

WASHINGTON LOSES HARD GAME, 6 TO 4

PREPARATIONS ARE STARTED FOR WELCOMING PRINCE OF WALES ON HIS TRIP TO U.S.

CHICAGO-DETROIT TO ENTERTAIN HIM NEXT WEEK.

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Oct. 6.—As prospective hosts and hostesses were preparing tonight to receive the Prince of Wales here October 12, the visit was recalled of the royal heir's grandfather, who later became King Edward VII.

A record of Prince Albert's trip through the United States and Canada in 1860 as chronicled by N. A. Woods, London Times correspondent who had accompanied the royal party, was found in an old scrapbook here. It recalled that the present prince's grandfather approached the city from Detroit, the route being described "as a long and tedious affair. At some parts the car rolled and jerked like a boat in a rough sea."

ANNOYED BY LOAFERS.

Prince Albert was annoyed upon leaving Detroit, the correspondent stated, "by a crowd of boys and loafers, who swarmed over the car, pulling down the windows and thrusting in their heads. Upon arriving in Chicago his royal highness found himself in the midst of street demonstrations that formed part of the Lincoln-Douglas campaign. The prince was unusually impressed by the sight of the corn elevators and huge warehouses made of white marble and by the sight of a wooden house being moved through the streets on rollers.

PLANS HELD UP.

Detroit, Oct. 6.—Plans for the entertainment of the Prince of Wales on his visit to Detroit October 14 have been held up pending official word from the British consulate or from Captain A. F. Lascelles, but while no formal plans have been made, informal arrangements call for the appointment of a local citizens' committee and a guard of honor made up of Detroit police and a detachment of soldiers from Fort Wayne.

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Oct. 6.—The state supreme court today held that a county is liable for the condition of its trunk line highways. THE FIRST BALL

Walter Johnson, after 18 years of wonderful pitching for the Washington team, pitches his first ball in a world series while the thousands packed inside the ball park and outside roar their applause. The man at bat is Fred Lindstrom who wasn't even one year old when Johnson started to pitch for Washington. With two balls and one strike pitched, Lindstrom, the Giant third baseman, flied to McNeely, Washington centerfielder, for an easy out. Thus ended the big moment for the veteran and the novice. Maddy Ruel is seen catching for Washington, with Empire Connolly behind the plate to call balls and strikes.

RED CROSS HAS HAD GOOD YEAR

Fourth Annual Convention Gets Under Way at Washington.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 6.—With President Coolidge as its president, the fourth annual Red Cross convention opened today, attended by hundreds of chapter delegates from all parts of the country. As honorary president of the Red Cross, Mr. Coolidge was the first speaker and in his address commended the organization and its work.

Among the other speakers was Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, director of the veterans' bureau, who explained what steps have been or are being taken to promote the welfare of America's veterans. Many of the recommendations passed at previous Red Cross conventions for the benefit of veterans, he said, had been put into effect either by congressional legislation or by the veterans' bureau itself. He quoted as instances the hospitalization and the decentralization programs of the bureau. At present, he declared, 38,000 disabled soldiers are in better positions and earning better salaries than before the war.

Helped Hospitalization. Director Hines said that up to 1921 war veterans had been housed in ordinary existing hospitals, but since then, $40,000,000 had been spent for the construction of suitable hospitals, with the result that at present 25 of these are completed with an accommodation of 10,000 beds. Other hospitals are still under construction capable of housing 1700 more patients.

Colonel D. H. Pond, chairman of the Cleveland chapter of the Red Cross spoke next explaining the society's organization for quick action in case of emergency, and then after a short speech by Judge Barton Payne, chairman of the central committee of the Red Cross, Marquis Eaton, chairman of the Chicago chapter, was elected temporary chairman for the convention.

The afternoon session was taken up by round table discussions of a number of Red Cross activities. The foreign and Pan-American service of the organization was discussed in addresses at the meeting tonight in which members of the diplomatic corps were present as guests of the Red Cross.

Favorable Weather Is Forecasted for Today's Ball Game

Big Leaguers Will Display Wares at South Park

(By The Associated Press.) With favorable weather conditions positively promised for today, one of the largest crowds ever gathered for a baseball game in any city of the peninsula, will see the St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians, of the American League, in an exhibition game, at South Park this afternoon.

Members of the two teams will arrive in Escanaba from Marquette at 10:30 this morning, by automobile, and this afternoon's game will be started promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

In an effort to attract patronage to the game at Menominee yesterday and prevent residents of points south of Escanaba from attending the exhibition game here today, the Menominee Herald-Leader on Saturday published a flimsy bulletin, in which it was announced that the game at Escanaba had been cancelled by the management of the Browns and Indians. The bulletin was alleged to have been based upon a telegram sent to Menominee by R. E. McNulty, acting manager of the Cleveland team. At Menominee yesterday Mr. McNulty denounced the bulletin as a pure fabrication and asserted that he sent no telegram to Menominee carrying such information. To make certain that the bulletin carried in the Menominee paper was a fabrication, W. J. Neudham, general chairman in charge of plans for staging the exhibition game here, and O. I. Bandeen, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and John P. Norton went to Menominee yesterday morning and immediately after reaching the managers of the two teams, learned that the report was wholly without foundation.

Sun To Shine. The Escanaba weather man yesterday proved to be in a most amiable mood when he predicted fair weather today, with a strong probability that the sun will shine for the greater portion of the day.

The sale of tickets for today's game last night had reached unexpected proportions and every indication was given last night that a crowd of at least 3,000 people will crowd into South Park this afternoon. The sale of grand stand and bleacher seats will continue, however, until all of those seats have been disposed of. Grand stand and bleacher seats will be on sale this morning until 11 o'clock at the Office Service Company's store and beginning at 12 o'clock those seats will be placed on sale at the grounds.

City Closes Up. Escanaba will close up shop with a vengeance this afternoon to make possible a record breaking crowd at the game. All of the stores, public and private offices will close at noon, together with all of the schools of the city, releasing a horde of youngsters of school age, thousands of whom will flock to the park. In accordance with the proclamation issued by Mayor W. J. Hanrahan, announcement was made yesterday that the

BOB EXPRESSES HIS CONFIDENCE

Independent Commences Coast-to-Coast Campaign in New York.

(By The Associated Press.) Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Confidence of being elected president was expressed here tonight by Senator Robert M. LaFollette as he launched a new offensive in his campaign as an independent candidate.

Delivering his first address on a tour that is expected to take him from coast to coast before election day, the Wisconsin senator said it was apparent that the Democratic candidate for president was a "poor third in almost every state outside the solid south" and that the "contest for presidential electors now lies squarely between the candidates of the Republican party and the independent-progressive candidates."

