

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS TAKE 2 LIVES

AGED WOMAN RUN DOWN BY MOTOR TRUCK

MRS. DELIA TREPANIER FATALLY INJURED

Mrs. Della Trepanier, aged 81, died in St. Francis hospital about 8:45 o'clock last night from injuries received late in the afternoon when she was struck by a motor truck at the corner of Ludington and South Tenth streets.

The motor truck was driven by A. Baum, and had been proceeding eastward in Ludington street. Mr. Baum turned into Tenth street where his view was momentarily hampered by an automobile parked near the Peterson Flower Shoppe.

No bones were broken and bruises were said not to have been serious, but the shock of the accident and the fall was severe. This, with her advanced age and the weakened condition of her heart, caused death.

Mrs. Trepanier had been a widow for 37 years. For more than a quarter of a century she was a dressmaker, but she abandoned this pursuit about ten years ago. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Theophile Duford of Iron Mountain.

The body will be taken to the home of A. F. Joint, 419 South Fifteenth street, this afternoon. Funeral services will be held at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery, eastern cities.

TO CLEAN OUT PIRATES' LAIR

Cantonese Government Will Suppress Bias Bay Sea Robberies

Shanghai, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Suppression of piracy at Bias Bay, notorious lair of Chinese pirates who long have defied authority, is the first job that the new Cantonese government has set for itself.

Foreign dispatches from Canton today stated that the Canton government of nationalists which started a few days ago to establish a new Cantonese government independent of all other nationalist regimes, is pushing its plans rapidly and is taking an active hand in Canton's administration.

As an indication of the groups' intention of operating independently of its erstwhile colleagues at Nanking, it was announced that 30,000 Cantonese soldiers now proceeding toward Hankow to aid the Nanking regime in throwing out Gen. Tang Seng-Chi, will be called back to Canton.

The first job that the major portion of Canton's army will be ordered to undertake is the suppression of piracy along the south China coast centering on Bias Bay, the notorious and picturesque pirate center against which the British, at Hongkong more than once sent punitive expeditions.

Object to Woman Administratrix of Mrs. Remus' Estate

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Objection to the appointment of Mrs. Grace Campbell as administratrix of the estate of Mrs. Imogene Remus, the wife he killed on October 6, was raised in probate court today by George Remus, through Charles H. Elston, his attorney.

CONVICT MAN OF DOUBLE KILLING

38-Year-Old Janitor Cut Up Bodies of Two Victims

New York, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Ludwig Lee, a janitor, was convicted by a jury today of the murder of Mrs. Selma Bennett, one of the two Brooklyn women whom he was accused of slaying and dismembering.

Lee was remanded to prison until November 14 when sentence will be passed. The jury was out about three and one-half hours.

Lee, who is 38, was arrested July 10 after the murder of his landlady, Mrs. Sarah E. Brownell, 63, and Mrs. Selma Bennett, 48, parts of whose bodies were found in the cellar of Mrs. Brownell's Brooklyn rooming house.

Detectives believed Mrs. Bennett was slain because she had discovered the slayer in his attack on Mrs. Brownell.

He denied knowledge of the murders, but with the discovery of the bundles containing other parts of the bodies, he was arraigned on the murder charge.

After his indictment his counsel announced that an appeal had been made to Secretary of State Kellogg concerning "atrocities" inflicted on Lee by police to obtain a confession from him.

The grand jury found no evidence that Lee had been mistreated by the investigators.

International rules on aviation, measures for extending civil rights to women on the same basis as men, and regulations affecting various phases of commercial and maritime practice, together with an agreement on cardinal principles of international law, will constitute the legal work of the conference.

But there will be plenty of opportunity in the discussion for the revival of the project launched last time whereby the Pan-American states shall be knit together in a better organization for the handling of problems common to this continent.

Better Service for Hunters This Year

Lansing, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The annual rush of hunters to the upper peninsula for the deer season will be welcomed at the straits this year with improved facilities for travel, but will be placed under the most thorough vigilance in the history of the state.

Frank F. Rogers, highway commissioner, announced today the state ferry boats will shuttle back and forth as rapidly as they accumulate loads.

Last year they adhered to fixed schedules and the result was frequent strings of waiting cars, blocks long.

While this change was being ordered, the state conservation commission was formally approving the employment of 57 extra deputies who will patrol the northern woods. This force will supplement the regular wardens from both the upper and lower peninsulas and members of the state police.

In addition to the wood patrols, inspections are to be made of all streams and camps during the hunting season. Stickers will be affixed to cars going to lower Michigan and will have to run another gauntlet there.

PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS WILL BE IMPORTANT

HUGHES WILLING TO REPRESENT UNITED STATES

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright 1927, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Nov. 3.—The willingness of Charles Evans Hughes and other eminent Americans to serve on the United States delegation to the Pan-American congress at Havana in January confirms the importance which is being attached throughout the western hemisphere to the next gathering.

Efforts at the last meeting to make of the Pan-American union a political rather than a commercial body, discussion of the implications of the Monroe doctrine and new problems that are arising in connection with the membership of Latin-American states in the league of nations at Geneva all have combined to make the policy of the United States toward its neighbors the central theme of the conference, however general or abstract may be the items on the program.

Ready for Combat. The United States government recognizes that her policies in Central America as well as South America may come under severe criticism and she is ready for the combat.

Ambassador Henry Fletcher, who now is in Chile and who served in Mexico and Mexico and speaks Spanish fluently, has been chosen a delegate, as has been Ambassador Dwight Morrow, now in Mexico City. The American ambassador to Cuba will be a member of the delegation but former Secretary Hughes and Ambassadors Fletcher and Morrow are expected to take care of the more or less political problems that may arise at the meeting.

Dr. James Brown Scott, Dean Wilbur of Leland Stanford University, former Judge Morgan O'Brien, and former Senator Underwood will devote themselves to the legal and sociological questions that will be discussed.

Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director-general of the Pan-American union, will be concerned largely with the administrative side of the conference and is himself a diplomat versed in the large question that will confront the American delegation. He too is a Spanish scholar.

Aviation Rules. International rules on aviation, measures for extending civil rights to women on the same basis as men, and regulations affecting various phases of commercial and maritime practice, together with an agreement on cardinal principles of international law, will constitute the legal work of the conference.

But there will be plenty of opportunity in the discussion for the revival of the project launched last time whereby the Pan-American states shall be knit together in a better organization for the handling of problems common to this continent.

One Mine Forced to Close Because of Demonstrations

Denver, Colo., Nov. 3.—(AP)—One mine was forced to close in southern Colorado today because of a striker's demonstration and all others increased working forces as the strike of Colorado coal miners dragged through its sixteenth day.

As a result of the strikers' demonstration that caused the Ideal mine to suspend operations, Colorado Fuel and Iron company officials announced they would drop their "no resistance policy."

Supt. M. M. Watson of the Ideal mine was instructed to use his own discretion in the future in handling trespassers on company property.

"Avoid bloodshed if possible," was the only suggestion made to the mine superintendent.

The demonstration was held on the public school grounds about 300 yards from the mouth of the mine. The school property is owned by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. Over 300 strikers and their I. W. W. leaders went to the property at 5 a. m. and remained until 8 a. m., listening to 12 speakers who told the miners not to go to work.

NO DEDUCTIONS ARE ADVOCATED

Ways and Means Committee Discusses Income Taxes

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—For the first time in years, the house ways and means committee devoted practically an entire session today to consideration of the direct tax on individual incomes without a single witness advocating reduction in the levies, although a recommendation was received that the exemption granted single persons should be increased from $2,500 to $3,000.

During the writing of the last two revenue laws, the individual income rates which directly affect the pocketbooks of millions of taxpayers, were the center of debate.

The move for increased exemption for single persons was sponsored by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs. Representatives argued that the average married man or head of a family now enjoys a 130 per cent better position during the war and about 20 per cent better than before the war, while the exemption allowed single persons is only one-half of what it was before the war.

"The injustice done single persons is emphasized by the fact that the treasury has each year unnecessarily collected about $600,000,000 over and above the government's needs," one witness said.

Increase Charity Exemption. The witness also held that a number of single persons contribute to the family's support in some way and argued that most of them came within the lower income levels.

Isaac Frank, Pittsburgh, Pa., advocated that all incomes devoted by persons to philanthropic purposes be exempted from taxation.

"At least it would be more just," he said, "to increase the present exemption on charitable donations up to 50 per cent of the income instead of 15 per cent."

Both of the Kidwell's were excused in the afternoon, the young juror being instructed to return to his place of business and hold himself in readiness at any time he might be requested to return to the court for further questioning before the grand jury.

Hired Car for $27 a Day. Statements designed to show a connection with Day and Sinclair were furnished by Eugene Blauvelt, who told Neil Burkinshaw, assistant district attorney conducting the grand jury investigation, that Day had employed him to drive Sinclair about Washington in a high-priced automobile.

