Honest Advice to Consumptives

Somewhere there exists a vast amount of scepticism as to the possibility of curing Consumption. We state none but facts, and are sincere in what we assert. If we were afflicted with Tuberculosis, we should do precisely what we ask others to do—take Eckman's Alternative promptly and faithfully. The reason we should do this and warrant we have for asking all Consumptives to take it, is that we have the reports of many recoveries, one of which follows:—
1618 Susquehanna Ave., Phila., Pa.
Gentlemen: For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, the number totaled nearly one hundred. Our family physician advised another climate, as to remain would probably be fatal. However, I remained, and in February of 1902, I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered, sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. It was at this time, March, 1902, that I learned of and started taking Eckman's Alternative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well. Since that time I have had two slight attacks of pneumonia and I have resorted to no other medicine to effect a cure.
I am at present in excellent health and feel that as long as I can obtain Eckman's Alternative, I have no fear of Consumption. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done.
(Signed) HOWARD L. KLOTZ.
Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upholding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman's Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa. for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

THE BILL IS REPORTED OUT

agent; the Flowers amendment to the debts and legacies bill; the Skovels bill making incurable insanity a ground for absolute divorce, and a number of bills making minor amendments to existing laws.

Big appropriation bills continue to come. Representative Gray introduced one for the Central State Normal school, asking $348,000 of which $100,000 is for a new science and agricultural building, while Representative Richardson introduced a bill asking $300,760 for the Northern Normal school, of which $160,000 is for a new building.

If a bill introduced by Senator Ogg becomes a law, butchers will be required to pass an examination in order to do business. Senator Ogg introduced the bill in behalf of the butchers' association.

The bill provides for the appointment of a commission of five members, one of whom shall be treasurer. The commission is to elect a non-member secretary.

Certificates will be issued to all butchers who have been in business three years or more without examination. All others must pass an examination touching their qualifications as regards killing and preparing animals and poultry, making sausage, detecting disease in live animals and determining drying meats.

Two bills were passed by the senate this afternoon. Both were introduced by Senator Odell and were amendments to the dairy and food act. One act enables the commissioner to employ more inspectors. An amendment was tacked to it providing that the salaries of the inspectors should not exceed the revenue secured from the inspections.

Senator Ogg presented a petition from 2,791 railway employees asking that the senate pass his bill providing for semi-monthly pay day by railroads.

Apparently the senators are more familiar with the curative benefits of walking than the members of the house, as the upper body turned down a concurrent resolution this afternoon calling upon the state board of auditors to run the capitol elevator during the week-end recess period. The motion passed in the house.

Want to Feel Young?

It's Olive Tablets For You!

Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from just a few constipated days, especially in old people, unless you take yourself in hand. Coax the jaded bowel muscles back to normal action with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them to unnatural action with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines with nasty, sickening cathartics.

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistency and Nature's assistance. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets oil the bowels; their action is gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or griping when Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have. Take Olive Tablets mixed with Olive oil and have no trouble with your bowels or stomach. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own," 10c and 25c per box. FIVE NEW PAPERS A DAY

Birth Rate in the United States and Canada According to Newspaper Census

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—New publications came into existence during 1912 at the rate of about five a day, according to census figures compiled by the 1913 American Newspaper Annual and Directory, published here today.

The exact number begun is 1,688. In the same period 1,650 were discontinued, making the net increase for the year 38, about equally divided between the United States and Canada. As in recent years, there were many consolidations. Much the largest comparative growth was in the daily field. The publishing and printing industry, which the Annual and Directory represents, is one that, in number of employees, value of products, and value added by manufacture, is exceeded only by four others in the entire realm of our country's manufacture. The increase in value of output in this industry is remarkable. In ten years it was more than 36 per cent. The annual income of newspapers and publications is now estimated at $360,000,000—a million dollars a day—of

FIRST MONUMENT TO BLUE AND GRAY

Viqueaney of Americus, Ga., and the sculptor is Frank C. Hibbard of Chicago. GRAY HAIR TURNS ITS NATURAL COLOR AFTER APPLYING A LITTLE SAGE TEA

Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens Beautifully and Takes Off Dandruff. Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own but it's usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's" which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is the best remedy for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and to stop falling hair. Folks like "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly, says a well-known downtown druggist. You dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This requires but a few moments, by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two is restored to its natural color and looks even more beautiful and glossy than ever.

which, perhaps, two-thirds is derived from advertising. The current Annual and Directory describes 24,381 publications, of which 2,633 are daily; 17,285 weekly; 3,069 monthly. These are printed in 11,629 towns, which are likewise commercially described. Publications issued in the interest of various classes and lines of business continue to be numerous. There are 208 such lists, running from the large ones, devoted to religion and agriculture, to small groups, representing sociology, woman's suffrage, cement and concrete, moving pictures, esperanto, etc. Every line of activity has its printed exponent in these days.

