

ENGLAND ISSUES MOST INSISTENT NOTE TO U. S.

Declares That Further Discussions Cannot Be Settled Through Diplomatic Channels-- Says America Has No Grievance.

(Special to The Press.)
Washington, June 24.—The British note to the United States on Order in Council, regarding American trade with neutral countries was made public last night. It is regarded in diplomatic circles as not only evasive and unsatisfactory but a distinct denial of the American contentions. This was shown clearly in the last paragraph which says England "can scarcely admit that on the basis of actual facts, any substantial grievance on the part of American citizens is justified or can be sustained." The note also declares "His Majesty's Government regrets they cannot continue to deal through a diplomatic channel with individual cases, but they would again point out that a special provision is made for consideration of such cases as in a prize court."

The note holds out a little promise of relief to American commerce. It makes no reference to the principles of the international law which the United States demanded that England respect and in the view taken here, it seeks to over ride the American protest.

Lord Crewe, who signed the note, details "Concessions" made to the United States commerce, such, for instance, as the payment of 450,000 pounds Sterling, to various American shippers of cotton.

Two paragraphs of memorandum considered as indicating that England intends to tighten, rather than loosen the blockade. Paragraph sixteen is taken to mean that hereafter the United States would experience greater difficulty in getting any goods from any port which Great Britain regards as an enemy port and paragraph 17, taken to be a notice that Great Britain intends to end all further diplomatic discussion of seizures.

The new note to Great Britain has been under consideration for some time and as Lord Crewe gives no assurance that England intends to discuss soon the principles laid down by the United States, further insistence upon those principles will probably be made shortly.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

(Special to The Press.)
Washington, June 24.—Obstructive tactics of Mexican military leaders to Wilson's "get together" coalition plan, presented a grave situation with which the President must deal on his return from his New Hampshire vacation. Bad as the situation has been, it is conceded today that the autocratic reply of Carranza received yesterday had made "it as bad as possible". The highest governmental authorities said it is now necessary to know, once for all, from the leaders whether they propose to heed the President's warning. The next few days are awaited with greatest solicitude because officials say there must be some new announcement declarative of the next step the United States is to take if the state department learns definitely that the leaders in Mexico are irrevocably opposed to the Wilson policy.

YOUNG WOMEN GUESTS OF HONOR

Twenty couples of young people of the city last evening entertained honorably to the Misses Kathleen and Edith Connors who are to leave the city on next Thursday to make their home in Green Bay.

GERMANS IN NEW ADVANCE

(Special to The Press.)
London, June 24.—Violent fighting waged with bayonet in which the Germans claim to have repulsed all French attacks, is taking place in the Meuse hills and on the Lorette slopes. In Alsace also the French have been thrown back in a vigorous attempt to recapture an important hill at Pan de Sapt which the Germans took yesterday. On the greater part of the front the lull of uttermost exhaustion continues.

(Special to The Press.)
London, June 24.—General Von Linsingen's army has inflicted another defeat on the Russians south of Lemberg, where it drove the Czarman across the river and is engaged in a terrific battle on the north bank between Halicz and Surawno. A dispatch from Amsterdam says the Germans, following their victory in Galicia, are preparing another attempt to capture Warsaw. Details of the taking of Lemberg show that the Russians put up a stronger resistance than was at first thought.

(Special to The Press.)
Paris, June 24.—From June 1 to 8, the allies gained, on the north side of the Dardanelles, from 150 to 400 yards of Turkish entrenchments capturing considerably artillery. Dead German officers were left in some of the trenches. The British took 500 prisoners.

(Special to The Press.)
London, June 24.—The Swedish steamer, Bergensfjord, detained at Kirkwall, and having on board Dr Dornburg, enroute from the United States to Germany, was released today. Her cargo was inspected. Dr Dornburg was not subject to examination or detention as he is traveling under safe conduct given by the allies.

(Special to The Press.)
London, June 24.—Seven British fishing vessels were sunk yesterday by gun fire by submarines. In Alexandria, Egypt, the British prize court has issued a writ against the American tank steamer, Gargoyle, owned by the Vacuum Oil Co., of New York City.

NEW TURN IN THAW CASE

(Special to The Press.)
New York, June 24.—A new sensation sprung in the Thaw case today by the announcement of Deputy Attorney General Cook that he will delve into the reasons for Thaw's expulsion from Harvard University in 1892. "Scandalous details never before publicly known, will be brought out about when Thaw was suddenly expelled," declared Cook in asking for a special commissioner. Thaw's reasons for leaving have never been explained. President Emeritus C. W. Elliott may be examined by a special commissioner. Thaw does not take the new turn seriously, declaring he feels confident of the outcome.

Mr. Louis Vanenkvoort of Hyde spent yesterday in the city. Mr. Fred Derwin of Hyde was in the city yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rodgers of Appleton are in the city for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. McDonough.

CELEBRATION A SUCCESS

MANY PEOPLE JOINED IN OBSERVANCE OF MID-SUMMER DAY HERE YESTERDAY

One of the most successful Mid-summer Day celebrations ever arranged by the Institute Jacques Cartier of this city was carried out at South Park yesterday. Favorable weather conditions brought out a tremendous crowd of people to aid the society members in making the demonstration a success and every feature planned for the day was carried out without a hitch.

From early in the morning, when the members gathered at St. Anne's church to attend Mass in a body, until the final feature had been carried out late yesterday afternoon, not an untoward event occurred to mar the day's pleasure.

Following the impressive service at the church the society members formed in line and headed by Hyma's Military Band, covered a line of march, arranged through the down town district and to the park. High officers of the society and city officials participated in the parade, riding in carriages. A feature of the parade was the appearance of Noel Bissonette, of Danforth Settlement, in costume as Jacques Cartier.

At the park following the formal program, a list of athletic events was carried out and various amusements were provided for the afternoon.

The principal address of the day was delivered by Atty. Joseph F. Cuddy, who eloquently extolled the heroes of France and paid to that nationality the highest possible compliments. Atty. Cuddy's address was considered to be one of the best ever to mark a Mid-summer Day celebration in this city and at its conclusion he was warmly congratulated. Following Atty. Cuddy, Matt Fillion, a high officer of the order arranging the celebration, spoke to the audience in French and that his remarks were appreciated was shown by the hearty applause that followed.

Mrs. Clausen was born in Denmark on July 5, 1856 and has made this city her home for the greater share of her lifetime. The funeral will be held at Gladstone this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and interment will be made at Lakeview cemetery in this city.

IS GRAD BLOCK

No doubt there is not another block in Escanaba that can boast of being the host of as many graduates as the 200 block of North Charlotte street. There are seven graduates from the eighth grade residing in that block. They are: Myrtle Stade, Helen Childs, Edna Groth, Mildred McCarty, Elsie Johnson, Blanche Swaby and Emory Frash-cr.

GREAT CROWD IS MERITED

With fair weather conditions prevailing it is expected that another attendance record will be hung up at South Park on Sunday when the Escanaba Independents will clash with Green Bay in the final of a two game series. The Green Bay squad will arrive here tomorrow morning and on Saturday afternoon will meet the locals in the initial game. The Green Bay team is touted as one of the strongest independent organizations in the northwest and should give the local latters a hard fight for victory.

On Saturday "Bud" Carroll will be sent to the box to try his port side arm against the visitors while on Sunday Garland will probably be used in the box.

The management and players of the local team are grateful for the interest that is being aroused among local fans as a reward for their efforts to give Escanaba this season the strongest independent team in the history of the city. The attendance record hung up last Sunday was most gratifying and encouraging and the players will work to the limit of their ability to merit the continued patronage of the Escanaba public.

MRS. ANDERSON IS CALLED TO REWARD

Following an illness of several weeks, Mrs. Christina Anderson passed away yesterday morning at 1:50 Stephenson avenue.

Mrs. Anderson was 51 years of age and is survived by three daughters and three sons, together with her mother and sister in Sweden. The funeral over the body will be held on Sunday afternoon at the Swedish Lutheran church with G. Carlson officiating. Interment will take place at Lakeview cemetery.

Mrs. Anderson was well known to a large number of local people to whom the announcement of her death will come as a subject of much sorrow.

ESCANABAN IS DENTAL GRADUATE

Clement Corcoran, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Corcoran of South Elmore street, has graduated recently from the dental department of the Marquette University of Milwaukee, and will arrive home within a few days to visit briefly with his parents before definitely deciding where his will take up his dental practise.

Mr. Corcoran is a graduate of the Escanaba high school and has scores of friends here who will join in extending him their well wishes in his future practise.

CARS WERE PILED UP

Yesterday was "pile-up" day for loaded ore cars.

Twenty-two loaded cars were derailed and piled in a tangled heap on the North Western road at Brampton early yesterday morning.

At nearly the same time 38 loaded ore cars, enroute to the docks in this city, were piled up on the St. Paul road near Channing.

Wrecking crews were hurried to the scenes of both derailments and were engaged during the greater part of yesterday in clearing up the rights of way.

The cause for the derailment has not been determined in either case. At Brampton the train was making fast time when the pile-up came.

Leaving the track some of the cars were piled nearly on top of the station house. The operator at that place was off duty when the crash came but later returned to work. He promptly called the train dispatcher's office here and announced that "some one had left a train in this station."

