A Super-Clay

Brought me beauty and perennial youth By Edna Wallace Hopper

I look back on a glorious career. First as a famous beauty. Then for 35 years a stage star. And now, at a grandmother's age, a beauty still.

My White Youth Clay Old clays were crude and muddy. Mine is white, refined and salty. Old types had one clay—mine has two. There are eleven ingredients embodied in mine, to bring the maximum results.

I owe this clay to men who have given it many years of scientific study. It is a super-clay, amazing in its quick and lasting benefits. I have seen many plain girls become beauties with one application. I have seen older women seem to drop ten years.

Clay is a beauty essential. No girl can look her best without it, so woman keep her youth. Look at France—where girls are all beauties and women all young. That is largely due to clay.

I have no great interest in urging women to use my particular clay. But I do urge them to use some clay. I have found that mine brings multiplied results, but better the old types than none.

The magical effects of My White Youth Clay purify the skin of all that clogs or mars it. It draws out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It brings the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is a rosy afterglow which so amazes and delights. Husbands tell me they hardly know their wives after they use White Youth Clay.

It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. It wards off every sign of age. I will gladly mail sample if you mail this coupon.

Health And Vitality For Women

Health and Vitality can be yours without narcotics or drugs. Keeping well is largely a matter of keeping at bay those dread ailments peculiar to women as evidenced by headaches, nervousness, dragging-down pains, backache and irritability.

For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming such conditions and restoring sick and ailing women to health. It surely pays every suffering woman to try it.

To exercise the right of franchise at every opportunity is the duty of every man and woman who claims to be an upstanding citizen of the United States. To qualify one's self as an elector by complying with governmental rules, is a duty equally as sacred as that of voting. A voter who fails to register cannot vote and an elector who fails to vote cannot be classed as a good citizen.

Under a long established law it becomes necessary for every voter in every city of 10,000 population or over, to re-register every four years. The period for re-registration is now at hand and swiftly passing. Escanaba is the only city in Delta county where a complete re-registration is obligatory under the law and every citizen of this city, qualified to cast a ballot, owes it to himself or a patriotic duty to see that his or her name is properly on the poll list of the precinct in which he lives.

Saturday, Aug. 23, is the deadline—the final date, when the re-registration must be completed under the law. Any voter can accomplish this simple duty by merely going to the office of the city clerk and filing there his name and residence and any voter who fails to do this before Aug. 23, positively cannot vote at either the September primaries or the November general election.

No matter how long an elector has resided in any voting precinct and no matter how many times he has previously registered, he cannot vote this fall unless he registers again before Aug. 23. You cannot vote unless you are classed as a good citizen you must register before Saturday, Aug. 23.

WHY DO WE LIVE.
The great mystery is, not what becomes of us after we die, but why we live at all. Through all the centuries man has sought to penetrate the black curtain and learn what awaits him in the Hereafter.

By the law of cause and effect the condition in the Hereafter depends on the life we live here. All religions of large following agree that this life is preparatory to what follows after death. This is true from the Christian believing that Heaven awaits him if he behaves and obeys the rules, to the oriental who fears that if he doesn't live properly on earth he will have to come back and do it all over again.

Life must have a definite purpose. It cannot be aimless. Everything has a purpose—even the falling of a dead leaf, to fertilize the soil and send its strength back into the tree from which it came.

Life is a journey between two unknown stations. Life is a training school—a spiritual gymnasium, in which obstacles and temptations are sent to develop our spiritual strength.

We come into this world with certain definite tasks to do. These tasks are in proportion to our natural abilities.

The man who is destined to dig ditches all his life and who does the best he can, is as much a success as the man who leads the people politically or as head of giant industries. The thorough ditch digger, living as a good citizen, is a far greater success than the man who, given great power in life, abuses his power or falls to use it for the accomplishment of good.

Helen Continues Her Investigation. Chapter XXII.

Helen missed her friends, the way talk, the happy days, but work had accumulated and she went about it with renewed interest, because of her weeks of play she held many conferences with Whelock, posted her books, and helped old Martha to restore the house to its usual condition.

nothing by which she could recognize him in that dim light. The most she could hope for now was that she might in the morning discover what he had hidden or taken from under the stones. The light was extinguished. Helen crouched low under the window, not daring to move until he was out of sight. She waited some time before she rose, and cautiously as she had come, returned to the house.

tuition made her unwilling to believe Roy guilty. Perhaps it wasn't her uncle's money at all; it might belong to someone who thought the reputation of the pump house for being haunted made it a safe place to conceal his wealth. Or—if it were Roy, he might have secreted the money, intending to give it back, and had lacked opportunity.

An Arbor, Aug. 5.—When our lally struggle with the elements of higher learning is over and we veer our weary way to our domicile, nestling among the evergreens in the Valley of the Huron; when the setting sun casts a pell of peace and contentment over the world and the evening star twinkles in the dusk, mystic tranquility pervades the soul, and we like to do just like this:

First we draw up the old rocker under the elm tree. Then we load up old Dunhill and with the Daily Press in our hands, get all set and comfortable.

