LAST QUESTIONNAIRES TO BE MAILED JAN. 8

Every Registered Man in Delta County Will Have Received His Questionnaire in Few Days After.

The final bunch of questionnaires to registered men in Delta county will be mailed out by the local board on Tuesday, it was announced today by the local board for Delta county. About 2,500 of the questionnaires have been mailed out already and the remainder of the 2,855 will go out Monday and Tuesday.

The local board has finished the classification of nearly 1,200 of the returned questionnaires, and a number of the industrial and agricultural claims have been forwarded already to Houghton to the district board. The district board has started the consideration of the claims for exemption on grounds of industrial and agricultural occupations.

It is not known by the local board at this time how many registered men have failed to return their questionnaires, as they continue to be returned in each mail. The board has adopted a liberal policy regarding the return of the questionnaires, having decided to wait until the last questionnaires are supposed to be returned before checking up to see how many men have failed to return their questionnaires. It is not believed, however, that a great number have failed to return their questionnaires thus far.

SPAIN THREATENED BY REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT, REPORT

Plot Has Been Unearthed by Government Officials and Situation Has Been Placed Under Control.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Madrid, Spain, Jan. 5.—A revolutionary movement has been unearthed by the government. Telephone and telegraph communications have been suspended and other precautions taken. Premier Albuquerca announced today that the government was master of the situation. The authorities are investigating the plot, many details of which are already known.

Although remaining out of the war, Spain has not escaped the political unrest produced by it. There have been frequent strikes and disturbances and it has been necessary to declare martial law at times, the most formidable occasion being last summer when a wide-spread strike was threatened. There were several armed clashes in which 400 were killed and a republic was set up in Catalonia. This week King Alfonso dissolved the parliament.

HOME BAKING MEANS WASTEFULNESS, SAYS EXPERTS ON BAKING

Modern Bakery Shop Wastes Not An Ounce of Flour and the Product Is Better Than Home Baked.

In a current issue of "Daylight," a publication devoted to the interests of the bakers of the nation, there appears the following very interesting article on the question of home baking vs. bakeries, in which Mrs. Severin, head of the National Advisory council of the woman's association of commerce, says that the wastefulness of home baking has never been more clearly demonstrated than during a series of tests made by experts: "If in each home in the United States there is saved one ounce of meat a day, in one year we save 465,000,000 pounds. One slice of bread saved daily, saves 365,000,000 loaves annually. One pat of butter less a day means 114,000,000 pounds a year saved. A half cup of milk less per day saves 912,000,000 quarts of milk or the product of 400,000 cows. These figures prove that it behooves us to Hooverize."

FEW ALIENS IN CITY WHO MUST REGISTER

Believed That the Registration of German Aliens Will Not Be More Than 50 in Escanaba.

Scarcely more than fifty German aliens will register in the city under the president's proclamation designating the week of February 4 as the time according to the belief of Chief of Police Tolan, who will have charge of the registration in the city. It is not expected that there will be a large registration in the city, because there are not many German aliens over 14 years of age in the city. Chief of Police Tolan is making arrangements to register every German male over 14 years during the week of February 4 and between now and the time of the registration he expects to have the name of every German alien in the city.

Miss Lillian Hoyler will return this evening to the National Kindergarten, college at Chicago, Ill., after spending the holidays in the city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoyler.

Just and Lasting Peace Is British Aim; No Aggression Is Planned Against the German People, Premier Says.

BRITISH AIMS ARE TOLD

England Will Back France to Restore Alsace-Lorraine and Italy to Restore Her Lost Territory.

(Associated Press War Summary) David Lloyd George, the British premier, in an epoch-making speech, delivered at the most critical hour of the world conflict, laid Great Britain's war aims before the world in a broader and more specific way than they have ever before been formulated.

A just and lasting peace is the British aim, he reiterated, and this, he declared, must be achieved by re-establishment of the sanctity of treaties, territorial adjustments on the basis of self determination and the limiting of armament, all to be carried out by an international organization.

Great Britain is prepared to make even greater sacrifices to achieve these ends. In effect the speech was a reply to and a rejection of the German peace terms as voiced by the spokesman of the Central Powers at the Brest-Litovsk conference. No lasting peace is possible on the basis of these terms. Mere lip service to the formulae of no annexations and no indemnities and self determination would not suffice, he said.