I know this question, because I have studied it not only in our own America but in most of the capitals of Europe. I and my department want to be of genuine help to you. The personal service plan of The Tribune and the absolute confidence in which these letters are held bring The Tribune readers in close relation with our Mary Eleanor O'Donnell Woman's Section. OVER SIX HUNDRED PAGES and would be three times the size of a standard magazine; and remember—the price of The Sunday Tribune is only 5c a copy.

DYNAMITE AS IT EXPLODES.

It Follows, as Lightning Does, the Line of Least Resistance.

It is the popular impression that dynamite seeks the line of greatest resistance. Place a quantity of black powder on a rock and light it with a fuse. It will flash, simply scorching the stone. Place a piece of dynamite on the same rock, and the rock will be shattered; hence the reasoning that dynamite follows the line of greatest resistance.

Nothing could be further from the truth, however. The black powder takes fire and explodes much more slowly than the dynamite, so that the elastic air that incloses it, as it does everything, gives way gradually and the force is lost in the atmosphere.

With dynamite the explosion has been so sudden, the attack on the air so instantaneous, that for a fraction of a second it actually resists. The force of the dynamite is so tremendous that it cannot wait, and it is turned into the rock, which for the instant becomes the line of least resistance.

An illustration of this may be seen during a display of lightning. A fork of it strikes across the sky. It packs the air so densely that it can no longer make rapid progress in that direction, and it turns aside to follow the line of least resistance. It cannot wait for the air to yield. It is the same with dynamite.—Harper's Weekly.

The Position of the Poles.

Both Peary and Amundsen made allowances in determining the sites of the poles. Their position is not perfectly constant, there being a counter-clock elliptical movement of some thirty feet and a counter-clock circular movement of some twenty-six feet in diameter in a period of 28 days at the extreme axis of the earth. This change, however, is so slight as not to be reckoned in, practical calculations. Peary and Amundsen made no guesses, but took several observations from various standpoints to determine conclusively that they had reached the poles.—Christian Herald.

Raising His Bluff.

She reading a list of names in a national subscription. Anonymous, 5 francs; we'll make people believe that's we. He Oh, no, let's choose this one. "Anonymous—100 francs." She That's too much. He—Nothing is too much, madame. In a national cause.—Pele Mele.

Why?

"Experience is a great teacher," said the old fox.
 "Then why do some men get married four times?" asked the thoughtful idiot.—Cleveland Enquirer.

The Resemblance.

"Don't you think my husband looks like Napoleon?" asked the bride.
 "Well, yes, a little," her former champion replied. "He's short and stout."—Chicago Herald.

SWISS WRESTLERS.

Curious Contests In Which They Display Marvelous Strength.

Wrestling seems to be an international sport, but one of the most curious styles to be seen is probably that of the Swiss. There is generally an immense meeting of the wrestlers every year, called the "swingerfest," meaning literally the "festival of swinging," and to this festival come the mountain men from all parts of Switzerland.

It takes place in an immense arena, generally four or six couples wrestling at the same time, with stands around for the audience. The men who are wrestling each wear a pair of short knickers, very loosely worn, and made of some sort of material, with a leather belt at the top to strap it on round the waist, over their costumes; and the idea is to catch their opponents by these knickers and throw them. Both shoulders must touch the ground, and the men are not allowed to hold their opponents except by the knickers.

Of course it is mainly a question of brute strength and on nearly all occasions the mountain men prove the better of the townsmen. Very often a man will throw his opponent clean over his shoulder through the air, and when one considers that this must be done only by gripping a piece of satchel or such like material in either hand, at the height of a man's loins, some idea can be gathered of the marvelous strength shown on these occasions.

BASEBALL STRATEGY.

Brain Work of More Importance Than Mere Athletic Ability.

There are things in a ball game not mentioned in the rules. A team made up of players who had never seen nor read of the game and had never had any instruction outside of the rules would have no hit and run plays, no squeeze plays, probably no men caught "dat footed" off base, no double steals, no delayed steals, no shifting of the infield according to the runners on, the score and the "outs"; no signaling, no signal stealing, no hidden ball tricks, no "stalling" tricks, by which a player is led to think a ball is fielded in one place when it is really fielded elsewhere—in fact, the very heart and soul of baseball would be missing. The batter would hit or walk and patiently wait for his successor to hit or walk to advance him. Runs would be in exact proportion to hits, and outs would be made only in the stereotyped ways, and nobody would care either to play or to see the game!

