museum. Alexander was appointed agent for this museum, in which position he succeeded in gaining the interest and cooperation of the leading scientific men abroad and at home. But he soon realized that this salary was insufficient to enable him to carry on his scientific research properly, so he accepted the presidency of some Pennsylvania coal mines. This episode in his life disclosed his ability to handle men and induced the owners of the Calumet & Hecla mines to turn to him when they had almost abandoned hope.

Reports from the battle fields of the European war indicate that the fighting is taking a heavy toll from among the athletic ranks of Great Britain and the continental nations. J. W. F. McNaughton, of Cambridge University, lightweight international champion of 1914, was killed recently and his opponent in the finals, H. V. Harmsworth, was dangerously wounded about the same time. Kenneth Powell, Cambridge high hurdle champion of a few years ago, is also among the list of killed. Several French and English boxers have been seriously wounded during the past few weeks. From Germany comes word that thirty-two of the 200 volunteers from the Berliner Sports club have been killed and fifty odd wounded.

Among the candidates trying for the place of coxswain in the Syracuse "varsity eight-oared shell this spring is Harry M. Au, a Chinese undergraduate who weighs 110 pounds. Au is the first native of China to try for a place upon a Syracuse "Varsity team although a number of his countrymen have from time to time attended the university. If Au makes the position of coxswain he will be seen in the Intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie on June 28.

COLDS

An up-to-date remedy for colds. That is what Peruna is. In successful use over 50 years.

Colds are caught in many ways: ill ventilated rooms; rooms that have direct draughts; crowded rooms; damp houses; stuffy school rooms; offices ill heated.

A dose of Peruna at the right time, at the first symptom of cold, before the bones begin to ache, before the sore throat manifests itself, or the cough, or the discharge from the nose, just a dose or two of Peruna before these symptoms begin is generally sufficient. But after the cold is once established with the above symptoms prominent, a bottle of Peruna, or maybe two, will be necessary.

For several years I have been troubled with colds at each change of season. I took Peruna and have not been troubled with the slightest cold this entire season. Mr. Harry Fisher, 1928 Mosher St., Balti more, Md.

"I give the children Peruna if they have a cold, and it always relieves them." Mrs. J. D. Hayes, 1927 Druid Hill Ave., Baltimore, Md.

leaving Boston, he remarked that he was going to Michigan for a few years to superintend the mines, that he might make enough money to realize his ambition as a naturalist.

He found everything at Calumet in a wretched state. Hulbert had concealed the true condition in the reports which he had sent to Boston. He had neglected to make the improvements planned, and had been straining the mine to the uttermost at any cost. Because the mining was commenced so improperly, great expenditures were needed to rectify matters. The brothers-in-law struggled desperately to keep the venture intact. Mr. Agassiz tried with too limited means and surrounded by incompetent men to organize the business afresh, while Mr. Shaw in Boston, at the end of his financial resources and beset by creditors, endeavored to obtain money. Agassiz never felt discouraged till now; he was here alone and realized that any false move of his would precipitate all to ruin. He could rely on no one and had to feel the responsibility which ought to have been thrust upon several. He was greatly dispirited by the fact that at first he was not appreciated. People did not seem to care whether the mine paid or not, and regarded Agassiz as a disagreeable intruder. He had most annoying experiences in equipping the mine. After waiting weeks for the arrival of certain machinery, it would then probably not fit together right. The construction of railroads and buildings was impeded by the heavy winter and everything to set back the proposed improvements was done by the Hulbert brothers and other bitter and jealous enemies. But finally the troubles began to diminish, and when the mine was at last running smoothly and steadily, Agassiz returned to his eastern home in the year 1868. His fight was successful though it had been won at the cost of his health, but he was relieved to be once more in the congenial environment of a scholar.

In December, 1868, Hecla mine paid its first dividend of $75,000, and Calumet followed with a like amount in August, 1870. During the next year these two mines were consolidated into the Calumet & Hecla Mining Company with a capital stock of 100,000 shares. Mr. Shaw was the first president, but within a few months he retired to the board of directors and Mr. Agassiz succeeded him as president, a position he retained till the end of his life. Agassiz possessed wonderful foresight, always providing for conditions in advance. Though this incurred extra expense at the time, the company is thus enabled to manage the mine more economically today. He was ever mindful of the welfare of his employees, attentive to all complaints and furthered their interests indefatigably. In 1901, Mr. James MacNaughton was made general manager and his unusual executive abilities pleased Agassiz, who therefore was always willing to leave orders with him, for he knew they would be promptly carried out. Mr. MacNaughton was thus enabled to relieve Agassiz of a considerable part of the work.

