JURY DECIDES RIOT SHOOTING WAS JUSTIFIED

SECOND VET DIES AS RITES ARE HELD FOR HUSHKA

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—The shooting to death of two veterans by police in last week's rioting was held late today by a coroner's jury to have been in self defense.

Across the Potomac river from the dinky morgue where the inquest was held, one of the dead—William Hushka of Chicago—had been given military honors in burial a few hours before in the Arlington national cemetery.

Eric Carlson of Oakland, California, the second victim of police, as a group of veterans advanced menacingly toward police near the capitol last Thursday, succumbed to his wounds early this morning. Whether he, too, would be buried here among those who have died in the nation's wars was undetermined tonight.

Privates George Shinally and Miles Znamenezek were the police exonerated of culpability for the shootings. The firing, it was testified, was opened only after members of the bonus army started a second time at hurling bricks and other debris at the police. It was but a short time afterward that President Hoover ordered troops from Fort Myer into the city, the cavalry and infantry which routed the bonus seekers quickly with tear gas and torch.

"It is our opinion," ruled the coroner's jury, "that Officer Shinally used said gun in defense of his own life and in the performance of his duties."

The verdict on Znamenezek, who suffered concussion of the brain from being attacked, was the same. He had refused to stand voluntarily to relate how he shot Carlson during the fight, but Shinally did not testify.

Their chief, Pelham D. Glassford, had testified that Shinally shot Hushka under circumstances "perfectly justifiable," that a man in civilian clothes drew a gun during the struggle and that two shots were fired before Shinally pulled his own pistol.

Radicals Released

Just before the coroner's verdict, District Attorney Leo A. Rover ordered the release of 14 of the 15 men arrested as radicals in the round-up following the bonus army's exodus. He ruled these were lawfully in the country, but all were escorted to the District of Columbia line by police and secret service officials.

Havane Mackeloodian, 47, of Chicago, was held for further investigation in connection with immigration laws.

Meanwhile, the grand jury investigation of the fatal rioting was postponed until tomorrow.

Hushka's funeral, in charge of local veterans' posts, began with Catholic services in an undertaking chapel. Half a hundred automobiles then followed the flower-decked hearse to the cemetery, taking a route that led the cortege past the White House.

The coffin was borne to the grave by local veterans and bonus marchers. The Victory Post drum corps of the American Legion sounded muffled beats. Nearly 2,000 persons looked on.

To one side of the tented grave were uniformed veterans bearing post banners and American flags; on the other stood a squad from the third cavalry—last week engaged in the anti-bonus movement.

Bits of Cheer in Business

(By The Associated Press) While flurries of profit taking caused price recessions on most of the commodity and securities mart Tuesday, business developments over the nation continued constructive.

Hogs and sugar marshalled sufficient support to successfully resist the general downward price trend and registered moderate gains. Other favorable items in the day's news included:

New York—Sharp decrease in oil production for the week ended July 30, reported by the American Petroleum Institute, with better prices for the product indicated.

Chicago—Bankers agreed to advance $2,000,000 to pay back salaries of Chicago school teachers.

STATE HIGHWAY JOBS APPROVED

Upper Peninsula Given Large Improvement Program

Lansing, Aug. 2 (AP)—Highway improvement projects were scattered across the state with a lavish hand today as the state administrative board expanded its 1932 building program to keep pace with anticipated federal aid.

Nearly $3,000,000 of new work was authorized. More is to be added from time to time, according to G. C. Dillman, state highway commissioner, until the original schedule of about $3,500,000 of new construction with state funds is virtually doubled.

Under the welfare relief legislation adopted by congress, Michigan is slated to receive approximately $3,750,000 for highway work, all of which must be spent by next July 1.

In addition the state may get another $1,500,000 in earned federal aid if it can match, dollar for dollar, governmental expenditures on previously authorized improvements. Thus the total program of new work may approach $9,000,000 instead of the contemplated $3,500,000.

G.O.P. TO HOLD STATE PARLEY SEPTEMBER 29

RESOLUTIONS WILL BE ADOPTED BEFORE MEETING

Lansing, Aug. 2 (AP)—The fall Republican state convention will be held in Detroit Sept. 29, the state central committee decided here today. County conventions will be held Sept. 22. Congressman Joseph Hooper, of Battle Creek, was selected as the temporary chairman and keynote speaker of the state gathering.

The committee meeting was packed with state employes holding proxies, due to the absence of many members, but this did not prevent a brush or two over long debate the committee decided to inaugurate a policy of drafting resolutions ahead of time. The suggestion that a committee of three members of the central committee be named to make a preliminary draft was advanced by Paul W. Voorhies, attorney general and supported by Seth Q. Pulver, chairman of Governor Brucker's campaign committee. Edward N. Barnard and Frank X. Martel, of Detroit, opposed the plan. They contended it would give the Democrats a chance to accuse the Republicans of pussy-footing, steam rolling and rubber stamping.

Idea Is Lauded Administration friends lauded the idea while those opposed to the administration claimed to scent a plot to guarantee the kind of a platform advocated by the proposal was out of order, but Chairman Howard C. Lawrence ruled it in order and it was adopted. Lawrence appointed Frank P. Darin, River Rouge, Mrs. Muri H. Dafeo, Charlevoix, and Charles H. McBride on the committee. The draft prepared by the committee will be submitted to the central committee the night before the Detroit convention.

Another clash occurred when Edward T. Fitzgerald, a member of the public utilities commission and Brucker campaign manager in Wayne county, nominated Veno E. Sacre, of Detroit, for sergeant-at-arms of the convention. Barnard and Martel again objected. The section finally was left to the executive committee.

An invitation to hold the convention in Pontiac was withdrawn by Committee-man Clyde C. Underwood, of Pontiac, who declared he believed it was the best interests of the party to hold the meeting in Detroit. Barnard, who proposed Detroit, stated the Republicans face "their most desperate fight in generations" against the Democrats in Detroit and Wayne county this year.

In the Republican race for senator, Henry W. Kiel, former mayor of St. Louis, a wet, had a slight margin over former Congressman Dewey J. Short, former dry, who recently came out for re-election. The count in 96 precincts gave Kiel 1697 to 1359 for Short.

Grand Rapids, Aug. 2 (AP)—F. J. Vande Bunte, who as head of the social service department here, administered the "Grand Rapids Plan" of relief by script labor, was summarily dismissed today.

The dismissal followed closely on a report of the "committee of 100," composed of business and professional men, which severely criticized the plan and scored former City Manager George W. Welsh, Vande Bunte, however, lost his job not because of this criticism but because of an investigation of a picnic of script workers.

HOPE TO SETTLE CHACO DISPUTE

Neutral Powers Working To Dispel Threat of War (By The Associated Press) Neutral American governments and the League of Nations sought yesterday to dispel the threat of war between Bolivia and Paraguay.

The two belligerent countries, reminded of their obligations as members of the league, were asked by President Matos of the league council to settle peaceably their warring over the Gran Chaco territory. Representatives of the United States, Mexico, Cuba, Colombia and Uruguay telegraphed a request to fourteen other American governments to unite in a plea for immediate peace.

Meanwhile Paraguay recruited manpower and Bolivia raised other means in martial preparation for what each considered defense of its rights in the disputed area.

A battalion of newly recruited Paraguayan troops was ordered into the Casado sector of the frontier jungle, center of recent hostilities.

Bolivia, declaring a right to access to the navigable Paraguay river, had insisted on arbitration with insistence on a final settlement of the boundary dispute even if it meant war.

Patriotic fervor continued in both countries, Bolivians donating money, food, jewelry, and vehicles, Paraguayans enlisting.

Non-Union Men Engage in Battle With Pickets

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 2 (AP)—One man was killed and seven injured late today as about 60 non-union workmen engaged in a gun-battle with nearly a thousand pickets who besieged the Dixie Bee coal mine south of here.

The dead man was Raylor Kellar, 24 of Linton, Ind., who died from a bullet wound in the head while being taken to a Sullivan, Ind., hospital.

Prolonged gunfire at the Dixie Bee coal mine south of here late today caused injury for four men and brought an urgent request by Sheriff Joe Dreher for national guardsmen to be sent to the scene.

The shots were exchanged between about 60 workmen who huddled at the pit mouth and several hundred union pickets who gathered this morning and surrounded the mine property for the fifth consecutive working day.

The first burst of firing broke out soon after the day crew of the mine came to the surface this afternoon to find the shaft surrounded by pickets who had renewed firing were received.

Ambulances which had been sent to the mine returned later empty. The drivers said they were stopped by pickets and ordered to turn about. The pickets threatened they would be beaten and the ambulances wrecked, the drivers said.

