THEY BEGIN TO COME

THE WORK OF THE B. M. A. AND THE NEWSPAPERS TELLS.

One Manufacturer Here to Investigate and Others Writing For Information—Keep up the Work incessantly.

Negotiations are now on foot with several parties having in view the establishment here of manufacturing establishments, and some of them will "stick." Mr.
Roseboom, whose firm owns and operates a broom-handle factory at Alba, Antrim county, and deals in broom corn and supplies for broom makers at Chicago, has been here during the week last past, investigating the supply of timber in the vicinity suitable for his purpose and there is a strong inclination on the part of our people to give him the same opportunity that was offered to Mr. Loescher. Whether it will be done is yet to be determined, however, and correspondence is meanwhile going on with a Chicago manufacturer of furniture, N. Neufeldt, who may be induced to make an offer for the property which the city proposes as a bonus. His plan is for a company with a capital of $200,000 (three-fourths paid), to manufacture chamber sets, refrigerators, and other specialties in that line to the extent of not less than a million a year of finished output.

We do not care to express an opinion in the matter. The property is a fine one, and if the city buys it and gives it away, it should secure a good beneficiary, one whose business will conduce largely to the increase of population of the city. The gentlemen of the council are the persons on whom rests the responsibility and we doubt not their action will be carefully considered and, in the outcome, be correct.

We do want to urge upon the Business Men's Association the importance of a connection with the Soo road, and urge it to press the matter. Committees to solicit such a connection are no good, the past proves that; what would be "business," has been suggested—the organization of a company among ourselves, to build, equip and operate the road. The company would never be called to operate it, however, the Soo company would buy the road and operate it, but we should be ready to do it if it need be. We must have competition in freights before we can get manufactures.

Anniversary Program.

The ceremonies of the celebration of the 74th anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship, on Wednesday, April 26th, will be as follows:

Escanaba Lodge No. 118, with visiting brethren, will assemble at the Lodge room, on Ludington street, promptly at 1:00 p. m. Forming column and led by the I. O. O. F. band, the line of march will be east to Tilden avenue, south to Hale street, west to Mary street, north to Ludington street, east on Ludington to Donsman and south on Donsman to Peterson's opera house.

The exercises will be opened by "America," sung by the audience, following which will be an address of welcome by Mayor Erickson, prayer by Rev. F. F. W.
Greene, music by the choir of the Presbyterian church, an oration by the Rev. Mr.
Todd, and the closing ode, sung by the audience.

The anniversary hall will be given in the evening at Peterson's hall; music by the Firemen's orchestra and supper by the "Daughters of Rebekah" at Odd Fellows' hall.

It will be, as the program makes evident, a busy day for the gentlemen of the three links and The Iron Port hopes one as full of pleasure as it certainly will be of work. If it so turns out it will be a day to be "marked with a white stone" in their calendar.

Street Railway Extension.

The street railway company has determined on the route of its extension—south on Georgia street from Ludington to Tweedy, west on Tweedy from Georgia to Fannie and south on Fannie to Third and, as soon as the latter street is opened to the Ford River road, to the South Park. It will then give service to (and draw revenue from) the fourth and sixth wards. The new power house, at the water works station, is so nearly completed that unless some hitch occurs the cars will be running to-day, never to be again "withdrawn for the winter," a consummation devoutly to be wished;
the town is too big for such make-shifts as the old "bus which has done duty as "street car, fare five cents" to serve it satisfactorily. It was unavoidable, perhaps, that such should have been the deal during the two winters past, but it is not to be in the future, and we all rejoice.

Fire at Gladstone.

Last Saturday evening a small coal shed and a box car loaded with coal, the property of the Soo line road at Gladstone, burned. It looked like a big fire from this distance but the loss was small.

A Panstreed Boom.

The boom for North Galveston, so industriously worked in this vicinity, gets a black eye from a Hancock man, Mr. C.

Donnell, who went there to see for himself. He says the promoters of the boom have lied like Ananias, that there is no town there nor any evidence that there ever will be, no industries, only one railroad and that one not equipped, only half-a-dozen houses and those mere shacks.
Of the place as a seaport he says it has no prospect, because there is not sufficient depth of water, and of the soil that it is underlaid by sand and subject to killing drouths three years out of five. Altogether, he concludes that "there's nothing in" North Galveston for a poor man.

The Cleveland Outlook.

The statistics of the ore situation give selling firms confidence in the position they have taken, but present developments furnish no special encouragement. The scattering sales made thus far have not included to any extent Bessemer ores that ordinarily set the pace for the season.
This fact puts in the mouths of furnace-men the argument that a $4 price on standard Gogebic Bessemer hematites cannot be considered as established; at the same time, the fact that most of the ores sold for 1893, outside of one non-Bessemer product, are from mines other than the heav-est producers, is cited by ore men as evidence, to the same degree, that the low prices made in connection with some of the transactions reported will not be duplicated later on. The question of prices is one upon which the contest is yet to come.

The sales made in the past three weeks have been as follows: Bessemer and non-Bessemer, in lots and terms, that the particulars would need to be detailed in order to put it in its true light. Sales aggregating in the neighborhood of 150, 000 tons have been made in the past week.
These included a small amount of Mesabi Bessemer at $3.75. A considerable sale of Marquette range non-Bessemer hematite is reported. There have been a number of non-Bessemer transactions in the past few weeks, on a basis of $3 for ores that sold at from $3.25 to $3.50 last season. A well known ore close to the Bessemer limit, and finding a ready market for use with Besse-mers low in phosphorus, that sold at $4 at the opening last year, and later at $3.
85 @ $3.75, has brought $3.65 in '93 transactions thus far. Hard Bessemer ores have had a steady sale from the docks in the past winter, and since it is likely that the Mesabi's Bessemer output will not exceed 250,000 tons this year, companies mining hard ores look for a better market for their Bessemer product than they have had in the past year. Some of them incline to the belief that consumption of Lake Superior Bessemer will be a million tons more this year than last. Figures as to dock stocks show that at the present shipping rate of about 1,200 cars a day to the furnaces, from all Lake Erie ports, there will be not more than 200,000 or 300,000 tons on dock May 1, beyond the stocks of May 1, 1892, which were 1,227,188 tons.

When it is considered that stocks now in furnace yards are lighter than in years, it would appear that an amount equal to the entire 9,000,000 tons produced in the Lake Superior region in 1892 has been consumed in the past twelve months. As to ore charters, there is no new development.
Ore firms believe that Ashland tonnage could be had at $1.15 to-day if the offer should be made. Prospects of a blockade at Buffalo have weakened grain rates for the opening.—Iron Trade Review.

An Honest Claim Properly Allowed.

A member of the committee of the council which considered and passed the bill of Martin Finnan "for use of tools," has been a little annoyed by criticisms of the bill and of the action of the committee and enters protest, saying that the claim was a just one and properly allowed.
The case was, as it was told us, that Finnan, while a member of the fire force, did the carpentry necessary to put the engine house into fit and proper shape for service with the new apparatus and force and in so doing, working over old material for the most part, used up and rendered comparatively worthless his tools, which were his own property and worth more than the sum allowed him.
He could not be paid for the service rendered as a carpenter, being a salaried fireman, but he could be and was in part remunerated for the damage to his kit.

Two Things to Remember.

Two "coming events," which have "cast their shadows before" in the columns of The Iron Port, should be kept in remembrance. The first, in point of time, is the party to be given to-morrow evening, at Peterson's hall, by the Woman's Relief Corps, and, having it in mind, every one who can spare a dollar should be then there or be represented by a big, white dollar in the cashier's box. The old boys, who are past dancing, can be spared from the floor, perhaps, but not from the list of contributors.
Then let the Odd Fellows celebration be remembered. The brethren will attend to the proceedings of the day, but they want all the help available in the evening, at the dancing. Wednesday next is the day.

O'Brien's Boat.

M. H. O'Brien, with a gang of only fifteen men, on Sunday, the 9th, put in a day's work "of record," one that M. H.
says was never equaled on the division.
He loaded and brought in, from points up the line, 4,855 ties and posts, twenty-six car loads.

WE'LL HAVE AN ASYLUM

THE BILL RECOMMENDED FOR PAS- SAGE ON THE TWELFTH.

It Will Doubtless Become a Law and Our Offer of a Site Should be Ready as Soon as Possible—Get a Hustle on.

On the 12th, in committee of the whole, the house of representatives debated the question of an insane asylum for the upper peninsula, the bill being house bill number 174, "to provide for the establishment, location and organization" of such an asylum. When the committee rose its chairman reported the bill back to the house with the recommendation that it do pass and the house placed it in order of third reading.

The bill calls for a site containing not less than 320 acres of land, which must be, of course, easily accessible, healthy, and with a good water supply. Upon such a site the state will erect buildings, the plan being what is called "the cottage plan," at a cost of $75,000 and with a capacity for 150 patients.

Get out and hustle, now. There are sites to be had in this vicinity which meet all the requirements of the act, and we should offer the commission, when it comes hither to see and select, the pick of them, gratis.

Don't Burn Them; See Here.

The state librarian, Mary C. Spencer, desires and will be grateful for gifts of books of every useful description, newspaper files, maps, historical relics, manuscript narratives and original documents of every sort which may throw light on the early history of Michigan or of any portion of the United States. The librarian wishes to call especial attention to the importance of contributing pamphlets of every kind. Ephemeral in form of publication and commonly thought not worthy of preservation, pamphlets are often difficult to collect a short time after issue. They reflect the spirit and sentiments of the age, however, better than elaborate treatises and are indispensable treasures in a good reference library, where historians, biographers, statisticians and men of letters in general naturally look for everything, no matter how apparently trivial, that may shed light on the subjects of their investigation. All gifts may be sent by express to the state library, where transportation charges will be paid.

