SNAKE LIAR IS NOT DEAD

Fear That has Been Growing Strong is Removed by Wonderful Tales That are Being Told.

From far and near the New York Sun of late has been gathering snake stories, most of them quite evidently genuine. The most notable is credited to the London Graphic, which says that:

"At the last meeting of the London Zoological society some notes were read by R. Shelford, late of the Sarawak museum, on 'flying' snakes. These snakes are climbers, and a wonderful provision of nature has been made for them to break their fall in case of accident when at a height from the ground.

"They have a sort of hinge line in the skin, on either side of the body, and by muscular contraction the ventral surface of the reptile is drawn in so as to become quite concave, and the body more flattened. When falling, instead of wiggling as other snakes do, they hold their bodies perfectly rigid, and glide down slowly to the ground, which they reach at quite an angle from where their fall began."

The Monrovia correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch writes: "White laborers working under the direction of Roadmaster William Abbott were blasting out stone in Carroll township they were astonished, upon setting off a dynamite charge in the crevice of a rock, to see sections of snakes flying through the air."

"Investigation showed that the blast had uncovered a den of blacksnakes, knotted together into a ball, and all in a comatose condition. Out of nearly fifty of the reptiles all but five were killed by the explosion. These five, ranging in length from four to six feet, were captured and placed in a box. Last year nine copperheads were killed at the same place."

The Fairmount Times reports that: "The first snake of the season appeared in the second ward yesterday morning, in the garden of Mrs. Nettie Arnett. The garden at the Arnett home was being plowed, when a large tomat was noticed running through the lot. Investigation proved that the fellow was giving a large snake a run for its life, and it was only by climbing a bean pole or perhaps a bunch of bean-poles that the 'varmint' escaped. The snake was killed by some person who saw it, and proved to be a blue viper. It measured 4 feet 1 inch long. Upon climbing to the top of the bean poles the snake asserted its rights by giving a keen whistle or blowing noise on its forked tongue."

The Bellefonte Weekly Gazette has the following on its contents: "Paul D. Sheffer, groceryman, of Bellefonte, in company with his brother, Horner, and William Walker, spent a week fighting on Big Run, in the Allegheny mountains and camped about one mile below the mouth of what is known as the Middle Branch."

"After they had proceeded about one mile up from its mouth, they came to an old dilapidated lumberman's log stable. It was located about 50 feet from the stream, and up on a rocky ledge. It had a double stable door; the upper half being swung back, while the lower one was closed, and on it was a piece of cardboard about 18 inches square, on which was scrawled by some considerate person the warning:

"'BEWARE OF RATTLESNAKES'"

"Mr. Walker did not go near the stable, but he told Paul to go up to it and look in over the door. He did so and the sight that presented itself sent the cold chills chasing each other up and down his back. The stable was literally alive with rattlesnakes. They lay stretched at full length on the floor; some were coiled in huge piles, as big as old-fashioned bread-tasks; others lay under the plank floor, with their heads sticking up out of holes, while huge reptiles lay in and hung out over the horse troughs—all sleeping as contentedly as though they had never known a disturbance—for they had not yet discovered his presence."

Mr. Sheffer declares that he saw no less than fifty snakes, large and small, black and yellow, some of them, and especially one hanging on the horse-trough, was as thick as his leg.

"Mr. Sheffer had with him a 40-40 Winchester rifle, and, taking careful aim at the big one on the trough, he pulled the trigger. The explosion woke up the sleeping colony, and before he could turn and run he heard such a buzzing of rattles as never came to the ear of man. He declares it sounded like ten thousand locusts all singing at one time."

CHEAP SHINES ARE TABOOED

Escanaba's Boot Blackers "Trust" Issues Boycott Order Against Five Cent Stand.

Five cent "shines" must go. Such is the edict issued by the imperial council of Escanaba's Boot Blackers' trust.

The members of the trust who today issued definite boycott orders against one member of the "profess" who has established a stand on Ludington street and is dealing out shins at 5 cents per pair: Joseph Perrin president, Charles Brandenburg, Arthur Gangstad, Judson Cortley and Rudolph Shallow.

