COUNCIL WILL MEET TONIGHT

City Fathers to Hold Session for Transaction of Much Important Business.

Much important routine business will be transacted by the members of the Escanaba city council tonight. For three weeks a meeting of the aldermen of the city has not been held and since the last meeting a great amount of business has accumulated. Although two months of the term of office of the new administration has already passed no action has been taken on the question of raising for the city of Escanaba pure water supply. Action was taken by the old city council early in this year against the paying of any further bills presented by the Escanaba Water Company, and on July 1 the semi annual hydrant rental bill will again be presented. The action of the new council at that time will be watched with much interest.

Mayor Perron was elected to office on a platform favoring unconditionally the institution of a movement for obtaining an artesian water supply for the city. Since the close of the campaign the water question has not been mentioned in the council room and whether the action which has marked the administration up to this time is to continue, is not known.

Many people of the city have wondered at the inaction of the city officials on the water question but have been lenient in their criticism in the belief that the new officers were becoming used to their new duties before taking up of important city legislation. Two months have been given to the new officials to carefully investigate the situation and the action that will now be taken will be watched with much interest by the people throughout the city.

DREDGING WORK TO BE STARTED

Starke Brothers' Dredge Arrives in Escanaba to Begin Work for New Coal Dock.

Dredging work for the new St. Paul coal dock, which will be constructed at this port during the coming winter, will be started within a few days. The tug Williams of Milwaukee arrived in port on Sunday evening with one of Starke Brothers' Deck & Dredging company's large dredges and as soon as the necessary arrangements are made the dredge will be placed in operation.

Only the dredging work for the new dock will be completed this summer and definite plans for its construction have not yet been completed.

It is known however that the new dock will be erected in the space between the No. 1 and No. 2 St. Paul docks and will probably be completed before the opening of navigation next spring.

By the construction of a new coal dock at this port the facilities for handling the greatly increased business of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad company out of this port will be offered.

When the company's new one dock at this port is completed early in next month nearly $1,000,000 will have been spent by the St. Paul company for improvements in nine months and the announcement that a further outlay of funds has been provided for by the construction of a second coal dock here shows well the unbounded faith in Escanaba's future held by the officials of the company.

DEMOCRATS MADE CLAIMS

Menominee Republicans are inclined to take exceptions to the statement made by the Democrats to the Menominee County Clerk as to the number of delegates allowed to that party in the gubernatorial convention.

In the statement the Democrats claim that they figured on one delegate for every hundred Democrats in the county and with the forty-two delegates claimed, it would indicate that the party had 4200 adherents in that county. At the last county election held in Menominee county, the very highest number of votes cast for any candidates for one office was 4888. Allowing the Democrats 4000 of these votes it would leave the Republicans only 188 votes.

In the vote for president a year ago last fall Theodore Roosevelt received 2720 votes while Parker received a bare total of 92 votes. This does not look very much like 4200 Democratic votes and Republicans of the county are treating the affair in the light of a joke. The facts of the case are that the Republicans, counting one delegate to every hundred votes, would be allowed about twenty-four delegates and subtracting this 2400 from the 4888 votes in the county, the Democrats would be entitled to a much smaller number.

MYERS EPHRAIM PASSED AWAY

One of Escanaba's Pioneer Merchants Died Early This Morning at his Home Here.

Myers Ephraim, one of Escanaba's pioneer merchants and for many years one of the most influential citizens of Escanaba, died early this morning at his home, at 635 Ogden avenue. The death of Mr. Ephraim this morning marks the passing of one of the men who settled in Escanaba when it was but a small hamlet and aided in its development into one of the most prosperous cities of the upper peninsula of Michigan.

While Mr. Ephraim's condition had been critical for several weeks and it was known that the end was near, the announcement of his death this morning came as a great shock to many people of Escanaba.

For nearly a year Mr. Ephraim had been suffering from cancer of the mouth and his condition had been gradually growing more serious. Three months ago he became confined to his bed and at 5:45 o'clock this morning he passed away.

Mr. Ephraim was born in Russian Poland, 77 years ago, at an early age he left his native country and moved to London, Eng., where he lived for several years before coming to America. On arriving in the United States Mr. Ephraim spent some time in the city of New York and later moved to Norwich, Conn. He remained in that city for a few years when he moved to Texas and engaged in business in that state. In 1852 he returned to Norwich and in that year was married to Mrs. Ephraim. After the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim moved to New Lisbon, Wis., where they remained until 1871 when they moved to Escanaba. From that date Mr. Ephraim had made his home continuously in Escanaba.