"During the coming month," continued Mr. LaFollette, "the progressives will turn the searchlight of truth upon the record of the Coolidge administration. It is my opinion that when this record is fully and clearly revealed, the American people will repudiate those who are responsible as overwhelmingly as they did the Taft administration."

Makes Promise. If elected, the senator declared, he will devote the first 18 months of his term to "house cleaning" and the remainder to "constructive" efforts.

The independent candidate promised to call a special session of congress next March. In the event he is then in the White House, he promised to enact emergency farm relief legislation, and the Howell-Barkeley bill which would set up a new method of adjusting disputes between railroad employers and workers, to revise or repeal the transportation act of 1920, and the Fordney-McCumber tariff law, and to repeal the soldiers' bonus law enacted at the last session of congress, substituting legislation "to provide genuine adjusted compensation" for World War veterans. He said he would also seek to bring about a revision of postal salaries and pensions of Civil and Spanish War veterans "to conform to the increased cost of living."

While action was being obtained on pressing legislation during the "house cleaning" period Mr. LaFollette said he would call upon the appropriate executive departments to prepare "a detailed constructive program" providing for reconstruction "of the federal re-

VISITING CLUB LACKS PUNCH TO PUSH RUNNERS OVER PAN; EIGHT PITCHERS TAKE PART

GIANTS ARE THREATENED WITH DEFEAT ON TWO OCCASIONS; WATSON HALTS DANGEROUS RALLY IN NINTH.

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 6.—Mogridge, veteran Washington left hander, and Barnes, youthful Giant right hander, will pitch the fourth contest of the world series tomorrow, the rival managers announced after today's game. If the Giants win again, Manager Harris will call on Walter Johnson to make the last ditch stand of the Senators in the fifth game.

"Sure, I can beat em," Johnson said when asked if he thought he could upset McGraw's team in his second attempt. Arthur Nehf, who defeated the veteran Senator ace in the opening game, will work for the Giants Wednesday.

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 6.—Out of one of the wild, baseball marcelets that any world's series has ever witnessed, the New York Giants emerged victorious today over Washington in the third game and gained a commanding edge in the 1924 championship struggle.

Fought out on a new battlefield before the greatest crowd that ever appearance before their Metropolitan followers since the cloud of scandal enshrouded them, were noisily received by the crowd, which seemed to have largely forgotten the dark page in the closing chapter of the National League race, but the real acclaim was given the battling Senators.

In the fourth inning, when the Senators scored twice and pulled up to within one run of the Giants, the crowd called wildly for a further rally, which was checked, however, with the bases full. Again in the eighth, when the visitors threatened to break through, and in the ninth, when they were stopped once more with the bases loaded, they were encouraged by excited outbursts. It seemed to puzzle, and possibly rattle the Giants—this unusual home town demonstration—but they pulled themselves together in the face of it and won.

47,608 Buy Tickets. The size of the crowd, however, was full proof of the unusual interest that has been aroused by the fight between the Senators and the Giants in spite of circumstances which it seemed at first might jeopardize the playing caliber of the championship. Officially the paid attendance was 47,608 but several thousand more did not contribute to the gate receipts of $186,572, and also established a new record for the Polo Grounds. The previous record attendance was 46,302, established in the fourth of last year's world series, when the receipts, $181,622, also set a high mark up to that time.

Frisch and Watson were the heroes of the Giant triumph today but dramatic as was Watson's rescue feat in the ninth when a hit would have at least tied and possibly won the game for the Senators, the most spectacular role was enacted by the "Fordham Flash."

Goslin Is Victim. Two of three startling defensive plays Frisch pulled, all of them, curiously enough, at the expense of "Goose" Goslin, turned the Senators back when they were most dangerous. The first of these, the most brilliant, came in the fourth inning when Frisch raced into center field and grabbed Goslin's looping fly over his shoulder while going at top speed.

At the time there was no one out and the only man on the base was Rice, who had walked, but the full importance of Frisch's play quickly became apparent when Judge followed with a rousing double. Bluege walked, Rice scored on a sacrifice fly by Miller and McQuillan, blowing up completely, passed two more men.

"Rosy" Ryan, his successor, forced in a run with another pass before Leibold flew out to end the rally, which but for Frisch's play, might have turned the whole game into a rout.

Catches "Goose" Again. Frisch retired Goslin again in the fifth on a catch barely less brilliant than that of the preceding inning, but the other notable "pitch play" by the Giant captain came in the seventh. Here with two on base Frisch scooped up Goslin's cracking grounder and got his man by an easel.

McQuillan, chief hope of McGraw's right handers, and "Pirpo" Marberry, Washington relief star who had stopped a Giant rally and saved yesterday's game, were the opposing moundsmen at the start, but though they were charged respectfully with the victory and defeat, neither lasted four innings.

Ryan, relieving McQuillan, was erratic, but helped his own cause with a slashing home run into the grandstand in the fourth and stuck to his guns until the ninth, when Patriotic Development Is Aim of New Organization.

(By The Associated Press.) Utica, N. Y., Oct. 6.—With a view to fostering patriotic ideas and "a spirit of toleration in economic, political and religious," 50 Protestants, nearly all members of the Masonic order, and a like number of Catholics, the majority affiliated with the Knights of Columbus, met tonight for formal organization of the Hamilton-Jefferson association, announced as a "non-sectarian, non-religious and non-partisan" group.

Mr. Root, who became a member of the association only after he had been assured of its non-sectarian character, expressed the belief that by having a membership drawn equally from the Protestant and Catholic faiths, the organization had gone a long way toward ultimate success.

"We have hit upon the life-giving properties," he declared, "the lack of which killed other patriotic movements. We have here the two great national bodies, the Masons and Knights of Columbus, from which a larger percentage of the membership may be drawn."

Organization of the association was brought about when Attorney Arthur J. Foley, member of the Knights of Columbus, discussed its formation with William Ross Lee, former district attorney of Oneida county and a Mason.

The name of the organization was suggested by Mr. Root as one which signified the combination of two groups holding divergent views. Incorporation of the association followed selection of its members from foremost Catholics and Protestants of Utica.

Officers of the association will be chosen at the next meeting, with officerships alternating between members of the two religious faiths.

The incorporators in addition to the four men who organized the idea, are Michael J. Larkin, past state deputy of the Knights of Columbus; William J. Wiley, superintendent of the Masonic home; James E. Mitchell, president of the board of education; Charles A. Miller, president of the Savings Bank of Utica; Attorney Warnick J. Keran, and Robert D. Frazer, a Utica merchant.

Ortis Brubaker, also of Toledo, who it is alleged, struck the fatal blow Thursday night, and from which Gray died Friday noon in a Toledo hospital, also gave testimony. It is understood Brubaker claims self defense.

