

GERMAN REPUBLIC IS AGAIN TOTTERING

FRENCH WORD BLOCKING THE ACTION OF U. S.

HOWEVER, MATTER WILL BE CLARIFIED IN FEW DAYS.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press) Washington, Nov. 5.—One French word — "actuelle" — is blocking an agreement between France and the United States relative to American help in adjusting the all-important problem of German reparations.

When Premier Poincare used the word in describing what he believed to be the scope of the commission of experts, he may have meant Germany's "present" capacity to pay but he also may have intended to speak of Germany's "actual" capacity to pay as distinguished from her theoretical ability.

This ambiguity is in process of being clarified. Informal conversations between the diplomatic representatives of the French and American governments at Washington and Paris are proceeding and all stories of a break up of the conference are predicated solely on the idea that the French premier wants to block the conference.

Opposed to this is his cordial acceptance in principle of American offers of help and the well-established fact that having once won American cooperation from an administration which has scrupulously held itself aloof from European affairs for nearly three years the French government and European opinion generally would not take kindly to the wreck of the first real proposal of hope that has come forth since the deadlock began.

Behind the Scenes. What is going on behind the scenes at the moment is of critical importance but the outcome need not be doubted. The U. S. government got the impression from the informal utterances of the French foreign office in the press that it was intended by the French to limit the scope of the inquiry to Germany's present capacity to pay and that consideration of Germany's future capacity or any other related subject would be excluded.

Without waiting for an official expression on the subject from the French government, President Coolidge and the cabinet discussed the effect of such limitations and came to the conclusion that it was wise to inform France — also through the press — that such a limitation would make futile the work of any inquiring body and that America was so much affected by the suggestion of limitation as to doubt seriously whether it was worth while participating at all.

Having made a gesture of help, Europe could no longer accuse the United States of indifference, and all those people who have been clamoring for American cooperation with Europe would see clearly once for all that nothing could be done in Europe without the consent of the French government.

"Feelers" Sent Out. Thus far the French government has not written its formal reply to the American government as to the scope of the inquiry. The French sent out "feelers" through the press and have found America unalterably opposed to an inquiry that shall not inquire into the real essentials of the controversy. Finding America was obdurate, the French government can not afford to take the responsibility for the break-up of the parley as

Jugo Slavia Gives Bulgaria 48 Hours To Atone

British Booze Ship Captured; Has Rich Cargo

(By The Associated Press.) Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 5.—The British auxiliary schooner Louise F was captured after a three hour chase at noon today by federal authorities and 3,000 cases of liquor, valued at $375,000 were seized, the officers reported on their return here tonight.

The capture was effected within the twelve mile limit of South Pablo beach and Captain H. A. Johnson of Harbour Island, British West Indies, and six members of the crew were arrested. They are being brought to Jacksonville, where they will be charged with violating the customs laws and national prohibition law, officers said.

FOREST FIRE PROBE ENDED

INVESTIGATOR DOES NOT CALL ON COMPANY OFFICIALS.

(By The Associated Press.) Marquette, Mich., Nov. 5.—An investigation into circumstances surrounding the death of five employees of the Lake Independence Lumber Company, Big Bay, who were burned to death in a recent forest fire, was made Saturday by F. J. Converse, assistant state's attorney general, who visited the company's lumber camps after a conference at Ishpeming with Thomas Clancy, prosecuting attorney of Marquette county.

Converse was accompanied by State Fire Warden Peterson, of Wolverine and District Deputy H. J. Koopp, of Marquette, who helped bring the men's bodies out of the woods the day after their death and who were members of the coroner's jury at the inquest.

Refuses to Comment. Converse interviewed several lumberjacks and others employed in the camp and went over the ground where the men lost their lives, but did not call at the Lake Independence Lumber Company's office or communicate with officials of that concern. According to Prosecutor Clancy, Mr. Converse refused to discuss his findings, saying that he would make no comment in advance of his formal report to the attorney general.

Officials of the Lake Independence Lumber Company were surprised today to learn that Converse had made his investigation without calling on them. Last week when it was reported that a probe would be started, the company heads declared that they not only desired, but insisted upon a complete investigation. Lower state newspaper reports stated that the company carried no liability insurance on its employees and that it was making no effort to find relatives of the five who perished in the fire. The company carries life insurance and representatives of the insurance company are doing everything possible to locate the dead men's kin.

Company Surprised. When he read a Lansing dispatch stating that the attorney general's office would probe the tragedy, Jay B. Duetch, president of the Lake Independence Company, expressed entire satisfaction with the procedure. "I cannot understand, in view of our attitude, why the attorney general's representative stayed away from us in making his investigation. However, if he was able to get all the facts from the men in the camp and from our camp foreman, I am certain he will not hold that the five unfortunate men met their death because of negligence on the company's part."

Converse has gone to Houghton to attend to legal business not connected with the forest fire investigation.

Detroit Thief Lifts Tombstone Samples

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—Some where in Detroit a thief is working just what can be done with a sample case full of little blocks of polished marble and granite.

Monday, William J. McKnight, salesman for the Redford Granite Company, reported to the police that his case of tombstone and monument samples had been stolen while he attended services at Christ Church.

Highway Engineers Gathering for Meet

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Nov. 5.—Engineers and county highway officials were arriving here tonight for the Michigan State Roads Convention, which opens at the Michigan Agricultural College Tuesday. The feature of the opening day's session is an address by Governor Grosbeck when it is expected he will outline the state's plans for highway improvement in 1924.

FRENCH VIEW LAID BEFORE SEC. HUGHES

REPARATIONS DISCUSSED FOR NEARLY TWO HOURS.

(By The Associated Press.) Paris, Nov. 5.—Nothing developed in Paris today which tended to throw any light upon the exact nature of the statement Ambassador Jusserand was instructed by Premier Poincare to make to Secretary of State Hughes regarding the proposed inquiry into Germany's capacity to pay reparations.

Whether the instruction of the premier, the latest of which were dispatched to the ambassador in Washington last Saturday, contained suggestions which might relieve the reported lack of harmony on the part of the Washington government with the French viewpoint as set forth in the public utterances of the premier, could not be ascertained in official quarters today.

DETAILS NOT DISCLOSED. Washington, Nov. 5.—Views of the French government on reparations were laid before Secretary Hughes today by Ambassador Jusserand, just returned from Paris. Their talk in the secretary's office lasted an hour and forty minutes. Whether it resulted in any change in the situation that has thus far prevented final agreement among the allied governments on the expert inquiry, neither Mr. Hughes nor the ambassador would make any statement whatever with respect to their conversation.

Hope France Agrees. Before Ambassador Jusserand sought his appointment with Secretary Hughes, information had reached the state department that Great Britain, Italy and Belgium had reached an accord on the form of the invitation to the United States to participate in the inquiry. As this situation then was understood by Washington officials, it was said authoritatively — French insistence that they be limited to an inquiry into the present capacity of Germany to pay, alone prevented final agreement. The hope was expressed by the government spokesmen that France could be induced to join in a full inquiry, but no information was given of the course the United States would pursue if the allied nations found it impossible to reach an agreement.

It was difficult to determine the exact reason for the silence at this vital stage of the negotiations which are occupying chief attention at all the major capitals of the world. Ambassador Jusserand referred all inquiries to Secretary Hughes, while at the latter's office, it was stated that the secretary was not in a position to make any comment. In view of this, an impression prevailed that neither side regarded the question at issue, that of the scope of the expert inquiry into German economic capacity.

RUNAWAY GIRL OF MANISTIQUE SENT BACK HOME

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—Margaret Rogers, 17 years old, of Manistique, Mich., who arrived in Detroit October 27, alone and a runaway from home, left the city today to go back to her mother, Mrs. Caroline Rogers, who sent enough money here to pay for her fare.

Margaret asked a traffic officer last Saturday where she could find work, and he took her to the women's detention home. She was held there until her mother was notified.

The girl said she left her home with a man, and drove to a small town near Detroit where he abandoned her. She then came here to look for a job.

Big Oil Company Will Buy Mutual

(By The Associated Press.) Denver, Colo., Nov. 5.—Negotiations are under way between the Continental Oil company and the Mutual Oil company for the purchase of the Mutual by the Continental, C. E. Strong, vice president of the Continental said today.

Mr. Strong declined any of the terms of the proposed deal and said that the proposition had not reached the stage where a definite statement could be made. He said negotiations probably will be continued.

ATTORNEY FOR ONE KLAN FACTION IN GEORGIA IS SLAIN BY MAN IN PUBLICITY WORK FOR OTHER SIDE

(By The Associated Press.) Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 5.—Phillip E. Fox, publicity man for the Ku Klux Klan, who late today shot and killed S. W. Coburn, Atlanta attorney as he sat at his desk in his office, tonight refused to make a statement. Fox is held at police headquarters without bond on a charge of murder. His refusal to talk has left the authorities without a clue as to the motive for the shooting.