On arriving in Escanaba in 1871 Mr. Ephraim opened a dry goods, clothing and general store in this city and had continuously been in business here from that time up to the time of his death. For the last year he had not been able to take an active part in the management of his business in the firm of Ephraim & Morrill but he continued to hold his interest in the firm.

Mr. Ephraim is survived by his wife, four daughters and one son. The surviving children of Mr. Ephraim are: Leon Ephraim of Fond du Lac, Mrs. Myrian Elison of Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Adah Morrill of Escanaba, Mrs. Sarah Merriam of New Haven, Conn., and Miss Eva Ephraim of Escanaba.

Throughout the time that Mr. Ephraim had lived in Escanaba he had been interested in the progress of the city. He was a member of the board of trustees of the village of Escanaba and at the time of the incorporation of Escanaba into a city he was a member of the first council and served as an alderman for several years.

He was also a member of Escanaba's first volunteer fire department. Politically Mr. Ephraim was a Democrat and in his days of activity was one of the principal leaders of that party in Delta county.

In his death Escanaba has lost one of its pioneer merchants and a conscientious and honorable citizen. Mr. Ephraim was a member of Delta Chapter Royal Arch—Masons and was one of the oldest members of the Masonic lodge in the state of Michigan.

The funeral service which will be held at the home at 2:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon will be conducted by the Masonic lodge of Escanaba and the body will be laid to rest at Lakeview cemetery with Masonic honors.

WEDDING HAS A TRAGIC END

Jackson, Mich., June 5.—Special.—At a wedding last night over a saloon on Page avenue Joseph Galas a factory laborer became crazed with drink and hurled a chair at a woman who was holding an infant. He then kicked a little girl and ran down stairs. Bennie Osmolowski aged 7, ran down stairs and pointed Galas out as the man who had kicked the girl. Galas kicked him and then lifted him above his head and hurled him to the side walk. The boy will die. Galas is under arrest.

SIAMESE TWINS ARE NEGLIGENT

Herald Leader of Menominee and "Soo" Evening News Apparently Abandon Cause of William Alden Smith.

A peninsula exchange says: "The Detroit News stated early in the week that the proverbial unanimity of the upper peninsula press is about to be broken and cites the fact that the 'Soo' News and the Menominee Herald Leader are whooping it up for Wm. Alden Smith while the rest of the papers are content to let matters drag along until it becomes apparent which path is for the best interest of the peninsula and then travel therein. The News is mistaken. The upper peninsula press is as united as ever. The Herald Leader and, 'Soo' News are edited by lower peninsula or Wisconsin products whose aim, it seems to be, is to make the peninsula the tail of the lower peninsula kite. They can't be counted as 'upper peninsula.'" The upper peninsula boys are just where they always have been; working for the peninsula Count noses and see."

While the Detroit News may have been justified ten days ago in announcing that the 'Soo' News and the Menominee Herald Leader are whooping it up for William Alden Smith, politicians of the district who are watching the trend of affairs have noticed with some interest that the Herald Leader at least, has apparently abandoned its campaign for Mr. Smith. After devoting its entire front page two weeks ago to the cause of William Alden and following with alleged "heavy" editorials for a few days, the cause of William Alden has either been forgotten or is being grossly neglected by the Herald Leader.

The cause for the sudden relaxation of interest by the Menominee editor in the senatorial situation has not been explained but it is believed by some that Editor Andrews has at last become cognizant of the fact that there are several candidates in the field to succeed Senator Alger and that William Alden Smith, by reason of his action on the free alcohol bill before congress is by no means the most popular, with upper peninsula Republicans.

William Alden Smith by his action on the free alcohol bill, which was recently passed by congress, aided in dealing a swift blow to one of the peninsula's greatest industries and his action on that question has not been explained.

The Republicans of the peninsula are waiting for his explanation.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE INSPECTED

The Stephenson Journal in commenting on improvements, recently made by the North Western road to its depot at that station says:

"The directors and other big moguls of the Northwestern railway system arrived by special train Thursday morning, and stopped over here long enough to examine the improvements made to the depot. The Journal stated last week that 47 new shingles had been put on the roof, and as the company had made appropriations for but 42, the officials came to inquire into the matter. Some of them thought that the carpenter had misappropriated five shingles to his own use, in case of which he would have been summarily disposed of. By repeated counting they found that the number of shingles put on was 47, and the carpenter was saved the disgrace of discharge. After the inspection was over, the railway officials again boarded the train, their actions denoting that they were proud of the work and had done their share towards making Stephenson a town of magnificent structures, the railway company's building included."