Though Mr. Agassiz's establishment of the Calumet & Hecla mine on a firm basis is a fine mark of his genius, yet he must also be regarded in the light of his scientific achievements which brought him world-wide fame. In the earlier part of his life, he was chiefly interested in marine zoology. These biological investigations were made in the vicinity of the West Indies and in the vast extent of the unknown ocean in the Eastern Tropical Pacific. On a ship-board he was as eager as a boy to inspect each new revelation from the depths of the sea, and the collections made on these trips were sent to all parts of the world. The latter part of his life was devoted to thorough study of coral reefs. His explorations in this line included the Bermudas, Ceylon, Australia, Japan, and practically all the islands of the South Seas. The new theories in regard to the formation of coral reefs are chiefly associated with the name of Alexander Agassiz.

After his father's death, he felt it a filial obligation to try to realize the former's dreams in the way of a vast museum at Harvard. Painstakingly he managed to superintend the development of the museum, while at the same time he published volumes on his expeditions and did limitless home research work. In 1902 the last corner piece of the present museum of Harvard University was completed, and so great was Agassiz's success that in many departments it was then in advance of European museums. Agassiz's travels extended everywhere on the surface of the globe, and at all places he was received with courtesy and ovations. He was a man of universal fame.

Thus do we discover in Mr. Agassiz a striking exception, for we are accustomed to think of such a naturalist as being aloof from the every-day work, content with his studies and specimens. But Agassiz, though engrossed in scientific life, yet produced that marvelous practical achievement at Calumet, where he transformed a failing enterprise into the most prosperous mine known in industrial history. Although he went on innumerable expeditions, he never let these interfere with his semi-annual visits to the copper country, which visits continued until his death in 1910. The Calumet & Hecla mine is a monument to Alexander Agassiz and a proof of his versatile energy and ability. This accomplishment is even more wonderful when we think of it as being in reality the by-product of a man whose primal interest was abstruse science.

Ask him why he continues to sell the Hupmobile year after year. Hewill tell you: "Because the Hupmobile grows better year after year."

He is not afraid to meet any man to whom he has sold a Hupmobile. His customers last year, are his customers this year. And better than that—they are his friends, as well as his customers. They go out of their way to help him make Hupmobile sales.

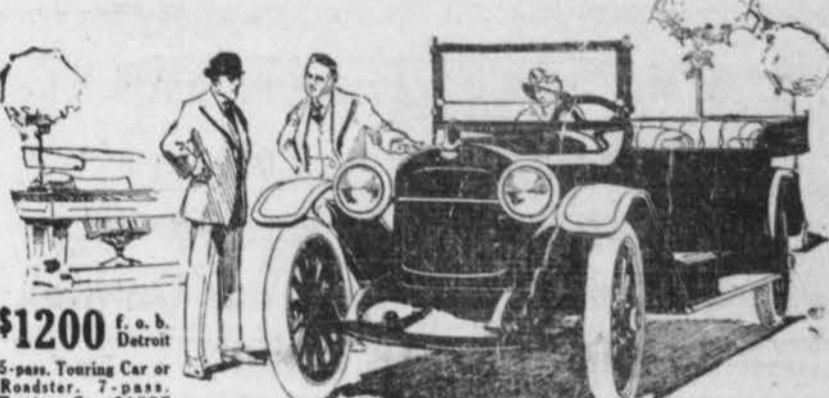

From twenty-five to fifty per cent of his new buyers, come, he will tell you, from the recommendations of old friends. He does not hesitate to refer to them—they do not hesitate to endorse the Hupmobile. Do you know of another car of which this is so widely, so enthusiastically, true?

Where the average man buys one car, the Hupmobile dealer buys scores, or even hundreds. He pays his money for these cars, the same as you pay for yours. He had to be sold on the Hupmobile before he would make this investment, the same as you have to be sold.

The Hupmobile dealer, naturally, is prejudiced in favor of the Hupmobile. But isn't that very prejudice—that extreme enthusiasm—the strongest endorsement you could ask?

If he has held the friendship of his Hupmobile owners through all these years, he will hold your friendship, too. What is true of Hupmobile dealers generally is true of us. Let us show you the 1915 Hupmobile.

OPPOSING TICKETS TO BE NAMED TONIGHT

Republican Caucuses and Convention Will Be Largely Attended—Sharp Contests.

Both the Republican and People's parties will name their city tickets this evening. Proceeding the Republican city assembly, caucuses will be held in each ward for the nomination of supervisor, alderman and constable and the election of ward committees and delegates to the name its city and ward tickets at a mass meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock in Andrews' Hall. The Republican convention will be held in the Anderson hall, beginning at 8 o'clock. The ward caucuses will take place at 7:15.

Unusual interest is manifested in the outcome of the Republican caucuses and city convention. It is certain all the meetings of the party will be largely attended. It is expected there will be some close contests for the election of delegates, and there will be sharp contests in a few of the wards for the nomination of supervisor and alderman. A particularly lively caucus is looked for in the Sixth ward. In that precinct there are two sets of aspirants for supervisor and alderman. J. J. Johnson, who is in the employ of Trembath Bros., and Otto Fransen, a shift foreman at the Chiff Shaft mine, are candidates for alderman. John Gray is a candidate for supervisor. Edwin Johnson, the retiring alderman in the Sixth, who was elected by the People's party, will shortly remove to the Fifth ward. For that reason he is not seeking a reelection.