At police headquarters Fox denied any connection with the Ku Klux Klan, giving his occupation as a clerk. He was identified by newspaper men as the publicity agent for the Ku Klux Klan and police said he is the editor of the Knight Hawk, official organ of the imperial palace of the Ku Klux Klan. Fox stated, "what I did has no connection with the Ku Klux Klan."

W. T. Rogers, an employe in the office of Coburn, said that Fox is a publicity man for the Klan and the editor of the Knight Hawk.

He Had "Information." Dr. Fred B. Johnson of San Antonio, Tex., who is visiting at the home of W. J. Simmons, emperor of the Klan, told the police that Fox came to Simmons' home last night. Dr. Johnson said that Morris A. Moore, a member of the Texas Rangers, also visiting Colonel Simmons, was present at the time. Colonel Simmons being in Alabama, Johnson declared Fox told him he had severed his connection with the faction of Imperial Wizard Evans and that he had come to Johnson for the purpose of revealing some information. Dr. Johnson said he noticed Fox kept his right hand in his overcoat pocket, and he, Johnson, backed Fox into a corner and took a pistol away from him.

"He told me," said Dr. Johnson, "he had been sent there to kill me, but he did not say by whom. He said, however, I talked him out of it. When he left, he told me he was going back to Texas on Monday night and appeared to be disgusted with the whole situation."

Came From Texas. Dr. Johnson said Fox came to Atlanta last March from Dallas, Tex., where he was city editor of a newspaper.

The dead lawyer was leading counsel last week in the court battle precipitated by David Rittenhouse and others of Pennsylvania, when they filed a petition asking for a receiver for the Klan. The receivership was denied by Judge John D. Humphries after a hearing lasting several days. As attorney for emperor Simmons, Coburn, this morning filed a petition asking for an injunction against Dr. Evans and the Klan to prevent the formation of a woman's order of the Ku Klux Klan.

WITH KLAN IN DALLAS. Dallas, Tex., Nov. 5.—Phillip E. Fox, reported in a dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., this evening, to have shot and killed W. S. Coburn, Atlanta attorney, was formerly managing editor of the Dallas Times-Herald.

Mr. Fox came here from Oklahoma about ten years ago, working on the Dallas Dispatch as a reporter. He went with the Times-Herald as a reporter later and worked up to the position as managing editor on the paper.

This spring Mr. Fox resigned to take up some publicity work, going to Washington.

Soo Line To Pay Tribute To Head During Funeral

(By The Associated Press.) Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 5.—All service on the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway, including passenger trains, will be suspended for five minutes at 2 p. m. tomorrow in tribute to George R. Huntington, president, who died here Saturday and whose funeral will be held at that hour, officials of the road announced today. The general offices and the larger shops will close at noon.

Four Klansmen Held For Toting Of Firearms

(By The Associated Press.) Bastrop, La., Nov. 5.—Four alleged members of the Morehouse Parish Ku Klux Klan, including Captain J. K. Skiptwith, exalted cyclops, today were found guilty of "carrying firearms on the premises of another" in connection with hooded band activities in Morehouse Parish last year.

Others found guilty were Benton Pratt, Marvin Pickett and W. G. Intosh. Sentences will be pronounced later.

ATTACK MADE ON KRASITCH NEEDS APOLOGY

(By The Associated Press.) Belgrade, Nov. 5.—Jugo Slavia in a note presented at Sofia this afternoon gave Bulgaria 48 hours in which to fulfill three demands for reparation in consequence of the attack on the Jugo-Slav military attaché in Sofia last Friday.

The conditions are: First, the Bulgarian government must present its excuses and regrets to the Jugo-Slav representative in Sofia; second, the Bulgarian minister of war must express his personal regrets to the Jugo-Slav military attaché, and third, a detachment of 250 Bulgarian soldiers, with a flag, must render honors before the Jugo-Slav legation.

Must Punish Guilty. Two additional demands are for an energetic investigation to find and punish those guilty of the attack, and for an indemnity, to be determined by the international court at The Hague.

The note states that the attack is regarded as a political crime.

The Jugo-Slav military attaché in Sofia, Colonel Krasitch, was attacked Friday night in his office in Sofia by three armed men and was injured about the head. The assailants gained entrance by stating that they had an important document to deliver. When Colonel Krasitch's orderly, becoming suspicious, insisted that the document be given to him, he was stabbed in the chest. Colonel Krasitch, attracted by the sound of the struggle rushed to the scene and the men fired at him, but missed. They then beat him over the head with the butts of their revolvers and fled.

Say Apology Sent. A Sofia dispatch Sunday night said a formal apology had been tendered to the Jugo Slavia legation by the Bulgarian minister of foreign affairs and that a note of regret had also been sent directly to Belgrade. The Bulgarian officials were declared to believe that the attack was not made with murderous intent but to embarrass the government.

TWO DEAD AND ONE INJURED NEAR CALUMET

(By The Associated Press.) Houghton, Mich., Nov. 5.—Two are dead and one seriously injured as the result of a grade crossing accident at Oscola, near Calumet, this morning, when an automobile in which they were riding, was hit by a Houghton County Traction Company interurban car. The dead are: Mrs. Nellie Monroe, principal of the central public school at Houghton and Mrs. Eva Harmon, a teacher in the Houghton high school. The injured is Miss Florence Stockly, sister of Mrs. Harmon and also a teacher in the Hancock schools. The three teachers were on their way to Calumet to attend a district teachers' institute. Mrs. Monroe was instantly killed and Mrs. Harmon died shortly after from her injuries. The auto apparently tried to make the crossing ahead of the car with fatal results. Miss Stockly's condition is serious but she is expected to recover.

Air Pilots Always In Touch By Radio

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 5.—Air pilots flying across the continent in the future will be accessible at all times to instructions from the ground, postoffice department experts having worked out a one-man sending and receiving radio set which will be installed in the coast to coast service.

The set, in which the receiver is under the pilot's helmet and the transmitter on his breast, will make it unnecessary for a radio operator to accompany the plane. The whole mechanism, including batteries, weighs only 170 pounds. Air mail service stations are placed at 200-mile intervals, and the pilot with a 180 to 210 meter wave length would never be out of touch with a station.

ADMIT ALIENS UNDER PAROLE

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Nov. 5.—More than 3,000 aliens, permitted on parole after facing deportation, may be allowed to remain here permanently, it was learned tonight when federal officials announced it was not certain that the immigration quotas had been exhausted.

FIREMEN BADLY BURNED SAVING LIFE OF CHILD

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Nov. 5.—Four women were overcome by smoke and a fireman badly burned about the face and arms while attempting to rescue a little girl at noon Monday when fire of undetermined origin trapped half a hundred tenants of the McMurtry Apartment Annex, and caused damage estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000.

Mrs. Mary Prahl, a sufferer from heart disease, was carried from the flaming building by her son soon after she had fainted when she saw the flames leaping through her window on the third floor. She was taken to Grace Hospital in a hysterical condition. George Bohner, a fireman, was also taken to Grace Hospital.

Traps Many Servants. The fire started in the basement. It spread quickly and by the time the alarm had brought a dozen companies it had completely enveloped the third floor and the smoke was so dense on the fourth floor that firemen had difficulty in rescuing the remaining tenants who were trapped.

Scarcely clad, women were carried through the windows and to the streets. Three of the women who were suffocated by the heat and smoke were rescued by firemen who groped their way through the blinding blazes after the other tenants had been rescued.

Mrs. W. W. Coffin with her little daughter, Jean, seven years old, was trapped on the third floor. In attempting to escape, Mrs. Coffin lost Jean. The little girl was met in the hallway by a fireman and carried to safety.

The frantic mother fainted and was carried from the building regaining consciousness, she fought off firemen and made a rush for the door from which huge flames were leaping. She was halted by a policeman and told that her daughter had been rescued.

Miss Margaret Newton was overcome while she was attempting to rescue a girl whom she thought was trapped on the third floor. Miss Margaret Godfrey was overcome by smoke.

Sugar Exchange Denies Public Is Debauched

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 5.—The reply of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange and the New York Coffee and Sugar Clearing Association to the appeal of the government to restrain them from making sugar quotations was filed today in the supreme court.

"The exchange, by affording a market for future transactions, under regulations which prevent fraud and unfair dealing," the brief states, "fulfills a great economic function, facilitating the marketing of the sugar crop, keeping the producing and consuming public advised of the trend of world opinion with respect to prices, and thereby preventing the control of prices by a few great refineries, which with their vast capital might otherwise be able to largely dominate prices, as they notoriously have done in the past."

Speculative transactions, it was insisted, have been relatively few.

Turkey To Maintain An Embassy Here

(By The Associated Press.) Constantinople, Nov. 5.—The Turkish government has decided to maintain an embassy at Washington instead of reducing the post to that of a legation, as previously announced. Dr. Adnen Bey, nationalist leader, has been suggested as the first ambassador to the United States from the Turkish Republic. Adnen Bey's two sons are students at the University of Illinois.