The broad principles of the right of nations formed the basis for the premier's statements. He enunciated specifically in his declarations that "government by the consent of the governed" must be the foundation of any territorial requirements after the war, replacing the old methods of settlement by bargaining around the council table by a few rulers.

Backing up this idea he declared that Great Britain proposed to stand with France in a demand for righting of the wrongs of 1871, when France was deprived of Alsace-Lorraine and in supporting Italy in her claim for the reunion with the people of her own race and tongue now under Austrian rule. Just treatment for Serbia, Roumania and Montenegro will be insisted upon.

Complete restoration of Belgium with such reparation as is possible was always the first requirement in making peace, he pointed out and reiterated. He repeated likewise the pronouncement that no disruption of Germany was desired, but instead a wish to turn her

THE PRESS ON TREASON IN THE GERMAN NAVY.

The Rheinisch-Westfalische Zeitung, the organ of the Krupp (Oct. 10), vigorously supports the attack made on the Independent Socialists by the imperial chancellor and Admiral von Capelle. After remarking that the latter's revelations are hardly conceivable, it proceeds:
 "The German people will rise as one man and demand that the guilty be brought to justice. They must be handled with iron severity. Hesitation in this matter is treason to the Fatherland. They are liable to punishment by death."
 "In peace time we tolerated traitors like Wetterle and Well. They were 'the people's representatives,' and sat in the Reichstag. Today there is no one who does not regret that they were not in due time rendered harmless. During the war, thank God, Liebknecht was properly dealt with. He is sitting where he deserves to sit, and in the present cases there can only be similar action. The shield of immunity must be raised and proceedings taken. What will foreign countries think of us if they get the impression that there are traitors in the German Reichstag who wished to deliver the German fleet to the enemy?"
 "Our enemies have placed great hopes on the German democracy, but, God knows, the so highly extolled tendency to democracy will not lead us so far as to allow German Reichstag deputies to transgress with impunity, at the moment of the greatest danger, against the vital interests of the nation which they allege they represent.

The semi-official Kolnische Zeitung writes:
 "We are surprised that the Government, when it had such strong proofs of guilt against three persons suspected of treason, did not ask the consent of the Reichstag to take legal measures. No Reichstag would have been able to refuse its consent. Indeed, it ought to have been a matter of course that the Committee of Seven should have been called into consultation. That this has not taken place, and that the affair has been treated in so amateurish a manner, will be explained abroad to the disadvantage of Germany."

The liberal Berliner Tageblatt points out that any newspaper taking part in military affairs would be subjected to terrible penalties. It demands similar treatment for Reichstag deputies.
 If the Reichstag really believes that the Independent Socialist deputies have been guilty of any share in "this fleet tragedy" it must hand those deputies over to justice.

The Socialist Vorwarts says:
 "The assertions of Von Capelle have in an unbecoming manner turned the Reichstag into a theater of the wildest scandal. There is no shadow of proof that any Reichstag deputies made themselves guilty of illegal transactions."

MUNITION PLANTS SLOWING DOWN.

Representative John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut, who has been preaching the doctrine of munition preparedness ever since the outbreak of the European war, and before, for that matter, is properly indignant because the War Department is permitting Connecticut Arms plants to slow down. The Winchester Arms company is now working about 50 per cent of the force which manned its shops last year; the Remington Arms company recently closed down for a week, and the Marlin company is not using its capacity equipment for turning out machine guns. Mr. Tilson says that if we have a million men across the sea there should be 1,500,000 guns over there for them right away, and 500,000 ready to be shipped, and he points out that we have only about 700,000 Springfield. "The factories are ahead of their orders and are slowing up," says Mr. Tilson, "a condition of affairs that I can't understand in time of war. It certainly does not seem to me the War Department is doing the right thing." It was this same Mr. Tilson who, in May of last year, after nearly two and a half years of the European War, and long, long after Mr. Wilson's "world on fire" speech, startled the country with proofs that during that two and one-half years we had produced only 66,000 guns in our factories. Mr. Tilson would doubtless approve the suggestion that George M. Cohan revise his popular war son to read, "And we won't get guns till its over Over There."

