ITALY BEEN OFFERED TERRITORY FOR STAND

U. S. WILL NOT SEND NOTE TO GERMANY IN THE FREY MATTER—GREAT BRITAIN NOTE BE READY SOON.

(BULLETINS) Washington, March 30.—President Wilson announced today that the note to Great Britain on the orders in council matters, will be completed shortly and is to be forwarded to Great Britain at once. He says it will be made public as soon as received in London. Wilson has asked that no speculation be indulged in until the contents of the note are made public.

It was announced that no note will be sent to Germany regarding the sinking of the William P. Frey, an American ship sent to the bottom by the Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

Paris, March 30.—Apart from news of monarchial or revolutionary character and sources, reliable information from unquestioned sources, has been received that lent to indicate that the Portugal crisis is very serious at the present time. Ninety-five councils are said to have forwarded protests against the dictatorial stand of the government.

(By Associated Press.) London, March 30.—Field Marshall von Kluck, commander-in-chief of the German army in the west and who led the first German dash into France at the start of the war, according to travelers from Berlin, was wounded while recklessly making an observation of trenches along the danger line, after a stormy interview with the Kaiser.

It is learned from the same source that Emperor Wilhelm has entrusted a command of von Kluck's army to Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm.

ITALY CEDED LAND? London, March 30.—According to the correspondent of the avas agency, says it has learned that General von Goltz, the German military governor of Constantinople is said to have offered Italy the Enoch-Media as a new boundary in exchange for her continued neutrality in the present war.

MISSING BOAT LANDS London, March 30.—The missing boat from the British steamer Agulla, which was torpedoed in the English channel by a German submarine off the Yorkshire coast, which contained fifteen members of the ship's crew and two passengers, have reached shore safely. This was the fourth boat that put off from the Agulla at the attack by the German undersea craft. It was believed up to this time to have foundered with all aboard. The number of those supposed to have lost their lives in the sinking of the ship are said to be nine.

WIFE AND HIS LOVE RUDELY INTERRUPTED BY PAIR OF MOONBEAM LOVIN' BEARS—BRUINS, FURNISH SPORT FOR HUNTING PARTY FOR DAYS

Indian, Mich., March 30.—Residents here are spending leisure time this week hunting two heart-bears who spoiled a walk in moonlight for Peter Dreher and young lady of Alger.

While going home from church the couple were suddenly halted by two huge bears just ahead. Dreher and a huge club and swung lustily at the head of the larger bruin. The latter dodged and in retaliation took Dreher in his arms and gave such a powerful hug that the youth turned green.

MAYOR'S FRIENDS ARE STRONG IN BELIEF HE WILL REPEAT AT POLLS

LOCAL MEN STRONG IN SUPPORT OF PRESENT EXECUTIVE—CLAIMS MADE THAT HE WILL WIN

RECORD IS THUS FAR CLEAN AND OPEN

Chatfield Asks Voters to Investigate Past Record for Themselves—is No Faction Candidate

That Mayor Chatfield will again succeed himself for election to the chair of the chief executive, is the general opinion of a large majority of the voters in this city. His past record is not filled with flaws and he has proven himself to be a business man at all times and ready to serve the city.

Many important matters, which will be taken up later, are to come up this year and as the present executive, Mr. Chatfield has studied these conditions and is ready to meet them when they arise.

Campaign Quiet

The present campaign has been the quietest in many years and it is the wish of the candidates that it be clean throughout. Mr. Chatfield is only asking the voters to investigate his past record and to assure themselves that he is not now and never has been the representative of any class or faction.

He absolutely attends to the business of the city without interference of any person.

The support of many local bodies social and otherwise have been pledged to the Republican candidate and laboring men by the score have called at his home to assure him of their loyalty.

Laborer's Friend

It may be said of Mayor Chatfield that he is a great friend of the laboring man and therein lies much of his political strength. During the past several months of the so called hard times, when many plants have cut wages and reduced working hours, The Chatfield Brass and Iron Works have continued operations without hardship to any of the employes.

MOTORCYCLE CLUB TO STAGE A BANQUET AND INSTALLATION TONIGHT

Members of the Cloverland Motorcycle Club are slated to gather in the annual installation work this evening, at which time a banquet of interest proportions will be served.

The event was arranged a week ago during the progress of a meeting held at The Mirror office. The installation of the recently elected officers will be had at this time in addition to the outlining of further plans for the club's activities.

Members of the organization are urged to bring a rider friend, and a cordial invitation is extended to any other motorcycle rider in the city, who so desires, to be present at the banquet. It is announced that the "feed" will start at nine o'clock, thus giving ample time to get there. The banquet will be held at Decker and Lemmer's hall, or Union hall as it is known.

SHIFTS RESPONSIBILITY ON TO DISTRICT ATTY.

Madison, March 30.—The trouble of the Irish father whose daughter runs away with the hired man has been shifted to the shoulders of the district attorney.

District Attorney Owen explained this when he said that the 16 year old daughter of a farmer living near him had been keeping company with the hired man. On March 21 her father told her not to go buggy riding with him any more, but nevertheless she went. Her father then told the hired man to leave.

Later the man and the girl left for Marinette where they are now. Owen stated that he knew of no law under which they could be held.

HILL MINES AT DULUTH DOUBLE THEIR OUTPUT

(By Associated Press.)

Duluth, March 30.—The ore from the Hill group of mines in the Mesaba range will be handled by the Duluth and Mesaba railway during the coming season. The tonnage in 1914 was approximately 7,000,000 gross tons. Old mines are now being gotten into shape and a considerable new territory is being stripped.

In anticipation of the increased tonnage, the Duluth and Mesaba road has increased at a cost of millions, several docks. The old docks handled 6,300,000 gross tons and it was expected that this year's work would double that amount.

LOCAL GAME WARDEN KEPT BUSY DURING THE PAST FEW DAYS

Deputy Herman Leisner and John Andrews Pick up Four Violators of Fish Laws at Iron Mountain Saturday.

Four violators of the state fish laws were caught Saturday at Iron Mountain with seventeen fine trout in their possession, the funny beauties having been caught at a dam of the Sturgeon river five miles out of Loretto.

All four were haled into the court of an Iron Mountain justice where fines of ten dollars apiece and costs was taxed on them for their little fun. A total of $68 was received from the quartet and a stiff arraignment given them by the justice.

Deputy Game Warden Herman Leisner of this city and John Andrews Jr. of Iron Mountain made the "pinch."

BRITISH CHANCELLOR SAYS DRINK IS WORST ENEMY OF THE NATION

PROHIBITION AS DRASTIC AS THAT OF RUSSIA FACES THE ENGLISH EMPIRE, IS SAID

CLUBS WOULD CLOSE WINE CELLARS

"We Are Fighting Germany, Austria and Drink," Says Lloyd—George, Chancellor of Britain.

(By Associated Press.)