NEW RECORDS FOR THE LAKES

New records for lake tonnage during the first four months of 1906 have been established on the Great Lakes. For the month of April shipments from all points amounted to 4,765,905 tons. In comparison with the same period of the previous year the net increase in tonnage aggregates 1,891,626 tons. The unusually heavy westbound movement of coal was in a large measure due to the prospective coal strike, large quantities of the fuel being stored at eastern ports prior to the opening of the lake navigation season.

The gain in commerce on the Great Lakes is further illustrated by a comparison of traffic movements through the Soo. April this year shows a record of 2,518,267 against 1,809,166 for the same month last year. The amount of freight passing through the Canadian canal was 213,714 tons for the month of April, which is included in the grand total. If business continues at the present rate and no strikes occur along any of the ports, this will be another record breaking year.

PLAN GREAT CELEBRATION

Mayor Perron Appoints Committee to Take Charge of Fourth of July Demonstration.

Through steps that were taken today by Mayor M. Perron, a rousing Fourth of July celebration for Escanaba is assured.

A special committee to take complete charge of the arrangements of a proper observance of the nation's natal day was named by Mayor Perron this afternoon and from this time all efforts will be directed in making July 4 of this year a red letter day in the history of Escanaba.

The members of the special committee named by the mayor today are: Joseph Wickert, John J. Cleary, E. C. Voght, H. P. Lucas, A. G. Crose, John O'Meara, Herman Salinsky, John A. Allo and E. E. Wood.

The members of the committee named by the mayor will have full power to appoint all sub-committees that are found necessary and for the carrying out all details upon which the success of the undertaking is dependent.

The first meeting of the committee will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Elks' clubrooms when it is the special desire of the mayor that all members of the body named by him shall be present.

At that meeting plans will be discussed and a regular organization formed to carry forward all of the different features decided upon. It is hoped by those interested in the movement to make the Fourth of July celebration in Escanaba this year a greater success than any similar event ever arranged in the city as the demonstration will have a double meaning.

Not only will the celebration be arranged in honor of the nation's birthday but will also commemorate the completion of the new asphalt pavement on Ludington street.

No demonstration has yet been arranged to commemorate the first completion of one of the greatest improvement movements that have ever been inaugurated in the city of Escanaba and it is thought that it would be fitting at this time to arrange such a celebration in conjunction with the regular July 4 demonstration.

A grand street parade, with athletic contests, and an elaborate fireworks display in the evening, will be the principal features of the day in Escanaba and the work of preparing the full program will be undertaken as soon as the committee has been permanently organized.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE "TOUR"

Expected That 600 People will Take part in Unique Event of Friday Evening.

No event that has been arranged in Escanaba in many years has attracted a greater interest than the "Tour Around the World" to be given by the members of the Mission Circle of the First Presbyterian church on Friday evening.

The first issue of tickets for the unique event was exhausted yesterday and according to present indications over 500 people will become "tourists" on Friday evening and will visit five foreign countries.

All arrangements for the tour have now been made and when Friday evening arrives the different homes, which will represent the foreign countries, will be gay with special decorations showing the effort that is made to make the tour as realistic as possible.

After starting from the central station, at 617 Ludington street, the tourists will be carried to the different homes and when the tour is completed will be delivered at the First Presbyterian church, where they will be greeted by a reception committee. Late in the evening a musical and literary program, will be given at the church, which will be the final chapter of the evening's arrangements.

It is planned to make No. 1 a duplicate of No. 2, which is known as the largest in the world.

MINISTER HAD FREAK CHICKEN

Stephenson Parson Finds Chick in Brood With Four Legs and as Many Wings.

The Rev. E. D. White of the M. E. church of Stephenson has a freak chicken the body of which was hatched last week.

The chicken had four wings four legs, two tails, but only one head and it appeared as if there was no breastbone. Mr. White had set a hen on a setting of eggs, and a brood of chickens had been hatched out the previous day. One egg was left in the nest and breaking the shell it disclosed the chicken which then appeared to be normal and had life. The next day the chicken had been hatched, but was dead, the old hen evidently having become disgusted with the shape of the youngster she had been at so much trouble and spent so many solitary hours to bring out into the world.

