

EMMONS TELLS OF KLAN WORK

Was Told That Beatings Would Increase Membership

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—(AP)—A sensational tale of alleged political intrigue involving the Ku Klux Klan, horse thief detective association, gun-toting preachers and the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, was unfolded here today by Hugh F. (Pat) Emmons, a former Klan cyclops, in a deposition given to Atty. Gen. Arthur L. Gillion. The attorney general will use it in a suit to be brought recently to oust the Klan from Indiana.

Emmons, who between 1923 and 1926, inclusive, said he was associated with Valley Klan No. 53, of South Bend, and St. Joseph county, declared he had been told by W. Lee Smith, Indianapolis, until recently grand dragon, that the secret order was formed for the purpose of getting political control of the United States. For eight hours, Emmons unraveled the story of how, he said, the Klan stuffed ballot boxes, used whiskey to win elections, railed men "in bad" with the organization and boycotted Catholics and Jews who were in business.

Used Whiskey in Election. "It was a kind of double-crossing proposition," he said, after alleging that men were brought into the Klan on one set of principles and given another set to follow when they had taken their oaths.

Joe Huffington of Evansville, present grand dragon, was described to Emmons by W. Lee Smith as "the fastest man with a gun that had ever been brought into Indiana."

Emmons said he and Charles J. Orblison, Indianapolis attorney helped Huffington in the Evansville city election in 1925, and that later Huffington told him (Emmons) that "it took a lot of whiskey and money and some stuffing of the ballot boxes to put that election over."

Herbert Males was elected mayor. Orblison, an attorney for the Klan and former Superior court judge, represented that organization at the deposition taking, frequently objecting to the questions that Gillion put to the witness.

Lavish expenditures of money by prominent Klan leaders, orgies at road houses, hate-inspiring speeches, boycotting of business establishments and the attempted boycott of at least one newspaper in Indiana were charged by the witness. He said the Valley Klan No. 53 finally lost its charter when it no longer would give money to the state and national organization.

Beatings Boosted Membership. On one occasion, Emmons said Hiram Wesley Evans, imperial wizard of the Klan, told him that if the situation at Herrin, Ill., did not improve, he would send gunmen down there "to clean up things."

The conversation with Evans occurred in Chicago just after Emmons had returned from Herrin from the funeral of S. Glenn Young, the witness said.

Emmons, as exalted cyclops of St. Joseph county, was advised by a representative of the imperial office that the way to get members was to "beat up somebody" and use some tar and feathers. He said a man named Sirman declared the South Bend Klan needed a little more southern spirit and that "if they took someone out in this Catholic city and tarred and feathered somebody, membership would increase by hundreds."

Administration Board Agrees to Pave U. P. Road

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 20.—(AP)—An effort will be made to set aside the recent decision of the state supreme court that relicted lands belong to the state and not to the meander line owners, it was decided at a conference here today under the auspices of the Michigan Real Estate association. The state supreme court will be asked to rehear the Kavanaugh-Baird case, in which the decision was made. If the petition for a rehearing is denied an attempt will be made to appeal to the United States supreme court.

Italian Ambassador to U. S. Spends 2 Days in Detroit

Detroit, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Baron Giacomo de Martino, Italian ambassador to the United States, arrived in Detroit today for a two-day visit, to be devoted principally to an inspection of industrial plants. Mayor John C. Lodge, formally welcomes the ambassador and following the official reception he was driven to Ford Motor plant where he was escorted through portions of the Ford Motor company plant. Following a luncheon at the Dearborn Country club, the ambassador's party inspected the Cadillac Motor Car company's plant.

Lewis Wins First Fall in Championship Match; Stecher Scores Second

FORD OBTAINED HOLD BY FRAUD

(Continued From Page One.) stockholders is void as being contrary to public policy. The Fords also contended that "this alleged oral contract is a contract to answer for the debt, default or misdoings of the Lincoln Motor company, a Delaware corporation, and is void under the statute of frauds of the state of Michigan."

Ford Filed Collection Suit. The suit instituted by the Leland's marked the open break between friends of long standing. At the time of purchase of the company, Henry Ford was quoted to the effect that he took over the company partly because of friendship for Henry M. Leland and his son.

Last week a suit was filed by the Ford Motor company seeking collection of alleged debts charged against Wilfred C. Leland, stretching over a period of several years, containing alleged loans to the younger Leland and small items for servicing motors and supplies.

"It was Ford who was to gain by the Leland association," the Leland brief further contended. "It was Ford who wished to capitalize the Leland good will. It was Ford who advertised to the world that the Leland would remain in control. The Leland who headed their own plants all their lives, could gain no position of elevation by agreeing to become associates of Henry Ford."

Ford Planned to Profit. "They—the Fords—have repeatedly stated that the primary motive of the Leland was to create jobs for themselves. This in face of the bill, which states the defendants would not purchase the plant without the services of the Leland. Who stood to gain from this agreement?"

"Ford was the man who planned to reap the harvest. He was to obtain the skill of the Leland and their services to sow the seed for him and the defendants were to reap the harvest. Instead of planning to feather their own nests, the Leland actually agreed to sell their services to the defendants that the defendants might make a profit thereon. The accusation of 'feathering one's nest' is one that peculiarly fits the defendant."

If the court, after considering the point at issue, holds that the Fords must answer the bill, a prolonged court fight is anticipated.

Seek to Reverse Decision of Court

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 20.—(AP)—An effort will be made to set aside the recent decision of the state supreme court that relicted lands belong to the state and not to the meander line owners, it was decided at a conference here today under the auspices of the Michigan Real Estate association.

PRINCIPLES OF PARTY HIGHEST

Should Be More Important Than Candidacies, Says Jim Reed

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Democratic party principles were put above individual candidacies, "including my own," by the militant Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, as he visited today with Texas political leaders, newspaper men and old friends. Opening a speaking tour through the West the veteran campaigner put in a busy day from his arrival early in the day, making two speeches and holding open house meanwhile in his hotel room. On the outside of the building hung a sign "Reed for president headquarters."

At the outset, he informed newspapermen he would not discuss the candidates. Throughout the day in his room he followed that course. With their prize of 40 votes in the Democratic convention the party leaders touched lightly on politics.

He mentioned the prohibition law in connection with the growth of federal power but stated only that "in this case the supreme court held that if congress said a thing was intoxicating which was not intoxicating, in fact, that it was intoxicating."

He was told Texas may differ with the views of Senator Reed, but Texas likes Jim Reed.

Little Prospect for Relief From Frigid Weather

Detroit, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Little prospect of relief from the cold spell that has gripped the state for the past few days was seen for tomorrow by weather bureau officials here. Fair and continued cold was the official forecast.

Reports from over the state indicated much hardship has resulted from terrific storms. Transportation in Charlevoix county today was at a stand still as the result of huge snow drifts. Scores of stalled cars, buried by the snow, had to be dug out with plows. Efforts were being made to clear roads leading into the city.

Highways in the vicinity of Caro were blocked by similar drifts and the thermometer there registered around five below zero, during the greater part of the day.

The Pere Marquette steamer Nevada was windbound tonight in the Manistee breakwater, due to a gale off there.

Detroit Bowlers in Tourney Lead

Detroit, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Detroit bowlers took a monopoly on the leadership in all events of the state bowling tournament here tonight. The Norge corporation team of this city, by scoring 2,923 took the top position among the five man teams.

In the singles, P. Weipert edged his way to the front by one pin, counting 626, to nose out W. Vorheis of Saginaw for that place. J. Orose, who with H. Pluskat of Detroit remained at the top of the doubles list, is setting the pace in the all-events, with a grand total of 1,773.

College Teams to Debate Here Thursday Night

An Escanaba audience will get their first opportunity to hear an inter-collegiate debate when a Lawrence college team opposes the Ripon college trio in the Escanaba high school auditorium on Thursday, February 23.

The question which will be opposed by the Lawrence trio and upheld by the Ripon debaters is: Resolved, that the United States should not defend by force of arms, capital invested in foreign countries, except after a formal declaration of war.

The Escanaba high school was one of the institutions fortunate enough to receive an invitation to act as hosts to two of the leading debate teams in the Wisconsin circuit of colleges. Each year the Wisconsin colleges send out teams to debate in Wisconsin and Michigan high schools in order to stimulate interest in public speaking and to advertise the Wisconsin circuit of colleges.

High school students who purchased season tickets at the beginning of the debate season will be admitted to this intercollegiate meet upon presentation of their ticket. The student single admission ticket will sell at twenty-five cents. Adult tickets are selling at thirty-five cents. The debate will begin at 8 o'clock.

