HOOVER SEEKS MORE CUTS IN EXPENDITURES

BYRNS ASKS RECOMMENDATIONS BE SUBMITTED

Washington, Mar. 8 (AP)—President Hoover's declaration that congress must make further reductions in government expenditures was met tonight by a demand from Chairman Byrns that he submit his recommendations for reorganization to the special house economy committee.

The Tennessee Democrat charged the chief executive had not thus far cooperated or communicated with the special group. Recalling that $35,000,000 had been slashed from the budget estimates for 1933 before they were submitted to congress, President Hoover told newspapermen today there was "very little room left for reductions by administrative action."

"Further economies must be brought about by authorization of congress, either by reorganization of the federal machinery or change in the legal requirements as to the expenditure of the various services." Byrns retorted. The president said the administration officials were cooperating with the special economy committee set up by the Democratic house after it discarded his special request for authority to create a number of new offices.

BOMB OUTRAGE SUSPECT HELD

Evidence Links Chicago Man With Mail Plots Last December

Chicago, March 8. (P)—One of the men believed by officials to have perpetrated the widespread bomb plot against prominent Italians last December was arrested here today.

He is Colombo Boeri, 47, fugitive anarchist suspect wanted for deportation.

Two alleged accomplices whose names were not revealed are being sought.

Boeri, who officials said had been masquerading as a small grocer, was taken at his home in an early morning raid led by Murray Garason, special assistant secretary of labor.

"I have evidence positively linking this man with the Easton, Pa., bomb outrage of last December which took three lives, as well as the other mail bomb plots," Garason said after an all-day questioning of the suspect.

Explosive Found

Nature of the evidence was not revealed but Boeri was held under $100,000 bond and announcement was made that search for the alleged accomplices was being pressed.

Large quantities of explosives, TNT, nitrolycerine, percussion caps and other bomb-making paraphernalia were found in the man's home.

He made no effort to explain presence of the lethal material, and lapsed into sullen silence when pressed by investigators for information concerning his activities.

Two postal clerks and an explosive expert were killed by bombs mailed at Easton. The deaths preceded by a few days discovery of wholesale ramifications of the bomb plot directed against pro-fascist leaders in the United States.

Its consummation was nullified largely through the alertness of a New York police official who learned that scores of the infernal machines had been dispatched and broadcast a warning.

TOY PROMISES JURY INQUIRY OF FORD RIOT

Joseph, Mich., 10 years ago but the jury was deadlocked. He never was brought to trial a second time. The constitutionality of the criminal syndicalism law is yet to be settled.

Foster addressed a mass meeting in Detroit Sunday night and urged a large attendance in Monday's demonstration. Prosecutor Toy said he was convinced that the riot was planned well in advance "by a small group of plotters or agitators."

Not All "Reds"

Responsibility for the outbreak of gunfire at the factory which resulted in the deaths and wounded 16 others remained unsettled tonight. Participants in the riot said the police started the shooting. The police asserted they fired to protect their lives. The police admitted they took no weapons from the rioters but insisted that shots were fired from the crowd. The policemen who were injured were struck by stones which also caused the bulk of the injuries in the mob.

Industrial and labor leaders said today that the rioters have not all communists and voiced the belief that only a small number were so affiliated. J. Walter Drake, head of the Michigan division of the president's organization for unemployment relief, said the riot was the work of "floaters." Frank X. Martel, president of the Detroit Federation of Labor, deplored the shooting and said that while he was not in sympathy with the communists the riot would give Detroit "a black eye" and would "make more communists."

New York, Mar. 8. (P)—The killing of four men in yesterday's Ford Motor company riot in Dearborn, Mich., was described as "wanton murder" today by the American Civil Liberties Union.

"Responsibility for the tragedy obviously rests squarely on the shoulders of Henry Ford," the union declared in a statement. "His company controls the Dearborn police because it controls the town."

them residents of the hilly country in which the institution is located. Skillman is four miles northeast of the Lindbergh home.

The engineer has submitted a report to state police officials, which was not made public.

Two press conference questions also developed interesting answers as to police investigation inside the hilltop home of the Lindberghs.

Probe Incomplete

The disclosure that police are still scrutinizing the possibility some member of the household was involved in the theft of the child came in response to the following query:

"The refusal of state police to answer any questions pertaining to a possibility that a servant or employe in the Lindbergh home was involved in the kidnaping has created a general impression that such a theory is the most plausible now held by police. Do police care to say anything that will exonerate any or all members of the household?"

Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, superintendent of state police, replied:

"Investigation incomplete."

The other question disclosed why an alarm was not sounded by the little Scotch terrier, which was playmate and guard to the Lindbergh baby. The question was:

"Please say exactly where the Lindbergh dog was at the time of the kidnaping? Who had the dog under observation at that time? How many intervening doors were between the dog and the nursery? Were they open or closed? Is the dog in the habit of barking at the approach of strangers on the estate?"

The following reply was made:

"Ground floor, kitchen and pantry. Servants. Four doors. Yes, if he heard them."

The increasing interest in the possibility of successful direct and confidential negotiations between the kidnapers and the Lindberghs was attributed in part to information the Associated Press obtained Monday saying two notes from the abductors were received by the parents Sunday.

Denies Reported Rift

Nothing could be learned of what progress, if any, had been made by "Salty" Spitalo and Irving Blitz, underworld characters designated as the Lindberghs' "go-between."

However, it was clearer than ever before that the Lindberghs were desirous of dealing directly with the kidnapers on the basis of their public pleas, promising confidence in and safety for representatives of the kidnapers.

In two press conferences police denied flatly that there was any rift between the authorities and Col. Lindbergh.

Reporters asked the following question:

"Did Col. Lindbergh criticize state police for tapping the private telephone wire in the Lindbergh home and specifically did he present Capt. Lamb (Schoefel's subordinate) talking over the private line? If not, is there any basis for a story of friction over use of the private phone by police?"

"Any report of such a rift between Col. Lindbergh and the police is positively untrue," Major Schoefel replied.

While Henry (Red) Johnson, sailor suitor of the Lindbergh baby's nurse, was ending his fourth day in custody, state police announced he would be detained until that phase of the inquiry had been completed.

"By that we mean investigation of his statements," reporters were told.

This included the comparison of Johnson's statements with those of John Fernando, who said Johnson gave him a ride from New York to Connecticut.

Authorities at Hartford, Conn., where Johnson was located and, when questioned, said the check also included the accounts of Johnson and Johanssen Junge, husband of a servant in the Dwight Morrow household, as to their whereabouts the night of the kidnaping, a part of which they spent together.

A slight similarity was noted during the day in one of the "ransom" letters which was received by the Lindberghs last Thursday and an anonymous threatening note sent several years ago to Constance Morrow younger sister of Mrs. Lindbergh. The Thursday letter, however, was generally discounted as the work of a "crank."

Offers $50,000 Reward

Two men who thought they could help solve the kidnaping mystery were detained all day at police headquarters in Boston and then released. They were taken into custody while making a telephone call to the Lindbergh home.

One, an unemployed shoe worker, had told the other, a chance acquaintance, that a friend, while telling his fortune, said the missing baby was being held captive by an aged couple eight miles from Hopewell. They were seeking to pass this information on to the Lindberghs when the operator handling the call informed police.

A woman's story she had overheard a conversation between Tony Meslo, a contractor, and two men ten months ago in which the Lindbergh baby was mentioned resulted in the detention of Meslo under $25,000 bond in New Haven, Conn.

The woman said she heard one of the group make the suggestion that one of their number get a job on the Lindbergh estate or in the vicinity. Police reported Meslo to say if he had ever worked in New Jersey, but said he had once been em-

TWO KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES

Three Men Injured; Ship Hits Windmill Tower In St. Louis

St. Louis, March 8. (P)—A midnight training flight for five pilots entering the employ of the Century Airlines, ended tragically today when their tri-motored plane struck an old windmill tower near Curtiss-Steinberg airport and crashed, killing two and injuring three.

