TEN MEN BLOWN TO BITS IN POWDER EXPLOSION

Plant of Pluto Powder Company Near Ishpeming is Scene of Terrible Occurrence--Contents of Gelatin Powder House Let Go With Awful Results--Story.

In an explosion which occurred late Monday afternoon at the plant of the Pluto Powder company, about a mile south of Winthrop, near Ishpeming, ten men were killed and one injured. The dead are:

MICHAEL O'CONNOR, aged fifty; married.

ROBERT ASKEW, aged twenty-five; married.

EDWARD WOODWARD, aged nineteen.

GEORGE WOODWARD, aged seven.

THOMAS RIPPER, aged nineteen.

JOSEPH RIPPER, aged twenty.

CHARLES KEMP, aged nineteen.

JUSTIN JORDAN, aged twenty-seven.

GEORGE WALLBERG, aged about twenty.

ANDREW MATTSO, aged thirty-five.

The injured man is Fred Harris, a teamster, who was thrown to the ground by the force of the explosion. His injuries are not serious.

The Worst in U. P. History.

The explosion is said to have been the most deadly in the history of powder making in the upper peninsula. It occurred in the gelatin house. Every man in the structure was wiped out of existence and the bodies of most of them were blown into bits.

Three other employees escaped the awful fate of their comrades through being absent from the plant at the time the explosion occurred.

The property loss is comparatively trifling, compared with the terrible loss of life, amounting to probably $5,000. The gelatin powder house was a frame structure, thirty by sixty feet. Its equipment was simple, consisting of a bronze bowl, about three feet by eighteen in diameter, in which the constituents of the gelatin powder were mixed. They were stirred in this bowl by wooden paddles, by hand. When the stuff reached the proper consistency it was passed through a stick forming machine, something in the nature of a sausage machine, which molded it into sticks.

Composition of Gelatin Powder.

Gelatin powder is a comparatively new product at the works of the Pluto company. Its manufacture was started only last fall. Its constituent parts are nitro glycerine, gun cotton, flour, nitrate of soda and sulphur. It carries from 30 to 50 per cent of nitro

SOME FEATURES OF PYTHIAN REUNION

Escanaba Knights of Pythias Receive Circulars Giving Some Details of the Annual Reunion to Be Held at Menominee June 20 to 23--Big Time in Store.

Members of Escanaba lodge of the Knights of Pythias have received circulars giving details of the next annual convention of the Upper Peninsula Pythian League, which will be held at Menominee June 20 to 23. Elaborate arrangements for the convention and for the entertainment of visiting Pythians are already being made by the Menominee members of the order. Following are extracts from the circular received here:

"The upper peninsula teams will compete for the championship. A number of Wisconsin teams will compete for a special silver trophy. Amsten's Third Regiment band will render afternoon and evening concerts during the four days of the convention. A big picnic will be held at the John Henes park. Trolley and automobile rides have been arranged. Then there will be a grand parade and a carnival, also a Pythian ball. The Menominee lodge has made arrangements with the hotels to accommodate hundreds of visitors."

THE YANTIC MAY CRUISE TO CHICAGO

Water of Lake Michigan will be coursed by the Yantic in August, according to the opinion of a Hancock man, an officer of the ship.

It was thought at the round-up of last summer's cruise that the Great Lakes' squadron would maneuver in Lake Superior in 1911, but the official "dedication" of the new naval base north of Chicago may lead to a change in plans.

The general opinion of those in touch with Michigan naval reserve affairs is that ships will be detailed to Lake Michigan.

WILL NOT ATTEMPT TO OUST SENATOR STEPHENSON NOW

UNCLE IKE'S OPPONENTS IN WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE DECIDE TO WAIT UNTIL NEXT SESSION OF THE SENATE.

There Will Be More Radicals--Then--Result of Action in the Lorimer Case Will Also Have An Influence--Republicans Desire to Grab Credit.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 7.--The Wisconsin legislature will not hurry the passage of a resolution formally requesting the United States senate to investigate the election of Senator Isaac Stephenson.

The reasons are that it is now too late to expect that the federal senate would act on such a request before the end of the present session, March 4, and that the senate of the new session, beginning next December, will probably be more likely to take favorable action on the request because it will have a larger number of radical senators. It could not be considered at an extra session, should one be held, unless mentioned, in the call.

It is also desired to await the result of the Lorimer case before the Stephenson charges are presented, as the action on the former may have some bearing on the latter. It is planned to adopt a substitute for the Hastings resolution, asking for a federal probe, which will be carefully drafted and presented by one of the Republican leaders, thus giving the Republicans instead of the Democrats, the credit of starting and prosecuting the case.

The plan to defer action on the request for an investigation was decided on at a conference of some of the anti-Stephenson leaders of the legislature, and Senator La Follette here last week, when the senator was here for his reelection.

DID AMERICANS FIRE ON AMERICAN UNDER RED CROSS FLAG?

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 7.--The report that Mexican federal troops fired upon an American under the Red Cross flag during the engagement near Juarez Sunday, will be investigated by American Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City, who has received his instructions from the state department.

PLANNING FOR FIRE STATION

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS WILL SUBMIT A PROPOSITION TO THE COMMON COUNCIL THURSDAY EVENING.

USE FUNDS OF THE LIGHT PLANT

At a meeting of the board of public works held this afternoon it was decided to submit to the common council a proposition which, if accepted by the latter body, will result in North Escanaba being provided with a fire station. The proposition is set forth in the following communication addressed to the council and which will be presented to that body at its meeting next Thursday evening:

Gentlemen: We, the undersigned, comprising the board of public works, wish to offer the following proposition in view of the fact that the bonding proposition for the $15,000 fire engine station in the Seventh ward, North Escanaba, was defeated at the polls in the election held on the sixth instant.

