The American idea met the British idea in Vermont and the concussion was altogether too much for the latter.

Says Mr, Blaine, speaking of Canada; "If they come with us, they can have what we have, but it is an absolute wrong against the rights of American citizens that millions of men who owe citizens that millions of men wno owe the U. States no allegiance, who take no part nor lot with us, who are not of us, shall have exactly the same shire in our markets and the same privileges of trade under our flag that we have."

The Cleveland Leader says that a Democrat Bohemian club of 60 members Democrat Bohemian club of 60 meanbers in that city, recently changed its name to "Republican Bohemian club" and came over solidly to Harrison and protection. The club now numbers 70 members -only two of whom ever voted the Republican slokes. They are workingmen who don't propose to vote to reduce the scale of American wages to the English or foreign standard. These are "straws" which indicate that while the wind bloweth where it-listich its direction is clearly visible to the naked eye.

Those newspapers which are pub-lishing lists of "recruits" to one or the other of the great positical parties, are tackling the records of births in the effort to outdo each other.

The British export trade in 1893 was The British export trade in 1838 was sit6/,00/000 less than it was in 1873, ten years before. The steady decline in that time was due to a great extent to the establishment of protective tariff laws in some of the leading nations an the continent. A similar decline in the ten years nent. A similar decline in the ten years from 1883 to 1893 would practically de-stroy the foreign trade of the United Kingdom; Lence the eagerness of the British manufacturer to have the rich markets, of America—the lest in the world—opened up to him. The loss on the continent would be more than recom-pensed.—Indianapolis Journal.

A pitiful howl is sent up by the state because Bartley Breen was not allowed to vote his fraudulent proxies in the recent-labor, convention. Wil some of these papers please explain how Mr. Breen came by these proxies how Mr. Breen came by these proxies. It is currently stated that not a convention was held in any of the countries—not even his own—covered by these proxies. The laboring men would like to know by what right he puts them in his pocket and attempts to deliver them as a job lot to the free trade candidate for Governor free trade candidate for Governor.-"Negaunce Herald."

The True Northerner hits hard when it says: "The Mills bill taxes sugar, a Louisiana product, sixty-edgit per cent-and piaces salt, a Michigan product, on the tree list; it taxes rice, a South Caroffine product, one hindred per cent, but places wood, in which the entire morth is-interested, on the free list; it places a duty on undressed marble, a Tennessee product, of-forty cents per chief foot, but makes northern building to the product of the places and the product of the places are supported to the product of the product o stone, freestone, sandstone and granite free trade for the north, and that is one reason why the voters of the north will reputliate the democratic party."

The Mills bill wil reduce the worknamen's wages all over the United States. If the workingmen are satisfied with the lowering of wages, then let them vote for a supporter of Free-Trade, like Mills. If they want higher wages, live better and more comfortable than European workingmen, let them vote for men who will protect American labor with a suitable tariff. Did workingmen ever repligrate to a Free-Trade lingmen ever repligrate to a Free-Trade hator with a suitable tariff. Did workingmon ever reinigrate to a Free-Trade country? Do the American workingmen ever enigrate to Free-Trade countries? No, they do not; but the workingmen from Free-Trade countries are glad to come to the United States, where they receive nearly twice as much wages, consequently have many more comforts and arounds happier.—Chicago Journal of Commerce. of Commerce.

Of the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is the fact that every purchaser receives a fair equivalent for his money.
The familiar head line "100 Doses
One Dollar," stolen by unitators, is original and only true of Hood's Sarsaparilla. This can be easily proven by any one who desires to test the matter. For real economy, buy only Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.