London, March 30.—Prohibition, as drastic as that of Russia, faces the United Kingdom, is the substance of a press despatch of the matter sent by Lord Chancellor of the Empire, David Lloyd-George to the ship owners federation, and which is competing successfully in point of interest with the sinking of the British passenger ship, Falaba with a loss of more than 100 lives.

"We are fighting Germany, Austria and drink; and so far as I can see the greatest of these three deadly foes is drink," said the chancellor of the exchequer, replying today to a deputation of the shipbuilding Employers' Federation, the members of which were unanimous in urging that, in order to meet the national requirements at this time, there should be a total prohibition, during the period of the war, of the sale of all intoxicating liquors.

Ships Damaged—Men Drunk

It was stated that despite the fact that work was being carried on night and day, seven days in the week, the total working time won the average in nearly all the British shipyards was actually less than before the war, and the average productiveness had decreased.

Notwithstanding the curtailment of the hours they are allowed to remain open, the receipts of the public houses in the neighborhood of the shipyards has greatly increased, in some cases 40 per cent. As an instance of one of many similar cases, that of a battle ship coming in for immediate repairs was cited. She was relayed for a whole day through the absence of riveters who were drinking and carousing.

The chancellor said the reason the government had not heretofore taken more drastic action on the liquor question was because it needed to be assured that it was not going averse to public sentiment; otherwise more harm than good would have been done. The government he said, must feel that it has every class in the community behind it when taking actions which interfere severely with individual liberties. But now he was sure that the country was beginning to realize the gravity of the situation.

Kill The Root, he Says

"I have a growing conviction, based on accumulating evidence," continued the chancellor, "that nothing but root and branch methods would be of the slightest avail in dealing with the evil. I believe it is the general feeling that if we were to settle German militarism we must first of all settle with drink." He said the cabinet would take the matter up for consideration.

It is said the manufacturers and business men are ready to close the wine cellars and to prohibit the use of intoxicants in their clubs and that labor leaders are equally as anxious to assist in working out a plan to put the idea into effect.

The indignation of the nation is shown in the sinking of the passenger steamer Falaba, but it is believed here that nothing will be done at present. An unofficial report claims that the Russ have swept the Turks from the Black Sea.

BAND LOSES SOLO CORNETIST IN THE LEAVING OF PERALTO

The services of Rocco Peralto, solo cornetist with the Escanaba Military band for the past two years, have been lost to the local organization. Peralto has left for Green Bay where he will play in the newly organized Green Bay band. Just who will fill the place vacated by the Italian musician in the local organization has not been determined.

WELLS MAN IS A FRIEND OF AMERICAN SHOT BY SENTRY IN BERMUDAS

R. F. MACLEAN OF WELLS KNEW MAN AT WHOM BRITISH SENTRY FIRED WHEN SAILBOAT RAN WITHIN CONCENTRATION CAMP.

Last week a news despatch was received over the wires from Hamilton, in the Bermuda Islands, off the coast of South America, in the Atlantic, in which it was stated that George Montgomery, an American had been shot when a British sentry fired upon a sailboat in which Montgomery and some friends were sailing. Montgomery was wounded in the shoulder, according to the despatch, the shooting being the result of a violation of an order preventing boats entering a water zone near a British concentration camp at that point.

R. F. MacLean of Wells, an official of the I. Stephenson company of that place, it developed today was a personal friend of the wounded man, having known him for some time. Mr. Montgomery, according to Mr. MacLean, is a Buffalo man.

Mr. MacLean was particularly interested in the shooting from this reason and called The Mirror over the phone today asking some information regarding the matter in the Bermudas, at that time.

COMING BARTH LECTURE CREATES MUCH INTEREST

Rev. Fr. Barth of St. Patrick's Will Speak at Delft Theatre on Evening of April 13—Benefit Woman's Club

The greatest interest is being manifested among Escanabans over the coming lecture by Fr. Barth of St. Patrick's church, which will be given at the Delft theatre on the evening of April 13. At that time Fr. Barth will lecture on "The Power of Parental Love."

This is one of the lectures which Fr. Barth is at his best in and to those who have heard the local churchman in one of his series of talks this will be an added treat to them.

All proceeds of the lecture will be turned to the Woman's club, above the theatre percentage, and it is believed that the new playhouse will be filled to capacity on that occasion.

DETROIT JURIST SAYS IF YOU ARE HURT OR KILLED IN AN AUTOMOBILE WHILE GUEST OF OWNER, YOU CANNOT COLLECT ANY DAMAGES

Detroit, March 30.—If a person accepts a ride from a friend who has an auto he assumes his share of any negligence of which the friend may be guilty.

That was the ruling of Judge West in the suit brought by Kate Figorski, administratrix of the estate of her husband, Joseph Figorski, to recover damages for his death from May Ritchie and the D. U. R., according to whether the jury might hold the one or the other responsible.

May Ritchie, who is said to be well known as a dashing driver, took Mrs. Figorski's husband out for an auto ride on July 29, 1913.

It was about 1 o'clock in the morning when they turned toward home. They were running north on Twelfth street when they collided with a street car at Forest avenue.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL HOLD A "BUNDLE DAY" IN THE NEAR FUTURE

CHARITY COMMITTEE OF LOCAL WOMAN'S ORGANIZATION PLAN BIG DAY SOON

ASK DONATIONS OF OLD CLOTHING

Will Announce Date For Collection at an Early Time as Convenient—Say Can Use Any Kind of Garments

In response to the many calls for clothing that are being sent in daily to the Charity committee of the Woman's club, it has been decided to name a day in the near future to be known as "Bundle Day" and to ask the people generally to assist with this work.

Any Clothing Suitable

The committee requests all persons having clothing to discard at this time to donate them to this cause. Even very badly worn garments can be utilized by mending or cutting down and it is almost certain that good use can be made of everything, however worn or seemingly useless.

All sorts of cast off articles will be accepted, such as bedding, old carpets, shoes, underwear, clothing.

A date for collecting the clothing will be announced soon and it is hoped substantial help will be given the poor of the city at this time through the efforts of the committee to provide for their needs.

DULUTH TO GET FOUR MILLION BREAKWATER

GRO IS ADMITTED TO MEMBERSHIP IN COLDSTREAM GUARDS

London, March 30.—James Slim, a negro and a native of Jamaica, enlisted as a private in the Coldstream Guards. Before the war, it would have been impossible for a negro to join a white regiment in England, let alone one of the proudest and most famous of the crack regiments. The fact of Slim's acceptance is a strong indication of the democratic effects of the war.

Slim was in France when the war broke out, and joined the French foreign legion. Wounded in battle, he was sent to a hospital where he expressed the wish to join Kitchener's new army. Word was sent to Kitchener with the result that he was allowed to enroll in the Coldstreams. Slim is now training with the reserve battalion at Windsor.

FAUNIS WOMAN IS CALLED BEYOND BY THE HAND OF DEATH

The body of Mrs. Bert Stebbins of Faunis, who succumbed yesterday at the home of the family in the village, was brought to the city and to the undertaking parlors of J. B. Wilkinson, today where it will be prepared for burial.

