

The Tire Sensation of 1921

A Cord Puncture-proof Pneumatic Automobile Tire has been Perfected

THIS will be good news to motorists who base their tire purchases upon satisfactory service.

It is well-known that the Lee Tire & Rubber Company, makers of the only successful puncture-proof pneumatic tire, have been working to incorporate their steel disc system of protection into the cord tire.

During two years of scientific factory and road tests, this sensational new tire has proven out in an amazing manner.

In addition to being the equal of any other tire on the market in its cord construction, the Lee Puncture-proof Cord has the added feature of immunity from puncture.

So thoroughly has the Lee Cord Puncture-proof proven its ability to stand up under the most unfavorable tests that the company makes a sweeping cash-refund guarantee against puncture.

This is in addition to the unusually liberal mileage guarantee carried by all Lee Tires.

Lee Cord Puncture-proofs on loaded cars have been run repeatedly over spiked boards, roads strewn with tacks, nails and broken glass.

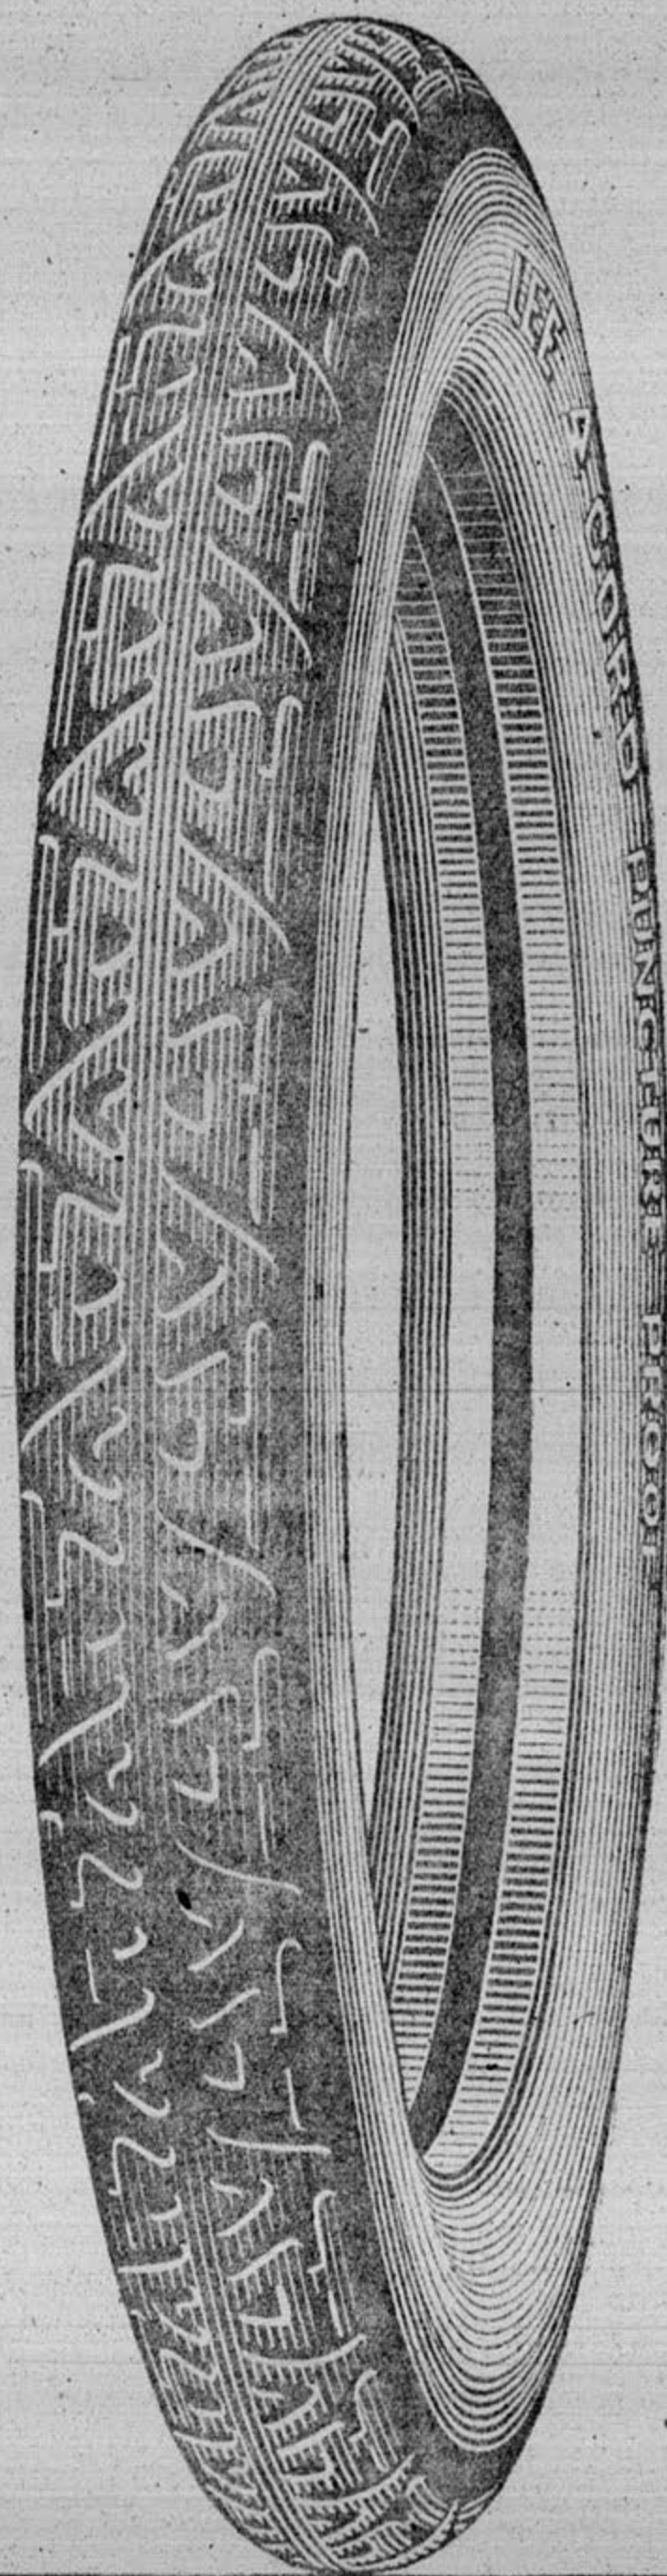

In every instance Lee Cord Puncture-proof tires have triumphed—shown themselves worthy of their name and reputation.

Tire experts hail the Lee Cord Puncture-proof as the climax of tire manufacture—at last the perfect tire—which in material-quality and performance—whether on light or heavy passenger car, or business car, delivery car, light or heavy truck—makes good.

No matter what your service, the Lee Line of Pneumatic offers a tire for every purpose. Lee Fabric Tires, Lee Cords, Lee Puncture-proof Fabrics and—greatest of all—Lee Cord Puncture-proofs—the tire sensation of 1921.

Three layers of case-hardened steel discs, individually imbedded in pure rubber, built into every Lee Puncture-proof Cord tire protect inner-tube and carcass, and enable it to live up to its name.

BRONCO BUSTERS OUT OF BUSINESS; FEW WILD HORSES

Arizona Is About Only Place Where Wild Horses Roam and They Belong to the Indians.

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 21.—Bronco busters of the northern Rocky Mountain states are about to go out of business, according to reports from the north of said west and frontier states. The reason is they aren't any wild horses to hunt. At least not any more.

It is down in Arizona they have wild horses to eat. There are thousands of them. They belong to the San Carlos Indians who have a reservation near Globe, Ariz. They have been ordered to get the Arizona people for the bronco busters of Wyoming for the Indians have given them up.

Two days of the wild lands of Wyoming, making the plains of Wyoming and part of Utah has been growing rapidly shorter with the elimination of cowboys, stock and more horses being fenced in spots of better and better land.

Law enforcement have tried to buy them, but the Indians wouldn't sell. The government, thru A. B. Symonds, Indian agent, ordered to purchase some at about $5 a head, but the Indians wouldn't sell and save the meat from the horses, giving it back to the Indians for winter food.