The record as it stands in the district attorney's office is that Day first communicated with Frank T. Hurley, agent here for the Lincoln Motor company, in an effort to hire several automobiles for an indefinite term. He was referred to Blauvelt who said he went to the Mayflower hotel where Sinclair had his headquarters during the trial, and was directed to a room in which there were several men. He agreed to hire himself and car for $27 a day.

Blauvelt told Burkinshaw that he drove Sinclair to and from the court and to the Metropolitan club, and various other places; that he did not go to the home of Donald Woodward, wealthy Washington merchant, where it is charged Day got his reports from the detectives.

CALL IN OFFICERS. Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Secret service men, quiet moving agents of the federal treasury who safeguard presidents and hunt down counterfeiters with equal felicity, were called in by the district attorney's office to checkmate the Burns' detectives who shadowed the jurors in the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy case.

Chief William H. Moran assigned some of the most capable men on his staff for this task and they worked with deputy marshals and the metropolitan police day and night, trailing not alone the private operatives from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, but others such as

SEEK EVIDENCE AGAINST DAY AND SINCLAIR

TRY TO BRIDGE GAPS IN DETECTIVES' ACTIVITIES

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The government set about today to bridge the gaps in the trail of evidence touching the activities of Burns' detectives in shadowing jurors in the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial, as the grand jury investigation went forward.

Seeking evidence to directly connect Harry F. Sinclair and A. Mason Day, to whom it is charged the Burns' operatives reported, district attorneys obtained the statement of one witness that he was employed by Day to drive the wealthy oil operator about Washington during the trial and that Day paid him $371 in cash only last night for his services.

Another surprise element to the whole proceeding was furnished when Mark B. Thompson of New Mexico, one of Albert B. Fall's attorneys, was sent before the grand jury after a conference with District Attorney Gordon. He was questioned about a telephone conversation he had with Dan R. Jackson of El Paso, Texas, a special assistant to Attorney General Serrett.

Jackson said this conversation was entirely personal, adding that it had nothing to do with the oil case. Thompson declined to discuss it, explaining that he could not divulge what he had told in the grand jury room.

Investigate Detectives' Actions. This angle of the investigation was opened up when agents of the district attorney found several reports of the movements of another assistant to the attorney general in the papers found by federal agents in the raid on the headquarters of the Burns men at the Wardman Park hotel last Monday.

Inquiries were made to ascertain why the detectives should have been trailing an assistant to the attorney general and why they were in progress. It was disclosed that Thompson and Jackson had been in communication with each other.

Edward J. Kidwell, the juror accused of having talked too freely before Justice Siddons ordered a mistrial in the oil case yesterday, was around the courthouse, much of the time during the day. He was accompanied by his father, Edward J. Kidwell, Sr., a barber, who also may be asked to go before the grand jury later.

Both of the Kidwell's were excused in the afternoon, the young juror being instructed to return to his place of business and hold himself in readiness at any time he might be requested to return to the court for further questioning before the grand jury.

Crew of Dutch Tanker Gets $1,000 Check for Rescue of Miss Elder

New York, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A check for $1,000 was turned over to the Associated Press today to be given to the captain and crew of the Dutch oil tanker Barendrecht in token of the gratitude of Wheeling, W. Va., citizens for the rescue of Ruth Elder and George Haldeman, after they were forced down at sea October 13, last, while attempting a non-stop flight from here to Paris.

The check was forwarded by the Associated Press to the Guaranty Trust company of New York with instructions that the money be sent to Baytown, Texas, where the ship is docked. The money was telegraphed immediately in order that it could reach the Barendrecht's crew before they leave port tomorrow.

Behind the tale of the raising of the fund lay an incident of Miss Elder arriving in Paris "broke." The story, as told to the Associated Press today by Harry Reichenbach, New York advertising man, who represents the Wheeling donors of the fund, was that Miss Elder was asked in cable messages from her backers if she had paid the Barendrecht's crew for their rescue work. The answer came back from Paris that she had been unable to do so because she was "broke."

When she was informed that several hundred of her Wheeling friends and admirers had contributed a total of $1,000, she cabled the suggestion that $400 of the amount be presented to the captain; $600 to the husky sailors who rescued her, and Haldeman in the middle of the ocean.

The Wheeling people, who are all friends of mine," explained Reichenbach, "asked me to get in touch with the Associated Press, inasmuch as Miss Elder had wireless answer to the first place of her rescue at sea. Although they had had difficulty in finding out where the Barendrecht way. They thought the vessel was at Galveston, Tex., and they sent telegrams, but received no answer. So we thought you could locate the ship for us."

MAN KILLED WHEN TRUCK HITS TRAIN

DRIVER OF CAR IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Rudolph Johnson, 30, 901 North Nineteenth street, was instantly killed when the truck, in which he was riding, ran into local Train No. 2 of the Escanaba and Lake Superior Railway at the Stephenson street crossing, near the Chatfield Brass and Foundry company, about 4:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Adolph Quist, 300 North Fifteenth street, driver of the truck, is in St. Francis hospital, suffering from serious bruises about the face and head and probably internal injuries.

Johnson's head was crushed, virtually every bone being broken. His neck probably was broken. Death apparently was instantaneous.

Quist was knocked unconscious for a few seconds. When he revived, he crawled out from the wreckage, walked around for a few steps until he got his bearings, and then assisted in removing Johnson's body from the truck into the ambulance.

Cause is Mystery. Police, who investigated the accident, were told by several witnesses that Quist was driving at a high rate of speed when they crashed into the train.

Just how Quist happened to drive head-on into the side of the train in the daylight, with the view of the train unobstructed, is unexplainable. The two men, who were employees of the Pearson Boiler Works and were riding one of this company's trucks, were coming south on Stephenson avenue.

The train, composed of only a combination passenger-baggage coach and engine, was going west across Stephenson avenue, headed for Wells. Brakeman George Anderson of Wells had some ahead of the engine to flag the street. The truck was not in sight as the engine started to pull across the street, and then he walked to the east side of the street, and hopped on the rear of the coach as the automobile crashed. Anderson did not see the crash for he was on the south side of the train.

Truck Demolished. Brakeman Joseph E. Brown, 315 South Sixteenth street, was sitting in the coach and saw the automobile approaching at a high rate of speed from about 200 feet away. It was zig-zagging slightly as if the driver was attempting to apply the brakes as the car neared, according to Brakeman Brown, and just before the collision, the auto swerved to the east, hitting the front end of the coach sideways and stopping near the sidewalk on the other side.

The truck was demolished. Both front wheels were knocked off, the engine shoved back, the radiator and fenders were crushed, and the cab top was brushed away. The two occupants were not thrown off, Quist remaining behind the wheel, and Johnson's body was crumpled up on the seat.

Steps on the railway coach were torn off, and the housing on the rear right wheel of the front truck of the coach was broken.

FLOODS SWEEP NEW ENGLAND

Heavy Rains Swell Rivers in Three Eastern States

Boston, Nov. 3—(AP)—Swollen by heavy rains, the rivers draining a large part of New England tonight had topped the normal spring-time freshet marks, and flood conditions prevailed in virtually all of Vermont, in western Massachusetts, and in a part of Connecticut. Rail and highway communications were interrupted by washouts and over a wide area roads were rendered impassible. The rain continued over a large part of the affected territory tonight.

In Vermont where the heavy rains set in early last evening, the damage was greatest. Three lives were lost in that state. The city of Rutland, part of which was under water tonight, was threatened with calamity from the imminent collapse of two large reservoir dams above the city.

The three main railroad arteries through Vermont which connect Canada with New England and New York state, were paralyzed in the grip of flood conditions unprecedented at this season of the year. In many places overflowing rivers and streams tore away tracks, carried off bridges and flooded the lines for long stretches. South-bound trains from Montreal to Boston and Maine line were stalled at White River Junction and Roxbury, Vt.

Million Dollar Damages. In western Massachusetts, the railroads suffered from washouts. The east and west bound sections of the Boston-Chicago flyer on the Boston and Maine were hopelessly stalled behind washouts at Williamstown and North Adams. The Boston and Albany tracks were blocked by a washout at Beckett. At North Adams the waters of the Hoosac river swept a score of houses, several bridges and caused over a million dollars damage. Pittsfield reported highway traffic to the Berkshires closed because of a landslide over the Jacob's Ladder highway at Lee.

Escaped Convict Will Be Returned to Michigan Pen

Jackson, Nov. 3—(AP)—Gates of the Connecticut prison at Hartford will open outward within a few days for Edward Robinson, escaped inmate from the Michigan state prison, but not to liberty. Local prison officials sent an officer Thursday afternoon to Hartford to return the escaped man to Jackson in order that he may complete his Michigan sentence. Robinson, who is 29 years old, walked away from the Brighton Road camp, June 25, 1924. He was arrested in Connecticut shortly afterward and sentenced to serve one to two years in prison for breaking and entering.

Robinson was sentenced to the Michigan state prison December 12, 1923, from Chippewa county to serve two to 15 years for breaking and entering. He had previously served two terms in the Kingston, Ont., reformatory at Guelph for similar offenses. He also spent 60 days in the Montreal jail at one time.