Our Girls Unharmcd.

The news of the disaster at Ypsilanti caused much uneasiness here, there being in that city in attendance at the normal school and Cleary's college three young ladies—Miss Belle Blake and two sisters of Principal Hardy—in whose welfare we all felt an interest. They were all right, though, and advised their friends of the fact on the following day. Two of them were nearly caught by the "twister".
Miss Blake and one of the Hardy sisters left the postoffice (and the vicinity) less than five minutes before the storm struck it, heard the roar and the crash as they sped toward their residence to escape it, and were just in time, in reaching shelter, to escape the drenching rain that followed. They were not even frightened, not understanding at that time the extent of the disaster.

Mr. White Resigns.

Geo. H. White, formerly in charge of the Northwestern shops here and since then connected with the development of the Minnesota iron field, has resigned the superintendency of the D. M. & N. road, of which D. M. Philbin has just been made general manager, his resignation to take effect at the end of the month. We find the announcement in the Duluth Tribune, and the remark that "Mr. White left yesterday for the south. Mr. Philbin will arrive to-day."

The Tribune also contains a sketch of "Phil's" career, on the Northwestern, in Nebraska, and on the South Shore road and congratulates the management of the D. M. & N. (as do we) on having secured so capable a man for the position of manager.

From Across the Bays.

Fairbanks soil lay under such a body of snow that the frost got no hold of it and we hear of Fairbanks farmers plowing on Saturday last. It is the plot that Fairbanks must depend on now, the day of the axe and the coal-kiln has gone by.

Antoine Deloria and Noel Gauthier are about to erect, at Garden, a creamery.
It is to be ready for work by June 15th, after which date we may anticipate eating butter which "tastes of the grass."

A Sudden Death.

On Monday evening one Wendel Liever, an employe of the railway company, a man of about thirty-five years, died after an illness of only an hour or less. He must have been in impaired health, of course, as his death was from failure of the action of the heart, but he had been at his work during the day and "down town" in the evening. He was of German birth, married, but without children.

FROM THE RURAL REALM

NOTES CONCERNING THE GOINGS-ON AT VARIOUS PLACES.

Paragraphs of General Interest by The Iron Port's Corps of Correspondents—Other Neighboring News-Notes.

RAPID RIVER.

A new restaurant has been opened just south of the dance hall by Mrs. Russel Baker who has recently returned from the home town for that purpose. It transpires that James Oakey has purchased the corner adjacent to the Michigan House on the north. The building is 24 feet wide and well under way. Edward Rebbel has bought the commodious residence of C. E. Seelye, near the depot, and will use it as a boarding house. Consideration $1,000. The former owner contemplates removing to Gladstone. It would be at variance with the truth to imply that the masses were in perfect accord with Mr. Seelye's possibly more advanced policies in town and church affairs, but all agree that we are losing a valuable citizen, and join in commending him to the people of Gladstone as an industrious, well-informed, conscientious and honorable gentleman. Gray's mill whistle is now heard regularly. This, the old Hibbard, mill has been so thoroughly overhauled and supplied with machinery that it is practically new with a largely increased capacity. The 300-foot dock extension is now being planked and the spur is ready for the rails which are expected to arrive soon. We do not care to insinuate that Rapid River is getting a boom, but really we are experiencing something very like our uncultivated notions of such an inexplicable thing. These letters fail to keep pace with the improvements. Among things omitted is Henry Boyer's new harness-shop and dwelling already under cover and located in the north end of the village. John Jerome has been placed in the hospital in your city. It was found that he was not doing as well as appearances indicated and previously reported. Hence the change.

ST. JAMES.

April 5th—There is a prospect for one more mail over the ice, which has failed fast in the last few days. John Vincent and Johnson got in, horse and all, last Monday in shoal water. Mr. Green's horse got in at McCann's dock and every one has hauled out their nets from under the ice.

Anthony O'Donnell aged 66, our county clerk, an old resident, an honest, industrious man, died suddenly on Good Friday, paralysis, and was buried in the Catholic cemetery on Easter Sunday.

The grip is having a big run here at present, many families being nearly all prostrated; fortunately it is of a mild type. No fatal cases so far.

Our township election passed off quietly, no opposition to the regular ticket. Isaac Wright supervisor, James Gibsons town clerk, W. W. Boyle treasurer, Wm. Boyle highway commissioner, James Moore and John Molloney justices of the peace, James McCann board of review, 37 votes cast; Brown (democrat), Judge 33; Adams (republican) 4. We do not run township elections on party lines. The ground is bare in many places and sleighing is done; sugar making just commenced.

GLADSTONE.

Condensed from the Delta: The Wilbur begins to look like a hotel. The carpenters, painters and paper hangers begin nearly through with their work and the furnace having warmed it thoroughly, it is about ready for the clerks and porters to take in hand. A large building, for a hardware store, is to be built on Central avenue, between Wisconsin and Minnesota avenues. The ditch up in the fourth ward has effectually drained the low land at the foot of the bluff, and where last year at this time was a lake, is now as dry as the Congressional Record. John Hancock has bought out the lively stable of Harris & McDonough, at Gladstone, to take possession on the first of May.

REPIANCE.

The inspectors were here on the 13th and two following days inspecting the ties that had been got out during the winter. Mr. J. Madden, of Menominee, has looked after his interests here this week. Joseph McDermott departed for Menominee last Monday. It is proposed to organize a home company and buy Davis & Mason's dock. Mrs. Dominic Lusardi is very ill, has been confined to her bed all winter. Major Brothers have finished winter job by peeling the posts they got out. Mr. Eames has bought a forty of August Ducette and is clearing it. August has bought lands from the Iron Cliffs company and will get out cedar all summer. Plenty of snow in the woods yet.

GARDEN.

Died at Garden, Tuesday morning April 13th, 1893, of heart failure (the result of an attack of measles), Mrs. Mary J. Botach, wife of John Botach, and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ansell of Sack Bay, in the 38th year of her age. Mrs. Botach was a very amiable woman, a kind and affectionate wife and mother, and the loss to husband and their five children—of which one is but two years old—is very great. Mr. Botach and elder children wish through this medium to tender their grateful thanks to their many friends of Garden, Fairbanks, Fairport and Sack Bay, for their kindness and sympathy in this their great affliction. Deceased had been a resident of Sack Bay almost from infancy. She knew no enemy and was always considerate of her friends and associates.

NAHMA.

Married, at Manistique, April 10th, Mr. Lawrence Sheedio and Miss Mary Catland, both of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Will Primrose, of Menominee, have moved here for the summer. G. J. Farnsworth returned from Ripon bringing as a trophy thirty-five ducks. He shot one hundred and eighteen in all. Mrs. A. J. Scott was in Manistique Monday for the spring shopping. Mrs. Thurman (colored) of Jackson, Mich., lectured here Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. She is a good speaker but was favored with a small audience. Miss Tyler of Isabella, Sundayed with Mrs. Henry Martin. Dr. A. J. Scott goes to Escanaba to-day to attend the John Cambrey trial.

Local Jottings.

They've got our asylum bill aground again. The representative in charge of the bill for the Traverse City asylum attempted to push it ahead out of its turn and a hot debate of two hours' duration ended by the reference of both his bill, ours and that for the Kalamazoo asylum to the committee on state affairs. It will go through, though, when the committee reports it out again. Ed. Erickson is indisputably the leader in the dry goods trade of this county. No other stock can "hold a candle" to his in magnitude or quality.

At the annual meeting of the Presbyterian church society, held since our last, J. W. Miller, M. K. Bisell, J. P. McColl, F. H. Atkins, D. W. Morgan, C. M. Thatchner and S. B. Rathfon were chosen trustees. The Mining Journal's Gladstone correspondent must reside at Marquette. That paper had the coal dock badly damaged by the fire of Saturday night, which was half a mile away from them. Children's suits from 4 to 14 years at 99 cents at the Model.

A Red Jacket justice demands only $200 bail for Charles Johnson, who shot at Tom Foley from ambush—cheap. The steamer Phillip Armour was the first boat to pass through the Straits, going down at 7 a. m. Tuesday. She was closely followed by the Egan, City of Paris, Onoko, Lockwood, Plankinton, Ohio, Fryer, Elphicks, and Fitzgerald. There is considerable drift ice, through which the boats are able to pass. All boats should take the north passage.

The work of preparation at the new power house has been delayed, and the street cars are not yet running, but will be to-morrow or Saturday. The W. C. T. U. proposes a musical and literary entertainment at the M. E. church on the evening of May 3d.

Miss Vose wishes to announce that she has moved her dressmaking rooms over P. M. Peterson's furniture store and will be pleased to meet all her customers and ready for work. Mothers, go and see the Model and buy your boy a suit at 99 cents. Look at the new advertisement of the Model One-Price Clothing House.

The street cleaners got as far west as The Iron Port office yesterday. Our Lansing special brings good news; don't skip it. Two wise things to do: see our line of cassimere suits from XII to XV then buy one. W. J. BELL. The Model offers Children's suits at 99 cents a suit; go and look at them.

The Legislature.

