Athens, May 24.—It is estimated that the Turks losses in the Dardanelles amounts to $0,000.

(Special to The Press.)

Rome, May 24.—Fighting on land, on sea and from the air between Italy and Austria was begun at 4 o'clock this morning before half of the world knew Italy had declared war. In every instance the Italians were able to repel the Austrians, who took the initiative. King Victor Emmanuel accompanied by General Brusati, left for the front late this afternoon. The King dropped all affairs of the State leaving the responsibility for the Civil administration in the hands of the Ministry. There is a report that the Italian fleet commanded by the Duke of Abruzzi engaged the Austrian fleet that bombarded Ancona, 140 miles south of Venice earlier in the day and that three small Austrian ships were sunk and two captured. The Italian court to be transferred to Florence during the war the King, Queen and Suite occupying the famous Pitti Palazzo. Florence is also chosen as the Red Cross headquarters. A rigid censorship has been established. Austrian aeroplanes have swept practically the entire Adriatic coast of Italy. The explosion of bombs at Venice caused great excitement. It was first reported that the entire Austrian fleet would bombard the city. Italy's prompt action in seizing the Austrian and German ships netted her $20,000,000 in prizes. Indications are that the Austro-German force are planning to strike at Italy a blow which will be decisive. Prince Von Buelow the German Ambassador, accompanied by the Princess left Quirinal and the Vatican tonight.

The German troops already in the valley of the Adige river, are preparing to advance toward Verona. A dispatch from Odessa, the Russian port on the Black sea, reports the assassination of the Italian consul at Constantinople.

London, May 24.—An official report from Sir John French says that the Germans attacked east of Ypres this morning under cover of asphyxiants, forcing the British to evacuate some of the trenches. The Germans penetrated the British line at two or three other places. Sir John also reported the capture of seven machine guns by the British from the Germans and the silencing of three of the German batteries.

Vienna, May 24.—An official statement says:

"Fight continues in central Galicia. During the last few days in Kielec Highlands we have taken 2,500 men, and thirty officers. In the southwestern theater, as a consequence of the new war situation a few minor engagements occurred on the Tyrol frontier of Italy. The Italian cavalry was observed near Strass (Austrian Tyrol). In the eastern Mediterranean—the Turks brought up large reinforcements and many guns of all types against the position of the allied troops to hold on to the Gallipoli Peninsula. It is believed the troops number 200,000. The Turks are to make a master strike at the Allies hoping to rid the peninsula of them.

MURDERER IS TAKEN

Local officers have been on the lookout for the past few days for Roy Nunn and "Billy" King, who were captured yesterday morning while employed by the Goodman Lumber Co. at Little Lake, after a bit of clever work on the part of Marquette county officers and Austin Goodman. Of the capture of the men, the Marquette Chronicle says:

Roy Nunn, murderer, released from Marquette prison March 18 of this year by the pardon board, and William Lewis, alias "Billy" King, were arrested here this morning by Deputy Sheriff Bodinus, of this place, and two Gwinn officers, on charges of burglary. The men had, stored at their board places, four big cases of goods of all descriptions, including watches, jewelry, kodaks, cigars, toilet articles, etc. Identified as stuff stolen from the pharmacy and jewelry store at Gwinn about a week ago. They had besides revolvers, a rifle, clothing, macintoshes, cartridges and also, the officers say, dynamite which Nunn purchased recently.

King was arrested at Goodman's mill here, where he recently obtained employment while Nunn was at the other side of the lake. Nunn was armed and the officers found this out before going after him. Upon reaching him, Nunn made a move to draw his gun, it is said, but the officers promptly covered him and he was taken in without trouble.

There is little question in the minds of the officers but what the two men have committed a series of burglaries. Their assortment of stuff is so varied and the quantity so large that it could not possibly come from one or two places. The stuff taken in the Gwinn burglary constitutes only a small portion of the loot. Nunn's alleged possession of dynamite leads the officers to the conclusion that the blowing up of a vault at Little Lake was planned by Nunn is a well known convict. He is about 40 years old and has served, (Continued on page six.)

GROSS MAN HAS NEW FISHWORM

Jack Lloyd, champion chub fisherman of No. 2 dam has invented a bait by which he expects to break all records this season and catch enough chubs to feed Toney Roeser and John Finn for the rest of the summer.

Jack has a new breed of fishing worms and he is ready. Last fall, during the plowing on his farm, Jack filled a big box with rich soil and caught a half bushel or so of worms. Then he took about four dozen of Edward Jensen's old rubbers and two of Frank McGovern's automobile tires and ground them up fine in the hay cutter and mixed them with the soil in the box. Now the worms have eaten all the rubber and some them will stretch 12 inches, and snap like a rubber band. Jack don't reckon the chubs can pull them off the hook at all. If a chub does manage to pull the worm off the hook it will snap and hit the fish on the nose and stun it. So Jack is sure he can catch fish now.

WOMAN IS INJURED

Mrs. Patch of Menominee was thrown from their car and the other four occupants of the auto badly shaken up on Sunday afternoon at about 4 o'clock, when the car, driven by Mr. Patch skidded into the ditch near the Narenta station.

The car was being driven at a high rate of speed on the Bark River road toward Escanaba and near the Narenta station it was necessary to pass a horse and carriage. Mr. Patch slowed down slightly to pass and in giving the carriage too much of the road the wheels on one side of his car sank in the mire and it skidded to the side. Mrs. Patch was hurled bodily from the rear seat of the auto while the other occupants were badly shaken up.

It was at first feared that Mrs. Patch had been seriously injured but when she was picked up nothing of a serious nature was to be found. At this juncture the Solomon Greenhook auto of this city was passing and Mrs. Patch was taken in and brought to this city to the Delta hotel.

A local garage was notified and sent a car to the scene and the big Menominee auto was soon pulled from the mire.

The party has returned to Menominee.

KING DECORATES KITCHENER TO ORDER OF LEOPOLD.

London, May 24.—Following the newspaper attacks against Lord Kitchener, secretary of state for war, King Albert of Belgium Saturday conferred upon him the grand order of the Order of Leopold.

JUNIORS DOWN THE DIGNIFIED SENIORS

At the Brewery Diamond last evening the Seniors of the high school were trimmed by the Juniors by a score of 6 to 2. Baldwin and Lambert served as the battery for the Seniors while Murphy, Perrin, Germaine and Dwyer held up that end for the Juniors.

This evening the members of the Faculty will play the Sophomores.

FUNERAL IS HELD ON WEDNESDAY

Final funeral ceremonies over the body of Mrs. Harriet Valentine, aged pioneer, who passed away on Saturday evening, will be conducted on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. Guy V. Hoard, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating. Interment will take place at Lakeview cemetery.

Those who have been selected as pall bearers are: Edward Erickson, A. J. Young, E. C. Voght, A. R. Moore, L. J. MacMartin and Frank Brotherton.

FIRST GAMES ARE BOOKED

Escanaba's Independent baseball team has booked its first games. Manager Schram stated to the Press last night that he had closed with Manistique for next Saturday and Sunday. The Iron Mountain team that defeated the fast Green Bay aggregation last Sunday, will come here on June 5 and 6.

Manager Schram has received a communication from Rube Foster of the American Giants, the fastest colored team in the United States, who is attempting to book a game with the locals for July 3, 4 and 5. In all probability local fans will have an opportunity to see the dusky men in action at South Park.

MRS. JOHNSON CALLED BEYOND

The death of Mrs. Johnson has brought sorrow to her relatives and scores of friends in this city. Her kindly motherly manner had brought many friends into her circle.

Mrs. Axel Johnson passed away at her home on Wells avenue Sunday after an illness which extended over many months' time.

In an effort to receive medical assistance Mrs. Johnson had travelled to many parts of the United States and only a week ago returned to her home in this city, giving up and to wait for the end.

A husband, a sister and four children survive the woman. The children are: Lawrence, Adrian, James and Alice. The sister is Mrs. Hans Olson of Williams, Minn., and she arrived in the city last night to attend the funeral of this afternoon.

FUNERAL WAS IMPRESSIVE

Members of the Escanaba council Knights of Columbus yesterday morning attended in a body the funeral of Frank Kraus, Sr., pioneer resident of Escanaba, who passed away early on Saturday morning. A large number of people who had known Mr. Kraus through the many years that he had made this city his home, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, gathered at St. Joseph's church to pay their final respects to the memory of one who was held in high regard by all who knew him. Rev. Father Julius officiated at the service and following the impressive ceremony the body was escorted to its final resting place at St. Joseph's cemetery.

A large number of beautiful floral offerings were received at the home from relatives and friends, reflecting in a high degree the respect in which Mr. Kraus was held and the general sorrow that was caused by his death.

Among those from outside the city who came here to attend the funeral, were:

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kraus of Johnson's reek, Wis., Mrs. Joseph Lange, Watertown, Minn., and Mrs. Joseph Farber of Dousman, Minn.

FRANK E. LONG HAS PASSED AWAY

Frank E. Long, for many years head of the Long Stock Company and who for years played annual engagements at the Peterson theater here, passed away last week in Minneapolis. The funeral was held at Austin, Minn., where he had made his home since his marriage, more than seventeen years ago. While for many years past Mr. Long had been a sufferer from locomotor ataxia, his death was due to injuries sustained a short time ago in Winona, Minn., where his company was filling a week's engagement at the opera house. He was 51 years of age.