PARTIES PLAN FOR CAMPAIGN IN NEW YORK

WALKER DENIES HE PLANS TO SEEK GOVERNORSHIP

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN (Associated Press Staff Writer) New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—A quiet-mannered, soft-spoken senator from Rhode Island, Felix Herbert, came to New York today to open the Republicans' eastern campaign, while the Democrats began moving into their extensive national headquarters in a midtown hotel.

At the same time Mayor Walker vigorously denied a report he planned to run for governor to succeed Franklin D. Roosevelt, if the Democratic standard bearer removed him from his city office.

Since the report cropped up two days ago, there has been widespread speculation about what the effect would be on the presidential race if Walker, a Tammany schemer, were to oppose Roosevelt's own choice for the gubernatorial nomination, who is presumed to be Lieutenant Governor Lehman.

Seabury Plans Reply Meantime, Samuel Seabury, who directed the investigation of Walker's administration, spent another day laboring over a rebuttal to the mayor's reply to charges filed with the governor.

The arrival of the Republican eastern campaign manager was made the occasion of an impressive gathering of Republican leaders, chief among them Everett Sanders, national chairman.

They conferred for most of the day on the financial and strategic phases of the campaign which will formally open August 11 with the president's acceptance speech.

A press conference brought no inkling of what decisions they had reached.

Among the questions he saved aside were what issues would be stressed, what effect if any the bonus army situation may have on the campaign, the part Calvin Coolidge will play in the ballot-drive, what sections the Republicans consider their strongholds, and what the publicity plans are.

As the Democrats prepared for the formal opening of their headquarters next Monday, it appeared that Speaker Garner, their vice presidential candidate, will be one of the first visitors of importance.

He will arrive about the middle of the month to confer with his running mate and James A. Farley, campaign chief, over plans for their speaking tours, and general campaign strategy.

Judge Hears Novel Alibi from "Drunk"

Detroit, Aug. 2 (AP)—Even Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman, who has heard many, many alibis, had to admit that Jimmy Murphy, 70-year-old panhandler, had a novel explanation for the overdose of liquor which brought him into court on a charge of drunkenness.

He had, Murphy explained, intended to take "just a sip" when an enemy of long standing held him and poured the whole bottleful down his throat.

A man with such implacable enemies, the court ruled, should be kept out of the way of harm for 30 days.

KENTUCKY HIT BY RAINSTORM

7.50 Inches Cost Lives of Six; Damage Is $1,000,000

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 2 (AP)—A rainfall of 7.50 inches which burst upon Lexington and central Kentucky within a few hours time today cost the lives of six persons and resulted in property damage estimated as high as $1,000,000.

The six victims were drowned when their house was swept away in a creek's floodwaters ten miles from here, Jessamine county.

Scores used in a search for the bodies of Mrs. Eddie Bryant, 38, and her two sons, Jesse, 9, and Willard, 10, and Mrs. Mary Lyon, 23, and her two children, Geneva, 5, and Herschel 2, husband of Mrs. Mary Lyon, with another son, George, Jr., 7, and two others who were occupants of the same house.

Thelma Bledsoe, 14, and Orval Bledsoe, 18, escaped. Mrs. Bryant was the mother of the Bledsoe children.

The rain, the heaviest ever recorded in this section, flooded downtown streets, basements of homes and business houses and stranded motorists here, blocked several highways and interrupted power and wire service. From Winchester, Frankfort, Richmond and other nearby points came reports of heavy rain, but damage was not great.

The state highway department reported at least two houses at Fort Spring had been washed away, but without loss of life.

At Boonesboro, on the Kentucky river, a rainfall of 7.41 inches was reported, and the river rose 17.4 feet in a few hours.

COLONY SITE IN MARYLAND NOT SUITABLE

BONUS ARMY STICKS TIGHT AT CAMPS IN JOHNSTOWN

BY LEO W. SHERIDAN Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 2 (AP)—R. B. Ellison, national contact officer of the hungry and tattered bonus expeditionary force bivouaced in a suburban park, said tonight that it will not disband despite a recommendation from Commander W. W. Waters that the 7,000 men, women and children break ranks and go to their home states.

Ellison, wearing the khaki in which he saw service in France, said he was speaking both for himself and for Captain Dock Carter, chief of staff and second in command to Waters.

Legal Difficulties Carter, a Cleveland advertising man who rose to prominence as Water's aide at the bonus marchers' camp in Washington, has been missing all day. None of his colleagues seems to know where he is.

Ellison's statement that the "army" would remain in outlying Ideal Park was made after he had been informed Waters had abandoned his plans for a permanent colony for the homeless veterans and their families in the wooded hills of Maryland.

Waters announced after a conference with Governor Albert Ritchie in Annapolis late today that "legal difficulties" prevent settlement of the projected haven at Waterford, Md., for the present and that therefore he would advise his followers here to disband.

Governor Ritchie indicated the colony would not conform to sanitation regulations and this was corroborated by Waters.

Waters was wildly cheered Sunday when he appeared in the midst of his grimy and bedraggled followers and told them of his dreams for a peaceful farming community in Maryland.

News that he had given up his plans was received grimly by his field force tonight.

Refuse to Leave Matthew Burke, national finance officer of the expedition, echoed Ellison's determination to "stick it out."

George Anthony, bronzed leader of a large Chicago contingent, said determinedly:

"We'll stay if we are the only ones that do. We absolutely will not leave."

Ellison did not say whether or not he would make any effort to usurp Waters' command but he did make the position of himself and his aides unmistakably clear.

News that the Maryland project had been abandoned was received apprehensively by Johnstown for the townfolk here was nervous over the ever-increasing horde of penniless and hungry marchers at Ideal Park.

The city has been looking forward to the day when it would be rid of the nondescript throng and it was cheered by Waters' ideal Park would be evacuated within two weeks.

Now, if the thousands in the camp support Ellison, Burke and Anthony in their determination to "stick," the city does not know what will happen.

QUACK GRASS IS POTATO ENEMY

Control by Cultivation Will Be Shown at Chatham Aug. 13

Control of quack grass through cultural practices with potatoes will be shown to Farmers' Round-Up visitors on August 13 by B. R. Churchill, research assistant in farm crops. Mr. Churchill considers the control of quack grass of major importance in crop production and has used a rotation of alfalfa, followed by summer fallow, and potatoes the next year.

The second point necessary to the production of good potatoes, Mr. Churchill says, is to secure and maintain high quality seed stock. His experimental work along this line consists of yield tests of several sources of certified seed and a tuber unit system of developing and maintaining good seed.

"We realize the ordinary potato grower will not go to the trouble of maintaining high quality seed," Mr. Churchill declared. "For that reason when we obtain seed that proves of distinct improvement over that now being used, that seed is put in the hands of a certified seed grower. These growers will maintain that improvement and even increase it. We recommend the ordinary grower obtaining his seed from a certified grower every two or three years."

The third problem of the grower is that of disease and insect control. He is conducting tests comparing the effectiveness of dusting and spraying. He is also comparing a spray of bordeaux mixture and calcium arsenate with a spray of calcium arsenate alone.

One of the root experiments being continued by Mr. Churchill this year is a yield test of rutabagas, mangels and turnips.

THEATRES

At last a picture of real people—of real folks minus the sophistication and the affectation that mark the average resident of a big city—has been brought to the screen. We refer to Warner Bros.' latest picture, "Stranger in Town," which opened last night at the Delft theatre, with "Chic" Sale, Ann Dvorak, David Manners, Noah Berry and Raymond Hatton playing the leading roles.

A picture with romance minus sex—a fight minus gangsters—and comedy of the finest type which the entire family will enjoy. The background of the fictitious Bolleville, Nebraska, provides a setting for a thoroughly human story of real folks.

The plot gives us a touch of novelty as far as Sale is concerned, for it opens in the covered wagon days when, as a young pioneer, he drops out of the wagon train to start the town which later contains his general store. In this sequence we see, for the first time, Sale without his make-up and as his own nature.

But the bulk of the picture is laid in the present time where Sale, aged and bewhiskered, is town postmaster and owner of the only grocery store in town. On the same train on which his granddaughter returns from college is a young man who was sent out to start a chain grocery store branch in opposition to Sale.

To complicate matters, the two young people fall in love, thus throwing impediments in the way of the fight which ensues between the two stores.

"Chic" Sale has a superb role in this original story which was written by Carl Erickson. The situations move logically and dialogue is decidedly fresh and amusing.

half in three play-off games.

EMPIRE SEEKS TRADE BUREAU

Standardizing of Industrial Materials is Urged by Britain

Ottawa, Aug. 2 (AP)—A permanent bureau in London to standardize industrial materials throughout the British empire—and thereby wipe out one of the trade advantages enjoyed by American steel producers—was advocated today at a meeting of the empire's economic negotiators.

The duties of such a bureau would include such items as ensuring that a Canadian manufacturer who ordered sheet steel from a British mill would get the same product he is accustomed to receive from America.