Universal Male Suffrage Takes Effect in Japan

Tokyo, Feb. 20.—(AP)—A milestone in the history of Japan was raised today when universal manhood suffrage was introduced for the first time in a general election and thousands of laborers and rickshaw pullers cast their votes the same as the proud descendants of the ancient Samurai.

Male citizens, 25 years of age, who could read and write and could fulfill residence qualifications, were privileged to take part in the polling, under the imperial edict. Approximately 9,000,000 voters were added to the electorate, making a total of about 12,000,000.

Intense interest centered in the election and the business life of the nation was virtually at a standstill during the last few days of the campaign.

The weather was bright in Tokyo and the forty polling stations in the city were crowded all day long. Reports from throughout the country indicated that the election passed smoothly and quietly.

Mexican Police Arrest Priest and His Friend

Mexico City, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Jose Maria Armora, bishop of Tampalipas, has been arrested by the police, together with Federico Escobar, in whose home the bishop had been hiding. The police merely announced his arrest and the exact charges against him will not be revealed until cited to the attorney general.

Another Mexican priest and a third man have also been arrested on charges believed to be connected with the Mexican religious laws. They are the Rev. Manuel Campa, who has been in charge of church affairs at San Luis Potosi, and Prisciliano Garza, who has captured at Monterrey.

Autos Confiscated By Gov't May Be Recovered—Court

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Owners of automobiles, whether they are individuals or financing companies, are to be given their cars when used without permission of the owners in the unlawful transportation of intoxicating liquor.

The decision was a blow to the federal prohibition enforcement practice of attempting to confiscate such machines under a section of the internal revenue laws which do not grant the owners an opportunity for recovery.

POSSIBILITY OF HUGE LOAN IS DISCUSSED

the investment bankers of the world. Until the French elections in May, no definite step may be expected but the fundamentals of the plan are in the meantime being considered in the principal capitals of the world as the outstanding economic task of 1928.

"The German reparations," writes Mr. Baruch, "should be determined upon what Germany can pay—her ability to pay. The thirty three billions of dollars that were determined on May 1, 1921, as the sum which Germany owed, is an amount that it will be impossible to collect. Every one should join in an endeavor to get from Germany a sum of money which will have a present value to the allies. With that end in view, it is recommended that a definite sum now be fixed; that as a part return for the fixing of this sum there should be sold in the markets of the world, a German security, secured as the reparations now are secured, and additionally secured by the railroad bonds and the indebtedness allocated to each of the industries of Germany by the reparations commission. The amount of this present issue could be between two and four billions of dollars.

The balance which should not be in excess of six billion, or ten billion dollars for the total, will be held in escrow to be sold when and as a newly constituted reparations commission, on which there should be an American member, should deem wise and feasible. This bond would be good beyond redemption because it is a first charge upon Germany, and as additional security it is a first mortgage upon the property, such as railroads and industries, of Germany which latter have always earned many times the interest charges upon these securities."

Mr. Baruch's point argument is that a clearing up of reparations and war debts would bring an industrial revival throughout the world and that the United States would be benefited many times the amount purchased by her citizens of new reparations bonds.

U. S. Remains Silent. So far as the American government is concerned, it will watch with interest what the European governments do about the question, feeling that the initiative lies with them and that when a definite sum has been fixed for reparations, it will be opportune to discuss the effect on European payments to America. In other words, no commitment will be made by the American government until the European governments are in a position to offer cash for their present debts to America and then the whole matter will be in the hands of Congress for decision.

KIWANIS HEARS TRAVEL TALK

Mrs. Fred Leighton Gives Charming Address on Trip Abroad

International relations would be greatly improved if the average American had a more tolerant and sympathetic understanding of the every-day life of the people of Europe. Mrs. Fred Leighton told members of the Kiwanis club yesterday in sketching some of her experiences and observations abroad.

"We are too likely to think that we, alone, of all the nations and peoples of the earth are worth while. Too many Americans parade their financial superiority before the people of Europe, and assume an air of arrogance which Europeans resent," Mrs. Leighton declared. She advised her hearers, who are contemplating European tours, to avoid the modern American hotels abroad and to live, for a time, as the people of the other countries live. "In no other way," she said, "can one reach a real understanding of their view-points and problems."

Mrs. Leighton's address was crammed full of charming description of points she visited and studied, and other information which the Kiwanians found intensely interesting. Most of the lecture was far away from the beaten track of "travel lectures," and covered details which were both novel and unique.

It was one of the most enjoyable meetings of the season for the Kiwanians.

RIFLE CLUB TO GET EQUIPMENT

Arthur F. Sundling, secretary of the Escanaba Rifle club, has been notified by Lieut.-Col. George C. Shaw, director of civilian marksmanship of the war department, that the department will ship within two weeks from one of its ordnance stores a supply of equipment for the local club's use.

These supplies consist of Springfield rifles, ammunition, targets and other materials used in rifle practice.

The Escanaba Rifle club was organized slightly more than a month ago and is composed of 19 members, who are either former service men or outdoor sportsmen who have a reputation for good marksmanship. Regular practices will be started early next summer. The club has already made arrangements for a rifle range, close to this city.

The war department issues annually a certain amount of equipment for the promotion of rifle marksmanship. In view of the fact that there are many requests for these allotments, the members of the Escanaba club are highly gratified to receive their equipment so soon.

"Douglas Malloch, 'The poet who makes living a joy' whose poems are familiar to millions of Americans, is to be the Washington's birthday feature from WLS, Chicago. That station has arranged to present the poet in person Wednesday night, February 22, from 7:20 until 8:00 o'clock. Central time. Malloch will read many of his best-loved poems, including 'Today,' said to be the most widely quoted poem by a living American.

The single tusk of a wild male elephant has been known to weigh 235 pounds.

They were the proper course to pursue. They were the master of their lives and carried their aims through to completion."

The speaker aptly illustrated the importance of the period of youth from the lives of three great Americans who were born in the month of February, namely, Washington, Lincoln and Lindbergh. In reading the lives of these men Mr. Empson stated that he did not look for the reasons on their great accomplishments, but rather that he studied into the boyhood, to see what had given them the real start toward success. He explained the ideals of these men, how each had a definite purpose in life and further than that had the will power to carry on. They could say "yes" when it was the thing to say, and they could also say "no" when it

By S. S. VAN DINE AUTHOR OF THE BENSON MURDER CASE

"I like you more and more," said Vance; and when she gave him her hand at parting he lifted it to his lips...

"The primitive Alys rather appeals to me," he said. "She's much too good for the oleaginous Mannix... Women are so shrewd—and so glib."

"Ah, well, let us hope she's right and that Mannix is not apprehended—at least not until her new show is financed... My word! If this being a detective involves many more reverses, I shall have to resign. Thank Heaven, though, the lady didn't attend the cinema Monday night!"

When we arrived at the district attorney's office we found Heath and Markham in consultation. Markham had a pad before him, several pages of which were covered with tabulated and annotated entries...

"I'm going over the case with the sergeant," Markham explained, with a brief glance in our direction. "We're trying to get all the salient points down in some kind of order, to see if there are any connecting links we've overlooked..."

"He picked up the sheets of paper and fastened them together with a clip. "The truth is, we haven't any real evidence against anybody. There are suspicious circumstances connected with Skeel and Doctor Lindquist and Cleaver; and our interview with Mannix didn't precisely allay suspicions in his direction, either."

"But when we come right down to it, what's the situation? We've got some finger-prints of Skeel, which might have been made late Monday afternoon. Doctor Lindquist goes berserk when we ask him where he was Monday night, and then offers us a fatherly weak alibi. He admits a fatherly interest in the girl, whereas he's perfectly in love with her—a perfectly natural thing for a man to do."

"Cleaver lent his car to his brother and lied about it, so that I'd think he was in Bounton Monday at midnight. And Mannix gives us a number of shifty answers to our questions concerning his relations with the girl... Not an embarrassment of riches."

"I wouldn't say your information was exactly negligent," observed Vance, taking a chair beside the sergeant. "It may all prove devilish valuable if only it could be put together properly. The difficulty, it appears to me, is that certain parts of the puzzle are missing. Find 'em, and I'll warrant everything will fit beautifully—like a mosaic."

"Easy enough to say 'find 'em,'" grumbled Markham. "The trouble is to know where to look." Heath relighted his dead cigar and made an impatient gesture. "You can't away from Skeel. He's the boy that did it and, if it wasn't for Abe Rubin, I'd swear the truth about him. And by the way, Mr. Vance, he had his own private key to the Odell apartment, all right!"

