British Laborite Government Nears Its Finish

CONSERVATIVES-LIBERALS COMBINE TO PASS MOTION DEMANDING INVESTIGATION

CAME INTO POWER IN JANUARY OF THIS YEAR.

(By The Associated Press.) London, Oct. 8.—Great Britain's first labor government virtually came to an end at 11 o'clock tonight, when by a combination of conservative and liberal votes, the house of commons carried a motion demanding that a select committee of the house investigate the action of the attorney general, Sir Patrick Hastings, in withdrawing prosecution in the case of Communist James R. Campbell, acting editor of the Workers Weekly, charged with inciting his majesty's forces to sedition.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION'S CHARGE DENIED

Aluminum Company Not Monopolistic, Officer Says

(By The Associated Press.) Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 8.—Charges by the federal trade commission in a recent report that the Aluminum Company of America has monopolistic tendencies and employs certain unfair practices in trade were characterized as "biased and unfair to the last degree" in a statement issued here today by Roy A. Hunt, vice president of the company.

Mr. Hunt in his statement detailed the history of the Aluminum Company of America from the time of its incorporation in 1888 to develop the patent of Charles M. Hall, who had discovered a process for recovering aluminum from its native ore, and continued:

"The Aluminum Company is not a monopoly unless it is called so because at present it is the sole producer of aluminum in the United States. Until 1909 it was protected by patents covering some of its processes but for the last fifteen years there has been no obstacle to prevent anyone entering the field. The Aluminum Company does not control the supply of bauxite nor the supply of any other raw material, all of which are abundantly obtainable at prices as low as the Aluminum Company pays. The Aluminum Company itself imports one-third of the bauxite which it uses and pays the duty of one dollar per ton thereon."

The stock of the Aluminum Company, the statement said, is practically all held by the original organizers, their estates and the employees of the company, adding that "no person, family, nor any financial group control a majority nor anything approaching a majority of the stock." The largest stockholder, the statement continued, was the inventor of the process, Charles M. Hall, now deceased, and in his will he left his stock to educational and philanthropic causes.

Hearing of Petition of C. & H. Postponed

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Oct. 8.—The hearing on the petition of the Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper Company for a revision and investigation of interstate rates on copper, scheduled for today before the public utilities commission, was adjourned until Thursday because of the absence of some essential witnesses.

The petition, which charges excessive and unfair rates from upper Michigan to the markets in the southern part of the state, names the Mineral Range, Copper Range, Ann Arbor, Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic, Grand Trunk, Manistique and Lake Superior, Pennsylvania and Marquette Railroads, and the Mackinac Transportation Company.

Muskegon Complaint Before Commission

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Oct. 8.—A hearing on the complaint of the Muskegon Chamber of Commerce that lumber rates are too high between Muskegon and Newaygo is set for Thursday before the public utilities commission. The Chamber of Commerce, presenting a commercial company in Muskegon, charges that tariffs are higher from Muskegon to Newaygo, an intermediate point, than to Grand Rapids.

GAS PROBLEMS WILL COME UP

All Phases of Industry Are To Be Looked into Carefully.

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Oct. 8.—A conference of municipal and gas utility representatives will be held with the state public utilities commission, probably in November, to discuss a wide range of gas service problems and map out a definite state of rules. The conference was originally scheduled for today but was adjourned to give the cities time to appear.

Although the commission can enforce whatever rules may be adopted only in about 25 cities in which it has jurisdiction—that is, in localities where franchisees have expired or joint petitions have been filed placing the rate fixing power with the commission—it is expected that Detroit and many other cities outside the commission's jurisdiction will be guided to a large extent by the findings of the conference.

Thermal Unit Up

One of the things to be considered is the British thermal unit requirement for gas. The commission now has a standard of at least 530 B. T. U. in many cities it was 600 until the war, when federal recommendations cut the thermal content. Regular meter inspection, pipe sizes, purity, non-sulphurous coal and uniformity of deposits, service charges, meter readings and payments will be considered. According to the commission engineers, the use of the 3/4 inch pipe instead of the recommended 1 1/4 inch decreases the pressure in the pipe to such an extent that when a user is consuming a fairly large amount the volume of low pressure gas passing through the meter registers a greater charge than he should be required to pay.

NORTHERN IOWA WEST'S HOTTEST BATTLE GROUND

Coolidge Leads in Early Informal Straw Ballots.

(By The Associated Press.) (Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.) Sioux City, Iowa, Oct. 8.—This is a city in which the view point of three neighboring states, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Iowa, tend to converge, and the amount of La Follette sentiment noticeable is an outstanding characteristic.

It may be because in this region the agricultural depression hit its hardest blows. Possibly it was because land speculation and other economic errors found more victims here than elsewhere. Anyway, there is a distinct anti-administration tone to the situation and President Coolidge is obviously on the defensive.

The result of the balloting in these three states should be examined after election day for reasons other than the tallying of electoral votes. If the combined Democratic-La Follette vote should exceed that of President Coolidge, the senators from this section will feel encouraged to keep up their differences with the administration. Should the president, however, poll a majority of the votes he can feel that his administration and conservatism generally have been approved. It may have a bearing on the vitality of the farm bloc in the next congress.

Brookhart's Following Split.

While there is much talk about La Follette, and unquestionably the protest vote will be large, the question now is how big a lead will the Wisconsin senator get in this end of Iowa where organized labor and farmers are contributing so materially to his cause. The informal polls taken show President Coolidge in the lead but La Follette a close second. If western Iowa alone were to decide the result, it might be a simple matter to reach a conclusion but the other sections of the state must be canvassed in order to form an intelligent estimate. The writer proceeds to Des Moines tomorrow.

There are, however, certain signs in this part of Iowa that Senator Brookhart will not carry with him all the Republican voters and that his outspoken vice-presidential nominee will cost him some regular votes he might otherwise have got. Several conservative Republicans, for instance, are openly saying that they intend to vote for Dan Stech, the Democratic candidate for U. S. senator. If Mr. Brewer had kept out of the independent Republican column, undoubtedly Senator Brookhart would have had his lead in the state cut down.

The Republicans who favor Brookhart, on the other hand, are not all of them hostile to President Coolidge. It all depends on how many Republicans can be carried along by Brookhart to the LaFollette column. Still the Republican majority in this state is so big that the party would have to be split fifty-fifty to make Iowa go for LaFollette, though a coalition of Democrats and La Follette votes might be sufficient to squeeze the state for the third party candidate.

Hall Quest Will Not Name Co-Respondent in Suit for Divorce

Woman Disappears As Decree Is Granted

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Oct. 8.—The divorce granted here yesterday to Dr. Alfred Lawrence Hall Quest, head of the extension department of the University of Pittsburgh, from Mrs. Shirley K. Hall Quest, today revealed a strange romance wherein a deserted husband and an abandoned wife have sued for divorce that their erring mates may marry, each refusing to name openly as co-respondents the spouse of the other.