Action has been taken by the members of the trust for mutual protection and to maintain the standard of ethics in the profession.

Repeated visits by members of the "trust" to the renegade bootblack who is seriously threatening the business of his fellow craftsmen, have had no satisfactory results. All overtures have been repulsed and the one open stand in the city continues to do business despite threats made by business agents of the union.

Unless the existing troubles can be amicably settled it is probable that a regular charter will be taken out by the members of the local trust in the International Boot Shiners' union and the boycott that is issued given greater force with union patrons of the city.

In discussing the position taken by the trust in its negotiations to remove the one five cent stand in the city one of the members of the union said today: "Hully Chee, that bloke is burtin' his own profess. He's got a neat scale and the rest of us gys has got to put him out of business. We've tried moral suasion but it's no go and he won't fight. Now it's boycott or bust."

EXHIBIT TO BE ELABORATE

Specimens of Art Work Executed by Public School Students to be Shown at Franklin Building.

Elaborate arrangements for the first display of art work executed by the students of the Escanaba public schools during the school year just closing under the direction of Miss Edith M. Watson, and which will be held at the Franklin building on Friday afternoon and evening and all day Saturday, are being made. The exhibit will be opened for the first time on Friday afternoon, when the regular afternoon sessions in all of the public school buildings of the city will be eliminated, in order that all of the pupils of the city may visit the Franklin building and view the display of work by different grades.

On Friday evening it has been planned to make the art exhibit a part of the "Tour Around the World," given by the Mission Circle of the First Presbyterian church. The doors of the Franklin building will be opened early on Friday evening to allow the "tourists" who will take part in the unique event arranged by the Mission circle, to visit the exhibit before going to the central station.

Direct telephone communication between the Franklin building and the central station will be arranged and by which the tourists may be notified as to the leaving time of the train and the accommodations that are offered for caring for the crowds at different hours.

According to the plans the art exhibit will be a part of the tour and yet will be a distinctly separate feature as it is expected that many people who wish to spend considerable time in inspecting the art work of the pupils, and will not take part in the tour, will be attracted. Others who have purchased tickets for the tour and wish to avoid the crush at the central station in the first hour will be able to spend their time at the Franklin building.

The art display now being arranged is the first complete exhibit that has ever been arranged in the public schools of the city of art work accomplished during the year.

The work of each grade, from the primary department to the high school will be arranged in separate sections according to plans that have been prepared by Miss Watson who with different members of the corps of teachers will be in charge of the display during the time that it is open to the public.

Patrons of the public schools of Escanaba have but an inadequate idea of the progress that has been made in the last year in art work in the schools without inspecting the exhibit and it is hoped that a large number of people will be attracted.

Color work was introduced into the schools of Escanaba by Miss Watson for the first time in October of last year and the result of the efforts that have been expended by her are well shown.

While the pupils from the primary to the high school department were started on an equal footing when color work was introduced last fall, the specimens that are now being arranged show the different grades as to color blending and perspective.

All of the specimens to be included in the exhibit are the work of classes drawn from the objects themselves or from photographs and are not the works of any individual pupil done under the special supervision of the instructor.

Probably the most surprising results in art work have been obtained in the primary department among the six year old pupils. All of the grade work has been done with three colors and the dainty little drawings of the primary department cannot but attract interest in that department will be shown charts of Dutch children, with grotesquely shaped bodies and clothing of many colors but all true to the object from which the specimens are drawn.

Japanese charts, showing Japanese children in their vari colored flowing robes and the peculiarly shaped features of that race, specimens of flowers and a few well executed landscape drawings are also included in the primary exhibit.

The exhibit of the second and third grades is a step in advance at least in detail. The nature of the work done in those grades is of much the same class but is more elaborate. Charts of tulips, several excellent landscape scenes, dolls' clothing, colored according to the fanciful ideas of the little artists, and charts of birds some of which are exceptionally well done will be the features of that exhibit.

In the fourth grade exhibit, advancement in detail work is again shown. From menagerie cards with drawings of several excellently executed animals to cards of violets, tulips and landscape scenes, the progress of the students according to age and their greater ability to grasp the ideas of the instructor is shown.

