FIRST HOOVER TEST TO COME IN OHIO RACE

SECRETARY PITTED AGAINST SENATOR WILLIS

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. Washington, Feb. 6.—Is the campaign of Herbert Hoover being prematurely pressed? This is the question being widely discussed among political leaders of both parties who are watching with considerable interest the rise of Hoover stock in the political market, particularly as the secretary of commerce himself is not an active candidate but is entirely in the hands of his friends.

Mr. Hoover has as his right-hand man Walter F. Brown, who has long been an important influence in Ohio politics, and the first effect of Mr. Brown's activity for Mr. Hoover has been revealed in the positive way in which the Hoover candidacy is being pushed in Ohio notwithstanding the fact that Senator Willis is a candidate.

Sometimes out of deference to a favorite son, the leading candidate will politely refrain from entering a primary. In this instance there has been much negotiation in an effort to persuade Senator Willis to stay out of the primary.

Having been unsuccessful in making terms with the Willis managers so as to get any second choice votes for Hoover and also having observed that the Willis managers might be friendly to the Hoover candidacy, the Hoover men have about decided that the situation calls for a fight for delegates even though the majority might be instructed for Willis.

CONTRACT FOR PAVING IS LET

State to Lay 8 Miles of Concrete in Muskegon County

Lansing, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The highway committee of the state administrative board today awarded a contract to H. C. Nelson for the paving with 20-foot concrete of eight miles on trunk line M-20 in Muskegon county.

Upon the plea of a delegation from Gogebic county for concrete rather than gravel on nine miles of US-2 between Watersmeet and Gogebic, the committee authorized Highway Commissioner Rogers to advertise for bids for pavements. Seven miles of gravel was authorized to resurface the old route of trunk line M-11 in Oceano.

Contracts for three bridges were awarded. One crossing the Battle Creek river in Eaton county, will cost about $31,600, one in St. Clair county across Mill creek, $35,000, and another in St. Clair across the Black river, about $46,000.

The French ambassador remarked that it was with deep emotion that he affixed the seal on the 15th anniversary of the signing in Paris of the first treaty of alliance between America and France.

The treaty for the outlawing of war signed today carries out a specifically American plan, which M. Claudel characterized as being both great and practical and for which he predicted a great care.

THREE STATES BLOCKADED BY NAT'L TROOPS

AIRPLANES USED TO BOMB REBEL HID-ING PLACES

Mexico City, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Federal troops have established a theoretical blockade around the states of Jalisco, Michoacan, Aguascalientes and Colima and have begun aerial bombing of rebel bands in concert with attacks by infantry, cavalry and artillery.

Two Douglas airplanes bought in the United States by the Mexican government and recently delivered, are being used to locate and bomb rebel strongholds in the mountains of this sparsely inhabited region.

Federals are almost always fighting or pursuing these bands somewhere in these states but the present campaign is upon a more ambitious scale than usual. The federal task is not to locate and engage an organized enemy, but to route out of many different mountain hiding places numerous guerrilla bands.

ALIENISTS SAY YOUTH IS SANE

Four Experts Take Stand for State in Trial of Edward Hickman

Los Angeles, Feb. 6.—(AP)—A battery of alienists for the prosecution took the witness stand in superior court here today and pronounced William Edward Hickman sane and fully able to distinguish between right and wrong.

The kidnaper and slayer of Marian Parker, the mental experts asserted, had faked claims that he was under "divine guidance" in the killing.

Four alienists placed in the record in Hickman's sanity trial declarations that the youthful defendant was sane. They were Dr. Paul Bowers, Dr. Herman Schorr and Dr. Victor Parkin of Los Angeles and Dr. Frank Mikels of Hollywood, formerly of the Morris Plains, N. J., insane asylum staff.

Dr. Schorr testified Hickman showed evidence of lying when he related his story of being directed by Providence in killing and mutilating the school girl.

Killed to Protect Self.

Dr. Parkin declared Hickman admitted to him about three weeks ago that it had only been the day before that the idea of claiming "divine guidance" had occurred to him.

The witness testified Hickman said he had killed the child as a matter of "self protection," because he feared after the kidnapping that Marian "was losing confidence in me." Hickman declared, Dr. Parkin testified, that "he had no feeling when cutting her up, because I saw it had to be done, and just did it."

To support his conclusion that the defendant knew right from wrong, Dr. Parkin quoted a statement of Hickman's that it was "a terrible thing to do, wasn't it?" Hickman referred to turning over the child's torso to her father in exchange for $1,500 ransom, the witness said.

Under cross-examination by the defense, Dr. Parkin admitted that Hickman's family history could be interpreted as constituting a predisposition to insanity. He added, however, that this did not mean that insanity necessarily would follow. Dr. Mikels testified Hickman, in his opinion, was not and is not insane.

Expert Questioned.

At a resumption of the trial this morning, Dr. Bowers was cross-examined by the defense on the "skin writing" experiment which he performed on Hickman in court Saturday.

Hickman's counsel contended that the marks which Dr. Bowers traced on the youth's chest and back with his finger nail had not disappeared within the three-minute time limit which the physician had set as the period which would show whether a disease of the skin associated with dementia praecox was present.

Dr. Bowers stuck to his assertion that the experiment proved the absence of the skin disease. The tracings at the end of three minutes were diffused and not evident in the degree necessary to the presence of the disease, he said.

LETTER CAUSES RUN ON 3 BANKS

"Poison Note" Forces Florida Institutions to Suspend Business

Miami, Fla., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Anonymous letters predicting the failure of one bank caused that institution to suspend business today, resulted indirectly in the temporary closing of two others and brought about a run on the fourth which called for $7,000,000 from the federal reserve branch bank in Jacksonville to bolster its cash reserves.