Both Mrs. Hall Quest and the man for the love of whom she left her husband and defied the conventions, has disappeared today. Friends professed to be without knowledge of the couple who had been living in Evanston as "Mr. and Mrs. William Hart," but expressed the opinion that they have gone into hiding until next week when the suit for divorce brought by the wife of the man with whom Mrs. Hall Quest became infatuated, will be heard in Cincinnati.

'COULDN'T HOLD 'EM,' JOHNSON'S ONLY COMMENT

Harris Philosophical; Zachary To Work Today

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 8.—Walter Johnson said today after he was beaten for the second time during the world series by the Giants that it was doubtful if he would play ball next year.

The big pitcher, who waited 18 years to get into a baseball classic, would not elaborate on his statement, but did deny a report that he bought stock in the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast League.

"I couldn't hold 'em," he said, referring to the game which he evidently considered to be his last appearance in a world series, if not in big league baseball.

REST OF SERIES TO BE FOUGHT OUT IN CAPITAL.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 8.—A rousing reception, much like that accorded victorious football teams by college students, was given the Washington baseball team upon its return from New York late tonight. A crowd estimated at more than 5,000 was at Union Station and cheered the team to the echo.

"Tough luck, Barney," was the word shouted more than once to Johnson who was defeated in today's game. Commissioner Landis was with the team as they passed through the banked lines of humanity.

The Giants were on the train with the Senators, and all came through the gates together, but it was clear that the ovation was all for the home team, who were cheered collectively and individually. The reception given Johnson, Goslin and Harris was the loudest.

The forces of McGraw, who shares the present record of three world series victories with Connie Mack and his Athletics, are heavy favorites tonight to carry off the major honors in one of the game's most spectacular battles, for today they spiked Washington's big gun and left the Senators with shattered resources for the rest of the fight.

Smith went to Washington last week to explain the situation in Detroit to L. G. Nutt, head of the narcotic section of the department of justice and other officials. As a result the Detroit force will be increased and efforts to get at the "big men" in the traffic in much the same way as the alleged Hamtramck liquor was rounded up.

and removed the last uncertainty over the outcome.

Shays In Box.
Under this terrific bombardment it seemed foolhardy for Manager "Bucky" Harris to keep Johnson in the game, the outcome of which meant so much to the Senators' championship hopes.

In Johnson's declaration after the game that he may retire from the game next season for all time may be the real reason for keeping him to the last. It was to be the veteran's final battle, he wanted to be on the firing line to the last, even in the face of crushing defeat.

Johnson's famous fast ball, which forced the Giants to 12 batters in the opening game, held no terrors today. The National League champions pounded him for 13 safe blows and bunched three of them in each of the third, fifth and eighth innings when they did all their scoring.

"Goose" Gets Homer.
Jack Bentley, southpaw star, opposed Johnson and held the Senators to one run until the eighth inning when he left under an outburst that was started by Goslins' homer, a blow that gave the slugging "Goose" a tie with Babe Ruth for the greatest number of circuit clouts made in a single series.

SECOND INNING.
SENATORS—Goslin beat out an infield hit. Wilson took Judge's fly. Terry dropped Bluege's fly but Goslin was caught at second. Frisch to Jackson. Frisch threw out Miller. No runs. One hit. No errors.

THIRD INNING.
SENATORS—Kelly sent up a high foul to Miller. Terry went out at first, to Judge unassisted. Judge raced over to the stands and took Wilson's foul. No runs. No hits. No errors.

FOURTH INNING.
SENATORS—Judge singled of the right field wall. Bluege sacrificed. Bentley to Terry. Jackson threw out Ruel at first. Jackson scored on Miller's single to right field. Miller tried to stretch it but went out. Young to Frisch. One run. Two hits. No errors.

EIGHTH INNING.

Johnson's second defeat at the hands of the New York Giants today cast somewhat of a gloom over Washington tonight. Fans were disappointed because Johnson again failed in an effort to annex a world series victory to his long string of wins for the Senators.

Return of the Senators tonight, however, brightened matters to some extent, and from practically every quarter satisfaction was expressed that the battle ground for the world's baseball championship had shifted from the Polo Grounds to Griffith Stadium.

The capital took as an omen of good luck, Clark Griffith's winning the toss of the coin to determine where the seventh game of the series will be played, should the Senators even the count with the Giants by a victory tomorrow.

CONSERVATIVES JOIN LIBERALS AGAINST LABOR

The labor government of Ramsay MacDonald came into power in Great Britain in January of the present year, when the conservative ministry of Stanley Baldwin, which had been at the helm a few months, was dismissed by a vote of the commons, with a vote of lack of confidence because of its espousal of protection.

The defeat of the Baldwin administration was the culmination of a Laborite amendment to the reply to the king's speech from the throne. The amendment declared that it was the duty of the house "respectfully to submit to your majesty that your majesty's present advisers have not the confidence of the house."

The amendment was adopted by a vote of 238 to 250 after Mr. MacDonald had moved closure on the debate. At the time of MacDonald's assumption of power at the request of King George, it was realized that at any time if by coalition of their vote, the liberals and the conservatives could overthrow him on a question of high import, for in the general elections of December 1923 the conservatives had 259 and the liberals 159 seats, while the laborites had only 191.

London, Oct. 8.—The house of lords tonight passed the second reading of the Irish boundary bill without amendment, but, by a vote of 71 to 38, carried Lord Salisbury's declaratory motion that the house "takes note" of the opinions expressed in preliminary and otherwise contemplated nothing more than a readjustment of the boundaries. This amendment is not added to the bill itself and has no effect.

why Cherry's chances are excellent. The Democratic vote is relatively small, however, and before the end of the campaign Governor McMaster, a radical who is supporting President Coolidge more or less perfunctorily, may capture the lead.

Coolidge Chances Good.
There is another reason why South Dakota is unique. The third party has had a long start there. As in Minnesota a Farmer-Labor party has sprung up. But the Democrats who were forced into third place by the situation in 1920 moved back into second place in 1922 when the Republicans polled about 75,000 votes, the Democrats 55,000 and the third party 40,000 votes. La Follette seems to be assured of a consolidated support notwithstanding the distributed effort of the seven senatorial candidates.

The race is between La Follette and Coolidge in South Dakota with the situation so arranged on account of the local interests that Mr. Coolidge has a fairly good chance of carrying the electoral vote.

AIR HISTORY IS BEING MADE BY HUGE DIRIGIBLE

(By The Associated Press.)

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 8.—For the first time in the history of aerial navigation, a dirigible airship came to rest at the landing place west of the Mississippi river tonight, when the naval ship Shenandoah, was successfully moored at a mooring mast here.

The huge dirigible which is now making a 9,000-mile jaunt for research purposes of the United States navy was sighted at 7:10 p. m. central standard time. The arrival in Fort Worth completed the first 1,400-mile lap of the tour.

The ship first passed over the landing field at an elevation of approximately 2,000 feet and after "pancaking" near the surface, it signalled that it was having difficulty in transmitting radio messages because of the interference of a Fort Worth station radiocasting a musical program.

