ESCANABA TAKES BOTH GAMES FROM ISHPENDING TEAM

SATURDAY'S GAME IS A SCREAMING FARCE COMEDY, THE LOCALS TAKING IT BY THE AWFUL SCORE OF 22 TO 1.

BUT SUNDAY'S CONTEST IS FINE.

Visitors Show a Complete Reversal of Form and Hold Escanaba Down in Fine Style—The Latter Win, However, by a Score of 1 to 0—How the One Run Was Made.

Saturday's game—Ishpending, 1; Escanaba, 22.
Sunday's game—Ishpending, 0; Escanaba, 1.

After being all but obliterated by the Escanaba team in Saturday's game, the Ishpending team "came back" quite a ways Sunday and gave the home players all they could do to win the game by the small score noted. Saturday's game was a colossal joke, so far as the playing of the visiting team was concerned, and their reversal of form in Sunday's contest was as surprising as it was gratifying, for the Escanaba fans do not care to see any team so crushingly defeated as the visitors were Saturday.

While the game Sunday was essentially a pitcher's battle, the other players had plenty of opportunities to show what they could do and they did well in the main, although Escanaba is credited with one error and Ishpending with four.

Honors Go to Love.
Leo Love and Steve Toman were the opposing twirlers and although the latter made a fine showing the honors went to Love, who struck out eleven men, issued no passes, did not hit a batter nor make a wild pitch. Toman allowed three hits, walked one man and struck out four. In the most of the innings both pitchers threw practically airtight ball and it was a joy to the fans to see them work.

Not a man on either side got to first base, until the fourth inning, when McCrory of Ishpending clouted the ball safely, but got out at second base trying to stretch his good single into a double. Clark made the other hit for Ishpending in the fifth inning, but it was productive of nothing more than first base. Escanaba made its one run in the fifth in this manner:

How the Run Was Made.
Aronson, first man up, batted out a beautiful single into left field, reaching first with plenty of time to spare. Aronson hurt himself somehow and A. Love was put on to run for him. Minor followed Aronson at bat and connected with the ball for a fine two-bagger. Love tried to run from first to home on the hit and was put out at the plate. Minor got to third on a bad throw of the catcher to second base and came home with what proved (Continued on page 6.)

A. Oliver's undertaking rooms to the church. Rev. F. W. Ainslie conducted the services and burial was made in Lakeview cemetery.

CORRECTING ERROR MADE IN A REPORT

Accidental Omission of Two Lines From Article Regarding Deputy Food and Dairy Inspector's Work and Its Results Here Reversed Its Meaning—The Correction.

Through the accidental dropping out of two lines a most unfortunate error was made in a paragraph of the report, published by The Mirror Saturday relative to the work done in Escanaba last week by Deputy State Food and Dairy Inspector John T. Rowe. The omission of these lines made it appear that the general condition of the institutions he inspected here was bad and that they were maintained and conducted in direct violation of the law. The statement should have been just the reverse, Mr. Rowe reporting that the condition of those places in general was satisfactory.

Following is the complete paragraph as it was written and should have read in Saturday's paper, the omitted lines being in black face type:

"Mr. Rowe while here made a thorough inspection of all dairies and creameries, places where ice cream is manufactured and sold, butcher shops, grocery stores, hotels, restaurants, etc., and reports that in general they were found in satisfactory condition. There were several places, however, that were in bad shape and maintained and conducted in direct violation of the law. The proprietors of these places were notified that such unlawful conditions must be rectified and they were given plainly to understand that if the inspector's notice to that effect is not complied with by the time he comes again, prosecutions will follow to the limit."

"High pressure north of the lake region will cause fair, cool weather in this vicinity tonight and Tuesday, with moderate north and northeast winds."

PACKAGE FREIGHT TRAFFIC IS DULL

Scarcely enough package freight is on the market to keep the package freighters busy. The line boats are carrying the greater part which is offered, but are complaining of the light movement of both east and west-bound freight. Vessel agents are tying up some of the excess tonnage so as to cut down expenses. No definite reason is given for the decrease in shipments which seems to be general.

MANAGER OF THE U. P. DEVELOPMENT BUREAU SELECTED

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE SELECTS THEODORE A. QUINBY, A WELL KNOWN DETROIT PUBLICITY HUSTLER.

BUREAU'S WORK GOING ON WELL.

Satisfactory Reports are Made at Meeting Held in Iron Mountain Saturday—Quinby Will Soon Be in Upper Peninsula to Take Active Charge of General Operations.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Upper Peninsula Bureau, held at Iron Mountain Saturday and which was attended by H. W. Reade of Escanaba, Theodore A. Quinby of Detroit was chosen for manager and publicity man of the upper peninsula boosting organization. Mr. Quinby will arrive in the upper peninsula within a few days and will take active charge of the work at once.

Mr. Quinby, the new manager, is the son of the former owner of the Detroit Free Press and for a number of years was managing editor of that paper. He has done considerable publicity work for the Detroit Chamber of Commerce and has had wide experience in the line of activity that is required of the executive head of the Upper Peninsula Development bureau. Under his charge, it is expected that the work already so well begun will go on with renewed zest and ever increasing success.