MISS ST. LOUIS MARRIED HERE

Last evening at 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph St. Louis, at 513 Wells avenue, occurred the wedding of their daughter, Andrea, to Mr. George Moritz, Jr., of Appleton, Wis.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. S. Brown, of the First Presbyterian church.

The bride was attended by Miss Dorothy Fillion, of Oak Park, Ill., a close friend of the bride, while Harry H. St. Louis, brother of the bride was the best man.

After the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents.

In order to elude their friends at the station, the young couple hurried away in an automobile to Narenta where they took the evening Northwestern train for Appleton, where the young bridegroom has a home prepared and they will immediately take up housekeeping in the Wisconsin city.

The bride is well and favorably known to Escanaba residents and is popular with a large circle of her friends. Miss St. Louis is a graduate nurse, and only recently returned from Oak Park, Ill., where she held a responsible position in the West Suburban Hospital in Oak Park.

Mr. Moritz is a prominent young business man of Appleton, well known in contracting lines. He is highly esteemed for his sterling business qualifications as well as being popular with a large number of friends who will no doubt receive George with the glad hand.

The many friends of the bride and groom in Escanaba will extend them their best wishes for an abundance of happiness in their future wedded life.

CARD PARTY TO ATTRACT MANY

An event of particular interest to members of the different Masonic organizations and their families of the city is the card party to be given this evening by members of the Eastern Star at the Masonic Temple. Members of the society have been exerting an effort to make the party one of the most successful of its kind ever arranged in the city. Invitations to the event are confined to members of the different Masonic bodies of the city and their families.

GREAT DAY IS PLANNED

MANY ESCANABA PEOPLE WILL WITNESS DEDICATION OF NEW STEPHENSON SCHOOL NEXT WEEK

Wednesday, June 30, will be a gala day for Stephenson. Not only for Stephen on and Stephenson township, but for the entire county. Throughout this entire section there will long remain pleasant memories of June 30, 1915. At least this will prove the case if the program now arranged by that enterprising community is carried out. And it would scarcely be safe to suggest there is even a possibility of failure in even the smallest detail.

The fact is that on Wednesday, June 30, Stephenson will dedicate her new Township high school. Governor Ferris will be the chief speaker, and not only is Stephenson to be congratulated upon her enterprise and push, but the entire county may be considered peculiarly fortunate that so distinguished a guest is coming here on such a mission. Governor Ferris, the school master governor, is always at his best when speaking on educational matters; and this is a golden opportunity for all citizens, particularly the children and younger generation, for the impressions left by the governor should be beyond material value.

In addition to the governor's address short speeches will be delivered by Rev. Fr. Lledgens, Rev. Frank Jones, Dr. Edward Sawbridge, Hon. Paul Perrizo, Mr. Ira Carley, Mr. Wm. Oberdorfer, Mr. Norwood Bowers and others.

One has heard of the bicycle hump, the automobile stare, and the aeroplane neck but one must go to Stephenson to see the genuine school house smile. When the old rookery used for school purposes till a year ago, was condemned by the state, consternation was thrown into the community. The way looked difficult by which a new building could be secured. It was optional with the citizens whether a new building should be erected, or extensive repairs be made on the old one. The people had made the error ten years before of repairing an old school house and while a very heated campaign was soon on, and many honest differences of opinion arose the people finally and wisely voted to bond the township for $16,000 with which to build, and now everybody is glad and happy. Mr. Derrick was chosen as the architect, Mr. C. H. Danielson of Peshtigo as general contractor, with Bourgeois & DeMelle of Norway as heating and plumbing contractors. Committeemen, members of outside boards, and all informed persons are a unit in declaring that Stephenson has more school house for the money than any other town in the northwest. The building is constructed of brick and tile, having on the first floor beautiful rooms. The second floor has a large auditorium, one class room, laboratories, library recitation, and reading room. The basement is fitted with complete and modern toilets and lavatories, complete water system, and the latest and best in steam boilers.

DEATH TAKES A PIONEER

After an illness that has extended over the past year and a half, Mrs. A. Garvey, a pioneer resident of the city, passed away last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. Sharp, at 321 South Campbell street.

Mrs. Garvey was born in Ireland 80 years ago and came to this city 35 years ago and has continuously made Escanaba her home since that time. She has taken a keen interest in the development of Escanaba from a village to the metropolis of the upper peninsula.

She is survived by two sons, George of Neenah, Edward of New York, two daughters, Mrs. M. Sharp and Miss Delhia Garvey of this city and one brother, Michael Conway of Appleton. All have been notified and will probably be in the city to attend the funeral which will be held on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church, with Rev. Father Barth officiating. Interment will take place at St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mrs. Garvey was especially well known among the older residents of the city to whom the announcement of her death will come as a subject of much sorrow.

One thing about this war is that things are being done every day that we have always been told could never be done at all.

Anyway, in these days there's no danger of sunstroke. The weather man, at least, has reduced that possibility to the remotest minimum.

This season, to be sure of a sane Fourth, don't put away the blankets. Also allow the b. v. d's. to repose in innocuous dissuade among the moth balls.

Now that the Austrians have gotten back about all that was taken from them by the Russians, both sides can now start in all over again. A continuation of a useless, resultless murder of innocent beings.

The chap who underrated to credit due Gov. Slaton for his act in commutating the sentence of Leo Frank, ought to be made to show just what part of the governor's burden of unpopularity in Georgia he is going to bear.

It's about this time of the year that the offices are overrun with graduate applicants for white collar jobs while the factories are advertising for men who wear overalls.

Wouldn't it be terrible if a few weeks later we have to take back all of the things we have said against the weather man and implore him to turn on some of that cool stuff?

The Kaiser was present when his forces took Lemberg. When the war started he said he was going to be in on the taking of Paris and made all his plans to that end but little Belgium kicked over well laid schemes so the Emperor traveled in the other direction and made Lemberg his Paris.

With Robert Lansing on the job as secretary of state at Washington the nation will be spared the dread of a radical change of policy in that department, as while Bill Bryan until recently held the title to the office, Lansing was the real man behind the gun all of the time. It was simply a matter of getting rid of a figure head to honor the man to whom credit was due.

THE LITTLE THINGS

Use the little things. To great minds there is nothing so small that it is unworthy of notice. Most of the men who have seen an apple fall from a tree saw only that an apple fell. Newton thought about it and discovered a great principle of nature. Many a man has seen steam lift the lid of the teakettle. Well thought about it and applied a power that

URGE EMPLOYEES TO MARRY

Portland (Ore.) Official Says Men of Family Are the Best Workers in His Employ.

Portland's traction interests have come out strong for Cupid. Superintendent of Transportation Fred Cooper has issued a bulletin in which he urges every single man in the employ of the Portland Railway, Light and Power company to get married, settle down and become a good citizen, a happy father and a consistent booster. "Single men may be as loyal to the company and just as efficient as married men," explained Cooper. "We have just taken a census of our trainmen, however, and find that our best ones are men of families. There are 771 married men employed on the street cars." Only 223 single men are employed. Of all these platform men, 156 are taxpayers, the census showed. Cooper declared that the more ties the men have the steadier and more reliable they become.

One-fourth of all the woman workers in Philadelphia receive salaries of less than six dollars a week, one-third of them less than eight dollars, and four-fifths less than ten dollars. A careful inquiry conducted by the league showed that $8.50 a week is necessary to maintain a woman in health and efficiency in that city. Almost seven-tenths of the women in the stores receive less than that amount, according to the report.

A strike among the operatives in the carding room of the Royal Cotton mill at Wake Forest, N. C., threatened to tie up the entire plant. It was said that the trouble was the result of a dispute over wages, together with a misunderstanding between the foreman of that room and the operatives.

Plans for a series of general hearings on labor and industrial problems, involving those of a number of large corporations and organizations, were completed by the United States commission on industrial relations. The first was opened when an inquiry into questions of wages and employment of sleeping car employees was resumed with officials of the Pullman company under examination. Beginning May 10, the commission will direct an investigation into the legal phases of labor controversies. Important subjects for these hearings include free speech, conspiracy cases, use of injunctions, the boycott and black list.

Strong feeling is being developed in Pennsylvania between manufacturers and those who would reduce child labor to the lowest possible point. A bill favored by Governor Brumbaugh calls for a nine-hour day and a 51-hour week, but out of this would come eight hours a week for continuation schooling. These points apply to working children between the ages of fourteen and sixteen. The manufacturers have agreed to the continuation school feature in the bill, but they have not agreed to the nine-hour day and 51-hour week. They would be satisfied with a ten-hour day and a 54-hour week.

Because, as they allege, the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company refuses to grant their demands, upward of 200 boatmen went out on strike, tying up traffic on the Lehigh and Raritan canals. For a number of years the boatmen have been paid 43 cents a ton for hauling coal from Coalport to tidewater. They demand 53, declaring that the increased cost of operation makes this imperative. There are about 120 boats tied up between Coalport and Bristol, within 214 miles. Officers of the company say that, had the men exercised ordinary judgment in making their demands, the strike would have been avoided.

Twelve hundred men and boys were thrown out of work at the Maxwell colliery of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal company at Ashley, near Wilkesbarre, Pa., when a hundred doorboys and patchers decided to strike, to play baseball. The action was taken when Burgess J. K. E. Fenner of the borough notified the boys that Sunday baseball would be prohibited in the future. The boys replied that they will keep the colliery idle every Saturday to play ball if the order is enforced. The colliery officials were for a time unable to effect a settlement.