The Indians would have none of it. The horses are worthless, they say. The meat isn't much of a commodity, but the Indians insist on their own prerogative to have their horses and their own people over at their disposal.

And when an Indian makes up his mind to sell, he usually gets a price of $10 to $15 a head. They are proud of the horse and often for some reason, although some of their leaders have been known to accept the offer of $10 a head, so far they have refused to sell.

Sometimes in the isolated mountain canyons horses are found running loose, but these might be termed wild horses, they usually belong to some Indian who has let the horse loose. Wild horses are reported in various parts of Arizona and occasionally are found in Utah. But the old wild horse range in the mountain plateau regions have gone, probably forever.

Michigan to Send Representative to Fruit Men's Meet

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 21.—Michigan will have an official farm bureau representative at the conference of fruit growers of the United States, to be held at Chicago April 5. The conference was called by President J. H. Freese and of the American Farm Bureau Federation to discuss and adopt a system to advance interests of the grower. Each state has been asked to send a representative. The state farm representative has not been named.

Marketing and traffic problems, in addition to fruit and vegetable sales in Michigan and those of other states will respect to Michigan, conditions and measures and the standardization of products, will be among the subjects discussed.

Illinois fruit growers have invited the Michigan delegation that they intend to send a man into this state to talk with authorities on their marketing problems, the farm bureau announced.

Ninety-seven per cent of Americans die without making a will.

Public school records indicate that at least four persons in every town and village.

no longer. PROVIDED, That in townships the board of supervisors of election may, in its discretion, adjourn the polls at twelve o'clock, noon, or one hour, and that the township board of township and the legislative body in cities and villages may, by resolution, adopt a different day prior to the election and published with the notice of the election, provide that the polls shall be opened at six o'clock in the forenoon and may also provide that the polls shall be kept open till later than eight o'clock in the evening of the same day.

THE POLLS of said election will be open at 7 o'clock a. m. and will remain open until 8 o'clock p. m. of said day of election.

Dated February 11, 1921.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards' Well-Known Olive Tablets

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a ruddy complexion, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, swollen look, dull eyes, runny nose, coated tongue, headache, a headache, nervous feeling, about the face, or a general feeling of uneasiness, Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets will give you a clear complexion.

Thank you, Dr. Edwards, for the clear complexion that you have given me.