Justice Lee Smith issued a warrant, charging Ortis Brubaker with manslaughter in connection with the death of Gray. Brubaker pleaded not guilty and examination was set for October 9. Bail was fixed at $2,500.

serve and farm loan systems, a permanent transportation policy, a national super-power system, development of co-operative marketing and control of trusts and combinations." Public Ownership.

Transportation recommendations, Mr. LaFollette said, should include "a comprehensive study and analysis of methods of providing for public ownership of railroads, with adequate safeguards against bureaucratic control and political manipulation."

Reports covering each subject, the speaker continued, should be ready for submission prior to the congressional elections of 1926, thus giving the voters of the nation the opportunity to decide what legislation should be enacted.

Commenting on his advocacy of constitutional amendments providing for direct election of president, election of federal judges, restriction of the powers of courts and federal initiative and referendum, the Wisconsin senator said he had no desire to "evade these issues" but that "this question of constitutional amendments resolves itself in a great joke on my conservative opponents who recently had been excessively agitated about certain of these proposals."

"All amendments to the constitution must originate in congress," he pointed out. "Under the constitution the president does not propose them. If I should by chance remain in the senate, I shall devote myself to the introduction and passage of these amendments, but if I should be elected president, as I now expect to be, I shall be debarrued from introducing them."

"It follows, therefore, that the only way by which our opponents can prevent me from urging these amendments to the constitution, about which they express, for campaign purposes, such grave concern, is to elect me president."

Outlining the foreign policy he would pursue if elected, Senator LaFollette advocated referendum on the declaration of war except in case of actual invasion, the ending of "our imperialistic attitude towards Central and South America" by withdrawing marines from such territory, Philippine independence, termination "of the partnership between our state department and the imperialistic interests," use of "every peaceful influence to bring about a revision of the treaty of Versailles, not in terms of hate and animosity, but in accordance with the more generous terms of the armistice, the exertion of the influence of the United States "to outlaw war, to abolish conscription, to drastically reduce air, land and naval armaments, and to guarantee referendums of peace and war."

DAVIS CROSSES INTO NEW YORK

Coolidge Administration Is Bitterly Attacked in Opening Speech.

(By The Associated Press.) Albany, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Launching a general attack against the Coolidge administration on questions of foreign policy, tariff, legislation, sectional feelings, and mentioning Secretary of the Navy Wilbur by name for the first time since he was recalled to Washington from the west coast, John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for president tonight brought his campaign into the New York capital as the guest of Governor Alfred E. Smith and delivered his second address of the day in upstate territory.

In his reference to the foreign policy questions, Mr. Davis said he could see only two courses open to this country. One was to arm the nation to the point where it need not fear aggressions even from the united strength of other powers, and the second was to meet all other powers in conference and build up understandings which would make future aggression impossible.

"The worst crop failure this country ever saw," he said, "is the failure in the crop of Republican performance compared with the sowing of Republican promises."

The second question of importance to be settled by the November election, the candidate asserted, was that dealing with the growth of sectional feeling in the United States.

"Nothing is clearer than that policy pursued by the Republican party and approved by President Coolidge," he said, "has succeeded in setting the agricultural west against the industrial east. For 50 years the fiscal policies of the United States have been dictated by an industrial bloc, to whose prosperity the farmer has been compelled against his will to contribute."

Wilbur "Silenced." No wonder his party assistant associates were dismayed at his frankness and that an extinguisher was promptly clamped on his official head.

Mr. Davis favored lower income taxes and reduction of "other taxes" as rapidly as possible. The Democratic party, Mr. Davis asserted, favored home rule in government and was determined that no centralized, economic or financial power "shall be built up in this country to deprive men of their economic freedom."

A novel contrivance in the musical line is a combination phonograph and alarm clock.

COLORADO SAFE IN G. O. P. CAMP, WRITER THINKS

Radical Democrats Not Strong Enough to Put LaFollette Across.

(Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.) Denver, Colo., Oct. 6.—What Chairman Butler of the Republican national committee says about the coalition of Democrats and LaFollette supporters is partly true in Colorado but here as in other states the movement is a natural one based on local issues and is not the result of any organized plot or political strategy.

In Colorado, for instance, thousands of Democrats will vote for LaFollette because they originally wanted McAdoo and Davis isn't radical enough for them. But all these votes plus all the normal strength of the radicals in this state would not be enough to give the Wisconsin senator the electoral vote here.

President Coolidge will carry Colorado not perhaps by as big a majority as did Harding in 1920 but by a substantial figure. Democrats who are in a position to know the situation concede that the state is lost though they are really working harder here for Davis than in other western states and will continue to battle for their standard bearer to the end.

The Klux Klan is really of secondary importance in Colorado. The state is rocked by a factional fight in which the Ku Klux Klan has as usual upset the equanimity of the community. The Klan is behind the Republican state and senatorial tickets. Governor Sweet, Democrat, running for reelection on an anti-Klan platform, is making enthusiastic speeches for John W. Davis.

Two years ago when the writer was in Colorado, the conservatives were worried about Sweet and were engaged in a strenuous effort to defeat him. He was supposed to be radical, socialistic, and generally of a disturbing disposition.

But the situation today is changed. Scores of Republican business men say openly they will vote for Sweet. It isn't that they like him any better, though he hasn't proved in office as radical as it was thought he would be, but the Ku Klux Klan taint on the Republican state ticket is too great for many Republicans.

State Ticket Not a Test. After arguing that many Democrats of pro-Klan sympathy entered the Republican gubernatorial and senatorial primaries and succeeded in nominating many men of Klan affiliations, Mr. Hamlin's newspaper, the Colorado Springs Gazette remarks:

"So far as concerns this result, the primary, many Republicans are of the opinion that, under the circumstances, support of the head of the state ticket is in no sense a test of party allegiance or of loyalty to the party's presidential nominee."

Curiously enough, President Coolidge is not affected by the Klan fight. The men in charge of his campaign are scrupulously refraining from mixing him up in it. It is true that the president has not denounced the Klan in so many words as has John W. Davis but the people here nevertheless do not think for a moment that Mr. Coolidge is in sympathy with the Klan in any respect so the issue disappears as far as the national ticket is concerned.

having a hard fight for reelection for the long term. He had the support of the Klan in the campaign prior to the primaries, though there are rumors now that this endorsement has been withdrawn.

War Veterans Contest. Senator Alva Adams, Democrat, who was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Nicholson, is not involving himself in the Klan fight but is making his contest on progressive and radical differences between himself and Senator Phipps.