The fifth grade exhibit is interesting because of its many color specimens. Cards of daffodils, cowslips and other flowers all drawn from specimens.

BIG STEAMER WAS RELEASED

Tug Favorite Pulls Roman off Summer Island After Working for Entire Day.

After being released from Summer Island where it struck during a heavy fog on Monday night the Steamer Roman arrived in Escanaba at 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon in tow of the tug Favorite of St. Ignace, but little the worse for being stranded.

The tug Favorite, in charge of Capt. Alexander Canning formerly master of the Tomlinson at this port, arrived at the stranded vessel at noon on Tuesday and did not succeed in releasing the big freighter until 10:30 o'clock yesterday.

The Roman was stranded on a sand bottom and when an inspection was made it was found that no damage had been done to the hull.

In passing the stranded vessel late on Tuesday afternoon the steamer Western Star pulled for five hours on the Roman without being able to release her and the attempt was finally given up with the Favorite left in charge of the work.

The Roman took on a cargo of ore at once on arriving here and cleared for Lake Erie this morning.

HEAVY FINE WAS IMPOSED

Charles Groth who Deposited Body of Horse Inside City Limits Arraigned Before Court Today.

Charged with depositing the body of a dead horse at a point on the Ford River road near the Driving park and inside the limits of the city, Charles Groth, a drayman, was arraigned before Judge Emil Glaser this morning and was fined $25 and costs.

It is claimed that several cases of violation of the city health laws by depositing the bodies of dead animals within the limits of the city, have been brought to the attention of the authorities within the last two weeks and the officers are determined that the practice shall be stopped.

When Groth was arraigned before the court this morning he admitted that he had left the body of the horse near the Ford River road yesterday but said that he had intended to return later and haul it to the dumping ground. He had no further excuse to offer and the extreme penalty for the offense was imposed by the court.

It is believed that by making examples of a few of those who persist in violating the health laws of the city, that a continuation of the infraction of the ordinances will be prevented.

Mr. Groth paid his fine of $25 together with costs amounting to $4.25. The warrant on which Groth was arrested was sworn out by William Martens city scavenger.

NEW MACHINE IS INSTALLED

With the installation yesterday of a new moving picture machine at Ben's theater patrons of that amusement place will now witness scenes thrown from one of the most modern machines that have been invented.

The machine installed yesterday and which was used for the first time last night, is Edison's New Exhibition Model 1906 and was obtained by Manager Salinsky at considerable expense.

The disengaging flickering feature, which characterized the old machine is completely removed with the new apparatus and the change will be greatly appreciated by the patrons of that place.

A new series of pictures will be shown tonight and hereafter a change in the series will be made twice each week.

CHORUS NUMBERS TO BE FEATURES

One of the features of the commencement exercises of the Escanaba high school this year will be numbers by a chorus of 50 voices now being prepared under the direction of Miss Edith Watson, musical instructor for the public schools of the city.

Among the chorus numbers to be given at that time and preparations for which are now being made will be Pissuti's, Good Night, Good Night Beloved, The Soldier's Farewell from Faust and Mozart's Gloria.

Rehearsals are being held each afternoon at the close of the regular high school session and an attempt is being made to cause the musical features of the commencement exercises in which the high school students will take part to be more attractive than ever before.

BULGARIA IS ON THE ROCKS

Warden Steamer Inspected Yesterday by Capt. Roach of Tomlinson in Dangerous Condition.

With a large hole stove in her hull forward and resting on a solid pile of rock which reaches within six feet of the surface, the steamer Bulgaria, of the Corrigan fleet, which ran on Fishermen's Shoal in Lake Michigan on Monday night is in a precarious condition.

Capt. J. B. Roach, of the tug Tomlinson, and A. H. Sinclair, of Chicago, agent for the underwriters inspected the wreck, yesterday afternoon and it is not believed that the vessel can be saved.

Capt. Roach and Mr. St. Clair left Escanaba on the tug Tomlinson yesterday and arrived back in Escanaba last night after making a complete inspection of the stranded vessel.