Prohibition Sure To Lose In Alberta

(By The Associated Press.) Calgary, Alta., Nov. 5.—Defeat of prohibition in Alberta was certain tonight. Thirty percent of the country polls by 9 o'clock had polled up a majority of nearly 8,000 for government control and sale of liquors and early returns from the cities showed a decided "wet" tendency.

DISTRESS IS DRIVING OUT LIBERTY IDEA

DEMAND FOR DICTATOR RAPIDLY GAINING GROUND.

(By The Associated Press.) Berlin, Nov. 5.—Armistice week finds the five-year-old German republic in the throes of a nation-wide political, economic and social crisis, the outcome of which may be determined through such minor factors as the rising or falling prices for bread, potatoes and coal.

It may also terminate in the sudden proclamation of a national dictatorship, the demand for which is gaining perceptible momentum among all classes of the people, who apparently are willing to barter their present political liberties for even a hazy prospect of amelioration of their social condition. Germany tonight outwardly suggests a loosely federated pseudo-republic without such elementary prerequisites as a national currency or a safely anchored constitutional government supported by a representative parliament.

Appeal to Nation. Into this situation President Ebert and Chancellor Stresemann tonight projected an appeal to the nation, in which they affirm their determination to defend the republic and its constitution against all attacks within and to summon the citizens to come to their aid.

In part, the proclamation says: "In this very serious time Germany is threatening internal convulsions. Certain sections of the community, although numerically not strong, are relying on the distress of the people to attempt to exercise illegal pressure on the government and to throw the torch of internecine warfare among the people."

After declaring the government's determination to resist such attempts, the proclamation continues:

"Use Word 'Fight.'" "The maintenance of the unity of the Reich and law and order in the interior are necessary prerequisites for overcoming the present distress resulting from unemployment, serious economic conditions and unparalleled political pressures."

In the way of warning the proclamation says: "Those nations and leading personages who are aware of Germany's intolerable distress and who desire to help Germany should not despair of the German people. The German government possesses the necessary strength to deal with any putch and protect the constitution of the Reich. The Reichswehr and police, loyal to their oath will do their duty. The government firmly believes that if against its will it is forced to fight, the whole German people will stand behind it in defense of order and the freedom of the German Reich."

Will "Iron Rule" Do? The government's pronouncement finds the bakershops of greater Berlin shut down, market stalls locked up and long rows of shops in the eastern section of the city disfigured by broken windows, with shelves and counters looted. Berlin is virtually in the grip of a hunger blockade, as agrarian producers within a radius of 150 miles continue their refusal to deliver their products in exchange for paper marks.

This is one aspect of the situation which suggests to the mass of the people that a dictator that rules with a mailed fist would promptly coax forth flour, potatoes and such necessities through the preliminary punishment of food profiteers and agricultural manates. Yet the growing clamor for a dictator has failed thus far to mention one man, whatever his political antecedents, who

SAILOR FALLS THOUSAND FEET OVER A CLIFF

(By The Associated Press.) Honolulu, Nov. 5.—After falling 1,000 feet from the top of the Paia, a rocky cliff near here, over which thousands of Oahuans meet death in the early history of Hawaii, as they fled from the invading army of the King of Hawaii, John Andrews, a 55-year-old man, was rescued from a narrow ledge on which he had lodged.

Rescuers ascended 500 feet to the precipitous declivity where the sailor was clinging to a rope. The task required hours and was finished in darkness, but the light of torches held by the rescuers.

Andrews' legs were broken and his skull fractured. He was taken to the hospital.

U. S. CLAIMS IN WAR ARE HEARD

Body Upholds 278 Lusitania and Dismisses 3,190 Others.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 5.—Four decisions determining German liability for American claims resulting from the war, including those growing out of the Lusitania's torpedoing, were announced today by the Mixed Claims Commission.

While upholding, broadly, the Lusitania claims, numbering 278 and aggregating approximately $22,000,000, the commission dismissed 3,190 claims totalling about $245,000,000, for the recovery of insurance premiums paid by Americans for protection against war hazards.

General principles governing the assessment of the American claims were laid down by the commission. Three of the decisions, including that on the Lusitania claims, were unanimous, but in the others, interpreting treaty obligations, Edwin B. Parker, umpire, concurred with Chandler P. Anderson, American commissioner, over the dissent of the German commissioner, Dr. Wilhelm Kisselbach.

No Punitive Damages. An important feature of the Lusitania decision was the refusal of the commission to assess exemplary, or punitive damages. It held that such damages were penal in their nature, not compensation, and, therefore, not authorized by the treaty of Berlin.

No specific awards in the Lusitania cases were made by the commission, its decision merely announcing the principles to be applied in determining each claim. In this connection it held that actual damages for mental anguish and suffering of relatives of Americans lost on the Lusitania would be compensated for, but that "sentimental and vague" mental suffering would not be considered.

Specific Acts. In dismissing claims for war risk premiums paid, the commission held that they were not a class for which Germany was financially liable.

Liability against Germany generally, another decision of the commission declared, must be for proximate and not remote acts of her agents or allies.

The commission also emphasized that its function is to assess damages and not provide for payment of American claims.

"The commission is not concerned with the payment by Germany of its financial obligations under the treaty," it was stated. "Its task is confined solely to fixing the amount of such financial obligations."

The penalty among the Hottentots for widows who marry again is somewhat severe one. It is the rule among these people that, before so marrying, a widow must cut off the joint of a finger and present it to her new husband on the wedding day.

FRENCH WORD BLOCKING THE ACTION OF U. S.

It would prove splendid ammunition for an opposition party in France and might even mean the overthrow of the Poincare ministry.

For the facts of the situation indicate that France would not lose her freedom of action, her right to reject the findings of the commission of inquiry and no government could justify a refusal to determine facts. The jockeying of Premier Poincare with technical phrases is the natural habit of his legal and precise mind but in the end he can not justify a destruction of the world's only hope for a European settlement at the moment and he is as well aware of that today as he was the day the British and American governments by mutual agreement gave publicity to the text of the original invitation. Premier Poincare could not refuse to accept in principle then and he can not afford to set up obstacles that cast doubt on the sincerity of his acceptance.

The best informed opinion here is that verbal ambiguities and legal technicalities will be swept aside in another few days and the parley of experts assured. Incidentally President Coolidge himself has cleared up the doubt raised by Senator McCormick's recent statements. Mr. Coolidge has let it be known that the American experts will not be appointed by or represent the United States government but will act in an advisory capacity to the reparations commission.

NO NATIONAL TINGE TO VOTE

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 5.—Those who watch the national political straws to see which way they bend in an off-year election wind, probably will not get much satisfaction tomorrow.

First, there are only a few elections for congress and, second, few issues having a bearing on the next presidential election, are involved.

One new member of the United States senate is to be elected in Vermont.

Launch Capsizes; Crew Is Drowned

(By The Associated Press.)

Barrow, Ore., Nov. 5.—The Launch Phoenix was wrecked and the crew, probably four men, was lost today when the vessel capsized while attempting to cross the bar into Tillamook Bay here. The coast guard searched the vessel for victims but all had disappeared.

The launch left Astoria and because of rough water did not attempt to cross the bar until today.

The vessel was attempting to cross the bar when it capsized. The four who left Astoria in the Phoenix were all from Oregon towns.

WILL USE PHONE TO GET VOTE OUT

(By The Associated Press.)

Detroit, Nov. 5.—"Good Morning. Have you voted yet?" One hundred and fifty telephone operators will make this inquiry of 70,000 subscribers of the Michigan State Telephone company tomorrow as a last minute stroke in the "get-out-the-vote" campaign that has preceded tomorrow's municipal election.

The operators will start at 8 a. m. to call up subscribers of 12 telephone exchanges. No calls will be made on four other exchanges, which connect principally with business houses. If the telephone girls receive any inquiries regarding candidates or voting places in answer to their reminder to vote, the questioners will be connected with an information office.

Members of the election commission expect between 90,000 and 100,000 votes will be cast, plus the votes brought out by the drive that has been vigorously carried on by local business organizations.

as closed, official silence being necessary during further delicate negotiations.

Stresses U. S. Position. In emphasizing the American viewpoint that the experts must be free to examine impartially every fact and economic condition underlying Germany's capacity for industrial productivity, the government's spokesman pointed out that reparations payments were not being received from Germany by the allies nor was there any present or future prospect that they would be forthcoming. In this connection it was added, the United States government has under consideration, as disclosed recently by a White House spokesman, the probability that the American people will be called upon to finance, as a matter of charity, efforts to prevent widespread starvation in Germany.

MASONVILLE NEWS.

Mrs. George Cook will serve lunch next Thursday afternoon, November 8, beginning at 3 o'clock. Everyone is invited to come and have a good social afternoon and at the same time help the Girl Scouts. Admission twenty-five cents.