This matter of different industrial standards is one of the phases of a larger problem before the conference—the problem resulting from the fact that a vast portion of the trade of Great Britain and Canada is with the United States. This American trade is proving to be the greatest stumbling block in the path of intra-empire agreements.

In order to gain any material share of the Canadian market for structural steel and for industrial and agricultural equipment, British manufacturers either must adopt specifications now in use in the dominion or bring about a wide swing to the British patterns.

Involved with this problem is the difficulty of purchasing supplies 3,000 miles from the nearest rail shipping point to Canadian customs. In addition, it was pointed out, rush orders common in Canadian-United States commerce would be impossible.

Conference observers waited with considerable interest today for the answer of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada to a British request for a wider use of motion picture films made in Britain.

Estimates are that 90 percent of the films shown in Canada are made in America. British movie producers have sent a corps of advisers to Ottawa with the British delegation to the conference.

Three previous imperial conferences took up the problems of the British film industry but made little progress.

The argument put before the delegates is that aside from the trade involved the conference should consider imperial solidarity which would be developed by wide use of British made films dealing with British themes.

STICKY PROPOSITION

Los Angeles—Leroy W. Gast, landscape engineer, was up against a stickler. He had to move a 35-foot cactus plant 400 miles. With a crew of five men, Gast braced the 12-ton plant with scaffolding on a truck, successfully loaded it on a truck and trailer, for shipment here.

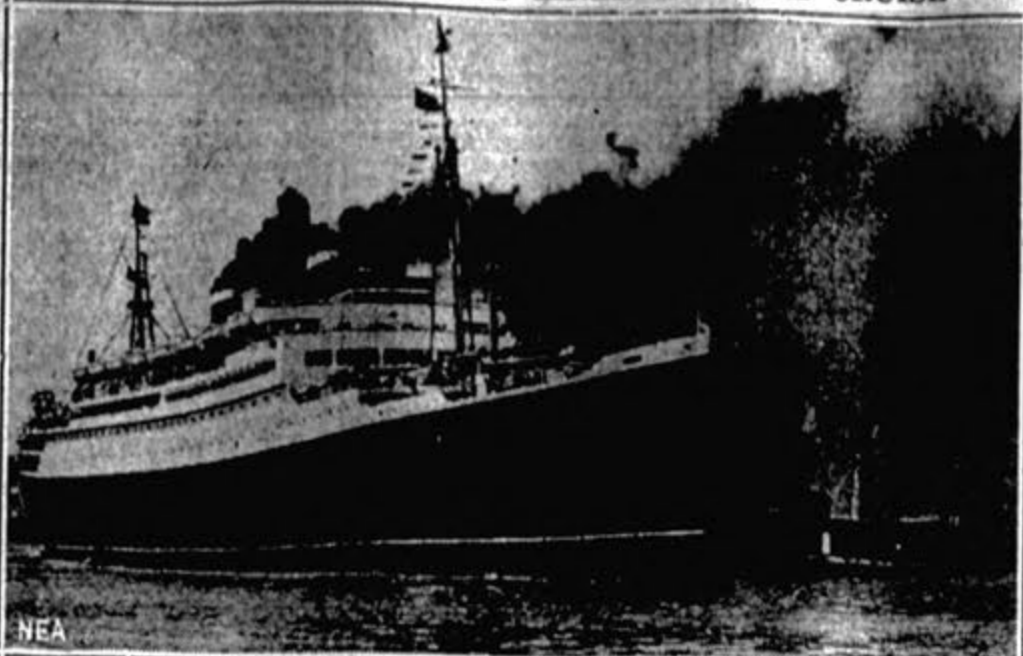

TIRE WATCHMAN

Washington—A novel invention to aid motorists has been developed and placed on the market. It is in the form of a metal bracket that fits on the automobile wheel. As the air goes out of a tire from a puncture, or the tire becomes under-inflated, a series of "clicks" clicks is heard coming from the device. Then the motorist knows there's something wrong with his tire.

NO EQUAL MATCH

Indianapolis, Ind.—After this when Olin Seals wants to throw rocks, he'll throw them at someone other than his aged uncle, George Seals, 86. Olin, 84, after a quarrel with his uncle over attentions he is said to have paid a niece, picked-up a rock and threw it at the old man, breaking the latter's leg.

BIGGEST AMERICAN-BUILT LINER IN TRIAL CRUISE

Harbor whistles shrieked best wishes; tugs puffed and purred. The largest commercial vessel ever built in the United States was ready to begin, under her own power, a trial trip that will precede her entrance into regular Atlantic service. The United States liner Manhattan is shown at Camden, N. J., as she began a three-day cruise with a score of celebrities and technical observers aboard.

Waters come here and tells them with his own lips that they should disband.

Troubles piled up for the tattered bonus expeditionary force as showers drenched their camp, police identified some of their equipment as stolen government property and health officers condemned the billets as unsanitary.

One case of typhoid fever was reported and fears were expressed that the disease might spread in the dirty, smelly camp.

Deputy U. S. Marshal J. G. Lowers of Pittsburgh came to Johnstown today with several Washington metropolitan police officers.

After serving a writ of replevin and a search warrant on camp Commander William Waite, they took one of his men, leader Kanner, of New York, into custody. Kanner was released after a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Ray Patton Smith when government agents failed to produce evidence linking him with the alleged theft.

McClooskey Warns Peds
The writ was issued to recover 32 tents belonging to the National Guard and allegedly brought here when the bonus army fled after disorders in Washington last week.

Police had warrants for two men in addition to Kanner but were unable to find them. The warrants charge larceny. Lowers and the Washington officers arrived in camp just after a pelting rain had soaked the bedraggled campers.

Lowers said he will report the result of his investigation to the government. He was assured by McClooskey that "I'll take the government into court if you touch one of these shelters."

Major Coleman B. Mark, state sanitary engineer sent here by the state health department, started an investigation of health conditions and vaccination of the entire 7,000 was recommended.

City council, in a session occupied almost wholly by talk of the situation arising out of occupation of the camp by the B. E. F., arranged to provide cots in the camp and promised aid in handling medical cases. About a dozen members of the expedition are ill.

Virtually sanitary "martial law" was enforced in the camp tonight as a result of the state's action in stepping in. The warm rain, followed by bright sunshine, cooked up a stench that was stifling.

Camp workers estimate that several dozen veterans and their families, many without a bite of wholesome food for weeks, have "shoved off" for their home states in rickety cars.

Police precautions taken following last night's disorder when radicals attempted to hold a meeting in Johnstown were tightened today with reports that more Reds are coming to the city.

Detectives poked through known hideouts on the information that Johnny Pace of Detroit, radical leader who figured in the Washington disorders, had arrived.

Additional funds and supplies, particularly food, arrived and the fare was better today than it has been since the weary throng camped in suburban Ideal Park after their rout at Washington.

Governor Pinchot advised McClooskey today that he will visit the camp "within a few days."

This evening as the veterans and their families were preparing for another night under the stars, the heaven clouded and a down-pour of rain—the second during the day—drenched the camp.

The rain did more than any other one thing to increase hardships. The ground, covered with a film of dust by the tramping of thousands of feet, was converted into a veritable bog. Thousands had to sleep in the slimy mud tonight, many with little or no cover.

Harry Lowery, of Tampa, Fla., is the typhoid victim. His condition is fair tonight.

The Cambria county medical society's appeal for an appropriation to care for the sick brought a protest from Mayor McClooskey. "We don't need an appropriation to handle these cases," he said. "Citizens should be glad to help by contributions."

"Do you mean to tell me this city has so soon forgotten the flood of 1889, when it asked the world for help and received it one hundred fold."

CUD CHEWING MADE INDIAN "FIREWATER"

El Paso, Tex.—A more powerful "firewater" than the white man ever sold them was made by a strange race of American "cud chewing" cave men, evidence of which has been found by a Smithsonian Institution expedition near Pecos.

The method these Indians used to make liquor is novel. According to reports the Indians chewed up cactus plants. They squatted around an old horse hide and deposited the sweet cactus juice in the hide as it was extracted by chewing.

After the hide was full, it was placed in the blazing desert sun and allowed to ferment.

This story of ancient liquor making is still told by old Indians living in the vicinity.

Funds Authorized For Construction of Newberry Hospital

Lansing, Aug. 2 (AP)—The state will not establish a prison farm in Northern Michigan, the administrative board decided today.

A committee of state officials investigated a proposal to take over a 2,400 acre tract in Arenac county, and reported the project would not be advisable at this time, the board concurred.

The board approved the payment of ten instead of five cents a mile, to sheriffs for transporting state prisoners to penal institutions.

Expenditures of $300,000 for a receiving hospital at Newberry and $200,000 for new structures at the Michigan Home and Training school, recommended by the building committee, were authorized.