L. H. "Jack" Atkinson, 35, and John F. Kirk, 35, both of Chicago, who were sitting in passenger seats, were killed instantly when their skulls were crushed.

Ira Smalling, 35, Goldfield, Mo., and Theodore Graff, 29, Chicago, escaped with injuries, none of them critical.

Smalling and Graff were at the dual controls of the plane in which the men were practicing night landing at the airports here at Springfield, Ill., and Chicago. The training was preparatory to resumption of the night flying schedule by the Century Airlines.

The aviators had taken the places of pilots discharged a month ago because of wage difficulties.

The plane sheared off the top of the windmill structure and crashed to the earth, nose first. Cleveland extricated himself and summoned help.

Airport officers said an effort had been made to place a light on the windmill structure, but the owner refused permission.

Atkinson, a former navy flier, was known in the Midwest as a barnstorming pilot after the war. Kirk also learned to fly during the war.

Leningrad, Russia, March 8. (P)—The Soviet government's second annual fur auction, just closed, netted $1,000,000. Almost 2,000,000 skins, virtually of all varieties, were sold and the prices were said to have been higher than those at the recent London auction.

Many foreign buyers participated in the sales, which were described as greatly successful despite the depression abroad.

House Would Limit Injunctive Power

Washington, March 8. (P)—The house, by a huge majority, today acted to limit use of the federal injunctive power in labor disputes and to void the "yellow dog" contract.

It passed the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction bill, 363 to 12, emulating the senate's overwhelming 75 to 5 endorsement of a week ago, and leaving only a settlement of minor differences between the houses before it goes to the White House.

The house vote came after seven hours of debate which, culminating years of controversy, disclosed only two spokesmen in opposition: Representatives Beck, Pennsylvania Republican, and Blanton, Texas Democrat.

JAPANESE MAY OCCUPY NANTAO

Chinese Stirred by New Rumors, Believe Battle Brewing

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS (Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Shanghai, March 9. (Wednesday) (P)—Wildly circulating rumors that the Japanese planned to occupy Nantao and other large areas on the southern side of Shanghai, along with reports of a new fight brewing along the battlefront, stirred the Chinese population into panic today.

Nanking dispatches said that the people there also were nervous and a great exodus of the inhabitants was under way, owing to rumors that Japanese soldiers were marching on Nanking.

The Japanese thus far have confined their occupation of Shanghai largely to the Chapel native section north of the international settlement and the Hongkew area within the settlement.

Neutral mediators, inactive for several days, again took up the task of negotiating an agreement to end the hostilities but the situation was still disturbing.

Arsenal Dismantled

Services were resumed over the Shanghai-Hongkew railroad, which was cut 35 miles southwest of Shanghai yesterday. The Chinese staff, which had abruptly departed, returned to the station here. But it was ready to depart again at a moment's notice.

The Chinese Lungwa arsenal close by was being dismantled. The machinery was sent to Hankow.

Gendarmes guarded the roads throughout the area south of the city, while traffic on many highways was interrupted as a result of bridges having been torn up as a precaution against the feared Japanese advance.

Japanese fliers continued to reconnoiter the area, gendarmes and the populace alike diving into numerous ditches which dot the countryside when the planes approached.

Chinese municipal officials endeavored to regain control of the Chapel, Kiangwan and other recent battle areas.

Mayor Wu Teh-Chen sent a letter to Kuramatsu Mural, Japanese consul general, in which he said orders had been given to Chinese authorities concerned with public safety and sanitation to take over the administration of the "war areas." He asked that Consul Mural inform the Japanese military now in occupation of the areas of the Chinese intention.

NEW EMPEROR SEATED TODAY

Henry Pu-Yi to Become Chief Magistrate of Manchurian State

Changchun, Manchuria, March 8. (P)—The stage was set tonight for the inauguration tomorrow of Henry Pu-Yi, former emperor of China, as the chief magistrate of the land of his forefathers, the new Manchurian-Mongolian state.

Mr. Pu-Yi and his wife already have been installed in the new presidential palace. They made a spectacular entry into their new capital today, passing through streets largely guarded by the alien soldiers of Japan.

The climactic feature of the inauguration ceremony tomorrow afternoon will be the presentation to Mr. Pu-Yi of two great golden seals—the seal of state and the regent's seal. These will be handed to the ruler by Chang Ching-Hui and another member of the little group of "representatives of Manchuria's thirty millions" who, with the aid of Japanese advisers, arranged the whole show.

This scene will be presented in the "throne room" of the presidential palace in the presence of the lords and ladies of new Manchuria. General Shigeru Honjo, the Japanese commander who made the new state possible by defeating the Chinese in every engagement in the province, probably will be present.

Twenty years ago Pu-Yi, then Hsuan-Tung, the boy-emperor of China, stepped down from the ancient dragon throne and subsequently became a virtual prisoner of the Japanese. Now he has returned to rule the land from which, three centuries ago, his forefathers descended on China to establish the Manchu dynasty, of which he was the last ruling member.

Five Men Attack Communist Body

Heart Disease Collapses Man Shortly After His Arrest

New York, Mar. 8. (P)—Five men, one of them armed with a revolver and three others with heavy pipes and wrenches, late today invaded the headquarters of the Needle Trades Workers' Industrial Union, a communist organization, shot one man and beat several others severely.

The man with the revolver, later identified by the police as David Ronner, 28, fired twice at Ben Gold, general secretary of the union group, but the bullets went wild. His four companions then engaged the communists in a hand-to-hand fight in another room.

Meanwhile, while Ronner and Gold were grappling with each other, another shot was fired, the bullet lodging in the arm of Edward Stark, 25, a union man.

Oliver Holmes Is Honored By Bar On His 91st Birthday

BY SAM BLEDSOE

Washington, March 8. (P)—On his 91st birthday, life to Oliver Wendell Holmes seems like a "Japanese picture which our imagination does not allow to end with the margin."

"We aim at the infinite," he told members of the federal bar association gathered to honor him, "and when our arrow falls to earth it is in flames."

Holmes—Civil War veteran, author of "The Common Law," for almost 30 years a member of the supreme court—was not at the banquet.

At a radio in the book-piled study of his old fashioned house, he listened to the tributes and then his response was read by Solicitor General Thomas D. Thacher.

He had been invited to attend but he never goes out at night,

Train Storm Bound

Drifts of five to six feet were reported in upper New York state and as deep as ten feet in the hilly country of Massachusetts. More than 4,000 men were working to restore wire service and open roads in Pennsylvania.

Forty-two persons who spent the night aboard two buses marooned in deep snow at Bergen, N. Y., reached Batavia safely, 16 miles to the east, after an airplane had dropped them a supply of food and the driver had kept the motors running constantly to provide heat.

Thirty-five others, snowbound at Holland, reached Buffalo.

Twenty persons, including women and children, spent the night aboard a Lehigh Valley passenger train stalled in a huge snow drift near Geneva, N. Y. Farmers brought their food and aided the train crew and men passengers in a futile effort to dig through the snow which nearly covered the locomotive. The passengers were taken by a relief train to Geneva.

Reports were general of suffering from exposure by hundreds of motorists who spent many hours in their stalled automobiles or in poorly heated filling stations while waiting for the storm's fury to subside.

ALLEGED TRUNK SLAYER CAUGHT

Heart Disease Collapses Man Shortly After His Arrest

Atlantic City, Mar. 8. (P)—Charged with murder in connection with the strangling of his landlady, whose body was found in a trunk in Philadelphia, Louis Fine lay ill in a hospital here today while police of two cities pressed an investigation of his movements.

Traced by the imprint of an Atlantic City luggage firm on a recently repaired lock on the trunk, Fine was arrested at his home here yesterday several hours after the finding of the body of the woman, Mrs. Mattie Schaeff, 59.

