J. PIERPONT MORGAN DIED AT NOON TODAY

KING OF FINANCIERS SUCCUMBS FROM A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN CAUSED BY "MONEY TRUST" PROBE

CAREER OF FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Mr. Morgan Began Career in a Banking House, and Gradually Climbed Ladder of Success

(By Associated Press.)

Rome, March 31.—J. Pierpont Morgan, the wizard of finance, died at five minutes after noon today.

Dr. M. Allen Starr, the nerve specialist of New York, attributed his breakdown to emotion caused by the investigation of the Pujo committee of the "money trust."

Since that time Mr. Morgan has been on a journey through Egypt in hopes of regaining his health, when he suffered another breakdown. However, his condition improved some what and the visit was cut short and the financier went to Rome. Here his condition became critical on Easter Sunday and since that time he has been growing worse, until he succumbed today.

Gradually Weakened

The death of Mr. Morgan was expected momentarily, and his condition has been gradually weakening. The only sign of his internal suffering could be recognized by the movement of his right hand. Otherwise no sign of vitality, except by the heavy breathing. At eleven o'clock the doctors gave up hope as he was unable to take the proper nourishment. The heart tonics injected had but little effect, and he was in a coma state several hours before his death.

The only nourishment which Morgan has taken for the past few days has been through injections, to which the physicians had to resort to.

Many relatives were present at his bedside. The relatives thought that a mistake had been made in bringing him to Rome instead of London for they believed that the thought of being in his own house and the brisk air would have helped him.

History of Life

J. Pierpont Morgan was born in Hartford, Conn., April 17th, 1837. He graduated from the English high school at Boston and later attended the university at Gottingen, Germany. Mr. Morgan was twice married, the second time to Frances Tracey in 1862. In 1857 he entered the bank of Duncan, Sherman & Company, where he began his career and finally climbed the ladder until he became known as the wizard of finance. Three years later he became agent and attorney in the United States for Geo. Peabody & Co., dealing in investments and securities, which ended in the formation of the J. P. Morgan & company, with the J. P. Morgan as the head. This company is the largest private banking house in the United States with a branch in London. The company was largely occupied in the re-organization of railroads and the consolidation of industrial properties. During the Cleveland administration he organized and floated the U. S. Steel corporation for $1,100,000.

His father was a genius and left him ten millions of dollars. Morgan became a great banker and was called the "sphinx of Wall street." He is the only man that ever beat out Jay Gould.

Mr. Morgan proved to be quite a philanthropist in the last quarter of a century, and has given much money for public enterprises in the way of sites, buildings and fine gifts.

The body of J. P. Morgan is to be embalmed and sent to the United States from Naples. Services will be held in Rome first.

Stocks are Unaffected

New York, March 31.—The death of J. P. Morgan has caused no excitement. A small drop in the stocks in the exchange are noted.

London, March 31.—Morgan's death caused no marked change in the stocks.

CONFERENCE SUCCESSFUL

The Escanaba Representatives Returned Last Evening Much Impressed with Conference

The Upper Peninsula Boys' conference closed last evening at Ishpeming after a most interesting three day session, and the Escanaba representatives returned home last evening well pleased with the exceptionally fine program afforded and the excellent entertainment provided for their comfort.

Every session held during the conference days was largely attended and much interest was manifested by all. The supper on Friday evening was largely attended, the church parlors being taxed to their capacity. The ready response of the delegates to the sentiment of co-operation and service that characterized the speeches of the evening impressed many with the fact that the future leadership among the boys would meet the highest expectations.

When business sessions were not in progress the visitors at Ishpeming were entertained with basket ball contests, bowling games, billiard and pool playing.

Sunday the boys attended services in the churches, and in the afternoon meetings were held, at which time the adults addressed the assemblage. The session closed with a meeting at the "Y" where farewell talks were given by the leaders and delegates.

It was decided that a conference would be held annually in the upper peninsula, but the place of the gathering for 1914 was not decided on. Calumet and Menominee extended invitations.

DR. MUCKLOW IS AN IMPRESSIVE TALKER

Will Deliver an Address at City Hall in Advancing the Progressive Platform

Relative to the ability of Dr. Mucklow, who comes to this city Tuesday evening, April 1st, to deliver an address at the city hall on the "Bull Moose" movement, the telegram received from Frank J. Russel, Marquette, who is at Detroit, Mich., by the Mirror this afternoon is interesting. He says: "Dr. Mucklow is a strong progressive orator. He discussed the McDonald case in a very interesting manner. He made a great hit at the Roosevelt meeting Saturday night when he spoke."

ESCANABA FRIENDS AT GLADSTONE PARTY

CHATFIELD WILL WIN

CITIZENS' PARTY WERE WISE IN THEIR SELECTION OF A CANDIDATE THIS SPRING FOR MAYOR

IS A MAN WITH MANY FRIENDS

Young Men Especially Rally Around Him and Pledge Him Their Support on This Occasion

O. P. Chatfield the candidate for mayor on the Citizens ticket will roll up a majority of votes that will be surprising. He is just the kind of a man that the majority of people want for mayor right now.

