

TELL GOVERNORS OF WAR DANGERS

U-BOAT RAVAGES MEAN DISASTER IF NOT CHECKED

Enormous Inroads on World's Shipping Brings U. S. on Edge of Gravest Peril in History.

U. S. MUST ACT QUICKLY

(BULLETIN)
LONDON, May 2, 9:45 p. m.—The British official announcement of the number of vessels sunk in the week ending on Sunday last, shows that thirty-eight vessels of over 1,600 tons each were sunk. Those of less than 1,600 numbered thirteen, and eight fishing vessels were sent to the bottom by submarines or mines.

Washington, May 2.—The enormous inroads on the world's shipping made by German submarines within the last few weeks has brought to American government officials a full realization of the disaster that faces the United States and the allies if the under-sea warfare is not checked.

Governors and state representatives, here today for a national defense conference, will take home to their people a message from the government emphasizing the menace to America and urging that there must be the fullest co-operation by the state in war preparation if Germany is to be defeated.

LANE TELLS OF DESTRUCTION.

Secretary Lane told the conference that the great destruction of ships was threatening the existence of Great Britain and France and menacing the United States. No one, he said, knew the exact number of ships lost recently, but estimates put last week's submarine toll at 400,000 tons. Later he explained that this estimate probably was too high.

Secretary Lansing, in a statement during the day, declared the seriousness of the submarine situation could not be exaggerated, and that it was time the country awoke to the true facts. Reports to the state department give a total of eighty vessels lost in one week, figures much higher than any contained in recent British announcements.

The British mission announced that the rate of destruction in recent weeks had continued unchanged and that it showed no alarming increases. All its members agreed the situation is critical, however, and that the combined ship building facilities of the world can meet the peril, only if their output is increased tremendously.

Announcing the government's program for exercising a more direct control over the country's shipping and ship building facilities, Chairman Donnan of the shipping board, said estimates had reached the board of 200,000 tons of shipping sunk in one week.

SUBS WORK GREAT HAVOC.
The present world's ship tonnage is estimated at less than 50,000,000 tons. In 1916 the entire loss in tonnage due to war causes was put at a little more than 2,000,000 tons, or some 162,000 tons a month. At present the Germans are sinking considerably more than that each week.

A bureau of navigation report, prepared recently, estimated the world's ship construction in 1916 at slightly less than 2,000,000 tons. If the Germans keep up their present rate of destruction, officials admit, without hesitation, that the campaign threatens to sweep clean the seas.

The administration's ship control program will go to congress this week in bills giving the president direct power if needed to take over the country's ships and ship yards. The measures also would put into the president's hands the power to control facilities that compete with ship building.

The bills would give power which the administration believes would not have to be exercised, officials holding that the mere existence of the power would be sufficient. Bills were introduced in congress today to enlarge the powers of the war risk insurance bureau to permit it to insure the lives of officers and men on American merchant ships. Owners of all vessels would be required to take out insurance on the lives of their employees.

Enlargement of the board's power is sought also to enable the government to enter into reciprocal insurance arrangements with governments making war against Germany.

NEW STRIKE IN GERMANY REPORTED FROM HOLLAND

London, May 2, 8:15 p. m.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegraph company from Amsterdam quotes the Berliner Tageblatt as saying that 1,200 employees of the Berlin Co-operative society, the 125 branches of which are mostly supplying the working classes, struck yesterday.

MC ADOO TO GET ALL THE MONEY HE ASKED FOR

House Ways and Means Committee Over-rides Sub Committee Action

Washington, May 2.—Secretary McAdoo announced tonight that the first offering of bonds, authorized under the war finance law, would be a two billion dollar "Liberty Loan" issue, open to popular subscription at par, and that subscriptions would be received until June 15. The bonds will be dated July 1, and will be ready for delivery on that date.

Although many organizations, in addition to the banks of the country, will be utilized in floating the bonds, the twelve federal reserve banks will be designated as central agencies in their respective districts, receive subscriptions, delivering the bonds, and caring for other details. The proceeds of the issue will be deposited in as large a number of banks throughout the country as practicable, and will be withdrawn gradually.

SEMI-ANNUAL INTEREST.

Interest on the bonds will be payable semi-annually on Jan. 1, and July 1. Details as to their denomination have not yet been prescribed, but the lowest denomination, it was announced, will be so small as to place the bonds within the reach of every investor.

Among the agencies which will be authorized to accept subscriptions Mr. McAdoo designated banks, trust companies, private bankers, bond houses, postoffices, express companies, department stores, newspapers and other "volunteers who have come forward in great numbers." Many offers of assistance have been received from women's organizations and as soon as possible the secretary will organize a women's committee to assist in the work of obtaining subscriptions and distributing the issue. A large over-subscription, Mr. McAdoo announced, appears likely.

BERLIN APOLOGIZES TO ARGENTINE FOR SINKING OF VESSEL

Buenos Aires, May 2.—The Argentine government has received a note from the German government expressing regret for the sinking of the Argentine ship Monte Protegido, and adding, that in view of the fact that the Monte Protegido left Pernambuco on Jan. 31 and was in consequence ignorant of the new German measures, the imperial government is disposed to give reparation.

The German minister at Buenos Aires has sent a note to the Argentine minister of foreign affairs, declaring that an imperial squadron will salute, at the first opportunity, the Argentine flag, as a mark of respect.

SWITZERLAND BEGS THAT U. S. DOES NOT STARVE HER PEOPLE

Berne, Switzerland, via Paris, May 2, 2:10 p. m.—There is growing anxiety in Switzerland that the United States may restrict exports to neutral countries, and Edmund Schulthess, president of the federation, today gave the Associated Press a statement of the situation. The president made a warm appeal to President Wilson and the American people not to allow a small sister republic to meet the tragic fate of starvation, which would be her inevitable lot if her imports were reduced, and clearly outlined Switzerland's utter dependence on not only America, but both groups of European combatants.

NORTHWEST GALE TIES UP ALL SHIPPING TO SAULT STE. MARIE

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 2.—No boats have arrived up since yesterday afternoon. A northwest, forty mile storm, accompanied by blinding snow, has prevailed since yesterday afternoon. Reports from Whitefish point state that five boats are held in the ice above the point. One lies near Parisian island and is thought to be the Gleneshee, and a large fleet near Salt Point is hugging the south shore. The Steel Corporation fleet is being held.

OLIN CONCEDES BOUT TO LEWIS AFTER MORE THAN TWO HOURS' FIGHT

Chicago, May 2.—At the end of two hours and thirty-seven minutes of wrestling tonight, John Olin, the Finn wrestler, conceded the match, in which he was pitted against Ed (Strangler) Lewis, to the latter. There was little skill shown throughout the match, each man relying on his strength. Olin claimed he had hurt his right shoulder and gave this as his reason for conceding the match to Lewis.

BALFOUR WILL MAKE SPEECH TO CONGRESS

Head of British Mission Invited to Address Both Houses at Joint Session Saturday Noon.

CONTINUE CONFERENCES

Washington, May, 2.—Foreign Secretary Balfour, head of the British war mission, will appear before both houses of congress Saturday, a privilege never before accorded a British official.

In accepting today invitations of both the senate and house to address them at any time he might prefer, Mr. Balfour suggested Saturday at 12:30 p. m. It is understood he will make a brief speech in each house, though the chief object of his visit will be to pay a call of courtesy, meet the members and to extend the greetings of the British parliament.

TAKE UP TRADE SITUATION.

Mr. Balfour spent most of this afternoon with Secretary McAdoo and Sir Hartman Lever at the treasury department, after devoting the morning to conferences at the mission's headquarters. The trade discussions between British and American officials are said now to have covered practically all the preliminary ground and to be waiting on additional information from England.

The South American trade situation has received almost no attention as yet, for the British have regarded it as a question to be left largely to the United States, because of this country's superior interests and better facilities for dealing sympathetically with that field. On the eve of their departure on a tour of middle-western and eastern states, members of France's war mission held further important conferences with representatives of the United States government.

FRENCH MISSION IN CONFERENCES

Marshal Joffre went to the White House and spent an hour with President Wilson, discussing, among other questions, the dispatch of an expeditionary force to France. The marshal was accompanied by Colonel Spencer Cosby, of the United States army, who acted as interpreter.

President Wilson also conferred with Rene Viviani, head of the commission during an informal luncheon at the White House. Emile Hovelacque, general counselor of the mission, acted as interpreter.

Members of the French naval and military sections met with representatives of Great Britain during the day and there were talks with various American officials. Information regarding all the conferences was withheld. The visitors will leave Washington at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for Chicago aboard a special train, placed at their disposal by the state department. They will arrive about noon Friday.

After being entertained in Chicago, the party will go to Kansas City, St. Louis, Springfield, Ills.—Philadelphia, New York and Boston. From Boston the visitors will return to Washington and resume their conferences. The tour probably will last a week or ten days.

Members of the mission will take with them much data on which they expect to work while travelling. Vice Admiral Chocheprat spent this morning conferring with representatives of the navy department and in the afternoon he visited the naval academy at Annapolis.

Tonight M. Viviani and M. Simon, were guests of honor at a dinner given by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Vrooman while Henry White former ambassador to France, entertained at dinner in honor of Marshal Joffre. Later all the members of the mission attended a private reception.

Tomorrow the Frenchmen will visit the house of representatives. A demonstration, similar to that which developed in the senate when leading members of the commission appeared, is expected.

GERMANS FIGHT STUBBORNLY TO HOLD UP FRENCH

Nivelle's Men Meet With Bitter Resistance in Overcoming Enemy

(By a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press.)

Grand Headquarters, French Army, on the French Front, May 1 (Evening), via London, May 2.—(Delayed.)—Prisoners were still being brought in today as a result of yesterday's French success between Beine and Moronvilliers, and two fierce, though unsuccessful, German counter attacks to the northwest of Mont Haut.