Work Going Ahead Well.

Reports were received from all the counties in the upper peninsula and every where the work of the bureau seems to be going ahead better than had been expected, even by the most optimistic. The state soil maps of the upper peninsula, which have been prepared by the state geologist, are now ready for the printers and will be published within a short time. These maps will be of great value in advertising the upper peninsula, as they show that this part of the state contains a greater percentage of agricultural land than the counties below the straits. Careful study of the map will prove a surprise, even to residents of this part of the state.

Upper Peninsula Exhibit.

One of the things that the new manager will devote much attention to during the next few months is the preparation of an upper peninsula exhibit at the Chicago land show, to be held in the fall. This show affords probably the best opportunity for advertising the possibilities of any section of the country of any held in the country, but in the past the upper peninsula has not been represented. This year, through the agency of the development bureau, the world is to know what can be and has been done in an agricultural way in that part of Michigan north of the straits of Mackinac.

Mr. Knutesen brought the action to recover that amount, which he claimed to be the balance due him under a verbal contract for moving a building for Mr. Rowe.

FINE OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY NOW SEEMS CERTAIN

INDICATIONS POINT TO A GENERAL OBSERVANCE OF THE DAY SET ASIDE TO HONOR MEMORY OF THE DEAD.

GOOD WEATHER IS FORECASTED.

Banks, Library and Public Offices to Be Closed All Day and Many of the Business Places Will Close in the Afternoon—Program as Detailed in the G. A. R. Order.

Tomorrow is Memorial day and from all indications it will be generally and appropriately observed by the people of Escanaba. The members of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic have prepared a program of exercises, most of which will be carried out at Lakeview cemetery in the afternoon, and it is probable that they will be very largely attended. Fair weather is promised for tomorrow and if that condition is realized there is no doubt that an immense crowd will turn out and aid in paying tributes of respect and affection to the memory of the dead.

All of the banks, the Carnegie public library, city and county offices and other public offices will be closed all day and it is probable that many of the stores and other business places will be closed during the afternoon.

Supper for the G. A. R. in the evening the members of the Women's Relief corps will entertain the members of the G. A. R. and their guests at a supper which will be served in the Armory and after the meal there will be an hour or so spent in sociability.

All of the military and semi-military organizations and the city officers are to take part in the Memorial parade and in the exercises, full details of which are given in the appended order issued by Post Commander Emil Glaser. Some of the Civil war veterans from outside the city will be here to attend the exercises, among them being Thomas J. Tracy, Hiram G. Squires and Edward Bureau, all of Garden. They will arrive here from Garden by boat tomorrow noon and will be met at the dock by some of their Escanaba comrades. Vincent E. Jaki, recently in charge of the federal weather station at North Platte, Neb., arrived in Escanaba Sunday morning and today entered upon his duties as local forecaster and official in charge of the Escanaba weather station. Mr. Jaki succeeds H. S. Cole, who has been transferred to the station at Charleston, S. C., the transfer being in the nature of a promotion. Mr. Cole has been busy a part of the day, escorting Mr. Jaki around the city and making him acquainted with the local business men and others.

The young people have chartered the steamer Maywood and it is announced that they will have an orchestra and music to make the trip more attractive. Of course there will be singing and everyone will have a good time. There is no doubt that a large crowd will go tomorrow night and the steamer Maywood can carry a large crowd. If there are not more than 600 patrons all can be comfortably accommodated on this boat. This will be a fine way to bring the Memorial day celebration to a close. You are invited to take this pleasant trip tomorrow night.

VETERANS ATTEND MOST BEAUTIFUL MEMORIAL SERVICE

MEMBERS OF THE G. A. R., W. R. C., S. A. W. V. and S. O. V. G. TO FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

FORCEFUL SERMON BY PASTOR.

Joining With Congregation in Special Services Appropriate to Memorial Sunday—Church Beautifully Decorated—Rev. Mr. Ferris Preaches Strong and Helpful Sermon.

The First Presbyterian church Sunday was the scene of a most beautiful and helpful memorial service. The G. A. R., the W. R. C., Sons of Veterans and Spanish-American War veterans came out to join with the congregation of that church in the special services. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and a large audience greeted the pastor, Rev. P. B. Ferris, who preached a forceful sermon on Psalms 20:69. Bruce Harris sang Johnston's "Face to Face" in a very effective manner and the Shaw quartette sang a beautiful anthem.

The ranks of the old soldiers are thinning out, and yesterday's service showed the kindly spirit of the people toward those men who bore arms for the nation's freedom over 46 years ago. As the veterans passed from the church the entire congregation arose and remained standing.

