Gentlemen:

The Organization of North American Indian Students of Northern Michigan University is a duly recognized student cultural and educational organization under the rules and regulations of this university. It also publishes The Nishnawbe News a newspaper for American Indians of the Great Lakes area.

It is not a separate business as such and its staff are students paid by the university. Income derived from the paper is deposited in an account administered by the university and is included in this institution's annual financial report.

Sincerely,

James L. Carter
Assistant Director
(Indian Students Adviser)