The Bulgaria, which is one of the old type of wooden vessels is loaded with coal and was bound for Green Bay when the shoal was struck during the heavy fog which covered the lake on Monday night.

The boat rests firmly on the rocks and is ten feet out forward, while the stern rests in 24 feet of water.

Two pumps have been working since the boat struck the rocks but the hold is filled with water and no attempt has yet been made to release her. Because of the condition of the vessel and the fact that the rock on which she rests, pierces the hull for several feet it was considered by Capt. Roach and Mr. St. Clair to be impossible to pull her off as it is feared that when the rock is removed from the hole in the hull that the steamer will sink to the bottom at once.

Mr. St. Clair last night communicated with the owners of the boat but what action will be taken was not known up to late this afternoon.

It is probable however that a contract will be let for lightening the cargo and after that work is done plans for releasing the steamer will be considered.

The Bulgaria is well known by marine men at this port having been engaged in the iron ore trade out of Escanaba for several years and last winter was tied up for the winter season at the old North Western No. 2 dock.

INTERRED WITH MASONIC HONORS

Body of Myers Ephraim was Laid to Rest at Lakeview Cemetery this Afternoon.

Impressive services conducted by the officers of Delta Chapter Royal Arch Masons, were held over the body of Myers Ephraim one of Escanaba's pioneer merchants and for many years a most influential citizen, who died early on Tuesday morning, at the home at 635 Ogden avenue at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Many of Escanaba's old residents who had known Mr. Ephraim intimately during the 25 years that he had lived in this city attended the funeral service this afternoon to pay their last respects to the dead.

A large body of the Masons of the city attended the service showing well the esteem in which Mr. Ephraim had been held by his brother Masons.

The regular ritual of the Masonic service was carried out at the home with musical numbers given by members of the choir of the First Presbyterian church.

Following the service the body was taken to its last resting place at Lakeview cemetery where it was interred with Masonic honors.

Those who served as pall bearers were: Theodore Farrell, John M. Miller, Solomon Greenbooth, James Rodgers, C. M. Thatcher and Edward Erickson.

Discussing the probable effect on upper peninsula industries of the enactment by congress of the free alcohol bill, Austin Farrell, of Marquette, manager of the Pioneer Iron company's upper peninsula furnaces, is quoted as saying: "Until the wood alcohol manufacturers have had opportunity to meet conditions that will be shaped to conform with the new law, it will be impossible to tell just how badly the industry will be crippled. It may be said with certainty, however, that our business will be permanently impaired. The Pioneer Iron company has over 1,300 men in its employ in the furnace department, and more than a million of dollars invested in its business. I cannot give even an estimate of the probable damage that will result by the enactment of the law, but it is certain that curtailment of output, which in turn means the employment of smaller force of laborers, will ensue. "All the talk relative to Standard Oil being interested in the killing of the so called free alcohol bill, is bunk. Standard Oil had no interest in the bill whatever, as the removal of the tax on grain alcohol would have nothing to do with the price of gas-lisa, notwithstanding the friends of the free alcohol bill insisted that distilled alcohol would substitute it. Gasoline will not be affected in price, nor will it come into disuse by substitution. "Congressman Young, of this district, is the one Michigan congressman who had the courage to stand and fight for the protection of one of the industries of his state. In contradiction to the record of his colleagues who lined up against him on the plea that their constituents demanded it. One of the most strenuous enemies of the wood alcohol industry is William Aldea Smith, of the Fifth district. Smith had the temerity to use his influence and vote against one of the industries of the upper peninsula, and at the same time solicit support among our people in aid of his senatorial candidacy.

Before passing the free alcohol bill, the senate added a mysterious and unexplained amendment for a special, separate bonded warehouse. The provision to this provision declined to undertake an elucidation of its purpose and effect, saying that he was merely acting by request for another senator, Mr. Hemenway, of Indiana, who was absent. It is now claimed that the object is to make the free alcohol business a monopoly in the hands of the whiskey trust, which, having the facilities, would be able to meet the condition at once. The house, however, has every opportunity to investigate that aspect of the matter, before concurring in the amendment or sending the bill to conference.