In speaking of Memorial day Mr. Ferris said:

"The first Memorial day in the world's history occurred just after the battle of Marathon. After that famous battle when ten thousand Athenians drove back the countless hordes of Persians into their vessels and thus saved civilization to the world, the Greeks counted their dead and found they numbered just 192. As a special mark of honor it was decided to bury them on the field of victory and over their tomb a mound thirty or forty feet high was erected. This mound is still visible and is visited by many pilgrims. It stands there as a monument to the bravery of those 192 men and their companions and it still inspires those who visit it with a feeling of patriotism, and a feeling of awe as they think of the awful consequences of that battle to the world.

"Every year the people poured out of the Violette city to honor their brave dead. The exercises were opened with solemn, patriotic singing. First the men would sing, and then the women accompanied by the flutes and thus back and forth they would sing the mighty deeds of the fallen to give inspiration to the living. Then the procession would take up its march; (Continued on page 2.)

NEW WORK STOPPED AT MASONVILLE

Manistique Pioneer-Tribune: Henry Mix, who has been employed at Masonville, has returned to the city for an indefinite period. He was engaged in carpenter work there for the company managed by the Stacks of Escanaba, and reports that, for the present at least, all new work has been shut down, evidently awaiting the final decision of the company as to moving to Manistique. Mr. John Stack Jr. was in the city this week, and while nothing tangible has been the result of the frequent visits of the Stacks to this city, and the well defined rumor that they desire to secure a site here, yet the indications appear to be very bright for the acquisition of the new industry.

SAVED THE SHIP'S CREW.

Daring Rescue by a Heroic Newfoundland Fisherman. Sir Edward Morris, prime minister of Newfoundland, tells in the Wide World magazine a remarkable story of heroism on the part of a Newfoundland fisherman.

In those days the emigrant ships to Canada were crowded with passengers. In the autumn of 1832 the brig Dispatch, bound to Quebec, with 103 souls, in a gale of wind, struck a rock about three miles from Harvey's home. He heard the signals of distress and immediately launched his boat, with his boy of twelve, his girl of seventeen and his dog, and tried to get out to the wreck.

Then young virgins bearing vessels for the sacrifice, then the maides from the noblest families of the land with flowers to deck the mound, and slave girls with jars of honey, wine, oil and milk, then the white-robed priests with the youth of the land that they might catch the inspiration of the occasion.

Christ furnished armor for his soldiers. After speaking at length concerning the spirit of unity that is now existing between the north and the south and saying that "not to forgive as we are forgiven is ignoble," and after touching on other points of great interest to the old soldiers, Mr. Ferris concluded with these words: "Who does not read with a thrill or remember with animation the account of the Merrimac steaming into Hampton Roads steering for the Cumberland whose terrific broadsides glanced from her as so many peas and finally the Cumberland went down with all on board and the Congress was forced to surrender. And then the next day a new antagonist in the form of the Yankee cheese box faced the Merrimac. That day was a memorable day in the world history. STATUS OF THE TEACHERS.

Statistics regarding the financial and social status of public school teachers in this country have been gathered for teachers' college at Columbia university by Dr. Kaufman. The statistics cover 17 states, with 75 counties, towns or cities, none with more than 300,000 population. About 6,000 individual cases were covered in rural town and city schools, and the selection of localities was made so carefully that, it is said, no serious question can be raised that the results faithfully reflect existing conditions. Were all the state covered, there is little reason to think the general percentage would be greatly modified, says the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

To begin, it is interesting to note that 78 per cent of public school teachers are women and 22 per cent men. Of the men 69 per cent and of the women 44 per cent are children of farmers; 15 per cent of the women are daughters of storekeepers and 16 per cent daughters of artisans. Regarding the incomes of homes from which teachers come, it is found that women who teach come as a rule from homes where the standard of living is higher than that of those from which the men come. The average income of a woman teacher's home is found to be $113 a year, where the men come from homes with an average of only $433 a year, though it is said these represent the incomes of farmers whose wealth cannot be estimated merely by their cash income.

Comparing city and country teachers, it is asserted that the relative number of women increase in passing from country to town as men among country school teachers, but in the towns there are about five times as many. Only 4 per cent of the men who study for teaching are city born, or begin their teaching in the city.

There also is a constantly increasing difference between the salaries of men and women in rural and city schools. In the rural schools the men average only $390 a year, which is about 7 per cent more than women receive. In towns the men average $613 a year, which is 25 per cent more than women. In cities men average $919, which is 54 per cent more than the average woman receives. The low salaries of women teachers all over the United States, contrasted with the uniformly high grade of service which they render, is a comment on the over supply of women teachers. From the figures collected it would seem possible to get an almost unlimited number of women teachers at what scarcely could be called living salaries. It is stated that evidently most women teachers live at home, and their salaries are expected merely to assist in the family support.

On the question of equal pay it is interesting to note, that as a rule, cities pay on an average twice as much to men as to women teachers, partly because even in so-called "equal-pay" cities, men of the higher positions, with their higher salaries, are held in men.

PERVERTING GREAT DAYS.

