What Do You Think About It?

Should the City of Escanaba purchase the water front recently purchased by the Chamber of Commerce from the I. Stephenson Company Trustees for an amount equal to its assessed valuation and payable in ten equal installments.

This question is one for which will be submitted to the electorate of Escanaba in the spring election. In these columns will be given from day to day the opinions of representative citizens as to the advisability of this purchase.

Escanaba, Mich., Feb. 18, 1932. Mr. Orren J. Bandoen, Escanaba, Mich. Dear Sir:

I received your letter asking for my opinion in regard to the City purchasing Lot 1, more part Lot 2 and Lot 3 from the I. Stephenson Co.

I believe the City should own Lot 1 for park purposes only.

I do not see why the City should buy Lots 2 and 3 when the present Stephenson dock is located if the city should wish to build a dock at any time in the future.

There is no reason why the City should worry about owning a water front by buying this property.

I have some very reliable information that the C. & N. W. Ry. Co. owns the riparian rights in front of Lot 1 which would extend from the Merchants dock east to the Street front dock.

Yours very truly H. O. BROTHERTON.

Escanaba, Mich., Feb. 19, 1932. Chamber of Commerce, City. Dear Sirs:

I think the best investment the City of Escanaba ever could make is to buy the water front as there is no city on this chain of lakes that I know of that does not own their water fronts.

The following is my reason: If the tide water canal ever goes through this is the closest point to the ocean and we should have a water front for our elevators and a shipping point for that purpose.

I would not advise purchasing it for a play ground, but only for the benefit of the general public.

As to the cost of it we can receive an immediate benefit from it by repairing the old dock so that boats may land here in the summer season, as people prefer to travel by water than also lease a place for a sand and gravel dock to some reliable concern, as the finest gravel and sand is going to waste in the bay, which would enable the city to get her sand and gravel for about $1.00 per yard, thus enabling her to repair her streets at a minimum cost. This alone would be a great benefit to the tax payers.

With regards to running the dock this could be rented to some one of

JUDGE LANDIS

When Judge Landis retires on March 1, in accordance with his announcement of last Saturday, the most conspicuous and to the popular mind, by far the most interesting judicial figure in the country will fade out.

Perhaps no man in the federal judiciary has been so warmly admired, so bitterly criticized, so much respected, so much feared, so much hated and so well loved as Judge Landis. He has been a terror to evil doers, and the admiration of those who believe in the enforcement of the law.

His spectacular court methods, which have aroused much criticism and, on the other hand, much admiration, have made him an extraordinarily interesting and entertaining figure for the public. His court dicta have found their way to the front pages with unflinching regularity; his reprimands to counsel, his adjudications to prisoners, his rebukes to speculators and his views in general, forcibly and picturesquely expressed, have made excellent copy and have been duly exploited by the press of the nation.

But in all the criticism no word has ever been said against the absolute integrity of Judge Landis, his knowledge of the law or his complete fearlessness in applying it. On the contrary, his name has become synonymous with a fair trial and an even handed administration of justice—a justice frequently tempered with mercy in the case of first offenders or those against whom the burden of circumstance appears to have been too strongly. The frequency with which he has been called upon to arbitrate controversies outside of court circles is the own testimony to his reputation for fairness.

A successful career of sixteen years on the bench, with a record of relatively few reversals of judgment, is sufficient answer to any criticism of Judge Landis as a jurist, or as to his temperamental fitness for such duties. His methods have deviated from the conventional. At times he has not hesitated to violate the proprieties as they are regarded by others, but the law has been firmly, impartially and courageously administered, which, after all, is the final test.

But while the nation will generally regret the retirement of Judge Landis, there will be a feeling of relief, even among his warmest friends and admirers, that he has decided to end the anomalous situation which has existed since his election as high commissioner of baseball—a situation which has aroused the bitter criticism of his career.

The people may wish that Judge Landis could have seen his way clear to exclusive devotion to the bench for the rest of his career, but they will appreciate the inducements which have led to his decision and will heartily wish him well in the field to which he will devote his undivided attention. And the thoughtful citizen will find in the circumstances of his retirement food for meditation as to the financial reward for public service.

ON THE ROAD TO PROSPERITY

The White House issued a timely statement when it called the public's attention to the condition of the nation's economic life in which, as the statement says, "not only has the tide turned, but it has been flowing strongly and steadily."

This diagnosis is based on the official bank reports which are the great perichordal barometers of business affairs. The business world, of course, never omits to analyze these reports for its guidance, but their significance is apt to elude the general public, so that it is doubly important at this time of returning confidence to hold them up to the nation as the most encouraging indication of the revival of business that has been noted for months.

Figures pertaining to bank resources are gratifying in showing the sound and solid position of our financial centers. It is also most important to the business man to know that "we are well on the road to getting the 'frozen credits' thawed out." But even more fundamental, as affecting the largest number of people, is the tremendous increase in individual banking deposits. This fact, as the statement says, in the first place is "the most impressive testimony of the soundness of the banking situation," and it also shows the wide distribution of regained purchasing power.