War as a wage raiser has brought a considerable proportion of the laboring classes in England some compensation for the increased cost of living. Social workers estimate that the increased cost of living averages at least ten per cent, while the average increase in wages is not over five per cent. The plentiful supply of overtime work available in most trades makes it easy for most workmen to more than even up matters.

The conferences which have been going on in London between the mine owners and the mine laborers have ended in a deadlock. Representatives of the men definitely rejected the offer made by the owners of a ten per cent increase and decided to put the dispute in the hands of Prime Minister Asquith, who will appoint an arbitrator to settle the dispute.

The assembly of California passed a semimonthly pay day bill which will require companies to pay on the 15th of the month for work performed between the 1st and 15th and on the 1st of the month for work performed between the 15th and the last day. Farmers and dairy interests are expected.

IN THE TRENCHES

By DOROTHY BLACKMORE.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"The enemy is in your trenches again, sis," cried Teddy Herbert to his sister, who had not yet come down to breakfast.

"Dear, dear!" he heard her exclaim, and then he heard hurried footsteps and saw Mattie run downstairs, pick up a coat that was lying on a chair in the hall, and slam the front door after her.

Four sixty-foot trenches lay open at the side of the Herbert home, and Mattie was running back and forth chasing away the neighbors' chickens. The fresh fertilizer which had been placed so carefully in each of the trenches was scattered everywhere, and dismay was written all over the girl's face when she turned to come into the house.

"It's a shame!" she said, as she took her place at the table, breathing hard, but looking as fresh as a rose after her exercise in the invigorating March air. "And this one year when I had counted so much on my sweet peas and have followed directions so carefully. What shall I do, mother?"

"Shoot the chickens," suggested Teddy.

"This isn't the war, Teddy," his sister said, squelching. "These are sweet pea trenches."

"I pass," said Teddy, getting up from the table. "It's not my funeral, Mat. So long!" And with that he was gone.

Mattie and her mother were finishing breakfast in silence when they heard the knocker on the front door. "I'll go," said Mattie, as her mother started to rise.

"I'm George Davis—next door, you know. I just saw you chasing my chickens out of your garden. I—"

"Come in, please," said Mattie, opening wide the door to the young man who was introducing himself.

"You see, I've come to stay with my brother, next door, for a while, since my firm saw fit to cut down expenses by letting me out of a job. He's never at home and my sister is busy with the baby, so the chickens have been in your trenches owing to my folly. I apologize and will see that it does not happen again."

"Oh, don't worry!" Mattie hastened to say. "Of course, I—well, I have worked so hard this spring, and it has been rather disconcerting—"

"Disconcerting!" interrupted Davis. "That is polite. If I had been in your place I think I would have blessed the whole household of neighbors. Did you?" he laughed.

Mattie joined him. "Perhaps you would call it a blessing. I hadn't thought of it in that light. But now you won't worry, will you? I'll get out this morning and try to plant the seeds, and then—"

"Then if my chickens dig them up I needn't show my face again in this neighborhood?"

Mattie nodded, laughing. "That's it," she said.

With a few more words of apology George Davis left, and Mattie Herbert knew that she liked him and was glad that he was to be a neighbor.

That morning, when she was busy out of doors, trying to repair the damage done to her trenches, George Davis looked over the hedge which separated the gardens. "It is I who should be doing that," he ventured.

"You may help," Mattie said, quickly.

COUNTRY BOY HAS THE BEST CHANCE

If one is born in the country and in the summer he stands a better chance of becoming a star baseball player than if he is a city born boy whose birthday is in the months from November to April, inclusive.

That, at least is the conclusion of Arthur McDonald, of Washington, D. C. Of the admittedly best players in the game, 61 per cent were born in the country and 69 per cent in the warmer months, against 39 and 31 per cent, respectively for the city born who first saw the light of day in the colder months.

Similarly analyzing records, he finds that players under 5 feet 11 inches in height are better batters and fielders than those who are taller, and that the superiority is greater in batting than in fielding. Thus, the taller men who batted for an average of .250 or better, were only 43 per cent of the whole, while the shorter men had a percentage of 62. Sixty-six per cent of the shorter men had a fielding average of .950 or better, and only 58 per cent of the taller men got into that charmed circle of players.

With a general average of 5 feet 9 1/2 inches for all of a group of 150 players, statistics of whom were available, the pitchers averaged within a fifth of an inch of 6 feet in height, with their eighteen catchers an inch and a half shorter, the shotstops being the pygmies among the players, with an average height of 5 feet 9 1/2 inches. Catchers are the heaviest with an average weight of 178 pounds, and shotstops the lightest with an average of 167 pounds.

Macdonald has dug some curious facts out of the statistics personally collected at games. These show that only 20 per cent of fair balls batted result in safe hits. Of the 10,074 batted balls of which he has records 20 per cent were fly balls, 51 per cent grounders, 3 per cent bunts and 9 per cent line drives.

The latter are the best balls to hit, for 77 per cent resulted in safe hits, while the percentage of grounders was only 8 and of bunts 45.

STORKS WORK CLIPPED BY RAVAGES OF WAR.

London, June 24.—Births in London are averaging 500 a week below the figures for the corresponding week in previous years, allowing for the growth in population. Mortality tables show that children have been dying at a rate of 200 a week in excess of the old average. Official returns dealing with nearly 100 of the largest towns in England and Wales, show corresponding decreases most of which are chargeable to the war. The increase in deaths is explained by the fact that infants are getting less care.

HABIT OF DROPPING THE CUD

One of Symptoms of Certain Subacute Forms of Indigestion—Carefully Examine Teeth.

(By W. R. GILBERT.)

"Dropping the cud" takes place in certain diseases and conditions of the mouth, where mastication is painful, but it is also one of the symptoms of certain subacute forms of indigestion dependent on bulky and indigestible food.

In some cases the animal is unthrifty, with irregular bowels and depraved appetite; but these are not so pronounced when the trouble is due to pain in mastication owing to disease of the tongue or mouth, or to dental irregularities.

In young bovines, "dropping the cud" is very often due to the persistence of the crowns of deciduous molars. The animal eats tolerably well, because the food, in the first place, is nipped off by the incisors, twisted around by the tongue and hastily transferred to the first stomach.

It is after chewing the cud that the food is subjected to the reduction to minute particles by the molars, the process causing pain, and the ball of food or cud is dropped out of the mouth instead of being laboriously masticated and swallowed.

The first thing to do in these cases is to carefully examine the mouth with the aid of a gag and to remove the persisting molar crowns if it is these temporary teeth causing the painful mastication.

PENNSYLVANIA HELPLESS AGAINST U. OF M. TWIRLER.

TO SUIT THE FIGURE

LINES OF COSTUME MUST BE CAREFULLY FASHIONED.

Combinations and Blending of Colors and Materials Also Require the Most Careful Manipulation—Dainty Design Shown.

It is one of the important features of the fashions that, with all the tendency to frills and furbelows, there is usually a symmetrical arrangement of trimming. This prevents the general ensemble from assuming the mixed-up appearance that might result if this rule were not observed. There are, in the achievement of such "balance," innumerable subtle details that, though they tax the ingenuity of the designer, perhaps, to the uttermost, pass unnoticed or at least unappreciated by the casual observer.

Combinations and blending of colors and materials require careful manipulation if they are to be successful, and incidental trimming should be of such a nature as to preserve the intended character of the lines of a costume. Above all, the lines should be so constructed that they will conform in length and breadth to suit the figure they are to adorn.

The dainty design illustrated, for instance, would suit none other than a slender, rather tall young figure. It is essentially a youthful frock and designed for dancing and evening wear.

One of the New Dance Frocks.

with numerous dainty details that make it a veritable confection.

It is carried out in white chiffon with a quaint little bolero of turquoise faille. Note how prettily the overlapping end is caught through eyelets in the other side. There is a short-sleeved underbouse of white chiffon with saw-tooth edges bound flatly in white taffeta. The full skirt is garnished with two rows of double heading in the blue faille, while the tunic, short in front and long in back, shows the saw-tooth edges again bound in white taffeta.

Pink roses weight the ends of short ribbon streamers all around the waist and add the final irresistible touch.

NAT GOODWIN BEGINS SUIT AGAINST ROAD.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 24.—Nat Goodwin, famous actor, owner of the "Never Say Die" company, filed two suits against the Milwaukee road road in Judge Cummins' court amounting to $2,500. Goodwin alleges that thru carelessness in operating a train on December 28, 1914, between Red Wing, Minn., and Dubuque, Ia., his company arrived too late to give a scheduled performance. On a second action he declared that that he was forced to alight from the train eighteen miles out of Dubuque and walk a mile thru two feet of snow. He claims that on account of the exposure he contracted a severe cold which did not permit him to appear in a performance scheduled in Milwaukee for Jan. 3. The case was set for trial on July 7, when Mr. Goodwin will appear in court.

LABOR MEN PREFER WILSON TO BRYAN

New York, June 24.—The speech of William J. Bryan in Carnegie hall Saturday night was not under the auspices of organized labor, but was part of the German propaganda in this country, according to Ralph M. Easley, declared the German element of the Socialist party and the German element of the trades unions are back of the organization which promoted the meeting, and that the entire movement started in the Socialist headquarters in Chicago six weeks ago.

"Mr. Bryan has no standing with the labor people," said Mr. Easley. "If organized labor were put to a vote between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan, the result would stand nine to one in favor of the president."

