DANGEROUS FAKES

Tricks to Introduce Alum Baking Powders Which Should be Exposed.

There has recently been attempted at some of our grocery stores, and also at dwelling houses, by agents who are trying to sell alum baking powders, what the exhibitors call a test. They pretend to show by some boiling test that pure cream of tartar baking pow ders contain something which every woman of intelligence knows they do

It does not need a chemist to expose this trick. Cream of tartar, which is the chief constituent of the best and most wholesome baking powder, is originally a clear, white crystal. This is ground into a fine creamy flour, in which form, mixed with baking soda, it is present in the baking powder. Cream of tartar, when mixed with water and boiled, simply returns to crystalline form, and that is all there is to the so-called test.

The matter of special interest to the public is to know what these people offer in place of cream of tartar powders of well known purity and established reputation against which these slanders are directed. They are offering a baking powder which official analyses have repeatedly shown is made from alum, a drug so well recognized by physicians and scientists as injurious to the health that in many countries its use in bread is entirely prohibited! So cheap and in-ferior are the ingedients of this powder that it costs to make less than three cents a pound. No prudent housewife will knowingly put such stuff as this nto her food.

INTERMARRIAGE NOCLAIM

Espousing a Squaw Does Not Establish Right to Participate in Distribution of Proceeds from Sale of Tribal Lands.

Washington.-The supreme court of the United States Monday affirmed the decision of the court of claims in the case of Daniel Red Bird, the Cherokee nation and others, versus the United States, known as "the White' Man's Case." The cases involved the long pending claims of 2,000 and 3,000 white persons to participate in the distribution of the lands and the funds of the Cherokee nation because of marriage with members of the tribe. Threre are over 4,000,000 acres of land and the tribal funds are extensive. The decision was favorable to the Indians.

The Indians strenuously resisted the claim, contending that they had never by law recognized property rights on account of intermarriage. In passing upon the cases the court of claims held that the tribal lands are not communal lands, but that whites who acquired citizenship by marriage prior to 1875 have equal interests with the Indians. In the case of marriages into the tribe since that time it was held that no right of property had been acquired except by those who had paid into the common fund the sum of $500. The court of claims also held that white husbands of Cherokee women who have abandoned their wives have forfeited all rights as Cherokee citizens, including that of participation in the proceeds of sales of Cherokee lands. The decision affirmed that decision in all respects.

Washington.-Secretary Bonaparte has received a letter from Mr. N. Mr. Davis suggests that in commemoration of the event all the vessels of the United States navy, whether at sea or in port, shall "dress ship" on that occasion.

Miners' bank, of Ladd, a mining town, was held up and robbed Monday afternoon.

The assistant cashier, J. J. Hurley. was alone in the bank when two men entered and asked for some pennies. The next moment, covering Mr. Hurley with revolvers, they ordered him to throw up his hands.

The robbers then marched Hurley to a back room, where they bound him hand and foot.

The robbers then helped themselves to cash and escaped. They left $130 in gold besides a quantity of silver on the bank counter and disturbed little in the vault.

The amount of their booty will be about $7,000 as near as the bank officers were able to estimate the loss.

Case of Rank Injustice.

Not in years has rank injustice been dealt to a man as it has been to J. T. Harahan, vice-president of the Illinois Central railroad, since the sensational meeting of the stockholders of the company a few weeks ago. The ethical mistreatment accorded Mr. Harahan has been through press reports emanating from unreliable sources. During the past ten days all sorts of rumors regarding the future presidency of the Illinois Central have been circulated, the chief allegation being the selection of Capt. Grammar of the New York Central lines to succeed Stuyvesant Fish. This story was out of whole cloth and was written by a traveling newspaper space writer. It was offered to a number of papers and refused, and finally accepted by one from which it was telegraphed throughout the country. The only explanation is that the man who wrote needed the money, for Capt. Grammar was never offered the presidency of the Illinois Central. If Mr. Fish were to decline another term as president it is quite certain that J. T. Haraban would be elected to succeed him. It has been Mr. Harahan more than any half dozen others who has popularized the Illinois Central. He has worked while others slept; has traveled over the big system continuously. and knows its patrons, passengers and shippers, the newspapers and legislators. He never countenances a crooked deal; has been on the level with everybody, and back of everything is the fact that he is one of the best operating and traffic managers in the country. The silly space stories have worked harm to all concerned-Fish. Grammar, Harahan and Stubbs-and furnished no news and there will be no real news until the directors meet.

A curious instance of the active part the kaiser takes in arranging the marriages of relatives and friends is recorded. A personal aid-de-camp of his majesty was very much depressed by the lady of his choice giving him a refusal. #### A Rule and an Exception.