"He glanced at Markham hesitantly. "I don't want to look as if I was criticizing, sir, but I got a feeling these gentlemen friends of Odell—Cleaver and Mannix and this here doctor..."

"You may be right," Markham seemed inclined to agree with him. "However, I'd like to know why Lindquist acted the way he did."

"Well, that might help some," Heath compromised. "If the doc loose in the Empire State... Michigan Daily."

"Are not even a man's sacred sentiments respected by the police of this country?" There was indeed scorn in the doctor's tone.

"Under some conditions, yes; under others, no," Markham controlled his fury admirably. "You need not answer me, of course; but, if you choose to be frank, you may possibly save yourself the humiliation of being questioned publicly by the People's attorney in a court of law."

AUTO STRIKES TRAIN; 1 DEAD

Alex Nerbon, Brother of Local Barber, Killed at Daggett

Deputy Sheriff Alex Nerbon, 41, Daggett, brother of Henry Nerbon, barber of this city, was instantly killed when an automobile driven by Aubrey Johnson, 21, also of Daggett, crashed into a C. & N. W. freight train No. 37 on a siding at the north crossing in Daggett shortly before 3 o'clock Sunday morning. Johnson escaped with a broken nose and gashed forehead.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nerbon were called to Daggett by the accident and later returned to Escanaba. They will return to Daggett today. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

The freight train was awaiting passenger train No. 101 to pass. Johnson and the deputy sheriff were returning home from Vanst, where Nerbon had been on duty at a dance. Members of the train crew said the automobile was traveling at considerable speed. Johnson said the windows of the sedan were somewhat frosted, and in the darkness he failed to see that the train had not cleared the crossing.

Nerbon's body was not recovered until the freight train's locomotive came out on the main line, and with a cable attached to the automobile pulled it from beneath the boxcar, which it had wrecked. The deputy sheriff suffered a crushed skull and a broken nose. Being only slightly injured, Johnson was able to extricate himself from the wreckage without any assistance.

Nerbon, who was born in Daggett and lived there his entire life, is survived by his widow and four children. He also leaves four brothers, Gilbert and George of Menominee, Henry of Escanaba, and Joseph of Minneapolis, and one sister, Mrs. John Jacobson of Green Bay. No funeral arrangements have been announced.

Conductor Bernard Hart and Engineer T. Hogan were in charge of train No. 37.

Our Customers Write the Best Ads for ISO-VIS!

Ever since it was put on the market last winter, letters have come pouring in by the thousands from enthusiastic customers praising Iso-Vis.

Because they relate how Iso-Vis has worked in their cars—because they give frank, unsolicited opinions, we believe they are the best "ads" that could be written about this extraordinary motor oil.

They tell in the everyday language of actual use what we mean by such terms as "constant viscosity". They are actual records of the unusual service Iso-Vis gives. We quote at random:

From a letter written by Mr. W. P. Renner, of Sikeston, Missouri—"I have used your Iso-Vis for several months. I ran the first five quarts twelve hundred miles, and the second five about 2,250 miles, without adding any in my Chevrolet. The pressure gauge never weakened, was always good."

"I am now driving twice as far as I did on other oils before draining the crankcase and when I do drain it I notice the body is still good," says Mr. W. A. Bransome of the Geo. H. Lee Co., 1115-1117 Harney St., Omaha, Nebraska.

From the proprietor of the Balsam Lake Service Station, Balsam Lake, Wis.—Mr. John Boeris—"I know I will not be able to sell as much oil to a customer as I did before, but more customers will make up for it."

From a letter written by Mr. Floyd Goodrich, Treasurer of the Waterloo Concrete Corporation, of Waterloo, Iowa—"As a result of our test on the two cars, we some six weeks later adopted Iso-Vis for our entire fleet of cars and trucks. Our experience leads us to believe that it is the best oil which we have ever used for automobile and truck service."

"I can truthfully say that Iso-Vis is the cheapest and best lubrication money can buy," quoted from the letter of Mr. A. D. Thomas, of Eldorado Illinois.

There is another advantage in quoting letters. They say more than modesty would permit us to say about our own product! We suggest that you give Iso-Vis a trial and judge it by the only real standard—its performance in your car/30¢ per quart.

The rates quoted above are Station-to-Station night rates, effective from 8:30 p. m. to 4:30 a. m. A Station-to-Station call is one that is made to a certain telephone, rather than to some person in particular.

If you do not know the number of the distant telephone, give the operator the name and address and specify that you will talk with "anyone" who answers at the called telephone.

Day rates, 4:30 a. m. to 7 p. m., and evening rates, 7 p. m. to 8:30 p. m., are higher than night rates. A Person-to-Person call, because more work is involved, costs more than a Station-to-Station call. The rate on a Person-to-Person call is the same at all hours.

Additional rate information can be secured by calling the Long Distance operator

GUNNAR NORMAN HURT BY HORSE

Young Man Severely Bruised While at Work at Watson

Gunnar Norman, 26, is in St. Francis hospital with an injured collar bone, a badly cut hand and severe body bruises as a result of having been trampled by a horse Saturday night. Norman, whose home is at 1117 First avenue north, was employed at Watson. He was grooming the horse when the animal suddenly knocked him down and trampled him. Before Norman was able to make his escape from the stall, he had been badly bruised. It is feared that his neck may be dislocated. Injuries to his chest also may prove serious.

He was brought to St. Francis hospital here immediately and was resting as comfortably yesterday as could be expected. X-rays will be taken today to determine if there are any internal injuries.

Sceptre of Lord Mayor Very Old

London (P)—Nearly every citizen of London has seen the Lord Mayor's great mace of eighteenth century construction, and the sword with pearl embroidered scabbard, presented by Queen Elizabeth, but very few know of the existence of the Lord Mayor's "crystal sceptre" which dates back over 1,000 years.

The scepter of the city's chief citizen is 18 inches long and made of crystal. The shaft is spiral, inlaid with gold, and has a gold coronet with pendant pearls, uncut rubies and sapphires. Before there was a King of England this was the staff of office of the ruler whom Londoners elected each year.

During his year of office the Lord Mayor handles it only twice, once on his admission at the Guildhall as Lord Mayor, and again when he hands over the office to his successor. For the remainder of the year it is guarded by the City Chamberlain.

According to ancient city custom it is ordered that at a coronation the Lord Mayor must attend Westminster Abbey with his crystal sceptre borne by himself before the King.

Bark River P. T. A. Costume Party—If the saying is true that laughter is a tonic, those who were fortunate enough to attend the costume party, Thursday evening at the Bark River town hall, certainly received their money's worth. The party was without doubt the most enjoyable social affair held at Bark River in many months.

The characters represented styles worn from George and Martha Washington's time until the present day. Fancy costumes, comic costumes impersonating flappers and sheiks, lent merriment to the scene.

An orchestra composed of local talent furnished the dancers with a lively program of old time and modern music for the dancers and grand march which was a feature of the evening. Prize winners for costumes were chosen from among the marchers. The awards were given to Mrs. A. E. ### Women Barred in Gourmet's Club

Paris—"No Women" is a new rule of the noted group of gourmets, the "Club Des Cent," or Club of a Hundred.

These men, leaders in many varied professions, gather weekly to eat what is best and to further the fame of France.

"No Women" went through with little debate when Camille Cerf, the chairman, proposed his resolution to ward off an invasion from France to dine at some abode of high repute. Therefore, Cerf, carrying the fight to the enemy, put through his "No Women" law so the women might be warned not to ask to get in.

BLAME SAUSAGE FOR POISONING

Seven Persons Violently Ill; One Brought Here

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Deiter and five children of Hendricks were the victims Saturday night of a severe attack of poisoning, which they attribute to eating pork sausage. A half-hour after the evening meal, all the members of the family became violently ill. Severe vomiting followed.

The children range in age from 3 to 13 years. Lucille, age 5, was the most seriously ill. She was brought to St. Francis hospital here, suffering from convulsions. Others were treated in their home. All were reported to be improving yesterday. Lucille, last night, also was reported to be out of danger.

Her life was saved it was said by the fact that the parents administered antidotes of Epsom salts and mustard as soon as symptoms of poisoning appeared.

The Maytag Aluminum Washer for five years stood without a rival. Then came the New Maytag, as far in advance of the times as the former Maytag was five years before. The big Maytag factory is now turning out 1400 washers a day.