The run, determined but orderly, started at noon on the First National bank, following an announcement that Ernest Amos, state comptroller, had taken charge of the affairs of the Southern Bank and Trust company and ordered the Citizens' bank and the Bank of Allapattah temporarily closed.

Explaining he had taken control at the Southern Bank and Trust company at the insistence of its officials because of withdrawals caused by the circulation of the anonymous letters, Amos said he ordered the other two banks closed through fear they might not be able to weather possible runs. He made a plea for "a cool and collected public spirit," declaring that the banks would have been able to remain open under normal conditions.

Outside Influences.

Meanwhile, the reverberation was felt in an unexpected quarter when the run was begun at the First National bank. Until closing time the tellers were rapidly handing out money to every depositor demanding it while officials of the institution mingled with the crowd to spread encouragement.

Officials estimated that the day began with $1,750,000 cash and that only about $350,000 was paid out during the day. No other banks in the city were affected.

W. H. Burwell, president of the chamber of commerce, attributed the "whole situation to outside influences and not to any intrinsic economic fault in the institutions or in the territory."

State Conservation Council in Favor of Broad Program

Lansing, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The conservation council meeting here today, went on record as favoring a broad program of conservation which would reach into county units of government and into all schools. A resolution sponsored by the conservation committee of the Kent county board of supervisors, urging every board to name a similar committee was adopted.

Frank J. Walsh, a member of the Kent committee, declared that Michigan's greatest timber asset now is in the form of farm wood lots. The Kent committee has made conservationists of the owners of the property so they cut selectively and thin the timber in accordance with good conservation practice, he asserted.

Howard Bloomer, chairman of the conservation commission, told the gathering on damage pictures depicting the damage done by forest fires are to be shown in the schools. Through this medium the department hopes to reach parents as well as teachers.

The Pearson forest tax law designed to encourage reforestation, has not been a success, Arthur W. Stace, director of the Michigan Public utility information bureau, declared in an address. He asserted lumbermen cannot be induced to reforest under an act which charges a tax of five cents an acre on cut-over lands and ten cents on hardwood lands. The project does not stand the test of business principles, he said. There are 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 acres of idle cut-over land, more than 7,500,000 of which are tax delinquent, he said.

The council elected George Bishop of Marquette, president succeeding John Doel of Lansing. Mrs. Edith C. Munger of Hart, was named secretary. H. A. Savage of Saginaw, Carl Saunders of Grand Rapids, Albert Stoll of Detroit, John M. Bush of Negaunee and Mrs. T. L. Hankinson of Ypsilanti were made directors.

MAY DROP SUIT AGAINST FORDS

Case Involves Purchase of Lincoln Company From Lelands

Pontiac, Feb. 6.—(AP)—After hearing arguments today, Circuit Judge Frank L. Covert took under advisement a motion by the defense for dismissal of the $6,000,000 suit of Henry M. and Wilfred C. Leland against Henry Ford and Edsel Ford involving purchase by the Fords of the original Lincoln Motor company.

Judge Covert gave the Ford attorneys until February 13 to file briefs and Leland attorneys until a week later to reply.

Clifford B. Longley, attorney for the Fords, declared that alleged oral arguments between the Lelands and Fords, said to have been made when negotiations for sale of the old Lincoln company were under way, would have been void under the status of fraud.

Longley declared that the Lelands, through their actions under the receivership of the old Lincoln company in offering to "sell their aid and experience" to the Fords and to approach no other capitalists, "should be guilty of contempt of the federal court and subject to criminal action."

Would Be Crime.

Kenneth M. Stevens, counsel for the Lelands, replied that several months have elapsed since the suit was instituted by the Lelands and that the Fords have not seen fit to serve an answer, and that "for the purpose of this motion we may take it for granted that everything we set up in our bill is true."

In reply to Longley's charge that the Lelands had sought to sell their experience and aid to the Fords "to the disadvantage of other stock holders, Stevens read a newspaper clipping quoting Henry Ford as having said it would be an industrial crime if the Lelands were to leave the industrial world."

being waged against Mr. Hoover among the politicians endeavoring to fight political weaknesses that would confront him at the polls and generally attempting to depress his value as a candidate. In fact the entire field is concentrating more or less at the moment against the secretary of commerce, which is not unusual in politics and is one of the penalties paid by the candidate who gets out in front early in the game.

The Hoover managers have confidence that the ordinary rules of politics will not obtain in this instance because the Hoover candidacy, they believe, is backed by public sentiment. Anyway the first battlegrounds will be in Ohio where Mr. Hoover's strength against a favorite son will be tested April 24. It may be that as a counter offensive the Hoover men may join those forces in the state which are insisting on an unimpaired delegation which would, of course, be equivalent to a victory in any state where there is a favorite son.

Quick Action on Return of Alien Property Expected

Washington, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Early and favorable action by the senate on the house bill providing for the return of alien property and the settlement of American and German war claims was forecast today by Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee, after that group had ordered the bill favorably reported with only one dissenting vote.

The provisions of the house measure were approved by the committee with minor changes. The compromise agreed to by American and German claimants whereby 80 per cent of the alien property would be returned forthwith, was adopted by the senate as provided by the house.

The senate committee provided also for making $10,000,000 immediately available for the payment of American claims. Another amendment would deny the payment of claims of the former ruling family of Germany.

All awards to American claimants by the mixed claims commission on account of death and personal injury and all awards of $100,000 or less would be paid in full.

Larger awards would receive $100,000, and with remaining payments pro-rated until 50 per cent of all the awards have been paid.

Will Use New Plan to Finance M. S. C. Dormitories

Lansing, Feb. 6.—(AP)—A new plan of financing college dormitories, which may be employed by the Michigan State college and may have other widespread use in various institutions was approved by the attorney general today.