Frank Buchanan, member of the house of representatives from Illinois and a labor union official, invited Mr. Bryan to make the speech, it was said. Labor leaders assert Mr. Buchanan has been trying for some time to get labor organizations to indorse the propaganda to stop export of munitions of war.

Mr. Bryan is scheduled to speak at another mass meeting here Thursday night under auspices of the Socialist party of New York, the German-American Alliance of Greater New York, the American Women of German Descent, the German-American Peace Society, the German Catholic Federation of New York and a number of similar organizations.

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE BIJOU

Manager Hines has advertised for several days his picture "When It Strikes Home" which he is showing today and it is with a certain feeling of pride that he offers it in its original presentation in Escanaba.

The picture is not the portrayal of unusual things but rather than that, the things which are going forward before the eyes of the world with the passing of each day. It displays vividly the gross wrong in marriage between people of two widely separated and different lives. It is a picture worth seeing and the price of admission. It will carry a distinct lesson to every person present. It is a sermon in itself.

THE DELFT

Today the third of the series of "Who says," called "When Justice Sleeps" is to be displayed for public inspection and criticism at the Delft theatre. In this third section Escanaba people will find that for which they have been looking, a true portrayal of the everlasting topic of whether or not man is wiser by unwise associations.

THE DELFT

The latest Bosworth release is "Hypocrites!" a drama written and produced by Lois Weber. Through the dramatic incidents of the play is woven a remarkable allegory, depicting the search for truth by one consecrated to the task, and the revelation of the real nature of the characters of the story as Truth shows them in her magic mirror. A brief prologue opens the play, showing the rage of the people in olden times as a monk endeavors to present to them his idea of Truth. In modern times the same people, their hypocritical natures unchanged, treat with the same people, their hypocritical natures unchanged, treat with the same contumely, the leader who tries to show them the truth. For dramatic force and artistry this is one of the most remarkable films ever exhibited. Courtenay Foote, Myrtle Stedman, Adele Farrington, Herbert Standing, are in the cast. Margaret Edwards, the most perfectly formed woman on the stage, plays the striking role of Truth, a spirit. Delt. Tuesday, June 29, afternoon and night.

THE DELFT

The musical score of the dramatic spectacle, "Everywoman," which Henry W. Savage will disclose at the Delft on July 3, was composed by George Whitefield Chadwick, dean of the New England and Conservatory of Music, of Boston. It contains twenty-six musical numbers which are interpreted by a special symphony orchestra which accompanies the organization. Dr. Chadwick is one of few Americans who has written music of a dignified character which has been played abroad. All the world's famous orchestras delight to play annually his celebrated symphonies. He is easily at the head of America's gifted composers and his works will unquestionably outlive the generation of the author.

UNDERWOOD SEES NO PROSPERITY

Milwaukee, Wis., June 24.—"It is the same as draining the lake,"

So Fred D. Underwood, president of the Erie railroad, who is spending a few days at his summer home in Wauwatosa, characterized the law providing that the railroads having boat lines on the Great Lakes must dispose of them.

"The law does not affect the railroads," continued Mr. Underwood. "They were not making any money on their boat lines, anyway. But it affects the prosperity of the country generally. Mr. Underwood said there would be no real prosperity in this country until the war was over.

"If the apparent prosperity caused by the war were real, why not have war all the time?" he said.

Asked about the probable duration of the war, Mr. Underwood said: "It was end any time and it may last a long time. It will last a long time if Germany is to be conquered. "The Germans undoubtedly are getting supplies from neutral countries it is significant that, whereas they could blow up every vessel that crosses the war zone only on certain ones, are blown up.

"German organization is bringing about results that vindicate some of the things that have been tabooed in this country, and have produced a change of sentiment that is reflected in the decision that the United States Steel corporation is not a trust. This decision will have the effect of encouraging businessmen, making them believe that the period during which it has been popular to harass business is at an end."

Mr. Underwood said that the prosperity of the United States depend on the prosperity of the railroads.

"I don't say this as a railroad man," he said. "The railroads aren't affected any more than other industries by the turn things have taken. But in a country of distances like ours the transportation problem is the chief one. If you had a mountain of gold in Alaska, and had no way of getting it out and getting provisions and other necessities in, you would be a poor man.

"There are 1,500,000 employed on the railroad of the United States, and the number of persons depending on each of them averages four. If a railroad is forced to lay off men the blow is felt by everyone from whom these men and their dependents buy goods or supplies.

"Labor gets most of the benefit from industry. The royalty on iron ore taken from the northern ranges is 15 cents a ton. It is taken to the Youngstown district, and after a few inconsequential ingredients are added and it has been rolled into pig iron it is worth $13 a ton. When it has been turned into high-grade steel such as is used in the blades of pocket knives, it is worth $175 a ton.

"And what increased its value? Why, the labor, the rolling and turning and kneading, as of dough. And labor gets value and the corporation is lucky if it gets 7 per cent on its money."

Mr. Underwood said that the 5 per cent increase in freight rates given certain railroads a short time ago, "had been spent before we got it." He said that the roads were unable to sell their bonds. Asked if the Pennsylvania had not sold a large amount of bonds a short time ago on a favorable basis, Mr. Underwood said: "The Pennsylvania railroad is an institution. Because of the variety of the products of the district it taps it can get freight when roads which have to depend for their freight on certain articles, whose production may have been curtailed, are unable to."

CLEVELAND HAS BROKEN RECORD

Since Jim McAlcer departed from St. Louis and Browns have changed leaders frequently, but Cleveland probably holds the record in this department. Here's the list of field bosses for Somers:

Jim McAlcer—1900-01.
Bill Armour—1902-03-04.
Nap LaJolie—1905-06-07-08-09.
Jim McGuire—1909-10-11.
George Stovall—1911.
Harry Davis—1912.
Joe Birmingham—1912-13-14-15.
Lee Fohl—(temporary), 1915.

In LaJolie's days as manager he was supplied with stars of the game, but he could not get the flag for Somers. Nap had his big year in 1908, when he lost out by a half game in a sensational finish, but the following year the big Frenchman collapsed and quit in the middle of the season.

In 1912 Harry Davis, who served as Connie Mack's right hand man in winning pennants and world's championship with the Athletics, was given the position. Everyone predicted a successful career for Davis. He had been associated with Mack for years and years, and was hailed as a smart baseball man. But with Somers in Cleveland, Davis failed miserably and he was dropped.

Birmingham succeeded Davis and came in fifty in 1912. Starting out the next season in complete charge Birmingham developed a winner for his boss. The Naps raced along with the Athletics until the closing days of September and had the pennant in their pocket until they reached Washington for an important series. They lost five straight to the Nationals and the best for Birmingham was third.

MILITIA HELD AT SLATAN'S HOME

Atlanta, Ga., June 24.—Governor Slaton announced tonight that the militia guard at his suburban home would be maintained for several days because of reported threats by persons opposed to the commutation of Leo M. Frank's death sentence to damage the property. No such attempts have been made and quiet has prevailed since the demonstration Monday.

Attack on Prison Feared.

Milledgeville, Ga., June 24.—Rumors of a possible attack on the Georgia prison on farm here where Leo M. Frank is confined, caused the management today to increase the number of guards on both day and night duty. An extra supply of ammunition was received. Governor Slaton instructed the sheriff to call for the militia if necessary.

"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "is so tender-hearted dat dey is almost willin' to make trouble for a friend, jes' to show how kind an' sympathiz' dey kin be."

HONOR SYSTEM WILL CONTINUE

Joliet, Ill., June 24.—The finding of Mrs. Edmund Allen's pocketbook containing several hundred dollars and valuable jewelry caused the penitentiary officials to abandon a theory that robbery might have been the motive for the murder of the prison warden's wife last Sunday morning. It was not learned until today that the victim's purse was missing and a search for it was begun with the result that the black leather pocketbook was found among the debris of the charred bedroom where Mrs. Allen's body was discovered.

The penitentiary officials expressed the opinion tonight that Mrs. Allen was killed either for revenge or as the result of an assault and that one of the convicts under suspicion knows more about the crime than he has told.

Warden Allen and a corps of penitentiary guards worked throughout the day gathering testimony for presentation to the coroner's jury when that body resumes the inquest tomorrow. It is planned to again question Convicts Campbell and Edwards before the inquest is closed. An armed guard patrolled outside the prison gates today for the first time in several years.

Warden Allen was deeply affected when he received a letter of sympathy from the 1,700 convicts in the penitentiary. After reading the letter Warden Allen declared that he would not resign and that the honor system at the penitentiary would be continued.

It was not the honor system that killed his wife, it was one man," he said with tears in his eyes. "The honor system, which we have do so much to build, shall stand as long as I am in charge of the prison."

WELSH TO MEET CHARLEY WHITE

New York, June 24.—Freddie Welsh the world's lightweight champion, and Charlie White White of Chicago, have been matched again for a bout.

Several days ago White issued an ultimatum to Welsh and said in plain language that Welsh feared the issue. Negotiations were at once opened and the match was closed last night. This contest will be held at Brighton Beach Sporting club on Saturday night, July 3.

White is considered by experts as the one man who has a chance to take away Welsh's title. His last six fights have ended in a few rounds, and White said after he had stopped Young Brown in a round that he was confident he could knock out Welsh. These two boys have met twice in Milwaukee.