According to the New York Tribune, a country paper lays down this rule of etiquette: "When a lady and gentleman are walking in the street, the lady should walk inside of the gentleman."

It seems a little strange that this simple rule, so long current among the cannibal tribes of the Andaman and other islands, should find its way into a rural journal of more or less civilization. It would appear that the etiquette editor of the paper in question was either too careless or too hurried to note any exceptions to the rule. Otherwise he would have explained that when the gentleman was thirsty and desired to enter a cafe, the lady would walk on the outside.-Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Sculptor Alleges Injustice.

Information comes from France, where George Gray Barnard is working on the marble groups which are to be the chief adornment of the new state capitol at Harrisburg, that the sculptor has told intimate friends that he will wreck his creations before he will let them be taken across the ocean-without a fair compensation for his several years of labor. He was to have $100,000 for the work, but the payments have been delayed. An order to prepare replicas of his statues for exhibition at the opening had been nearly completed when it was countermanded, although Barnard had expended $4,000 upon it.

HARD TO SEE.

Even When the Facts About Coffee Are Plain.

It is curious how people will refuse to believe what one can clearly see. Tell the average man or woman that the slow but cumulative poisonous effect of caffeine-the alkaloid in tea and coffee-tends to weaken the keart, upset the nervous system and cause indigestion, and they may laugh at you if they don't know the facts.

Prove it by science or by practical demonstration in the recovery of coffee drinkers from the above conditions, and a large per cent. of the human family will shrug their shoulders, take the drugs and-keep on

The Hour of Ireland's Emancipation at Hand

By T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P., Irish Statesman

The hour of Ireland's deliverance is at hand. In this great hour of her hope and her coming deliverance Ireland looks to America for sympathy and support.

What is the claim of Ireland? It is that there may be restored to her that of which she was robbed by force and fraud-her own native parliament. Our demand is for the restoration of an assembly and of a national existence.

To America, with her free institutions, her heterogeneous and her free people, all just causes and all struggles for freedom have always appealed with success. To-day Ameri--ca's place at the council board of the world is recognized. Through her great president she has brought to a close the bloody struggle between Russia and Japan, and her word, spoken clearly and decisively, may be the final factor which will decide the struggle and give to Ireland another reason for blessing the land which has offered a home to so many millions of

I believe that America is ready for the great moment which is approaching in the history of Ireland. You here gather inspiration for Irish patriotism in the free institutions of a great republic. Every man of Irish blood in this land must be inspired by the fact that the greatest, the most powerful, the most effective ruler in the world to-day, among all the czars and kings and princes, is a man who has Irish blood in his veins—the president of the United States.

Irish-Americans may well draw inspiration from the fact that there is not a great position on the judicial bench that has not been held by one of our race; that the tattered banners which have accompanied soldiers in every battle in American history were followed and were led by men of the Irish race.

But the air of freedom in America is not the air which is breathed by the Irish race in England. Many an Irishman has told me that from the fact of being an Irishman a man's life was in danger in some of the more benighted parts of England, and many an Irishman has told me how he and his children were hunted through the streets.

Ireland has the same rights to appeal to America as other oppressed nationalities; as those heroic men and women who to-day, with America's approval and warm sympathy, are seeking to substitute the rule of the people for the rule of czars, grand dukes and bureaucrats in Russia.

I may not be there to see it, but I believe that within 20 or 25 years of an Irish assembly in Dublin, making laws for Ireland, there will be a burst of progress, intellectual and material, before which many another nation's progress will pale into insignificance.

Symptoms of Disease Americanitis

The American brain is awhirl with money-mad-

These three complications are the principal ones which make up Americanitis, a disease with which the nation is suffering at present.

Speaking as a doctor I should say this is a very complicated disease. I find, as I lay my hand upon the patient's heart, that it is beating with abnormal rapidity. It cannot keep up that pace very long.

I find extreme nervousness and restlessness. The American does not walk, he runs. When he eats he does not masticate. It is no wonder men who are dying long before they grow old are traveling around trying to keep the spark of life in their bodies. In one block not far from where I am standing are 34 widows whose husbands burned out their nerve force and hearts by overwork. There is another complication in this disease of the nation. I examine the conscience I find a strange sluggishness. It does not respond to the touch. It seeems to be threatened with fatty degeneration. And it is not surprising when one considers all the terrible recent exposures of graft and dishonesty among insurance companies, among the packers, among the railroads. One does not know where to look for absolute integrity. Graft of all kinds seems to abound-commercial graft, educational graft, political graft and medical graft. But back of the other complications of Americanitis is the trouble with the brain. The American head is turned on the questions of greed and gain. Without question we are getting money mad. Gold is our great besetting sin. The simple fact is that unless some cure is speedily found, the nation will parish.