Immediately after the stopping of the local radiocasting the ship instructed the ground crew as to the details of making the huge ship fast.

A few minutes after the warping of the craft was started, the principal windlass was forced to stop because of a shortage of gasoline and immediately a large crew of men working in shifts of eight each, volunteered to keep the machinery turning. The warping was not so rapid, but the work was steady.

Another bit of trouble that seemed to be inevitable, and which would have caused the entire warping operation to be repeated, was discovered when the engineer in charge of the principal windlass noticed that a cable was about to come apart when it had been spliced.

The warping was stopped for a moment, Lieutenant R. E. Davenport, executive officer of the landing field, took charge and after a few moments' rapid work the danger was removed and the warping was continued.

The gang plank was dropped from the nose of the craft to the deck of the mooring mast at 9:52 but the passengers of the dirigible could not leave until a block and tackle was attached to the mooring cable.

Wood Leaves First.
The first person to leave the Shenandoah was Julius Wood, the only newspaper correspondent that has been permitted to make the trip. He was followed soon afterwards by Admiral W. A. Moffet, chief of the bureau of aeronautics, who is the official observer of the trip.

Lieutenant Commander Zachary Lansdowne, the captain of the Shenandoah, also came to the ground to meet the welcoming committee, but remained at the field to supervise the refueling of the ship.

A crowd estimated by local officials to vary from 20,000 to 25,000 people came to the field, which is six and a half miles north of Fort Worth, to witness the arrival of the craft.

The Shenandoah will leave Fort Worth on the next leg of its trip to Lakeview, Wash., and return at 9 a. m. central standard time. During the night approximately 1,500 gallons of gasoline were placed aboard the craft, in addition to more water ballast and food supplies for the crew.

Radio Industry Is Looking Up, Report
(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—The official information as to the output of the rapidly growing infant radio industry was made public by the census bureau today showing the value of radio apparatus and tubes to have aggregated $48,032,927 last year.

The biennial census of manufacturers for 1923 disclosed radio apparatus valued at $48,460,676 was manufactured. That included 414,588 tube receiving sets valued at $12,065,992; 116,497 crystal receiving sets valued at $550,201; 1,973 transmitting sets valued at $900,230; 1,889,514 head sets valued at $5,352,441; and 608,024 loud speakers valued at $5,202,961. Also included were 1,700,024 transformers valued at $3,773,213; 1,089,721 rheostats valued at $716,774; and 355,161 lightning arresters valued at $196,524.

Korean Bandits Active Despite Japanese Police
(By The Associated Press.)

Seoul, Korea.—Eighty-one persons, policemen and civilians, were killed by Korean bandits operating along the Korean-Manchurian border during the first six months of 1924, according to a statement issued by the authorities of Korea.

Bandit gangs, composed mostly of Koreans who have fled from Korea since the Japanese annexation, have their bases in Manchurian territory across the Yalu River and make frequent raids. During the first half of 1924, according to the government's statement, they made 336 such raids, killing 81 persons, setting fire to 29 houses, frequently cutting telegraph wires and exchanging shots with the Japanese police on 49 occasions. The police killed 14 and captured six of the bandits in these skirmishes.

Super-Power Radio Stations Proposed at Annual Meeting

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 8.—Installation of super-power radio broadcasting stations under experimental licenses by which the government might discontinue them within a year if their operation eliminated others from the field, loomed at the third national radio conference today as the solution for the super-power problem which has been before the delegates since the conference opened.

The delegates, who were invited to Washington by Secretary Hoover to discuss general problems of the radio industry, called at the White House today and were addressed by President Coolidge, who declared for the preservation of the freedom of the air at all costs, and who pointed out the responsibility of the broadcaster in sending out programs that reach into the nation's homes.

The suggested solution of the super-power problem was made as a recommendation to a subcommittee of the conference considering the general question by Walter A. Strong, representing the American Newspaper Publishers' Association. With other representatives of publisher-broadcasters, Mr. Strong has been opposed to any authorization by the government for an increase in the amount of power which may be used by radio stations.

David Sarnoff, vice president and general manager of the Radio Corporation of America, expressed the willingness of his concern to erect a super-station within several miles of New York City, on the condition that it would be closed down by the government within a year if it created undue interference with other stations, or did not meet with popular approval.

The general session of the conference today was given over to open discussions of general radio problems. Questions of wave length, allocations, and marine radio interference with land broadcasting were discussed.

Swedish Steamers Plan Increase in Service Over Seas
(By The Associated Press.)

Stockholm.—Encouraged by the fact that the total gross income of the Swedish merchant marine last year rose to $66,000,000, as against $60,500,000 during the previous year, and that the total foreign trade of Sweden rose to a value of $661,700,000, an increase of more than 9 per cent, a number of Swedish shipping companies have taken definite steps to start new passenger and freight services on overseas routes, especially between Sweden and ports in North and South America.

The Svea Line, which has hitherto plied its trade chiefly between Sweden and England will start a new regular freight service to North America, and has just purchased two steam vessels in England and a 7,200-ton seagoing motorship in Sweden for the service. The Swedish North Star Line, usually known as the Johnson Line, is increasing its fleet in transoceanic service, and has just ordered from the Gotaverken shipyards in Gothenburg two motorships of 7,100 tons each, equipped for combined passenger and freight service to South America.

Highway Crossings Are Investigated by Utilities Board
(By The Associated Press.)

Efforts to guard against dangerous road crossings and reduce the number of crossing accidents are to be made by the state public utilities commission. Several applications for permission to cross highways with tracks, received recently by the commission, are being subjected to close scrutiny, and stringent rules will probably be laid down regarding location of crossings and adequate guards or warning signals.

The policy the commission has adopted, it was said today, is of compelling grade separations wherever possible and of keeping the number of unseparated crossings to a minimum. It was pointed out that several accidents have occurred near Grand Rapids, despite the fact that warning signals and safeguards were prescribed and reported have been received by the commission from several other unseparated crossings of fatalities and injuries in the face of supposedly careful efforts to make them as safe as possible.

GAS SCRUBBED BEHIND EARS

Plant Gives It Thorough Bath Before It Goes Into Mains.

Did you know that they scrub the gas you burn in the kitchen stove? Behind the ears, 'n' everything?

Take City Manager Fred Harris' word for it, they do, and with a vengeance.

"Gas to be presentable must be scrubbed before it is sent out to cook meals, and heat water," Mr. Harris said. "This is just one step in the process through which gas goes at our plant."

All of the steps, from the time they give the soft coal the "third degree" in the coke ovens until they store the finished product in large holders will be shown and explained to all who visit the plant this week.

Guides who will take visitors through the gas works will be men who know the industry and can answer any questions concerning operation of the plant. This, Mr. Harris explained, is the main reason for inviting their customers to inspect the plant, that any portions of the gas business which have not been understood can be explained.

Wants Folks to Know.

"We know that most folks have a very slight knowledge of how gas is made," he said. "We want everybody in Escanaba to understand fully the interesting series of operations performed before the gas is piped through the mains to the homes."

IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 8.—Just before the World War an ambitious Russian had taken his young daughter to Germany that her eyes, dimmed at birth, might be opened to see the beauties and wonders of a progressing world.

The operation was a success and the girl's sight was restored just as the war broke out. Father and daughter came to America, as had been originally planned, but without returning to Russia for mother and the remainder of the family.

Turmoil followed. The mother and babies could not get to the United States. The father, opening a small laundry in New York, slaved and saved for the coming of his flock.

It is related to me that he lived in such frugal fashion that he suffered. Then, a few weeks ago, with all arrangements made for the reunion of his long-separated family, he rented an apartment and furnished it with luxuries such as neither he nor his family ever before had known. No expense was spared to make the home a wonder mansion for his loved ones.

At time for the arrival of the boat came, the young Russian could scarce contain himself. He longed to take his wife and children to his bosom and nestle them forever—in reward for the years of loneliness.

The boat landed and his family came on the pier. His wife would have nothing to do with him. She would pay no attention, would listen to no plea.

On the journey to America, after her long years of mothering a brood, she fell in love with a younger man and has cast her lot with him.

The husband she had known only in dreams and memory for so long is heartbroken and forsaken. The lavishly furnished apartment has never been opened. Dust an inch thick has settled in it.

Last evening was spent with three generations of an interesting family. The grandfather, 81, plays the piano with nimble fingers; his daughter has bobbed hair and her son is an aviator.

All three smoke cigars. All spend much time in the opera. They live on Long Island in a quaint home, with a spacious sunken garden surrounding it, just 22 minutes from Broadway.

Their home life is as domestic as in any small, western community. Radio, reading and early to bed. Yet they are sophisticated as those whose rooms overlook Times Square.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

Tells you there is danger ahead. A healthy bladder does not act at night. J. H. Barton, W. Graham, Va., says: "I had to get up seven or eight times at night for forty years. I thought it was my age. After taking Lithiated Buchu a short time, I am alright." Lithiated Buchu cleanses the bladder as Epsom Salts do the bowels, thereby relieving irritation, driving out foreign matter and neutralizing excessive acids. These are the causes of unnatural action of the bladder at night. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) is not a cheap medicine. The tablets cost 2 cents each. Sold at all leading drug stores of Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at City Drug Store.—Adv.

Section of Elm Is Given to Filipinos

(By The Associated Press.)

Manila—A section of the old elm tree in Cambridge, Mass., under which General George Washington took command of the American army on July 3, 1775, has been donated to the Filipino people by the board of park commissioners of that city, and will be preserved in the Philippine Library and Museum.

A letter from the governor general's office transmitting the gift to the library says: "Attached hereto is a piece of wood donated to the people of the Philippine Islands by the board of park commissioners of Cambridge, Mass., which is a part of the tree under which General Washington first took command of the American army July 3, 1775. The governor general directs that this piece of wood be enclosed in a glass case and given the position of prominence to which it is entitled by reason of its historic association."

Russia Is Winning Fight on Malaria

Moscow.—The International Malaria commission of the League of Nations, which has been visiting Russia to investigate the malaria epidemic, has completed its work and approved generally the efforts of the Russians to combat the disease.

One of the commissioners said recently that the epidemic seems to have passed in most of the affected areas, but there are a number of localities where it still prevails due to the shortage of quinine.

NOTICE

I find there is a certain bunch having a lot of fun over the "Delta County Free-for-All Horse race." This horse, "After Helen," was booked by one and all to win the race in which she only got third money. I surely didn't use good horse sense when I started "After Helen" that day, as she was not herself, had no right to start her after racing in the 2:15 class the day before. Now, boys, I am game and want to prove to you that she can beat all your trotters and pacers.

I challenge Arthur Hill, Direct M., and that 2:15 trotter Him owns. Race mile heats, 3 in 5, for fun or money. Name your terms as I am ready now. I hope you horsemen won't disappoint me as I certainly mean business.

A "GOOD TOWN?" Menominee may be the "Good Town" its slogan claims for it.

Menominee may be the "Good Town" its slogan claims for it, but there is developing a well founded feeling in the peninsula that the Menominee spirit is athletics sadly belies the city's slogan.

In order to promote that spirit of fair dealing and fair play, upon which all clean athletics must be founded, Escanaba found it necessary this week to pay $432 in addition to a contract price, to the managements of the St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians.

On a barn-storming trip through this section, that definite proof might be given that backers of athletics as a whole in the peninsula are men whose word is as good as their bond and who do not approve of short sport methods such as have come to be practiced at Menominee.

The only possible excuse that could be offered for Menominee wenching on its original contract with the barn-stormers was the fact that an exhibition game had also been booked by the two teams at Escanaba.

The treatment accorded the major leaguers at Menominee is thoroughly in keeping with the spirit that permitted a Menominee high school football team to be withdrawn from the field at Ironwood two years ago.

When such practices are permitted by a city in its high school athletics, the treatment accorded a group of major league baseball players in that city on Monday, is not to be wondered at.

HE WAS ALMOST PRESIDENT. You remember that momentous night eight years ago when everyone thought Hughes had been elected president over Wilson.

Next day the public and politicians were not so sure. The remote districts of California were still to be heard from.

You recall how the country waited breathlessly day after day while those scattered California votes were counted and reported.

Those few thousand scattered California votes turned the tide—elected Wilson instead of Hughes.

If a few thousand Californians who voted had stayed away from the polls, Hughes would have gone into the White House.