Realizing, as we do, the necessity of better fire protection for that portion of the city in which the proposed building was to have been erected and equipped and knowing also that the reason for said bonding proposition to have been defeated was because of the fact that most of the taxpayers considered the amount entirely too great.

Therefore, we make this proposition: We propose to transfer to the general fund $6,000 of the surplus funds of the lighting plant to be used for the building of the fire station in North Escanaba. We make this proposition with the proviso that the equipment now installed in hose house number two be removed to the proposed new fire station.

In getting the consensus of opinion of the people of the city we find it almost unanimous that they think that it was wholly unnecessary to spend so much money for the building and equipment of one fire station.

It is the opinion of practically every one interviewed that two fire stations suitably located will give ample fire protection to all parts of the city; also that the fire station at Mary street will give as good protection to the east end of the city as is given to the rest of the city.

We feel that we are justified in making this proposition at this time owing to the fact that the proposed gas plant which was to have been built in the city is deferred for a time. By using this money for the purpose of building the proposed fire station, you will obviate the necessity of taxing the people for the same. Respectfully submitted.

WELCOME NEWS TO NEGAUNEE FANS

Negaunee correspondence Marquette Mining Journal: The announcement of yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal to the effect that Escanaba will in all likelihood enter into a playing arrangement with the Negaunee, Ishpeming and Marquette teams the coming season was welcome news to the baseball enthusiasts here. They conceded that with Escanaba in the league the series would be warmly contested, as the Escanaba team would be a strong drawing card in the cities of Marquette county.

LULL IN MEXICAN HOSTILITIES TODAY

(By Associated Press.)

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 7.--Everything was quiet here and at Juarez throughout the night and today. Rumors that an attempt had been made to pass machine guns and ammunition across the border for the insurgents were current, but could not be confirmed.

It was learned definitely today that General Orozco is at Rancheria, about fifteen miles south of Juarez, with his entire command. Whether he is still menacing the city or is preparing to meet General Navarro, who is advancing from Gallego at the head of 700 men, is a matter of conjecture.

CITY WILL HAVE NO NEW CHARTER OR FIRE STATION

Citizens at Special Election Vote to Reject Revised Charter and Refuse to Sanction Issue of $15,000 Bonds to Build and Equip Fire Station--The Vote.

COMPANY HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Directors for the Ensuing Year are Chosen by the Escanaba Dealers' Credit and Delivery Company--Report Shows Company in Fine Financial Condition--Details.

Monday evening the Escanaba Dealers' Credit and Delivery company held its first annual meeting and transacted a considerable amount of important business. One of the principal features was the election of directors for the ensuing year, those chosen being as follows:

E. M. St. Jacques, Charles Ehnerd, John A. Stromberg, S. W. Brennan and William Breitenbach. These directors at their next meeting will elect the company's officers for the coming year.

Superintendent T. J. Byrne submitted a report to the stockholders and it was of a nature to surprise even those who were the most sanguine over the success of establishing a central delivery system in Escanaba. Mr. Byrne's report showed that the financial affairs of the company are in a most satisfactory condition, that they are being conducted at a distinct gain in betterment of service and with good profits to the stockholders.

Tentative plans for holding the company's annual banquet on the evening of February 24 were discussed and a committee was appointed to attend to the arrangements for the event. It is understood that not only the members of the company but all butchers and grocers in the city will be privileged to attend the banquet.

"MISS NOBODY" NOT COMING FEB. 26

Manager P. M. Peterson received notice today from the management of "Miss Nobody from Starland" that it would be necessary to cancel the booking of that attraction here on the evening of February 26. The attraction may be played here later in the season, Mr. Peterson states.

Escanaba will continue to plug along under its old charter and to do without a fire station in the Seventh ward--for a time, at least.

At Monday's special election the question of adopting the charter as revised by a charter commission was turned down by a vote of more than four to one, the exact vote being 106 in favor of adoption and 488 against, a majority of 382 in the negative.

More Equal on Bonds.

On the proposition to issue $15,000 bonds for the construction and equipment of a new fire station in North Escanaba the vote was more equally divided, but the proposition did not even get a majority, whereas a two-thirds affirmative vote would be necessary to carry it. The total vote on this question was 598, of which number 265 were in favor of issuing the bonds and 333 against, making an adverse majority of 68 against.

Vote is Very Light.

The vote cast was exceedingly light, but it is doubtful in view of its character if a full vote would have changed the results. In any event it is settled that Escanaba shall have no new charter at this time and that some plan must be devised to give North Escanaba the protection against fire which it needs and should have.

Following is the complete returns of the vote by wards on both propositions:

The City Charter.
	Yes. No.
First ward	11 51
Second ward	13 54
Third ward	18 56
Fourth ward	19 77
Fifth ward	20 119
Sixth ward	12 79
Seventh ward	15 52
Total	106 488

Fire Station Bonds.
	Yes. No.
First ward	26 37
Second ward	27 40
Third ward	35 39
Fourth ward	35 61
Fifth ward	56 84
Sixth ward	25 66
Seventh ward	61 6
Total	265 333

Considerable interest is being taken in the forthcoming productions of the Alpha Dramatic club in Peterson's opera house next Thursday and Friday evenings. Reserved seats will go on sale at Mead's drug store tomorrow.

CONTESTANTS FOR FREE TRIPS ARE HUSTLING NOW

Candidates Preparing to Get Down to Hard Work, and Race Will Be Interesting Until Its Close on March 4—Some Pointers to Vote Seekers.