As for the short term, Rice W. Means, an avowed member of the Klan who is conspicuous in their meetings on the mountain top, is opposed by Morris Shaffroth, son of the late Senator Shaffroth, a popular figure in Colorado. Means has a creditable war record and so has Shaffroth. It is a close race. Should Means be elected he probably will be the first avowed member of the Klan to sit in the United States senate and it would not be surprising if a controversy arose as to his fitness to hold office. One of the pledges of the Klan taken by members is that they will oppose the holding of public office by Catholics, Jews, Negroes and certain foreign born.

Members of the senate have to vote on the question of confirming men appointed to public office by the president. The constitution says that no religious test shall be held as a qualification for public office. A United States senator pledged to over-ride this constitutional guarantee may find himself in the midst of a controversy, technical perhaps, but sufficient to allow many eastern Democrats and Republicans from anti-Klan communities to make the fight. The senate is the sole judge of whether a man duly elected shall be admitted. He can be refused admission on various grounds if a majority of the senate is so disposed. Anyway, if Means should be elected it would probably mean a contest.

Begin Work on Halloween Party All of the classes at the local high school are hard at work on plans for the annual Halloween carnival to be given to the Escanaba High School on the night of October 31.

Up until last year, this party has been solely in the hands of the Senior class and has been only a school party. Last year, however, the class of '24 decided to make it a school affair and open it to the general public in order that funds might be raised toward the erection of a new athletic stadium.

Last year's party was a success in every respect and this year it is hoped that affair will prove even more successful, and that a substantial sum will be added to the athletic fund.

BIRD SEASON TO STAY OPEN

State Can Do Nothing Now to Close It, Baird Advises Randall.

It will be impossible for the state department of conservation to close the season on partridge this year, as suggested by upper peninsula sportsmen's club leaders, Clarence B. Randall, of Ishpeming, president of the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association, said in a bulletin issued yesterday.

Mr. Randall's bulletin explains the situation in detail, and makes public some of his correspondence with John Baird, secretary of the state conservation commission.

Randall's Bulletin.

The bulletin follows: "Reports concerning the scarcity of partridge, and the likelihood that the condition is caused by disease combined with unfavorable weather conditions this summer continue to pour in from all sections of Northern Michigan and although your officers felt that there was no power vested in the governor of Department of Conservation to act at this late date to close the season, the matter was of such importance that we asked for a hearing.

"We give below the letter which we received from Mr. Baird in reply:

"In reply to your letter of September 27th, I am sorry to advise that there is nothing we can do to close the season on partridge this year. This same thing occurred this year in the matter of bass and now it is a question of the partridge season.

"I will recommend to the next legislature that in extreme cases, such as the present decrease in partridge, that the Department of Conservation be given the power to issue an order, with the approval of the governor, to close the season on game or fish when recommended by the sportsmen of this state. However, I think there should be ten days notice given. I will be pleased to go over these matters with you at the meeting of the Game Congress in Grand Rapids, October 7th.

"I have read with interest the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's bulletin and I feel sure much will be accomplished by this good work."

"A great many clubs have suggested that we call upon all sportsmen to give up shooting partridges this fall, but we are not prepared to take that step. It would be going too far in the direction of trying to dictate to the various clubs and their members, but we do believe that good sportsmen should at least limit their hunting. The Marquette club has passed a resolution that no hunter take more than ten birds this season, and we offer that to all the clubs for their consideration, requesting each club to take such action in its community as seems proper."

Three Men Jolted in Judge Doherty's Court Yesterday

One man plead guilty to driving an automobile while intoxicated, another to reckless driving and a third to disorderly conduct in Judge James S. Doherty's court yesterday. Charles Milkovitch, of North Escanaba, paid $100 and costs for reckless driving. He ran his car into another machine Saturday afternoon.

John Moran, of Wells, who had a head-on collision with Ray Colette on South 14th street Sunday, plead guilty to driving while under the influence of liquor. Moran also paid a fine of $100 and costs.

Ben Riche, well known police court character, admitted that he broke a window in a disorderly manner, in a First avenue north home, and was given a 12-day "jolt" in the county jail.

Will Go the Limit in Praising Tanlac

Says Grand Rapids Foreman Then Tells Why He Believes in Medicine.

"Tanlac made a strong, well man of me when I was about ready to give up and I'll go the limit in endorsing it," declares Grant B. Seully, 1427 Turner Ave., Grand Rapids, Mich., a foreman for the U. S. Gypsum Co.

"A disordered stomach and lagging appetite pulled my weight down twenty-eight pounds and had me terribly weak and exhausted. I had a bad cough and cold, too, but my worst trouble was an awful sharp, constant pain around my heart that often made me think it would finish me.

"Tanlac knocked out every last one of my troubles, purified my blood and overhauled and built me up in every way, and in the six months since I took it I have continued to enjoy fine health. Several of my friends down at the plant took Tanlac on my say-so and they also got splendid results."

BUICK HANGS UP NEW RECORD

Sixteen Hundred Miles of Continuous Driving Is Feat.

What is perhaps the world's record for endurance was made last week by C. F. "Outdoor" Franklin in a new 1925 Standard Six Buick car.

The Howard Automobile Company, Pacific Coast Buick distributor, report that Franklin drove sixteen hundred and six miles in less than 55 hours without leaving the driver's seat.

The record run was made from the Canadian border to the Mexican border, and establishes a speed record between these points.

Starting from Blaine, Canada, at 8:09 A. M. Monday, September 22, Franklin made the 1600 miles to Tijuana, Mexico, without a relief driver and without leaving the wheel, arriving at Tijuana Wednesday, September 24, at 2:40 p. m.

Sixteen hundred miles continuous driving is a feat that few would undertake, and in making this record, Franklin certainly makes a strong bid for the hall of fame. The Buick Standard Six proved its stability by the wonderful manner in which it stood this extraordinary test. Not once did the car falter. The Buick Valve-in-Head motor which is built for power, speed and economy, was in perfect running order at the end of the long grind, and the gas consumption averaged better than eighteen miles to the gallon.

The fact that only one pint of water was needed to fill the radiator at the end of the trip indicates the efficiency of the Buick motor.

Official observers appointed by Los Angeles newspapers checked the trip from start to finish, and report that not once did the motor or car stop running.

Franklin says that only the perfect performance of the car and tires and the easy steering of the Buick made it possible for him to establish this new world's endurance record.

Voters of San Francisco today will pass upon a proposal for a $10,000,000 bond issue to continue work on the Hetch Hetchy project to connect Yosemite's water supply with San Francisco and the Bay district.

Yeomen Installation.
Joint installation of the new officers of Gladstone Homestead No. 2012, and Delta Homestead No. 1284, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, will be held in the North Star hall tonight. The ceremonies will be followed by dancing and a luncheon will be served. All members of the order are urged to be present.