On examining the freak a person would naturally come to the conclusion that the old hen knew her business when she put an end to her offspring. With four legs, two of them with toes turned one way and the other two the other, what kind of a progress would such a creature make? If it started to walk it would run into itself or "bust" something in getting away. If it attempted to scold the old bird would be such a cloud of dust that would drive the poor simple head crazy, and, if it should attempt to fly, there would be such a perpetual inconsistency among the four wings that the passage through the air would be as much of a failure as some of the attempts of the air ships.

It would be particularly hard on the poor chicken this backward spring to make a living for itself. It is rather hard for an ordinary shaped chicken to make a living these days, so what could a poor thing do that is endowed with two bodies to feed and only one head to pick up the food? Old Biddy must have taken all this into consideration when she heled her offspring for the first time, and concluded that to kill the freak was about the proper thing, to do, in order to save the dignity of the house of Wyandotte.

NEW SPECIALTY BILL PLEASED

First Night Audience at Ben's Theater Grew Enthusiastic Over the Bill.

That the specialty bill arranged by Manager Salinsky for the patrons of Ben's theater is all that had been claimed for it was shown by the enthusiastic audience which filled that amusement place last night.

All of the numbers are up to the standard and each was greeted with roars of applause at the initial performances.

Robert's dogs, offer one of the most unique attractions of the week at the vaudeville theater. The dogs are well trained and carry out many amusing stunts which show well the effect that has been expended in their training.

Grace Coyne, who appears in a singing number was given an enthusiastic reception by the first night's audience. She has a clear, sweet voice and promises to remain as one of the favorites of the bill throughout the engagement.

James T. Derrin, ventriloquist and mimic, has a clever specialty which caught the fancy of the audience and when the number was ended the applause that was given showed well the hit that he had scored.

West and Fowler, who appear in a German comedy sketch, introduce several amusing features which pleased their audience and paved the way for enthusiastic receptions at each performance of the week.

As usual the moving picture and illustrated song features add to the strength of the bill.

ANTI-SPIITING LAW PROPOSED

The state board of health contemplates asking the next legislature for the enactment of a law making it a misdemeanor to spit in a passenger train, except in the proper receptacles, or in any public place. The latter part of the bill would be effective in cities which have no local laws on the subject. The state board will doubtless find the railroad companies in accord with the proposition. An extension of the anti-spitting movement is commendable from the standpoint of general cleanliness and public health. It probably would be instrumental in preventing the spread of tuberculosis and other communicable diseases, by accompanying the enactment should be an educational campaign to instruct the general public in the purpose. This would be securing its effect.

Miss Katherine G. Ling of Detroit has made an attempt to discredit the 'original' papers which are being read by a great many of the members of the women's clubs of the state.

'Everything, from what to name the baby to how to remove warts is asked of librarians nowadays.' And then she went on to say that it had become a common custom for members of women's clubs to have the librarians write essays for them which are read as original productions.

This would not be quite so bad, for many of the members of the women's clubs in the state lead busy home lives. They have children and household cares and the pouring through ancient and musty books to learn how the Egyptians lived without chewing gum or the phonograph, and other matters of historical research, is quite too much for the small number of leisure hours that the members can command.

But Miss Ling made another very surprising statement, a statement that would be discredited if coming from some one less known as a conservative person and speaker. She said that not only are the members of women's clubs guilty of palming off the thought and study of the librarians, but that the librarians in many cases employ librarians to prepare their papers that are read before meetings of learned doctors.

Miss Ling deprecates the tendency. The cure is in her hands and the hands of her sister librarians. Next time a physician applies for a ready made essay on some technical medical subject let Miss Ling weave into the paper some of the thoughts about doctors, about drugs and diseases in general, as expressed in the high literary style of the eminent writers on Christian Science and to enliven the dry subject and shake up the rusty bones add a few of the drug and doctor remarks that have been made from time to time by the former Dr. Dowie.

If Miss Ling interprets the tendency of the times aright, the profession of librarian ought to afford rare inducements to persons possessed of the minds of Pecks' Bad Boy or Buster Brown.

The Appleton Post in a thoughtful article on Memorial day asks a pertinent question: Into whose hands shall this cause, this day, this celebration, be committed? Or, shall it forever fall and disappear? Will the exercises proceed and the column march with bands and flowers to the sacred graves when the dozen faltering men now leading shall be compelled to sit at home? To put the question direct, is it not high time that the organization and conduct of Memorial celebration should pass to younger hands, that the people themselves, schooled as they have been these many years, taught by the example and faithfulness of these veterans, should assume cheerfully and ably this burden so long borne by the veterans, and make the celebration a perpetual Memorial and sacrifice to patriotism and to those who, in any way, give their lives to their country? The members of the Grand Army, who have taken the leading part in arranging and carrying out the observance of the day since it was instituted in 1868, are becoming less numerous every year. Those of them who still survive are growing old enough to be relieved. Why would it not be possible to arrange that this pious, patriotic work should devolve upon the children of the public schools? Could there be an observance better calculated to inspire the young with reverence for patriots?