So it might be said, without much fear of contradiction, that the strategy of the game, the part played by brains and wits, is more to baseball than athletic ability to run, hit, field or throw, spectacular and exciting as plays made only by strength, muscle and skill must always be. C. H. Claudy in St. Nicholas.

Eight Honest Horsepower.

without question is the fastest machine on the road today.

Its exceptional speed has been obtained in a measure through the use of large intake and exhaust chambers and passages; and pistons, connecting rods and fly wheels individually and collectively in perfect balance. And this speed comes without sacrificing one atom of Harley-Davidson reliability or endurance. In fact the decreased vibration, due to more perfect balance of the vital parts has actually increased the life of the motor.

The Full-Floating Seat which does away with all jolts and jars due to rough roads, and the Free-Wheel Control, a device which permits starting without the usual hard pedaling or running alongside are incorporated in all models.

Both of these features are patented and are to be found only on the Harley-Davidson.

HOME RULE PARTY WON

rejected the home rule bill, 326 to 69. The result was a foregone conclusion.

The speeches aroused little interest, because, as the Earl of Halsbury pathetically observed, the position of the house was now that of an ordinary debating club—the peers could express their views and reject the bill but they could not prevent it from becoming a law.

Nevertheless, the largest muster of peers since the fateful evening they passed the parliament bill assembled in the house and bejeweled peeresses thronged the side galleries. Lord Lansdowne wound up the debate for the opposition and Lord Morley for the government.

The scene was altogether lacking in the dramatic excitement which accompanied the lords' rejection of Mr. Gladstone's bill in 1893 by a far larger majority—378.

The division was on party lines, practically the whole of the Episcopal bench voting against the bill.

At the Grand tonight the Vitagraph two-reel special, "The Dawning," will be shown. A pretty and wholesome idea is worked out in this two-reel subject. A young woman captivated by the handsome presence and engaging manners of a French artist is ready to take him for her husband, when a call of art and business takes him to Paris. Offended by his willingness to leave her the young woman marries another suitor, an American whom she does not love but who is very much in love with her. Later her newly made husband is also called to Paris. The artist and his former sweetheart meet in the former's studio. While posing in the studio in a German Costume the artist attempts to take liberties with her. She resents them and begins to recognize the true character of the man. She now turns to her husband, whose open and manly ways she finds contrast very favorably with those of the unprincipled artist. The husband at first prone to resent her long indifference to him, yields to the entreaties of his wife, and as the new day is born the dawn of their own lives begin.

There are many fine situations in this play, and some scenes show great powers of characterization. Three fine pictures are given in addition to this special feature.

At the Royal a very choice assortment of pictures are shown. The feature is a beautiful Vitagraph drama entitled "A Woman." It tells of a woman hungry for the love she at first spurned, returns it with the increased richness of her own. Her whole soul is joined with his in a lingering kiss of reconciliation. There is a dramatic fervor and intensity to this production that is little short of sensational. Miss Leah Baird portrays the woman, and Mr. Courtney Foote, the man. There is another excellent picture named "Greater Wealth," featuring Hobart Bosworth. An exciting Western drama "The Cowboy and the baby" that is making good. Wm. Wadsworth, known as the Winking Parson, is seen in a fine comedy, "How they Got the Vote," and a very beautiful scenic picture of the Yosemite National Park, a glorious journey into the land of giants where little man fades into insignificance in contrast to the wonders of nature.

DEDICATION IS FEB. 24

nies proper will be held in the afternoon and will be conducted in the Swedish language, but in the evening Dr. Johnston will give one of his masterly addresses in English. It is very probable that the other Protestant churches in the city will close their churches for the evening. The complete program for the exercises of the day will be published later.

The art glass windows will be in place before the day of dedication. They are completed and Rev. Lund went to Chicago Wednesday evening to give them a final inspection before they are shipped to this city. When these windows are in place it will give a different appearance to the church. The windows now in the church are the storm sash. These will be kept in after the art windows are in place.

The dedication on Feb. 23 will follow a three-days' meeting of the pastors in the Green Bay district of the Superior Conference, of which Rev. Lund is president. This meeting will attract a large number of prominent Swedish Lutherans from this part of the upper peninsula and northern Wisconsin.