Legion Auxiliary.
The American Legion Auxiliary will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening, Oct. 7th, at 1:30, in the Legion clubrooms.

Preparations are being made to accommodate a large attendance. Invitations have been issued to the members of the Gladstone and Rapid River units who have signified their intention to be present to witness the installation of officers which will be conducted by Mrs. Myrtle Wetton, of Negaunee, president of the U. P. Association.

A short business session will precede the installation at which time plans will be completed for the unit's participation in the Michigan annual canned fruit collection for the Legion hospital and bibles; a rummage sale, program for Armistice Day and other winter activities.

Musical numbers and readings by members of the local unit will furnish part of the entertainment after which refreshments will be served.

Police Continue Search for Gems Taken from Store

Escanaba police yesterday continued their efforts to trace and recover the jewelry taken from the Blomstrom & Peterson store window, during a "smash-in robbery" Nov. 21 of last year. Three men are being held in the county jail charged with the crime. One has confessed and implicated the others.

One valuable watch was returned to the police from Lower Michigan by its purchaser. It arrived in the mail yesterday. Steps to get in touch with the Crystal Falls waitress upon which one of the gang bestowed several hundred dollars' worth of the stolen property were continuing last night with good results.

In addition, clues which probably will lead to another quantity of jewelry were being traced down by members of the department.

Scientists in Europe find ants existed sixty million years ago, probably starting with the first picnic.

Thousand Cars to Participate

The Chevrolet Motor Company estimates that over 1,000 cars will participate in the Chevrolet 100-hour national endurance and economy run which will be staged by local Chevrolet dealers in all sections of the country, opening today and continuing to Saturday, Oct. 11th.

The Chevrolet national contest is the outgrowth of a similar test made by dealers in the Chicago zone of the Chevrolet Motor Company some eight months ago. It was so successful that about a month ago the company decided to promote a national 100-hour endurance and economy run made under similar conditions.

The Chevrolet 100-hour national endurance and economy run is the first national demonstration of its kind ever staged in this country. Chevrolet Motor Company officials declare. With such a large number of cars entered it is felt that the compiling of the results will give an accurate idea of the endurance and economy of Chevrolet cars.

A majority of the local dealers participating in the run are conducting guessing contests as to the gas and oil consumption and the number of miles travelled during the four days and four that the test will continue. Ordinarily endurance and economy runs of this nature are made by cars or two cars driven by experts, but in this case hundreds of cars operated by local drivers will make the test and the records made will closely approximate what any owner may expect of his car.

JOHNSON IS COOLIDGE FAN

Washington, Oct. 6.—Walter Johnson, Kansas farmer and pitcher ace of the American League, came out unqualifiedly for President Coolidge and announced his intention of leaving immediately after the close of the world series to work for and cast his vote for Coolidge.

Veteran of almost a score of baseball campaigns with the Washington team, Johnson has long been a part-time resident of the national capital and has seen presidents come and go. He is a modest young man, despite the high place to which he has risen in the world of sport, and is never outspoken, qualities which have partly been responsible for the host of admirers he has in every city. Today, however, he was emphatic in his praise of President Coolidge.

"Some people are inclined to criticize the president because he doesn't leave the White House and go up and down the country making speeches," he said. "That is to my mind one of the reasons he should be continued at the head of the government. The president is keeping his feet on the ground and is attending to his job. I know, and most of us know, that if the president is to do his work properly he hasn't any time for anything else. The president is a quiet man but from what I've seen here in Washington he is a hard worker, and I'm going to vote to keep him in the White House."

Walter said he has met Mr. Coolidge a number of times but that he had never mentioned politics to the president, "because I felt that any opinions of mine wouldn't be of much importance."

VOTE FOR LAFOLLETTE MEANS A VOTE BRYAN.

All those who are contemplating voting for LaFollette for President, should carefully and seriously consider what a vote for LaFollette means. The proposed method by LaFollette to change the constitution of the United States is not intended to be referred to. When the question is asked about what it means to vote for LaFollette, the proposition that a vote for LaFollette is a vote for Governor Bryan of Nebraska can not be contradicted.

The only reason why Robert M. LaFollette is a candidate for President is to try and throw the election into the house of representatives. It requires two hundred sixty-six electoral votes to elect a president and no well informed person claims LaFollette will receive more than fifty electoral votes.

Assuming the election is thrown into the House of Representatives and the Senate, that part of the constitution referred to provides that the House of Representatives can not vote for any candidate for president except the three persons receiving the highest number of votes in the electoral college.

It is very plain to see there would be a dead-lock and no president would be elected by the house, because the Republicans would vote for Coolidge; the Democrats would vote for Davis and the Progressives would vote for LaFollette.

BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McManus

IN NEW YORK

New York—The majority of people who come from other towns to live in New York—particularly older people—never become acclimated. Unless success bumps them into the limelight and wealth, they brood over the heartlessness the city exhibits to the masses, and long for the friendliness and cordiality of smaller communities.

With the younger men and women who come here it is slightly different. Ambition and hope carry them over a wave of depression. But age does not wear well under the torments of oppression.

The other day an elderly widow was found dead. She had closeted herself in the niche of her small apartment, turned on the gas and sat down in a chair to inhale the death fumes. Letters disclosed that she had tired of life in New York and longed for her home in the west, from which she had come.

At a counter of knick-knacks in a large department store, two very pretty salesladies were courteously and efficiently serving a surging crowd of customers.

Ask Abolishment of High School Dances

Public schools authorities of Michigan are requested to substitute other forms of entertainment in place of the high school dance. In a resolution passed unanimously at the Detroit conference of Methodist ministers, at which Rev. J. H. Gliddon of Manistique was in attendance. The resolution passed came from 600 ministers, representing 150,000 Methodist people in Michigan.

"Whereas the welfare of the youth of any community depends upon the close cooperation of the home, the church and the public school, we are constrained to make this request of the public school authorities of Michigan that:
1. They recognize the conscientious opposition to the dance on the part of a large section of the church, and
2. That they plan their recreational program for the year so that they may cooperate and not compete with the activities of the various churches, and
3. That their recreational directors plan their programs with an honest effort to substitute unquestioned recreation in the place of the doubtful and questioned high school dance.

Brought Joy to Home. Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scottdale, Pa. "I never felt like working, and when I would try to do any work standing on my feet, I would just drag around all day long. At times I would have terrible pains and would be in bed three or four days. I was in this condition about a year when I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers. I had heard different women say it was good for women's troubles. My aunt thought it would help and it had helped her. So I took the Vegetable Compound and it brought me right, and I was in good shape when I became a mother again. I believe it helps at birth, too, as with my other babies I suffered a great deal more than with this one. I took your medicine has done me." Mrs. ROBERT PRICE, Scottdale, Pa.