There was a letter in yesterday's State Journal from an old soldier, protesting against the desecration of Memorial day by games, races, exhibitions and all forms of amusement, that represent the true meaning and purpose of the day. It is a pity we cannot have one holiday that is not perverted to tobacco, liquor, swearing and noise. But we haven't, says the Ohio State Journal. The Fourth, Thanksgiving, Christmas and Memorial day are all cluttered up with events that obliterate the ideals of these noble days.

The soldier of the Union established Memorial day. He did it in devotion to the memory of his comrades who gave their lives for their country. Why should not that idea be preserved on that day? It would not only be a celebration of a noble memory, but it would be the cultivation of a patriotic sentiment in the hearts of the people. So much we need that now. So much we are running into materialism, pleasure, selfish habit, and empty pastime, that a day devoted to the patriotic impulse and to the amenities, sincerities and purities of life would make the nation stronger and happier. Even away from Rome, we are doing, we fear, as the Romans did.

One of the most impressive illustrations of what newspaper advertising will do, when properly applied, with intelligent direction, is found in the case of Hart, Schaffner & Marx. This firm manufactures and distributes men's wearing apparel. In 1906, when the concern started to advertise laborately, the gross sales ran a little over nine millions. Last year they ran over fifteen millions and net profits have increased from $400,000 to $1,357,000 in that time. This firm works directly through the retail merchants and its advertising appropriation, which runs into enormous figures, is spent largely in the daily newspapers of the land.

No one can question that the present examination day for the trusts is doing good. But where would the country have been, had the Democrats carried out their plan for 46 little state show inquiries by the several states, all conflicting with each other?

The Democrats are not so hot for free wool as they were. It is one thing to go on the stump and write blank checks in favor of the consumer for indefinite amounts, and another thing to sign them after you get into office.

Gage, Okla., is to ring a town bell 10 minutes before every train leaves. With such conveniences, we have no doubt that the entire population will go down to see the 10 o'clock train go through.

The steel trust has been forced to cut prices, but from the proud eminence of his cart the tin peddler requires the usual amount of rags in exchange for a flatiron.

Japan is willing to negotiate an arbitration treaty, but will our people be willing to shut off the only possible opportunity open to our army officers for professional advancement?

GREAT SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

A Minneapolis scientist has discovered a chemical, called benetol, which kills germs and arrests poisons in humanity and yet is not in itself poison. It is being tested the world over, to prevent infection by dangerous germ life, in milk bottles and other food receptacles. Not the least use of it in making golden grain belt beers, which do not contain a germ in a ship load of bottles, because of scientific handling, and sterile subterranean water used exclusively in its making.

Home Only in Name.

A young teacher who has substituted in the lower districts of the city tells this little story of one of her pupils:

There had been an entertainment at the school at which the child had received a picture from the principal. The next day the little girl appeared with the picture under her arm. Quite regretfully she laid it upon the teacher's desk.

"Mom says thank you for the picture," she imparted, drawing up her ragged little form, "but we ain't got no wall to hang it on."

"No wall!" cried the horrified young substitute. "Why, Molly, what do you mean?"

"There's five families of us in our room," Molly explained carelessly, "and we live in the middle."—Philadelphia Times.

The Bloodletting Branch.

Not every pun is as good as one credited to a Dublin gentleman of long ago by the author of a book entitled "In Many Lands." George IV., on his visit to Dublin in 1821, met at a reception Sir Philip Crampton, Ireland's greatest surgeon.

"In what branch of the service is that magnificent looking man?" asked his majesty.

The gentleman to whom the question was put was too polite to hint that the king was mistaken in supposing that the distinguished surgeon was a naval or military officer.

"Sir," he replied, "he is a general in the lancets."

Reprimand For Tennyson.

On one occasion when Tennyson was on a visit in Ireland with Aubrey de Vere a sullen mood overtook him, and he sought out his hostess and began to inveigh against the infamy of dancing, but the lady cut him short, saying: "How would the world get on if others went about growling at its amusements in a voice as deep as a lion's? I request that you will go upstairs, put on an evening coat and come down and ask my daughter Sophia to dance."

YOUNG PEOPLE
QUITE ACTIVE

Many Will Attend the Detroit Convention.

ALL PLANS ARE COMPLETED

Convention City Has Many Alluring Features—Delegates Will Have Ample Opportunity to See the City—Points of Interest Will Be Visited in Autos.

Delegates to Christian Endeavor State Convention will be taken to points of interest in the city in Detroit-made automobiles, and will also be treated to a boat ride on the Detroit river.

One of the attractive features of the Twenty-second Annual Christian Endeavor convention which will be held in Detroit, June 22-25th, is the fact that it will be held in the state's metropolis—the Convention city. Annually thousands of people attend conventions in Detroit, not only for the convention's sake, but to see the city with its beautiful environments. Those who entertain much acquire in a large measure the fine art of making their guests feel at ease. This explains why the City of the Straits is a favorite in this country with visitors.

Entertaining yearly scores of conventions, with their multitudes of delegates, her welcome is cordial, her hospitality gracious and her resources for making guests contented and comfortable so varied and extensive that she is being sought as a place of meeting by an ever-increasing number of organizations.