Albuquerque, N. M.—Big-hearted Lynn Hung, Chinese youth, stayed late at the Fremont grocery Sunday to help out so that other employees could get ready for the week's business. The board authorized more than 100 additional miles of improvements in the upper peninsula and as much more below the Straits. The projects approved in the upper peninsula were:

U. S. Accepts Bid For Economic Meet

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—The United States today announced its willingness to take part in a world economic conference with the understanding that silver would be one of the subjects discussed and that reparations, international debts and specific tariff rates would be barred.

The note of acceptance was delivered late today to the British embassy.

The invitation to participate in the conference, a date for which has not been set, asked this government to name three persons to represent it on the three preliminary committees.

HIS GENTLE MATE

El Paso.—When Melvin Bryan took Mary Estelle Bryan to be a gentle, loving wife, he never realized that she would become as violent as he now declares she is. Melvin, in an effort to defend himself, went to court and sought a divorce. He charged that his gentle wife grew violent, threatened him with a pistol, and threw heavy iron book ends at him.

Al Smith's Nephew Held for Homicide

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—Vincent Glynn, nephew of former Governor Alfred E. Smith and a deputy sheriff, was arrested on a homicide charge this afternoon after he killed Walter Edward Webel, Jr., whom he was seeking to arrest.

Webel was wanted on a contempt charge for failure to make $10 weekly alimony payments toward the support of his child.

Glynn said he waited outside the home of Webel's parents in Brooklyn until Webel came out. When he started to serve the warrant, Webel struck him and started to run, Glynn said. The deputy said he pursued, firing two shots in the air as a warning. As the fleeing man failed to halt, he fired again, still only for warning, he insisted. Webel dropped, mortally wounded, and died on the way to a nearby hospital.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—John A. Davis, of Pittsairn, is all wrapped up in a hobby—gathering string. Davis started his collecting hobby in 1915, and since that time has gathered a haul that weighs more than 50 pounds. It is four and a half feet in circumference and contains an unknown length of string.

Newspaper reporters who visited the line of pickets tonight were told by the pickets they believed three of the mine guards had been killed. Verification of the reports of fatalities was impossible.

The newspaper men said they heard desultory firing. Darkness had fallen when they reached the picket lines.

Many of the pickets were armed with rifles. Others carried shotguns and revolvers.

JORDAN COLLEGE

An attractive bulletin, containing the announcements of the plans and courses of study at Jordan college, the upper peninsula's new school of liberal arts and sciences established at Menominee, has been received by the Press.

During this summer, the Fathers and Brothers of the Society of the Divine Savior, a religious order of the Roman Catholic church with long experience in the management of educational institutions, took over the buildings, which had been occupied by the defunct Michigan Military Academy for a short time and previously was known as the Menominee County Agricultural School.

The many disappointments that the people of Menominee have suffered because of the difficulties with the school property should now be at an end. Under the leadership of the Society of the Divine Savior, Jordan college should enjoy a wonderful growth, both in its enrollment and the extent of its educational program.

The new college will be co-educational, and as stated in the catalog its aim will be to give a thorough, Christian, democratic and balanced education according to the best American traditions.

Jordan college is located along the Menominee river on the outskirts of the city. The campus comprises 100 acres, partly covered by a rich growth of native trees and well kept shrubbery. A group of fine buildings already make up the school plant.

Advanced registrations already total more than two hundred boys and girls, and it is expected that when Jordan college opens its doors in September, there will be an enrollment of well over three hundred. A well-rounded our athletic program and other extracurricular activities such as debating, dramatics, band, orchestra and glee clubs will be offered in addition to the recognized standard courses of a liberal arts college.

With the founding of Jordan college, the upper peninsula will have four institutions of higher learning, the others being Northern State Teachers College at Marquette, Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, and Suomi college, a Finnish Lutheran denominational liberal arts school, located at Hancock. The taking over of this school by the Society of the Divine Savior guarantees additional opportunities for an education in this section and also increased economic stability for the city of Menominee, in which the new Jordan college is located.

THE CHORAL CLUB

ANNOUNCEMENT of plans for the organization of a Community Choral club undoubtedly is welcome news to the large group of Escanaba people, who are lovers of good music and derive much enjoyment from participation in group singing.

The community chorus movement has been spreading throughout the country and in many cities it already has developed into one of the highly appreciated institutions. Introduction of mechanical instruments had a tendency for awhile to cause many folks to sit on the sidelines as far as participation in musical activities was concerned. "I play the phonograph or radio" was considered quite an amusing and appropriate expression at one time, but now there is an encouraging trend toward playing again instead of merely listening.

The choral club will be a welcome addition to the community's rapidly growing recreational and cultural program. Those who have enjoyed the glee clubs and other singing activities in the schools will find a means of continuing their interest in this art in the later years.

After the formation of the choral club it might be a good idea to consider a plan for organization of a community orchestra, which would be composed of musicians, who would play not for profit but for their own enjoyment. Members of the student bands naturally join the municipal band upon leaving school if they wish to continue their musical work, and it seems that a community orchestra would be popular with those who have played in the school orchestras.

DR. BRADLEY'S PLAN

CONSTRUCTION of sewerage works as a means of creating employment, safeguarding the public health and conserving aquatic life in our lakes and streams is advocated by Dr. Preston Bradley, pastor of the People's church in Chicago. Dr. Bradley, who is also president of the Izaak Walton League of America, is well known in Escanaba because of his several appearances for addresses at commencement exercises and other occasions.

Ninety per cent of American cities dump their raw sewage into streams and lakes, Dr. Bradley points out, and he states that this practice is destroying fish life and making the waterways unfit for use as a source of domestic water supply.

"In times of low water," says Dr. Bradley, "such as we have experienced during the last few summers, the pollution in many waterways is so great that purification facilities are overtaxed. In many localities the water can no longer be made safe for drinking by ordinary filtration methods. More than 240 outbreaks of typhoid fever and other water borne diseases in American communities between 1920 and 1930 testify to the seriousness of the situation."

At a cost of about $150,000 the city of Escanaba has constructed one of the most modern sewage treatment plants in the country, which will be adequate for a population growth upwards of 50,000 people. During the extension of the sewer mains and the construction of the treatment plant, considerable work was furnished to the jobless as the nature of the project lent itself ideally to an unemployment relief program.

Dr. Bradley's plan has much to recommend it when viewed from the standpoint of Escanaba's experience with such a project.

GOOD HIGHWAYS

PAVING of 5.2 miles on M-35 between Escanaba and Ford River is expected to get under way shortly, thereby giving additional encouragement to those who are seeking work and also the many motorists who will appreciate this highway improvement.

As an unemployment relief measure road building seems to be accepted everywhere throughout the United States as the most economical and far-reaching in its benefits to the public. The bulk of the money to build roads is spent for labor, either on the job or in the preparation of materials.

Road building might be called insurance for social and economic progress in the future. It results in better business, stimulated agriculture, and a fuller life for millions of people.

The ideal household budget allows 50 per cent for all household expenses and 50 per cent for additional household expenses.

Anniversary

AMERICANS TAKE FISHES On Aug. 3, 1918, advancing American troops occupied Fishes, in the Marne sector of the western front, to climax a day of great progress for the allies on a 45-mile front.

Virtually the entire Aisne-Vesle front between Soissons and Rheims was now in the hands of the allies. During the day, French and American forces occupied more than 100 square miles of territory.

German losses during the great battle which had been raging nearly three weeks were believed higher than in any similar period during the war.

Equipment taken during the day by French and American soldiers was valued at more than $5,000,000.

CHAPTER XII

THE next few days passed swiftly for Mona. She was relieved about Bud, had persuaded herself that the boy she had seen that night at the Halycon Club was someone else. Bud was working regularly now, had turned over $20 to Ma on Saturday. Kitty was doing well in school too.

Steve, braving good-natured little Ma's indignation, called Mona on the telephone. Harry Townsend haunted the office. Finally, breaking her vow not to indulge in social engagements with anyone met through the office, Mona went to lunch with Harry.

"After all, Steve introduced me," she eased her conscience. Later she went to tea with him at a smart down-town tea place while Mollie Drury relieved her at the reception desk.

Little by little, piece by piece, Mona gleaned the story of Barry's business in South America, Steve's connection with it, and the friendship between these two.

"Park and Third avenues never meet, no matter how far they go," she had told Barry significantly. Steve had been born on Third.

"You little snob!" Barry teased. "Don't you like me? Won't you forgive me for living on Park avenue?"

"Do you wish to be forgiven?" "There's no Third avenue and no Park where Steve and I belong," Mona said.

He noted her look of inquiry. "Sure, we belong there. We're going back when we've tied up a few matters of business."

"It must be wonderful," Mona said wistfully. "No subways, no crowds, no—"

"They'd make you queen!" It was Steve who had helped

Harry put in.