During recent years New York has been as greatly troubled as has Michigan to find a solution of the mortgage tax question that would be satisfactory to the greater number of the people of that state and which would be permitted to remain on the statute books undisturbed. Gov. Higgins last week through his signature completed the enactment of a new mortgage tax law for his state, which provides for a tax of one-half of one per cent on the amount involved in the mortgage, to be paid when the instruments are presented for record and not again during the term for which the mortgage is given. This solution of the problem gives promise of proving satisfactory in New York, but the Michigan opponents of this state's present mortgage tax requirement would probably be glad to make a more generous compromise than the payment of one-half of one per cent for the entire life of the mortgage.

There is not a business man in Michigan who would listen for a moment to suggestions involving changes and experiments in connection with a line of trade or in the movement of an industrial enterprise which was at that very time exceeding his highest expectations. There is not a workman in Michigan who would willingly accept risk and anxiety in connection with his personal affairs when both could be avoided. The application of every day common sense and ordinary judgment will determine the action and position of merchants and farmers and manufacturers and workmen of Michigan on all the important issues of the coming campaign.

History of Nonesuch Mine in Ontonagon County is Most Interesting.

Houghton, Mich., June 7.—Special.—While official confirmation is lacking there is the best of reason to believe that the old Nonesuch mine, in Ontonagon county, has been acquired by the big Calumet & Hecla Mining Co. The Calumet & Hecla adopted a policy of expansion some time ago, and although it still has a life of upwards of sixty years at its mines at Calumet, it has added considerably to its holdings during the past few months by picking up promising properties both in Houghton and Keweenaw counties, especially in the latter district, where it has taken over a very large acreage.

The Nonesuch comprises a tract of one square mile, owned by A. K. Camp, of Milwaukee, and associates. It was the pioneer mine of the Porcupine mountain district, and it has a story that reads like a romance. It is appropriately named Nonesuch, for it is doubtful if there ever was a mine like it. It has been aptly described as the epitome of the copper region, immovable inscrutable and tantalizing; containing the treasures of Crosscut in copper, on the extraction of which fortunes have been lavished, and which has been given the attention and best efforts of scores of mining men, metallurgists and chemists for the past generation. Yet despite the fact that it possesses one of the richest lodes of copper-bearing rock ever found discovered in 1895 and first opened in 1897, it has yielded altogether the insignificant amount of 180 tons of refined metal.

The copper is there—millions and millions of pounds of it—every pound worth nearly 19 cents when extracted, and not worth a penny a ton in the mine. The lode is a conglomerate sandstone, first discovered outcropping in the bed of the Little Iron river, and through averaging only seven feet in width or about half the width of the famous Calumet conglomerate, its rock is fully as rich in metallic contents as that of the latter formation.

Moreover, the copper is so fine that no successful method of concentrating it has ever been devised, the metallic particles being so minute that when the lode matter is stamped the mineral values are washed away with the sand. This, at least has been the experience in the past.

The mine has been examined frequently by the last quarter of a century or more by parties having patent or secret processes for saving fine copper. Hundreds of tons of the rock from the lode has been shipped to all points of the compass for experimental purposes. The problem to be solved has been attacked mechanically, metallurgically, electrolytically, chemically, courageously and unflinchingly by many different inventors, but all of them have suffered defeat.

The Nonesuch has swallowed several large fortunes. In one case, during the '90's, a small shipment of the rock was sent to Chicago for treatment by a patent chemical process. This proved a huge success, in the estimation of the inventor, and a large and expensive plant, constructed on his plans, was installed at the mine.

After being stamped, crushed in rolls, jigged and passed over the slime tables, the resultant product, something between fine sand and coarse slime, went to drying pans, thence to a calcining furnace, then to precipitating tanks, where the metal was allowed to settle, and finally there was a crude electrolytic process designed to collect the copper.

On paper the method was a beautiful one, but in actual practice it was a flat failure. The company lost much money, and, like others which had gone before it, it quit in disgust. Evidently the Calumet & Hecla people are not dismayed at the dismal history of the Nonesuch property. The fact that they have acquired the mine, assuming as correct the unofficial reports to that effect, is taken to indicate that they have well defined ideas in the matter of the concentration of Nonesuch rock.