He is a business man that has made his own way in the world and knows how to handle finances and get value for money expended. A resident of Escanaba for over ten years he has kept close watch upon the affairs of the city and his experience as an alderman in Marquette has made him doubly conversant with the management of the affairs of a city like Escanaba.

He is at the head of the leading industries of Delta county and is investing his money here in improving a business that has been constantly expanding since it was started by him.

Mr. Chatfield is a modern business man with an education that has been gained along the most liberal of lines. He is not radical nor rabid on any subject. Escanaba needs him right now more than any other candidate for the head of the city's government.

Business men, laboring men and professional men can see the desirability of having Mr. Chatfield for mayor and that he will be elected by one of the largest majorities is the foregone conclusion of most of the careful thinking people of Escanaba.

No one can make a mistake in voting for "Chat." One thing is certain: If he is elected he will be the boss.

UNION MEN QUIT WORK

Carpenters and Masons at the Birdseye Veneer Company's Plant Refuse to Work

The carpenters and masons employed at the Birdseye Veneer Co.'s plant along the Northwestern railway right of way, quit work Saturday morning, and have since refused to return. The reason for so doing was that a committee of the steam fitter's union waited on them, and informed the carpenters and masons that they should cease working unless they (union men) were employed in the steam fitting work at the plant. So the carpenters and masons quit. The Birdseye Veneer company, have had their steam fitting done by their own men, and at present about two-thirds of the work is completed.

The officials of the Birdseye company have given the carpenters and masons until Tuesday afternoon to return to their work, or else they will make arrangements with other carpenters to complete the work.

3 AVENUES OF ESCAPE

IMMORAL LIFE, MARRIAGE OR DEATH ARE ONLY MEANS FOR GIRLS TO ESCAPE FROM "SWEATSHOPS"

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, March 31.—Immoral life, marriage or death are the only avenues of escape for the girls from the "sweatshops" according to witnesses before the state vice commission today. The average wages paid to the girls amount to $3.50 per week. W. I. Rubens, manufacturers of underwear, said today that women in factories lure girls to lead an immoral life. The books of Rosenwald and Well, clothing manufacturers, were seized today when they failed to bring them before the committee.

ONLY INJURED HIS KNEE CAP IN FALL

The Daily Mirror is glad, indeed, to learn that John Mayon, of this city still has the use of both of his lower limbs, and that the accident that befell him at Iron Mountain Friday was nothing more than an injury to his knee cap when he slipped on a piece of ice while working for the Northwestern road.

Mr. and Mrs. Lippold were the recipients of many valuable gifts, among which was a beautiful buffet.

The guests reluctantly departed from the Lippold home at a late hour. They were profuse in extending their congratulations to the host and hostess, and wished them more years of wedded bliss.

KNIGHTS RETURN FROM MARQUETTE EXERCISES

Three Degrees Were Conferred During the Day, and a Banquet Tendered to Guests

About fifteen Knights of Columbus from this city visited Marquette yesterday as the guests of the Marquette and Ishpeming councils, which held their joint initiation and banquet. The program as outlined was carried out. The knights attended a special mass at St. Peter's church. At ten o'clock the first degree was conferred, and in the afternoon the second and third degrees were exemplified. The third degree was exemplified by M. H. Kern, of Menominee.

The banquet was the crowning feature of the days exercises. A delightful menu was served and the program of toasts was greatly enjoyed.

SISTER DIED IN FLOODED DISTRICT

Mrs. Grace Richmond-Champion, who has been a member of the Champion-Richmond stock company playing at the Grand theatre, received a telegram yesterday informing her that her sister was dead at Richmond, Kentucky. She was in the flooded district, and although the particulars her death were not learned it is believed that she died of pneumonia caused by exposure during the flood period.

ENGINE AND THREE CARS LEAVE TRACK AND TOPPLE OVER WHEN OBSTRUCTION IS STRUCK

TWO BODIES FOUND UNDER CARS

Some Obstruction on the Track was the Cause of the Accident—Rail Not Broken

4:40 p.m.—It was reported about the street this afternoon that the men killed in the derailment at Bagley last evening were from this city. As the coroner's inquest has not yet been held, nothing definite can be learned and we refrain from mentioning the names until there is more of a certainty as to the identity.

Last night train No. 102, on the Chicago & North-western railroad, which is the Copper country special from Houghton to Chicago, was derailed near Bagley. The accident happened at about 10:40.

Engineer James Corcoran and Fireman Edward Sorlie were injured.