In the First ward, William Mandley, who has held the office of supervisor for twelve years, will be opposed by Edward Adams.

It is expected that all of the Republican aldermen whose terms expire and who are candidates for reelection will be renominated without opposition. The aldermen are:

First ward—P. J. O'Brien.
Second—C. M. Murphy.
Third—W. H. Trebath.
Fourth—Ole Wallin.
Fifth—Harry S. Peterson.
Sixth—Hart V. Gregg.
Seventh—Joseph Maloney.
Eighth—Joseph Maloney.
Ninth—Arin Nault.
Tenth—Isaac Tronberg, the retiring alderman in the Eighth ward, was elected two years ago on the People's ticket.

The supervisors who will likely be renominated without opposition are:

E. E. Keese, Second ward.
Richard Matthews, Third.
Alfred Collick, Fourth.
W. H. Trebath, Fifth.
E. T. Smith, Seventh.
Isaac Tronberg, Eighth.
A. J. Yungbluth, Ninth.
George Delbridge, Tenth.

Peter Gunnerson, supervisor in the Sixth ward, was elected last year on the People's ticket. It is assumed he will be a nominee this year again.

J. D. West and William St. John, the rival candidates for the nomination of municipal judge on the Republican ticket, each has strong support. It is expected that the vote on convention delegates in several of the wards will be close. Judge West has held the office for one term of four years. Mr. St. John has been clerk of the court ever since it was established, twelve years ago.

J. S. Wahlman, who last Friday consented to become the Republican candidate for mayor, will be nominated to night by acclamation. The delegation will be divided on the treasurership. No fewer than eight candidates are seeking that nomination, prominent among whom are Charles Egerberg and Frank Halverson.

The nominating committee of the People's party has not made any announcement as to who will be the choice for mayor. It is understood that several businessmen have been asked to make the run. Among these are Gust Lindberg, the Cleveland avenue meat dealer, and Herbert Swanson, of the furniture firm of Swanson Bros. It was said yesterday that the committee will endeavor to induce William Andrews to accept the nomination. Mr. Andrews had been

DEATH OF EDWARD SWAN.

Pioneer Resident of Ishpeming Passed Away Yesterday Morning.

Edward Swan, one of Ishpeming's best known citizens, died yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock, after being confined to his bed only a few days. Mr. Swan had not been in the best of health for several months past. Prior to his fatal illness he suffered for some weeks with pleurisy.

Mr. Swan was a native of Cornwall, Eng. He was seventy-five years of age. He came to America in 1864, locating in Keweenaw county, where he remained until 1870, when he came to Ishpeming. He had lived here ever since. Mr. Swan and his wife, who survive him, for several years past conducted a confectionery store and ice cream parlor at their dwelling on High street.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from Grace Episcopal church. Services will be conducted by Rev. C. G. Zeigler, the rector. Relatives expected to attend the obsequies are Richard Nichols, of Calumet, and Richard Williams, of Escanaba, both former residents of this city.

"WALLS OF JERICHO"

Edmund Brees Will Be Seen Today in Strong Picture Production.

Edmund Brees, the Broadway star, and an all-star cast, including Clara Whitney and Stuart Holmes, will be seen at Ishpeming theater this afternoon and evening in Albert Sutor's powerful drama, "The Walls of Jericho." The matinee will start at 4 o'clock.

The story of the play is outlined as follows: Jack Frohisher, a self-made millionaire cattle raiser, marries the daughter of a marquis. Having accepted the patronage of a titled family, he is forced to lend money to his father-in-law, and witness the varied vicissitudes of the court set. He watches his wife's flirtations with fashionable idlers in general and with a contemptible rake, Harry Dallas, in particular. The return of Hanky Bannister, one of his prairie pals and a millionaire like himself, opens the way for an intrigue for the enrichment of the marquis' family. Frohisher is unable to interest his wife in his scheme for the erection of sanitary dwellings, and he is disgusted with the tendencies of fashionable life. A sympathetic friend, Lady Westery, tells him that she is disappointed in finding him so tame a bear in the face of these rotten conditions, and assures him that he has only to show the walls of Jericho will fall flat. He acts on her advice with telling effect.

MUST HAVE TAGS.

Marshal Trevarrow is notifying automobile owners that their cars must carry license tags as soon as they are put in use. He is informed by Coleman C. Vaughan, secretary of state, that licenses will be sent immediately on application.

Mr. Vaughan's letter is as follows: "This department learns that many people claim they make application for automobile licenses, and have to wait a considerable time to receive the same on account of the delay (as they claim) in receiving the licenses from this office. We take this opportunity to inform you that the policy of this office is to issue licenses within twelve hours after the application is received, and on the average this is done.

"Sometimes, however, we have so many applications that it is impossible to get the tags out on the same day the applications are received, but the purpose of the office is to get these licenses out with the utmost dispatch.