SHE told Lottie what she had learned when the girls were spending a cozy evening together in Lottie's apartment a few evenings later. "Cooking in," as they expressed it, and having a feminine hour of chat.

It seemed that Barry Townsend's mother had been first engaged to the Mr. Townsend who was Barry's uncle and Mr. Garrison's friend.

She was half Spanish, this beautiful mother of Barry's. Wealthy and of excellent family. After being engaged to one brother she married the other. Not the elder one who had the most money, but Barry's father who was the younger. The jilted fiancée never recovered from this blow and the girl's father refused to forgive her for it. She belonged to an honorable family and had failed to keep her word.

The father gave his daughter her dowry, of course, but he never spoke to her again. As a wedding gift he gave her some land in Brazil—land that had not been productive in hundreds of years.

"Maybe you'll find a diamond mine on it," the father had said. He meant it as a bitter jest but the land was, after all, in the diamond country.

Then came the amazing part. An old negro, crossing the land one day, picked up a shiny stone. It was a diamond!

Barry's father had worked the mine, had organized a syndicate for this purpose, but it had always been a joke in the Townsend family for the mine had been a source of expense instead of gain. When Barry's father died he left his entire estate to his son.

It was Steve who had helped

SMILE THROUGH IT ALL

(Suggested by G. A. D., Chicago, Ill.) We have smiled through it all, when the little went wrong! We have planned for and worked for and saved for so long. Now we're back where we were in the days of the past. For the little we had was too little to last.

We have watched the wealth fade and have seen the price fall. But the Lord is so good we have smiled through it all. Through the little we had we have lost, it is true. And with temples of gray we are starting anew. God has spared me to her, and has spared her to me. And the little we had seems so little to be!

Some may weep for their wealth, but our loss is so small. When it might have been much, we have smiled through it all. We have lost, it is true, lost the little we had. But our eyes are as bright and our hearts are as glad. Why the little we had would be little, indeed. Without her, without me, for it's that that we need. Up the slope once again we must creep, we must crawl. But together we'll go, and we'll smile through it all.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

WASH TUBBS

Harry make something of this property. Steve was diplomatic in dealing with the natives. Together Steve and Barry had made good. Now Barry was back in New York trying to persuade his uncle to release money that legally would not belong to the young man until he was 30 so that they could install new dredging machinery in the mine. Steve, moreover, had found the gorgeous diamond which they called the Empress of Peru.

"Now I'll tell one," remarked Lottie drowsily, unbelievably. The girls had cleared away the dinner—remarkably well cooked by Lottie whose frivolous air concealed many sturdy qualities. They were sitting in the little living room, dressed in two of Lottie's most attractive negligees.

Lottie was manuevering her nails and Mona, lying flat on her back, abstractedly traced scrolls in the atmosphere with one finger while she talked.

"Why don't you marry one of these diamond kings?" Lottie asked presently. Mona made a slight grimace, charming and eloquent. "No one has asked me, silly," she said.

Lottie surveyed her nails at arm's length rather carefully. Her heart—or what she would have told you took the place of her heart—leaped strangely at these words.

She thought to herself, "Can it be that I'm falling in love with him?" By "him" Lottie meant Steve Saccarelli.

She tucked her slippered feet beneath her on the chaise longue and her eyes became pensive. Wearing blue velvet pajamas Lottie looked like a lovely blond angel. Her thoughts were interrupted by the shrill ringing of the telephone.

Lottie glanced. "Let the thing ring! We can't be bothered. Let it ring."

This was precisely what the telephone did. The instrument continued to jangle noisily until Lottie rose unwillingly, walked to the little silken bedroom and flung herself down in a chair, prepared for an exhaustive chat. Lottie was a victim of "telephonitis," once she persuaded herself to take up the receiver.

Her voice answered sharply and rather anxiously. Mona thought. Almost immediately Lottie was back in the living room.

"It's for you," she said. "For me?" Mona looked blank. "Why, no one knows I'm here—not even Mother!"

Lottie shrugged. "Then it's someone who look great pains to locate you," she observed.

Mona took up the telephone, and said "Hello." The voice at the other end of the wire was that of Morgan. Barry Townsend's valet. Mr. Townsend presented his compliments and asked if the young ladies would care to come up for a late supper? The gentlemen were dressing, and they had instructed Morgan to call several numbers until Miss Moran was located.

As a matter of fact Morgan had been instructed to call out "the police, the fire department and back at Mona. "Ridiculous! No at all! You're in love, my girl, or my name isn't Lottie Sherlock William Burras Carr."

"Do you think I'm in love with Steve Saccarelli? Why, you know I'm not!"

"I didn't say Steve. You're in love with Barry Townsend!"

"Barry? What in the world makes you think that?"

"Oh, I read it in the Gazette. Now hurry! Let's be off to the festivities. And, by the way, I'll take care of Steve. He won't mind."

"I'll call up Bud," Mona decided as they were about to leave the apartment. "I'll tell him I'm going to be home late."

Her telephone call was promptly followed by another. It was a message from Buck Harkins to Bud Moran.

"Go after her in a couple of hours," Buck instructed. "Tell her your mother is sick, see? And while she's putting on her hat get an impression of the door. Keep your eyes open, Kid, and your mouth shut. It's a safe bet Steve will show those girls that diamond tonight!"

SCHOOL REPAIR WORK NEAR END

Considerable Improvement Made to Various Buildings

The summer improvement program, which has been carried on several weeks in the various buildings of the Escanaba public school system, is now virtually completed. Roofing of the Franklin school will be finished within a few days. Redecoration of the Barr, Jefferson and Washington schools has been completed. Due to the fact that these are old buildings, the board decided to paint the woodwork instead of applying varnish. The classroom walls and woodwork are done in buff and gray, with a special blue trimming, excepting the kindergarten rooms, which are trimmed with green. All classroom floors have been scrubbed, sealed and waxed.

At the senior high school, the window openings between the original part of the building and the manual training department are being blocked. Wooden floors on the first story of the manual training department have been replaced with cement, the board of education finding that the reduced insurance costs that will be effected will pay for the cost of the repair within three years.

Swings and other apparatus has been moved from the playground, just north of the junior high school building, to the area on the north side of the Washington school. This makes the junior high school playground available for boys' kitten ball games and other group activities. Windows on the south side of the Washington school have been screened for protection.

In cooperation with the city council, the board of education is having the curbs on the north half of the junior high school block removed so as to give more automobile parking space on North 15th and 16th streets.

School will reopen the first Tuesday in September.

Beaver Island Will Stage Homecoming Celebration Soon

Former residents of Beaver Island, famous for its historical legend and by virtue of its Irish inhabitants called the "Emerald Isle of America," are planning to go from Escanaba to the homecoming celebration on the island Aug. 14 to 22.

The event, which will provide a full week of varied entertainment, is in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the first Indian mission on Beaver Island, founded in 1832 by Father Baraga.

While a detailed program is still in the process of formation, it is expected the American Legion will open the big celebration on Sunday, August 14th. Following will be a full week of sports, water events, and other entertainment features, with the climax on Monday, August 22nd, at which time "Miss Beaver Island," who will be chosen by popular vote of not only island residents, but those on the mainland, will be crowned by an official of the Knights of Columbus.

Committees who will have charge of the various events are being formed, and it is expected a full program will be available within a few days.

Prominent among the sponsors of the event are Capt. J. H. Gallagher of the Beaver Island Steamship and Development Co., Capt. M. J. Bonner, John P. Maloney of Chicago, former Beaver Islander, and W. W. Boyle of St. James.

TREASURE HUNTERS.

Salt Lake City.—That game of "treasure hunting" might be all right, but it's a big pain in the neck to Grant Bowen, landscape gardener at the state capitol grounds. He reports that during the past few weeks young parties have been playing the game, digging up flowers, shrubs and grass to bury the "treasures" which contestants are supposed to find. "And here we've been blaming dogs," Bowen says.

Official Visiting Superior Forest

Newberry, Aug. 2.—Assistant State Forester G. McIntyre of Lansing is making an official visit to the Lake Superior state forest and will remain there for a few days.

At this forest Bernard McTiver, superintendent, is taking care of 135 miles of fire line with the help of one man. Part of the work is done by using horses and part by tractor discing. Visitors at the forest report the lines in perfect condition. One of the lines is 16 miles in length.

S. G. Fontana, head of the lands department for the state, arrived in Newberry on Monday on business with the Newberry Lumber and Chemical company.

One small fire was reported on Sunday near Seney but was quickly checked.

Conservation officer Richard Beach reports a rainfall of 4.37 inches for the month of July. This made a good safe month as far as forest fires are concerned. Last year for July the fall was 2.94.

PAID FINE

A fine of $100.00 was assessed Leslie McLean of this town by Sault Ste. Marie Justice after he was charged with driving while drunk. Matt Frasier, also of here, who was with McLean was fined $5.00 for being drunk. The two men had figured in a car crash in which a fancy trailer owned by McLean was valued at $1,000.00 was smashed when they side-swiped a viaduct near Brimley on Sunday night.