OFFICIALS FIND FIRE WAS SET

Explosion of Gasoline Destroyed Detroit Theater

Detroit, Nov. 3—(AP)—Explosion of gasoline placed in the Tivoli theatre Wednesday by an incendiary is believed to have caused the destruction of the structure, and the death of Frank Montesano, police suspect, Charles V. Lane, assistant state fire marshal, said today.

"The walls of the theatre were pushed out," Mr. Lane said, "as they would be by a gasoline explosion. A high explosive would have shattered them. It would also have broken the windows in the church nearby. The rugs in the aisles seem to have been saturated with gasoline."

The explosion occurred about midnight, startling people for many blocks, and causing destruction of the building. The body of Montesano was found partially buried under the ruins. Another man, believed to have conspired with Montesano to destroy the building, was seen running down an alleyway, his clothes in flames.

The investigation, now being conducted by city and state police so far has brought a long statement from Joseph Cosko, operator of the theatre. Cosko said he had trouble with a gang of black mailers about three years ago, who demanded $25,000. Several letters received from apparently the same source were turned over to police, he said. Damage to the theatre will reach $100,000, police believe.

The United States has not been opposed in principle to such an idea but has felt that it could not in any way abridge certain fundamentals like the Monroe doctrine which have a traditional strength with American public opinion. ### Wisconsin County Has 4th Unsolved Murder in a Year

Rhineland, Wis., Nov. 3—(AP)—A fourth unsolved murder in a year confronts forest county authorities with the finding of the body of John W. Korba, 66, of Friendship, Wis., near the state fish hatcheries.

Questioning of Henry Miller, section worker, of Woodruff, Wis., failed to disclose a clew and he was released Wednesday night.

Authorities are investigating the fact that Korba might have been robbed. Korba was shot apparently at close range with a .25 caliber pistol.

Dog Digs Up Bone in Yard; Belongs There, Says Judge

Iron Mountain, Mich., Nov. 3—(AP)—A hunting dog who had a double has decided for Justice Spencer the question of the animal's domicile.

The justice, after seeing the dog dig up a bone in the backyard of Edward Rucinski, and curl up contentedly in a kennel decided that it was her home.

It solved the dilemma presented by the contest between Rucinski and Wilfred Hooper, Norway, Mich., each of whom claimed the dog. A trial of the case brought the justice no closer to a solution for the evidence balanced. Twelve witnesses and one dog fancier testified the dog was Rucinski's and twelve witnesses and one fancier were equally certain the animal belonged to Hooper.

Puzzled, Spencer took the dog to Rucinski's home and then became convinced of the man's rightful claim to the hunting dog, when he saw the animal give evidence of feeling "at home."

COOLIDGE DOES NOT COMMENT

Rumors Circulated That He Will Amplify Statement

Washington, Nov. 3—(AP)—Mysterious rumors, which have been floating into Washington during the past three days to the general effect that President Coolidge was about to amplify his statement that he did not choose to run in 1928, finally began to penetrate into the White House itself today, but there was no indication that they had any foundation.

The reports have filtered in from New York, Chicago and other populous centers, always with the stipulation that Mr. Coolidge's action would be taken "after the close of the market."

Some of those about the White House believed they were circulated in an effort to influence the market while others contended their purpose was to influence Mr. Coolidge into making another statement.

The rumors gained such wide circulation here that finally they resulted in numerous telephone calls to the White House from business circles and members of congress. The first report to reach the executive offices was from Wall Street sources which declared that the president would announce after the closing of the stock market that he would content to become a candidate after all.

SELECT HIGH DEBATE TEAM

Nine Speakers Will Represent Escanaba on Platform

Tryouts for the Escanaba debating squad were held last night at the high school under the direction of Mr. Zerbel, debating coach. Nine speakers who were picked to represent the Escanaba high school on the debate platform this year are: Rita Auerbach, Marguerite Elis, Dorothy Folio, Jane Glavin, Hilding Olson, Robert Oshins, William Peters, Helen Snyder, Alice May Whittier.

Six other speakers who tried out for the squad are: Mae D'Amour, Eleanor English, Olive King, Robert Snow and Margaret Yelland.

The eliminations were very closely contested and showed prospects for a good debate season. The Escanaba high school is a member of the newly organized Upper Peninsula Debating League. Donald H. Bottum, principal of the Normal high school of Northern Teachers' college, Marquette, is manager of the Upper Peninsula Debate League. Debate eliminations will be held during the season and the two upper peninsula teams that have the highest ranking will debate for the Upper Peninsula championship in the auditorium of the Northern Teachers' college at the close of the season.

This is the first year that there has ever been such a thing as a debate championship determined in the upper peninsula. There are about 20 debate teams in the league.

Reach Agreement to Put Lid on Oil Production

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 3—(AP)—An agreement to keep the lid on production in the Seminole oil field of Oklahoma, despite a recent falling off in the output, was reached here at a meeting of operators of the area here today. The curtailment program was adopted some months ago when the Seminole production shot up over the 500,000 barrel mark, and brought a crisis in the petroleum industry.

These men, whose duties often lead them into many hidden haunts of scores of federal statutes, moved so unobtrusively about their latest task that not even the private detectives are believed to have had any idea their presence in Washington was even known to the authorities until the raiding crew descended upon them at the Waldman Park hotel. In the haul made there were documents which the prosecuting lawyers in the oil case regard as of the highest importance; documents which already have been presented to the grand jury and which have furnished "leads" running to New York and other eastern cities.

RIVER-HARBOR MEET CALLED

Escanaba Asked to Send Delegates to Washington

BY C. C. SCHLING.
 Washington, Nov. 3, (Special)—The annual official call from the National Rivers and Harbors Congress has been sent from Washington to Mayor George G. Genesee of Escanaba and Secretary O. I. Banden of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce giving them full authority to appoint and accredit delegates to the twenty-third annual convention of the congress to be held here on December 7th and 8th. Close to one thousand delegates from all parts of the United States are expected to discuss plans for the improvements of rivers and harbors and make ready to present to the incoming seventeenth Congress an estimate of the appropriation which will be required to carry out the 1928 program.

Flood Control First.
 Unquestionably the important subject at this year's convention will be that of flood control. Much work toward solving that problem has already been accomplished. Beginning while the flood was at its height, more than 150 government engineers have been studying every phase of the subject. The plan formulated as a result of these studies will be submitted to Congress when it assembles next month, and will be fully described to the convention by Maj. General Jadwin, chief of engineers.

Not only must the solution of the problem be found but it must be found speedily. Many plans will be proposed and there will be many differences of opinion. The differences must be threshed out and a general agreement reached before any plan can be adopted by Congress and the work, begun which, when completed will make the recurrence of such disasters well high impossible.

River Trade Valuable.
 According to a survey made by the Rivers and Harbors body the value of the commerce carried over the rivers and harbors of this country during the past seven years is more than one hundred times greater than the total expenditures, both for construction and maintenance, in the past one hundred and twenty-five years. A few years ago the War department granted an average of one bridge permit a week; the present rate is one a day. Unless these rapidly multiplying bridges are given adequate clearances, both horizontal and vertical, the further growth of water-borne commerce will be seriously hampered.

Arrangements have been made with the railway companies for special reduced fares to and from the convention. In the past two years virtually every city in Michigan was represented at the meeting and it is expected that all those larger cities and small ones dependent on water transportation will send delegates.

Two Postoffices Created in U. P.

Washington, Nov. 3, (Special)—Two new postoffices were established, three postmasters appointed and one new rural route inaugurated in the Upper Peninsula within the last few days according to official announcement made today by the postoffice department. The new offices are at Traunick, Alger county, and Walsh, Schoolcraft county.

The postmasters are William E. Smith, Mohawk, Keeweenaw county; William S. Conley, Pentecost, Iron county and Mrs. Anna Latham, Hessel, Mackinac county.

The new Rapid River route, north of Rapid River for eight miles in Delta county, went into effect November 2, instead of December 2 as previously announced.

Eloquence of Mrs. Ballington Booth Stirs Audience

Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth, "Little Mother of the Prisons," gave an audience in the high school auditorium last night some remarkable pictures from her own experience—a wealth of humor, pathos and philosophy. The lecture was under the auspices of the Escanaba Woman's club.

Mrs. Ballington Booth is, without question, America's leading woman orator. She is small in stature but she has a mighty grasp of the affairs and conditions she discusses, and the ability to discuss with consummate skill.

Those who were fortunate enough to have been in her audience last night found the evening one of exceptional entertainment and profit.

NAVY OFFERS OPPORTUNITY FOR SCHOOLING

Recruiter Tells How Young Men May Advance

Some of the educational opportunities offered by the U. S. Navy are outlined in a statement given out yesterday by E. J. Cook, officer in charge of the local Naval recruiting station. Mr. Cook says: "There is no limit to the opportunity given a man to learn while in the navy. Outside of the schools maintained by the service every ship in a school itself. Practically every course taught in any business college can be had on board ship. Instructors are provided and suitable study rooms are available. A man has ample time for study without cutting in on his recreation time. Text books in all subjects are provided. "A man that takes up a trade at one of the schools spends his entire time at school. He is given instruction in every phase of the trade. The idea being to make him a mechanic not a machine hand. He has plenty of material and stock to work with. In many civilian shops the apprentice is simply put on one machine and there he stays. He must work not with the idea of learning his trade but must return a profit to the company. "The conditions under which a man learns his trade in the Navy are far superior to that in civilian life. Shops are cleaner, latest equipment and the scenery changes frequently.