The unmatched speed and thoroughness which characterized the Maytag of former years has been enhanced by many noteworthy features, in the New Maytag. Important among them is a Soft Roller Water Remover which hugs every fold of the clothes. Both the soap and water are extracted evenly—delicate buttons and filmy laces go through unharmed.

For the 5 Months Ending January 1st, 1928

—In Delta county the Oakland-Pontiac line was first in new car sales for the five-month period ending January 1st, 1928, according to an authentic new car registration report recently published.

—Quite naturally, the Peninsula-Oakland Co. is proud of this record. It is an achievement that assumes even greater significance when the reader pauses to reflect on the number of cars represented in Delta county that sell for $100 and more below the Oakland-Pontiac list prices. This emphatically indicates the trend of public opinion.

—With numerous refinements and improvements, including the addition of four-wheel brakes to all Pontiac models, the Peninsula Oakland Co. will break its own brilliant sales records in 1928.

THE PERFECT WALL STREET FACE

35-Year-Old Robert Clarkson, New President of Great N. Y. Bank, Has It

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer.

New York—The young man with Wall Street ambitions should look to his features and see if nature has endowed him with a "million dollar face."

He might compare his physiognomy with that of Robert L. Clarkson, if he doesn't know just what a million dollar face looks like. At 35, Clarkson has been elected president of the Chase National bank—the second largest bank in New York City and one of the largest in the world.

Clarkson presents, facially, the "perfect example of the financial leader type." So Betty Morrison expert character analyst, told me. She said:

"His picture shows him to be a combination of the motive and vital types. This means he is endowed with executive, judicial and financial ability. His face has almost a perfect balance, with intellectual development in the head, energy next, and courage and endurance third."

Bankers, millionaires and big business men generally are cast after this order, she explained.

Distinct Commercial Type.

"Artistic and student types are very different," Miss Morrison went on. "Here is the commercial type. It naturally gravitates toward centers where money is controlled."

"Banker Clarkson's wide forehead denotes creative, constructive thinking and inventive ability. It also shows reflective power, excellent memory, and good power of perception."

"The height of his head from the ear to the crown denotes veneration and benevolence, meaning he has high ideals, great sympathy, and that he is faithful, constant and dependable."

The fullness over the eyes and the end of his nose indicate analytical ability. He is a good judge, not only of people, but also of things. He has an intuitional understanding of the other fellow.

"A round, open eye such as his denotes veracity, and the length from the ear to the eye great foresight. The length from his eyes to his mouth indicates his reliance, perseverance, and the overcoming of obstacles. Persistence is suggested by the deep indentation under the lower lip."

Although the face shows great good nature, one cannot presume upon this, Miss Clarkson warned. "If antagonized, he may show a positive and obstinate resistance," she said. "He is open-minded, appreciates constructive criticism, enjoys consultation, but cannot stand much dictation."

"Such a man will not stay tied down to an office desk or become a slave to petty detail. He will not adjust to the ill-fitted groove or suffer in silence. He will get to the top and will make his obstacles the rungs by which he climbs."

A Golden Heritage.

"Such a face denotes potential power. To manipulate millions is his heritage."

Clarkson is a born New Yorker, with ancestors who signed the Declaration of Independence and served in the Revolution. He is not a college graduate. His first job was runner for a brokerage house at $4 a week.

This he resigned to become a bookkeeper. Later he was advanced to the bond department of a brokerage concern, where he seemed to hit his stride. Soon after becoming associated with the firm of Alexandre and Burnett, he was admitted to partnership. When the war broke out he enlisted as a gub and was later sent to Annapolis, where he won a commission as ensign.

After the war, he resigned from the brokerage house and became associated with the Chase

Successful Lawyer, Enters Convent

By NEA Service.

Detroit—Five years ago a young woman graduated from the University of Detroit and started the long and hard road of a woman lawyer.

In the five years since she hung out her shingle, Petronilla M. Joachim has won her way to success in a profession in which few women win out. Her income, through hard work and wise investment, has been secured.

Closes Her Desk.

The other day she closed her desk in her spacious offices in the Detroit Savings bank building, and announced it would be for good. She said goodbye to her friends and associates. She is entering the novitiate of the Order of Dominican nuns at Adrian, Mich.

Miss Joachim, 26, can look back upon an unusual career. She was manager of the University tennis team and its only woman player; she has 11 loving cups won at tennis; two years ago she won a silver cup in a swimming contest at Sandusky, O.; she plays basketball, skates, is proficient at hockey, and an excellent horsewoman.

Petronilla M. Joachim.

She studied aviation and with one more lesson would have become a pilot. A few weeks ago her instructor was killed in a plane crash.

Before leaving for the convent Miss Joachim resigned as captain of the Civil Air Corps of the U. S., as a member of the League of Catholic Women, Junior Ladies of Charity, Ladies' Auxiliary of the Knights of St. John, Daughters of Isabella, president of the University of Detroit Women's League, vice president of the Women's Law association of Detroit, and grand chancellor of the international legal sorority Kappa Beta Pi.

An Old Wish.

Tired of the world? Not at all! Her decision was made when she was 16 years old, she told friends, but financial reasons kept her hand to the plow.

The firm will go on under the old name, "Petronilla M. Joachim, Attorney at Law." Her associates will carry on the practice Miss Joachim has patiently built and part of the office earnings will go to Miss Joachim's mother.

High Taxes Put British Booze 'Biz' In Bad Way

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Correspondent.

London—American wets and American dries alike would get food for thought if they could see the first of a series of full page advertisements the distillers of Scotch whiskey are inserting in British newspapers these days, beseeching the chancellor of the exchequer to reduce the tax on their product.

Before the war the tax on an ordinary bottle of Scotch was about 43 cents. Today it is about $2.12. Whiskey sold in Britain before the war at a dollar a bottle. Today it costs about $3.10.

The result is that many whiskey drinkers have turned to continental wines, which are cheaper, or to beer, which are complaining, because they say the tax on beer has held back the consumption of that beverage.

Plead Farmers' Cause.

Whiskey over here means consumption of the barley crop, and beer means consumption of the barley and hops crops. This is kept cleverly in mind in the advertising onslaught on the chancellor of the exchequer that the distillers have started. They tell him that if he reduces the tax on booze

"It will be a popular thing to do."

"It will be a fair thing to do."

"It will help the farmers."

"It will help employment."

The booze kings say they did their patriotic duty during the war by manufacturing spirit for munitions at minimum cost and by making all the yeast for bread-making for home consumption and for the fighting forces in the field. But when they look around after nine years of "painful waiting" they find:

Their home trade reduced to nearly one-third.

Forty-two distilleries shut down.

Work cannot be found for many old employees.

The suffering farmer has to do without orders for thousands of tons of barley that the distillers cannot buy because the high tax is killing their business.

"But for the fact that we still do a large export trade, the distilling industry would have been killed 'ere now," the distillers say. This may or may not be a reference to the bootlegging industry in America.

A Vain Fight.

The distillers tearfully add that Canada, Australia and South Africa give a preference to their own products over British whiskey.

Taking the distillers' arguments at face value it would seem that high taxation has gone a long way toward accomplishing what the U. S. has sought to do by prohibition laws.

It may be added that the distillers probably are making a vain campaign. The chancellor needs every penny he can pull into the national treasury. To cut down the whiskey and beer taxes probably would mean higher taxation elsewhere. No chancellor is going to try that at the present stage of the game.

Electricity Runs Giant New Ship, Peels the Potatoes and Loads the Freight

BY ISRAEL KLEIN
Science Editor, NEA Service.

Within the hull of the new ocean liner California is an electric power plant that marks a revolution from the throbbing, grimy and noisy engine room of old.

Here two massive turbines, driven by steam from a dozen oil burners, generate electricity to operate everything aboard and drive the ship's two massive propellers. From pilot house to hull everything is electrically operated, and as clean as a household kitchen.

This innovation in shipping is now on duty between New York and San Francisco via the Panama Canal. Its electrical equipment is by Schenectady, N. Y.

The boat is the largest American-built liner and can set the pace for many ocean vessels. Besides, it is said to be the world's largest commercial vessel with electric propulsion.

Cuts Down Time.

With a length of 601 feet, breadth of 80 feet and hull depth of 52 feet, the California has a capacity for 8000 tons of freight and 750 passengers. Her maximum speed is nearly 22 land miles an hour, at which rate she is expected to clip two days from the existing passage of 15 days from New York to San Francisco.