Thirty years of Mr. Long's life was spent in the theatrical business, twenty of them as manager of his own company, which played many of the cities of the Northwest year after year. He started in the show business as a clown with Ringling Bros. circus. Next he went into a minstrel show, then into a small dramatic company, where his character work soon won him a reputation. He started in "The Middleman" and soon after organized a stock company of his own, with which he traveled until a week before his death.

In 1898 Mr. Long married Miss Alice Sullivan of Austin, Minn., who survives him. Two sisters and one brother are also living.

ANNUAL EXHIBIT HELD THIS WEEK

The annual exhibit of cooking and sewing from the domestic science department of the local schools will be held on Thursday and Friday of this week at the high school building.

The handwork of boys and the sewing of girls in the grades and the cooking of the high school girls will complete the exhibition this year. Miss Helen Simonson, head of that department, last night stated that she expected the coming exhibit to far outclass those held in former years and issued a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

NO SCHOOL ON MONDAY

The regular sessions of the local public schools will not be held on next Monday when Memorial Day is officially observed. The school children, however, will assist in the observance of the day by appearing in line of march. The announcement that has been posted at the different school buildings of the city follows:

"Monday, May 31st, is the official Memorial Day. There will be no school in any of the Public school buildings. It is understood, however that the schools will assist in the proper observance of the day.

"In the forenoon all children who can gather either wild or cultivated flowers will take them to the Armory not later than 10:30 a. m. Here the ladies of the Relief Corps will receive them. There will be no public program at the cemetery. The graves will be decorated by committees arranged by the ladies.

"In the afternoon the public parade will start from the Armory at 2:30. All school children who take part in the parade must be at the Armory at 2:15 to form in line, under direction of Miss Snyder. The children of the Fifth and Sixth Grades will act as the Flower Committee and will march down through the Park along the water's edge and strew flowers upon the water for that purpose.

"Before dismissing the schools, Friday, May 28th, teachers will give special patriotic instruction as is best fitted to their particular grade. Mrs. Walters has prepared a history of the origin of the observance of Memorial Day, at my request. It will be found of interest and may be read to pupils at this time.

ESCANABA WOMAN IN PREDICAMENT

Of an unusual situation in which a woman, said to have been born in Escanaba, now finds herself, the Duluth Herald says:

That a woman's citizenship is the same as that of her husband is maintained by Brown McDonald, immigration officer in Duluth, who yesterday arrested Mrs. Lea Burnette, aged 28, who was born at Escanaba, Mich., and a resident of the United all her life excepting two years. She was arrested at Houghton, Mich., for crossing the boundary line at International Falls. She had been barred by the federal authorities.

The allegations are that she and a musician, George Davis, crossed the line on a ferry as man and wife. Davis' home is at Fort Frances, Mrs. Burnette, who was married at Chassel, Mich., is the mother of four children all born in the Michigan upper peninsula.

Officer McDonald declares Mrs. Burnette is not a citizen because she married a Canadian fifteen years ago, who had not taken out his naturalization papers, although he lived in Michigan. A woman's citizenship is held to be the same as that of her husband.

The authorities declare that Mrs. Burnette, after landing in the United States, hired a livery rig, which carried her to a station on the D. W. & P. railway, where she boarded a train for Duluth. It is said she passed two weeks in New Duluth and afterward went to Houghton, Mich., where she was arrested. She was left at Hancock, Mich., where she will be held pending word from the secretary of labor.

Miss Alice Hansen of Negaunee is in the city to attend the funeral this morning of Miss Helen Winegar

YOUNG WOMAN IS CALLED

HELEN WINEGAR PASSES AWAY AFTER BUT TWO WEEKS ILL- NESS OF TYPHOID FEVER

After an illness of typhoid fever that extended over but a two weeks period, Miss Helen Winegar, daughter of Mrs. Frank Winegar of 421 South Campbell street, passed away at 4:30 o'clock on Sunday morning. Death came after a sinking spell of nearly six hours duration.

The announcement of the death of Miss Winegar came as a horrible shock to her many friends and relatives who had but learned on Saturday that her condition was much improved and that her recovery was expected.

Miss Winegar was born in this city 23 years ago and attended the public schools of this city. In the year of 1910 she was graduated from the Escanaba high school. For some time Miss Winegar taught in the grades of the local public schools and for the past two years she has served as private secretary for F. H. VanCleve, of the Land Office of the Chicago and NorthWestern railway.

Two weeks ago Miss Winegar became ill with typhoid and every possible care was given her that she might enjoy an early recovery. Toward the end of last week she began to show signs of improvement and appeared to be resting more easily. Saturday night the attending nurse remarked that her patient seemed to be resting more easily than any time since her illness began. At 12 o'clock however, the patient suddenly took a turn for the worse and sank rapidly. Physicians were at once called and every effort made to save the life of the young woman. The efforts were fruitless though and at 4:30 o'clock she passed away, surrounded by the members of her family.

The death of the young woman is one of the saddest to occur in the city. It has come as a terrible shock to her mother with whom she had been so companionable. Since the death of her father shortly over a year ago she has spent much of her leisure time with her mother that she might furnish the comfort of a daughter. Between the two there existed an unfeeling love and that her life should be cut off just at a time when life seemed at its best for her, is the cause for deep and unaffected sorrow throughout the city. Through her high school career and since that time Miss Winegar has held a high social position and her death has come as a severe blow to those who became acquainted with her through that channel.

Of a sweet and loving disposition the death of the young woman has brought a shadow of sorrow to hundreds here and the memory of her delightful accomplishments will long remain firmly imprinted upon the minds of all.

Those who survive Miss Winegar are her mother and her three brothers: Frank, Murray and Horace.

The final funeral ceremonies will be held this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church with Rev. Father Barth officiating. Interment will be made at St. Joseph's cemetery.

Those who have selected to bear the body to its final resting place are: Guy Sullivan, Thomas Powers, Harold O'Meara, Albert Manning, Robert Pryal and Alfred Corcoran.

Those who arrived in the city yesterday to attend the funeral this morning are: Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Egan, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McDonell, Marquette; Merrill Winegar, Montreal; Mrs. Albert Stone and Miss Florence Winegar, Milwaukee and Miss Alice Hansen and Miss Norma Jacobson, Negaunee.

CHALLENGE ISSUED TO MIRROR FORCES

Captain Lawrence Perry of a baseball nine, chosen from the combined day and night forces of the Morning Press, issues a formal challenge to the baseball nine of the Daily Mirror, the game to be started on next Sunday, May 30, at 10 o'clock a. m. The Press combine reserves the right, in its challenge, to designate the date but gives the full privilege of selecting the diamond upon which the game is to be played, to the team of the Daily Mirror nine.

It is hoped that the Mirror bunch can get up enough interest among themselves and accept the challenge of the Morning Press captain.

Eleven nations are now involved in the European war. Add two more and there may be a possibility of peace.

Anyway, now we can throw in that head: "Italy Nearly Ready to Enter War." She's in.

Probably the McAdoo announced the name of their baby early to save the nation the trouble of suggesting one.

Judging from the success Theodore Roosevelt is having in his different libel actions he should now be able to qualify as a libel expert.

A Kalamazoo man is suing his wife for divorce because she slashed him 17 times with a razor. Gross carelessness. Knowing her disposition he should have used a safety razor.

A Lapeer man, named Shingles has been arrested for having two wives. He's hardly to blame for he but lived up to his name and got his wives in "bunches."

Submarine cussing is the new form of silent profanity indulged in by meek husbands in the warfare against wife's installment plan of house-cleaning. A man turned loose on the job would clean up the whole business in a day.

DON'T DODGE.

Do not dodge. Whatever the difficulties to be met, they are not made easier by trying to dodge them. In trying to dodge a missile from one direction you may come in line with one from a different direction. When we dodge trouble no less easy to endure. Look with courage on what must be met. Faced with couraged difficulties are half conquered. Better meet the conquer difficulties than to dodge them. Do not dodge duties that devolve on you. Duties performed add strength and dignity to character. It matters little what these duties are; though they be of the simplest and humblest, well and truly done, they acquire dignity. Stand up bravely and squarely to meet the difficulties of life. With courage you will conquer. You will come through life with fewer scars than by trying to dodge duty or difficulty. Trying to evade begets in a man a cringing spirit. He gets a habit of truckling and upright, self-respecting manhood is gone. Don't dodge if you would hold yourself above meanness.

GET OUT YOUR HOE.

American cities are all cities of magnificent distances and proportions. We scatter 500,000 city dwellers over an area that abroad would house 5,000,000 and the realty speculator waxes fat.
Good thing! Spread them out more! And one of the chief advantages this added area gives is that at our several back doors we have the opportunity to grow the greater part of our living.

The average American city has enough enough idle and vacant property in its to feed its population. A city lot, say 50 to 100 feet, will, if properly gardened, not only supply the average family with vegetables for the spring and summer, but with enough surplus to can for the winter time.

An idle block, if properly cropped and fertilized, and cared for, will raise 400 bushels of potatoes; that means $200; it means thousands of meals, and how many idle blocks are there in this city.

The owner of idle property should be Christian enough to be willing to have his property farmed; potatoes and corn and peas and beans are better than thistle and dock and sunflower and briar. But if he is a grouch, then the city should demand he either make some use of his property, or allow those who will use it to do so. Instead of an anti-weed ordinance, let's have a potato and pea and bean ordinance.

And the biggest, best part of it all is that the hour you spend before breakfast and the hour you spend in the twilight in your garden and that's all you need spend, will bring you health and peace and independence of spirit.