In an opinion prepared at the request of H. H. Halladay, secretary of the college, and Harry Hart, vice president of the Detroit Trust company, W. W. Potter, attorney general, held that the trust company may finance dormitories and lease them to the college for a monthly rental. When the cost of financing has been absorbed by the monthly payments the structures would become the property of the college.

The state board of agriculture, as a constitutional body, has the power to lease land on the college campus to the trust company, the attorney general decided. Then the trust company may finance and erect the dormitories under the supervision of the state board. Upon their completion they will be turned back to the state board under a lease. Management and operation at all times must be under the control of the state board. When the buildings have been paid for the lease to the company on the land expires and the lease by the company to the state board automatically ceases.

The monthly payments would be met, according to the plan, by the rent paid by the students.

Although it is not definitely certain dormitories will be constructed under the plan, it was reported a $200,000 structure, to house perhaps 200 men students, is contemplated. The novel financing plan has been used in other states but this is its first appearance in Michigan.

KRESGE GUILTY OF INFIDELITY

Chain Store Owner Enters No Defense in Divorce Proceedings

New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Sebastian S. Kresge, chain store owner, was held guilty of infidelity today by a jury which before supreme Court Justice Tierney, had heard evidence submitted by his wife, Doris Mercer Kresge, in a divorce action to which he entered no defense.

The verdict was received by Justice Tierney and will be considered by him for action. He ordered counsel to submit briefs and within the next few days he may at his discretion, grant or withhold an interlocutory decree.

Two co-respondents were listed. One of them, a girl 16 years old, was not named. The other was Gladys Apelle Fish of Natick, Mass.

Because the defendant did not appear either in person or by counsel, it took the jury only 15 minutes to render its verdict which consisted in answering the affirmative seven questions with reference to the conduct of the husband at the times and places mentioned.

After return of the verdict today, Mrs. Kresge issued a statement saying the action was forced on her in self-defense. She said she had been persecuted and tortured by litigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Kresge were married in April 1924, both having been previously married. Mrs. Kresge was formerly Mabel Doris Mercer, daughter of Capt. George C. Mercer of Pittsburgh, former partner of Andrew Carnegie. She is 26, Kresge's junior. In 1919, she divorced her first husband, Perceval D. Hardeen, in Syracuse. Kresge was divorced by his first wife in January, 1924.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The administration was called upon today by Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee to make a full report on the use of marines in Nicaragua, but action on it was blocked by Senator Shortridge, Republican, California.

This move, which followed several speeches of protest made in the senate last week against the administration policy in Nicaragua, is the first of its kind to be initiated by leaders of the foreign relations committee since the Pan-American conference opened in Havana. DENY REPORT THAT DOCTOR SAID MAN SANE

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Belief that 10 fishermen were marooned on a drifting ice floe in the lower end of Lake Erie was dissipated today when two airplanes flew over the lake and found no trace of them.

The fishermen were reported missing yesterday after a break-up of ice off Windmill Point on the Canadian side between Crystal Beach and Port Colborne, Ont. At least six observers on the shore said they had seen the men drifting out into the lake on a floe.

One of the planes today was chartered by the Buffalo Evening News and carried William J. Lee, assistant city editor, as an observer. Lee said the plane covered the whole lower lake region as far west as Dunkirk, N. J., more than 40 miles by airplane from this city and then crossed to the Canadian side. Not a trace of the men was seen.

A second plane, hired by a Cleveland newspaper, and carrying one of its reporters, flew here from Cleveland, covering the lower lake region on the way. Neither the pilot nor the passenger saw a trace of the men.

Early today a tug pressed into service by coast guardsmen put out from the Buffalo harbor, but was forced to return after journeying five miles out and encountering packed ice as deep as 15 feet. The coast guardsmen found no sign of the missing men in their limited search.

Whether the search would be continued was problematical tonight. It was generally believed, however, that unless a definite clue is discovered the search will be dropped.

Harry Hill Was Quiet, Truthful, Witnesses Testify

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Harry Hill's reputation for peace, quietude, truth and veracity was testified today by a string of character witnesses, including the mayor, postmaster and city clerk of his home town, Stretcher. The young man is accused of killing his mother, Mrs. Eliza A. Hill and burying her body in the basement of her home.

For most of the witnesses the prosecution waived cross-examination and only for others took time to establish that they had had no occasion to discuss the young defendant's reputation prior to August 23, the date the defense holds Mrs. Hill met her death. The state contends she was killed August 4 or 5.

Did you ever discuss with Police Chief William Robb this young man's reputation for truth and veracity?" State Attorney Russell

Search for Ten Men on Ice Floe Proves Futile

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Belief that 10 fishermen were marooned on a drifting ice floe in the lower end of Lake Erie was dissipated today when two airplanes flew over the lake and found no trace of them.

The fishermen were reported missing yesterday after a break-up of ice off Windmill Point on the Canadian side between Crystal Beach and Port Colborne, Ont. At least six observers on the shore said they had seen the men drifting out into the lake on a floe.

One of the planes today was chartered by the Buffalo Evening News and carried William J. Lee, assistant city editor, as an observer. Lee said the plane covered the whole lower lake region as far west as Dunkirk, N. J., more than 40 miles by airplane from this city and then crossed to the Canadian side. Not a trace of the men was seen.

A second plane, hired by a Cleveland newspaper, and carrying one of its reporters, flew here from Cleveland, covering the lower lake region on the way. Neither the pilot nor the passenger saw a trace of the men.

Early today a tug pressed into service by coast guardsmen put out from the Buffalo harbor, but was forced to return after journeying five miles out and encountering packed ice as deep as 15 feet. The coast guardsmen found no sign of the missing men in their limited search.