Before he collapsed from heart disease in the office of Prosecutor Louis Repetto shortly after his arrest, Fine admitted, police said, that he had shipped the trunk to Philadelphia. He maintained, however, that he had paid $25 to do by a man named "L. Miller" and that he did not know what the trunk contained.

Philadelphia police in re-examining the body today found that Mrs. Schaeff had been strangled with strands of rope. They had been drawn so tightly about the throat that they were not visible at first, they explained. The body was found in a rooming house in a small trunk, which had been inserted within a larger trunk.

Fine, who is 50 years old and formerly was a real estate broker in Philadelphia, recently sought to induce Mr. Schaeff to invest $3,000 in one of his projects, police stated.

That he had been unemployed for nine years was the excuse given recently by a Southend, England, man when summoned for not paying his taxes.

and he is Spartan like in his insistence that his birthdays call for no fanfare.

In his carefully prepared statement, Mr. Hoover said the veterans administration already has prepared suggestions for alterations of the laws covering allowances and pensions, expected to save between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 annually, while Postmaster General Brown and Secretary Hyde of the agriculture department likewise have drawn plans for altering the legal requirements as to their expenditures.

As an illustration of his contention that little more could be saved by administrative action, President Hoover recalled that the budget bureau had submitted estimates roughly $365,000,000 below those of last year.

Mother Ill, Family Seeking Daughter

Efforts are being made to locate Mrs. Elsie Riggs Stead, wife of George Stead, last seen at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., in 1924. It is believed she and her children are likely to be found around a lumber camp or saw mill in this section. Mrs. Stead is about 32 years old, dark hair and eyes, 5 feet 2 or 3 inches tall. She had two children at the time they were last heard from, Elson and Clifford, now 8 and 13 years of age, respectively. It is believed they may be using the name of Riggs or LeDuc. Mrs. Stead's mother is very ill at the home of another daughter in Saginaw, and the family is anxious to locate them. Any residents of this locality who know of the family are asked to communicate with Martha Riggs Stott, 351 Oakwood street, Saginaw.

GARDEN NEWS

Caucus Saturday Garden, Mar. 8.—Announcement has been made by the township clerk that the annual caucus will be held in the Town Hall Saturday afternoon March 12. Up to date, announcements have been made public by three candidates for the office of supervisor and the same number for the office of clerk. No public statements have as yet been made by candidates seeking the other township offices.

The ice harvest is about completed in the Fayette and Fairport districts. Fairport fishermen have put up a normal supply of ice that is twelve inches thick or more. A large number of farmers have also put in a supply. There is a growing tendency amongst farmers to put up ice for use during the summer months to enable them to give better care to their dairy products.

There seems to be an entire lack of interest in things political in the Fayette township. With the annual village caucus only a few days away, very few people knew the date fixed for this gathering which will be Saturday afternoon, March 12. While minor changes may be made and while opposition for any of the offices may arise at short notice, it is generally believed that all of the present office holders will be re-elected without opposition. Present officers are: Supervisor, Martin Birk. Clerk, Richard Collins. Treasurer, Colin Greene. Highway Commissioner, Delor Humbert.

Justice of the Peace, Edmund A. Laux, whose four year term expires but who will in all probability be re-elected.

Highway Overseers, Rupert Greene, John Lang, William Smith and William Robere. The choir of the St. John the Baptist church at Garden has been reorganized. Ten new members have been added. A number of motorists were taken unawares and suffered with frozen radiators as a result.

James Deloria, Walter Deloria, Lloyd Cooley and Vernon Hatch, all of Milwaukee arrived here Saturday and are making a brief visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deloria.

Wallace Cooper and Harold Kline left here Friday for Grand Rapids where they will visit relatives and friends for a few days. The flu situation in the Fayette district is much improved although there are still large numbers of persons sick.

Chapakis Cleared Of Police Charge

Prosecutor G. W. Jackson said yesterday that he had moved for a dismissal of the case against Anthony Chapakis, 808 Ludington street, who was arraigned last month before Justice of the Peace J. S. Doherty on a charge of receiving stolen goods. The case grew out of the arrest by local police of Harry Christensen, who has been bound over to circuit court on a charge of stealing 15 cartons of cigarettes from the United Cigar store. Charges that Chapakis purchased a portion of the stolen cigarettes will be dropped, the prosecutor said, and the case dismissed.

Baldwin to Hold Primary March 14

Perkins, March 8. (Special)—The Baldwin township primary election will be held on Monday, March 14 from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. W. B. Moreau, the present supervisor will be opposed for the nomination by Fred Robblins. Ernest Carlson so far seems to be unopposed as a candidate to succeed himself as clerk. Clifford Leclair and Chas. Nordstrom are both seeking the nomination for treasurer to succeed John Fuhrman. William Shorkey Jr. will be on the slate with Francis Lachance the present incumbent for the office of highway commissioner and Walter Gerou will oppose Joseph Decremer in his bid for renomination to the office of highway overseer.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Receives Promotion—L. K. Knox, representative of the Washburn Groby company was notified this week of a promotion which will transfer him from this territory to Wisconsin with headquarters at Janesville. Mr. Knox has been making his home in Escanaba for the past four years.

St. Joseph's Holy Name—Following church services on Wednesday evening, the St. Joseph's Holy Name society will hold a meeting in St. Joseph's auditorium. George Genesse, Escanaba postmaster, will speak on the workings of the postoffice department.

SHOT WRONG MAN Houston, Tex.—Police rushed to the home of a citizen on Wichita avenue. He had reported he shot a prowler. When officers arrived they found a man staggering around in the yard next door. He was identified as the brother of a neighbor of the man who shot him. He had taken some friends home after a party and attempted to break into the wrong house. His wounds were not serious.

Timber Wolf Caught By State Trapper

A large timber wolf was brought to town on Monday by state trapper Arthur Moshmer. The animal was taken north of the Tahquamenon near the grade of the Newberry Lumber and Chemical company and the trapper believes that it had been in the trap several days as the foot by which it was held was badly swollen. It was six feet in length from the nose to the tail tip and stood three feet high at the shoulder. While not the largest wolf to come in here it is an extra large size and was old, for its teeth were badly worn and broken.

POOL ROOM ENTERED State police and Sheriff Turnbull are working to discover the person who broke and entered the Beaudin pool room sometime during the early hours of Monday morning and escaped with between twenty and thirty dollars taken from the till. Entry was made through a rear window. Nothing else but the cash has been missed.

His condition is reported comfortable but he will not be able to come home for a few days.

Always One or Two Cold Days in March

Ordinarily, Escanaba doesn't experience such nippy weather in March as prevailed Saturday, Sunday and Monday. March of 1931 was comparatively mild, with no real snowfall until near the end of the month. The mark of 14 above zero which started off the month in 1931 was about the coldest, with the exception of one day, March 7, when the thermometer dropped to 7 above.

Weather bureau readings at Escanaba showed 5 above for the low mark Monday morning and 2 below for Tuesday morning, with a sharp wind as an accompaniment. Tuesday moderated slightly, but another drop down to the vicinity of zero was on the program for early this morning. Records of H. H. Spindler, local meteorologist, show that March has frequently had a short taste of zero weather as winter made its last stand, and this cold spell has usually been in the early part of the month. Back in 1884, March 1 brought the interesting extreme of 27 below zero, and in 1923 it was one below zero on April 1, attributed to an April Fool's Day prank of the weather man. The warmest mark on record for March was 75

CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

PLANS are now practically complete for the Legion "war against depression" in Escanaba. An army of workers, recruited from Legion and civilian ranks, will go out into every section of the city on Thursday, to make a house to house canvass for pledges of employment for Escanaba's idle workers.

The people ruled when they went to the polls in 1929 and adopted the charter. They ruled Saturday when they went to the polls and returned a verdict that it should not be overturned.

Those who have been calling for the rule of the people should be satisfied. The News believes that we should have, all along the line, a little more of daylight government than we have been getting.

The charter makes publication of the water board's proceedings mandatory. The board has not published them. Anyone looking for an accounting of the bills it has contracted and paid has had to go to the city hall to find it.