TELLS GERMANS TO BE SILENT

New York, May 24.—The insistence of a part of the vernacular press that the German-American should define their position in a war with Germany has appeared rather strange to us," says The German Herald, editorially discussing common sense and the war. "A little reflection might have shown these editors how unreasonable their more or less veiled suspicions are. Even if we leave aside the oath of allegiance and the sentiment for the flag, we should think hard, practical, common sense alone would teach that the German-Americans must support the country of their adoption, must support it unreservedly and energetically. When Germans become citizens they expect to remain in America. They expect the country to remain their own home and that, of their children and their children's children. All their material interests are bound up in America. They want the country to become greater and greater, not only for their own sake, but for that of their offspring.

"Sentimental reminiscences of the old country will never outweigh the hard cold facts of materials existence. We might quote numerous instances from the past to rattle assertion; the teachings of history go to show that any colony whose material interests were threatened by the mother country resented such acts, frequently by open rebellion.

"The well-being of America being for the German-Americans of paramount importance, a most substantial basis for their absolute loyalty is given even if we should leave aside the sentimental regard for the flag which is far greater than the editors of the vernacular press believe.

"The simple fact is that the German is less volatile and far less demonstrative than the American. Nobody rises in Germany when the national hymn is played, there is no flag to salute in the schools and, in fact the flag is seldom shown, except on great national holidays.

"To the German-American we want to say that it is absolutely logical that the native Americans exact the fullest measure of patriotic devotion you may be capable of. No nation will forego its claim on the loyalty of all of its citizens, as any other course would be suicidal. No silent and sudden acquiescence in the measures the nation takes through its chosen representatives will suffice; the response of the German-Americans must come from the whole heart and the support of the country must be without reserve, without qualifications.

"And from all the manifestations of German-American spirit in the last few days we can definitely say that in this, the supreme test of loyalty the German-Americans will not fail or falter.

"To the Germans living here—those who are not naturalized—we offer this advice. Comport yourselves as guests of the nation. Silence is golden. Keep at your usual occupations and be sure to refrain from any undertaking that might displease your hosts."

WAR

Washington, May 24.—Italy's declaration of war on Austria created a sensation in diplomatic quarters here, for, while the announcement was not unexpected, the addition of another powerful action to the number of belligerents in Europe brought out a variety of speculation on the military effect of the new operations on the conflict as a whole, and the possible attitude of Roumania, Bulgaria and Greece.

Up to a late hour tonight the Italian and Austrian embassies here, as well as the state department, were without official notification of the declaration of war by Italy, but officials began the preparation of a neutrality proclamation which will be issued by President Wilson probably tomorrow when Ambassador Page advises the American government of Italy's action.

The opening of hostilities between Austria and Italy had so long been forecast that American business interests had long made preparation for the severance of communication.

The United States government, in accordance with requests received over a month ago, will now take over the custody of Italian diplomatic and consular interests in Austria, and Austrian interests in Italy, arranging for the care of prisoners and the safe conduct of consuls and diplomatic officers and the protection of embassy archives.

It is taken for granted in diplomatic quarters here that as a result of the declaration of war against Austria, Germany and Turkey, as the allies of that country, will announce a state of war with Italy. Switzerland is expected to take charge of Italian interests in Berlin and Constantinople.

One of the subjects on which information is awaited with much interest is the attitude of Italy towards the naval operations of the allies, whether Italy will subscribe to the order-in-council making impossible all commercial intercourse with Germany and Austria through the Mediterranean and whether the same rigid rule as to contraband will be enforced by the Italian fleets as by the Anglo-French fleets.

The situation of Switzerland is likely to be a cause of much concern, for should the same rule as to ultimate destination of cargoes be put into effect with respect to shipments consigned for transshipment through Italian ports, as imposed by the allies the little republic, isolated in the center of Europe, without sea outlet, may suffer seriously.

The cutting off of commerce to Germany and Austria through the Mediterranean, it is thought, soon will be seriously felt by the central powers and may even compel a conclusion of peace earlier than might otherwise have been the case. The entrance of Roumania, shutting off a wheat supply from southeastern Europe, would be another important factor. There long has been an understanding between Italy and Roumania, according to official information here, to enter the war at approximately the same time, but whether Bulgaria, anxious to regain territory lost to Roumania, will permit that country to enter the conflict is a matter of conjecture. The Grecian ministry is understood to be ready to assist the allies, though King Constantine, personally, is said to be pledged to maintain neutrality. In view of the King's critical illness the belief has prevailed that Roumania's entrance would be followed by that of Greece, counterbalancing any attempt Bulgaria might attempt on Roumania.

It is generally expected that the Italian fleet will take charge of the situation in the Adriatic, releasing the French warships, which have been on guard there, to go to the Dardanelles. Some German submarines, it is known, have been shipped overland to Trieste and Austrian ports and will assist in the operations of the Austrian fleet against Italian commerce. The belief prevails even among well-informed Italians here that there will be no bombardment of Trieste by sea, but that it will be one of the objective points of the Italian land campaign.

GERMANS SHOW FIDELITY TO U. S.

New York, May 24.—A stirring description of an authentic outburst of patriotism among young citizens of German birth or blood is published in The New York World.

"As at 9 o'clock Saturday night, a municipal ferry boat from Staten Island was about to leave the slip at St. George, a German singing club, homeward bound after a holiday, marched aboard 100 strong," states the writer. "Ruddy and well set-up, they seemed the picture of strength and typical of the best in young German manhood. Nearly 2,000 holiday makers surged around while the excellent band rendered hymns, and in a few minutes the singing club began to sing. A hymn, and then another, filled the saloon deck with sonorous melody and brought the crowd, conglomerate of many nationalities to attention.

"Then, after an interval filled with slow, soft music, the band and club swung into The Fatherland, with its magnificent swing of sound and feeling. They sang it with all their hearts while the crowd stood silent.

"There was no exhibition of disapproval in the crowd and no noisy demonstration on the part of the singers. It all seemed the natural outpouring of love for native lands, in which the listeners felt true sympathy. No thought of the tense situation between our country and that of which the young men sang seemed to enter in.

"Then a few bars quick and high and the band swept into the inspiring strains of The Star Spangled Banner. "Every hat came off, and for a minute the crowd stood silent, as if wondering whether it heard the German band aright. Somebody waved a little cotton flag somewhere in the fringe of the crowd and the food broke loose.

"The German-American singers leaped to the benches and waved their caps aloft and sang, while the band played the second verse and the crowd waved hats and cheered, and then all stood at attention to the little cotton flag, waving in an unseen hand at the outskirts of the crowd, while the German band played its elated stanza and many eyes were wet with tears.

"It was then noticed for the first time that many of the proud young German-Americans had little American flags in their buttonholes."

IRON AUTHORITIES GIVES COMMENT

In the current issue of the Iron Trade Review the following comment is offered on the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission allowing the Northwestern and other ore hauling roads of the peninsula to institute a higher carrying charge:

Holding that the railroads were justified in increasing their ore from 40 to 45 cents per gross ton from the Gogebic, Menominee and Marquette ranges in the Michigan peninsula to the ports of Ashland, Wis., and Escanaba and Marquette, Mich., the interstate commerce commission today handed down an opinion and dismissed the complaints against the increased charges. The complainants were the Hayes Mining Co., the Newport Mining Co. and Corrigan, McGlinney Co. At the same time, the commission dismissed the complaint of the Newport Mining Co., that the system of grouping all the mines in the Gogebic and Menominee ranges and applying to all mines alike the blanket rate of 45 cents, resulted in unjust discrimination prejudicial to it.

The increased rate was brought about when the carriers, in January, 1913, serving Michigan mines, filed supplementary tariffs separating their charge on ore traffic and applying a 5-cent per gross ton additional charge for dock service, but keeping in effect the old rate of 40 cents which then applied only for the service of assembling and line haul up to the dockyard. The commission said that the effect of this change was to increase the rate for service formerly performed at a lower rate and that the carriers had satisfactorily discharged the burden placed upon them of justifying the increase. In view of the recent decision in the Lake Superior ore rate case, when the rate was cut only 5 cents per ton, from 60 to 55 cents, it had been predicted that the commission would justify the Michigan rate increase. Ore hauled from the three Michigan ranges in 1913 totaled 13,508,852 tons, as compared with only 8,882,596 tons in 1914.

The opinion incorporates a statement compiled by The Iron Trade Review in its Lake Superior ore annual for 1913 showing the prices of ore in connection with the claim of the carriers that the profits accruing to the operator was such that they could easily stand the small increase in the rate which had been made.

ARMIES OF EACH TOTAL MILLION

London, May 24.—Austrian and Italian forces are facing each other at some places only a half-mile apart, says the Geneva correspondent of the Daily Express. "The forces at the front are estimated at a million men.

Rome, May 22, 8:15 p. m., via Paris, May 23.—Contemporaneously with issuance of the general mobilization order the Italian government tonight officially announced that it had declared war against Austria-Hungary.

With the issuance of the mobilization order the Italian government issued a proclamation declaring on Austria, which officially will begin tomorrow.

Prior to this, and after lengthy consultation, the ministers of war and marine proclaimed all the provinces bordering on Austria, and the islands and coast towns of the Adriatic, to be in a state of war, which was equivalent to the establishment of martial law, the step usually preceding the formal declaration.

Although drastic action has been looked for momentarily, Italians of all classes have been electrified by the swiftly moving events. Early this morning great crowds gathered around the quinal to await the ministers who called on the king of the purpose of discussing the situation and signing decrees.

When Premier Salandra and Signor Sonnino, the foreign minister left the palace, the people cheered them enthusiastically. When the first blow will be struck cannot be foretold, but after many months of preparation, the army, which has been strengthened greatly, and the navy are ready. Exceedingly strong forces are in position all along the Austro-Italian frontier on the Austrian side of which preparations have been going on during the last few days to make fortifications as strong as possible and to clear the way for effective artillery action.