Combatants who have taken part in the recent fighting declare that the German positions are of the strongest character and the resistance most obstinate. A French assaulting wave of infantry found a deep cavern at the foot of a steep cliff in Chivy ravine, west of Craonne, into which the French soldiers threw grenades while their comrades continued to advance up the slope.

When they arrived at the top they observed a column of smoke pouring out of a hole in the summit of the plateau and soon afterward a crowd of Germans, numbering about 200 in all, came out, having climbed 180 steps through a chimney cut in the solid rock from the cavern below. The French had sealed the cliff quicker than the Germans had gone up the stairs and they took all the Germans prisoners.

A German officer was caught in the act of telephoning to his headquarters. He surrendered, holding his arms up with the telephone receiver in one hand.

SUBS GRAVEST DANGER.

[Associated Press War Summary.]
That Germany's submarine arm, not her military arm, is the menace which for the moment is greatest for the future welfare of the United States and the entente allies is recognized by the chancelleries of all the powers which are at war with Germany.

The last days of April saw the underwater boats send to the bottom hundreds of thousands of tons of shipping, which means that huge quantities of ammunition and foodstuffs, the receipt of which would have greatly heartened Great Britain and France, have been irretrievably lost to them and made the pinch of want to those countries, their soldiers and their people more acute.

Impetus is being given to the plans to combat the menace by all the countries at war with Germany and hopes are expressed that shortly a check may be put to the inroads of the submarines into commerce.

FIGHTING AT DEAD-LOCK.

The military activities on all fronts in France and Belgium are still in a stage of apparent deadlock, but the big guns everywhere continue roaring in violent duels and doubtless new phases of engagements of great importance, although the British in Mesopotamia, have driven forward their lines against the Turks and made captives of men, guns and stores, while the Turks have forced out the Russians from Mush, in Turkish Armenia.

The anticipated proffer of peace by the imperial German chancellor will not be given to the reichstag Thursday, but will be withheld for a "more fitting occasion," according to advices reaching Copenhagen. That peace is not uppermost in the minds of all German officials apparently is indicated by the address, before the reichstag at its reopening session, of Dr. Johannes Kaempf, president of the chamber.

NO NEW TAXATION ASKED IN BRITISH WAR BUDGET

London, May 2, 5:35 p. m.—Great Britain's war budget for the federal year, which Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, introduced in the house of commons today, contained no surprises and fewer changes from the existing taxation than did the previous war budget. No new forms of taxation were proposed.

GERMANS ARE A UNIT BEHIND THE KAISER?

At Least Dr. Johannes Kaempf, President of Reichstag, Says So in Speech at Opening of Session.

DEFENDS WAR LEADERS

Amsterdam, via London, May 2.—7:15 p. m.—The German reichstag resumed its session today. The president of the chamber, Dr. Johannes Kaempf, in his opening address, speaking of the entry of the United States into the war, said a new and mighty opponent had joined the ranks of Germany's enemies. President Wilson, in a message to congress, on April 2, he declared, said he was waging war against the Germans in the interests of mankind and on the ground of justice.

ATTACKS WILSON'S VIEWPOINT.

President Wilson, Dr. Kaempf continued, had lost his sight in making this assertion, since he had not stirred a finger to hinder England, when England had announced her war of starvation against Germany, a war in violation of all human and international rights. President Wilson had lost his sight when he rejected the German proposal to secure the lives of Americans on American vessels, in certain routes, which carried no contraband, and by this rejection, exposed his own compatriots to danger and death.

"President Wilson," said Dr. Kaempf, "represents the German people as withdrawn of will of their own and as having been driven into the war by a group of ambitious people, but he tells nothing of the long years of enmity and malcontent against them; nothing of the enemies recently strong expressed will to destroy Germany."

"The German people rose in August 1914, and still fight today to defend their freedom, independence and life. President Wilson says he has no quarrel with the German people, for whom he only entertains sympathy and friendship."

"President Wilson desired, by his message, to sow discord in Germany. As president of the German reichstag, which is elected on the freest franchise in the world, I declare that this effort will come to naught; that it will have no influence on the common sense of our people, and that President Wilson will bite granite."

WILL SUPPORT THE KAISER.

"With our truest heart's blood we established the German kaiserdom, and with our truest heart's blood we shall fight for the Kaiser and the Empire. (renewed applause.) What our forefathers fought for and longed for, what we have achieved on the battle field, will not perish, even at President Wilson's word of command."

"We decline all interference by a foreign government in our internal affairs. If all signs are not misleading the decisive point of the world war is approaching. We see our death-defying troops withstanding the enemies' assaults. Our U-boats will show England how Germans can avenge her nefarious starvation war. We proved recently our financial strength by a sixth war loan. We adhere to our firm belief in Germany's star and in a peace which will secure for all time the Fatherland's happy development."

CHINESE MINISTER IN BERLIN LEAVES GERMANY

Peking, China, May 2.—The foreign office has received information that the Chinese minister to Germany has left Berlin for Denmark.

HANG ALL FOOD SPECULATORS IS PLEA IN SENATE

Senators Flay Group of Men Who Would Grow Rich During War Time

Washington, May 2.—Persistent upward revision of the tentative draft of the war revenue bill by the house ways and means committee today brought the total to be raised up to approximately $1,650,000,000, or within 105,000,000 of the amount originally suggested by Secretary McAdoo and refused by a subcommittee.

Plans now are to raise the remaining $105,000,000 through consumption taxes, if necessary, or, as a last resort, by tariff changes. Agreement has been reached to discuss proposed tariff increases after all other questions have been disposed of. Hope still exists that the committee can agree on many tariff changes without stirring up a partisan fight.

PARTISANSHIP HAS DISAPPEARED.

Partisanship has entirely disappeared in the discussion and in some of the bitterest arguments Democrats have been arrayed against Democrats and Republicans against Republicans.

One of the sharpest clashes of the meeting today was over the question of continuing the policy of secrecy in framing the bill. Members pointed out that the efforts of Democratic Leader Kitchin and others, to keep the proceeding confidential had proved futile and that it would be to the public interest to court the fullest publicity. The proposal was voted down promptly.

Discussion today centered largely about the excess profits tax and developed the old alignment of those who desire to make individual income taxes pay most of the burden, relieving business of it, and others, including Representative Fordney, of Michigan, who is unalterably opposed to advancing income taxes further. The subcommittee's excess profits tax section would double the present rate.

Proposed taxes on wines and cigars also were discussed today. A few minor changes were made in the proposed cigar rates.

CAPTAIN HARRIS, OF ILL-FATED VACUUM, SAFE--REACHES PORT

Liverpool, May 2, 3:10 p. m.—The safety of Captain Harris, five gunners and the third mate and boatswain of the American tank steamer Vacuum, all of whom had been given up for lost, was made known by the captain himself, in a telegram received here today by the American consul, H. L. Washington. This telegram reduces the loss of life to twenty-three, about thirteen of this number being Americans. In increases to eight the number of gunners saved. It also places the loss from the crew at eighteen and the saved at eighteen.

The captain's meagre telegram gave the first definite news of the loss of Lieutenant Thomas, U. S. N., and the death from exposure of F. H. Loree, but did not tell how the survivors reached land. Five gunners arrived safely with Captain Harris.

HEAD OF LAKES NEEDS COAL HELD UP IN SHIPS CAUGHT IN THE ICE

Duluth, Minn., May 2.—It is said that about sixty of the boats being held by the ice between Parisian Island and Whitefish point have coal and it is claimed their cargoes aggregate 420,000 tons. Some of this will go to the Canadians, but the bulk of it will come here. The twin cities and interior points have been receiving coal all-rail for some time, and it is a question whether there would be enough to carry the head lakes and the iron ranges through until navigation opened.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR NEW WOODEN SHIPS TO BE ISSUED SOON

Washington, May 2.—To allay uncertainty among shipbuilders who expect to make contracts for vessels of the great wooden ship fleet, the shipping board announced today that specifications for a standard ship would be ready in the very near future. The standard ship, the announcement said, will be about 280 feet over-all, with a twenty-four depth of hold and with two full decks, and will be capable of developing about 1,500 horse power.

Ottawa, May 2.—To avert far-reaching railway congestion a plan providing for unification of all the Canadian railways, except the Canadian Pacific, into a single system, under the name of the Dominion Railway company, is urged in a report made today by the Royal Commission, appointed to inquire into transportation conditions in Canada.

PRESIDENT AND HIS AIDES SEE LONG STRUGGLE

At National Conference Held in Washington With State Executives Wilson Urges People Be Wakened.

STATES MUST CO-OPERATE

Washington, May 2.—The federal government today took into its confidence governors, and other state representatives, here for a national defense conference, and outlined the problems the nation faces in making war on Germany. Cabinet heads explained the situation and asked aid in putting into effect the government's war measures.

At a second conference tomorrow the council of National Defense will present a definite program to the states for coordinating their work in carrying out military and economic plans.

WILSON ASKS CO-OPERATION.

President Wilson received the delegates today at the White House and urged that the states draw all energies and efforts together into common action.

Secretary Baker, and other war department officials, explained the new army bill and said the success of the war army rested with the states and depended on their co-operation. At a later meeting Secretary of Labor Wilson, and agricultural department officials, discussed food problems and labor needs and their relation to success. Tomorrow Secretary Redfield will put before them commercial conditions.

Secretary Lane advised the governors to let their people know the government is preparing for a long war and that every resource of the country must be developed to its utmost if the United States hopes to win. Germany, he declared, is putting up the greatest fight of history, and, fighting on the defensive, will be hard to defeat.

WAR WILL BE LONG ONE.

Secretary Daniels asked the aid of the states in recruiting the navy personnel to 150,000 after the new naval bill is passed. Plans for the new army were outlined by Secretary Baker. No forecast, he said, is possible concerning the length of the war and prudence directs the country to enter on it as if it would be long.

Mr. Baker defined the war department's policy concerning home guard units and said they would be encouraged. The department, he said, desired to preserve the identity of the national guard and hoped to attach to their regimental designation the states from which they come. He deplored the prejudice against conscription and asked the governors to do what they could to overcome it.