The death of Mrs. Stebbins is particularly sad in that a six day old babe is left motherless, besides a small son of six years and a husband. Deceased was a well known woman in the locality in which she lived and her sad death has cast a pall of gloom over the vicinity.

The funeral will be held Wednesday from the M. E. church, Rev. G. V. Hoard officiating.

RAILROAD WAGE CASE HEARINGS HEARD IN CHICAGO YESTERDAY

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, March 30.—Briefs in the western railroad wage case were filed with the board of arbitration yesterday by James M. Sheehan, attorney for the railroads, and by William S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. Oral argument was begun and was expected to last two, and possibly three days. Decision by the board on the demands of the men for higher wages and other concessions will be made on or before April 20, and will affect 63,000 engineers, firemen and hostlers employed by ninety-eight western railroads operating 140,000 miles of track.

Mr. Sheehan's brief asserted that the men failed utterly to establish their contention that their labors and responsibilities, and their productive efficiency have increased since their wages were adjusted by arbitration in 1910, nor, said the brief, had they made good their claim that their earnings, despite a higher rate, had been decreased in this period. Their contentions, Mr. Sheehan said had not been proven by their own exhibits, and had been disproved by actual records in the railroad exhibits.

Benefits in Economy.

The increased productivity of the railroads was said in the brief to have been due, not to any increased effort of the men, but to stringent economies in operation, and the expenditure of $660,000,000 in extensions, additions and improvements to property, including heavier power and the reduction of curves and grades. Of this sum $220,000,000 was spent for the purpose of increasing efficiency and safety, and to expedite train movements. These improvements, Mr. Sheehan said, have actually enabled the engineers to earn their money in fewer hours than prior to 1910. Firemen, he said, actually shovel five per cent less coal now than in the previous period. He said that the railroad exhibit showing that to grant the sixteen demands of the men would cost $41,000,000 a year had not been controverted. He pointed out the decreased dividend payments of recent years, and to the increasing use of labor-saving devices on engines. He referred to the high earnings attained by some engineers and firemen, and asserted that the bulk of the engineers average between $170 and $180 a month, and firemen between $110 and $115.

SOME "BIG STUFF" FOR SEASON'S CHAUTAUQUA

Big Features Offered for Local Entertainment During the Coming Chautauqua Season.

Sometime ago The Mirror published an item from the Lincoln Chautauqua office of Chicago. This item announced Blands' Band, with Jean Macdonald, reader and Senator William E. Mason of Illinois for the fourth day on next summer's program. Now comes an item saying that Booth Lowrey of Mississippi, who is said to be a sort of cross between Sam Jones and Bob Taylor, is to speak on the opening day of this year's Chautauqua, afternoon and evening. Mr. Lowrey is characterized as a southern Irish humorist who talks about something worth while, in such a way as to make it decidedly interesting and entertaining. His humor is scarcely exceeded by his wit, bright and delightful as they may be. He is good natured; he has optimistic and yet sane views of vital and important subjects which have made him celebrated as a man who can "come back" again and again.

On the same day with Booth Lowrey appears the Conservatory Players, a famous Chautauqua organization, which will give the preludes. In the evening a concert involving some specialties in the use of horns and various instruments. Impersonation by Baldy Strang, who is widely known as a near-Harry Lauder. Mr. Strang also gives Scotch impersonations with the bag-pipes. The ladies of this company perform upon violin and piano. They both sing. In the evening, this company not only gives a concert, but also a little play lasting about thirty minutes, which is one of the most uproarious as well as sweet and wholesome and worth-while farces that has even been enjoyed by Chautauqua audiences. It looks like a big start. The Lincoln management says that this day has been characterized previously as the equal of any of the remaining five. Indeed, it is a great beginning for "the big week of the year."

SPAIN TAKES STEPS TO CONSERVE FOOD SUPPLY OF NATION

(By Associated Press.)

Madrid, March 30.—The Spanish government is taking steps to secure an adequate supply of grain until the next harvest. Its procedure will be similar to that which other countries have been obliged to adopt. It will take over a number of Spanish owned vessels, and use them to convey cargoes of wheat and oats from the United States to Spanish ports, principally Barcelona.

Rates of freight by ship to Spanish ports have increased in consonance with those of neighboring countries. The increase has in fact been rather more pronounced than to some French ports. For example, it is nearly ten per cent cheaper to ship grain from the United States to Marseilles than to Barcelona, because ship owners give a preference to cargoes destined to Marseilles, where there are fairly certain of being able to unload without delay.

JAPANESE WOULD BUY PHILIPPINES FROM U.S.

Large Petition Presented to Count Okuma, Jap Prime Minister by Prominent Jap Politicians.

(By Associated Press.)

Tokio, March 30.—The purchase of the Philippine Islands from the United States is suggested in a petition recently presented to Count Okuma, the prime minister, by Shigemaru Sugiyama and a number of other Japanese who have been prominent in politics. Mr. Sugiyama was formerly secretary to Prince Katsura. The petition sets forth that in view of opinion found in the United States that the Philippines should be given up by that country the islands should be acquired by Japan as the best means of solving the "Pacific question."

The signers point out that disagreements between Japan and the United States arise over the question of immigration. If Japan acquired the Philippines, there would be no need of Japanese emigration to California.

FIND AUTOGRAPHED COPY OF GOETHE'S FAMOUS PRODUCTION

(By Associated Press.)

Berlin, March 30.—An autograph copy of Goeth's comedy, "The Accomplish," written in his youth, has been found among the effects of an aged woman who recently died in Dresden. The manuscript was in a packet that had not been opened for forty years. It has long been known that there were in existence two copies of this early comedy—which was written in 1769—but Goethe researchers had hunted vainly for it. The owner left a will giving the manuscript to the Goethe Archive in Weimar.

The will placed the value of the manuscript at 20,000 marks ($5,000), and the city has required the payment of inheritance taxes thereon at that valuation.

ENGLISH PAPERS ARE SMUGGLED INTO LINES UNTIL SMUGGLER SHOT

Rotterdam, March 30.—Brussels' supply of English newspapers, which have to be smuggled across the border on account of the German prohibition against their importation, has been curtailed by the violent death of a daring Belgian who had for many weeks brought in 200 copies a day. He had made friends with a Bavarian sentry who, it is said, for a consideration, closed his eyes to the armful of papers which the Belgian carried. A few days ago, however, the sentries were changed and the Belgian was unable to persuade the Wurtemberg guard to let him pass. Waiting until nightfall, the newspaperman crawled under the barb wire defense, and in so doing exploded a mine, which literally blew him to pieces.