And if any corporation can make a success of the proposition, it is the Calumet & Hecla. Asthma Sufferers Should Know This. Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Buesing, 701 W. 3rd st., Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best medical skill available could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma which had been growing on me for twelve years, and if I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering." KEEPS THEM ON THE JUMP

Lansing, Mich., June 7.—Special.—As primary election day approaches the employes of the attorney-general's department dread to hear the long distance telephone ring. It is pretty certain to mean an inquiry from some anxious county clerk, election commissioner or party chairman as to the provisions of the primary law. On many important matters the law is distressingly silent, on other points it is positively contradictory. The attorney-general's department has found the law full of holes, but has done its best to give a construction of the statute that will enable the people to carry it into effect. The amount of work done by the department and the vexation resulting from the new law cannot easily be magnified. "There is a strong feeling here that had the constitutionality of the law been tested in the courts it could not have been sustained by reason of its many defects, if not from lack of harmony with the spirit of the constitution.

Leading lawyers of the state have repeatedly stated that in their judgment the law is fatally defective, and that it has been saved only through the failure of some interested persons to get it before the supreme court.

NATURE'S WARNING.

Escanaba People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously. But nature always warns you through the urine.

Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—If there are settlements and sediment; Passages too frequent, scanty, painful.

It's time then to use Dean's Kidney Pills. To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes. Dean's have done great work in Escanaba.

August Anderson, of 324 No. Fannie St., Escanaba, Mich. says: "Dean's Kidney Pills are the only thing that ever gave me any permanent relief from backache and urinary weakness. I suffered from this trouble nearly all my life, especially lack of control of the secretions at night. I sent all over the country for different remedies but none gave me any permanent relief until I got Dean's Kidney Pills at the Mead Drug Store. They first removed the pain in my back and I soon noticed my kidneys were regulated and finally the trouble left me entirely. Although I consider myself cured I keep Dean's Kidney Pills in the house and always expect to. You cannot praise them too highly to suit me."

IS ELECTION DAY HOLIDAY

Lansing, Mich., June 7.—Special.—Is primary election day, June 12, a bank holiday? This question was put to the attorney-general's department today and is still undecided. The primary law itself provides that saloons shall be closed on primary election day, but makes no provision as to banks and courts.

There is a provision of the general election laws, however, that banks shall be closed on all days on which state, county and city elections are held, but there is some doubt as to whether the primary election law is within this classification.

The supreme court has arranged to sit on primary election day, but the question was not raised until today, and the judges may alter their arrangements.

Feel Impending Doom.

The feeling of impending doom in the minds of many victims of Bright's disease and diabetes has been changed to thankfulness by the benefit derived from taking Foley's Kidney Cure. It will cure incipient Bright's disease and diabetes and even in the worst cases gives comfort and relief. Slight disorders are cured in a few days. "I had diabetes in its worst form," writes Marion Lee of Dunreath, Ind. "I tried eight physicians without relief. Only three bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made me a well man." BIG STEAMER IS LAUNCHED

Glasgow, June 7.—Special.—An immense crowd that included many noted shipbuilders, engineers and others assembled today at the John Brown Company's Works at Clydesdale and witnessed the launching of the largest steamship ever built. The vessel is the Lusitania, one of the two mammoth ships being built for the Cunard company and which, if expectations are fulfilled, will smash all transatlantic speed records. The launching of the great ship was successful in every respect. The christening ceremony was performed by the Dowager Lady Inverclyde, widow of the former chairman of the Cunard line.

The Lusitania and her sister ship, the Mauritania, which is being built on the Tyne, are to have a displacement of 32,200 tons each. They are 120 feet longer than the celebrated Great Eastern and are the first vessels constructed that have a greater beam than that vessel. Each ship has about 88,000 tons of steel wrought into her. Some of the plates in the hull are 40 feet long and weigh four to five tons. The motive power will consist of four turbines, each of a designed indicated horsepower of 18,000. The speed is expected to reach 25 knots.