Food and labor questions occupied the entire time of an afternoon meeting. Secretary Wilson told what the labor department is doing to find men for the farms and put forward a plan for drawing men from the factories to do farm work during harvest time. Industrial establishments, he said, could be shut down for repairs when crops are to be harvested, and release a vast army of men for the work.

ANACONDA COPPER CO. SHOWS GREAT PROFITS IN ITS 1916 REPORT

New York, May 2.—Enormous profits and extensive operations are disclosed in the pamphlet report of the Anaconda Copper Mining company for 1916, published today. Total revenues of $150,540,688 are shown as compared with $87,386,807 in 1915 and a balance for dividends of $50,828,373 contracted with $16,695,806 in the preceding year.

PATRIOTIC MEETING!

Citizens of Marquette are urged to assemble at the city hall tonight to plan an organization to assume general direction of the community's participation in the war.

Plans for a "rally day" will be outlined. Marquette's enlistment quota is 140 men. Only seven have responded to the call. It is intended to have this condition remedied. A full representative attendance is expected.

A RECRUITING CAMPAIGN.

Plans for a recruiting day in Marquette have been outlined, and will be developed by a committee of civilians. One of the reasons for the slow recruitment throughout the country has been the lack in the army of a sufficient recruiting establishment to meet the present emergency.

The discrepancy is explained more by the efficiency of local aids to recruiting than by any particular difference between counties in patriotism and loyal thought for the welfare of the country.

One of the principal reasons for slack recruitment in Marquette county has been the lack of effective organization of civilians to help with the work.

It is pleasing to know that this work is now to be taken up in Marquette, and it can be confidently predicted that excellent results will flow from it.

SOLDIERS FOR FRANCE.

It is not surprising that the press dispatches indicate a growing purpose on the part of the government to send troops to France with much less delay than is advised by the army staff.

Between the state department and the army officials there has been a certain conflict of opinion over this question, due to their varying viewpoints.

The state department naturally gives emphasis to the political side; the army officials to the technical side. The former sees that the moral effect of the presence of American forces in France would be great not only in heartening the allies, but as a sign to the Germans that the United States has engaged in the war with the purpose of using all its resources to bring victory.

When so much is to be said on the two sides of the question, it is to be expected that the representations of our allies will carry considerable weight.

subject will regret this, and it may well be inferred that the allies will regret it, also. The gain in morale that would come from the appearance of Americans in France would be greatly increased if Colonel Roosevelt had been instrumental in raising the original force and was especially attached to it.

PANNING CONGRESS.

It is now authoritatively settled that any American has a perfect right to criticize congress to his heart's content. From the number of Americans who have lately been engaged in this engrossing pastime, it might be doubted whether the right had ever been called in question.

The supreme court has now decided that there is no such crime in the American category as congressional lese-majesty. Congress has no power, express or implied, to punish any criticism that falls short of "physical destruction of the right of the house to carry on its proceedings."

Representative government lives by criticism of its servants, and thrives on it. So whenever any congressman or group of congressmen give cause of offense, out with the hammers!

Advices from Lansing are said to indicate that the Michigan troops may soon be on their way to France for preliminary training behind the battle lines, preparatory to entry into the trenches. The proposal that a small American force shall be sent without delay is apparently growing in favor.

Navigation of Lake Superior is, for a time, held up by the ice barrier at Whitefish bay, as it has been so often in other years. The boats that have ventured into it have made practically no progress, and it is impossible to predict when they will get through.

Editorial Opinion

A League of Honor.

Foreign Minister Ballou has performed a service to the United States in the frank statement he recently made to the American public regarding the relations of this country with the allies.

"I am told," he said, "that there are some doubting critics who seem to think that the object of the missions of Great Britain and France is to inveigle the United States out of its traditional policy and to entangle it in a formal alliance, secret or public, with European powers."

This is reassuring as regards the intentions of the British and French governments and of our own administration. It is also a graceful and significant tribute to American honor. All our allies are bound together by iron-clad agreements. Their fight has become our fight. It might be regarded as a fine opportunity to bind us by similar pledges, thereby guaranteeing the use of all our resources into the bitter end in their behalf.

Such mutual confidence is a strange phenomenon in the present-day world. Berlin, with its penchant for reducing solemn treaties to "scraps of paper," is solemly sworn to the idea of a great co-operative purpose by their mere word of honor.

Meat Prices in the Future.

We are informed by competent authorities that there is no prospect of cheaper meats. Even one meatless day a week, were it universal, could hardly affect the situation. Prices may fluctuate somewhat, according to the seasons, but the era of cheap meats is over.

The selective conscription law is distinctly a great measure of emergency preparedness against a great possible crisis. It is calculated to make the nation "good and ready" for any contingency that may befall.

stripped of their efficient labor, basic industries of their skilled workers, nor families of their necessary breadwinners. The aim of the selective principle is to "adjust the burden to the necessities of families, to the needs of the nation, to the obligations of citizens."

When a democratic measure, the law will recognize no skin deep distinctions of wealth or social class. The son of the laborer and the son of the millionaire will be as equal in the eyes of enforcement as they are "under the skin."

The selective conscription law is distinctly a great measure of emergency preparedness against a great possible crisis. It is calculated to make the nation "good and ready" for any contingency that may befall.

There are signs that the great war is drawing toward its final phases, and the gigantic conflict may collapse from sheer inability of the combatants to stand the increasing drain—the weak link in the chain may snap in a moment and precipitate the end.

Our prospective great national army may not be called upon to fire a real shot in the war. And then, again, it may. The government does not propose to gamble recklessly on a speedy end of the war; to be content with the "part of parabrot;" to rely on the British fleet for protection. The nation will get ready to do its own fighting for its own ends, if necessary, on a scale commensurate with its size, its resources, its stake in the good government of the world, its history.

Therefore the great measure of national preparedness which passed both houses of congress last Saturday. As a convincing proof that Uncle Sam is in earnest, and is not to be dealt with as a fat and negligible entity that military bullies can safely leave out of the reckoning, we believe it will operate, by sheer moral effect, to hasten the just and honorable peace which all of the peoples are longing for.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

A Laugh Or Two

Like Life.

Senator La Follette said the other day in Madison: "Each outlook has its advantages and its disadvantages. It's so with everything. That is life."

"Thus the man who is satisfied is not likely to improve his position, and the man who improves his position is not likely to be satisfied."

Looked Like an Attack.

The late Bishop Edsall, of Minnesota, was very strongly opposed to the too-short skirt, the too-decollete blouse, the too transparent silk stockings, and other vagaries of fashion.

Bishop Edsall once began a sermon in Duluth with the words: "I shall take my text from Revelation, but the ladies need not start—I have no intention of attacking modern dress."

The Come-Back.

A bachelor at a house party at the late Richard Harding Davis' West Chester estate once spoke scoffingly of marriage.

"It's easy enough for a man to get married," he said. "All he has to do is to hunt up a bigger fool than himself."

"But in the case of some men," said Mrs. Davis, from the tea-table, "wouldn't that be rather difficult? And now do let me give you some more tea?"

La Follette's Defense.

"La Follette's defense," said Poultry Masters, the Pittsburgh jurist, "seems to me as confused as the swan song of the burgess who was deposed from office for chicken stealing."

When a Jury Disagrees.

A story is going the rounds concerning Sir Edward Carson, which is, at all events, typical of the man.

When the new first lord arrived at the admiralty he summoned the heads of departments and told them what he required of them.

It was a brief address, and dwelt principally on the need for closer cooperation, but the sting was in the tail.

"Gentlemen," he concluded, "in my profession, when a jury disagrees, it is discharged. I don't think I need to say any more."—Boston American.

Behind the Times.

"Time flies in the trenches," said War Correspondent Frederick Palmer in New York. "There's more fun than you'd believe in the trenches. And how time flies there, to be sure!"

"I saw a young soldier sit down one day to write a letter. He jerked a stream of ink out of his fountain pen to make it run, and then he said to his chum:

"What day is it, Bill?" "Tuesday," said Bill. "The seventeenth."

"Tuesday the seventh of what, Bill?" "March."

"Tuesday, the seventeenth of March—er—1915 or 1916, Bill?"

Author No Asset.

At a local bazaar they were offering autographed copies of books of Indianapolis authors.

"Here's a very delightful book, suitable for a gift, and autographed by the author. Only $1.50," said the smiling manager of the booth.

"A dollar and a half?" gasped the prospective purchaser, a little woman who held her tempted purse close to her breast.

"Yes, $1.50. The autograph, you know, has an especial value."

"Why, I can get a copy of that book at a down town store for $1."

"Yes, I know you can, but not autographed by the author."

The prospective purchaser's face suddenly took on a look of high wisdom and then she blurted:

"Oh, well, I know who wrote it anyhow."—Indianapolis News.

Twisted Sox.

"I suppose you have heard," said the fat plumber, "that stockings should be selected to match the eyes of the wearer?"

"No; I'm not up on styles," the thin carpenter confessed.

"Yep, that's the way it goes awright." "Fashions do beat all."

"Imagine going into a store and asking for some blue stockings to match your wife's eyes."

"Yes, or trying to pick out a shade to match some guy with pink eyes."

"Or buying half a pair of stockings for a one-eyed man."

"Or watered silk for a man with a cataract."

"Or black and blue ones for a gink who has been in a fight."

"I can think of a situation that beats any we have suggested."

"Think of going into a store and asking for a pair of twisted sox for a cross-eyed person."

"You win!"

WAR SPIRIT GROWS IN COPPERDOM

Patriotic Affairs Supersede Everything Else in Holding the Public Interest.

In the copper country the war has superseded every other public interest and the enthusiasm is growing, at least in patriotic expression. Enlistment in various branches of the service also is growing.

Recruits are wanted for the navy, for the engineers and for the infantry and the two last named branches are getting them.

Engineers' Battalion Sure. Colonel J. P. Peternann, of Calumet, entrusted with the duty of forming a battalion of engineers in the copper country, is authority for the statement that this battalion is assured.