The German ambassador and the Austrian ambassador still are in Rome, so far as is known.

Most alarming reports have been received from Italian border towns that Tyrol are experiencing great difficulty in returning to Italy and, in many cases have been placed under arrest.

From Germany come reports that considerable resentment is felt in official quarters there against what is alleged to be the obstinacy of Austria, responsible for the failure of negotiations with Italy initiated by Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador. The suggestion had been made that Austria should be left alone to fight Italy, but pledges taken by the German general staff and by the German emperor personally with Emperor Franz Joseph resulted in the triumph of those advocating Austro-German solidarity, even in the new war against Italy.

About eight hundred thousand Bavarians and Hungarians already have been concentrated against Italy, Austria insuring them commissariat service.

Although Field Marshal Baron Conrad von Hotzendorf, chief of staff of the Austrian army, had prepared for many years for a possible outbreak of war between Austria and Italy, the belief is held here that the campaign will be conducted by the German general staff, which, it is said, has planned a strong offensive movement against Italy in the hope of breaking the Italian lines and forcing their way into Italian territory, thereby arousing alarm and strengthening the feeling favorable to peace.

The Austrian fleet is centered at Pola with only a few torpedo boats and destroyers at Cattaro and Spalato. Other Austrian warships are in Dalmatian archipelago, on the northeast coast of the Adriatic sea. Naval men here do not consider it likely that the Austrian fleet will leave Pola unless forced to do so by an Italian attack.

London, May 24.—Although there is nothing confirmatory of the statement in official reports from the front telegrams from Rotterdam and Paris published here today agree that the Germans on the west front are preparing to withdraw to their second line and thereby shorten their front and enable them to release troops for use against Italy.

Couple Surprised

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bourdlaes were delightfully surprised at their home, at 217 May street, on Saturday evening by a company of 30 friends and relatives. Members of the company took the couple completely by surprise when they arrived at the home and made merry until an early hour on Sunday morning. Games were played during the evening and following the program refreshments were served. The honor winners in the program of games were as follows: Mrs. Helmer Flink, Mrs. Peter Weydert, Phillip Shadore and Louis Bourdlaes.

As a souvenir of the happy event Mr. Bourdlaes, who is a letter carrier, traveling out of the Escanaba post office, was presented with a gold National Letter Carriers Association fob, donated by residents on his route and relatives.

Plan Party Thursday

Final preparations have been made for the dancing party to be held at Clark's Hall given by the L. A. to A. O. H. on Thursday evening of this week. The women in charge of this event have been working hard during the past few days in order to make it a social as well as a financial success. As the party will be given as a benefit dance no invitations have been sent out and all are welcome to attend.

BRITAIN NOW BUILDING WARSHIPS

Glasgow, May 24.—That the shipyards on the Clyde are turning out several fighting ships of entirely new types which are expected to prove important factors in the North sea and in the Dardanelles, was revealed in an address made at a meeting of business men here by Captain J. J. Barttelot, of the admiralty office, in urging the necessity of recruiting several thousand skilled workmen for the shipbuilding works, he said: "Our chief concern here and on the Clyde is the fleet. These yards are building ships of new types, and great issues depend on their arriving at their stations. "To get these ships ready many more men are needed, especially iron workers. In order to beat the enemy, we must pool the whole of our resources of skilled labor and put them on government work. This will mean a considerable displacement of labor but I feel confident, by the readiness with which the representatives of the employers and men have come together, the efforts will be successful. "Many firms have already met my request to divert men from their works to other firms engaged in government work. Representatives of the boiler-makers and other trades have also given me assistance. But the transfer must be done on a larger scale. Transfer of men naturally involved financial loss, through inability of firms to carry on contracts, but the government will arrange suitable compensation in these cases."

London, May 24.—An official announcement was made tonight that 158 persons were killed or are missing as the result of the triple collision which occurred yesterday morning on the Caledonian railway north of Carlisle. All but six of the killed were soldiers belonging to the Royal Scotch regiment. The wreck took place at 6 o'clock in the morning. One of the three trains was a troop train; another was a local and the third was the express from London to Glasgow. The adjoining fields soon had the appearance of an immense mortuary, with the dead, the dying and the injured lying in gruesome ranks. The troop train collided first with a local from Carlisle and before the occupants were able to get clear of the wreckage of this accident, the London-Glasgow expressed crashed into them. Fire broke out and before it was extinguished many under the wreckage, unable to make their escape, were burned alive. Doctors performed heroic service. One physician responded to the appeals of two soldiers who were imprisoned by the legs. Facing the flames, he amputated both legs of one soldier and one leg of the other, and this method offered their only hope of escape. One soldier died from the shock.

BRITISH PEOPLE RESENT CRITICISM

London, May 24.—The British people talked of nothing yesterday but who should be members of the new coalition cabinet. Today, however, this was forgotten in the controversy over Lord Kitchener.

The Times and the Daily Mail attacked the competency of the war minister this morning. The impeachment of the Daily Mail was particularly fierce. An upheaval of popular resentment against these newspapers and their dominating spirit, Lord Northcliffe, quickly followed.

The stock exchange men held an excited meeting, formally burned copies of the Times and the Daily Mail, and adopted resolutions supporting Lord Kitchener. Other meetings of protest are being planned, and a large section of the press has come to his support.

The Pall Mall Gazette says the attacks made on Kitchener have rendered him more powerful and popular than ever. The criticism of Lord Kitchener appears to have had its first inspiration in a message last week from the Times military expert at British headquarters in France. The expert asserted that the British offensive has been crippled by the lack of high explosive shells and called for more shells.

Some of the newspapers discussed the possibility of Lord Kitchener being made commander-in-chief of the armies in the field. The Daily Mail, however, attacked Lord Kitchener's South African record as a fighting general and questioned his capacity to command an army in the European war. It also criticized adversely his methods of raising volunteers.

The Pall Mall Gazette in its issue of today, defending Lord Kitchener, says: "He did not thrust himself upon the cabinet. The country will not suffer indignity and insult to be heaped upon him."

The new cabinet's makeup will not be announced until Monday or Tuesday. The only appointment thus far made known is that of Arthur Henderson, a Laborite member of the house of commons, who will assume the portfolio of president of the local government board. This appointment meets with general approval.

THOUSANDS ARE REFUSED LEAVE

Rome, via Paris, May 24.—The reports reaching Rome that the German and Austrian governments have prevented thirty thousand Italian from leaving the territory of those countries have created a profound impression here. From the Austrian side of the frontier news reached this place that a Udine Italian residents actually are being hunted and that the fate of six hundred of them, who left Trieste, hoping to reach Italy, is unknown and the greatest anxiety is felt for their safety. At Rovino, in Istria, sixty-two Italian citizens have been arrested. All Italian citizens residing near fortifications at Pola have been taken into custody by the police, and at Cormons, on the frontier, one thousand Italian, for the cost part women and children, have been concentrated and prevented from leaving the territory.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Clapp of Marinette motored to this city yesterday.

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE DELFT

The next large attraction at the Delft theater will be the Vitagraph Company's production of Hall Caine's superb love story "The Christian" in eight parts and 500 scenes. An All Star Cast of Vitagraph players is headed by Miss Edith Storey and Mr. Earle Williams. More than 3,000 people are seen in the picture, which at once can be considered as the best acting picture ever made, as well as the most elaborate and careful presentation of any photoplay now before the public.

"The Christian" as a novel was a great success. Later, it was dramatized and it brought fame and wealth to Miss Viola Allen. Its present form is its best, inasmuch as the talky dialogue of the novel and drama have been eliminated and the many scenes which were omitted in the stage version, are utilized in the picturized version. It is a superb production of a wonderful story, and having been made by the justly celebrated Vitagraph Company, who provided its best players and the most sumptuous production they could conceive, it becomes a photoplay masterpiece.

Miss Edith Storey assumes the difficult role of Glory Quayle, investing it with a youthful abandon and a mature understanding seemingly impossible to register on the screen. Her work is marvellous, as evinced by the widespread commendation which her work has invariably received. She is "The Bernhardt of the Screen," and no gner selection could have been made for the great part. Her principal co-worker is Mr. Earle Williams, who portrays John Storm in a masterful manner, giving the character a human touch which is most appealing. Others in this wonderful cast are: Charles Kent, James Lackaye, James Morrison Harry S. Northup, Donald Hall, Edward Kimball, J. W. Sambrooke, Miss Jane Fearnley, Miss Alberta Gallatin and Miss Carlotta deFellece.

Friday, May 28, one matinee, 2:30; 2 evening shows, 7:00 and 8:45; Saturday, matinee only.

THE DELFT

This house has a vaudeville program today that should be appreciated by the vast loving public. "Gordon and Day" come to this house today highly recommended and should receive the attention of many. It is a comedy bicycle act.

"Mr. Carlson of Arizona" is a comedy for here today. Another drama of considerable note is "The Other Man's Wife."

A comedy is "The Titled Hero." "The Christian" which comes to the Delft on Friday will be shown at one matinee, Friday afternoon, two shows Friday evening and one show Saturday afternoon.

THE BIJOU

There is a continuation of the "Black Box" at this house today and the followers of that picture will doubtless flock to the Bijou this evening. This will be the tenth episode of the picture.

"The Cameo Ring" is another picture of note here today.

For Wednesday Manager Hines has "Salambo."