M. M. Bonz made a business trip to Chicago and other points south last week, returning home Saturday morning.

Everyone who attended the Girl Scout party last Wednesday evening had a very fine time. It was a masquerade party and Rose Sholtz and Alvin Nygren received the prizes for the best dressed and funniest costume. The prizes were two doughnuts which the girls ran a race eating.

Miss O'Connor and a friend from Escanaba were here to help the young people with games. Dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. M. M. Bonz and Mrs. Frost of Escanaba, motored to Munising last Thursday morning, returning Friday evening.

Mrs. Chyrtabel, who has been visiting at Mrs. LaPine's, went back to Ontonagon to stay with her mother this winter.

She intended to stop at Iron Mountain, to see her husband, who is working there, on her way.

Mrs. Ell Ebbersere and son, Bert, and Mrs. Ambershaw spent the week-end at Munising with Mr. and Mrs. Ted LaPine. Mr. LaPine brought them back Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Bonz made a business trip to Manistique Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith, of Manistique, visited friends here last week.

TRICKERY SIGNS IN BOOZE CASES

(By The Associated Press.)

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—Disappearance of search warrants in cases of prohibition violation, making it impossible to bring them to trial, is the latest development in the gray law enforcement campaign in the Detroit district, in which Charles P. Campau, inspector for the state department of public safety, who resigned a week ago, has been the principal figure.

That a federal inquiry into Campau's conduct is being made as a possible preliminary to federal grand jury action, and the possibility that an appeal is to be filed Wednesday in the Paris Cafe padlocking case which may halt the state and county campaign to close up persistent violators of the prohibition law, were other developments Monday.

Files Incomplete. The discovery of the missing search warrants relative to the prosecution of John Rusin and William Patterson, arrested August 27 by men under orders of Charles Campau and John Kowalski, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Earl Simmons on September 5, was made by William Brimbridge, one of the Wayne county prosecutor's assistants. He found the files incomplete, he says, when he went to the office of the justice court clerk to review them in preparation for the trials in circuit court.

Brimbridge, Justice Jeffries and William Teagan, clerk of the Justice Court, are all equally unable to explain how the search warrants could have disappeared.

U. S. After Campau.

"Coincident with the discovery of the incomplete files, it was learned from Earle Davis, United States district attorney, who had returned from Washington today, that a federal inquiry was being made into the charges of illegal disposal of liquors seized by the state by Charles and Alex Campau. He would not outline the progress of the inquiry."

Harry S. Toy, attorney for the defendants in the case of the Paris Cafe, which was adjudged a nuisance by Judge Aldrich Baxter last Friday, said Monday that he would file a bond for an appeal Wednesday, the last day of the stay of execution granted by Judge Baxter.

Squadron Leader Pleads Not Guilty

Sandiego, Calif., Nov. 5.—Captain Edward H. Watson, who commanded Squadron 10, destroyer force, United States battle fleet, on the night of September 8, when 23 lives were lost and nearly $14,000,000 in government property was destroyed in the stranding of seven vessels near Honda, Calif., pleaded "not guilty" to charges of the culpable inefficiency today before a navy court martial.

The charges against him are negligence and unskillful seamanship. Lieutenant Commander Donald T. Hunter, who commanded the U. S. S. Delphy, leading ship of the squadron, and Lieutenant Lawrence F. Blodgett, navigating officer of the Delphy, are among ten other officers to be tried by court martial.

Air Daredevils In Wing-to-Wing Race

(By The Associated Press.)

Mitchell Field, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Lieutenants Alfred J. Williams and Harold A. Brown, navy aviators who during the last few days have been smashing world speed records like worthless egg shells, tomorrow will resume their battle for the crown of speed king of the ether.

Barred today by Washington from taking the air after the others in their navy-Curtis planes in a mad dash against the clock to break the mark of 274.2 miles per hour set yesterday by Brown on one leg of his 12 kilometer flight and the high average of 266.6 for the entire distance fixed by Williams, the friendly rivals eagerly prepared for a wing-to-wing race tomorrow at an air carnival arranged for the army relief funds.

Bankers' Opinions Are Rather Divided

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Testimony challenging the wisdom of any proposal seeking to bring all eligible banks into the federal reserve system was given by several witnesses today before the congressional joint committee of inquiry into the reserve system membership. Other witnesses urged larger membership.

Opposition to the entire principle of credit control through the reserve banks was voiced by some middle western bankers.

The Federal Trade Commission has called a three-day conference to meet in Washington today to consider all phases of the cotton industry. Proposed legislation is to be discussed.

would fit into the situation, and even the "nationalists" who are loudest in their demands for an iron rule, advocate a government composed of a limited directorate.

Aroused by the apparently dangerous situation created by the Bavarian nationalist preparations on the Bavarian-Thuringian frontier, to the central government has ordered the despatch of three Badenese Reichwehr regiments to the region. These troops will take up positions behind the Thuringian police with orders to resist to the utmost any attempts by the irregular Bavarian hands to advance.

The government will also issue an appeal to all republicans to be prepared to defend the republic.

It is reported that Chancellor Stresemann has been definitely informed that a nationalist putsch has been timed to begin on Thursday, the fifth anniversary of the foundation of the republic.

Estimates of the total strength of the irregular bands on the Bavarian-Thuringian frontier range from 5,000 to 10,000. The nationalists are said to be under the supreme command of Captain Ehrhardt, whose "Iron Brigade" figured in the notorious Kapp Putsch.

The charge has also been made that General Ludendorff stands behind the whole movement, and that the aims sought for are the overthrow of the republic and the establishment of a national-military dictatorship. Thinking it inopportune to allow political debates in the Reichstag at a time of such high tension, Chancellor Stresemann has required the president of the house to postpone its next sitting indefinitely.

VETERAN BUREAU EMPLOYE ANGRY

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 5.—An emphatic denial that there has been any wholesale delivery of liquors or narcotics from the Veterans' Bureau supply depot at Perryville, Md., was coupled in testimony today before the senate investigation committee with details of the sale of huge quantities of property from that depot at a mere fraction of their cost.

Nebins B. Hendrix, general storekeeper at the depot, was on the stand. His declaration as to the liquors and narcotics came voluntarily and apparently unexpectedly. He had concluded his report about the sale of the supplies, much of which he testified are now or soon will be needed at Perryville, and was about to be excused from the stand after a commendation by Major General O'Ryan, general counsel for the committee, for his good work at the depot.

HEAVY VOTE IS ANTICIPATED IN JACKSON, MICH.

(By The Associated Press.)

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 5.—A heavy vote is indicated for the city election Tuesday, the large registration of voters preceding the election and the unusual number of absent voters' ballots cast in the last few days. A mayor and two city commissioners are to be elected, four special propositions and 35 bonding propositions are to be voted upon.

EAST LANSING IN SCHOOL ROW

(By The Associated Press.)

Superintendent Fired in Before-Breakfast Meeting.

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 5.—Rumors of an indignation meeting, to discuss a school board row which has stirred this ordinarily quiet college town, were heard tonight.

Before breakfast this morning the board of education met and dismissed W. C. Buchanan, superintendent of East Lansing's public schools. The members of the board are three Michigan Agriculture College professors, an employe of the state department of agriculture, a federal employe and one woman member, who has no state or federal connections. The board members accuse the superintendent of insubordination. Defeated candidates for places on the board, who were voted down at the election last summer, assert that the whole thing is a "political plot", to get back at former members of the board, who hired and supported the superintendent, but were ousted from the board in the election. The superintendent says he doesn't know what it is all about.

Discussion is at white heat. Old residents assert that there is more excitement than when M. A. C. students threatened to burn the town down after the Aggies beat Michigan some years ago. It is expected that the superintendent will stand his ground and demand the fulfillment of a three year verbal contract he claims to have.

In the meantime the citizens are talking of organizing a mass meeting.

WAR HERO DIES AS A GANGSTER BY ENEMY HAND

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 5.—"Bill" Lovett, notorious gangster, protagonist of many bitter feuds in the underworld of New York, met his death at the hands of some slum enemy in a dingy room not far from Brooklyn's water front Wednesday.

William A. Lovett, machine gunner in the A. E. F., possessor of the Distinguished Service Cross, and of scars left by German bullets on the battlefield of the Argonne, was buried with full military honors in the Cypress Hills military cemetery today.

From the cottage in Ridgefield Park, N. J., where Lovett and his bride of a few months lived, the body of First Class Private Lovett was taken from a flag-draped, flower-filled room to his final resting place in Brooklyn, by the local unit of Veterans of Foreign Wars. Gangster Bill was forgotten as Private Bill was interred beside comrades with whom he had fought and bled in France.

PLAN TO FILE STATE ANSWER IN FUND CASE

(By The Associated Press.)

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 5.—The state will file its answer to the charges of the state board of agriculture that the administrative board has exceeded its authority in withholding funds for extension work at the Michigan Agricultural College, Wednesday or Thursday, with the state supreme court. The attorney general, on behalf of the administrative board and the auditor general, will contend that the legislature has the authority to delegate the supervision of appropriations to the administrative board, and that there is no violation of the constitution in carrying out the stipulation of the legislature.