The bill making appropriation for the mining school passed the house on the 1st. The bill for three new normal schools failed in committee of the whole, but will be brought up again though the chances are much against its success. In the senate, on the 13th, the following list of nominations was confirmed: Labor commissioner, Charles H. Morse of Gratiot county; trustees of the Mining school, Jay A. Hubbell, Thomas B. Dunstan; board of control of railroad, Russell A. Alger of Detroit, H. A. Conant of Monroe, C. C. Ellsworth of Greenville. G. M. Trowbridge of Pontiac, John Duncan of Calumet; agent for United States appropriation to Soldiers' Home, Aaron T. Bliss, of Saginaw. Arbor Day. Gov. Rich, by proclamation, designates Friday, April 28, as arbor day and recommends its observance in the usual manner. Too early for this latitude, governor; the frost is in the ground yet, and much snow in the woods, and the 28th not far enough in the future to make it probable that frost and snow will be gone at that date. May 10 would be soon enough for us. He Did Not Look for It. Geo. McCarthy asks us to correct an error in our last issue. He says he has not "looked for" the marshmallow, knew it was out of his reach, any how, is content with the position he did "look for" and has got. New Families Founded. At St. Joseph's church, on Tuesday morning last there were married: John Slack, of Gladstone, and Miss Lizzie Brannigan of this city, and Joseph Brown and Miss Mary Boyle, both of this city.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

CONCERNING THE MOVEMENTS OF OUR OWN AND OTHER PEOPLE.

The Iron Port Reporters Gather in a Goodly Grist of Items Concerning Well Known People and Their Movements.

Harry L. Bushnell, for a year past foreman of The Iron Port printing office, goes to-morrow or the next day to Gladstone to become the publisher of the Delta, succeeding C. E. Mason, who retires to give his attention to other matters. Harry has the good wishes of The Iron Port in his venture. He will be succeeded in this office by Mr. S. H. Rockwood, lately of Milwaukee, who will arrive on Monday next. Geo. Grandchamp, supervisor of Masonville since the 3d, was in town on business on the 14th and paid us a visit. Will. McNaughtan rallied from a collapse which came near being fatal last week and is now doing nicely. Ed. Erickson, M. N. Jones and another went to Green Bay Sunday evening for a little sport among the ducks. Mr. P. McNaughtan, of Fond du Lac, was called hither Saturday by the illness of Will. McNaughtan, his son. Supt. Farnsworth, of Nahma, passed homeward from Oshkosh, with a bag full of ducks, last Sunday. Jos. Cyr, who runs the stage between Hyde and Ford River, in town on Friday last, paid us a visit. Miss Tufts returned from her vacation last Saturday and is again at her desk in the railway office. Judge Haire holds the term of circuit court, in place of Judge Stone, who was called to Lansing. Miss L. B. Fanning returned, a day or two since, from her visit at Milwaukee and Chicago. Jas. S. Rogers has been confined to the house for a week but is not seriously ill, we are told. Robert Peacock arrived from Chicago on Tuesday and will be in the vicinity for a while. A. B. Chambers has gone to visit in Wisconsin. His health is considerably improved. Dan. Kelly, clerk of Garden Village, is on the panel of jurors and on hand for duty. Geo. E. Merrill, of Rapid River, in town on Tuesday, said "no news—want rain." Conductor Oliver has returned from California, and is again "on his run." Geo. Shaffer and Nic. Debeque punched tickets on his train during his absence. R. T. Trowsell, of Garden, has been with us this week, doing duty as juror. W. J. Wallace arrived from his visit at Chicago near the close of last week. Mrs. T. D. Meads, of Marquette, is the guest of her uncle, Mr. C. A. Cram. Mr. O. J. Curtis has visited here since our last, the guest of Mr. Cates. John Semer returned from a week's stay on the range on Tuesday. A. C. Crose and Dick Metz have been duck-hunting near Green Bay. Rev. Mr. Todd spent a portion of the present week in Wisconsin. MORTGAGE SALE.—Defendant having been made in the condition of a certain mortgage made by David Laviolette to Herman Winde dated November 10th, A. D. 1882, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds, for the county of Delta and state of Michigan, on the 14th day of November, A. D. 1882, in Liber C of mortgages, on page 258, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the sum of one hundred and eighty-two dollars and 74 cents, and an attorney's fee of thirty dollars provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on the 12th day of June, A. D. 1893, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, I shall sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the front steps of the court house in the city of Escanaba (that being the place where the circuit court for Delta Co. is held) the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with ten per cent. interest, and all legal costs, together with an attorney's fee of thirty dollars, covenanted for therein, the premises being described in said mortgage as all that certain lot, piece and parcel of land situate in the township of Baldwin in the county of Delta and state of Michigan, and known and described as follows: The northwest quarter of the southwest quarter (n w 1/4 of s w 1/4) of section six (6) in township forty-one (41) north of range twenty-two (22) west of the principal meridian of Michigan, and containing forty (40) acres more or less according to government survey.

UNCLE SAM BACKS DOWN

LEAVING THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT OF HAWAII UNSUPPORTED.

So Ends the Protectorate, and the Act is Believed to Foreshadow the Rejection of the Plan of Annexation.

A dispatch from Honolulu dated April 6th, via San Francisco April 13th, says: "The stars and stripes which for two months have floated from the government building have been hauled down, the marines from the United States steamer Boston have been ordered to their quarters on board that vessel, and nothing indicative of American authority now remains in Honolulu save Minister Stevens and Commissioner Blount, of Georgia, the latter sitting in an easy chair in the Hawaii hotel cogitating on no one knows what." John Bull can take hold now, or Japan, and it may be regarded as certain that if the union jack of England ever goes up to the staff whence "old glory" was hauled down it will stay there; change of administration, in England, does not involve a reversal of her foreign policy. The course of the Cleveland administration in this matter does not reflect honor upon it, it rather suggests cowardice.

The General and Krupp's Gun.
Gen. Nelson Miles is no chicken; he has seen a great deal of fighting and most of the tools wherewith fighting is done, now-a-days, but he has never seen the big ones until those from Krupp's were delivered in Chicago the other day. When he did see them, the little one first, he thus expressed himself, as the Inter-Ocean reports him:

"That ain't a gun," averred the General, and he is supposed to know a thing or two about fire-arms at that. "That's a section of Iron Mountain, that is. Why, if the hole in that thing was filled up with canister and powder and a match applied to it, it would wipe all of the West Side off the map. That ain't a gun, I'll bet a pair of epaulets."

Then the guard took him to where the big Krupp gun lay. It is to the smaller one what a cannon is to a toy pistol. "And is that a gun, too? Well, mebbe it is, but I have my doubts," said the warrior. "It looks bigger than Carter Harrison's majority, and if it were to go off there wouldn't be anybody left on this side of the equator to tell about it."

Sugar Weather.
Such temperature as that of last Thursday night, followed by the bright sunshine of the day following is "sugar weather—makes the maples yield sap by the barrel, and so pleases the sugar makers—but it was rough on us who own no sugar trees and must buy coal.

Look Out For Typhus.
To Health Officers in Michigan: I am informed by the Inspector of Health for the Province of Quebec, that W. J. Cook, an English immigrant from Worthing, Sussex, England, now lying sick with typhus in Montreal civic hospital, embarked at Liverpool March 16, last, on the Allan steamship "Buenos Ayrean", and landed at Halifax March 29. On reaching Montreal, March 30, this immigrant was bought sick out of the Halifax train, and carried to Montreal General Hospital, where he remained under observation until Saturday, April 1, when his disease was recognized as typhus, and he was removed to the civic hospital.

The U. S. Consul General at Halifax in a letter of April 4, informs me that at Halifax the baggage of immigrants from "Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Great Britain" is not so rigidly disinfected as the baggage of immigrants from other European countries, and we know that at most of the Atlantic ports such baggage does not undergo any disinfection whatever; and, even if we were to admit that typhus is spread only directly from the infected person, the inspection of immigrants from Great Britain may not be so rigid as from Germany or Russia.

As immigrants coming into this country may have been exposed to the disease at the same time this man was, or to this case of typhus, either on the "Buenos Ayrean" or at Halifax or en route by rail to Montreal, this notice is sent to you that you may keep recent immigrants to your locality under surveillance, in order to detect the first symptoms of typhus, should they develop, and, isolate the patient before others are exposed to this very dangerous contagious disease.

Very respectfully,
HENRY B. BAKER, Secretary.

Arbor Day Proclamation.

In compliance with an honored custom and with public sentiment, I hereby designate Friday, April 28th, 1893, to be observed as Arbor Day. The general observance of this day by the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers is most earnestly recommended. In this way our homes, highways and public places may be improved and adorned, and future generations benefited. It is further recommended that the beneficent object of the day be impressed upon the minds of our youth by appropriate exercises in our public schools.

Given under my hand and the great Seal of the State, at the Capitol in Lansing, this tenth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and seventeenth.

A SUCCESS IN HIS LINE.

Capt. J. Nicholson, superintendent of the Detroit house of correction is a success in his line, and what he has to say as to the methods of conducting such an institution is always worth hearing. For that reason we reproduce some extracts from his last report to the inspectors:

"Relative to the reforming or rescuing of convicts from the pathways of crime, it is a little hazardous to offer an opinion free from excessive sentiment, such as often creates antagonisms to every practicable method for the uplifting of the downfallen."

"I fully realize the weakness of our imperfect humanity and the liability to wrong-doing, and govern my actions towards those who have fallen into crime's ways, in a manner free from sentimentality."

"To train convicts to work, and to work systematically, with all their energies and with no hope of reward except the joy of overcoming when at liberty the temptations of evil and crime impulse that is prompted by idleness should be the aim of imprisonment, and its results in many cases will be 'character regained'; and as steady employment, wholesome discipline and habits of industry are leading factors in weaning criminals, especially those accidentally such, from the allurements of crime, I have endeavored to carry out this belief by making every one able to work earn their bread and cost to the community as near as possible, without detriment to honest labor."

"If there is a cure to criminal propensities whether inherited or not, no method will be so successful as that which begins before crime has made its indelible mark. Boys are seldom sent to the Reform School until they are incorrigible and in many cases utterly destitute of any moral sentiment, to many of whom nothing but crime in some form has any charm; this must be apparent to every intelligent thinking person and unless some positive and practical means are adopted, to rescue the boys and girls who are without parental or other restraint and prevent criminal impulses from gaining the ascendancy, and ultimate betrayal with the decoys of crime, reformatory efforts after they get behind the bars will not avail as much to check their crime career as it would, had the early training been properly attended to."