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION. A convention of the Democratic delegates of Delta county, to be elected in the several wards and townships of the county at the primary election to be held on the twelfth day of June 1906 is hereby called to meet at the court house in the city of Escanaba in said county on Tuesday, June 19, 1906, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of electing four delegates to attend the state convention, thereafter to be called, for the nomination of state officers.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

A convention of the Republican delegates of Delta county, to be elected in the several wards and townships of the county at the primary election to be held on the twelfth day of June 1906, is hereby called to meet at the court house in the city of Escanaba in said county, on Monday the eighteenth day of June 1906 at 11 o'clock in the forenoon for the purpose of electing ten delegates to attend the state convention, hereafter to be called, for the nomination of state officers.

The several wards in the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone and the townships of the county are entitled to delegates in the convention based on the vote for governor at the general election held in November 1904 as follows:

COUNTY MUST BUY SUPPLIES

Provisions of Primary Law Covering Coming June Election are Explained.

Election boards in the cities and townships of the county will have duties to perform in the matter of procuring election supplies for use at the primaries to be held next month. The new election law provides that the county shall purchase all needed supplies, consisting of pollbooks, pencils, instruction cards, and even ballots to be used by electors in the selection of delegates to attend the county conventions of the various parties.

Altogether, three forms of ballots will be used. On one ballot will be submitted the question whether the direct method of nominating candidates for the office of governor and lieutenant governor shall be continued in the state. The voter will be required to express his choice by answering "yes" or "no." It is explained that the voter will decide whether the present primary law relating to nominations for the two offices mentioned shall be continued to apply to all future elections.

Another ballot will contain the names of candidates for the office of governor and lieutenant governor. The Republican electors will be handed a white ballot on which is printed the names of candidates of that party for the two offices. Democrats will receive a blue colored ballot. Prohibitionists a red ballot, and so on through all the list of parties—each party having a ballot of distinguishing color. In this connection an interesting question arises. It is contended that the county election commissioners must print ballots for every party represented on the enrollment books of the various townships, while on the other hand it is urged that the commissioners will be required to furnish ballots only for such parties as certify nominations in the regular way.

The election of delegates to attend the county convention, which in turn selects delegates to attend the state convention when state officers other than governor and lieutenant governor are nominated will be made at the same time the primaries are held. A separate ballot will be used for this purpose, each party having the same color as that designated by statute for use in voting on nominees for governor and lieutenant governor. Section 2, of the primary election law, one of the few lucid paragraphs in the act, explains the matter fully as follows:

It shall be the duty of the board of election commissioners in each county to prepare and furnish the ballots to be used at said primary election. Such ballots shall contain the name of the party for which they are to be used, and voting precinct and county, the instruction as to the method of voting, and at least as many lines thereon as there are delegates to be elected in the different voting precincts. The ballots shall be prepared as nearly as may be as to color and size as provided in section seven, chapter five of this act, and no vote shall be counted for delegates to any party convention that is not cast upon a ballot prepared for such political party as hereto provided.

In order to participate in the primary, electors must be enrolled, with the party in whose primary they participate. A Democrat may not vote a Republican ticket, or vice versa. It will be competent for candidates for delegates to the county convention to have their names printed on posters, and such posters placed by the inspectors of election in the voting booth, or electors may write the name of their choice for delegates on the blank lines on the ballot. The person receiving the greatest number of votes for delegates shall be declared elected, and the inspectors will issue a certificate to the county convention setting forth the names of the successful candidates. Electors may vote for any person they choose for delegate.

An army of clerks will be required at the voting precincts, as it will be necessary to keep three separate tally sheets and poll books, and three ballot boxes will be required to hold the different ballots. The general law relative to election must be followed in every instance where the primary law is silent. A special session of the primary law makes the day on which primaries are held "a legal election day," and saloons and all other places where intoxicating liquors are sold must remain closed.

possession at the foot of the St. Mary's rapids June 14, 1812. A treaty was made with the Indians and a large cross erected on a hill overlooking the river. The spot lies at the foot of Bingham avenue, and is one of the most beautiful places in the city.

Strange as it may seem, it was but a few rods from this spot that in later years the Indians plotted to massacre General Lewis Cass, who came here to make a treaty in the war of 1812.