Green Bay Flies Becoming Thicker

The Green Bay flies that have appeared here within the past few days may have been brought in by Wisconsin cars this summer or may have been hatched in this locality from flies brought in previously seasons, but it is certain that they are more numerous this year than in any previous season and were never seen here before.

It has been stated that no mosquitos were known in the Hawaiian Islands until introduced there by whaling ships from the New England coast. So it may be that the automobile has introduced the Green Bay fly in this region and that in the future may become quite common. The life of the Green Bay pest is but twenty-four hours.

FIRE CAUSED BY GLASS CONTAINER

How easily a fire may be started was exemplified last Sunday when an empty gallon glass jar set fire to a calf skin robe in a car occupied by William Hancock and wife, returning from a berry picking trip. Mr. and Mrs. Hancock and children were returning from south of Wetmore where they had spent the day picking berries. A calf skin robe was wrapped around the berry crates and an empty jar which had contained water was lying against the robe. The jar focused the sun's rays upon the robe and set fire to it. This shows how easily a forest fire may be started from empty pop bottles thrown into dry brush or moss. It is not always the camper who leaves a smoldering fire that starts a conflagration.

STATE FIGURES ON TAXES VARY

Commission Raises Value in Delta County Over Board's Total

It is expected that Delta county will be represented at the sessions of the state board of equalization, which opens hearings Aug. 15 at Lansing. The board of supervisors, at their last meeting authorized the chairman, J. P. Cameron, to attend, and if deemed necessary to request the prosecuting attorney, G. W. Jackson, to accompany him.

Delta county's total tax valuation was reduced over two million dollars in the equalization committee report approved by the board at their June meeting. The valuation was set at $16,272,779.86, compared with $18,374,924 in 1931. Recently the state tax commission recommended a valuation of $18,737,840.

Other recommendations for valuations of upper peninsula counties which will be submitted to the state board of equalization this month are: Alger, $7,516,800; Baraga, $7,592,640; Dickinson, $20,975,680; Gogebic, $50,908,880; Houghton, $32,367,280; Iron, $31,482,000; Marquette, $51,407,840; Menominee, $18,768,640; Ontonagon, $9,099,200; Schoolcraft, $7,074,922.

A reduction of 1,102,044.000 in valuation for state tax purposes is recommended by the state tax commission. While the valuation is reduced, only four counties would

LICENSE SALES DISPLAY SPURT

Total of 52 Escanaba Car Owners Take Advantage of Cut Monday

After a week or more of inactivity, while motorists waited for Aug. 1 and the half-price schedule, the sale of automobile license plates took a sudden spurt Monday, and a total of 52 sets were issued at the department of state branch in the Upper Peninsula State Fair office at Escanaba. A year ago on August 1 the registrations totalled 11 for the day.

Passenger automobile registrations to date show a decrease of 681 from last year at the local office, a shrinkage which is about on a par with reports from other communities. By advancing the date of the half-price schedule from Sept. 1 to Aug. 1, the secretary of state hoped to bring out a large portion of the estimated 107,000 idle automobiles in Michigan. The reduced date which went into effect Monday applies to passenger cars, commercial vehicles, trailers and motorcycles.

The following comparative table shows the number of registrations received at Escanaba for 1931 and 1932, up to Aug. 2:

	1932	1931
Passenger	4060	4745
Trucks	710	786
Trailers	350	None

75 SCIENTIFIC TESTS PROVE OLD GOLD THE COOLEST, THROAT-EASIEST CIGARETTE

Next time you listen to an argument as to which is the best cigarette, you can chip in with something more than an opinion.

You won't have to say: "I think the tobacco in OLD GOLD is purer and finer." Instead, you can say: "I KNOW OLD GOLD is better; it's made of finest natural flavored tobacco. Science has proved it!"

As surely as Science can assay pure gold, so it can tell which cigarette is basically the choicest. It did that with 4 leading brands. It made 75 tests of 4 competing cigarettes . . . and found the smoke of an OLD GOLD definitely cooler . . . indicating its superior tobacco quality and purity.

"Coolness" is the clue to cigarette quality. Only the finest and purest tobacco burns "cool." That's the tobacco in OLD GOLDS. The choicest Turkish and domestic leaf; free of heat-making flavorings.

Evidence, not adjectives. If you welcome this change in a cigarette advertisement . . . you'll welcome a change to pure-tobacco OLD GOLD.

NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD

The Verdict of Science

This is to certify that in 75 repeated cool tests made of the 4 leading cigarette brands . . . measuring the heat content of each cigarette in B. T. U./lb. with the Oxygen Bomb Calorimeter, it was shown that:

Old Gold averages 112 B. T. U's. Cooler than Brand X
 Old Gold averages 155 B. T. U's. Cooler than Brand Y
 Old Gold averages 156 B. T. U's. Cooler than Brand Z

Tests of the heat of the smoke showed Old Gold smoke definitely cooler than the other brands.

Campaign Work of Republican Women Unceasing

Chicago (AP)—Already the Republican party's call for feminine support of the Hoover-Curtis ticket is resounding from a large corner room of a Chicago loop hotel.

Dusily directing these maneuvers is Mrs. Ellis A. Yost of Huntington, W. Va., and Washington, D. C. On her shoulders rests responsibility for supervising the women's division of the national campaign.

Women's Role "Decisive" Women, she is convinced, will take a "decisive part" in the election of the nation's next president.

And the small, blond, gentle-mannered Mrs. Yost has cleared her desk for a climax to the battle which she says has been under way ever since the 1928 elections.

"So far as Republican women are concerned," she explains, "there has been no adjournment of politics since the election four years ago."

Regularly they have been holding meetings, sometimes attended by as many as 5,000 women.

Organization Extended "Even in 1928 Republican women had a magnificent organization, and this has been extended and intensified until in many states the women are all ready to start active campaigning today."

Even in these complex times, Mrs. Yost says, more women than usual are volunteering their services for the campaign.

She feels this is one of many indications that women are more deeply interested in politics today than four years ago.

As she smiles from behind her large desk, Mrs. Yost appears almost too frail and kindly to direct the practical, combative task that lies ahead.

Cool, pastel colors in which she is smartly dressed emphasize her femininity rather than any administrative touch.

But her associates, who still tell of her long fight for suffrage—when she was in the West Virginia legislature—say her work is characterized by the same aggressiveness that has marked her career since she campaigned in her native state for a law making stores install seats for shoppers.

She won that battle, and her colleagues say she has made a habit of winning battles ever since.

Bean Pickles

One peck of beans
Six cups of sugar
Three-fourths cup dry mustard
One cup flour
One tablespoon turmeric
Two tablespoons celery seed
Three pints of vinegar
Boil beans in salt water until tender, drain. Mix other ingredients together in a large sauce pan and bring to a boil. Then add the beans and boil for five minutes. Seal while hot.

"Nice kitty," now, is this half-grown Malay leopard. But Mrs. L. Ross Freeman probably won't sit so comfortably and at ease beside him when he is a few months older—and bigger. NOTES ON A NEW AUTHOR
Writing a book isn't half so important as making a home where your family will enjoy living, according to Mrs. Wallace Irwin, whose first novel, "Young and Fair," published under her maiden name, Laetitia McDonald, is soon to appear. Mrs. McDonald believes, too, in a co-operative spirit in the home, even in writing books.

"Every night my husband and I showed each other our day's output of words, while I was writing," she says. "I always made him look over my manuscript first. He is as proud as can be that I have written a novel that has been accepted."

Wallace Irwin is a noted author. And there are plenty of other writing Irwins, too. The two sons of the Wallace Irwin family, now in boarding school, are showing literary tendencies.

WOMEN IN "GOLD RUSH"

The newest style in gold diggers consists of women who are calling on families asking them if they have some old, forgotten gold jewelry or household treasures that they want to sell. A general estimate states that nearly every family has at least $10 worth of such useless gold. The gold, which is bought, is then sold in turn by the women dealers. This new "gold rush" is said to be affording a simple method of increasing the gold reserve by putting it in circulation.

MAKES SMALL FARM PAY

A midget farm, consisting of two acres of land, has been managed so skillfully by Mrs. Pearl Evans, a young widow with two small sons, who lives in the village of Moscow, near San Bernardino, Cal., that it supports the family. More than 80 per cent of the food for the group is raised on the land; the house has been enlarged and payments are nearly finished, and financial returns from the farm average around $1,000 a year.