"It is also true that sometimes applications are improperly made and the same have to be returned for correction, but this should not take more than two or three days.

"Another phase of the matter to which we call your attention is this: we send very promptly the identification card. If people claim they have not received their licenses, it would be well to ask them for their identification card, because there is no reason why this should not be received promptly, within two or three days after the application is made, so that people have no excuse for not furnishing evidence of good faith, and not put the blame on this department for neglect on their part to make prompt application.

"We also respectfully suggest, that if you desire to know definitely, wire if present production holds up. Champion is likely to hoist over 82,000 tons of rock during March and this rock is yielding about thirty pounds of copper to the ton. This is little short of phenomenal. Baltic has been making better than thirty pounds, refined copper, to the ton for three months and the rock tonnage in March is going to be close to 40,000. These estimates are based on performances in February. Baltic mined 31,000 tons of rock in February and Champion did better than twice that amount. While it has been generally known that Baltic was making a sensational showing in copper recovery it was on a small tonnage, comparatively speaking, and the knowledge that Champion is doing just as well or more than twice the rock tonnage is indicative of the possibilities of Copper Range Consolidated as a copper producer. Trimountain is preparing further to increase its output, which ran over 26,000 tons of rock in February.

Some of the speculative favorites rose to new high prices for the current month, but sold off later. Reading and a few other seasoned shares showing net losses. The new week brought advices of increased production at some of the leading steel mills, and an increase in the export inquiry for copper.

PEACE OUTLOOK GLOOMY; WHEAT VALUES GO HIGHER. Chicago, March 29.—Wheat developed surprising strength today, influenced to a considerable extent by the fact that European conditions apparently failed to justify recent hopes of an early peace. Closing prices were: May wheat, 149 1/2; July wheat, 121 1/2; May corn, 72 1/2; July corn, 75 1/2; May oats, 57 1/2; July oats, 63 1/2.

CHICAGO PRODUCE QUOTATIONS. Chicago, March 29.—Quotations on butter at the Chicago exchange today were higher. Creameries were marked at 20 1/2 cents. Eggs were unsettled. Registered receipts were 19,332 cases. At market, cases included, eggs called for 17 1/2; ordinary firsts, 17 1/2; 17 1/2; 17 1/2. Poultry, alive, was steady. Fowls were quoted at 16 cents and springs at 17.

MINING NEWS. CHINO. The February output of the Chino Copper company, 3,722,800 pounds, was the largest for any month since last July. It was consolidated and showed a good increase, with a production of 1,850,000 pounds in February, the largest in seven months.

FRANKLIN-HANCOCK. Franklin started its stamp mill Monday, first stamping some copper rock that it has in its bins and then to handle rock from the Hancock mine, which will begin shipping April 1, this step not being practical until it connects its twenty-seventh crosscut with the raise from the thirty-seventh level on the Peawick lode.

OLD DOMINION. Conditions at the Old Dominion continue to improve, although slowly. The pumps are gaining steadily on the water below the fourteenth level. The "rainy season" is apparently over, and if this proves to be true it should be a matter of a short time before the mine can be cleared of the surface water which has caused all the trouble.

NOTES OF MINING NEWS. North Lake's crosscut at the fourteenth level is coming close to the first of the "North Lake group" of lodes, which geologists have identified as the same as the "South Lake group," because they bear the same position relative to No. 8 conglomerate, which traverses both properties and has such strongly marked characteristics that it cannot be mistaken. This group of lodes dips north in both properties, underlying at some depth the Evergreen-Butler group. In the South Lake they also form an anti-dip or arch, and thus dip south in another part of the property, where they are now being developed by crosscutting and drifting. North Lake's crosscut for the last month has been in a bed of trap rock, which is now growing finer grained, indicating that it is approaching an andygdaloid, and it is in this vicinity that the first of the copper-bearing lodes may be expected to lie.

COPPER RANGE. It is understood that the production of copper from two of the three mines of the Copper Range company, Baltic and Champion, will be 15 per cent above normal for the month of March.

LEAF HAS SIGNED WITH ESCANABA

Negaunee Pitcher Will Try His Fortune This Year in the W.-M. League.

Hilmer Leaf, star pitcher on the Negaunee baseball team last season, has signed for the season of 1915 with Henry Olmsted, manager of the Escanaba club in the Wisconsin-Illinois league.

Leaf and Einar Swanson, the Isipemung hurler, will leave in a few weeks for Evanston, Ill., where they will train with the Escanaba team. Friends of the players are confident that they will make good. Last season Leaf was one of the best hitters on the Negaunee team and he played several remarkable games at shortstop. Don Bell, who wore a Negaunee uniform in 1911, pitching under the name of Wallace, has been recruited by the Grand Rapids Central league team. The Grand Rapids Press recently had the following:

"Among the young players recruited this spring by the Grand Rapids Central league baseball team none is of greater promise than Don Bell, the clever young pitcher who was signed for play here last year but who decided instead to manage and pitch for the fast independent team which represented Hastings. He has promised to join the Grand Rapids team the first week in April, coming from his home at Ypsilanti, where he is working as a telegraph operator."