And there, in that quiet and romantic spot where many an air castle has been built and many a dream world conquered under the efforescent beams of the moon, we first open the paper to city briefs to see who to the Garden 'ay news and lastly to The Piffle Hook. Gladstone Beats Esky, 3 To 2

MILLARD WINS SLAB BATTLE

Youngsters Get Only Two Hits Off Upbay Heaver

Stan Millard held Escanaba to two hits and fanned 11 club swingers at South Park yesterday afternoon, Gladstone winning by a score of 3 to 2. One of the local boys was a four-bagger over the center field fence off Paul Nelson's bat in the seventh inning.

While local misplays gave the upbays the margin by which they won the contest, Millard pitched remarkable ball and deserved the victory that was his. That isn't saying, however, that all the high class slab work of the afternoon was turned in by the invader.

Long Hank Schultz pitched a brand of ball that would have won nine out of ten contests. Inability of his mates to connect with the visiting steamer, and Escanaba's bobbles, were fatal to Hank's chances of coming out on the long end of the score-keeper's string.

Esky Scores First. Escanaba scored first, when Feeney's error let Dock Boyers alight safely at first base. Nelson was unable to dodge one of Millard's wild inside ones and Beyers marched on to second, when Paul Heaver pitched down to take up his residence on the initial sack.

Gladstone wasted one real chance to score in the fourth when they filled the bases with only one down. A squeeze was attempted, but Schultz tossed Knapp out at the plate, and Johnson fanned.

Other Sizzling Stanzas. Gladstone wasted one real chance to score in the fourth when they filled the bases with only one down. A squeeze was attempted, but Schultz tossed Knapp out at the plate, and Johnson fanned.

TWO CHAMPIONS IN RUNNING YET

Chicago, Aug. 7.—While boating parties enjoyed the beauties of the lake formed in the middle of the Onwentsia golf course, the over-

Mrs. Petts was unable to display anything approaching the championship golf she shot in winning the title twice and after taking 46 strokes for the first nine and being one down she was unable to do more than square the match on the second nine despite the fact that her opponent, Miss Klotz, took 9 in one hole, 7 on another, 6 in three and even had to pick up on the 135 yard 12th. Thus it happened and although the former champion came home in 49 for a 95 while Miss Klotz took 52 for a 98, they were square in match play.

Failure To Touch Plate Beats Sox

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Failure of Clyde Crouse to touch home plate on a force play, paved the way to a three run rally which gave Washington a six to three victory over Chicago in ten innings. After Barrett's error had bled the bases with one out, Crouse rounded to Barrett who threw to Crouse. The catcher tried to touch the plate and Rice scored. Ruel also grounded to Barrett, forcing Godkin, but Crouse threw to right field attempting to get Ruel, Judge and Bluese scoring.

UNEARTH AN ANCIENT ABORIGINAL CIVILIZATION IN CENTRAL AMERICA

(By The Associated Press.)
 Washington—Discovery of the reputed throne of the emperors and priests of Chichen Itza, city and religious center of the Maya, and aboriginal civilization that extended through Yucatan and Guatemala, and the unearthing of another court where the god of chance reigned, has just been reported by the staff of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, engaged in excavating ruins in that region.

"DEFENSE TEST" MERITS SUPPORT OF ALL—WEEKS Will Only Be Demonstration of Mobilization Plans.

(By The Associated Press.)
 Washington—Assurances that the army's defense test project, scheduled for Sept. 12, "should meet with the approval of all except possibly those who are opposed to any defense against external aggression" is contained in a letter sent by Secretary Weeks to clergymen who have inquired as to the purposes and nature of the test. "Nothing will be done on that day to alarm any sincere American citizen," Mr. Weeks said. "The event will not be a general mobilization. Our military establishment will not be increased for an instant on Sept. 12."

"The 'Defense Test' will be only a demonstration of mobilization plans. It will be an endeavor on the part of the federal government to inform our people as fully as possible on the present status of our security. Our whole purpose is to present to our country the new citizen army of the United States and to indicate what action would have to be taken in a national emergency by our individual citizens, and by communities, if our country is to be defended successfully."

Simple Demonstration.
 "The simple demonstration planned might be compared to a fire drill in a school for the safety of the children."

"We are able to take this forward step because our plans are purely for defense, and their object for peace."

"Insofar as there is any foundation for the assumption that people are frequently induced to war-like acts without realizing the consequences of those acts, the 'Defense Test' will be a precautionary measure. Every one will be made aware of the sacrifices which war will require of him."

"The 'Defense Test,' on the other hand, will appraise the world as words never can of our friendly purposes as a nation. They will see that we have neither a standing army of half a million men, like other great nations. They will see a small standing army, reinforced only by citizens who have undertaken to prepare themselves voluntarily for service to their country in the event of war."