Don't allow children to play with matches.
Don't block the fire escapes; you may need them yourself tonight.
Don't leave everything to the landlord; inspect your own house from cellar to garret and locate all exits.

Don't throw away lighted matches, cigars or cigarettes.
Don't go into dark closets, bedrooms or cellars, using matches or candles to light your way.
Don't use insecticides in the vicinity of open flame lights. Many such compounds contain inflammable oils.

I Am Clean

One reason for my beauty is this: I am clean. By Edna Wallace Hopper. This is to the millions of women who wish to know how I have kept my youth and beauty after 35 years as a stage star. And how at a grandmother's age I manage to look like a girl.

One thing is this: I never use soap and water on my face. Soap removes just the surface dirt, and that has nothing to do with the skin.

Lucie Lantelme, the famous Parisian beauty, told me how she kept her skin so absolutely clean.

Then I went to her experts and secured the same method.

Since then the method has come into world-wide use, but only through beauty experts. The results were so marvelous that all of them charged $3, some $5, for the formula, so only the few know how much it can do.

Now I am placing this formula at every woman's call. I have named it my Facial Youth. It contains no animal, no vegetable fats, so the skin cannot absorb it. It simply penetrates the pores to the depths, then departs. All the grime, all the dead skin and clogging matter comes out with it.

Wash your face in the best way you know, then apply my Facial Youth. You will be amazed at the extra grime and clogging matter which comes out with it.

This is the first step in fine complexion—an absolutely clean skin. This method is the only way to get it. Once you know what it means you will never go without it.

I have placed this formula with all druggists, all toilet counters. The price is 75c despite the fact that others charge ten times as much.

You need my Facial Youth. It is impossible, they tell me, to look your best without it. It is the only facial cleanser which really cleans.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send you it something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

Fine Entertainment
For First Number Of Lyceum Course

Paul Vernon and his Cleveland Symphony Quintet will be heard at the Manistique high school auditorium Thursday evening, opening the 1924-25 lyceum course season in this city. The program presented by this community is of unusual merit and entertainment value.

Presenting the work of the masters only, Mr. Vernon prefaces the playing of each number with a little talk about the composer and the selection to be played, which adds to the enjoyment of the program and gives the educational touch that makes the Lyceum attractions different from those that only aim at "amusement."

Mr. Vernon is a member of the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra and three of his players hold positions with that organization. Mrs. Vernon is a pianist and organist of merit and will preside at both instruments during the course of the program. A specially constructed reed organ is carried and used in some of the selections offered on each program.

Mr. Arthur F. George, cellist, Mr. William Cheesman, viola and Mr. Lloyd Da Costa Jones, second violin, complete this company of the young American musicians.

A "Mississippi" flood, breaking through levees, sweeping away a whole riverside city and destroying crops and property with its rushing waters has been pictured vividly in one remarkable sequence of "Her Reputation." Thomas H. Ince's big film production dealing with the power of the press, which is now running at the Community theatre. The scenes were made at Yuma, Arizona, where the Ince film company spent ten weeks "roughing it."

As a preliminary to the making of the flood sequence a force of carpenters was sent down to Yuma as a vanguard of the film company. Under the direction of John Griffith Wray, complete plans had been drawn up for the building of a city. By the time that the actors arrived, the carpenters had put up several streets of the city and several shots required by the script were quickly made on dry land.

IRONWOOD ASKS MOVE AGAINST CANCELLATIONS

Gogebic School Hard Hit by Stambaugh Action.

Ironwood, Oct. 6.—High school authorities here are highly indignant over two cancellations in football this week and are seeking a remedy.

Stambaugh high school canceled a game in mid-week after having signed a contract to appear on the ironwood grounds against the local high school team.

The impression going around that Ironwood High school is too strong for most of the teams and for that reason the cancellations resulted? High school authorities here are trying to find out, and at the same time are asking, "What kind of an organization has the Upper Peninsula got to permit such a thing?"

Expensive for Ironwood. The local school lost considerable money by the two cancellations, having gone to the expense of advertising the game and having tickets and posters printed.

As far as the season tickets are concerned, however, few persons will register any kicks over the failure of the team to play here, knowing that the school did everything possible to line up a game for this afternoon.

"Ineligibility has struck the ranks of the Stambaugh squad, leaving but four regulars on the team this week," says the Iron River Reporter in explaining Stambaugh's cancellation of the Ironwood game.

It is further explained: "Melvin Hill was the last player to be added to the ineligible list, when he received a broken collar bone in scrimmage last Tuesday evening.

"When Ironwood was called on the phone Tuesday by local school men, officials there seemed agreeable to cancelling the game. Even though Stambaugh could take its second string team and the rest of the first team to Ironwood it would hardly be a paying proposition there, and the same would not be as interesting as it would be if Stambaugh were in first class condition."

Kentucky Futurity Goes to Mr. Elwyn; New Record Made

(By The Associated Press.) Lexington, Ky., Oct. 6.—Mr. Elwyn, bred and owned by W. H. McCourtie, Dallas, Texas, and driven by Ben White, won the 32nd renewal of the Kentucky futurity here today.

Second in each heat and pulling up a stubborn resistance was Guy Richard, driven by W. T. Crozier. The third went to Eria Guy, driven by Walter Cox.

Oscarvans, heavy favorite, disposed of his field in the 2:11 trot without a great effort. John Spencer secured the place in the opening and Coasta Jay in the second.

The 2:19 trot at 7-8 mile heats proved a stubborn contest. Crawford, from the Murphy stable, was best, but was hard pressed by Coleman in the first heat and still harder pressed by Peter Wooster in the second.

Every Gordon hat has to be just so. That's why they're hard to make but easy to wear.

The five dollar price is easy to pay, too.

Bowling over the Cubs today, 5 to 3, the American League nine led by Johnny Evers retained their city title, won last year from the National League after a lapse of 12 months.

LEGION ELEVEN PLAYS TIE WITH CRYSTAL FALLS

Locals Snow Their Best Form of Year

The Escanaba and Crystal Falls American Legion football teams battled to a one-touchdown tie on the Crystal Falls gridiron Sunday afternoon, the game ending 7 to 7.

This score also indicates the even terms on which the two aggregations fought it out. While thrills and breaks were numerous, they were well divided and neither team was able to put across another marker. It was a well-played, clean scrap and made such an impression on all concerned that the two teams have been booked for a return game here Armistice Day.

Crystal Falls scored first on a blocked punt, towards the end of the first period. The ball bounded back of the Escanaba goal and Marion, the Falls' star quarterback, fell on it for a touchdown and followed it by a goal.