Bell's professional baseball career started in 1911 as a member of the Negaunee team of the Copper Country league. He was with the Kalamazoo team of the Southern Michigan association the following season. The season of 1913 he was with the Ypsilanti team of the Border league and the Hastings Independents. It was while at Hastings that Bell's effective pitching against the Grand Rapids league team convinced President Essick that he would be a desirable pitcher here.

"Besides pitching for Hastings, Bell pitched ball series for the Otsego of waters Mich., owned by Tom Stevens, the millionaire lumberman. He also pitched three seasons for the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti.

"Bell is a near six-footer and weighs in the neighborhood of 180 pounds. He has works of speed and a fast breaking curve ball which had independent team batsmen breaking their backs. In addition he is a hard and timely hitter and might hold his own in league baseball through his batting."

DIED IN ENGLAND.

Mrs. Elizabeth Vincent, mother of Charles Vincent, of this city, died on Sunday, March 14, at her home at Vognobeth, Ilogan, Cornwall. The funeral was held the following Thursday, with services at the Ilogan church. Mrs. Vincent was eighty-three years old and had been in failing health for three months. She survived by three sons and two daughters, Charles, of Negaunee, James, of Kearsarge, Walter, of Ilogan, Mrs. Samuel Rogers, of Kearsarge, and Mrs. John Oxman, whose home is in England. Mrs. Vincent is also survived by eighteen grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Mrs. Vincent was well-known to many of the English people in the county.

HOW THE BIRDS HELP.

A tree swallow's stomach was found to contain forty entire cink bugs and fragments of many others, besides many other species of insects. A bank swallow in Texas devoured sixty-eight cotton-boll weevils. Thirty-five cliff swallows had taken an average of eighteen boll weevils each.

Two stomachs of pine siskins from Hayward, Cal., contained 900 black olive scales and 300 plant lice. A killdeer's stomach taken in November in Texas contained over 300 mosquito larvae. A flicker's stomach held twenty-eight white grubs.

A night hawk's stomach collected in Kentucky, contained thirty-four beetles, the adult form of white grubs. Another night hawk from New York had eaten twenty-four clover leaf weevils and 375 ants. Still another night hawk had eaten 340 grasshoppers, fifty-two bugs, three beetles, two wasps and a spider.

A boat-tailed grackle from Texas has eaten at one meal about 100 cotton-boll worms besides a few other insects. A ring-necked pheasant's crop from Washington contained 8,000 seeds of chickweed and dandelion heads.

The quail, between his cheery calls of "Bob White," is busy consuming 135 varieties of insects. He will eat on an average 75,000 insects and 6,000,000,000 weed seeds a year. He is the natural enemy of the boll weevil and the potato bug and the best friend of man, who is trying to destroy him in nearly every state.

If we do not protect the quail it will not be long until his cheery whistle will be heard no more, and in its place we will have the unwelcome buzz of destructive insects as they settle on the farmer's crop to devour it.—Oklahoma Oklahoman.

In an effort to aid local charities the merchants and manufacturers' association of Milwaukee, Wis., has placed 1,000 contribution boxes in retail stores.

MRS. KOOB'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Koob, who died Sunday morning, will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Paul's church. Mrs. Koob resided in Negaunee since she was fifteen years old. Her father, the late Captain Bergringer, superintended the building of the Jackson tunnel, which opened the first mine here. He was the city's first mayor, serving in the years 1880 and '81. Had Mrs. Koob lived until October she would have celebrated her golden wedding.

LEUTENANT GOVERNOR HERE.

Lieutenant Governor Loren Dickenson, of Lansing, was here yesterday on a short visit with Or. Schultz, superintendent of schools. Mr. Dickenson arrived here in the morning from Ironwood. He left for Lansing yesterday afternoon. Mr. Dickenson and Mr. Schultz were intimate friends for the last thirty years, when that he was a teacher and not a bad shot. When the attack came off he was assigned to a position in one of the German trenches. He found, however, that the protections above the trenches interfered with his aim; so he climbed up and stood on top of the trench, where he was a teacher whizzed thick and fast about him. Here he did effective work. According to Dr. Horning, a Bavarian staff surgeon, he shot down forty-five Frenchmen during the fight. He was wounded slightly, but he won not only the iron cross but the gold medal for bravery.

LOCAL LADNICS.

C. A. Barnhardt, of Escanaba, was in the city yesterday on business. Mrs. William Piner and Miss Virginia McKenzie visited yesterday with relatives at Marquette. Ahl, Ann street, twins, a son and a daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Cavallo, Patch location, a daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin, Case street, a daughter.