"I would like to emphasize that I am striving for peace, and that in common with all Americans I desire it most sincerely. My observation has brought the conviction that such is also the purpose of General Pershing, and of all members of the army of the United States. But unpreparedness has never prevented war, and the only result of our peacetime mobilization has been increased losses and hardships to those of our citizens who relied to the defense of the nation."

Woman Mayoralty Candidate In Boston For Beer, Bobbed Hair, Easy Divorce

BY HAROLD MATSON
 NEA Service Writer
 Boston.—Staid old Boston is going to get a shock or two this fall when Mary V. King, nurse and politician, cuts loose with her campaign to be elected mayor.

In fact, the fight that Miss King promises would stir most any city. And if she is not elected she will not have failed for lack of a platform—for if ever a candidate had a platform, Miss King has one.

"Miss King, in her thirties, bobbed hair, with a strong tendency toward trousers and square-toed shoes (and if not trousers, at least pockets in her skirts) is building her platform of sharp-edged planks—and she is planning her campaign with no "It gives me great pleasure" speeches in mind.

Her Platform.
 Women should not be allowed to wear long hair.
 Women should smoke any time and anywhere men smoke.
 For easy divorce and hard marriage.

Against prohibition.
 Good roads, good health and morals.

No political speeches.
 "I don't believe in prohibition," she tells you tersely, "because it is reactionary, impossible and conducive to law violation."

Bob-Hair Efficient.
 "I believe in bob-hair because it is efficient. Long hair is unsanitary—it is hot on the head and hairpins are tormentors that have destroyed women's concentrative abilities for ages. As mayor I would see that women employ bob hair purely as a means of efficiency, you understand." Boston's most unusual candidate explains, crossing her knees and clanking her hands over the accessible knees.

"You know, if William Jennings Bryan bobbed his hair he might reform, too."
 "And smoking? Oh, it's not important. Women should smoke, to be sure. Why not? Or, nobody should smoke. Smoking doesn't hurt anybody—nor help anybody." Miss King dismisses the idea with a shrug, but her idea will provide more than a shrug on Beacon Hill where the descendants of the Mayflower are still landing on Plymouth Rock.

"Yes, I would fight for good streets and good traffic laws," she concludes, "but first I would pay attention to marriage, love and health and morals. Marriage would become an important business of the city government."

Physical Tests for Marriage.
 "Persons desiring to marry would first have to pass physical tests. If they were in marriageable health then they could announce their intentions and wait for three months or so—time enough to think about it. Such a process would eliminate fly-by-night infatinations from the more substantial thing of marriage."

"All this," Miss King points out, "would lead to fewer subnormal children, and fewer subnormal children is more important than fewer bunny streets. It is not?"

The idea of having a feminine city government impresses Miss King as being an important experiment. Right now she is endeavoring to impress women's organizations with the idea that they should support her.

No Graft, She Predicts.
 "Let men run industry where the mad fight for money is legitimate—and where honesty is profitable because of competition. Let women run government for they are not greedy for money and for they are conscientious. Graft? Well, it would not be a problem with women lawmakers. It just would not exist."

Miss King knows for she is a professional nurse that normal man's brain weighs 45 ounces against normal women's 44 ounces, but she does not concede that woman's lighter brain-weight makes her incapable of taking man's place. "Anyhow, I am not convinced that men use that extra ounce," she asserts.

When Miss King mounts the soap box to convert the masses she plans to talk to them in monosyllables—no flowery phrases, no bombast, as she describes it.

"I'll say to them that I stand for this and that and I oppose this and that, but never will my speeches last more than four minutes."

Who knows, perhaps the brevity of her speeches alone will elect her.

FIND COPY OF AN OLD PATENT

Was Issued In 1791 On Method Of Making Printing Matrices.

(By The Associated Press.)
 Washington.—A copy of a patent on making punches and matrices in the manufacture of printing types, granted to Francis Bailey, of Philadelphia, a printer, in January, 1791, has been brought to light by the Patent Office. This was the fourth patent issued by Uncle Sam and bears the signatures of President George Washington, Secretary of State Thomas Jefferson, and Attorney General Edmund Randolph. Jefferson signed the document the second time, when he certified its delivery to the printer. The great seal of the nation is set on it.

In those days patents were granted by the president, countersigned by the secretary of state and attorney general, and personally delivered to the applicant by the secretary of state. The Bailey patent is the only authentic facsimile copy of which there is record in the republic's early days.

The Document.
 Written in long hand in the old English of that period, at Philadelphia, then the American capital, the document reads as follows:
 "To all to whom these presents shall come, greetings:
 "Whereas, Francis Bailey, of the City of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, Printer, hath invented certain methods, not before known or used, for forming punches by which to impress on the matrices of printing type, whether such types be for setters or devices, as well as to impress on any metal or other substance capable of receiving and retaining impressions various marks which are difficult to be counterfeited, and the said invention appears to be useful and important: These are therefore in pursuance of the Act entitled 'An Act to promote the progress of useful arts,' to grant to the said Francis Bailey, his heirs, administrators and assigns, for the term of 14 years, the sole and exclusive right and liberty to the true intent and meaning of the Act aforesaid."