When facing the bridge the captain will be 110 feet above the keel and the four funnels each liner has will tower 154 feet above the keel. Two locomotives of the ordinary type could pass each other inside these enormous funnels. Every voyage the population of a good-sized town will be carried across the Atlantic.

The luxuries on board will rival the finest hotels. The decorations will consist of reproductions of the greatest works of art, while the system of elevators between the various decks will provide for the rapid transit of the passengers from one part of the ship to another.

The Lusitania and the Mauritania will be practically unsinkable. Bulkheads divide the hull into a large number of separate water-tight compartments. On the bridge a lever controls the hydraulic gear, and at a word from the officer in command every bulkhead can be closed instantaneously.

Smoking in a Powder Magazine. Is courting death more suddenly than more surely than neglecting kidney disorders. Foley's Kidney Cure will cure a slight disorder in a few days and its continued use will cure the most obstinate cases. It has cured many people of Bright's disease and diabetes who were thought to be incurable. If you have kidney or bladder trouble, commence taking Foley's Kidney Cure today, before it is too late. INDIANA DEMS. IN CONVENTION

Indianapolis, Ind., June 7.—Special.—A surprisingly large number of the delegates to the Democratic state convention in session here today are outspoken in their support of William J. Bryan. Many of them express the opinion that Mr. Bryan will be the next Democratic nominee for president, or will name the nominee, and they want Indiana to send a delegation to the national convention that will have the Bryan stamp on it. The staunchest representatives of the Bryan sentiment are likewise the bitterest opponents of the so-called "Taggart machine," which is in control of the party in this state.

They feel that so long as the Taggart faction remains in control the Bryan element will not have a chance to make much headway. Interesting developments along this line are looked for in the movement to reorganize the committee.

More than thirteen hundred delegates and as many alternates filled Tomlinson hall when the convention was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by W. H. O'Brien, chairman of the state committee. After the customary formalities had been disposed of, Mr. O'Brien handed the gavel to Benjamin F. Shively of South Bend, the permanent chairman of the convention. Mr. Shively's address was the principal feature of the forenoon. He spoke encouragingly of the Democratic outlook in Indiana and dealt at considerable length with the leading issues, especially state issues. When he had concluded, the convention appointed the usual committees on resolutions, nominations, etc., and a recess was taken until afternoon to permit the committees to prepare their reports.

The convention will nominate a full state ticket with the exception of governor and lieutenant governor, which offices are not to be filled this year. Candidates for the principal places have been agreed upon and not much difficulty is expected in making up the ticket. The resolutions will deal principally with state questions after devoting a paragraph or two to the indorsement of the Democratic attitude regarding the leading national issues.

ODD FELLOWS DEDICATE HALL

Shelbyville, Ind., June 7.—Special.—Past Grand Master Richard Hellywood and W. H. Leedy, grand secretary of Indianapolis, were among the prominent speakers today at the dedication of the new I. O. O. F. hall. The new hall is one of the finest owned by Odd Fellows anywhere in Indiana.

NEW PLAYS IN THE LIST

Wininger Brothers Open a Week's Engagement at the Peterson on Sunday Evening.

Patrons of the Peterson opera house are manifesting an unusual interest in the coming eight night engagement of Wininger Brothers Stock company commencing Sunday evening June 10. For the benefit of those desiring to know their representative now in the city made the following statement:

Wininger Bros. and their company will present an entire new repertoire of plays, with one exception only, "Clover Dale" a pastoral play, will positively be the only one played here on their visit two years ago, the others are all new, and not mere rehashes under new titles.

"A Texas Ranger," "Lights and Shadows of a Great City," "The Ways of Women," "The Village Counterfeiters," "The Darkest Hour," "Humburg," "Simple Simon" and "Taken from Life" are all new, none of them having been seen in Escanaba.

The vaudeville numbers including that funniest of all German comedians, Frank Wininger are changed each evening and are alone worth the price of admission. Seats will be on sale at Mead's Drug store Saturday morning June 9. A band concert will be given on Sunday evening.

