SO WHY FRET?

Are the trains too slow for you? Caesar, with all of his court, never exceeded the speed limit.

Are your wages too small? In Europe people are content with making a living.

Are the lights too dim? David wrote his psalms by the light of a smoky torch.

Are you ugly? Cleopatra, though homely, bewitched two emperors.

Are you cold? The soldiers of Valley Forge walked barefoot on the ice and snow.

Are you hungry? The children of India are starving for want of a crust of bread.

Are you tired? Why fret about it? Jacob was tired when he dreamed of the angels of heaven.

Are you sick? Suppose you had lived two thousand years ago when sickness was fatal.

Are you poor? The Savior of men was not wealthy.

Cheer up! Praise God that you live in the midst of his blessings.

Why fret?—The American Magazine

South American Frigorifics Will Soon Be Turning Out an Immense Supply of Food.

A frigorifico is a freezing plant in South America. It is a plant that freezes fat cattle or sheep or lambs and sends them in refrigerated ships northward to Europe. Perhaps later they will send them to the United States.

On the island of Tierra del Fuego, far south to the jumping off place, sheep get very fat on the good grass. Incredible as it may seem, a short time ago fine fat sheep were boiled down for their tallow. Now a modern frigorifico is prepared to kill them and send them north of the equator. There is another of these newly erected frigorificos at Rio Gallegos, another a little way up the coast at San Julian and other new ones are at Bahía Blanca.

These frigorificos make possible the directing of a great stream of good lamb and mature mutton northward, and we here may expect to see it come, sooner or later. Cattle are not killed at these southern frigorificos, but farther north, near Buenos Aires and in Uruguay are great establishments that kill chiefly cattle. To facilitate the getting of sheep to the frigorificos the government is building the Patagonia state railways, leading to the interior.—Breeders' Gazette.

Ownership of Land Accretion.

The title of an owner of land to any accretions to the land was the question presented to the supreme court of appeals of Virginia in Egborn vs. Smith, in which interesting decisions on the point involved are cited. In the Virginia case the plaintiff's husband for a consideration permitted a railroad company to deposit rock and earth on land owned by him during double-tracking work, under contract that all such material not removed before the work was completed should remain permanently. The owner executed a deed of trust of the land without serving the material so deposited, but on the day the property was sold under foreclosure of the trust deed he attempted to convey the material as personality to the complainant. The court found that the complainant had made no claim to the property until five years after its deposit, when it was overgrown with vegetation, and held that "the material was realty and not personal property, and passed to the purchaser on foreclosure of the trust deed."

YOUTH AND OLD AGE.

In a memorable passage in a memoirable book Samuel Butler says: "Autumn is the mellow season, and that we lose in flowers more than gain in fruits." Fontenelle, at the age of ninety, being asked what was the happiest time of his life, said he did not know that he had ever been much happier than he then was, but that, perhaps, his best years had been those when he was between fifty-five and seventy-five, and Dr. Johnson placed the pleasures of old age far higher than those of youth. The comparative pleasure of old age and youth has always been a favorite theme of debate, and there have been few men who have lived wisely who have not echoed the opinion of Fontenelle and Johnson. But the joy of age are not those of youth. To travel joyfully down the sunset slope you must have acquired in youth tastes and interests which do not disappear as bodily vigor wanes. Excessive devotion to the so-called practical activities of life or to bodily pleasures in its various terms, leads almost inevitably to a tedious and embittered senility. Count up the happy old men and women of your acquaintance and you will find that they are the ones who have laid up a rich store of intellectual wealth. The proper pleasures of life's autumn are those of the intellect, and if you have been too busy or too lazy to acquire the taste for such pleasures you can expect your declining years to be at best merely a vacant, joyless waiting for the end.

"It was a grave fault of the Greeks," we are told, "that they cared too little whether that quickness of wit which they so much admired was or was not honest." It is so today. If a fellow says a smart thing, even if it is false, scandalous or smutty, we laugh over it and tell it to others. Smartness seems wholly disconnected with truth and honor. It is a quality by itself and doesn't seem to care for any associates. There are people who are popular and have great influence because they are witty and smart. Not a single noble principle may be theirs, yet their mental gymnastics, appearing in flesh-colored tights and displaying itself in vernacular grace, easily captures the hearts of the thoughtless, and thus occupies the position that sound thinking and true knowledge should hold. It was hoped that the evolution of centuries would have got rid of this worship of mere smartness. In Greece it was tried by an almost universal censorship, but at last the depravity side of human nature got the better of it, and so it is to this day. Smartness, wit, subtlety, will keep at bay the heroism of the soul; but they themselves seem to be growing weaker, thus opening a fairer future.

