

WETS ATTACK VOLSTEAD ACT IN HOUSE

COL. MITCHELL MUST RESIGN TO CARRY ON

COOLIDGE AVOIDS ENTANGLEMENT IN CASE.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1925, by the Escanaba Press.) Washington, Dec. 18.—"Another break" for President Coolidge may be recorded in the case of Colonel Mitchell. The whole country has been expecting that it would involve upon the president to ask finally whether the stormy veteran would have to be dismissed from the army and the politicians were already beginning talk of the possible effects if Mr. Coolidge made a martyr of Mitchell or if he failed to stand by the court and maintain army discipline.

The verdict is all that Mr. Coolidge could possibly wish for. He doesn't have to make the decision on dismissal from the army. In some respects the suspension for five years is a worse blow to Colonel Mitchell than dismissal for if the latter had occurred he would have been free at once to repeat his offense without further complications with army law and endeavor to win sympathy by speech-making. Under the verdict, he can of course resign and do as he pleases about criticizing the army but the initiative in leaving the army must come from him. Ordinarily an officer in the position in which Colonel Mitchell finds himself today would not be permitted to resign as he is under definite punishment which must be executed.

Think He'll Resign. The general belief now is that Colonel Mitchell will resign and that his resignation will be accepted though this will probably not take place until after he has delivered a few blasts at the military caste which tried him. The kind of thing which marked the closing hours of the court-martial is typical of what may be expected of the colonel from now on. He denounced his prosecutors and said almost as many things in criticism of the aviation policy and the army as was contained in the original denunciation for which he was being tried.

Decision Forecasted. It has been apparent for several days that the court had made up its mind not to dismiss Colonel Mitchell. The word had been passed around in inner circles that it would be a mistake to set Mitchell free. Public opinion, it was argued, had manifested itself as more or less interested in Colonel Mitchell's denunciation because there was nothing personal in his remarks and, besides, he had made a record in the European war which entitled him to a hearing.

Meanwhile the friends of aviation development who have not been mixed up in the Mitchell case are afraid the big issue of aircraft expansion may be lost sight of in the quarrel over what Billy Mitchell said or did. The report made by Dwight Morrow is not altogether forgotten but it has been for the moment put aside until congress gets into the question more deeply. A better "break" for aviation would have been to publish the Morrow report after Colonel Mitchell's case had been closed and sentence announced.

May Reach Congress. Colonel Mitchell has a number of staunch supporters in congress who may agitate the question. He probably will be called before congressional committees and in that case would hold the limelight again being given a certain immunity from punishment by the army when he testified. There is always a certain element interesting in defending anybody if at the same time a bombardment of the party in power can be maintained. The next scene in the aviation row will be the committees of congress.

Washington, Dec. 19.—(AP)—An appropriation of $1,600,000 for improvement in the postoffice at Milwaukee was asked in a bill introduced today by Representative Schaefer, Republican, Wisconsin.

Paper Company Adding New Power Unit; Will Insure Steady Running

To make possible the operation of the pulp and paper mills at Groos each day of the year, without reference to the flow of water in the Escanaba river and to care for the ever-increasing demand for public utility power in Escanaba and the surrounding district, the Escanaba Paper company will, on January 1, complete the installation of the largest auxiliary power unit yet placed in the big power plant at Groos.

Man, Who Dedicated Monument to Adam Dies at Baltimore

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 19.—(AP)—John P. Brady's sentiment in erecting a monument to the memory of Adam, the first man, was completed last night after 17 years when at Greenville, S. C., Robert M. Quillen dedicated a similar memorial to Eve, the first woman; but Mr. Brady could not applaud. He was dead at his home here today before word of the newspaper paragrapher's remembrance of Adam's consort could reach him.

Washington, Dec. 19.—(AP)—A measure designed to aid cooperative marketing—the only proposed farm legislation bearing the endorsement of the administration—will be introduced in both houses of congress next week and pressed for early approval.

NINE INJURED, ONE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Altoona, Pa., Dec. 19.—(AP)—Derailment of train No. 32 on the Pennsylvania Railroad, fast express between Pittsburgh and New York, west of here early today, resulted in the death of one man and injury of nine others, four seriously. Ben E. Hess, 21, a student at Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, whose home was at Huntington Park, a suburb of Los Angeles, Cal., and who was on his way to Woodhaven, Long Island, died at a local hospital early tonight as a result of his injuries.

PENNSY EXPRESS DERAILED NEAR ALTOONA.

The injured, all of whom are reported to be in a serious condition by hospital attaches, are: William Pyle, engineer, of Youngwood, Pa., scalded. Harry G. Paschel, fireman, Wilkesburg, Pa., scalded. William Clark, negro, Denver, Colo., bruises and lacerations. John Strayer, Massillon, Ohio, bruises and lacerations.

RUM PLOTTERS SEEK RE-TRIAL

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 19.—(AP)—All of the 23 defendants found guilty by a jury in federal court here yesterday of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law by the alleged illegal withdrawal of whisky from the Jack Daniel distillery at St. Louis, Mo., will file pleas for a new trial, it was announced late today by the attorneys for the men.

Mussolini's Power Increased By Parliament's Legislation

Rome, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Both houses of parliament adjourned tonight for the Christmas holidays after having approved in the brief session since November 18 more legislation designed to change radically the political complexion of Italy than in any session since the advent of Fascism.

DAMAGE FIXED AT $10,000 IN LAUNDRY FIRE

Miss Belle Quinn, 310 Second avenue south, was severely burned about the face, and damages estimated at $10,000 done, early yesterday, by the combustion of gas fumes from a benzine machine and steam from the fire extinguisher system, at the plant of the Escanaba Steam Laundry, 707 Ludington street.

MISS BELLE QUINN BURNED ABOUT FACE.

The blast shattered the entire west wall of the benzine room, opening a breach fully 20 feet long and 10 to 12 feet in height. Damage to the machinery alone was placed, roughly, at $6,000, it was said. Static electricity from Miss Quinn's fingers as her hands entered the machine, was blamed for the fire. The circumstances were almost identical with those, four years ago, when a similar burst of flames did considerable damage to the same establishment.

NEW MOVE TO RESTORE FRANC

Paris, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The proposal of the industrial leaders of northern France to pledge their properties as security for a loan from the United States or elsewhere for the purpose of stabilizing the franc and providing a sinking fund for the country's debts, has given a new trend to the discussion of how to re-establish French finances.

NO PROSPECTS TO END STRIKE

Philadelphia, Dec. 19—(AP)—The anthracite strike, with 158,000 men and boys idle nearly four months, enters Christmas week without encouraging signs that the long suspension will end before the new year.

Miners and operators have received an invitation from mayors and burgesses of the hard coal fields to meet in Scranton on Monday and resume negotiations where they were broken off last August, but the prospect tonight of any concrete result, if they meet, was not bright.

John L. Lewis, president of the miners, responded today to the invitation by notifying Mayor John Durkan of Scranton, chairman of the chief executives' committee that the union leaders would resume negotiations only on the basis of considering Governor Pinchot's plan for settlement. This plan was recently accepted by the miners as a "basis for settlement" and rejected by the operators as impracticable.

The operators have not yet made a formal reply to Mayor Durkan. Loading and scale of stored chestnut sized coal of which a supply still is available was discontinued today at the Cranberry colliery of the Cranberry Creek coal company near Hazleton because of objections by the local unions, officials of the company announced. They said they decided on this course rather than invite any trouble which had been threatened, although the district officers of the miners' union had given permission for the work which was being done by union men.

Bricklayer Goes to Jail; Didn't Support Family

Detroit, Dec. 19—(AP)—Judge W. McKay Skillman was in complete accord with the view of Mrs. Mary Jeroski that her bricklayer husband should be able to clothe and feed his seven children on his daily wage of $12.

As a result, the husband will spend 65 days in the Detroit house of correction for non-support.

Appearing against her spouse for the second time, the mother told the court her story, asserting her husband expected her to run the house on from $9 to $15 a week.

"He is only a $12-a-day bricklayer, judge, but I don't think he should let his seven children starve," she averred.

"How about it, Jeroski," queried the court, "do you make $12 a day?"

"Not every day, judge," the defendant replied.

"What do you mean?"

"Well, I don't make that when it rains."

"Sixty-five days," said the court.