THE DEATH PENALTY.

It is highly probable that the legislature will restore to our statutes the penalty of death for the crime of murder. The utter failure of the sentimental plan is recognized and admitted, and the people of the state call for sternness in its place. In taking action we hope the legislature will steer clear of the cowardly evasion of responsibility which legislatures of other states have adopted in some instances—making the penalty applicable only when specially so directed by jury, or judge, or governor. Provide the penalty by law—leave only to the jury the task of deciding on the guilt or innocence of the accused; leave to the judge only his duty, to declare the penalty prescribed by the law and set the date for its execution; leave to the governor his power to respite, commute or pardon but do not place upon him the responsibility which belongs to the law-makers. Let the thief who is tempted to kill to evade arrest understand that to do so insures his own ignominious death if the crime is proven. Let the scoundrels, of all sorts, who hold life cheap because to take it costs them no more than the smaller crimes which are their trade, be made to understand that there is a difference, that a banker's life is of more value than the contents of his safe. Not all homicides are murders; we are speaking of murder.

"I am in favor of protecting American industry and labor, not only as employed in large manufactures, but also, and more especially, as employed in the various mechanic arts carried on by persons of small capitals, and living by the earnings of their own personal industry. Every city in the Union, and none more than this, would feel severely the consequence of departing from the ancient and continued policy of the government respecting this last branch of protection. If duties were to be abolished on hats, boots, shoes and other articles of leather, and on the articles fabricated of brass, tin and iron, and on ready-made clothes, carriages, furniture and many similar articles, thousands of persons would be immediately thrown out of employment in the city and in other parts of the Union. Protection in this respect, of our own labor against the cheaper, ill-paid, half-fed and pauper labor of Europe, is, in my opinion, a duty which the country owes to its own citizens."—Webster.

Webster had some fame as "the expounder of the Constitution," but never found out that Protection was unconstitutional. What a pity he was not taught by Watterson, and our democratic platform makers!—American Economist.

The Iron Port regrets the withdrawal of the support given by the United States to the provisional government of Hawaii, but it can not join in the howl about "disgrace," for there has been none. An official of our government landed the marines and hoisted the flag because, in his opinion, it was necessary to do so to prevent bloodshed and the destruction of property; another official finds the support so given no longer necessary and withdraws it; that's the whole story. The flag is all right; it has suffered no abasement. Had it been lowered at the behest of any other power on earth we would have been disgraced, but no such behest was ever uttered. That the flag came down from the Hawaiian government building is of no more significance than the lowering of the flag at a military post at sundown. We don't like the course of the administration, nor do we admire mock heroics and windy patriotism.

An observer at Washington has been taking notes of the appearance of persons on entering and when leaving the white house and says "Before entering the President's room the Congressman generally takes the constituent's arm and they march in chatting in a friendly way. When they come out the Congressman endeavors to look pleasant, but the constituent, who is from four to six feet in the rear, wears a look of disappointment and disgust that he can not disguise. The bond of good fellowship and jollity, which but a few minutes before seemed to exist between the statesman and his friend, is badly dislocated in the intervening time." It is no part of the duty of a congressman to get office for anybody and we rather like the way this president brings that fact to their knowledge. It is time enough for a congressman to give advice as to appointments when the appointing power asks for it.

Japan is "mixing in," she has just seized the Perew Islands, a group just east of the Philippines, over which Spain has claimed sovereignty. Meanwhile the American administration is in doubt whether it wants the half-way house of the Pacific, the Hawaiian group, which is offered it. With the distance between Europe and the United States already diminished to considerably less than a week, and probabilities of even the present fast record being lowered a day or two more soon by improvements in vessels and motors, and with the Suez Canal and the Nicaragua cutting across great continents there will be more use in the future for oceanic islands than there has been in the past, a point worth remembering in considering whether Hawaii, the "key of the Pacific," is worth owning by the United States.

They are past understanding, those Chicago fellows; they don't want wheat—there is more in hand than enough to supply any legitimate demand for six months to come—but they buy, all the same, and the price of wheat at Chicago is ten cents above the price at points where there are mills and a real use for the grain. It is gambling, no more and no less, and we can understand the gambler's intent, but why gamble with tools that cost so much to store and insure? What's the matter with the ordinary "deck" of fifty-two cards? Why not "flip a copper"? Is it because those board of trade fellows don't like a game unless they can "brace" it? Why make such a kick at McDonald and say nothing of Cudahy and Partridge?

The Manchester and Blackburn cotton spinners went out on strike to resist a five per cent. reduction in wages; they stayed out twenty weeks, supported (that is just kept from starvation) by charity and the poor rates, and submitted at last to a reduction of three per cent. In the strike the men wasted an amount ten times as great as the sum of the saving—the difference between three and five per cent.—and meanwhile the stoppage of the mills was a benefit to the employers by enhancing the prices of their products. The Blackburn Times compliments the men for their "bull dog tenacity"—we incline to pity them for their stupidity in "playing into the hand" of the employers.

Gov. Rich will bounce every officer of the state prison who was guilty of the lax enforcement of the prison rules and discipline which made Latimer's late escapade possible. The further importation of drugs and provisions and the traffic among convicts was ordered stopped forthwith. While insisting that the convicts be given an ample quantity of wholesome food, the governor was equally insistent that the convicts be not allowed to purchase food or other luxuries. This rule will be hereafter rigidly enforced. They will be permitted to save their money, send it to their families or use it in purchasing wholesome literature.

The population of the world is said to be 1,500,000,000, and we have 63,000,000, but the British trade with the United States is about one-fifth of their total commerce, although in India they absolutely control the trade of a population 5 1/2 to 6 times as large as ours. The British are pleased to grumble at the heavy disparity between their trade per capita with this country and India, or Ireland, over the United States, although when they obtained control of India it was richer in relation to the rest of the world than the United States is at present.—American Manufacturer.

In the wheat deals of last week, at Chicago, it is now stated that the big Minneapolis miller, Pillsbury, was the man whose scalp the bull operators were after, instead of Partridge; that Jack Cudahy "let up" on Partridge but brought the miller to book, scrupulously. A miller is a bear in wheat, necessarily, and nobody is grieved when one is caught on the wrong side of the market. Just now, since the millers have tried to break up all the boards of trade by an anti-option law, the disposition to lift their hair is more pronounced than ever.

Dr. Haffkine—a Russian, of course—takes the same position with regard to cholera as that occupied by Pasteur as to hydrophobia. He has found a method of rendering his patients cholera, proof by inoculation, and will make his method known to the profession.

THE DUKE OF VERAGUA.

Of all the famous people coming over to the World's Fair none has a better claim upon us or will be more welcome than the Duke of Veragua, the descendant of Columbus. He and his family are coming over as the guests of the Nation. That he should be here is indeed fitting, since in his veins runs the blood of the discoverer of America. The duke is 65 years old and has for many years been in public life in Spain; he having been several times minister of state. Though well off, the duke is not as rich as some of the older Spanish families, who were already wealthy when Columbus set out on his voyage.

Michigan men who want soft things are not scarce in Washington. F. A. Dean, of Charlotte, wants the consulship at Lyons, France, not that he knows anything about the trade in silks but because it is cushioned—$6,000 a year—and the locality is pleasant. Judge Shipman would like to be consul at San Francisco to settle Indian titles.

Whitman of Ann Arbor, Barkworth of Jackson, Lyon of Bay City, and Wilkins of Detroit want to be district attorney for the eastern district. This is not a list, of course—we can not spare time for that—merely sample lots.

The governors of fifteen southern states, in consultation at Richmond, Virginia, resolve that the south wants immigrants; and foreign capital. Just so, and as long as labor in those states is considered "servile" instead of honorable they will want immigrants; as long as the same public sentiment ostracises a capitalist unless his political opinions coincide with those of the old "first families," they will want capital. The south has not yet learned how to get on with free labor and free opinion, a lesson it must learn to become prosperous.

They are genial fellows, in the editorial rooms of the Mining Journal. Having walked on ex-Mayor Adams, in driving boots (as it were), and he being downed in the contest for re-election, they tell him to lie still and make no fuss; that it will stop hurting after a while; and remind him that only a very foolish fool is so stupid as not to know where he is licked. All the same it will give him some more if he insists upon it. Genial? Why, cherubs ain't in it with them. Give 'em a cashier to embezzle the funds and they'd be organized benevolence itself.

Bessemerites are a sweet lot. Chamberlain, their representative in the legislature, stood by them in their struggle with Ironwood, in which if they had been beaten they would have lost the county seat, and they pay him by setting him up as a candidate for their little, two-for-a-cent mayoralty and knocking him out. We do not know the man whom they preferred; he may have deserved to win, once he was in the race; but Chamberlain should have had no opposition or have been kept out of it.

The Pacific Rolling Mill Co. which put its work as far as possible from the ore and fuel it must use, asks for "free raw materials," viz. iron ore, coal, coke and scrap iron. It is now in order for San Francisco machine builders and those who use structural forms of iron or steel, to petition that their "raw materials" be placed on the free list, too.

The democratic plan of tariff reform proposes not only to let in Spanish, Canadian and Cuban iron ores free of duty, but to raise sixty millions of revenue by duties on tea, coffee and sugar, which articles now come in free. Tariff-reform hits with both hands at our prosperity.

The new tariff bill proposed by the New York "Tariff Reform Club" and supposed to embody the President's ideas, places upon the free-list every one of the products of the upper peninsula—copper, iron ore, lumber and "mineral substances."

It is said that Chicago republicans voted for Harrison because Allerton's education was not up to their mark. If it be true, Chicago republicans (who did so) are a measly lot and deserve to be ruled by the "gangs" and "crooks."