Contestants, in mailing either subscriptions or clipped coupons should be careful to see that they contain enough postage, as by so doing a great deal of annoyance and inconvenience will be saved both contestants and The Mirror. One young lady mailed a subscription and a number of "angles," but failed to affix the proper amount of postage, and consequently she worried and wondered WHY her votes did not appear in last night's paper, while the envelope containing them was held up by Uncle Sam for insufficient postage. So please be careful girls, and attend to this detail carefully.

Many Surprises in Store.
All the candidates for the great trip are hustling and many surprises are in store for the contestants. Do not be caught napping. We know of two or three young ladies whose published vote is comparatively small, but who are working every minute and letting no opportunity escape them. They will be heard from shortly and in no uncertain way. So keep on the move, gather the corn before the storm. Don't be satisfied to know that your friends have PROMISED you their subscriptions, get busy and turn those promises into cash. If you delay, you may find, when you really need the votes that Mr. Smith or Mr. Brown, or may be both of them, are out of town, or ill, or too busy to give it attention. Yesterday is gone and tomorrow may never come; we are sure only today.

Use Every Method Possible.
Not a day passes but that a number of people come into The Mirror office either to renew an old subscription or to take a new one. There is no reason why all the votes on these should not go to one or another of the candidates, except that they don't ask for them and instead, hide their light under a bushel, and suddenly surprise their friends by announcing that they are in the race. Then both the contestant and the subscriber are sorry that the latter didn't know it before. But being sorry "don't get anything" for anybody. So the only way to do is to make sure, absolutely sure, that every relative, friend and acquaintance, past, present or future, knows and believes that you are bound to win and mean to use every possible endeavor to do so.

Use the mail, the telephone, your pen, your typewriter, your voice, the contest manager and every other means at your command. Use these weapons every hour of every day and you can not help but win.

exactly the same position, waiting to be asked. The first young lady acquaintance of their who asks will have anywhere from one thousand to five thousand more votes to her credit. Even your very best friends are not going to come running to you. You must at least show your earnestness by applying for their support. When you have done that and they know you really mean to go to New York and to Bermuda, not only will you get their votes, but they will in turn work for you. They will tell their friends that they are working for your account, and in that way will get you many thousand votes from people, many of whom you don't even now know.

JULIA MARLOWE, WHOM INGERSOLL PRAISED.

THE late Robert G. Ingersoll, who adored beauty and talent wherever found, was a most enthusiastic admirer of Miss Julia Marlowe. Colonel Ingersoll took occasion to go somewhat out of his way to praise the talent of Miss Marlowe. Just now this actress is starring in Shakespearean roles, for which the world public should thank her devoutly, for there is a surplus of frothiness and foolishness on the stage and mighty little of the classic drama of the Bard of Avon. E. H. Sothorn, at present the chief male exponent of Shakespearean drama, is teammate with Miss Marlowe. The charming and able actress is forty years of age—sh-b-b-h! don't breathe it loudly—but all the same she looks like a bewitching beauty of twenty. Suppose that she were billed as Sarah Frost or as Sadie Frost—would it sound as well as Julia Marlowe? Perhaps not, but her real name is Sarah Frances Frost. Didn't know that, did you? She is accounted an American actress. Well, she is, but she was born in England all the same. Her parents brought her, a tender child, to Kansas, where she lived some years. She began acting under the name of Frances Brough, but later adopted the Marlowe surname. Christopher Marlowe, the Kit Marlowe of roistering days in the early Elizabethan period, was the father of English blank verse. Kit was run through with a knife and killed when he was about thirty, but Julia Marlowe has adopted his name.

What Fashion Does

"Make it strong!" ordered the young woman who had dropped in just at tea-time. "In my present condition I need strengthening."
"You don't look particularly fragile," scoffed the hostess. "What's the trouble?"
"Hats!" said the visitor sepulchrally. "There really isn't any use of saying any more than that one word, but I am so filled with emotion that I've got to get it out of my system. For the last two years every time I've gone to buy a hat I've had to be resuscitated with kind words and the assurance that 'they never can be worse than they are now, so hope on!' But at last I've given up hope.
"I fully expect that some day when I go to buy a hat the lovely golden-haired salesperson will trot out a baby grand piano with its insides excavated and a fringe of tin cans around the edge and laughingly tell me it's the 'vur-ry latest style.' That's about the only thing they haven't sold us in the guise of headgear! We've worn cartwheels and peach baskets and bushel baskets and pancakes on our beighted heads and we're pretty well trained and humble and all that—but today almost finished me!
"You see, if you can get used to this winter's hats gradually the shock isn't so bad, but when they burst upon you in one overwhelming explosion with no warning it may be almost fatal.
"All summer and fall I've been over in a Michigan summer resort, where we didn't wear hats at all. You rather forget that there are such things, together with trolley cars and city noises. I saw pictures of hats in the newspaper advertisements, but somehow they didn't seem real—they were merely bad dreams." But today, when I really tackled the question, I woke up with a bump! Why, the things are real! They actually do exist!
"I wandered around one hat department and my spirits kept getting lower and lower. I don't know when I've felt so sad—not since my French poodle choked to death on a chicken bone! When the polite clerks asked me mechanically if I was waited on I just waved them away speechlessly. It was all I could do to bear up under the strain without bursting into bitter tears. Most of the hats were just like sections of overgrown stovepipes and apparently were designed to cover you up completely to your neck. Of course this saves a lot of time in dressing the hair, because any coiffure is completely ruined and smashed by putting on the things. All over the department I could see distracted customers with their locks streaming wild and free, just like inmates of a lunatic asylum. These people looked as though their heads had been sat on and without exception their faces indicated that they had just heard bad news from home.