Women can not be lawyers in England, but they can be queens, marshals, champions of England, sextons, churchwardens, constables, workhouse governors, returning officers, overseers of the poor and sheriffs of assizes. And yet the objection of the law society to a woman entering the legal profession is that she is not a "person." Certainly when English law entitles her to fulfill so many functions she can not be called a "nobody."

One wonders how people got married before the installment plan was discovered. A progressive politician is one who wants to knock out the other fellow.

TARIFF BILL IS NOW A LAW

After being under consideration in congress for nearly six months the new tariff bill is a law, and for the first time in nearly a quarter of a century the country has a tariff law originated by the Democratic party. The bill will doubtless be known as the Underwood-Simmons bill, taking the title from Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee of the house and Chairman Simmons of the finance committee of the senate.

The sponsors for the bill say that it will raise ample revenue. Chairman Simmons has been advised that it will yield a surplus of at least $16,000,000 a year above current expenses. If it does not meet the expenses of running the government the expenses will be reduced.

One remarkable thing about the present tariff bill, a precedent, in fact, is that the senate cut the average rate of duty carried by the bill below that fixed by the house. Heretofore in the making of a tariff bill the house has slashed the rates, while the senate has then taken up the bill and readjusted the rates on a higher general average.

The house bill carried a general average rate slightly below 30 per cent. This the senate cut a little over 4 per cent. The conference committee has raised the general average duty but slightly. The average ad valorem duty carried by the bill as perfected is about 27 per cent. The average under the present law is about 35 per cent.

Many Changes Considered. The conference committee had to deal with 676 paragraphs on which there were disagreements. Some of these involved only the chance of a word or a question of punctuation, but a majority of them represented differences in rates and a few were fundamental.

The house conferees also accepted the senate amendment fixing dates when the wool duties shall go into effect, which was one of the final stumbling blocks.

Raw wool will go on the free list on Dec. 1, and the reduced duties carried by the present bill will become effective on Jan. 1. The house bill proposed to make the wool duties effective immediately on the bill being signed by the president. The final action was an important concession to the manufacturers.

The senate won over the house also on controverted paragraphs in the schedule relating to cotton cloths and yarns. By this agreement slightly higher duties are given to certain coarser grades of cotton cloths and yarns by changing the classification. Fur hats and frames, forms and other parts for the manufacture of such hats received a rate of 45 per cent. This matter affects the hat industry in Connecticut. The house fixed the rate at 40 per cent, the senate made it 45.

cent ad valorem. The House rates of 50 per cent ad valorem on carpets and rugs were adopted by the conference. A compromise was reached on the paragraphs relating to angora goat hair, alpaca, by which the hair will pay a duty of 15 per cent; tops from such hair, 25 per cent, and plushes, velvet and other fabrics, 45 per cent.

The conference committee adopted the action of the senate, placing fulminates and gunpowder on the free list. There was a compromise on the paragraph relating to furs, but generally the house rates were restored. The senate rates prevailed as to lace curtains and laces and the house won by having restored the paragraph in the house bill covering chamolus skins and glove leathers, by which the former were made dutiable at 15 per cent, and the latter at 10 per cent. There was a compromise on the glove schedule between senate and house rates and the senate's action in free listing harness, saddles and saddlery parts was approved by the conference committee, although the house bill had made them dutiable at 20 per cent.

The only substantial victory won by the house in the free list was as to free art. Here are rates of the new tariff compared with the Payne-Aldrich law:

LUXURIES. Table with columns: Item, Payne Law, New Law. Includes Diamonds, Pearls, Jewels, Watches, etc.

ALL WRONG

The Mistake is Made By Many Escanaba Citizens. Look for the cause of backache. To be cured you must know the cause.

If it's weak kidneys you must see the kidneys working right. An Escanaba resident tells you how Mrs. A. V. Lindquist, 1401 Escanaba Ave., Escanaba, Mich., says "I suffered from backache for years and had dull, heavy ache across my loins. I tried many remedies and consulted doctors but did not get relief. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised I got a box from the Mead Drug Co. and began using them. I was surprised and gratified at the prompt relief they brought me. Two boxes removed my trouble."

The above statement was given February 3, 1905 and when Mrs. Lindquist was interviewed on November 8, 1913 she said: "I value Doan's Kidney Pills as highly today as when I gave my former public statement. I use Doan's Pills occasionally and find them to be just as represented."