"THE SPY" SHOWN AT THE DELFT THEATRE

An American's sacrifice of life and all it holds dear to him, to save his countrymen and learn the secrets of the German spy system forms the theme of the stirring William Fox production, "The Spy," which, with Dustin Farnum in its lead, comes to the Delft theatre on Monday for a two days' run.
 Dustin Farnum, one of the few popular men stars of the screen, plays the role of Mark Quaintance, a man of wealth and social position, who undertakes the hazardous task of gaining a list of the Teutonic spies in the United States.
 In Berlin he finds it necessary to enroll himself among those spies before he can learn where the book containing their names is kept. Then he gets possession of it and sends it to the American Ambassador, while he himself is court-martialed.
 The odd feature about this thrilling drama is that it contains all the vigor and excitement of war, without a single battle scene being flashed on the screen. Realizing that the public has a surfeit of such views, the Fox company arranged its story in such fashion that it was found unnecessary to fire a single shot during the taking of the picture.
 In the cast are, besides Dustin Farnum, Winifred Kingston, Charles Cary, William Burress, Howard Gaye and William E. Lowry.

AT THE DELFT.

Jack Pickford and Louise Huff in "Jagok and Jill" is the feature at the Delft today. In addition there will be a two-reel Mack Sennett comedy and a good vaudeville act with a team in singing and talking.
 Jack Ranney is a lightweight fighter of the sort that receives about twenty-five dollars a fight—and that not very often. He is anxious to marry Jill, his sweetheart, so called, because since their childhood she and Jack have been inseparable, but both agree that they must wait until his bank account is very considerably swelled.
 We see them at the opening of the picture, debating the question as to whether they can afford "the movies." That is, Jill is debating, for as usual, she "mothers" Jack and tells him that he ought to get a good meal instead. Just as Jack has persuaded her that he can easily afford it and they are about to enter the theatre, a messenger from the manager of Jack's athletic club runs up to him, saying the manager wants to see him. Jack assures Jill that this means a big fight and jubilantly starts off, promising to meet her "after the show."

AT THE STRAND.

Mutual American Pictures present for the patrons of the Strand theatre the clever and fascinating Broadway actress Juliette Day in a romantic story of a pretty girl and a pirate bold, "Betty and the Buccaneers." The twelfth episode of "The Fighting Trail" will also be presented today.

It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds on the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). entitled "The Desert of Torture." Also a Lonesome Lake comedy, "Birds of a Feather."
 Miss Juliette Day, the scintillating little star of "Upstairs and Down," the Hatton's Broadway hit, and whose successes in "The Yellow Jacket," "Chin Chin" and "Twin Beds" are equally well known, has been given a very satisfactory medium for display of her clever acting in "Betty and the Buccaneers," a new American Mutual production.

Have You a Vacant Chair at Your Fireside?

Has Any Member of Your Family Enlisted in the Army, in the Cause of Freedom? If So, You Will Be Interested in the Following.

Hundreds of young men of Delta county are in the service of their country, both in the Regular and National Army. They are not reading history, they are MAKING it. Gleaned from the pages of ancient or modern history of the world; in the record of the tribal and national wars, not excluding the struggle of our forefathers in the weary days of the Revolution, nor the struggle of our fathers in the Civil War; there has been no cause more just nor free from crime for which men offered and sacrificed their lives than the present cause which the cream of the young men of Delta county has gone forth to defend.
 Our forefathers fought for the establishment of a great and glorious nation, our fathers fought to perpetuate it and lift the shackles of slavery from a distinct race of its people, our brothers fought for the preservation of one of its cardinal and just principles, but our sons are fighting for freedom and democracy of, not only that one great nation, but the whole civilized world.
 On the great roll of our nation's heroes no names should shine brighter than the names of these red-blooded Americans who, recognizing the fact that they are the sons of a common father more than they are the sons of a nation, have stepped out of the ranks of the civilian and into an honored uniform to give "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth," not to an invading hord on our shores, but to a greater enemy of all civilization.

THE RAPID RIVER NEWS

Believes that the deeds of these Delta county boys should become a matter of historic record. It believes that the names, the age, place of birth, date of enlistment and a sketch of all facts pertaining to their enlistment should be in some manner recorded.
 The NEWS has been running in its columns a feature of this kind in the instance of the Rapid River soldier boys and it has proven so popular that we have decided to enlarge on the plan and take in the entire county. The NEWS wants to hear from every family in Delta county who has a boy in the service. From each family we hope to get a photograph and a statement of facts to assist us in getting up a biographical sketch of the boy from that family who is in the service. Three or four of these sketches and picture will appear each week in the NEWS until a record is made of every soldier boy from Delta county. Then, if conditions warrant it, the entire series will be put together in book form, together with important facts of county interest and a complete record will exist of "Our Part in the World War."