Cass was territorial governor of Michigan. The Indians were friendly with the English, who had no trouble in inciting them to violence, and for a time it looked as though the mission would end in bloodshed.

Cass slept in the house now occupied by C. W. Given, on Water street, a short distance from the foot of Bingham avenue. In the night the Indians under Captain Johnston planned to creep upon the house and kill the governor, believing this would have a tendency to rid the country of the whites who were loyal to the government.

At midnight they started through the woods to commit the foul deed, but Johnston's wife, who had much influence among the red men, had suspected the plot, and before they reached their destination met the band of savages in the forest and was able to change their plans. The next day the treaty was signed on the spot where, over a century previous, the French had raised the cross in the name of France.

The new cross will bear a brief inscription containing the dates of the events it commemorates. It will be white in color and stand facing the river, where it can be seen from the decks of passing vessels.

NATURE'S WARNING.

Escanaba People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously. But nature always warns you through the urine.

Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—If the color is yellow and sediment, Passage too frequent, scanty, painful.

It's time then to use Dean's Kidney Pills. To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes.

Dean's have done great work in Escanaba.

August Anderson, of 324 No. Fannie St., Escanaba, Mich. says: "Dean's Kidney Pills are the only thing that ever gave me any permanent relief from backache and urinary weakness. I suffered from this trouble nearly all my life, especially lack of control of the secretion at night. I sent all over the country for different remedies but none gave me any permanent relief until I got Dean's Kidney Pills at the Mead Drug Store. They first removed the pain in my back and I soon noticed my kidneys were regulated and finally the trouble left me entirely. Although I consider myself cured I keep Dean's Kidney Pills in the house and always expect to. You cannot praise them too highly to suit me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Millburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

FRED ERICKSON GIVES RECITAL

Talented Young Musician of Escanaba Appears in Enjoyable Musical Event at Ann Arbor.

An especially high compliment to the musical temperament and ability of Fred L. Erickson, an Escanaba student at the University of Michigan, is given by the Ann Arbor Daily Argus in its issue of Saturday.

Mr. Erickson assisted by Miss Frances E. Caspari gave a recital at the Frieze Memorial hall at Ann Arbor on Friday of last week which is described as one of the most enjoyable musical events of the season at the university.

The Ann Arbor Argus says of the recital:

"Beethoven's music to Goethe's Tragedy of Egmont, was given yesterday afternoon in Memorial hall by the talented young pianist, Fred Erickson, assisted by Miss Frances Caspari. The overture played, is one of the finest examples of classical music. Following this, Miss Caspari gave two songs 'Die Trommel geruhret,' and 'Freudvoll und Herdell,' the first song showing the gay impulsive nature of the heroine who wants to go to war, and the second song, the same nature, sometimes gay, and sometimes sad, summed up in the words at the end 'happy alone is the soul that loves.' Miss Caspari interpreted the songs with good understanding, and her voice was heard to fine advantage. The music of Entre Act III was bright and martial. Of Entre Act IV, a beautiful melody. Before the last group, Mr. Erickson gave a short reading from the drama, and then played the soft minor music of the 'Larghetto (Cherubs Vision)' and the 'Symphony Victory,' the triumphal strains of the last, proclaiming the victory that came through death. Mr. Erickson showed the extreme sensibility that felt all the joy or pain of the story, and gave it to the hearers in his playing. The recital was given to show Beethoven's musical idea of the Egmont tragedy."

MEDICAL MEN ARE IN BOSTON

Boston, Mass., June 5.—Special.—The fifty-seventh annual meeting of the American Medical Association was opened this morning in Mechanics' Hall, with several thousand members from every section of the country in attendance. The proceedings of the opening session included the official reception and welcome of the association by President Eliot of Harvard University, President A. T. Cabot of the Massachusetts Medical Society, Governor Guild, speaking for the state, and Mayor Fitzgerald, in behalf of the city of Boston.

The meeting was called to order by retiring President Lewis S. Murtry of Louisville, and Dr. Walter Wyman of Washington, D. C., first vice-president, responded to the speeches of welcome. The report of the committee on arrangements was followed by the introduction of President-elect Dr. William J. Mayo of Rochester, Minn. who delivered the annual address. The second general meeting takes place this evening.

Dr. F. C. Shattuck of this city delivers the oration on "Medicine," and Dr. Joseph D. Bryant of New York that on surgery. At the third general meeting tomorrow evening the address on "State Medicine" will be delivered by Dr. W. H. Saunders of Montgomery, Ala. In addition to the general sessions today twelve sectional meetings devoted to various departments in the practice of medicine and surgery were held.