NEVEAUX RITES AT 9:30 TODAY

Pioneer of Upper Peninsula to Be Laid to Rest in Fernwood

Funeral services will be held this morning at 9:30 for Napoleon J. Neveaux, 83, who died Sunday morning, following an emergency operation at St. Francis hospital, Escanaba. The services will be conducted from the family home, 1002 Superior avenue, Rev. Fr. S. Maier officiating. Burial will be made in Fernwood cemetery. Pallbearers will be Gus Dehlin, Ed Norous, B. R. Micks, Peter LeClair, Wm. Bebeau, all of Gladstone, and Ed Brault, of Manistique.

The death of Mr. Neveaux has removed from Gladstone one of its pioneers and a man closely identified with the industries which have come and gone in its development. Coming here in 1865, from St. Scholastic, Canada, where he was born on April 2, 1849, Mr. Neveaux engaged in lumbering which at that time was the principal activity of this territory. His first operations were adjacent to Escanaba and for several years that was his home.

When the Jackson Iron company began its operations at Fayette and established its furnaces there, Mr. Neveaux associated himself with the company as a logging jobber. The late J. B. Kitchen, of Escanaba, was superintendent of the company at that time. Until 1861, Mr. Neveaux continued his work with that firm.

In 1891, Mr. Neveaux removed to Manistique, where he became a jobber for the Manistique Iron company, for which firm he operated in Schoolcraft, Alger and Mackinac counties. With the waning of the industry of the upper peninsula, Mr. Neveaux disposed of his lumbering interests in 1913 and purchased a drug business in Manistique. Until 1919 he continued in the drug business and then disposed of his interests and retired from active business life.

With his family he moved to Minneapolis to make his home, but after two years he returned to the upper peninsula, where he had spent so many years of his life and to which he had become attached. He came to Gladstone and established his home at 1002 Superior avenue and there, with Mrs. Neveaux, spent the declining years of his life.

Besides his business activity, Mr. Neveaux devoted himself to public affairs and took a keen interest in political activity up to the time of his death.

As a mere boy he entered the service of the Canadian government during the Finlan raid and, for bravery displayed at that time was cited by the Canadian government and presented with a medal commemorating his service. Later he was granted a pension by the government.

In the late years Mr. Neveaux kept the same close contact with public affairs that had marked his earlier life and, until a few days before his death, paid daily visits to the offices and homes of his friends where he could discuss current events. His keen insight and his broad knowledge were recognized and his friends were legion.

In the winter of 1878, Mr. Neveaux was married to Miss Et'idas Cusson, and last winter they celebrated their 54th anniversary together. Eight children were born to this union, seven of whom are living. All of the children are here with their mother to pay last respects to their father.

FIVE TO BID ON SEWER JOB

Two Local Firms Among Contractors to Secure Proposal Blanks

Keen competition for the sewer construction contract to be let by the city of Gladstone on Aug. 8, is indicated by the large number of applications for proposal blanks received up to the present time. City Manager F. R. Buschner stated yesterday up to yesterday noon five contractors had received the blanks and will enter bids. Several others are expected to enter the competition before the final date.

The firms, so far supplied with blanks, include Fillmore Bros. and Ole Peterson, Gladstone; Phelps-Drake Co., Iron Mountain; John R. Edelman Co., Muskegon Heights, Mich.; and A. H. Prokack, Iron Mountain. All of the firms have previously bid on Gladstone contracts and are well known here. Fillmore Bros., who recently engaged in the construction business here have not held any contracts with the city but have handled a large number of private contracts. Ole Peterson, the second local firm to enter the bidding, is one of the older construction firms of the city and has handled many public and private contracts within the city. Of the out of town firms, both Prokack and Edelman company have bid contracts here within the past two years. Prokack constructed the Michigan avenue pavement and Edelman the Eleventh street and Montana avenue trunk sewer. The Phelps-Drake company is considered one of the larger contracting firms of the upper peninsula.

The proposed sewer will be laid in Montana avenue, between 11th and 14th streets to connect with the trunk sewer recently completed. The first two blocks will be 12 inch pipe and the last block 10 inch. All laterals, one to every 56 foot lot, will be laid at the time of the construction of the main sewer. The estimated cost of the job is $3,293.38.

The sewer job is to be financed through special assessment against the property benefited. Property owners will be given two years in which to make payments, each assessment being divided into three equal installments, one payment to be due on the completion of the job, one payment a year later and the final payment in two years. Deferred payments will draw interest at the rate of six per cent.

Buckeyes Lose Lead in League

The Outlaws, formerly Men's Wear, eked out a 7-6 victory over the Buckeyes Monday night and tumbled them from the top of the heap in the league standings. All of the four hits made by the Buckeyes came in the third inning and, with three passes, gave them their six runs. Duchoney fanned 12.

To Send Madden To Legion Meet

Albert Madden, commander of the August Mattson Post of the American Legion, will be Gladstone's sole representative at the state convention to be held in Kalamazoo, Aug. 21, 22 and 23. 't appears likely according to Legion leaders. The local post has not yet elected delegates to the meet, but it is certain that Commander Madden will be chosen. The post is entitled to two additional delegates, but shortage of funds precludes the possibility that expenses will be advanced to a full delegation and no Legion men have volunteered to represent the post at their own expense.

Commander Madden expects to lead the fight in the state meet for the adoption of a resolution, favored by the local post, which would let down the bars which now prevent an officer of the Legion from seeking or holding an elective political office, without relinquishing his office in the Legion.

BOARD FAVORS FURTHER SLASH

Additional 20 Per Cent Cut May Be Given to School Teachers

Expenses in the city's educational system will again be pared if the recommendation of a further reduction of twenty per cent in teachers' salaries goes into effect. In view of the present financial situation, the board of education favored the slash at a meeting held last Friday evening. Letters have been sent to all teachers advising them of the proposed cut.

Year round school employees were given a twenty per cent reduction which became effective the first of this month. The board also dispensed with the services of the assistant librarian, a position which had been filled by Mrs. Lydia Ross.

Both teachers and school employees had already been subjected to a ten per cent cut in salaries, the former being given their reduction on this year's contracts.

Fords, Lauermans Take Monday Tilts

Knocking the horseshoe to all corners of the lot the Creighton Fords assured themselves of at least a temporary hold on first place when they defeated the Schuster Grocers, 18-5, Monday evening. It was the eighth straight loss for the Grocers.

A seven run spurge in the 4th inning put the game on ice, denting the plate in every inning except the second. The Grocers counted one run in the third and four in the fifth. Halsey and Kasun shared hurling duties for the Fords, while Schuster went the route for the Grocers.

The Lauerman Specials surprised the Norton Specials, winning from the fourth placers by a score of 12-7. Coming from behind, Lauermans scored ten runs in the fourth frame to sew up the game. Eldon Norton and Larion occupied the mound for the losers and Mito Jones and Brunet formed the battery for the Lauerman Specials.

Rogers Hornsby Dismissed as Manager of Cubs

GRIMM CHOSEN TO TAKE REINS

President Veeck Orders Change in Interests of The Club

Chicago, Aug. 2 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Chicago Cubs since the tag end of the 1930 season, was dismissed tonight.

Charley Grimm, first baseman, team captain and a member of the club since 1925, was immediately appointed to take over the leadership of the team.

This amazing move was announced tonight in New York by Wm. L. Veeck, president of the club. He called the players together in making announcement of the change. President Veeck's only explanation was that the Cubs, under Hornsby's leadership, were not as high in the pennant race, as Veeck thought they should be with the available talent.

From other sources, it was reported that internal strife was responsible for the removal of Hornsby who had boosted his team to second place in the National League race and who had had the Cubs out in front several times this season.

Although neither Hornsby nor Veeck, according to the special dispatches to the Chicago Tribune, had intimated that there was to be an immediate switch in the management of the team, the dispatches said that it had been apparent for several days that coolness had existed between them. President Veeck joined the club in Boston on his recent eastern trip but he attended the games alone and also dined alone in the hotel.

Hornsby will be released as a player but his salary, reported to be $40,000 annually, will be paid up to Dec. 31, 1932. Hornsby, according to the special dispatches, planned to leave for Chicago tonight, and thence for his home in Missouri.

Hornsby, once manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, then became a member of the New York Giants, and later going to Boston. He came to the Cubs in the fall of 1928, in a deal involving $200,000 and five players. He was voted the most valuable player in the National League in 1929. In 1920 he began a long batting streak which carried him to the top of the National League batting list for six years in succession. Three times he batted over .400 for a season, and in 1924 established the league record for batting with an average of .424 which never has been equalled.

Hornsby, according to reports, told newspaper friends several weeks ago that he felt that he ought to be back in the Cub lineup, but that President Veeck was opposed to this move.

Hornsby said he had been released "because he and President Veeck thought the best interests of the club would be served by my retirement."

Mr. Veeck decided that he wanted to make the move, and he perfectly all right with me," Hornsby added.