The two massive steam turbines that drive her generators are rated at nearly 7000 shaft horsepower and have a maximum capacity of 5500 horsepower each. The electricity generated by the motors driven by the turbines has a maximum rating of 6500 kilowatts at 4000 volts.

From these generators 20 cables to two motors, each driving a tremendous shaft to its propeller. At the same time, the alternating current generated in the hull is distributed through the ship for baking, cooking, heating and lighting, radio and telephone communication.

Complete Electrification.

The deck winches for handling freight are operated by electricity. Refrigeration is by electricity. Eggs are boiled and steaks fried by electricity.

Electricity, generated by the ship's own motors, mixes dough and bakes bread in the ship's own bakery, slices potatoes, washes dishes, runs the ship's clocks and the printing presses. It furnishes heat and runs the ventilating system.

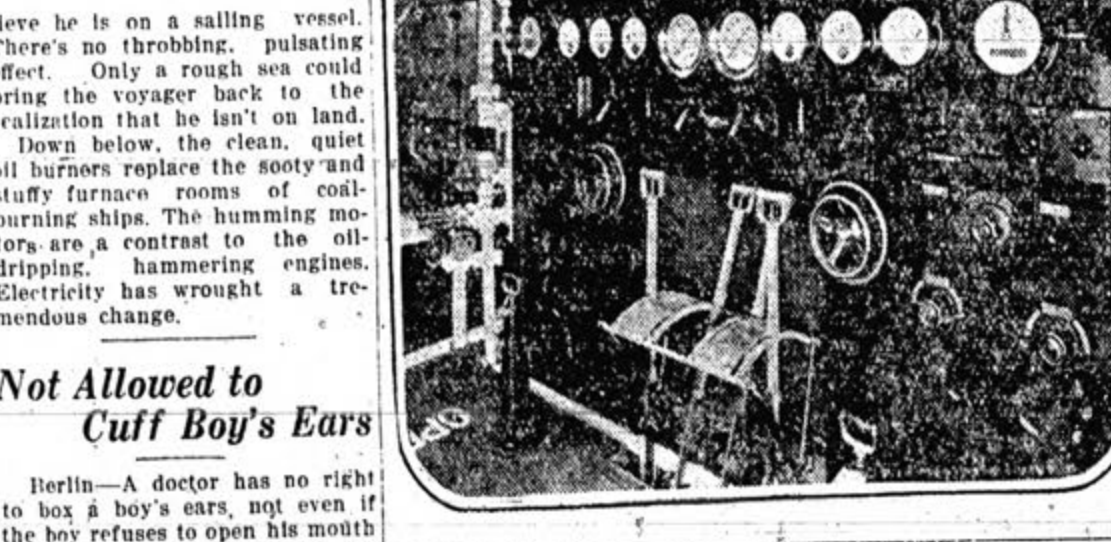

Through the radio direction device known as "metal mike," the bridge telegraph system and other means of control, electricity is used to operate the ship. Loud speaker connections are available throughout for the enjoyment of passengers from the central receiving set in the radio room.

For this purpose the power created by the two turbines is tremendous. Engineers estimate it at 20,000 horsepower, or 15,000 kilowatts. They say this power, if applied to a freight train, would haul 2000 cars weighing 83,000 tons at the rate of 15 miles an hour. It is enough to provide eight times the energy required to operate the Panama Canal.

Yet, seated in the dining room or drawing room of the California, a passenger can scarcely be-

Here he is on a sailing vessel. There's no throbbing, pulsating effect. Only a rough sea could bring the voyager back to the realization that he isn't on land.

Down below, the clean, quiet oil burners replace the sooty and stuffy furnace rooms of coal-burning ships. The humming motors are a contrast to the oil-dripping, hammering engines. Electricity has wrought a tremendous change.

Not Allowed to Cuff Boy's Ears

Berlin—A doctor has no right to box a boy's ears, not even if the boy refuses to open his mouth for the excision of his tonsils, the Reichsgericht of Leipzig decided and returned the case to a lower court.

Both the lay-court and the district court of Göttingen had acquitted the physician of the charge of undue brutality, on the ground that he had merely slapped the boy to frighten him into opening his mouth for the operation.

The district attorney, however, appealed to the German supreme court which, in reversing the previous judgment of the two lower courts, denied the contention that the doctor with the operation had also authorized him to chastise her child, or that the doctor was under the impression that she had done so. It decided that such rigorous treatment was only called for after all other available means had failed.

Shop Where Dunlop Worked Still Busy

Strabane, Ireland (AP)—In a shop in Main Street in this Tyrone County town the printing presses still chatter where Captain John Dunlop, printer of the American Declaration of Independence, learned his trade. The printing firm in 1760 was known as John Gray, Printer. It is now known as E. R. Gray and Sons, but it is still at the same old location. Dunlop was born in Meetinghouse Street here.

ISLAND IS IN WRONG PLACE

Tristan de Cunha Is a Literal "No Man's Land"

Washington (AP)—Tristan de Cunha is a land of no taxes, no government or government, no mosquitoes and no snakes.

But before a rush of prospective settlers begins the National Geographic society warns that they will do well to weigh some other omissions on the island.

It lies almost midway between Cape Town, Africa, and Buenos Aires. It is one of the loneliest inhabited islands in the world.

Tristan de Cunha is a land also of no song birds, no butterflies, no bees, and—when ships fail to come for a year or two—no soap, no tea, no sugar, no candles, no flour and no new clothing. Often the potato hills yield no harvest. Then the 130 islanders verge on starvation.

The island is in the right world, but in the wrong place. Its longitude is perfectly respectable. Any resident of Queenstown, Ireland, living on the same longitude line will report that nine degrees west is a very good longitude indeed. Locating at 37 degrees south was Tristan de Cunha's mistake.

Geographically the island, 21 miles in circumference, is like an unfortunate tight rope artist who balances near the middle of a 3,700 mile wire, unable to reach Buenos Aires at one end or Cape Town at the other.

Discovered in 1506 by Tristao da Cunha, a Portuguese sailor, and vis-

For Mrs. Helen Grissom is Kansas City's official hostess, and when the G. O. P. assemblies here in June for its nominating convention she will be diplomat, guide, governess, friend and advisor to the delegates and the wives who come along.

And for the wives who stay at home, Mrs. Grissom may help pick out the frilly piece of lingerie that will surprise the little woman who never knew John had such good taste.

Mrs. Grissom has been a widow since 1920 when her husband, Herbert Grissom, a Kansas City newspaperman, died. She helped Kansas City women to make American Legion delegates feel at home that year. So successful was she as an amateur that she was asked to take up the work professionally, and became the Chamber of Commerce's official greeter.

She has helped handle 200 conventions a year for five years, and these conclaves have been attended by all the way from 25 to 30,000 people.

Ited intermittently for fresh water by American whalers, the island received no permanent population until Great Britain established a military post there after Napoleon went to St. Helena. A corporal elected to stay behind when the guard was taken off. With a few shipwrecked sailors and five imported wives the colony began. The drowning of 15 men when the island's rowboat was wrecked in 1885 left it reported, one adult man.

HOME TALENT IS A SUCCESS

Clever Comedy Well Presented by Cast of Gladstone Young People

A clever comedy presented by a well trained and exceptionally talented cast placed "Beads on a String," the home talent production presented at the Rialto theater Monday, in the rating of good entertainment.

The play, produced under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Sturgeon, and for the benefit of All Saints' Catholic church, pleased capacity audiences at both matinee and evening performances.

The story concerned the efforts of the Davis family to have their son, Benny, pose as a girl in order to gain the favor of a wealthy relative and, more important, an inheritance, of which financial assistance the family was sadly in need.

Cleve Krout, playing the dual role, gave clever impersonations of both characters. His parents were well portrayed by Alice Fox and Francis Londo.

George Beach as the wealthy relative and Vern Countant as Benny's friend, were both fine. Rose Stock, Benny's fiancée, and Dora Racine, a niece of the wealthy relative and upish heir apparent, were good.

Fine comedy was furnished by Lawrence Van Horn as a detective by way of a correspondence course and Malvina Minnie as the colored maid, whose chief duty seemed to be warding off collectors.

Special numbers between acts were a reading and a song by Mrs. J. A. Sturgeon and Mrs. M. C. Gunter; a song by Lawrence Van Horn; solo dances by Lucille Webb and Louise Smith and a charming dance number by little Wilfred Jackson and Jane Nevaux.

The production, in its entirety, was a success and a credit to those who took part and to its director.