Whether the search would be continued was problematical tonight. It was generally believed, however, that unless a definite clue is discovered the search will be dropped.

Harry Hill Was Quiet, Truthful, Witnesses Testify

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Harry Hill's reputation for peace, quietude, truth and veracity was testified today by a string of character witnesses, including the mayor, postmaster and city clerk of his home town, Stretcher. The young man is accused of killing his mother, Mrs. Eliza A. Hill and burying her body in the basement of her home.

For most of the witnesses the prosecution waived cross-examination and only for others took time to establish that they had had no occasion to discuss the young defendant's reputation prior to August 23, the date the defense holds Mrs. Hill met her death. The state contends she was killed August 4 or 5.

Did you ever discuss with Police Chief William Robb this young man's reputation for truth and veracity?" State Attorney Russell

But little more than a year after they were married, the second Mrs. Kresge instituted legal action against her husband, seeking to enforce a pre-marital agreement in which she said he promised her Kresge stock worth $7,000,000 if she would marry him. The suit was later settled out of court for $2,000,000.

In order to protect her good name, Mrs. Kresge said she was forced to spend all her income fighting these cases, and although she said she won in both instances she knew "the only salvation for me was to obtain my freedom by proving the faithlessness of Mr. Kresge."

Kresge brought a suit for divorce in Detroit, which he later withdrew. Mrs. Kresge later obtained an injunction here restraining Kresge from pressing a divorce action in Michigan until her suit had been disposed of in New York.

Borah Asks Senate to Investigate Nicaraguan Policy

Washington, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The administration was called upon today by Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee to make a full report on the use of marines in Nicaragua, but action on it was blocked by Senator Shortridge, Republican, California.

This move, which followed several speeches of protest made in the senate last week against the administration policy in Nicaragua, is the first of its kind to be initiated by leaders of the foreign relations committee since the Pan-American conference opened in Havana. A temporary truce on proposed invasions of Nicaragua had been in effect during the parley.

O. Hanson of Tennessee asked, "Did you ever discuss Harry's reputation for truth and veracity with Earl McNamara?" was another of the questions put by the prosecution. Defense objections to both queries were upheld by Judge Joseph A. Davis.

Direct examination of the character witnesses was brief. They all testified to knowing Harry and then said his reputation for "peace and quietude" and "truth and veracity" was good.

WHAT WAS HIS SECRET?

CURTIS GIVES SPLENDID TALK

Associated Press Man Speaks at Methodist Church Sunday

C. S. Curtis, veteran member of the Associated Press organization, addressed a large group of interested listeners at the Sunday evening services in the First M. E. church. His subject was "Structures Above Ground."

"We have gone mad over material things—mad over structures above ground," Mr. Curtis declared, "and in so doing have absolutely lost sight of the human soul, upon which all things depend."

He cited the example of two captains of industry, who were standing on the foot bridge of Niagara Falls, dreaming. Finally, one said to the other: "Behold, America's greatest undeveloped resource."

"No," said the other, "America's great undeveloped resource are the souls of men."

Mr. Curtis told how one big manufacturer he knew was supporting four scholarships in as many universities to study raw material which went into his product, while he was giving no study at all to the human element—his employes.

"Our greatest undeveloped resource is not our mines, not our streams, not our forests, but the souls of men and women who toil," Mr. Curtis declared. "Most of the prosperity of this country is due to the daily family prayers that used to be held in the homes of our fathers, but now this custom is nearly obsolete. Nevertheless, the influence of those circles nurtured and developed the spiritual resources upon which the successful foundation of America rests."

"Faith will remove mountains—do all things, and the human soul that supplied that germ of faith is invariably traced to a little country church with 'old-fashioned' furniture, where our forefathers worshipped. What they lacked in refinement and good breeding was more than offset by their faith in God. And they got through that faith that 'invisible something' that millions of men ever since have been trying to get through every other conceivable form. All the educationalists, all the psychologists and all the inspirational writers and speakers cannot put into a man the vision and will to do that which comes with a clear conception of faith. Most men are trying to invent some sort of machine that will solve their problems, when all the time they have that machine within them, if they will only put it to work; and that machine is the human soul."

Kiwanis to Send Two Delegates to Boys' Conference

The Escanaba Kiwanis club will send two boys to the annual Upper Peninsula Older Boys Conference to be held in Sault Ste. Marie. It was announced at the close of the regular luncheon meeting yesterday. The boys will be named by the local conference committee. Their expenses to be paid by the Kiwanis club.

Lloyd Walker, of Cloverland Commercial college, secretary of the Kiwanis club, in an address on Kiwanis ethics, declared that, in the opinion of some of the leading thinkers, the future of America hinges, no on what is taught in the churches and schools in the next two or three decades, but what transpires in the business offices of the country."

"American business standards," he said, "are the highest in the world. Competitors no longer hate each other and await pretexts for flying at each others' throats. The luncheon clubs, like Kiwanis and similar organizations, are in a large measure responsible for the new and higher-type of ethics."

The reason side whiskers are known as sideburns is because they were named for General Ambrose E. Burnside of the federal army.

Rapid River Man Lost; Wandering in Woods, Belief

It is the belief of authorities that Gunnar Norman, 27, of Rapid River, who has not been seen since he left for work early yesterday morning, is wandering around in the woods in the vicinity of Rapid River. Norman is employed by Oscar Froberg of Whitefish. He is single and lives with his parents.

Two years ago the young man disappeared in much the same manner, and was found in the woods a week later. He had become temporarily insane. It is thought now that perhaps the same condition has overtaken him, and he may be in the woods in the vicinity of Rapid River.

Anyone seeing a man of Norman's age, and who may be acting queerly, is asked to call the sheriff's department at Escanaba.