Houghton's Big Meeting. The big mass meeting to bring the Houghton enlistment excitement to a zenith takes place in the armory tonight. The security league will have an outside drill. A band will draw a crowd to the armory, speeches will be made and the recruits already enrolled will be sworn in with solemnity.

For Calumet Engineers. Clarence J. Williams, Martin L. McAndrews, Phillip R. Learmonth, Joseph C. Hart, John J. Cleary, Albert H. Fisher, Joseph Axford, George A. Schneider, Hugh J. King, Angus N. Tennant, William F. Jones, Anthony N. Dellan, Harry L. Adams, Stephen C. Hill.

Additional applications issued yesterday by John E. Mackey, in charge of the effort to secure men for the Fort Sheridan officers' training camp, in the south end of Houghton county, were to the following:

Arthur B. Gilliam, foreman of the Stratton handle factory, Atlantic, Douglas S. Buchanan, clerk of the New Auglaize and New Baltic Mining companies, Houghton. A. L. Pollard, electrical engineer with the Houghton County Electric Light company, Houghton.

Houghton Military Notes. Superintendent Laist, of the Quincy smelter, has given leave of absence to Joseph Walters of his office force, to act as clerk for Lieutenant Lamb. Mr. Walters was company clerk for Company G on the border.

G. M. Schwarz, giving the University of Wisconsin as his address, took an application blank for the Fort Sheridan officers' training camp at the Houghton County Loan & Investment company's office yesterday.

Chester Deacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deacon, of 233 College avenue, has advised his parents that he has enlisted at St. Louis, Mo., for the regular army and is on his way to join his regiment at Nogales, Ariz.

Merrill Weissmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weissmiller, 215 Vivian street, Hancock, finds life in the navy lots of fun. He is with the Hancock reserve on the Atlantic seaboard and apparently is enjoying every minute of his experience. In one letter he says:

"About half of the division left for home today. I am glad I am not in their boots."

In the same letter, speaking of the treatment accorded the men, Merrill touches on a thing dear to the heart of youth, the grub, describing that night's supper as follows:

"Our mess and conditions are getting much better. For supper we had oyster stew, salmon salad, potatoes, cold roast beef, tea, bread and butter."

It appears that Merrill and three other boys from Hancock have been assigned to guard duty on an interned German ship. He enjoys this work as he would a picnic.

"All we do is keep dressed up in clean clothes and guard four hours on and four off. We live in first class passenger cabins with electric lights electric heaters and every other accommodation you could wish for. We may be detailed here as long as the United States holds this ship, or we can go to sea in a first class cruiser."

Merrill's letters are those of a boy on his first long trip away from home and would not be of particular value to anyone seeking military information, but the following quotation shows where the young sailor is "at":

"I did not get my picture taken in uniform because I thought I might not pass the exam, and if I came back I would not want to have anything to do with a uniform, if I could not fill it."

This boy's letters indicate that the Hancock reserve is enjoying its service in the navy and that the boys are well and eager to see more of it.

HOUGHTON COUNCIL MATTERS.

Expected Park Addition Will Be Invited to Come Into Village Today.

The regular May meeting of the Houghton village council takes place this afternoon and several questions of unusual moment are expected to come up for consideration.

Not the least of these is the question of forcing the Park Addition and Dakota Heights into the village. There is reason to believe that the water committee will make a recommendation to this effect this afternoon.

The situation is this: The Park addition is the finest residential section of Houghton by far, and though it is not a part of the corporation, it has Houghton village water for which it pays twice the village rate. It naturally has the benefit of the Houghton fire department on occasion.

Another question that may come up is the cow question. The village poundmasters recently appointed went on duty Tuesday, May 1, and the council may have some suggestions to make to them, as by this time cow complaints should begin to come in.

The only matter actually referred to a committee at the last meeting was the publication of the minutes. It is expected the finance committee will report favorably on it today.

THAT MOTORCYCLE COP.

Expected Committee on Highways and Bridges Will Recommend Him.

The Copper Country Automobile club has taken up with the Houghton county supervisors' committee on highways and bridges the question of a motorcycle cop to prevent automobile speeding.

The matter was referred to the committee by the county board at the April meeting and the automobile club has advised the committee that it is the sense of the members of the club that such an officer would be a good investment for the county. It is believed that the committee will recommend the appointment of such an officer at the meeting next Tuesday.

The resolution that the committee is considering gives the officer $100 a month, he to provide his own mount. He is to be named by the sheriff.

WOMEN STEADY WORKERS.

It used to be said that women could not be depended upon like men to work steadily, and, consequently, ought not to expect so much pay as men employed at similar work.

While it would be foolish for any young woman to stay at work when physically unfit, it is believed that most women now continue at their work as constantly as men. Any woman who is unable to do so, should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the old, reliable medicine for women, and get her health and energy back.

SHERIFF'S WARNING EFFECTIVE.

Automobilists Without Licenses Promise to Get Busy Right Away.

The warning from Sheriff Trudell, published yesterday, that he will arrest motorists who have not secured 1917 licenses had a good effect.

BASEBALL

St. Louis, May 2.—Detroit's timely hitting behind Daus's good twirling beat St. Louis today. In the first Young singled, took second when Shuttun flubbed and scored on Heilmann's double. In the eighth Veach was hit, stole second and scored on a single by Vitt. After the first inning St. Louis got but one man as far as third. Two fast double plays by St. Louis cut off several runs for Detroit.

Chicago, 8; Cleveland, 3. Cleveland, May 2.—Chicago won the first game of the series from Cleveland today. Chicago hit three pitchers hard in the fifth and sixth innings, scoring seven runs on three triples, two doubles, two singles, a pass and a sacrifice fly.

Score: R. H. E. Chicago . . . 10003400—8 11 2 Cleveland . . . 000100200—3 7 2 Batteries: Williams and Schalk; Cumber, Smith, Gould and O'Neil.

New York, 2; Washington, 0. Washington, May 2.—Washington was allowed only four scattered hits here today and New York won. New York's first run came on two singles and an out; the other on two successive doubles.

Score: R. H. E. New York . . . 010000100—2 9 1 Washington . . . 00000000—0 4 1 Batteries: Fisher and Nunnaker; Johnson and Ainsmith.

National League. Cincinnati, 1; Chicago, 0. Chicago, May 2.—A world's record was established here today in the game between Chicago and Cincinnati, each club going nine innings without a hit or run. The game was a fine pitching duel with Toney and Vaughn doing the pitching for their respective clubs. The game was won by Cincinnati in the tenth inning, 1 to 0. After one man was out, Kopf singled to right field. The next man flied out, but Kopf went to third on an error. Thorpe then sent a slow grounder to Vaughn who fended the ball but seeing there was no chance of catching Thorpe at first tossed to Wilson to catch Kopf at the plate. Wilson was not expecting the play and Kopf scored.

Score: R. H. E. Cincinnati . . . 00000000—1 2 0 Chicago . . . 00000000—0 0 2 Batteries: Toney and Huhn; Vaughn and Wilson.

Brooklyn, 2; New York, 2. New York, May 2.—New York and Brooklyn played a fourteen-inning game here today, the score being 2 to 2.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT. Judge O'Brien Imposes Sentences on Four from Criminal Calendar.

In his effort to clear up the criminal calendar of the Houghton county circuit court, without putting the county to the expense of jury trials, Judge O'Brien held a late session Tuesday afternoon and disposed of four cases.

Massimo Pucci, of Baltic, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm, having shot two men in a row two weeks ago, was sentenced to pay a fine of $150 and $50 costs to avoid a six months' sentence in Marquette. He paid. He also was charged with carrying concealed weapons and was placed on probation for one year under this charge.

Luiz Trijan, of Winona, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was given ten days in the county jail. Trijan is the man who was so badly beaten at Winona, apparently while he was trying to get his weapon out of concealment. Judge O'Brien evidently was moved by Trijan's battered appearance.

William Madigan, of Calumet, charged with keeping his saloon open on Sunday, was fined $25 and $10 costs.

Frank Dragonich was fined $150 and $50 costs or six months at Marquette on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. He was given time to raise the money.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with nasty, muddy complexions, we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Adv.

FIRST 'LIBERTY LOAN' READY FOR PEOPLE

Secretary McAdoo Announces Offering Can Be Subscribed to Until June 15.

Washington, May 2.—The rising sentiment in congress for legislation to meet the nation's food problems broke out in the senate today in a debate that started over the high price of seeds, but developed into denunciations of food speculators, with predictions that the best way to deal with them was to string them to lamp posts, or put them behind prison bars.

Senators from farming states denied that there is any real shortage of staple foods in the United States. Senator John Sharp Williams declared there had been a hysteria throughout the country and that, the cause of high prices was largely psychological. He said he believed the German corruption fund, recently unearthed in a federal court in New York, may have been responsible for the hysteria.

Word should go straight out from the senate, Senator Williams said, that there is no shortage of food. Senator Nelson and McComber agreed that there is no reason to fear a shortage.

LAMP-POST FOR SPECULATORS.

The attack on the speculators was led by Senators Thomas and Borah. The Colorado senator declared they were the real enemies of the nation, expressed the hope congress would not adjourn without legislation that would remedy the evil and said the lamp-post is the thing to cure such speculation.

Senator Borah predicted a world famine if he war lasts two years, and if extraordinary and sustained efforts are not made here to meet the food problem. He attacked the packers, declaring they made profits, and said speculation and monopoly in food stuffs made millions for those who were responsible and made "pans of the people." He favored conscription of food, and government possession of the packing companies. Food speculation, he said, would not be ended until the speculators "are put in stripes behind the bars."

Continuing its policy of presenting only the best and biggest productions the Opera House management announces the opening of the dramatization of Jules Verne's celebrated novel, "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," on Thursday, May 10th for an engagement of two days. This wonder picture which has just completed extended engagements at the Broadway Theater, New York; the Studebaker Theater, Chicago; and the Washington theater, Detroit, was made possible through the marvelous inventions of the famous Williamson Brothers, who discovered the method of taking motion pictures at the bottom of the sea.

"Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," is a captivating love story, woven around Jules Verne's masterpiece of imaginative fiction of the same title. With the floor of the ocean as the stage for this photoplay the story of Captain Nemo's conquest of the terrors of the deep is thrillingly told. The famous submarine "Nautilus" which fifty years ago was considered the height of impossibility, but which has come to be too true a reality, is seen in this photoplay descending to the bottom of the ocean. Human figures step from the boat and enact their parts in the thrilling drama. Hand-to-hand battles with a devil-fish, hair-breast escape from death-dealing sharks and a solemn undersea funeral at Captain Nemo's grave are some of the thrills that are provided in this scientific and highly entertaining feature.

Two performances will be given daily, at 2:15 and 8:15. Seats will be reserved for the evening performance and will be placed on sale at the box office next Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

whether Act No. 102 of the Public Acts of 1907 is repealed by implication by Act No. 188 of the Public Acts or by any other act since passed. Act No. 102 of 1907 prohibits the taking of fish in waters of Little Bay de Noquette with any form of net. Act No. 188 of 1911 permits the use of certain nets in the waters of Green Bay, within the counties of Delta and Menominee. The Little Bay de Noquette empties into Green Bay and the question is whether or not its waters can be considered as the waters of Green Bay, and consequently open to fishing by nets. In an opinion that this is an improper construction of the language of Act No. 188. In other words, Act 102 specifically names the waters within which fishing by net is prohibited. Little Bay de Noquette is a distinct body of water, and particularly specified as being closed by the act just mentioned. The territory specified in Act 188 undoubtedly applies to the waters of Green Bay outside of the boundaries specified in Act 102. As I have therefore stated, in my opinion, Act 102 of the Public Acts of 1907, is still in effect and is not altered, amended or repealed by Act 188 of the Public Acts of 1911."

GERMANS RIFLED CAPTURED SHIP

Story of Captain of Norwegian Steamer Storvaas Illustrates Their Methods.

Christiania, Norway, April 15.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The proceedings before a naval court regarding the sinking of the Norwegian steamer Storvaas have again shown an interesting example of how some German naval officers behave when sinking and looting neutral ships. The sworn deposition of the ship's captain, Gude Due, before the court says:

"The Storvaas, ballasted, sailed from Moss, Norway, bound for the United States to touch at Tyne, England, for coal. Midway between Norway and England, in the North sea, March 14, a U-boat was observed astern. The Storvaas immediately was stopped and the crew ordered into the boats. While these got lowered, the U-boat fired twice. The captain rowed over to the U-boat and was ordered to take one German officer and three marines to the Storvaas. The Germans placed bombs in the engine room and tunnel, took the launch, filled it with provisions, butter, sugar, coffee, canned goods, soap, etc. After that they helped themselves to the crew's personal belongings.

"The German officer now on board the Storvaas, a lieutenant twenty years old, was second in command of the U-boat. He went downstairs into the captain's cabin. Captain Gude Due went after him and found him pocketing a scarf pin, a silver cigarette case and two meerschaum pipes belonging to the captain. Captain Gude Due took these articles back from him, caught him by the collar and led him out of the cabin, saying he would rather see these things go to the bottom of the ocean than to the Germans.

"The German officer then ordered the captain down into the boat and after a while came out with a load consisting of the captain's belongings, clothes, pillows, table cloths, napkins, nautical instruments, charts, chronometer, compass, stationery, picture frames and pictures, books and two Norwegian silk flags. To the captain he said:

"Look here, you could just as well have given it to me, now I take it anyway."

"While their leading officer was looting the captain's cabin the three marines were working likewise in the other cabins—one, who likely was a petty officer, looted the cabins of the Storvaas' officers, while the marines rifled the fore-cabin."

"The German officer had promised Captain Gude Due to tow the life boats nearer land, but when the Storvaas was sunk the U-boat signalled to steer west while it, at full speed, steered in the opposite direction.

"After having suffered great hardships for three days and nearly given up hope of being saved, both boats reached the Norwegian coast, and all were saved. The Norwegian press reports the affair under such headlines as: "Germans stole on board Storvaas"; "U-boat officer broke into captain's cabin and rifled his personal belongings"; and "German freedom of the seas."

FRENCH WILL TAKE COUNTER MEASURES

Liquidation of Property of Frenchmen Proposed by Germans Means Confiscation.

Paris, April 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The decree that recently appeared in the German official imperial journal ordering the liquidation of the property and investments of French subjects in Germany, including Alsace-Lorraine, is regarded here as a step toward confiscation. Such is the view of one of the best informed French statesmen, Louis Puech, deputy from Paris, former minister of commerce and now chairman of the commerce committee of the chamber of deputies.

"The official decree presents this liquidation as a measure of reprisals," said Monsieur Puech to the Associated Press today. "Reprisals for what? No property of German subjects in France has been liquidated; no provision has been made for such action. We have sequestered the property owned by our enemies in France pending the settlement of accounts after the war, but it has been done in conformity to all individual rights."

"The Germans," M. Puech continued, "have the advantage of us in the matter of foreign investments. French subjects owned at least 1,500,000,000 francs worth of real estate in Alsace and Lorraine, to say nothing of heavy investments in German securities and commercial paper. We have no detailed figures, but it is probable that French interests in Germany are double the total of German holdings in France."

"Germany's war upon us," Mr. Puech declared, "was economic as well as military from the outset. As soon as they were installed in our territory they began a methodical impoverishment of the regions they didn't hope to hold permanently."

"They took tools and engines from the factories, raw materials from store-houses, agricultural products and implements from the farms and furniture from houses; they cracked safes everywhere to lay hands on bonds and money. In certain regions of the north of France they even despoiled the population of their savings before driving them from their homes. Consequently it is not surprising that they confiscate the property of French citizens in Germany."

"The intention of the Germans was to make sure that whether they vanquished on the field of battle or not, they would put France into such a state of dilapidation that she would be eliminated for years from competition with German industries."

Asked as to what action France and her allies contemplated in reply to the confiscation of property in Germany, Mr. Puech said that the commerce committee of the chamber was in favor of concerted action of all the entente allies. He says Germany will force all her enemies to combine all the pledges they hold in the form of German investments in their territory and expressed the belief that, if the United States should join in such a movement, Germany would be readily brought to reason. "As far as France is concerned," he said, "the Germans have the advantage in this respect."

Speaking of French treatment of German owners of property in France, M. Puech said the authorities had acted fairly. The functionaries put in charge of sequestered property have no authority to either liquidate or administer it. It is in every case a trust. There have been cases in which stocks of perishable goods were sold for the account of German owners, others in which stocks needed for the national defense have been requisitioned, but with full accounting for the benefit of the interested parties. In one case, by reason of the great rise in the price of goods, a German's stock that inventoried about 1,000,000 francs was sold for more than 3,000,000.

"Of course," concluded M. Puech, "if the Germans continue to treat the property of our subjects as at present, we would be silly to give her subjects the full benefit of the benevolence we have shown them thus far."

There is apt to be something the matter with the man who is always finding fault with the neighbors.

THE MAGIC FLUID

Few drops and corns or calluses loosen and lift off with fingers. No pain!

The world owes thanks to the genius in Cincinnati who discovered freezeone, the new ether drug.

Tiny bottles of the magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents. You simply apply a few drops of this freezeone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callosity. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose and shriveled that you lift it off with the fingers. Not a bit of pain or soreness is felt when applying freezeone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin or flesh.

For a few cents one can get rid of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, as well as painful calluses on the bottom of feet. Everyone who tries freezeone becomes an enthusiast because it really doesn't hurt or pain any particle. Genuine freezeone has a yellow label. Look for yellow label.

Ishpeming Department

SWIFT AND COMPANY WILL REMODEL PLANT

Ishpeming Branch of Packing Concern Will Be Enlarged and Otherwise Improved.

Swift & Co. has awarded Louis Erickson & Son a contract to enlarge, and completely remodel its Ishpeming branch. The improvements, which are to be completed within the next ninety days, have been contemplated for more than a year, as the building is not large enough to insure the proper handling of the business. The contractors will begin work at once and hope to have the work completed by August 1. Architects in the employ of the company prepared plans for the enlarged building some months ago, but it was only recently that the officials of the corporation decided to have the work done.

The roof of the present building will be raised six feet, giving more room on the second floor, also in the upper portion of the refrigerator, where the ice supply is stored. The space on the southwest corner of the lot, which is now used for loading of the trains, will be included in the addition. The loading will hereafter be done from an entrance on the front street side, near the southwest corner. By taking in this ground, additional room will be provided for the office, which will be divided into two separate rooms, one for the manager and the other for the bookkeepers.

The basement will be enlarged to take in the additional space on the southwest corner and the refrigerator will be considerably enlarged, while the space for the storage of ice will be increased about 50 per cent.

Swift & Co. has one of the finest refrigerators in the upper peninsula and with the improvements contemplated there will be very few plants north of Milwaukee that will be more convenient. The employees, both in the clerical and shipping departments, have been handicapped for some time through lack of room and at times the refrigerator has been crowded to capacity with fresh meats and merchandise. The storage room in the basement is used principally for cured meats.

Under the plans outlined, the force will have space on the second floor that was not possible to provide in the present building. In spite of the fact that there is a room at the front, the ceiling is too low to use this room to advantage, either as an office or for storage, while it has never been possible to install either an elevator or erect a stairs without taking up space that is needed for other purposes.

THEATRICAL.

At Ishpeming theater today, matinee and night, there will be an opportunity to see William Farnum, one of the most celebrated of screen stars in his first Fox super-production, "The Price of Silence," a stirring plea for the children of the factories.

In "The Price of Silence" Mr. Farnum has the part of a United States senator who devotes his life to fighting for the factory child's right to live. Many of the scenes of this photoplay are laid, of course, in the senate chamber at Washington.

Director Lloyd decided that it would be foolhardy and wasted labor and money, to attempt the building of a "set" in the studio to represent the big senate room at the national capital.