"A young man enlisting today in the Navy need not look upon that period as so much lost out of his best days, and expect to emerge a stunted thing, having learned only the one lesson of absolute obedience, but he may anticipate a few years of special training wherein he can learn that which will enable him to be an expert in some useful occupation, and if he wishes to remain in the service, he can reasonably look forward to advancement."

FARM LABORER DIES SUDDENLY

Peter Lalonde Succumbs to Heart Attack at Larson Home

Peter Lalonde, an aged farm laborer, was found dead yesterday at the farm of H. C. Larson, in the Soo Hill locality. Heart disease was given as the cause of death.

Mr. Lalonde had been working at the Larson place for a few days, and Mr. Larson left the farm in his charge Wednesday night. Mr. Larson returned to the farm yesterday. He found the barns and other buildings and the house locked. Gaining an entrance to the house he found Mr. Lalonde's body in bed. The fatal heart attack was suffered some time Wednesday night, it was believed.

The body was taken to the Anderson Funeral home. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed. The deceased had no relatives, it was said. He had spent the last two years at the Delta county almshouse, leaving that institution only a few days ago to work on the Larson farm.

GARRITY WILL IS SET ASIDE

The will of the late John Garrity, subject of four days of conflict in circuit court, was set aside by a jury late yesterday. The jurors deliberated about a half-hour before returning their verdict.

The will of the veteran Escanaba superintendent of the department of public works left about half of his property to relatives and the remainder to friends of the family. The contest was brought by relatives who claimed that Mr. Garrity was not "of sound mind and memory" when the will was written shortly before his death.

Hearing of the contest began Monday morning in circuit court and the case was given to the jury shortly before 5 o'clock last night.

AT THE DELFT

Poor men's sons have been so long lauded and rich men's sons so long decried, we seem to forget that rich men's sons do have ambitions and do accomplish worthwhile things as well as the more highly publicized poor boys.

Ralph Graves, who plays the masculine lead in the "Rich Men's Sons," which comes to the Delft theatre today, takes up cudgels in behalf of the sons of wealth.

"We do not hear of the notable and distinctive accomplishments of boys whose fathers are rich—their fathers' name and position usually overshadow theirs—we only hear of the notorious things they do—the follies and the crimes they commit," Mr. Graves declares.

In "Rich Men's Sons," Graves

RADIO OWNERS SEND OUT 'SOS'

Ask Council to Help Eliminate Interference by Street Car

Owners of radio sets, residing along the route of the "Charlotte street" car line, petitioned the city council last night to take steps to repair the car now operating on that line so that radio reception would not be impaired.

The council, being informed that it had no authority to force any action, instructed City Manager T. F. Kessler to interview officials of the traction company to see whether the alleged interference could be eliminated.

A petition for a street light at the corner of Seventh avenue and South Fifteenth street also was referred to the manager with a request that he make a recommendation at the next meeting.

Reports from the various departments showed that 29 cases were disposed of in the justice courts and $731.10 in fines and fees collected, during the month of October; that there were 12 fire calls during the month with damages of $325; and that the welfare department during the month spent $1147.27 in relief of the poor.

PETALLED SKIRT. Loose petals of black taffeta, falling in irregular lengths from the waist, form the full skirt of a black taffeta and net evening gown.

It relates how Buddy Hale rode into town and became the new sheriff. It discloses how Buddy made Janet Lane's acquaintance when rescuing her from a runaway horse and how he lost it when he was told to arrest her brother for murdering a thief. It shows the methods which the ranchers were forced to use in protecting their property and that only starts describing what'll be seen when "The Last Outlaw" comes to town!

HE RAISES WORMS
New York—As a worm farmer, Richard Rowden makes a good income, and he does not sell his crop to President Coolidge either. His worms are bought by student zoologists who use them for dissection experiments. Rowden goes to an open field at night with a flashlight and catches a pallful of angle worms. By selling them at the rate of 15 for 20 cents, he makes a good day's wages.

FAIR SOCIETY WILL SELECT NEW OFFICERS

Officers and directors of the Schoolcraft county fair association will be named Saturday afternoon at the annual meeting of the society.

VAUDEVILLE TONIGHT.

Tom Meighan, Greta Nissen and Evelyn Brent are the trio of favorites which will be seen tonight in "Blind Alleys," movie feature on a double entertainment bill at the Gero theater.

CITY BRIEFS

A daughter was born this week to Mr. and Mrs. George Weber, Oak street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Minor are the parents of a son, Clifford James.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sherman of Newberry visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ludlow, Lake street, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Orr expect to leave today by motor for Chicago, where they will attend the Michigan-Chicago game.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sheahan and daughter, Bertha Mary, left Thursday morning by motor for West DePere, Wis., where they will visit their son, Ted, who is a student at St. Norbert's college.

Stanley Crowe expects to leave this evening for Chicago where he will attend the Michigan-Chicago football game.

Miss Genevieve Multaupt has resigned her position at the Manistique A. and P. store, due to the workings of the law which prohibits young people accepting employment when under 16 years of age.

Edward R. Monroe will leave this morning on a motor trip to Trout Lake to attend an outing of representatives of the Equitable Life Insurance company.

Practice Matches Open Pin League

In one of the preliminary events of the Braut alley bowling league, the Schoolcraft A. and P. team defeated the Westside keglers by a margin of 74 pins, after handicaps had been counted.

Chicago Quartette First Lyceum Event

Sponsored by the Manistique Woman's club, the Manistique lyceum entertainment course will open November 14 with a number by the Chicago Male Quartet.

Pastors of City Will Meet Today

SOO HI SQUAD AT MANISTIQUE ON SATURDAY

As a final attraction on the Manistique football schedule, Coach Cook's warriors are playing at home this week, and their opponent on Saturday will be none other than the Soo high team of Sault Ste. Marie.

The game this week will be preceded by the usual street parade, led by the high school band, and with Fred Griffin, Jr., as marshal of the day. Hundreds of Green-and-White rooters will take part in the demonstration.

Soo high has a versatile aggregation of pickin' toters this season, but they are not too good for Manistique, and the mixup Saturday afternoon should be one of the best tilts of the season. The event will start at the usual hour—2:30 p. m.

Fire Protection Needs Cooperation

Rural residents of Schoolcraft county are again reminded of the measures of preparation and cooperation expected of them in order to reap the full benefit of the county fire protection soon to be provided through the arrival in Manistique of a specially equipped fire truck for country service.

Roads to buildings and to water sources must be kept passable, and provision should be made for an emergency water supply where there is no lake, stream, or pond nearby.

The new truck will have chemical apparatus, but large fires require water, and in these cases the pump must be driven to within 15 feet of the water supply.

By exercising a few measures of preparation, it is pointed out that rural owners will be ready to get the full efficiency of the fire service in time of need.

Wash Day Untimely for Pastor's Call

London (AP)—A warning not to visit parishioners on wash day was made by the Right Reverend A. F. W. Ingram, Bishop of London, to his clergy.

This warning started a very general investigation of "when is washday" in England. The consensus is that Monday is favored in a great majority of homes.

It has also been learned that Tuesday is a bad day for parish calls. It is ironing day, and the household is generally a bit upset.

A clergyman who decided to piece out his meagre salary by selling stockings and socks discovered that the housewife is generally at leisure and in a much better mood between two and five in the afternoon than she is in the morning.

The British housewife is also much more favorably disposed toward a well-dressed peddler. When the clergyman appeared neatly attired and represented that he was putting the prospective purchaser into direct touch with the silk mills by offering her hosiery for the entire family he was able to make commissions of five dollars in an afternoon. But he had no success when he wore shabby clothes and told a tale of distress.

MISS DUNN'S PROGRESS HAS BEEN rapid since she finished her course of study. She appeared in the graduation picture "Fascinating Youth." During the succeeding year, she played small parts in "Sorrows of Satan" and "The Quarterback" before being given a prominent role in "Love's Greatest Mistake." As leading woman in the Beery-Hatton comedy Josephine has the most important role of her career. Prior to the Paramount School, Miss Dunn was on the musical comedy stage in New York. She made her bow at the age of fifteen.

The reunion of Beery and Hatton is hailed as one of the year's most important moves in film comedy. The pair scored the greatest success ever achieved by any team in "Behind the Front" and "We're in the Navy Now."

AT THE LYRIC. Romance, intermingling with the strife accompanying the pioneering of the West provides the absorbing theme of FBO's production of "Bulldog Pluck," starring Bob Custer, which shows at the Lyric theatre tonight and Saturday.