"Would you like to try it on?" a clerk murmured at my elbow.
"I was holding in my hand a wad of gloomy velvet with a frizzled rosebud attached to one edge. It appealed to me as a daring and dubious undertaking, so I got under the hat. The effect would have moved a heart of stone, but that woman never winked an eyelash. She even went the length of saying it was 'chawming!' Then she caught my accusing eye and hastened to hedge.
"You know," she said soothingly, "that you aren't expected to have any hair this season. You are allowed only one eye and part of a nose. At least, that is all that is visible after your hat is clamped on. Really, when you get used to it, it isn't so bad!"
"I reminded her sternly that they say one can get used to hanging in time. From that hat we went from bad to worse. At the tenth I murmured to the clerk: "Do I look like that in this?"
"She glanced over at the customer whom I indicated. The customer had just put on an extingisher with gold braid and a dewdial. It hid her head clear below her ear on one side and on the other the brim extended until it trailed on her shoulder and you could see just the tip of her nose outside it.
"That?" asked the clerk, evidently taking my tone for one of envious awe. "Oh, my, yes! Only more so!"
"Then take this away," I told her, violently, "because I have relatives with family pride and they are capable of walling me up alive in the cellar to hide their disgrace if I go home looking like that!"
"But you've got to be in style!" she remonstrated. "There's no use buying a new hat that looks like three years back, and, besides, there aren't any in stock but this kind! So what are you going to do? You can't help yourself!"
"Even so," I told her. "Oh, I'll buy a section of stovepipe eventually, but first I want to call on all my friends so they may remember my face as it once was. After I put on one of those things they won't be able to tell whether it is I or my worst enemy."
"She seemed quite indignant and pitying, and said, "Vur-ry well!" in a pained voice. Then I tottered away, bewailing the fact that I am a woman and can't go in and buy a modest, respectable-looking derby hat and keep the respect of my fellow men!"
"If you feel better now," said the hostess, "I'll show you my new hat! It's worse than anything you've described, and I am wildly in love with it!"

GAVEL TO BE MADE OF HISTORIC WOOD.

John Quincy Adams, sixth president of the United States, is credited with planting an American elm in the White house grounds during his presidency. A piece of one of the branches of this elm has been furnished to the executive committee of the Southern Commercial Congress by Col. Spencer Cosby, U. S. A., in charge of public buildings and grounds. From this fragment of an historic tree will be made the handle of the gavel to be used by the chairman of the Southern Commercial Congress at its meeting in Atlanta, March 8, 9 and 10.

The head of the gavel will be made up of sixteen pieces of wood, each piece representing the forest wealth of one of the sixteen southern states, united in the work of the Southern Commercial congress. These contributions of wood have come in every case from the commissioner of agriculture of each state, and are duly attested. North Carolina made the first contribution, sending long leaf pine as her representative wood. Georgia, Texas and South Carolina have also contributed long leaf pine. Kentucky and West Virginia have sent oak; Maryland, chestnut; Alabama, persimmon; Mississippi, magnolia, etc.

The contribution of wood from the White house is significant, for it will unite the southern states, the national capital and the memory of the great New England president in a gavel whose raps are expected to lead to a new union of the south along business lines for the purpose of building a greater nation through a greater south.

WHY ADVERTISING APPEALS.

If one is in doubt about the power of advertising over the public mind, let him watch a train load of people when the newsboy brings in an armful of magazines. Two-thirds of them will look over the advertising before they bother about either stories, politics or travel.

Why? Because the advertising deals with the things that come closest to them, telling about food, clothes, houses, furnishings, and how to get these things at the lowest possible cost. No other motive is so intimate.

The ordinary merchant has much to learn from magazine advertising. If he wants to make his newspaper space pay, let him study the terse methods of the magazine specialists. They waste no valuable space on verbiage.

They plunge right into the midst of their subject. In a few words they give the heart of the reason for their goods, in terms of prices, styles, durability. An advertisement written for any business proposition on this basis will sell goods.

The Democrats still prefer Tariff Plum to Tairiff Facts, as shown by their vote against the tariff commission.

In view of the dynamite accident at New York, teamsters should learn that this explosive and baled hay should be treated differently.

Mr. Taft has cancelled part of his southern trip. He'll get all the traveling he wants walking over to the capitol to see if congressmen have recovered from the sleeping sickness.

Wellesley college girls vote two to one against woman suffrage. They would rather have husbands of their own to rule the state.

Sleeping car berths are lower, but it still costs five cents a whisk to make the porter's straw broom move on.

If elections are to be bought as they have been in Illinois and Ohio, why not advertise for proposals for the right to hold office, and sell to the highest bidder, saving the people the cost of elections?

Although the price of salt has been reduced 30 cents a ton, the salt of the earth are just as scarce as ever.

President Taft found that Socialist Editor Warren was having too much fun in jail as a martyr, so he decided to make him return to the unromantic realities of life as a newspaper worker.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

BY WALDO PONDRAY WARREN

HIDDEN STRENGTH

IT is a great day in a man's life when he truly begins to discover himself. The latent capacities of every man are greater than he realizes, and he may find them if he diligently seeks for them. A man may own a tract of land many years without knowing its value. He may think of it as a pasture. But one day he discovers evidences of coal and finds a rich vein beneath his land. While mining and prospecting for coal he discovers deposits of granite. In boring for water he strikes oil. Later he discovers a vein of copper ore, and after that silver and gold. All these things were there all the time—even when he thought of his land merely as a pasture. But they have a value only when they are discovered and utilized.