The Caste Spirit in America

By BISHOP HENRY C. POTTER.

There is something extremely pathetic in the utterances of those of our ancestors who hoped to produce in this country a population having the same characteristics as they themselves possessed. Noble as were many of the characteristics of the Puritan forefathers, that was an absolute grotesque expectation. Caste exists in America to-day just as truly as it ever did in India, though in different forms. If you have investigated the principles of the world's different religions you have been struck by the fact that, until you come to Christianity, you find no religion which does not involve this principle of caste. And yet the caste spirit is with us just as truly as with the peoples of the non-Christian religions. A certain class I know of is occupied chiefly not in talking of people whom they know but of people whom they won't know and won't visit. They emphasize their social distinction not by telling of their distinguished friends, but by making it clear that they will have nothing to do with any but a few. Now, it is your office and mine to batter down this social dis-

BUSY MOTHERS SHOULD ENLIST SERVICES OF CHILDREN.

Dawning Sense of Responsibility Can Be Awakened by Giving Them Part of House to Care For.

The busy mother, especially without servant, will find the proper care of the home too much for her unless she enlists the children as helpers, says the Mothers' Magazine. Let her begin to practice systematics at once in this case. Let her also call into play the dawning sense of responsibility. Assign some particular corner or box of playthings to one child to be cared for. Let there be a certain proprietorship in this and develop a pride in doing the bit of work well. A small boy might have the task of putting away yesterday's newspapers, and do it regularly, as his own special part in keeping the house tidy and pleasant. The formation of careful habits and genuine relief to the mother will be the double effect of apportioning such tiny tasks to the children.

The motive for doing these little things well should be made prominent. It should not be thought of as drudgery at ail, but should be allowed as an honor, showing that the child is now big enough to help mother and do things in the right way. Discriminating praise should be bestowed, not as if it were anything astonishing and out of the way for the little one to do the work and do it well, but as a token of appreciation of the motive and the manner of doing it. Encourage as much as possible, but do not develop any vanity in the little one by praising everything done, or going to any

Has Electrical Storage Battery Attached to Back.

A novelty in the vanity line is an electrical hairbrush, which differs from the ordinary electrical hatfbrush attached by cords to a battery in that it has a small storage battery attached to the back of the brush, doing away with the wires and separate battery, and thus requiring but one hand to manipulate it. The battery is detachable and may be used for massage movements for rheumatism, neuralgia and the other ills which electricity is believed by some to allay. It also has a sponge attachment for concentrating the current on any part of the body. The storage battery is in a small nickel tube, easily handled, and has to be recharged every three months. It comes in a leather box with its hairbrush and sponge attachments and suggests a nice Christmas gift for the woman who likes to exriment with all the perpetual youth and beauty.

To Make a Dull Plano Bright. Alcohol is used by workers in factories to remove the dull appearance from highly polished surfaces of planos, but the putting on of this liquid must be carefully done, or the finish will be burned, and the case have to be dressed and polished the same as it was when new. This process is costly, so if alcohol is rubbed on the dull spots with a soft cotton or flannel cloth only a little of the liquid should be used. Put on with a light stroke across the surface, then should follow a brisk rub with a soft silk or cheesecloth rag. Apple Tapioca Pudding.

To Darken Invalid's Room.

If your room is not provided with green and white shades, a piece of dark green glazed calico or cambric, either pinned or stitched on the curtain, will darken the room. This is a very satisfactory arrangement of an invalid or for anyone who cannot sleep in a room with light shades. Awnings do not quite take the place of the old-fashioned shutters for darkening a room. .

Serving Mushrooms.

A delicious way to serve mushrooms is to butter a dish and sprinkle with a first layer of bread crumbs and alternate layers of mushrooms, and bread crumbs with bits of butter, pepper and salt and a liberal supply of butter over the last layer of bread crumbs. Rich milk or half cream poured over each layer makes a proper finish, and mushrooms so cooked are fit for-for those who enjoy them.

The Michigan Central Railroad company has filed in the Ingham circuit court its answer to the state's bill of complaint in the suit brought by Attorney General Bird, to recover about $1,000,000 claimed to be due the state for back taxes previous to the year 1893. This is the case in which the railroad company filed a demurrer to the state's bill, it being overruled by the circuit and supreme courts. its answer the company pleads the statute of limitations as a bar to the state's claim and denies that it has been guilty of fraud in/the making of reports to state officers, as charged.