Announcement of a reduction in the wage scales of carpenters, brick layers, plasterers, painters and every other trade involved in building construction or remodeling, should provide a marked impetus for all such work in Escanaba this spring.

IN ESCANABA, like in every other upper peninsula city and township, there is considerable political talk as the time for the annual spring election draws near.

DAYLIGHT GOVERNMENT (Iron Mountain News) THE election result speaks for itself without The News entering an extended comment on it.

THE DIME-A-DANCE GIRL

(By NEA Service)

BY JOAN CLAYTON

CHAPTER XXX

STRANGELY enough Ellen had never thought of Steven's divorced wife. She was as embarrassed as was the man himself. Far from forcing his confidence Ellen did not desire it. She did not want to hear from Steven of his second marriage. She knew all she wanted to know about Leda Grayson Barclay, the unscrupulous little dancer whom Steven Barclay had taken for a second wife.

Leda's world and Steven's also had been astounded when the dancer had contrived to marry him as such women do often contrive to marry fine men. All the world had said, "I told you so," when the couple were separated two weeks following the nuptial day. The rest was newspaper history. A filing of suits and countersuits, an endless washing of dirty linen before the public. Finally after a handsome settlement Leda Grayson had pointedly permitted Steven to obtain the Sonoran divorce, had bought herself a famous string of pearls, resumed her maiden name and returned to the stage and the life she loved.

That was all five years in the past. Ellen's first impulse was to beg Steven to allow it to remain there. On reflection she patted his hand and smiled. "Go ahead if you must," the girl said gently. "Why do you want a quiet wedding?"

"It's hard to explain," Barclay replied. "It's hard to explain to a woman you love what a damned fool you've been."

"You'd understand, Ellen."

"Give me a chance then."

"Very well, my dear. I don't want things spoiled for you by the newspapers or by—Leda."

"You mean they'd call me a gold-digger," Ellen interrupted mischievously.

"More likely they'd call me a cradle-robbler," he completed. "The muckrakers would never dare infer such a thing!" she said in mock indignation.

assment of the shy and self-conscious who are forced by circumstance to abandon their reserve.

"When shall we make our announcement?" Ellen asked.

"After we've sailed," said Steven promptly. "By the time we've returned our marriage won't be news any longer."

"Then it's settled."

"You're not disappointed because you won't walk down the aisle of St. Thomas' with an armload of lilies?"

Symes and Prendergast on Park Avenue."

He was gone. Ellen watched him off down the stairs. There went the man who in three days was to be her husband. In four days she would be on the way to Paris with him. His life would be her life.

For a moment there on the stairway panic gripped her.

"I'll never forgive you," Ellen declared passionately. "If you refuse me this pleasure."

"But, Ellen, it's absurd that Steven should buy my trousseau."

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Miss Clara Frances Englehart of Milwaukee, to Dr. Bernhardt Lambert of this city. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother at high noon yesterday.

According to Captain George Casey of Fairport, heavier ice has formed between Fairport and St. Martin's Island this winter than in any previous winter in 36 years. Never before has the ice formed to a thickness of three feet between Fairport and St. Martin's Island. Capt. Casey has been engaged in carrying fish through the ice at Fairport and in spite of discrediting remarks by a host of near friends, the veteran fisherman insists on the truth of the claim that a five pound trout deliberately leaped through the hole in the ice in his fishing shack and committed suicide. Capt. Casey was using a decoy to entice the fish near the hole so he could spear it.

Anniversary

BRITISH SHIPPING LOSSES On March 9, 1918, the British announced that shipping losses for the previous week had been 15 ships of more than 1600 tons displacement each.

This announcement confirmed the opinion that submarine activities were increasing and caused great concern in England, which was dependent on its ships for food both at home and for its troops in France.

Fighting on the western front was still confined to minor trench actions, but it was increasingly apparent that German troops were being massed for a major offensive at an early date.

Many divisions from the Russian front were known to be in the German lines in France. British troops in Palestine continued their advance, and reported taking many Turkish soldiers prisoners.

LYRICS OF LIFE

(Copyright 1932 by Douglas Malloch)

THESE HARD YEARS We have learned much in these hard years. For wisdom always comes with tears. And not with smiles, to teach mankind. Truth must be graven on the mind. With sharper tools and firmer hand. Then years of ease can understand. Truth seldom comes with gentle touch. And these hard years have taught as much.

I think the years have taught us this: They dance above a dark abyss. Who try to leap to fortune's height. By soft successes overnight. The only way we climb the hill is step by step, or ever will. There is no other way as swift As virtue, industry and thrift.

Although the lesson may be hard. The way is easier afterward. And, when we put away the fears We have acquired in these hard years. Our lesson learned, we shall arise To greater heights and fairer skies. Our future much more surely wrought Because of all these years have taught.

Mothers and Daughters Are Banquet Guests

A beautiful spirit of close understanding, love, and comradeship marked the annual Mother and Daughter banquet of the First Methodist Episcopal church, one of the outstanding activities of the church year, held Tuesday evening in the social rooms of the church with an attendance of over 150 mothers and daughters of the church.

The rooms were attractively arranged for the affair, and the spring flowers, tulips and daffodils among others, as table centerpieces, formed the color note of the decorations, with napkins of yellow and green and pond lily nut cups completing the decorative scheme.

The delicious banquet menu, arranged by the Ladies' Aid society of the church, with a group of men of the church assisting them in serving, was served at 6:30 o'clock. Items of the menu were carried out in the spring colors.

Mrs. Herbert L. Holderman was an able toastmistress, presiding at the after-dinner program with a gracious charm of manner, and her short talk on the occasion and its significance and her introduction of the numbers, added much to the occasion.

The program opened with an orchestra selection directed by R. P. Bowers. Members of the orchestra, organized especially for the occasion, were Lois Gram, piano; Geraldine Hanson, Elaine Ferguson and Clara Karas, violins; Melba Anderson, viola; Madeline Shaw and Dorothy Ferguson, clarinets, and Ardith Shaw, bass viol.

Representing the mothers, Mrs. W. J. Anthony gave a beautiful talk on "A Mother's Duty Toward Her Daughter." Following her brief introduction she spoke of physical care as a first duty, then of the heritage of a good home, stating, "The influence of a good home will remain with our girls long after they have left its roof." Next she spoke of affection, then a good education, religious training, and lastly advice. "We owe to our girls," she said in conclusion, "our companionship, our time, our constant, though not obvious attention and protection, our understanding and our sympathy."

The response, "A Daughter's Duty Toward Her Mother," was given by Miss Ardith Shaw, representing the daughters, who said "that daughters owe their mothers honor for the gift of life, a home for the home they have been given, and lastly, love."

Following Miss Shaw's talk were solo selections, beautifully sung, by Mrs. Edward Lucas.

Miss Irma Bangs, of the Escanaba high school faculty, guest speaker of the evening, gave an instructive talk of equal interest to mothers and daughters. Speaking on the subject, "Beauty Hints,"

Miss Bangs said in opening her talk: "It is instructive for every girl and every woman to be interested in good looks." Continuing, she told of the importance of enjoyment of outdoor sports as a basis for beauty culture, of the importance of being well groomed and of the necessity of adding womanly grace and character to an attractive appearance.

She spoke of the return to feminism in manners and morals, stating that good taste is a habit that can be acquired by study and practice. "Manners," she said, "cannot successfully be put on with certain people and left off when considered unnecessary."

The talk which was timely and concise, was filled with practical and valuable observations, and appreciation of it was expressed in hearty applause.

Orchestra selections by the orchestra closed the program.

Credit for the success of the affair goes in particular to members of the Ladies' Aid society, to Rev. R. C. G. Williams, to the group of men and boys of the congregation who served, and to the special chairman, Mrs. Leslie French who was in charge of the banquet, Mrs. Alex Rodgers who was dining room chairman, and Mrs. Edward Lucas who arranged the program.