Not every pasture contains deposits of silver and gold, neither oil nor granite, nor even coal. But beneath the surface of every man there must be, in the nature of things, a latent capacity greater than has yet been discovered. And one discovery must lead to another until the man finds the deepest wealth of his own possibilities. History is full of the records of the acts of men who discovered somewhat of their own capacity; but history has yet to record the man who fully discovered all he might have been.

WISCONSIN MAY HAVE PRISON ON AN ISLAND

Move Reported to Have Been Made to Establish Penitentiary on Washington Island.

There are hundreds of people in Escanaba and other places in this section who will be keenly interested in a report that a bill is to be introduced in the Wisconsin legislature providing for the purchase of Washington Island for the purpose of locating the Wisconsin state prison and a farm there. Although there is nothing to show that the proposition is one that will receive serious consideration, there is sufficient to cause alarm to those who would seriously object to having the beautiful island and summer resort converted to any such purpose. The story of the matter is given as follows by the Sturgeon Bay Democrat in its current issue:

"We people in this section are brought to face a rather startling proposition—that of a move to establish a state prison and prison farm on Washington Island, this county, which means that the state, according to provisions of the bill, would buy and take over the big and prosperous island at our extreme north for this purpose. This is according to dispatches in the daily papers that bills are being drawn for a complete change in the method of the handling of prisoners confined in the Wisconsin penitentiary and which will mean the construction of another prison in the state as well as the maintenance of a very large prison farm.

Economy to the State.
 "The bill will contemplate the purchase by the state of the entire Washington Island located in the extreme north of the Door county peninsula, which comprises 14,000 acres and the establishment there of an immense state farm as well as orchards which it is intended shall be cared for by the prisoners. It is admitted the purchase of Washington Island will cost in the neighborhood of $750,000 there being at this time some 1,000 settlers located on the island. There are also a large number of summer resorts on the island, which of course enhance the value of the property.

"It is admitted that the purchase of the island will entail the expenditure of a large sum of money, but the legislators who are interested in the project declare that in the end it will prove an economy to the state as offering the most feasible plan for the settlement of prison labor question in Wisconsin.

"The island comprises something over 14,000 acres, most of which is suitable for use as farming or orchard land and that there are also facilities on the island for stone quarrying.

"It is declared this plan for the purchase of Washington Island has been under consideration by men giving their attention to prison labor problems for some time.

The Present Situation.
 "Although the bills come in for the purchase at this session of the legislature it is likely that no more will be done in the matter at the session of 1911 than to pass a resolution for the creation of a commission at this time to investigate the question of the purchase of the island and report to the next legislature.

"Still, it may be that as the present contracts for the Waupun labor expire in 1914 the legislature will consider the question of sufficient import to have the purchase pressed at this session of the legislature.

"The contract now in force for the prison labor at Waupun expires in 1914, and it seems generally taken for granted that it will be renewed. The bills now to be introduced will provide that the present penitentiary at Waupun be used only for a certain class of prisoners, some to be used in the binding twine plant and others in garment working shops to make garments for the prison and other state institutions, and that the others be transferred to the prison to be established on Washington Island, where it is proposed to establish a prison farm."

Would Mean Long Battle.
 Commenting editorially on the foregoing report, the Sturgeon Bay Democrat says:

"If there is any truth in the report that the state is to take steps to acquire Washington Island for the purpose of establishing a large state prison, the prisoners of which would work and care for large state farms and orchards, the idea certainly would not meet with the approval of the people of Door county, and it would take a long drawn out legal battle to make the settlers and summer resort property owners of the island surrender their possessions.

"The Democrat does not believe that such a move will ever be carried out, but if it should materialize every effort should be made to prevent it. Washington Island is rapidly developing into one of the most popular summer resort spots in the northwest, and its natural scenery cannot be surpassed anywhere. Besides its natural beauty, it is one of the richest agricultural spots in the county, and has a thousand or more settlers.

"To turn this natural beauty spot and rich agricultural section into a great island bastille for the state would seem absurd."

(Special to The Mirror)..... Secretary of the Nineteenth National Congress Establishes Executive Offices at the Hotel La Salle, Chicago—Will Begin Campaign Within 30 Days.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 7.—Arthur Hooker, secretary of the 19th National Irrigation congress, which will have its next sessions in Chicago, December 5 to 9, has established executive offices at 214 Hotel La Salle, where the organization will make its headquarters until after the close of the convention.

"The preliminary work for the coming congress is well under way," said Secretary Hooker, "and we expect to begin our campaign for foreign delegates within 30 days. Dr. E. McQueen Gray of Albuquerque, N. M., the foreign secretary of our organization who has been in correspondence with many representatives during the last three or four years, is hopeful that the foreign delegations in Chicago next December will be larger than ever before.

"The board of governors of the congress, headed by R. Insinger of Spokane, Wash., is actively at work, and with the assistance given by the Chicago board of control and our members the coming convention should be of vital interest and influence."

DRINKING BOUT FATAL TO BOTH CONTESTANTS

Mayville, Wis., Feb. 7.—Two Serbian laborers are dead here as the result of a wager to see who could drink the most whisky. The victims are Georgius Pilpowitch and Steve Rodich. The former after swallowing four large glasses full, sank to the floor in a swoon. His friend ridiculed him, but the next moment fell beside Pilpowitch, a corpse. Each man, it is said, drank about one quart of the firewater. They were known as hard workers who sent the greater portion of their wages to their families in Serbia.