A plea is also made for the innocent stockholders of the company who have invested in the stock of the company without knowledge of the claim of the state. The question at issue in the case is whether the company should, under its special charter have paid taxes on its entire stock and bonds, or only on that portion represented by the part of the line in Michigan. The case will doubtless come to trial in this city some time during the winter.

There is no appreciable demand, it is said, for its amendment. Feeble-Minded Waiting.

There were $47 patients on the waiting list of the home for the feebleminded at Lapeer, according to a report of the trustees of that insittution for the biennial period ending June 30 last, filed with Gov. The board of control is still asking for large appropriations to enlarge the buildings and add to the capacity of the institution so as to accommodate the unfortunates of the state whose relatives are clamoring for their admission. Frequently citizens appeal to the governor to assist them in getting a place for unfortunate persons in the home, and the demand for more room is imperative. The board will ask the legislature for $206,000 for permanent improvements. At the close of the year ending June 30 there were 682 inmates, and it is reported that the annual cost of maintenance was $154 per capita.

Railroad Loses Case.

The supreme court has affirmed a judgment awarded Mrs. Anne McWilliams against the Lake Shore railroad tant case, "might as well have flipped for injuries while on a train going from Grand Rapids to Hudson on July 4, 1903. With this contention the court agreed. Justice Ostrander remarked: The conductor had all the powers of a sheriff on a train and the question of whether in looking after the safety tice Grant thought the case should be of the passengers in a reasonable degree he was not required to put the drunken man off the train was a proper one for the jury to determine."

Rehearing Is Ordered.

A rehearing was ordered by the supreme court in the case of the attorney general against the Detroit common council argued at the June term. This case is an important one, as it involves the right of the city of Detrolt to lay rails in its streets for street cars, and was brought for the purpose of testing the authority of the city to own street railways. It was expected that a decision would be rendered, but instead a rehearing was ordered to be had on December 4. It is a fair inference that the court is divided on the proposition and desires a hearing before the full bench. The questions involved are the most important that have come before the court for some time.

Pulp Wood Used in Michigan.

Official figures of the department of agriculture relating to the wood pulp industry in 1905 show that in Michigan eight companies used 109,764 cords of wood, worth $475,278, and produced with it 126,551,000 pounds of pulp. Of the wood used, about 70,000 was hemlock, 33,000 spruce, and the rest pine, balsam and other varieties. The Michigan companies claimed their average daily output was 41,000 pounds of pulp.

SENATORS BY DIRECT VORE

Considering the comparatively recent growth of primary reform sentiment, and the fact that in many states it has yet made little progress, while in others the laws providing for reform are being made by its enemies in grudging assent to a popular demand-which means partial and bungling primary laws-it will come as a distinct surprise to many people to learn that of the thirty senatorial vacancies to be filled within the next few months twelve, or over a third, have already been provided by direct vote of the people.

In Georgia, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Arkansas in the south and in Oregon in the north primary election nominations have already been made, and South Carolina will be added to the list when the elections are held next-week. In Nebraska, Minnesota and South Dakota the primary election laws do not include the nomination of senators, but the tendency in those states is in that direction, for the state Republican conventions declared on the sénatorial candidates, thus to all intents and purposes taking in the matter from the realms of doubt. It is due to the interests of a large and important section of Michigan, if not to the individuals involved, that the recent sensational statements made with reference to the alleged wrongs committed through the purchase of state tax lands, should not be dismissed or permitted to rest as a campaign incident, to be made use of in some future political emergency if desired. There are many thousand acres of unoccupied lands in the northern counties of our state, now in posession of the state, which must be sold if that section is ever to reach its best development. The purchase of this land should be urged and encouraged in behalf of the entirestate and its people, rather than regarded with suspicion and exploited as an offense The exigencies of political campaigns may suggest unworthy requirements, but they should tionalism which disregards every makes an incident of political. misrepresentation the permanent interests of an important section of the state.

The Mirror says that the Eseanaba Water Company is endorsed by the voters because the voters on last Tuesday voted down the proposition to have the City Council grant a franchise to some individual or corporation for artesian water.

We do not so interpret the will of the voters. The vote on Tuesday is not an endorsement of the present Water company but simply shows that the people are not in favor of having the City Council grant a franchise.

It is evident that the people are satisfied to have only one water company on their hands at a time.

Under the terms of its franchise the present water company can be compelled to furnish pure and wholesome water, and the meinbers of the City Council will now probably bend their efforts to force a compliance on the part of the water company.

crease of her idiot daughter.