Midnight Blue

This spring model, from Patou's collection, stresses the three colors which he uses this season. Midnight blue are the hat, gloves, bag and shoes. The design on the dress shows the midnight blue—Patou's new shade—and his corallower blue in a charming modernized design. The dress is bias-cut and has an inverted fold both front and back.

Theatres

One of the strangest motion pictures ever shown in Escanaba is Edgar Allan Poe's "Murders in the Rue Morgue," the Universal drama which opened an engagement yesterday at the Delft Theatre.

In the gruesome weirdness of its story, and in the exciting events which follow one another in quick succession, this screen play constitutes a contribution to the screen which is nothing short of remarkable. Its power to work on the emotions of an audience is simply terrific, and it will be many a day before its like is seen again. It literally "out-Draculas Dracula," and this comparison is particularly appropriate since Bela Lugosi, who played the title role of "Dracula," is also seen as the menacing Dr. Mirakle of "Murders in the Rue Morgue."

Lugosi's characterization is full of sinister power, and stamps him as a past master of roles which call for the ultimate villain. The principal feminine role is played by Sidney Fox, a tiny miss whose beauty and ability make her an ideal choice for the part. These two characters are outstanding in the picture, while an important role is also played by Leon Waycoff, who makes his screen debut in "Murders in the Rue Morgue." Other members of the cast who do good work are Brandon Hurst, Bert Roach, Betty Ross Clarke, Noble Johnson, D'Arcy Corrigan and John T. Murray.

A Book A Day

By Bruce Catton

Vina Delmar, who disturbed some people and pleased some others with "Bad Girl," gets just a little bit beyond her depth in her newest novel, "Women Live Too Long."

In this book she undertakes to show that woman is always just unlucky enough to survive her hour of greatest happiness. If one could die on the peak, looking into the promised land, it would be all right. But, says Miss Delmar, one can't—not, at least, if one is a woman.

Her book starts in fine style. There are two brief sketches to substantiate the thesis, and then the main story begins; the story of the daughter of a vaudeville star, who tries in vain to follow in her father's footsteps and who, just when she has given up all hope, discovers that she is a first-rate actress and becomes a big star.

She marries a vaudeville hooper, and for a time she leads a gorgeous life. To be sure, the poor husband has rather a tough life, for he can't win any fame or success on his own hook; but at last he, too, gets a break, and goes to Chicago to star as the male lead in a musical show.

And then comes trouble. In Chicago he does a bit of cheating, and it all comes out, and the poor actress finds, just as you know she would, that she has lived too long.

Up to the point where the hooper goes to Chicago, the story is credible and moving. But at that point it breaks down. The two leading characters cease to be appealing and human and become stuffed shirts in whose actions we cease to believe. Miss Delmar twists her story out of shape too sharply. The climax fails to carry any conviction.

Why You Must Do More Than Change "Brands" If You Want to Get Better Coffee

Here are 20 Different Brands but the Coffee Inside is the Same in All.

For a Real Change
Try Coffee from the West Coast of Central America. Twice the Richness... Twice the Flavor.

How many times have you changed your brand of coffee trying to find one your husband really liked?

Not one woman in 50, domestic science experts tell us, knows the real reason why coffee that men like is so hard to get. Yet the reason is simple.

All your life you've probably been using just one kind of coffee. For according to U. S. Import Statistics almost 70% of all coffee sold is this one kind. You may try 20 different brands and styles of package. But it's still the same coffee inside.

So for a real change, you must do more than change "brands." You need a different KIND OF COFFEE!

A Different Country
Down along the West Coast of Central America, we procure coffees utterly different in flavor and richness. These mountain coffees, experts concede, have a rare tang and mellow body, not duplicated anywhere else in the world.

If you want something different in coffee, try them! Less than one pound in 20 of the world's coffee comes from this famous district. It's a coffee that few people in a lifetime ever have a chance to enjoy. See for yourself how unusual it is.

A 3-Day Test
Order a pound of Folger's from your grocer today. It comes in a special key-opening vacuum tin that brings it right to your coffee pot as fresh as it left the roaster. Drink it tomorrow morning. Next morning serve the coffee you have been using.

The third morning serve Folger's again. Then choose between them.

If for any reason you decide against Folger's, your grocer will refund your money. We'll pay him—gladly. But if you do as 8 out of 10 do, you'll never be satisfied to return to less flavorful coffees. Try it. You'll be glad you did.

SUB STATION TO BE READY SOON

Power From Soo May Be Sent Through In Three Weeks

With the completion of the new sub station here in about three weeks the first electric power will be sent through the 140 miles of transmission lines between Manistique and Sault Ste. Marie.

All of the necessary power will not be available at that time, however, as the huge $700,000.00 hydro-electric plant on the St. Mary's river will not be completed before May 1, according to a statement issued yesterday by Edward Sheahan, local general manager of the Manistique Pulp & Paper company.

A hook-up has been made with the Cleveland Cliffs company at Port Inland insuring Manistique or excellent emergency service. If circumstances arise which would prevent the sending of power from the Soo, the Manistique Pulp & Paper company would have the option of using power from the Cleveland Cliffs company.

With the arrival of four giant transformers, each weighing ten tons, work at the sub station is being confined to their installation. Two 3000 horsepower motors are expected to arrive within the next ten days or two weeks. Lines are being strung connecting the Pulp & Paper company with the sub station.

Pertinent Comment

That there is soon to be a concerted movement toward decentralization of the larger industries and relocation of smaller ones is indicated by the expressions of industrial executives and financial writers. For several years the need for such a movement has been seen, but not until the present depression did it become definitely established that concentration of industry was an sociological hazard that threatened the stability of the entire nation.

Beyond the fact that mass production with its concentration of labor is a breeding ground for social unrest, that might lead to an overthrow of established authority, it has been learned by experience that it is not entirely sound economic policy to seek out the metropolitan center in which to establish huge industrial plants.

Guy E. Tripp, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the West-Ingush Electric and Mfg. Co., who has become an advocate of decentralization of industry, in a recent address, brought to the attention of industry the advantages that would accrue from the removal of industries to the smaller cities and out of the congested districts. In part he said: "Power is essential to industry, and in the past manufacturing enterprises have tended to concentrate at points which offered, along with other advantages, opportunities for securing abundant supplies of either fuel or reliable electric power. Under extensive superpower development, however, power will be widely distributed, and industries will be free, as far as power considerations are concerned, to locate, roughly speaking, almost anywhere.

"There are, as a matter of fact, many pressing reasons for the removal of industries out of congested districts. Rent and taxes can be reduced, living conditions for employees can be improved, discipline can be better maintained with less hardship to the individual, and raw materials can often be secured more readily. There is a widespread opinion among industrial men that the concentration of manufacturing in large establishments has gone too far, and, save in the case of certain industries which require the presence of large forces at one point, the typical factory of the future is likely to contain less than 3000 or 4000 people, with perhaps only a few hundred as an average.

"The splitting up of large factories into numerous small units is made practicable by the recent advances in standardization and the interchangeability of parts. No longer is it necessary for every part of a machine or utensil to be made at one spot so that all can be fitted properly into the finished product. Standardized parts can now be made in quantity anywhere and assembled anywhere.

"Given, therefore, economic pressure to decentralize, and means for its accomplishment in superpower, automobiles, and standardization, the ultimate result appears to be inevitable.

"To the industrial worker, decentralization should prove a god-send. The factory town, with all that it implies, will be replaced by the garden community. The cost of living, housing, and transportation, which now cuts so deeply into his income, will be greatly reduced."

LEGION STARTS CANVAS TODAY

Eight Legionnaires Assigned to Drive Against Depression

Eight Gladstone members of the Legion will start today on a canvass of the city in an effort to secure pledges of work for the jobless. Pledge cards will be presented for signature which will contain a promise that the person who signs will provide a certain amount of work of some nature to be performed before May 15 of this year. A list of suggested jobs will appear on the back of each pledge card and the solicitors will check the type of work that is to be performed.