New York, Feb. 20.—(P)—Further liquidation developed in today's stock market, which took ground for the third successive day. Sporadic rallies developed in various sections of the list, but many of them fell flat. A sprinkling of issues closed 2 to 4 points net higher. While selling pressure was particularly severe against some of the specialties, the offerings did not approach in magnitude those which accompanied the decline last week. The day's sales ran just over 2,500,000 shares.

Although it was generally conceded that the selling movement was inspired by conditions within, rather than without, a few outside developments contributed to the prevailing bearish sentiment. These included the publication of the state unemployment survey, the reduction in dividends on Laclede and White Motors and unconfirmed rumors of a further tightening of collateral requirements by banks.

Call money remained in plentiful supply all day at the renewal figure of 4 1/4 per cent with concessions in the rate reported in the outside market. There was no change in time money, commercial paper or acceptance rates.

U. S. Steel common dipped to 13 1/2 and was followed into new low ground for the year by a number of other leading industrial stocks, rallying later to 13 1/4, off 3-4 net. General Motors closed unchanged at 13 1/4 after selling between 13 1/2 and 13 1/4.

A brisk rise in sterling cables on exchange, which sent cables on London exchange market. Most of the continental currencies were quoted a point or two higher.

Commodity markets also pointed higher. Chicago, Feb. 20.—Butter today ruled steady, with buyers showing a little more interest, but trade was only fair.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Livestock: better grade fed steers 15c up; spots more higher. 10 to 15 upturn on fat calves and butcher beefers mostly to shippers.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Bulging prices at Liverpool and reports of famine conditions in Russia, caused decided strength today to the wheat market here. Despite a big increase of the amount of wheat on ocean passage, port purchases of North American wheat today totalled about 1,000,000 bushels.

DEER YARDS TO BE EXTENDED

Wardens Meet State Chiefs in Conference at Marquette

Marquette, Feb. 20.—Good progress in the survey of deer yards in the upper peninsula was reported here Saturday at a conference between P. S. Lovejoy, chief of the game division of the state department of conservation, J. A. Vizona, chief conservation officer in the upper peninsula, district fire wardens and others.

Although there have been many reports to the contrary, it was declared at the conference that the upper peninsula's deer yards are not in serious danger of being put out of existence by logging. The cutting off of a certain amount of big timber, it was asserted, helps the food supply for deer.

Three Types of Yards. It was stated that there are three types of deer yard in the upper peninsula—hardwood, swampy and semi-swampy. In the western part of the peninsula are found hardwood yards. The swampy yards are found in the central counties and semi-swampy yards in the eastern portion.

Hahn Wins Mile Feature Event

Has Little Trouble Outdistancing His Opponents

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)
New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Forty-eight hours after his sensational defeat by Ray Conner at Kansas City, Lloyd Hahn of the Boston A. A., returned to the boards tonight and logged to a hollow victory in the feature mile event of the New York Athletic club indoor carnival, for the fourth time in five years.

Greeted by a chorus of cheers mingled with some jeers, Hahn stepped out and speedily drew away from three rivals. He held the lead from the crack of the gun and won by 25 yards from Sid Robinson of Mississippi A. & M. college, who barely beat out Galen Elliott of the U. of North Carolina in a finishing spurt. James Kennedy of the Newark A. C. was fourth and last.

It was a procession for Hahn, who was clocked in the unimpressive time of 4:21 4-5. Pole Vault Record Threatened.
After equalling the world's indoor record in a trial heat, J. F. Quinn, crack 2100 Cross sprinter, completed his conquest over a stellar field of dash men by capturing the final of the 60-yard event from Karl Wildermuth of Georgetown, the national champion, in one of the features of the carnival.

Al Miller, former Harvard ace, and Folwell Schull of Pennsylvania were third and fourth in the final heat after such cracks as Roland Locke, the famous Nebraskaan, Jackson Scholz and Frank Hussey had been eliminated. Locke, making his eastern debut, was beaten by Schull in his first heat and finished last in his final heat, won by Quinn.

Sabin Carr of Yale narrowly missed in three attempts to shatter his own world's indoor pole vault record of 13 feet 9 3/4 in., after clearing 13 feet, 6 in., to win the event. Carr bumped off the bar three times at 13 feet, 10 in. Twice he soared over the bar, only to knock it off with his arm.

Yale Wins Relay.
The 60-yard high hurdles were won by W. O. Baskin, former Alabama star and national collegiate A. A. champion, after Monty Wells of Dartmouth, the eastern titleholder, was forced out by a fall in the first heat. Baskin outstepped two rivals from New England, Collier of Brown and McDonald of Holy Cross, in the final heat in 7 4-5 seconds.

A great final quarter-mile by Ed Hector, Georgetown's sophomore star, failed by a yard to give his team a triumph over Holy Cross in a sensational one mile match relay.

Princeton scored a hollow victory over Yale in a two-mile match relay. Winning by a half lap after Partridge, second Ell runner, apparently in distress, had lost valuable ground.

Colgate took the measure of Yale by a close margin in a three cornered mile relay in which Maryland's chances were blasted by a fall.

Phil Edwards Beats New York Runner in Half Mile Classic

New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—In a nip and tuck finish marred by too energetic use of elbows, Phil Edwards, dusky middle distance star of New York university, defeated Eddie Swineburne of the New York A. C. by half a yard in the Bretney half-mile race, east feature of the New York A. C. indoor track and field carnival tonight.

The world's indoor record for the 60-yard dash was equalled by J. F. Quinn of Holy Cross when he sped to victory over Frank Hussey, Metropolitan champion, in 6 1-5 seconds in the first heat of the special sprint competition. The record was set by Loren Murchison five years ago.

Roland Locke, the famous Nebraskaan, making his eastern debut, was beaten by Folwell Schull of Pennsylvania in the second heat. Schull won by a yard in 6 2-5 seconds.

Turning in one of the fastest 100 miles of the indoor season, Leo Lermond, sturdy young Boston A. A. star, captured a handicap race at this distance decisively after conceding advantages ranging from 25 to 150 yards to a field of forty runners.

Lermond was clocked in 9 minutes, 24 seconds.

The third heat of the 60-yard dash witnessed another upset when James Daley of Holy Cross nipped Karl Wildermuth, Georgetown A. C., by inches in a sensational dual down the "alley." The fourth saw two veterans trail when Al Miller, husky Boston A. A. sprinter, defeated Jackson Scholz of the New York A. C. and Hank Russell of the Penn A. C., former Cornell ace, and intercollegiate champion. Both of the heats were clocked in 6 2-5 seconds.

Begging Pardon of Blackhawks; They're Champs

WE BEG THE Blackhawks' pardon. After they had won the city Junior hockey championship Saturday afternoon with a fine rally, in an over-time period, the Press reporter gave the credit to their opponents, the Golden Eagles.

So, by way of reparation, keeping history straight and giving credit where credit is due: The Blackhawks defeated the Golden Eagles 6 to 5 in Saturday's Junior hockey match, and the Blackhawks are league champions for the year.

Hooks and Slides

BIG GATES GO ALSO
It has been pointed out freely and frequently in this column that when Jack Dempsey passed there would go with him the days of million-dollar boxing.

Dempsey, as the champion, drew a million-dollar gate the first time he defended his championship, and his dynamic personality drew almost $3,000,000 when he made his comeback fight against Gene Tunney in Chicago last year.

Rickard has to have one opponent for Tunney this summer, and perhaps two, for the champion wants to make of himself a championship fighter and defend his championship two times or more.

But the New York promoter must find fighters to fight Tunney, and he always had Dempsey at his beck and call until Dempsey, for the reason of his eyes or the forbiddance of Estelle, said he would fight no more.

There is left, of course, the elimination tournament. The first number is between Jack Delaney and Tom Heenev.

THE CURRENT HEAVIES
Delaney isn't so big and Heenev is rather big. Delaney is just out of a couple of good fights. He knocked out Sully Montgomery with one punch, and that former Centre College football giant hasn't dropped before many single punches in the past.

Heenev, on the other hand, went through a terrible thing with the bad Sharkey man from Boston. A set of those trick New York judges called it a draw, but a lot of the boys thought it was a nod for Heenev.

If Delaney should drop one of those one-punch things in on Heenev, Rickard wouldn't have to cry about the remorse of Dempsey or his renewed disposition to save the contour of his map. But Heenev has a well protected jaw.

The second number, scheduled March 12, is between the bad Sharkey man and the rotund Johnny Risko, of Cleveland.