THE ROYAL AND GRAND

This house today has six reels of splendid pictures all of which should attract monster crowds. The featured picture however, is Charlie Chaplin, the celebrated comedian in "Cruel, Cruel Love." Chaplin is recognized the world over as the funniest man alive to appear before the screen and that he is to appear at the Royal and Grand today should be eagerly welcomed by local people.

AMERICANS TO SEND BASEBALLS TO THE FRONT.

Chicago, May 24.—Canadian soldiers in France who want to spend the intermissions between battles in playing baseball will be supplied by Americans. The soldiers complained to relatives and friends in Canada that baseballs, bats and gloves were scarce in France and official attention was called with the result that President B. B. Johnson of the American league, and others were appealed to. President Johnson has promised to contribute several boxes of new baseballs.

Whooping Cough.

"When my daughter had whooping cough she coughed so hard at one time that she had hemorrhage of the lungs. I was terribly alarmed about her condition. Seeing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so highly recommended, I got her a bottle and it relieved the cough at once. Before she had finished two bottles of this remedy she was entirely well," writes Mrs. S. F. Rimes, Crooksville, Ohio. Obtainable everywhere.

FISHERMAN HAS SILVER PLATED FROGS

Benzonla, Mich., May 24.—Fred Schuster has put one over on Bud Fleming this year. Bud is trying to compromise, and is willing right now to admit that Fred will win the fishing championship of Benzie county, but Fred says he has got to stick to his wager, which is a $20 bill and a feed for all the boys.

Last year Bud beat Fred out in the fishing championship. Fred paid up and gave a big feed down at the hotel in Beulah. Immediately after the season was over Fred made a discovery that he kept quiet. He runs a plating works down near the edge of the creek, and late in the fall he noticed that the frogs were getting chilly and moving up to get into the warm water that flows from his shop. He didn't pay much attention until at the close of the season. Since then he has been mighty mysterious and experimenting all the time. He has just showed the results.

It seem that the frogs kept coming closer and closer, following up the warm water until they got right under the plating shops. Then Fred discovered that the stuff in the water from the sinks was silverplating the frogs. He caught a big bunch of them and has been keeping them in the solution and now he has about four dozen of the finest silverplated frogs in the world. A bass can see them shining in the water for a mile and there don't seem to be any hope for Bud.

SAY KAISER MUST STAY FIRM

Berlin, May 24.—It is understood that in the reply to the American note Germany will not back down from her previously stated position, because she cannot.

The Germans are absolutely convinced of the righteousness of Germany's cause and express a belief that they will be able to submit a strong brief to American public opinion, hoping for an ultimate favorable verdict.

From two well-informed sources it is said that Germany's answer, which is expected Monday or Tuesday, probably will contain a proposal that Germany is willing to refrain from attacking merchant ships which are certified by the American government as not carrying arms, ammunition and possibly other contraband for Germany's enemies.

U. S. FEEDS 9,000,000

Philadelphia, May 24.—The phase of the war has meant more to American reputation than the work of the commission for the relief of Belgium. H. C. Hoovers, head of the commission American mining engineer, has given the world a new conception of what executive ability means. For the first time in the world's history American brains have made possible the feeding of an entire destitute nation.

Gifford Pinchot paid this tribute Saturday to the efforts being made to heal the wounds of war in Belgium and northern France.

Mr. Pinchot's intention was to assist his sister, Lady Alan Johnstone, organize a field-hospital unit, but soon after he arrived he was asked to take the commission of feeding the 2,000,000 people starving in northern France.

It was this work that took Mr. Pinchot to see officials of the English and French governments and ended in his expulsion from Belgium by the German war governor, Gen. von Blissing, because of Mr. Pinchot's relation to Sir Alan Johnstone, British minister at The Hague.

"Mr. Hoover has created in England and France a respect for American executive ability that was never before held," said Mr. Pinchot. "A whole nation of 7,000,000 people in Belgium, to say nothing of 2,000,000 more in France, are being fed because they cannot feed themselves. It is a marvelous achievement and American executive ability could have no higher praise than is being given Mr. Hoover in France and England."

"What strikes me most," Mr. Pinchot said, "is that the deliberate murder of men, women and children on the Lusitania has brought the war home to the United States. I do not believe our people have realized until now what this war is, or what it means to us. The right of men to rule themselves is at stake. Our countrymen on the Lusitania were killed because an autocratic military empire is trying to seize the domination of the world at the expense of the self-governing nations."

"This war is a death struggle between democracy on the one side and armed imperialism on the other. France is our sister republic; England is a great and free democracy; Russia itself is on the high road toward democratic government."

"The worst calamity this war could bring upon the world imperialism, would be a half-baked, inconclusive peace, a peace which would permit the German military class to get ready for a second attempt to dominate the world. That kind of peace would do nothing but insure another war. We want a just and lasting peace, and not a mere intermission in the fighting."

ROOSEVELT VERACITY IS UNDOUBTED

Syracuse, N. Y., May 24.—There never was a question of the veracity of Col. Roosevelt, in the Barnes libel action from the moment they took the case, according to jurymen. Even Edward Burns, the last to agree to the verdict, had no doubt of the truth of the colonel's statements.

Burns came around voluntarily. Early this morning, while some of the jurors were still abed and others were getting dressed, Mr. Burns broke his long and stubborn silence. He suddenly wheeled around from the lavatory where he was scrubbing his face and spoke to the foreman of the jury, Warren W. Somers.

"Somers," he said, "I guess I've been wrong. I've been thinking this thing over all night, haven't had a wink of sleep, and I've made up my mind that I ought not to hold out just because I felt Roosevelt ought to split the cost with Barnes. You all know I believed Roosevelt was in the right from the first. Now if you will take a vote I'll come in out of the wet."

The vote was taken at 6:50 a. m. and every slip of paper bore these words, "For the defendant."

The one great factor which determined the vote was the question of veracity between Roosevelt and Barnes. Everything else was subordinated. From the minute the jurors received the case they felt that they could disregard practically every question except the one of truthfulness. And it is now known that from the first the entire twelve believed Roosevelt and refused to believe Barnes.

It is only right that we should tell the public that Col. Roosevelt's truthfulness was obvious to us, and that we could not accept Mr. Barnes' statements," said Foreman Somers, after the jury was discharged. "That was the attitude of every man as existed on early ballots had nothing to do with the question of veracity."

LINE OF LIFE'S GREAT TASKS

Showing Boys and Girls Their Work Must Be Properly Described as the Divine Profession.

"There are no men nor women alive, of too deep visioning, nor of too lustrous a humanity, for the task of showing boys and girls their work. No other art answers so beautifully. This is the intense cultivation of the human spirit. This is world-parenthood, the divine profession."

"I would have my country call upon every man who shows vision and fitness in any work, to serve for an hour or two each day, among the schools of his neighborhood, telling the children the mysteries of his daily task—and watching for his own among them."

"There was an old priest who served men in Siberia. Around him, in that bleak winter land, were the best and worst of the Russian empire. He tended the sick, and prayed with them; brought food, cut wood, procured medicines, watched with the dying, prepared the dead. A certain young Red came out to the colony and observed the priest's manner of life.

"Father," he said, finally, "I should think you would lose your soul in the midst of such misery and evil and darkness—as our life here is made of."

"The old man leaned back and looked at the ceiling, shutting his eyes. "Well, now, that's queer," he said, presently, "I had almost forgotten that I had a soul!"—Will Levington Comfort.

BENEFIT IN WAGGING EARS

Exercise Is Declared by Physicians to Have an Excellent Effect of the Hearing.

You will rarely find that a man who can wag his ears suffers from deafness. The reason for this is very simple. Wagging one's ears exercises them just as much as walking exercises the muscles of the legs. A great deal of deafness is caused by the muscles of the ears becoming stiff and refusing to respond quickly to the sound waves.

Quite a large proportion of children can move their ears, just as they can move the skin on their forehead up and down, but as they grow up they lose their power through want of practice. It is a mistake to let a child lose this power, for it may mean the difference between good and bad hearing in after years.

Dr. M. Fernet, the famous Paris doctor, has even gone so far as to suggest that people should be trained to wag their ears just as they are trained to exercise any other muscles of the body.

Who Go to Church?

The facts about church membership are contained in United States census bulletin No. 103, and the percentage of church membership in the total population is given for the year 1906, 26 years after Kansas has become a prohibition state. According to this tabulation, which is the latest obtainable, the lowest percentage of church membership was in Oklahoma, including Indian Territory, the rate being 18.2. The rate in New York was 43.7; in Pennsylvania, 43; in Illinois, 38.3; in Nebraska, 32.4; in Maine, 29.8; and in Kansas, 28.4. Forty-three states had a larger percentage of membership than had Kansas.

Since this tabulation was made up, two of the four states that had a lower rate of church membership than had Kansas, namely Oklahoma and West Virginia, have joined the ranks of the prohibition states. Of the six states, therefore, having the lowest rate of church membership in the United States, four are prohibition states.—Royal E. Cabell in Leslie's.

The Order of Merit.

In the whole of the Almanach de Gotha there is no decoration so exclusive as the Order of Merit which has just been personally conferred on Sir John French by King George. The commander in chief of the British army in the field shares this distinction with only one other British soldier—Lord Kitchener—and three admirals, Lord Fisher, Sir Edward Hobart Seymour and Sir A. K. Wilson. Marshal Oyama, Admiral Toga and Marshal Yamagata are the only foreign members of the order. Instituted in 1902 by King Edward for those prominent in the fighting services, in literature, art and science, the order is essentially democratic and confers no special title or personal precedence on the holder.—London Chronicle.