FISH CHOKES CAPTOR AND CAPSIZES BOAT.

Grand Rapids, June 24.—Ray Carrothers, of Chicago, Monday went to Blue Lake, near Big Rapids to fish. Jokingly he held the line with which he was trolling in his teeth. A big fish grabbed his bait and when he struck the line looped around Carrothers' neck. The boat was capsized and only for the timely arrival of Raymond Stiles. Carrothers would have been dragged to his death as the line around his neck was shutting off his wind.

POSSIBLE TO WEIGH HEAD

San Francisco, June 24 It is now possible to weigh a person's head without the fatal inconvenience of detaching it from the body, according to a method announced by Dr. C. D. Spivak, of Denver to the American Medical association here today.

Dr. Spivak described the apparatus which he has contrived by which it is possible to weigh different parts of the living human body. By means of a pair of scales with sliding weights made like a seesaw and by the aid of complicated mathematical formulae, the separate weight of any part of the body can be determined.

In his address as chairman of the Section on Obstetrics, Gynecology and Abdominal Surgery, Dr. Thomas S. Cullen of Baltimore reviewed the progress of abdominal surgery in the last twenty-five years, pointing out that it is now possible for any competent surgeon to open and explore the abdomen with perfect safety to the patient. He told of the wonderful advances that abdominal surgery had made in the last twenty-five year and shadow that the death rate from abdominal operations had decreased from 25 per cent to about 3 per cent.

WAGNER CLOUTS OUT 100 HOMERS

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 24.—Hans Wagner veteran captain of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is the first player, so far as known, to reach the century mark in home runs, having accomplished that distinction Monday when he hit his old hoodoo, Erskine Mayer, Phillie pitcher, for a circuit in the second inning.

Wagner's record beats all modern players in home run swats, Sam Crawford coming next with 95, while Napoleon Lajoie has 78 and Ty Cobb only 54.

Honus' home run blow was the second in two years for the great Dutchman on the home lot, and his first anywhere since Sept. 28 last, when he hit one of Christy Mathewson's offerings into the left field stands at New York. Wagner has never gone through a season in the big league without getting at least one home run. His best year was 1898, when he came across with eleven.

Up to Monday Wagner had played in 2,486 championship games. Besides 2,220 singles, 575 doubles, and 236 triples, or 3,131 hits for a grand total of 4,478 bases.

NO RAISE FOR POST OFFICE MEN

Washington, June 24.—Because of the failure of the postoffice appropriation bill at the close of the last session of Congress, letter carriers and clerks in Michigan will not get an increase of pay, July 7. Congress passed a resolution continuing the appropriation of the current year, and the amounts for carriers and clerks are only sufficient to pay them on the basis of the salaries they are now drawing.

Under the law, carriers are entitled to an increase of salary each year after they get permanent appointments, until they reach a maximum of $1,200. Provision also is made in the annual postoffice appropriation bills for increase in salaries of clerks, based on the records made during the year.

Another law makes it a penal offense for any government officer to create a deficiency and this law has tied the hands of Postmaster-General Burleson, as he held that the penal statute must govern his action. It is expected that the department will issue a statement relative to this matter early next week, in which the promise will be made the carriers and clerks that Congress will be asked to provide funds immediately after convening to pay increased salaries due them.

Had No Chance.

"Honesty pays in the long run," counseled the visitor. "Perhaps you're right." admitted the man in the stripes "but a cop got me before I'd gone 100 yards."—Baltimore American.

The Latest News in the World of FINANCE AND TRADE

FURNISHED BY GEO. F. RUEZ ISHPEMING, MICH.

DAILY LETTER

The Copper shares were almost featureless today with little pressure to sell notwithstanding the heaviness in the general list. Some demand for Hohenaw in anticipation of increase in next dividend while North Butte, Granby, and the more substantial issues showed firmness. U. S. Smelting reacted somewhat further but American Zinc and Superior were in better favor. The awaiting attitude of the market will doubtless continue until the New York list becomes more settled. Fundamental conditions are sound and the purchase of copper shares on weak spots should prove profitable.

BOSTON MARKETS

There was more activity in the markets today but only at the expense of prices. The New York list sold off quite sharply on what was supposed to be foreign selling and this brought a little selling in the coppers. Allouez declared an initial dividend of $1.00 today. This undoubtedly will be quarterly. While earnings are in excess of the amount to be distributed, the conservative policy is the best. Our New York friends tell us there is a possibility of a special dividend being declared on Utah, Chino and Ray and that the quarterly dividend rate might not be changed instead earnings will be distributed to shareholders by declaring special dividends, similar to Butte & Superior method of disbursing earnings.

IRON TRADE REVIEW

Cleveland, O., June 24.—The Iron Trade Review today said:

Activities of the United States Steel Corporation are steadily increasing. Its plants are now running at slightly under 85 per cent of pigot capacity, which will be augmented by additions now planned, including resumption at the North Sharon plant of the Carnegie Steel Co. and the Columbus works. Bookings of the Corporation are keeping ahead of its heavy shipments. Good reports also come from leading independents. Foreign inquiry for rails is still heavy and there is good prospect of closing at least 200,000 tons. The trend of prices of leading products, especially shapes, plates and bars, is upward, although there are still some irregularities. As illustrating the tendency to ask higher prices for future delivery, the quoting of 1.30c, Pittsburg, for 24,000 tons for the municipal bridge at St. Louis by a leading company may be cited. Delivery of this steel would extend well into next year. Several Youngstown manufacturers have advanced quotations for prompt and future delivery of billets and sheet bars.

The movement toward higher prices on machine tools has become more general and is having the effect of checking railroad buying. The Santa Fe, after closing for a few light lathes, has withdrawn the remainder of its inquiry. The French government is inquiring for a large number of lathes and milling machines, estimated to be about 1,000 each, and Italy is asking for 500 lathes. These and other foreign inquiries are not receiving much attention on account of the manufacturers being booked to capacity for three or four months. The placing of orders for mill equipment for the manufacture of steel bars by the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. marks another step in the progress of that company, which has been rapid in recent years.

Railroads in the United States have been ordering somewhat more freely and further buying by Russian and other foreign countries is in prospect. The receivers for the Rock Island have ordered 4,000 steel underfram box cars and the Lake Superior and Ishpeming, which recently placed an order for 500 freight cars, has closed for 406 ore cars. At Cleveland, inquiries have appeared from the New York Central for 10,750 bolts, 3,000 tons of plates, 750 tons of shapes and 250 tons of bars. The Lake Erie & Western is in the market for 238,000 bolts and 40 tons of nuts. Inquiries for spikes include 20,000 kegs for the New York Central, 20,000 for the Baltimore and Ohio, 2,000 for the Lehigh and New England and 1,600 for the Wheeling and Lake Erie. France is inquiring for a very large tonnage of steel rails.

Ship building continues to be a most interesting feature in the eastern situation. Two more vessels have been awarded to eastern ship yards and still more contracts are pending. It now seems probable that the fleet of five vessels ordered by the Bethlehem Steel Co., to be built in British yards before the war, will be constructed in this country. These vessels are to be used in carrying ore from the company's mines in Chili. The government is inquiring for 2,250 tons of plates for the collier Guyana, to be built on the Pacific coast.

THAW IS SANE SAY WITNESSES

New York, New York, June 24.—Thirteen witnesses, including Thaw himself, testified on Wednesday that they believed Harry K. Thaw sane. They appeared in the proceedings before a jury to test Thaw's present mental state on the outcome of which depends the questions whether the slayer of Stanford White will go free or return to the asylum for the insane from which he escaped.

The witnesses included four jurors at Thaw's former trial, two chaplains, a physician and a keeper at the Tombs prison where Thaw was at various times confined, two newspaper men who had been associated with him during the nine years of the Thaw litigation, a lawyer who had met Thaw in New Hampshire, and a juror in civil proceedings instituted by one of his attorneys at the former trial against Thaw's mother.

Attorney John B. Stanchfield, chief counsel for Thaw sprang a surprise by putting the slayer of Stanford White on the stand as his own first witness. Deputy Attorney General Cook was so taken back by surprise that he had not prepared to cross-examine the famous prisoner, and after occupying the stand for about twenty-five minutes, Thaw was excused. He is, however, subject to recall at any time when the state is ready to cross-examine him.

Stanchfield began his questioning by allusion to Thaw's sensational escape from Matteawan asylum. Under Stanchfield's guidance Thaw sketched briefly his escape, his flight to Canada, his return to New Hampshire and the subsequent fight to have him brought back to New York. Then he told briefly how a commission appointed by Federal Judge Aldrich in New Hampshire had adjudged him sane, and there was an audible note of triumph in his voice as he reached that point.

A mild sensation was caused by Attorney Stanchfield in his opening speech, when he bitterly attacked Dr. Austin Flint, the alienist, who has figured prominently in all of Thaw's long fights for freedom.

"Dr. Flint has never made an examination of Thaw," declared Stanchfield. "Dr. Flint has made thousands of dollars out of this case. People are interested in keeping Harry K. Thaw insane, for there is money in it." The state suffered a heavy blow when one of its most important witnesses, Mrs. Susan Merrill, a former New York boarding housekeeper, could not be found. A hurried investigation failed to reveal her whereabouts of any person who would admit having seen her.

Mrs. Merrill has been a prominent figure in the former Thaw trials. It was she who testified Thaw "beat up" chorus girls at her house. Deputy Attorney General Franklin Cook announced an investigation would be made.