PRESENT HEAVY BATTLE IS WITHOUT PARALLEL IN SIZE OF COMBATANTS

New York, March 30.—The history of the prize ring offers no parallel of the battle of the heavyweight championship in which Jack Johnson and Jess Willard will engage next Monday at Havana, Cuba. Big men have fought for this premier title of fistiana since the early days of the eighteenth century, but never through the long list of champions from James Figg to Jim Jeffries have two fighters of the physical proportions of Willard and Johnson crossed arms in the roped arena.

Of the champions of modern times Corbett, Jeffries and Johnson all passed the six-foot mark, while Sullivan, Sharkey and Fitzsimmons were from one to three inches below this height. When the negro title holder and his challenger step into the ring on Easter Monday, Willard will tower six ft. six inches in the air while Johnson will stand five and one-half inches below him. In weight these fighters are also far above the average of the heavyweight class. Willard will weigh close to 235 pounds which will give him an advantage of about twenty pounds over Johnson in the clinching and tussling which will doubtless play an important part in the battle.

Next to Jim Jeffries, the Goliath of modern ring times, Johnson is the biggest man who ever held the title. Jeffries weighed 220 pounds and stood six feet one and a half inches in fighting shoes; Johnson is six feet one-half inch tall and weighs about 215 pounds, in condition; Jim Corbett scaled 187 pounds, at his best and was six feet, one inch tall; Fitzsimmons, was 114 inches shorter and was one and-fourth inches shorter and fought at about 170 pounds; Sullivan stood five feet, ten inches, and fought at 195 pounds; Tom Sharkey was five feet nine inches, and fought his best bouts at close to 190 pounds.

CHAPTER XVII.

I Am Faced Into Being a Hero. IT WAS alone in my study late in the afternoon smoking a solitary pipe of peace, I remembered Mr. Bangs, the lawyer, the man with the button off. What had become of him? His presence or, more accurately, his absence suddenly loomed up before me as the forerunner of an unwelcome invasion of my reserves. He was no doubt a sort of advance agent for the Titus family and its immediate ramifications. Just as I was on the point of starting out to make inquiries concerning him there came to my ears the sound of tapping on the back of Red Ludwig's portrait.

MOVE.

I drew in another long, deep breath. "It seems to me that the thing cannot be done. The risk is tremendous. Why not head her off?" "Head her off? You do not know my mother, Mr. Smart. She has made up her mind that her place is here with me, and there isn't anything in the world that can head her off, as you say." "But surely you see the danger?" "I do. I have tried to stop her. Mr. Bangs has tried to stop her. So has father. But she is coming. We must arrange something." I was pacing the floor in front of her. She had resumed her place in the chair. "My deepest regret, countess, lies in the fact that our little visits will be well, at an end. Our delightful little suppers and—"

She pressed my clumsy hand fiercely, and I felt no pain. "You have been too good to me," she said in a very small voice. "Some day, when I am out of all this trouble, I may be able to tell you how much I appreciate all you have done for me." An almost irresistible impulse was about to say ungovernable—impulse to seize her in my arms came over me, but I conquered it and rushed after Mr. Bangs as blind as a bat, and reeling for a dozen steps or more. It was a most extraordinary feeling. Bangs was chattering in his gibberish English fashion as we descended to my study, but I did not hear half that he said. One remark of his brought me rather sharply to my senses. "If all goes well," he was saying, "she should be safely away from here on the 14th. That leaves less than ten days more, sir, under your hospitable roof."

BOYS' CLOTHING AT THE LOWEST PRICES AND ON THE EASIEST TERMS.

614 LUDINGTON ST., ESCANABA, MICH.

My ridiculous heart gave a great leap. "This very afternoon," I said, managing my voice very well. She arose. "Now I must scurry away. It would not do for Mr. Bangs to find me here with you. He would be shocked." I walked beside her to the chair that stood before the portrait of Ludwig the Red and took her hand to assist her in stepping up to it.

"I want to be happy! I want to be loved!" She gripped my hand fiercely. "I want to be happy! I want to be loved! Oh, I want to be loved!" she cried, so passionately that I turned away, unwilling to be a witness to this outburst of feeling on her part. She slipped her hand out of mine and a second time was through the frame. I had a fleeting glimpse of a slim, adorable ankle. "Goodbye!" she called back in a voice that seemed strangely choked. The spring in the gold mirror clicked. A draft of air struck me in the face. She was gone.

"What an infernal fool you've been," I said to myself as I stood there staring at the black hole in the wall. Then I gently, even caressingly, swung old Ludwig the Red into place. There was another click. The incident was closed. A very few words are sufficient to cover the expedition in quest of the legendary treasures of the long dead barons. Mr. Bangs accompanied us. Britton carried a lantern, and the three Schmicks went along as guides. We found nothing but cobwebs.

"Conrad," said I as we emerged from the last of the underground chambers, "tell me the truth. Was there ever such a thing as buried treasure in this abominable hole?" "Yes, mein herr," he replied, with an apologetic grin. "but I think it was discovered three years ago by Count Hohendahl and Count Tarnoway."

We stared at him. "The deuce you say!" cried I, with a quick glance at the countess. She appeared to be as much surprised as I. "They searched for a month," explained the old man gully. "They found something in the walls of the second tier. I cannot say what it was, but they were very, very happy, my lady." He now addressed her. "It was at the time they went away and did not return for three weeks. If you remember the time."

IS EDUCATION WASTE?

That the great war should now make many of us pessimistic and should give even the melliorists fits of gloom and sadness is altogether natural. But that an educator should seriously question in a journal devoted to pedagogical subjects the value and profit of all education by reason of the calamitous conflict is something of a surprise. "Why educate" is the query put in School and Society by a school principal. Why educate if men at this late day can act as Europe is now acting—slay and destroy and devastate, hate and throw away all civilized restraints? Is humanity better off than it was hundreds of thousands of years ago? If it is not, why educate it?

The best answer to the last question is another question, Why educate WHOM? Some men will be educated under any system of government or social and economic relations. Would education, what was the waste of insufficient education of the right kind. Education is power, independence, penetration, ability to weigh evidence, to detect gaps and fallacies. Education is breadth, sympathy, tolerance.

The world is better off decidedly because of the education it has been getting. We live better, move faster, and enjoy more comforts than any former age did. But we are not better off where our education is one-sided, narrow, defective. As Wallace contended, that there is no real evidence of moral progress in the average human. We have abolished certain evils—economic causes helping us—but other evils are growing up in the place of the old ones. We are, however, learning to understand that mere machinery will not purify the human heart or enlarge the "highest product of evolution, good will." Let educators, instead of proclaiming the failure of democratic education, work at the problem of making that education deeper and broader, of reaching the inner man and exercising meanness, greed, cruelty, lust, and wanton aggressiveness. Education that does not beget right thinking and right feeling is not education. Not why educate, but how to educate, is the question.—Chicago Tribune.

THIS CAN BE DONE FOR "GOOD TIMES"

MICHIGAN VOTERS CAN ASSIST PRESIDENT'S APPEAL

AT ELECTION IN SPRING

An Old-Time Republican Majority in Michigan This Year Will Give Assurance of an Early Return to All the Better Accompaniments of Republican Management.