The supreme court today issued an order directing the administrative board and the auditor general to show cause why the petition recently filed by the agricultural board, demanding a writ of mandamus to compel the release of the M. A. C. extension funds, should not be complied with. The answer must be in by November 8. It is expected that oral arguments will be heard by the court November 13.

AMERICA LEADS IN TELEPHONES

O. Sundquist Gives Club Some Interesting Facts.

There is enough telephone wire in use in the United States to encircle the globe at the equator 966 times—New York City has 15.6 telephones for every 100 inhabitants. There are 53 types of receivers and 73 types of transmitters, all following the same lines of the first "set" made by Alexander Graham Bell. The "Bell" telephone system, instead of being a monopoly as many people suppose, is in reality a great federation of telephone companies banded together for the purpose of giving the public better service at a lower cost.

These were some of the things O. Sundquist, manager of the Michigan State Telephone company's plant here, told members of the Escanaba Kiwanis club in an intensely interesting vocational talk yesterday.

To Change Name. Mr. Sundquist also revealed that the Michigan State Telephone will change its name on January 1, to the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

Stockholm, Sweden, has the greatest "saturation" of telephones in the world, Mr. Sundquist told the Kiwanians. There are 21.4 telephones for every 100 persons in the city. Chicago has 20.9, Berlin 9.2, London 4.7, Paris 5.5, per 100. The United States has 64.2 per cent of all the telephones in the world, he said.

In Escanaba, Mr. Sundquist said, there are about 2,500 telephones, a saturation of about 17 per 100 persons.

Tracing the history of the telephone industry, from the time Dr. Bell first discovered that the human voice could be transmitted to the present time, Mr. Sundquist declared that the industry was still in its infancy, and although it has made gigantic strides in the last half-century, still greater things are ahead.

Has 140,000 Stockholders. Although the "Bell System" links about 12,000,000 of the 133,000,000 phones in the United States, the stockholders are owned by 140,000 stockholders, of which a large percentage are employees, he said. More than 800,000 independent phones have no "Bell" connections, and many cities are still in the "two-telephone-system" stage, he declared.

The public, he declared, demands that there be but one system in each town and the Bell folks have agreed with the popular demand in many instances by selling or trading their properties when it was not possible to buy their competitors.

Washington Avenue Work Is Rushed

Sewer and gas main construction in the alley west of Washington avenue, will be completed within a week or ten days, T. R. Kessler, city engineer, said yesterday. The four blocks of construction which residents of the territory on Washington avenue, between 8th and 12th avenues north have urged for several years, will be ready for service by Nov. 20, Mr. Kessler believes.

DRIVER HURT IN CEMETERY

Flat Rock Touring Car Hits Pole Sunday Afternoon.

Clyde Lancour of Flat Rock, is in St. Francis hospital with a broken shoulder and painful cuts and bruises about the face and head, suffered Sunday afternoon when the car he was driving through a local cemetery collided with a telephone pole to avoid crashing into the rear of a truck.

The truck was being driven by Ted Touraneau, a half-brother of the injured man, and was proceeding down the narrow drive way. Suddenly Touraneau stopped the truck. To avoid a collision, Lancour turned the car out of the road and it struck the pole. The pole was broken off near the ground.

Lancour was thrown through the windshield, receiving the fractured shoulder and the cuts.

He was taken to St. Francis hospital where his condition last night was reported to be satisfactory.

P. M. Peterson's Funeral Services Very Impressive

One of the largest funerals held in this city in many months was that of Sunday afternoon when P. M. Peterson, retired business man, was laid to rest.

Mr. Peterson passed away October 27 after an illness of more than three years' duration. The funeral was delayed, pending the arrival of a daughter, Mrs. H. Ferguson, of Oakland, Calif., who arrived in the city Friday afternoon.

A short service was held at the home which was filled with relatives, friends and old neighbors. The services at the Swedish Methodist church were very impressive and the church was filled to the doors with friends of every denomination.

Rev. O. R. Palm officiated at the services and delivered an eloquent funeral oration in which he stated that the first Swedish Methodist services held in this city were held in the home of the deceased.

The long cortege which wended its way to Lakeview cemetery was an imposing sight. First in line were the members of the North Star Society of which Mr. Peterson was a past president. The national colors were borne in the lead. The next in line were charter members of which Mr. Peterson was the founder and organizer: Mrs. Erick Olson, Mrs. John Nelson, Mrs. Martin Anderson, Mrs. Peter Holmes and Mrs. Frank Aronson. The ladies were in an automobile. The next car in line carried the six honorary pallbearers of the B. P. O. E. of which he was a member. They were: Dr. William Firkus, Coleman Nee, S. M. Johnson, A. D. Gabourie, O. L. Gidlund and Nick Pavlow.

The active pallbearers were chosen from the ranks of the North Star Society and they were: Martin Anderson, O. V. Linden, Emil Peterson, Aaron Bergman, John Stromberg and Einar Schou.

The music was beautiful, Miss Evelyn Hall presiding at the piano while Mrs. Ivan Stromberg and Mrs. O. E. Anderson sang "Face to Face" and "Just Beyond the Vale of Tears" in English and "Heaven is My Home" in the Swedish language.

The long cortege wended its way to Lakeview cemetery where the pastor offered a prayer and Henry Carlson read the North Star Ritualistic service. The beautiful gray casket was consigned to a flower-lined grave in a massive steel vault in the family lot.

Members of the North Star Society who marched in the cortege wore a sprig of evergreen in their coat lapels.

ON A PROPER BASIS.

The engagement of Gordon C. Adams as Scout Executive, to assume charge of boy scout activities in the cities of both Schoolcraft and Delta counties, finally places boys' work in the two counties upon such a basis as should have been adopted when the movement was first undertaken in this section. Escanaba learned a valuable lesson, to the profit of both Gladstone and Manistique, when at the outset of the movement this city attempted to build a Boy Scout organization from the top, down, instead of from the bottom, upwards.

The plan first adopted here was far too pretentious for a city of this size and the movement suffered accordingly, when Escanaba found itself unable to maintain the initial pace. Gladstone did not undertake Scouting on the scale attempted in Escanaba, placing the work in the hands of volunteers who achieved a considerable measure of success.

Manistique followed Gladstone's example, but in the working out of a permanent plan, it was found in both cities that the services of a trained Scout executive were necessary. When this appreciation was reached, Escanaba was prepared to join those cities in engaging an executive who will divide his time between the organizations in the three cities.

The value of the Boy Scout program is fully established, but Escanaba's experience has proven that it must be conducted upon a sane business basis if it is to become a permanent part of the civic activity in any community. The cost of the new plan will prove most moderate and Scouting, in reality, stands a better chance of achieving the results aimed at, than ever before in this city.

The new executive comes to this district with a valuable range of experience in boys' work and that he will have the active cooperation and support of all interested people is a foregone conclusion.

WINTER SPORT.

A few more weeks and the hunting season will be over, football will be interred for the year and the snow will fly. There will be plenty of invigorating high-nitrogen content, Cloverland air for amusement seekers to breathe, but most of it will be breathed after it has been crowded into a dance hall or saturated with the tobacco smoke of a pool room. Escanaba will burrow into the drifts, as far as recreation is concerned, and stay there until spring, unless some one who believes that this region should be a real winter playground for the middle west gets busy. The Copper Country and the Soo, Marquette, Iron Mountain and some other cities will have hockey teams. Menominee will have its usual program of ice boating. Escanaba will read about their activities with a feeling of "why can't we?" The answer is: Why can't we? Does anybody know?

WHAT ABOUT BASEBALL?

It may be too early to begin making active plans for baseball here next summer. It may even be too early to start talking baseball. But it isn't too early to think about it. The play-stock company plan was a miserable failure last summer. Escanaba doesn't care, particularly, to have any more of that type of baseball. The game needs organization and direction if this city is to remain prominently on the up-state diamond map where it belongs. In justice to the Escanaba players who played elsewhere last season, but who would rather play at home, and in justice to the man who will become manager of next year's team, the matter should not be permitted to drag along until the first of June.

A volume of reminiscences is expected from Ambassador Harvey.

"A WIFE'S STORY"

BY JANE PHELPS.

WILFUL JOAN FINDS PEACE AT LAST.

Chapter LXL
 "What is it? What has happened?" I cried, rushing toward them, followed by Laura. "Bring her in. Oh, she has fallen in the water!" I almost screamed as I saw her dripping form.

"She is dead—drowned," one of the men said in a husky voice. "Oh, no! No!" I cried. "Lay her down quickly. Call a doctor, Laura. She can't be dead. She can't be." But even as I cried the words I knew she was gone, my lovely Joan. I opened her waist, I applied all the first aid helps I could think of, but of no avail. The doctor came.

"She isn't dead. She has fainted, is unconscious. Hurry and save her—" I clutched his coat. "It's too late," he said. "She is beyond help. She has been for some time."

I knew no more. When I recovered from my long faint, Laura was bending over me, the doctor at her side.