The Feature Will Start at Once

Help us compile this important information that means so much to you and the rest of the people of the county. There is no obligation on your part. Write us for full information which involves merely the details of getting the photograph and a statement of facts which we require. IT COSTS YOU NOTHING.
 The next issue of the NEWS will contain the beginning of this feature. The subscription price of The NEWS is $2.00 per year. If you want to preserve these soldier boy records as they appear in The NEWS, mail your subscription to commence with the next issue. However, that is but a minor issue. The main issue is to help us get the information necessary.

HISTORIC OLD SUN TAVERN

One of Boston's Landmarks, Built in 1690, for Many Years Used as a Fish Market.

One of the early taverns of Boston was the Sun tavern which stood but a few feet from the water's edge and was built about 1690. For some years it was kept by a Huguenot from Rochelle named Cogneau. He made it one of the most popular of taverns and it was particularly popular with the young men of Boston and surrounding country, partly for the reason that mine host Cogneau had several very attractive and lively daughters who added a great deal to the charms of the hostelry. Their father had the privilege of seeing two of them married in the tavern, one of them becoming the wife of Col. William Parfrey, the famous Revolutionary patriot. He became the grandfather of the noted writer, John G. Parfrey.

Another daughter of this genial host of the Sun tavern married a successful printer named Fleet. During the siege of Boston the British seized the house and they changed its name to the King's Arms. But when the Red Coats had been chased out of Boston the sign of the King's Arms quickly disappeared and the old sign of the Sun Tavern took its place and the tavern took on its old-time popularity. It has for many years been used as a fish market.

RAISE FOR LITTLE POSTMASTERS ASKED

Fourth Class Postmasters Will Be Provided With More Compensation Under New Law.

Fourth class postmasters, of whom there are a number in Delta county, who receive their compensation according to the amount of stamps cancelled at their offices, do not benefit under the percentage increase of salaries provided for at the last session of congress, and which will probably be continued or increased for the next fiscal year.
To take care of that class of federal employees Representative Roscoe C. McCulloch of Ohio has introduced a bill to give fourth class postmasters an increase of $20 for every $100 or major fraction thereof of their compensation for the next preceding year. It is more than probable that Mr. McCulloch's suggestion, or some other of equal merit, will find favor with congress.

Mrs. Craig and son, William, of Chicago, who have been visiting with friends and relatives for several days, left last night for their home.

Home Baking Means Wastefulness, Says Experts On Baking

"We are asked to observe Wheatless Days. Let us carry it further. Let us discover the real wastes of wheat in our homes. The home-baked loaf of bread, time hallowed though it be, is our worst offender. The women in France no longer bake their own bread. We must adopt similar measures here.

"One to three ounces of dough—wheat, in other words—is wasted in every home baking. The dough on your fingers that you or your maid wash off in the sink, the dough that clings to the bread-board, the flour that spills while you are kneading, are wastes you can not prevent. The only recourse is to stop baking your bread at home.

"The Red Cross and other war relief organizations are begging for your help. You can't respond when you are chained to the kitchen, nervous over whether your dough is rising properly and then watching it in the oven. It takes five hours to produce two loaves of bread in your kitchen—and then perhaps it is a soggy, unpalatable mess, indigestible, and really a waste. Home-baking is a triple waste—first of wheat—second of time—third of your family's digestion.

"Hundreds of thousands of barrels of flour can be saved by housewives if they will buy bakers' bread. In up-to-date bakeries the correct temperature is maintained while the dough is rising. In home kitchens this is impossible. The door opens, a cold draught enters, and the dough falls. Then it is a case of Humpty Dumpty. Nothing can save that batch of dough from becoming soggy bread.

"Bakershops, by modern contrivances, avoid wastes of dough. They can produce more bread per barrel of flour than housewives can. And bakers' bread is light. It toasts. Home-made bread won't. The crusts of bakers' bread can be easily dried, rolled and used. Your home-made crusts are too heavy for this.

"Women must therefore do less home baking. Then they can begin today to save wheat. Wheat will help win the war. Now is the time to act. The government is supervising the bakeries. Each bakery is to be licensed. But don't wait for the government to point out the wastes of home baking. Let us resolve now to save those thousands upon thousands of barrels of flour we are literally washing down our sinks.