RESULTS OF FOOD

Health and Natural Conditions Come from Right Feeding.

Man, physically, should be like a perfectly regulated machine, each part working easily in its appropriate place. A slight derangement causes undue friction and wear, and frequently ruins the entire system.

A well-known educator of Boston found a way to keep the brain and the body in that harmonious co-operation which makes a joy of living.

"Two years ago," she writes, "being in a condition of nervous exhaustion, I resigned my position as teacher, which I had held for over 40 years. Since then the entire rest has, of course, been a benefit, but the use of Grape-Nuts has removed one great cause of illness in the past, namely, constipation, and its attendant evils.

"I generally make my entire breakfast of raw egg beaten into four spoonfuls of Grape-Nuts, with a little hot milk or hot water added. I like it extremely, my food assimilates, and my bowels take care of themselves. I find my brain power and physical endurance much greater and I know that the use of the Grape-Nuts has contributed largely to this result.

"It is with feelings of gratitude that I write this testimonial, and trust it may be the means of aiding others in their search for health." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

TWO MICHIGAN GIRLS WINS HIGHEST HONORS

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 7.—Miss Edessa Warner, the daughter of former Gov. Warner of Michigan, has been chosen as a member of the student council of LaSalle seminary. To be elected as a member of the student council is one of the highest honors that can be won by an undergraduate at the school.

Miss Warner was chosen as one of the four girls representing the special students in the school, and was chosen on account of her ability. The object of the student council is to bring the members of the faculty in closer touch with the undergraduate.

Miss Helen Sayre of Flushing, Mich., has also been chosen a member of the council.

ONE NATURAL Cotton .. Boll

Free To Every Lady Visitor

White Goods Sale

Saturday, February 11

In presenting our customers with a souvenir of our Cotton and White Goods Sale, we feel we could give them nothing more interesting than a boll of natural cotton, for there is certainly no commercial plant so pretty. It might well be called "The Commercial Rose," for there is no garden more beautiful than a snow-white cotton field. And again, no plant has been so prominently connected with history, song and romance as cotton of the South.

Cotton is an interesting growth of nature, from an early spring when the seed are planted (it is planted every year) on through its growth and cultivation. When it first comes up it is a delicate plant, but with the proper cultivation it is soon quite large, well branched out and by about the first of July it begins to bloom or blossom. Now these blossoms are not the cotton bolls, but the blossoms that form the bolls, same as the apple blossom forms the apple. These blossoms drop off about the third day after they bloom, leaving a tiny pod, or boll, as we call it. This boll grows for about two months until it is near the size of a walnut. It is then ripe and bursts open, turning the lint out as you see it in the boll we are going to present to you. It is then ready to pick. Pickers pull the lint out of the burs, leaving them on the stalks. This cotton, as it is picked, the seed being in it, is known as seed cotton. The seeds are separated from the lint by the cotton gin. The lint is packed into bales of about 500 pounds and shipped to factories for making all kinds of cotton goods. The seed are used for planting the next spring, and also for making cotton seed oil, meal, etc.

It might be of interest to some of our customers to pull the seed out of the boll that we are going to give them and plant them, and by the use of a hot house late in the season, they might grow cotton here; anyway they could see the young plant while it was growing.

STEAM LOG HAULER USED WITH SUCCESS

The Harmon Lumber company, owner of a large manufacturing plant at Foster City, is employing about one hundred and fifty men in logging operations in the northern part of Dickinson county this winter. Two camps are operated. The input of timber is not as large as usual, due to the fact that the company had 2,000,000 feet of logs in stock at the close of the logging season. However, it is expected to bank 6,000,000 feet of logs, 100,000 cedar posts and 5,000 ties. In addition to the foregoing the company will cut 50,000 ties for the Chicago & Northwestern road. The Harmon company employs a steam log hauler with great success in its operations. This hauler has sufficient power to haul from fifteen to twenty sleigh loads of logs scaling from 30,000 to 40,000 feet at each trip. Two round trips are made daily from the camps to the mill and the hauler is doing the work of more than a hundred horses.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

WILL TEACH JAPS BASEBALL

Manager McGraw of New York Giants Sees Much Promise for Our National Game in Japan. Not satisfied with developing some of the best baseball players in the United States, John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, is going to act as tutor to the Japanese nation in the great Yankee game. Togo S. Hamamoto of Tokyo has applied for the position of baseball apostle to his countrymen and McGraw plans to do all in his power to spread the gospel of the game in foreign lands. Hamamoto, who has the backing of a number of influential citizens of Tokyo, will go to Marlin Springs with the Giants when they start training, and will devote his time to mastering the game. His backers plan to develop professional baseball in their own country as a great popular sport. With their characteristic enterprise, when desiring to learn something from the western nations, they decided to send a delegate to America to study the game and bring back the best of American methods and training. As a matter of fact the Japanese have been playing a sort of indifferent baseball for several years, but the game has not been brought to a high stage of development. Several of the college teams of this country have made excursions over there, among these being the trip of the University of Chicago nine last fall. While the Japanese do not play much of a game as yet, they are said to be alert and quick. Their speed makes them promising material and Manager McGraw is Muggsy McGraw, prophesying that some day a real world's championship will be played with the United States and Japan as rivals. Association Boils Circuit. Because the dates allotted to it are not satisfactory, the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association will not enter the grand circuit and will remain independent.