Each day the committee will report the progress of their drive for work and the central committee will complete a file in which the various work classifications will be segregated. A follow-up system is to be instituted and persons making pledges will be asked to give as much of the work as possible to the unemployed of the city. It is not a requirement, however, that the work be given to the listed unemployed.

Post Commander Albert Madden, under whose direction the drive is being carried forward, stated yesterday that the Legion's part in the drive was entirely a patriotic movement and there was no intent on the part of the Legion to secure work for its own members in preference to other unemployed.

"The idea back of this movement," Commander Madden said, "is to create jobs so that men and women can again start to buy. The depression is nothing more than a stoppage of circulation, with everybody waiting for someone else to do the starting. The Legion believes that if this movement gets under way and men are put back to work it won't be long until the depression will be a thing of the past. The Legion is not interested in securing jobs for themselves more than they are interested in securing jobs for others. They are interested in only one thing and that is to stop the depression, and they know that if enough men get jobs to enable them to go back into the buyers market, it will be but a short time until factories, merchants and others will receive the benefits that come from employment of the laborer."

Members of the soliciting committee will wear Legion caps and will be provided with credentials from the Employment Committee so that householders need have no hesitancy in admitting them. The committee is also provided with the names of the householders upon whom they must call and are required to make a report to the central committee of the Legion of their success or their failure.

The aim of the Legion is to pledge $5,000 worth of work during the first week of the drive and it is expected that ultimately the amount of pledged work will reach $10,000 to $15,000.

Members of the soliciting committee, named by Commander Madden, are Ray Manning, B. C. Chaffield, Frank Quinn, Ed Skiper, Irving Willis, Joe Louis, Eugene Brassick and Carl Hillman.

FILE PETITION FOR HAWKINS

Third Candidate Officially in Race; Band Battle Likely

Claude E. Hawkins, city commissioner, whose term expires with the close of the fiscal year, was officially placed in nomination for reelection yesterday when a petition was filed at the office of the city clerk. The filing of this petition brings the number of candidates officially in the race to three, Swan Widar and J. P. Bushong having previously filed. Two places on the commission are to be filled at the coming election. J. P. Bushong also being a candidate for reelection to the post he now holds. Under the local election provisions the two highest of the candidates will be elected, all being entered in a free-for-all contest.

Present indications are that no more candidates will file for the commission, although the filing time does not close until Monday, March 14. No petitions, other than those filed, are in circulation and all others who have been mentioned as possible entrants in the race have declared that they would not be candidates.

While interest in the election of commission members has not been keen, a battle over the proposed discontinuance of the levy for band purposes is likely. A petition, requesting that the commission make no band levy this year, placed in circulation by A. B. Cassidy early this week, has brought to the front friends of the musical organization who have declared that they will launch an active campaign if the matter is referred to the voters at the April election.

Merle D. Williams, director of music in the Gladstone schools for several years, who resigned a year ago to accept a similar position in the Bay View high school in Milwaukee is meeting with great success according to an article appearing in the scholastic section of a recent issue of the Milwaukee Sentinel.

According to this article Prof. Williams is not only successful in his music work in the high school but is also taking an active part in social center musical organizations.

His students from the Bay View high school will compete against all other Class A schools of the city in the Spring Music Festival, the paper states.

Change Date for Senior Class Play

The date set for the annual senior class play has been changed from Friday, April 22, to Friday, April 29, just one week later, according to an announcement made yesterday by high school officials. No play has as yet been selected. Miss Mary Robbins will again direct the production this year.

Another change was made in the date set for the sub district football contest. This contest will be held here on April 8, the date originally made for the junior prom. No definite date has been made for the holding of the prom.

LOVED TO EAT, AND NOW SHE CAN!

Each of the suffering from so-called "indigestion" or acid-dyspepsia could be avoided if everyone could know what thousands like Miss Lillian Ralston have learned. This New York City business woman, who lives at 1160 Park Avenue, says:

"I suffered from headaches and heartburn after meals; couldn't sleep like I should; never felt right.

"For five years I experimented with medicines and treatments, until I learned about Pape's Diapepsin. I have used three packages now; have gained five pounds, and feel fine."

"If you, too, suffer from sourness, gas, belching, nausea, headaches, dizziness, or pain after eating—either regularly or just at times, get a box of Pape's Diapepsin from your druggist. Then you need never worry again about what you eat."

Walte Denies Charge.
Crystal Falls — Following a meeting of the board of supervisors Saturday Sheriff Thad R. Walte denied that one of his deputies was under 21 years of age. The question was raised at the board session by Supervisor Miller of Bates township, who said he heard a report that Carl Lind, also of Bates, was a deputy and that he was not yet qualified to vote. Lind, it was stated, was between 19 and 20.

Sheriff Walte said that Lind was engaged several weeks ago as a liquor investigator, but as no time was he regarded as a deputy.

Facultu to Oppose H. S. Varsity Friday In Big Cage Battle

The majority of the followers of the high school basketball team have been of the opinion that the season's schedule was concluded nearly two weeks ago, but this doesn't seem to be the case. The annual varsity-faculty contest, a battle that is always eagerly looked forward to by local cage fans, will be played Friday evening at the new junior high school gymnasium beginning at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

Although the faculty members are at a disadvantage in not having had an opportunity to develop much team work, they will present a splendid collection of individual stars in such players as A. F. Hall, R. H. Wilson, Bill Cook, Washburn, Kelly, etc. Their first workout together will be held this evening when they will indulge in a practice tilt with the junior class team in order to get ready for the "battle of the century."

It is not definitely known whether the women faculty will put a team on the floor. This has generally been the custom in former years, when the women faculty competed with the senior girls' team, but no steps have been made in that direction thus far.

Jobbers Bring in Much Pulp Wood

Jobbers and cutters of pulp wood are bringing in considerable quantities to the Manistique Pulp & Paper company these days. The recent cold weather has enabled them to get their wood out of the swamps and receipts at the mill occasionally run well over 200 cords per day.

The purchasing of pulp wood by the paper company is proving of great help to the community in combatting the present depression.

Menominee Excited

Menominee—Menominee had a little taste of the excitement which grips New Jersey and the east as a result of the Lindbergh baby kidnaping when a couple with a baby were investigated here by sheriff's officers Saturday noon.

Mrs. John Gosling, Sr. identified a child in Gosling's grill from a newspaper picture as the missing Lindbergh child and sheriff's officers were summoned by Gus Benson.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Quinzer, of Gary, Ind., enroute with their 12-month old son to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., told Sheriff Edward Reindl they had been stopped twice previously on their trip and questioned at length regarding their identity and that of their baby.

They were released after establishing their identity.

"It's Bert," Myra said briefly. "You?"

"You'd be amazed at Bert," Myra said lightly but with half unwilling pride in her eyes. "He's held that new job of his one day and already he's proud as Lucifer."

"I don't care how proud Bert is," Ellen snarred. "If you won't go shopping with me today and buy everything you're always wanted, then I'll simply go to Europe with the clothes I have now. That's all there is to it."

"We'll, in that case," heated Myra. She dimpled, "I'll do what I want to and fight it out with Bert afterwards. When he sees me looking like the Queen of Sheba I'm sure he'll be reasonable."

The matter was settled. Still Myra believed faint doubts. "I do hope Bert won't—" she said presently in a worried little tone. "Let Bert go climb a tack," Ellen suggested, giggling at the other's serious mien.

"Oh, I don't know that I mind Bert's being this way too much," "Mind it?" Ellen commented. "I should say you didn't mind it. You're pleased as Punch."

"Of course I'm pleased," Myra danced over to Ellen. "Admit it. Isn't it fun to be bossed around by a man who's crazy about you?"

"I wouldn't know that," said Ellen with dignity. "Steven always does what I want to do."

She tried to say the words casually but she was horrified to realize that she was thinking of Larry Harrowgate.