Two men were crushed to death and their bodies were found today when the wrecking car raised the tender of the engine and the mail car. The men were either stealing a ride on the train or were upon the right-of-way and got caught. The circumstances surrounding the derailment of the train are mysterious. Marks of the wheels of the train show plainly where the first cars went off and there is no broken rail to be seen. The train traveled at least twelve lengths of track before any of the track was torn up, which shows that something had been placed upon the track that did not belong there. The presence of the bodies of two men under the cars is also very mystifying. One of them was well dressed and the other was attired in a suit of overalls. When the engine left the track it was separated from its tender which fell on the opposite side of the track a long distance from where the train was derailed. The body of one of the men was found under the tender while the other had been crushed to death under the mail car.

When the accident happened the train was traveling at the rate of perhaps 45 miles an hour. When Engineer Corcoran struck the obstruction he applied the emergency causing his engine to leave the track and topple over. The mail car, baggage car and express car also tipped over. All the rest of the train with the exception of three sleeping cars left the track but remained in their natural positions. The wrecking car from this division as well as the big wrecker from Green Bay were ordered out to clear the track and pick up the coaches, but it will probably be late tonight before the cars can be placed back upon the track.

WALKING TO SAFETY ON TELEGRAPH CABLES

When the flood struck Dayton, causing tremendous loss of life and property, some of the inhabitants sought safety from the waters by walking along the telegraph cables, as shown in this remarkable photograph.

You can see the tall sky-line of a great city, with its thousands of offices full of people, from a point several miles distant.

But when you wish to "see" one of those people on business, resort to the telephone. Its range is not restricted by fog nor by the earth's curvature.

Fable of a Dog That Misunderstood. Once there was a motley little yellow dog that was picked up in the street by a kind man. The man, feeling sorry for him and being afraid no one else would be good to such a homely cur, kept him and bought him a handsome collar and treated him so well that the dog soon began to strut and grow very proud and vain.

"Surely," he said to the house cat, "I must be a very fine dog to be so much admired and petted," and with that he began to bark at the solemn old Persian cat, which ignored him entirely.

"She is rather a well trained one thing," thought the dog. "She knows enough not to talk back to her betters."

"Ah," said the dog, "I must be a very fine dog, indeed—they, too, realize they must not reprove their superiors."

FINDS MYSTERY OF THE DEEP

Steamer Discovers Bark but Fate of Captain and Crew is Like That of Celeste's.

Newport News, Va.—Another mystery of the deep, virtually paralleling the disappearance of the crew of the schooner Marie Celeste years ago, came to port with the British tank steamer Roumanian.

The Marie Celeste was found at sea with a pot boiling in the galley, its captain's papers on the cabin table and every indication that men were aboard within a few hours of its discovery. Nothing, however, ever was heard of the skipper or crew.

The story of the Norwegian bark Remittent, with a crew of six, is equally strange. The Roumanian sighted the Remittent drifting near the Azores and took it in tow.

The boat's deck planks, once hoisted to a glistening white, bore the marks of many feet, but there was no one aboard and nothing to explain the disappearance of the master and crew. In the cabin the lockfast places were undisturbed; charts and papers were secure. In the breaker there was fresh water; salt junk and biscuits were in the stores. A mainsail and two jibs were snugly furled and lifeboats swung in the davits.

In a gale 100 miles off Cape Henry, Captain Claridge lost the Remittent. No other ship has reported it since.

The Remittent was commanded by Captain Torgersen and sailed from Rio Grande do Sul Oct. 25 for Liverpool.

Seattle Woman Recognizes Handwork She Put on Trousers and Bandit is Taken.

Seattle, Wash.—Recognition last week by Mrs. William J. Mayorick of a patch she had placed on the leg of her husband's trousers, resulted in the arrest of two men and the recovery from the home of one of them a wagonload of articles stolen from Seattle homes.

Charles Castro, from whose home the articles were recovered, was wearing the clothes, and opposite Mrs. Mayorick in a street car. When she questioned his right to the clothes he abused her and men passengers took him into custody and delivered him at police headquarters. Mayorick's name was written on a pocket lining.

The other man arrested is Tony Donio, who was found in Castro's home. The police say he is a member of a "black hand" organization that has been terrorizing Seattle Italians and that he is wanted in Idaho to answer criminal charges.

"A MODERN EVE" LARGELY ATTENDED

The Musical Comedy Production Last Evening Pleas'd the Large Audience at Petersons

"A Modern Eve," the musical satire on the suffrage question, given at the Peterson theater last evening was the first theatrical entertainment of the post-Lenten season and was witnessed by a full house, that seemed to enjoy the performance greatly. The comedy work of Alexander Clark as Casimir Cascaider, the homekeeping husband of an advanced suffragette, was one of the best features of the performance and it kept the audience laughing continually. The company was a large and capable one, with a good chorus, and the scenic setting, costuming, novelty dances and song hits made the entire production one of the season's most entertaining and pleasing offerings.

SEXES CHANGE ATTIRE

PLACES WHERE WOMEN DRESS AS MEN, AND VICE VERSA.