TEN GREATEST MEN John Haynes Holmes, pastor of New York's famous Community Church, undertook the other night to draw up a list of the ten greatest Americans.

The surest way to start an argument is to make a list of "the ten greatest"—whether it be a list of men, books, plays or race horses.

Abraham Lincoln, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry David Thoreau, William Lloyd Garrison, Theodore Parker, Robert E. Lee, Walt Whitman, Mark Twain, Charles W. Eliot and Eugene V. Debs.

His list is worth studying, even though all of us probably would like to amend it here and there. The variety of activities represented on it is rather surprising.

On what basis do you suppose this list was selected? What quality, if any, did these ten men have in common?

To begin with, each of them lacked the great American instinct of conformity. Not one of them ever was awayed in his actions by any fear of what people might think or by an consideration of the effect on his own fortunes.

Perhaps we can express the matter best by saying that these ten men were, above all, brave men. And bravery is a virtue worth prizing highly—especially in this age, when men who seek high office walk on eggs for fear of offending some of us.

And it doesn't particularly matter that some of these men were beaten men. Lee, for instance, fought for a lost cause and went down to defeat. Debs died with everything he had ever fought for crushed. Yet that hardly matters.

THE CANARY MURDER CASE

CHAPTER XIX Spotswoode seemed rather appalled at the thought of his relations with the girl becoming public, and for several minutes he sat with averted eyes.

"I see your point," he acknowledged at length. "But it would be a terrible thing for me if the fact of my delinquencies became known."

"That contingency may be entirely avoided," Markham encouraged him. "I promise you that you will not be called upon unless it is absolutely necessary."

"You know, Mr. Markham," he said, after several minutes, "I ought to be ashamed to admit it, but the truth is I care a good deal for the girl. I suppose you've kept her apartment intact..."

"It wouldn't do. You'd be sure to be recognized by the operator—or there might be a reporter about—and then I'd be able to keep you out of the case."

The man appeared disappointed, but did not protest; and for several minutes no one spoke. Then Vance raised himself slightly in his chair.

"I say, Mr. Spotswoode, do you happen to remember anything unusual occurring last night during the half-hour you remained with Miss Odell after the theater?"

"Unusual?" The man's manner was eloquent of his astonishment. "To the contrary. We chatted a while, and then, as she seemed tired, I said good night and came away, making a luncheon appointment with her today."

"And yet, it now seems fairly certain that some other man was hiding in the apartment when you were there."

"There's little doubt on that point," agreed Spotswoode, with the suggestion of a shudder. "And her screams would seem to indicate that he came forth from hiding a few minutes after I went."

"And you had no suspicion of the fact when you heard her call for help?"

"I did at first—naturally. But when she assured me that nothing was the matter, and told me to go home, I attributed her screams to a nightmare."

"I knew she had been tired, and I left her in the wicker chair near the door, from where her screams seemed to come; so I naturally concluded she had dozed off and called out in her sleep..."

"It's a harrowing situation," Vance was silent for a while; then he asked: "Did you, by any chance, notice the door of the living-room closet? Was it open or closed?"

Spotswoode frowned, as if attempting to visualize the picture; but the result was a failure. "I suppose it was closed. I probably would have noticed it if it had been open."

"Then you couldn't say if the key was in the lock or not?" "Good Lord, no! I don't even know if it ever had a key."

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

MAYBE YOU HAVEN'T NOTICED IT MISS CHURCH, BUT JAKE HOOPLE HAS A DIZZY CASE ON YOU! HE WAS TELLING ME THAT YOU'RE HIS IDEAL OF WHAT A WOMAN OUGHT TO BE!

"I never heard the name," he answered. "In fact, Miss Odell, never mentioned any doctor to me."

"And did you ever hear her mention the name of Skeel... or refer to any one as Tony?" "Never," His answer was emphatic.

"You know, Mr. Markham," he said, after several minutes, "I ought to be ashamed to admit it, but the truth is I care a good deal for the girl. I suppose you've kept her apartment intact..."

"It wouldn't do. You'd be sure to be recognized by the operator—or there might be a reporter about—and then I'd be able to keep you out of the case."

The man appeared disappointed, but did not protest; and for several minutes no one spoke. Then Vance raised himself slightly in his chair.

"I say, Mr. Spotswoode, do you happen to remember anything unusual occurring last night during the half-hour you remained with Miss Odell after the theater?"

"Unusual?" The man's manner was eloquent of his astonishment. "To the contrary. We chatted a while, and then, as she seemed tired, I said good night and came away, making a luncheon appointment with her today."

"And yet, it now seems fairly certain that some other man was hiding in the apartment when you were there."

"There's little doubt on that point," agreed Spotswoode, with the suggestion of a shudder. "And her screams would seem to indicate that he came forth from hiding a few minutes after I went."

"And you had no suspicion of the fact when you heard her call for help?"

"I did at first—naturally. But when she assured me that nothing was the matter, and told me to go home, I attributed her screams to a nightmare."

"I knew she had been tired, and I left her in the wicker chair near the door, from where her screams seemed to come; so I naturally concluded she had dozed off and called out in her sleep..."

"It's a harrowing situation," Vance was silent for a while; then he asked: "Did you, by any chance, notice the door of the living-room closet? Was it open or closed?"

Spotswoode frowned, as if attempting to visualize the picture; but the result was a failure. "I suppose it was closed. I probably would have noticed it if it had been open."

"Then you couldn't say if the key was in the lock or not?" "Good Lord, no! I don't even know if it ever had a key."

OUT OUR WAY

COME ON YOU BIG TRAMP, GET OUT OF HERE! I HAVE ENOUGH TROUBLE GETTING A FEW MINUTES PRACTICE OUT OF HER WITHOUT YOU REMINDING HER OF THE IDLE RICH.