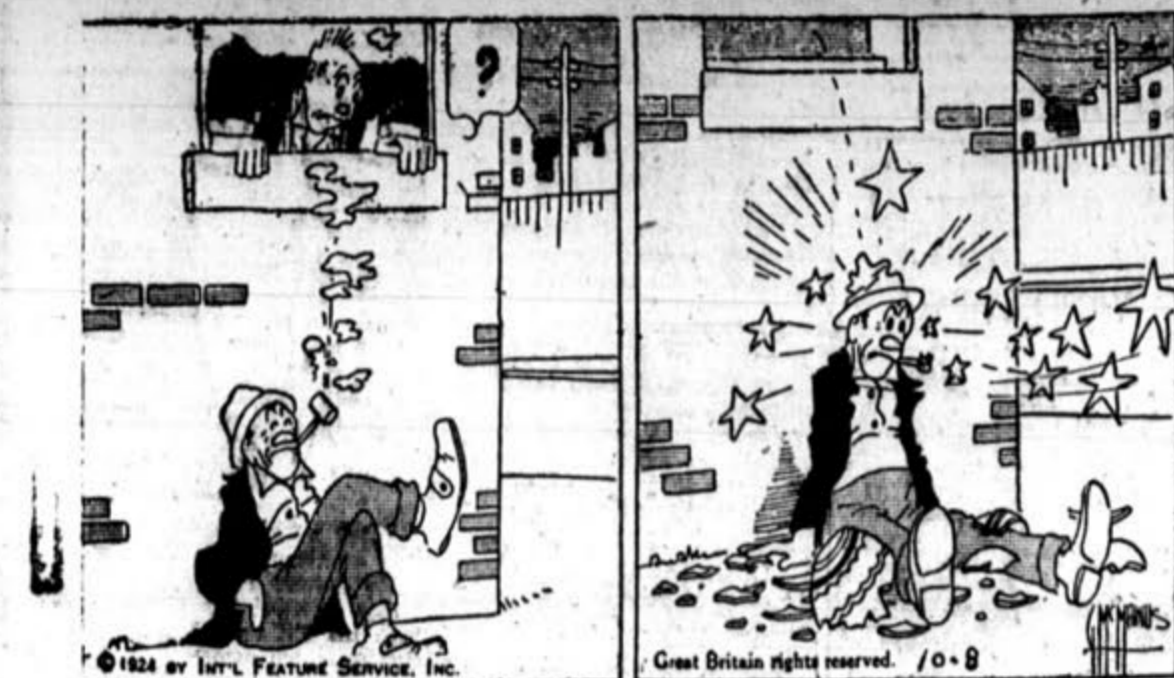

How, then, can any one delude himself into believing that his lone individual vote "doesn't count much"?

Vote without fail! YOUR vote is needed! WHERE SHALL THAT DOLLAR GO?

MELANCHOLY NOTE ON THE WANE OF AN HISTORIC ART

THE ASH TRAY has replaced the cuspidor in this land of the spree and America's tobacco dollars are going up in smoke.

This nation was built by a race of men whose hard-shelled shirt fronts were disfigured by the brown polka-dotted globules which, tossed into the breeze, were blown back to stamp the topper with the brand of a slave to the nicotine eating habit.

Founders of our national literature locked themselves in their studios with a pen, a ream of paper, a plug of tobacco and a coal hod and emerged, after many blinding, wearing hours of concentrated mental exertion, rumination and expectation, with manuscripts of the masterpieces of our present-day libraries.

Fewer "leaves to print," fewer franked envelopes, fewer cigars and cigars and more chewing tobacco will solve the weak sister problem in the national capitol.

WALTER JOHNSON will beat New York in his next world's series start. We had that assurance from Dave Danforth and Ken Williams.

Oh, well, Menominee always has been and probably always will be just Menominee.

SAN FRANCISCO INTERESTS

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters. Alvirra Anderson, an orphan, is left alone by the death of her Aunt Drucilla who raised her.

After a bit, tiring, Vira sat down in a public park. She noted the hotel faced the park and recalling that Holland said it was gay if expensive, she decided to go in and have some tea and look about.

As Vira sipped her tea she noticed frequent glances of admiration cast in her direction. She knew she looked smart. She knew that her clothes were becoming.

With all the self-assurance of a seasoned traveler Vira registered at one of the small hotels recommended by Holland. Her room was small but neat and comfortable and she had a good view of the city from her windows.

any American industry. But more competition from the cheap products of Europe and Asia must mean lower prices for commodities, and lower prices must mean lower wages, or no wages at all.

According to their own statements, the Democratic candidates for President and Vice-President, and for the Senate and House, want lower tariff rates as a means of increasing competition in the American market.

ed in the Chinese and Japanese stores, asking many questions, gaining information wherever she happened to be, never feeling alone, ever lonely.

Often Vira had to remind herself that she mustn't be extravagant, and nearly as often the reminder went unheeded. She just couldn't resist purchasing. She made some acquaintances in her hotel, all women. The men she scarcely saw. They seemed different from the men who frequented the other hotels in the city.

Vira found the women were rather curious, some of them inquisitive. They asked her questions, wanted to know when her husband died, what business he had been engaged in, and so forth. Before long, Vira found she had woven quite a history around John Anderson, the phantom husband.

"He was in the real-estate business," Vira answered the question without thinking. Afterward she justified the statement to herself in the knowledge that real estate was safe and respectable.

"Strange, you have no relatives at all," one woman said suspiciously. "Not strange but unfortunate," Vira answered, glad she could be honest. "I was an only child and was orphaned when very young. I was raised by a maiden aunt who also has passed away."

Drucilla had always worn a plain gold band on one of her fingers and when she died Vira had slipped it on. Later when Vira decided to call herself Mrs. she had clipped the ring onto the wedding ring finger.

"You wear a very old-fashioned wedding ring for so young a woman," the curious and observing one said.

"Yes, my aunt had worn it all her life." She had cleverly parried her time, but Vira made up her mind to avoid women, especially the inquisitive sort. To tell the truth, women did not interest her at this time. The city, the marvelous drives, Golden Gate Park, the shops both gorgeous and quaint occupied her time; but not to the exclusion of her interest in the other sex. Vira compared the men to those she had known in Mentone, speculated about them, wondered if they were married, if not, why not. She wondered what they thought of her when she observed their glances. If she knew them would they care for her or would they be indifferent like the men at home?

Vira's bringing up had made her very innocent although she was mentally alert. She knew nothing of sex attraction. Even books that had treated of it had been taboo in her aunt's home. Vira never consciously flirted, had been taught to believe it was unladylike, common. Yet when a man spoke to her she invariably replied, and had made one or two acquaintances in that way. But they had spoken as gentlemen, had not seemed forward or bold, just kind.

FINGERPRINTS "FIT" BURGLAR

Proof That Viokowski Took Glass Shelf from Cracked Window.

Fingerprints on the glass shelf in the show window of the Blomstrom & Petersen store on the night of Nov. 21, last, when jewelry valued at $2,100 was stolen by burglars, were left there by John Viokowski, according to state police experts who have examined Viokowski's prints.

Viokowski had confessed to having a part in the robbery, but insisted that Peter Ritel, also charged with the crime, broke the window and removed the gems.

During the last ten months, since the robbery, the state police have examined more than fifty sets of fingerprints of men who police thought may have participated in the robbery. Viokowski's was the first, however, that brought back a "positive reaction" from the constabulary barracks at Negaunee.

Viokowski has announced that he would plead guilty to robbing the window. Ritel, held along with Viokowski, and Mike Koski, the alleged "selling agent" for the robbers, have not made statements regarding the affair.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

Thomas Meighan's new Paramount picture, "The Confidence Man," which will be shown at the Delft for the first time today, is a crook romance with a brand new angle and bristling with puns—and not unlike "The Miracle Man."

In the story, the star has the role of Dan Corvan, the greatest of all confidence men. He is the master-mind type of crook rather than the plug-ugly kind. Corvan hooks an old sucker, Queritt, falls in love with a young courtier girl, (Virginia Valli) plays philanthropist to get "in right" with the town-folk, collects from Queritt and prepares to skip town.

But the real action starts when Corvan is exposed for the crook he is. Laurence Wheat and Charles Dow Clark have prominent supporting roles in the cast. Others include Helen Lindroth, Jimmy Lapsley, Margaret Seddon, David Higgins, George Nash and Dorothy Walters.