Through recent months and weeks continued appeals have been made to the editors of newspapers and to business men in all sections to do what they could in the way of creating confidence and of insisting upon the return of our country to business and commercial hopefulness and to industrial activity.

Most of these appeals have come from Washington. From time to time the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Labor have sent out special communications advising and urging that we were just on the eve of a return to good times and that very soon all the whistles would be blowing and all the bells a-ringing, sounding forth the glad anthem of national prosperity.

All of which has been very well so far as it could go.

But national prosperity has evidently not been subject to appeals from Washington. In any event, the whistles and the bells have not yet sounded in any remarkable celebration of the return of good times.

But it is certainly true that so far as individual and organized action can effect such a result it is the duty of all of our people to strive for the restoration of confidence, the revival of hopefulness and the return of good times.

And here in Michigan there will soon be an opportunity for united action in behalf of the return of prosperity and for an expression that will be statewide and splendidly representative.

If the people of this state and of our entire country could at this time be assured of the return of the Republican party to power next year the appeals from Washington for confidence and hopefulness would soon be met with cheering response.

Business conditions of today are very greatly influenced with reference to the expectations of tomorrow and of next month and next year.

Property values are governed by prospects and probabilities as to future changes and prospective growth.

If it can be made certain that at the earliest opportunity the government of our country will return to Republican policies and Republican management, a change for the better will take place in the outlook of millions of our citizens, and in thousands of stores and shops and on countless farms and in fresides in every section of every state in the Union. There will be expressions of gladness where doubt has prevailed, and there will be hopefulness and better expectation where there has been waiting and the lagging movements of distrust.

It is the direction one is going and their certain destination quite as much as the distance and the date of their arrival that gives enjoyment to the journey.

Republican victory in Michigan at the coming April election will be the beginning of a very desirable end.

It will be reassuring to Republicans in every other state; it will be the best answer that could possibly be made to the pathetic appeals for "better times" that are coming from Washington.

No matter to what party you have heretofore been allied with, on the first Monday of the coming month assist in sending a message from Michigan that can only be interpreted as an intention on the part of the people of this country to return to a period of confidence and contentment, to assured Republican progress and prosperity.

A Word to the Wise.

Through the recent appointment of Dr. J. Vaughan as member of the Detroit Board of Health, that health board is now composed entirely of Democrats.

Governor Ferris was urged to reappoint an experienced and valuable member of the board, but the fact that the latter was a Republican evidently prevented sufficient consideration for his years of experience and past efficiency.

It will be recalled that when Governor Ferris was being urged to retain State Bank Commissioner E. H. Doyle in the office he had served so well, that the only reason the governor gave for not retaining Mr. Doyle was that the latter was a Republican, and he desired to give the office to a Democrat.

It may be well for Michigan Republicans to keep Governor Ferris's practice and philosophy in mind when they go to the polls next time. It is quite evident that the theory of non-partisanship gains no helpful advocates through the election of Democrats with Republican votes.

OUTLOOK FOR AQUATIC TITLES

Season Promises to Be Best in History.

HARRY HEBNER TO BE BUSY.

National Backstroke Title Holder Is Entered in a Number of Events to Be Held in Different Cities—He Will Have Great Rival in Young Dean.

The national aquatic championships of the Amateur Athletic union, which will be competed for at intervals between March 24 and April 16, promise to be the best in history. The leaders of practically all districts have signified their intention of bidding for the supreme titles, and there is assurance of good fields, keen rivalry and probably record breaking.

The 150 yard backstroke event at the Pittsburgh A. A. on March 24 will bring to the mark among others Harry Hebner of the Illinois A. C. of Chicago, Russell Dean of Boston, Merrill Malsack and H. Buckland of Pittsburgh. Hebner is the American and world record holder, but Dean has beaten his best time in practice, and the other two are but little slower, so that a great struggle is looked for.

Next on the list is the 500 yard free style swim at the New York A. C. on March 26, in which will start Hebner and McGillivray of the Illinois A. C., Wheatley, Vollmer and Helly of the Mercury Foot team; Leo Handy of Boston, Clement Browne of the Hamillon club, Chicago, and a few lesser lights. The Illinois representatives are favorites, but if Vollmer and Wheatley show their best speed the westerners may have to shatter existing figures in order to win.

The same men are looked for the 220 yard race at the Brookline (Mass.) G. A. A. on March 29, and they are so closely matched on past performances that, although Hebner appears to have a slight advantage, the least break on his part may throw victory to any of the others.

On recent work Arthur McAleenan Jr. of Yale and the New York A. C. should take the fancy diving contest, awarded the Gotham organization for April 8. Still, his teammates—Downes Sponberg and Dunn—as well as Heyn of the Chicago A. A. are dangerous antagonists and should not be underestimated. McAleenan will have to exhibit his best form to defeat them.

The Chicago A. A. will stage the 50 yard free style and 200 yard breast stroke championships on April 14 and in the former event there is no choice between Hebner, McGillivray and Rathel, the Illinois A. C. sprinters who are traveling around standard time within a fifth of a second of each other. Ramme of the New York A. C. may prove a factor if he starts, but this will not be decided until later. The breast stroke race is conceded to Michael McDermott of the Illinois A. C., who recently created a new standard at 200 yards.

The 100 yard swim and the 400 yard relay race for teams of four will be run off under the auspices of the Illinois A. C. on April 18. Hebner, McGillivray and Rathel are again equal favorites for the sprint, though some believe Vollmer and Ramme of the New York A. C. have a fighting chance, and it is almost a foregone conclusion that the Illinois quartet will capture the relay event in spite of the east-

ERNER'S HOPES REGARDING THE POSSIBILITY OF A VICTORY BY THE MERCURY FOOT FOUR.

The titular carnival will close with the water polo tournament at the Illinois A. C. on April 16. If the New York A. C. enters its fast team, as seems likely, there is excellent prospect of the pennant being won by the Winged Footers. Otherwise there is hardly a doubt that the Illinois A. C. and Chicago A. A. sevens will have the championship battle all to themselves.

WOLGAST SOON TO QUIT.

Ex-Lightweight Champion's Glass Arm Will Force His Retirement. Some fighters give out physically; others have to retire because the pounding of their fists against opponents' bodies and heads cripples them. Ad Wolgast probably will announce his retirement shortly, and if he does he will have a different reason. The former champion of the lightweight class is possessed of a glass arm.

He has suffered breaks so frequently that it is becoming a difficult matter to keep tabs on all his mishaps. He is so unfortunate that if he does not retire voluntarily the promoters will be indirectly responsible for ending his career by not offering him matches, as it is an uncertain matter that he can go through with a bout.

Wolgast does not have to follow the star for a living. He is a wealthy young man, so that he does not have to depend on boxing for a living.

AFTER 100 YARD RECORD.