New York.-Medical men here and abroad are awaiting with considerable interest a report from Berlin giving complete details of a most daring and unusual surgical operation performed there a few weeks ago.

An idiot child, the six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Louis Wolff, a resident of Berlin, has been converted into an intelligent being by the process of grafting part of the mother's thyrold gland upon the child's pancreas. Reduced to plainer language, this means that part of the mother's throat has been transferred by the grafting process to a gland, or tissue, lying directly at the back of the stomach. By this operation the dull, inactive brain of little Lena Wolff has been awakened so that it is now performing the duties for which it was

This, in the history of medical science, is without a parallel, not only because such an operation was never attempted before, but also because of its seeming vagueness. The idea of grafting part of the throat of a mother to the pancreas gland of her child with the expectation of converting the child from idiocy to a normal, mental condition would seem at first glance unworthy of serious consideration. But Dr. Karl Garre, professor of surgery in the medical faculty of Breslau university, to whom the operation is credited, did exactly what has been described above, and recent despatches from Berlin declare that the operation has been pronounced a complete success.

Professor Garre is an eminent German surgeon whose success in the transplanting of organs from one animal to another and even from the lower animals to human beings, has attracted the attention and admiration of surgical men all over the world. When his report of how he changed Lena Wolff from an idiot into a bright and intelligent little girl is completed it will form a valuable addition to the list of modern miracles

An Idiot From Birth.

From the details of the case aleady received from Germany it appears that Lena Wolff was born an idiot six years ago, says the New York World. Reason never dawned for her as in other babies. She had come into the world without one apparent spark of intelligence and an external and an internal secretion seemed doomed to pass her whole life without knowing the joys and sorrows

Her case was called to the attention ski and Mehring first definitely of Professor Garre, who was fiterested from the very beginning, because in it he saw a possibility of being able to prove the correctness of a theory on which he had been at work. Some Surgical Marvels. Philadelphia and Toledo, Ohio, have recently contributed to the list of marvels of surgery through operations on the brains of incorrigible and men tally defective boys. Tests made a few days ago showed that the boy had no sense of right or wrong. This is attributed to an abnormal brain growth. As a result of the operation, which includes the cutting out of certain parts of the brain, it is expected to relieve the boy of his wicked tendencies and transform him into a model youth.

Scientific surgery is gradually solving the problem of making us over plecemeal. Raymond Moore, aged 20, of Baltimore, lost the sixth and seventh ribs on the right side. Dr. Hamilton Brown replaced them with artificial ribs of hard rubber tubing.

By an operation at Fordham Hospital, Joseph Reicher was supplied with a silver windpipe to replace the original, which had been damaged beyond repair by a hard fall.

Dr. Kaintsky, the famous Russian surgeon, recently astonished the medical world by furnishing a man with artificial arteries. The operation took place in Dr. Kaintsky's private laboratory at St. Petersburg. The patlent, a very rich farmer and cattle raiser, Ivan Poltinkask by name, had collided violently with a stump while driving in a sleigh. He was hurled out and impaled upon a broken branch. The jagged piece of wood struck him after the operation. below the hip joint and ranged down for about four inches. The wound was an exceedingly ugly one. It was directly over and in line with the femoral artery, which supplies the entire leg, with blood. Dr. Kaintsky saved Portinkask's life by removing the injured part of the femoral artery and replacing it with an artificial one.

The Berlin surgeon, Dr. Seyfried, has succeeded in giving a man a new to have an internal secretion-i. e., top for his skull, made from the skull of an ox.

BEAUTIFY THE CITY

REMODELING AND BUILDING AT WASHINGTON.

All Sorts of Improvements Noted In the Various Sections-Ante-Belium Structures Are Rapidly Disappearing.

ing a series of remarkable experi-"There is one form of city improve ment going on here which, when considered in the aggregate, constitutes an element which is generally over looked, or not considered, though it has a very important bearing upon versed without causing the animals the structural make-up of the city at large," said a gentleman actively engaged in building operations in Washington.

"I refer to the very gratifying ac tivity on the part of owners and builders in the remodeling of old buildings in the various sections of the city, but more particularly in the northwest and in the business section. These individual instances of remodeling are scarcely noticed when compared with the great and larger improvements in the way of entirely new and modern buildings, but it is astonishing how certain blocks and sections have been and are being im-

"With this thought in mind in my rices over the city I have some mental notes to the end that this method of the city improvement might be called to notice, as it will serve as an incentive to other owners to likewise improve their holdings, as individual improvements like these will go a great way in the develop ment of the greater city weare striving for. It is possible for a small owner to allow the main walls of his building to stand, and with the expenditure of a comparatively small sum transform it into a building which will be a credit to the particular neighborhood. In the business section these improvements invite rentals which could not otherwise be obtained, yet the individual owner, who often cannot afford the expense of an entirely new bullding, contributes his share to the rebuilding of

Old Buildings Torn Out.

