

ASK REVISION PENSION LAWS FOR MOTHERS

Would Cut Down the Amount in Some Cases.

Effort Will Be Made to Pay Pension in Some Instances Where It Is Not Al- lowed at Present.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 6.—The state legislature will be asked to revise the Michigan Mothers' pension law passed in 1914 according to information received by Judge Harry S. Hubert, in charge of Wayne county's juvenile court. The law at present provides a maximum weekly compensation to mothers of $2 for each child. An effort will be made to base the payments upon a graduated scale, a mother with one or two dependent children to receive five or six dollars weekly. Mothers with more than one or two children would receive smaller additional amounts. Mothers and women's clubs of Detroit are back of the move to obtain revision of the law and leaders in these clubs might gain the credit of supporting a number of children is not so great proportionately as the expense of supporting a single child.

Approximately 670 mothers in Wayne county now are receiving aid from the state. The number is high in winter than in summer months and has been relatively higher since the shut down of a number of factory departments here. It is announced by county officials that the amount each mother receives is decided by Judge Hubert after an investigation by court officers. The amount of other income received by a mother largely determines the amount of the pension for each child. The average number of mothers receiving aid in Wayne county during the past four years has been about 900. Approximately 1,450 were helped during the influenza epidemic two years ago.

Mothers entitled to aid are those who are widowed, those whose husbands have deserted them, who have obtained divorces with out alimony or whose husbands are confined in hospitals or in the state.

Those seeking revision of the law will make an effort to have mothers whose husbands have been confined in hospitals or in the state, or who are ill with tuberculosis, eligible to state aid, according to information received by Judge Hubert.

GRAND JURY MAY CALL GROVE'S MEN

Reid Says He Can Prove Fillion Was a Graftor While in Service.

That some of the federal prohibition agents who worked in Ironwood and Hurley last fall under direction of Leo J. Groves are up to be brought before the federal grand jury in Lansing, Wis., this month to answer charges of misconduct is indicated in statements given to the press by Martin P. Reid, former district attorney of Iron county, Wis., upon his return from Lansing where he attempted to extradite federal agents to Iron county for trial on murder charges.

While he does not make such an assertion in quite so definite a manner as he has done in the past, Reid expects John P. Fillion's name will be counted among those summoned to appear before the jury.

Reid, according to a story in the Ironwood Globe, leader of Fillion's denial of charges that he was guilty of misconduct while working in Hurley as a federal agent.

"Any time the government is ready to prosecute I can furnish at least half a dozen witnesses to show Fillion is a grafter," Reid is quoted as saying.

Says He Took Drive
Reid, according to the Globe's report, stoutly maintains that Fillion took him money in Hurley. Reid claims he disclosed at the Lansing hearing that Fillion and H. C. Ashmun, another federal operative, took a bribe of $500 from a Hurley saloon keeper after informing him that he was better off paying the $500 than having the case go to court where it might cost him $1,000.

Reid declared this occurred shortly after Fillion accompanied Hurley Democrats to Milwaukee on the trip

30 YEARS MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE

In 1891, "Toddy" Galvin would strap a couple of barrel staves on his feet and slide down "Baldwin's Hill," hitting the bumps and skidding over the ice like a real man of Sweden, which he was not.

In 1921, after telling his story the joys of skating, Charles E. Galvin, late of South America, but now of Lake Shore Drive, bought a nice, slippery, long pair of skis and fastening them upon his feet, started to demonstrate. But alas, 30 years makes some difference and today Mr. Galvin is carrying one arm in a sling, strained ligaments and a wrenched shoulder the cause.

BOARD FINISHED SESSION IN THE SHORTEST TIME

Record Was Made Under New Chairman in Getting Business of Session Done Quickly.

A Synopsis of Things Worked On by County Body and What was Done about It All.

The first meeting of the county board of supervisors for the new year which was called yesterday morning did not last very long. After electing a chairman, things went with a rush.

A resolution was unanimously adopted calling upon the Delta county board of road commissioners, to publish a detailed report of each meeting of that body held in the future.

The action of the board followed a lengthy discussion on what was charged to be the failure of the road commission to keep a proper record of the work of the board.

The action of the board at the January meeting, with considerable heat some of the supervisors charged that road improvement schedules submitted to the board by the commission, had not been complied with and reports submitted to the supervisors did not show in full the operations of the commission.