"What is it? What has happened?" I asked, struggling to rise. Then it all came to me—the two men, my beautiful drowned Joan—and with a cry I ran to her.

It is impossible to tell of my anguish as I gazed on her lovely face, her motionless form. I felt the world rocking about me, and fell on my knees beside my darling girl, praying, weeping wildly, tears mingled with mine.

The doctor, an elderly man, attended to all the harrowing details for us, insofar as he could. After a time he asked:

"Where can I get in touch with Mr. Norwood?"

have added to your sorrows but I know it is for the best. I am what I am, and perhaps my going will make Dad see what he is doing to you and Laura. I love him, love you all. Goodbye, Joan."

It had not been an accident. Joan had deliberately drowned herself. My little Joan.

No one must suspect it, not even Laura. This thought came to me after a time. I would shield Joan's name and save her young sister from the knowledge that she had taken her own life. But now to my own sorrow was added the thought that perhaps I could have saved her. If I had talked to her of Clem, if I could have gained her confidence about his cruel speech, I might have given her courage to go on. "Oh, why haven't I been a better mother?" I moaned as I carefully hid the pitiful little note, and returned to relieve Laura.

"Mother, what is it? You look so terribly. Oh, Mother!" and with a pitiful cry, Laura flung herself in my arms. "I'll try to make up to you. Poor Mother—poor Joan!"

I tenderly withdrew from the clinging arms, and as quietly as I could, insisted that Laura go and rest. I must be brave for her sake, must try not to show the shock the knowledge that Joan had taken her own life had been.

RYALL SAYS LAW'S DELAYS UP TO PEOPLE

Removal of Courts from Politics, Better Trained
Attorneys Needed.

Greater independence for the courts; more rigid rules governing admission to the bar; a more pronounced inclination on the part of American business to proceed cautiously in its affairs, upon the advice of trained counsellors and a willingness on the part of the American people to submit to some measure of restraint, are the factors that will speed justice in the courts of the United States, according to an address delivered before members of the Escanaba Rotary club yesterday by Atty. A. H. Ryall. The address of yesterday was in answer to a speech recently given before the club by Atty. J. H. Clancy, author of the book "The Sorrows of the Law's Delay". In his address Atty. Ryall insisted that much of the present practice in the courts of the United States should be abolished by action of congress, to the end that justice might be speeded in the courts of the land.

Traced Law's Source. Atty. Ryall, in his address yesterday, traced the source of law from its inception, showing that when laws first came to be recognized by civilized peoples, they were the edicts of kings, and enforced through courts established by the king. He traced the change of sentiment by which laws became the expression of the will of the people and enforced by courts over which the people have ultimate control.

Atty. Ryall told of the serious consideration given the matter of practice in the United States constitutional convention and pointed to the fact that the product of that convention became content to the differences of opinion as to whether the law and chancery sides of the court should be separated or vested in one head and expressed the belief that the solution finally achieved will win general satisfaction, when the American people will that judges shall not be subject to removal through the whims of politicians and political expediency; when those who are permitted to practice the profession of law must submit to the same rigid training and offer the same qualifications required of barristers in England and when business concerns of this country become content to submit their important questions to trained authorities, before entering into entangling alliances.

Speed Up Courts. Atty. Ryall asserted that the removal of courts from politics would speed the ends of justice at least 25 per cent; the adoption of more rigid qualifications for the practice of law, he insisted would add another 25 per cent to the dispatch of business in the courts and the submission of all important business deals to properly trained attorneys before consummation, would remove from the courts 50 per cent of the matters that now find their way to the calendars.

Legal Aid Given. Atty. Ryall also told of the work that is being accomplished by the Legal Aid Society, established by members of the legal profession in all cities of 100,000 population and over in the United States, which is annually handling expense, for those who have just claims and are without funds with which to retain an attorney.

Atty. Ryall's address of yesterday was largely extemporaneous as he was notified only yesterday morning that he would be called upon at the noon day Rotary meeting, but the tremendous ovation given him when he had completed furnished eloquent evidence of the excellence of his effort.

AMUSEMENTS

THE STRAND.
Wedgewood Nowell who has one of the principal roles in "A Wife's Romance" now playing at the Strand Theatre, is besides being an actor, a musical director, a composer, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and a descendant of Josiah Wedgewood, celebrated master of ceramic art in New England and of Sir Roger Nowell, first secretary of the Massachusetts Bay colony.

Mr. Nowell in the fifteen years he has been an actor has played more than 300 parts.

"A Wife's Romance" is under the direction of Thomas Heffron. The adaptation of the novel "La Rubia" by H. W. Roberts for the screen was completed by Frank Bercford. Art direction by Joseph C. Wright and it was photographed by Charles Richardson. "A Wife's Romance" is a Harry Garson production distributed by Metro Pictures Corporation.

HARRY CAREY COMING.
It is not generally known that Margaret Landis, the blonde beauty of the silver sheet with the dazzling eyes, is a sister of Cullen Landis. In fact, it was her brother who was instrumental in obtaining for Miss Landis her first opportunity to appear before the recording camera. Miss Landis' most recent appearance is in the new Harry Carey offering, "The Miracle Baby," in which she is seen as leading lady. It will be shown at the Strand theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Fat That Shows Soon Disappears

Prominent fat that comes and stays where it is not needed is a burden, a hindrance to activity, a curb upon pleasure. You can take off the fat where it shows by taking after each meal and at bedtime, one Marmola Prescription Tablet. These little tablets are as effective and harmless as the famous prescription from which they take their name. Buy and try a box today. All drug stores the world over sell them, at one dollar for a box or you can order them direct from the Marmola Co., 415 Woodward Av., Detroit, Mich. You can thus say good-bye to dieting, exercise and fat.

SOCIAL

Partridge Supper.
Supt. Olds entertained the men of the high school faculty to a dinner "set-together" last night. Thirteen partridges supplied by Coach Thompson were the main item on the menu. After dinner Mr. Shanklin of the music department sang several classical songs. John Lemmer of the mathematics department played university songs. Mr. Sullivan of the English department gave a humorous reading and Supt. Olds produced a comedy of laughter with his clever stories and repartee.

This was the first meeting of the older members of the faculty with the new men at a stag affair, and both the new and the old members expressed confidence in the ability and sociability of the others.

From his large library of recent books, Mr. Olds selected material which interested all the men in their special fields; and they remarked upon the up to date material and the wide variety of books he had on his shelves.

Those who enjoyed the party are as follows:
John Lemmer, Mathematics.
Michael Lee, Chemistry.
Robert Seikirk, Physics.
Robert Hills, Woodwork.
Everett Sackrider, Agriculture.
Ray Shaw, Mechanical Drawing.
Lyle Shaw, Woodwork.
Donald Cook, Printing, Blacksmithing and Sheet Metal Work.
George Menke, Commerce.
William Sullivan, English.
Gordon Adams, Local Scout Executive.
Leonard Shanklin, History, Music.
R. E. Cheney, Principal.
W. E. Olds, Supt.
Coach Thompson.

The latter part of the evening was given over to dancing. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Mr. Young was presented with a number of useful gifts by his numerous friends.

Woman's Club Charity Dance.
Miss Martha Green, chairman of the Woman's Club Charity committee, announced last night that the Woman's Club will give a charity dance at the Coliseum on Friday night, Nov. 15. Hendrickson's orchestra will play. The committee has arranged for a thorough canvass of the business district on Wednesday.

Holy Name Meeting and Picture.
The Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's church will hold a very important meeting Wednesday evening at St. Joseph's club rooms after which they will be treated to a fine picture free of charge, the title of which is "I Do," of which there are two reels and three reels of another picture entitled, "Among Those Present."

Sunday afternoon and evening, two large audiences saw the pictures which were shown and many pleasing comments were heard regarding the picture which portrayed some of the most beautiful scenery in Japan, China and India.

Sunday, November 11, another picture will be shown: "The Man Without a Country." The veterans of the Civil War, Spanish-

American War veterans and the members of the American Legion will be the guests and an excellent program of patriotic music will be given.

"The Man Without a Country," is said to be one of the finest photoplays ever produced. Some of the most critical reviewers have described it as "a picture that will stir the blood of every American."

Everyone is heartily welcome at any picture given at St. Joseph's auditorium.

Wroblecki-Chevrette Nuptials.
Marking one of the prettiest nuptial events of the autumn season was the marriage ceremony which took place Monday morning at St. Joseph's church at 7 o'clock when Rev. Father Bertrand Labinski, O. F. M., pastor, was the celebrant at the nuptial high mass at which Miss Margaret Wroblecki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wroblecki, 1008 Second avenue south, and Wilfrid Chevrette, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chevrette, 1300 Second avenue south, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The bride was attended by a close friend, Miss Aurelia Schmit, while Louis Wroblecki was best man.

The bride wore a pretty gown of dark brown velvet with hat and other accessories of corresponding color and carried a showy bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bride-maid wore a coat dress of navy blue pique tulle with hat to match and carried yellow roses.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents to the immediate relatives and a few close friends.