Negaunee, Mich. DACHSHUND HIT BY WAR. London, March 13.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—British prejudice against Germany has even been turned against the kind of dog that bears "the unfortunate name of dachshund," complains a writer in the Daily Mail, who says: "May I protest against the cruel and senseless manner in which some people are treating the unfortunate turnspit dogs because these poor dumb friends have been called by the German name of dachshund. "These dogs, although very popular in Germany, are one of the English turnspits, used in bygone days to turn, by means of a wheel, the roasting jack in the same way as the donkey at Carisbrooke Castle draws water from the well. On account of their name these poor dogs are now being treated not as enemy aliens to whom we are uncharitably lenient, but most unjustly."

WHEN THE TIRED MOTHER GIVES OUT

What Then?—The Family Suffers, the Poor Mothers Suffer—Mrs. Becker Meets This Distressing Situation. Collinsville, Ill.—"I suffered from a nervous break-down and terrible headaches, and was tired all over, totally worn out and discouraged to enjoy life, but as I had four in family and sometimes eight or nine boarders, I kept on working despite my suffering. "I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it, and within two weeks I noticed a decided improvement in my condition and now I am a well woman."—Mrs. ANA BECKER, Collinsville, Ill. There are hundreds of nervous, run-down, overworked women in this vicinity who are hardly able to drag around and who we are sure would be wonderfully benefited by Vinol as Mrs. Becker was.

The reason Vinol is so successful in building up health and strength in such cases is because it combines the medicinal tissue building and curative elements of cod's livers together with the blood making, strengthening properties of tonic iron. We ask every weak, nervous, run-down man or woman in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to benefit.

THE GOOD JUDGE IS UNDER THE SHERIFF'S PROTECTION

WHEN it looks like trouble—remember there's peace and calm content in "the little chew that satisfies."

The whole world is friendly to the man who hands out a smile and a kindly hint about the Real Tobacco Chew. A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away; then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is "The Real Tobacco Chew." That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a real chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it. It fits your teeth. Grinding on ordinary canned tobacco makes you spit too much. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and sweeties. Notice how the fat brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

27 APPLICANTS FOR LICENSES

Liquor Applications Were Read to the Commission Last Night, and Were Referred to Commissioner Pearce, of the Department of Accounts and Finances.

Martin Rustenhoven Drops Out Voluntarily—Proposed Ordinance to Provide Rigid Tuberculin Test Is Submitted and Laid on the Table Temporarily.

Twenty-seven applications for liquor licenses were read to the city commission at last night's meeting. All were referred to Commissioner Pearce, of the department of accounts and finances, who will report his recommendations at the meeting the second Monday in April.

Martin Rustenhoven, who has been in business at the corner of Front and Spring streets, is the only present holder of a license who drops out voluntarily. Zigmunt Sobotka, who has been employed at the saloon of the late Fred Thoney, is an applicant for the Rustenhoven stand.

John H. Lewis, proprietor of the Hotel Marquette, did not file an application. The Hotel Marquette license is desired by Joseph Marier, new bartender at the stand. Gustaf Koopp, of Chocoley town, asks a license covering the stand of the late Mr. Thoney.

Adolph Paris, who was refused a license a year ago because his place of business was outside of the specified limits, has applied for Trombley's stand at 329 West Washington street. Albert O. Engler asks to be permitted to start business in the LaRoche building at 429 South Front street. William J. O'Meara is an applicant for the stand at the corner of Front street and Baraga avenue in the Red, White and Blue block, owned by Mr. O'Meara.

City Officers Reappointed.

City Clerk Dan Donovan and City Treasurer Robert P. Byrne, whose terms expire April 5, were reappointed to their respective offices last night. The appointments were made by Commissioner Pearce and were unanimously confirmed. The salary of the city clerk was declared to be $100 a month, while formerly it was $75 and the fees accruing to the office from now on Mr. Donovan will assist at times with the work of the health department. Treasurer Byrne's salary was declared to be $1,600 a year.

In accordance with action taken last night, the city will provide a surety bond for the city treasurer, the premium to be paid by the municipality. The bond will be surety for state and county money.

Will Amend Ordinance.

An ordinance of seventeen years' standing, prohibiting the establishing of blacksmith shops on Baraga avenue between Front and Third streets, was called to the attention of the commissioners when E. Duhers made a request that he be permitted to open a shop in the old Stewart livery stable building, purchased by him recently. After a lengthy discussion it was decided that blacksmith shops may be established in this block. It was shown that the risk on a blacksmith shop was less than that on a livery stable, although the owner of an adjoining building protested against the opening of a shop because of the hazard. Harlow A. Clark appeared in behalf of Mr. Duhers.

Residents of Bluff street from Seventh to Lincoln petitioned for the rebuilding of that part of the street. The petition was referred to the department of public works.

Commissioner Sink, of the department of public works, was instructed to obtain plans and estimates for a garage to house the automobiles recently purchased by the city for the use of the several departments.

The bond of Louis Cyr, who was given the contract for painting ten rooms in the city hall, was accepted.

Would Provide Rigid Test.