GOSSIP OF SPORTDOM

Baseball critics already have begun to pick the winners for 1911. Gotch, Mahmout, Hackenschmidt and Zbyszko have gone to the mat in a deadlock. The Boston National league moguls met and decided to let Fred Tenney run the team. Patsy Donovan, manager of the Boston Red Sox, says he wants to drill his team for speed. The richest wrestlers in the world are said to be Gotch, Hackenschmidt, Roller and Zbyszko. Brooklyn fight fans are hilarious about Joe Coster, who, they think, had something on Abe Attel recently. "Gabby" Street in eight years has caught in 860 games—a record equalled by no other major league backstop. Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight pug champion, says he would rather meet Packey McFarland for his next opponent. Eddie Hahn, who topped the Chicago City league with a batting average of .375 last year, batted only .182 for the White Sox in 1909. "Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently."—Hon. John R. Garret, Mayor, Girard, Ala. Their speed makes them promising material and Manager McGraw is

THEATRICAL

THE GRAND—Probably the best balanced bill of the season is the one that is on the boards at the Grand this week. Balsden, the comedy bicyclist, is perhaps the best trick bicycle rider that has ever been in Escanaba. Some of his tricks almost seem impossible. He is very graceful and the only criticism that can reasonably be offered is the manner in which he costumes his act. He is a wonder on a bicycle and no one should miss seeing him. Burnson & Taylor produce a little sketch that is pleasing and quite a departure from the usual vaudeville specialty. Mr. Burnson is a clever young comedian with a pleasant personality and Miss Taylor, the other member of the team wins the audience from the start. She is probably the smallest woman that has appeared at the Grand since that playhouse was opened.

The price of admission to the Grand is only ten cents and you get a whole lot for your money. Before the Grand was built there was a great demand for a new modern and up-to-date vaudeville house. We have that now in the Grand and it is up to Escanabans to patronize it freely.

Your Ideal. Do the right and your ideal of it grows and perfects itself. Do the wrong and your ideal of it breaks up and vanishes.—Martineau.

What Sobered Him. "You look sober. Did father refuse his consent to our marriage?" "No, he gave his consent all right, but told me not to come to him with any of my future troubles."

Fingers and Forks. "You must not use your fingers, dear. A fork will do instead." Mamma looked down upon her son and gravely shook her head. "It is not nice for little boys. To use their hands that way. I'm sure, to hold a knife and fork. You learned the other day."

"But why?" asked Jacky, little rogue. His eyes aglow with fun. He glanced from mother's earnest face to breakfast just begun. "I'm sure in everybody's mouth this silver fork you've seen. My fingers only go in mine. And they are nice and clean."

FEW WEDDINGS IN MONTH OF JANUARY

Marriage Appears Not to Have Been Popular in Delta County During First Month of the Year—But Thirteen Matrimonial Licenses Taken Out in January.

It has been the history of Delta county that January is generally a marrying month, but this year's January has put a dent in the record. Of course the records of every January for years past are not available, but about indulging in a lot of hard work at the county clerk's office, but the record for the past three years show that this year's January has been somewhat lacking in romance. The appalling truth is that there were only 13 wedding licenses issued during that month, whereas in the same month of 1909 there were 21 licenses taken out and in 1908 there were 18.

Thus the weddings in the county in January of this year were eight less in number than in January of last year and five fewer than in January, 1908.

There is no accounting for the material slump during the January just closed. At least The Mirror will not attempt to account for it.

POOR AUSTRIAN IN PITIABLE PLIGHT

Martin Malkociek, an Austrian laborer from Hermansville, was found wandering about Gladstone early Monday morning with his hands and feet in a quite badly frozen condition. He is now being cared for at the Delta County hospital. Malkociek walked from Escanaba to Gladstone Sunday evening, expecting to find shelter for the night with a friend. He was unable to locate his friend, however, and as he had no money and no place to go he walked the streets until morning, when he was found in the condition described by a police officer and given immediate care.

CHILDREN TO BE WELL CARED FOR

Disposition has finally been made of two cases of neglected children which were brought before Juvenile Judge Yelland last week. County Agent G. F. McEwen has found a home for one of the children, a girl of ten years, with a family in Menominee county, and the other child, a boy twelve years old, will be taken to the state public school at Coldwater. Mr. McEwen will leave this evening to place the children in their respective future homes.

SUPERVISORS MEET AT LANSING TODAY

Important matters of legislation will be considered by the State Association of Supervisors, which began holding sessions in Lansing today and will not conclude its business until Thursday. Representing, as it does, 1,600 assessing officers in Michigan, the association hopes to accomplish a great deal worth while. The Delta county board of supervisors is not represented at the meeting this year.

CITY COUNCIL WILL NOT MEET TONIGHT

Owing to the fact that the common council is obliged to meet next Thursday evening to canvass the vote cast at Monday's special election, the regular meeting of that body which was scheduled for this evening will be adjourned until Thursday evening, when the votes will be canvassed and all other business on the card for the regular meeting will be transacted.

WHY MOLLY WAS BELATED.

Molly was such a little girl that she didn't seem big enough to have a party all her own with truly ice cream in it. But she had asked for one so many times that at last mother decided to give her one. And the party was to be a surprise to Molly herself.

Early that afternoon Molly wanted to go for a little visit to Miss Eleanor. Miss Eleanor lived up Molly's street, in a white house with apple green blinds. Molly often went all alone.

Miss Eleanor was always so sunny and full of songs and stories and games that Molly loved her next best to father and mother and baby.

"You may go, dear," said mother, "if you will come home exactly at 3 o'clock."

"You always say exactly 3 o'clock, mother," said Molly.