Desperados, vigilantes, tenderfeet and the rough and ready wholesome element of the pioneer western community contribute vitally to the stirring episodes of this remarkable screen story, based on W. Bert Foster's "Ace-High" magazine story, "Hardwick of Hambone."

In "Bulldog Pluck" Custer plays a heroic role as a raucous and gambling house proprietor. As a member of the better element, he is a leader in the organization of a vigilante committee formed to thwart the activities of crooked gamblers and organized under the leadership of Destin, played by Richard R. Neil.

"TILLIE THE TOLLER." Marion Davies' latest Cosmopolitan starring vehicle, "Tillie the Toller," coming to the Lyric theatre, presents to the picture-going public a new screen hero in the person of Harry Crocker. Young Crocker is a scion of a wealthy and socially prominent San Francisco family and has been working for the last two years as an extra in picture. In "Tillie the Toller," based on Russ Westover's famous novel strip, Crocker has the role

CITY ASSESSOR EXPLAINS ITEM ON TAX BUDGET

A reduction of $1.50 per thousand in the Manistique city tax rate over last year is shown in a comparative statement by W. G. Stephens, city assessor, in which Mr. Stephens explains the cause of the slight increase in total county tax as due to a cut in the valuation. The statement says: "The average taxpayer is sufficiently interested to ascertain where his money goes, and as 1927 shows a slight increase over 1926, we thought he would be especially interested in knowing just where this increase is."

"The increase in the state tax would have been the largest item but for the fact that our state tax this year is based upon a half million reduction on the aggregate value of the county as fixed by the state board of equalization."

"While the county tax shows an increase of 40 cents this is entirely due to the decrease in the county's total valuation as the appropriations are the same as in 1926. The school and one mill tax would be correspondingly reduced but for the decrease in total valuation."

Following is the comparative tax rate of 1926 and 1927 on each $1,000 valuation:

Table with 3 columns: Item, 1926, 1927. Rows include General city, Water and sewer, State tax, County tax, School and 1 mill, County road, County fair, S. and S. relief, and Totals.

HAS LEANING TOWER

Berlin—The steeple of St. Mary's church, in the old part of Berlin, has been found to be more than three feet out of plumb. The base upon which the steeple rests is badly rotted, but iron stays prevent danger of collapse. The parish is too poor to pay for restoration of the famous old thirteenth century structure.

THEATRES

AT THE RIALTO. Another graduate of the Paramount Picture School has won her place in the sun.

Josephine Dunn, the petite blonde who recently came to the Hollywood studio when Paramount's New York plant was closed, has the leading feminine role in "Firemen, Save My Child" the picture showing at the Rialto theatre tonight that brings Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton together again.

Miss Dunn's progress has been rapid since she finished her course of study. She appeared in the graduation picture "Fascinating Youth." During the succeeding year, she played small parts in "Sorrows of Satan" and "The Quarterback" before being given a prominent role in "Love's Greatest Mistake." As leading woman in the Beery-Hatton comedy Josephine has the most important role of her career. Prior to the Paramount School, Miss Dunn was on the musical comedy stage in New York. She made her bow at the age of fifteen.

The reunion of Beery and Hatton is hailed as one of the year's most important moves in film comedy. The pair scored the greatest success ever achieved by any team in "Behind the Front" and "We're in the Navy Now."

AT THE LYRIC. Romance, intermingling with the strife accompanying the pioneering of the West provides the absorbing theme of FBO's production of "Bulldog Pluck," starring Bob Custer, which shows at the Lyric theatre tonight and Saturday.

Desperados, vigilantes, tenderfeet and the rough and ready wholesome element of the pioneer western community contribute vitally to the stirring episodes of this remarkable screen story, based on W. Bert Foster's "Ace-High" magazine story, "Hardwick of Hambone."

In "Bulldog Pluck" Custer plays a heroic role as a raucous and gambling house proprietor. As a member of the better element, he is a leader in the organization of a vigilante committee formed to thwart the activities of crooked gamblers and organized under the leadership of Destin, played by Richard R. Neil.

"TILLIE THE TOLLER." Marion Davies' latest Cosmopolitan starring vehicle, "Tillie the Toller," coming to the Lyric theatre, presents to the picture-going public a new screen hero in the person of Harry Crocker. Young Crocker is a scion of a wealthy and socially prominent San Francisco family and has been working for the last two years as an extra in picture. In "Tillie the Toller," based on Russ Westover's famous novel strip, Crocker has the role

WORK ON ROAD PROGRESSING

Additional Equipment to Be Shipped Here for Grading Job

Rapid progress is being made by the Wilke-Perry Construction company of Oshkosh in the work of grading the new highway between Gladstone and Terrace Gardens, according to Warren Wilke of Oshkosh, who is superintending the operations here.

About one thousand cubic yards of sand are being removed daily from the side of the bluff just across the Soo Line tracks to make the fill for the road. The operations at present are concentrated near the south city limits, where the highway is routed partly in the bay, necessitating a large fill. Four large, four-wheel drive five and a half ton trucks are removing the dirt from the pit while a large gasoline shovel loads the sand into these trucks.

The hauling work has been sublet by the Wilke-Perry Construction company to the Gust and Wolf company of Oshkosh. Allan Gillis, who was awarded the contract by the Wilke-Perry company to remove the debris from the right of way, expects to have this work completed in about ten or fifteen days. The cleaning up of this refuse is quite a difficult job as there are many huge timbers that must be removed from underneath the present road. Bushes and small trees along the roadside also have been cut down and burned.

The contractors were delayed several hours yesterday in the work of removing the fill material as the road into the pit had to be lengthened. Mr. Wilke said that 1000 yards of sand are being removed in a 10-hour day, but that they would work overtime shortly and would use additional equipment soon to increase the production. The Gust and Wolf company will send additional trucks here, and the Wilke-Perry company will bring a clam-shell shovel and a drag-line from Grand Marais within a few days. The company expects to complete work on a job at Grand Marais shortly. When this equipment arrives, the present force of 25 men will, no doubt, be increased to about fifty, Mr. Wilke said. Work of installing culverts and other drainage structures will start in two or three weeks.

Although the contract calls for completion of the grading work by June 15 next year, the contractors expect to finish the job by January 1.

There is little danger of a landslide at the scene of the shoveling operations, in the opinion of Mr. Wilke. There has been considerable comment that such an accident may occur. When the drag-line arrives here, within a few days, it will be employed to remove the dirt higher up the slope of the hill, and thus eliminate any possibility of a slide.

The Wilke-Perry company has established headquarters at 620 Delta avenue.

Juniors' Benefit Movie Is Success

George Nelson, junior class adviser who was in charge of the benefit movie program at the Rialto Wednesday night, reports that the affair was a success in every way. Enough money, Mr. Nelson said, was cleared on the project to assure the staging the Junior Prom in the spring.

CITY BRIEFS

Rev. and Mrs. P. E. Palmquist, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Johnson and daughter Mildred arrived Saturday from Chicago, where they spent a few days visiting the Misses Thelma Johnson and Abel Larson, who are students at North Park College. They made the trip by motor, stopping in Fond du Lac, Wis., on the turn trip to visit relatives.

KINGSFORD IS WORKING HARD

Coach Schweig's Men Out to Win Final Game on Card

Reports trickling in from the Kingsford camp indicate that Coach Schweig's eleven is determined to wrest a victory over Gladstone high school here Saturday afternoon. This is the final game on Kingsford's schedule and the boys are practicing hard this week, hoping to put a good finishing touch on their 1927 season.

The Gladstone squad has been working out in earnest this week in preparation for the game as the purple and white gridders will not be satisfied with themselves unless they cop the Kingsford and Escanaba contests.

Coach Schweig is working hard to perfect a pass defense, as it is expected the ransy Gladstone gridders may attempt an aerial attack early in the game. Jack may also make some shifts in the hopes of strengthening the left side of his line which was deplorably weak against Stambaugh. Maki and his mates, in registering a 19-0 win over Kingsford, drove off tackle for two touchdowns and hit that side of the line for most of their gains down the field.

That Kingsford's attack will at least be more diversified than last week is a certainty. Tortelli, quarterback, clung tenaciously to three signals last week. His error was pointed out to him in no uncertain manner by the Kingsford mentor.

The Rhody brothers, Spencer and Art, with Raische, are almost certain to start. Tortelli may be the fourth of the backfield quarter, though it is possible Soll will be sent in, with Raische calling signals.

Kingsford tried no passes last week until the last quarter, when Stambaugh was ahead by two touchdowns. The defense Mahberg had formed for the Flivvers was too much for them and not a heave was completed.

LEGION MEET MONDAY NIGHT

To Give New Cup Every Year to High School Grid Winners

Final arrangements for the staging of the joint Armistice Day celebration in Escanaba on Friday, November 11, will be made at a meeting at the American Legion club rooms here on Monday night. All former service men, even though they may not be members of the American Legion, are urged to attend the meeting.

At this meeting, the annual membership drive will be launched. It is the aim of the August Mattson post to secure 100 members in this campaign. Two teams will be selected to compete in a membership race, and the team securing the most members will be entertained at a banquet to be given by the losers. The banquet will be held after the work of remodeling of the club rooms is completed.