Alpine Dairy Maids, at Their Work, Wear Masculine Dress, as Do the Females in the Extreme North - Brigands in Skirts.

There are places in the world where women dress in men's clothing and men don women's apparel.

Even in Paris there are women dressed in cheap, coarse, masculine attire, working as teamsters and day laborers.

In Persia, in some of the interior parts, the women wear the strangest, oddest trouser garments. They seem to like them, too, from the fact that they cling to them in spite of all efforts to make them don feminine attire.

Then there are the Alpine dairy maids who dress as men when they go about their work and look pretty, if we are inclined to take evidence from the numbers of men who yearly persuade them to cast off their masculine dress and put on more clinging costumes.

Again, far in the north, where it is freezing cold most of the time, and people dress to be comfortable and not to look pretty, the women are actually forced into trousers to keep warm.

The ancient women warriors always wore trousers. But their reasons were half masculine in manner and appearance, and dressed to accentuate their qualities.

As for the stronger sex, there still seem to be men in existence who wear women's garb and enjoy it. In certain parts of Greece, Spain, and Albania there are bands of desperate brigands who, when they are decked out for attacks on strangers or neighbors, look for all the world like grand opera ballet girls.

MYSTERY IN A POCKET

By C. D. JAMES.

Usher one day not long ago shouted upstairs to Mrs. Usher that he found his watch was slow and that she had just five minutes to make the train to the golf club.

"Gracious!" wailed Mrs. Usher back at him, "I never can—there's a thin spot in the heel of my stocking right above the edge of my low shoes and it'll rub into a hole in no time. It's silk—"

"Take along another pair!" ordered Usher, gruffly. "You can change out there and there won't be a soul around and it's such a bully day—oh, come along!"

Thereupon Mrs. Usher came along, frantically struggling into a heavy coat and stuffing hosiery and handkerchiefs into her husband's pockets. "There!" she said, triumphantly, when they had played nine holes, "I look at my stocking!" An unmistakable hole showed above the line of her low shoe.

"Yes," she answered, "I'm coming!" and hastily rammed home the hosiery. Let it be said at this point that Usher's coat hung very close to the next one. The next one belonged to Benning.

That evening as Benning settled himself comfortably with the evening paper there was a little choking sound

"Don't Look So Idiotic!"

In the hall and presently Mrs. Benning stood before him tragically holding out something brown.

"Huh!" asked Benning, peering at the brown thing.

"What may I ask," demanded his wife, "are you doing with brown silk stockings in your coat pocket, Arthur? Kindly answer me that!"

"She shook out the hosiery to its full and incriminating length. "Don't look so idiotic!" she cried when she could stand the strain no longer.

"Why—why," stammered Benning, "I don't know a thing about them."

"Then explain!" blazed his wife. "Good Lord!" groaned Benning, after a wild instant. "I can't! I—"

"I shall go home to mother," announced Mrs. Benning. "I shall tell the janitor to bring up my trunks."

The rest of that night Mrs. Benning held her outraged head very high while carrying things from the closets and bureau drawers to trunks, Benning alternately tagging after her, piteously expostulating, or sunk in the biggest armchair in an attitude expressive of complete weariness with the world.

"I know it sounds foolish," he moaned, "to say I don't know how the confounded things got there, but—"