Hornsby, the betting phenomenon, broke into organized baseball in 1921 when only 18 years old, playing with the Dallas club of the Texas League. He started out as a shortstop and was sold to the St. Louis Cardinals in 1915. His debut as a major league player was not particularly bright, but the following year he started his sensational batting career, which six times saw him as the leading hitter of the National League. He batted .313 in 1916, and the next year hit .327. During this time he was playing as shortstop but in 1918 he was dished about the Cardinal infield, playing every position but first base, and his batting slumped below the .300 mark.

Hornsby was appointed manager of the Cardinals in 1925, and in the following year, his first season as pilot, rushed the Cardinals to their first pennant. He went on to beat the Yankees in the world series in one of the most dramatic struggles in major league history, defeating them four games to three.

In the winter of his world series victory he was traded to the New York Giants for Frankie Frisch and Jimmy Ring. He spent only one year with the Giants, and then was traded to the Boston Braves. A few weeks after the 1928 season started, he was made manager of the Braves and in the fall of that year was traded to the Cubs for a reported $200,000 and players Maguire, Jones, Cunningham, Leggett and Seibold.

Hornsby, playing second base for the Cubs, was chosen to succeed Joe McCarthy, present pilot of the New York Yankees, as manager of the Chicago team in September, 1930.

HAMPSON SETS WORLD RECORD

Tolan and Metcalfe Are Heavy Favorites in 200-Meter Final

BY ALAN GOULD
 (Associated Press Sports Editor)
 Olympic Stadium, Los Angeles, Aug. 2 (AP)—Under another beaming California sun, the world's greatest collection of track and field talent ran wild today in the Olympic championships.

A record-breaking jubilee was featured by the 800 meter triumph of Tom Hampson, British school teacher, in the world record time of 1:49.8 and climaxed by four successive record races in the 200 meter quarter finals.

Eddie Tolan and Ralph Metcalfe, the twin American negro thunderbolts, who ran 1-2 in the sensational 100 meter final yesterday, came back with a combined rush to over the 200 meter Olympic mark in 21.5 seconds. No sooner had a crowd of 45,000 finished cheering these sprint stars, however, than Carlos Luti, Argentine, and Arthur Jonath of Germany came along to cover the same route in 21.4 seconds each in the remaining heats, to finish the wreckage of an Olympic record that had stood since 1904.

U. S. GRAPPLERS IN THIRD ROUND

Yankee Hopes Raised by Wrestling Work of Two Americans

BY FRANK G. GORRIE
 (Associated Press Sports Writer)
 Olympic Auditorium, Los Angeles, Aug. 2 (AP)—Two American grappling greats moved up into the third round of the 10th Olympic wrestling was today while eight foreigners were eliminated.

Jack Van Beber of Perry, Okla., representing the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and Edzar Nemir, University of California ace who hails from Oakland, raised hopes for the Yanks.

Van Beber, a welterweight, gained the decision of both judges and the referee in his match with Borge Jensen, Denmark, in the final bout of the afternoon. Van Beber sent Jensen to his back twice but because they were partly off the mat the falls did not count.

One American Loses
 H. Rowland, Canadian featherweight, lasted 8 minutes, 39 seconds with Nemir in their scheduled 15-minute, catch-as-catch-can fracas. Nemir was on top of his opponent a large part of the time and pinned his shoulders when he rolled the Canadian over.

Robert Hess of Iowa State college, the third American to compete, lost a decision to J. Tunyogi, Hungary. It being his first match, Hess will get another chance.

H. Pihlajamaki of Finland, proved to be one of the grapplers to beat in the featherweight division when he scored his second straight victory by a fall. He eliminated C. Schack of Denmark in the second round.

Daniel MacDonald of Canada and E. Leino of Finland advanced on falls in the welterweight class.

Canada, Denmark and Japan lost two battles each and Mexico and Sweden one each. Those eliminated were:
 Middleweights—Stockton and Rowland, Canada; Schack, Denmark; Hatta, Japan and Arellano, Mexico.
 Welterweights—Kohno, Japan; Lindholm, Sweden, and Jensen, Denmark.

According to census figures, about 22 per cent of all deaths in the United States are due to communicable diseases.

11 Records Broken

The American trio, Eddie Gehring, Ned Turner and Charles Hornbostel finished fourth, fifth and sixth, to help boost the American point total further out of sight, but they were never very much in the running. Gehring ran second most of the way, but had nothing to match the dazzling final drive of Hampson and Wilson.

Meanwhile the feminine contingent, which has maintained an unbroken record breaking pace, surpassed two more world records and George Saling, Iowa hurdler, equalled the world's record by racing over the 110 meter high sticks in 14.4 seconds in the semi-finals.

Altogether, after three days of astonishing competition, new Olympic records have been set in no less than 11 of the 15 track and field events for men and women.

The feminine stars have shattered three world records while the men have broken one and equalled three other world marks. The only events so far in which no records have fallen are the hammer throw, broad jump and high jump.

The women's world record in the discus throw twice was surpassed before Lillian Copeland, American girl from Los Angeles got off the decisive throw of 133 feet 2 inches. This enabled her to beat Ruth Osburn of Shelbyville, Mo., who had previously set a record of 131 feet 8 inches.

Stella Walsh, the Polish girl who lives in Cleveland, touched world record time for the third time in two days when she won the women's 100 meter championship in 11.9 seconds. This was her time for each of two races yesterday.

Gordon Cops First
 The prospect of a 1-2-3 finish for America in the high hurdles final tomorrow was increased by the dazzling performances of the United States trio. After Jack Keller of Ohio State had skinned the 110 meter barriers in 14.5 seconds for a new Olympic record, Saling came right back, in the second semi-final, to nose out his teammate, Percy Beard, in 14.4, taking another slice off the Olympic mark besides touching the world record held jointly by two Scandinavians, Wenasstrom of Sweden and Sjoestedt of Finland.

The U. S. A. won its third men's championship when Edward Gordon, Iowa negro, came through with the best leap in the broad jump, 25 feet, 3-4 inch, with his teammate, Lambert Reed, second Bad Break?

One fellow's tough luck is another guy's good fortune, believes Johnny Jones, above, Connie Mack's new outfielder. Jones sought a job as an Athletic outfielder, but was told there were no openings. Then Roger (Doc) Cramer, star young gardener, shattered his collarbone. Jones was paged at the ball game, found and signed to a contract. DEADLINE NEAR ON REGISTRATION

Escanaba Voters Must All Sign Up By Aug. 24

In an effort to speed up registrations of Escanaba voters before the deadline, Aug. 24, City Clerk Carl E. Anderson has made arrangements to distribute blank registration cards in public places for the convenience of voters not yet registered. Cards are available at the Escanaba Paper Co. office and at the Needham Electric Co., and more places may be secured later if deemed necessary.

Those who wish to take out cards for filling out in the home may do so providing the blanks are signed before a notary. Registrations are continuing at the city hall, and the office of the clerk is open on Friday and Saturday nights from seven o'clock on to receive voters. Last night voters were given an opportunity to register at the north side fire station, and a representative of the clerk's office will be at the north side station again tonight to sign voters up on the new cards.

The present registration is under the new Michigan permanent registration law, which applies in all cities over 5,000. Once registered under the new law, voters are not required to register again. All Escanaba citizens who wish to vote in the primary election Sept. 12, however, must register on or before Aug. 24.

GARDEN NEWS

Grasshoppers Killed

Garden, Mich. (Special)—A recent news report emphatically stated that the grasshopper situation throughout the Peninsula was not under control. Not contradicting this, reports are now received indicating that the pests have done their worst. A number of farmers who have suffered much because of the depredations now state that they have come to the vanishing point. A few men state that through the continual use of poison, the pests have been fairly well controlled during the entire season. Amongst these is Herman Winter, veteran truck farmer who states that adjoining his truck patch was a long strip of quack grass where, according to his statement, they were hatched out by "billions." Large quantities of poison were used on this strip but for a while no decided results could be seen. Subsequently however, Mr. Winter found large quantities of the dead hoppers in other parts of the garden. They had taken the poison and hopped away to a peaceful death. Comparatively small damage has been done by grasshoppers but many cabbages have been lost on this particular farm by cut worms, root maggots and wood chucks. Undoubtedly much loss would have been sustained had it not been for the liberal use of poison. Residents of this district recall an incident which happened ten or fifteen years ago. A vast swarm of hoppers were found floating in one body into Sac Bay harbor much after the manner of the swarms of Green Bay flies so often seen in local waters. Several fishermen operating on the lake had observed this particular swarm of hoppers as they plowed their way through. On their arrival on the warm sand beach, it was believed that they were all dead after their long prior hopping activities. When local residents observed their activities they made themselves busy and buried large quantities in the sand but not before many had made good their escape into near by gardens. No generally accepted theory has been advanced as to how this swarm got into the water or how far they had travelled on the waves. The summer of '32 certainly will pass as the grasshopper year.