AN EXCITED SHERIFF LEAVES HIS PRISONERS AFTER BASEBALL GAME.

Bewton, N. J., June 24. Excited by a ninth inning finish, Albert T. Lyons, deputy sheriff, left 18 prisoners he had taken to an exhibition game sitting on the bleachers. All 18 were back at night and with them were five hobos they picked up while returning from the ball park to the county jail.

MAN'S MIND IS DERRANGED

Wichita, Kas.—While Walter Damroch, leader of the New York Symphony orchestra thrilled an audience in the Auditorium, Herman Schmidt, once Demroch's "second violin," bereft of all allegiance save his appreciation for music, sat in the county poor farm, not knowing that his beloved master was near.

Had Schmidt known of the copcort he would have traded the few years he is likely to live for one last chance to feast on the music he so dearly loves.

If illness had not kept his only friend, M. B. Woods, confined to his bed, Schmidt would have been taken to Damroch's concert.

Crouched under a tree with his body exposed to a cold April rain and his treasured violin wrapped in his coat, Schmidt was found ill by the police in 1910. He was taken to the Sedgewick house.

The old man was crippled by rheumatism. He could not play the violin. The disease had cost him his position with the New York Symphony orchestra. It had dragged him down from restaurant musician and at last had left him almost stranded as a piano tuner. A thief, by stealing the musician's tools left him penniless.

On his recovery Schmidt was supplied with tuning instruments and became a familiar figure in the Wichita streets. He found one dear friend, who had known him in Berlin, Cornelius Schroeder, a shoemaker.

Refusing to bed, want at last drove Schmidt to break his own heart. He pawned his violin. Woods learned of his action from Schroeder, but Schmidt would not tell where he had pawned the instrument. He did accept gifts from Schroeder.

LANE IS FOUND NOT GUILTY

Green Bay, June 24.—"It is unfortunate in view of the evidence introduced into this case that a representative jury of Brown county should bring in a verdict of not guilty. If any trains are wrecked in the future by some person misplacing signal lights or turning switches, and people are killed, the members of this jury can consider themselves guilty of murder."

Judge N. J. Monahan uttered the above following the filing of a verdict of not guilty in the case of the State of Wisconsin against R. C. Lane on a charge of tampering with a switch in the Northwestern railroad yards here today. Railroad employes testified that the man turned switches, gave signals to them, removed lights from switch posts, and caught onto cars and an engine in motion. Lane claimed while on the stand he was drunk and did not know what he was doing when he was in the railroad yards on the night in question. John W. Reynolds defending Lane in the action. District Attorney M. E. Davis prosecuted the case.

FAKE PHYSICIANS CONDUCT BUSINESS

New York, June 24.—Government agents have discovered a plan on the part of so-called mail order quacks to evade the Federal anti-narcotic law passed last winter by Congress.

The scheme is said to be to register with the internal revenue bureau as physicians under the act and distribute narcotics on receipt of mail orders from so-called patients. The discovery was followed by several seizures of stocks and by the revocation of license granted.

New and more stringent regulations have been issued to the Internal Revenue collectors. Commissioner Osborn has ruled that person not legitimately engaged in their trade or profession cannot legally register under the act.

By the ruling a "prescription" is neither a "remedy" nor a "preparation." It must contain the name and address of the patient, and the name and address of the physician and his registry number, and it cannot be re-iled.

Under the act a remedy or preparation, prepared under private or proprietary formula, carried in stock by a dealer, may be dispensed without a prescription provided it contains a certain minimum quantity of the narcotics enumerated on the label. This was the exception under which the mail order quacks were operating.

CONTINUES WITH BACK BROKEN AND LEGS OFF

Philadelphia, June 24.—A broken back loss of one leg by amputation and the other by paralysis, couldn't keep Jim Keith from achieving his life ambition.

A spirit that would not be conquered overcame the tremendous handicap of his infirmities, and having successfully passed final examinations at Jefferson Medical College he is now a doctor.

Results of the examination, in which 146 seniors passed, were announced a few days ago.

Jim's home is in Schaffersstown, Pa., but he probably will never see it again. Nor will he practice his profession. In the little white room on sixth floor of Jefferson Hospital Jim is destined to spend the rest of his days.

At his side yesterday, when news of his success reached him, was his young wife, her eyes radiating pride and happiness, matched by the triumphant glow in his own.

"I told you, you would do it," she exclaimed rapturously. "Jim, you're a doctor, 'Dr. James Keith,' by, but it sounds good!"

"Yes," assented Jim. "We'll have to tell the lady about it." For there is a baby, Ida, cute and winning, just a few months old, but full of wisdom and understanding. Jim is sure she'll know all about it when he tells her.

Doctor Keith—but he will be Jim always to "the fellows" is twenty-seven years old. It was in April, a year ago, that he was taken into the Jefferson hospital, his back broken from a fall from a window of a fraternity house, at No. 719 Spruce street. Physicians said he couldn't live, but they reckoned only with medical science and not with their patient's indomitable will.

Jim was then a senior in Jefferson College, and had been married but a few months before.

Last January Keith lost his leg. It became infected and had to be amputated. "By special permission I was going to take my exams last Christmas," he explained, "but then I got sick—really sick—and I didn't take them." It was this sickness which resulted in the loss of his leg. And through it all "Jim" came victorious. Only death itself, seemed, could quench his spirit and winning, every ready smile.

Lansing, Mich., June 24.—"I am more than pleased with the decision of the governor of Georgia in the Leo Frank case. He did exactly right."

This was the comment made by Governor Ferris today when asked his opinion regarding the Georgia incident. Speaking further of the Georgia situation, Governor Ferris said: "I do not believe that the decision made means the political death of the Georgia governor—surely not. The citizens of the southern state, are in my opinion, too broadminded to allow an occurrence such as the Frank case to place their governor in jeopardy of being killed, politically speaking. I believe that those conditions are more local than otherwise."

"No, doubt, locally the conditions are bad, but Georgia is a big state and the people there are the same as those in any other state, fair minded. When the local sentiment weakens as it surely must, conditions will against resume their normal state."

Governor Ferris does not place much credence in the stories circulated in Canada that the work of blowing up a plant in Walkerville might have originated in the minds of certain German-Americans residing in Michigan. "My opinion on this matter can be expressed in one word," declared the governor. "Just plain 'bunk'." The German-American citizens of Michigan in my opinion have had absolutely nothing to do with the case. I will not discuss it further. It is just plain 'bunk.'"

ORIGIN OF JAPANESE

It is of course, impossible to be precise upon the subject of the origin of the Japanese people. They may have come originally from China or Malaysia, or from any one of a dozen other regions. It is certain that they are an amalgamation of several different races, but beyond this all is guesswork—as is the case of the origin of every other race of men.

WARLIKE LEADERS

Sir Francis Younghusband said that when the British expedition to Lhasa first met the Tibetans and a fight was provoked, the Lamas protested against the wickedness of the British attack. The Tibetans, they insisted, had never meant resistance, and for proof they pointed to the presence of the leaders with the troops. If, they said, any fighting had been intended all those in authority would of course have moved a day's march to the rear!

OLDEST OF TEXAS RANGERS RETIRES

Threats on His Life Led Captain John R. Hughes into the Service.

NEVER LOST A BATTLE

In Continuous Service Since 1887 and Was Promoted From Private to Present Rank by Superiors Being Killed.

Yaleta, Tex.—Capt. John R. Hughes, the oldest ranger in the state service in point of years, is to retire. His resignation has been handed in after a continuous service since 1887. He entered as a private and on July 4, 1893, was made a captain, all of his superior officers having been killed in desperate fights with fierce border bandits.

He was led to talk about himself and his career. He pictured it in simple, plain words.

"The tale as he told it follows: "Before I enlisted in the ranger force, I was a ranchman on the line of Travis and Williamson counties. A band of thieves stole about seventy-five head of horses from my range. Among them were sixteen head of mine. I followed them to New Mexico, got all my horses back and a lot of my neighbors' horses. The band of men were convicted for stealing my horses, and sent to the New Mexico penitentiary."

Threats Made Him Ranger. "I just lacked fifteen days of being gone a year on that trip. When I returned home I unbuckled my pistol and went about attending to my stock and wanted to be at peace with the world. The friends of the men that I had followed to New Mexico would not let me alone. One of them came to the ranch to kill me. I was absent, but a ranger had arrived at the ranch just after I had left. The ranger was hunting the man who was hunting me. They exchanged shots. The ranger shot the pistol out of his hand, but the man got away."

"He was wanted for murder, and some other offense. The ranger asked me to help catch the man about three weeks later we rounded him up, but, unfortunately, he would not surrender, and was killed. His friends then were so annoying to me that I

HANGING AROUND

Cleveland, June 24.—Joe Birmingham, deposed manager of the Indians, has been barred from the American league ball park here by President Somers, of the Cleveland club. Birmingham, ever since he was let out a month ago, has been reporting regularly at the park each day, regardless of whether the team has been home or not. He has done this in order to protect his interest and equity in his contract, which runs until the end of 1916.

It is said that it calls for $7,500 a year. It is supposed to be ironclad, with the ten-day clause cut out. In addition to being barred he was unconditionally released.

What adds interest to the case is Birmingham's claim that he lent $10,000 to President Somers last September, only to be fired this spring. It is reported that should the American league win its case against Birmingham, new contracts will be offered high-priced ball players with a substantial slash in each.