With Dempsey out of it, Rickard probably would most like to see Sharkey knock off the winner of the Delaney-Heenev fight and least prefer to see Risko the survivor of the eliminations, but that is just what young Mr. Risko, a well-known dough-and-ple man from Ohio, may turn out to be.

TEST FOR TUNNEY

In that event, however, Rickard may not have to put up the dough that he would have to do to those other big shots, but the column understands that Danny Dunn, who handles the fighting end of the bakery, has been wised up about the kind of dough that is used around outside Tex Rickard's Garden.

With the departure of Dempsey, Tunney will get a chance to test his theory that he, and not Dempsey, was the big drawing card and that the magnetism of Dempsey was always mostly over-rated.

Of course the next contest will not be a fair comparison, because whether Tunney likes Dempsey or not, he will have to admit that he would have pulled in more at the gate than any of the other bunch—and the gate means something to Tunney.

Trojans Flunk Athletes.
Those critics who have charged the University of Southern California faculty with being too sympathetic for the dumbness of some of its athletic young men may be surprised to hear of some of the latest occurrences at the Trojan school.

So changed are things at Southern California from what these critics would have you believe that two young men, whose athletic skill far eclipsed their scholastic inclinations, have been taken off the athletic list.

You may never have heard of Frank Labes, but just two years ago he was at a prep school in New York city and was being hailed as one of the best young throwers of weights in the track business.

Even last year, after he had matriculated at the Los Angeles school, he was lauded highly for his ability to heave weights far and wide. Dean Cromwell, in watching him do his stuff, must have visioned many points for his Trojan team in the next three years from his weight tossing.

Only a few days ago, however, the young weight-thrower was ushered out of the Trojan school because he had somehow allowed

PRESS QUINTET BEATS DAGGETT

Typeslingers Score 23 to 12 Victory in Sunday's Game

The Daily Press basketballers continued their winning streak Sunday afternoon by scoring a 23 to 12 victory over the Daggett quintet at the Menominee county town.

Schou, Press center, was the outstanding performer in the contest, garnering eight field goals and one free throw in a sensational fashion. The score at the half was 13 to 2 in favor of the Escanaba cagers.

Second Drury Falls
Another young man named Don Moses, who became a Trojan hero during the past football season, also learned a few days ago that he had not been as good a scholar as he might have been.

In fact, young Moses barely escaped the fate of young Mr. Labes—he was declared only ineligible for next year's football team.

Now, that was sort of a shock to Howard Jones, who remembers only too well how young Moses flashed as a fullback against the Washington Huskies this past fall. Young Moses even impressed his usually reticent coach into announcing through the public prints that he expected Moses to become as great a football player as Morley Drury.

That, you know, would have been some football player, as Morley Drury happened to be one of the four best backs in the country this past year and graced practically every All-America selection of importance.

But times have changed, if we believe that times were ever different than what critics of the Trojan school say they were, and the young Trojan athletes are finding out that classroom work can interfere with their athletic careers.

Stopping the Critics
All of this is due, so one hears, to the efforts of Howard Jones since his arrival three years ago to impress other Pacific coast teams that the Trojans were not the "bad boys" most people thought.

Just a very few years ago, Stanford and California had both threatened to prevent its young men from engaging in athletic conflict with the young men from Los Angeles if the scholarship requirements of the Trojans were not tightened.

Of course, both teams now play the Trojans and if anything is to be assumed from that it is that the Trojan faculty now flunk those who should flunk, and pass only those who should pass.

The Trojans have had some very worthy athletic teams in all sports during the past three years, and one must credit Howard Jones, Dean Cromwell and other coaches there with this success.

1 Minute Interviews

VIC HANSON SAYS:
I played football, basketball and baseball at Syracuse university and since leaving college I have engaged in professional basketball. I am going south in the spring to see how much I can learn from Tony Lazzari, the Yankee second baseman.

Frankly, of all the sports in which I have engaged in, I like baseball the best, and perhaps it will turn out to be the one in which I am least proficient. I can play professional basketball, and as sure I could play professional football, but I am not vain enough even to dare think that I will have a chance with the New York Yankees as long as Tony Lazzari is able to play.

I want to devote some of my remaining younger years to athletics, as I think it is really an important profession as well as an interesting one. There are so many young boys who can be made into perfect specimens of manhood if they are taught that gentlemen always do not have to win and are taught the proper technical way of playing the game.

Elephants have been known to live 100 years.

Lockhart Drives Tiny Racing Car at Speed of 200 Miles Per Hour

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Frank Lockhart, noted Indianapolis race car driver, late today sent his tiny Stutz Blackhawk special roaring over the sands of Daytona Beach at an officially timed speed of 200.22246 miles an hour, against the wind, in an assault on the world's speed record.

Carburetor trouble earlier in the afternoon had interrupted his preliminary run on the beach, and his official drive took place so late that the rapidly rising tide prevented his return with the wind, for a combined average, as required in the American Automobile association test. His better than 200 miles an hour showing today will have no bearing on any future attempt, as the run in both directions must be accomplished within 30 minutes of each other.

Auburn Sets Stock Record.
J. M. White of Philadelphia, also in quest of the laurels which went to Capt. Malcolm Campbell of England with his world's record run of 206.956 miles an hour Sunday, declared tonight that his big triple-racer had attained a speed of more than 252 miles an hour just before it entered the mile stretch in a test run today which was interrupted by a minor accident.

Wade Morton of Indianapolis, established a new world's record for stock cars when he drove his Auburn special over the mile course of 104.347 miles an hour. His average elapsed time for the mile was 34.5 seconds and his fastest was 108.466 miles an hour.

Gl Anderson, Indianapolis, in a Stutz, was second with an average speed of 103.458 miles an hour; Tom Rooney, Chicago, driving a Stutz, was third with 101.024 miles an hour; G. M. Spindler, Indianapolis, driving a Stutz, was fourth, with 98.306 miles an hour, and John M. Rutherford, New York, driving a Stutz, was fifth with 96.295 miles an hour. All five races were staged over a mile straight-away course against time.

Decay Threatens Ex-kaiser's Home

Berlin—The threatening decay of the "Neues Palais" near Potsdam, the ex-kaiser's last residence in Germany, was established by governmental building experts on their annual report of inspection. Fungus growths were found under the flooring which, the experts believe, resulted from the spreading dampness ensuing during the post war cessation of the steam heating.

CORRECTION.
Robert Peterson won second place in the second dog race at the Junior winter sport carnival Saturday. Jim Murdoch was given credit for placing second. In the summary printed in the Press Sunday.

The total United States coast line is 11,930 miles.

PURDUE BEATS MICHIGAN FIVE

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Purdue university's basketball quintet set a new high scoring record for the Big Ten this season here tonight when a 55-33 count was run up on the University of Michigan five. The Bolliermakers were off to an early lead and soon piled up a long lead on the Wolverines.

Michigan was baffled by the speed of the Purdue attack. The Bolliermakers swept under the basket for numerous easy under-the-basket shots. The score at half time was 31-14.

Eligibility of Player Contested

Detroit, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The controversy between ten of Detroit's leading handball players and the members of the physical board of the local Y. M. C. A. regarding the eligibility of Joe Bathey, former city singles champion, for competition in the national tournament here Wednesday, continued unabated today.

Members of the "Y" board considering whether they had violated a principle that any club has a right to decide the members of their teams today decided they would stand by their decision. Handball players who protested the decision of the board declared they felt Bathey had been discriminated against because he recently served a sentence for violation of the prohibition law. Should the ten players stand firm in their threat to withdraw from the tournament unless Bathey is reinstated, but two players would be left to represent the local Y. M. C. A.

P. J. Lee, athletic director of the "Y," said that regardless of the outcome of the controversy, the tournament will proceed and new drawings be made.

O'Goofy suggests Fitz and John L. for a third match. O'Goofy was asked those two are dead and he asked, "Well, what about the others?"

Billy Evans received a letter from an applicant to join the Indians who has "a left-handed delivery that he throws right-handed." Maybe the lad should have written to Nick Altrock.

TO PAY ENTRY FEES TONIGHT

Teams entering the Daily Press tournament must pay their entry fee of two dollars by this evening in order to insure their entry in the tournament. Fees have been coming in slowly, but it is hoped that all teams will respond by this evening. Payment can be made in Roland St. Mitchell, at the editorial rooms.

Teams yesterday received their allotment of tickets to be disposed of. More tickets can be secured from Clifford Beadlin.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

Jack Kearns says Tex would not tell him when and where Dempsey was to be paid so he could attach part of the gravy, so now he's out after Rickard's scalp. If he can find out where it begins, let him have it, says O'Goofy.