RAILWAY WOMEN TO MEET SUNDAY

The following notice which is self-explanatory, has been sent out by Mrs. F. T. Noonan:

All Railway Employees and families are invited to a social gathering at the Elks Temple 510 Edgington Street 8:00 on Sunday Jan. 10th, 1921, for the purpose of making a membership drive for the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Women's Club, a branch of which is to be organized at Escanaba in the near future.

The cost of membership is one dollar per year, no other fees or dues. We want every employee and his or her family to attend this meeting to learn the purpose of this organization as well as the duties to become members.

We assure you that it is for your social and mutual benefit and does not in any way conflict with any organization or auxiliary of the same, but to be an able helpmate to such organizations and their auxiliaries. You say WHY?

The true purpose of this organization is for the social, intellectual, moral and mutual benefit of all Railway employees and their families, when we say "all" we mean employees regardless of position, from the highest office to the common laboring man.

Social. We all meet as one great family on the ground floor.

Intellectual. We gain knowledge by the experiences of others, as may be expressed by them.

Moral. The promotion of that which our Nation needs is at the present day to preserve civilization that which can only be preserved by the effort of the parents of the youth of our Country. Civil and Educational offices. The same applies to our senior employees with respect to the same.

Moral. The chief purpose is to aid and assist employees and their families who may be disabled, sick or otherwise in need, cooperating with any organization to which they may be a member.

Further: We expect to have a short program as a feature for the evening.

Come on boys, bring your wife a long and make her a member of the C. & N. W. Ry. Women's Club. Don't forget the dollar. Let's hold up our reputation by making the P. D. the banner.

MRS. F. T. NOONAN

Committee Slighted

Proc. Atty. Strom ruled, when appealed to, that the supervisors have no control over the road commission except to provide funds for the disbursement of the latter body. It was suggested that unless the commission complied with the wishes of the supervisors funds for expenditure by the commission might be cut off.

For European Relief

A contribution of $100 for the Hoover European Relief Commission's drive for food to aid three and a half million starving children of Central Europe was voted yesterday, Paul Amundson, representing the Orange and Black Literary Society of the Escanaba high school in charge of the drive for Delta county, $5000 quota appeared before the supervisors yesterday and made a most effective plea for support for the most worthy movement. Following his address the young man was questioned by several of the supervisors, and so favorable was the impression left by the young man a contribution was unanimously voted in the face of an opinion by the prosecuting attorney that an "unlucky" boy worthy the cause, an appropriation could not be legally made.

Want Law Changed

By a resolution adopted by the Delta county board of supervisors yesterday, the Michigan legislature will be petitioned to amend the present state law and allow delinquent boys to be committed to the state industrial school at Lansing at the age of ten years. Under the present law delinquents cannot be committed to that institution until they are 12 years of age.

Several cases have developed in recent months in which boys 10 and 11 years of age became involved in repeated offenses and because of the state law they could not be legally committed to no institution.

Cost Excessive

To meet the situation a special committee of the board authorized Judge Judd Yelland as the juvenile court to commit such delinquents to the Star Commonwealth School for Boys at Albion. The county is forced to pay $100 a year for each boy committed to that institution and because of the excessive cost, delinquents that should be committed to some institution are still at large.

A copy of the resolution adopted by the Delta county board yesterday will be forwarded at once to State Senator W. A. L. Moore, Republican, of Albion.

ECONOMY IS KEYNOTE OF GROESBECK

New State Executive Outlines Plans for the Future.

Says State Ought to Control all Water Power and Raise Fund to Promote It.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 6.—Partial reorganization of state government to effect economy and greater degree of efficiency in its administration, was recommended to legislature by Gov. Alex. J. Groesbeck. The Governor suggested the creation of a central administrative board for central supervision of state business, including farming, budget, state auditing and purchasing. The board would consist of five executive members and the Governor, latter to have voting power.

Two new departments, agriculture and industrial labor, would be created under his plan.

Governor Groesbeck favored development water power by state rather than by private enterprise and suggested survey of undeveloped water power sites, with a view of state ownership.