Despite the setback suffered by some groups, like the farmers, the nation as a whole is recovering its normal standard of living and a balance between income and expenditures with a normal margin of surplus reflected in deposits. The unequal distribution of wages and expenditures fostered by the war when emergency conditions favored certain sections at the expense of others is gradually giving way to a healthy readjustment.

Increased deposits mean a wholesome diffusion of the available amount of the means of support and show that the remaining vestiges of stagnation are being localized and confined to limited areas and lines of activity. No general depression would be compatible with such a phenomenon.

It is no longer a question of whether business has turned the corner, but only of how strong and steady the tide is setting in.

One result of the Yap controversy, now entirely settled by the new treaty, is that several million Americans know one more fact about geography than they did before Yap butted into international politics.

If the senator from Utah keeps on in the path which his annexation resolution marks out, he is likely to be better known in Canada than he is in the United States.

Mr. Edison's remarks that we will soon be able to hear ants talk makes a person wonder whether the wizard is at work on an insect amplifier.

THE TURKEY

A turkey should be plump, have smooth legs and the cartilage at the end of the breastbone should be pliable. A cock turkey is usually considered better eating than a hen, unless the latter is young and plump.

A turkey weighing nine to ten pounds should roast for two and a half to three hours. Each family has its own taste to follow in regard to stuffing. Some like the oyster stuffing which our New England parents liked best of all. A Swedish stuffing is much liked by those who enjoy a sweet foremeat and the following is one well liked.

Swedish Stuffing.—To two cups of stale bread crumbs add two-thirds of a cup of melted butter, one-half cup of rice, one cup of onion, one cup of carrot, broken in bits, salt, pepper and sugar to taste.

Chestnut Stuffing.—Shell and chop three cupfuls of chestnuts and cook in boiling salted water until soft. Add one-half cupful of melted butter to one cupful of crumbs, a teaspoonful of salt, pepper to taste. Mash the nuts and the buttered crumbs, season the middle of the turkey. Fill with the stuffing, adding double the quantity (using the same proportions) if used, as the turkey must be filled.

Oyster Foremeat.—Mix together three cupfuls of ground oysters, one-half cupful of melted butter, a cup of chopped onion, salt and pepper and a few drops of lemon juice.

Sage Dressing.—Take one cupful of bread crumbs, one cup of butter, one cup of sage, one cup of onion, one cup of pepper and a tablespoonful of dry sage and mix together. Mix and fill the turkey or loaf with, cover with it. Roast to suit, otherwise the stuffing will be soggy.

"Par"

The par value of any newspaper's circulation to the financial advertiser is represented by 100% concentration upon a highly cultivated market where his maximum sales may be developed.

In the case of the Escanaba territory that market is the City of Escanaba and its suburbs. That is where the advertiser transacts the greatest volume of his business. That is where he finds his greatest number of prospects.

And in that market he can reach 8 out of 10 English-reading persons through a SINGLE advertising medium.

94% of The Daily Mirror's circulation is concentrated directly in the city and suburbs of Escanaba—the nearest approach to "par" of any newspaper in the city—or, for that matter, of any in the entire country.

Remember—your BIGGEST sales are made in Escanaba. Your BIGGEST sales in the Escanaba territory are made directly in the city of Escanaba itself. And your BIGGEST returns are made from the newspaper that has the largest circulation IN ESCANABA in the six working days of the week.

Audiences at the Delft theatre yesterday were transported backward in time to the time of disunion of three hundred years ago, through the medium of Douglas Fairbanks' current picture, 'The Three Musketeers,' which will show, matinee and night, today, Wednesday and Thursday.

Flashing swords, great sacrifices and daring deeds of heroism make this one of the most thrilling pictures ever viewed, previewed or reviewed. The production is perfect and the direction all that could possibly be asked for. The photography is so good that one is never conscious of it, which is the greatest feat of camera work.

The story, based on Alexander Dumas' greatest novel, has to do with the plot of Cardinal Richelieu to bring about the downfall of Queen Anne of Austria, who with King Louis XIII ruled France in the seventeenth century. Being the power behind the throne, Cardinal Richelieu was jealous of the influence exerted by the Queen in order to discredit the Queen, the Cardinal conspired to involve her in an affair with the Duke of Buckingham, prime minister of England.

His plot was frustrated through the heroic work of D'Artagnan and his loyal friends, the three Musketeers, in the most amazing series of adventures, duels and trials that have never been pictured.

Douglas Fairbanks' work as D'Artagnan enables him to a position in the topmost rank of the list of actors. Those who have had their doubts as to Mr. Fairbanks' ability as an actor of dramatic roles will quickly discard these doubts when they watch his presentation of this character. He is more restrained, by far more dramatic than in anything he has ever done before. His book-making in the last that this time it is neither silly nor overdone. The scene in which he appears in the Queen, exhausted but