The World war veterans will drill at the Escanaba athletic field Sunday afternoon to put themselves in shape for the maneuvers they will stage as a part of festivities at the Escanaba-Gladstone football game on Armistice Day. The Gladstone Legionnaires are requested to assemble at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Wassa hall, from where they will go to Escanaba. Automobile transportation will be provided.

The handsome cup, which will be awarded to the high school winning the Armistice Day game at Escanaba, has been ordered and is expected to arrive within a few days. Regarding this award, a change in the earlier plans has been made. Instead of the trophy becoming the permanent possession of the school winning three out of five of the annual gridiron encounters, a cup will be awarded each year to the winning team. The American Legion posts of Escanaba and Gladstone will make the annual award.

Dwyar Mackin, adjutant, has been notified by the Legion headquarters at Detroit that they are well pleased with the present membership of the August Mattson post, and that it will make honorable mention of the Gladstone post in the next Michigan Bulletin.

Aimee's Followers Plan Iowa College

Des Moines, Iowa (AP)—Followers of Aimee Semple McPherson in Des Moines will open a Bible college here soon after January 1, it has been announced by the Rev. Willard H. Pope, pastor of the Des Moines Gospel Tabernacle and president of the institution. There will be classroom accommodations for fifty. A private home has been converted into a dormitory.

The board of counsel of the tabernacle, although having no official connection with Mrs. McPherson's church, has notified her it would consider promoting the "gospel lighthouse" idea in Des Moines.

The new college, to be called the Des Moines Bible Institute and Missionary Training School, will open in time to complete a semester's work during the present school year. A faculty of ten has been selected, a two-year course will be offered and special instruction given to those without high school training.

Church history, Bible doctrines, homelets, public speaking, English and vocal and instrumental music will be taught.

THIS WOMAN FOUND RELIEF

After Long Suffering by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

In a little town of the Middle West, was a discouraged woman. For four months she had been in such poor health that she could not stoop to put on her own shoes.

Then one day, a booklet was left at her front door. Idly she turned the pages. Soon she was reading with quickened interest. The little booklet was filled with letters from women in conditions similar to hers who had found better health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I began taking the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Daugherty writes, "and after I took the third bottle, I found relief. I am on my eleventh bottle and I don't have that trouble any more, and feel like a different woman. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to everyone I see who has trouble like mine. I am willing to answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. ED. DAUGHERTY, 2308 Orchard Ave., Muskegon, Mich.

SAYS HE MAY DESCEND ON MOUNT EVEREST
London (NEA) - After standing all of man's attempts to scale the lofty peak, Mt. Everest may yet be conquered with the aid of an airplane.

The plan, according to Captain John B. Noel, explorer of the Royal Geographical Society in London, is to drop on the mountain instead of trying to scale it on foot. The captain says he will be the man to make the attempt. Once safely on the summit, which is six miles high, he is convinced that he could make his observations and successfully lower himself over the side with ropes.

Noel, who is 37, has been trying for ten years to conquer Mt. Everest. On his last attempt two of his men lost their way to within 600 feet of the summit. Then they were obscured by a cloud and were never seen again.

STOCK PRICES MOVE UPWARD

Table with columns: Date, Industrials, Railroads. Rows: Thursday 170.79 142.90, Wednesday 168.81 141.62, Week ago 169.73 144.34, Year ago 140.74 123.71, High 1927 179.06 152.95, Low 1927 141.23 125.58, Total stock sales 2,387,600 shares.

New York, Nov. 3 - (AP) - The recovery in stock prices was carried further today, although the upward movement was by no means uniform. As on yesterday, the best prices of the day were generally recorded in the last few minutes of trading.

While most observers were agreed that the price movement was determined largely by conditions within rather than without the market, bullish sentiment undoubtedly was created by the case of money rates stiffening export copper prices and suggestions that the treasury department would advocate changes in the revenue act which probably would lead to a further distribution of huge undivided surpluses by large corporations.

In view of the sharp decline in stock prices last month, some surprise was shown in the increase of $1,509,804 in stock exchange member loans during October, bringing the total to the record breaking figure of $3,544,137,374, which was made public after the close of the market. The weekly federal reserve statement on brokers' loans showed a total of $3,371,705,000, an increase of $27,295,000 above that of the preceding week.

U. S. Steel common and General Motors were again prominent in the upturn, steel showing a net gain of 2 points at 135 1/4, and General Motors closing 134 1/4 points higher at 131 1/2.

Most of the other steels and motors also showed moderate improvement. Hupp crossing 25 to a new 1927 high and then losing all but a fraction of its gain by dropping back to 22 1/2. Recent accumulation of the American Tobacco issues has been based on reports of record breaking cigarette sales and steadily expanding earnings leading to hopes of special dividend distributions next year. Oils were again in steady demand with Associated, Standard Oil of New York and Houston prominent in the advance.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Nov. 3 - With reports at hand telling of ocean charters for 30,000,000 bushels of wheat from Vancouver, Nov. 10-January shipment, wheat values were hardened today. Early declines were more than overcome. Closing quotations on wheat were firm, 1-8 to 1-5, not higher, 1-5 to 5-8 advance and provisions upward to a rise of 1/8.

Saint and Sinner

By Anne Austin

"The trouble with wives," Bob began earnestly, but in a pleasant, reasonable voice, "is that they insist on being wives. You know what I mean? They seem to want to lose their individuality, or rather, the good wives, like you," and he squeezed her hand hard, "think so much of being good wives that they neglect to be themselves. I don't believe one man in a thousand marries a girl because he believes she will make a good wife. To tell you the truth, the phrase rather frightens us men! We marry a girl because we like her as well as love her; we want to be with her all the time, because being with her some of the time is so much fun and genuine pleasure. She is entertaining, pretty—or we think she is; exciting, companionable, all because she isn't part of ourselves, but a distinct individuality whom it is stimulating to be with. Then a man marries his girl—"
"And the poor thing loses his interest just because she is trying so hard to be a good wife to him," Faith interrupted bitterly. "I'm glad you told me I didn't know."
"Hold on, honey!" Bob coaxed, his voice still reasonable and pleasant. "If she does lose her interest—and certainly I'm not talking about you and me—it's because she tries so hard to hold it! It makes a man frightfully uncomfortable, even if it does please his vanity, to be so all-important to another human being. You see, dear, the wife insists on reversing positions with her husband. Before marriage, she is all-important to the man. He's proud of pleasing her, of winning her in competition with all the other men she might marry. But soon after marriage the girl who has turned into a wife—a good wife—begins to coax and flatter and cajole her husband, demonstrating every hour she's with him that her taking her job seriously that her husband is her whole world—and how often she tells him so!—that her sole interest is in him—his

A New Yorker in Paris

Paris—Scattered notes from an afternoon's ramble about Paris:
The Mosque de Paris. . . I came upon it after a visit to the California redwood block left by the legion in the Jardin des Plantes. . . The Jardin is one of the myriad parks that Paris maintains, and one in which you will find the most children. . . Paris does not need to board space, like New York. . . There is an individual garden for every child in Paris if he wishes to find it.

At any rate, it was nearing sundown when I came to a great wall of Oriental mosaic and stucco. And I was stopped by the sound of voices chanting one of those nasal hymns of the desert, muselman, Turks and Arabs were going about in vari-colored robes. . . But, now and then when the wind whips aside one of the flowing capes, you notice a garter that looks suspiciously American.

A young priest took me about through the endless corridors and gardens and chapels, some made of the most fragrant cedar; some of the most intricately patterned mosaic. . . The Mosque is still in process of building. . . It is being made piece by piece, block by block, with infinite skill and patience.

If you would find the American flapper out "doing Paris," you must go to the oriental tea-room that attaches the Mosque. . . This I am told, is the latest "smart thing" to do. . . The flapper dangles her slender, silk stockinged legs over the exotic divans and floor pillows. . . She arrives in a taxi and orders her "tea with mint" and Turkish paste. . . On a raised platform, covered with lavish oriental trimmings, the Turkish musicians play their intoxicating music and a young fellow, beating a hollow vase, sings a whining, endless tune. . . Some of the flappers loiter in the haremlike poses on their pillows. . . Some openly start a little "necking party" with the boy friend. . . Sometimes the boy friend is dark skinned and orientally eyed and, obviously fascinating. . . Between songs American slang echoes about the mosaiced floor. A young art student takes a tony at a water pipe and pretends to be quite at home with it. . . A delicate faced waiter in the purple and red robes of the Arab wanders through. . . Natives in American clothes drift in and out. . . A lazy languor steals over the place and the flappers stretch, revealing a bit more leg than is necessary. . . The orientals are perhaps used to this. . . Some perhaps think themselves in the presence of young wantons, since their own women have definite codes of dress. The flappers, turned loose in Paris, don't seem to care one way or the other. . . They try to puff their cigars after the accepted fashion of certain main mode ramsps. . . Others, plain, precise and merely curious, look about with a certain disgust.