The commission last night received a proposed ordinance to prohibit the keeping in the city of untested cattle. It was drawn at the suggestion of the department of health, when it became known that several owners of cows whose cattle had not been subjected to the tuberculin test were disposing of milk. The ordinance was laid on the table, and objections to its enactment will be heard at the commission's meeting next week. It is as follows:

"Section 1. No person shall keep or have in his possession or control in this city for any period longer than forty-eight hours any cow, ox or other cattle, one year or more of age, which has not within one year next prior thereto been tested for tuberculosis by the hypodermic thermal tuberculin test administered by the health officer or under his authority and direction by any person by him deemed competent, or by any registered veterinarian, and found by the health officer, such authorized person or veterinarian to be free from tuberculosis and other contagious or infectious diseases.

INEXPENSIVE GOWNS FOR GIRL GRADUATES

Amounts Expended for Commencement Frocks at Marquette Must Be Nominal.

Young women graduating from the Marquette High school in June will be required to confine the expenditures for their commencement gowns to nominal sums. This rule has been in effect for two years, but it will be more rigidly enforced this spring than heretofore. Recently a committee of supervisors was named. It is composed of two members of the graduating class, the mother of a member of the class and a member of the high school faculty.

No more will the girls of the graduating class appear on commencement night in gowns costing all the way from $10 to $100 or more. That is the determination of the board of education. Girls from poorer families, who cannot afford elaborate gowns, will no longer be put in the position of endeavoring to keep the pace with their more fortunately situated companions.

The Marquette High school is not the only one in the upper peninsula that is turning its attention to this subject. Recently the girls at Calumet decided that every graduate this spring shall wear a simply-made sailor suit of white, with black ties and black shoes. The idea met with prompt approval. In several of the upper peninsula high schools the girls and boys, alike, have resorted to the use of the cap and gown, such as are worn at colleges.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES AT THE CHURCHES

Began With Palm Sunday and Will Conclude With Celebration of Easter Day.

With Palm Sunday, the Marquette churches began the observance of Holy Week, which comes to a close Good Friday, and is followed by the glad tidings of resurrection on Easter day. Services are being held daily in the Catholic churches, and special services are the rule in the Protestant houses of worship.

At St. Peter's cathedral and St. John's church, Holy Week began with early mass Sunday morning. The principal services in the Catholic churches begin on Maundy Thursday and that night tenebrae is celebrated. The most solemn of the services take place Good Friday.

The churches are now preparing special programs of Easter music. The most elaborate service of the week will be that Good Friday night at St. Paul's Episcopal church. The chorus will sing "The Seven Last Words of Christ," Dubois' sacred cantata. Lynn Whitney, of Houghton, will be the tenor; Miss Flora Retalle the soprano; and Rev. Platte T. Amstutz, the baritone.

The story of the cross has been the theme for more musical settings than almost any other subject. Dubois' noted cantata is better known in France than in America. The composer is a brilliant representative of the modern French school. In 1896 he was made a member of the Paris Conservatoire. His works are numerous, including oratorios, operas and orchestra works. "The Seven Last Words of Christ," was composed while Dubois was chor-master at the Chappelle Ste. Clothilde. Cesar Franck was organist and the first production was on Good Friday, 1867. The work is beautiful, and parts of it intensely dramatic. The text is principally an adaptation of New Testament quotations.

Theatrical

Mary Pickford Today.

In "Behind the Scenes," a release of the Paramount Pictures corporation, with Mary Pickford in the leading role, the Delft theater offers today a picture in which Miss Pickford gives one of the best performances of her career. James Kirkwood plays opposite Miss Pickford in the cast appear such well-known actors as Lowell Sherman, Ida Waterman and Russell Bassett.

A critic in the Motion Picture News says of the production: "When one goes to see Mary Pickford in one of her inimitable characterizations, he expects to witness something out of the ordinary in the general run of films. In the role of the little actress in 'Behind the Scenes' little Mary renders one of the best portrayals of her brilliant career.

"To say that she acts the part of life would no doubt sound trite and unconvincing, and yet in no other way can we express our unbounded admiration. It really seems uncanny to sit and watch the different emotions, such as joy, anger, embarrassment in endless variety depicted on her face, and then to come back to earth, as it were, with the realization that it is only acting.

James Kirkwood, who played the part of Steve Hunter, husband of Dolly Lane (Mary Pickford), directed the piece, and he is to be complimented on both his acting and directing."

Marquette Opera House.

An all-Pathé program will be the feature of the picture program at the Marquette Opera House today. Pathé weekly No. 10, which contains views but recently released, will be shown, and in addition "Picturesque Zuerich, France," a scenic production, and "Happy's Mishap," a comedy.

The Orpheus Comedy Four created much merriment last night with their excellent comedy numbers. The make-up of the quartet is exceptional, and their solo and harmony numbers were well sung.

Tomorrow the opera house will present David Higgins in his original role in the famous racing play, "The Last Dollar." Thursday there will be presented Lew Fields and Vivian Martin in "Old Dutch."

"The Winning of Barbara Worth."