Doran, Peter, squawback senator from Kent county, wants the position of U. S. district attorney for the western district. If that position is not first offered to John Power he'll have "a kick coming" though he may not—probably will not—make use of it.

Dan Campau has gone to Washington to explain (it is presumed) to Grover why the men he sent home to "win some democratic victories" in Michigan made such a conspicuous failure of the job.

Low water again. The authorities at the Sault canal prescribe 186 as the maximum draft of vessels wishing to pass through the canal.

BOILED-DOWN CITY NEWS

MANY MINOR MATTERS PERTAINING TO CITY AND SURROUNDINGS.

The Iron Port Reporter Staff Finds a Goodly Batch of Interesting Items in Their Wanderings About the City—Short Bits.

Our thanks are due and are hereby tendered to David T. Day, chief of the bureau of mineral statistics of the U. S. geological survey, for a copy of "Mineral Resources of the United States," just received and to which we shall have often occasion to refer. It is not "light reading," but to one who loves and honors his country it is very interesting.

Though we do get our atmosphere "frappé" (a little too much so for comfort it must be admitted) we bear its frigidities, consoled by the reflection that it is not sent to us in the corkscrew fashion that prevails in the cyclone belt, a couple of hundred miles south. The Manitoba zephyrs bite our ears but do not twist them off.

Farmers are beginning to take note of the invasion of their fields by the Canada thistle, which they can not repel successfully because of the breaths of "cut over" land on which it flourishes unchecked and from which the whole country is seeded.

Mahara's (McCabe & Young's) Minstrels are the attraction at Opera Grand on Saturday evening next. The troupe is a good one and those who have a taste for burnt cork should be on hand.

It is true, as reported, that the Canadian Pacific company has floated seventy-one millions of 800 line bonds on the London market that company has "got its money back," with a big advance.

The meeting of the Business Men's Association Monday evening was full and the time was principally occupied in the discussion of a plan for inducing the location here of a broom-handle factory.

Every Odd Fellow in the city, whether a member of the local lodge or not, is expected to participate in the celebration next Wednesday. Every member of the lodge will be in line.

The auditor-general blundered—the state tax-land sale should have been advertised by the county treasurer and will be, but the error involves a delay of two or three weeks.

Remember the Odd Fellows' dance next Wednesday evening. Excellent music has been engaged; 1,000 invitations issued and a grand good time is in anticipation.

Mr. Lee, proprietor of the business college, has taken up his residence here and is busy with plans for the benefit and permanence of the college.

Did you try Frank Murphy's "1492 Chewing Gum"? If so did you find it "A Striking Resemblance" to the genuine stuff?

One Simpson died at his place in the 7th ward last Saturday, of pneumonia, and his body was sent to Windsor, Ontario, for burial.

A Neegaunee brewery concern has a delivery wagon here, which supplies a trade in its product.

It is Henry McFall, all right, though one hardly recognizes him since he sacrificed his beard.

Do not forget the ball of the Woman's Relief Corps, at Peterson's hall to-morrow evening.

And, just by way of variety, we were treated to a "sugar snow" Tuesday morning.

The Chicago & Northwestern yards are being put in readiness for spring business. The duke of Veragua bears the name of "the discoverer," Christoval Colon.

Ambrose Clement offers his residence for sale. See his ad. in this paper.

Capt. Bartley is getting the harbor and wrecking tugs ready for business.

Louis Jepson, manufacturer of soft drinks, is out with a new wagon.

Iron ore has commenced to arrive at this port from the mines.

The Commanders For '93.

The Inter Ocean steamers will be commanded by our old friends this season: Capt. Yax will command the flagship, the Maryland, Capt. Tim Kelley the Manchester, Capt. Loftus the Manhattan; Capt. Anderson the Massachusetts, Capt. Matt Smith the Merrimac, Capt. Sniffen the Minnesota and Capt. Shields the schooner Metacomet. It seems like a year since we said good bye to them last November.

The Lake Superior boats will be commanded: The Wawatam by Capt. Ed. Mooney, the Griffin by Capt. O. W. Green, the La Salle by Capt. H. W. Stone, the Joliet by Capt. Miller, the Choctaw by Capt. Brown and the Andaste by Capt. Wm. Ames.

The Menominee Co's boats: Norman Capt. Stratton, Saxon Capt. Goodsell, German Capt. Stenton, Briton Capt. Chapman, Grecian Capt. Walsh, and Roman Capt. Greenley.

The boats of the Mutual line, the Corsica, Corona and Cambria will be commanded by Capt. Wm. Cumming, John Dunn and S. Murphy, in the order named.

The boats of the Cleveland-Iron Cliffs Co., as follows: Pontiac Capt. J. B. Lowe, Trontinae Capt. Murphy, Kaliyuga Capt. John Lowe, Pioneer Capt. White, Cadillac Capt. Wes. Brown and the schooner Fontana Capt. Harris.

The Eddy fleet: Selwyn Eddy Capt. Harry Zealand, E. C. Pope Capt. H. L.

Shaw, C. A. Eddy Capt. Jenkins, schooner N. A. Eddy Capt. Burton.

Of the Bradley fleet, a new boat will be commanded by Capt. Jos. Holmes, Gladstone Capt. Jones, Hesper Capt. Henry Peterson, Pasadena Capt. Stough, M. B. Grover Capt. Sarrett, City of Cleveland Capt. Moran, Henry Chisholm Capt. John Wysoon, R. P. Ranney Capt. Howell, and a new boat is building for Capt. Mulholland.

A Coming Attraction.

We copy the following from a late Louisville exchange: "A big and brilliant audience filled the Buckingham theatre last night to welcome the great W. A. Mahara's original McCabe & Young's minstrels, their first appearance in the city. The company possesses merit far above the average of minstrel shows. Showing the demand of modern civilization for something to laugh at, they carried the house by storm in their classical grace and beauty. Moonlight terepsichore won the esthetic souls in the audience. It is worth the price of admission to see this ebony son of Momus, Billy Farrell, in his side-splitting comicalities and funny falls. The Drum Major Drill can't be excelled; in fact, each and every artist in this company is a living photograph of fun, and in all it is the best all around minstrel show that has visited Louisville for a number of years."

Who Will Open a Brickyard?

There is not a brickyard within a hundred miles of our city and there is a market for a large quantity of brick which must get its supply from Green Bay or beyond. There is clay, lots of it, and machinery and appliances capable of turning out three million bricks a year lying idle three or four miles up the bay. The owner will sell the machinery on easy terms and will, if desired take an interest in the manufacture; who can we induce to take the outfit and re-open the yard? We can but think there is a good business in it for a competent man, and hope the man may be found. The B. M. A. might assist in the matter by making the facts known in the quarters where it would expect to find him.

Curious Confusion of Ideas.

The Mirror of last Saturday said "the A. P. A. has made Escanaba republican," the truth being that the result of the operations of that society in the field of politics was the election of Mr. Campbell to the mayoralty and the loss of the county by the republicans six months later. Only when the "tax reform" organization showed by the ticket it made that the crusade against a particular religious belief had been abandoned was the democratic regime in the city overthrown by the election of Mayor Greenhoot. The Mirror gets "the cart before the horse," as though it made sunrise the result of daybreak, but that is not a new thing for it to do.

Ten Dollars Enough.

If the railway managers are wise, if they want to earn for their stockholders the largest sum of money possible during the six months following May 1, they will offer such a rate of fare that everybody can go to Chicago to see the big show. It is the "nimble sixpence" that wins—the great business that pays, though the margin of profit, in each transaction, be narrow. A round-trip ticket, good for say eight days, sold at ten dollars, would be about the thing; higher figures will drive those who must economize to "house boats" and other cheap devices.

Good for Senator Jo.

One junket proposed by some of the legislators is knocked out—the proposition that the legislature go to the opening of the Columbian exposition as "a committee." It was hung up in the house but would have come to grief in the senate, anyhow. Senator Fleishel said: "I do not think there is a single vote for it in the Senate. If any member wishes to visit the world's fair and take his wife, and wife's sister and mother-in-law, let him do so and pay for it like a man. This effort to make the state pay the bill shall never receive my vote."

Local Marine Matters.

Levi Perrin is to do the "ticket, please" act on the Lotus this season, and gather the shekels of silver when the pasteboard is not forthcoming; that is, he is to serve as pursuer of that steamer.

The lay-over of the Allie E. Shipman being at the north end of her route, Capt. George will make his home at Rapid River after navigation opens.

The ore is rattling into the docks and will be rattling out of them into the holds of the lake carriers soon.

The Circuit Court.

The April term of the circuit court for Delta county opened on Tuesday. The calendar is a large one—16 criminal causes—and will consume the time allotted to the term if half the causes are tried. Of the criminal causes, however, some will undoubtedly go over, and some others be made brief by pleas of guilty. There are also sixteen "issues of fact" entered for trial, two "issues of law," six "imprisonment causes," and six "chancery causes"—46 in all.

A New Tent of Bees.

Twenty-five or so of the younger of the members of U. P. Tent, K. O. T. M., have asked and received permission to "flock by themselves" and will establish a second tent of the order in our city. The movement has the full acquiescence of U. P. tent and the boys will have no difficulty, we imagine, in building up a good tent. They propose to go in for the "unfurnished rank" and all the "frills".

PROPAGATION OF FISH

THE ARGUMENT ON THE SIDE OF ARTIFICIAL PROPAGATION.

One Who Has Fished and Watched Others Many Years Gives His Ideas and Asks Questions of the Other Side.