The happy couple left last night for a trip to Eagle Harbor after which they will make their home in this city. They have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

BRUSIE CHOSEN AS PRESIDENT OF CIVIC CLUB

New Officers Are Elected At Meeting on Monday.

Knowing that his name he withdrawing as nominee for president of the Manistique Civic Club, O.
R. Brundson yesterday offered offered the name of George H. Brusie for that office, as a result of which Mr. Brusie was unanimously elected by the clubmen.
A complete list of the new club
officers is as follows:

President, Geo. H. Brusie.
Vice pres., E. H. Jewell.
Secretary, Halsey B. Moulton.
Treasurer, William S. Crowe.
E. W. Miller was the choice of the nominating committee for secretary, but he also asked that his name be withdrawn, and Mr.
Moulton was elected instead.
These new officers are to be installed at an evening meeting of the club to be held on Monday of next week at the Elk's Temple dining room, the banquet beginning at 6:15. Details of the banquet are being arranged by the club's executive committee,
and will undoubtedly include some form of entertainment for the installation meeting.

The club also voted yesterday to rescind the motion passed last year, providing that pastors receive free membership into the club. This motion was introduced by Rev. R. S. Sideboham, and carried unanimously. The provision had originally been intended as a means of bringing more local pastors into the Civic Club,
but failed that purpose, and was accordingly repealed.

AGED PIONEER DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Funeral of Isidore Donais To Be Held This Morning

With the death of Isidore Do-nais, which occurred at the home of his daughter on Saturday, Manistique lost another of his hardy old pioneer settlers.
Mr. Donais was of Canadian birth, his birthplace at Frebnonne, Quebec. He was born on November 13, 1852, and came to Manistique about 40 years ago, and since resided here almost continually. He was a familiar figure about the city, and active up to the time of his recent illness.

He is survived by three daughters and a number of grandchildren. The daughters are:
Mrs. Joseph Beaudoin and Mrs. Dan McPhail of this city;
Mrs. Victoria Tank, Sault Ste.
Marie. A grandson, Clyde Tank, arrived Sunday from St. Norbert's College to attend the funeral. A son, Joseph Beaudoin, died at Manistique last year.
Services are to be held this morning at St. Francis de Sales Church, with interment at Lakeview cemetery.

HAS LIVED IN MANISTIQUE FOR 53 YEARS

Few people can claim as a long continuous residence in one town as Mrs. Jennie Mutart, who has for 53 years been a resident of Manistique.
Mrs. Mutart, who has been making her home at 719 Manistique avenue, left last week for Greensboro, N. C., where she will spend the winter. Her many friends here are hoping that the climate of the southland will not cause her to forget Manistique, and that she will return
next spring to her old home in Cleveland.

The Evidence Is at Your Door.
Escanaba proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt:
Henry Zeegers, 625 S. 16th St., Escanaba, says: "Generally in the morning, I had quite a time of it with my back. There was a pain across my kidneys which seemed to hold me down when I attempted to get up from the bed.
I was bothered a great deal
when I bent because sharp aches took me in my back. It was hard to do my work and lack of sleep had me so tired and weak I didn't feel like myself at all. My kidneys were in a bad shape and I had to get up two or three times during the night to pass the secretions which burned
in passage and contained sediment. I heard Doan's Kidney Pills recommended and bought a supply at the West End Drug Store. They fixed me up in good shape."

CUSPIDOR HAS EVIDENCE FOR TRIAL OF MERO

West End Hotel Man to Be Examined, on Wednesday.

Liquid evidence from a cuspidor
will play a part in the trial of Eugene Mero, manager of the West End hotel, Manistique, which was raided last Thursday night by Sheriff Klagstad and Chief of Police Peterson.

Together with a bottle of liquor seized in the raid, the contents of the cuspidor were sent to a local chemist to be analyzed. The liquor in the spittoon, which had probably been dumped there at the approach of the officers, showed an alcohol content of about 29 per cent, while the sample in the bottle yielded about 59 per cent, and officers said that it was of a quality popularly known as "good stuff."
A warrant was served on Mr.
Mero on Saturday by Sheriff
Klagstad, and Mero was arraigned in Justice McKinney's court
Saturday evening.

His examination will be held on Wednesday of this week at 10
a. m.

Mrs. Christensen Has 90th Birthday

Enjoying the best of health,
and with her numerous friends offering congratulations, Mrs. Johanna Christensen yesterday celebrated the ninetieth anniversary of birth.
Mrs. Christensen is the mother of City Clerk James Christensen, with whom she has been making her home, and where she yesterday received many callers who came to offer their best wishes on the event of passing the ninetieth milestone.

Funeral Services For Late Mrs. Payne

Funeral services were held here Sunday for Mrs. Katherine Payne, who died Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Matt Brearly, Whitelade. The last rites were administered at the home of Mrs. John Creighton on Arbutus avenue, by Rev. J. Boomer of Rhinelander, Wis., using the burial service of the Latter Day Saints.

Mrs. Payne is survived by two daughters and three sons: Mrs.
Martha Bork, Mrs. John Martell
and Lester Payne, of Detroit;
Louis of Rhinelander, and Geo.
of this city. All were present at the funeral including the wives of Lester and Louis Payne.

Reynolds Funeral Is Held Saturday

The funeral of Mrs. Jennie Reynolds was held at the N. Gresen home on Maple avenue Saturday, Rev. Webster of the First Baptist church officiating.
Mrs. Reynolds was well known to older residents of Schoolcraft county, having formerly resided with her husband on a farm
known as the Thompson farm, at the top of Snow Hill. For the past several years, following the death of her husband, Mrs.
Reynolds has been acting as housekeeper for Mr. Griesen, where her death occurred last week. She was 77 years of age.

3 COUNTY ROAD MEN LEAVE FOR EAST LANSING

Accompanied by Commissioner
Thomas Conarty, County Highway Engineer J. E. McCarthy left last night for Lansing where they will attend the convention of the Michigan State Roads Association, to be held at M. A. C., East Lansing, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. A third member of the Schoolcraft road commission, W.
H. McMullin, left earlier in the week, and will join the rest of the Manistique party at East Lansing.

Indications are that there will be 2,000 or more delegates to this convention, and the Manistique delegation arriving there today expected to have some trouble in finding hotel accommodations.

Road building demonstrations,
road machinery demonstrations,
and a tour of Lansing's industrial district are included in the three-day program.

The speaking program is the best the association has ever presented and headed by Governor
Alex J. Groesbeck; Judge Col-grove, President R. S. Shaw, of
M. A. C.; A. B. Hardy, of the Olds Motor Works; State Highway Commissioner Frank F.
Rogers; A. R. Hirst, State Highway Engineer of Wisconsin; Prof. A. H. Blanchard, president of the National Highway Traffic Association, and other officials of more than state-wide prominence will be of special educational value.

The program will begin promptly at 9:00 a. m., Tuesday, November 6, when the exhibits
will be opened and registration of delegates and commissioners will take place.

The opening will be conspicuous by an entertainment by the
M. A. C. band under Prof. A. J.
Clark, leader. The band will furnish the music throughout the convention and this in itself will be a big entertainment feature.

The opening will also be attended by an exhibition drill of M. A. C. cavalry and artillery, in charge of Col. T. F. Sherbourne, U. S. Military Attache.

SUPT. TEAGUE ASKS SUPPORT OF LYCEUM

Backing of Entire Com- munity Needed to Make Course a Success.

The following outline of the Lyceum course secured for Gladstone this season with an appeal to everyone in the city to back members of the senior class making the program for this year a success was issued yesterday by Supt. C. H. Teague of the Gladstone public schools:

"Everybody must get behind the Lyceum Course. A city situated as Gladstone is cannot have passed the year through, especially the long winter, without bringing in outside talent and attractions such as the Redpath Lyceum Course provides and such as the school, through the efforts of the High School Senior class is trying to afford. Yet, the Senior class or any other committee cannot book a seasons Lyceum Course without first guaranteeing it, and no committee nor class can succeed without enough season
tickets to cover that guarantee.
Only about one-fourth enough season tickets have been placed to date. Do not tell the salesman that you think you will not buy a ticket this year but will go to certain numbers when they come.
We cannot guarantee our Course that way. There is not a number of the five numbers on the course that you will want to miss.
They are all very high class entertainment and educational numbers.

"The Lillian Johnston Concert Company and the DeGiorgio Orchestra were booked because committees in the Illinois circuit
where they appeared last year have booked them again for this year, which is one of the best recommendations concert companies can have. Elgin, Illinois spends from ten to fifteen thousand dollars every year for Lyceum purposes asked especially to have these two numbers, again this year.

"The Rev. P. Akerstrom of the Manistique Baptist church, who spoke Sunday night, will be in charge of services during the remainder of the week.