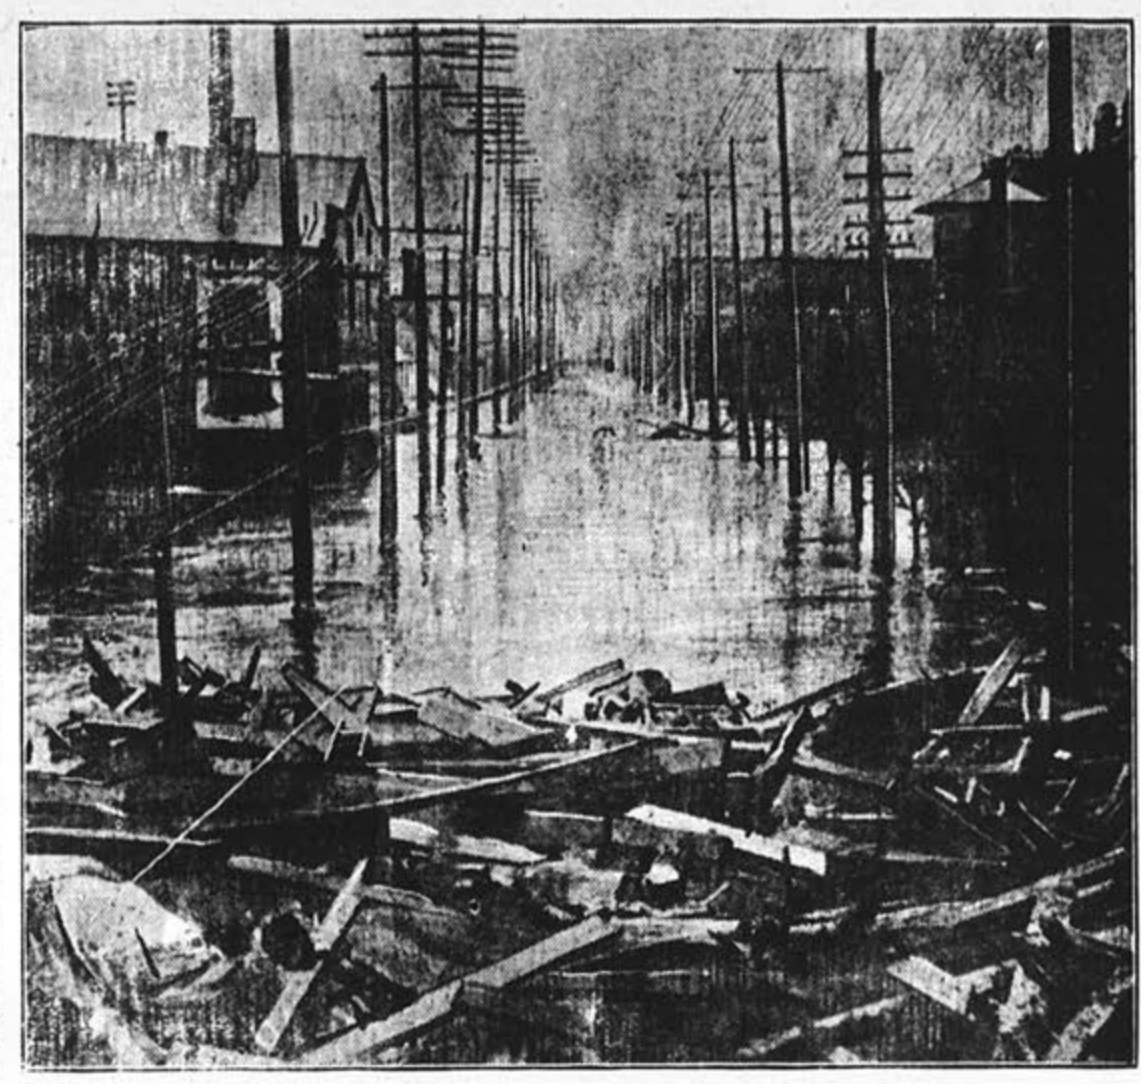

"It certainly does!" Mrs. Benning assured him, frostily. "I at least gave you credit for more imagination."

"Hello!" said Usher's voice. "Say, have you by any chance got my wife's brown silk stockings in your overcoat pocket—"

"Here! Here!" yelled Benning, beckoning frantically to Mrs. Benning. "Come and listen to this!"

"I don't care!" said Mrs. Benning some moments later, when the crying and forgiving were over. "I never did like that Mrs. Usher, anyhow! And now, Arthur Benning, you can just set to work and help me unpack." - Chicago Daily News.

REAL USE FOR QUEUE

QUITE GOOD REASONS WHY CHINAMAN CHERISHED IT.

Was Believed to Promote Health, and Certainly Was a Protection to the Head Both in Summer and Winter.

A great many people have, no doubt, wondered just why the Chinese should cultivate queues. It has been claimed that the queue was sacred to them, that it was a disgrace to injure those long braids of shiny black hair, just as it was considered nearly a sacrilege in Bible times to injure the beard.

No doubt the Chinaman took pride in his long braid of hair, because his fathers before him took pride in it, but, according to several authorities who have long studied the customs and history of China and the Chinese, there were other reasons for the queue, and apparently quite good reasons at that.

In the first place, the Chinaman believed that it was far more healthful to wear his head shaven, except at the top of his head, and let it grow in a long mass to be braided. One belief was that wearing the hair in this manner increased the circulation of blood in the brain and therefore made the Chinaman healthier and keener.

Then again, during cold weather the queue could be braided about the head, giving the protection of a thick warm cap. And in extremely hot weather the queue was again braided about the top of the head, this time to protect the wearer from sunstroke.

The long queue is also used as a sort of neck-cloth, to wrap about the neck, and it is bound loosely on the back of the head to serve as a pillow at night. Perhaps one of the most peculiar uses attributed to it is in sudden illness or injury, especially in the old days of warfare when swords were the general weapons. Then it was used as a turban to bind about the forehead and prevent too great a loss of blood.

DEAL USE FOR QUEUE

of blood. It was for these reasons as well as for any reasons of sentiment or religion that the Chinaman hesitated so long before agreeing to sacrifice their queues, but it is evident that the custom of wearing queues was not what might be termed a "foolish habit," as it was really made to serve a number of uses.