EDITOR IRON PORT:—In an article of your issue of the 13th, styled "Opinions of Local Fishermen," you state that many of our local fishermen are in favor of suspending fishing entirely during the month of November. They pronounce artificial propagation as carried on by the state a failure; and as that will probably be perused by our representative at Lansing and may influence his opinion, he should be allowed to hear the other side of the story. How do these fishermen know that artificial propagation by the state is a failure? Did they know of the state ever planting a whitefish anywhere near this locality until last spring? Do they know that a convention of fishermen from all the lake states was held at Milwaukee many years ago, in which it was seriously proposed to stop fishing entirely in the lakes for several years in order to replenish the supply? But presently Mr. Booth arrived and said we wanted fish now and all the time, and that by artificial propagation there would be more fish in four years, as whitefish at that age would weigh about two pounds each, than the natural increase would supply in twenty years, and the convention took that view of the subject. Do they know that shortly after that time the U. S. Fish Commissioner or some state (I have forgotten which) planted about ten millions of whitefish somewhere between the Bark and Ford Rivers? Do they know that fishing was very poor at that time and that many had to quit the business and that as all fish were salted and packed at that time and Nate Saunders was buying fish? It was figured if one-half of these young fish survived to be two pounds each, it would take Saunders's vessel ten years to take them to Chicago making ten trips each season. Do they know that the results of this planting and Booth's prediction was carefully remembered and that four years from that time news came that they were getting good fishing at St. Martins. Booth was right. The fish had come back to spawn and every fisherman who could get a boat or net started to fish on the flats off from Ford River. Tugs came from St. Joseph and fishermen from all directions. They all stated that it was a run of fish of even size but complained that the fish were soft, that if their nets were left out two nights many of the fish were spoiled. Why was this but because the fish were all of the same age and being young were soft. They got splendid fishing for two years until they caught the last fish. None has been planted there since and there has been no fish there since. Do they not know that if fish are not left to become of age and size to spawn it cannot perpetuate its species? Did they ever hear of Seth Green and his experiments? Do they know that by taking advantage of his experience the Hudson and Connecticut Rivers and Chesapeake Bay were restocked with shad? That even in the ocean the supply begins to fail, the government of Newfoundland has to artificially propagate cod and lobsters? Do they not know that many of the streams of this state are now occupied with brook trout where they never swam before, as the results of planting? But above all do they know that a concern, styled the Peninsula Fishing Co., has a bill before the legislature allowing them to fish with seines in certain inland lakes, because they control a lake about seven miles long and from one to one and a half miles wide in Mackinaw Co., in which they have been planting one million whitefish yearly, are now ready to begin harvesting the crop and are about to build freezers contiguous to the lake at a place called Portage. Now, if planting whitefish in an inland lake can be successful, why not in the Great Lakes in water which is their natural habitat? But the facts are, the demands for fish from the lakes are greater than the natural increase under any circumstances can supply; and if it cannot be reinforced by artificial propagation, it is only a question of time until whitefish as a merchantable species will be extinct.

Then by all means let them spawn in their season if you will; but you must allow them to become of the proper age and size or they cannot do so. But before you try down artificial propagation adopt Davy Crockett's motto: "Be sure you are right, then go ahead."

Matters of Local Interest.

In order to make room for new spring goods, which are now arriving by the car load, P. M. Peterson offers some extraordinary bargains in furniture of all kinds. The Model carries the largest stock of clothing in Escanaba.

About That Hat.

The challenge to win a hat of the Mirror is not definite enough to tempt us. On the head of the ticket, the candidate for justice of the supreme court, the vote stood 1,063 for Hooker to 747 for Durand—plurality 316. That fact justifies our article of last week; what scheme the Mirror may have in mind we'll not try to guess. It must have had one or it would not have made the banter.

Remember that Green & Allen do plumb ing of every description, and guarantee first-class work in every respect.

Gentlemen it will pay you to visit our Young but famous clothing department. Nobbiest and most improved patterns in suits ever before seen. W. J. BELL.

The School Entertainment.

The musical entertainment by the pupils of the public schools and their friends, heretofore alluded to as in preparation is well under way, and the date fixed. It will be a rendition of Geo. F. Root's operetta, "Snow White, or The Seven Dwarfs," and will take place on the evening of Friday, June 2, at the new opera house, and again on the afternoon of the day following, specially for the little ones.

Mrs. F. H. Atkins is musical directress and is doing excellent work. Miss Braithwaite will preside at the piano, and John Sourwine will lead the orchestra. Mrs. Hugh Robertson, Miss Kitchin, Elmer Van Valkenburg and Ted Turner will be soloists, and the chorus will consist of sixty voices. That these ladies and gentlemen will give us an entertainment worth (at Chicago prices) five dollars a ticket is beyond question but, as only a certain amount of money is wanted—a small sum—to defray a portion of the expenses of the commencement exercises not properly chargeable to the public funds, the price of a ticket will be barely one-tenth of that—five dimes, or two quarters, or a half-dollar. Everybody take one.

The New Council.

The city council met on Tuesday evening last, Mayor Erickson in the chair, and proceeded to elect the heads of departments for the ensuing year. For city attorney it chose John Power, for assessor John Moe, for marshal Charles Ebernd, for street commissioner Cyrille Grenier, for chief of fire department James Tobin, for city physician Dr. Cotton, for health officer Dr. Youngquist and for director of the poor A. S. Wana.

The choice of Cyrille Grenier, whose candidacy last spring kept the council dead-locked for a fortnight, as street commissioner puts the action of the aldermen who then stood out in its proper light.

Marble's Pocket Axe.

Mr. W. L. Marble dropped in on Tuesday last to show us his pocket axe for the use of cruisers and sportsmen. It is a handy tool, heavy enough for the work for which it is intended and withal so compact—its handle being jointed and half of it like that of a jack-knife—that it can be carried in a pocket or in a cruiser's pouch, with his note-book. It is made in Mr. Marble's shop at Gladstone, and he tells us that he has orders, plenty; his trouble being to get the axes out as fast as they are wanted.

Wrong Again, As Usual.

The Mirror said, last Saturday, "The Iron Port is mad because party lines were not drawn at the late election." On the contrary, as our article on the subject must have made plain to any reader not afflicted with mental strabismus, we were pleased, much pleased, that our republican brethren had come to our way of thinking and with the prospect that in the future we shall vote, at all elections, as republicans. Oh, no; The Iron Port is anything but "mad".

Another Good Selection.

Gov. Rich has appointed to the position of labor commissioner Charles H. Morse, of Gratiot county, whose record runs thus: school teacher, soldier (starting in with a musket and coming out with a saber and a strap on his shoulder), farmer, twice a representative in the legislature, once a senator, and now a successful farmer. He is sound on all questions concerning the welfare of the American laborer, of course, being a life-long republican.

An Interesting Sight.

There are four lasses of, say, fourteen who drive their "saleties" past our window every fair day, after school hours, and we'd rather see them than the big Krupp gun or any other of the sights of the Columbian show. We can not say as much of the lads who ride wheels, for the most of them hump themselves over their work as though they pushed the wheel by the handles and look as though they had each a bad case of green-apple colic.

Has Any One Seen Him?

The Door County Advocate says: "Considerable anxiety is felt in certain quarters over the non-appearance of Charles O. Franklin. As stated in the columns of the Advocate some time ago Mr. Franklin left this city for the upper peninsula of Michigan, whither he went to collect quite a sum of money due him. Although it is now nearly three months since he left here nothing whatever has been heard of him."

The Churches.

Swedish Lutheran church corner Mary street and Wells Ave. Rev. J. A. Ekstrom pastor, services every Sunday at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 2 p. m. Prayer meeting every Thursday and mid-week services every Thursday at 7:45 p. m. All Scandinavians are made welcome. The Ohrstrom & Renard Lyric Co., which made such a favorable impression here last fall, will be here again towards the last of May.

A WINTER THOUGHT.

The wind swayed dabbles that on every side
Through the wide fields in whispering companies, Serene and gently smiling like the eyes
Of tender children long beattied;

THE POTENCY OF PIE.

When the Federal General Grierson made his famous cavalry raid through Mississippi, the women of the state were speechless with indignation at the ruthless invasion of their sacred soil.

All who could "bear arms" went pouring forth with impetuous speed and swiftly formed in the ranks of war. The invaders were beset front, flank and rear by an undisciplined but pertinacious foe.

The wily general's march was executed in deuce tempis to avoid the harassing enemy which he dared not halt and disperse.
Many bluecoats from the invading column were picked off by the way-side, and every stragler was gobbled up by the ubiquitous home guards.

Her husband was on duty with the home guards.
Her carriage horses were in the artillery service, and a pair of plantation mules pulled her carriage.

Her spinning wheels and looms were manufacturing gray jeans, and even while she slept her fingers moved, as when awake she knitted socks for the soldiers.

Daily she drove to the hospital and went through the wards, followed by her negro woman bearing a basket of homemade dainties, which she dispensed to the sick. With Christian charity she extended her ministrations to the Yankee ward. She could not love them—they had invaded her home and shed the blood of her kinsmen—but she could return
"good for evil." It required, however, no small effort on her part to divide with the enemy's sick the dainties so hard to get in the blockaded south. She did so because it was a duty, but her heart was not in the work.

There was one of Grierson's soldiers—scarcely a man in years—who lay on his cot in the delirium of fever. The kindly black face of the nurse who bathed his head was strange to him, but he smiled feebly when he looked into the gentle face of the dear old lady who bent over him, and he called her "mother."

At that moment the heart of the dear old lady surrendered, and she took that Yankee boy for her own.
Never was invalid more tenderly nursed, and never hung life on a more slender thread. She watched him from day to day and administered with tireless hand medicine and liquid food. He lingered days and weeks, his brain clouded with fever fancies and the flesh shrunk upon his bones.

One morning there was a gleam of intelligence in his pale blue eyes as he looked up at the kind, earnest face of the southern woman, and he whispered,
"Water." After a few sips he continued,
"I thought you was mother, but I guess as how I won't see her no more."