For sale by all dealers. Price centers, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—take no other.

WILL GET MONEY NEXT TIME

Little Likelihood That Mrs. Crabbe Will Have Opportunity to Cash Hubby's Check Again.

"Henry," said Mrs. Crabbe, "don't you never give me another check to cash. Always give me the money after this, please."

"Why, what was the matter with the check?"

"Nothing was wrong with the check, but the cashier didn't want to take it, and said I had to be identified. I told him my name was Mrs. Crabbe, and asked him if he didn't see it on the long line, but he just shook his head, and said I had to find some one who knew me."

"And who did you find?"

"No one. I asked him if he didn't know you."

"What did he say?" asked Mr. Crabbe, eagerly, but with modesty.

"He said, 'Of course I know him.'"

"And then he cashed it," said Mr. Crabbe, his chest expanding visibly.

"Not tight then. He asked me to describe you."

"Of course that was sufficient?"

"Yes. I told him you were a sawed-off, hammered-down, bald-headed, pigeon-toed man, with a red mustache, and a mole on your nose. That you wore a fifteen collar and a ten-year-old blue suit, and that you held on to a dime tighter than a letter holds a glued postage stamp. I was going into further details, but he stopped me and said, 'All right, Mrs. Crabbe, just endorse the check on this line, please.'"

BASEBALL

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

American League

Philadelphia, 15-1; New York, 10-2.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—This was an unfortunate day for the Philadelphia champions, because the weather was too cold for their pitchers to get a good tuning up for the world's series and because Orr, the first substitute fielder, had his right hand broken. Philadelphia won the first game and New York the second, which was called on account of darkness in the sixth. Orr's injury was received in the second game when he touched out Hartzell, who tried to steal third base in the fourth. Hartzell's spikes were driven into Orr's hands and one of the bones was fractured. Plank and Shawkey, who are believed to be Manager Mack's second and third choices for pitching in the world's series, did not look good in today's opening game. This, however, was probably largely due to the cold weather and the high wind which swept over the field, thereby preventing the twirlers from getting their arms well warmed up.

The Score:

R. H. E.
New York	10 10 2
Philadelphia	13 15 2

Batteries: Caldwell and Sweeney; Plank, Shawkey, Bush and Lapp.

Philadelphia	1 6 0

Batteries: Fisher and Sweeney; Wyckoff and McAvoy.

Washington, 0-11; Boston, 2-3.

Washington, Oct. 3.—By breaking even in their double header here today, Washington clinched second place and Boston fourth in the American league race. Shaw, a Washington recruit, was hit hard in the first game. The second game became a farce before it was half finished.

The Score:

R. H. E.
Boston	2 6 0
Washington	0 2 2

Batteries: Leonard and Nunamaker; Shaw, Gallia and Henry.

Second game:

As Koreans Shop.

Shopping in Korea is a very grave and solemn task and occupies the major part of the greater part of the day. In the market here he purchases his provisions, cooking utensils, linen suits, hats, sandals, tobacco, and the native drink, a liquor obtained from fermented rice.

Only one article of the same kind is purchased from a single store. It would be an offense against Korean etiquette to buy a dozen at a time, as this would deplete the stock too quickly and give the shopkeeper the trouble and work of restocking before he was ready! It will therefore be seen that wholesale orders are not welcomed in this odd country; "little and often" appears to be the golden rule in buying.—Wide World Magazine.

Boston, 3-7; Brooklyn, 1-6.

Boston, Oct. 3.—By defeating Brooklyn twice in today's double header, Boston clinched its hold on fifth place. The second contest was called in the eighth on account of darkness.

The Score:

R. H. E.
Boston	3 8 1
Brooklyn	1 8 0

Batteries: Rudolph and Rariden; Rucker, Brown and Fisher.

Second game:

Boston	7 9 3
Brooklyn	6 12 3

Batteries: Reubach, Pfeffer, Ragon and McCarthy and Miller;

Other teams not scheduled.

Four Perfect Women.

The prophet Mahomet is reported to have said that "among men there have been many perfect, but not more than four of the other sex have attained perfection—to wit: Aslah, Mary, Khadijah and Fatima." Aslah was the wife of the Pharaoh of the Exodus. She forsook the faith of her fathers, on account of which her husband subjected her to many cruelties. The Virgin Mary was the second perfect woman, the prophet stating that "she had been exalted above all the women of the world." Khadijah was the first wife of the prophet. "a princess among women." Fatima, according to Mahomet, was the fourth perfect woman, she being his beloved daughter.