"I suppose it was closed. I probably would have noticed it if it had been open."

"Then you couldn't say if the key was in the lock or not?" "Good Lord, no! I don't even know if it ever had a key."

The case was discussed for another half-hour; then Spotswoode excused himself and left us.

"Punny thing," ruminated Markham, "how a man of his upbringing could be so attracted by the empty-headed, butterfly type."

"I'd say it was quite natural," returned Vance. "...You're such an incorrigible moralist, Markham."

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT

Clara Bow has the featured role in "Get Your Man", now playing at the Delft.

The locale of the story is France where Miss Bow is an American tourist endeavoring to see Parisian life alone. There she meets a young Frenchman (Charles Rogers) and is forced to remain all night with him in a wax-works museum when the doors are locked by the night watchman who believes the place to be empty.

Here, in the midst of mechanical figures which execute famous historical events such as coronations, murders, lynchings and imprisonments, the two fall in love, but not until they have encountered numerous thrilling experiences with the grotesque models. The complications are increased when it is learned that the boy has been engaged for 17 years to a girl he does not love. The remainder of the picture is a series of comedy situations in which Miss Bow tries to break down the French betrothal tradition.

AT THE STRAND

Today is the final opportunity for local theatregoers to see the screen adaptation of the Laura Jean Libbey story, "In a Moment of Temptation," which closes its engagement at the Strand Theatre tonight.

This film tells the story of a pretty shop girl who is suddenly precipitated into the midst of a whirl of adventures, some amusing and some tragic, which finally bring about a complete change in her life. Pretty Charlotte Stevens plays the girl, and the part of her lover is in the hands of Cornelius Keefe. Other prominent members of the cast are Marie Walcamp, Kit Guard, Tom Ricketts, John McKinnon and Grant Withers. Phillip Carle directed.

When Women Went Back to the Kitchen

The kitchen, for many years, was the battleground of feminism. The Mid Victorian's woman's famous trinity of "church, children and kitchen" gradually gave way before the battery of "Come Out of the Kitchen" and women did come out in ever increasing numbers until the World War and the scarcity of maids sent most of them scurrying back in again.

After all, women concluded, the kitchen was the workshop of the home, but if they could not change conditions, at least they could change the kitchen, which was responsible for the modern slogan, "Color in your kitchen."

Today it is surprising to note the charming decorative effects that can be achieved by adapting the old fashioned gingham and percales of our childhood, into crisp, ruffy drapes or breakfast doilies. If your kitchen seems drab and cheerless, take a stroll thru our Cotton Goods Department. At a trifling cost you can transform it into one of the most charming rooms in your house.

LEGION OPENS GREAT PROGRAM

Impressive Ceremonies Mark Beginning of Campaign.

Fenton, Mich., Feb. 6.—The greatest constructive program in the history of the American Legion, embracing the major objectives of the universal draft law for national defense and community betterment service, and which has just been inaugurated by nationwide ceremonies in the unveiling of the new Legion poster, is meeting with unprecedented success in this state in membership gains, according to Willis M. Brewer, Legion commander of Michigan.

The state commander has received information that more than 15,000 of the new posters were placed on panels in one day throughout the nation. In numerous cities and towns of this state, local Legion officials made the posting an occasion for a ceremony of unveiling at which mayors and other prominent men and women participated.

Thousands attend.

Seven thousand persons attended the ceremony, despite snow and fog, in the City Hall Plaza in New York City. The ceremony held in New Orleans stopped the noon crowds in Canal street in the heart of the business district. In San Francisco a ceremony was held near the famous monument of John Marshall, discovered of gold in California. Another ceremony that attracted national notice was held in Los Angeles.

In New York the troops from Governor's Island, and the bands of the Sixteenth infantry and the Brooklyn navy yard were present. Among the prominent guests participating were Edward E. Spaford, national commander of the Legion; Mayor Walker, Miss Martha Atwood, the Metropolitan Opera soprano; Maj. Gen. Ely, Lieut. John McCloy, representing Admiral C. P. Plunkett; Emmanuele Grassi, consul general of Italy; Hideo Sato, consul general of Japan; Maxine Mongendre, consul general of France; Major Georges Thenuit, attaché of aviation, and Burton Harrington, chairman of the American Legion relations and extension committee.

Officials Participate.

In San Francisco the Thirtieth infantry band furnished music, and among those participating were Mayor James Rolph, Jr., Maj. Gen. Hunter T. Liggett, A. J. Clout, representing the board of education; Edward Rainey, the mayor's secretary, and other public officials.

In New Orleans the crowds in Canal street halted with bared heads as the New Orleans police band played the Star Spangled Banner, and Miss Norma A. Conelia, daughter of Dr. Louis J. Conelia, recently announced by the war department as the first member of the A. E. F. to be wounded in the World War, uncovered the poster panel.

Among the prominent persons taking part in the New Orleans ceremony were James F. Barton, national adjutant of the Legion; Mayor Arthur J. O'Keefe, finance commissioner; T. Semmes Waimley, commissioner of public safety; Paul B. Habans, president of the chamber of commerce; Charles Hamilton; Adj. Gen. L. A. Toombs; Gen. Allison Owen of the famous Washington artillery; Major J. Crowley, of the Civil War Veterans; state service commissioner Linden Dalferes, department Legion Commander Charles E. McKenzie and department Legion Adjutant C. J. Bourg.

The ceremony in New Orleans inaugurated a state-wide Louisiana campaign which is under the direction of Reau Kemp, of national headquarters, and has as its object 2500 members in New Orleans and 10,000 members in Louisiana. The ceremony was brief and impressive. Five ex-service men stood with bared heads and voluntarily sought membership in the Legion on the spot. Through the courtesy of city officials, the poster will remain in its prominent location on Canal street for eighteen days.