He closed his eyes, and the dear old lady sent at once for the surgeon. The doctor felt his pulse and remarked, "His vitality is very low—we must try to build him up with stimulants and nourishing liquids."

These were obtained, but he refused positively to touch the whisky, as he had promised his mother never to do so, he said, and had taken the pledge. He swallowed the beef tea with reluctance.
The fever had gone, and with it nearly all the life that was in him.

The dear old lady looked sadly upon the emaciated form and sunken cheeks of the poor boy. She forgot that he was an enemy and saw only a mother's son among strangers and sick unto death.
Her soul went out in a great wave of sympathy to the invalid.

In vain she tempted his appetite with each of the liquid foods within the formula allowed by the surgeon. She could not persuade him to take stimulants, and his vitality continued to sink daily.
To her question whether there was anything that he would like to eat he answered, "Pumpkin pie."

But the doctor said it would kill him in 24 hours.
"Pumpkin pie," became the lad's day long and night long plaint. It made the dear old lady's heart bleed to refuse it.
"Doctor, can't you save the poor fellow?" she asked.

The doctor answered gravely, "Madam, I am afraid all your work has been in vain. He cannot hold out much longer."

After the doctor had gone, the dying boy opened his eyes and whispered wistfully, "Please—just one piece!"
"Yes, you shall have it!" said the old lady, and as she stepped into her carriage and ordered the driver to "whip up those mules and drive home quick" there was in her face the same expression of determination which may be seen on that of the soldier when with blanched

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

The Original Hat to Be Exhibited at the World's Fair.
Uncle Tom's cabin, the real cypress wood cabin, as the owner alleges, is to be exhibited at the Chicago World's fair. Its history is thus traced: The people about Nachitoches, La., have long insisted that Robert McAlpin was the original Simon Legree. His house and plantation were the only ones on or near the Red river exactly fitting the description in the book, and he the only man in the state who "filled the bill." He was intemperate and merciless and died before the war, leaving a memory for brutality to his slaves that is even now mentioned with horror.

On his place lived a faithful negro, sold from Kentucky, who suffered everything but actual torture to death, and Mr. S. Chopin, the present wealthy owner of the estate, has preserved the cabin with great care in the confident belief that in time it would be an object of national curiosity.

The cabin is of cypress logs and covered with cypress boards and sound as when built some forty years ago. It is to be presumed that Mrs. Stowe used the novelist's privilege of combining the experience of several negroes in one, but simply as a relic of the old slave times the cabin will possess great interest.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

World's Fair Sculptors.
The list of sculptors employed on the Chicago world's fair buildings includes Daniel C. French, Lorado Taft, Richard W. Bock, Edward Kemeys, A. Phim-lister Proctor, M. A. Waagen, Carl Rohl-Smith, Karl Bitter, Philip Martiny, John J. Boyle, F. D. Millet, Robert Kraus, Mrs. E. R. Copp, Mrs. Edward Kemeys and the Misses Alice L. Rideout, Carrie Brooks, Bessie O. Potter, Zulime Taft and Julia M. Bracken.

Classic Architecture at the Fair Grounds.
The work of the artists on the buildings for the Chicago exposition was necessarily delayed, as most of it had to be done after the structures were completed, but it has made rapid progress under the direction of Mr. Frank D. Millet. This gentleman, by the way, is of original New England Puritan stock, and does not thank anybody for calling him Mil-lay or mixing him up in any way with the noted French artist.

Though but forty-five years old he is a veteran of the civil war, and began his art work with charcoal sketches while in the army. He selected the sculptors and artists for the separate details of work, and so far as completed the results surpass the most sanguine expectations.

As an illustration, the Agricultural building is here taken. The painted decorations thereon are by Mr. George W.
Maynard, of New York, and the Pompeian style has been adopted as most in accord with the architecture, which is classic. The main entrance is like that of an ancient heathen temple. On the right Cybele, mother of Zeus and Demeter (or Ceres, goddess of grain), is presented in her chariot drawn by young lions, and on the left is the latter's protector, King Triptolemus, to whom she gave a chariot drawn by winged dragons when she sent him forth to teach mankind the art of agriculture. The accompanying illustration is a detail showing Cybele in her chariot.

CYBELE.

The "Crucifixion Plant."

Those versed in plant and flower lore say that the celebrated "plant of Calvary" was unknown in the flora of the world prior to the date of the crucifixion of Jesus. According to the tradition, the original plant sprang up in the track made by Pilate when he went to the cross for the purpose of placing that infamous "title" over the head of him of whom the Jews said, "Say that he called himself
'King of the Jews.'" The plant as it is now known is a common trefoil, resembling the common clover, in many particulars, especially in its peculiarities of growth. There is but little doubt that in truth it was originally a native of Turkey or India, but Christians who discredit the story of its miraculous origin still claim that its native home is Palestine.

Under the name of Calvary clover it is known all over Europe. At present the three round, green leaves of the plant each have a carmine spot in the center, which looks for all the world like a drop of blood. During the day the three leaves stand erect, the two side ones laterally taking on almost the exact form of a cross. During the season a small yellow flower appears, its form and make-up reminding most startlingly of the crown of thorns.—St. Louis Republic.

Its True Derivation.

It is truly surprising what erroneous ideas are entertained by the general public concerning the true meaning of many terms in general use. A striking example of this is the word "terne" as applied to tin plate. Usually it is understood that this word is derived from the French one, meaning "dull." This is totally incorrect. Terne plate is a sheet or alloy of iron and steel covered with an plate of tin and lead in the proportion of two-thirds lead and one-third tin. It is this union of the three metals—iron, lead and tin—that gave rise to the word terne plate, terne being an equivalent to the English term, meaning "threefold." The origin of the erroneous definition of this term was the fact that because of the large percentage of lead used in coating terne plates it is duller in hue than the ordinary tin plate, which is frequently designated "bright plate" in contradiction to the former.—House Furnishing Review.

Objections to a Brave Soldier.

A young sergeant distinguished himself by his gallantry at Donelson and was recommended for promotion. He was summoned to appear before a military board at Washington and closely questioned by West Point graduates.
None of his answers was satisfactory.
When the report reached President Lincoln, he fidgeted for a moment, laid the paper on his desk, then taking one gaudy knee in his hands said: "I don't know what to do with this case. Here's a young fellow who knows nothing of the science of losing battles. He doesn't even know the technical name of the fortification on which he ran up the stars and stripes in the face of the enemy." He thought a moment, then indorsed the report:
Give this man a captain's certificate.

A Carved Human Figure.

A figurine 20 centimeters high, carved in mammoth ivory, was discovered with other human remains at Bruns, Austria, 41 meters below the surface of the ground. It is the figure of a muscular man, and its most remarkable feature is the shape of the head, which, besides being extremely long or dolichocephalic, (cephalic index 65.68), has a capacity of 1,850 cubic centimeters and shows the frontal sinuses and glabella very prominent, a characteristic of a low type of skull.—Exchange.

Sincere Sympathy.

An old family servant said recently to a member of a stricken household: "I did feel so bad when I heard Mr. Frank was dead. I couldn't sleep at all last night; but, Miss Belle, I've cried so hard I'm afraid I won't be able to cry at the funeral."—New York Times.

Electrical Appliances.
Snatched From Death AND THE GRAVE.
A YOUNG WIFE RESTORED TO HER LOVING HUSBAND AND FRIENDS IN GOOD HEALTH.
Mrs. Hattie H. McGowan.
KELLEVILLE, Mich., Feb. 1, 1892.
Dr. A. OWEN:
Dear Sir—I take pleasure in stating that the Owen Electric Belt purchased from you last May has been worth more than all the medicines in the world to me. On the 27th of January, 1890, I was taken with La Grippe and from that to nervous prostration of the stomach and spine, liver complaint, irritation of the lungs and constipation. About this time I went to consult the best doctor in the county for treatment. I stopped at my mother's home on my return, as my prostra- tion was so great that I could not reach my own home which I dearly loved. I was a young married wife of six months and had kept house only four months. My hopes seemed all blasted as I gradually failed under the care and treatment and nursing by my kind and willing husband and mother, one of the best of mothers. I could not get up or be moved, so my husband sold his farm and turned all his attention to me. Time passed, and I suffered more than I can tell. I could eat nothing to speak of, and what I did eat hurt my stomach. At times I seemed better and then I would get worse. I remained in this condition about sixteen months, or up to the time I purchased your Belt. Then I commenced to improve at once, and life has been brighter ever since. My husband has purchased another farm and we commenced to keep house on Thanksgiving Day, and I have done our work with my husband's help ever since. Before I purchased one of your Belts I could hardly stand on my feet. May God bless you, as the Owen Electric Belt was the means of saving my life and giving me health and strength to live and enjoy life with my husband once more. I cannot say enough for your Belt if I should write half a day. My sudden im- provement caused a good deal of excitement, as the doctors and every one around said I would die of consumption. I can eat my three meals every day. If you wish to publish this letter we will answer all correspondents who wish to inquire fully about my case, by sending directed and stamped envelope.
Yours very truly,
MR. EDWIN and HATTIE MCGOWAN, KELLEVILLE, MICH.

READ THE NEXT LETTER SIX MONTHS LATER.
KELLEVILLE, Mich., Aug. 21, 1892.

Dr. A. OWEN:
Dear Sir—Six months has passed since I wrote my first testimonial letter in praise of your Electric Belt. I cannot say enough for your Belts. I have been improving rapidly since I wrote you the first letter six months ago. Now I am able to do my work, and this week I rode 22 miles to Thunder Knob on the banks of Lake Michigan, camped out over night, and came back the next day over hills and rough roads, 44 miles in all, through the hot sun. I could not have done the same one year ago for the wealth of Michigan. My health has improved so rapidly that others are waking up to the idea that the Owen Electric Belts are the only means by which they can be cured. I remain as ever your friend, HATTIE H. MCGOWAN.