AERONAUTS ARE AGAIN MISSING

COCHRANE, Ont., Jan. 6.—Definite word as to the whereabouts of the balloon men who are on their way from Hudson Bay is lacking today. The men are on the way and have been able to communicate with this place two or three times since they left. Two squads have been sent out with food to meet them and assist them in making the trip home, but it is not known exactly what trail they are trying to travel and the squads are each going in a different direction. In addition to food warm clothing and medicine from part of their supplies.

ICE BOAT IS WRECKED AND MAN INJURED

William Christiansen Peculiarly Afflicted Thru Accident.

Has Lapse of Memory and Fails to Remember Anything That Has Happened in the Past.

William Christiansen 217 Lake Shore Drive, is the victim of one of those freaks of the brain, caused by an ice boat accident which happened yesterday, when he and his brother Albert were sailing about the bay.

The men were some distance out from shore and probably traveling at the rate of 70 miles an hour when the boat struck a hole in the ice and came to a sudden stop. Both men were thrown some distance and Albert received bruises about his body. Whether or not they were unconscious or not for any length of time is not known, according to Mrs. Christian 58.

William Christiansen did not seem to be physically injured and came home with his brother, after they had rescued the ice boat, but he had no knowledge of the accident although he was apparently normal in other ways. A physician was summoned and Mr. Christiansen put to bed.

Later in the day he awakened, but could not remember one thing in connection with the accident. He did not remember that he had been out in the ice boat nor that he had been injured. Occasionally he would ask his wife a question and after it had been answered he would again ask the same question apparently forgetting that it had just been answered. Today his condition is slightly improved and the physician says he will be all right after the effects of the shock wear off.

A New Romance of the Storm Country

"He shouldn't have let her," the woman said, with her hands on her hips. "How many times have I got to see it over to you? If that's the way you're going to think, you might as well turn the old dog north and go back again. He's a fool, and she's worse. A whole lot of fool and every thing else that's bad. He's a fillet too."

Devon laughed.

"So you're a fool," said he. "So you're a fool for that matter. If Reggie knew that Tony was Paul Pennington's kid, we wouldn't get up a cent of her money. He'd get her from the Pacific haven and his mother because he don't get cash enough other ways. A fellow's got to have a couple of cents."

"Tony's a small creature," sneered Edith. "He's a small creature from folks at school in the grade and my little Reggie's a small creature, too, but you're a small creature, too, and you're a small creature, too."

A SHORT TALK ON ADVERTISING

Advertising is the simple process of telling the buyers what one has to sell. One of the leading merchants of Escanaba recently remarked that he wished he knew how to write an effective ad. We told him that all he needed to do in an ad was to tell the folks what he had to sell—what he had in special offerings, and why his goods were worth the money—just the same as if his prospective customer was in his store and he was talking to him face to face.

Here is what a local business man remarked not over two weeks ago: "I am going to take a course in advertising next year. It will be worth $1,000 to my business."

HYDROPHOBIA

Hydrophobia is usually the result of a bite of a mad dog, or other rabid animal. The disease develops some time after the wound has been received, and once developed, it is almost certainly fatal. It can usually be prevented by means of proper treatment immediately after the person is bitten. Bites of cats, skunks, wolves, foxes, badgers, etc., are also likely to cause the disease, and the same precautions should be taken as in the case of a dog bite.

Treatment. Make the wound bleed as freely as possible by pressure, and then cauterize it freely with strong nitric acid paste applied with a stick. If this is not available, take a penknife, piece of iron, or some similar substance, heat it red-hot and apply it to the wound surface. Cover the wound with a clean bandage or compress, but under no circumstances with adhesive plaster of collodion, as to do so would seal the poison within the wound.

The victim should be rushed to a doctor with all possible speed. If the biting animal has already been killed, see that its head is at once sent to the state board of health for microscopical examination.

AID FOR FAINTING.

Fainting is a condition caused by too small a quantity of blood reaching the brain, due to a weakening of the heart's action. It may be an indication of disease of the heart, or caused by loss of blood, indigestion, hunger, exhaustion, or the foul air of overcrowded rooms.

In all cases of apparent fainting, first aid should be taken to revive the patient.

QUINCY SORE THROAT.

Q. Can you please tell me what is the cause of a quincy sore throat?

A. Quincy sore throat is caused by the infection of "pus producing" germs in the palate just back of the throat. Physicians, accordingly speak of "quincy" as "peritonsillar abscess." The germs start up an inflammation which leads to the formation of pus, and this presents itself in the form of a ball or abscess, causing difficulty in swallowing and usually very great pain. Treatment for peritonsillar abscess consists in letting out the pus by means of incision. Pending evacuation of the pus, considerable relief may be obtained in cases of quincy by having the patient gargle the throat frequently with a hot solution of bicarbonate of soda.