EXCELSIOR Auto-Cycles

Discriminating buyers are purchasing Excelsiors. There's a reason. One of the reasons is its motor. It has great power, speed and reliability. Every rider wants these qualities. "No other motor of its displacement has ever been built which has the power, speed and endurance of the 1913 Excelsior motor. The single runs away from many twins of other makes and the Excelsior Twin can lap most 10 horse power twins. The twins test well over 10 horse power and the singles over 5 horse power, although they are still eligible to compete in the 4 and 7 horse power classes—a point which is a good one to remember in buying a motor-cycle. you have tried Schlitz in Brown Bottles.

It is not enough that beer be made pure, it should be kept pure until it reaches your glass.

Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives the best protection against light. The Brown Bottle protects Schlitz purity from the brewery to your glass.

The cost of purity exceeds all other costs in our brewery.

FINDS JOHN D.'S GLOVES

Student's First Impulse Was to Keep Them for Souvenir, But Honesty Is Well Rewarded.

Hackensack, N. J.—James Darling, a young student here, found a pair of gloves belonging to John D. Rockefeller.

His first impulse was to keep them as a souvenir, but his conscience finally whispered that he ought to return the gloves to their owner. He did so by parcel post.

In return he has just received the following letter:

My dear James—I want to thank you very much for returning the gloves which you found after they had dropped from our machine.

Your decision to return them is typical of the honesty of the average American boy.

"I trust that you will always be able to make right decisions where matters of honesty are concerned.

"Three cheers for young America. Sincerely yours,

"JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER."

Darling figures that he has been more than amply rewarded, as it is conceded that the letter is much more valuable as a souvenir than the gloves could possibly have been.

Real Howler.

A good story is being told of a gentleman not unknown in South African musical circles. He is rather proud of his vocal abilities. Recently he attempted in public to render "The Owl."

A friend afterwards remarked that the music was not suitable to his compass, and that he should get it in the key of C.

Our friend immediately marched off to a music shop and announced:

"I want 'The Owl' in C."

"Very sorry," replied the shopman; "we have not got 'The Howling Sea,' but we can do you 'Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep.'"

GOOD APPLE PUDDINGS

RECIPES FOR WHAT IS KNOWN AS QUEEN OF DESSERTS.

Dutch Style Universally Liked—Cooked With Rice is a Method Many Prefer—Brown Betty an Old Favorite.

Dutch apple pudding—One pint of flour, one teaspoon cream tartar, one-half teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt, one egg and a generous two-thirds cup of sweet milk. Mix the flour, cream tartar, soda and salt together and put through the sieve. Beat the egg light and mix with the milk. Rub two tablespoons of butter into the flour and mix well with the milk and egg. Do not mold, but pour the mixture into a well-buttered pan, having the dough one inch deep in the pan. Pare four apples, cut them in eighths, stick the pieces in rows into the dough and sift on two tablespoons of granulated sugar. Bake in a moderate oven twenty-five minutes. Serve with sugar and cream or any sweet sauce.

Apple and Rice Pudding—One and one-half cups uncooked rice, two dozen small apples. Wash the rice and soak two hours in cold water. Pare and quarter the apples, wet the pudding cloth, spread it in the colander, sprinkle lightly with flour, spread on two-thirds of the rice, lay in the apples as closely as possible, then the remainder of the rice. Tie up the bag, put into boiling water and boil one hour. Serve with molasses sauce.

Molasses Sauce—One cup of molasses, one-half cup of water, one tablespoon of butter, one-half teaspoon of cinnamon, a speck of salt, three tablespoons of vinegar. Boil twenty minutes. This is also nice for apple puddings, where cream is not plenty.

Apple Charlotte—Butter a deep earthen dish and place around the sides slices of bread cut about one inch thick, buttered and soaked in cold water. Fill the lined dish with sliced sour apples, put over them one cup of sugar, one-half cup of cold water, a sprinkle of salt and nutmeg grated or cassia to suit the taste. Cover the apples with the slices of soaked and buttered bread, then cover with a plate and bake slowly two hours. When ready to serve, loosen the bread from the sides with a knife, remove the plate from the top, lay the plate bottom up and lift off the dish it was baked in. To be eaten with cream and sugar.

Baked Indian and Apple Pudding—Two quarts of milk, one small cup of sifted cornmeal, one cup of molasses, one tablespoon of ginger, one teaspoon of salt, butter the size of an egg, one quart of sliced sweet apples. Put one quart of milk on the stove to heat and when hot sift the meal in, put it over the hot part of the stove to cook and stir it constantly for five minutes. Let it cook until it bubbles and thickens. Remove from the stove, add to seasoning and apples, then add the other quart of cold milk; stir and mix thoroughly, put into an earthen pudding dish and bake slowly four hours. After the pudding has been in the oven one hour take a spoon and stir the pudding thoroughly, as that mixes the apples, and it will not be all at the bottom of the dish. Then let it cook slowly the three hours undisturbed. Serve with sugar and cream.