St. Joseph Cagers Leave Today for Lake Linden

MEET NORWAY IN TOURNAMENT

Parochials Determined To Upset Critics, Beat Vikings

With high hopes of providing an upset or two for tournament fans, Coach Leo Brunelle and a band of nine members of his Parochial basketball squad will leave by motor from the St. Joseph school at 11 o'clock this morning, headed for Lake Linden where the Escanaba Parochial athletes will meet Norway at three o'clock Thursday in the first round of the Class C regional basketball tournament in that city. The St. Joseph squad won the right to enter the regional tournament by virtue of coping second place in the district meet at Gladstone last week.

The St. Joseph squad was unfortunate in the tournament drawings, being stacked in the opening round against a team that most critics have been singing the praises of for weeks. The Norway team is regarded as the outstanding quintet in the regional tournament.

However, while the St. Joseph fans were goading over the Parochial team's misfortune in picking Norway for the first game, Coach Leo Brunelle expressed a more optimistic view of the situation. While Brunelle admitted he could not guarantee or promise a victory over the Vikings, he indicated that it was his belief that the Escanaba team would be able to extend the Norway quintet to the limit and if the St. Joseph boys ran into any good breaks, a victory over Norway would not be beyond comprehension.

Tough Bracket
St. Joseph has met Norway twice this season, losing both times. The first game ended with the Vikings holding a sizeable advantage. The next time the Parochials played Norway was in the district championship at Gladstone and St. Joseph handed the Dickinson county team a real scare before Norway squeezed out a 23 to 18 decision. With the experience of these two games behind them, the Parochials hope to come through with a victory over the Norway boys at Lake Linden.

If the Parochials win the first round, however, they would face another tough foe in the second round of the meet. Gwin and Ontonagon are in the same bracket with St. Joseph and Norway. Gwin is expected to win from Ontonagon so the winner of the St. Joseph-Norway battle will probably meet Gwin the second round.

Coach Brunelle and his squad will leave at 11 o'clock this morning and expect to reach their destination around six o'clock in the evening. The Parochials plan to get a good night's rest tonight and then hold a morning practice session on the Lake Linden floor tomorrow in order to be in the best of shape for Norway.

Because of tournament rulings which provide for only nine players in addition to coach, Brunelle will have to leave behind three of the members of the squad who have seen considerable Teachers beat St. Joseph.

TOURNAMENT PLANNED

Suggestion has been made that a volley ball tournament be held at the conclusion of the regular season's play. A meeting of team managers will be held later to determine whether such an event is desired by the players. One of the plans proposed is to run off the tournament in two sections, the first to include the eight teams standing highest in the percentage column and the other section to consist of the lower eight teams. Teams in the "fast" section are quite evenly matched, as are the eight teams in the "slow" group, and it is believed a tournament run off in this manner would produce some interesting, hard-fought contests.

Detroit Tigers Win From Seals By 12-7

San Francisco, Cal., March 8 (AP)—A team of Detroit Tigers, mostly recruits, pounded out a 12 to 7 victory over the Seals of the Pacific Coast league today in the opening game of the spring training schedule.

Art Herring, who pitched the first three innings for the Tigers, allowed five hits but was credited with the victory. Hogsett and Roy Johnson were the only veterans in the lineup. To protests of the Seals management over the death of regulars in the game, Manager Bucky Harris of the Tigers responded that no one knows but that the recruits in the field may be this year's regulars.

The score:
Detroit --- 514 101 000—12 16 3
Seals --- 159 100 000—7 9 0
Herring, Hogsett, Hamlin and Susce. Wise; Babich, Douglas, Emerson and Penebick, Ward.

BATTING DRILL

St. Petersburg, Fla., Mar. 8 (AP)—Manager Bill McKechnie promised his Boston Braves a batting drill today and he gave it to them. Every pitcher on the tribal roster was pressed into service and the batters whacked away at the ball until their arms tired.

The players selected to make the trip by Coach Brunelle are: Larson and Clements, centers; McGovern, Harvey and Bodette, forwards; Sharkey, Brazeau, Boddy and Clairmont, guards.

Cardinals on Top of Baseball World Seem To Be Well Fortified

BY ALAN GOULD, (Associated Press Sports Editor)
Bradenton, Fla., Mar. 8 (AP)—There is a scant opportunity here to avoid the fact that the St. Louis Cardinals are on top of the baseball world and plan, quite frankly, to stay there, thanks to the sport's best and most successful system for the production and perfection of the best available player talent. The town and camp reeks, literally, with baseball players, optimism and confidence. At any moment, it would seem, another Pepper Martin or Dizzy Dean or Paul Derringer is apt to burst into public and demand a job. There are dozens of good ball players on

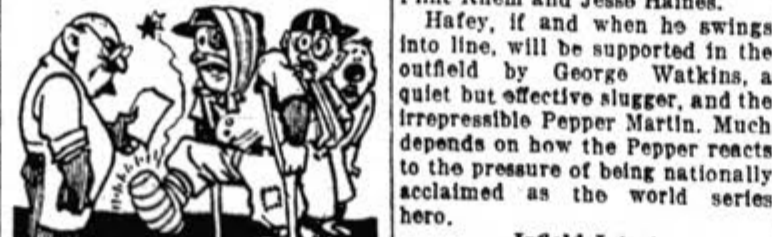

FLASHES PUNCH

Bradenton, Fla., Mar. 8 (AP)—Jim Bottomley gave a flash of his batting punch at the Cardinal workout here today, and put so much steam behind his line drive, Manager Gabby Street warned him not to overdo it.

Frankie Frisch who spent his second day in camp found that he has more weight to take off than in previous years. In making a trip to Japan with the baseball tourists and going around the world, he missed the skating and hunting which kept him in condition in other winters.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Mar. 8 (AP)—With Oscar Melillo, Fred Schulte and Eddie Grimes in uniform for the first time today, the 1932 Browns have approached their war-time strength.

There are still six "official" holdouts, however, Goslin, Kress, Stewart, Collins, Ferrell and Bengough. Goose Goslin is here trying to reach an agreement, and Bengough is on his way to camp, expecting to sign upon his arrival.

BIG SHOTS HITLESS

St. Petersburg, Fla., Mar. 8 (AP)—The Griggs walked the Ruths, 11 to 2, in the New York Yankees' practice game today as the recruited right hander, Johnny Allen, turned in another impressive performance.

Pitching three innings for the winners, Allen allowed only two hits and struck out for men. Vernon Gomez and Horridas Aube were the other pitchers for the Gehrigs. Gehrig and Ruth went hitless but Jack Saltzger and George Selkirk contributed three hits apiece.

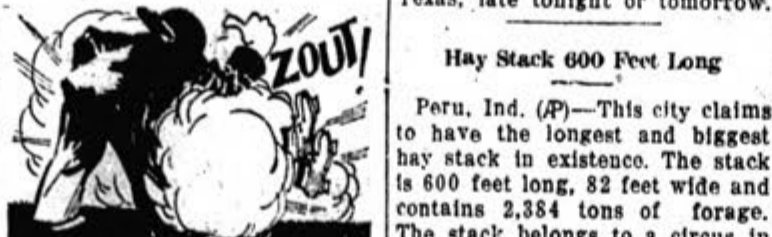

McMANUS REPORTS

Savannah, Ga., Mar. 8 (AP)—Marty McManus, veteran infielder, reported today to complete the Boston Red Sox training squad. He was a bit too stout to get into his old uniform and Manager "Shono" Collins gave him a few days to thin out.

The other infielders sped through a short workout, during which Van Camp held down first base, Dashiell and Olson alternating at second, Rryne and Warstler at short and Miller and Pickering at third.

ALL SET NOW

Winter Haven, Fla., Mar. 8 (AP)—Serenity reigned in the Phillies' camp today when it was learned that Barney Friberg, last of the holdout brigade, had signed up and Dick Bartell, shortstop flash, was on his way southward.