AN U. P. INSANE ASYLUM

THE BILL TO ESTABLISH ONE CONSIDERED BY THE COMMITTEES.

The Mining School Gets $110,000 For Its Support for the Coming Two Years—There's a Muse at the Agricultural College.

STATE HOUSE, LANSING, April 18.—A large delegation crowded one of the house committee rooms this morning, the occasion being the consideration of the bill establishing an insane asylum in the upper peninsula by the joint committees on ways and means and state affairs. Strong arguments favorable to the passage of the bill were made by Dr. Munson and Trustees Noble, Roberts and Davis of the Traverse City asylum, Hon. Jay A. Hubbell, Representatives Hicks, Chamberlain, Lyon and Wagner. The drift of the argument was the urgent necessity of establishing a new institution thus relieving overcrowded jails and better caring for this class of unfortunates. The committees arrived at no decision, but will visit the Kalanazoo asylum at an early day and then report upon all asylum bills at the same time. Three bills legalizing respectively assessments for sewers, sidewalks, and the paving of Ludington street in the city of Escanaba, passed the house this afternoon without debate; also bills to enable the township of Meilen in Menominee county to build a bridge across the Menominee river; to enable the village of Hancock to purchase and condemn lands by eminent domain for a water supply, and representative Chamberlain's bill against the operation of four-wheel caboose, jumper railroad cars in the upper peninsula. The latter measure will take effect on Sept. 1. In the senate the appropriation for the support and maintenance of the Mining School for the ensuing two years, fixed at the sum of $110,000, went through with a rush. Senator Garvink, an ardent admirer of the vast resources of the upper peninsula in general and its people in particular, made a telling speech in behalf of the institution. Affairs at the agricultural college are alleged to be in a tangled condition and the fact that five resignations have been tendered within a period of three weeks leads the house to believe that an investigation would not be amiss. Accordingly Representatives Chamberlain, Kingland and Holdridge have been named as a special committee. They will move down upon the institution at once.

Bombastes Furioso. A correspondent of the Detroit Tribune says: "You can put me down as one who would never pull down the American flag, right or wrong," and the Tribune blows his horn and endorses his sentiment. Robert Anderson fought under the flag against Indians, Mexicans and rebels, and may be regarded as a fair sample of American patriotism, but he did "pull down the American flag" from the staff in Fort Sumter, and brought it away to float over victorious forces at a later day, and in so doing there was honor, as there had been in his stubborn fight before. This Michigan Bombastes Furioso would have died at the foot of the staff and allowed the rebels to "pull it down," perhaps; and perhaps he would not, we half incline to the latter belief, to the opinion that he would have pulled the flag down and run up a table-cloth in its place within an hour after old Ruffin fired the first gun aimed at the fort.

Green Bay Has It, Hard. To think of slow, sober old Green Bay in the fever of a real estate boom is like imagining an octogenarian with a case of girl on the brain, but a writer from there says that "Green Bay, during the many years of her existence, has had nearly everything from a shower of flies to a base-ball association. But never until the present time has the good old town enjoyed and indulged in a 'boom.' That everybody is speculating; that the fever for dirt and wealth has extended to the off-boys; that all owners of property are dreaming of wealth, position and election to the legislature, and that everybody is plunging into real estate speculation."

L. O. O. F. Escanaba Lodge No. 118 has this year made extensive preparations to celebrate the anniversary of the Order; they have labored without cessation for the last month to make their endeavor a grand success. Every lodge in the upper peninsula has been invited and is expected to take part in the programme during the day and evening and they also hereby invite the public in general to be present at Peterson's hall at one o'clock p. m. to attend the exercises and orations. COMMITTEE ON CELEBRATION.

Proclamation by the Health Officer. WHEREAS there is danger of the introduction of cholera from regions where it is now raging, and whereas cleanliness is one of the most effective precautions against the development and spread of that plague, if it should be introduced, therefore I, by the authority conferred upon me by the city council, direct and command each and every owner or occupant of premises in the city of Escanaba to proceed at once to put such premises in a sanitary condition by the removal of all filth, of whatever nature, from such premises and the disinfection and deodorization of all sinks, privies, urinals or other places in which ordure or stagnant water may be contained. The authority given the council by the charter is ample as may be seen by the following extracts therefrom and will be exercised vigorously.

The council shall have power to prevent and remove or abate all nuisances dangerous to life or health, within the city; and may require any person, corporation, or company causing such nuisance or cause of disease, may be found, to remove or abate the same, upon such notice and within such time and in such manner, as the council may by ordinances or resolution direct.

If any cellar, vault, lot, sewer, drain place, or premises in the city shall be damp, unwholesome, offensive or filthy or be covered during any portion of the year with stagnant or impure water, or shall be in such condition as to produce unwholesome or offensive exhalations, the council may cause the same to be drained, filled up, cleaned or purified, or may require the owner or occupant or person in charge of such lot, premises or place, to perform such duty.

If any person, corporation or company shall neglect or refuse to remove any nuisance or to perform any requirement to be made by or in accordance with any resolution of the council or by the board of health of the city for the protection of the health of the inhabitants, and if any expense shall be incurred by the city in removing or abating such nuisance, or in causing such duty or requirement to be performed, such expense may be recovered by the city.

Charge the same, or such part thereof as they shall deem proper upon the lot or premises upon, or on account of which such expense was incurred, or from which nuisance was removed or abated, and cause the same to be assessed upon such lot or premises and collected as a special assessment.

H. C. LONG, Health Officer. Escanaba, April 11, 1893.

NEWS OF THE WEEK

GLEANINGS FROM ALL QUARTERS OF THIS GLOBULAR WAD.

The Most Readable News of the Week Briefly Chronicled.—The Countries Across the Big Pond Contribute Their Share.

The tornado of last week did much damage in Michigan, it sacrificed three lives, destroyed at least 100 farmers' houses and injured at least 200 people.

Johnny Brick, whose home at Rea, Monroe county, was wrecked by the tornado, found his father under the ruin and tried to help him, but the father said: "John, leave me alone. You look out for yourself. I will be dead in five minutes. God help me; good-bye."

The court of arbitration on the Bering sea controversy has decided not to admit, for the present, the British supplementary report. This is a victory for the American side in the contention of the question.

Mayor Pingree, of Detroit, owns a piece of property—the old Michigan Exchange hotel—which earns nothing and he proposes to let somebody preach in it, call it a church, and get rid of the taxes.

George Sheffield is the inventor of an engine by which he expects to drive such ships as the Teutonic and City of Paris not less than 35 miles an hour. It makes and uses gas instead of steam.

The boy king of Serbia got tired of his leading-strings and last week clapped the regents who had been ruling in his name into close quarters and will hereafter do the king business in person.

The supreme court, by Justice McBrath, threw Mr. Barkworth out of court, holding with Speaker Tateum and the republican majority that the court had no jurisdiction in the matter.

The New York World is clamoring for the prosecution of the trusts. It cares nothing for the people, it is merely endeavoring to "pnt Cleveland in the hole."

Krupp's big gun—the biggest ever made—is safe at Chicago. It weighs 124 tons and special cars were built to transport it from Baltimore, where it landed.

A dispatch from Honolulu says that Mr. Commissioner Blount acts as though he meant to restore the monarchy. Bosh. He can't be such an ass as that.

A London bank having branches in Australia has just come to grief. Its liabilities amount to $30,000,000 but no statement of assets is made.

A Cass county maple orchard of 600 trees has this spring produced forty-eight barrels of sap per day—2½ gallons to a tree—or somebody is lying.

The prison board orders Latimer kept "in solitary" until further orders. It also directs a discipline much more strict than that previously in force.

John A. Bell, managing editor of The Free Press, died on the 12th. He entered the service of the paper as "galley boy," twenty-eight years ago.

Cyclones and cloudbursts devastated the Missouri valley on the 11th. Akron, Iowa, was wiped out and other towns suffered in smaller degree.

Sellers, of the Cedar Springs Clipper, did not get there; the oil inspectorship which he wanted went to Neil McMillan, of Grand Rapids.

A moonshine distillery was found and closed in New York city last week. It was a big one, having a capacity of 150 gallons a day.

The walking delegate did his utmost to bring about strife and cessation of work at Jackson Park, but the men had more sense.

Manuel Gonzales, ex-president of Mexico and one of Juarez' most efficient lieutenants, died on the 10th. He was 73 years old.

J. M. Rice, in the April number of the Forum, tells Chicago people that their public schools are the worst he ever saw.

A tornado touched Ypsilanti on the evening of the 12th and did much damage to buildings but caused no loss of life.

An explosion of "fire-damp" in a colliery at Pont y Pridd, Wales, cost the lives of 400 coal miners on the 11th.

St. Joseph now proposes to put an end to the long fight between itself and Benton Harbor by consolidation.

What was Jeff Davis, so much of it as remains, is to be removed from New Orleans to Richmond, Va.

Secretary Carlisle on the 15th suspended the issue of "gold certificates" to check the drain on the treasury.

Charles McKrill, a janitor in the capital at Lansing, committed suicide on the 10th. He was insane.

Belgium is on the verge of civil war because of labor troubles. Strikers riot and troops shoot 'em.

Teddy Roosevelt is a pretty fair specimen of the mugwump breed, but Grover lets him go.

By a treaty with Ecuador the U. S. gets a coaling station at the Galapagos islands.

T. T. Crittenden, of Missouri, goes to the city of Mexico as consul-general. Dudley O. Watson gets the Grand Haven collectorship.

trip and is expected to cut down the passage of the Atlantic to five and a half days.

An Sable is to have a big furniture factory.