"Another improvement in the building line which passes unnoticed in isolated cases, but counts to a remarkable degree when tabulated and considered in the aggregate, is the demolition of old frame houses and stores, many of them eyesores by reasou of age and lack of repair, and the erection of brick dwellings, apartment houses of the smaller class and smaller business places in their stead. Citizens interested in civic improvement, when riding on the cars throughout the city, should observe this style of improvement with in-

"I have also observed in this conmaining old frame ante-bellum buildings on the south side of Pennsyl vania avenue have recently been razed and new foundations dug preparatory to the erection of entirely new brick structures. There are but two or three of these old_frames left on this side of our historic main thoroughfare in the upper business section, and now that some of them have gone the way of old lumber, it is to be hoped that those left will shortly be consigned for sale as old mate-

"Property owners also seem to have been more liberal than in past seasons in having their holdings repainted, and this is particularly true in sections of town where frame dwellings abound. The infection seems to have spread from owner to owner on some squares, with the result that this method of minor improvement has given a fresh and new appearance to heretofore dingy blocks. In sections of the city where owners usually give their property regular attention in this respect the many newly painted buildings are also noticeable. Altogether these minor improvements are worthy of more than passing notice."

New Bullet for the Army.

The army will soon adopt the new bullet, which was recently tested by several of the target experts at the national rifle meet at Sea Girt, and found by them to be satisfactory. Instead of the rounded point of the present bullet, it has a long, straight tapering point and is also about onethird lighter, weighing about 150 grains. The new bullet has a greater velocity up to 2,000 yards, a greater energy up to 1,400 yards, a flatter trajectory up to 2,000 yards, and a little better accuracy up to 2,000 yards. The new bullet will require a slightly different firing chamber in the rifle, but this can be readily peffected in pieces now under manufacture, and the necessary changes can be made in the pieces now in use with comparatively small expense.

Incident That Nearly Upset Dignity of

For bumptious good health Associate Justice Harlan takes first rank. He is only three months the junior of the chief fustice, but he is as big as a mountain almost, and seemingly as full of health as the best of men. He comes from Virginia, via Kentucky, that is, his ancestors were Virginians. Justices Harlan and Brewer love to play golf together. Some years ago they were out on Chevy Chase links playing when Justice Brewer went to swat a ball with main force. He missed it, and then he stood looking at the thing with an air that made Justice Harlan exclaim: "Brewer, that was the most profane silence I ever saw." Justice Harlan loves a joke, I recall sitting in the court while John S. Wise was trying to overturn the Virginia constitution. Mr. Wise was talking about the Virginia constitutional convention's having been a collection of as bold a set of pirates as eyer scuttled a ship or trod a quarterdeck, When Justice Harlan, who sits next on the right of Chief Justice Fuller, reached over and whispered something into the ear of the chief justice. It was something amusing you may surmise, for never did schoolboy have to bite his lips harder to keep from laughing outright than did the dignified chief justice, and as for Harlan, he simply had to hide his face behind his hands, while his sides shook with laughter. It is not often. however, that such things happen.

GLAD WEDDING IS OVER.

Society Stirred Over Love Affair of Prominent Couple.

When Mrs. John Davis, widow of the judge of the United States supreme court of claims, and daughter of Arthur's secretary of state, Theodore Freylinghuysen, was recently married in Washington to Maj. Charles McCawley, U. S. M. C., everybody devoutly murmured: "Thank heaven it is over at last." For the wedding has hung fire for ten years or more. Maj. McCawley, who is known as the Beau Brummel of Washington, is some 20 years the junior of his distinguished bride.

The marriage was opposed equally by the relatives of Mrs. Davis, and particularly by her children, and by the next of kin to the foppish major. But it seemed a case of true love, despite the difference of age.

Maj. McCawley is the major domo of the White House and is the past grand master at presiding over social gatherings. He arranges guests at dinner and is the court of last resort in all questions of etiquette. He is also credited with being a second Harry Lehr in the matter of choesing suitable raiment for his women friends, and he is accorded the honor of planning some of the exquisite robes in which Alice Roosevelt worth has won international fame.

Peculiar Christian Names.

Several years ago there resided in Washington a portly colored man who was known as Maj. Dabney. One day an army officer who knew Dabney well addressed the colored man as follows: "Dabney, I have often wondered how you came by the title of 'major.' Did you receive it because of service in the civil war, or is it a title conferred by reason of your connection with the National Guard?"