Patterson Will Enter Penn Relay Events and Eastern Intercollegiate. James C. Patterson, president of the senior class of the University of Pennsylvania, is one sprinter who is conceded to be swift footed enough to equal the record of 9.3-5 seconds for the 100 yard dash.

Patterson is expected to be in shape to show his ability in the University of Pennsylvania relay races in April and the annual eastern intercollegiate events.

TO HOLD LONG YACHT RACE.

San Francisco to Honolulu and Return. Event Starts on June 12. A yacht race from San Francisco to Honolulu and return, starting June 12, has been decided upon by the Panama-Pacific exposition authorities. They have appropriated $2,000 for the project.

PACING MARKS ARE LOWERED

In Forty-nine Years Records Have Been Reduced 2 1/2 Seconds. The recent sale of Directum L. the pacing champion, for a sum said to be close to $45,000 brings to mind the remarkable gain in speed made by the side action racer in recent years. A study of the records from 1866 to 1915 shows that in this period of forty-nine years the mile records made either in competition or against time has been reduced from 2:21 1/2 to 1:55, a gain of twenty-six and one-half seconds. Directum L. holds the race record of 1:55, made at Columbus, O., on Sept. 30, 1914, and Dan Patch the against time record of 1:55, made at St. Paul on Sept. 8, 1906.

BENDER IS GOOD SHOT.

Indian Pitcher Breaks 100 Straight Targets in Philadelphia Event. Chief Bender, the Philadelphia Athletic's famous pitcher, who will play with the Baltimore Federal league nine this year, broke 100 straight targets in a Philadelphia club shoot. In previous trials he broke 97 and 94 out of 100.

RACING DATES NAMED FOR NEW YORK TRACKS

At a meeting of the stewards of the Jockey club held recently in New York at the office of the club, the following racing dates were allotted:

- Westchester Racing association, Belmont park, Queens, N. Y., Thursday, May 20, to Wednesday, June 9.
- Metropolitan Jockey club, Jamaica, N. Y., Thursday, June 10, to Friday, June 25.
- Queens County Jockey club, Aqueduct, N. Y., Saturday, June 26, to Tuesday, July 13.
- Empire City Racing association, Yonkers, N. Y., Wednesday, July 14, to Saturday, July 31.
- Saratoga association, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Monday, Aug. 2, to Tuesday, Aug. 31.
- Westchester Racing association, Belmont park, Queens, N. Y., Wednesday, Sept. 1, to Tuesday, Sept. 14.
- Piping Rock association, Locust Valley, N. Y., Wednesday, June 2 and Saturday, June 5.

DONLIN MET HIS MATCH IN EVERS.

It looks like the final passing of Mike Donlin unless some Federal league club sees the value of having the pepper box ground for pinch hitting emergencies and a general good effect. Which is a reminder that as a kiddier Sir Mique found his match in Johnny Evers during the deciding series between the Giants and Braves last fall. In one game Evers stood by and took three called strikes. As Johnny walked to the bench Mike yelled: "Hey, Johnny, what were you waiting for?"

Evers glowered fiercely in the direction of the Giants' bench and retorted: "Well, I wasn't waiting for the 1st and 15th for rent money."

PENN RELAY MEET.

Annual Meeting in Philadelphia Will Attract Classy Athletes.

The schoolboys will have their inning at Philadelphia April 23 and 24, when the University of Pennsylvania relay races will take place on Franklin field. Schools in all parts of the country are going to send their fastest runners to this two day carnival of track and field sport, and the consequent boost to schoolboy athletics is expected to have far-reaching effects.

Outside of the schools everything points to a remarkably successful athletic carnival. Although the college invitations were sent out only the other day, a number of the largest institutions have already signified their intention of sending teams to Philadelphia. Even Coe college of Cedar Rapids, Ia., the winner of the western college relay championship last year, has written stating that special efforts are being made to collect the funds necessary to send a one mile relay team. Every member of last year's championship team is still in college.

MACK HAS BIG TASK.

Athletic Manager Will Have Hard Time Changing His Lineup.

How to get the best results out of his material is one of Connie Mack's problems. He has hinted that he may make a shift in his infield. What this will be Connie declines to say. For several seasons it has not been necessary for him to do any experimenting with his base guardians. With McInnis, Collins, Barry and Baker composing the "$100,000 infield," Connie could put all of his thoughts regarding the infield upon the development of substitutes. In this he did not meet with much success.

Now he has some radical change in mind. This may be the shifting of McInnis to third base and placing Kopf at second base with LaJole at first, and, of course, Barry at short. Then again Connie may decide to put the hard hitting Schang at first, but it is not likely that he can afford to spare him from his catching staff.

For a time the Athletic fans are going to be kept guessing, for Mack is sure to do some experimenting with his infield.

Dyeing War Horses.

Ever since the war broke out experiments have been made with a view to dyeing the coats of white horses, but simple as it may seem to the uninitiated a satisfactory result has not yet been obtained. Numerous inventors came forward with vaunted dyes, but after the preliminary tests only one liquid seemed to resist the rain satisfactorily. A battery of 24 white horses was consequently treated, and sent out on duty in all weathers. When they returned after a week or ten days all the beasts were of a beautiful bottle green, and are expected to retain that hue for some time to come.

Rides Plane in Storm.

A plane is a handy thing aboard ship, even if the weather is too rough for one to play upon it, believes Captain Peterson of the steamship Karen, which arrived at New York from Matanzas with sugar.
On the way up from Cuba, about seventy miles off Cape Hatteras, a terrific gale kicked up a sea that buffeted the vessel until her steering gear became deranged. Repairs required seven hours. Meanwhile the Karen dropped into the trough of the sea, and a great flood poured into her hold. Mrs. Peterson's room was frequently awash, but the skipper's wife sat on top of the piano and fooled the flood that swirled about her.

TURKS WOULD DETRACT FROM GLORY OF 'SUB'S' CREW IN SINKING SHIP

(By Associated Press.)

Constantinople, March 30.—In naval circles here it is maintained that little glory came to the British submarine which torpedoed the Messudieh at the entrance of the Dardanelles. The Messudieh, it is claimed, was at that time nothing but a hulk, which had been stationed in those waters for the purpose of making the inspection of the entrance to the Dardanelles by means of searchlights possible. In addition naval circles here claim that the British submarine did not dive through a mine field, because the Messudieh was stationed outside the field—several knots away from it, in fact.

How the Messudieh became a hulk is a rather interesting story. On the Messudieh were to be found the two biggest guns in Turkey, two 9.2 inch .45 calibre Armstrong pieces. A little while before the outbreak of the European war the British naval mission reported to the Turkish navy department that the guns in question would have to undergo some modification and recommended that for this purpose they be shipped to the Armstrong works in England. This was done.