Worry and Adrenals.

Every time we are excited, every time we worry a reflex action is sent to the adrenals, which causes a pouring into the system of adrenalin, the latter increasing the heart, action and the arterial tension. This fact explains why worry and excitement so often lead to arterio-sclerosis, heart disease and nephritis.—Dr. Edmund M. Pond, surgeon to the Rockland Hospital, before the Vermont Dental Society.

Mrs. Penfield's Decoration.

Mrs. Frederick C. Penfield, wife of the American ambassador at Vienna, has been awarded the grand cross of the order of St. Elizabeth by Emperor Francis Joseph for her kindness to the soldiers. This is the first time that the order has been conferred on a lady not connected with the imperial family. Mrs. Penfield was the widow of a wealthy Philadelphian before she became the wife of Mr. Penfield, and has always been noted for her charity.

RECALLS GERMAN MUNITION SALES

Washington, May 24.—The fact that during the Boer war, German manufacturers sold large quantities of arms and ammunition to Great Britain notwithstanding that the Boers were prevented, by early closing of the Portuguese African port of Lorenzo Marques, from getting similar supplies from Germany, is pointed out in an article by Charles Noble Gregory, formerly of the University of Wisconsin law school, at present chairman of the standing committee of the International Bar association.

Mr. Gregory draws a very close analogy between the German exportation of arms to Great Britain, for use against the Boers, who virtually found it impossible to get similar supplies from Germany, and the shipment of arms and ammunition from America to the allies, whose power at sea prevents Germany from receiving similar shipments. In the course of his article Mr. Gregory says:

"It is constantly strongly urged that since the allies command the seas and the Germans cannot get access to our markets, while the allies can, real neutrality requires us to refuse such supplies to the allies.

"It is submitted that nothing could be more impossible or confusing than to shift the rule of neutral obligations with the varying events and successes of war. The risks of capture may thus shift, but not the obligation of the neutral.

"German citizens have habitually sold vast quantities of military supplies to belligerents. Essen is perhaps the very center of military supplies and has exported on an enormous scale to belligerents in all modern wars, making, it is understood, vast profits from this traffic in the late Balkan wars.

"It will be interesting to know what has been Germany's practice when one of the belligerents had access to her markets and the other had not, as the rule been observed which she now presses upon us? Has she recognized this situation as compelling her to deny to the power having access the right to buy, on the ground that real neutrality so required?

"The war between the South African republic and Great Britain began in October, 1899, and was closed by the treaty of Pretoria at the end of May, 1902. During the earlier portion of the war were received by the Boers through Lorenzo Marques, a neighboring Portuguese port, with some freedom, but in August, 1900, all the customs officials at Lorenzo Marques were dismissed and their places filled by military officers and a force of 1,200 men was sent out from Lisbon. The frontier was guarded and the trade stopped. (See Campbell's Neutral Rights in Anglo-Boer War, p. 60.)

"The strictness of the Portuguese authorities increased with the decline of the fortunes of the Boers.

"England had seized and searched a number of neutral steamship, including three German steamship, and positively claimed the right to seize contraband bound to the Boers through a neutral port. The relief for this largely on the precedents of our Civil war, and it would appear that the access of the Boer force to German markets was substantially destroyed. The question occurred to the writer. Would it be found that during the latter years there were imported from Germany into England large quantities of arms and military supplies, notwithstanding this situation?

"He therefore took the liberty to apply to the British embassy at Washington, which very obligingly cabled to London for information.

"On April 27, in a letter from the embassy, he was advised that when the Boers were shut off from supplies by sea, Great Britain got from Germany 108 15-pounder quick-firing guns and 500 rounds per gun. They were purchased from Ehrhardt by private negotiations."

"It is respectfully submitted that this is sufficient to support the practice of our government.

"But this writer had made other investigations which showed vastly larger military supplies passing from Germany to Great Britain at this time. This appears from the statistics as to the foreign trade of the United Kingdom, compiled at the custom house, and presented to both houses of parliament by command of his majesty and printed for his majesty's stationery office. These records, published long anterior to the present unhappy controversy, and preserved in the library of the department of commerce of the United States, show that there were imported from Germany into Great Britain:

Hundredweight
"In 1899, swords, cutlasses, machetes and bayonets	782
"In 1900, Swords, cutlasses, machetes and bayonets	1,664
"In 1901, swords, cutlasses and arms of other sorts	12,560
"In 1902, swords, cutlasses and arms of other sorts	50,734
"Many more than from any other source.
"Rifles, carbines, fowling pieces, muskets, pistols or guns of any sort: 1899, value 65 pounds; in 1900, 42 pounds.
"In 1901, metal cartridge cases other than small arms ammunition (more than six times as many as from any other source), 1,378,600.

"1901, cordite and other smokeless propellants, 231 hundredweight.
"1901, gunpowder, 318 hundredweight; 1902, 243 hundredweight.
"Dynamite and other high explosives:

"1901, 11,029 hundredweight; 1902, 14,771 hundredweight; and in later years these explosives were worth $4,894 pounds.

"Rockets and other combustibles for war and like purposes, explosives and ammunition unenumerated:
"1901 of the value of 29,546; 1902, 26,171 pounds.

"Small arm ammunition:
"1901, numbers 3,350,040; 1902, number 4,732,500.
"Fuses, tubes and primers:
"1901, numbers 898,007; 1902, numbers 2,036,116.

"The consumption of ammunition in the present war is so vast a scale that the above figures may seem trivial, but we must remember that Mr. Lloyd George has recently said that in a single battle in the present war more ammunition was consumed than during the entire Boer war.

"It is submitted that the above trade figures between Germany and Great Britain embody a principle and afford a German precedent in entire accord with the law and practice announced by our own government. They are the more convincing because Germany's sympathy was strongly with the South African republic and strongly against England.

"It is submitted that the practice of the government of the United States in declining to forbid the sale and export by its citizens of munitions of war to either belligerent at the present time is not in conflict with international or municipal law, is in accord with a wise and salutary international policy, is in entire harmony with the express declaration of the last Hague conference and with the long continued practice of this country and of those countries which have questioned her practice."

MRS. H. R. PATTENGILL DIES SUDDENLY

Lansing, Mich., May 24.—Mrs. H. R. Pattengill, 59 years old, wife of H. R. Pattengill, former superintendent of public instruction, widely known as an educator throughout the central west, and one of Lansing's most prominent citizens, died suddenly at the family home Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Mrs. Pattengill, Friday, had complained of feeling ill and had received the attention of a physician, but relatives did not regard her condition as all grave. Saturday morning, when she appeared to be sleeping quietly, the family did not disturb her, and it was not until later in the morning that the fact of her death was discovered. Neuralgia of the heart is thought to have been the cause.

AMBASSADOR ASSAULTED; GERMANY SENDS APOLOGY

Berlin, via London, May 24.—Riccardo Rollati, Italian ambassador to Germany, upon leaving the Italian embassy yesterday evening to go to a dinner at the Spanish embassy, was assaulted by a half-grown youngster, who knocked off the ambassador's hat. The boy was seized by a passerby and a beaten before he was turned over to the police. The government immediately sent apologies to the ambassador for the incident. The deepest regret is expressed in Berlin at the occurrence.

Cleveland, May 24.—Manager Birmingham of the Cleveland American League baseball team was today let out. He resigned several days ago at the request of the club owners and today he was told to "git".

Best Thing for Bilious Attack

"One account of my confinement in the printing office I have for years been a chronic sufferer from indigestion and liver trouble. A few weeks ago I had an attack that was so severe that I was not able to go to the relief for two days. Falling to get any relief from any other treatment, I took three of Chamberlain's Tablets and the next day I felt like a new man," writes H. C. Bailey, Editor Carrolina News, Chapin, S. C. Obtainable everywhere.

Tenants for Centuries.

Two remarkable cases of unbroken succession of tenancy were mentioned at the sale of part of Sir David Delve's Broughton's Cheshire estate at Crewe, England. It was stated that the Parson family had been tenants on the estate over two hundred years, while the Cooke family had been tenants in unbroken succession for 267 years.

BRITISH JUSTIFY CARGO SEIZURES

London, May 24.—To correct what the government believes to be a misunderstanding of Great Britain's attitude toward American ships and American cargoes in other neutral bottoms, detained under the order-in-counsel, the foreign office issued an explanatory memorandum.

This is supplemented by a statement that cotton cargoes, which the government agreed to purchase under the cotton agreement, have all been bought and that details concerning the payment agreed to purchase under the cotton agreement are being worked out.

"There are three American ships detained in this country," the official statement says. "Two are cotton ships. The third is the steamer Joseph W. Fardney. This vessel, with a cargo of foodstuffs consigned to E. Klinger, Halmö, (Sweden) was brought into Kirkwall, April 8.

"Inquiries at once were addressed to his majesty's minister at Stockholm with regard to the consignee, and a reply was received that no person of that name could be identified at Halmö, though there was a person of that name who resided at Gothenburg.

"The suspicious conduct of the vessel has tended to confirm other evidence that the foodstuffs were, in reality, destined for Germany. It has accordingly been decided that the cargo must be placed in the prize court. The vessel is discharging at Fortshedd, Eng., on the completion of which it will be released.

"The number of neutral vessels carrying American cargoes and at present held is thirty-six. Of these twenty-three carry American cotton. A considerable portion of cotton has been sold and arrangement are being made for handing over the proceeds.

"As regards other American cargoes, or portions of cargoes, which have been placed in the prize court his majesty's government resorts to this measure in cases where either the goods concerned are contraband or there is evidence that, although ostensibly consigned to a person in neutral countries, they are in reality destined to the enemy in contravention of the rules of blockade.