AT THE STRAND.

Alma Rubens and Conrad Nage appear together as stars for the first time in "The Rejected Woman," which will be shown at the Strand again today, and the producers are to be congratulated on the superb performance of these favorites in John Lynch's powerful drama of modern-day life. The theme gives both Miss Rubens and Mr. Nage acting opportunities such as they have never had; the role also gives Miss Rubens a chance to wear marvelous clothes, an always welcome opportunity for an actress of such beauty. In featured roles are the ever-absent Wyndham Standing and Leonora Hughes, internationally celebrated dancer and beauty, with a supporting cast of distinguished actors.

Others in the cast are Bela Lugosi, known as the Hungarian Barrymore, Antonio D'Alig, George MacQuarrie, Madama LaViolette, Fred Burton and Aubrey Smith. In support of these people there are a dozen New York society and stage celebrities, who appeared in the episodes depicting the gay home life of the hero.

MARKET SHOWS LITTLE CHANGE

(By The Associated Press.)

STOCK SALES SUMMARY. Date: Twenty Industrials, Twenty Railroads. Wednesday 101.07 89.55. Tuesday 101.25 89.49. Week ago 103.28 91.66. High 1924 104.13 93.15. Low 1924 90.27 81.00. Total stock sales 489,400 shares.

New York, Oct. 8.—Except for rather brisk selling of some of the high priced public utilities just before the close, trading in today's stock market was extremely sluggish with prices in the general list moving irregularly lower. Absence of many traders in observance of the Jewish religious holiday was reflected in the volume of business, total sales again approximating half a million shares.

U. S. Steel common fluctuated within a range of 1/4 of a point, closing unchanged at 107 1/2.

Baldwin and Studebaker scored small fractional recessions.

General Electric closed more than 3 points lower at 250 1/2 after having sold as high as 255 1/2.

Consolidated Gas of Baltimore and Nash Motors each broke about five points while losses of 3 points or more were recorded by American Water-work, West Penn Power and Virginia Railway and Power.

Central Railroad of New Jersey broke 12 points on one sale. North American, the most active feature in the public utility dropped 1 1/2 to 33 1/2.

Further accumulation of Jordan Motors sent that stock up to a new high record for the year at 35 1/2, recent buying being based on high current earnings.

New peak prices also were attained by Packard preferred, Nash Motors preferred, International Nickel preferred and Federal Light and Traction preferred.

Chandler touched another new low at 30 1/2, and then rallied to 30 1/2 for a net loss of 1 1/2 on the day. General Motors and Great Western Sugar also sold at new low prices.

Railroad shares held relatively firm. Money rates held steady. Call money was unchanged at 2 percent. The time money and commercial paper markets were quiet with borrowers manifesting little interest.

Extreme irregularity characterized the foreign exchange market. Dom and Sterling moved up more than a cent to 44.47 and French francs fluctuated around 5.20 cents. Silver exchanges touched new highs.

Further weakness cropped up in Japanese yen which yielded 3/4 to 38 1/2.

HIAWATHA HIVE BANNER WINNER

The fourteenth semi-annual meeting of the Delta-Schoolcraft county association of Lady Macabees was held at the Odd Fellows Hall, Manistique, on Tuesday, October 7, with both afternoon and evening sessions.

Outside delegates were present from Gladstone and Escanaba, and a delegation of visiting Macabees from the Munising Hive was also in attendance.

At the afternoon session the Delta-Schoolcraft county association banner was presented to Hiawatha Hive, as an award for bringing in the greatest amount of new insurance since the last meeting of the association in May. Hiawatha Hive also received a large American flag, as a personal gift from the Great Deputy Commander, Ida T. Scott.

An individual prize for the Lady Macabee bringing in the greatest amount of insurance went to Mrs. C. Ekberg of this city. This prize consisted of a beautiful gold Macabee emblem.

Following the afternoon session, the ladies marked in a body to the M. E. Church, where a sumptuous banquet was served by the ladies of the church. The Methodist ladies received much praise from the Macabees for this fine banquet.

At 7 p. m. the meeting was again called to order, and a class of ten members was given the full initiatory work of the order.

A very pleasing literary-musical program was presented after the initiation, and at this time a beautiful exhibition of floor work was put on by Hiawatha Hive.

The ladies were attired in pure white and the drill was a very impressive sight, perfectly executed.

The next meeting of the association will be held with Escanaba Hive 351 at Escanaba next May.

Vernon Quintet Playing Tonight At Auditorium

Paul Vernon and his Cleveland Symphonic Quintet will appear at the Manistique high school auditorium tonight, the opening number of the 1924-25 entertainment course. The second number, "The Jackson Jubilee Singers," will be presented on October 13, one week from Saturday.

Tonight's program starts at 8:15. The aim of the Cleveland Symphonic Quintet is to present the best in musical art in such a way that it can be enjoyed by all, and especially by those who believe themselves unmusical, as well as the musically cultured. It is headed by Paul Vernon, for several seasons a leading violinist with the famous Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, a man who believes implicitly in the future of American music, knows how to make a popular entertainment instructive and knows how to entertain. He has chosen a group of artists whose abilities are beyond cavil.

The Quintet uses two violins, a viola and organ. In the viola and organ department, played by Mr. Lloyd Da Costa Jones, is a feature of which comparatively few such organizations can boast.

Mr. Vernon is eminently fitted as director, principal violin and violin soloist of the Quintet. He is a graduate of the Illinois Wesleyan College of both Liberal Arts and Music, and following his graduation, was instructor in the same school. At twenty-one he headed the violin department of the Gray Musical College at Bloomington, and was also conductor of the choral society and orchestra. During the war he took a prominent part in the musical work of the navy, stationed at Great Lakes and Newport, R. I., and then followed three active years of teaching in the Metropolitan School of Music and the Metropolitan Conservatory. He studied with Sametini and played in the Chicago Civic Orchestra under Frederick Stock and after with the Cleveland Symphony.

Lloyd Da Costa Jones was a member of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra for four years. He studied with Max I. Fischel of Chicago and the great master, Eugene Yaase. He has played under many noted conductors, including Reiner, Gabilowitch and Dohnanyi. William H. Chesman, viola artist, is a product of the Oberlin Conservatory. He has wide experience in chamber music groups and symphony orchestras. William Carver Williams, Jr., cellist, is one of Chicago's gifted soloists, a son of Day Williams, well known artist of that city. Like the other members of the Quintet, he possesses rare talents and has enjoyed extensive concert appearances.

Give Reception And A Farewell

A combined farewell party and reception will be given at the Methodist Church recreation rooms on Friday evening of this week.

The reception is for Rev. J. H. Giddon, who was recently re-assigned to the Manistique M. E. Church for another year. At the same time, a farewell party will be held for the W. W. Pray family, who expect to leave Manistique soon to make their home at Highland Park, Detroit. Mr. Pray is one of the officials of the local church, and took an active part in the building program, which was pushed to a successful completion.