Business Manager Gerry Nugent said he was not in a position to say what salaries Friberg or Bartell will receive, although it was known that Bartell signed a three-year contract before he left Philadelphia.

WEAK WITH BATS

Tampa, Fla., Mar. 8 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, known prominently as weak hitters, are starting the new season right where they left off with light hitting last year. The regulars got only two hits in a six-inning intra-camp game today and only three safeties in a nine-inning tilt against a local amateur team Sunday.

The regulars were beaten today 4 to 1 by the rookies squad.

MANUSH HOLDOUT

Biloxi, Miss., Mar. 8 (AP)—Until midnight tonight Clark Griffith awaited word that Heinie Manush would sign at a wage cut. Thereafter the Washington Senators' owner was prepared to raise the arm that swings the big stick, for the deadline marked two full days after the time set for Heinie to accept the cut. Manush, who slumped last year,

TOURNEY FUNDS BELOW NORMAL

Distribution of Money For Class B Meet Is Made Here

The financial statement for the Class B district basketball tournament held here last week reveals that proceeds were not up to expectations but the sudden change of weather conditions in the final day of the tournament probably was one major factor in the sub-normal receipts.

The gross receipts for the three-day event were $271.75. Of this amount, $107 was taken in on season tickets for the three days of the tournament. The first night brought in only $13.50 at the door while Friday night's receipts were $75.50 and the Saturday night session took in $175.75.

The distribution of funds as provided by the state athletic association was as follows: $14.92 for trophy; $26.12, officials; $15.33 for basketballs, a total of $124.27. These expenses are the first to be paid out of the receipts, according to the association ruling.

The balance of $245.48 is divided 20% to the Escanaba high school for promotion; $49.10; 10% or $24.55 to the state athletic association; 70% or $171.83 to the competing schools. The money to be turned over to the competing schools constitutes 85% of the maximum expenses allowed the schools under the association system.

In cases where balances of tournaments still exist after paying 100% to competing schools for expenses permitted by the association, the balance is divided 75% to the state association and 25% to the school promoting the tournament.

CHICAGO HOPES ITS EXPERT CAN SOLVE PROBLEM

The citizens warrant committee hasn't even started a sales campaign. Its attitude was this: "Cut your expenses and then we'll see what we can do."

An attempt was made at the last session and will undoubtedly be made again to have the state legislature fund the taxes for one year. Bankers said it would be impossible to sell the bonds. An income tax was passed but its revenue, when collections start next year, will be too small to solve Cook county's problem.

Of course if people would pay up their back taxes, and pay their 1930 bills promptly, the crisis could be met. Public confidence is an all important factor in the situation. The principal argument against the old assessing machinery was that the public had lost confidence in it. A big argument in Jacob's favor was that the public had confidence in him.

Thankless Job

The job created by the legislature was generally recognized as the most difficult in the state, almost certain to be political suicide. If the assessor did not seek out more personal property and put it on the rolls, the real estate owners, now well organized, would be after his scalp and try to have his assessment ruled out. If he levied against personal property as the land owners wanted him to, billions of dollars in intangible wealth might leave from the state.

At best it was a thankless job and Jacobs turned it down twice before he consented to accept. He was nominated by the Democratic county board chairman and appointed by the Republican governor.

The new assessor has been a consulting engineer, or efficiency expert, for 14 years. He was graduated from Yale in 1907, having specialized in economics and mathematics. After a year as a newspaper reporter he began his career as a consultant and investigator, working first for a railroad and later for various city and state governments.

He was employed by the cities of Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Philadelphia and Oakland, Cal., by the states of New Jersey, West Virginia and Nebraska. During the war he was an advisor to the emergency fleet corporation, the shipping board and the war labor policies board.

In 1922 Cook county took Jacobs on as a permanent consultant. When Anton Cermak moved over from the county to the city headquarters last year, Jacobs went along and for a year has been advisor to both bodies.

BOXING

FIRST DEFEAT

Saginaw, Mich., Mar. 8 (AP)—Martin Levandowski, Grand Rapids lightweight, lost the first decision of his professional career to Buddy MacArthur here tonight in a ten-round thriller which saw six knockdowns. Levandowski went down in the second for a three-count. After MacArthur had led for seven rounds, Levandowski opened up a desperate attack in the eighth which sent the local boy to the canvas four times.

Armour and Dudley Win Golf Match

Miami, Fla., Mar. 8 (AP)—Shooting six straight one-putt greens, four of them for birdies, Tommy Armour of Detroit, today landed a delayed offensive that carried him and Ed Dudley of Concordville, Pa., to a three and two victory over Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen and into final play of the $5,000 international four-ball golf tournament.

Armour and Dudley clinched their match after a bitter struggle through 34 holes. The pair will meet Billy Burke, national open champion, and Johnny Golden of Norton, Conn., in a 26-hole round for the championship tomorrow.

Burke dropped an eagle two in to the cup at the 35th green today to win within Golden, two and one, their semi-final match with Harry Hampton of Chicago and Nell McIntyre of Indianapolis.

Armour was the outstanding player of the two matches, recording a 34-32—66, two strokes under the course record, for his morning individual card.

Eddie Ran Picked To Sub Petrolle

New York, Mar. 8 (AP)—Eddie Ran, the Polish welterweight with the devastating right hand, tonight was selected to replace Billy Petrolle in a 12-round bout with Christopher (Bat) Battalino at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

The bout will be at catchweights with Ran scaling about 147 pounds. Battalino, featherweight champion only a couple of months ago, will come in around 142 pounds.

Petrolle, who has been training hard here for a week for the Battalino match, turned up with a stiff neck today and informed Garden officials he would not be able to appear. The Garden at first decided to postpone the battle until March 23 but determined to go through with the show when it became known that Ran was available.

BOWLING MEET IS UNDER WAY

Ceremonies Mark First Day at ABC Meet At Detroit

Detroit, Mar. 8 (AP)—The rumble of balls on 32 highly polished alleys and the clatter of toppling timber ushered in six weeks of bowling at the Fair Grounds Coliseum here tonight.

It was the thirty-second renewal of the American Bowling Congress.

There was a burst of oratory and the traditional ceremony of rolling the first balls before 32 Detroit teams took over the alleys for the first assault on congress records. Participating in the ceremonies were Governor Wilbur M. Brucker, Mayor Frank Murphy, A. L. Langtry, secretary of the A. B. C., and others.

12,000 Contestants

Sixty-four Detroit teams were on tonight's official program and Detroit teams will hold the alleys until Friday. There are 3,336 entries in all, of which 1,185 are from Detroit.

Proceeding the opening assault by 32 teams from the Detroit department of street railways, civic officials and A. L. Langtry, A. B. C. secretary, made brief addresses, formally opening the tourney.

More than 12,000 bowlers will represent 260 cities in 18 states and Canada. By the wind-up April 11, 2,336 five man teams, 3,282 sets of doubles and 7,177 individuals will have bowled in the three divisions. This year's tourney is the fourth largest in the history of the A. B. C. classics. The prize fund aggregates $87,300.

Efforts will be made to lower the all-time records, which are as follows: Team event, Tea Shops, Milwaukee, 3,199; doubles, Clarence and Harry Thomas, Chicago, 1,350; singles, Larry Shotwell, Covington, 774 and all-events, Bill Knox, Philadelphia, 2,019.

Spartan Baseball Team Night Hawks

East Lansing, Mich., Mar. 8 (AP)—Night baseball practice was instituted at Michigan State tonight for the first time in history.

Coach John Kobs, annoyed by the interruptions to his team's batting practice in Demonstration hall in the afternoons, decided to defer the drills to the evenings. The change will continue indefinitely pending the arrival of warmer weather when the team can practice outdoors.

FORCED INSIDE
San Antonio, Tex., Mar. 8 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox were forced inside to do their training today when a stiff norther hit San Antonio.
The squad retired to the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium to pitch the medicine ball around and limber up.