"The right to submit such cases to investigation is one which his majesty's government cannot forego, and they feel convinced that the enlightened opinion of the United States cannot adversely criticize their course in this respect. That is notably the case in regard to certain shipments of meat and lard ostensibly consigned to Scandinavian ports.

"The American meat packers have demanded as a part of the settlement to be agreed upon that his majesty's government should buy the cargoes of several ships now held in the prize court. The negotiations have come to a standstill owing to the exorbitant terms insisted on by the representatives of the American packers.

"It may be pointed out that repeated complaints as to injury suffered generally by American trade in consequence of interference due to British naval measures derives little substance from published American trade returns. It will be seen that, whereas American exports to Germany and Austria, in February, 1915, fell by $21,500,000, as compared with the same month in 1914, American exports to Scandinavia, Holland and Italy rose by the enormous figure of $61,200,000.

"His majesty's government considers that the abnormal increase in supplies imported by neutral countries justifies their assumption as to the ultimate destination of many items in cargoes; but they would call attention to the fact that it is only when they have believed themselves to be in possession of conclusive evidence of the enemy destination of a cargo that they have seized such a cargo."

TIRES OF HUSBAND NO. 13 AND PINES FOR A NEW ONE.

Evansville, Ind., May 24.—The restoration of the name of Boyden, after George Boyden, the husband she loved the best and married twice, was asked by Mrs. Polly Anne Strodes, aged 74 years, in her complaint filed for divorce against Harrison Strodes, aged 82 years, her thirteenth husband. Mrs. Strodes charged that her husband had not taken a bath since she married him in 1911, and that he daily throws a stone and bucksaw at her head and threatens to kill her. Mrs. Strodes says she wants another husband.

SEE ADVANTAGES IN CHICAGO

Washington, May 24.—Attorney H. I. Weed, for banks in upper Wisconsin made a vigorous argument against placing these banks in the Minneapolis reserve district, instead of attaching them to Chicago. He told of poor railway and mail communications from upper Wisconsin to Minneapolis.

"Theoretically there is over-night mail service from this part of Wisconsin to Minneapolis," said Mr. Weed, "but actually a large number of the cities in the state do not get their mail until the 2 p. m. delivery the following day and that precludes careful consideration of such letters at that rush hour. Consequently, their reply usually goes over until the next day. A whole day would actually be lost in mail service.

"Telephone rates to Minneapolis are $1.50 per call and $1 to Chicago. Telegraph rates average 30 cents to Chicago and 40 cents to Minneapolis.

"Rediscount rates are also higher at Minneapolis than Chicago, which is a great handicap.

"There is no merit in the argument that upper Michigan will have to be attached to the Chicago district if Wisconsin is switched to Chicago, as the territory in any district does not have to be contiguous.

"All but five banks in Wisconsin out of 254 asked to have the whole state assigned to Chicago district."

Judge Ueland, arguing for the Minneapolis reserve bank, quoted a letter from a Fond du Lac banker saying that the officers of that bank are not in sympathy with leaving the Minneapolis district and that all the discontent was fomented by Milwaukee bankers, who expected to get a branch bank if the entire state were attached to the Chicago district. This bank official also said that by remaining in the Minneapolis district, higher rates could be obtained on farm loans in Wisconsin, North Dakota and Minnesota.

Judge Ueland admitted that railroads run straighter from upper Wisconsin to Chicago than to Minneapolis but he argued that the center of the petitioning district is twenty-four miles nearer Minneapolis than Chicago and further, that most of a federal reserve bank's business can be done without a trip in person.

Judge Ueland also argued that attaching seventeen upper Wisconsin counties to Chicago would leave upper Michigan isolated, while reserve districts were intended to be compact. He said that the capital of the Minneapolis bank is now $4,900,000, but this would be cut $352,000 by taking out upper Wisconsin and upper Michigan. He argued that the capital of the Minneapolis bank would be near the danger point merely to save 10 or 50 cents on a few messages for bankers.

FOOTBALL PLAYER TELLS HOW IT FEELS

Appleton, Wis., May 24.—Getting your first orders for a bayonet charge causes a feeling like that of the football player when he hears the whistle for his first big game, according to Henry Woodland, former member of the Eau Claire high school eleven, who is in the hospital 45. Calais. He is in the Canadian contingent with the allies. He writes to a newspaper man with whom he used to play football: "I'm in the hospital again. This is the second time. During the battle of Ypres last October I got a bayonet between the ribs and no soper out again than I got a bullet through the neck. We stopped the Germans at Ypres, and believe me, they were some bunch to stop. I'm telling you right, nod, if it had not been for the French coming up when they did, this little boy would have been a goner or making sauerkraut for the Germans.

"I have got to tell you about the time I got the dig in the ribs. O'Y! appreciate that, because I'm telling you that when you get orders to fix bayonets and you know that there is going to be something doing, it makes you feel just like the time before the whistle blows in your first big football game. We were in the trenches and they told us that the Germans were only about 200 yards away. We had been firing steadily, when all of a sudden come orders that we were going to charge the trenches with steel, honest, kid, my hand trembled so that I could hardly fix the bayonet. It was not that I was scared so much as that I was nervous.

"There was no bugle or anything like that. All at once the telephone began to ring and then came the orders to get out. We hopped out, and went beating it as fast as we could toward the Germans. A lot of my friends fell when they opened up. The Germans did not wait for us to come to the trenches, but hopped out to meet us, and they had their bayonets ready too. We met about fifty yards outside of their trenches. Everywhere they were mixing it, officers yelling orders, men falling. It was too exciting for a fell to think of anything but to get your man.

"All of a sudden a big German came running full tiddit at me, but before he reached me a bullet struck him and he dropped without a sound. Right behind him came a younger fellow and he came at me. We crossed steel and danced about looking for an opening. He cut me a couple of times in the shoulder, but never got a lunge. I could see he was pretty scared and that gave me courage. Suddenly he made as if he was going to try for my shoulder again, but instead scooped up and caught me under the ribs. "I was mad. I didn't feel the thing hurting much and I waded in. I was bigger than he was and got him. Nothing nice to write about, but a fellow does not think about that when he is in a fight. It's a care of every man for himself. I can't remember much after that, but they told me I had been picked up that afternoon after they thought I was dead. Then I was shipped to Calais. Went back again after I got fixed up and that was when I got the shot in the neck. I'm feeling fine now, but they won't let me out for a time."

NO AUTOS FOR BASEBALL STARS

It seems rather certain now that major league baseball players are not going to have opportunity to drive new automobiles this fall as a result of being judged the most valuable past five seasons, one American and one player in the big leagues. Such a trophy has been awarded for the past five seasons, one American and one National leaguer having his name enrolled in Baseball's Hall of Fame each year. The award under which motor cars were awarded expired last fall. Through the winter the discussion of continuation of the Hall of Fame was carried on, various suggestions being made that the honor roll so established was too popular and too worthy to be allowed to end at the present time.

When at the opening of the present season no arrangements were completed, representations were made to the Empire Automobile company that offering two of its 1916 model cars, which were announced at that time as trophies might be instrumental in continuing the honor roll.

The offer was made to President Johnson of the American league and President Tener of the National League. Their replies however, were to the effect that the offer could not be accepted.

Whether some substitute in the matter of a trophy is to be found or whether the entire competition is to be dropped for this season is a question still to be settled by the commission. It has been suggested if commercialism is to be taken out altogether that the most valuable players again be selected by a committee and let the honor suffice as reward, or possibly have medals presented.

"We simply made the offer of cars, believing that baseball fans in general were interested in the competition. If it were trophies that were in debate, we were willing to do our part in continuing the Hall of Fame. We regret that our offer could not be accepted but can appreciate the position of the major league presidents in regard to commercialism of the game," says C. B. Sommers, secretary of the major league presidents in regard to commercialism of the game," says C. B. Sommers, secretary of the Empire Automobile company.

LONGYEAR PEOPLE GET CONTRACT

Crystal Falls, Mich., May 24.—The E. J. Longyear company have landed a contract to sink a shaft in Norway, about fifty miles out of Christiansa, for a large copper company.

The work will be done under management of the Judson mining company, and M. E. Richards, General Manager and Captain Wm. Holman are now at work drawing up plans and organizing their crew to do the work.

As soon as a crew of about sixty-five men is organized they will be sent over at once, accompanied by Capt. Holman, who will go over and start the work, remaining about, two months until the shaft is well under way and everything is thoroughly systematized. The most efficient machinery will be used and the latest methods in shaft sinking will be adopted.

Great speed is required in sinking the shaft and it was for this particular reason that the Norwegian people had American contractors bid on the work as America holds the records for speed in this line of work. The contract calls for a shaft 12x18 and 1100 feet in depth.

The company will have no trouble in organizing a crew as Mr. Richards states that many have already signified their intentions of going over. Mr. Richards expects to have a full crew organized before June 10th, around which time they will leave this country to begin work.

The E. J. Longyear Co., are to be congratulated over their success on landing this big contract, which is to a tribute to the world wide reputation they enjoy. Several other large shaft sinking contractors bid on the job also.

MICHIGAN SUPPORT IS PLEDGED BY LEGISLATURE

Lansing, Mich., May 21.—The Michigan legislature adopted a resolution pledging to President Wilson "the hearty support of the people of the state of Michigan in any action he may deem necessary to maintain the honor and integrity of our great nation." A copy of the resolution was forwarded to Washington.

Grumbling.