Kearns, in revenge, plans to promote a few bouts in New York himself and likes Mickey Walker-Benny Leonard as a possible starter. That would be a splendid starter—and we suggest Jim Corbett and Jim Jeffries for a second go.

Funeral Train Passes Through Escanaba Monday Morning

The special train bearing the remains of the late Chief Justice Richard C. Flannigan passed through Escanaba yesterday morning at 12:30 enroute to Marquette, where the body was placed in the Flannigan mausoleum in Holy Cross cemetery.

The train consisted of a baggage car, two coaches, the superintendent's private car. Aboard the train were members of Justice Flannigan's family, intimate friends, state officials and a large number of attorneys representing the bar associations of the twenty-fifth judicial circuit over which Justice Flannigan presided for 17 years prior to his elevation to the state supreme bench.

A committee representing the Delta county bar attended the funeral at Norway, Monday morning. The body arrived in Norway Saturday and was taken immediately to the home. In the funeral party were Mrs. R. C. Flannigan, Miss Agatha Flannigan, a sister; Clement Flannigan, the only son; Miss Mary Cleary, intimate friend of the family and Justice Flannigan's nurse during the illness which preceded his death in Mercy hospital, Chicago; Bishop Joseph G. Pinton of Grand Rapids who administered the last rites of the church to the dying jurist; Justice Grant Fellows of the Michigan supreme court, and other intimate friends.

The body was taken to the family home where it remained until Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Mary's church, Norway, Rev. Fr. Erasmus Dooley, the pastor, officiating. The body was then taken to the special train and removed to Marquette for burial.

Disposal Plant Breakdown Not of Serious Nature

The breakdown, which occurred at the sewage disposal plant Saturday, will have no serious consequences and the handling of the sewage is continuing as usual, City Manager T. F. Kessler announced yesterday.

Rumors circulating about the city yesterday gave the erroneous impression that the city was threatened with a serious tie-up of the plant's operations. Mr. Kessler explained that the trouble was centered in the blower, which is used for aeration of sewage. The repairs will be completed within a few days.

Paul Hansen, member of the firm of Pearce, Greeley and Hansen, consulting engineers of Chicago, was in Escanaba yesterday, making a preliminary investigation of conditions at the city's disposal plant. The firm of sewage disposal experts was engaged by the city recently to make a survey here to determine whether the efficiency of the local plant can be increased.

The normal rate of speed of the blood as it passes through the body is seven miles an hour.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.—Adv.

BABIES THRIVE BEST ON STRICT DAILY SCHEDULE

Any one who compares the life and character of a baby with fixed habits with those of a child that has been allowed to develop in a somewhat haphazard manner will realize at once the importance of a definite routine.

Babies grow accustomed to having their physiologic reactions at exact times, and will act almost like an alarm clock in notifying their attendants that the time has arrived for some definite procedure. The baby that is fed irregularly will be yelling most of the time for food.

One routine approved by many specialists in diseases of children includes feeding at 6 in the morning, orange juice at 8:30 a. m., at 9 a. m. placed on the chair for bowel regulation, at 9:15 a. m. a bath, and at 10 a. m. feeding and cod liver oil.

From 10:30 a. m. to 1:45 p. m. out of doors in the carriage, presumably asleep. If the child is normal, it will not cry during this period.

At 2 p. m. a feeding, and from 2:30 p. m. to sun down out of doors again in the carriage.

At 5:30 p. m. the child is undressed, sponged and made ready for bed. At 6 p. m. it is again fed and given cod liver oil, and at 6:15 put to bed. If the child is still having a night nursing, it is fed at the time the mother goes to bed.

After the first six months, if the child is well developed, the night feeding may be omitted, and it probably will sleep through from 6 to 6.

After a baby is one year old, it will begin to take solid food in greater amounts. It receives at 8 a. m. its first meal, which takes the place of the 6 o'clock feeding and the 10 o'clock feeding. Then it is placed on its chair, after which it is given a sponge bath and dressed.

Scriptor Sues Six Hundred Deputies

Paris—A disillusioned sculptor is suing the whole Chamber of Deputies. Georges Bareaud, chosen to chisel a statue to deputies killed in the war, wants $2,000 because he really never got the job.

There is no denial that Bareaud's design was given first place in the public competition and that the chamber promised to give him the contract. Nevertheless, another sculptor who didn't even enter the competition, designed and executed the monument.

Bareaud's suit, lawyers say, has no standing in court for the Chamber with its 600 members can't, or at least never has been sued. Nevertheless Bareaud is getting himself on record better than he hoped for all the newspaper humorists speculate on what would happen if politicians were to be held civilly, criminally or even morally responsible for all their broken promises to the people.

The New York city police department has nearly 700,000 fingerprints on file.

A recent estimate credits Great Britain with 6,000,000 cyclists.

BIG WELCOME FOR WINNINGER

Capacity Crowds Greet Favorite Comedian at Delft Theatre

Frank Winninger, as agile and as funny as ever—"and maybe a couple years younger already"—is back in Escanaba. Three packed houses saw him and his capable company at the Delft Sunday and Monday, and if the advance sale is an indication, another capacity crowd will see him in "Give and Take" tonight.

"Gertie," a modern story of a girl who wanted a fur coat and a rich husband, was the Sunday matinee and night offering. While it lacked a "fat" part for Frank Winninger, it gave his associate, a splendid opportunity to distribute generous samples of their wares.

"The New Stenographer," a de-lighted last night's crowd. It gave the comedian one of the German dialect roles so admirably suited to his droll foolery, and he made the most of the opportunity.

Capable Company.

Supporting Mr. Winninger this season are Lizzie Forester, an unusually capable character actress; Tom Sargent, a handsome and thoroughly likable leading man; the comedian's versatile brother, Adolph; William Jay Brown, associated with Frank for many years; the Misses Verona Sampson and Jessilyn Daltell, also well-known through previous engagements here; Vivian Laine, Paul Catrel, Mae Parks, Fredrick Rudin and others.

Miss Laine and Mr. Catrel also are presenting a most novel musical dance act in which Mr. Catrel plays a variety of musical instruments and Miss Laine dances mightily well. Catrel's playing of two reed instruments at one time was a big hit. Mr. Winninger's curtain fall last night closed with his familiar song, "When I was a boy at school," tonight's offering, Frank and Adolph have dialect parts originally played by George Sidney and Louis Mann.

BY LEONARD HALL For NEA Service

New York—If you were to draw a bead on the whole world of the theater with a double-action spy-glass, you probably would find that the arch type of pluck and luck, bound-to-rise, Horatio Alger hero of the stage is none other than Mr. Joe Cook.

Mr. Cook rattled around the land for years billed as "The One Man Vaudeville Show," and the whole country learned to love him for his astonishing nut comedy. Now Mr. Cook is on Broadway as the star of New York's latest musical comedy panic, "Rain or Shine," and has turned out to be a one-man everything else.

What makes Joe such a great and imaginative buffoon is the fact that he resembles nothing so much as the smartest boy in the block—the ornariest kid in the class—the terror of the neighborhood.

Although he is no youngster, he looks like one. His eyes are big and inquisitive and his mouth is wide and full of large white teeth. He is the steaming sort of lad whom the neighbors would say would either be hanged or become a millionaire—probably the former.

As a lad Joe might have invented seven or eight ways to hit teacher behind the ear with a hunk of chalk, and it is this boy-offering, Frank and Adolph have dialect parts originally played by George Sidney and Louis Mann.

ish trickery that has made him a star in the theater.

"Rain or Shine" has a one-unged circus for its background, with Joe as manager, heel speller and sherriff-dodger. His performance strike because there is a little more of a mouth's back pay due, but Mr. Cook, nothing daunted, put on the whole circus himself, with the help of two or three loyal bandmen.

Balanced on a slack wire, Joe neatly snuffs eight lighted candles with a 22-calibre rifle. He walks up an incline and across a see-saw on a huge ball. He juggles Indian clubs. And then he proceeds to hand the hard-boiled mob of Times Square the biggest howl in seasons. Anele first-nighters still are in bed recovering from the effects of it.

Mr. Cook announces that the band will render a march just to live up the evening. A huge Rube Goldberg trick ferris wheel is hauled to the stage. Each of its four seats is inhabited by a funny looking gentleman carrying a fiddle.

The comic stations himself at the right of the stage. After sounding off a few notes on the cornet, he pushes a whirling buzz-saw against the stern of a serious