An interesting program of music and speaking has been arranged for the event, which will begin at 7:30 Friday evening. All members of the church, or friends of the families for whom the party is given, are invited to attend.

RETAIL LUMBER DEALERS MEET AT MANISTIQUE

Lumber dealers from all sections of the Upper Peninsula will gather at Manistique on Saturday, October 11, for the annual meeting of the Cleveland Retail Lumberman's Club, which will be held at the Odd Fellows' Hall in this city. The meeting will open at 2:30 p. m. on Saturday.

Officers will be elected for the coming year, and other regular business of the club will be transacted. Following the business session, there will be a banquet and a dance.

Every retail lumberman's club in the upper peninsula is expected to be represented at this meeting.

Word has been received at Manistique of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Weingartner, late of this city, now residing at Albany. The baby boy weighed nine pounds, and has been named Gordon Arnold Anthony.

TWO BIDDERS ON NEW ROAD

Hill and Belknap, contractors, of East Tawas, and Hill Brothers Construction Company of Munising were the only bidders on the new concrete trunk line project through the city of Manistique.

Bids on this new road were received at the office of the Schoolcraft county road commissioners on Tuesday. The road is divided into two sections. Section A, 2,232 miles in length, will be surfaced with concrete to a width of 26 feet. Both contracting firms bid on this, and Hill Brothers also bid on the Section B work, which consists of grading and draining only. The latter section is 1,269 miles in length.

The approximate quantity of concrete paving to be laid on the 2 1/4 miles through the city is 26,167 square yards. This will be seven inches in thickness. The sides of the road outside of the concrete are to be seeded.

Chief Continues His Inspection

Following are a few more fire prevention facts, submitted by C. E. Underwood, Manistique Fire Chief, who is making a personal inspection of every hotel, business place, and factory in the city this week:

"While you are reading this article, ten fires will be starting somewhere in the United States. When you go to bed tonight for eight hours sleep you may be sure that nearly 500 fires will start before you get up tomorrow morning. Just about a fire a minute, day in and day out, the year round. Today 1,500 fires, tomorrow 1,500 more, and so on until increased attention to fire prevention begins to cut down the yearly average."

"Every business man thinks of fire loss as something somebody else will experience. You probably think you will escape. But with a good many more than half a million separate fires starting within the year, the chances look pretty good for you to have experience with one of them sooner or later."

"Fire prevention calls for increased vigilance in the early fall when heating apparatus is put to work after months of idleness and dampness, and when fires are started anew with a great rush of the flames of kindling wood and waste paper."

"During the summer stove pipes have rusted and holes have appeared in them. Chimneys have widened certain little cracks that appeared months ago, rubbish has accumulated around the heating plant. Consider these things."

"It may save you a thousand or many thousand dollars in loss of property and business profits if you will make a careful inspection of your whole premises right away, before starting up the heating plant."

FIRST WOMEN'S CLUB MEETING OF YEAR HELD

Pledging the Manistique Women's Club to the promotion of Manistique's welfare, from an educational, social, and philanthropic standpoint, Mrs. A. S. Putnam, president of the club, delivered the opening address at the first meeting of the 1924-25 year, held in the Elks Temple Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Putnam touched on city improvements from an aesthetic viewpoint, the beautification of highways, and conservation, and declared that "individual responsibility" was necessary to attain success in each and all of these objects.

The club members' attention was called to "Fire Prevention Week," and comparison made by the president, in regard to the punishment meted out in this country and in foreign countries for carelessness causing fires. France was named as one of the countries where people careless with fires are justly punished.

Mrs. Putnam held the individual attention and interest of her listeners, and handled her topic in a manner which showed much thought and sincerity of purpose.

The Welfare Committee of the club reported a total of $167.47 collected during "Tag Day," at the Schoolcraft county fair.

A musical program, consisting of vocal solos by Mrs. George Casey of Escanaba, with Mrs. C. E. Kaye as accompanist, and piano solos by Mrs. Charles Hovey served as very pleasing opening numbers for this first meeting of the year.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed, with the members of the executive committee acting as hostesses. Refreshments were served in the dining room.

Progressives To Meet Here Tonight

LaFollette Progressives in Manistique have announced another meeting, to be held tonight in the Odd Fellows' Hall.

Services were conducted at the Odd Fellows' Hall yesterday by the Jewish people in observance of Yom Kippur, day of atonement, and several stores in the city were closed for the occasion.

CLUB WILL AID WARDEN THIS FALL

War on the game law violators, loyal support of and assistance to the game wardens in their work this fall and the building up of the organization through a membership drive are the activities arranged by the Gladstone Sportsman's club for their fall program.

In the support of the regular wardens, a plan has been adopted whereby twenty-five special deputy game wardens will be appointed by Leonard Clapp, president of the Gladstone club. The appointments will be known only to the president and they will be kept a secret.

In addition to this all members of the club and all other true sportsmen of the city are asked in duty bound to report all violations noted to the warden or to the president of the club who will hold such information in strict confidence.

The club, through these means, hopes to curb the activities of those through whose selfishness, in disregard of regulations, are ruining the sport for other hunters.

The Gladstone club is planning a drive to secure new members and to build up the organization. The membership fee is small and it is believed that there is no reason why a large active association cannot be formed.

Election.
The club also plans to furnish the Gladstone warden with mileage on his car to enable him to cover more territory in his work. Plans for the drive, a report on the Congress of Game Associations by Floyd Marble, delegate, and election of officers will be held at the next regular meeting, the time of which will be announced later.

SQUAD GOES TO MUNISING ON SATURDAY

Saturday will witness the first out of town game of the Gladstone football season when Gordon and his team will journey to Munising to meet the high squad there.

Practice has been fairly strenuous this week, while one man who has been shifted from the line to the backfield has been creating a real sensation by his brilliant work.

Munising has a light, fast team this year and should put up a good game.

The team will drive up to the game Saturday morning. The following men will make the trip, providing, to quote Coach Gordon, "they show a little more interest in the game and in practice."

ELECTION OF OFFICERS AT MEETING

Election of officers of the Fraternal Reserve association will be held tonight at the regular meeting at Wass hall.

The meeting will have as its guest E. R. Hicks of Oshkosh, supreme president, and every member of the Gladstone organization is urged to be present. Initiation will also be held.

Dates for the rummage sale to be given by the Trinity Guild at the building in which the Man's Shop is now located, have been changed. The sale will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 13, 14 and 15.

GREAT ACTING IN FILM OF CAINE STORY

A forceful story by Sir Hall Caine, and an all-star cast which includes Conrad Nagel, Mae Busch, Hobart Bosworth, Patsy Ruth Miller and Creighton Hale, combine to make noteworthy Victor Seastrom's first American production, "Name the Man," which comes today to the Community theatre.

"Name the Man!" is from the celebrated English novelist's recent best seller, "The Master of Man." It tells the striking story of a young judge whose first act of office is to pass judgment on a girl he himself wronged.

The courtroom scene, which is one of the intensely dramatic incidents in the story, calls for some of the greatest emotional and dramatic acting which has ever reached the American screen—with a man.