"Well, five minutes after 3, then," laughed mother. "And, Molly, so that

"THREE MINUTES AFTER 5," SAID MOLLY, you won't forget this time, all the way to Miss Eleanor's say over and over, 'Five minutes after 3.' Then just as soon as you get there say the words quickly to Miss Eleanor, 'Five minutes after 3.'"

"Five minutes after 3," said Molly; "I can remember that."

"That will give me plenty of time to get ready for the party," thought mother.

Up the street with her white parasol flew Molly. "Five minutes after 3," she said over and over in a whisper until she began to sing it. "Five minutes after 3," she sang until she stopped a moment on the bridge to see some boys fishing. Just about there a big dog that was a friend of Molly's ran out to say, "Good afternoon."

"Oh, Fritz," cried Molly, "I'm going to Miss Eleanor's to make her a visit. Want to come?"

But Fritz had the house to look after. So Molly gave him a hug and ran along.

"Three minutes after 5," sang Molly—"three minutes after 5," over and over until she ran into Miss Eleanor's sunny little sitting room.

"Three minutes after 5," cried Molly—"that's how long I can stay. Won't that be nice?"

"Why, it's little Molly!" cried Miss Eleanor. "I'm all alone and so glad to have company! We'll hear the clock strike 5. Then, if you put on your wraps, you'll be all ready to start home at three minutes past."

It seemed a very, very short time to Molly before the little clock struck 5.

"There, dear," said Miss Eleanor; "put on your things and hurry right along."

Molly put on her hat and coat. Then she kissed Miss Eleanor and hurried down the street.

When she reached the corner she saw that the parlor at home was all lighted. And out of it came such a hubbub of little voices, all laughing and talking, that Molly ran faster than ever.

At the door she met mother. "Oh, Molly, where have you been?" cried mother. "I couldn't go after you because I couldn't leave baby. And I couldn't take him."

Molly scarcely heard. "Oh, mother, mother," she cried, "it looks like a party, and it sounds like one. Is it a party, mother?"

"Yes," said mother, "your own little party, Molly. And you're the only one who is late. How could you forget?"

"But I didn't forget, mother," cried Molly, hurrying out of her coat, "truly I didn't. Every step of the way I said it, and I said it to Miss Eleanor the very first thing."

"What did you say?" asked mother. "Three minutes after 5," said Molly. Mother laughed. "Why, Molly, dear, you got the hour and minutes turned around. I said five minutes after 3. Well, never mind. Run along just as you are. It's a lovely party, dear, with truly ice cream in it."—St. Nicholas.

REQUIEM HIGH MASS FOR FR. ETHELBERT

In respect to the memory of the late Rev. Father Ethelbert, formerly assistant pastor of St. Joseph's church in this city, a requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Anne's church Monday forenoon. Rev. Father Menard was celebrant of the mass, his assistants being Rev. Fathers Julius and Herbert of St. Joseph's church. Other priests in the sanctuary were Rev. Fathers Blin, Sauriol and Laforest, the last named being from Perkins. There was quite a large attendance at the mass, those present including many from the congregation of St. Joseph's church.

FLOWERS POPULAR FOR VALENTINES

One week from today will be St. Valentine's day and a number of Escanaba stores are making prominent display of the distinctive souvenirs of the annual occasion. This year's designs for valentines embody some new ideas and many of them are strikingly beautiful. According to florists, flowers are becoming increasingly popular for valentine gifts. Violets appear to be the favorite in Escanaba.

TWO FAMILIES LOSE THEIR ALL IN FIRE

Last Sunday night two families were burned out in Bay de Noc township and lost all of their earthly possessions. One of the homes was that of Fred Papineau and the other place destroyed was occupied by the Gammache family.

The homes were quite near each other and nothing could be saved. Even the small sums of money that was on hand went with the furniture in which it was concealed.

(Continued From Page 1.) glycerine, according to the purpose for which it is to be used and according to the order of the customer. The daily capacity of the house was from 2,000 to 30,000 pounds, and at the time the explosion occurred it is believed there were about 1,000 pounds of the stuff on hand. The stock is removed frequently during the day, to avoid its piling up, and about twenty minutes before the explosion some 3,000 to 5,000 pounds of it was hauled away. If this quantity of the explosive had gone up Ishpeming would have been considerably shaken and much glass would have been broken. As it was, those in Ishpeming who heard the explosion heard only a muffled burst of sound. At the Winthrop location windows on houses located on the high points were broken, but the damage done was comparatively small.

Plant Slightly Damaged.

The plant, outside of the gelatin powder house, also escaped practically unscathed. One end of the nitric acid building, some 300 or 400 feet distant, was caved in, but the damage amounts to little, and the windows in the office building, about 1,000 feet away, were shaken out. The gun cotton house, about 400 feet from the gelatin powder house, showed no trace of the explosion's work, nor did any of the other of the twenty-odd buildings that compose the plant. It will be possible to proceed without delay, except for the funerals of the victims, to manufacture the ordinary form of dynamite, and there will be little interruption in the operations of the plant. During the winter some thirty-five or forty men are employed. In the summer the force is from fifty to sixty.

Cause is a Mystery.

Neither Superintendent Robert W. Gunnell or R. L. Villas, the general manager of the plant, the latter with headquarters at Ishpeming, are able to advance any theory as to the cause of the explosion, and with all of the ten men in the house at the time dead, the disaster will be written among the long list of mysterious and unexplainable explosions that form the saddest chapter of the hazardous powder business. Whether one of the men violated one of the strict rules for safeguarding their safety, whether something went amiss with the simple machinery in the house, or whether the treacherous materials with which the men were working played some unexpected and sudden trick, will never be known.