Japanese Emperor Has Fainting Spell

Toho, Dec. 19—(AP)—An official message from the imperial household says the emperor last evening suffered a "sudden stroke of cerebral anaemia," meaning a fainting spell.

While the physicians do not believe the condition of the emperor is serious his departure from Hamazu, where he usually spends the winter, has been temporarily postponed.

Columbus Dispatch Chief Passes Away

Columbus, O., Dec. 19—(AP)—Charles E. Fowler, 59, general manager of the Columbus Dispatch, died at his home here this afternoon. He had been ill for almost a year and had been confined to his home for several months.

contents are fully covered by insurance and we will make adjustments promptly.

Repairs immediately. Arrangements were made immediately by long distance telephone, with a Milwaukee establishment to handle work for the local plant until repairs can be made. It was stated. The only difference, in that regard, will be a day or two of additional time.

Mr. Grabowski already had plans and estimates in his files, looking towards a complete remodeling of the dry-cleaning department. These will now be carried out as quickly as possible. They include the installation of machinery which will clean, dry, "air" and brush clothing in one continuous operation.

Fires of this character are not at all unusual in the cleaning business, Mr. Grabowski said. Nor has any method been devised whereby the menace of "static" can be eliminated. Serious injuries in connection with such accidents are very rare, he added.

GOSSIP MAKES PASTOR RESIGN

Ionia, Mich., Dec. 19—(AP)—Wagging tongues that connected his name with Mrs. Katherine Chick, pretty school teacher of Ionia, has brought the resignation of Rev. M. S. Decker, pastor of the Church of Christ. He presented his resignation at a special meeting of the church board last night, announcing his reluctance to face the publicity that would result should he fight to clear his name.

Decker, who asserted he is nationally known as an evangelist, planned, he said, to quit in several weeks.

Ionia has been stirred by the reports of the automobile accident Wednesday night when an automobile, driven by Sheriff Cook, crashed into an unlighted parked motor car of Mrs. Chick at the outskirts of the city. Mrs. Chick maintained she was alone in the machine but Sheriff Cook declared "he had not lost his eyesight and he saw Decker emerge from the machine and hasten away."

The minister maintained his innocence, claiming he was in a restaurant at the time of the crash, with his wife and children. Parents of the girl expressed their belief in the story of the girl and minister. Mrs. Chick admitted on previous occasions she had driven the pastor of the church on church business but asserted she had been accompanied each time by a third person.

Chicago Daily News Not Sold, Official of Paper Declares

Chicago, Dec. 19—(AP)—Walter A. Strong, business manager of the Chicago Daily News and nephew of the wife of the late Victor F. Lawson, the newspaper's owner and publisher, today denied statements appearing in another Chicago paper that the News has been sold to a syndicate to be headed by him.

The statement as to the sale of the newspaper which had mentioned several prominent Chicagoans as interested in the syndicate as was characterized by Mr. Strong in a formal statement as "unauthorized and unfounded."

Democrats Launch Tariff Repeal Drive

Washington, Dec. 19—(AP)—The Democratic drive for revision of the tariff got under way in the house today with the introduction of the first of a series of bills to repeal or reduce tariff rates.

Representative Oldfield of Arkansas, the Democratic whip, launched the movement by introducing a bill to repeal the 53 cents a ton duty on coal imported from Canada. He said it was necessary in view of the present anthracite suspension.

SEVEN MEN AND FIVE WOMEN ARE NABBED IN RAID

Seven men and five women were arrested last night in a raid conducted by county and city authorities in two questionable houses in First avenue north. The 12 persons were taken to the county jail and are awaiting bail or arraignment on Monday.

The places are conducted by Marshall Peterson and Hazel Miller, both of whom were arrested. The men will be charged with disorderly conduct; the women with being inmates of a house of ill-repute, and the proprietors with operating a house.

Father Dies Hour Before Son Comes From Mexican City

Washington, Dec. 19—(AP)—A dramatic race with death that was lost by an hour was run by Dr. Roberto Gonzalez, of Nicaragua, a graduate of Columbia university medical school and the son of Dr. Pedro Gonzalez, former Nicaraguan minister, who died here today of uraemic poisoning.

Traveling by rail, horse, motorboat, automobile and stamer, young Dr. Gonzalez made the trip in nine days, although he was held up by storms and ebb tides and pursued by swarms of mosquitoes. Arriving in New Orleans, he was unable to catch the night train for Washington, which would have brought him here at 9 o'clock last night.

Arriving at 3 o'clock this morning he went at once to Garfield hospital, only to learn that his father had died peacefully an hour before, as his nurse was giving him a drink of water.

Dr. Gonzalez and his sister, Miss Herzilia Gonzalez, who has been with her father here, will return with the body to Nicaragua, sailing at the end of the month.

Michigan Democrats Will Honor Wilson

Detroit, Dec. 19—(AP)—Several prominent speakers are announced for the dinner celebration here Monday of the 69th birthday of Woodrow Wilson, "war president," by the committee on arrangements of the Michigan Democratic state central committee.

They will include Bishop Thomas Nicholson, Congressman John B. Sosnowski, Detroit; Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan, New York, and Warren L. Rogers, coadjutor bishop of Ohio.

Two Miners Killed at Ironwood Mine

Ironwood, Mich., Dec. 19—(AP)—Mike Hudnick, 42, died today, the second fatality from a dynamite explosion in the Montreal mine. Shortly after midnight Carl Swabson, 40, was instantly killed. Miners who set off the charge were ignorant of the presence of the two men.

START DRIVE FOR NORMAL

Marquette, Mich., Dec. 19—(AP)—A move has been started here by John M. Munson, president of the Northern State Normal school and former superintendent of the Central Michigan Normal school in Mt. Pleasant, and graduates and former instructors of the Mt. Pleasant normal, to have each graduate and friend donate one book to replace the library recently destroyed by fire.

The first contributions were received today from Mr. Munson, Mr. and Mrs. Don H. Bottom, Prof. and Mrs. Walter F. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wiggins, L. R. Walker, county agricultural agent, and wife; Ethel Carey, dean of women in the normal; Miss Dapne Dodds, instructor in the English department; Miss Ethel Griswold and Miss Ethel Woolhiser, critic in the normal training school.

In a telegram sent tonight to President E. C. Warriner, Mr. Munson said:

"Central graduates and others at Northern Normal launch movement with contributions to augment Central library. Every friend and graduate in Michigan and elsewhere contribute price of a book. Mt. Pleasant and Isabella county should come across with a whoop. Central normal 'Life' and students can do the pushing. Why not let people put their good impulses into performance? Sorry you were hit so hard, but now plan deliberately. Here's strength to you."

PAPER COMPANY ADDING TURBINE TO POWER PLANT

the company have been working for many months.

1925 Rainfall Deficient. With a deficiency of 13 inches in rainfall in this district during the past year, power produced by the flow of the river and the company's steam plant at Groes made it necessary to operate both the pulp mill and the paper mill on a part-time basis throughout the past summer, in order that the power needs of Escanaba and other consumers could be supplied. And it was only the fact that officials of the Escanaba Paper company had the foresight to install an efficient steam unit in its plant at Groes two years ago that made it possible for Escanaba to enjoy uninterrupted power service through the past summer, when other nearby cities were in darkness and their power consumers seriously hampered.

To Run Full Capacity. With the installation now being made, on the basis of next season producing approximately the same rainfall as last summer, it will be possible for the company to supply not only all of the power needs of its patrons, but will be able to operate all departments of both the pulp mill and the paper mill at full capacity throughout the year.

The installation of the big steam turbine represents the solution of a power problem that has been faced by the Escanaba Paper company practically since that plant was established on the Escanaba river. Practically from

WILKINSON IS NEW 'BISHOP OF STREET'

New York, Dec. 19—(AP)—A new "bishop of Wall Street" was chosen today to fill the post left vacant by the death of the Rev. William Wilkinson.

A group of interested clergy and laymen announced that Rev. Edwin A. Corbett of Brooklyn would be heir to the purely honorary title conferred by the countless brokers, clerks, messengers and stenographers who for 25 years listened to Rev. Mr. Wilkinson's daily sermons in the street.

MICHIGAN HAS GREAT PROSPECT IN MOLENDIA. "Bo" Molenda, star sophomore griddler, Michigan has quite an all-round celebrity. In addition to shining on the gridiron, Molenda is also a basketball and baseball luminary of the highest order and can put up a nice game of tennis, though he doesn't go in much for the racket pastime. He looks like one of the best prospects the Wolverines have had in seasons.