"For years I have been an exponent of home baking. I have baked bread, rolls, pies, cakes by the thousands. I've taught scores of maids and girls to do the same, but today in my home, home baking is barred. I consider this action to be in accordance with the spirit of my Hoover pledge. And if every woman in this country will do likewise, I venture to say that one million barrels of flour will be annually saved for use by our allies."

Two Escanaba Men Will Attend Utah Wool Convention

Appeal among Western grazers for more food claiming that the home-stead act had compelled them to greatly reduce their herds. Several months ago Frank J. Hagenbarth, president of the National Wool Growers, said at a Chicago convention that the nation's sheep and wool supply was in danger and that great food areas of the cut-over land district along the Great Lakes now going to waste should be used to graze sheep and cattle if wool and meats are to be furnished the nation.
Mr. Hagenbarth went to Cloverland on an inspection tour and pronounced Upper Michigan "the greatest dairy and livestock region in the world and capable of caring for 8,000,000 sheep and 1,000,000 cattle." He aroused Cloverland land owners telling them that it was their duty to offer lands at the best possible terms to grazers from a patriotic standpoint.

The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau took up the work and has secured 250,000 acres of land which it will offer through its president, Leo C. Harmon, at the coming convention. Mr. Harmon was formerly a Montana resident and knows the grazing situation as well as many of the largest grazers in the West. The land will be offered in tracts of from 2,000 up to 15,000 acres and complete data will be furnished on each tract during the convention. The terms are that the grazer will have free usage of the lands for two years, pay the taxes during the third, pay the taxes and a rental based on six per cent of the purchase price during the fourth and fifth years. The Bureau is paying all expenses and gets no commission of any sort. Its representatives are not land selling men and they are acting simply from a patriotic standpoint.

representatives of all sections of thought in the country.

Fighting Militarism. "We are not fighting a war of aggression against the German people," he declared. "The destruction or disruption of Germany or the German people has never been our war aim since the first day of the war. The British people never aimed to break up the German people or the disintegration of the state. Our wish is not to destroy her position but to turn her aside from the schemes of military domination to devote her energy to munificent tasks."

The premier declared that Great Britain was not fighting to take Constantinople from the Turks or to destroy Austria-Hungary. "Our viewpoint," the premier declared, "is that the adoption of a democratic constitution by the Germans would be the most concrete evidence that the old spirit of military domination was dead, but that is a question for the German people to decide."

"If local boards have accepted men for these services advise state headquarters forthwith, but do not send them and instruction as to disposition will be sent you."

"Induct bricklayers into service immediately and forward them immediately without delay to Kelly field and advise state headquarters of number."

The board has failed to find in the questionnaires returned any men who are bricklayers and therefore has been unable to comply with the request to send them.

COAL SHORTAGE DUE TO FEDERAL PRICES

Representative of Coal Dealers of the Northwest Tells Senate Committee the Price Was Far Too High.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington, Jan. 5.—The coal shortage in the northwest, L. B. Houck of Minneapolis, representing the coal dealers of seven states, told the senate investigating committee today, was due to the price fixing by the fuel administration and the admonishments of the householders last spring not to lay in the usual supply.

Great quantities of coal brought to the lakes during the summer is lying on the docks. The average price of that coal to the northwestern consumer is $7.75 a ton, because the price was set by the fuel administration, while the price of Illinois coal averages about $5.50. The Illinois coal is used in a large part of the northwestern states.

WORK FOR MAIMED

Plan for Re-Education of Disabled American Soldiers.

To Be Helped to Rehabilitate Themselves as Useful Citizens of the Republic.

Washington.—Now that our troops have begun to actually take part in the great war, a great problem will soon have to be faced. It will soon have to be faced. It will soon have to be faced. It will soon have to be faced.

Washington.—Now that our troops have begun to actually take part in the great war, a great problem will soon have to be faced. It will soon have to be faced. It will soon have to be faced. It will soon have to be faced.

Although the plans have not progressed enough to make a formal announcement of their scope, it is known that the war department, the surgeon general's office, is working on the theory that the re-education must commence in the hospital while the patient is convalescent.

The government will probably follow closely the plans of the Canadian government, which is to continue its military control over the badly wounded until a competent board consisting of officers, doctors and laymen pronounce the re-education complete and the soldier ready for new endeavors.