MAY BUILD ZEPPELIN PLATFORM ON NEW ZEPPPELIN AIRSHIPS.

Basel, June 24.—Dispatches from Germany report a meeting of aerial experts at Friedrichafen to discuss construction on top of all Zeppelins, a platform on which to mount machine guns to drive away hostile aeroplanes and protect the Zeppelin from attacks such as that delivered over Belgium by the British aviator, Warneford.

The opinion was expressed, that Warneford had exploded the theory of Count Zeppelin that his airships cannot be approached and attacked by aeroplanes.

Another message says that Emperor William, when he heard of the death of Aviator Warneford, said "He was a brave enemy."

ARRESTED WAR LEADER

"Among other things the Garza war was started. I arrested Catarina Garza, in August, 1888, for criminal libel, complaint being made by Victor Sebra. Sebra afterward shot Garza and two companies of rangers were sent there to attend to the mob. I was the first ranger to arrive."

"Unfortunately I have been in several engagements where desperate criminals were killed. I have never lost a battle that I was in personally, and never let a prisoner escape."

"I got my promotion all the way from private to captain by my superior officers being killed by Mexican bandits. Sergt. Charles Fusselman was killed by Mexican smugglers in the Franklin mountains, April 17, 1890. I took his place. Capt. Frank Jones was killed on Pirate Island by Mexicans on June 30, 1893, and I was appointed by Governor Hogg to fill his place. My appointment as captain is dated July 4, 1893."

"I have a scrapbook that is very interesting to all old-timers, and a great many of my friends want me to write a book of my life as a ranger, but I don't expect to ever do so for several reasons. One of those is that I do not crave notoriety. Another is that I do not need the money."

BECKER STORY MAY BE GIVEN OUT TO PUBLIC

Ossing, N. Y.—The confession of Charles Becker, which embraces the story of his boyhood; rise to the position of "strong-arm" lieutenant in the police department; of his graft takings; of those associated with him in the graft ring; of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, with an explanation of two why he has been silent until this late day, is almost completed.

The story is already scores of pages in length, and now includes most of the matter which will be presented to Gov. Whitman if the governor shows any indication to hear Becker's bargain for his life.

Aversion to being classed as a "squealer" has partly determined the form of the Becker story. In form, it will be the story of his life, while, in effect, it will be a "confession" including the names of persons involved with Becker or less directly in graft.

There has been no decision yet just how the Becker document shall be used, though Counsel Manton conferred with Becker at the prison early this morning concerning the next step.

"It is possible that Becker's story may be given to the public at the same time an appeal is made to Gov. Whitman in an effort to sway public opinion and thus bring pressure to bear on the executive."

Others besides Becker believe that the contents of his story are such as to convince the public he is a victim of circumstances. The contents of the Becker document, in outline are: First. Story of his life from boyhood to police lieutenant.

Second. Relations into which he was brought with gamblers, including Rosenthal and officials.

As the story stands at present, it will convey much information directly and a good deal by implication of Becker's graft dealings. These are not so extensive as the public has been led to believe.

It is understood that Becker was induced by a state official, high in the condemned man's regard, to begin preparing the 100-story confession soon after the start of appeals affirmed the second verdict.

Becker has not held back names, and many in New York would be affected by the story, though not the important officers once supposed. From the Becker document it probably will become known that one of the most lucrative forms of graft was possible through the Sullivan law.

Under the Sullivan law it was possible to get money from the patrons of gambling houses when detected by a Becker raid. If patrons were caught with weapons in their possession, it was possible to show them how it would be better to pay to avoid the notriety of an indictment. It has been reported before that Becker was able to derive money from this source of blackmail.

Third. The story of the Rosenthal murder is told as Becker knows it. It with full details of his connection with the instigators of the crime and the gunmen. He attempts to show that much greater motives for the crime were possessed by Jack Rose and "Bridger" Webber, relying partly on the facts, brought out by Manton at the trial that Rose was seeking vengeance on Rosenthal, who had endangered Rose's life by telling the gunmen that Rose had "framed" Jack Seilig on a Sullivan law charge.

Fourth. From Becker's narrative it will appear that Rose and his accomplices were led to depend on him for "protection" because of their relations as "strong-arm raiders" and "stool pigeons."

The inference is that Becker, after the murder, was merely indiscreet in what he did to help Rose immediately after the crime. Through a revelation of his actual relations with Rose, Becker means to show the net of circumstances in which he says he was caught when Rose decided to turn against him.

Through intimacy with Rose up to and even after the murder Becker came into Rose's power, and Becker is now preparing to show by admission and explanation how Rose's story was fabricated.

RESTORED TO GOOD HEALTH

"I was sick for four years with stomach trouble," write Mrs. Otto Gans, Zanesville, Ohio. "I lost weight and felt so weak that I almost gave up hope of being cured. A friend told me about Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using two bottles of them I have been a well woman." Obtainable everywhere.

CAUSE FOR COMPLAINT

A quiet little Chicago lad serves as altar boy at the family church on certain days of the week. He has been attending rather often than usual of late, and his mother recently inquired the reason, adding that he seemed to her to be doing the work of himself and his comrade. "So I am," gumbled the boy sharply, "but I can't help it. That darned kid always ditches his dates!"

NAB MICH. MAN IN MASSACHUSETTS

Dowagiac, June 24.—Cass county officers declare that Edward Hitchcock, former wholesale fern merchant of Glenwood, five miles east of Dowagiac, may be held on any one of four serious charges when he is returned to Cass county from North Adams, Mass., where on Sunday he was arrested in company with Catherine Morgan, aged 20 years, of Detroit, with whom he is said to have been living while a fugitive from justice.

He disappeared in December, 1913, shortly after having been arrested on statutory charges made by Bessie Lawrence, a girl under 18, and at the time jumped bonds of $2,000 furnished by a Dowagiac merchant. Last Wednesday night in company with the Michigan girl, he drove to Dowagiac from South Bend, went to the home of Dr. W. S. Sharpe, where the Lawrence girl is employed, represented himself as the girl's brother from Ohio and asked to see her.

She recognized him and fled upstairs. Hitchcock followed and was met by Dr. Sharpe, who drove him out of the house at the point of a pistol. Sheriff Reed's force tracked Hitchcock back to South Bend, then to Detroit, where he and Miss Moran spent a lay, then on to Massachusetts, where officers arrested them Sunday.

Sheriff Reed is now on his way to North Adams to bring the pair to Cass county.

ROBBERING THE MILK BOTTLE

Siphon Invented for Removing Cream When Desired—Does Its Work Without Any Loss.

The sight of a quantity of rich cream on top of the milk bottle is a sight which few housewives can resist, and they are tempted to remove it and make use of it for one purpose or another. It is almost impossible to pour the cream off, and usually any effort made to insert a spoon or other implement of this character has the effect of stirring up the cream of cream so that it is lost. The device shown herewith has been recently patented and will drain off all the cream of the bottle without any loss by agitation of the contents of the bottle during the operation, as with a spoon or pouring. The siphon is of glass principally, but the lower end is a tube of rubber with one end thrust up into the glass. The bell-shaped end of glass is lowered carefully into the cream, and when in place will about reach the lower part of the stratum of cream. The rubber tube is then closed by pinching and drawn slowly from the glass tube. This draws the cream up and starts the flow, which continues until all the cream has been drawn off.

CHANGES ARE BENEFICIAL

State Game Warden W. R. Oates is well pleased with the changes made in the state game laws by the last legislature. In discussing the changes Mr. Oates said:

"The ability of the department to enforce the laws was increased by some of the new provisions, and others have a genuine conservation value.

"In the latter class perhaps first in importance is the limitation of one deer for each hunter, instead of two, as the law stood before amendment. This will reduce the legal kill approximately 50 per cent. It is a measure of conservation I believe to be urgently needed, for with the wild country being constantly encroached on by farmers and by railroad extensions and the number of hunters increasingly annually the fate of the deer, as far as general hunting is concerned, would have been sealed unless a larger measure of restriction was provided.

"The partridge will be much better protected by the provision making it illegal to shoot this bird from automobiles and also by the provision making it illegal to shoot this bird from automobiles and also by the provision making the opening of the rabbit and partridge season identical. This year the partridge will be further protected by the amendment providing for a gun license for all hunters. The licenses will become effective Oct. 1, when the bird season opens, and as hunters will have no business in the woods before that date there should be a marked decrease in the amount of partridge shooting before the season opens.

"I regard the provision making it illegal to shoot birds from automobiles as most important. This is particularly deadly form of hunting. Last fall some heavy bags were made between Marquette and Munising and Marquette and Treenay. At the rate the birds were shot it would have been but a few seasons before they were practically cleaned out in all districts that could be easily reached by automobiles. The prohibition will be one that will be difficult to enforce, but the deputies will be instructed to make special effort to arrest those who violate it, and heavy fines, if not jail sentences, should have an important deterrent effect. Real sportsmen ought to see the shortsightedness of this form of hunting and co-operate with the department to put an end to it.

"Spring shooting of water fowl is now forbidden by state law. The federal prohibition on this shooting is being fought in some states on the ground that it is unconstitutional and the Michigan legislature wisely declined to settle this question for the state by expressly putting it under the ban by local statute. Because there was some question whether the prairie chicken was included in the group of game birds for which the season is closed, it was named specifically, and the closed season was extended from 1918 to 1920. This group includes the Mongolian or English pheasant, quail, black fowl, capercaillie, hazel grouse, spruce hens or Canadian grouse, prairie chicken, wild turkey, killdeer, including shore and meadow birds.