So dainty and ingenious is this petal frock that its cleverness does not obtain itself at all. It is of chiffon cloth and each of the petals is formed of a square of the chiffon caught up at its upper corners to form the petal effect, instead of being cut to that shape originally. The effect is much softer and more youthful.

BUILDING TRUST INVESTIGATION SHAKES NEW YORK

More Than a Hundred Indictments Have Been Returned Against Building Industry.

Master Plumbers Association Are Among Latest Victims of Grand Jury Investigation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The greatest financial institutions of New York state—banking and insurance companies—are about to be given searching inquiry by the joint legislative committee investigating the "building trust" which will soon begin an extended probe of the loan market.

This committee, which has started the nation with its audacious revelations regarding labor union graft and building materials rinks, James Undermyere, its counsel has announced will now seek to prove that the banks and saving banks have funds available to invest in mortgages and that all a building boom.

Mr. Undermyere has stated that he is prepared to show these money lending institutions that they will be better off by furnishing money for housing. Through publicity he adds he hopes to break down the present alleged "bonus" system of loans and high interest rates.

Without mortgage money building operations cannot be resumed on a scale wide enough to provide 125,000 homes now needed in New York, the committee counsel has stated.

Already, according to Mr. Undermyere, the great industrial and financial interests of New York are carrying on an "insidious campaign" through propaganda to defeat the contemplated work of the committee in investigating the loan market.

Testimony purporting to show that combinations of building material men and grafting labor chiefs have robbed the public of millions of dollars has already been heard by the committee.

Three grand juries are diligently at work grinding out indictments on evidence furnished by the committee, but they are so far behind in their work that an additional panel is to be drawn.

More than 120 indictments have been returned against builders, material dealers and labor leaders, charging extortion, perjury, violation of the state anti-trust law, destruction of records, grand larceny and contempt of the legislature.

One of the first results of the inquiry which began October 29, last, was the disbanding of the Cut Stone Contractors Association and the Makers Supply Bureau—organizations of employers admittedly operating in restraint of open operation.

Twenty-nine indicted stone contractors pleaded guilty to violation of the anti-trust act and were fined $5,000 each, when they turned state's evidence.

John T. Hettler, lawyer and alleged promoter of several of the "rings" is under indictment for violation of the state anti-trust act, and is held in $100,000 bail. He is alleged to have devised the "cash of practice" under which bids were matched and prices boosted by collective action.

Fifty-two members of the Master Plumbers Association are among the most recent victims of the alleged building trust to be indicted for violating the state anti-trust act, and are held in $5,000 bail each. Sixteen members of the Employing Metallic Furring and Lathing Association are held for destroying evidence, which they admit they had desired to keep out of the hands of the committee.

These wealthy business men are under indictment for contempt. They are John A. Philbrick, millionaire head of the Builder's Supply Bureau, and Joseph Penny, treasurer of the bureau, and Wright D. Goss, the brick king, who was actively interested in the Association of Dealers in Masons' Building Supplies. Goss is also indicted for acting in restraint of trade.

Indictments are expected soon in the cement, brick, sand, lath and plaster, and marble combinations which are alleged to have had a throttle hold on New York since 1916 and to have sent prices up from 100 to 300 per cent.

Many of the alleged conspirators of the "building trust" many of them multi-millionaires, have fled to points out side of the state, where they are safe from interference of the committee.

Atlantic City, N. J., has a growing colony of these refugees, it is stated. As a result of the investigation the city has received more than $1,000,000 worth of other city public work contracts for evidence of collusive building.

One of the most sensational developments of the inquiry was testimony regarding alleged methods employed by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation, and other manufacturers of fabricated steel, to force their open shop policy upon the builders of the country by refusing them structural steel unless it was to be erected by non-union men.

Several days were taken by the committee in investigating the activities of the National Erectors' Association which under the direction of its counsel, Walter Drew is conducting an "open shop" movement. Testimony purporting to show that the National Erectors' Association and the Steel Corporation worked hand in hand and had an extensive "union spy system" was heard by the committee.