According to accepted theories, the re-employment of the faculties begins in the hospital bed with games and puzzles which excite the interest and take the mind off misfortunes. The badly maimed often lose courage and hope, and have often after previous wars insisted upon being supported by the government in soldiers' homes without effort on their own behalf.

ASKS STATUES FOR LONDON

Harvard Professor Would Make Britons Familiar With Great Americans.

London.—A plea for the erection of more statues of great Americans in London was made here recently by Professor Sumichrast of Harvard, speaking before the American Luncheon club.

"We who have the chance," he said, "must do all in our power to make England better known to Americans and America and its people better known in England. Any misunderstanding that may exist between the two countries is purely the result of ignorance of one another. I would have statues of every great American set up in London, so that every Englishman as he walks through these streets may learn to know the features and story of Benjamin Franklin, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and many others who stood up for liberty and made it possible for Great Britain, France and the United States to stand together today in the battle for humanity."

Miss Lottie Shadore has returned to her home after having undergone an operation at St. Francis hospital.

Red Cross Drive In Michigan Was Decided Success

Michigan are to be congratulated on their wonderful work," said Mark T. McKee, campaign director, in a statement announcing the results to date.

"The figures received to date show some mighty interesting things. Up to noon today 25 of the 83 counties of the state had over-subscribed the quotas assigned them, 15 others have reported all the memberships they were asked to obtain and there are only 8 counties which have not reported any figures at all. The snowing of the Upper Peninsula is especially striking. Of the 15 counties above the Straits of Mackinac, twelve have already reported either their full quotas or over, and three of them are now the leaders of the entire state. Schoolcraft county has a total of 549 per cent of its quota, with 8,785 members on a quota of 1,600. Luce county has reported 4,946 members on a quota of 1,000, or 494 per cent, and Iron county has 9,400 members on a quota of 3,000, or 313 per cent. Two more Upper Peninsula counties are within easy striking distance of the goal and this will give the northern section a 'batting average' of 14 out of 15 couplings.

"It looks now as though Schoolcraft and Luce counties would have to 'fight it out' for the silk banner offered by Mrs. Albert E. Sleeper, wife of the governor, to the chapter enrolling the largest percentage of 1918 memberships, according to population. Today's figures show only a fraction of one percent separating the two.

The standing of the Upper Peninsula counties is as follows:

YOUNG AND OLD ARE COASTING AT PARK

In spite of the fact that the ice on the bay is not fit to skate upon, the outdoor pleasure seekers of Escanaba have found that the city park affords a new pleasure, fully as full of fun as the old, and yet something different. This outdoor sport is coasting. For the past week both in the day time and at night men, women and children have found fun in coasting at the city park. Even when sleds are not numerous enough to pass around, a piece of cardboard will serve the purpose.

Including an administration building with offices and living quarters for the secretaries. A. expenditures in the 15 middle western states amounted to $452,000. The average monthly expense of operating Y. M. C. A million sheets of letter paper are being used daily by the soldiers and sailors of the National Army, all of it being supplied by the Army Y. M. C. A. SUPPORT THE SCHOOLS

BY SPENDING AT HOME

Give Local Youngsters the Best Possible Start in Life

You would throw up your hands in holy horror, if anyone suggested that you swipe a bench from a school building or pilfer a single page from a book of the school's library.

But—are your dealings in public school affairs as honest as you think they are—or perhaps would like to have others suppose them to be? They are not—absolutely not—if you are spending your money for mail order merchandise. You can't send a cent of cash out of town for goods that can be bought in town and support to the greatest possible extent the public schools.

Every brick in the schools—every book in the schools' libraries must be purchased with school "taxes." The size of the taxation depends on the wealth of the community. And the wealth is governed largely by the earning capacity of the people who live in the community.

Money sent away from home doesn't pay for one minute of home town "labor." It doesn't fill the dinner pail of a single local worker. It doesn't enrich home dealers. It doesn't by one word broaden the knowledge of the children of this town—add to the attractiveness or comfort of school days.

Money spent with local merchants travels in a circle. It doesn't go out of circulation when rung up on the dealer's cash register—as do mail order dollars when you slip them into the mail box. The dealer spends it here. It pays the help back of the counter, who spend it in town for goods they use. It assists them in purchasing homes—that can be "taxed." It goes into more merchandise—and that merchandise is "taxed." And it is on taxation, remember, that your public schools depend.