Brown Betty—Butter an earthen pudding dish, cover the bottom with a layer of breadcrumbs, then put in a layer of chopped sour apples, then thick layer of crumbs. Sprinkle over a little sugar, nutmeg or cassia, small bits of butter, then a layer of crumbs and alternate with the apples until the dish is full, seasoning each layer of apples with sugar, butter and spice, having the last layer crumbs when the dish is filled. Pour over one cup of cold water, cover with a plate and bake in a slow oven two hours. To be eaten with sugar and cream.

Modern Dentistry Not Modern.

A medical authority has just stated a number of newly acquired bits of information that would seem to refute the proposition that modern dentistry is modern. Achievements of unknown dentists of ancient Egypt and Rome prove the contrary. Just who the dentists were, the historians do not always relate, but the results of their work have proved beyond a doubt that bridge work—on which we moderns specially pride ourselves—of the most skillful kind was done as long ago as six or seven centuries before Christ. In the tomb of Sison were found four incisors and two canine teeth in the jaw of a woman that were held together by gold wire, two of the former being transplanted teeth—that might be called crowns in this day—fastened in by gold wire. In the museum at Corneto, the ancient capital of the Etruscan federation, are to be seen several specimens of bridge work done by riveted bands of metal.

Not "Finished."

"I'm afraid the woman who plays the adventures in this show is not suited to the part."
"Why so?"
"She holds her cigarette as if it were a curling iron."

Extreme Precocity.

It has long been noted that many precocious children die young, and that extreme precocity being in the nature of disease, should be a subject of the gravest care. Medical authorities hold that in a highly precocious child the exercise of the intellect, whether in lessons or otherwise, should be controlled, not, as is too often the case, unduly stimulated if there is any desire that the child live to maturity. The annals of precocity present no more remarkable instance than the brief career of Christian Heinecker, born at Lubeck, February 6, 1721. At 10 months he could repeat every word said to him; at 12 months he knew by heart all the principal events told in the five books of Moses. In his second year he learned the greater part of the history in both the Old and New Testaments. In his third year he learned to speak Latin and French. In his fourth year he made a study of religion and was able not only to repeat all he had read, but to express his own judgment upon it. He was taken to the court at Copenhagen and proclaimed a wonder. He then learned to write, but his constitution being weak he fell ill and died on June 27, 1725, when little more than 4 years old, which should be a warning to parents not to push their precocious youngsters too hard.

Very Appreciative.

A story about Secretary of Interior Affairs Henry Houck concerns a tie and an overcoat.
Mr. Houck one day last winter met a business man and expressed admiration for a tie he was wearing. The next morning the secretary found on his desk a package containing a tie, a duplicate of the one his friend had been wearing, with a note to the effect that, as Secretary Houck had admired the tie so much, the donor begged permission to send one to him. "Uncle Henry," pleased at this evidence of friendship from the young merchant, wrote him a note of thanks, and at its close added:
"I also admired the handsome fur overcoat you were wearing."
As yet there has been no response. —Philadelphia Record.

"Quite so. Still, it is imperative for some of us to read laundry lists and time tables occasionally."

WORTH TRYING! SAYS SAGE TEA DARKENS FADED, GRAY HAIR JUST BEAUTIFULLY

Harmless But Effective—Mixed With Sulphur Makes Hair Soft and Luxuriant.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is coming in vogue again, says a well-known downtown druggist. It was our grandmother's treatment and hundreds of women and men too, are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage. Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is the most popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply dampen a soft brush or sponge with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight, and by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application it is restored to its natural color. What delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair they say it produces that soft lustrous appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides prevents dandruff; itching scalp and falling hair. Here, you gray-haired folks, get busy: look years younger.

"MOVIE" MAN HAS TO FIGHT TWELVE SUITS

Norway Theatre Man Has Been Served With Warrants Every Sunday for Keeping Open

E. Bergeron, proprietor of a "movie" theater at Norway, thinks he has the finest little collection of criminal suits on his hands of any man in Michigan.

Bergeron has a fight on with several ministers of the city, who are trying to close the saloons and theaters on Sunday and continues to operate his theatre each Sunday. The ministers are led by the Rev. Mr. Bird and each Monday morning Bergeron is served with a new warrant charging him with keeping his place open on Sunday in violation of law. He has a collection of twelve suits facing him now.

A petition has been presented to the Norway council asking that the theater's license be revoked, but it was tabled. The administration is said to be with Bergeron. The suits will be heard at the April term of circuit court.

Have Color in Your Cheeks-- Be Better Looking-- Try Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow--complexion pallid--tongue coated--appetite poor--a bad taste in your mouth--a lazy, no-good feeling--you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Oil Tablets--a substitute for calomel--were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with patients.

These Olive Tablets oil the bowels--yet have no oily taste. They are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil.

If you want a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause. Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel--yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

Bath Somewhat Too Warm.