The California state authorities were communicated with, and the William Fox company received permission to stage as many scenes as it wished, on the floor of the senate in the capital at Sacramento.

The legislative halls were empty when the company arrived at the capital. Within fifteen minutes, hundreds of "supers" were seated at the senators' desks, and in the visitors' gallery above.

News of what was being done filtered rapidly through the offices in the building, and simultaneously with the rumor of the project, desks were closed with a bang, and stenographers leaped for hats and coats.

State Senator Birdsall led a delegation of his brother lawmakers to the scene, and the result of the whole affair was that Director Lloyd substituted real senators, and real state officials for the "supers" he had thought necessary. "The law's all right," said most of them, "but—so are the movies." Conway and Day, who present a novelty comedy act, will be at the Ishpeming theater tonight and tomorrow night.

William Walker at Butler.

Lillian Walker, known in Finland as "Dimples," will be seen at the Butler tonight in "Sally in a Hurry," a Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature, which tells a story of a lass whose dreams came true, by Van Beuren Powell.

There are many attractive human interest touches in this delightful photoplay. The scenes showing the stars modest home and her aunt suffering from rheumatism and her mischievous little sister and brother are attractive. The first performance tonight will begin at 7 o'clock, new time.

CONSERVING FOOD SUPPLY IMPORTANT

Prominent Men of Marquette County Discuss Ways of Increasing Crops.

Although the Marquette county men who met in the Y. M. C. A. building Tuesday afternoon did not perfect an organization, as planned, the meeting will doubtless bring accomplishment along the lines of increasing the output of food products and the conservation of foodstuffs.

It was expected that W. J. Thompson, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., who spoke in Marquette yesterday, would in present to give an address on "What War Means," but the train on which he was traveling was delayed, and he did not arrive in Marquette until that evening. However, a delegation of prominent Marquette men and several from Negaunee attended the meeting, and some forty or more Ishpeming men were present. The meeting was presided over by M. M. Duncan, general manager and vice president of the Cleveland-Chiefs Iron company. Excellent suggestions were offered by different speakers. Among those who talked on the food situation were R. L. Walker, county agricultural agent; J. H. Kaye, of the Normal; J. R. Van Evera, Simon Anderson, Morgan Jopling, of Marquette; M. M. Duncan, W. P. Bolden and A. J. Yungbluth, of this city, and Orr Schurtz, superintendent of the Negaunee public schools.

Immediate Action Desired.

It was the consensus of opinion that steps should be taken immediately to arouse the farmers but others, to the great necessity of increasing food production during the coming growing season. The farmers, one speaker pointed out, could be depended upon to do their share so far as putting seed into the ground goes, but steps should be taken to provide them with all the help they will need in the fall, to harvest the crops. The labor problem is an important one and will require the attention of the public. If sufficient labor can be secured in the fall nothing will be lost, but if the farmers are not given help millions of dollars worth of grain and foodstuffs will never be harvested.

Co-operate With Farmers.

The speakers were unanimous in the opinion that an organization to work on to-operative lines with the farmers and those planting gardens will accomplish much good. The people of the cities, and particularly those at the head of the movement, must, it was urged, get closer to the farmers in the townships, if they want to obtain the best results. One of the speakers remarked that it was a difficult matter to reach some of the farmers of Marquette county. Several months ago, he said, letters were sent to all of the teachers in the rural schools, requesting that they obtain data from the farmers in their district, in order that steps might be taken to give them help during the coming season. The farmers, he declared, were of the impression that the information was wanted in order to increase their taxes, and as a result very few of them complied with the request. Among the questions asked the farmers was how many head of cattle they owned. This information was desired to get a line on what could be expected from the farmers in the matter of supplying milk, cream and butter. Most of the teachers had their pupils make copies of the letter to present to their parents, with the request that they answer the questions. Very few of the children have been able to get their parents to comply with the request, and as a result those who planned on getting valuable information to be used in connection

COPPER MINES NOW IN INCOME CLASS

Many Shareholders Here Who Feel Encouraged With Reports from Property.

The many shareholders here and elsewhere in the upper peninsula in consolidated coppermines, formerly the Geroux property, are noting with interest reports of development at the mine and mill. The company has had an uphill struggle lasting for more than eight years, but now it has entered the income-producing stage, as evidenced from the fact that in March more than $70,000 was realized over and above all expenditures, including cost of construction, development and supplies. The property includes a number of mines in addition to the old Geroux.

A month ago a new 500-ton concentrating mill was put in operation, but not until two weeks ago was capacity reached. By the 13th of this month it is expected that a second unit of similar size will be in operation. The mill is equipped with Callow machines, the company having license from the Manufacturers Separator company to use its flotation process.

Since the resignation from the presidency of Charles Boyington, Joseph B. Cotton, the vice president, who is a well known and successful mining man, has been acting president and has been directing the company's affairs.

With their efforts to help the farmers failed in their purpose.

Housewives Can Help.

The question of economy in the use of foodstuffs in the homes was also discussed. It is a fact, well known to every one, that there is all together too much waste of food in the average home, and something must be done to interest the housekeepers in conserving their supplies.

The matter interesting the school children in garden work was also discussed. Garden clubs, organized among the boys and girls, are considered one of the most effective ways of getting them to work in the fields during the vacation period.

Mr. Schurtz reported that the school children of Negaunee are to work along lines similar to those in Ishpeming during the coming summer. The board of education is going to provide the seed for the plots, but the cost of the seed will be deducted from the profits in the fall when the boys harvest their crops. Mr. Schurtz believes that the boys and girls of Negaunee will do their share in looking after the gardens.

Urges Boycott on Potatoes.

In some parts of the county the scarcity of potato seed is causing alarm. For this reason, people should eat as few potatoes as possible and save all they can for seed. If they cannot use the seed potatoes themselves, they should either sell them or give them to some one who intends to put in a garden. Many of the farmers throughout the country who have held their potatoes for high prices are now selling them to hotels, logging camps or other places who will buy them. Steps should be taken immediately to buy up these potatoes. If every person in Ishpeming, as well as every other city and town in the upper peninsula, will firmly resolve that they will not eat a potato until the first of June and agree to plant what potatoes they have on hand at that time, or give them to some one who will plant them, the food problem will be at least partially solved.

How Business Men Can Help.

The business men of Ishpeming can help conserve the potato supply immensely if they will adopt the following suggestion: Let every man arrange a display in some part of his store window with, say, one potato, with a sign with this wording: "Don't eat it, plant it. For one bushel now, twenty-five bushels in October." The citizens of Ishpeming can do nothing better along patriotic lines at this time than to stop eating potatoes until the spring crop is in.

THE NATIONAL ANTHEMS.

Ishpeming Man Deplores Fact That They Are Not Properly Played.

To The Mining Journalist—I am sorry to see such a growing tendency during the past few weeks to hurl our national anthem into common-place. This is evidently being done in the excitement of the times and probably caused by an over-abundance of enthusiasm, but you bear them play nowadays on phonographs and by bands at various settings, some of which are almost rag-time, and you can also hear them at the theaters played with numberless variations. This is robbing the national anthems of their dignity and sacredness. These anthems should not be made common, and I see no reason why they should be used at any meeting or gathering any more than once, with "America" preferably to close such meeting.

Yours truly,
C. J. SHADDICK.

FUND FOR RUSSIAN EXILES.

The Society of the Friends of Russian Freedom, of which Herbert Parsons in New York city is president, has started a fund for political exiles returning from Siberia. Mr. Parsons says that Professor Paul N. Milholl, minister of foreign affairs in the new government, upon being informed of the plans of the society, called his thanks.

"Accept most heartily," the minister's message to the society read in part. "We believe that this plan will meet with immediate and generous response from a very large number of Americans, and that this may be shown some small measure of the great esteem in which we hold the survivors of that host of men and women who have sacrificed their all for the cause that has at last triumphed." Mr. Parsons wrote.

Hamilton Holt has been appointed the treasurer of the fund and Paul Kennedy as its secretary. Both can be reached at 70 Fifth avenue, New York city.

FERTILIZERS MAKE HIGHEST GAINS IN ERRATIC MARKET

New York, May 2.—During the first half of today's professional market traders seemed to be divided, one faction evidently favoring higher prices for such speculative issues as shipping and fertilizers, while a more formidable element engaged in further attacks on seasonal issues.

Rails and tractions were under incessant pressure, the movement culminating with a general selling movement in the last hour the list closing with a weak tone. Offerings of rails were again prompted by unfavorable warnings and the more recent attitude of the interstate commerce commission respecting freight views in their relation to higher freight rates.

Shipments and associated shares were disposed, during the forenoon, to add to gains of the preceding session, but broke sharply later on reports of further marine disasters in the war zone. The early rise in fertilizers, which averaged two points, resulted from the announcement of the government's intention to appropriate a large sum for the purchase of nitrates and other products in the interest of the American farmer. United States Steel was consistently heavy, developing weakness just before the end. Total sales amounted to 455,000 shares.

BOSTON COPPERS.

The denial of the statement that the imperial chancellor would tomorrow make a new peace offer had no effect on stock, although it did cause a sharp rally in grains. Announcement was made of some large government contracts for steel. There was a report current that one dealer sold 1,000,000 pounds of copper at from 27 to 27½ cents for delivery in the third

BRITISH PROPOSE SCHOOL REFORMS

Projects for Making Education More Efficient After War Are Being Considered.

London, April 20.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.) One important reform which England plans to inaugurate after the war has to do with its system of education. The present system, or lack of system, has been found so full of defects that a committee has spent a year studying the problem, and its findings and recommendations are shortly to be embodied in a report to the house of commons by Herbert A. L. Fisher, president of the board of education.

In attacking its own educational problem, England naturally looks to Germany, which country it is admitted faces its otherwise dubious economic future with at least one advantage of which nothing can deprive it—a system of National education which is not only admittedly more thorough in conception than the English, but is a working concern which has already yielded to Germany a rich harvest of social and economic benefit.

The substance of what the English committee recommends is, briefly, a longer period of full-time education, followed by a period of compulsory part-time schooling.