When the war broke out it was found that the Messudieh minus her heavy guns was of little use. It was then decided to take her secondary armament of twelve 6-inch pieces, and her battery of fourteen 12-pounders ashore and arm with them several anti-torpedoboot and anti-minelayer stations which had been established. There was little the 10,000-ton vessel could be put to after that, and so it was decided to employ her powerful searchlights at the entrance of the Dardanelles.

A large and enthusiastic gathering of the athletically inclined youths of the Escanaba high school met yesterday afternoon in the school auditorium and held an extremely interesting discussion of the football prospects for the fall of 1915.

BASEBALL TO START AT LOCAL SCHOOL TOMORROW AFTERNOON

According to information given out today it is practically certain that active baseball practice at the Escanaba high school will start tomorrow afternoon. A bunch of the mound aspirants are slated to get out and limber up their throwing arms and begin work to get into shape for an early opening of the season. Real outside work will not start, it is believed until the ground has become thoroughly dried out, which may take another week.

LOVELY MARY FULLER AND MATT MOORE IN THE VICTOR MASTERPIECE, "MARY'S DUKE" A THREE-REEL COMEDY BY ELAINE STERNE

Mary Fuller, Matt Moore and a star on the part of Gus Hill. Bud Fisher's eccentric characters can live for a century or they can die as dead as a "door nail" in sixty days, if allowed to do so, but it is decidedly to the interest of both Bud Fisher and Gus Hill to see them live for years innumerable, which they will do as long as Fisher is able to furnish "new dope" and up-to-the-minute comedy situations and as long as Gus Hill furnishes a new and acceptable vehicle for their work. Both Elaine Sterne's play possessed those rare qualities which go to make success in any profession; beauty of thought, wholesomeness, and yet possessing distinctly attractive and interesting features.

In "Mary's Duke," Miss Sterne has introduced many novel film effects. In fact, bright comedy prevades from the opening flash to the final fade-out which both thrills one's risibilities.

Both Miss Fuller and Miss Sterne had many conferences before the play was written and the result is a clever comedy well-done and a triumph from every point of view.

"Mary's Duke" will delight even the most seasoned picture devotee as it will show this acintillating star in her happiest moments. Needless to say, Matt Moore is as charming a lover as one could wish for and his worshippers will surely be pleased. This is one of the many rollicking comedies which will be produced by the Universal, whose idea it is to abolish, if possible, all slap-stick comedy with which the market is now flooded.

"Winning of Barbara Worth" Coming. Another big play of the great southwest is promised when the production, "The Winning of Barbara Worth," is presented here at the Delft theatre, Tuesday Night, April 5.

The interest this piece will attract from the splendor of its mounting and the distinction of the players, will be added to by the fact that the play is a dramatization of the most celebrated novel of Harold Bell Wright, and the tour has been a series of artistic and box office triumphs.

A good vaudeville bill is offered today, in the Dancing Twins. The Hearst-Selig news pictures two other splendid films will complete the bill.

"Mutt and Jeff" at the Peterson. Once again the merry-making "Mutt and Jeff" will be with us. The season of laughter is about to begin. "Mutt and Jeff in Mexico" in a brand new dress comes to the Peterson on next Sunday, April 4th, with a bigger and a better show than has ever appeared before under the well known title. Giving "Mutt and Jeff" a new and superior production each successive year is an act of diplomacy

PERTINENT FACTS IN MICHIGAN'S HISTORY

Michigan's new capital in Lansing township was completed in the year 1847. The new town then bore the name "Michigan," but at the first session of the legislature in the new capital, in January, 1848, the name was changed to "Lansing."

Miss Rae Tanzer Got Hold of the Wrong Man in Her Breach of Promise Suit in New York

(By Associated Press.)

New York, March 30.—Miss Rae Tanzer, who is suing J. W. Osborne, former assistant district attorney of New York for $50,000 for breach of promise, was mistaken in her identification of Osborne, according to Harold Fellberg, who announced he had been retained by Miss Tanzer as counsel. The mistake was wholly due to Miss Tanzer, and Slade and Slade, her former attorneys were in no way connected with in the mistake except as counsel for the girl. Assistant District Attorney Wood corroborated Fellberg's statement and added that the witness the state relied upon was Miss Tanzer herself. She is at liberty under ball of $5,000, for attempting to use the mails to defraud. This is an outgrowth of the above suit.

BAPTIST SOCIAL A SPLENDID SUCCESS

With an attendance of twenty-five or thirty present during the evening, and all kinds of amusement on hand, the social held at the First Baptist church last evening under the auspices of the B. Y. P. U. society of the church was a huge success.

Each person present brought a box filled with "grub" and these were auctioned off to the highest bidder, considerable competition and a great deal of fun developing during that process.

Later, during the evening a business session was held, at which time the young people ratified the constitution and by-laws presented for their consideration by the president of the society, a member of the federation of young people's societies executive board.

FROZEN BODY OF A WOODSMAN IS FOUND

Coroner Bartley Called to Cornell Yesterday to Remove Body of Lumberjack—Not Seen for a Week

After a week had passed and no one had seen Alex Prevanche, a woodsman employed until lately by the I. Stephenson company at Camp 14, the man was found dead in an abandoned camp ten miles northwest of Cornell yesterday. Coroner Bartley of this city hurried to the scene of the death as soon as notified. He decided no inquest was necessary following a short investigation. The body was removed to this city and was prepared for burial at the Allo parlors.

The dead man worked during the winter months with the woods crew of the Stephenson company and left that employment two weeks ago. The last seen of the man alive was on Tuesday of last week, and it is believed that he wandered to the old camp and was taken ill and died. The condition of the body indicated that death had occurred some days prior to the finding. Henry Barron, of the lumber company stumbled upon the body when he entered the shack yesterday, and thinking the man asleep sought to rouse him. He then discovered that he was dead and immediately notified Coroner Bartley.

ANIMALS TO TALK TO MAN

Noted German Scientist Satisfied That Condition Will Be Reached in the Future.

"Some day a man will talk to his dog and his dog will talk to him. So will the man talk to birds of the air. It will be then that all animal and bird life becomes articulate and a widening of our cosmic horizon, now undreamed of, will result." This was the statement at Los Angeles recently, of R. L. Garner, noted philologist and tutor of Maeterlinck, who has spent 25 years in the wilds of the Congo studying the chimpanzee and the gorilla. From these two animals, Garner believes will bestrung the first twin cables from which scientists will hang a bridge on which man and his lesser brothers of the world will meet in oracular converse.

"A dream, you say?" he continued. "Cannot the bee teach us a higher communism, the quick, effective elimination of the unfit and shirker? Cannot the birds tell us their secret of flying? Would we not like to know why the oriole, the oven bird or castle building ant are so much better engineers than we are? I believe the day will come when they will be able to tell us. In many respects the gorilla or chimpanzee is far more civilized than man. You never did or never will hear of either abandoning their wives."

After spending a vacation in Los Angeles Mr. Garner intends to return to the Congo for further study of the animals found there.

PLAN NEW DUBLIN CATHEDRAL

Roman Catholics Likely to Erect House of Worship Worthy of the Irish Capital.