It reminds me, just a bit, of a couple of Broadway "atmosphere" rackets. . . And I would dismiss it as such were it not that over the wall drift voices in a chant as old as time and, as the old man chant, they face the East.

SMITH VICTOR IN CLOSE TILT

Champion Averages 207 Pins to Beat Schultes by 35 Pins

Jimmy Smith, world's champion bowler, won his 10-game match with Win Schultes, local star, by the scant margin of 35 pins in an exhibition match at the Arcade last night. Schultes spilled 2041 maples for an average of 204.1 in the ten games, while the champion got 2076 for an average of 207.6 per game. Schultes' score of 238 in the eighth game was high for the match.

The scores were: Smith—212, 219, 202, 193, 236, 192, 184, 234, 217, 186. Total, 2076. Schultes—194, 209, 174, 178, 206, 222, 188, 232, 208. Total, 2041. Strikes—Smith 55; Schultes 53. Spares—Smith 46; Schultes 42. Splits—Smith 5; Schultes 8. Errors—Smith 1; Schultes 3.

Schultes' feat of picking off the seventh, third and tenth pins, on one occasion, was a spectacular feature.

A large crowd witnessed the contest. After the match, Smith gave a lecture on bowling, pleading with his audience to abstain from betting on bowling games, declaring that the sport itself should furnish plenty of thrills. He also gave a demonstration of "trick" shots.

Tonight, Smith will bowl Earl Taylor, another local star, in a 10-game exhibition match. He will also have a woman bowler, Hazel Faxe of Hermansville, as a competitor.

Large delegations of bowlers from Menominee, Hermansville and other nearby points are expected to attend.

Story Books Lent Children at Church

Truro, England (P)—Several of the cathedral churches in England have adopted the custom of setting aside an altar for children.

In Truro cathedral, beside the children's altar, is a shelf on which Bible stories and models illustrating them, such as Noah's ark, the crown or thorns, a carpenter's shop, etc., are arranged.

There are vases which children are expected to keep filled with fresh flowers.

A notice at the altar requests the children to read the books and then kneel down and say a prayer before leaving the church.

How to Bowl

BY JIMMY SMITH.

APPROACH AND DELIVERY. STORY VIII.

Continuing our instructions on the proper position and movement in approaching the foul line, let me say that bashfulness is probably the hardest obstacle there is to overcome in learning to bowl. Most men are afflicted with this self-consciousness and labor under the impression that they are the cynosure of all eyes. They are afraid they will be "laughed at" and this makes them awkward and ungainly in their movements. As a successful remedy for this I instruct all my pupils in bowling to practice at home, using the threshold of a door as the foul line. You can do the steps and the swing—without a ball—very easily, until you have acquired the knack and can do them gracefully and naturally, maintaining your equilibrium and balance without effort. Any physician or physical culture director will tell you that this exercise is very good in building up the body too. Try it for a week or so and you will be surprised how much easier it will be to do when you start on the alleys.

Now, having learned the rudiments of position and approach to the foul line, we will begin to shoot the ball down the maple strips, but first we will take a little limbering-up exercise, which I always do before starting a regular game or taking a run. This exercise consists of taking a run to the foul line a dozen times or so, from our position 12 feet back of the line, just as we intend to do when we actually bowl. Above all, try to stop at the same spot each time; this can be done if you practice taking the same number of steps and each the same speed. Limbering up not only helps you get into your stride, but also gives you knowledge of the condition of the platform whether it is sticky or slippery, etc., or as the experts say the "feel" of the platform. Now swing the ball back and forth several times to loosen up the arm and shoulder muscles. I want to digress here a moment to tell you all this detail probably sounds mighty complicated; the same is true in describing most anything—the description is a lot worse than the actual performance. You will be surprised how easily it will come to you after the first period of practice; so do not be discouraged—Rome was not built in a day and champion

BILLY EVANS

SAYS

EASTERN TEAMS SUFFER

Football success in the various sections of the country seems to run in cycles.

The east is experiencing this year more than its share of failures in the leading intersectional clashes.

The first two big upsets handed the fete eastward were the defeats of Yale by Georgia and Harvard by Purdue.

Hardly had the gasping died away when Notre Dame ran rough-shod over the great Navy team, winning rather easily, 19-6.

Colgate, which usually boasts one of the best teams in the Atlantic sector, has twice been humiliated. First by Virginia Poly, next by Wabash. A single touchdown was the margin of victory in each instance.

Last but not least of the reverses was the victory of Chicago over the highly touted Pennsylvania team, 13-7.

To get an even break on the season the East must do some fast stepping in the intersectional games that remain to be played.

Pitt Team Is Good

While the east has not been without its conquests in the intersectional clashes, most of the victories recorded have been more or less of a minor nature.

The Army holds two victories over the west, having won from both Marquette and Detroit, the latter team holding the West Pointers to a 6-0 score. The Army still has Notre Dame to reckon with.

Princeton has beaten Washington and Lee, 13-0, while Pittsburgh swamped Drake, 32-0. Pittsburgh, by the way, seems to have a team that rivals the best that Pop Warner ever turned out at that institution.

Unless the west falls down badly in the big games still to be played, 1927 will simply go down in the books as a bad year for the east.

Offer Comparative Basis

It should be easy at the close of the season to draw a comparison between coast football on one side arrayed against the east and west on the other.

Southern California is booked to meet Notre Dame at Chicago. These two teams are outstanding and should provide a great battle with Notre Dame favored to win.

Pennsylvania will play California at Berkeley on Dec. 31. Stanford is angling for a game at

HILLTOPS READY FOR NEGAUNEE

Eighth Graders of Delta County to Attend Game Saturday

The Escanaba high school football squad is all set for Negaunee this Saturday. The Roellers have practiced late every night this week with a certain vim and determination that cannot be mistaken. They are out for blood. Recent defeats and tough breaks have put the Hilltops on a fighting edge and they are anxious to produce the goods before their home crowd.

Realizing that a victory is necessary if they are to be in the right mental condition for the important Gladstone game on Armistice Day, Coach Roels' men have been working hard and shaping themselves for a decisive victory over the Miners. This year's Negaunee team is one of the best turned out there in recent years and the Hilltops are not underestimating their strength.

A large crowd of fans are expected to turn out to see the Roellers in action on the home field for the first time in three weeks. It will be Eighth Graders' Day at the game and all Delta county eighth graders will be admitted free as guests of the Escanaba Athletic association. Prin of Kingsford will handle the whistle for the fracas. Guelf of Marquette will be umpire, and Norman, Ishpeming, will handle the head linesman's stick.

Ramblers Hold Practice Tonight

The Ramblers basketball team will hold their first practice at the Webster school gym this evening. The practice will start at 7:30 o'clock.

All members of last year's squad are requested to turn out, as well as any basketball players who wish to try for the team.

Palo Alto on Dec. 10. Pittsburgh is a possibility, I am told. Nothing could be more fitting, since Glenn Warner coached at Pitt before going to Stanford.

And there is still the Tournament of Roses game, an annual nature staged at Pasadena. Those in charge would like either Stanford or Southern California to represent the west, but it is understood they are having trouble making such arrangements.

Looks as if these games would prolong the regular football season about four weeks with California offering the setting for the grid activities.

Final Polishing Given New Plays for Saturday

Chicago, Nov. 3.—(P)—New plays for Saturday were given final polishing today on Western Conference gridiron, and three squads, Ohio State, and Minnesota and Illinois left for the enemy's territory late tonight, accompanied by thousands of rooters.

Northwestern and Michigan delayed their departure to rival camps until tomorrow. Not since Knute Rockne took charge of Notre Dame's football destinies in 1918, have the colors of the Gold and Blue been lowered on the home field at South Bend, but few teams with such power as the Minnesota squad of this fall have made the attempt.

For the last two years, Notre Dame has defeated Minnesota and this means an especially hard fought battle.

Coach Wilec of Ohio State expects the same lineup that defeated Chicago to make a brave showing against Princeton Saturday. Approximately 3,500 supporters are heading east for the Tiger game.

The big parade, however, is organizing at Ann Arbor, where 12,000 followers of Michigan's football hopes are preparing to accompany the Wolverines to Chicago tomorrow. Louis Gilbert's arm was healed, and he was out practicing dropkicks today.

Coach Staggs has given the Chicago team a brand new set of plays for use against Michigan. Judging from the week's practice, Staggs has planned to meet passes with more passes, matching Louis Gilbert with Vin Libby.

Coach Hanley of Northwestern is now worrying over the loss of an all-conference guard, Justin Dart, on the eve of the Purdue game.

Max Waxman, manager of Dundee, declared that the title-holder would not enter the ring unless he was paid the $60,000 which Promoter Dick Donald in a contract guaranteed him. Waxman said he could produce Dundee within 15 minutes of the time the money is paid him.

Ring attendants reported that Dundee had arrived in his dressing room and was taping his hands preparatory to filling his engagement. This was told to Clyde Hudkins, but the latter was obdurate and led his fighting brother protesting back down the aisle while the crowd stood up waiting for the next development.