There should be, it urges, a uniform raising of the age for leaving elementary schools to fourteen years subject to no exceptions whatever; and from fourteen to eighteen there should be not less than eight hours a week spent in day-time continuation classes.

It is further recommended that steps be taken to prevent children undergoing full-time schooling from being employed, outside school hours, "in ways and to an extent which seriously interferes with their education," and physical training is insisted upon as an indispensable element in the training of both of childhood and adolescence.

In conclusion the committee declares that the one great necessity is "a complete change of temper and outlook on the part of the people of this country as to what they mean to make of their boys and girls."

In spite of the absorption of the war the newspapers find space to deal extensively with the crying need for a definite education policy. The Telegraph says: "The general level of intelligence and adaptability has not been raised to anything approaching what must be attained if this country is to hold its place in the new world that the war is bringing to birth. We may reasonably wish for our children that they could enjoy such real educational opportunities as have been the true foundation of the miraculous industrial and commercial development of Germany in modern times."

JOHN STEWART DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Well Known Negaunee Pioneer and Former City Official Passed Away.

John Stewart, who for the past forty-seven years had been a resident of Negaunee, died yesterday morning at the home of his son-in-law A. F. Willman, on Teal Lake avenue. Death came at 10:15 and resulted from an illness with a complication of stomach and kidney trouble coupled with old age, which kept the aged pioneer confined to his bed for the past two months.

The deceased celebrated his eighty-first birthday on Jan. 6 and prior to his becoming ill in November, after which time he never left the house, he had prided himself in never having been sick a day in his life before.

Mr. Stewart was born in the north of Ireland and at the age of thirty migrated to Canada with his wife, where he remained two years. His oldest daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Gaffney, was born at Toronto, Can. After his two years' residence in Canada he brought his family to Negaunee. He started to work immediately upon his arrival at the old Morgan furnace and followed that work until about twenty years ago, when he was elected street commissioner of Negaunee, a position he held for several years. After he completed his term as street commissioner he retired from active labor.

Mr. Stewart was probably one of Negaunee's best known residents. Previous to his taking sick he took a keen interest in municipal affairs and never let a day pass that he did not visit the business section of the city to visit for a few hours.

Surviving Mr. Stewart are two daughters, Mesdames Elizabeth Gaffney and A. F. Willman and a son, James, who reside here. The other son, John, is a resident of Oshkosh, Wis., and has been in the city for the past week on account of his father's illness. Mrs. Stewart died four years ago. Arrangements for the funeral will probably be made today.

MUST ENLIST SOON.

Postmaster Peter Trudell Jr., received word yesterday from the United States Navy officials, who have been in charge of the recruiting throughout the country, that the enlisted strength of the navy is now about 87,000 men and the enlistment to date is only about 700 men short. Mr. Trudell, who has taken an active interest in the recruiting of men for both the navy and army together or not the offices in the section will be terminated when the full number of recruits is obtained and it will be well for any young man in the city, who has any desire to enlist in the navy, to hurry his name into the office or to Recruiting Officer Thoms.

Injured in Auto Accident.
Joseph Kell, former Menominee county sheriff and now game warden for that county, met with an accident which resulted in three of his ribs being broken. Kell, together with Nathan Clark, of Stephenson, was driving a Ford automobile on the Hall avenue road on the way to visit the farm of Clark's brother, just outside the city limits of Marinette. The lights of the car were not working right, and, as it was a dark night, while crossing the railroad tracks the front wheel of the automobile caught in the track, causing the car to turn turtle. Kell was thrown under the car and sustained three broken ribs. Clark was thrown from the car and suffered a broken forearm.

TEAMSTER'S LIFE SAVED

I couldn't sleep for many nights from pain. Doctors said I could not live for more than two years. Finally Peterson's Ointment was recommended to me and by its use the sore was entirely healed. Thankfully yours, William Haase, West Park, Ohio, March 22, 1915, care P. G. Reitz, Box 199.

Peterson says: "I am proud of the above letter and have hundred of others that tell of wonderful cures of Eczema, Piles and Skin Diseases."

Over 8800 has been spent in Escanaba within the past week on clothing and furnishings for the forty boys who enlisted in Iron River a week ago and are now drilling at North Escanaba under Captain Falk. A committee from Iron River arranged with Escanaba stores to furnish the boys with shirts, shoes, underwear, socks, handkerchiefs, tooth brushes, tooth paste, tobacco, cigarettes, cigars and towels. The Iron River people feel that there is nothing too good for the boys from their town and it was stated by one of the members of the committee that the boys will be taken care of throughout the war and an effort made to keep them in things necessary for their comfort.

WILL ORGANIZE TO URGE RECRUITING

Lieut. O'Neil, U. S. A., Says He Wants Full Quota of Volunteers from Marquette.

Marquette residents are urged to attend a meeting at the city hall auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tonight for the purpose of organizing to carry out the community's part in the war, particularly to the end that Marquette's quota of volunteers for the regular army shall be made what it should be.

Various war efforts have been undertaken in the city in the past few weeks. The purpose now is to effect an organization that will embrace all fields of activity, with particular attention given to maximum recruitment.

Recruits Too Slow.

"Recruitment is distressingly slack," Lieutenant McNeil said. "The cities that are up to their quotas are the exception. Those like Marquette, with seven volunteers, are the rule. It is vitally necessary for the welfare of the nation and the successful carrying out of the plans of the war office that this condition be speedily rectified."

"The present greatest need on the military side is the full recruitment of the regular army. From it will be drawn most of the men who will train the new army. On it will devolve the principal responsibility for the manner in which the United States will acquit itself in the war. Certain manifest advantages suggest themselves for young men enlisting now. They will stand the best chance of advancement from the ranks as the army establishment is expanded."

"But the question of advantage is not one that need be pressed. Our young men have been slow to respond because they have not appreciated the situation. It is a serious and vital one. Enlistment was never more clearly a patriotic duty than it is now. We are in the war to a finish. We have no right to assume that the finish will be one of victory, if we spare our greatest effort. The burden of achieving that victory now promises to fall principally on our country. Its response must be full and generous."

"I cannot too often assert that one of the greatest needs now is early enlistment of the regular forces for their full war strength. Marquette should not contemplate our plans unmoved. It should do its full duty by the army, and should do it at once. The adoption of the draft law in no manner affects our present vital need."

Co-Operation Promised.

Marquette men to whom Lieutenant McNeil spoke were greatly impressed by his remarks and the serious view of the situation he presented. He was at once assured of their fullest co-operation in putting recruiting in the city on a more satisfactory basis.

A. B. Eldredge, the chairman of the meeting, appointed George W. Rowell, Jr., chairman of a committee to arrange the meeting that will be held tonight at the city hall. Members of the home battalion had already been called together to discuss matters relating to that organization, and they will help swell the attendance. An appropriate program, including a few five-minute talks, will be arranged, but the principal business of the gathering will be organization for all the purposes of Marquette's participation in the war.

As tentatively outlined, with regard to recruiting, the plans contemplate a "rally" day, a week or ten days hence, for which a great patriotic demonstration will be arranged. General suspension of business for a half day has been proposed, and a parade, in which Co. M, will have the place of honor, to be followed by a meeting at which some eloquent outside speaker will be heard.

The program and the preliminary campaign will be aimed to impress on people the seriousness of the situation, and particularly how incumbent it is that Marquette furnish its full quota of recruits for the regular army without delay.

It is expected that the entire community can be enlisted in the effort, and that the result will be a great quickening of patriotic spirit in the city.

LYMAN H. MOWE.

The most daring work ever accomplished in polar exploration will be shown by Lyman H. Howe at the Opera House Friday night. It is a filmization of Sir Douglas Mawson's Expedition into Antarctica. The pictures are photographic gems throughout. They are replete with thrilling episodes and breathless adventures in a region where hurricanes are almost constant and where blizzards of violence unknown in any other part of the earth rage almost incessantly. They virtually transport spectators to an entirely new continent which abounds with great, new vistas, strange sights, and in every respect an environment so impressive that it can never be forgotten.

Numerous other features will be presented as well as a series of those cleverly animated cartoons that contribute so much to the enjoyment of the program throughout.

CAPACITY CROWD AT PATRIOTIC MEETING

Needs of Nation's Fighting Machine, and Necessity for Food Conservation, Set Forth.

Preparation for war by the United States, that the great struggle against German despotism may be brought to a speedy and victorious end by the allied nations, was the keynote of the meeting held yesterday noon in the city hall and participated in by a gathering which filled the main floor and balcony.

The people of Marquette had not before been privileged to hear such a startling, yet practical and sane, discussion of the war's two leading phases, namely, military and commissary, as was given by Lieutenant Joseph McNeil, of recruiting headquarters at Escanaba, and W. J. Thompson, of the Canadian Soo, who for the past three years has been one of the most active advocates of food conservation in the Dominion of Canada. That the discussion was appreciated and was received in a true patriotic spirit was evidenced by the frequent bursts of applause which greeted the remarks of the speakers, who were introduced by President F. L. Pearce, of the Commercial club.

Lieutenant McNeil appealed to Marquette for representation in the preparedness campaign now sweeping the country. He pointed out that of Marquette's enlistment apportionment of 140 men only seven have thus far been received at Escanaba.

"Within ten days I want to see at least seventy Marquette young men at Escanaba, applying for enlistment. And within the following ten days I want to see seventy more. I am confident that I will not be disappointed, if present plans are carried out. Young men, don't let the particular branch of the service in which you might want to enter play such an important part. We are at war, if you enlist, thereby signifying your willingness to do anything in your power for the defense of the country, you may be sure you will be treated right and given every advantage possible. Enlist, that's the main thing."

"The apportionment for my district is 6,000 men. Thus far only 400 men have been sent out by us to the training stations, so you can see the job ahead of us. And, at that, according to advices from the central department, our district leads any district of corresponding size in the United States."

"The huge war machine of the U. S. army needs you. Do your share—it is your duty as American citizens."

