PENNINSULA TURNED DOWN

PROTEST OF CLEVELAND BANKERS AGAINST ASSIGNMENT TO MINNEAPOLIS RESERVE BANK NOT HEED-ED

Washington, July 28.—In their desire to have the Upper Peninsula detached from the Minneapolis federal reserve district and attached to the Chicago district, northern Michigan bankers are due for disappointment.

The Upper Peninsula is to remain where it is, and word has gone out that none but minor changes will be made despite the almost unanimous disapproval over the present districting.

Comptroller of the Currency Williams states that some minor changes will be made in boundaries. This statement is unusually significant because Mr. Williams, as a member of the federal reserve board, is presumably in accord with Secretary McAdoo, Mr. Hamlin and Dr. Miller, and these four will constitute a majority of the board.

There will probably be some shifting of the boundaries separating the Chicago and St. Louis districts, and perhaps in Wisconsin the boundary will be removed a little to accommodate Milwaukee. This was placed in the Chicago district and the line was drawn in reference to Chicago. This gave to Minneapolis a part of Wisconsin which may have belonged to Minneapolis so far as Chicago was concerned, but which really belonged to Milwaukee by virtue of trade domination.

There was an unanimous protest from bankers in the upper Michigan peninsula against attaching that section to the Minneapolis district. It was said that the business of the Upper Peninsula never was with Minneapolis and never will be, for the reason that the natural lines of commerce do not run that way. The Upper Peninsula does business with Detroit and Chicago, and the northern Michigan bankers urged that they be detached from Minneapolis and attached to the district in which their financial activities lie.

Senator William Alden Smith took the matter up on behalf of the banks of the Upper Peninsula and endeavored to have the desired change made, but nothing came of his efforts.

NO COMPENSATION FOR ANY DISEASE

Lansing, July 29.—The supreme court decision in the case of the state industrial accident board in the death of Augustus Adams, an employe of the Avenue White Lead and Color works, Adams was afflicted with lead poisoning, contracted at his work, and his widow, Sarah E. Adams, asked for compensation. At the hearing before the accident board the question was raised that the act of the legislature did not cover such cases, but the board decided that it did and consequently ordered compensation. The White Lead company took the matter direct to the supreme court and today's decision, overruling the board, is the result.

The opinion in the case is an exhaustive one and was written by Justice Stone. He goes into the matter of the passage of the act creating the accident board very minutely, and points out that the act apparently applies only to accidents and to diseases which have their foundation in some accident. Lead poisoning, he holds, cannot be traced to any accident, in as much as it is a gradual growth by reason of the victim coming in con-

U. S. TO KEEP HANDS OFF

Washington, July 29.—The United States will keep hands off the European crisis and will make no move to maintain peace in the present situation, President Wilson stated today.

The President declared that the United States has never attempted either directly or indirectly to interfere in European affairs and would make no further attempt.

The statement was taken to mean that neither President Wilson nor Secretary of State Bryan will make any movement toward bringing the various instruments of arbitration to bear upon the crisis. One reason for this attitude, it is said, is that Serbia is not a party to The Hague convention, and therefore is not bound by any of the regulations drawn up at that meeting.

Dispatches from American ambassadors and ministers abroad today were unusually heavy and contained the latest advice as to the trend of events in Europe. State department officials, however, are reluctant to make public the details of these dispatches because of their desire to remain aloof from any possibly foreign complications.

MOOSE TAKE MILWAUKEE

Of proceedings at the opening session of the national convention of the Loyal Order of Moose at Milwaukee and at which meeting the local lodge is represented a Milwaukee newspaper says:

Like a great invading army, Loyal Order of Moose, 10,000 strong, carried Milwaukee by storm on Monday. The national convention began at 8 o'clock Monday night, when the first session was postponed because of the fact that all the delegates had not yet registered and received their credentials.

The throngs which arrived hourly were met with bands, autos and flowers and Milwaukee smilingly turned over its keys and freedom to the visitors.

It was estimated by the convention committee Monday night that there were 10,000 delegates and visitors in the city, and it was stated that scores of other delegations will arrive on Tuesday and Wednesday, most of these having wired to reserve hotel accommodations. The latest estimate of the number who will come is from 15,000 to 20,000.

At present about 200 cities are represented by the visitors and even Hawaii is represented by a delegate, C. H. Brown of Honolulu, who traveled half way across the Pacific and two-thirds the distance over American to appear for his brothers in the island possession.

The city has its best dress on for the occasion, practically every store and business house in the downtown district being decorated both inside and out with hundreds of gay flags, bunting and the emblems of the Moose order.

With the crowd of Sunday already in, the arrival of Monday's trains and boats augmented the number of the convention visitors until the streets were packed with the gayly garbed zouaves, marching club members and ribboned visitors, many of whom were loaded down with medals, badges and pennants. Of the 10,000 visitors, perhaps 1,000 are women.

An almost pathetic feature of the day was the arrival of forty-two orphan children from the Mooseheart institution. The little ones, with their own brave little drum corps, came from Chicago on the Christopher Columbus together with 1,600 other visitors and settled in the Maryland hotel. At night, under the guidance of their instructors and officers of the Mooseheart schools they appeared on the streets, visiting headquarters and taking the movies.