The first legitimate drama to be presented in Marquette in several months will be "The Winning of Barbara Worth," booked for April 5 at the Marquette Opera House. It is a dramatization by Mark E. Swan of Harold Bell Wright's novel. The story is to do with the reclamation of the great Arizona desert. It is more than a love story, and is descriptive of one of the greatest engineering battles ever waged by man against the forces of nature. The dramatist has followed the lead of the novelist and uses his human types as symbols in that great conflict to bring the waters of the Colorado river under control and make them add to the wealth of the world.

FRENCH CONTINUALLY HARASSING ENEMY

British Observer Writes of General Joffre's Operations in the Champagne Region.

London, March 19.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—A British observer with the French forces in Champagne writes the permission of General Joffre to report on the work of the French army, has sent into the Outlook a report on an account of the operations in Champagne covering the three weeks since Feb. 15. In the district midway between Rheims and Verdun, on a fighting front of some five miles, he says, the French have been attacking one point or another every day for three weeks.

"It is a sustained operation, of a different kind to those which we have seen during the winter months," the observer says. "Those were local efforts, lasting a day or two, designed to keep the enemy busy, and prevent him from withdrawing troops elsewhere; this is a sustained effort, made with the object of keeping a constant pressure on his first line of defence, of affecting his use of the railway from Bazancourt to Chalons, a few miles to the north, and of wearing down his reserves of men and ammunition. It may be said that the 15th of February marks the opening of the 1915 campaign, and that this first phase will be an important place when the history of the war comes to be written.

"The nature of the country is entirely different to that in which the British army is fighting. It is one vast plain, undulating, the hills at most 200 feet higher than the valleys, gentle slopes everywhere. The soil is chalky. The only features are the pine woods, which have been planted by hundreds. As each rise is topped, a new stretch of plain, a new set of small woods appear, just like that which has been laid behind. The villages are few and small, most of them are in ruins after the fighting in September; and the troops live almost entirely in colonies of little huts of wood or straw, about four feet high, dotted about in the woods, in the valleys, wherever a little water and shelter is obtainable.

"Lack of villages means lack of roads; this has been one of the great difficulties to be faced; but at the same time, the movement of the wagons and troops is possible to a far greater extent than in Flanders, although it is often necessary to use eight or ten horses to get a gun or a wagon to the point desired. From the military point of view the country is eminently suitable for troops, with its possibilities of concealment, of producing sudden surprises with cavalry, and of manoeuvring generally. It is, in fact, the training ground of the great military center of the Châlons; and French troops have doubtless been exercised over this ground in every branch of military operation, except that in which they are engaged at the present moment.

"What commander, training his men over this ground, could have imagined that the area from Pertuis-lez-Hurlus to Beausjour farm would become two fortress lines, developed and improved for four months; or that he would have to carry out an attack modelled on the same system as that employed in the last great siege undertaken by French troops—that of Sebastopol in 1855? Yet this is what is being done. Every day an attack is made on a trench, on the edge of one

MAJOR MORAHT DISCUSSES WAR'S CHANGING METHODS.

Berlin, March 17.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The complete revision of many methods of warfare, which even experts did not in the least anticipate, are discussed by Major E. Morahit, retired, in a recently published article entitled "The Length of Battles."

No longer ago than 1912, Major Morahit noted, General von Bernhardi wrote "Time and Its Strategic and Tactical Importance" declared that "the battles of the future need not be longer than those of other European wars" and that "one-day battles will be the rule, longer ones the exception."

"General von Bernhardi's conclusions were based on studies of the Boer and Russo-Japanese wars, among others. And yet, within three years of their publication, Major Morahit shows, the predictions of the general have proved to be wrong.

"We certainly will not defend ourselves behind walls and in trenches," wrote General von Bernhardi, and yet "we have been doing just that for more than six months," says Major Morahit. "To all friends of the offensive—and what soldier is not its friend—it surely is painful that we no longer can believe in a war of movement and operation before we think of one of inaction."

"We must understand that of what we had been taught, and we must cling to the good old theories only in case it shall be proven that mistaken leadership led us to adopt the method of long-continued fighting in one position. The verdict is yet to come. It is not the duty of the present to render it but of the future."

In declaring that the battle of the future would be only of a day's duration, General von Bernhardi declared that the unusual physical characteristics of the battles in the Russo-Japanese war, taking place in difficult country and around fortified places, made it no criterion for future conflicts. And yet, Major Morahit points out, trenches and the long drawn-out battle have been the rule from the dunes of Flanders to the hills of the Champagne and the mountains in Carpathia.

As differentiated from former wars, Major Morahit declares, huge losses have not necessarily led to decisive victories or defeats. Some "new impelling force" seems to have entered all the conflicting forces. The general, commenting on the methods of the Japanese in retreating when fire became too accurate and returning to the attack later, predicted the same in the next future war. Yet, says Major Morahit, the French have not lost nerve in the face of terrible losses; the Germans do not lack it in bloody offensive and defensive movements, and heavy sacrifices have not hindered the Russians nor stopped them from returning to the attack again and again.