The Spirit in Canada.

Before taking up the topic of food conservation, Mr. Thompson gave numerous interesting illustrations of the patriotic response of the young Canadians to the declaration of war between England and Germany, in August, 1914. Canada, he explained, is bound to England and the king by ties of kinship and tradition, not by any tyrannical bond. England, he said, had no sooner taken exception to the high-handed methods of the German emperor and declared war than Canada, within two weeks time, equipped and sent overseas 33,000 men, "and we have been sending men ever since, men who are eager for a chance to do their share against a nation which has caused such sorrow and injury throughout all of Europe."

Mr. Thompson graphically related instances of German outrages. "Instances of outrages which are positively unspeakable have been related to me by men who know the truth," Mr. Thompson said, "and it is to crush this cruel despotism that we must unite, every man, woman and child, to do his or her share."

The Food Problem.

A nation's food resources Mr. Thompson pointed out as, after all, the most vital factor of life to be dealt with in time of war, or preparation for war. "I would first emphasize the great waste of food that is daily being practiced, not only in this country, but in my own as well." Here Mr. Thompson described the waste by wealthy families, and others, in throwing away food which had hardly been touched. He declared that the United States and Canada, combined, waste enough food each year to feed 100,000,000 men.

"When we consider that there are approximately 40,000,000 men who are today fighting for their countries and that these men must be fed daily and fed well if they are to maintain their energy, the task before us becomes apparent. Every able-bodied individual is responsible for a share of the work. No one who can hold a shovel or a hoe in his or her hand need feel exempt from duty. Every pound of food raised by the home-gardener is just one extra pound for the men in the field."

Mr. Thompson described the methods followed in the Canadian Soo to get the people interested in the home garden work, as outlined in an interview in the Mining Journal yesterday morning. The plan has worked very successfully, he declared, over seventy acres of land now being cultivated within the city by young people chosen for the work by the food conservation committee, of which he is chairman.

Food Distribution.

With regard to the distribution of food, Mr. Thompson suggested that equality be enforced, if necessary, so that the poor man may fare equally with the rich, and vice versa. Moreover, he urged, let no man buy more than he or his family can eat and allow no farmer to raise crops to hoard in his cellar for the use of his family only. "Let us be on the level with each other—work with each other, and do everything possible to co-operate in this great international crisis. Again let

TELLS AUDIENCE 'HOW TO LIVE 100 YEARS'

Dr. C. E. Barker Creates Impression at Normal School—Annual Athletic Banquet.

Dr. Charles E. Barker, the noted Iyrcum speaker, created a decidedly favorable impression on a good-sized audience in the Normal school auditorium last night, with his lecture on "How to Live 100 Years." Dr. Barker amply demonstrated the ability which has made his reputation as a speaker on health topics widely known.

In his talk last night Dr. Barker outlined a system of living which, he claimed, if adhered to should completely revolutionize the life of any individual. He described a course of diet, and illustrated a system of daily exercise which he declared would not only add years to a person's life but would instill into the constitution increased energy and consequent ability to do things and do them efficiently. He bases his argument on hundreds of instances in which his system has worked out advantageously.

Dr. Barker is a living example of the methods of living which he advocates. Energetic, forceful and possessing an admirable ability to express himself in a decidedly interesting manner, his message last night was enthusiastically received.

The Athletic Banquet.

The young men of the Normal school held an athletic banquet in the domestic science rooms last night. The banquet was prepared and served by the girls of the domestic science department.

The various phases of Normal school athletics were discussed by the young men and several members of the faculty. President James H. Kaye was toastmaster for the occasion.

D. P. Stull spoke on athletics from the viewpoint of past years. During his several years of service on the Normal school faculty Mr. Stull has always been unusually active in athletics and until the construction of the new gymnasium and the securing of an athletic coach who gives his entire time to the work Mr. Stull acted as director of athletics for the school, and carried on this work with success. His talk was decidedly interesting.

Clement Flannigan, a member of last year's football team, gave a short talk in which he commended the work of the second team for the splendid opposition they had given the first team during practices both in football and basketball. Their assistance was a valuable feature in the success of both teams, he declared, and he expressed the belief that next fall will see many of these men in the first team, winning the honors for their school.

"Bill" Morrison, star fullback of last year's football team then compared the training received in a football squad with that given the men at the Great Lakes naval training station, he having been a member of what was formerly the Marquette division of naval reserves. He was followed by Prof. Spooner who gave a short address on general athletic topics, reviewing the work of the past year and predicting the activities of the next. Harold St. John, a member of the past season's first basketball squad, then gave his views on the elements which go to make up a successful team, and predicted a championship squad for next year. "Gus" Malin, center on the first basketball team, spoke along similar lines, and gave a few words of advice to the men who will comprise next year's team. Prof. G. L. Brown then expressed the attitude of the faculty on school athletics, declaring it to be a necessary and man-making element in Normal school work.

Olive-colored V-neck athletic sweaters, bearing the school emblem, were then presented to the following by Coach W. B. McClintock: Morgan, McKie, Malin, Farrell, St. John, Ostrander, Flannigan, Doetsch, Daniels and B. Morrison. Jack Thompson, Nat Rowe and L. Morrison are out of the city, and their sweaters will be immediately sent to them. The banquet was a decided success, and was a fitting wind-up of a successful season for athletics.

me urge every individual to do his share. If we get together and work—work for the common cause and the common end—I am sure this war will be definitely decided within the next twelve months, and decided very much to our advantage."

Mr. Thompson paid a tribute to Marquette and its people, and to all whom he met during his visit here, and acknowledged the singing of "God Save the King," by Miss Flora Retallic. "I feel perfectly at home here," he said, "and I might say that this is the most gratifying and appreciative audience I have ever had the pleasure of speaking to. I hope that I may return again within a short time and meet you again."

Miss Flora Retallic sang "God Save the King," in honor to Mr. Thompson, and Arthur W. Jones sang "The Red, White and Blue" and led in the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," by the audience, at the conclusion of the meeting.

Mr. Thompson left yesterday afternoon for his home in the Soo.

MORE RESIDENTS OFFER FARM LAND

A. Mathews and Miss A. C. Patenaude Have Property for Use of 'Home Gardeners.'

A regular meeting of Pythian Sisters will be held in the K. of P. temple this evening at 7:30 o'clock. There will be initiation, followed by a lunch. Visiting members are welcome.

Two more recruits to the "home garden" movement have been secured in A. Mathews, who has come forward and offered a number of city lots for planting purposes to people of the city who wish to grow their own vegetables this season, and Miss Agnes C. Patenaude who has offered a large city lot.

Mr. Mathews said yesterday that those who apply for these lots first will secure first choice and also that the land is now available for any person who wishes to make use of it. This commendable action on Mr. Mathews, and Miss Patenaude part is sure to be followed by like action on the part of other land-owners in the city and those who have already put in an application for land of this kind with the Mining Journal are requested to get into immediate touch with Miss Patenaude and Mr. Mathews, who has an office in the Harlow Block, where he has a map showing the location of the lots and other information which may be of value to those who wish to plant their own garden.

A short time ago Miss Patenaude, who resides at 127 E. Hewitt Ave., informed the Mining Journal that she has a lot which can be used by any person for home gardening purposes. This land is contained on lot 79, southwest corner of Center street and Fitch avenue and covers an area of about fifty by one hundred feet. This land can be worked by one or two families and is said to be highly desirable for truck gardening purposes.

Mr. Mathews "donation to the cause" was contained in the following communication to the Mining Journal:

"I have a large number of lots on Albert, Crescent Park, Pine and Spruce streets, in vicinity of the Lake Shore Engine Works, and Consolidated Shops, which may be used by those desiring to raise vegetables. I would have offered these lots before only for the fact that they are sandy, but there may be portions that can be used to advantage. I would mention that Mr. Hansen, living near the Consolidated plant, has cultivated some of these lots, and can give advice from experience. The space selected can be located by lot numbers on diagrams which I have in my office in the Harlow Block."

"Signed" A. MATHEWS.

COMPANY M ARRIVES HERE TO GUARD DOCKS

Met by Big Crowd at Station—Established in Boarding Cars—Will Recruit Men.

Company M, Thirty-Third Michigan Infantry, arrived in Marquette yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, on a special train from Detroit, to guard the docks of the D. S. S. & A. railroads. Several hundred persons gathered to greet the soldiers, and watched them as they disembarked and lined up in front of the Capt. B. McLaughlin, who was met by officials of both the roads as he stepped from the train.

A good complement of Company M are residents of the Soo. They have been in Detroit, since serving on the Mexican border. Company M comes here completely equipped for an indefinite stay. For the present the men will be stationed in boarding cars, but when the warm weather sets in they will use the tents which are a part of their equipment. The company will be split into two guard divisions, one for each of the docks.

Will Recruit Men.

The officers with Company M will establish a recruiting station here, and put forth every effort to get a good quota of men from Marquette. "This is certainly the very time for a young fellow to enlist if he expects to enlist at

"BIRTH OF A NATION."

Picture Closes Return Engagement Here Today.

It is important for intending patrons of "The Birth of a Nation," which closes its limited return engagement at the Opera House tonight to take note that this is the farwell tour of this tremendously successful spectacle. There will be two performances today, one at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m. at both performances yesterday there were almost capacity audiences and it is probable that the same condition will prevail today.

So many elements enter into the success of "The Birth of a Nation" that an enumeration of the merits of the production might prove tedious. But it should be again said that the musical accompaniment to the picture, embracing folk-songs, national anthems, engaging dance melodies and some of the finest compositions of the world's best composers, has no small part in contributing to the entertainment.

It would be useless to again recount the tremendous battle scenes, wonderful night rides of the Ku Klux Klan, delightful bits of comedy and romance, great historic events such as the assassination of President Lincoln and surrender of Lee to Grant, as local residents.

No such vital picture as "The Birth of a Nation" has yet been placed upon the screen, and it is not at all strange that persons who saw the production here last year sat under the spell of the Griffith masterpiece again yesterday.