Walker Lauds Legion.

In New York a police motorcycle squad escorted the national commander from his headquarters at the Vanderbilt hotel to the City Hall Plaza. At 12:30 p. m., Mayor Walker introduced Mrs. Atwood, who, in the red, white and blue dress that she wore when she sang before the national Legion convention in Paris last fall, opened the ceremony by staging "America," accompanied by the U. S. Navy band.

Mayor Walker spoke of the Legion's power for good in the American community and gave illustrations of its value and its service in his own city of New York. General Ely said the Legion, being composed of men who have served their country and thereby strengthened their devotion to it, is a splendid school for the teaching of patriotism. He closed with the statement that "the Legion's whole purpose and its entire aim, as the army sees it, is expressed in the first phrase of the preamble to its constitution, 'for God and country.'"

The colors were ranged in front of the poster panel. They were borne down the steps of the city hall by the guard and, at a signal, the bunting which hid the poster from view was slowly drawn aside as the bugles sounded "to the colors." After an impressive moment, the Sixteenth infantry band played the opening bars of the national anthem, the colors were dipped, the troops stood at "present arms," and Mrs. Atwood sang as the sun, which had been hidden from view

That funny looking thing he has in his hand is a bat or something that the Cubans use in their national game, Jai Alai, which is said to be fastest game in the world and which has become a vogue in Chicago.

IN NEW YORK

Manhattan snap shots... A speakeasy that displays the sly sign, "Peek-a-Boo Cafe." ... Charles Evans Hughes, looking 10 years younger than his birth records indicate, taking a brisk walk on the Avenue. ... The huge new automobile sign that threatens to "steal" the bright lights of Broadway from all the rest. ... Ted Paramore, who wrote that classic, "The Ballad of Yukon Jake" and who says he has a new play in his pocket. ... The girl who's been rolling cigarettes in a Broadway window for six months. ... Doesn't she ever weary of it? ... The politicians in silk hats who appear at the waterfront at dawn to meet important European visitors. ... Can you imagine crawling into evening dress and a silk hat at daybreak? ... And this costume looks so strange in the welter of rumbling trucks and stevedores along the Battery docks. ... Those alluring photos of chonies in ticket brokerage windows. ... And those drab looking photos of ordinary mortals in the catch-penny photograph galleries. ... Martha Sleeper, a Max Baer's girl who didn't like to be photographed in bathing suits. ... She just signed a nice contract with F. O. B. ... Fritz Kreisler

These are the days when they pour midnight oil on the troubled waters of Manhattan's cloak and suit belt.

These are the days when every other person you meet on the street turns out to be a buyer from Texas, Michigan or Illinois—to say nothing of the other states.

These are the days when the lunch checks are "on the house"; when the "entertaining models" earn twice as much pay as they get "stepping out" the prospective customer from hither-and-yon; when the bootlegger's wares are handy just beyond the office screen and the working models are on fatigue duty at any and all hours.

These are the days when a hotel room in the central section of New York is worth its weight in platinum; when the theater ticket brokers find their phones constantly ringing and when some of the racier night resorts are amazed at the sudden jump in patronage.

For, as you may have suspected, these are the days when the buyers come to town in droves and herds; when the lingerie shows gamberly on in hotel and office building display rooms; when next spring's styles are paraded by thousands of mannikins and all New York from 25th street into the Forties grinds at top speed that the stores of this great land may be well stocked long before the first robin catches its early worm.

Here, in this spectacle, one can learn what all the Main Streets of the land will be wearing in another summer and what all the nation's store windows will be flaunting. It's one of Manhattan's in the morning, came out and cleared away the mist.

Years of Service.

In the ceremony in San Francisco, Mayor Rolph said in part, "I am particularly happy to be with you today in unveiling this beautiful picture that is emblematic of the peace-time ideals and service of those who bore arms and returned to us. As war-time mayor I had you goodbye. As peace-time executive I rejoiced in your welcome return and I am proud of your records as veterans. I have been continuously proud of your endeavors during those years of readjustment. May the coming years bring your splendid organization great contentment in accomplishments and service."

Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to creep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets will save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous griping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you.

Personal Interest and Service Is Big Need of Community

Aided by an apt cartoon, the current bulletin of the Manistique Chamber of Commerce this week brought to members a plea for more personal service and personal interest in the community...

The letter, prepared by C. C. Anderson, newly elected secretary, says in part: "Taxes will provide police, fire protection, etc. They are in payment for value received—no more, no less. If our city is to grow and develop as we want it to do, it requires the personal service and personal interest of its citizens to originate and bring about those things which make for progress and betterment."

Appended to the letter is a quotation styled the "eighth commandment" of home town commandments, reading as follows: "Thou shalt honor thy community institutions. Thou shalt work together with thy neighbors with all thy heart and strength and mind. Thou shalt work together in thy organizations and clubs for the common welfare. Thy leaders shalt thou learn to obey. Thou shalt serve on committees where thou art and not intrude on committees where thou art not put. Thou shalt know one another better, thy work prosper and thy friendships multiply."

W. A. BARNARD PASSES AWAY

Former Soo Line Trainmaster Well Known Here

Of deep interest to a large number of Gladstone people is the word received Monday of the death at Minot, N. D., of W. A. THEATRES

"WEST POINT." William Haines just can't seem to get away from football. In "Brown of Harvard" he made one of the biggest hits of his career in a strenuous football contest, and now, in "West Point," his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle opening today and Wednesday at the Rialto theater, he again contributes thrills of the gridiron—this time in the annual Army-Navy game between West Point and Annapolis. Haines' new vehicle is a vivid romance of life at West Point, with Haines in the role of a cadet in a story of love, football, and life as one of Uncle Sam's student officers. Joan Crawford, who played opposite him in "Spring Fever," is the heroine, and Edward Sedgwick directed the new play. Much of it was actually filmed at West Point, with the entire cadet corps participating in the production. The new story tells of a youth who comes to West Point primarily to play football, but who through bitter experience learns the ethics of the corps and becomes ideal material for officer-ship. It is an original by Raymond L. Shrock.