Real Battle. After that it was a real draw till, with honors even. O'Brien, Fisher and O'Reilly starred for Escanaba, while Marion was the outstanding figure in the Crystal Falls crew.

The Escanaba lineup follows: Seofield and Pearl, end; Fisher and Olson tackles, Casey, Spers and Anderson guards, O'Reilly center, O'Brien quarterback, Sandberg and Baxton halves, Goulet, Dreknaz and Baldwin, fullback.

BUCK HARRIS scored the third run for Washington with a home run in the fifth. New York got a run in the seventh and then crashed Zachary for two runs in the ninth tying the score, but the Senators came back and took the game on a base on balls, a sacrifice hit and a single by Peck.

There was some discussion regarding the advisability of changing the trout law to limit the catch only to numbers, compelling the fishermen to keep what they catch, regardless of size, but the idea was not accepted. Its proponent claimed that when small fish are thrown back they invariably die, but this argument was disputed.

A general sentiment prevailed among the conferees that the duck season should not open until October 1, and that the bag should be limited to 15 birds.

Michigan Gridders Resort to Secret Practice, Report

(By The Associated Press.) Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 6.—Michigan's football team today turned back to scrimmage behind closed gates after emerging last Saturday and proving that it will be worthy of some consideration in the season's competition.

Coach Fielding H. Yost today returned from Lincoln, where he watched the operations of Illinois against Nebraska. His report on the Illinois is to the effect that they are a hard lot and that Michigan will have to extend itself if it expects to win honors at Urbana, October 18, and keep in the Big Ten race.

Window-panes' ladders must be rubbed out in Hull, England, to prevent their slipping. Flying boats are better than to sight herring off the coast of coast of England.

CONSERVATION OF GAME-FISH RECOMMENDED

Closed Season Will Be Proposed to Legislature at Session.

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Oct. 6.—Representatives of sportsmen's organizations and Isaac Walton chapters, meeting here today with the state conservation commission, went on record as favoring drastic steps to conserve and propagate game and fish life.

As a result of the conference a program will probably be submitted to the legislature recommending that tributaries to trout streams and the mouths of streams on the Great Lakes in which the fish spawn be closed to fishing; that the barbless hook be universally adopted for trout; that a $1 angler's license fee law be re-enacted on bass, trout and wall-eyed pike, affecting all males over 16 years of age; that an open season on pheasants be declared in the lower peninsula one day a week for four weeks with a bag limit of two male birds; that a refuge for ducks be created in the marshes of the Flats; that game refuges be established wherever possible; that the governor be empowered to close the season on any game or fish in any locality in case of emergency, and that funds be provided for an exhaustive game and fish survey to determine what is needed in the way of conservation and propagation.

Close Stream Mouths. George Shiras, of Marquette, declared that trout are disappearing from the streams in the neighborhood of Lake Superior because the fishermen are taking them from the mouths of the streams into which they go to spawn. He urged closing these streams back past the dangerous area. He also asked that the carrying or use of firearms in the woods in the closed seasons be prohibited and that game refuges be set aside. Other upper peninsula representatives asserted that a disease is prevalent among partridge which has virtually obliterated them in the past few weeks. They described it as a grub which attacks the birds. Upper peninsula clubs, it was said, will limit their bags because of the scarcity of birds.

The proposal for a game and fish survey came from Dr. Ruthven, of the University of Michigan. He declared that it is necessary to find out what is harmful and what beneficial to game and fish life before an intelligent conservation program can be mapped out.

Change Is Opposed. There was some discussion regarding the advisability of changing the trout law to limit the catch only to numbers, compelling the fishermen to keep what they catch, regardless of size, but the idea was not accepted. Its proponent claimed that when small fish are thrown back they invariably die, but this argument was disputed.

Coaches Oo All of Talking at Meeting

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 6.—Michigan Agricultural College football coaches who saw the University of Michigan spatter Miami Saturday, returned today with clean-cut idea of what the Green and White eleven is up against in the stadium dedication game with the Wolverines here Saturday.

Most of the talking was done by the coaches while the members of the squad, who were not the recipients of rousing cheers for their work against Olivet, played listening roles for nearly two hours.

In addition to being told what progress they have to make, the Aggies were informed of the many things they failed to do against Olivet and of many other things which they did that could profitably have been left undone.

In giving his opinion of the Michigan squad formed as he witnessed the assault on Miami Saturday, Coach Young stated that the Wolverines were unusually far advanced for this stage of the season.

Many Attend Rink.

One of the largest crowds of the season were present at the Coliseum Roller Rink Sunday evening. The scheduled demonstration for beginners by Manager Flath had to be postponed, however, but will be given next Sunday evening. The postponement was caused by a broken rod in the organ. Beginning next week the regular fall season schedule for the rink will begin. The Coliseum will then be open for skating every afternoon and evening in addition to the Saturday afternoon matinee. Special programs are also being planned.

UTILITIES ARE DISCUSSED AT ROTARY CLUB

Interesting Program Was Presented Yesterday

Members of the Escanaba Rotary Club yesterday both heard and saw this city's utilities, in observing National Utility Week. Yesterday's program was in charge of City Manager Fred R. Harris and in addition to presenting J. H. Slater, who explained the operation and the scope of the plant of the Escanaba Power & Traction Company, Mr. Harris made a brief address himself, introducing the "gas house trio" and took the members of the club on an inspection trip of the city-owned gas, electric and water plants.

Mr. Slater set forth in his address yesterday the unusual outlay of funds that has been made by the Escanaba Power & Traction Company to make possible for Escanaba a street railway and power service second to that offered in no city of the country. Mr. Slater told of the outlay made by the company last winter by which the company's power facilities were greatly increased and which are now available in the shape of an accessible surplus power as an inducement to new industries, to locate here.

City Plants Inspected.

Mr. Harris briefly explained the plan of operation of the Escanaba-owned utilities and then led the members on an inspection tour through the plants.

Members of the "gas house trio" made a decided hit with the members of the Rotary club yesterday, each of the numbers rendered by the organization being applauded to the echo and accorded encore after encore.

GOVERNMENT TO REACH CLIMAX OF CASE SOON

(By The Associated Press.)

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 6.—The federal government which is trying to prove that Roland Pothier murdered Major Alexander Cronkhite in the Camp Lewis military reservation in 1918, is expected to reach the climax of its case this week. The trial will be resumed tomorrow.

Major General Adalebert Cronkhite, father of the slain officer, will be one of the government witnesses during the week.

Two other important witnesses are Dr. Otto Schultz and William A. Jones of New York City. They reached Tacoma today. Dr. Schultz is a noted authority on homicides and has assisted in various celebrated cases in the east. Major Jones is an authority on small arms.