Christmas Party. St. Patrick's parish hall was crowded with children and grown-ups when the annual Christmas party was given there yesterday afternoon. Toys, candies, nuts, popcorn balls and other good things to eat were distributed to the kiddies. A delightful program was furnished by the children. Clarence Vandelline gave a highly entertaining vaudeville act with his clever singing and dancing, which had the audience in laughter continually. The program follows: "America"—Boys' band. Recitation—Nancy Chaisan. Duet—"Yearning" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart"—George Harvey, violin, and Jack Bartella, piano. Piano Selection—Mary Alice Harvey. Recitation—Timothy Curran. Violin Duet—William Butler and Lawrence Belanger. Selection—Boys' band.

Violin Duet—Mary Alice Kennedy and Viola Pelky, accompanied by Mrs. Ramspeck. Dancing and Singing Act—Clarence Vandelline. Duet—George Harvey, violin, and Jack Bartella, piano. Fancy Dancing in Costume—Margaret Lemire and Margaret Molloy. Violin—Lawrence Belanger. Song, "Silent Night"—Jean La-hait, accompanied by Mrs. Ramspeck. Selection—Boys' band. Girls' Guild Meeting. The Nutty Six Sewing club held its regular meeting last night at the home of Genevieve Roushorn. Officers were elected and a program given. Refreshments were served, followed by the distribution of Christmas gifts. The officers are: Helen Gallagher, president; Marian Blake, vice president; Genevieve Roushorn, reporter. Other girls attending were: Mary McDonough, Alice McGovern and Celina Crements. Puffballs are the safest of all the edible fungi, for none of them are poisonous.

DeMolay Election Wednesday. The annual election of officers of the Order of DeMolay, Delta Chapter, will be held at the local Masonic temple Wednesday evening, December 23. In addition to the new councillors, a new treasurer and secretary will also be chosen at this time. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Delft Hangs Out Big Electric Sign

The largest electric sign in this part of the peninsula was swung into place in front of the Delft theatre yesterday. It contains 618 incandescent bulbs which spell the word "Delft" vertically, each letter being three feet in height. The block is now by far the most brilliantly lighted in the city, the new sign being added to the big "dazzler" of the Needham Electric shop. An elevator in a London hotel has a lift speed with a rate of 70 miles an hour.

Beach Stock Co. Is Its New Title

Friends of the Beach-Jones Stock company, a favorite organization with local theatre goers, will be interested in the announcement made recently at Fond du Lac, that M. T. Jones had retired from the organization which is now known as the Beach Stock company. Mr. Jones' plans for the future were not announced. The Beach company will probably make its annual visit to the Delft late in the spring it was stated by Manager L. J. Jacobs.

MARKET NEWS

STOCK MARKET IS IRREGULAR

Table with columns: Date, Industrials, Railroads, Twenty, Twenty

New York, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The usual week-end readjustment of speculative accounts brought about considerable irregularity in today's stock market which was featured by the spirited bidding for American Can which scored an extreme gain of 3-4 points at 26 1/4, closing 1 1/4 below the top. Trading in the general list was in moderate volume, the day's sales aggregating 737,600 shares.

Pressure of the tax reduction bill by the house of representatives, and reports of record-breaking holiday trade created bullish sentiment which was reflected in the strong opening of the market. Except in the case of a few specialties, however, there was little disposition on the part of traders to bid for stocks with the result that the general industrial list sagged when selling pressure was renewed against the motors and a few volatile industrials. The subsequent rally in American Can temporarily checked the selling in other quarters but closing quotations were generally lower on the day.

There was nothing on the day's news to explain the renewal of bear attack on the motors. Chrysler, after being bid up to 197 in the early trading, broke below and then rallied to 193 1/4 for a net loss of 1 1/4 on the day. Hudson dropped from an early high of 101 1/4 to 99 1/4, but later snapped back to 101 1/4. General Motors, Moon and Stromberg-Carlson closed a point or so lower.

Oils opened firm but reacted later on profit-taking. Associated Oil, Pan-American B and General Asphalt closing a point or so lower, while Pan-American Western B fell back over two points. Steel shares reacted slightly on selling pressure inspired by the general slackening of mill operations. U. S. Steel common showing a net loss of one-quarter at 133 1/4.

Bullish operations were successfully conducted in a number of specialties. Postum Cereal soared 7 1/4 points to a new high record of 108 on the announcement of a plan to take over the Jello company. Case Thrashing Machine preferred responded to declaration of a dividend of seven per cent on account of accumulated dividends for 1924 on that stock by jumping five points to a new peak at 107 1/4, while the common advanced three to a new top at 68.

Rails held relatively firm in quiet trading. Foreign exchanges displayed a firm tone. French francs rallied about four points to 3.84 1/2 cents but lost part of their gain before the close. Demand sterling held steady around $4.84 1/2. Other European rates moved within rather narrow and irregular limits.

N. P. Bell Club Party. The members of the N. P. Bell club held their annual Christmas party at the club rooms in the telephone building Thursday evening when every member of the club attended. Members of the commercial department and of the plant department were guests of the club members.

A five-course dinner was served at 6:30 at the club rooms and a program of dancing, music and games followed. Santa Claus distributed the gifts and everyone agreed the party was a most enjoyable affair.

Several of the employees of the telephone exchange will spend the holidays at their homes out of the city.

Miss Leighton Entertains. Miss Betty Leighton entertained a number of her friends at the home of her parents, 505 South Sixth street, yesterday afternoon by celebrating her birthday. It was a very happy little crowd of girls that took part in the afternoon's entertainment.

Welfare Dance. The committee in charge of the Community Welfare dance, December 29 at the Coliseum, began soon after by the Escanaba Woman's club, reports a large number of tickets sold and expects this event to prove one of the best.

Elmer Fleming and Norbert Fleming. Let the Holly Red Be Hung—Lucille DeGrande. Bright Stockings—Pauline Charles. Hang Up the Baby's Stocking—Margaret Veraghan. Play—"Secret of Christmas"—Luke Fleming, Mary Carignon, Pearl Vandress, Arnold Delvaux, Elmer Vandress, Beatrice DeGrande, Beatrice Delvaux. Songs—Hark, the Herald Angels Sing, and Jingle Bells.

The best and most successful of the holiday festivities. A large Christmas tree in the center of the hall will be one of the features of the decorations. The Midnight Entertainers will furnish the music and the committee is leaving nothing undone to make the affair most pleasant. The public is invited to attend.

Invitational Dance. The St. Stephen's Senior Boys' club on Tuesday, December 22, will give an invitational dancing party at Clark's hall. It is needless to say that the Boys' club has a wonderful reputation in all its past undertakings and every step is being taken to make this party one of the peepiest and most enjoyable of the holiday season. Invitations are given out by Boys' club members only, and the party will be shapereformed. Johnson's orchestra will play.

College Students Return. A large number of college students are returning to this city to spend the holidays. A large number are expected to arrive this morning, while quite a number have returned in the past few days. With such a large number of former schoolmates assembling here, the holiday season will undoubtedly be featured by a great many social activities.

Holiday Skating Program. Manager Flath has arranged an excellent schedule of holiday skating at the Coliseum this year. Tonight and this afternoon, regular skating will be enjoyed. Christmas night the annual Christmas gift party will be held. On New Year's eve the old year will, as usual, "be skated out."

RADIO STOCKS COLLAPSE

Babson Draws Lesson From Radio Business.

BY ROGER W. BABSON.
Babson Park, Mass., Dec. 19.—Roger W. Babson today discussed with us the fundamentals of the radio industry. He brings out its tremendous growth and what this growth has brought about. He also discusses the future of the industry. His official statement to us is as follows:

Two Divisions.
"When discussing radio, it should be remembered that there are two distinct divisions to the industry. The first division—that for which it was originally started—was to carry wireless messages. The first commercial use was to transmit messages from one ship to another and from ships to the land. The business was founded and grew on this sole purpose. Gradually radio was used to transmit messages across the land as well as across the ocean. Finally great sending sets were erected in America, Europe and even Japan. The Radio Corporation of America was founded primarily, if not exclusively, to transmit messages. Before the Radio corporation was formed, various small independent companies were carrying on independent business. The United Fruit company had valuable patents as well as did the General Electric and Westinghouse. All of these were pooled together when the Radio Corporation of America was formed, the purpose being to stop destructive competition, useless fighting with one another over patents and to use the combined resources to erect great super-power sending stations throughout the world and thus give efficient radio service.