"No, sah," replied Dabney with a broad smile. "I nebber sarved a minnit in de sibil wah, an' I ain't nebber bin in de Nashional Guard. De word 'majah,' sah, am my fust name, an' were gib ter me by my mudder when I were bohn. It war a toss up, boss, whedder I should be named Islah or Majah, and as mudder war doin' reg'lar washin' for Majah Jeems Wilson. dat name war selected, an' I'se bin called Majah ebber sence."

In this connection it is said that many of the old-time colored families have given their sons such Christian names as "Colonel," "Doctor," "General," and the like. In Richmond there is a young colored man who has the cognomen of President Johnson, while in Washington is a dark-skinned citizen whose first name is "Bishop."

New Legal Term.

Clerk David Langley, who issues the informations against alleged offenders of the police regulations, was upagainst a queer kind of game the other morning that for several moments caused him to exercise his thinking machinery quite rapidly.

He was hard at work at his desk when a colored woman came into the office and blurted out that she wanted a warrant for a male friend of hers. "For what offense?" inquired Mr.

The woman stood still for a moment as if in thought, and then replied, For flattery, sah."

This was, a new one for Langley, but he braced himself and set to work to solve it.

"You must be wrong," he said. "What did he do to you?"

Keeping Parents in Subjection.

In the life of the very rich "some parents still seek to resemble those curfews incarnate in humble life who keep the girls at home and the boys out of the barrooms. #### THEY CURE RHEUMATISM

A Particularly Painful Form of This Diseaso Yields to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Of the many forms which rheumatism takes, that which is popularly known as sciatic rheumatism probably tortures its victim more than any other. That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have gured this stubborn as well as painful trouble is a fact proven by the following statement, and no sufferer who reads this can afford to let prejudice stand in the way of trying these blood-making pills.

Rheamatism is now generally recognized as a disease of the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make-actually make-pure blood. When the blood is pure there can be no rheumatism. Mrs. Thomas Bresnehan, of 54 Mill street, Watertown, N. Y., says:

"My trouble began with a severe cold which I took about a week before Christmas in 1904. I began' to have rheumatic pains in my back and limbs and after a time I couldn't straighten up. I suffered the most awful pain for months and much of the time was unable to leave the house and I had to take hold of a chair in order to walk and sometimes I could not stand up at all. "The disease was pronounced sciatio

"The disease was pronounced sciation rheumatism and, although I had a good physician and took his medicine fathfully, I did not get any better. After some six weeks of this terrible pain and suffering I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and that is the medicine that cared me. After a few boxes the pain was less intense and I could see decided improvement. I continued to take the pills until I was entirely cured and I have never had any return of the trouble."

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or the remedy will be mailed postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

NEW CAUCE FOR SWEETBREADS.

Orange Flavor Adds Piquancy to Pop ular Dish.

The sweetbreads are first washed in cold water and carefully trimmed and cooked in salted water (containing one teaspoonful of vinegar) for 20 minutes. Drain and run cold water over them until chilled and plump. Season with salt and pepper and squeeze orange juice over them. Let them stand ten minutes, spread with butter, sprinkle with flour and bake for half an hour in a buttered pan until nicely brown. Baste-while baking with melted butter, serve with orange sauce and garnish with finely chopped parsley.

For the orange sauce, cream onehalf cup of butter. Mix one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of paprika, four tablespoonfuls of orange juice, one tablespoonfulof lemon juice, and one-half cup of boiling water; stir into the well beaten yolks of two eggs, and cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Add the creamed butter and serve at once.

IMPORTANCE OF THE BELT.

Dress Accessory That Makes or Mars a Costume.

With the departure of the corselet skirt the ceinture is receiving renewed attention, and is, as or yore, capable of making of marring a costume. Any one can arrange a ceinture in a fashion, but only the first-class modiste recognizes the full worth of bestowing the most careful attention on what in appearance is merely a folded or fitted belt. The one in vogue at present is only shaped at the upper edge. A very common mistake is found in the delusion that a ceinture can be relied upon to pull a doubtful fit into law and order at the waist, whereas, all that can justifiably be expected of this adjunct is that it accentuates a fit already consummated. And when, oh! when will the lady of embonpoint recognize that a buckle worn at the back is the sole prerogative of the elegantiy slim figure.—Home Magazine.

Utensils for Jelly-Making.