The defense has indicated by its cross examinations that it will seek to prove that Pothier made his confession as a result of the suggestion of persons of superior mentality and that Pothier is a type that could readily be influenced through suggestions.

BUCK HARRIS OUT AT FIRST—Here ended the play on Buck Harris his first. With one down, he hit to Jackson, Giant shortstop, who fumbled the ball but recovered to catch Meusel's close play at first base. A fraction of a second after this play, Meusel collided with Terry, the New York first baseman. Terry's knee was injured, but when a delay he was able to recover and later to hit a home run.

NON-RELIGIOUS ORDER FORMED

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 6.—With a view to fostering patriotic ideals and "a spirit of tolerance in economics, politics and religion," 50 Protestants, nearly all members of the Masonic order, and a like number of Catholics, the majority affiliated with the Knights of Columbus, met tonight for formal organization of the Hamilton-Jefferson association, announced as a "non-secret, non-sectarian and non-partisan" group.

Mr. Root, who became a member of the association only after he had been assured of its non-sectarian character, expressed the belief that by having a membership drawn equally from the Protestant and Catholic faiths, the organization had gone a long way toward ultimate success.

Organization of the association was brought about when Attorney Arthur J. Foley, member of the Knights of Columbus, discussed its formation with William Ross Lee, former district attorney of Oneida county and a Mason. The plan was described to Andrew P. Kelley, director of the Utica branch of the National Catholic Welfare Council, who, after approving it, suggested presenting it to Mr. Root.

Radical Democrats Not Strong Enough to Put LaFollette Across.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.)
Denver, Colo., Oct. 6.—What Chairman Butler of the Republican national committee says about the coalition of Democrats and LaFollette supporters is partly true in Colorado but here as in other states the movement is a natural one based on local issues and is not the result of any organized plot or political strategy.

In Colorado, for instance, thousands of Democrats will vote for LaFollette because they originally wanted McAdoo and Davis isn't radical enough for them. But all these votes plus all the normal strength of the radicals in this state would not be enough to give the Wisconsin senator the electoral vote here.

President Coolidge will carry Colorado not perhaps by as big a majority as did Harding in 1920 but by a substantial figure. Democrats who are in a position to know the situation concede that the state is lost though they are really working harder here for Davis than in other western states and they will continue to battle for their standard bearer to the end.

But the situation today is changed. Scores of Republican "business" men say openly they will vote for Sweet. It isn't that they like him any better, though he hasn't proved in office as radical as it was thought he would be, but the Ku Klux Klan taint on the Republican state ticket is too great for many Republicans.

When the newspaper owned by Clarence Hamlin, Republican national committeeman, and a regular of the most regular kind, says editorially that a man would not lose his standing as a Republican this year if he failed to vote for the Republican state ticket, it is some indication of what is going on throughout the state.

State Ticket Not a Test.
After arguing that many Democrats of pro-Klan sympathy entered the Republican gubernatorial and senatorial primaries and succeeded in nominating men of Klan affiliations, Mr. Hamlin's newspaper, the Colorado Springs Gazette remarks:
"So far as concerns this result, the primary, many Republicans are of the opinion that, under the circumstances, support of the head of the state ticket is in no sense a test of party allegiance or of loyalty to the party's presidential nominee."

New York—The majority of those who come from the north to live in New York are the older people—people who are acclimated.

With the younger men and women who come here it is a different matter. Ambition and the desire to carry them over a wave of passion. But age does not yield well under the torments of passion.

The other day an elderly widow was found dead. She had hanged herself in the kitchen of her small apartment, and on the gas and set down in a chair to inhale the death gas.

Letters disclosed that she had lived in New York and had been married for many years, which she had come to the river offers a last resting place for many a man—and woman—who in New York could not get the days back in smaller towns where people are sympathetic.

and still New York's coldness toward the life of those about it, is difficult to understand.

It is made up largely of men and women from out yonder. A pretty miss arrived from San Francisco a few weeks ago. She said New York is the most wonderful place in the world and is living a whirl of a time.

At a stupid cabaret the other night, at which she was the center of the life of a large party, she fell to talking about the interlopers of her home city.

She had heard of, but had never seen, Tate's on the Beach, a San Francisco eating place, the most beautiful spot in which I ever dined with a full-fledged meal. She had lived in Frisco all her years, and she is life.

At a counter of knick-knacks in a department store, two very pretty salesladies were courteously and efficiently serving a surging crowd of customers.

I was quiet. "Yes, but do you love him?" I asked one of the saleswomen of her companion.

It was her part of a conversation that started more than an hour ago.

AMUSEMENTS

DELFT, WEDNESDAY

One of the most remarkable in point of ability and versatility, which has ever appeared in a motion picture, will be seen again Wednesday at the Delft theatre, where the current feature is "The Woman on the Jury," a First National picture directed by Harry O. Hoyt from the stage play by Bernard K. Burns.

Generally the cast of a picture-play consists of six to ten principals, but in "The Woman on the Jury" there are eighteen players whose names are familiar to all patrons of motion picture theaters. This huge cast of brilliant actors and actresses is but one of the many reasons why "The Woman on the Jury" has been hailed as one of the season's masterpieces.

Sylvia Dramer, who is fast ascending the ladder to stardom, is featured in the production. The remainder of the players in it including such popular favorites as entry B. Walthall, Lew Cody, Frank Mayo, Beanie Love, Mary Carr, Hobart Bosworth, Myrtle Stedman, Roy Stewart, Ford Sterling, Jean Hersholt, Arthur Lubin, Stanton Heck, Fred Warren, Arthur S. Hull, Kewpie King, J. Edward Davis and Lee White.

Based on a powerful theme, "The Woman on the Jury" relates the story of a young woman, selected for jury service, who finds that the victim of the slayer on trial is a man who has treated her in the same manner, and has narrowly escaped the same fate at her hands.

AT THE STRAND

Dick Hatton in "Four Hearts," a western drama with some big scenes, rapid action and a gripping story, is playing the Strand again today. Monday's audience liked it immensely. Hatton has an exceptional part, and is given first class support.

OUT OUR WAY By Williams

SHADY COMES UP FOR AN AIRING.

She had given herself plenty of time to dress. Holland had told her she was lovely in the moonlight, she mustn't let him change his mind. Oh, it was all so wonderful and it was happening because she was no longer Alvira Anderson. Nothing wonderful had ever happened to Alvira.

At breakfast Mr. Holland gave his curiosity free rein. He asked Vira where she lived, if she was staying in California long, and so forth. It quite taxed Vira's ingenuity to give suitable replies without telling him more than she wished to—without lying.

"I lived in Connecticut," she told him, adding, "but I have sold my home. I have no near relatives, there is no reason to keep it as I do not fancy living alone."