Rheumatic Agony NOW EASILY ENDED

It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with cursed rheumatism or have only occasional twinges, I know that Allenharu, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pains and reduce the swollen joints, says Mr. Allen.
I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply imbedded in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenharu made a well, robust,
healthy man of me.

I know, because since I cured myself hundreds have taken Allenharu and speedily rid themselves of agonizing disease.

No matter how severe your case, I urge you to put your faith in the prescription that it took me years to perfect—a prescription that made a new man of me
after doctors tried and failed.
Allenharu is no laggard; it starts right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the blood through the natural channels.

BAPTIST CHOR OF MANISTIQUE HERE SUNDAY

Attention records at the revival meetings held at the Swedish Baptist church by the Rev. Hugo Herrgard, pastor, reached a high mark Sunday night with many members of the Baptist congregations of Manis- tique, Marinette and Daggett, in attendance in addition to the Gladstone parish.

The evening service was featured by a sermon by the Rev. P.
Akerstrom, pastor of the Manistique church, which proved most instructive and beneficial and which was thoroughly enjoyed by those present.
A special music service was given by members of the Gladstone choir and their guests, singers of the Manistique Baptist choir.

FOUR DAYS REMAIN OF BIRD SEASON

With only four days of the partridge season remaining,
hunters are taking every available opportunity for a few more shots at the birds.
The week end found any number of hunting parties in the woods, while others are being planned for the short time remaining before the season will be over.

The season for partridge will close Friday, November 9, in the upper peninsula, eleven days
earlier than in Lower Michigan.
The rabbit season, however, will be open until January 31.

BAPTISTS PLAN A BIG MEETING FOR TONIGHT

Leaders of the Baptist church of Michigan will be present at this evening's revival meeting at the Swedish Baptist church, the Rev. Hugo Herrgard, pastor, announced yesterday.

The services will be in charge of Dr. J. E. Smith, general director of Baptist work, Lansing, Charles R. Jones of Houghton
and the Rev. Mr. Marsh of Sault
Ste. Marie and Miss Henriette
Cooke of Detroit. The service will begin at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. P. Akerstrom of the Manistique Baptist church, who spoke Sunday night, will be in charge of services during the remainder of the week.

A FEELING OF SECURITY

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs.
Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder medicine.
The same standard of purity,
strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root.

It is scientifically compounded
from vegetable herbs.
It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.
It is not recommended for everything.
It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.
A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

North Star Program.
The famous Swedish actor and baritone, Gunnar Bowman, who will appear in a concert tour at the North Star hall Saturday evening, November 17th, under the auspices of the North Star Society, is a musician and entertainer of unusual merit.

He will sing the old and new lyrics of Bellman which never grow old with the Scandinavian people. He wears the costume of the period of Gustave the Third.

A musical program will also be given by the Symphony Five. A dance will follow and a good time is assured all who attend.

Church Supper.
A supper and sale of fancy-work will be held in the church parlors of the Presbyterian church on Wednesday, December 5. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

CIVIL WAR VETS TO BE HONORED

Will Take Prominent Part in Armistice Day Program.

W. B. A. Meeting.
It is very urgent that every member of the Review No. 90, Women's Benefit Association, attend the meeting which will be held this evening at 8 o'clock sharp at Grenier's hall. Mrs. Charlotte Fitzpatrick of Lansing, deputy for the order, is in the city and all members should turn out to meet her. Mrs. Fitzpatrick has an important message for all members of the order, which is of vital interest to them. All who are in arrears will also have an opportunity to pay their dues before or after the meeting.

Ladies' Aid Sale.
The Ladies' Aid of the Salem Evangelical Lutheran church will hold their fancy work and apron sale Wednesday, November 7, in the church basement. There will also be a candy sale in connection and all are cordially invited to attend.

Yeomen Card Party.
The Delta Homestead, No. 1284, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, will hold their regular meeting this evening, at North Star hall. A card party will be given after the meeting. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served. Members may pay their dues at the time to the new collector who will be present.

Dollar Day

Wednesday, Nov. 7th

Veterans of the Civil War are to have a pre-eminent place in the Armistice Day activities planned by the American Legion. The Legion honors the patriotism and loyalty of these seasoned veterans as no other organization and wishes to see them enjoy this anniversary as though they were living over again the stirring days following the close of the Civil War. They, of all others, deserve highest honors as it was only through their indomitable courage, loyalty and faith in the cause for which they struggled that the younger generation have the great privilege of enjoying a truly democratic government unfettered by partisan feeling and internal dissension.

While the World War gave the men the opportunity of defending and keeping inviolate those rights which they fought and died for, our battle was against an outside menace while theirs was one against a "Nation Divided Against Itself," and history ably testifies how well they kept their trust. Their ranks are thinning but still they march on undaunted and the Legion feels it should not let an opportunity pass to show them homage.

Veterans of the Spanish-American War will also be guests on Armistice Day and special arrangements will be made to meet them with automobiles and permit them to be in the parade. Get your car out next Sunday and show these old heroes that you are with them.

OBITUARY

MRS. EINAR HANSON.
The body of Mrs. Einar Hanson will be removed this noon from the Allo Funeral Home to the family home at Ogontz where the funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Burial will be in the Ogontz cemetery.

NELS BERGMAN.
Nels Bergman, aged 79 years, passed away at 9:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ole Magnusen, 1319 First avenue north, where he had made his home for a number of years.

He is survived by three children: Mrs. Ole Magnusen; two sons, John Bergman, of this city, and Adolph Bergman, of Chicago, who arrived in the city last night. The body was taken to the Anderson Funeral Parlors to be prepared for burial and will be removed to the home of his son, John Bergman, 1123 Eighth avenue south, where it will remain until Wednesday afternoon when funeral services will be held at the home at 2 o'clock and at 2:30 at the Swedish Mission church. Rev. A. Anderson, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

Vermont will decide whether Porter H. Dale, Republican, or Park H. Pollard, Democrat, shall succeed the late William P. Dillingham in the United States senate.

MRS. HICKEY SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

Worcester, Mass. — "I had some trouble caused by a female weakness and got so run-down and weak from it that I could hardly stand or walk across the floor. The doctor gave me all kinds of pills, but nothing helped me. I happened to meet a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I thought I would try it. After taking it a week I began to improve, and now I feel fine and am doing all of my housework, including washing, sewing and house cleaning. I have recommended your medicine to my friends, and I am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial, as I would like to help any one suffering the way I did from such a weakness." — Mrs. DELIA HICKEY, 4 S. Ludlow St., Worcester, Mass.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Allments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. This book contains valuable information.

WINNINGER IS BACK IN TOWN

Veteran Comedian Scores Tremendously in Opener.

"What," asked the lawyer, "would you say if I should hand you $250,000?"

"Thank you," replied Old Nate Pommerantz.

Aaron Hoffman, who wrote "Two Blocks Away", will have considerable difficulty in convincing the audience at the Delft last night that he didn't write it especially for Frank Winninger, if Mr. Hoffman ever tries. In fact every one in the turn-away house would find it difficult to realize that anyone—on Broadway or elsewhere—except Frank Winninger, ever mustered sufficient courage to attempt to play the part which opened the annual engagement of Mr. Winninger to Escanaba.

"Two Blocks Away" tells the story of an aged German shoe repairer down in a tenement district of New York, loving everyone and beloved by all, who suddenly falls heir to a fortune. Happy and generous in poverty, he moved two blocks away to "The Square" and became miserable and miserably in wealth. And then, almost as suddenly as he arrived, the riches faded away and he returned to "the regular folks" and contentment.

Capable Support.
Mr. Winninger has been a favorite with Escanaba audiences for more seasons than he permits himself to admit, but never has he appeared here in a play which gave him such a wide range for his unusual talents. Pommerantz, handing his last dollar to the son of an old friend who is in trouble, neglecting profitable work to repair shoes for the Salvation Army, leaping to unexpected prosperity, bullying and bulldozing his family, sinking to the depths of dependency when he learns the money is not rightfully his and casting his pride aside to regain the friendships he had lost—it was a wonderful Winninger part, and the veteran comedian made the most of it.

Mr. Winninger has the most capable supporting organization with which Escanaba ever has seen him surrounded. Notable last night was the work of Miss Mildred Hastings in an unusual mother role.

Edward MacArthur as a crooked attorney, Ann Neilson, youthful and talented leading woman, and the veteran Billy Jay Brown, who has become almost as familiar a figure with Mr. Winninger's company as the comedian's red bandana handkerchief, Adrienne Earl, William Jule, Fred Roeths, Jr., and Florence Chenoweth, won favor.

Lawler Warmly Greeted.
Jimmy Lawler, former pianist in the Delft orchestra, is musical director of the show and was given an enthusiastic reception when he appeared for a specialty with Miss Earl. Mr. Jule also presented an entertaining between-acts monologue.

"Tillie, a Menonite Maid," with Mr. Winninger as Doc Weaver, will be tonight's offering. It looks like a big week at the Delft for friends of Mr. Winninger—and he hasn't an enemy in North America.