"This great corporation had hardly been formed when radio broadcasting started. Even at the first, the officials of the Radio corporation looked upon the selling of home receiving sets as merely a by-product and expected to pay dividends on their stock from the message business alone. They were taken by surprise. The interest in radio swept this country like a great tidal wave. The demand for receiving sets exceeded the most optimistic prophecies. Manufacturers were unable to supply orders. Almost overnight a great new industry developed in this country, which is attracting as much attention as the moving picture industry or the automobile industry. Instead of the manufacture of receiving sets being a by-product, it became the big end of the business and the original purpose of the radio industry; namely, the sending of messages, was submerged and has been almost forgotten. This is a very interesting illustration of the great changes in business which come onto the country unheralded and which are anticipated only by a few careful students. Moreover, we must not forget that something else may happen during the next few years which will be as revolutionary as the radio.

Growth Too Rapid.
"In January 1, 1922, there were only six radio companies of any importance. Today there are about six hundred companies, producing sets and supplies, each doing a large business. In January 1922, only two radio stocks were traded in by the brokers in New York, while today there are 20 radio stocks actively traded in on Wall Street. Moreover, most of these radio companies have made a lot of money or rather did make a lot of money, at the start. Statistics show that the manufacture of receiving sets was exceedingly profitable in the early days. The industry was a self-advertising industry, hence it had to spend no money in interesting people and in getting a foothold. The demand for receiving sets exceeded the supply and it was unnecessary to spend any money on selling. Even price was more or less insignificant. The sets were sold at huge profit. These great profits, however, brought on their own punishment. Any industry which offers great profits in proportion to the risk inevitably brings on itself a period of very severe competition. Gradually the supply of receiving sets is exceeding the demand. This means that the radio companies are now forced to spend more money on advertising, selling, and for other expenses than they did before.

"One of the strong features of the radio message business is its repeat nature. When the Radio corporation gets a newspaper of business house, or even an individual into the habit of sending radiograms, it develops a repeat business. This repeat business compares with the sale of electricity for light and power. The supplying of electricity for use day by day, is a much more stable business than the manufacture of electrical apparatus for which one makes only one sale. Hence, the radio message business was founded on a right principle and some day patient investors in the stock of the Radio corporation will be richly rewarded.

"The sale of receiving sets, however, is not a repeat business any more than is the furniture business or the electric fixture business. It does not even compare with the phonograph business because the phonograph people are able to sell records each month and it is these records that really made profits for them. Of course, it is necessary to buy new tubes once in a while and sets are being improved, those who can afford to do so, buy the newer sets as they come out. The fact that the sale of sets is not a 'repeat' business brings the present dullness in the industry, with the decline in profits and securities.

Interest To Business Men.
"What has happened in the radio industry should be of interest to every business man, whatever his line of work. The same principles apply to every industry. All new industries have gone through these same stages and all new industries will go up and down correspondingly. Every lane has its turning. The wheels of opportunity revolve slowly but are always revolving. The business which today has the largest profits will tomorrow face the greatest competition and next day have the smallest profits of all. Conversely, the business which today has the smallest profits will tomorrow have the least competition and the day after will have the greatest profits. The time to save money is when you are making it. The good old days never last any more than hard times ever last. Hence, the importance of studying fundamental conditions and watching the great tidal movements of business, rather than the temporary movements concerning which most business men do all their worrying.

"Every new industry seems obliged to go through a house cleaning period before it settles down. If you can get into a new industry before the other fellow, all well and good; but don't be a trailer. Either blaze the trail yourself or else work in a settled line where the speculative features have been eliminated. The man who is always chasing rainbows never catches one. I repeat, it is a fine thing to blaze new trails and do something before others are doing it, but there is nothing in doing what everyone else is doing, going where everybody else is going, or getting ju-to a business into which everybody else is getting.

Future Outlook.
"The radio industry is all right. It is now going through the same adjustment that the automobile industry went through some years ago when so many new companies went into receivership and even the General Motors Company was forced to reorganize. Many companies will now be forced out of business; other companies will be consolidated while other will reorganize. Gradually the sending of messages will increase and be the great source of income for the Radio Corporation of America. The radio industry is all right for the long pull but just now it is suffering from keen competition and the present period must be followed by a general house cleaning, after which the surviving companies will make a lot of money. Of course, certain improvements and new inventions may develop in radio and thus give it another great spurt. The most likely of these is the development of Vision Broadcasting. That is, the broadcasting of moving pictures.

"When in Washington a few weeks ago, I visited the Jenkins Laboratories and saw the movements of a windmill actually broadcasted and transmitted by radio. These were picked up and shown on a screen. It is just as possible to broadcast moving pictures as it is the voice. The Radio Corporation of America is working on a still different method from the Jenkins' method to bring about the same results. Without doubt, radio vision broadcasting will some day be an accomplished fact and we can read the morning paper on a screen at our breakfast table, the same as we now hear our evening music on the loudspeaker in our library. Furthermore, there are other radio inventions which are being worked out which are even more interesting than the broadcasting of moving pictures. The Babsonchart now shows business 17% above normal compared with just normal a year ago this time."

Class of '25 Holds Reunion December 28

The Class of 1925 of the Escanaba high school will hold their first annual reunion at the Delta hotel Monday evening, December 28. The affair will be in the form of a banquet and will be followed by a short program. The party will be strictly informal. It was announced.

Miss Alice Kvam, the class secretary, is chairman of the reunion committee and members of the class are asked to get in touch with her. Notices pertaining to the affair have already been sent out. The dinner will be served at 6:15, with the function over by 8:45.

CONQUEROR OF THE MONGOLIAN WILDS

Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews, who startled the world a few years ago by discovering a nest of dinosaur eggs ten million years old, arrived in New York on November 9th from his Third Asiatic Expedition under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History.

Again he attributes much of the success of his expedition to the astounding performance of his five Dodge Brothers Motor Cars.

Following is a direct quotation from an official statement by Dr. Andrews upon his return to America:

The Gobi Desert in Mongolia is the most extensive undeveloped and unexplored region now left in the world. Until a few years ago it was retarded by the impossibly slow traffic of camel trains, the only means of communication.

But now it is being crisscrossed in every direction by motor cars, or, more correctly by one motor car, the Dodge. Sixty or seventy Dodge Brothers cars are making regular trips far into the interior of this vast waste, bringing out loads of furs, precious furs, wool and other products.

No other car except the Dodge is found there because we have tried it out on each of our three expeditions and have had it demonstrated to our satisfaction that the Dodge is the only car that will stand up under the strain of the roadless desert and do everything we ask of it.

Few people have occasion to subject their motor cars to punishment of this severity. It is reassuring, however, to know that in emergencies Dodge Brothers Motor Car is built to meet the test.

These dependable and sturdy qualities also account for the fact that more than 90% of all the motor cars Dodge Brothers have built during the past eleven years, are still in active service.

BIG TYPEWRITER FIRMS COMBINED IN NEW MERGER

The most important development for many years in the typewriter industry is the combination of the L. C. Smith standard office typewriter and the Corona portable typewriter under one management which has just been announced.

Ford, Bacon and Davis, Inc. of New York have contracted to purchase a controlling interest in the stock of the Corona Typewriter Company, Inc. of Groton, N. Y., pioneers in the development of the portable typewriter.

A little over a year ago Ford, Bacon and Davis acquired control of the L. C. Smith typewriter through purchase of majority interest in the L. C. Smith and Brothers Typewriter company of Syracuse, N. Y. The surviving Smith Brothers retired from active management of the company and Frank R. Ford became its president.

Mr. Ford states that it was the intention of the large stockholders of both the L. C. Smith and Corona companies to consolidate these companies as soon as legal details can be completed. Consent and approval of more than a majority of the present stockholders of each company have already given to this plan. It is understood that details will be announced as soon as formal meetings of stockholders can be held.

Both companies have branch offices or sales agencies in practically all cities of the United States as well as in all foreign countries and since the products of the two companies are not competitive but supplement to each other, this consolidation will materially strengthen and enlarge the sales possibilities of the combination.