Inquiry has also been started into the activities of the Marble Industry Employers' Association and the National Association of Marble Employers, which Mr. Undermyere declares is one of the tightest combinations in the country.

When the committee has completed its investigation, Mr. Undermyere will write a report on which remedial legislation may be based and prepare a measure which is to aid in relieving the housing shortage in this city. The committee and Mr. Undermyere are aided by a staff of forty experienced prosecutors, investigators, accountants and process servers.

Jews Leave Poland Increasing Exodus May Take 260,000 Out of Country. Many Driven Out by Hostility Come to United States—American Relief Is Held Up.

Grandeur, Poland: An exodus of Jews from Poland, which has been steadily increasing for many weeks, has reached such proportions that Polish army officers say it is certain that more than 200,000 Jews will have left. Most of them are bound for America.

The Poles, who are frankly and bitterly hostile toward the Jew, make no objection to their departure, but they criticize what they assert is the attitude of the joint distribution committee of America, which has many motor trucks and large supplies throughout Poland.

OFFER HINDUS HOMES Invited by Amir to Settle in Afghanistan.

First Time in History Such a Concession Has Been Made by Ruler of the Country.

New York.—The Amir of Afghanistan, for the first time in history, according to Dr. N. S. Herdiker of the India Information Bureau here, has invited Hindus to settle in his country, to accomplish which he has announced the following conditions:

1. Noninterference in the observance of Hindu religious beliefs. 2. Freedom of Hindus to travel and settle in any part of the country. 3. Government protection of Hindu homes. 4. Hindu representation in the Afghan assembly. 5. Unrestricted travel permitted Hindu women.

They are more than 200,000,000 Hindus and 70,000,000 Muslims in India, and a billion or more of many of the latter to Afghanistan, according to Dr. Herdiker, already is under way.

"The proposals of the Amir are aimed," he said, "at dispelling the notion that Afghanistan is partial to Islamism. The proposition clearly shows that all freedom and protection will be extended to Hindu subjects and that no interference will be exercised in the religious observances of the Hindus, however much they may differ from the beliefs of the Mohammedans and Afghans. The Amir undoubtedly is endeavoring to promote a better feeling between Afghanistan and India."

Grandeur, Poland: An exodus of Jews from Poland, which has been steadily increasing for many weeks, has reached such proportions that Polish army officers say it is certain that more than 200,000 Jews will have left. Most of them are bound for America.

The Poles, who are frankly and bitterly hostile toward the Jew, make no objection to their departure, but they criticize what they assert is the attitude of the joint distribution committee of America, which has many motor trucks and large supplies throughout Poland.

When a number of trucks and automobiles of this committee arrived here the military authorities refused to permit them to proceed or move about in this area, saying accusations had been made that these trucks were carrying contraband over the German border under the protection of the American flag and that there was evidence the committee had assisted Jews who were liable for military service to leave Poland. Proof of these accusations was requested by the correspondents but it was not furnished.

The employees of the joint distribution committee in charge of the detachment of trucks here appealed to American army officers in Grandeur to use their influence to have the trucks released, but the officers declined to interfere.

A French officer attached to the French military commission here said his government had adopted a policy of expediting the departure from France of the large number of Jews going to America and that while many of them would be content to live in France, virtually none of them would remain.

Polish officials say all of the Jews in several towns and villages in Posen, Poland, have departed, en route to the United States.

SOME CAR. How do you like your new car? asked the Little Driver. "Great," replied the Big Six Driver. "It runs so smoothly you can't feel it. Not a bit of noise, you can't hear it. Perfectly lighted, you can't smell a thing. And speed—why, it whizzes! You can't see it!" "Must be some car," ventured the Little Driver. "Can't feel it, can't smell it, can't hear it, can't see it! How do you know it is there?"

An Alarm Clock Dog. Blatnush—That dog of yours looks like a good watch dog. Remondhurst—Are you joking? "Not of course, I'm not joking." "Well, I'll tell you how good he is. We have put an alarm clock in his nose so he'll wake up in time to come over for his breakfast in the morning."

In a Quandary. "I'm in a tough position," declared the judge who had resigned to resume the practice of law. "Been employed to try to get a new trial for a man I sent to jail."

"Well?" "Shall I decline the case, or shall I make myself out a nut for convicting this man?"