After further delay Tom Kennedy of Los Angeles, one of Hudkins' handlers, announced that Dundee had not arrived at the field and that the Nebraska claimed the welterweight title.

As Kennedy made this statement, Ace Hudkins, with his ring togs discarded and fully clad in street garb, stood behind him and nodded assent. Then he left the ring for the second time, but still the crowd held its places in the stands.

Chester Smith of Detroit appeared at guard while Glenn Hitchings was sent to Joslin's tackle.

Capt. Paul Smith and Deacon are the only members of the "backfield" certain to appear in the starting lineup.

The squad to entrain includes: Capt. Smith, Kurrie, Dickerson, Eldred, McCosh, Deacon, Wilson, Lang, Donaldson, Rosh, Grimes, C. Smith, Hitchings, Weeks, Hornbeck, Christensen, Crall, Drew, Anderson, Ferrari, Crabill, Josling, Kanitz, Hayden, Needham and Moeller.

A small new evening cigaret case for women is a veritable jeweled pendant—alleged platinum set in diamonds, and worn on a platinum chain.

HAGEN DEFEATS TOMMY ARMOUR

Ex-Champion Reaches Semi-Final Rounds of Tourney

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 3.—(P)—In a classic battle of champions, Walter Hagen conquered Tommy Armour today for a semi-final position in his fight to regain for the fifth time the titular laurels of the Professional Golfers' association.

Hagen, the defending pro champion, demonstrated once more his abilities when under fire in eliminating the American and Canadian open champion, 4 and 3.

Tomorrow, "the Haig" will match strokes against Al Espinosa, the wily Chicagoan, who defeated Mortu Dutra, of Tacoma, Wash. Dutra went down gamely, losing his match one down on the 36th green after a sensational rally in which he won seven holes in a row.

Joe Turnesa, of Elmford, N. Y., and John Golden, of Paterson, N. J., are the other semi-finalists. Turnesa eliminated Gene Sarazen of New York, former open champion, 3 and 2, and Golden turned back Francis Gallet of Wauwatosa, Wis., 4 and 2. Golden traded the lead all day with Gallet and finally pulled ahead on the last nine holes.

Coach Stagg has given the Chicago team a brand new set of plays for use against Michigan. Judging from the week's practice, Staggs has planned to meet passes with more passes, matching Louis Gilbert with Vin Libby.

Coach Hanley of Northwestern is now worrying over the loss of an all-conference guard, Justin Dart, on the eve of the Purdue game.

Max Waxman, manager of Dundee, declared that the title-holder would not enter the ring unless he was paid the $60,000 which Promoter Dick Donald in a contract guaranteed him. Waxman said he could produce Dundee within 15 minutes of the time the money is paid him.

Ring attendants reported that Dundee had arrived in his dressing room and was taping his hands preparatory to filling his engagement. This was told to Clyde Hudkins, but the latter was obdurate and led his fighting brother protesting back down the aisle while the crowd stood up waiting for the next development.

After further delay Tom Kennedy of Los Angeles, one of Hudkins' handlers, announced that Dundee had not arrived at the field and that the Nebraska claimed the welterweight title.

As Kennedy made this statement, Ace Hudkins, with his ring togs discarded and fully clad in street garb, stood behind him and nodded assent. Then he left the ring for the second time, but still the crowd held its places in the stands.

Chester Smith of Detroit appeared at guard while Glenn Hitchings was sent to Joslin's tackle.

Capt. Paul Smith and Deacon are the only members of the "backfield" certain to appear in the starting lineup.

The squad to entrain includes: Capt. Smith, Kurrie, Dickerson, Eldred, McCosh, Deacon, Wilson, Lang, Donaldson, Rosh, Grimes, C. Smith, Hitchings, Weeks, Hornbeck, Christensen, Crall, Drew, Anderson, Ferrari, Crabill, Josling, Kanitz, Hayden, Needham and Moeller.

Campus Comment

BY BOB MATHERNE

Inability of Fidel La Barba, because of his being retired fly-weight champion of the world, to compete in college athletics (he is now a freshman at Stanford) brings forth a bit of sympathy from a column writer in the Daily Trojan at Southern California.

We quote the Trojan writer: "This little fellow, La Barba, came to be admired wherever there are sports fans for his clean living, his sportsmanship, and his modesty, while champion fly-weight boxer of the world.

"It seems a pity that he must forfeit all athletic participation for the Cardinals now that he has retired from the ring to continue his education.

"La Barba was somewhat of a basketball player while in high school, and although his lack of weight would prove a big handicap, the Stanford freshman would make up a large part of this in aggressiveness if allowed to compete.

From all reports we've heard, Fidel is one of the most popular freshmen on the Cardinal campus. He was fresh leader of the annual fight against the sophomores held recently.

One 80-yard run for touchdown is enough to make any player feel good, but Billy Spears, Vanderbilt quarterback and All-America candidate, though two would be better against Tulane. He made one from scrimmage and one on an intercepted pass—each 80 yards long.

It's tough for Colgate, the way these intersectional eleven have been trimming her unexpectedly. No one had any idea either Virginia Poly or Wabash would beat Colgate, but they did, each by one touchdown.

West Point linemen are better students than backs, a recent analysis of the class standings shows. The average standing of the cadet corps is 143. The linemen averaged 99 while the backs averaged 149. The lower the mark, the better the standing. Seeman, a guard, and one of the 29 "star" men at West Point, boasts the best average.

Co-eds at Southern California plan a full season of sports. They're going to start the year with basketball and then carry on through a program that will embrace hockey, track, baseball, tennis, swimming and archery.

SAINTS SQUAD IS DISBANDED

Coach Brunelle Unable to Book Game for This Week-End

Unable to schedule another game of football, Coach Leo Brunelle of St. Joseph's parochial high school disbanded his aggregation last night, packed up the paraphernalia in mothballs and announced that the season was officially over.

The last official workout of the squad took place in the Robbs' studio where Bob Selkirk and his camera furnished the opposition.

A squad of thirty men—the largest in the history of St. Joseph's—completed the season. Six men are lost by graduation, and although this season was not the most successful one in the record books of the institution, the outlook for next year is unusually bright.

The last game on the Saints' schedule was played last Saturday. Coach Brunelle tried to get another for the boys for this week, but was unsuccessful.

Weiman Will Use Regular Lineup Against Chicago

Ann Arbor, Nov. 3.—(P)—Virtually the same Michigan football team that has fought its way through the conference, earning two victories and accepting one defeat is prepared for the clash with Chicago Saturday.

With exception of Louis Gilbert, who has returned to the lineup after his unfortunate illness at Illinois, and the possible loss of Gembel, fullback, the team that hurled back the challenge of Ohio State at Michigan's new stadium two weeks ago will face the smartly coached squad of Coach Alonso Staggs.

What a good laugh a Swede could have if Yale's eleven were known as Birds.

A football referee reversed a decision after seeing the movie version of the play. Perhaps that explains why the National League won't let photographers on the field.

"Why so sad today, doctor?" "A patient of mine has died." "Never mind, perhaps he would have died anyway." —Nagel's Lustige Welt, Berlin.

"GUN" BLANKS ARE RECEIVED

Pistol Owners Can Register Weapons at Police Station

Arrival of an adequate supply of blanks will make it possible for the police to immediately resume the registration of "one-hand" guns, it was announced by Chief John J. Tolan yesterday. Registration, which the law required to be completed on November 1, was suspended because of a shortage of the registration blanks.

The law requires that all pistols, revolvers and other "one-hand" weapons which were not registered under the law of 1925, must be registered at once.

The law prescribes a severe punishment for the possession of a gun which has not been registered.

PILL-TAKER FREED FROM HIS HABIT

ALL-BRAN brought natural relief from chronic constipation

Constipation is almost a universal curse—father of more than forty diseases. Yet there is real assurance in Mr. Ladue's letter:

"After sixteen years of taking pills, it cured me. If the millions of people that suffer from constipation only knew what Kellogg's ALL-BRAN would do, some of the pill-makers would go out of business. Every doctor should recommend it. I tell all that I know so that they can get the joy out of life I am getting since I started on Kellogg's ALL-BRAN 3 months ago."

Mr. JULIAN LADUE, Burlington, Vt.

Hollow cheeks, pimples, listlessness are some of the symptoms. Don't risk it another day. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Use in cooking. Comes ready to eat. Sold and served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Recipes on package.

Miss Beck was stitching the binding on some annual report books when in some manner her finger became caught under the needle. She was taken to a physician's office where the injured finger was treated and later taken to her home, where she is resting easily although the pain was intense.

Much Interest in Railway Car

Much interest is being displayed in the demonstrations being conducted in Manager Car No. 105, which has been on a side track near the round house for several days. Demonstrations and lectures in the various phases of railway operation, particularly in the mechanical end, are given by Hugh Christie, who is in charge. The demonstration car, which has been touring all the railroads in the northwest, under the auspices of the International Correspondence Schools, is equipped with many devices used in railroad work. Shopmen and engineers are displaying much interest, and the lectures have been well attended.