One November there was an earthquake in Montana, and, although it did not change the face of nature, it did other strange things. A number of rheumatic persons, some of whom were bedridden, were cured, and a deaf mute recovered hearing and speech. In several cases it increased the temperature of springs to a marked degree.

More than one cold spring was turned into a warm one, and one spring that gave forth water at a temperature of ninety degrees, surprised the proprietor unpleasantly.

He plunged in for a bath, and came out again in short order, half-boiled--and no wonder, since the thermometer showed that the temperature in the water had risen to one hundred and twenty degrees.

One of the rules displayed in the restaurant attached to a Berlin theater reads, "On payment of a guest's bill, waiters in this establishment are expected to say 'Thanks,' even when no 'tip' is given. Violation of this rule will entail a fine of 25 pilsners."--London Globe.

CONGREGATION MEETING ON WEDNESDAY EVENING

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church Will Give a Dinner to Members

The annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church will be held in the lecture room of that church Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The members of the Ladies' aid society will give a dinner at that time to the members of the congregation. Of course, no admission fee will be charged. The members of the church are to meet at the church and to have a pleasant evening socially and to enjoy a good supper prepared for them by the woman's society.

After the dinner the reports for the year will be read by the officers selected by each society. The reports will be read by the following organizations: The Treasurer, The Trustees, The Session, The Woman's Mission Circle, The Ladies' Aid, The Young Woman's Auxillary, The King's Sons, The Westminster Guild, The Knights of King Arthur and The Bible School. Each one of these societies have been doing excellent work during the year and the reports will be most encouraging. Two elders and two trustees are also to be chosen at this time. The Board of Trustees will tell of their new plan of financing the church and will explain the new system to the congregation. This new plan will go into effect about May 1st. This gives the board about 3 weeks to complete their work, and it will be necessary for them to have the cooperation of each member in order to begin on time. It is certain the new system will be most pleasing to the members of that congregation. There will be many other topics of interest taken up at this time and no member of the Presbyterian congregation can afford to miss this pleasant and profitable evening. It is an opportunity also for the members of the church to become better acquainted with one another. It is certain that many will be present on Wednesday evening at 6:30 to enjoy that evening at the church. A cordial welcome will be in store for the new members of the church.

YOU don't mind it so much if some youngster does put it over on you April Fool's day--anyone can laugh at a joke. But you'd have a different story if someone sold you a part cotton suit for all wool. There isn't any fooling about that.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are absolutely all wool, or all wool and Silk. There isn't any April 1st business about that.

COMMISSION FORM IS GIVEN A BOOST

Pros. Atty. Strom Delivers Stirring Address Before Men's Club of Swedish Lutheran Church

Before a large and intelligent audience at the Swedish Lutheran church Saturday evening Prosecuting attorney Torval E. Strom warmly endorsed the commission form of government in an address. The workings of the system was explained in detail by Mr. Strom and by means of this system, the workings of the local government is taken out of politics and placed on a fundamental business plane. The speaker narrated at some length on the success of the systems at several of the cities where they have been in vogue, and showed how the new government had advanced the ideals of the municipality of Des Moines, Iowa. Pontiac, Mich was referred to in so far that in the short space of time that the government has been in operation the number of improvements have been greater than could be expected under the other form of government. The address, was received with much enthusiasm and the same was merely a statement of conditions as shown by the workings of the systems

MYSTERIOUS DERAILMENT OF N. W. PASSENGER

toured by the way of Pembine and Hermannville and both of them arrived several hours late. All the other trains were able to proceed over the regular route.

All Steel Coaches in Train

That many people were not killed or seriously injured in the wreck last night is very likely due to the fact that all the coaches in the train were of steel construction. It is said today by trainmen that the cars that left the track and tipped over are damaged but little.

Engineer Remained at Post

Engineer James Corcoran who is at his home at 620 South Elmore street was not in condition to talk very much today, but when he arrived home this morning he told Mrs. Corcoran that some obstruction on the track was the cause of the derailment. He says that when his engine struck this obstruction he immediately applied the emergency brakes and the engine toppled over as it left the track. Mr.

Corcoran was scalded and bruised but managed to crawl from the cab and was picked up and cared for.

His injuries consist of a scalded right leg and left arm, cuts upon his head and face, a broken tooth and minor internal injuries. He was brought home early this morning and was met at the depot by the ambulance, in which he refused to ride to his home, preferring to take a carriage.

Fireman Thrown From Cab

Fireman Edward Sorlie, who is now at his home at 306 North Oak street, suffering from bruises that will keep him confined to his home for some time. At the time of the accident he was standing on the floor of the cab and before the engine turned over he was thrown from the cab and narrowly escaped being crushed under the engine. He does not know what caused the engine to leave the track as at the time he was busy shoving coal into the fire box.

Both men had a very narrow escape from death. Railroad men say that it is a mystery that others were not seriously if not fatally injured.