Roman Catholic Dublin's desire for a great city cathedral is likely to be satisfied at last. The present pro-cathedral in Marlborough street has never been regarded as anything more than a stop-gap. The two fine cathedrals in the city, St. Patrick's and Christ Church, are, of course, the property of the Church of Ireland.

Some time ago the corporation acquired a site at Ormond Market, on the northern quays, for the erection of workmen's dwellings. The scheme was never popular and is open to grave objection.

The Roman Catholic archbishop of Dublin has now offered to purchase the Ormond Market area as a site for a cathedral at the amount which the corporation paid for it.

The suggestion for a Roman Catholic cathedral at this spot came from Prof. Patrick Geddes, who advocated a new artery of traffic which would bring the two Protestant cathedrals into line with a new Roman Catholic building.

Aroused Painful Memories.

All Farmer Hayseed's hands were in the village choir. At Christmas they used to come round to their master's home, and after much singing, or rather howling, receive a gratuity. This Christmas being an extremely dark night, they took a stable lantern with them, and arranged themselves on Hayseed's lawn. They had scarcely got through the first verse of "White shepherds watched" when the old farmer's head appeared at the window, and a voice floated through the air. "Say, you chaps," roared the gum-looking farmer, as he threw a handful of money to the peace disturbers, "I'll give my blessing freely if you'll only sing 'Christians, awake,' or 'Ark the herald angels sing,' but for heaven's sake, don't sing 'White shepherds watched.' Last Christmas, whilst you were a murderer that same tune, some villyuns come 'long an' lifted eight of me best sheep from under 'our bloomin' noses.'"

WILLS MADE IN WAR TIME

Legal Procedure Must of Necessity Give Way to What is Convenient.

War changes many of the laws of peace. Even the strict laws governing the making of wills and the inheritance of property have had to make way before the exigencies of military procedure.

The German government has provided a special decree which revolutionizes the strict demands of the statutes of peace concerning the making of wills. As a result the German soldiers in the field can now make their last wills with little respect for the ironclad requirements that hedge the making of a testament in time of peace.

Any officer or soldier or even anyone in any wise attached to the mobile military service, may write his will in his own handwriting and sign it, even without the presence of witnesses, and the will is binding. A special provision, however, makes such a will invalid one year after the demobilization of the force to which the testator is attached. It becomes invalid a year after the testator has been discharged from such service, or if he has been taken prisoner by the enemy, a year after he shall have been released.

In addition to this, provision is made that where the soldier does not write the testament in his own handwriting, his simple signature in the presence of one officer or two other witnesses will be sufficient. If for any reason he is unable to do this, or there is no time for the preparation of a formal instrument, he may make a verbal testament before an officer and two witnesses.

FOUND TIMES HAD CHANGED

Alkali Ike's Attempt to "Shoot Up" San Diego Saloon Received with Marked Disapproval.

Alkali Ike, deputy sheriff from the desert, was a visitor in the city, says a San Diego, Cal., dispatch to the New York Sun. Alkali was looking for the white lights. By noon, having failed to discover the excitement his soul craved, he made his way into the U. S. Grant hotel buffet, and, pulling a "forty-five" that looked like one of the kaiser's howitzers, announced that he was going to do some "cleaning."

As he swung his Krupp around the room heads dropped behind partitions, active men dodged into booths and many faces paled at visions of sudden death. Commander in Chief Billie Schuler tipped his cigar to a higher angle than usual and, backed by Irish and Germans, advanced on "the bad man from the sand hills."

For an instant visions of carnage flashed before his eyes of the men who had sought refuge, but it quickly passed, for Schuler annexed the cannon and threw Alkali Ike to the sidewalk. Half an hour later the freater was back begging with tears streaming down his face for his weapon.

"I'll be on my way to the sand hills in five minutes," he promised as he got back his gun.

John Muir

The late John Muir was one of those rare spirits who devote a large part of their lives to making men acquainted with the beauties and wonders of nature. Besides being a gifted writer, whose words have had a solid attraction for a fine and sympathetic type of mind, Mr. Muir was a practical scientist—as a geologist and an explorer he has contributed his share to the world's intellectual resources. The romance of his career and the mystery of that special gift which made glaciers a particular object of his studies are matters well worth wonderment. It is not easy for the person of affairs to understand the irresistible call which comes to certain natures to make themselves masters of the secrets that lie only half-hidden in the physical world that surrounds us. But that some natures receive this call and respond to it nobly is the testimony of such a career as John Muir's.—Springfield Republican.

Importance of Home Life.

The re-establishment of the American home is the only remedy for the social evil and the only hope of democracy, declared a speaker at the international purity congress in Kansas City. "The constant shifting of families from one section to another prohibits the long acquaintance among young people through which proper life partners can be selected," the speaker said. "Young people are thrown into contact with strangers, become bold and practice deceptions. As a result, marriage is arranged on a guess; the deceptions are discovered and lead to the divorce court and all too often to immorality."

Cost of Living in Wartime.

Data published in the Statistische Korrespondenz are figured out to indicate the price of wheat in Berlin, at the end of August, was 9% per cent above the July 31 price, and that the advance was 16% per cent at the end of September and 26% at the end of October. Rye had advanced 11% per cent in August, 21% per cent in September and 26% per cent in October. In England the Economist's "index number" shows the average price of cereals to have risen from 57.3 at the end of July to 65% at the end of October, and to 62.3 at the end of November.—New York Post.

GERMANS CLAIM WINS

Battles in north Poland are said to have resulted in successive victories for the Germans, and the German official statement says that 2,000 Russians were killed and 3,000 captured at Kranople in a battle there.

In the German occupation of Taurgen, across the Russian border, announced yesterday, it is claimed that 1,000 prisoners were taken among the Russ and that the Russian attacks at other points along the line were repulsed.

The latest statement from Petrograd is that the German forces were forced to retire at one point near St. Mielh.

Says Forts Will Hold

An official announcement from Constantinople says that an aeroplane flew over the harbor and dropped a bomb on ships outside the bay.

Field-Marshal von der Gotha, the German military commander of Constantinople on his way to Berlin, is quoted as saying that the Dardanelles forts will be able to resist any assault that can be made from the sea.

The Turks are placing troops to prevent the landing of troops from the allied transports. The Russian government has announced that the German offensive in north Poland has failed. The German bombardment of Osovovits has been abandoned, says the Russian war office.

OPENS CASE AGAINST ALLEGED ANARCHISTS

(By Associated Press.)

New York, March 30.—The state opened the case against Frank Abarono and Carmine Carbone, alleged to have attempted to destroy St. Patrick's cathedral here a month ago, by calling to the stand Amedeo Polgnani, the young Italia detective who uncovered the plot while posing as an anarchist. It was during this time that a plot was hatched to destroy the cathedral. Polgnani was familiar with the plans and kept the police advised of the movements of the alleged anarchists.