Detroit has earned its high reputation as a convention city by the excellent care which it has taken of former conventions, both large and small. Whether the International Convention of Christian Endeavor or Epworth League, or the Convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, each has found entertainment in accordance with its tastes. The city entertained acceptably, at one time, almost 30,000 members of the Society of Christian Endeavor, and at another time was the gathering place of as many visitors to the Epworth League. Yet none of them lacked for food or lodging. This is only an illustration of what Detroit can do when the occasion calls for the best efforts of her citizens.

Detroit Christian Endeavorers will this year take a forward step in matters of entertainment, giving their visitors a number of things free, which has not been customary in past conventions. Among others will be a free boat ride and a free automobile ride.

The program of nearly every convention that meets in Detroit during the summer months includes some form of river excursion, and this convention will not deviate from an established custom, but will give the delegates an outing on the beautiful Detroit river. One of a fleet of the most luxurious fleet of excursion steamers on fresh water has been chartered for Saturday afternoon, June 24th, for the use of the delegates.

Without reference to outside excursions, Detroit itself is an attractive resort in summer. On Thursday afternoon, June 22nd, the delegates will be taken to the points of interest in the city in Detroit-made automobiles. In the manufacture of which Detroit leads the world. Perhaps the most attractive of all of Detroit's interesting places is Belle Isle park, an island of 700 acres, set like a gem on the bosom of the river. With its drive-ways, canals and lakes, zoo, new aquarium and horticultural building, charming woodlands and views of the passing leviathans of the inland lakes' commerce, the equal to Belle Isle is not to be found.

All qualified delegates will be entitled to the two outings, as well as lodging and breakfast, free of all charge. Every member of a Christian Endeavor Society, Epworth League, Baptist Young People's Union, Episcopal Guild or Auxiliary, or any other young people's organization in the state may obtain delegate's credentials by applying to Miss Mary R. Phinney, 107 Collingwood Ave., Detroit. These credentials, properly signed by the president and the secretary of the delegate's society, must be presented upon arrival in Detroit.

THREE E'S.

Christian Endeavor began as a faithful Experiment in the life of a devoted pastor among his young people. It has continued as an epoch making and transforming Experience. May it go on to realize the glorious Expectation that its past and present achievements hold forth.—Rev. C. H. Mubbell, D. D.

SAVE YOUR HAIR;
SAGE TEA WILL DO IT

Dandruff, Itching Scalp and Falling Hair Quickly Stopped.

There is one place where baldheaded men shine, and that is in the front row seats of the theatre. If these baldheaded people had used Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy in their earlier days they would not be so conspicuous now. This preparation does not plant new hair, but it does strengthen weak, dying hair, and not only brightens dull, parched hair, but gradually restores the color to faded or gray hair. It is a clean, wholesome hair dressing, which can be used daily with perfect safety.

Wreth's Sage and Sulphur is sold under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

"Yes."

"He used to praise her beauty in glowing terms. I should think that would have made her fall in love with him."

"It made her fall in love with herself, and she hasn't had room for a thought about anybody else."

The Wife's Work.
The man who makes his wife get up in the morning to start the fire at last saved enough money to buy an automobile. One day while going up a hill the machine stopped.

"You'll have to get out and push, Fannie," he said, "because I've got to stay here and guide it."—Lippincott's.

MANISTIQUE DEAL STILL IN THE AIR

Manistique Pioneer-Tribune Has Another Chapter on the Probable Purchase by Escanaba Capitalists of Water Power, Mill, Real Estate, Etc., in Manistique.

The following from the current issue of the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune follows up the story published last week regarding the same matter and is reproduced as a matter of public interest:

The extended stay of Messrs. Stack and Smith of Escanaba and W.King of Green Bay in this city this week again revived all sorts of rumors about the sale of the water power, the Weston mill and a block of realty across the river. The visitors are more than pleased with the town, the harbor, and the water power and from what some of them said during their stay it is safe to conclude that the deal will be consummated during the next two months. It is also stated that the entire water power would be utilized and that aside from the operation of the Weston mill, a big wooden ware factory would be installed on this side of the river.

That negotiations are pending it is only necessary to state that the Escanaba Lumber company has laid off all of their carpenters at Masonville, and the Chicago Lumber company has ceased repairing houses on the west side. It really looks as though Manistique was on the eve of a big boom that will result in the doubling of its population within the next decade. It has the location, the harbor, the water power. The all-the-year harbor, the only one of the kind on the north shore of Lake Michigan, appeals to manufacturers as it makes it possible for shipments trans-lake at all seasons.

While nothing of an official nature has been divulged, yet some of the visitors, in conversation with various citizens, have said things that made the hearers feel extremely sanguine.

Manistique has reached a crisis in its history. Whether or not the problem will be solved for the weal or woe of the town yet remains to be seen.

She Knew Him. Husband (excitedly)—My dear, this ladies' tailor you employed says in this note if I did not settle your bill he will bring suit promptly. Wife (carelessly)—Don't worry, dear; that man makes you wait weeks. He never did bring suits promptly. — Baltimore American.