REFORMED CHURCH HAS CENTENNIAL

New York, June 7.—Special.—The general synod of the Reformed Church in America, which is in annual session here, has arranged for a notable public meeting tonight in celebration of the synod's centennial. The meeting will be attended by fraternal delegates from the Reformed church in Holland and from other ecclesiastical bodies in this country. The principal speakers will be Rev. Dr. James I. Vance of Newark, representing the church in the East, and Rev. G. H. Dubbink, of Holland, Mich., who will speak for the church in the West.

While this is the 100th anniversary of the synod, it is the 278th of the church. Up to 1773 the church had been subject to the ecclesiastical authorities of Holland, but in that year the American Church was made independent and self-governing.

According to the annual report, the Reformed Church has upwards of 650 churches, and a total membership of about 120,000. The church has 100 missionaries in the foreign field and maintains three theological seminaries, two colleges and numerous preparatory schools.

The church, is strongest in and about Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York and in the Middle West. Gradually strong churches are growing up in Iowa and even farther west, while a missionary work of some extent is being carried on among the colored people in the South.

WOMEN CLOSE BIG CONVENTION

St. Paul, Minn., June 7.—Special.—As full of enthusiasm as they were at the opening a week ago the delegates to the biennial convention of club women rallied in the Armory this morning and began their concluding sessions. Household economics and pure food legislation were the chief topics of discussion during the day.

The final rally tonight has been arranged as a special tribute to the federation president, Mrs. Sarah S. Platt Decker of Denver. Greetings will be extended on behalf of the four sections of the country, the speakers including Mrs. William Douglas Turner of California, Miss Carolina M. Beaumont of Minnesota, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybaker of Texas and Mrs. Walter Stokes Irons of Rhode Island.

There's little room in this great world of ours for the "Fat Woman." She's a hindrance to herself in street cars, flats, elevators; but what can she do, poor thing—take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 25 cents. Tea or Tablets.—Hill Drug Co. both stores.

ALL NORWAY CELEBRATING

There were thanksgiving services in all churches, and the people enjoyed a general holiday. The nation is looking forward joyously to the crowning of King Haakon VII, which event takes place at Trondheim two weeks from tomorrow.

imens of the flowers are especially interesting. Landscape drawings and other feature work make up the exhibit for that department.

The Sixth grade exhibit has many attractive features including some excellent specimens in their natural colors of pansies, tulips, cowslips and other flowers. The landscape scenes shown in this exhibit are exceptionally good and will attract the interest of the visitors.

Special features will mark the Seventh grade exhibit including humorous subjects undertaken by pupils of that grade. "One specimen marked "Playing Hockey" is well drawn and would be a creditable piece of work for an older artist. Well drawn specimens of Japanese girls, animal charts, landscape scenes and flower reproductions are among the remaining features.

The eighth grade exhibit is interesting because it is elaborate and some of the best specimens of the exhibit are shown in this section. Some of the subjects treated by the lower grades are shown but with their more careful attention to detail, mark the work of older pupils.

The high school exhibit, which is arranged in the main corridor of the Franklin building and is made up of over 500 specimens is of course elaborate and several cards are displayed, which show the particular ability of the individual students. Five colors are used by the high school students in their art work and the results obtained are naturally more satisfactory. The entire high school exhibit is a great credit both to the students and to their instructor.

The work of moving the specimens of the work from the different buildings to the Franklin school was undertaken today and when the exhibit is opened tomorrow afternoon everything will be in readiness to receive the crowd of interested patrons of the schools.

FIERCE TORNADO SWEEP DISTRICT

Counties of Northern Wisconsin and Minnesota are Laid Waste by Great Storm.

St. Paul Minn., June 7.—Special.—One of the most destructive tornadoes in the history of this district swept parts of LaCrosse, Monroe and Vernon counties, Wis., and Houston county, Minn., early this morning, wrecking dozens of houses and barns, killing one person and injuring about twenty.

The principal fury of the tornado was centered in Wisconsin but the damage reported up to late this afternoon in Minnesota is great.

A 40 foot railroad bridge over Coon creek near Stoddard Wis., was blown away. The Daylight Limited, Burlington road fast train, from Chicago with 300 passengers, was saved by being a half hour late.

John Miller, a farmer stopped the train when it was within ten feet of the break in the track.