Legion Plans Winter Carnival for Escanaba

Plans for the staging of an elaborate winter carnival in Escanaba are being formulated by Cloverland Post, American Legion. It was announced yesterday by T. R. Kessler, chairman of a special committee named by the legion post to handle the arrangements for the event.

No date has been set but it probably will be late in February. Washington's birthday has been suggested as a suitable opening or closing day. Skating races—amateur and professional—snow shoe contests, ski runs, dog races, tobogganing contests, perhaps some ice boating if conditions are at all favorable, curling and exhibition hockey games are among the things the committee has in mind for a two or three-day celebration. There will be adequate prizes and an effort will be made to bring in some noted performers in winter sport lines. It was stated.

Expect Wide Interest.

"The Legion's object in launching the carnival is not to make money, but to give this community a start in a field which the members of Cloverland Post believe has been neglected," Mr. Kessler said. It should be an important spot on the winter sport may of the Middle West. We believe that the only thing lacking is leadership and the Post will attempt to supply that. It is not contemplated that the carnival shall be, its first year, a rival of some of the old established winter festivals of the country, but it is confidently believed that it will attract the ineres of sport lovers in this part of Michigan. The Legion plans to call upon other organizations here for support and help and the boys are confident this will be extended enthusiastically."

Endorsed by Hanrahan.

The project undoubtedly will have the support and co-operation of the city administration. No official action has been taken by the city council, but Mayor W. J. Hanrahan, at a recent meeting—before it became known that the Legion was considering such an event—"There is no reason why Escanaba declared that he believed something should be done along that line and his remarks received the informal indorsement of other members of the council. Many members of the Chamber of Commerce also are known to be partisans of the winter sport idea. "Any city in the United States can celebrate the Fourth of July, or stage a county fair or put on summer and autumn festivals," said Mayor Hanrahan last night. "There are, however, comparatively few localities in the United States situated in a climate where winter sports are practical. I personally am delighted that the Legion has undertaken this project. I am certain they will make a big success of it."

OPERA STAR TO APPEAR HERE ON NEW YEAR'S EVE

Will Take Part in Annual Lutheran Church Program

Miss Jean Sutherland, Upper Michigan representative in New York grand opera, who will appear at the Swedish Lutheran church here in a concert on New Year's eve as the main feature of the Luther League's annual festival, rose to national fame a few years ago while singing with the Wagner Grand Opera company of New York.

Her voice is described as being both of the lyric and dramatic variety with remarkable range and ability. Her appearance here should prove a treat to local lovers of the best in music.

In addition to Miss Sutherland's appearance on the program, several home talent numbers are planned.

TODAY'S NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

CAVOSIE LURED BY GRID SCOUT

Ironwood High School Protests Purdue Tactics.

Ironwood, Dec. 19—Protests against the action of a man named Bolan, who represented himself as an alumnus of Purdue university, in coming to Ironwood and persuading John Cavosie, captain of the 1925 high school football team, to go with him to Chicago or Purdue as his guest were telegraphed today by high school authorities.

One message went to Major Griffith in charge of athletic affairs of the Big Ten Conference, and another was sent to the manager of the Chicago Bears professional team at Chicago.

Left Ironwood Last Night. Cavosie left Ironwood last night, apparently in company with Bolan and against the wishes of the superintendent and the principal of the Ironwood school system. Cavosie had dinner with Bolan at a local hotel last night and Bolan early in the day made reservations for two on the night train bound for Chicago.

Wish to advise you and protest against the action of a man named Bolan, representing Purdue alumnus. Major Griffith was wired this afternoon. "In taking high school football player, John Cavosie, from his school work here to visit Chicago, Purdue and other points, it is plainly scouting Bolan former Chicago Bear player. As head of Big Ten think you are interested."

Message to Bears' Manager. A message was also sent to the manager of the Chicago Bears, in which the high school authorities advised him:

"Have reason to think man named Bolan has taken with him to Chicago John Cavosie, high school football star. Bolan said he represents Purdue university alumnus of Chicago. Doubt it. Boy is under 18 and we protest against his playing professional football at this time."

Coming to Ironwood on the train early Tuesday morning, Bolan let slip to Mr. Philbrick, landscape architect of Cleveland who is employed here on a school project that he was a scout for the Chicago Bears and that he was here to get Cavosie, the high school star who kicked a 55-yard dropkick and otherwise distinguished himself in football this fall.

Representative of Purdue. To high school authorities, however he represented himself as an alumnus of Purdue university and he came here in the interest of his employer, also an alumnus of Purdue. The employer wanted to get Cavosie interested in the school and bolster up athletics at the university, he said.

The high school authorities objected to the actions of Bolan for several reasons. One was that Cavosie, whose scholastic standing is not high, needed all of his time on his studies and could not afford to be away from school. Leon C. High, principal and Du Fay K. Rice, superintendent, pointed out that Cavosie could make such a trip during the vacation period, if necessary.

Cavosie promised to have nothing more to do with Bolan, but again last night he was at the hotel with the Purdue man and apparently they left on last night's train, bound for Chicago or other points.

A message from Purdue university yesterday disclaimed any knowledge of a Purdue man seeking athletic material in this part of the country, for that matter. It is against the rules of the Big Ten Conference.

California Grid Coach Taken Ill

Philadelphia, Dec. 19—(AP)—Andy Smith, head coach of the University of California football team, was taken to the University of Pennsylvania hospital today suffering from pneumonia. His condition was said to be encouraging.

Smith had been feeling ill for several days and when physicians saw him last night his condition was such that they decided to have him removed to a hospital today. At the hospital late this afternoon, it was stated that this condition was improved.

Andy Smith went east with Glenn Warner after his Golden Bears had been defeated by Warner's Leland Stanford team.

Babe Ruth, Red Grange and Harry Greb Form Trio of Super-Athletes

BY BILLY EVANS. "Red" Grange is a super-football player, just as Babe Ruth is a rare diamond performer and Harry Greb is the marvel of the ring.

The super-athletes invariably arise to the occasion in the crisis. In other words they are at their very best when the stakes are biggest.

Babe Ruth, when in his prime, had the happy faculty of delivering his home runs at the big moment. No man in the history of the game has won more thrilling contests through the medium of a pitch home run than the Babe himself.

It may sound rather strange to speak of when Ruth was in his prime, since that young man is now only 32 years of age. He should now be at his very best, but several attacks of illness during the last two years have played havoc with his general condition.

Ruth was, as a matter of fact still in a "go-getter." When the Yankee Stadium, baseball greatest palace, was thrown open to New York fans, Ruth obliged with a home run.

Real Stars Best in Pinch. When President Harding made his first trip to the Stadium to see Ruth in action, the Babe rewarded the visit with a terrific home run clout into the right field bleachers. With the spotlight of the sport world turned on him, Ruth is generally at his best. Super-athletes usually are.

"Red" Grange, like Babe Ruth, is not the run-of-the-mine performer, but one of those rarities in sport who bob up about once every 25 years.

Grange, by his extraordinary uncanny play against the University of Pennsylvania, stamps himself as one of the few truly great super-athletes. Grange came east, was seen, then captured that section of the country by storm just as he did the middle west.

Eastern Debut of "Red" Grange. The Pennsylvania game was the big spot on the Illinois schedule. Penn was known to have a great team. It was the first appearance of an Illinois eleven in the Atlantic sector for years and greatest of all, it was the eastern debut of "Red" Grange.

For three years the east has been reading about "Red" Grange, the "Flaming Arrow of Illinois." The dope on "Red" has been more like fiction than truth. No mere human being could perform the many record feats credited to Grange, the east thought.

Over 65,000 people packed the Penn Stadium for the Illinois game and every one of them came to see Grange; most of them were in a critical frame of mind. We will see what this fellow out of the west will do against a real team like Pennsylvania.

Almost before the crowd was seated, Grange had them on their feet cheering. Inside of two minutes he had scored a touchdown by slipping past tackle, reversing his field as only Grange can, and running 51 yards for the first score of the game.

ECKIE SELECTS ALL-AMERICAN

Oosterbaan and Edwards of Michigan Placed on First Team.

Chicago, Dec. 19—(AP)—Seven westerners are given places on the All-American football team announced tonight by Walter Eckersall, football critic of the Chicago Tribune, popular referee and an All-American backfield star in his collegiate days.