The gathering will be in session through the remainder of this week. Most of the convention energy will be given up to the meetings of the various sections. The program calls for over 400 papers, which are to be presented to the various sections. Many of them are technical and will not interest the general public, while other papers will deal with subjects of deep popular interest.

The societies affiliated with the American Medical Association, and which are holding their meetings simultaneously, are the American Gastro-Enterological Association, of Association of United States Pension Examining Surgeons, American Neurological Association, American Association of Life Insurance Examining Surgeons, American Urological Association and American Medical Editors' Association.

A distinguishing feature of the present convention is the large number of eminent medical men in attendance from foreign countries. England, Germany and France have sent some of their foremost physicians, surgeons and scientists to the gathering.

Canada is represented by a distinguished delegation that includes among others Dr. H. H. Chown of Winnipeg, Dr. Simon W. Tunstall of Vancouver, Dr. Wesley A. Mills of McGill University, Dr. George A. Peters of Toronto, Dr. George A. Armstrong of Montreal, and Dr. Murray MacLean of St. John.

Asthma Sufferers Should Know This.
Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Buesing, 701 W. 3rd st., Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best medical skill available could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma which had been growing on me for twelve years, and if I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering." ## KAISER PAYS VIENNA VISIT

Vienna, June 5.—Special.—Emperor William, accompanied by a numerous suite, arrived today on a visit to Emperor Francis Joseph. There was no ceremonious entry into Vienna, the German Emperor leaving his train outside the capital and proceeding at once to Schenbrunn Castle, where he breakfasted with the Austrian imperial family. The belief that the meeting of the two rulers possesses political meaning is heightened by the announcement that the visit will last but two days and by the further fact that several high officials of the German foreign office are included in the Kaiser's suite.

DUNKARDS ARE IN CONFERENCE

Springfield, Ill., June 5.—Special.—The general conference of the German Baptist Brethren, commonly known as Dunkards, was officially opened at the state fair grounds here today with an attendance of thousands of members of the sect from all parts of this country. Several matters out of the usual routine are to be brought up for action at the present conference. Aside from the doctrinal questions, a conference will discuss a proposal to permit the German Baptist colleges to engage in athletic contests with other colleges, which heretofore has been prohibited.

MANY CHILDREN GETTING HOMES

Good Will Farm at Houghton Prospect and Number of Inmates Grows Smaller

There was received at Good Will Farm last week the first baby there in months, with the result that there was general rejoicing among the other inmates many of whom are very fond of children. The object of the home has been to discourage the bringing in of illegitimate offspring, and Supt. H. M. Draper, by hard work, had succeeded in bringing about this reform. The infant received at the home last night, however, is a very deserving case.

There are fewer inmates at the home now than at any time in many months. With the bringing in of the baby, last night the total is 83. During the past two months homes have been found for no less than 15. In thus providing homes, Supt. Draper has lost three members of the band, two of them being among the best players. This, however, will make little difference in the musical organization as other children are rapidly being trained to fill the vacant positions.

Conditions at the home were never brighter than this summer. More than ordinary interest in the institution is being taken with the result that during the past week there have been a number of visitors at the home. Under the direction of Mr. Draper the grounds are being beautified, something that it has been intended to do during the past couple of years but which, owing to the pressure of other business, could never be properly attended to.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH MICHIGAN

When the funnel shaped twisters go dancing a two step across the continent, rip up whole counties, and fill the air with bedticks, trees, cows and the savings of a lifetime, they skip Michigan.

When the Kansas grasshopper hops along down the Mississippi valley, and gnaws off the crop of the "boy, robe," of Kansas, and the corn of Nebraska, eats even the green paint off the dwelling, it skips Michigan. When the elements concentrate in 10-hour down-pours of rain in Illinois, Ohio and Indiana, and compel the Sucker, the Bockeye and the Hoosier to climb the chimney top to keep out of the wet, the Wolverine lolls in his hammock and dreams away in his summer siesta on a side hill.

When the bloated bondholders of Wall street corner everything in sight and wait for a raise, they skip Michigan. When the earthquake rends the earth and engulfs whole towns it skips Michigan. When malaria and yellow fever nose through the tropical states and gather the inhabitants to their fathers, they skip Michigan. When tarantulas, centipedes, scorpions, lizards and moccasin snakes seek congenial crimes they skip Michigan.