MOTHER

A Cross, Feverish Child is Bilious, Constipated

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Fig Syrup," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless, "fruity laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your

MILLIONS OF FISH PLANTED

Conservation Department's Hatcheries Produced Big Crops.

A total of 218,373,106 fish of all species were planted last year in the inland lakes, streams, rivers and waters of the Great Lakes from the State's seventeen hatcheries and nursery ponds, according to Fred A. Westerman, Fish Division, Department of Conservation, in a report to Geo. R. Hoagarth, Acting Director.

An increasingly large number of fish are being developed to the fingerling stage before planting, the report shows, and these are all being naturally or artificially fed in the hatcheries and nursery ponds.

Approximately 32,500,000 of all fish planted last year were brook, brown and rainbow trout. 1,100,000 were large and small mouth black bass. 93,634,935 were perch. Approximately 1,000,000 were blue gills.

Other plantings were as follows: Lake trout, 3,500,000; Whitefish, 20,000,000; Wall-eyed pike, 58,500,000; Herring, 7,000,000; Grayling, 731,000; Calico bass, 10,000.

The chief function of the Division of Fisheries consists of maintaining satisfactory fishing conditions in Michigan lakes and streams. This involves the propagation and distribution of desirable species, the control and destruction of noxious fish and the regulating of seasons and creel limits.

The present propagation policy of the Division is directed toward providing facilities to rear brown, brook and rainbow trout for several months in nurseries before distributing them to public waters. Physical problems connected with this actively involve the selection of streams that are adapted for planting, particularly brook trout.

The Department does not contemplate introducing additional species of fish foreign to Michigan, but is concentrating all efforts in hatcheries on species that are well adapted for Michigan waters. The Department is cooperating closely with the Federal Bureau of Fisheries to improve conditions surrounding the collection and incubation of commercial species, particularly lake trout, white fish, herring and wall-eyed pike.

ROTARY HEARS C. E. HAWKINS

Marble Arms Advertising Man Gives Splendid Address.

One of the most interesting addresses delivered before the Escanaba Rotary club in many months was that given yesterday, at the regular weekly meeting of the organization at the Delta hotel, by Claude Hawkins, advertising manager for the Marble Arms Company, of Gladstone. Mr. Hawkins' address was filled with a great volume of interesting facts, not only concerning the general subject of advertising, but concerning a Gladstone industry that has enjoyed a wonderful development in the thirty years of its history.

The speaker traced the history of advertising, from its earliest form when criers furnished the medium for its practice, to the intricate and monumental factor it has become in the business life of the world today.

Mr. Hawkins explained that a large part of the output of the plant of the Marble Arms Company is sold through advertising and laid before the club that company's complete advertising program for last year. He named the national advertising mediums that were employed, the cost of the service to his company and the results that were obtained through the campaign. He stressed the fact that honesty in advertising is the bulwark upon which the successful advertiser found his business and asserted that more and more with each passing year this fact is coming to be recognized by advertisers and the public. Mr. Hawkins closely held the attention of his hearers throughout his address and when he had concluded he was accorded a real ovation by the club.

Few succeed without harm. Try the modern way, embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. The results are seen everywhere.

Marmola contains a gland element which helps turn food into fuel and energy. The formula appears in every box, also the reasons for results. Thus you will know how the changes occur without harm.

All druggists supply Marmola at $1 a box. Go start it now. Take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. Do this because of the new beauty and vim which Marmola has brought to so many, for so long.

Republicans of Ohio Seek Hoover for Nomination

Columbus, O., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover was urged to become a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination and to give his consent to the election of delegates in Ohio pledged to support him by the "Ohio Hoover for President Committee," organized here today.

The committee adopted a resolution declaring that the "people of Ohio desire an opportunity to express their preference for Mr. Hoover at the April presidential primaries as they have a right to do under the election laws of Ohio.

The resolution also voiced the sentiment of the committee that Mr. Hoover, "by education, experience and character is pre-eminently qualified for the presidency of the United States."

Contingents upon the commerce secretary's willingness to become a candidate in Ohio, the action of the committee definitely launched a battle for the Buckeye state delegation between the supporters of Hoover and Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio. Senator Willis has been endorsed by the Republican state central committee.

Long Distance Rates are Surprisingly Low ... For Instance

for 70¢

Or Less, After 8:30 P. M.,

You can call the following points and talk for THREE MINUTES for the rates shown. Rates to other distant points are proportionately low.

Station-to-Station Rate	Night Station-to-Station Rate
KALAMAZOO	70
LANSING	70
BIG RAPIDS	55
BAY CITY	65
SAGINAW	65
MANISTEE	40
LA CROSSE, WIS.	70
EAU CLAIRE, WIS.	65
LADYSMITH, WIS.	60

The rates quoted above are Station-to-Station night rates, effective from 8:30 p. m. to 4:30 a. m. A Station-to-Station call is one that is made to a certain telephone, rather than to some person in particular.

If you do not know the number of the distant telephone, give the operator the name and address and specify that you will talk with "anyone" who answers at the called telephone.

Day rates, 4:30 a. m. to 7 p. m., and evening rates, 7 p. m. to 8:30 p. m., are higher than night rates. A Person-to-Person call, because more work is involved, costs more than a Station-to-Station call. The rate on a Person-to-Person call is the same at all hours.