Development of a strong and complicated forward pass attack, says Eckersall, resulted in Dartmouth, Michigan, Missouri, Washington and Alabama being rated the strongest teams in their respective territories and his All-American selections are chosen with that in mind.

Ed Weir of Nebraska, "Red" Grange of Illinois, and Ernie Nevers of Stanford are again placed on the first team of All-Americans. Oberlander of Dartmouth, the most effective forward passer in the country last fall, is placed at right half, and Oosterbaan of Michigan, the most successful pass grabber, at left end.

The difference of opinion on Nevers and Wilson of Washington is solved by putting Nevers at fullback and Wilson at quarterback, the latter because of his great defensive play in the games against California and Stanford which Washington won.

Much of Cobb's greatness on the diamond has been due to his ability to think and act quickly—to outsmart the foe. It has always kept him a step or two ahead of the other fellow. He was in there to outthink and outguess the opponents. He did.

One of the smartest plays I have ever seen in football was pulled by Johnny Stuart of Ohio State in the Buckeye-Michigan game in 1921. Not only was it a piece of rapid-fire thinking on Stuart's part but proved the turning point in the game.

The score was tied. Michigan had the ball close to her own goal. She was forced to punt. Steketee, the Maize and Blue kicker, usually reliable, got off a miserable boot on the occasion, the ball bounding along the ground near the sidelines on the Michigan 50-yard stripe.

Players of both teams gathered around the oval as it often the case on a short punt, none wanting to touch it, apparently.

Dashing up from his position as safety came Stuart. Without a moment's hesitation he scooped up the ball and ere the others were aware of what was going on was legging it for the Wolverine goal.

Only the Michigan safety, Uterits, was between the flying Stuart and the final line. The Buckeyes successfully eluded him, however, carrying the leather over for the first score of the game.

Ohio won that tilt, 14-0. But had it not been for Stuart's unusual bit of work, the entire complexion of the battle might have been changed. For scoring a touchdown on such a play couldn't help but upset the morale of the Michigan aggregation.

BILLY EVANS Says

The exploits of Red Grange and the Chicago Bears have proved beyond a doubt that 12 games is about the limit of a successful football schedule.

With Grange as the headline attraction, the Chicago Bears attempted a schedule of about three games per week over a period of a month.

The Chicago Bears I regard as a truly great football team. Made up of former college stars and well conditioned, it also had a better spirit than one would look for from a pro team.

For about six games the Bears, including Grange, managed to stand up pretty well under the strain, for football is nothing if not a strenuous sport.

Finally Grange was forced to leave the lineup at the insistence of a physician. While the rest of the team continued to give its best, the Bears began to take a trimming from any number of teams, all of them really inferior to the class of the Chicago eleven.

The end was reached when the Cleveland club, in signing a contract, insisted that Grange should have a week's rest prior to the game.

I have no doubt but that the contract, calling a lull in the money-making schedule, was as welcome to every member of the squad as Grange.

The itinerary of the Bears has also demonstrated that the public was far more interested in seeing Grange in action than pro football.

When Grange failed to pull his usual sensation stuff he wasn't wildly acclaimed with the old college cheers, instead it was the razzberry of the masses.

The announcement that he would not play in several of the games caused the purchasers of tickets to demand a return of their money. It wasn't the football but Grange in whom they were interested. Over $20,000 was turned back at one game.

Noted college coaches have found that 10 games is absolutely the limit for a well-balanced football schedule. Even then there must be a couple of soft games sandwiched in between the high spots.

Football cannot prosper under a three-games-per-week schedule, for the very good reason that the players cannot stand it.

It is not at all surprising that Grange has failed to live up to his sensational college performances as a professional.

In the first place, Grange is a mighty fine piece of human mechanism that cannot perform in faultless style unless carefully groomed for the occasion.

At Illinois Coach Zupke, knowing the strength and weakness of Grange, and being well aware of his possibilities, built many of his plays around the Illinois flash.

Grange received interference and assistance as a collegian that has been lacking as a professional. Not because the pro players didn't give him their best but because they were not well drilled in his style.

In addition, Grange was a marked man in every game he played. "We must stop Grange" was the college yell of the pro teams.

College football need have no fear of the pro game. There is room for both. When the Grange hysteria dies out, conditions will adjust themselves and the two branches of the sport will cater to their own clientele.

LOWRY IS MOST USEFUL GRIDDER

Northwestern Captain Is Given Tribune Trophy.

Chicago, Dec. 19—(AP)—"Fighting Tim" Lowry, captain and center of Northwestern university, a Chicagoan, has been chosen as the football player in the Western Conference of greatest value to his team in 1925 and to him will go the trophy offered by the Chicago Tribune—a sterling silver football, actual size, mounted on an ebony pedestal.

Second to Lowry was Benny Friedman of Michigan in the opinion of the 21 judges including all Big Ten coaches, nine Big Ten football officials, Commissioner Griffith of the Western Conference and Harvey T. Woodruff of the Tribune.

Captain Marks of Indiana and Britton of Illinois were tied for third place, with Captain Brown of Michigan a shade behind them. McCarty of Chicago and Taube of Purdue were next in order. Six others were included among the first and second choices.

Harold "Red" Grange, who won the trophy last year was barred this year from the competition. In making their selections the judges were asked to indicate not necessarily the greatest player in the conference but the man who contributed most to his team's success.

Dempsey Says Fitz Contract Is Broken

Los Angeles, Dec. 19—(AP)—In a signed statement issued today, Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight pugilistic champion, announced that his contract with Floyd Fitzsimmons, calling for a bout with Harry Wills next September had been abrogated.

Dempsey said that the contract had called for payments to be made on November 1 of this year and when these were not made extensions had been granted to Fitzsimmons. On November 27, notice was served on the promoter that the contract was considered null and void. Dempsey declared. Dempsey said that he now has a counter proposal from Fitzsimmons under consideration.

Here's some news from Hollywood. No, it isn't news. It's just about another movie star divorce.

Nevers Slightly Injured in Auto Smashup in West

San Mateo, Cal., Dec. 19—(AP)—Ernie Nevers, captain of the 1925 Stanford university football eleven, who recently turned professional on a fat offer from an eleven in Florida, was cut about the face and head by flying glass when an automobile in which he was riding collided with another near here today. He received emergency treatment at a hospital here and left soon afterward.

Haskell Gridders Los Angeles Club

Los Angeles, Dec. 19—(AP)—The Haskell Indian football team of Lawrence, Kan., defeated the Los Angeles Athletic club eleven here today, 12 to 19, after the club team had held the long end of the score until the final quarter. Ward of the Haskell team scored the winning touchdown when he intercepted a pass on his own 35-yard line and ran 65 yards to the goal posts.

TENNIS STARS PLAY BENEFIT

Tilden and Others Risk Suspension from Association.

New York, Dec. 19—(AP)—William T. Tilden, national single champion, and five other leading tennis players participated in exhibition matches for a Christmas fund today at the risk of suspension after promoters of the event had been denied a sanction by the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Tilden, who frequently had differed with tennis officials on interpretations of rules, aided in arranging the contests and went down to unexpected defeat, 8-6, 6-4, in the feature match at the hands of Vincent Richards, his persistent and youthful rival from Yonkers, N. Y.

Francis T. Hunter, Dr. George King, Mrs. Molla B. Mallory and Miss Mary K. Browne, the latter two of whom are former holders of the women's national singles crown, also played.

Approval was denied the matches by Louis B. Dalley, chairman of the sanction committee of the U. S. L. T. A., because, he said, in a letter to the promoters, tennis officials had "uniformly refused to sanction such events except when matches are held by a club affiliated with the association" or when the gate receipts "were to be devoted to tennis purposes."

It was the contention, that if the bars were let down the players "would be besieged and in many instances embarrassed while the regularly scheduled events of the association would be disturbed and seriously interfered with."

Expressing "amazement" that the players had agreed to compete, Mr. Dalley concluded with a promise to "explain conditions to the officials with the hope that no penalties will be imposed upon those involved."