"Because these birds in some localities prey on game fish it is provided that the department may issue permits to hunt at any time, blue heron, shell-drake, terns, and mergansers.

"Turning to the fish laws, the legislature fixed the close of the trout season at September 1, instead of September 15, the better to protect the fish in the early spawning season. This change had been asked by many sportsmen's clubs and will meet with general approval. Protection is now given the wall-eyed pike, the open season being from June 16 to the last day of February, and protection is given also to blue gills, sunfish, perch and crappies. While they may be caught at any time, they can only be taken above five inches in length, and it is unlawful to take more than twenty-five in one day, or to have more than twenty-five in possession at any one time. They can only be taken with hook and line, and it is unlawful to sell or buy them. Not more than thirty-five brook trout can be taken in a day and it is illegal to have more than fifty in possession at any one time. All non-resident fishermen must obtain license. The fee is $1 or fish other than trout, and $3 for all game fish.

"The extension of the gun license requirement will increase the revenue of the department and at same time make regulation of hunting more effective. Heretofore it has not been necessary for a resident hunter to secure a license unless he hunted outside the county in which he lived. But under amendment law, all hunters will have to have a gun license, for which the charge will be $1 for residents of Michigan, $10 for non-residents and $10 for aliens. The deer license will be an additional charge, $1.50 for residents and $25 for non-residents and aliens. Persons who trap fur-bearing animals other than beaver must obtain the hunter's license. For trapping beaver the special $10 license is required.

"The attention of sportsmen is earnestly directed to the changes in

MRS. GEORGE DEPEW IN TROUBLE "AGAIN"

Mrs. George Depew is in trouble "again." Wednesday night Mrs. George Depew decided that her husband was a worthless being and that she didn't need him anyway. With this thought in mind she went after George with a hatchet (Carrie Nation fashion) and after she had chased her husband around the room numberless times, he took refuge in a closet. She was not to be stopped by a mere door so she cut it down and gave hubby the beating of his lifetime.

Last night at about 7 o'clock hubby came too from the last blow that his portly wife had delivered on the night before and forgetting that she felt a bit antagonistic toward him, started a conversation. With the first word he uttered she gasped a poker and again George was beaten unmercifully over the head with the iron weapon. At last hubby said he "simply would stand such treatment any longer" and he called the police.

When hubby left the house wife shut the door and had it locked with a big bolt when the officers came. They were forced to push the door in before they could place Mrs. George under arrest.

This morning Mrs. George will be arraigned in Justice McEwen's court, probably on a charge of "assault and battery with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder."

COMPANY A TO PLAY RAPID RIVER

The members of the Co. A baseball team of this city will on Sunday cross bats with the Rapid River team at Rapid River. Whiston and Corcoran will serve as the local battery.

BEAUS SWAMPED BY FLAT ROCK

The inability of Burton to withstand the onslaught of the Flat Rock slugs for the first five innings of the game yesterday at South Park spelled the defeat of the Northern Beaus team of this city to the Flat Rock team aggregation by a score of 9 to 5. Burton was pounded out of the box in the fifth inning and was replaced by Germaine who held the Flat Rocks steady for the remainder of the session.

In the fourth session Flat Rock secured four runs.

The battery for Escanaba was: Burton, Germaine and Roth, while the Flat Rock firing line was: Johnson and Barron.

FUNERAL TO BE HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Final funeral ceremonies over the body of Mrs. Tracy Todd will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of C. M. Frost, 521 Ogden avenue. Rev. R. Stanley Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian church will officiate and interment will be made at Lakeview cemetery.

During the service a vocal number will be rendered by James Frost.

Those who have been chosen to bear the body to its final resting place are: R. H. Banks, A. R. Moore, Max Kurz, John Erickson, James Frost and E. J. Norcus.

A great number of beautiful floral offerings have been received at the home as mute testimonials of the esteem in which the young woman was held.

Under the law, with the reminder that ignorance thereof will not be regarded as a sufficient defense in cases of violation. It is the policy of the department to direct its work as much as possible along educational lines. It would much prefer to obtain its results by the co-operation of the hunters and fishermen, and their fullest assistance in making the laws effective is desired.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY PRESENTED

A large number of local people last evening gathered at the high school auditorium to witness the production of "The Arrival of Kitty" as given by the Senior class. The show of last evening was well given and well received. It proved a fitting climax to the work of the senior class. All had devoted much time to the production and are deserving much credit for it success. Miss Lynch, who staged the show, spent much valuable time in perfecting the different parts and should receive a big portion of the praise extended.

MULLER EXECUTED IN LONDON TOWER

London, June 24.—Robert Muller, who on June 4 was found guilty at the Old Bailey Police court of being a German spy, was executed in the tower of London on Wednesday by shooting. Another alleged German spy, Robert Rosenthal, who is said by the police to have confessed that he was sent to England by the German admiralty to obtain information on naval matters, is to be court-martialed.

The official announcement concerning Muller and Rosenthal was extremely brief, stating merely that Muller had been put to death in the tower Wednesday morning, and that the summary of the evidence in the case of the alleged spy, Rosenthal, was taken to the Wellington barracks. He will be tried by court-martial.

It is presumed that Muller faced a firing squad in the yard of the tower of London at dawn, as did Carl Hans Lody, who was executed last November after he had been convicted of spying.

Muller was arrested some time ago together with Anton Kuepferle and another man named Hahn. All three were accused of sending military information to Germany by means of invisible ink.

Both Muller and Hahn were convicted and Muller was sentenced to death, while Hahn was sentenced to seven years penal servitude. Kuepferle committed suicide while his trial was in progress.

Muller once lived in Boston, where he was in the rubber business and moved in good social circles. He claimed to be a naturalized Britisher. His father was a German and his mother a Scotch woman.

CARRANZA FIRM IN HIS REFUSAL

Washington, June 24.—General Carranza has informed the United States government that under no circumstance will he treat with General Villa, that he will not compromise with his opponents and that he will continue his plan to crush his adversaries by military campaign.

President Wilson had before him today a long report on General Carranza's views as given in an informal conversation with an American consular officer at Vera Cruz. General Carranza's views did not surprise officials here, as he has consistently ignored all offers of peace made by the Villa-Zapata factions as well as suggestions of foreign mediation in domestic affairs.

There is a possibility, it is recognized in high official quarters, however, that Carranza does not understand the earnestness of the United States in demanding an early settlement of the trouble in Mexico, which is endangering the lives of foreigners. Representatives here of General Carranza will leave here on Friday for Vera Cruz to confer with the first chief. They are familiar with the point of view of the American government.

A summary of reports to the American Red Cross, made public today, says:

"In Mexico City thousands are begging for food and flocking about stations where food supplies are being distributed by foreign relief committees and sometimes by the government. Before the harvest is ready both the city and country will be in a much more distressing condition. The price of corn and beans in six times the previous price, bakeries have closed for lack of flour and foodstuffs are obtainable only in small quantities. A week cessation of supplies would bring the entire city to almost a starvation point. If importations of foodstuffs from Durango have to cease, Torren's food supply cannot last more than fifteen days."

ALMSHOUSE PATIENT DIED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Theophile Brunette, aged 63, passed away yesterday afternoon after an illness of several weeks at the county Almshouse. The funeral over the body will be held on Friday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Anne's church. Interment will take place at a Gledstone cemetery.

with plenty of room for future domestic science, agricultural and manual training equipments.

The building is situated at the north edge of town upon a beautiful rise of nearly four acres of ground. No prettier spot could have been found, and the committee is to be congratulated upon so wise a choice. It is high, dry, and slightly, and when completed with a little landscape gardening will be a spot of genuine beauty, and all this is the reason for that school house smile in Stephenson.

When the building was constructed and opened in January the ceremonies for laying the corner stone were deferred till such time as the dedication should be held.

The Governor will lay the stone and formally dedicate the building and receive an appropriate momento as an expression of deep appreciation by the people of Stephenson township.

From appearances all roads will lead to Stephenson on Wednesday, June 30, and we would urge our readers, who can, to accept Stephenson's wide and urgent invitation to spend the day within her borders and help celebrate with her upon this splendid occasion.

CELEBRATION SUCCESS

"The whole round world is the mother country of America," said Atty. J. F. Cuddy in opening his address at the South Park pavilion, and immediately after said this country has been rightly styled the melting pot of the world. Amalgamating the different races of the entire civilized world, and the result is a race of liberty loving, charitable disposed, intelligent, progressive people. He cited himself, an Irishman, being selected by the French people to make the principal address, as a proof of his assertion. The story of the French race on this continent was recounted with a scholarly precision which was a rare treat to hear. He recounted the early French explorers commencing with Jacques Cartier, who first led an expedition in the year 1541 and landed on the coast of Labrador and in the next year made the first permanent settlement in North America in what is now known as the city of Montreal. The achievements of other explorers, namely: Champlain, Nicolett, Rev. Fr. Meynard, Rev. Father Marquette, Jolliet, LaSalle, Henepin and Duluth, were among the few of whom he made honorable mention. Lafayette and the French government was given the credit of coming to the assistance of the American patriots at the crucial period and securing the independence of the United States.