When the Dakota blizzard goes raging through the north, and chills even the milk of human kindness, it skips Michigan. When the Standard Oil octopus fixes its tentacles on the oil wells of the earth and shuts off the coal supply, it skips Michigan. The weevil, the chintz bug, the apple borer, the Jersey mosquito, peach yellows, cholera germs, small pox, Kentucky feuds, Florida simoon, all skip Michigan.

When Weary Wagglee and Dirty Draggles go hunting for work, and praying to God that they won't find it, they skip Michigan. When all the elements of distress combined for a scintillation to dance to death the inhabitants of other countries they skip Michigan.

When the Texan, the Floridian, the Porto Rican, the Nebraska, the Kansas, Dakotan, the Pennsylvanian, the Indian, has endured the drawbacks in their respective localities, beyond further endurance, they skip to Michigan. When the tropical sunbeams about down between the busy brick blocks of the great cities of Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Louisville, the sweltered tradesman locks his office, throws the key into the refrigerator, and skips to Michigan.

Michigan is in it. Michigan is it. Its lakes, its rivers, its air, its climate, its woods, fields and inhabitants are the best ever. Michigan has her Italian sunset, dark blue azure, the scenery of the Alps, and water, the nectar of the gods. Michigan is in full bloom, not a petal missing, and she's the rose of the sisterhood of states, wedded to prosperity, health and happiness. This is the Beulah land of the twentieth century—Owendale correspondent in Gagetown, Mich. Times.

HE WAS BOUND TO TAKE LIFE

Toronto Man Made Desperate Attempt to Commit Suicide by Throwing Self into Niagara River.

Buffalo N. Y. June 5.—Special.—Amos Schweitzer of Toronto, while under influence of some drug attempted to commit suicide this morning by throwing himself into the Niagara river, 200 yards above American falls. He lodged on the rocks 55 feet from shore and stood two hours in shallow water while the swirling torrent rushed past him.

He stubbornly refused to save himself and stood like a statue in the water.

Firemen attempted to shove an extension ladder to him but it was carried over the falls by the current. Ropes were thrown to him but he refused to take hold and attempts to lasso him were in vain.

Finally an extension ladder rigged with ropes twisted around trees was placed in the water and patrolmen George Callahan, George S. Batts and Foreman Thomas Cunroy placed ropes around their waists and managed to reach the man. He fought desperately but was brought ashore.

BRIEF NEWS OF THE STATE

TO PROMOTE MATRIMONY

A Providence, R. I. furniture firm to "stimulate trade, promote human happiness and benefit the community," proposes to provide the wedding feast, the minister and a three day honeymoon trip to all marrying couples who will purchase their household furniture from this particular firm. The bride couple is to have the choice of the clergyman and the feast will be for ten persons, if desired, and is to be "dry." No liquors will be provided.

All these things go to couples that furnish seven room houses, while those who furnish six rooms get everything except the trip, and those who furnish five room houses will get the feast only while the four room class will have the couple's bill only paid, but all the couples receiving the bounty of the house upon marriage will have a silver mug and a high chair for each child born within five years after the marriage and a $5 gold piece for each child receiving the orthodox baptism. How's that for an advertising scheme?

ALL RECORDS ARE BROKEN

Cupid is working overtime in Delta county.

All marriage license records for the district were broken yesterday when permits to become man and wife were issued to five different couples by County Clerk A. P. Smith.

The greatest number of marriage licenses ever before issued in a single day in Delta county was four and if the present record is maintained June will in reality become a month of brides in this county as an average of two licenses have been issued for each day of the month up to this time.

SCARED HORSE BREAKS LINE

Charles Boda of Newhall loses valuable horse which became frightened at automobile.

As the result of becoming scared at a passing automobile at Ludington street and Stephenson avenue shortly before 8 o'clock last night a horse belonging to Charles Boda of Newhall, dashed to the side of the street and in falling fractured its right front leg.

Chief of Police Peter Beltzer was called at once to the scene of the accident and after an investigation was made, showing that the fracture was a severe one and it was not probable that the horse would recover, it was shot.

Albert Boda, who was riding in the carriage with his father jumped to the pavement when the horse became frightened and sustained a badly strained ankle but the driver, who retained his seat, was not injured.

Mr. Boda was driving south on Stephenson avenue when he met the automobile. His horse abled violently and at the same time a street car passed, which further added to the fright of the animal. As the horse plunged wildly one of the hills was broken off at the point where it connected with the carriage and the horse in plunging over the curbing stumbled and its front leg was broken squarely off between the knee and ankle joints.