The Recompense. "Men are so hideously lacking in self control," a young girl once said to her mother. "Well, don't find fault with that," the mother answered. "If they weren't most girls would die old maids."

The Horrors of Thirst. In the oasis of Mogara, says L. Dow Covington in the Wide World Magazine, we had a first experience of the desert traveler's great enemy—thirst. We were seated in front of a Bedouin chief's tent, our two baby camels enjoying their first drink of water since they had left Cairo, when, from across a sand dune, a Bedouin came staggering and tottering toward us. His eyes were bloodshot, his lips twice their natural size, while his tongue, blue and dry, hung out of his mouth. Evidently he had lost himself, had wandered around for days in search of water and had stumbled upon the oasis in the very nick of time. To allow him to drink would have been his death. In spite of his frantic struggles, he was held by four men, while a fifth allowed a few drops of water to trickle down his throat. It was as though he were a redhot boiler which would have to be allowed to cool off before being filled if an accident was to be avoided.

Objected to Publicity. Old Brother Brown had been approached several times by the colored deacons of his church and asked to pay his church dues. He had promised to "pay up" just as soon as he sold a calf which he owned. Several months later he sold the calf. The next Sunday morning at service the congregation sang the old familiar hymn:

The calf has never been sold
Of life so full and free.
Brother Brown, somewhat deaf and conscious of his failure to pay his dues, understood the words to be:
The calf has never been sold,
But when it's sold he'll pay.
When the hymn was finished the old colored man, very indignant, arose and said:
"Brother and sisters, I has sold dat calf and heh's yo' ten dollars! But I didn't ca' about de whole ch'ch singin' 'bout it."—National Monthly.

A Costly Tuft of Feathers. On the apex of the crown worn by the Prince of Wales on special occasions is a curious feather, or, rather, tuft of feathers, the top of which is adorned with a gold thread. The value of this feather is estimated at $50,000, and it has the distinction of being the only one of its kind in human possession. Twenty years passed after the first hunter set out to procure the feather before it was attained, and during that period more than a dozen hunters had lost their lives in the quest. The costly tuft is of periwak feathers, and the extraordinary danger incurred in procuring it was due to the fact that the periwak, for some unknown reason, is to be found only in dense jungles in which tigers make their lair.—Chicago Tribune.

Turning the Turtle. Turtle hunting is not without excitement. The method of capture consists of the simple act of turning the turtle on its back. Once in this position it is quite helpless. Its only defense is to cover its cap with sand thrown up by the powerful front legs or flippers. These are brought into action in an instant, and woe betide the captor who has his eyes and mouth open at the moment, for the sand is buried with great force. When turned over the captive is dragged up the beach to above high water mark, and this is no easy task, for it weighs about four hundredweight.

GAMBLERS REAP RICH HARVEST ON LINER

New York, May 20.—There were fat pickings for two professional gamblers who came over on the Lusitania the other day. One passenger reported that in four days the gamblers picked up $14,000 and that one of their victims lost $1,000 in an hour.

"I've lived almost all my life in parts of the West," said this passenger "where gambling is wide open, but I never saw such quick action at poker. Play usually began in the smoking room at 11 o'clock at night and lasted until 3 or 4 in the morning. The pigeons could evidently afford their plucking, and as it was none of my business I did not interfere.

PILES BRING DESPAIR.

Take Courage! Internal Treatment Will Cure.

Piles make life unhappy and ruin the best disposition. Most sufferers have been bitterly disappointed by many failures to find a cure. A medicine in tablet form, taken internally, that avoids the unpleasant features of ointments, suppositories, and operations, and cures thoroughly by removing the inside cause, is surely worth trying, especially as A. Ellsworth, Jr., Escanaba, and druggists everywhere guarantee it. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid costs $1 for a large box—25 days' treatment. Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. WOLGAST'S PUNCH IS TOO MUCH FOR BURNS

Champion Gives Oakland Boy a Terrific Beating After Game Fighting—Contest Goes to Sixteen Rounds, but Wolgast's Decisive Work is Done in One Round.

San Francisco, May 29.—Champion Ad Wolgast gave Frankie Burns of Oakland such a terrific beating in their scheduled twenty-round fight here Saturday afternoon that the challenger's seconds mercifully intervened, and at the end of the sixteenth round, before the bell called the men up for the seventh round, threw a towel in the ring, acknowledging defeat for their charge.

It was a furious battle throughout and was characterized chiefly by Burns' ability to stave off inevitable defeat, which seemed imminent in many of the preceding rounds.

Although constantly under terrific fire and with blood flowing from his nostrils and mouth, Burns never lost

CANNOT FORGET THE TIGERS

"Kid" Eiberfeld, in Reminiscent Moment, Says Public Too Often Overlooks Good Play.

"In figuring the responsibility for a baseball defeat or the credit for a victory," said "Kid" Eiberfeld in a "reminiscent moment," "the general public too often overlooks the play or the incident, through which success or failure came, and credits or blames some player who really should never have had a chance to decide the result. They don't go back far enough to note how the play should have been switched.