MARQUETTE IS PUZZLE ELEVEN

Record Shows Lots of Fight and Considerable Scoring Punch.

The Marquette high school football team—puzzle eleven of the peninsula—will be Escanaba high's next gridiron opponents, coming to South Park Saturday afternoon.

That Marquette has plenty of fight, and a scoring power at which no outfit can afford to sneeze, was demonstrated at Newberry last week when the Queen City lads, going into the final period 40 points behind, opened up an aerial attack that scored three touchdowns and enabled them to finish the game with a basketball score: Newberry 46, Marquette 20.

Any team that can come behind like that is always dangerous, and Coach Glenn Thompson is giving his squad a strenuous week's work, stressing the breaking up of aerial plays. The coach was silent after last night's scrimmage drill, and indicated that he had another stiff workout scheduled for this afternoon.

The Marquette eleven has been showing a steady improvement since the season opened. Like the Escanaba team, it is made up largely of first-year players, who are developing rapidly. Fans here may expect a zippy contest Saturday afternoon.

Manistique Next on Saints' Card

Manistique is next on the program for St. Joseph's parochial high school. The Saints go to the Schoolcraft county capital Saturday afternoon. All of Coach George W. Carr's men are in good condition, and last night's grueling scrimmage drill proved them to be ready for a strenuous tilt. Carr expects just that sort of battle, and there will be no let-down in the team's work this week.

Murphy Cops Trio of Grand Circuit Features Yesterday

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 8.—Driver Thomas W. Murphy added to his impressive showing this year by winning three races on today's Grand Circuit card, which included Phoenix for 2:04 pacers with Baron Worthy and the Ashland for 2:11 trotters with Etta Durien.

For extra measure he also won the 2:22 trot with Henry W. Oliver's Elsie Scott. Each of these was a comparatively easy winner. The real fight developed in the 2:12 pace in which winners fought it out in the final heat. Brook Volo in the stable of Lou McDonald, was a big favorite but unsteadiness almost caused his downfall. He made breaks in three of the heats in the fourth and was so much the best that he got up in time to win in a stretch battle. The first heat went to Spooks in a close finish with John S. The second went to Brook Volo that paced all the mile. Star Ruth won the third after Brook Volo and John S. got together near the quarter. McDonald was thrown and John's sulky smashed. Despite a break Brook Volo won the fourth heat and the race. Brook Volo is owned by J. J. Mooney, of Detroit.

Ladkin Is Lame; To Run Saturday

Letcher, Ky., Oct. 8.—Ladkin, August Belmont's colt, pulled up lame after working a mile and a quarter in 2:10 2/5 here today. Trainers said, however, they expected to have the horse in shape for Saturday's international special race.

Michigan Gridgers Play Poor Football

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 8.—Every football team slumps sooner or later, and the University of Michigan squad in the open practice this afternoon took its turn. Its display was peevish, but is considered a good sign, nevertheless, for it is a football tradition that a poor Wednesday practice means a good display Saturday.

There was little or no real team play. The plays were somewhat garbled. Rockwell got twisted on his own signals, Miller went half way through the line and stopped. Passes netted all the way from five to ten yards loss apiece.

Bruce Gregory, second stringer, had to get into the play before any pep was evinced. Meanwhile the scrubs played a fairly steady game and managed to put across some good plays. Martin Garber, erstwhile Oklahoma prep school flash, was the outstanding player of the day, getting through the Blue wall time after time.

Aggies Work Hard For Saturday Tilt
 East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 8.—With only three days remaining before the game with Michigan Saturday, Coach Ralph Young did not ease up perceptibly with the work of the Michigan Aggie football squad today.

He did eliminate most of the training forms liable to add to his injured list, however, in the hope that the squad could be brought up to Saturday afternoon with every member available for duty.

It was developed this afternoon that the Aggie coaches are not altogether satisfied with the varsity defense against Michigan passes as they were used by the freshmen eleven in Tuesday afternoon's scrimmage.

Bulgarians Hope To Obtain German Cigarette Trade

Plovdiv, Bulgaria.—When diplomats disagree, business sometimes goes by the board, and what is Greece's loss may become Bulgaria's gain. Just because a minister insisted French was the language of diplomacy, the tobacco growers of Plovdiv hope to find a new market for their product in Berlin.

Herr von Schoen, German minister to Greece, arrived in Athens and announced he would make his official address to the president of the Greek republic in German. But the Greek foreign minister, M. Roussos, insisted that French was the language of diplomacy in Greece as elsewhere, and said that Herr von Schoen should speak in French. The German press then took up the matter, and pointed out with resentment that a Greek minister to Germany had been permitted to make his presentation address to the president of the German Reich in Greek. The boycott on tobacco, the chief product of Greece, followed. Germany in 1923 imported 12,000,000 kilograms of tobacco, and Bulgarian growers are hoping to annex a considerable portion of the Greek shipments for at least as long as the boycott lasts.

Dr. Robert Ernest Vinsen, former head of the University of Texas, is to be inaugurated today as president of Western Reserve University. The inauguration will be followed by the dedication of the new School of Medicine of the university.

One Man Killed, Two Injured in Shooting Affray

(By The Associated Press.)
Detroit, Oct. 3.—Believed mistaken for another, Orville Atkinson, was instantly killed today, the target of a stream of bullets from the upper windows of the Rensselaer Inn at Oakwood.

Two companions, Nathan Guivo, and Richard Bruno, both wounded at the same time, were removed to a hospital.

Charles Spano, 35 years old, Highland Park, was arrested soon after the slaying and police say, confessed. He was traced through a marsh about a mile from the Inn and arrested with the aid of the shotgun he is alleged to have used in the killing.

A month ago the Inn was visited by six hi-jackers and robbed of $5,000.

Spano told the police that a week later he met three of the same thugs on the street and that they told him if he did not pass over $200 they'd kill him. He paid the money.

Tuesday, according to his story, the same trio accosted him with a demand for $150.

"I ain't got it," he said.

"Well, you bring it down to the Inn tomorrow if you know what's good for you," he claims they told him.

Spano procured two shotguns and bought a couple boxes of cartridges. Then he went to the Inn, he said, and told Charlie Nieboia, proprietor of the hotel, his story. He obtained permission to use a room on the second floor, he told police.

There he took his stand a half hour before the time when the alleged extortionists said they would come for the money. He lifted the window and leaned the barrels of his guns on the sill—and waited. He insists he was alone.

Despite Spano's story, police are inclined to suspect that Atkinson and his friends provided another case of "mistaken identity" and were shot by gangsters, who believed them rival feudists.

The man who can't remember isn't as bad as the one who can't forget.

The Escanaba hair barbers and journeymen barbers, at a meeting held last night, decided that in the future hair bobs and hair shingles in union shops will be charged for the price originally charged for the plain bob. The change was made owing to the inability of some barbers to distinguish between a bob and a shingle and the resultant mixup in prices charged in the various shops.