For jelly-making a new granite or enameled ware kettle is preferable to the old-fashioned porcelain-lined or iron pot that has been in use year after year. It is not an extravagance to buy a new kettle each season. A new wooden spoon is better than an old one which has probably been used for stirring catsup, chili sauce, or pickles. The wood retains the odor of onions, and the heat of the bolling fruit juice is apt to bring the flavor out, which is often disagreeable. After emptying a jelly glass or fruit jar, it should be washed, the cover replaced, and put away in the closet for use next year. It is economy to buy new rubber rings for your jars as you need them.

Garnishing for Cold Dishes.

Cold dishes lend themselves more readily to garnishing than hot ones. For all kinds of cold meats aspic jelly is always acceptable and easily prepared. It may be made of strong, clear chicken stock, using half a package of gelatine to each pint. Season and put away to chill. Strained pulp of fresh or canned tomatoes may be used instead of chicken stock. Small boiled or fried potatoes make an excellent garnish for fish, with the addition of parsley and lemon. Hard boiled eggs are suitable with boiled fish. Small vegetables, such as peas and beans, and carrots and turnips cut into small pieces are appropriate with meat.

Meat Pie with Potato Crust.

Take six boiled potatoes, threequarters of a pound of cold meat, three ounces of butter, one egg, one teacupful of meat essence, pepper and salt to taste. Mash the potatoes, add salt, butter, and the beaten yolk of the egg; beat all together lightly with a wooden spoon. Cut the meat into thin slices, trim off fat, season with pepper and salt. Spread layer of the mashed potatoes on a ple dish, lay in slilces of meat, pour over meat essence, add the rest of the potatoes, smooth over with a knife, and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour. Serve hot.

Trick in Dish Washing.

Where a great deal of dish washing is necessary, it is a good plan to do away with the drying of them. To make this possible, in the average household, a rack is now sold. It is shaped like those photographers use for negatives, only, of course, much larger. After being rinsed with clean, hot, water, the dishes can be set up on edge in the rack and allowed to dry by evaporation. All they need then is a polish with a dry towel as they are placed on the table. One can wash tne dishes, go about other work and return to find them all ready to put

For Baby's Cot.

A very nice quilt may be made for baby's cot from old shawls. Cut all worn parts away, join the pieces to-gether flat, and cover both sides with cretonne; then put tapes to each corner to tie to sides of cot, and you will have a very warm and exceedingly light quilt

Romance in Writers' Lives.

A strange comedy and tragedy was woven into the lives of Ibsen and Bjornson. As young men they were great friends; then politics flung them apart; they quarreled and never met for years and years. Strange fate brought the children of these two great writers together and Bjornson's daughter married Ibsen's only child. The fathers met after a quarter of a century of separation at the wedding of their children.

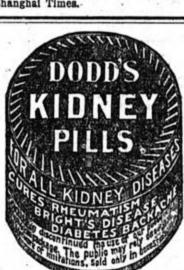

The Ideal Family Laxative. is one that can be used by the entire family, young and old, weak and strong, without any danger of harmful effects. It should have properties which insure the same dose always having the same effect, otherwise the quantity will have to be increased and finally lose its effect altogether. These properties can be found in that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills, because its ingredients are of the purest herbal extracts, and every pill is kept for three years before being sold, which allows them to mellow. Uncanny Chinese Legend.

There are the two celebrated towers of the imperial city, the Bell tower and the Drum tower. As to the casting of the bell in the former there is this legend: There had been two unsuccessful attempts and the life of the founder was threatened in case of a third failure. His daughter discovered by occult means that nothing but the blood of a virgin mingled with the molten metal would insure success. So at the next casting she sacrificed her life by throwing herself into the molten metal, leaving only one shoe behind. The casting was perfect. But when the bell was first struck "all were horror-stricken as, after the heavy boom of the bell, came a low wall, as of a girl in agony, distinctly saying the word 'heish,' shoe. And to this day people when they hear it, say, "There's poor Ko-ai's voice calling out for her shoe."-Shanghai Times.

Siberian Bridal Custom. In some parts of Siberia a bridegroom, on arriving home, commands his wife to take off his boots. In one is a whip and in the other a purse. The contents of the boot she first selects for removal presage whether he is to be generous or the reverse to her. A very kind husband will put a purse in each boot, and omit the whip, to make her believe

The greatest monument of the mound builders, not only in Ohio, but in the entire country, is the Serpent mound, in Adams county. This immense mass of earth, probably piled for purposes of worship, has had a curious history in respect to changes of ownership in recent times.

There is little nourishment in grass, in proportion to its bulk, and the horse is forced to give so much time to eating that it would be ruinous to human industry if like conditions existed among men.

Derivation of "Finance."

Many words of most august sound prove to be of quite commonplace ancestry when traced to their origins. "Finance" is really only "settling up."