MRS. LEN FOYE OF MANISTIQUE DIES SATURDAY

Word was received yesterday of the death of Mrs. Len Foye, Pearl street, Manistique, who passed away at a Marquette hospital, following an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Foye left Manistique last month to receive treatment at the hospital in Marquette, where her son, Edward, resides. News of her death came in a wire received here Saturday morning. The survivors are the husband, three sons, Edward of Marquette, Leo of Garden, and Patrick; also a daughter, Lottie, the latter two children living at the family home in this city, where the father is employed in the Stack mill. The family formerly resided at Garden, moving to Manistique about two years ago. Additional survivors are the father, Andrew LaTulipe; two brothers, William and Michael LaTulipe, and the following sisters: Mrs. John Nadeau, Mrs. Joseph Thirreault, Mrs. Edward Mulhaupt, all of Manistique. It is expected that the body will be brought to this city for burial. Funeral arrangements had not been announced yesterday.

Vaudeville Hit Here Two Days

Cora Youngblood Corson and her musical sextette top the entertainment bill offered by the Gero theater at Manistique this week. This big-time vaudeville attraction has been billed at the local theater for Tuesday and Wednesday evening, December 22 and 23, in addition to the usual picture program. A big double-B bass horn, played by Miss Corson, with saxophones, piano, banjos, trombone, cornet and other brass instruments, make up the list of instruments played by the seven ladies in the company. Miss Corson and her sextette appeared recently at the Palace Theater, Detroit, and the performance received the following comment in the Times: "Opening at the Palace theater yesterday on an eight-act bill, was the justly famous Cora Youngblood Corson sextette, with a record all over the big time circuits of vaudeville houses. Miss Corson is of Cherokee race, and her musical attainments have been notable. Being one of the best directors among the women of the vaudeville or concert stage, her programs are made up of the best among the standard popular numbers. The sextette has been heard here several times, but each time they have an entirely new repertoire, that makes them more popular than ever before."

Carl Sheahan arrived Saturday morning from St. Norbert's, DePere, to spend the holiday vacation at his home in Manistique. Harry Olson and Albert Olson are guests at the home of their parents in Manistique over the holidays. Mac Fowler has arrived for a holiday visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Fowler. Cobb Will Play. Ty Cobb said he would play in 100 games in 1925. The records credit him with 101 performances. He expects to hit the century mark again next season.

Elk Pin Spillers Active; No Games Booked This Week

John Forshar's pin spillers took the long end of the score in the special match rolled at the Elks' Temple last week between teams composed of the ten leading bowlers of the club. Forshar's squad won on a margin of 25 pins. Both teams got away to a poor start, although the game was hotly contested. This was the first of a series of three matches among the ten leading bowlers. The next contest will take place some time next week. Vic Remell and Dr. Southard were the best pin getters, each getting counts of 560 for an average of 187. Forshar was a close second with a total of 544 with an average of 181. Graphos got high score with 222. Other high scores registered were Forshar 219, Southard 218 and 211, and Remell with 209 and 200. Weber and Perry both had an off-night, each gathering eight splits. Bear Cats Win Three. Only two series were bowled on the regular Elks' League schedule during the past week, the Bear Cats taking two out of three games from the leading Pirates. The Lions also won the series from the Tigers, and their victory places them in first position in the league standing. Hentschell was the best pin walloper this week, getting a total of 558 for an average of 186, with Roberts next with 536, giving him an average of 179. Quick registered high count with 202. It has been decided to observe the foul line rule, and the members are requested henceforth to watch their step. The league regrets the loss of Carl Ekstrom of the Cubs, who will be absent for several weeks due to his recent accident. Carl is one of the league's most enthusiastic supporters, and his return is gladly awaited. In the meantime, Vic Remell will captain the Cubs, and Zack Bays has been transferred to them from the Lions to bolster up this aggregation. Vacation This Week. There are no games scheduled for this week on account of the holiday season, but the schedule will be picked up again the following week. A summary of the scores follows: Individual Standing. DEFENDANT IS DISCHARGED IN FUR BURGLARY

On motion of the prosecuting attorney, court action was dropped yesterday in the case of George Dorman, Jr., scheduled for examination Saturday morning. Dorman was arrested in connection with the theft of $1,500 worth of mink furs from the Charles N. Isaacson shop in this city. Lack of evidence is given as the cause for dismissing the case. Following Atty. V. I. Hixson's motion for dismissal in court Saturday morning, Justice W. A. McKinney discharged the defendant, and released the bondsman, who had furnished recognizance of $1,000 for Dorman's appearance.

YULE PROGRAM TONIGHT AT 6:00 FOR EVERYONE

This evening at six o'clock, Manistique people will join in a short community Christmas program. In case the weather is favorable, the celebration will be held at the big community tree, corner of Cedar, Oak and Arbutus. Arrangements have been made to hold the program in the high school auditorium in case of cold weather. A feature of the program will be the singing of Christmas carols, with orchestra accompaniment. Short talks will be given by local pastors.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. O. FARLEY SATURDAY A. M.

Mrs. Oliver Farley, well-known resident of Garden, was called by death early Saturday morning, according to reports received at Manistique. Her son, Aldred, employed at the People's store in this city, was called to Garden Friday, and was at his mother's bedside when she died.

BIG DOUBLE BILL AT AUDITORIUM TUESDAY NIGHT

A double bill of entertainment, basketball and dancing, will be offered Manistique people at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, December 22, under the auspices of the local American Legion. Manistique's newly organized Legion team will make its debut of the year Tuesday evening, playing the Gladstone city team. A snappy preliminary will precede the main event. As soon as the smoke of the basketball battle has cleared away, the gymnasium floor will be turned over to the dancers, music for the event to be furnished by Von's orchestra of Manistique. This is the only dance booked for the holiday week in this city, and is expected to draw a big crowd, coupled with the Legion's opening game.

FIND NO CAUSE FOR ACTION IN SMASHUP SUIT

In a suit to recover $250 damages for an auto accident which occurred at Manistique last June, a verdict of no cause for action was returned by a jury in justice court here Friday afternoon. The principals in the case were: George Dorman, Sr., plaintiff, and Zack Bays, defendant. Dorman sought to collect damages from Bays for injuries to his Dodge car, received last June 16 in a collision with the Bays machine at the corner of Range and Arbutus. The car was driven by Mrs. Dorman and Mrs. Bays, respectively. The jury was composed of the following men: Joseph Bebeau, E. J. Hruska, Louis Tebo, Ole Lagman, Fridolf Danielson, Louis Harbin. The witnesses for the plaintiff were: Mrs. Mary Dorman, Mrs. Ed Hogarty, Ed Hogarty, Jr., and George Dorman, Sr. Mrs. Cora Bays testified for the defense, represented by Atty. H. J. Rushton of Escanaba. James C. Wood of Manistique was attorney for the plaintiff.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. Ray Larson wishes to thank all neighbors and friends at Manistique for thoughtful acts of kindness during the time she was confined to her home with injuries. Mrs. Larson received painful and serious burns six weeks ago, and is now recovered sufficiently to be around the house. M665-354-11.

Easy Lessons in AUCTION BRIDGE

New Series by WYNNE FERGUSON Author of Ferguson on Auction Bridge Copyright 1925 by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 8

In what way does the expert differ from any other auction player? Has he more imagination, more courage, more resourcefulness, more originality? What particular quality makes him stand out among his fellows? If there is anything that we don't understand we usually subject it to a close examination and analysis so let's do the same with the expert. Let us place him under the microscope and let his mind magnify his bidding and play. The following hand is illustrative of the writer's contention that in the language of sport, the expert "has everything."

it was a civil case we use the word convicted because in a moral sense the decision carries that implication.

WELLS COMPANY POINTS WAY
A marked revival of interest in upper peninsula cut over lands on the part of the outside public, is indicated in the sale in the past four months by the I. Stephenson Co.

It would seem that the conscience of the state of Illinois is beginning to reassert itself. If it will expand its attention to the record of the Illinois board of pardon and parole which in two years, it is disclosed, has paroled 950 criminals and released them to re-commence their depredations on society.

Extensive land holding corporations in recent years have found it impracticable, in view of mounting tax costs, to hold great areas after the timber has once been removed and one of the big problems of the day is the rapidly with which such lands in Michigan are going back to the state for non-payment of taxes.

Because his wife refused to help him solve a cross-word puzzle, a New Yorker shot her. What's a six-letter synonym for "justifiable homicide"?