"I was in one of the two most famous finishes the American league has had, playing shortstop for the Highlanders in 1904, when we lost the pennant to Boston on the closing day of the season, through being beaten in the first number of a double-header. That game has gone into baseball history as the one in which a wild pitch lost a pennant. As a matter of fact, Cheebro did toss the chances for the flag when a 'spitter' got away from him, went by Jack Kistnow to the stand and let Lou Criger score from second base with the winning run.

"But we lost that pennant three ways, and two of those had nothing to do with this particular game. It never should have been necessary for us to take either game of this double-header to become champions. The flag should have been won long before that. It might have been had, if not been for Washington. That team, always down at the bottom of the column, started us down hill just when we were being hailed as the coming champions. It was the old story of a team that didn't count at all killing the chances of a better club.

"The same thing happened to us again in the fall of 1904, when

MR. JACKSON "BURNED UP THE HILLS"—YEP

Manistique Pioneer-Tribune: Mr. Jackson, the Escanaba merchant tailor, who has been spending ten days in this city, and whose automobile has been a familiar object on the streets during that time, left for Escanaba via Garden Tuesday morning, and at an early hour that morning telephoned this office that he made the trip in sixty minutes. This is believed to be the record for the trip in question, as the road is not the best and a number of difficult hills preclude the making of fast time. However, local motorists will experience no difficulty from hills in the future, as Jackson claims that he "burned up" the hills.

INITIATING THE CUB.

Stunts the New Boys in Some Banks Have to Face.

Now, when a tyro goes to work in a machine shop he is sent to the tool room for a left handed monkey wrench. A foundry wag will send the new boy in search of "core holes." A printer's devil is sent to the typewriters with a wheelbarrow for a hair space. Humorists in certain Kansas City banks have a revised code, says the Times of that city.

Here are six things the beginner probably will be required to seek—at drug stores, in stationery shops, even at the county courthouse, where one trustful youth went the other day to inquire diligently for a "speed ball" to assist him in his work:

There is the "speed ball," then, and there is the "check stretcher," presumably used to increase the size of checks that do not conform to the filing cases; the "discount board," supposed to be checked in a manner to facilitate the handling of discounted paper; the "clearing house key," in search for which half a day easily may be consumed, and for the red and black lines that lie artistically on the fair pages what could be more appropriate than "striped ink," and lest the ink becomes too thick should not an "ink strainer" be procured? Ask the new boy.

THE FIRST ASTOR.

A Daring and Resourceful Operator in the Fur Trade.

John Jacob Astor was born in the little village of Waldorf, in Germany, in 1763, just as France at the close of the Seven Years' war was ceding Canada to England. He sailed to our side of the Atlantic in 1783, when George III. in the treaty of Paris was acknowledging our independence and when the merchants of Montreal were establishing the Northwest company.

He became a fur dealer, gradually gained control of the trade south of Lakes Huron and Superior, except that which was in the hands of the Mackinaw company, and won a reputation as a daring and resourceful operator, which made his name known in Montreal, St. Louis, London and Canton.

He had a dozen vessels afloat, representing a capital of $1,000,000, carrying furs to England and China in 1800, and at the time that the purchase of Louisiana in 1803 pushed our boundary to the Rocky mountains he was the wealthiest and most successful merchant in the United States.—North American Review.

The Man of Leisure.

Most of our rich men work very hard—not always because they want to, but in many instances because they have to. The husbandry of a big estate in itself may be a task for the whole of the time and thought, not of one man, but of several. As a general thing it is fair to say that our only man of leisure is the tramp. The social pariah, the mutineer against the rule of work, is the only one who can be sure of a care free, sybaritic existence, and even he lives in constant danger of rock salt from the farmer's gun or the onslaught of the watchdog around the corner as the hobo knocks at the kitchen door or pauses at the water trough to drink. The poor tramp is certainly a more frequent social phenomenon than the rich one.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Earl and the Angler.

One of the earls of Minto had a kindly nature. One day a Hawick angler was throwing his line on the river near Minto when a tall gentleman came up to him and inquired what kind of sport he was having. The fisher replied that it was not very good and that he could do better if he were at the other side of the water, adding, "I'll give ye sixpence if ye'll carry me across." The bargainer was struck, and the gentleman, getting the angler on his back, carried him through the water to the other side. True to his promise, the angler produced the sixpence, which he proffered to the stranger, who, however, smiled and remarked, "Give it to the first beggar you meet and tell him it is a present from the Earl of Minto."

Why She Worried.

"But, mother, why do you object to my being pleasant to the young men? You can't hope to keep me with you always, you know. One of them will take me away from you some day." "Take you away from me? Well, if that happens I shall not complain. It is the certainty that none of the young men who have been coming here so far would take you away that has worried both your father and me."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Only Wanted the Chance.

Emperor—I do not care to bear your proposition, sir. Everything that is submitted must first be put through the prime minister. Subject—Nothing would please me better. I wanted to show you the new bayonet which I have invented for army use.—London Answers.