It is the easiest thing in the world to be dissatisfied. Anyone can do it, as the phrase goes, without thinking. But those who really think must agree with Amiel, the philosopher He counsels thus: "Despise not your situation. In it you must act, suffer and conquer. From every point on earth we are equally near to heaven and the infinite."

MURDERER IS TAKEN

(Continued from page one.) through the intervention of the pardon board, only 17 years of the life sentence to which he was sentenced in Gladwin county, in the lower peninsula, in 1897. Nunn and his father were convicted of murder and were sent to Jackson prison. The father died a number of years ago in prison.

Nunn is said to have been a wild and unruly fellow in Jackson prison and he was marked for removal to Marquette as an incorrigible. In 1907 his sentence was commuted by Governor Warner to 99 years in order that he might be transferred to Marquette, where Michigan laws a prisoner serving life sentence must remain for the remainder of his life in the prison to which he is sentenced. In Marquette prison, however, Nunn gave no evidences of the incorrigibility with which he was charged in Jackson prison and he was known to the officers of the prison as a tractable, well-behaved man.

Some time ago the pardon board took up his case and recommended to Governor Ferris that he be released. For this purpose his term was commuted by Governor Ferris last November from 99 to 25 years. In addition he was given benefit of good time, which reduced the sentence to 17 years. March 17, of this year, the 17 years was completed and he was turned loose.

Since his release Nunn has been staying around Negaunee, Ishpeming, Gwinn and other iron country places, working part of the time.

IRON RIVER MUST PAY HIGHER TAXES

The loss of funds formerly received from the sale of liquor licenses through iron county going dry at the spring election, has already resulted in a general raise in taxes in that city. The village council faced a serious deficit with the loss of funds formerly received from the saloons and to meet the situation it was found necessary to raise the tax rate practically one half of one per cent.

Of the action found necessary at Iron River the Iron River Stambaugh Reporter says:

The village council last Tuesday night fixed the tax levy at 1 1-8 per cent, an increase of 2-8 of one per cent over last year. The increase was made to offset the loss of liquor license money.

The general levy was 6-8, which will bring in a total revenue of $16,438. 14, or about $100 less than last year. This slight decrease is due to a shade of a decrease in the total assessed valuation of all village property. A special levy of 3-8 of one per cent was made for highway and street purposes. This levy will bring in a total of $8,219.07, which is equal to the revenue formerly derived from saloon licenses.

The running expenses of the village have been going behind the tax levy for years until the floating indebtedness is now approximately $75,000. The council could find no place where actual necessary expenses could be reduced and was compelled to raise an equivalent amount to last year's revenue, and the only process to do it was to raise the taxes.

BIG MEAT MEN IN CONFERENCE

(Special to The Press.) Washington, May 24.—Representatives of Armour and Company, Swift and Company and Suisberger Sons Company, held a lengthy confab this evening with Alfred Urien, who but recently returned from England where he went in their interests, who is prepared to ask the State Department that it make a vigorous protest against the detention of American meat cargoes consigned to Germany. But he denied they would stop shipments to England to protest the holding of cargoes. The value of the meat held up by Great Britain are estimated at $12,000,000.

CUP RACES ARE STARTED

In the first of the distance races to be held this week the winner of which will be awarded a cup presented by Coach Hutto, John Perrin won the quarter mile yesterday afternoon by a few feet over Emmet Cooney. Although Cooney secured a bad start in the race he was nosing in for first place rapidly when they crossed the line. Those who also ran and the order in which they finished are: Bergman, Redstrom and Nelson. An even dozen runners were on the line for the start but only five finished.

The next of the distance races the mile will be held on Wednesday of this week and Redstrom and Cooney are both being touted hard as probable winners. The half mile will be run on Friday after the Gladstone-Escanaba baseball game.

The winner of the least number of points will be awarded the cup.

EPISCOPAL BISHOPS MEET AT MARQUETTE

A notable gathering of Episcopal bishops will occur at Marquette on June 24 and 25, when the bishops of the province, the greater number of assemble there.

It will be the first time the bishops have met in the upper peninsula, and fifteen church dignitaries will be present.

The conference will bring to Marquette some of the most prominent churchmen in the middle west," said Rev. Bates G. Burt. "There are fifteen bishops in the province, and it is expected that the greater number will visit Marquette. The meetings of the bishops will be private, and will be given over principally to discussion of problems of church administration.

"Wednesday evening, June 23, before the opening of the conference, there will, however, be a public meeting in St. Paul's church, at which three of the visiting bishops will speak. They will be the Rt. Rev. John N. McCormick, Rt. Rev. Charles P. Anderson and Rt. Rev. Charles P. Anderson and Rt. Rev. William A. Leonard. The general subject will be "The Ideals and Purpose of the Christian Church."

Following are the fifteen bishops of whom are expected here next month: Rt. Rev. G. Mott Williams, Marquette; Rt. Rev. John N. McCormick, Western Michigan.

Rt. Rev. Charles P. Anderson, Chicago. Rt. Rev. Reginald H. Weller, Fond du Lac.

Rt. Rev. William W. Webb, Milwaukee. Rt. Rev. William A. Leonard, Ohio. Rt. Rev. Edward W. Osborn, Springfield.

Rt. Rev. M. F. Fawcett, Quincy. Rt. Rev. Boyd Vincent, Southern Ohio. Rt. Rev. John H. White, Michigan City.

Rt. Rev. Joseph M. Francis, Indianapolis. Rt. Rev. Frank Du Moulin, bishop coadjutor of southern Ohio.

Rt. Rev. Theodore I. Reese, bishop coadjutor of southern Ohio. Rt. Rev. William E. Tapli, bishop suffragan of Chicago.

The diocesan meeting of the Episcopal church also will be held in Marquette next month, on the 9th and 10th. Rt. Rev. G. Mott Williams will preside. Problems of church administration and other matters will be presented for the consideration of the clergy and lay delegates. Rev. Mr. Cooke, a missionary in Japan for many years, will speak at a missionary rally Wednesday night, June 9. The ladies' auxiliary, the missionary organization of the diocese, including all points in the upper peninsula, will be held on the same dates.

AUTO LIEN MEASURE IS PASSED

Lansing, Mich., May 24.—Although Governor Ferris vetoed Representative O'Brien's bill making automobile repairs a lien against the machine, on the ground that it opened the way for exorbitant charges by garage keepers, it has been discovered that a similar bill has been on the statute books of Michigan for more than half a century.

Practically the only new provision in the O'Brien bill is that it specifically mentions automobiles and sets forth that a garage keeper may place a lien against a machine for non-payment of storage charges.

Former Senator William Smith, of St. Johns, calls attention to section 10,747 of the compiled laws of 1897 which says, "When any person shall deliver to any mechanic, artisan or tradesman, any watch, clock, article of furniture or jewelry, implement, clothing or other article of value, to be altered, fitted or repaired, such mechanic, artisan or tradesman shall have a lien thereon for the just value of the labor and skill applied by him, and may retain possession of the same until the charges are paid."

It is the contention of Smith that the clause "or other article of value" covers automobiles, bicycles, motorcycles or any other vehicle. When this law was enacted automobiles had not been invented, and therefore no mention was made of this class of property.

Other attorneys who have read the O'Brien bill agree with Smith in his contention that the new law which the legislature passed over the governor's veto contains no alarming provisions, as it is pointed out that the O'Brien measure is the clause providing for a lien on the non-payment of storage bills.

In the opinion of Smith and others, who have compared the old statute with the new bill, the governor and the legislature wasted much valuable time in consideration of this measure.

Mrs. E. W. White of Brooklyn, Wis. has returned to her home after visiting in this city at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles F. Jacobson.

CANAL HAS CUT FRIEGHT RATES The Pacific coast finds that it can carry grain through the canal to Europe in less than two months. Formerly this grain went in sailing vessels around the Horn in four and a half months. The Panama railroad has ceased to carry freight. If the tolls did not keep up the cost of maintenance there would be no reason to be concerned. It is probable, however, that the tolls will eventually yield a revenue to cover maintenance and overhead charges. During the first six months cost of the canal first six months tolls were $2,126,832. The total cost of the canal will be about $40,000,000 and a yearly revenue of $12,000,000 would mean a return of only 3 per cent on the investment. Of greater importance is the fact that the lemon grower of California (and hundreds of other people in hundreds to her industries on both coasts) will have a chance to reach a distant market without handing over profits to a transportation monopoly. Panama, May 24.—The world's commerce has not been slow in making use of the Panama canal. This new route has been open now for about six months. The record of the first six months shows 500 ships passing through, carrying on an average 4,500 tons of freight each, and paying in tolls about $2,000,000. The amount of freight carried was 2,250,000 tons during the first six months. And these six months have seen all ocean commerce seriously disorganized by the war. The bulk of the freight—41 per cent of it—has moved from one coast of the United States to the other. A little more than half of the 41 per cent went from the Atlantic to the Pacific ports. The next largest part of this commerce—a third of the remainder—went from North to South America, the eastern seaboard send to the ports of western South America, and the west coast ports of South America sending freight to the Atlantic ports of the United States. A second third move from the Pacific ports to Europe. The United States has used the canal most, for transporting heavy freight from one side of the continent to the other, which formerly went by rail. The canal is at once a competitor with the transcontinental railroads, and one of the first effects is reduced freight rates. The railroads are already asking the commission to readjust their transcontinental rates to meet water competition. Wrong Figuring. It is a telling commentary on a man when he begins to figure his money in liquid measure.—Philadelphia Inquirer. Lame Back. Lame back is usually due to rheumatism of the muscles of the back.