But the benefits accruing from these two sales do not end there. The Hamilton club of Chicago will spend a considerable sum of money in building a summer playground for its members in the 40,000 acre tract, increasing the value of the property for taxation purposes, but the greatest value will lie in the club's plan to establish a mammoth game preserve there, which will serve as the breeding and propagation ground for wild life not only for that district but for a wide surrounding territory.

Recent high-lights in the news cause one to wonder whether any murders are committed, these days, by persons over sixteen years of age.

It may be that the I. Stephenson Co. Trustees has pointed the way to other large land holding companies in the state for a solution of the problems they face, as well as the problem of the public, offered in the turning back to the state of great tracts of idle lands.

"Dinner time is damned," Jerome's voice was as pettish as a child's. "Aren't you going to give me any sympathy? Fine kind of a pal you are!"

SPINSTERHOOD

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BARBARA HAWLEY, 25, breaks with her fiancé, BRUCE REYNOLDS, and goes to work at the Press. In order to see life, ANDREW McDERMOTT, the managing editor, is a former friend of her father, BOB JEFFRIES, police reporter, proves friendly.

woman'll get him. Every little bit of fun you have with a girl, she makes you pay for, either by marriage or by blackmail.

Barbara looked down at her. She caught a whiff of alcohol on his breath. "You're such a good kid, Barbara," he said, "that you make a fellow feel better, just to look at you. I was pretty low when I called you up today. Didn't know of anybody who could do me as much good as you."

Barbara started and looked at him with puzzled eyes. He drew a card from his pocket and handed it to her. "Jonathan Manners," it read. "Manners, Stone and Reynolds."

Barbara looked at the card with puzzled eyes. He drew a card from his pocket and handed it to her. "Jonathan Manners," it read. "Manners, Stone and Reynolds."

"You've been with us several months now," he said, "and I'd like to give you a better chance to show what you can do. Wells likes your work, but he hates to admit it. He isn't much for women on the staff, you know."

Barbara looked at the card with puzzled eyes. He drew a card from his pocket and handed it to her. "Jonathan Manners," it read. "Manners, Stone and Reynolds."

"You've been talking with him," continued McDermott, "and we've agreed that the Press needs a more human interest feature. You are the best man on the staff for those. I know you don't like sob stories, but you know a good one when you see it. I decided that the day you brought in the West Plains wreck stuff.

PAUL'S SUMMARY OF HIS LIFE

didn't know he was drunk till just before you came along. I was trying to get him to go back then.

Chapter XXV.
The door of McDermott's office was closed for a half hour. Barbara sat at her desk, trying to work, looking up at every movement in the neighborhood of the door.

Barbara looked down at her desk and sat down again. The loveless mail had accumulated in piles in the two wire baskets. "Proofs of Barbara's Christmas page for women lay across her typewriter. In the center of the page was a picture of a fat and laughing baby."

That sacrifice to faithful service and to the prospect of divine vindication and reward. "I have fought a good fight," he says, "I have finished my course; I have kept the faith."

He is right at the very close of his career, with the prospect that his death is almost immediately at hand. It is at such a time that a man may be expected to see clearly the things that have been really worth while in his life, and to estimate at their real worthlessness the things that have no eternal value.

Manners watched her, his lips twisting ironically. "We'll be in town in half an hour," he said, smoothly. "Then if you'll tell me where your friend lives, I'll deliver him at the rear entrance, and take you home. But first, I'll try to push this car out of the middle of the road."

He recalls the persecutions and afflictions that had shaped his course, but he has the joyous consciousness of having endured them. He recognizes that a higher power gave him strength. "Out of them all," he says, "the Lord delivered me."

WARNING NOTE SO-ENDED.

A warning to the people of Manistiquette, that the mere adoption of a council manager charter is not a cure all for a city's problems and must be followed by the election of a fair minded, big minded council, is contained in the following editorial from the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill:

MANISTIQUE VOTED OVERHELMINGLY last week to adopt the commission-manager form of government with a city manager. Manistiquette will find that if she will give some attention to the character of the men she chooses as her commissioners that she has bettered her condition but if the commission manager isn't any better than the aldermanic timber there will be little if any appreciable difference.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch

REMEMBER THE TIME?
Remember the time we drove so long
O'er the hills on an afternoon,
And we lifted up to the swallow's song
Two hearts that were full of fun?
Remember the time we drove so far?
So far that we hardly knew,
Till the sky had only a single star,
And the world was sweet with dew?
Remember the time we stood so late,
Though few were the words we spoke,
The night we stood by the garden gate
Till the twittering birds awoke?
Remember the time the clock ticked on,
Though we hadn't so much to say,
Till the fire light turned to the light of dawn,
And the light of the dawn to day?
Remember the time? Oh, I think you do,
Yes, even as I recall,
I know that memories come to you
Of the loveliest time of all.
Though many the joys we have had since then,
And many the hours of bliss,
The time I remember the best is when
We didn't remember the time.

FLAPPER FANNY says

The room will be warm enough to dress in. "Mummy, dear, what would I do without your thoughtfulness? This feverish life I lead would have slain me long ago if it hadn't been for you." Mrs. Hawley frowned. "It's too hard a life, Barbara. I'm afraid for you." "No, it isn't mother. I like it—except when I have to get up and go to work Christmas mornings." She rolled over and looked out the window. A thin fall of snow was drifting down against a leaden gray sky. A bare twig on the maple tree was pecking away at the window pane.

Today's Programs. AT THE DELFT-Johnny Hines in his latest comedy, "The Live Wire." The story was written by Richard Washburn Child and the supporting cast includes Mildred Ryan, Ed Brees, J. Barney Sherry and Flora Finch. AT THE STRAND-Lefty Flynn in "The No-Gun Man," a western comedy drama in which the intrepid star is said to perform a number of thrillers. Lefty is supported by a first-rate cast. AT ST. JOSEPH'S-Monty Banks in "Keep Smiling" will be the feature picture at St. Joseph's auditorium today. It is a speedy comedy drama. Several acts of home-talent vaudeville will be on the program tonight. Rod LaRoque heads an exceptionally strong cast in "The Coming of Amos," screen version of the novel by William J. Locke, which will be the feature picture on the Delt's Monday and Tuesday program. Others in the picture are Jettie Goudal, the European beauty who recently made her American screen debut; Noah Beery, Richard Carle, Arthur Hoyt and Trislie Frigiana. Cecil B. DeMille supervised the production. The story is a melodrama comedy which swings from the wilds of Australia to the Riviera certainly a widely contrasted shift which provides opportunities for elaborate scenes and settings. Curwood Picture Coming. James Oliver Curwood's "The Ancient Highway" will be shown at the Delt Wednesday and Thursday. It is the story of a young man who, after an extended globe-trotting expedition, goes back to his native town on the St. Lawrence river for the expressed purpose of "beating up" the man who ruined his father. The featured players are Jack Holt, Billie Dove and Montague Love. The story contains all the action and thrills for which Curwood yarns are noted and big scenes and attractive scenery are numerous. The novel, following its recent publication in a leading magazine, is enjoying extensive book-store and library popularity. To feature his Christmas day program, Manager Jacobs has booked Douglas MacLean in "Seven Keys to Baldpate," probably the funniest piece of writing George M. Cohan ever did for the stage. Mr. MacLean's immense popularity as a comedian and the support given him by the cast includes Crawford Kent, Edith Francisco, Edith Roberts and a dozen other well-knowns, adds greatly to the artistry of the production. Fred Newmeyer who directed some of Harold Lloyd's biggest successes, was the megaphone man. Strand Programs. "Swiss Family Robinson," that favorite old story which has delighted millions, has made its way to the screen at last. It has been retitled, "Perils of the Wilds," and the producers have rounded up an excellent cast. Margaret Quimby plays the leading feminine role. Joe Monaco, "the strongest man in the world" has an important part in the picture. So have Jack Mower, Alfred Allee and Eva Gordon. The director is Francis Ford, who is recalled by old-timers as one of the stars of the early-day film firmament. The picture comes to the Strand Monday and Tuesday. "Go Straight," a romantic melodrama of crookdom, will be shown at the Strand Wednesday and Thursday. In the cast are such luminaries as Owen Moore, Gladys Hulette, Mary Carr, Robert Edeson and George Fawcett. Elaine Hammerstein in "After Business Hours," will be the featured player on the Strand's Friday and Saturday bill. Lou Tellegen, John Patrick and Phyllis Haver are also in the cast.