Willing, but Cautious.

"Yes, my daughter eloped." "I suppose you will forgive the young couple?" "Not until they have located a place to board."—Washington Herald.

Tough Combination.

Probably there is no combination on earth harder to live with than an artistic temperament soured in a bad cold.—Galveston News.

It is always safe to learn even from our enemies, never safe to instruct even our friends.—Colton.

ORPHEUS CONCERT COMPANY COMING

The Orpheus Concert company, a high class attraction, has been engaged by the Ladies' Aid society of the First M. E. church to give an entertainment in the church on Monday evening, June 12. Included in the company are: Edna Kimball Wilcox, dramatic soprano; Jean Portefield, reader, and Nellie Louise Hastings, pianist.

SLAYS 3, WOUNDS 2 AND KILLS HIMSELF

(By Associated Press.) Pawnee City, Neb., May 29.—J. A. McVitie, his wife and two children were shot and killed and a third child was dangerously wounded by James Fielder, a farm hand. Fielder later shot and killed himself after he had seriously wounded Sheriff Fuller.

LONDON STREET CRIES.

They Must Have Made the City a Bedlam in Olden Days.

London must have been a lively city in the days when the street crier joined in competition with the bell of the postman and the mufin man. The boy who goes round the streets with the early morning cry of "Hot rolls" still lingers in the outer suburbs, but the old street crier has long been silent in the land.

Some of the ancient cries have been collected by Frederick W. Hackwood in his book, "The Good Old Times." They include "Cherry Ripe, O!" "Baking or Bolling Apples;" "Green Hastings" (these were early peas); "Lavender, sweet lavender, six bunches a penny," or perhaps "Rabbits, wild rabbits," and when there was a good catch of fish it might be "Mackerel, O!" or "Herrings, alive, all alive!"

"Some of the cries," writes Mr. Hackwood, "would sound strange to the ear now, as 'Bandboxes,' 'Baskets,' 'Buy a broom,' 'Hair brooms,' 'Hot spiced gingerbread,' 'Brick dust,' 'Sand, O! Hellows to mend,' 'Chairs to mend,' 'Bill of the play.' More familiar perhaps were 'Old clothes,' 'Cats and dogs' meat' and 'Dust O'."

"Now we are reduced to little more than the shriek and howl which are supposed to represent milk and coal."—London Chronicle.

DIED THROUGH HIS OWN NEGLIGENCE

That is the Verdict Returned by Coroner's Jury Which Holds an Inquest to Determine the Cause and Manner of the Death of James Kennedy, Electrocutted.

"That on May 27th, about nine o'clock in the morning, James Kennedy came to his death by being electrocuted, while doing his duty as lineman, but through his own negligence by not obeying the strict orders of the superintendent."

This was the verdict returned today by the coroner's jury called by Coroner L. O. Kirstine to inquire into the cause and manner of the death of James Kennedy, who was electrocuted Saturday forenoon as heretofore related in these columns.

The inquest was begun Saturday afternoon and adjourned until this morning after the testimony of eye witnesses to the fatality and others had been taken. This morning the witnesses were again examined and as a result of their testimony and the jury's deliberations the verdict was returned as given above.

ESCANABA TAKES BOTH GAMES

to be the only and winning run of the game on a poor throw from the center fielder to third base. That was all, the next two men going out in order.

In the sixth inning both teams got men on bases, but close playing prevented them from scoring. There was nothing much doing the remainder of the game, except that in the visitors' half of the ninth inning Captain Olmsted distinguished himself by making a sensational left-handed catch of a fly which everybody was sure would go safe.

Summary of the Game. The summary will tell the remainder of the story:

Saturday's Games Don't Count.

It transpires that Saturday's games were not really the opening of the Marquette-Delta County League, but that they were merely practice contests. The results of those games will therefore not be applied to the standings of the team. Sunday's games count, however, and the standing therefore are: Escanaba, 1000; Negaunee, 1000; Ishpeming, 000; Marquette, 000. Negaunee defeated Marquette Saturday by a score of 8 to 3 and repeated the trick Sunday by a score of 12 to 1. Both games were played at Negaunee.

too weird to describe in detail. The Escanaba team literally ran away with its opponents. McDonald pitched for the locals and allowed the visitors but four hits, while the Escanaba warriors touched the three pitchers used by Ishpeming for a total of 19 hits, netting a total of 22 runs, believed to be the record here in a regular game. Ishpeming managed to squeeze out one run, principally through an error.

One of the Ishpeming pitchers compelled to retire was Scott, who started the game and lasted not quite three innings. Scott has a reputation of being some twirler and for several years was one of the star boxmen of the Freeport team of the Wisconsin-Illinois league. His support was so poor, however, that he could not make any sort of a showing and he was evidently glad to retire in favor of Swanson, who pitched two and one-third innings. Swanson was then yanked and Captain Hagel, who had been playing at short, went into the box and finished the game. Escanaba made five runs in the second inning, five in the third, nine in the fifth and