Bands, here, there and everywhere, played on the streets or serenaded the hotels. The Mooseheart band organization, thirty strong, came late in the afternoon and gave several impromptu concerts.

After spending hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment for indigestion and constipation with only temporary relief, C. H. Hines, of Whitlow, Ark., was permanently cured by Chamberlain's Tablets. For sale by all dealers.

MAY RECALL GLEASON

According to press dispatches proceedings have been instituted at Eveleth, Minn., to recall Mayor James J. Gleason, first commission mayor of the Vermillion range city and a former Gladstone man, who has a host of friends in this district.

A press dispatch from Eveleth says: "There promises to be a red hot fight in the courts before the voters ever have a chance to vote on the recall of Mayor J. J. Gleason and Commissioner Brince, against whom recall petitions were filed Saturday with City Clerk A. P. Romer, as it is understood that Mayor Gleason and Commissioner Brince will seek by injunction or some other proceeding to prevent the city clerk from certifying the petition to the city council Aug. 4, largely on the ground that the petitions were illegally prepared and signed. Reports are current that misrepresentation was used in getting people to sign the petitions and that scores of those whose names are affixed are willing to make affidavit to that effect and that they were forced to sign the petitions under threat of losing jobs with the Oliver Iron Mining company. It is said the petitions were largely signed by employees of the mining companies and does not contain the names of representative business men.

"One man who signed says he will make affidavit he was lured into a barroom and pled with drink until he complied with the request of the recall promoter and signed the petition. Under the provisions of the charter many of the names to the petitions, for the recall of Gleason and 280 for the recall of Brince can be eliminated.

"The petitions were filed by John Trezona, who was accompanied to the clerk's office by M. J. Trevarrow, Robert Mitten and N. Consadine. It is said that lists with thirty signatures are being withheld for use in the event that enough signatures are stricken off to invalidate the petitions.

"Mr. Romer will retain possession of the petitions for ten days, after which they will be presented to the council, unless he is enjoined. It is then the duty of the council to call a recall election, for which at least ten days' notice must be given."

FINISH ONE WALL FOR THE FOUNDATION

Cement workers employed by John S. Lindsay yesterday completed the laying of the concrete foundation wall for the new addition to the Fair Savings Bank Department store.

When the excavation was made for the first foundation of the new building much trouble was experienced by the caving of the sand but that danger mark is passed with the finishing of the concrete wall yesterday.

one time to 69 1-2, the lowest since the early years of the last century. A government broker came into the market at this point and bought all consols obtainable at 70 1-2.

Five failures were reported, none of much consequence. There is not much doing on exchange. At Amsterdam, St. Petersburg and Liverpool the exchanges were closed for the day.

The Berlin bourse decided against closing but suspended dealing in securities handled for settlement.

Despatches from Vienna showed that movements of Austrian forces toward the Serbian frontiers were proceeding steadily but the censorship preventing the exact destination of troops reaching the outside world.

Anxiety was added by the orders to British feet at Portland to sail for a destination not revealed to the public.

The Montenegrins are making preparations and have stationed brigade with a mountain battery near Priboj, where the women today were building earthworks.

The Serbian and Austrian aviators this morning were flying along frontiers, trying to locate positions of opposing forces.

Another danger has arisen owing to the uneasiness in Germany at the preparations being made by Russia along her frontier.

It is argued in official circles that although this action dangerously diminishes the chances of maintaining European peace, it does not necessarily imply a rupture between Austria-Hungary and Russia.

Reports came through from Vienna this morning that the Russian poles have organized a revolution and have invaded several magazines. Several bomb explosions took place in the principal postoffice of Warsaw Monday, killing and wounding many persons. No confirmation of this report could be had from other sources.

BAND MEMBERS GREATLY PLEASED

"Speaking for the members of the Escanaba Military Band, I wish to make public announcement of the high regard in which we hold Mr. Salinsky of the Fair store as the result of his magnanimous treatment of the band members on the outing at Fayette on Tuesday," said Prof. Geo. E. Barnard, leader of the band yesterday.

"Every member of the band enjoyed the trip and everything possible was accomplished by Mr. Salinsky to make it pleasant for us. Speaking for myself I have traveled throughout the United States and I must say that Fayette is by far the most beautiful spot that I have ever visited in the northwest."

Manners Maketh Man.

F. Hopkinson Smith, in one of his sketches, lamented that in the hurry and rush which obtain in the present era good manners has become conspicuous by their absence, saying: "We live so fast that we have not time to be polite." His lament is recalled by a story told by a lady from Virginia who lately visited New York. The story was about a prayer credited to "Uncle Nat," an old darky who had served for many years as butler in the house. The prayer concluded in this wise: "Make me so lib dat when Ah does Ah will know what to say when Ah meets mah Hebenly Master—so he sure Ah done had proper raisin' and learnt ma manners."

The Safety Habit

You know the Railroads are talking a good deal these days about the "Safety Habit." It is not a safety razor or a safety bicycle. It's safety for the lives entrusted to their care.

The same principle applies to the banking business. Our bank employed the Safety Habit at the outset—Safety to the depositors' money entrusted to our care. Every dollar left with us will be taken care of. Safety is our watch word. We would like to have your account on this basis.
